MASTERS OF THE WILD

HE MOST SKILLED HUNTERS KNOW THAT specialized skills are needed to corner their prey. Below are featured two new ranger archetypes, as well as new Fighting Styles, feats, and spells for characters of other classes. Adventurous rangers may choose to emulate the archetype of the Tempest, a ferocious, devious master of two-weapon fighting, or of the Nightstalker, a sinister, mystical hunter of the shadows.

TEMPEST

Rangers who emulate the archetypical Tempest hone their minds to be as sharp as their blades. As your abilities as a Tempest grow, you learn to transform your twin blades into a hurricane of steel. Just as your blades strike with ferocious speed, your mind's newfound alacrity allows you to weave spells into your deadly dance.

Whirling Blades: At 3rd level, you learn how to use a pair of blades with incredible speed. Once per round, when you hit a creature with two or more melee weapon attacks, you may make an additional attack against that creature. You may also use your bonus action to attack with your off-hand weapon when you use your action to cast a ranger spell, and you can cast ranger spells with somatic components even if you are holding a weapon in each hand.

Disorienting Speed: At 7th level, when you hit an opponent with three or more melee attacks in the same round, you may expend a spell slot to disorient them. The target must succeed on a Constitution saving throw or become stunned and lose the ability to make opportunity attacks for a number of rounds equal to the spell slot you spent.

Dance of Steel: At 11th level, you learn how to adapt your fighting style to attack quickly even when you are on the move. You learn haste and misty step as ranger spells. Once per turn, you may also cast a ranger spell with a casting time of 1 action in place of an attack granted by the Extra Attack feature.

Tempestuous Celerity: At 15th level, you learn to meld your survivalist skills with your preternatural speed. When in your favored terrain, your movement doubles and does not provoke opportunity attacks. When outside your favored terrain, your movement increases by 50% and you may Disengage as a bonus action.

NIGHTSTALKER

Rangers who embody the Nightstalker archetype swear allegiance to shadows and learn to attune their souls to the night itself. After you begin walking this path, you will never be at ease again under the sun's revealing light. You become a creature of the night, using subterfuge and dark magic to best your foes.

Cover of Darkness: The shadows of the night fool the eyes and bewitch the senses. At 3rd level, you learn silent image as a ranger spell and gain proficiency in Stealth. When within an area of shadows or dim light, you can use the Hide action when you're adjacent to a creature or object at least as big as yourself, even if you're being observed.

Shadow Ghosts: At 7th level, you learn the mirror image spell. When a creature hits one of your mirror images, you may use your reaction to make a single melee weapon attack against that creature.

Haunting Presence: At 11th level, you learn the darkness and blur spells. When you hit an opponent in an area of dim light or darkness, you deal an additional 1d8 necrotic damage.

Transient Shadows: At 15th level, you learn gaseous form as a ranger spell. Additionally, when you are the target of an attack or spell, you may choose to transform into a shadowy haze, as gaseous form, as a reaction. You are treated as being in gaseous form when resolving the attack or spell effect. As long as you maintain concentration, you remain in this form for up to 10 minutes. While in this form, you are also under the effects of nondetection.

New Feats

If your campaign includes the optional feats rules, the following feats are available.

laijutsu Master

You have mastered the art of attacking as you draw your weapon.

Your Dexterity score increases by 1.

If you attack a creature in the same turn that you draw your weapon, you may add your initiative modifier to attack and damage rolls made against that creature this round.

As part of an Attack action with a slashing weapon, you may choose to sheathe that weapon immediately after attacking without spending an action.

BLADESINGER

As the elven warriors of old, you blend swordplay and spellcasting into a single deadly discipline.

You can use a longsword, rapier, or light weapon that you are holding as a spellcasting focus.

You treat all one-handed weapons as having the finesse property.

When you use your action to cast a spell, you can use your bonus action to attack with a long-sword, rapier, scimitar or short sword that you are holding.

MACULELE

Your graceful movements blur the line between fighting and dancing.

Your speed increases by 10 feet.

After you move 10 feet in a turn, opportunity attacks against you are made with disadvantage for the rest of the turn.

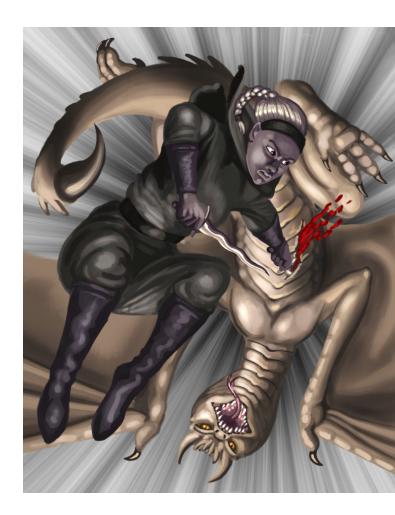

When you hit a creature with two light weapons on the same turn, you can immediately move up to 10 feet, even if you have already spent all of your movement. This movement does not provoke opportunity attacks from the creature you just hit.

New Fighting Styles

The following Fighting Style options are available to fighters, rangers and paladins.

Blade Dancer: While you are wearing light armor or no armor, you gain a +1 bonus to Armor Class and may stand up from prone by spending only 5 feet of movement.

Bladesong: When you use the Attack action, you gain advantage on Constitution saving throws to maintain concentration until the beginning of your next turn. You must be wielding a melee weapon in one hand and no other weapons or shields to gain these benefits.
