MAGIC ITEM UNLOCKED

Ever Vigilant

This silvered greatsword has a pommel shaped like a unicorn's head, and its blade is inscribed with inscriptions that are prayers to the Earth-mother. Some say this is Cymrych Hugh's legendary sword, while others say it's a reflection and that the original rests with the Earthmother, awaiting a hero truly worthy of wielding it. (uncommon, Table F, requires attunement)

STORY SUMMARY

You traveled to the cairn of Cymrych Hugh, an ancient hero of the Ffolk, as the Cairnwell, an underground moonwell, is rumored to be beneath his resting place. In the cairn, you found a secret passage to a series of caverns where you faced traps, orc sentries, and malicious plant life to eventually reach the lair of Princess Goomugh, a fomorian giant, and her orc servants. How did you handle her?

- You slew Princess Goomugh.
- You negotiated with Princess Goomugh.

After dealing with these enemies, you found a secret passage to the Cairnwell, where you encountered the shadow dragon Pryumbranth who had made the moonwell his lair.

- You slew Pryumbranth.
- Pryumbranth escaped.

When you returned to the dwarves, they asked for your suggestions regarding the future of the dwarven clans. What did you suggest?

- The dwarven clans should combine.
- The dwarven clans should go remain separate.
- Another solution? (Please detail in adventure notes.)
