

ADVENTURE SIDEKICKS

TYRANNY OF DRAGONS

INTRODUCTION

Do you want to run or play Tyranny of Dragons but you only have two or three people in your gaming group? Do you want an easy way to track and level up NPCs and beasts that join the adventure? Do you want to reintroduce allies later in your dragon campaign but aren't sure how to scale their power level? If you answered yes to any of these questions, then this supplement is for you.

ADVENTURE SIDEKICKS

"Adventure Sidekicks: Tyranny of Dragons" is the second in an ongoing series that supplies sidekicks based on the major NPCs and potential allies of each of the DUNGEONS & DRAGONS adventure hardcovers. On your adventure, the DM might reveal that you've befriended an NPC, unique beast, or other creature who then joins your party as a sidekick. It's up to you and the DM to decide who controls the sidekick in play.

SIDEKICK STAT BLOCKS

A sidekick's game statistics are presented in a box called a stat block, which is essentially a miniature character sheet. A stat block contains things like ability scores and hit points, as well as the actions a sidekick is most likely to take in combat. Like any character, a sidekick can use the action options in the combat rules.

For more information on stat blocks, see the introduction of the Monster Manual.

SIDEKICK LEVEL

Your DM will inform you at which level your sidekick starts, usually equal to the average level of the party. As the heroes and their sidekick adventure together, the sidekick gains experience points and reaches new levels the same way a player character does, using the rules found in the Player's Handbook.

When a sidekick gains a level, look at the sidekick's progression table, and consult the new level's row, which shows the sidekick's new hit point maximum and features.

If the DM starts a sidekick at a level higher than 1st, use the hit point maximum for its level on the appropriate table on the pages that follow. Also, give the sidekick the features for its current level and any earlier levels on that table.

SIZE

Some sidekicks start as an adolescent version of the creature the sidekick was based on. To reflect this, these sidekicks start as one size and then, at some point in their progression table, grow enough to increase in size.

When size increases, the type of Hit Dice changes. Depending on the sidekick, other benefits may also come with a change in size.

PROFICIENCIES

A sidekick is proficient with any armor, weapons, and tools included in its stat block.

LANGUAGES

If there is a communication problem between the party and their sidekick, such as no shared language, the language barrier may still be overcome. The party must succeed on Wisdom (Animal Handling), or the sidekick must succeed on a Wisdom (Insight) skill check, to make themselves understood.

On a success, the sidekick is able to understand the party well enough to comply with their request or get their general meaning. On a failure, the sidekick defends itself from hostile creatures and acts according to its own desires (as determined by the DM), but otherwise takes no actions.

The DM determines the DC of the skill check, using the following table as a guide.

Task	DC	Example
Very easy	5	"Heel" or "fetch"
Easy	10	"Get that out of your mouth!"
Moderate	15	"Find help in town"
Hard	20	"Heel, even if they hurt me"
Very hard	25	"Give this only to the blond elf"
Nearly impossible	30	"Attack only every other gnome"

Actions

Dagger. Melee or Ranged Weapon Attack: +3 to hit, reach 5 ft. or range 20/60 ft., one target. Hit: 3 (1d4 + 1) piercing damage.

Bryst, the gnome artificer can easily be found in any sizable city, such as Baldur's Gate or Waterdeep, perhaps as an apprentice in a magic shop or blacksmith's. He may also be found traveling, selling his services on the road or in a local tavern. No matter where encountered, he jumps at the opportunity to join a party of adventurers, keen to see his enchantments in action and experiment with new ones.

Bryst dresses in fine, clean, nobles clothes, drenched in a bright turquoise cloak slightly too big for his short frame. Pouches of various powders, oils and other components for his enchantments dangle from his belt, and are stuffed into his pockets.

AS A SIDEKICK

Bryst is timid amongst strangers, but becomes friendly and excitable once familiar. Endlessly curious, almost to a fault, he is also fairly cowardly, avoiding direct confrontation where possible. He prefers to bolster his friends from afar, rather than get between them and danger.

