Dark Mother's Ring of Spell Storing

This ring looks like a silvery spider wrapping its legs around one's finger and functions as a Ring of Spell Storing. While wearing this ring, the wearer can speak and understand Undercommon. When worn by a female, the ring subtly pushes the wearer to believe that males are incompetent. Worn by a male, it pushes the wearer to praise females and defer to their better judgment. These effects are not strong enough to override existing character traits.
