The skin's effect lasts for 7 rounds, after which it automatically removes itself from you and shrinks back down to its quiescent state (a small glob of ectoplasm).

A skin of the fiend can be activated once per day.

Effect: The skin grants you the benefit of the fiendish template (MM 107).

Each time the skin is activated, you gain the template for 7 rounds.

Aura/Manifester Level: Moderate psychometabolism.

ML 10th.

Construction: Craft Universal Item, planar apotheosis, 5,000 gp.

400 XP, 5 days.

Weight: 1 lb.

Price: 10,000 gp.

FIENDISH EMBRACE

A skin of fiendish embrace allows you to take on the half-fiend template for a short period of time.

Description: At first sight, this skin appears to be a dull reddish-brown glob of ectoplasm approximately 6 inches in diameter.

When donned, it melds over your skin, becoming a glistening, blood-red epidermis complete with horns on the forehead that are the color of bloodied bones.

Activation: As a standard action, you can activate the skin by projecting a command thought, causing it to spread over your body.

The skin's effect lasts for 15 rounds, after which it automatically removes itself from you and shrinks back down to its quiescent state (a small glob of ectoplasm).

A skin of fiendish embrace can be activated once per day.

Effect: The skin grants you the benefit of the half-fiend template (MM 147).

Each time the skin is activated, you gain the template for 15 rounds.

Aura/Manifester Level: Strong psychometabolism.

ML 15th.

Construction: Craft Universal Item, planar embrace, 24,000 gp, 1,920 XP, 48 days.

Price: 48,000 gp.

POWER DAMPING

A skin of power damping protects you from the full brunt of damaging (or beneficial) powers.

Description: At first sight, this skin appears to be a blue ball of ectoplasm approximately 6 inches in diameter.

When donned, it melds over your skin, becoming a translucent bluish epidermis.

Activation: As a standard action, you can project a command thought, causing the skin to spread over your body.

The skin's true effect is not always active.

To activate the effect, you take an immediate action while wearing the skin.

The skin can be activated three times per day.
Effect: When the skin is activated, you are protected for 1 round from the vagaries of force directed against you.
All variable, numeric effects of any power, psi-like ability, spell, or spell-like ability that affect you are decreased to their minimum possible values.

For instance, if you are struck by an energy ray (EPH 103) augmented to deal 5d6 points of damage, you take only 5 points of damage.

You are likewise shielded from beneficial effects.

If the power, psi-like ability, spell, or spell-like ability affects an area—energy ball (EPH 100), for example—its effect is minimized only for you.

Other creatures in the area are affected normally.

Aura/Manifester Level: Faint psychometabolism.

ML 5th.

Construction: Craft Universal Item, damp power, 5,400 gp, 432 XP, 6 days.

Weight: 1 lb.

Price: 10,800 gp.

QUIVER OF ENERGY

Arrows or bolts placed into this quiver deal extra energy damage when drawn forth again.

Each quiver is associated with a specific energy type (cold, electricity, fire, or sonic).

Description: This quiver, constructed of supple tan leather, is large enough to hold up to 20 arrows or bolts.

Each quiver is embroidered in a way that calls to mind the energy type associated with the quiver.

Ravaging bolts of lightning decorate an electricity quiver's exterior, silver embroidery covers the entire surface of a cold quiver, a fire quiver is inlaid with golden embroidery, and a sonic quiver is devoid of ornamentation.

Nonmagical arrows and bolts placed in the quiver are charged with the associated energy type.

When drawn from the quiver, the projectiles shower sparks of electricity, trail steamy vapor, drop fiery sparks, or emit a low hum.

as appropriate to the energy type.

When fired, they leave a dissipating trail of energy in their wake.

Activation: To activate the power of a quiver, the projectiles must be left to rest within it for at least 1 round prior to withdrawing them.

Effect: Arrows or bolts placed within a quiver of energy and left there for at least 1 round deal an extra 1d6 points of damage when they successfully hit.

This damage is of the energy type associated with the quiver.

The quiver can hold a maximum of 20 arrows or bolts (or any combination of the two adding up to 20).

A projectile loses the special ability after it is used in an attack.

Aura/Manifester Level: Moderate psychokinesis.

ML 7th.

Construction: Craft Universal Item, energy missile, 7,875 gp, 630 XP, 15 days.

Weight: 1 lb.

6 lb.

when full).

Price: 15,750 gp.

QUIVER OF ETHEREALNESS

Arrows or bolts placed into this quiver affect creatures on the Ethereal Plane when drawn forth again.

Description: This quiver, constructed of supple black leather, is large enough to hold up to 20 arrows or bolts. Spidery silver embroidery covers the entire surface of the quiver.

The silver webs seem to fade in and out while under observation, giving the quiver an otherworldly look in strong light.

Arrows and bolts placed in the quiver are imbued with a misty, ghost-like quality, becoming almost transparent. When drawn from the quiver, the projectiles maintain their ghostly quality, leaving swirling mist trails in their wake when they are fired.

Activation: To activate the power of a quiver, the projectiles must be left to rest within it for at least 1 round prior to withdrawing them.

Effect: Arrows or bolts placed within a quiver of etherealness and left there for at least 1 round can then be used to attack an ethereal creature while still on the Material Plane.

The quiver can hold a maximum of 20 arrows or bolts (or any combination of the two adding up to 20).

A projectile loses the special ability after it is used in an attack.

A crows or bolts removed from a quiver of etherealness are also treated as if possessing the ghost touch weapon special ability, and thus are potent against incorporeal creatures as well.

Aura/Manifester Level: Moderate psychokinesis.

ML 7th.

Construction: Craft Universal Item, ethereal volley, 7,875 gp, 630 XP, 15 days.

Weight: 1 lb.

(3 lb.

when full).

Price: 15,750 gp.

SADDLE OF THE INSPIRED MOUNT

When a mount is equipped with this saddle, its speed increases and its rider can negate hits made against her mount.

Description: This saddle is constructed from the finest leather, dark and richly appointed in a severe military style. The leather is inlaid with rounded pieces of glossy black obsidian, and the buckles and stirrup irons are fashioned from solid mithral.

A saddle of the inspired mount automatically adjusts to fit any size mount.

The saddle does not count toward the creature's encumbrance, since it is extraordinarily comfortable to bear.

It even conforms to fit both standard and exotic mounts.

Activation: The saddle's power is triggered by mental command as a standard action.

The saddle can be activated three times per day.

Effect: When a saddle of the inspired mount being worn by your mount is activated, the speed of your mount increases by 20 feet.

Additionally, you can attempt to negate a hit on your mount as though you possessed the Mounted Combat feat.

If you already have the Mounted Combat feat, the saddle instead grants you a +10 competence bonus on your Ride check when attempting to negate a hit on your mount. The effect of the saddle lasts for 5 rounds once activated, but it ends immediately after you attempt a Ride check to negate a hit on your mount, regardless of whether the check succeeds.

Aura/Manifester Level: Faint psychometabolism.
ML 5th.

Construction: Craft Universal Item, inspire mount, 2,700 gp, 216 XP, 3 days.

Weight: 30 lb.

Price: 5,400 gp.

SANDALS OF SPRINGING

These sandals allow you to make extraordinarily long jumps.

Description: Sandals of springing appear to be exceptionally well-made leather sandals with laces that wrap around the wearer's calf.

A large, smooth, hemispherical blue crystal, inset into a silver clasp, binds the laces at the top of the shin, just below the knees.

The sandals grow or shrink to fit any creature from size Small to size Large.

They are extremely comfortable to wear, even while walking long distances.

Activation: The sandals are activated by use.

You need only jump, and a powerful telekinetic field propels you through the air, creating a cloud of dust (as appropriate) with each jump.

Effect: These sandals grant you a +15 enhancement bonus on Jump checks.

Aura/Manifester Level: Faint psychokinesis.

ML 3rd.

Construction: Craft Universal Item, mighty spring, 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days.

Weight: 1 lb.

Price: 6,000 gp.

SHROUD OF OBLIVION

This shroud gives you the appearance and abilities of an undead creature.

Description: A shroud of oblivion is a diaphanous burial veil that can be worn over the entire body.

While unworn, the shroud appears dingy and bloodstained. When you wear it, it becomes translucent, but your features and form become partially obscured by shadows.

Activation: To activate a shroud, it must be pulled over the head of a psionic creature and 4 power points must be expended, all as part of a standard action.

A shroud changes size to accommodate the creature that wears it.

A shroud can be activated once a day for a period of 13 minutes.

You must possess at least 4 power points to activate this psionic item successfully.

Nonpsionic characters can use a shroud of oblivion only by making a successful Use Psionic Device check to emulate a class feature.

Effect: When activated, a shroud of oblivion gives you the benefit of stygian veil (page 102).

Aura/Manifester Level: Faint psychometabolism.

ML 5th.

Construction: Craft Universal Item, stygian veil, 11,850 gp, 948 XP, 12 days.

Weight: 1/2 lb.

Price: 23,700 gp.

STACKED PSIONATRICES

A psionatrix is a multifaceted crystal worn as an amulet. One basic psionatrix exists for each of the six psionic disciplines.

Each of the six basic psionatrices described on page 175 of Expanded Psionics Handbook grants a +1 enhancement bonus to save DCs of a particular discipline of power.

There is more to learn about psionatrices, though.

Each one appears as a slender, disc-shaped crystal with a hole at the center.

While most users of these psionic items run an amulet chain through the hole, the opening is primarily useful as a guide for stringing more than one psionatrix together.

When two or more psionatrices are stacked in this fashion (either on the string of an amulet or with a rigid wire), the crystal discs adhere to each other, in effect creating a single psionic item with variable power output.

When you wear a stacked psionatrix, you can access its power by spending a standard action to rotate the discs in the stack to a new configuration.

In effect, you can gain the benefits of several psionic items while only taking up one space on your body to wear all of them.

Up to six psionatrices can be stacked together to form a single stacked psionatrix.

None of the six basic psionatrices described in Expanded Psionics Handbook can be stacked together.

Instead, each of those serves as the foundation of its own stack.

Description: Each psionatrix described below appears as a clear crystal disc with no distinguishing marks.

Any psionic creature or character who holds a disc can determine the psionic discipline to which the disc has affinity.

When activated, this disc glows with the radiance of a candle.

Activation: Each psionatrix described below is inert until stacked with any one of the base psionatrices from Expanded Psionics Handbook; the base psionatrix doesn't have to match the aura discipline of a stacked psionatrix.

As a standard action, the owner of a stacked psionatrix can rotate the discs to generate each special effect.

The effect of each psionatrix in the stack can be generated once per day.

ANIMAL AFFINITY

As part of a psionatrix stack, this crystal disc grants you the use of animal affinity (EPH 76).

This disc has an affinity for the psychometabolism discipline.

Effect: When this disc in the stack is activated, you gain the benefit of animal affinity as if manifested by a 3rd-level manifester.

Aura/Manifester Level: Faint psychometabolism.

ML 3rd.

Construction: Craft Universal Item, animal affinity, 810 gp, 65 XP, 1 day.
Weight: 1/6 lb.
(per disc in stack).
Price: 1,620 gp.

CHAMELEON

As part of a psionatrix stack, this crystal disc grants you the use of chameleon (EPH 82).
This disc has an affinity for the psychometabolism discipline.
Effect: When this disc in the stack is activated, you gain the benefit of chameleon as if manifested by a 3rd-level manifester.
Aura/Manifester Level: Faint psychometabolism.
ML 3rd.
Construction: Craft Universal Item, chameleon, 810 gp, 65 XP, 1 day.
Weight: 1/6 lb.
(per disc in stack).
Price: 1,620 gp.

CLAIRVOYANT SENSE

As part of a psionatrix stack, this crystal disc grants you the use of clairvoyant sense (EPH 83).
This disc has an affinity for the clairsentience discipline.
Effect: When this disc in the stack is activated, you gain the benefit of clairvoyant sense as if manifested by a 3rd-level manifester.
Aura/Manifester Level: Faint clairsentience.
ML 3rd.
Construction: Craft Universal Item, clairvoyant sense, 810 gp, 65 XP, 1 day.
Weight: 1/6 lb.
(per disc in stack).
Price: 1,620 gp.

CONCEALING AMORPHA

As part of a psionatrix stack, this crystal disc grants you the use of greater concealing amorpha (EPH 85).
This disc has an affinity for the metacreativity discipline.
Effect: When this disc in the stack is activated, you gain the benefit of greater concealing amorpha as if manifested by a 5th-level manifester.
Aura/Manifester Level: Faint metacreativity.
ML 5th.
Construction: Craft Universal Item, greater concealing amorpha, 2,025 gp, 162 XP, 3 days.
Weight: 1/6 lb.
(per disc in stack).
Price: 4,050 gp.

CONTROL

As part of a psionatrix stack, this crystal disc grants you the use of control air (EPH 86).
This disc has an affinity for the psychokinesis discipline.
Effect: When this disc in the stack is activated, you gain the benefit of control air as if manifested by a 3rd-level manifester.
Aura/Manifester Level: Faint psychokinesis.
ML 3rd.

Construction: Craft Universal Item, control air, 810 gp, 65 XP, 1 day.
Weight: 1/6 lb.
(per disc in stack).
Price: 1,620 gp.

DAMAGE REPAIR

As part of a psionatrix stack, this crystal disc grants you the use of psionic repair damage (EPH 126).
This disc has an affinity for the metacreativity discipline.
Effect: When this disc in the stack is activated, you gain the benefit of psionic repair damage as if manifested by a 3rd-level manifester.
Aura/Manifester Level: Faint metacreativity.
ML 3rd.
Construction: Craft Universal Item, psionic repair damage, 810 gp, 65 XP, 1 day.
Weight: 1/6 lb.
(per disc in stack).
Price: 1,620 gp.

DIMENSION SWAP

As part of a psionatrix stack, this crystal disc grants you the use of dimension swap (EPH 93).
This disc has an affinity for the psychoportation discipline.
Effect: When this disc in the stack is activated, you gain the benefit of dimension swap as if manifested by a 3rd-level manifester.
Aura/Manifester Level: Faint psychoportation.
ML 3rd.
Construction: Craft Universal Item, dimension swap, 810 gp, 65 XP, 1 day.
Weight: 1/6 lb.
(per disc in stack).
Price: 1,620 gp.

FALSE SENSORY INPUT

As part of a psionatrix stack, this crystal disc grants you the use of fake sensory input (EPH 106).
This disc has an affinity for the telepathy discipline.
Effect: When this disc in the stack is activated, you gain the benefit of false sensory input as if manifested by a 5th-level manifester.
Aura/Manifester Level: Faint telepathy.
ML 5th.
Construction: Craft Universal Item, false sensory input, 2,025 gp, 162 XP, 3 days.
Weight: 1/6 lb.
(per disc in stack).
Price: 4,050 gp.

LEVITATION

As part of a psionatrix stack, this crystal disc grants you the use of psionic levitate (EPH 114).
This disc has an affinity for the psychoportation discipline.
Effect: When this disc in the stack is activated, you gain the benefit of psionic levitate as if manifested by a 3rd-level manifester.
Aura/Manifester Level: Faint psychoportation.
ML 3rd.

Construction: Craft Universal Item, psionic levitate, 810 gp, 65 XP, 1 day.
Weight: 1/6 lb.
f per disc in stack.
Price: 1,620 gp.

PSYCHIC SENSITIVITY

As part of a psionatrix stack, this crystal disc grants you the use of sensitivity to psychic impressions (EPH 131). This disc has an affinity for the clairsentience discipline. Effect: When this disc in the stack is activated, you gain the benefit of sensitivity to psychic impressions as if manifested by a 3rd-level manifester. Aura/Manifester Level: Faint clairsentience. ML 3rd.
Construction: Craft Universal Item, sensitivity to psychic impressions, 810 gp, 65 XP, 1 day.
Weight: 1/6 lb.
(per disc in stack).
Price: 1,620 gp.

STUNNING ENERGY

As part of a psionatrix stack, this crystal disc grants you the use of energy stun (page 88). This disc has an affinity for the psychokinesis discipline. Effect: When this disc in the stack is activated, you gain the benefit of energy stun as if manifested by a 3rd-level manifester. Aura/Manifester Level: Faint psychokinesis. ML 3rd.
Construction: Craft Universal Item, energy stun, 810 gp, 65 XP, 1 day.
Weight: 1/6 lb.
(per disc in stack).
Price: 1,620 gp.

