

HACK & SLASH

6000 meters

Pandros Isle

The mage Areialdia grows the rare amethyst lotus. She uses this concoction to maintain mind control over a dull eyed and reactionless Princess Naro of Ix, a mighty thewed barbarian named Lox, and a bugbear named Mookle.

The island is fairly large, over 2 miles in length, and almost a mile across. There is treasure hidden by the mauve pirate Olindar buried under one of the large trees on the north side of the island.

Inhabitants

The island is stocked full with various vegetation, fruits, insects, and birds.

There are two clans of spider monkeys that have a dim opinion of each other, and the cries from their conflict are shocking and loud.