GNOME ARTIFICERS BEYOND 7TH LEVEL

Level	Hit Points	New Features
8th	40 (9d6 + 9)	Energize Weapon. The artificer can spend 10 minutes imbuing a weapon with an energy type's properties. If it does so, it must take a long rest before using this feature again. The exact effect is determined by a Energy Instability roll and lasts for 12 hours: Acid. The weapon hisses with dripping acid. A creature hit with this weapon and wearing nonmagical armor takes a permanent and cumulative -1 penalty to AC to a maximum of -5. Cold. The weapon sparkles with glittering frost. A creature hit with this weapon must succeed on a DC 12 Constitution saving throw or become stunned for 1 round as they freeze in place. Fire. The weapon glows with burning embers. A creature hit with this weapon must succeed on a DC 12 Dexterity saving throw or catch fire. Until a creature takes an action to douse the flames, the target takes 5 (1d10) fire damage at the start of each of its turns. Lightning. The weapon sparks and crackles with electricity. When you successfully hit a target with this weapon, all adjacent creatures must succeed on a DC 12 Dexterity saving throw or also take damage from the attack.
9th	45 (10d6 + 10)	Spellcasting. The artificer learns another 2nd-level spell: shatter.
10th	49 (11d6 + 11)	Major Enchantment. The artificer can spend 10 minutes to infuse a weapon with a lot of magic energy. If it does so, it must take a long rest before using this feature again. For the next 1d6 successful hits, the weapon deals an additional 3 (1d6) damage. The damage type is determined by Energy Instability.
11th	54 (12d6 + 12)	Spellcasting. The artificer gains one 2nd-level spell slot and two 3rd-level spell slots. In addition, the spellcaster also learns one 3rd-level spell: protection from energy.
12th	58 (13d6 + 13)	Energize Armor. The artificer can spend 10 minutes to imbue a set of armor with an energy type's properties. If it does so, it must take a long rest before using this feature again. The exact effect is determined by a Energy Instability roll, and lasts for 24 hours: Acid. The armor hisses with dripping acid. Any nonmagical weapon that hits a creature wearing this armor takes a permanent and cumulative -1 penalty to damage rolls. If its penalty drops to -5, the weapon is destroyed. Cold. The armor sparkles with glittering frost. Any creature that hits a creature wearing this armor must succeed on a DC 12 Strength saving throw or become grappled as their weapon freezes in place (escape DC 12). Fire. The armor glows with burning embers. Any creature that hits a creature wearing this armor must succeed on a DC 12 Dexterity saving throw or catch fire. Until a creature takes an action to douse the flames, the target takes 5 (1d10) fire damage at the beginning of its turn. Lightning. The armor sparks and crackles with electricity. 14th	67 (15d6 + 15)	Enchant Creature. The artificer can spend 10 minutes imbuing a creature with an energy type's properties. If it does so, it must take a long rest before using this feature again. The exact effect is determined by a Energy Instability roll and lasts for 12 hours: Acid. The creature gains a ranged spell attack. The creature's spellcasting ability is Dexterity. It deals 7 (2d6) acid damage with a range of 15 feet. Cold. The creature's skin becomes as hard as ice. It gains resistance to nonmagical piercing and slashing damage, but becomes vulnerable to fire damage. Fire. The creature is surrounded by glowing flames. It sheds bright light in a 30-foot radius and dim light for an additional 30 feet. Anything that touches the creature or hits it with a melee attack while within 5 feet takes 5 (1d10) fire damage. Lightning. As an action, the creature gains the ability to teleport, along with any equipment it is wearing or carrying, up to 30 feet in a flash of lightning.

HADR

War Pick. Melee Weapon Attack: +4 to hit, reach 5 ft., one target. Hit: 6 (1d8 + 2) piercing damage.

Hadr is part of a group of mercenaries known variously as the Electric Eagles, Lightning Fishers, Zappenguins, Shock Falcons, or Thunderbirds. At least they would be known as one of those if they could just choose a name, but their leader, Rarthfyr, changes it on the regular.

If the party ever encounters Hadr's group, Rarthfyr asks for their opinion. If the party's suggestion sounds cool enough, they go with it.

The Thunderbirds are known for making bad decisions and, even worse, bad battle strategies, yet somehow continuously getting out by the skin of their teeth. One time, in order to break through an oncoming army, they lit themselves on fire and charged through the said army, believing no one to be so foolish as to attack someone on fire. It worked, and they escaped with no casualties.

As a model member of the Thunderbirds, Hadr strongly embodies their ideals.