THOUGHT READING

As part of a psionatrix stack, this crystal disc grants you the use of read thoughts (EPH 128). This disc has an affinity for the telepathy discipline. Weight: 1/6 lb.
(per disc in stack).
Price: 1,620 gp.

EPIC INSIGHTS (3.0)

CRYSTAL MASKS

SHADOWS

This smooth crystal mask distorts the wearer's features by using an ever-shifting, swirling pattern of smoke within the crystal.

On command, the crystal mask of shadows allows the character to use the shadow body power for up to 1 hour per day.

The duration of the shadow body need not be consecutive minutes.

Manifester Level: 16th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, shadow body; Market Price: 185,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

EXPANDED PSIONICS HANDBOOK (3.5)

AMULET OF CATAPSI

This copper amulet aids the wearer against other psionic characters. Once per day, the wearer can mentally command the catapsi power, which blankets a 30-foot-radius area surrounding the wearer in telepathic noise for 9 rounds. Each time other psionic characters within this range attempt to manifest a power, they must succeed on a DC 17 Will save or pay 4 more points than they otherwise would for each power manifestation. The limit on the number of power points a subject can spend on a power remains in effect, so the subject may not be able to manifest his or her highest-level powers. Moderate telepathy; ML 9th; Craft Universal Item, catapsi; Price 16,200 gp.

BOOTS OF LANDING

These boots allow the wearer to recover instantly from a fall and can absorb some damage from falling once per day. The wearer lands on her feet no matter how far she falls, and takes 2 fewer dice of damage from the fall than normal (thus, a fall of 20 feet or less deals her no damage). Faint psychoportation; ML 2nd; Craft Universal Item, catfall; Price 1,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

BOOTS OF SKATING

These boots allow the wearer to slide along the ground at will as if using the skate power. Faint psychoportation; ML 1st; Craft Universal Item, skate; Price 7,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

BOOTS OF STOMPING

These boots allow the wearer to use stomp as the power three times per day (Reflex save DC 13) when the wearer stomps her feet. Faint psychokinesis; ML 3rd; Craft Universal Item, stomp; Price 600 gp; Weight 1 lb.

BOOTS OF TEMPORAL ACCELERATION

These boots allow the wearer to speed up his own time frame for 2 rounds as if using the power temporal acceleration. The wearer can use this power once per day.

Strong psychoporation; ML 15th; Craft Universal Item, temporal acceleration; Price 43,200 gp; Weight 1 lb.

CRAWLING TATTOOS

Crawling tattoos resemble standard psionic tattoos, but their effects are often harmful rather than beneficial. Like a psionic tattoo, a crawling tattoo can be scribed only with a power of no higher than 3rd level that targets one or more creatures.

Exceptions are the body adjustment power, which can be scribed even though it affects only the manifester, and telepathy (compulsion) powers, which cannot be scribed at all.

Powers that normally have an area, such as energy cone, affect only one target if scribed in a crawling tattoo.

Powers with an experience point requirement cannot be scribed into a crawling tattoo.

Otherwise, crawling tattoos are treated as psionic tattoos (see above) until they are activated by the wearer.

The wearer of a crawling tattoo can tap the tattoo as a standard action that provokes attacks of opportunity, mentally specifying a target (to which the wearer must have line of sight).

Instead of manifesting its stored power, the tattoo animates, drops to the ground, and scuttles toward the target.

The original wearer need no longer concentrate on the tattoo once animated.

The animated tattoo moves toward its designated target in the same round when it is activated.

Treat it as a Fine construct that has AC 18, 10 hit points, a hardness of 5, speed 30 feet, and a bonus on attack rolls equal to the wearer's manifester level + his key ability modifier.

Crawling tattoos, unlike true constructs, are subject to illusions, darkness, fog, and similar effects.

Should the target be killed, teleport away, or otherwise absent itself before the animated tattoo reaches it, the wearer can reclaim the tattoo.

If it is destroyed, a crawling tattoo shatters and evaporates.

A crawling tattoo must enter the target's square to attack and thus provokes attacks of opportunity as it passes through the target's threatened area.

The tattoo makes one touch attack per round thereafter until it strikes its target or is destroyed.

On a successful attack, the power scribed in the crawling tattoo affects the target if the target fails the appropriate saving throw; however, powers that normally allow a Reflex saving throw automatically affect the touched target.

Crawling tattoos can ferry beneficial powers as well as harmful ones, and a target can allow the tattoo's touch attack to succeed if he or she desires.

Two examples of crawling tattoos are described below; many more types are possible.

Market Price: The cost of a crawling tattoo depends on the level of the power scribed in it.

Power Level	Market Price
1st	50 gp
2nd	300 gp
3rd	750 gp

CONCUSSION

This crawling tattoo delivers a concussion effect, dealing 1d6 points of damage to a creature hit by its touch attack. Faint psychokinesis; ML 1st; Craft Universal Item, concussion blast; Price 50 gp.

ENERGY BOLT

Each of these tattoos is keyed to one energy type: cold, electricity, fire, or sonic.

This crawling tattoo delivers the energy bolt power, dealing 5d6 points of damage of its energy type.

Faint psychokinesis; ML 5th; Craft Universal Item, energy bolt; Price 750 gp.

CRYSTAL ANCHORS

A crystal anchor is a shaft of transparent crystal 4 to 5 feet in length, with a sharpened, spear-like head on one end.

It ensnares the minds of those within range who manifest powers of a specified psionic discipline.

The triggering discipline is specified at the time of creation.

A crystal anchor is activated by plunging the sharp head into the ground, leaving the shaft freestanding.

It projects an invisible, 30-foot-radius field.

If a power from the specified discipline is manifested within this range, the manifester must succeed on a Will save (DC 15 + power level) or become subject to an effect similar to brain lock, except that the effect is permanent until dispelled or dismissed by the individual who initially drove the crystal anchor into the earth.

Any anchor can be pulled out of the ground and reused at a later time.

When a crystal anchor successfully ensnares a target, a slender filament of insubstantial ectoplasm connects the victim to the shaft, even one outside the original area of the field (for instance, if the victim is carried away but the effect remains active).

A crystal anchor can attempt to ensnare a victim only five times per day.

Previously caught targets can remain caught day after day and do not count against this daily limit on attempts.

An anchor's owner can designate certain creatures to be unaffected by the anchor; such creatures need not make a saving throw and do not count against the daily limit on attempts.

One crystal anchor can ensnare multiple targets simultaneously, and multiple crystal anchors can share overlapping fields.

Anchors that activate when a specific power is manifested in range are also possible (such as the ghost crystal anchor described below), but are rarer.

A crystal anchor has AC 7, 15 hit points, a hardness of 8, and a break DC of 20.

BODY

Those who manifest psychometabolism powers are affected as described above.

Faint psychometabolism; ML 5th; Craft Universal Item, brain lock, psionic contingency, any psychometabolism power; Price 24,000 gp; Weight 3 lb.

COMPREHENSION

Those who manifest clairsentience powers are affected as described above.

Faint clairsentience; ML 5th; Craft Universal Item, brain lock, psionic contingency, any clairsentience power; Price 24,000 gp; Weight 3 lb.

CREATION

Those who manifest metacreativity powers are affected as described above.

Faint metacreativity; ML 5th; Craft Universal Item, brain lock, psionic contingency, any metacreativity power; Price 24,000 gp; Weight 3 lb.

ENERGY

Those who manifest psychokinesis powers are affected as described above.

Faint psychokinesis; ML 5th; Craft Universal Item, brain lock, psionic contingency, any psychokinesis power; Price 24,000 gp; Weight 3 lb.

GHOST

Those who manifest remote viewing are affected as described above.

Faint clairsentience; ML 5th; Craft Universal Item, brain lock, psionic contingency, remote viewing; Price 24,000 gp; Weight 3 lb.

MIND

Those who manifest telepathy powers are affected as described above.

Faint telepathy; ML 5th; Craft Universal Item, brain lock, psionic contingency, any telepathy power; Price 24,000 gp; Weight 3 lb.

TRAVEL

Those who manifest psychoportation powers are affected as described above.

Faint psychoportation; ML 5th; Craft Universal Item, brain lock, psionic contingency, any psychoportation power; Price 24,000 gp; Weight 3 lb.

CRYSTAL MASKS

Each of the various types of crystal masks fits over the face of any Medium or Small humanoid, with slits for eyes and nostrils.

The mask is transparent, although it distorts the wearer's features.

Leather straps attached to small holes on the sides of a mask enable the owner to affix the mask to his face.

Crystal masks confer special abilities or improved skills on their wearers.

A crystal mask is treated as eyewear or goggles for the purpose of determining which items can be worn on the body (see page 214 of the Dungeon Master's Guide).

DETECTION

The wearer of a crystal mask of detection can make Search checks with a +10 competence bonus.

Moderate clairsentience; ML 7th; Craft Universal Item, creator must have 10 ranks in Search; Price 10,000 gp; Weight 1/2 lb.

DISCERNMENT

The wearer of a crystal mask of discernment can make Sense Motive checks with a +10 insight bonus.

Moderate clairsentience; ML 7th; Craft Universal Item, creator must have 10 ranks in Sense Motive; Price 10,000 gp; Weight 1/2 lb.

DREAD

The wearer of a crystal mask of dread can attempt to frighten other beings to her will.

The wearer makes all Intimidate checks with a +10 competence bonus.

Moderate clairsentience; ML 7th; Craft Universal Item, creator must have 10 ranks in Intimidate; Price 10,000 gp; Weight 1/2 lb.

INSIGHTFUL DETECTION

The wearer of a crystal mask of insightful detection can make Search checks and Spot checks with a +9 insight bonus.

Moderate clairsentience; ML 7th; Craft Universal Item, creator must have 9 ranks in both Search and Spot; Price 20,250 gp; Weight 1/2 lb.

KNOWLEDGE

Each of the various crystal masks of knowledge grants the wearer a +5 competence bonus on a specific type of Knowledge check.

For instance, one mask might add the bonus on Knowledge (psionics) checks while another might do so for Knowledge (history).

Faint clairsentience; ML 3rd; Craft Universal Item, creator must have 5 ranks in the Knowledge skill of the appropriate type; Price 2,500 gp; Weight 1/2 lb.

LANGUAGES

Each of the various crystal masks of language grants the wearer the ability to speak and write five different languages.

For instance, a mask might grant the ability to speak Draconic, Celestial, Dwarven, Elven, and Infernal.

Faint clairsentience; ML 3rd; Craft Universal Item, creator must have the Speak Language skill for each of five languages; Price 2,500 gp; Weight 1/2 lb.

MINDARMOR

A crystal mask of mindarmor grants the wearer a +4 insight bonus on all Will saving throws. Faint telepathy; ML 5th; Craft Universal Item, conceal thoughts; Price 10,667 gp; Weight 1/2 lb.

PSIONIC CRAFT

The wearer of a crystal mask of psionic craft makes all Psicraft checks with a +10 competence bonus. Moderate clairvoyance; ML 7th; Craft Universal Item, creator must have 10 ranks in Psicraft; Price 10,000 gp; Weight 1/2 lb.

EYES OF EXPANDED VISION

These crystal lenses fit over the user's eyes to expand his field of vision.

Flanking opponents gain only a +1 bonus when attacking the user instead of +2 (rogues still get their full sneak attack damage because the wearer is still flanked).

The wearer gains a +1 enhancement bonus on Spot checks but takes a -2 penalty on saves against gaze attacks. Faint clairvoyance; ML 1st; Craft Universal Item, ubiquitous vision; Price 3,000 gp.

EYES OF POWER LEECH

These crystal lenses fit over the user's eyes. Once per day, the wearer is able to drain power points from another psionic creature or character by meeting its gaze as if using power leech.

A selected target within 40 feet must succeed on a DC 16 Will save, or a connection of crackling energy is formed between the wearer and the victim.

The connection drains 1d6 power points from the target for every round in which the wearer maintains concentration (to a maximum of 7 rounds).

The wearer gains 1 power point from those drained from the target each round (subject to his normal maximum; points he cannot gain immediately are lost).

If the wearer has only one lens, the DC of the Will save is 14 instead of 16.

Eyes of power leech have no effect on nonpsionic targets or psionic creatures with a current power point reserve of 0. Moderate telepathy; ML 7th; Craft Universal Item, power leech; Price 10,080 gp.

EYES OF POWER LEECH, VAMPIRIC

As eyes of power leech, except the wearer gains drained power points from the subject even if doing so would bring him over his normal maximum.

The wearer of vampiric eyes of power leech can maintain concentration for up to 13 rounds.

Power points the wearer gains in excess of his maximum fade after 8 hours if they are not spent before that time.

Strong telepathy; ML 15th; Craft Universal Item, bend reality, power leech; Price 20,160 gp.

GLOVES OF OBJECT READING

While wearing these gloves, the user can learn the details of an inanimate object's previous owner if he handles the object, as if manifesting the object reading power.

Faint clairvoyance; ML 1st; Craft Universal Item, object reading; Price 3,000 gp.

GLOVES OF TITAN'S GRIP

While wearing these oversize gloves, the user gains a +8 enhancement bonus on grapple checks.

The power is activated when the user enters a grapple. The enhancement bonus lasts for a maximum of 7 rounds per use, up to three uses per day.

Moderate psychometabolism; ML 9th; Craft Universal Item, grip of iron; Price 14,000 gp.

MIRROR OF MIND SWITCH

This small hand mirror manifests its power once per day against a creature that sees its reflection within it, as a gaze attack with a range of 30 feet.

Potential victims can attempt to avert their eyes or look away as they would from a normal gaze attack (see page 309 of the Monster Manual).

A creature meeting its own gaze in the mirror must succeed on a DC 19 Will save, or its mind and the mind of the mirror's wielder switch, as if by the mind switch power.

Because the mirror is small, only a single creature can meet its own gaze.

The wielder of the mirror is not affected by seeing himself. Moderate telepathy; ML 11th; Craft Universal Item, mind switch; Price 19,800 gp; Weight 1/2 lb.

MIRROR OF SUGGESTION

This small hand mirror manifests its power up to twice per day against creatures that see their reflections within it, as a gaze attack with a range of 30 feet.

Potential victims can attempt to avert their eyes or look away as they would from a normal gaze attack (see page 309 of the Monster Manual).

A creature meeting its own gaze in the mirror must succeed on a DC 13 Will save or be affected by a suggestion chosen by the mirror's wielder.

Because the mirror is small, only a single creature can meet its own gaze each round.

The wielder of the mirror is not affected by seeing herself.

Faint telepathy; ML 3rd; Craft Universal Item, psionic suggestion; Price 3,600 gp; Weight 1/2 lb.

MIRROR OF TIME HOP

This small hand mirror manifests its power up to twice per day against creatures that see their reflections within it, as a gaze attack with a range of 30 feet.

Potential victims can attempt to avert their eyes or look away as they would from a normal gaze attack (see page 309 of the Monster Manual).

A creature meeting its own gaze in the mirror must succeed on a DC 14 Will save or be pushed forward in time by 5 rounds, as if subject to the time hop power.

Because the mirror is small, only a single creature can meet its own gaze each round.

The wielder of the mirror is not affected by seeing herself. Faint psychoportation; ML 5th; Craft Universal Item, time hop; Price 9,000 gp; Weight 1/2 lb.

PEARL, BRAIN LOCK

This tiny pearly sphere speeds toward its target when hurled by its owner.

He can hurl the pearl at any target within 130 feet that he can see and to which he has line of effect.

If the target fails a DC 13 Will saving throw, the pearl seems to impact and then enter the flesh of the target.

The target stands mentally paralyzed, as if by brain lock, for 3 rounds.

The use destroys the item.

Faint telepathy; ML 3rd; Craft Universal Item, brain lock; Price 300 gp.

PEARL, BREATH CRISIS

This tiny pearly sphere speeds toward its target when hurled by its owner.

He can hurl the pearl at any target within 150 feet that he can see and to which he has line of effect.

If the target fails a DC 14 Will saving throw, the pearl seems to impact and then enter the flesh of the target.

