TOME OF THE PALADIN

INTRODUCTION

The RPG is a game that promotes imagination and logical reasoning, developing creativity, interpersonal relationship, and mutual cooperation. As pioneer of this game style, D&D brings an atmosphere of mysticism and fantasy to DM and players, allowing them to create and live epic stories and adventures worthy to be told in books or even in movies.

Several memorable and epic sagas known can be revived and even take a different course in the hands of an experienced DM and dedicated players. However, the game is not about only will and storytelling. There are factors that must not be decided only by the desire of the DM or the players.

The game rules are fundamental to keep a level of coherency and logic on game tables. A player may want his character knock a huge iron door to the ground with a kick, but the success or the failure of this action is impacted by the physical strength of the character and a die roll.

The D&D 5th edition core books present the basic rules to act in an universe create by a DM or in the official campaign setting, like Forgotten Realms. Whereas the core rulebooks are limited in the diversification of races, classes, items, spells, feats, monsters and so on, I decide to create a pack of supplemental rulebooks to expand the options presented on the basic books.

To have better use of the supplemental rulebooks of the AlanVenic's Redbook line, you need the three D&D 5th edition core rulebooks: The Player's Handbook, Monster Manual, and Dungeon Master's Guide. In certain moments, some features presented here, will refer a given chapter of this books, or just the book itself. When you are consult this supplemental rulebook, you should have access to the determined book to delve into the topic discussed by the given feature.

At this specific supplemental rulebook will be approached the paladin class. Here we have a brief discuss of his abilities and powers, focusing on class gameplay. Additionally, are presented here new class options to players that consider the class options presented in the Player's Handbook doesn't fit on the concept they pictured to their characters.

You would like to play as a pious dwarf paladin worshiper of Moradin that decides to become a hammer of Moradin. You also can be a paladin that consider itself above all, and decide to do not have physical contact with other creatures cause they are impure, swearing the Oath of Purity. Or you could be a paladin that discover the farce of the deities through the Oath of Reason, and have the duty to show this farce to everyone. Or you could be a paladin that uses terror as weapon, filling the heart of their foes with fear through the Oath of Damnation.

At this supplemental rulebook are presented ten new sacred oaths. Certainly, one of than will fit the concept you imagine for your paladin. Explore all the possibilities and have fun.

Long live to the RPG!