HADR BEYOND 1ST LEVEL

Level	Hit Points	New Features
2nd	22 (3d8 + 9)	Dauntless. When an ally drops to 0 hit points, Hadr can yell a shout of encouragement as a reaction, dropping his ally to 1 hit point instead. Once Hadr uses this feature, he can't use it again until he finishes a long rest.
3rd	30 (4d8 + 12)	Excavator. Hadr is proficient at digging pit traps at great speed. As an action, he can designate a 10-foot square as difficult terrain. Tools. Hadr has tinker's tools.

INTRODUCING HADR

Hadr is very easy to introduce into the campaign. He likely won't appear during the initial dragon attack in town but on the road soon after. The easiest way to introduce him is to have the players fall into one of his pits while on the road. He would be accompanied by his friend Eithra, as they're hunting for animals nearby.

Hadr and Eithra would introduce them to the Thunderbirds encamped nearby. They have not participated in the raid of Greenest, but were invited to do so, alongside the other mercenary groups. They readily give the players information about the Cult of the Dragon if the players can best them in a drinking game. Win or lose, the leader Rarthfyr commends them on their spirit and tells the information anyway. He sends Hadr to accompany them and help the players out.

Outside of Tyranny of Dragons, the same interaction can occur, minus the Dragon Cult information.

Actions

Extra Attack. Hadr makes two attacks whenever he takes the Attack action on his turn.

War Shovel. Melee Weapon Attack: +5 to hit, reach 5 ft., one target. Hit: 7 (1d8 + 3) bludgeoning damage.

War Pick. Melee Weapon Attack: +5 to hit, reach 5 ft., one target. Hit: 7 (1d8 + 3) piercing damage.

Excavator. Hadr can designate a 10-foot square as difficult terrain. Any creature other than Hadr that enters the area must succeed on a DC 15 Dexterity saving throw or fall 10 feet into the pit. Creatures can climb out of the pit with a DC 15 Strength check. Hadr can only use this ability on loose earth. Once Hadr uses this feature, he can't use it again until he finishes a short or long rest.

Thunder Cannon. Hadr can produce and prime a Thunder Cannon that any ally can wield. If no one grabs it, Hadr wields it himself on his turn. As an action, the Thunder Cannon produces a 100-foot-long and 5-foot-wide line. Each creature in the line must make a DC 14 Dexterity saving throw taking 28 (8d6) lightning damage on a failed save, or half as much damage on a successful one. The damage dice are rolled twice, taking the higher result. Once Hadr uses this feature, he can't use it again until he finishes a long rest.

Reactions

Dauntless. When an ally drops to 0 hit points, Hadr can yell a shout of encouragement, dropping his ally to 1 hit point instead. Once Hadr uses this feature, he can't use it again until he finishes a long rest.

AS A SIDEKICK

As a Thunderbird, Hadr is explosive in battle, as well as at the bar. He's unafraid of combat almost as much as he is unafraid of confronting tough situations.

When conflict arises in the group, Hadr sits down with the conflicting members and acts as a mediator, often using straightforward and brusque metaphors. When that fails, he suggests drinking contests and unarmed brawls to settle conflicts.

As a Thunderbird, Hadr has connections to the mercenary group all over the Sword Coast, as most towns and cities have a small encampment of them and several organizations have hired them at one time or another. In the second half of Tyranny of Dragons, the party members can use Hadr to get meetings with officials.

In combat, Hadr is very straightforward, acting much like a fighter would. When he gets a chance, Hadr uses his Excavator feature to get a bunch of enemies into a pit.

13th	63 (14d6 + 14)	Proficiency Bonus. The kobold's proficiency bonus increases by 1. This raises the Perception and passive Perception by 2, and the saving throw bonus, trap DCs, other skills bonuses (including thieves' tools), and attack bonus by 1.
14th	67 (15d6 + 15)	Chain Traps. A master of traps, the kobold can chain multiple traps together to devastating effect. Given appropriate time, they can set up any trap to trigger when another trap triggers. The triggering creature must make separate saves for each triggered trap but otherwise is subject to their effects.