The target is affected as if by crisis of breath for 5 minutes.

The use destroys the item.

Faint telepathy; ML 5th; Craft Universal Item, crisis of breath; Price 750 gp.

PEARL, MIND SEED

This tiny pearly sphere instantly takes on the skin tone and texture of whatever creature handles it.

It speeds toward its target when hurled by its owner.

He can hurl the pearl at any target within 150 feet that he can see and to which he has line of effect.

If the target fails a DC 22 Will saving throw, the pearl seems to impact and then enter the flesh of the target.

The target is affected as if by a mind seed power, with the pearl's wielder acting as the manifester.

The use destroys the item.

Strong telepathy; ML 15th; Craft Universal Item, mind seed; Cost 6,000 gp + 2,500 XP; Price 18,500 gp.

PEARL, PERSONALITY PARASITE

This tiny pearly sphere speeds toward its target when hurled by its owner.

He can hurl the pearl at any target within 130 feet that he can see and to which he has line of effect.

If the target fails a DC 16 Will saving throw, the pearl seems to impact and then enter the flesh of the target.

The target is affected as if by personality parasite for 5 rounds.

The use destroys the item.

Faint telepathy; ML 7th; Craft Universal Item, personality parasite; Price 1,400 gp.

PSIONATRICES

Each of these multifaceted crystals is worn as an amulet. Unless noted otherwise, a psionatrix adds a +1 enhancement bonus to the save DC when the wearer uses powers of the discipline to which the psionatrix is keyed.

CLAIRSENTIENCE

Blue light glimmers in this crystal's heart.

Moderate clairsentience; ML 8th; Craft Universal Item, creator must be a seer; Price 8,000 gp.

METACREATIVITY

Green light glimmers in this crystal's heart.

Moderate metacreativity; ML 8th; Craft Universal Item, creator must be a shaper; Price 8,000 gp.

PSYCHOKINESIS

Red light glimmers in this crystal's heart.

Moderate psychokinesis; ML 8th; Craft Universal Item, creator must be a kineticist; Price 8,000 gp.

PSYCHOMETABOLISM

Violet light glimmers in this crystal's heart.

Moderate psychometabolism; ML 8th; Craft Universal Item, creator must be an egoist; Price 8,000 gp.

PSYCHOPORTATION

Yellow-red light glimmers in this crystal's heart.

Moderate psychoportation; ML 8th; Craft Universal Item, creator must be a nomad; Price 8,000 gp.

TELEPATHY

Piercing yellow light shines from this crystal's heart.

Moderate telepathy; ML 8th; Craft Universal Item, creator must be a telepath; Price 8,000 gp.

PSIONIC RESTRAINTS

Each of the various psionic restraints is an iron cuff that cunningly locks around the wrist (DC 27 Open Lock check).

The cuff limits the total number of power points a psionic creature wearing it can use in 1 round (regardless of the creature's total power point reserve), or completely damps the ability to use psionics.

All types of psionic restraints prevent the free manifesting of powers.

Restraint Type	Allowed Power Points/Round	Market Price
Lesser	5	1,000 gp
Average	3	6,000 gp
Greater	1	12,000 gp
Damping	0	24,000 gp

Strong psychokinesis; ML 16th; Craft Universal Item, bend reality, dispel psionics; Weight 1 lb.

PSYCHOACTIVE SKINS

Psychoactive skins (also sometimes called ectoshells) are fist-sized globs of psionically charged ectoplasm.

As a standard action, a psychoactive skin spreads over and covers a Medium or smaller creature that projects the proper command thought; the same command thought causes the skin to shrink back down to its former size.

Each of the various psychoactive skins is charged with one of a wide array of powers that constantly affect the wearer.

A deployed skin completely covers the wearer and all his equipment like a second skin, allowing the wearer to see, hear, and breathe normally.

It rolls away from various parts of the body as needed, such as when the wearer needs to eat or access a backpack.

Held items or items specifically excluded are not covered by a psychoactive skin.

Up to three skins can be worn simultaneously, although only the outermost is active in any given round (the powers of hidden skins cannot be manifested).

Skin layers can be changed with a command thought as a standard action, which causes a lower-layer skin to come to the surface.

CHAMELEON

This psychoactive skin adjusts to surrounding textures and colors, continually granting the wearer a +10 enhancement bonus on Hide checks.

Faint psychometabolism; ML 3rd; Craft Universal Item, chameleon; Price 18,000 gp; Weight 2 lb.

CLAW

This psychoactive skin benefits only a wearer who has levels in psychic warrior.

If such a character wears this skin, he can activate the claws of the beast power at will, as a free action that does not provoke attacks of opportunity.

He can also dismiss the claws equally quickly.

Faint psychometabolism; ML 4th; Craft Universal Item, claws of the beast; Price 16,000 gp; Weight 2 lb.

DEFENDER

This psychoactive skin continually grants the wearer a +4 bonus to natural armor.

Faint psychometabolism; ML 5th; Craft Universal Item, thicken skin; Price 32,000 gp; Weight 2 lb.

FIERY RESPONSE

This psychoactive skin answers the first attack made against the wearer in each round with an automatically manifested and targeted “ectoburst” against the attacker.

The burst ejects from the skin on the wearer’s turn, making a ranged touch attack as described in the energy retort power, but the energy type chosen is always fire.

If the attack hits, the target takes 2d6 points of fire damage as the ectoburst flames up and is consumed.

This attack does not in any way hinder the wearer, count against her total actions for the round, or provoke attacks of opportunity.

Faint psychokinesis; ML 5th; Craft Universal Item, energy retort; Price 60,000 gp; Weight 2 lb.

HERO

This psychoactive skin continually grants the wearer a +3 deflection bonus to Armor Class, a +3 resistance bonus on all saving throws, and a +3 enhancement bonus on attack rolls.

Strong psychometabolism; ML 18th; Craft Universal Item, bend reality; Price 77,500 gp; Weight 2 lb.

IRON

This psychoactive skin affects the wearer as the psionic iron body power up to three times per day for 15 minutes with each use.

When the skin’s power is not active, it has no protective qualities.

Activating the psionic iron body effect is a standard action that provokes attacks of opportunity.

Strong metacreativity; ML 15th; Craft Universal Item, psionic iron body; Price 129,600 gp; Weight 2 lb.

NIMBLENESS

This psychoactive skin continually grants the wearer a +10 competence bonus on Tumble checks.

Moderate psychometabolism; ML 8th; Craft Universal Item, creator must have 10 ranks in Tumble; Price 10,000 gp; Weight 2 lb.

PROTEUS

This psychoactive skin continually affects the wearer as the metamorphosis power.

While in a form other than his natural form, the wearer does not appear to be wearing the skin.

Moderate psychometabolism; ML 7th; Craft Universal Item, metamorphosis; Price 84,000 gp; Weight 2 lb.

PSION

This psychoactive skin grants the wearer 7 bonus power points per day and power resistance 21.

Strong clairsentience; ML 17th; Craft Universal Item, power resistance; Price 151,000 gp; Weight 2 lb.

SPIDER

This psychoactive skin continually grants the wearer a +20 competence bonus on Climb checks and continually affects the wearer as the body equilibrium power.

Three times per day, the wearer can manifest entangling ectoplasm against a target within 30 feet.

Faint psychometabolism; ML 3rd; Craft Universal Item, creator must have 10 ranks in Climb, body equilibrium, entangling ectoplasm; Price 79,080 gp; Weight 2 lb.

TROLL

This psychoactive skin continually allows a living wearer to heal more quickly.

The wearer heals 5 points of damage per minute.

Except for the slower rate of healing, this skin affects its wearer as if the wearer were under the effect of a continual true metabolism power.

Strong psychometabolism; ML 17th; Craft Universal Item, true metabolism; Price 61,200 gp; Weight 2 lb.

RING OF SELF-SUFFICIENCY

This crystalline ring continually grants the wearer a +10 competence bonus on Autohypnosis checks.

Moderate psychometabolism; ML 7th; Craft Universal Item, creator must have 10 ranks in Autohypnosis; Price 10,000 gp.

SHARDS

These universal items are tiny fragments of cast-off crystal imprinted with minuscule bits of psionic power. Using a shard requires grasping it and projecting a command thought as a standard action (most shards telepathically whisper their command word into the minds of living creatures who handle them).

A shard grants a temporary competence bonus on one specific skill, ranging from +1 to +10.

The granted bonus lasts until the skill is used or 10 rounds pass, whichever comes first.

For instance, a shard of Jump +8 grants a +8 competence bonus on the user's next Jump check if made within the next 10 rounds.

Once its effect is activated, a shard disintegrates immediately, whether or not the bonus granted by the shard is eventually used.

Moderate psychometabolism; ML 7th; Craft Universal Item, creator must have ranks in the specified skill at least equal to the imprinted bonus; Price 10 gp (+1), 40 gp (+2), 90 gp (+3), 160 gp (+4), 250 gp (+5), 360 gp (+6), 490 gp (+7), 640 gp (+8), 810 gp (+9), or 1,000 gp (+10).

THIRD EYES

These objects appear as small crystals, always with at least one wide, flat facet, and contain a variety of powers.

When the owner uses the proper command thought, the crystal adheres to the center of his forehead (the same command thought causes the third eye to disengage).

Only one third eye can be worn at a time.

A third eye is treated as eyewear or goggles for the purpose of determining which items can be worn on the body (see page 214 of the Dungeon Master's Guide).

AWARE

This kind of third eye continually grants the wearer a +10 competence bonus on Spot checks.

Moderate clairsentience; ML 7th; Craft Universal Item, creator must have 10 ranks in Spot; Price 10,000 gp.

CONCEAL

While worn, a third eye conceal protects the wearer from view by all devices, powers, and spells that detect, influence, or read emotions or thoughts.

This power protects against all mind-affecting powers and effects as well as information-gathering by clairsentience powers or effects (except for metafaculty); this item affects the wearer as if he enjoyed the benefit of the psionic mind blank power.

Strong telepathy; ML 15th; Craft Universal Item, psionic mind blank; Price 120,000 gp.

CONCENTRATE

This kind of third eye continually grants the wearer a +10 competence bonus on Concentration checks.

Moderate telepathy; ML 7th; Craft Universal Item, creator must have 10 ranks in Concentration; Price 10,000 gp.

DOMINATE

The wearer of a third eye dominate can attempt to dominate a subject as with the power psionic dominate, augmented to target any creature type it can affect, once per day (save DC 18).

Strong telepathy; ML 15th; Craft Universal Item, psionic dominate; Price 120,000 gp.

EXPOSE

The wearer of this kind of third eye always knows when someone lies directly to him.

Strong telepathy; ML 15th; Craft Universal Item, bend reality; Price 112,000 gp.

GATHER

This kind of third eye continually grants the wearer a +10 competence bonus on Gather Information checks.

Moderate clairsentience; ML 7th; Craft Universal Item, creator must have 10 ranks in Gather Information; Price 10,000 gp.

PENETRATE

While worn, a third eye penetrate grants the wearer a +2 bonus on manifester level checks to overcome a creature's power resistance.

Strong clairsentience; ML 15th; Craft Universal Item, bend reality; Price 8,000 gp.

POWERTHIEVE

While worn, a third eye powerthieve allows the wearer to borrow one power from a psionic target within 40 feet once per day.

If the target fails a DC 16 Will save, it instantly loses one power of the wearer's choice, and the wearer instantly gains temporary knowledge of this power.

The wearer can manifest the borrowed power normally if she has sufficient power points to pay for its cost.

The wearer retains knowledge of the power for up to 70 minutes, at which time she loses knowledge of the power and the former owner regains it, regardless of the distance between them.

If the former owner is dead, the wearer still loses the borrowed power.

Moderate telepathy; ML 7th; Craft Universal Item, thieving mindlink; Price 10,080 gp.

REPUDIATE

While worn, this powerful item allows the wearer to manifest dispel psionics once per day with a +20 modifier on the dispel check (the wearer uses the +20 modifier in place of his manifester level).

Strong psychokinesis; ML 20th; Craft Universal Item, dispel psionics; Price 43,200 gp.

SENSE

The wearer of this kind of third eye can manifest clairvoyant sense at will.

Faint clairsentience; ML 3rd; Craft Universal Item, clairvoyant sense; Price 24,000 gp.

VIEW

The wearer of this kind of third eye can spin a quasi-real version of himself and send it over virtually any distance or into other planes of existence, as if manifesting the remote viewing power, once per day.

Moderate clairsentience; ML 7th; Craft Universal Item, remote viewing; Price 10,180 gp.

TORC OF FREE WILL

This item is a band inlaid with precious metal, worn around the neck or upper arm.

The wearer of a torc of free will is not affected by the brain lock power or items that produce brain lock effects (such as crystal anchors).

A torc is treated as an amulet for the purpose of determining which items can be worn on the body (see page 214 of the Dungeon Master's Guide).

Faint telepathy; ML 3rd; Craft Universal Item, brain lock; Price 6,000 gp; Weight 2 lb.

TORC OF LEECH FREEDOM

This item is a band inlaid with precious metal, worn around the neck or upper arm.

The wearer of a torc of leech freedom automatically resists up to two uses of power leech against him per day.

A torc is treated as an amulet for the purpose of determining which items can be worn on the body (see page 214 of the Dungeon Master's Guide).

Faint telepathy; ML 5th; Craft Universal Item, power leech; Price 12,000 gp; Weight 2 lb.

TORC OF POWER PRESERVATION

This item is a band inlaid with precious metal, worn around the neck or upper arm.

The wearer of a torc of power preservation manifests all powers by paying power points equal to the standard cost minus 1 (minimum of 1).

A torc is treated as an amulet for the purpose of determining which items can be worn on the body (see page 214 of the Dungeon Master's Guide).

Strong clairsentience; ML 15th; Craft Universal Item, bend reality; Price 36,000 gp; Weight 2 lb.

PSIONICS HANDBOOK (3.0)

AMULET OF CATAPSI

This copper amulet aids the wearer against other psionic characters.

Three times per day, the wearer can trigger the catapsi power, which blankets a 100-foot radius in telepathic noise for 10 minutes.

Each time other psionic characters within this range attempt to manifest a psionic power, they must succeed at a Will save (DC 17) or pay double the normal power point cost.

Manifester Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, catapsi; Market Price: 12,000 gp; Weight: —.

AMULET OF PSYCHIC BASTION

When worn, this amulet protects the wearer as the Psychic Bastion feat.

The wearer gains mental hardness +1 against a foe's successful psionic attack.

This bonus does not stack with that granted by Psychic Bastion, but either bonus alone stacks with mental hardness bonuses from psionic defense modes.

Manifester Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, Psychic Bastion; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: —.

BRAIN LOCK PEARL

When hurled at a target, this tiny pearl-like sphere bursts into a shower of yellow sparks.

Treat this as a ranged touch attack.

A target that is hit stands dazed as if by brain lock for 4 rounds.

Brain lock pearls are grenade-like weapons (see Chapter 7 of the Player's Handbook and Chapter 3 of the DUNGEON MASTER's Guide), so a miss can potentially deal splash damage against all creatures within 5 feet, affecting them for 1 round.

The burst destroys the item.

Manifester Level: 4th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, brain lock; Market Price: 1,000 gp; Weight: —.

BOOTS OF SKATING

These boots allow the wearer to slide along the ground at will as if using the skate power.

This benefit counts as an enhancement bonus.

Manifester Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, skate; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BOOTS OF STOMPING

These boots allow the wearer to use stomp as the power three times per day (Reflex save DC 12).

Manifester Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, stomp; Market Price: 1,200 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

CRAWLING TATTOOS

These resemble standard psionic tattoos, but their effects are often offensive rather than beneficial.

Like psionic tattoos, a crawling tattoo can be scribed only with powers of level 0 to 3 that target a creature or creatures.

The exceptions are body adjustment powers, which can be scribed despite their effect being personal, and compulsion powers, which cannot be scribed at all.

Powers that normally have an area, such as whitefire, only affect one target if scribed in a crawling tattoo. Otherwise, crawling tattoos are treated in all ways as psionic tattoos (see “Psionic Tattoos” above) until they are activated by the wearer.