KOBOLD TRAPS

Acid Ant Trap. Spending 10 minutes, the kobold prepares a trip wire to release a suspended glass jar. When the trap is triggered the jar falls into the 5-foot square below and a swarm of ants emerges from the shattered jar with 11 hit points and becomes a hazard in that square for the duration. Any creature in that square at the end of their turn must succeed on a DC 12 Dexterity saving throw or become blinded for 5 (2d4) rounds from the ants' acid spray. The kobold has materials to make three ant traps. To make more, it must dismantle an existing Acid Ant Trap or spend 24 hours gathering materials.

Alchemical Mine. Spending 10 minutes, the kobold can conceal a pressure plate mine in a 5-foot square. Any creature that steps into this square, and subsequently any creature within 5 feet of the trap, must succeed on a DC 12 Dexterity saving throw, taking 22 (4d10) fire damage on a failed save, or half as much damage on a successful one. On a failed save, the creature also catches fire. Until a creature takes an action to douse the flames, the target takes 5 (1d10) fire damage at the beginning of its turn. The kobold has materials to make three Alchemical Mines. To make more, it must dismantle an existing Alchemical Mine trap or spend 24 hours gathering materials.

Entangling Snare. Spending 10 minutes, the kobold can conceal a spring-loaded snare trap in a 5-foot square. Any creature that steps into this square must succeed on a DC 12 Dexterity saving throw or become restrained. On its turn, the creature may make a DC 10 Strength saving throw to end the condition on a success. The kobold has materials to make three snares. To make more, it must dismantle an existing snare trap or spend 24 hours gathering materials.

Pit Digger. Spending 10 minutes, the kobold can dig and conceal a 10-foot deep pit trap in a 5-foot square. Any creature that steps into this square must succeed on a DC 12 Dexterity saving throw or fall into the pit, taking 3 (1d6) bludgeoning damage. The kobold can use this feature three times. It regains expended uses when it finishes a long rest.

Poison Fang Trap. Spending 10 minutes, the kobold affixes a set of snapping fangs to a door handle, chest, or other item often touched. Any creature that touches the item must make a DC 12 Constitution saving throw, taking 10 (3d6) poison damage on a failed save, or half as much damage on a successful one. On a failed save, the creature is also poisoned for 1d12 hours. The kobold has materials to make three fang traps. To make more, it must dismantle an existing Poison Fang Trap or spend 24 hours gathering materials.

Sludge Trap. Spending 10 minutes, the kobold prepares a trip wire to release a suspended barrel. When the trap is triggered, the barrel falls into the 5-foot square below, splashing sticky sludge everywhere in a 10-foot square around the trap. Any creature within the area when the trap is triggered must succeed on a DC 12 Dexterity saving throw or become covered in sludge. A sludge-covered creature's speed is halved, it suffers a -2 penalty to AC and Dexterity saving throws, and it can't use reactions. On its turn, it can use either an action or a bonus action, not both. Regardless of the creature's abilities or magic items, it can't make more than one melee or ranged attack during its turn. A sludge-covered creature can take an action on their turn to remove the sludge, ending the effect. The kobold has materials to make three Sludge Traps. To make more, it must dismantle an existing Sludge Trap or spend 24 hours gathering materials.

Actions

Dagger. Melee or Ranged Weapon Attack: +4 to hit, reach 5 ft. or ranged 20/60 ft., one target. Hit: 4 (1d4 + 2) piercing damage.

Mimir is a perfectly average human. So perfectly normal and average, it's eerie—as if he learned how to be a human from a book. Which he did. Mimir is a mimic that has gone through a process known as 'apotheosis,' allowing him to take humanoid form.

Overall, Mimir is a pretty good guy and incredibly helpful to the party members he accompanies, though he can be quite the coward. He secretly fears being knocked out and his form unraveling.

He has difficulty understanding human emotion and so catalogs it, often drawing emotions and expressions in his sketchbook in hopes of understanding it better. More often than not, if Mimir is not directly in combat, he'll sketch out the most iconic moment of the fight and give it to the party. Even if he is, he has an eidetic memory and usually sketches it out later during a short or long rest.

INTRODUCING MIMIR

At the beginning of Tyranny of Dragons, the party is traveling to the Sword Coast, making it easy to introduce Mimir as a wagon driver the players were hired to guard, or as someone who simply picked them up on the road.

Outside of Tyranny of Dragons, Mimir can be met in towns or on roads, where he offers the party a ride. Mimir travels as a wagon driver and merchant supplier working for his boss, Diantha, the owner of a shop he communicates with through a magical mirror. While Diantha is difficult to deal with, through the mirror the characters can buy scrolls or potions, though at twice the cost due to the magic used to send it.