The wearer of a crawling tattoo can tap the tattoo as a standard action that draws an attack of opportunity, mentally specifying a target (to which the wearer must have line of sight).

The designated target could be an object.

Instead of triggering its stored power, this animates the tattoo, which drops to the floor and scuttles toward the target.

The original wearer need no longer concentrate on the tattoo once animated.

The animated tattoo begins to move toward its designated target at the beginning of the original wearer’s next round.

Treat it as a Fine construct that has an AC of 18, 10 hit points, a hardness of 5, speed 30, and an attack bonus of +5.

Crawling tattoos, unlike true constructs, are subject to illusions, darkness, fog, and similar effects.

Should the target be killed, teleport away, or otherwise absent itself before contact, the wearer can reclaim the tattoo.

If destroyed, a crawling tattoo shatters and evaporates.

A crawling tattoo must enter the target’s square to attack and thus draws an attack of opportunity as it passes through the target’s threatened area.

The tattoo makes melee touch attacks until it strikes its target or is destroyed.

On a successful attack, the power scribed in the crawling tattoo automatically affects the target, even if a save is normally allowed.

Crawling tattoos can ferry beneficial powers as well, and the target can allow the touch attack to succeed if it desires.

Stored Power Level	Market Price
0	50 gp
1st	100 gp
2nd	600 gp
3rd	1,400 gp

Manifester Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, power of the appropriate type and level; Weight: —.
Crawling Tattoo Example:

CONCUSSION

This crawling tattoo delivers a concussion effect, dealing 3d6 points of damage against a creature hit by its touch attack.

Manifester Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, concussion; Market Value: 600 gp; Weight: —.

CRYSTAL ANCHORS

A crystal anchor is a shaft of transparent crystal some 4 to 5 feet in length, with a sharpened spear-like head on one end. It ensnares the minds of those who manifest certain psionic powers within range.

A crystal anchor can be configured to ward against powers of 6th level and lower.

The triggering power is specified at the time of creation. The user activates a crystal anchor by plunging the sharp head into the ground, leaving the shaft freestanding.

It projects an invisible, 30-foot-radius field.

If the specified power is manifested within this range, the manifester must succeed at a Will save (DC 14 + power level) or be affected by brain lock for 10 rounds.

Someone outside the area can still be ensnared by manifesting the specified power into or within it.

A crystal anchor can only attempt to ensnare five victims per day.

One crystal anchor can ensnare multiple targets simultaneously, and multiple crystal anchors can share overlapping fields.

When a crystal anchor successfully ensnares a target, a slender filament of insubstantial ectoplasm connects the manifester to the shaft, even one outside the area, up to 300 feet away.

(Beyond that distance, there is no filament, although the anchor does glow to indicate it is working).

This is only a visual display: Severing the filament does not dispel the effect.

A crystal anchor has an AC of 7, 15 hit points, a hardness of 8, and a break DC of 20.

Designated Power's Level	Market Price
0	5,000 gp
1st	10,000 gp
2nd	10,400 gp
3rd	11,300 gp
4th	12,600 gp
5th	14,300 gp
6th	16,400 gp

Manifester Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, brain lock, contingency, power to be designated; Weight: 3 lb.
Crystal Anchor Example:

GHOST

This crystal anchor ensnares those who use remote viewing or similar powers to see anywhere within its area.

Manifester Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, brain lock, contingency, remote viewing; Market Price: 11,300 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

CRYSTAL MASKS

Each of the various types of crystal mask fits over the face of any Medium-size or Small humanoid creature, with slits for eyes and nostrils.

The mask is transparent, although it distorts the wearer’s features.

Small holes on the side admit leather straps for affixing the mask to tilt wearers face.

Crystal masks confer special abilities or improved skills on their wearers.

DETECTION

The wearer of a crystal mask of detection can make Search checks to detect traps as a rogue can.

The mask grants no special bonus on the wearer’s Search checks.

Manifester Level: 14th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, creator must have 1 level of rogue; Market Price: 12,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

FEAR

The wearer of a crystal mask of fear can terrify other beings. The wearer need merely meet the gaze of a creature as a standard action.

A target who fails a Will save (DC 16) panics, has a 50% chance to drop what it's holding, and flees away from you for 10 rounds (see Panicked in Chapter 3 of the DUNGEON MASTER's Guide for a complete description).

This is a mind-affecting, fear effect.

Manifester Level: 14th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, emulate power; Market Price: 56,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

KNOWLEDGE

Each of the various crystal masks of knowledge grants the wearer a +5 competence bonus on a specific type of Knowledge check.

For instance, one mask might add the bonus on Knowledge (arcana) checks while another might do so for Knowledge (dragons).

Manifester Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, creator must have 5 ranks of a Knowledge skill of the appropriate type; Market Price: 500 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

LANGUAGE

Each of the various crystal masks of language grants the wearer the ability to speak and write a specific language. For instance, one mask might grant the ability to speak Draconic, while another might allow the wearer to speak the human language of the northern ice barbarians.

Manifester Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, creator must have the Speak Language skill of the appropriate type; Market Price: 500 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

MINDARMOR

A crystal mask of mindarmor grants the wearer a +4 enhancement bonus on saving throws against all compulsion effects while worn.

Manifester Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, conceal thoughts; Market Price: 4,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

EYES OF POWERLEECH

These crystal lenses fit over the user's eyes.

The wearer is able to drain power points from psionic characters merely by meeting their gaze (at the rate of one target per round).

The target must succeed at a Will save (DC 14) or lose 2d10 power points.

The eyes of powerleech have no effect on nonpsionic targets or psionic beings who have exhausted their power points already (or manifest their powers freely).

If the wearer has only one lens, the DC of the saving throw is reduced to 10.

The wearer can attempt a powerleech attack up to three times per day.

Manifester Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, negate psionics; Market Price: 7,200 gp; Weight: —.

EYES OF VAMPIRIC POWERLEECH

These crystal lenses fit over the user's eyes, enabling him to drain power points from psionic characters merely by meeting their gaze (at the rate of one target per round).

The target must succeed at a Will saving throw (DC 18) or lose 2d10 power points, which the wearer instantly adds to his own power point reserve, even if these would bring him over his normal maximum.

Power points in excess of the wearer's maximum fade after 24 hours.

The eyes of vampiric powerleech have no effect on nonpsionic targets or psionic beings who have exhausted their power points already (or manifest their powers freely).

If the wearer has only one lens, the DC of the saving throw is reduced to 10.

The wearer can attempt a vampiric powerleech attack up to three times per day.

Manifester Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, negate psionics, psychic vampire; Market Price: 61,000 gp; Weight: —.

GLOVES OF OBJECT READING

While wearing these gloves, the user can learn the details of an inanimate object's previous owner, as if manifesting the object reading power.

Manifester Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, object reading; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: —.

MIRROR OF SUGGESTION

This small hand mirror manifests its power against those who see their reflections within it, as a gaze attack with a range of 30 feet.

Potential victims can attempt to avert their eyes or look away as they would from a normal gaze attack (see Gaze Attacks in Chapter 3 of the DUNGEON MASTER's Guide).

A creature meeting its own gaze in the mirror must succeed at a Will save (DC 13) or be affected by a suggestion chosen by the mirror's wielder.

Because the mirror is small, only a single creature can meet its own gaze each round.

The wielder of the mirror is not affected by seeing herself.

Manifester Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, suggestion; Market Price: 12,000 gp; Weight: 1/2 lb.

POWERLEECH PEARL

When hurled at a psionic character, this tiny pearl-like sphere bursts into a shower of rainbow-colored sparks. Treat this as a ranged touch attack.

A target who is hit loses 2d4 power points (psionic creatures, which manifest freely, are not affected).

Powerleech pearls are grenade-like weapons (see Chapter 7 of the Player's Handbook and Chapter 3 of the DUNGEON MASTER's Guide), so a miss can potentially deal splash damage, draining 1 power point from psionic characters within 5 feet.

The burst destroys the item.

Manifester Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, negate psionics; Market Price: 1,000 gp; Weight: —.

PSIONATRICES

Each of these multifaceted crystals is worn as an amulet. Any psionatrix adds an enhancement bonus on the wearer's roll to set the save DC when using psionic powers or attack/defense modes, in addition to the other standard modifiers.

CLAIRSENTIENCE

Blue light glimmers in this crystal's heart. A psionatrix of Clairsentience adds a +1 enhancement bonus on the wearer's roll when using a Clairsentience power. Manifester Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, creator must be a seer; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: —.

METACREATIVITY

Green light glimmers in this crystal's heart. A psionatrix of Metacreativity adds a +1 enhancement bonus on the wearer's roll when using a Metacreativity power. Manifester Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, creator must be a shaper; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: —.

PSIONIC ATTACK

White light glimmers in this crystal's heart. A psionatrix of psionic attack adds a +1 enhancement bonus on the wearer's roll when using a specified psionic attack mode.

For instance, a psionatrix of mind thrust grants a +1 bonus on the attacker's roll when using mind thrust, in addition to the other standard modifiers. Manifester Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, any psionic attack mode; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: —.

PSIONIC DEFENSE

White light glimmers in this crystal's heart whenever the wearer is subject to psionic attack modes. A psionatrix of psionic defense adds a +1 enhancement bonus on the wearer's Will save using a specified psionic defense mode.

For instance, a psionatrix of empty mind grants a +1 bonus on the defender's roll when using empty mind, in addition to the other standard modifiers. Manifester Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, any psionic defense mode; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: —.

PSYCHOKINESIS

Red light glimmers in this crystal's heart. A psionatrix of Psychokinesis adds a +1 enhancement bonus on the wearer's roll when using a Psychokinesis power. Manifester Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, creator must be a savant; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: —.

PSYCHOMETABOLISM

Violet light glimmers in this crystal's heart. A psionatrix of Psychometabolism adds a +1 enhancement bonus on the wearer's roll when using a Psychometabolism power. Manifester Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, creator must be an egoist; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: —.

PSYCHOPORTATION

Yellow-red light glimmers in this crystal's heart. A psionatrix of Psychoportation adds a +1 enhancement bonus on the wearer's roll when using a Psychoportation power. Manifester Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, creator must be a nomad; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: —.

TELEPATHY

Piercing yellow light shines from this crystal's heart. A psionatrix of Telepathy adds a +1 enhancement bonus on the wearer's roll when using a Telepathy power. Manifester Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, creator must be a telepath; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: —.

PSIONIC RESTRAINTS

Each of the various psionic restraints is an iron cuff that cunningly locks around the wrist (DC 27 for Open Lock checks).

The cuff limits the total number of power points a psionic character wearing it can use in a round (regardless of total power point reserve), or completely damps the ability to use psionics.

Damping psionic restraints even inhibit free manifestation, so they also affect psionic creatures, which are unaffected by the other types of restraints.

Restraints Type	Allowed Power Points/Round	Market Price
Lesser	5 or fewer	1,000 gp
Average	3 or fewer	6,000 gp
Greater	1 or fewer	12,000 gp
Damping	0	24,000 gp

Manifester Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, negate psionics; Weight: 1 lb.

PSYCHOACTIVE SKINS

Psychoactive skins (also sometimes called “ectoshells”) are fist-sized globs of psionically charged ectoplasm.

As a standard action, a skin spreads over and covers a Medium-size or smaller creature who projects the proper command thought; the same command thought causes the skin to shrink back down to its former size.

Each of the various psychoactive skins is charged with one of a wide array of powers that constantly affect the wearer. A deployed skin completely covers the wearer (but not bulky equipment such as armor, backpacks, and other large items) like a second skin, allowing the wearer to see, hear, and breathe normally.

It rolls away from various parts of the body as needed, such as when the wearer needs to eat.

Up to three skins can be worn simultaneously, although only the outermost is active in any given round (hidden skins cannot manifest their powers).

Skin layers can be changed with a command thought as a standard action, which causes the current skin to “boil away” and reveal a lower-layer skin.

CHAMELEON

This psychoactive skin adjusts to surrounding textures and colors, continually granting the wearer a +15 circumstance bonus on Hide checks (assuming she doffs heavy armor and bulky equipment).

Manifester Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, chameleon; Market Price: 4,500 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

CLAW

This psychoactive skin grows massive, sickle-shaped claws over the wearer's fingertips.

With claws extended, the wearer's unarmed attacks deal a base damage of 1d12 (and do not draw attacks of opportunity).

Manifester Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, claws of the bear; Market Price: 16,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

DEFENDER

This psychoactive skin continually grants the wearer a +4 natural armor bonus.

Manifester Level: 18th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, natural armor; Market Price: 32,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

HERO

This psychoactive skin continually grants the wearer a +3 luck bonus to AC, a +3 luck bonus on all saving throws, and a +3 luck bonus on attack rolls.

Manifester Level: 18th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, fate of one; Market Price: 68,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

IRON

This psychoactive skin continually affects the wearer as the iron body power.

Manifest Level: 18th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, iron body; Market Price: 240,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

NIMBLENESS

This psychoactive skin continually grants the wearer a +10 competence bonus on Tumble check.

Manifester Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, creator must have 5 ranks of the Tumble skill; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

PROTEUS

This psychoactive skin continually affects the wearer as the metamorphosis power.

While in a form other than his natural form, the wearer does not appear to be wearing the skin.

Manifester Level: 18th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, metamorphosis; Market Price: 90,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

PSION

This psychoactive skin grants the wearer 7 bonus power points per day and a power resistance of 18.

Manifester Level: 16th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, psychic surgery; Market Price: 66,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

SPIDER

This psychoactive skin continually grants the wearer a +20 competence bonus on Climb checks and continually affects the wearer as the body equilibrium power.

Manifester Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, creator must have 5 ranks of the Climb skill, body equilibrium; Market Price: 20,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

STRIKING

This psychoactive skin answers the first attack made against the wearer each round with an automatically manifested and targeted "ectoburst" against the attacker.

The burst ejects from the skin on the wearer's turn, making a ranged touch attack using the wearer's base ranged attack bonus (range increment 10).

If hit, the target takes 3d4 points of fire damage as the ectoburst flames and is consumed.

This attack does not in any way hinder the wearer, count against her total actions for the round, or draw an attack of opportunity.

Manifester Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, burning ray, hustle; Market Price: 24,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

TROLL

This psychoactive skin continually allows a living wearer to heal 1 point of damage per level every hour rather than every day.

(This ability cannot be aided by the Heal skill).

Subdual damage heals at a rate of 1 point per level every 5 minutes.

If the wearer loses a limb, an organ, or any other body part while wearing this skin, the skin regenerates it.

In either case, only damage taken while wearing this skin outermost is regenerated.

Manifester Level: 18th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, true metabolism; Market Price: 90,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

REVERSE CAPACITOR

A reverse capacitor doesn't store power points—it drains them, to the surprise and chagrin of a psionic character taken in by its resemblance to a crystal capacitor.

Powers that identify psionic items will incorrectly identify a reverse capacitor as a crystal capacitor 50% of the time.

A psionic character attempting to use the power points supposedly stored in a reverse capacitor must succeed at a Will save (DC 20) or lose 3d6 power points.

If this drains more power points than the psionic character possesses, he takes the balance in temporary Charisma damage on a point-for-point basis.

If this Charisma damage is greater than his Charisma score, he takes the balance as temporary Constitution damage.

Manifester Level: 16th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, Disarm Mind, contingency; Market Price: 182,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

RING OF STABILIZATION

This crystalline ring continually grants the wearer a +10 competence bonus on Stabilize Self checks.

Manifester Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, creator must have 5 ranks of the Stabilize Self skill; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: —.

RING OF SELF-SUFFICIENCY

This crystalline ring continually grants the wearer a +10 competence bonus on Autohypnosis checks.

Manifester Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, creator must have 5 ranks of the Autohypnosis skill; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: —.

SHARDS

These are tiny fragments of castoff crystal imprinted with miniscule bits of psionic power.

Using a shard requires grasping it and projecting a command thought as a standard action (most shards telepathically whisper their command word into the minds of living creatures who handle them).

A shard always grants a temporary competence bonus to one specific skill, ranging from +1 to +10 inclusive. This bonus lasts until the skill is used or 10 rounds pass, whichever comes first.

For instance, a shard of Jump +8 grants a +8 bonus on the user's next jump check if made within the next 10 rounds. Once activated, a shard disintegrates, even if its bonus is not used.

Competence Bonus	Market Price
+1	20 gp
+2	30 gp
+3	40 gp
+4	60 gp
+5	100 gp
+6	140 gp
+7	200 gp
+8	250 gp
+9	320 gp
+10	400 gp

Manifester Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, creator must have ranks of the specified skill totaling half the encoded bonus (minimum 1 rank); Weight: —.

THIRD EYES

These appear as small crystals, always with at least one wide, flat facet, and contain a variety of powers. With the proper command thought, the crystal self-adheres to the center of the wearer's forehead (the same command thought causes the third eye to disengage). Only one third eye can be worn at a time.

ASSIMILATE

While worn, a third eye assimilate allows the wearer to borrow one power from a psionic target's repertoire once per day.

This is a ranged touch attack with a ray of silvery plasma streaming from the third eye (range 100 feet), and the wearer can make as many attacks each day as needed until one succeeds.

On a successful attack, the wearer becomes aware of the victim's psionic repertoire, chooses one power from among those and instantly gains it, while the victim loses it. Once the power has been assimilated, the wearer can manifest it normally if she is of sufficient level to use it. If she assimilates a power from a creature that freely manifests it, the wearer must still pay the appropriate number of power points to manifest that power. The wearer retains the power for 24 hours, at which time she loses knowledge of the power and the former owner regains it, regardless of the separation between them. If the former owner is dead, the wearer loses the assimilated power.

Manifester Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, forced mindlink; Market Price: 11,200 gp; Weight: —.

AWARE

This third eye continually grants the wearer a +10 competence bonus on Spot and Search checks.

Manifester Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, creator must have 5 ranks of the Spot and Search skills; Market Price: 4,000 gp; Weight: —.

CONCEAL

While worn, a third eye conceal hides the wearer from all powers that attempt to view, locate, or otherwise detect the wearer, except for the Clairvoyance power metafaculty. But even metafaculty reveals only the name of the location—not an image, nor any other information regarding the wearer.

Manifester Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, sequester; Market Price: 90,000 gp; Weight: —.

CONCENTRATE

This third eye continually grants the wearer a +10 competence bonus on Concentration checks.

Manifester Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, creator must have 5 ranks of the Concentration skill; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: —.

DOMINATE

The wearer of this third eye can see over virtually any distance or into other planes of existence, as with the power remote viewing, and can send and receive silent mental messages to and from the person viewed.

Once per day the wearer may attempt to use lesser domination on the person viewed (Will save DC 15).

Manifester Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, lesser domination, remote viewing; Market Price: 96,000 gp; Weight: —.

EXPOSE

The wearer of this third eye always knows when someone lies directly to him.

Manifester Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, Psychic Inquisitor; Market Price: 12,000 gp; Weight: —.

NEGATE

While worn, a third eye negate allows the wearer to suppress the powers of psionic items three times per day.

This is a ranged touch attack with a grainy blue ray that springs from the third eye (range 100 feet).

On a successful attack, the ray suppresses any currently active function of the target item and has a 75% chance to suppress any other power from that item, regardless of the level or strength of the power, for 2d4 rounds.

To negate instantaneous effects, the wearer needs to use a ready action.

The target item gets no saving throw and cannot resist this effect.

The third eye negate cannot affect artifacts (even minor ones).

Manifester Level: 16th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, emulate power, negate psionics; Market Price: 44,600 gp; Weight: —.

OPEN

The wearer of this third eye can freely manifest clairaudience/clairvoyance at will.

Manifester Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, clairaudience/clairvoyance; Market Price: 12,000 gp; Weight: —.

PENETRATE

While worn, a third eye penetrate grants the wearer a +2 bonus on manifester level checks to beat a creature's power resistance.

This stacks with other applicable bonuses.

Manifester Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, Power Penetration; Market Price: 4,000 gp; Weight: —.

PERCEIVE

This third eye continually grants the wearer a +10 competence bonus on Sense Motive checks.

Manifester Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, creator must have 5 ranks of the Sense Motive skill; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: —.

VIEW

The wearer of this third eye can see over virtually any distance or into other planes of existence, as with the power remote viewing.

Manifester Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, remote viewing; Market Price: 42,000 gp; Weight: —.

TORC OF FREE WILL

This is a band inlaid with precious metal, worn around the neck or upper arm.

The wearer is not affected by the brain lock power or items that produce brain lock effects (such as crystal anchors).

Manifester Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, negate psionics; Market Price: 12,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

TORC OF POWER

This is a band inlaid with precious metal, worn around the neck or upper arm.

The wearer is not affected by powerleech effects, as produced by powerleech pearls or eyes of powerleech/vampiric powerleech.

Manifester Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, negate psionics; Market Price: 12,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

TORC OF PSIONIC MIGHT

This is a band inlaid with precious metal, worn around the neck or upper arm.

The wearer manifests all powers by paying power points equal to the standard cost -1 (minimum of 1).

This does not change the cost of 0-level and 1st-level powers.

Thus, a 3rd-level power costs 4 power points to manifest and a 2nd-level power costs 2, but a 1st-level power still costs 1.

Psionic creatures that freely manifest their powers gain no benefit from the torc of psionic might, nor do nonpsionic creatures.

Manifester Level: 14th; Prerequisites: Craft Universal Item, emulate power; Market Price: 10,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

WEAPON AND ARMOR TEMPLATES

DUNGEON MASTER'S GUIDE 2 (3.5)

FEYCRAFT

The feycraft template can be added to any suit of armor, shield, or weapon crafted by fey or by creatures in the service of fey.

While most fey creatures have little interest in weapons or armor, some find the martial aspects of such items quite appealing.

Satyrs occasionally take ranks in the Craft skills necessary to create these items, as do evil and martial fey (such as the redcaps from Monster Manual III).

However, most feycraft weapons are made by the servants of fey creatures wishing to procure armor and weapons. Such servitors can be of any race, but they must be under the direct magical influence of a fey creature to create a feycraft item.

A feycraft suit of armor or weapon has all the base statistics of the normal armor or weapon except as noted here.

REQUIREMENTS

The creator of a feycraft item must be of the fey type or be under such a creature's magical influence.

A creature merely infatuated with a fey (such as a human enthralled with a nymph's beauty) does not qualify as magically influenced—the fey must actually employ a spell, supernatural ability, or spell-like ability to establish influence.

A feycraft item cannot be created within the boundaries of a small town or larger settlement.

FEYCRAFT ARMOR AND SHIELDS

The feycraft template can be added only to light or medium armor, or to wooden shields.

Even fey that are martially minded enough to construct objects of war favor tactics involving stealth and guerilla warfare.

Heavier armor or shields only slow the wearer down in most natural settings, so the fey do not specialize in their manufacture.

The only exception is the rare suit of mithral heavy armor, which actually counts as a medium armor because of its construction (see page 284 of the Dungeon Master's Guide). Because most fey appreciate the beauty of nature, including the living body in its natural state, armor and shields with this template seem to mold themselves to the wearer's body.

Some feycraft items also include elements of the creator's favorite natural setting.

Satyr armorsmiths, for example, might make armor with a surface pattern that resembles the bark of their favorite trees, or the water flowing in a nearby brook.

Cost: The feycraft template adds 500 gp to the other costs associated with creating a given suit of armor or shield.

Weight: A feycraft shield or suit of armor weighs 10% less than its normal counterpart.

Hardness: The hardness of a feycraft armor or shield is reduced by 1 (minimum 0).

Hit Points: The hit points of a feycraft armor or shield are reduced by 5 (minimum 1).

Arcane Spell Failure Chance: The arcane spell failure chance of feycraft armor and shields is reduced by 5% (minimum of 0%).

Fey cast spells, and their smiths have learned to compensate for this tendency in their armorsmithing.

Affinities: Glamered, silent moves, improved silent moves, and greater silent moves (special abilities); winged shield (specific shield).

Special: The delicate beauty of a feycraft shield or suit of armor makes the wearer feel more confident, granting her a +1 bonus on Bluff checks made to deceive another creature with words.

This bonus does not apply to any other use of the Bluff skill, such as for feinting.

FEYCRAFT WEAPONS

For the most part, fey construct feycraft weapons only when they must battle others of their kind.

Thus, such weapons are made from cold iron.

This feature ensures that those who hunt demons and other creatures harmed by cold iron also find feycraft weapons quite desirable.

The feycraft template can be added only to light or one-handed melee weapons, and to ranged weapons.

It cannot be added to two-handed weapons because most fey prefer to leave an appendage free for spellcasting or the manipulation of an instrument.

Like their armor counterparts, feycraft weapons are frequently made to resemble the smith's favorite natural setting in some way.

Curved elements—often a blade or haft, or part of the hilt or handle—are quite popular.

Fey smiths frequently construct scimitars and rapiers with this template, but it is rarely applied to axes—even small ones.

Cost: The feycraft template adds 1,500 gp to the other costs associated with creating a given weapon.

Weight: A feycraft weapon weighs 10% less than its normal counterpart.

Hardness: The hardness of a feycraft weapon is reduced by 1 (minimum 0).

Affinities: Dancing (special ability); sylvan scimitar (specific weapon).

Special: Feycraft weapons are lightweight and fragile, but extraordinarily well balanced.

Thus, they are treated as one size category smaller than normal for the purpose of dealing damage.

For example, a feycraft short sword sized for a human deals 1d4 points of damage rather than 1d6.

If the weapon would normally be considered one-handed, it can be treated as a light weapon for the purpose of the Weapon Finesse feat, but not for any other purpose.

If the weapon would normally be considered light, the wielder can apply his Dexterity modifier instead of his Strength modifier to attack rolls made with it, as if he had the Weapon Finesse feat.

FIRESHAPED

The fireshaped template can be added to any suit of armor, shield, or weapon crafted by creatures with the fire subtype or by those in the service of such creatures.

While most fire creatures rely more on their offensive fire-based abilities than on weapons or armor, some find the martial aspects of such accoutrements quite appealing. Salamanders and efreet are the most common creators of fireshaped armor and weapons.

Azer experts with sufficient ranks in the appropriate Craft skill also frequently forge such items.

A fireshaped suit of armor or weapon has all the base statistics of the normal item except as noted here.

REQUIREMENTS

The creator of a fireshaped item must be a native of the Elemental Plane of Fire and must make the item on that plane.

FIRESHAPED ARMOR AND SHIELDS

The fireshaped template can be added to any metallic armor or shield, but never to wooden shields, leather armor, hide armor, or armor made of any other flammable material.

Armor and shields with this template seem to gleam with a red hue in any light, and they sometimes appear to flicker as if possessed of an inner flame.

Fire creatures usually craft fireshaped armor for servitors that are more susceptible to heat than they are.

In addition, fireshaped armor is made to appear as if it were flaming when struck in combat.

The flames produced by such armor are not real, but they supply a light equivalent to that of a torch.

Salamander armorsmiths might make armor that resembles the flame patterns of a raging inferno, and other fire creatures favor similar motifs.

Cost: The fireshaped template adds 300 gp to the other costs associated with creating a given suit of armor or shield.

Affinities: Fire resistance, improved fire resistance, and greater fire resistance (special abilities).

Special: The wearer of fireshaped armor gains a +2 bonus on saves against fire effects, and on saves made to resist the effect of heat (see page 303 of the Dungeon Master's Guide).

FIRESHAPED WEAPONS

Fire creatures construct weapons that mimic their own fiery natures to equip either themselves or their servitors. As a result, such weapons tolerate special abilities involving flame much better than ordinary weapons do.

Thus, characters who hunt creatures of cold find fireshaped weapons particularly desirable.

The fireshaped template can be added to any weapon that has a metallic cutting edge.

For example, a battleaxe with a wooden haft or a steel-shod staff could acquire the template, but a simple wooden club or staff could not.

Like their armor counterparts, fireshaped weapons are frequently made to appear as if they were flaming when wielded.

The flames produced by such weapons are not real, but they supply a light equivalent to that of a torch.

Flame-shaped greatswords are especially popular examples of these weapons.

Cost: The fireshaped template adds 800 gp to the other costs associated with creating a given weapon.

Affinities: Flaming burst (special ability); flame tongue (specific weapon).

Special: A fireshaped weapon burns with a subtle but palpable inner energy.

It deals an extra 1 point of damage to a foe with the cold subtype.

GITHCRAFT

The githcraft template can be added to any suit of armor, shield, or weapon crafted on the Astral Plane by a githyanki.

Known throughout the planes as battle-crazed zealots, githyanki revere weapons and armor more highly than almost any other possession, and their craftmasters focus exclusively on items of warfare.

Githcraft items are distinctive in appearance, and nongithyanki creatures that acquire and use them are likely to face retribution when their equipment is recognized.

Many creatures, however, are more than willing to risk githyanki wrath for the benefits offered by a githcraft item. A githcraft suit of armor or weapon has all the base statistics of the normal item except as noted here.

Because the githyanki jealously guard the secrets of creating githcraft armor and weaponry, they remain the only creatures capable of crafting them.

Some sages theorize that a githzerai with the requisite skill could also produce such items, but that claim is still unproven.

REQUIREMENTS

The creator of a githcraft item must be a githyanki and must make the item on the Astral Plane.

GITHCRAFT ARMOR AND SHIELDS

The githcraft template can be added to any suit of armor or any shield.

It is sometimes quite difficult to determine by casual observation whether a particular set of githcraft armor is hide, leather, chain, or plate, since those who create it are not bound by design conventions.

A particular suit of githcraft armor might be decorated with spikes, baroque elements, and components of other types of armor, all mixed together in a unique style of its own.

Cost: The githcraft template adds 600 gp to the other costs associated with creating a given suit of armor or shield.

Arcane Spell Failure Chance: The arcane spell failure chance of githcraft armor and shields is reduced by 5% (minimum 0%).

Many githyanki are multiclass spellcasters, and their armorsmiths have learned to channel the race's natural affinity for magic into their creations.

Affinities: Mindarmor (special ability; see the Expanded Psionics Handbook); mithral full plate of speed (specific armor).

Special: The wearer of githcraft armor or the bearer of a githcraft shield gains a +1 bonus on Concentration checks.

GITHCRAFT WEAPONS

Most githcraft weapons are large and showy bladed items, such as greatswords or bastard swords.

The githyanki are proud of their combat prowess and favor ostentatious weaponry.

The githcraft template can be added to any bladed weapon, though most githyanki smiths prefer to create weapons with large blades.

Githcraft weapons always look distinctive and more than a little menacing.

A single weapon might combine decorative features, such as a serrated edge and baroque elements, in a somewhat organic style.

During the forging process, every githcraft weapon is given a name of great power and promise.

Cost: The githcraft template adds 900 gp to the other costs associated with creating a given weapon.

Affinities: Mindcrusher (special ability; see the Expanded Psionics Handbook); githyanki silver sword (specific weapon; see page 128 of the Monster Manual).

Special: A githcraft weapon deals an extra 1 point of damage against psionic creatures.

GLORYBORN

The gloryborn template can be added to any suit of armor, shield, or weapon crafted on the Heroic Domains of Ysgard by a smith native to that plane.

The mighty battlesmiths of Ysgard sing songs of glory and honor while working their forges to create weapons and armor for the countless heroes who do battle there.

Many of these artisans are titans, though angels and other denizens of the plane possess the skills required to craft gloryborn items.

Though gloryborn items are almost always crafted for use in the eternal battles of Ysgard, visitors to the plane can acquire weapons or armor with this template if they can locate an owner willing to part with them.

A gloryborn suit of armor or weapon has all the base statistics of the normal item except as noted here.

An evil creature that wears gloryborn armor or wields a gloryborn weapon takes a -1 penalty on attack rolls because it finds the innate purity of the item uncomfortable and distracting.

REQUIREMENTS

The creator of a gloryborn item must be native to the Heroic Domains of Ysgard and must make the item on that plane.

GLORYBORN ARMOR AND SHIELDS

Ysgardian natives emphasize heroic recklessness in battle, and armor with this template reflects that philosophy.

Though they are constructed to heroic proportions and tend to bear flashy decorations, gloryborn armor and shields frequently seem to lack some vital defensive piece.

The overall look might awe viewers or even strike terror into the wearer's enemies, but the items frequently look incomplete.