3rd	26 (4d8 + 8)	Analyze Enemy. As an action, Mimir selects an enemy he can see and reveals its weak points. For one minute, Mimir's allies who hit the target deal an additional 2 (1d4) damage. Once he uses this feature, Mimir must finish a short or long rest before he can do it again.
4th	32 (5d8 + 10)	Ability Score Improvement. Mimir's Intelligence score increases by 2, raising the Intelligence modifier and History skill bonus by 1.
5th	39 (6d8 + 12)	Sneak Attack. Mimir deals an extra 10 (3d6) damage when he hits a target with a weapon attack and has advantage on the attack roll, or when the target is within 5 feet of an ally of his that isn't incapacitated and Mimir doesn't have disadvantage on the attack roll.
6th	45 (7d8 + 14)	Improved Analyze Enemy. The damage of the Analyze Enemy feature increases to 3 (1d6).  Uncanny Dodge. When an attacker that Mimir can see hits him with an attack, Mimir can use his reaction to halve the attack's damage.

AS A SIDEKICK

Mimir is a helpful, deeply curious, and good-natured individual, often there for party members when they're down. He has an eidetic memory and knows a lot about history.

He occasionally says strange things like, 'Of course I'm human. I've got perfectly human skin.' Characters who observe him note that he's almost aggressively average, aside from being a coward. He has a small amount of gold (220 gp) he uses as a pillow when the party members aren't looking.

In combat, Mimir often stays on the sidelines to assist the players from a distance but enters when a solid opportunity arises. His favorite move is to go in, take the Help action, then use the Cunning Action feature to take the Disengage action, and get out of harm's way.

He deeply fears falling unconscious and his form unraveling permanently. It won't, but he never takes the chance. If at risk of death, he hides or runs until it's safe.

Molly is found at the Hunting Lodge in chapter 7 of Tyranny of Dragons. She works in the wyvern stables. She is not a cultist. However, the pay is good for her particular skill set in dealing with wyverns and dragons.

Molly is convinced she actually is a dragon and just hasn't been able to revert to her true form. She is quite fond of all the chromatic dragons and waxes poetic about them in Draconic for hours on end, if not interrupted.

She's of average height for a dwarf, and her attire is completely covered in tiny fragments of scales, so that, were it not for the lack of a draconic head, she might pass for a short dragonborn. She likes to wear a fur coat, "on account of my being cold-blooded."

Tharnold Naerytar once called Castle Naerytar his home, as the attendant and then husband to the half-elf wizard that dwelled there. He even took the name of the castle as his surname.

When Tharnold's husband left, so did he. But in recent months, his husband passed away, and Tharnold felt eager to return to the castle in order to retrieve some personal effects left behind. He is positive they are hidden and of no value to anyone but him.

Standing around 6 feet tall, this lithe human man has dark skin and a neat goatee. Salt and pepper sprinkle his dark hair, as his age is beginning to catch up to him. Since his husband died, Tharnold has felt very much without purpose. Although he was only an assistant at first, Tharnold and the wizard became soul mates.

Valerina Scatterheart is a direct descendant of Dharva Scatterheart, the founder of Greenest. Valerina, or Val to her friends, does not consider herself royalty in the least. She is that one friend who everyone can always count on for anything and who knows the pulse of Greenest and the surrounding area better than most anyone.

Her catchphrase is 'Welcome all strangers, for some slay dragons.'

A Greenest festival celebrates a fallen hero with an intimate ceremony, but you have to hunt a specific beast or you are considered a blasphemer. This holiday is called Scatterheart's Lament, in honor of Valerina's grandfather, Abram.

Valerina is on the shorter side, sporting her trademark red lipstick, regardless of attire. Her hairstyle and color seems to shift with the seasons, though most often she wears her hair in a mess of curls framing her round face.

Her prized possession is her garden, though the few plants that grow there strongly suggests she's just a beginning gardener. The ones that are there thrive, as she tends to them as one would a small child. It would not be surprising if she brought one along. A potted fern called Gus is her current favorite and she is loath to leave it behind.

Adventurers can encounter Valerina anywhere in Greenest. She is quite the town busy-body and likely afoot whenever they arrive.