For example, a suit of gloryborn leather armor might be little more than a set of elaborate leather straps constructed to show off the wearer's bulging muscles by leaving portions of his torso entirely exposed.

Likewise, a gloryborn shield cut to resemble a fearsome mask might be oddly shaped and appear ill-suited for protection.

But such oddities of design do not limit the effectiveness of gloryborn armor or shields.

Gloryborn armor might look as though it couldn't stop a kitchen knife, let alone a greataxe, but something about its design seems to draw attacks toward protected areas, making it just as effective as armor crafted on other planes.

Cost: The gloryborn template adds 150 gp to the other costs associated with creating a given suit of armor or shield.

Affinities: Bashing (shield special ability); rhino hide (specific armor).

Special: A character wearing gloryborn armor gains a +1 bonus to AC when charging.

(The normal penalty to AC for charging also applies).

This bonus lasts until the start of the wearer's next turn.

GLORYBORN WEAPONS

Gloryborn weapons are as flashy and seemingly ill conceived as gloryborn armor is.

For example, a gloryborn longsword might have so many bizarre, intimidating spikes jutting from its pommel that it looks as though it should be unbalanced.

But, as with gloryborn armor and shields, the apparent poor design does not diminish the item's utility.

Gloryborn weapons function as well as or better than standard weapons created elsewhere.

In fact, wielders of gloryborn weapons report feeling unlimited confidence in battle, and they perform the sort of great deeds about which bards write their epic songs.

Cost: The gloryborn template adds 600 gp to the other costs associated with creating a given weapon.

Affinities: Thundering (special ability); luck blade (0 wishes) (specific weapon).

Special: A gloryborn weapon deals an extra 1 point of damage on a charge attack.

HELLFORGED

The hellforged template can be added to any suit of armor, shield, or weapon crafted on the Nine Hells of Baator by a smith native to that plane.

Chain devils frequently make hellforged items for their masters, who outfit entire elite regiments with them.

A hellforged suit of armor or weapon has all the base statistics of the normal item except as noted here.

A good creature that wears hellforged armor or wields a hellforged weapon takes a -1 penalty on attack rolls because it finds the innate vileness of the item uncomfortable and distracting.

REQUIREMENTS

The creator of a hellforged item must be native to the Nine Hells of Baator and must make the item on that plane.

HELLFORGED ARMOR AND SHIELDS

Hellforged armor and shields have a green cast stemming from the noxious combination of chemicals used in their creation.

In addition, they generally appear heavier than their normal counterparts because a firm, solid defense is generally valued over speed in the Nine Hells.

Cost: The hellforged template adds 1,000 gp to the other costs associated with creating a given suit of armor or shield.

Hardness: The hardness of a hellforged suit of armor or shield is increased by 1.

Hit Points: The hit points of a hellforged suit of armor or shield are increased by 5.

Maximum Dexterity Bonus: The maximum Dexterity bonus granted by hellforged armor or a hellforged shield is reduced by 1 (minimum +0).

If the item has no maximum Dexterity bonus, this adjustment does not apply.

Armor Check Penalty: The armor check penalty imposed by hellforged armor or a hellforged shield improves by 1 (minimum -1).

Arcane Spell Failure: The arcane spell failure chance imposed by hellforged armor or a hellforged shield increases by 5% (minimum 5%).

Affinities: Fortification (light, moderate, and heavy); breastplate of command (specific armor).

Special: A suit of hellforged armor grants a +1 bonus to its wearer's AC whenever she is adjacent to an ally. This benefit does not apply to hellforged shields.

HELLFORGED WEAPONS

Like hellforged armor, weapons with this template are designed with resolute sturdiness and focus in mind.

Their construction reflects this philosophy succinctly.

Cost: The hellforged template adds 1,500 gp to the other costs associated with creating a given weapon.

Hardness: The hardness of a hellforged weapon is increased by 1.

Hit Points: The hit points of a hellforged weapon are increased by 5.

Affinities: Speed (special ability); sword of subtlety (specific weapon).

Crafters of hellforged weapons find that their handiwork rewards good tactics and helps their wielders focus attacks on individual foes.

Special: A hellforged weapon deals an extra 1 point of damage to any foe that the wielder flanks.

This clasp holds a small diamond orb with a sphere of steel at its center.

A crystal of adamant weaponry strengthens your weapon against damage.

Least: This crystal improves the hardness of a weapon by 2.

Lesser: This crystal improves the hardness of a weapon by 5.

Greater: This crystal improves the hardness of a weapon by 10.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, diamondsteel (SC 64).

Cost to Create: 150 gp, 12 XP, 1 day (least); 700 gp, 56 XP, 2 days (lesser); 1,700 gp, 136 XP, 4 days (greater).

ARCANE STEEL

Price (Item Level): 500 gp (3rd) (least); 2,000 gp (6th) (lesser); 6,000 gp (10th) (greater)

Body Slot: — (weapon crystal)

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: —

The needlelike iron deposits in this spherical quartz crystal pulse with arcane energy.

A crystal of arcane steel is designed for those who can blend magical and martial arts into a single strike.

It functions only when attached to a melee weapon.

Least: This crystal grants a +1 insight bonus on your weapon damage roll when delivering a spell or spell-like ability through a melee attack with the weapon.

Lesser: As the least crystal, and it also grants you a +1 insight bonus on the attack roll.

Greater: As the lesser crystal, and it also increases the save DC of the spell or spell-like ability by 1.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, magic weapon.

Cost to Create: 250 gp, 20 XP, 1 day (least); 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days (lesser); 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days (greater).

DEMOLITION

Price (Item Level): 1,000 gp (4th) (least); 3,000 gp (7th) (lesser); 6,000 gp (10th) (greater)

Body Slot: — (weapon crystal)

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: —

This blue-white diamond bears a tiny adamantine emblem of a hammer.

Demolition crystals were designed for those who fight constructs, particularly for the servants of wizards who battle enemy golems.

Least: A weapon with this crystal attached deals an extra 1d6 points of damage to constructs.

Lesser: As the least crystal, and the weapon is treated as adamantine for the purpose of overcoming the damage reduction of constructs.

Greater: As the lesser crystal, and the weapon can deliver sneak attacks and critical hits against constructs as if they were living creatures.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, disintegrate.

Cost to Create: 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day (least); 1,500 gp, 120 XP, 3 days (lesser); 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days (greater).

ENERGY ASSAULT

Price (Item Level): 600 gp (3rd) (least); 3,000 gp (7th) (lesser); 6,000 gp (10th) (greater)

Body Slot: — (weapon crystal)

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) evocation

Activation: —

Weight: —

Acid Assault

This crystal seems to contain an incandescent green fluid.

Cold Assault

Covered in a faint layer of condensation, this clear crystal radiates chilling waves of energy.

Electricity Assault

Fire Assault

A crystal of energy assault adds a particular type of energy damage to a weapon's attacks: acid, cold, electricity, or fire. This bonus damage doesn't stack with any energy damage of the same type dealt by the weapon.

Least: This crystal adds 1 point of energy damage of its type to the weapon's damage.

Lesser: This crystal adds an extra 1d6 points of energy damage of its type to the weapon's damage.

Greater: This crystal adds an extra 1d6 points of energy damage of its type to the weapon's damage, as well as a secondary effect depending on the type of crystal:

Acid Assault: Target takes -1 penalty to AC for 1 round (multiple hits on the same creature don't stack).

Cold Assault: Target's speed is reduced by 10 feet for 1 round, to a minimum speed of 5 feet (multiple hits on the same creature don't stack).

Electricity Assault: Target is dazzled for 1 round.

Fire Assault: Target takes an additional 1d6 points of fire damage 1 round later (multiple hits on the same creature don't increase the next round's damage beyond 1d6).
Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Melf's acid arrow, ray of frost, lightning bolt, or fireball; or energy bolt (EPH 100).
Cost to Create: 300 gp, 24 XP, 1 day (least); 1,500 gp, 120 XP, 3 days (lesser); 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days (greater).

FIENDSLAYER

Price (Item Level): 1,000 gp (4th) (least); 3,000 gp (7th) (lesser); 5,000 gp (9th) (greater)
Body Slot: — (weapon crystal)
Caster Level: 9th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation
Activation: —
Weight: —

This perfect crystal sphere emits a faint white glow.

A fiendslayer crystal helps you fight creatures infused with evil.

Least: A weapon with this crystal attached deals an extra 1d6 points of damage to evil outsiders.

Lesser: As the least crystal, and the weapon is treated as good-aligned for the purpose of overcoming damage reduction.

Greater: As the lesser crystal, and if the weapon scores a critical hit against an evil outsider, that creature can't use any teleportation abilities or spells for 1 round.

Any evil creature grasping a weapon that bears a fiendslayer crystal gains one negative level, which remains as long as it holds the weapon and disappears when the weapon is no longer wielded.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the weapon is wielded.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, align weapon, good alignment.

Cost to Create: 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day (least); 1,500 gp, 120 XP, 3 days (lesser); 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days (greater).

ILLUMINATION

Price (Item Level): 100 gp (1st) (least); 400 gp (2nd) (lesser); 1,000 gp (4th) (greater)
Body Slot: — (weapon crystal)
Caster Level: 5th
Aura: Faint; (DC 17) evocation
Activation: Swift (command)
Weight: —

This faceted, yellow crystal glows as if a small spark burns within it.

Activating a crystal of illumination causes your weapon to glow.

Least: The weapon sheds bright illumination in a 5-foot radius and shadowy illumination for 5 feet beyond that.

Lesser: The weapon sheds bright illumination in a 20-foot radius and shadowy illumination for 20 feet beyond that.

Greater: The weapon sheds bright illumination in a 60-foot radius and shadowy illumination for 60 feet beyond that.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, daylight.

Cost to Create: 50 gp, 4 XP, 1 day (least); 200 gp, 16 XP, 1 day (lesser); 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day (greater).

LIFE DRINKING

Price (Item Level): 400 gp (2nd) (least); 1,500 gp (5th) (lesser); 6,000 gp (10th) (greater)
Body Slot: — (weapon crystal)
Caster Level: 5th
Aura: Faint; (DC 17) necromancy
Activation: —
Weight: —

This transparent black crystal has a faint, sickly glow.

A crystal of life drinking bestows a small amount of life energy upon you each time you damage a living creature with the weapon to which the crystal is attached.

Dealing nonlethal damage with the weapon doesn't activate the crystal's effect.

Least: Each time you deal damage to a living creature with the weapon to which this crystal is attached, you heal 1 point of damage.

When the crystal has healed a total of 10 points of damage, it becomes inert until the following day.

Lesser: As the least crystal, except that you heal 3 points of damage with each attack until the crystal has healed 30 points of damage.

Greater: As the least crystal, except that you heal 5 points of damage with each attack until the crystal has healed 50 points of damage.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, vampiric touch.

Cost to Create: 200 gp, 16 XP, 1 day (least); 750 gp, 60 XP, 2 days (lesser); 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days (greater).

PHOENIX ASH THREAT

Price (Item Level): 500 gp (3rd) (least); 2,000 gp (6th) (lesser); 6,000 gp (10th) (greater)
Body Slot: — (weapon crystal)
Caster Level: 5th
Aura: Faint; (DC 17) evocation
Activation: —
Weight: —

Alternating fire opals and jacinths comprise this glittering chain of gemstones.

The augment crystal known as a phoenix ash threat leaves smoldering embers on your enemies after every strike.

Each round, at the start of your turn, the embers deal fire damage to each target struck by the weapon in the previous round.

Least: If you hit a creature with a weapon bearing this crystal, that target takes 1 point of fire damage on the following round.

Multiple hits by the weapon against the same target aren't cumulative.

Lesser: As the least crystal, but the target takes 3 points of fire damage.

Greater: As the least crystal, but the target takes 5 points of fire damage.

Lore: This crystal was first employed by mystic swordsmen of the Golden Desert (Knowledge [arcana or history] DC 15).

The first signs that it was in use in more civilized lands were the charred bodies of Graz'zt cultists left piled outside their dark abbey's door after Sir Alax of Bergholdt cleansed the den with his fiery sword (Knowledge [arcana or history] DC 20).

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, burning hands.

Cost to Create: 250 gp, 20 XP, 1 day (least); 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days (lesser); 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days (greater).

RETURN

Price (Item Level): 300 gp (2nd) (least); 1,000 (4th) (lesser); 4,000 gp (8th) (greater)

Body Slot: — (weapon crystal)

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: —

This crystal is the color of a cloudless sky.

A crystal of return allows a weapon to leap into its owner's hand.

Least: This crystal allows you to draw the weapon to which it is attached as a free action.

Lesser: As the least crystal, and in addition you can call the weapon (if unattended) to your hand from up to 30 feet away as a move action.

Greater: As the lesser crystal, and the weapon also gains the returning property (DMG 225).

This property functions only for a weapon designed to be thrown.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, mage hand.

Cost to Create: 150 gp, 12 XP, 1 day (least); 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day (lesser); 2,000 gp, 160 XP, 4 days (greater).

REVELATION

Price (Item Level): 400 gp (2nd) (least); 1,000 gp (4th) (lesser); 5,000 gp (9th) (greater)

Body Slot: — (weapon crystal)

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) divination

Activation: —

Weight: —

This tiger's-eye gem bears a striking resemblance to the eye of a cat, its gaze seeming to dart about.

A revelation crystal help you battle foes who rely on invisibility.

Least: When you damage an invisible creature using a weapon with this augment crystal attached, the creature emits a glowing golden aura for 1 round, allowing everyone to know the square or squares it occupies and where it moves during that duration.

The aura is as bright as a torch.

Despite the glow in the square, creatures that attack the invisible foe still suffer a 50% miss chance; the glow merely allows them to determine the appropriate square to attack.

Lesser: As the least crystal, but any active invisibility effects on the damaged creature are also suppressed for 1 round (even if the invisibility is natural or extraordinary).

Greater: As the lesser crystal, but it also suppresses active effects on the damaged creature that grant concealment or similar effects (such as blur or displacement) for 1 round.

This has no effect on concealment granted by the environment (such as fog or a darkness spell).

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, true seeing.

Cost to Create: 200 gp, 16 XP, 1 day (least); 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day (lesser); 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days (greater).

SECURITY

Price (Item Level): 300 gp (2nd) (least); 1,000 gp (4th) (lesser); 3,000 gp (7th) (greater)

Body Slot: — (weapon crystal)

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: —

This cool, silver-tinted crystal emanates feelings of peace and safety when held.

A crystal of security makes a weapon cling tightly to your hand during normal use.

Least: This crystal grants you a +2 bonus on any check made to draw the weapon (such as when grappling) or to keep the weapon in your hand (such as on an opposed disarm check or an opposed Strength check if you and an opponent both grab the weapon).

Lesser: As the least crystal, except the bonus is +5.

Greater: As the least crystal, except the bonus is +10.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, bull's strength.

Cost to Create: 150 gp, 12 XP, 1 day (least); 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day (lesser); 1,500 gp, 120 XP, 3 days (greater).

TRUEDEATH

Price (Item Level): 1,000 gp (4th) (least); 5,000 gp (9th) (lesser); 10,000 gp (12th) (greater)

Body Slot: — (weapon crystal)

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) evocation

Activation: —

Weight: —

This amethyst is carved in the shape of a humanoid skull.

Clerics craft truedeath crystals to aid themselves and others in sending undead to their final rest.

Least: A weapon with this crystal attached deals an extra 1d6 points of damage to undead.

Lesser: As the least crystal, and the weapon also functions as a ghost touch weapon (DMG 224).

Greater: As the lesser crystal, and the weapon can deliver sneak attacks and critical hits against undead as if they were living creatures.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, consecrate.

Cost to Create: 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day (least); 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days (lesser); 5,000 gp, 400 XP, 10 days (greater)

WITCHLIGHT RESERVOIR

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)

Body Slot: — (weapon crystal)

Caster Level: 10th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) necromancy

Activation: Swift (mental)

Weight: —

This coin-sized crystal sphere is inscribed with arcane sigils representing earth, air, wind, fire, magic, death, and beauty. It rattles like soft thunder.

As its name suggests, a witchlight reservoir can hold a small quantity of magical power, which can be used to enhance the power of a melee weapon.

To imbue this augment crystal with power, you must directly expose it for 8 hours to one of the following substances: sunlight, moonlight, blood, or wine (at least one pint of either of the last two substances).

Each one of these substances grants the item a different effect, as described below.

Exposing a full reservoir to a new substance replaces the old effect with the new effect.

When activated, a reservoir adds an extra effect to its weapon's next successful melee strike (as long as it is made before the end of your turn).

The effect depends on the substance to which the witchlight reservoir was exposed (see above).

Sunlight: +2d6 fire damage (or +4d6 fire damage if the target is undead).

Moonlight: +2d6 electricity damage (or +4d6 electricity damage if the target is a lycanthrope).

Blood: +2d6 damage to a living target.

Wine: -2 penalty on Will saves for 1 round.

A witchlight reservoir functions five times before it loses its power and must be imbued again.

It is considered a greater augment crystal.

Lore: The first witchlight reservoir was recovered by Iggwilv from the vanity drawer of one of Graz'zt's previous paramours (Knowledge [arcana] DC 15).

Who created the first sphere is unknown, but the Witch of the Yatils made several more after her discovery, including one for her daughter Drelzna, who employed a bastard sword called The Bleeding Infanta fitted with a blood-filled witchlight reservoir.

She carried the weapon until it was lost in battle against a gnome army led by a gold dragon somewhere between Ket and Perrenland (Knowledge [arcana] DC 20).

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, burning hands, shocking grasp, touch of idiocy, vampiric touch.

Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

WEAPON SPECIAL ABILITIES

ARMS AND EQUIPMENT GUIDE (3.0)

ACIDIC BURST

An acidic burst weapon functions as a corrosive weapon (see below) that also explodes with acid upon scoring a successful critical hit.

The acid does not harm the hands that hold the weapon. Acidic burst weapons deal +1d10 points of bonus acid damage on a successful critical hit.

If the weapon's critical multiplier is  $\times 3$ , add +2d10 points of bonus acid damage instead, and if the multiplier is  $\times 4$ , add +3d10 points of bonus acid damage.

Bows, crossbows, and slings with this ability bestow the acid energy upon their ammunition.

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, acid fog, Melf's acid arrow, or storm of vengeance; Market Price: +2 bonus.

BALANCED

A balanced weapon can be wielded more easily by smaller characters.

A creature one size smaller than the weapon can use it in one hand.

For example, a halfling could wield a balanced battleaxe in one hand.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, reduce; Market Price: +2 bonus.

BINDING

This weapon prevents extradimensional movement by those it hits.

Once per day, the wielder of a binding weapon may make a binding strike.

On a successful attack, the target of the binding strike cannot move extradimensionally by any means, as though affected by the dimensional anchor spell.

This effect lasts for 13 minutes.

If the attack misses, the binding strike for that day is wasted.

Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, dimensional anchor; Market Price: +1 bonus.

COMMANDING

A commanding weapon looks imposing and lends force to the wielder's personality.

Even when sheathed or stowed, this weapon grants a +2 enhancement bonus on Bluff, Diplomacy, and Intimidate checks.

When held or drawn, a commanding weapon provides a +4 enhancement bonus on Intimidate checks.

In addition, the wielder can cast suggestion once per day as a 7th-level sorcerer.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, suggestion; Market Price: +2 bonus.

CORROSIVE

Upon command, a corrosive weapon becomes slick with a thick layer of acidic fluid.

The acid does not harm the hands that hold the weapon.

Corrosive weapons deal +1d6 points of bonus acid damage on a successful hit.

Bows, crossbows, and slings with this ability bestow the acid energy upon their ammunition.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, acid fog, Melf's acid arrow, or storm of vengeance; Market Price: +1 bonus.

CRAZED

This weapon gives its wielder the ability to fly into a rage once per day as though affected by emotion (rage), but without the compulsion to fight heedless of danger.

While in a rage, the wielder gains a +2 morale bonus to Strength and Constitution, and a +1 morale bonus on Will saves, but takes a -1 penalty to Armor Class.

This effect does not stack with emotion (rage) or with barbarian rage.

While in a rage, the wielder of a crazed weapon suffers the same restrictions to feat and skill use that a barbarian suffers while raging.

The rage lasts for 3 rounds.

Only melee weapons can be crazed.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, emotion; Market Price: +1 bonus.

DISARMING

This weapon has one special purpose: Disarming opponents of their weapons.

It eliminates the opponent's bonuses for weapon size and two-handed weapons.

Weapons with this ability also grant the wielder a +1 bonus on the opposed attack roll during a disarm attempt; this bonus does not apply to any other attack roll.

Only melee weapons can have this ability.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor; Market Price: +2 bonus.

Energy Aura: Any weapon with this ability may add an additional amount of damage from an energy type of the wielder's choice (acid, cold, electricity, fire, or sonic).

Regardless of the energy type selected, the energy does not harm the hands that hold the weapon.

The weapon deals an additional +1d6 points of damage of the appropriate energy type on a successful hit.

Changing the weapon's energy aura is a free action available once per round.

Bows, crossbows, and slings with this ability bestow the energy type upon their ammunition.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, chill metal, flame blade, lightning bolt, Melf's acid arrow, sound burst; Market Price: +3 bonus.

EAGER

An eager weapon is easy to draw and allows its possessor to react quickly to danger.

It grants a +2 bonus on its owner's initiative checks, regardless of whether it is being used.

An eager weapon may be drawn as a free action. Only melee weapons can have this ability.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, cat's grace; Market Price: +2 bonus.

EVERBRIGHT

These weapons are as bright and shiny as polished silver. They never tarnish and are immune to corrosive attacks. The weapon flashes with a brilliant light up to twice per day upon the wielder's command.

All within 20 feet except the wielder must succeed on a Reflex saving throw (DC 14) or be blinded for 1d4 rounds. Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, blindness/deafness, searing light; Market Price: +2 bonus.

FIERCE

If its wielder is willing to forgo the opportunity to evade foes, a fierce weapon can land tremendous blows. It allows the wielder to transfer some or all of his Dexterity bonus to damage rolls (reducing his Armor Class by the same amount).

As a free action, the wielder chooses how to allocate his Dexterity bonus at the start of his turn, and the effect lasts until his next turn.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, bull's strength; Market Price: +2 bonus.

FORCE

On a successful hit, a force weapon emits a powerful jolt of magical force.

The magical force does not harm the weapon's wielder. Force weapons deal +1d6 points of force damage on a successful hit.

If the weapon successfully hits a target protected by a force effect, such as a shield spell or bracers of armor, it might dispel the force effect in addition to damaging the target.

Make a dispel check (1d20+10) against the effect (DC 11 + caster level).

If the check succeeds, the force effect is dispelled (if a spell) or suppressed (if a magic item).

Ranged weapons bestow this property on their ammunition.

Incorporeal creatures get no miss chance against force weapons.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, wall of force; Market Price: +3 bonus.

FORTUNATE

A fortunate weapon gives its wielder incredible luck—a +1 luck bonus on all saving throws.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, bless; Market Price: +1 bonus.

GRASPING

A grasping weapon is more effective when attempting to trip or disarm an opponent.

It grants its wielder a +2 circumstance bonus on trip and disarm attempts.

Disarm attempts made with grasping weapons do not provoke attacks of opportunity.

Only melee weapons can have this ability.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, web; Market Price: +2 bonus.

HARMONY

Harmony weapons help their wielders press the advantage against a flanked opponent.

When flanking an opponent, the wielder of this weapon gains a +4 bonus on attacks rather than the normal +2 bonus for flanking.

Only melee weapons can have this ability.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, detect thoughts; Market Price: +1 bonus.

HEARTFINDER

This weapon allows its wielder to strike particularly vulnerable areas of a foe.

Much like a rogue's sneak attack ability, heartfinder weapons deal extra damage to flat-footed or flanked foes.

Any time the wielder's target would be denied its Dexterity bonus to AC, or when the wielder flanks the target, this weapon deals an additional 1d6 points of damage.

This bonus damage has no effect against creatures that are immune to critical hits.

Only piercing melee weapons can have this ability.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, keen edge; Market Price: +2 bonus.

IMPACT

Any bludgeoning weapon with this ability has its threat range doubled.

For example, an impact quarterstaff scores a threat on a 19–20, and an impact heavy flail scores a threat on a 17–20.

This ability does not affect piercing or slashing weapons.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor; Market Price: +1 bonus.

KI FOCUS

This weapon serves as a channel for the wielder's ki, allowing her to use any ki-based special attacks (such as a monk's stunning attack, ki strike, and quivering palm, and the Stunning Fist feat) through the weapon as if they were unarmed strikes.

Only melee weapons can have this ability.

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, creator must be a monk; Market Price: +1 bonus.

KNOCKBACK

A weapon with this ability can drive its targets back.

On a successful hit, the target of the attack must succeed on a Fortitude save (DC 19) or be knocked back 10 feet.

If the target can't move back 10 feet, it instead falls to the ground.

If the first save fails, the target must succeed on another Fortitude save (DC 19), or be stunned for 1 round.

Knockback weapons work only on creatures of the wielder's size or smaller.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, repulsion; Market Price: +3 bonus.

MERCIFUL

The weapon deals 1d6 points of bonus damage, and all damage it deals is subdual damage.

On command, the weapon suppresses this ability until commanded to resume it.

Bows, crossbows, and slings bestow the effect upon their ammunition.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, cure light wounds; Market Price: +1 bonus.

PRECISE

Only ranged weapons can have this ability.

A precise weapon can be shot or thrown at an opponent engaged in melee without incurring the standard -4 penalty.

This weapon doesn't grant any further benefit to wielders who already have the Precise Shot feat.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Precise Shot; Market Price: +1 bonus.

PROFICIENT

The wielder of a proficient weapon never takes a nonproficiency penalty when attacking with it.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Tenser's transformation; Market Price: +2 bonus.

QUICK-LOADING

Only crossbows can have this ability.

A quick-loading crossbow accesses an extradimensional space that can hold up to 100 bolts, allowing the wielder to reload the crossbow more rapidly than normal.

Reloading a hand or light crossbow is a free action (allowing a character with multiple attacks to make a full attack), and reloading a heavy crossbow is a move-equivalent action.

Adding a bolt to or removing one from the extradimensional space by hand requires a move-equivalent action.

The extradimensional space can hold different types of bolts, and the wielder may select freely from these when reloading the crossbow.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Leomund's secret chest, shrink item; Market Price: +2 bonus.

RADIANT

A radiant weapon can give off brilliant light.

At will, it emits daylight as the spell cast by a 9th-level cleric.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, daylight; Market Price: +2 bonus.

SCREAMING

Upon command, a screaming weapon emits a low hum that is grating upon the ears but does not harm the wielder.

If it hits a target, it produces a high-pitched sound and deals +1d6 points of bonus sonic damage.

Bows, crossbows, and slings with this ability bestow the sonic energy upon their ammunition.

Screaming weapons don't deal this bonus damage if the target is within a silence spell.

They have no additional adverse effects on creatures with unusually acute hearing, although such creatures dislike them.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, shout or sound burst; Market Price: +1 bonus.

SEEKING

Only ranged weapons can have this ability.

The weapon veers toward the target, negating any miss chances that would otherwise apply, such as from concealment.

The wielder still has to aim the weapon at the right place. Arrows mistakenly shot into an empty space, for example, do not veer and hit invisible enemies, even if they are nearby.

Caster Level: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, true seeing; Market Price: +1 bonus.

SHADOWSTRIKE

A shadowstrike weapon can reach through the wielder's own shadows to catch foes off guard.

Once per day, the wielder can make such an attack.

The weapon reaches 5 feet farther than normal, and the target is denied its Dexterity bonus to AC for this attack.

To make a shadowstrike attack, the weapon must be illuminated by a light source or be outside on a day bright enough to cast shadows.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, shadow walk, shadow conjuration; Market Price: +2 bonus.

SHRINKING

This weapon can shrink, as if affected by the shrink item spell, on command.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, shrink item; Market Price: +1 bonus.

STUNNING

When striking a foe, a stunning weapon emits a powerful burst of sonic energy.

It deals +1d6 points of bonus sonic damage on a successful hit.

The sonic energy does not harm the weapon's wielder or others nearby.

On a successful critical hit, the target must succeed on a Fortitude save (DC 17) or be stunned for 1 round.

Bows, crossbows, and slings with this ability bestow the sonic energy on their ammunition.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, sound burst, hold monster; Market Price: +2 bonus.

SURE STRIKING

A sure striking weapon harms creatures with damage reduction as if it had a +5 enhancement bonus.

Bows, crossbows, and slings cannot have this ability.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, greater magic weapon; Market Price: +1 bonus.

SWEEPING

This ability grants a +4 bonus on any Strength checks the wielder makes as part of an attempt to trip an opponent with the weapon.

Only melee weapons can have this ability.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, bull's strength; Market Price: +1 bonus.

VICIOUS

When a vicious weapon strikes an opponent, it creates a flash of disruptive energy that resonates between the opponent and the wielder.

This energy deals 2d6 points of bonus damage to the opponent and 1d6 points of bonus damage to the wielder.

Only melee weapons can have this ability.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, enervation; Market Price: +1 bonus.

BOOK OF EXALTED DEEDS (3.5)

BANISHING

Any extraplanar creature with 25 Hit Dice or fewer that is struck by the weapon must succeed on a DC 24 Will save or be banished back to its home plane.

Spell resistance applies, and a creature so banished cannot return for at least 24 hours.

The wielder may choose to deactivate this special ability as a free action.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted confer the banishing power upon their ammunition.

Strong abjuration; CL 13th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, banishment; Price +3 bonus.

BLESSED

This replicates the effect of the bless weapon spell, but it is permanent and always in effect.

The weapon becomes good, which means it can bypass the damage reduction of certain creatures, particularly evil outsiders.

Furthermore, all critical hit rolls against evil foes are automatically successful, so every threat is a critical hit. This last effect does not apply to any weapon that already has a magical effect related to critical hits, such as a keen weapon or vorpal weapon.

Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, bless weapon; Price +1 bonus.

ENFEEBLING

On a critical hit, this weapon deals 1d6+2 points of temporary Strength damage in addition to its regular damage.

Spell resistance applies.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted confer the enfeebling power upon their ammunition.

Faint necromancy; CL 5th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, ray of enfeeblement; Price +1 bonus.

HEAVENLY BURST

On a successful critical hit against an evil creature, this weapon discharges a radiant burst that deals +3d6 points of damage to the target and blinds it for 1 round.

A successful DC 14 Fortitude save negates the blindness.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted confer the heavenly burst power upon their ammunition.

Every time this weapon discharges a radiant burst, the wielder takes 1d2 points of temporary Strength damage.

Faint evocation; CL 5th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Ayaila's radiant burst, creator must be good; Price +2 bonus.

PARALYZING

Any creature struck by this weapon must succeed on a DC 17 Will save or be paralyzed.

Each round on its turn, the target may attempt a new saving throw to end the effect; otherwise, the paralysis lasts 10 rounds.

Spell resistance applies.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted confer the paralyzing power upon their ammunition.

Moderate enchantment; CL 10th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, hold monster; Price +2 bonus.

RIGHTEOUS

This weapon acts as though it has the spell detect evil upon it.

This enchantment is always active unless the wielder commands the weapon to deactivate (a free action).

The wielder receives a +2 bonus on attack and damage rolls against any creature with a strong or overwhelming aura of evil (see the detect evil spell description in the Player's Handbook).

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted confer the righteous power upon their ammunition.

Moderate divination and evocation; CL 7th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, detect evil, holy smite, creator must be good; Price +4 bonus.

ROARING

This weapon unleashes a tremendous roar with each swing. Any evil creature struck by the roaring weapon must succeed on a DC 22 Will save or be shaken.

A roaring weapon also deals +2d6 points of sonic damage on a successful critical hit.

A roaring weapon cannot also have the thundering ability (see the Dungeon Master's Guide), and vice versa.

Strong evocation; CL 15th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, leonard's roar, creator must be good; Price +3 bonus.

BOOK OF VILE DARKNESS (3.0)

BLOODFEEDING

Every time this weapon deals damage to a creature with blood, it gains 1 blood point.

When the weapon has 5 blood points, it can deal an additional 1 point of damage at the user's behest (spending the blood points).

The weapon can store up to 50 blood points, allowing an additional 10 points of damage, usable all at once or divided up over a number of attacks.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, vampiric touch; Market Price: +1 bonus.

CURSEPEWING

Every time this weapon deals damage, the target must succeed at a Will saving throw (DC 15) or be affected by a curse that confers a -4 morale penalty on attack rolls, saving throws, skill checks, and ability checks.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, bestow curse; Market Price: +1 bonus.

FLESHGRINDING

When this piercing or slashing melee weapon deals damage to a living creature, the wielder may command the weapon to "grind" as a free action.

At that time, the wielder lets go of the weapon and it continues, magically animated, to grind itself into the foe's flesh.

Each round, it deals damage as if the character who had been wielding it had dealt a successful hit with it.

The wielder need not concentrate or devote any time or attention to the weapon.

The original wielder can grab it at any time as a standard action.

The foe (or someone else) can attempt to rid herself of the grinding weapon by making a Strength check (DC 20).

If the foe succeeds at the Strength check and has a free hand, she is now holding the fleshgrinding weapon.

In any event, the fleshgrinding weapon stops grinding after 5 rounds.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, animate objects; Market Price: +2 bonus.

MARROWCRUSHING

Every time this weapon deals damage, it also deals 1 point of Constitution damage.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, boneblast; Market Price: +3 bonus.

MASTERSLAYING

This melee weapon comes with a scabbard, belt hook, or other holder that is keyed to it in a special way.

At the command of the character wearing the scabbard, the weapon attacks its current wielder with the scabbard wearer's attack bonus, and the wielder is considered flat-footed (no sneak attack is possible, even if the scabbard wearer is a rogue).

If it hits, the masterslaying weapon deals critical hit damage. This weapon is useful against rogues, foes that enjoy disarming and grabbing weapons, and in conjunction with the fleshgrinding ability.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, animate objects; Market Price: +1 bonus.

SOULDRINKING

This melee weapon bestows one negative level each time it deals damage normally.

When the wielder scores a critical hit with the weapon, it bestows two negative levels, and the wielder gains +1d8 temporary hit points and a +2 enhancement bonus to Strength.

The temporary hit points and enhancement bonus fade after 1 hour.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, energy drain; Market Price: +4 bonus.

STRENGTH SAPPING

Every time this weapon deals damage, the target must succeed at a Fortitude save (DC 15) or become exhausted.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, sap strength; Market Price: +2 bonus.

VILE

Every time this weapon deals damage, it deals an additional 1 point of vile damage.

If the weapon scores a critical hit, it deals 2 additional points of vile damage.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, vile lance; Market Price: +1 bonus.

CHAMPIONS OF RUIN (3.5)

DOOMSTRIKE

The wielder of a doomstrike weapon can cleave into an enemy immediately upon sundering his weapon.

Description: Doomstrike weapons have blades or heads coated in a thin layer of blue-black frost or rime.

In addition, they tend to have sinister yet ornate designs worked into them.

Activation: A melee weapon with the doomstrike ability only functions if its wielder has the Improved Sunder feat.

Effect: After successfully sundering an enemy's weapon, the wielder of a doomstrike weapon can cleave into the enemy, as though using the Cleave feat.

Aura/Caster Level: Faint evocation; CL 5th.

Construction: Cleave, Craft Magic Arms and Armor, shatter, +4,000 gp, +320 XP, +8 days.

Weight: —.

Price: +1 bonus.

RAVENOUS

A ravenous weapon acquires a taste for the blood of those it wounds, dealing extra damage on subsequent attacks.

Description: Ravenous weapons are adorned with teeth or fangs (real or engraved).

They make terrible slurping and gnashing noises as they smash bones and carve through flesh.

Activation: A melee weapon with the ravenous ability only functions if its wielder is evil and can make multiple attacks in a single round.

Effect: When a ravenous weapon wounds a creature, it acquires a taste for that creature's flesh and blood.

Subsequent attacks made against the same creature during the same round deal an extra 2d6 points of damage (of the same type the weapon normally deals—bludgeoning, piercing, or slashing).

For example, Xokarus the blackguard makes three attacks with his +1 ravenous greataxe, hitting Andril the paladin all three times.

The first attack deals normal damage, while the second and third attacks each deal an extra 2d6 points of slashing damage.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate necromancy; CL 9th.

Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, slay living, creator must be evil, +9,000 gp, +720 XP, +18 days.

Weight: —.

Price: +2 bonus.

SPLITTING

Any missile fired from a splitting weapon, or an arrow or bolt enchanted with the splitting ability, breaks into two identical missiles before striking the intended target.

Description: V-shaped engravings adorn a splitting weapon or splitting ammunition.

Activation: The splitting ability of a ranged weapon (must be a bow, crossbow, arrow, or bolt) only functions if its wielder has the Precise Shot feat.

Effect: Any arrow or bolt fired from a splitting weapon magically splits into two missiles in mid-flight.

Both missiles are identical, sharing the nonsplitting properties of the original missile; for example, a +1 splitting arrow splits into two +1 arrows in mid-flight.

Both missiles strike the same target.

Make a separate attack roll for each missile using the same attack bonus.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate conjuration (creation); CL 7th.

Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Precise Shot, arrowsplit, +9,000 gp, +720 XP, +18 days.

Weight: —.

Price: +3 bonus.

CHAMPIONS OF VALOR (3.5)

HOMELAND CHAMPION

This weapon ability invokes a mystical tie between the weapon and a particular country (determined at the time of creation).

When the weapon is wielded by a character with the Defender of the Homeland feat (see page 28) whose homeland matches the weapon's associated country and it is used against an evil creature within this homeland, its enhancement bonus increases by 2 and it deals an extra 2d6 points of damage.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the homeland champion quality upon their ammunition.

A hit by the weapon bestows one negative level on any enemy of the weapon's homeland.

The negative level remains as long as the weapon is in hand and disappears when the weapon is no longer wielded.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the weapon is wielded.

Moderate conjuration; CL 8th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Defender of the Homeland; Price +1 bonus.

SACRIFICIAL SMITING

Only melee weapons can have this special ability.

Useable only by paladins or characters able to smite evil, this good-aligned weapon property allows the wielder to sacrifice some of her own vitality to gain extra uses of smite evil.

By accepting one negative level, the wielder can use smite evil on a creature struck by the weapon even if the wielder has expended all her uses of smite evil for the day.

For example, Aelryndai Martyr-Sister is a 10th-level paladin with 14 Charisma; even though she has expended all of her own smite evil uses against her enemies today, she can call upon the power of her sacrificial smiting weapon, accept a negative level, and smite again to gain +2 on the attack roll and +9 on the damage roll (normally +10, but 1 lower because of the negative level).

The wielder decides at the time of the attack whether to make the sacrifice, instantly applying the effect of the smite and the negative level to her attack roll and damage roll.

The negative level gained by this sacrifice lasts for 24 hours, never results in actual level loss, and cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells).

This weapon ability was devised by paladins of Ilmater, and weapons with this ability are sometimes called martyrsmite weapons.

Moderate evocation [good]; CL 7th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, creator must be a paladin; Price +1 bonus.

CITY OF SPLENDORS WATERDEEP (3.5)

CORROSIVE

Upon command, a corrosive weapon becomes slick with a thick layer of acidic fluid (the wielder takes no damage from this effect).

Corrosive weapons deal an extra 1d6 points of acid damage on a successful hit.

Bows, crossbows, and slings with this ability bestow the acid energy upon their ammunition.

Moderate conjuration or evocation; CL 10th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, acid fog, acid storm, Melf's acid arrow, or storm of vengeance; Price +1 bonus.

HARMONIZING

This enchantment can only be placed on melee weapons. A harmonizing weapon accompanies its wielder in song if drawn, granting a +6 enhancement bonus on Perform checks that involve singing.

Beginning on the second round of singing, the harmonizing weapon begins to sing alongside the wielder. If the wielder stops singing at any time after the second round, the weapon continues singing for a number of rounds equal to the wielder's Charisma bonus or until sheathed.

This extended singing is equivalent in effect to the wielder continuing to sing.

For example, a bard with a 16 Charisma could start singing for 1 round to inspire courage in his allies.

In the second round, his harmonizing weapon would join in.

If the bard stopped singing in the third round, the harmonizing weapon would sing for up to 3 additional rounds, continuing to inspire courage in the bard's allies.

If the bard restarted his song any time before the end of the 6th round, the harmonizing weapon would continue to sing with him, uninterrupted.

(Restarting the song in this manner does not count as another use of bardic music).

If you start using another form of bardic music while your harmonizing weapon is maintaining a song, the weapon stops maintaining the first song and begins aiding the second.

Faint illusion; CL 5th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, ghost sound; Price +1 bonus.

SHATTERMANTLE

A shattermantle weapon damages an opponent's spell resistance.

Each time the weapon strikes a foe with spell resistance, the value of that spell resistance is reduced by 2 for 1 round. The penalties for multiple hits during the same round stack.

For example, if the wielder succeeds on three attacks in the same round against the same foe with spell resistance, that foe's spell resistance is reduced by 6 until the beginning of the wielder's next turn.

This weapon property does not grant the bearer the ability to determine how much spell resistance (if any) a target might have.

Faint abjuration; CL 5th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Spell Penetration; Price +1 bonus.

SPELLSTRIKE

A spellstrike weapon allows the wielder to transfer some or all of the weapon's enhancement bonus as a bonus on his saving throws against spells and spell-like abilities.

As a free action, the wielder chooses how to allocate the weapon's enhancement bonus at the start of his turn before using the weapon, and the effect on saving throws lasts until his next turn.

This bonus stacks with all other bonuses that benefit the wielder's saving throws.

Moderate abjuration; CL 8th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, resistance; Price +1 bonus.

SUNDERING

A sundering weapon deals an extra 1d6 points of damage on a successful sunder attempt.

This property can only be added to a slashing or bludgeoning weapon.

Moderate evocation; CL 10th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, shatter; Price +1 bonus.

CITYSCAPE (3.5)

ASSASSINATION

Price: +1

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 13) divination

Activation: —

The striking surface of this weapon is jet black.

Although it shows little sign of use, you cannot help but picture it covered in freshly spilled blood.

An assassination weapon deals an extra 1d6 points of damage against a foe who is flat-footed or otherwise denied a Dexterity bonus to AC, or who is flanked.

If the wielder deals sneak attack damage from other sources, such as levels in the rogue class, the extra damage stacks.

In addition, the weapon seems to eagerly drink in poison.

The wielder never risks poisoning herself when applying poison to an assassination weapon, and the save DC of any poison applied to the weapon increases by an amount equal to the weapon's enhancement bonus.

(Thus, a +1 assassination dagger increases the DC of any applied poison by 1, while a +3 assassination dagger increases the DC by 3).

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, true strike, sneak attack +2d6.

Cost to Create: Varies.

COMPLETE ADVENTURER (3.5)

DEADLY PRECISION

A deadly precision weapon deals an extra 2d6 points of damage when its wielder makes a successful sneak attack. This ability does not bestow the ability to make sneak attacks upon a user who does not already have it. Moderate transmutation; CL 12th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, keen edge; Price +2 bonus.

SIZING

The wielder of a sizing weapon can change the weapon's size category to any other size category as a standard action. Spellcasters who frequently polymorph themselves appreciate weapons with the sizing special ability. Moderate transmutation; CL 9th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, enlarge person, reduce person; Price +1 bonus.

COMPLETE ARCANE (3.5)

CLOUTING

A weapon enhanced by this property has the ability to drive its targets back.

On a successful hit, the target of the attack must succeed on a DC 19 Fortitude save or be knocked back 10 feet (falling to the ground instead if such movement is impossible).

If the first save fails, the target must succeed on another DC 19 Fortitude save or be stunned for 1 round.

Moderate abjuration; CL 11th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, repulsion; Price +3 bonus.

MAGEBANE

Weapons crafted with the magebane property are rightly feared by all arcane spellcasters.

Against any creature with arcane spells currently prepared or spell slots available to cast arcane spells without preparation, or against creatures with the ability to use arcane spell-like abilities, a magebane weapon's effective enhancement level is 2 better than normal (so that a +1 longsword becomes a +3 longsword when wielded against arcane spellcasters) and deals an extra 2d6 points of damage.

Magebane bows, crossbows, and slings bestow this ability upon their ammunition.

Moderate conjuration; CL 8th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, dispel magic; Price +1 bonus.

SKILLFUL

Highly prized by many arcane spellcasters, a skillful weapon can be wielded without penalty by a character not normally proficient with it.

In addition, the wielder's base attack bonus improves to a minimum of 3/4 his level (as a cleric of the same character level) when he attacks with a skillful weapon, though he gains no such bonus with any other weapon, even if a skillful weapon is wielded at the same time.

The skillful special ability can be added only to melee weapons.

Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Tenser's transformation; Price +2 bonus.

COMPLETE WARRIOR (3.5)

BLOOD SEEKING

Weapons with the blood seeking ability often have strange-looking sights on them.

Ammunition fired from blood seeking weapons flies around cover if necessary to strike a living creature, negating any bonus to Armor Class the target might have due to intervening cover.

The shooter can even fire at a target with full cover, but she must know the target is there, there must be an unobstructed path for the ammunition to reach the target, and the target still has total concealment (and thus a 50% miss chance).

The blood seeking ability doesn't function against plants, oozes, undead, and constructs.

Moderate divination; CL 9th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, arcane eye; Price +1 bonus.

DEFLECTING

If you're wielding a deflecting weapon of your size or one size larger, you can try to knock projectiles aimed at you out of the air.

Once per round when you would normally be hit by a ranged weapon, you may make a DC 20 Reflex saving throw (if the ranged weapon has a magical enhancement bonus, the DC increases by that amount).

If you succeed, the ranged weapon or projectile deflects away harmlessly.

You must be aware of the attack and not flat-footed.

Only melee weapons can have this ability.

Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, entropic shield; Price +1 bonus.

DISARMING

This weapon ability functions differently depending on whether it's applied to a melee weapon or a ranged weapon.

If applied to a melee weapon, the disarming ability eliminates the opponent's bonuses for both weapon size and two-handed weapons.

If applied to a ranged weapon, the disarming ability makes possible a disarm attack; you can shoot a weapon out of someone's hand.

The relative weapon sizes don't matter for a ranged disarm attempt, but the defender gains a +4 bonus for wielding a weapon in two hands.

Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, telekinesis; Price +2 bonus.

EXIT WOUND

Weapons with the exit wound ability propel their ammunition entirely through living targets they hit. This effect deals an extra 1d6 points of damage.

The weapon or projectile continues in a straight line beyond the original target.

Targets in that path are attacked using the same attack roll as the original target; these additional targets gain a +4 bonus to AC for each previous target in the path.

When an exit wound weapon or projectile hits an object, it stops.

The exit wound ability can be applied to any ranged weapon; projectile weapons so enhanced bestow the ability on their ammunition.

Moderate transmutation; CL 8th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Melf's acid arrow; Price +2 bonus.

EXPLOSIVE

Always slightly warm to the touch, weapons with the explosive ability deal extra damage to anyone near the intended target.

Each successful hit with an explosive weapon deals 2d4 points of damage to all targets in a 5-foot burst (Reflex DC 15 half), including the original target.

The explosive ability can be applied to any melee weapon (though the wielder may be subject to the extra damage) or ranged weapon.

Projectile weapons so enhanced bestow the explosive ability on their ammunition.

Moderate transmutation; CL 10th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, shatter; Price +2 bonus (+3 bonus for ranged weapons).

KNOCKBACK

Knockback weapons often emit a low, almost inaudible hum when drawn.

Whenever a knockback weapon hits its target, it initiates a bull rush attack in addition to dealing normal damage.

To resolve the bull rush attempt, treat the projectile as a Medium creature with a +8 Strength bonus.

The projectile doesn't provoke an attack of opportunity, and it always tries to push the target as far back as possible.

Only ranged weapons can have the knockback ability, and they bestow it on their ammunition.

Moderate evocation; CL 11th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Bigby's forceful hand; Price +3 bonus.

LAST RESORT

A melee weapon (usually a dagger) with the last resort ability is particularly effective in a grapple.

Its wielder doesn't take the -4 penalty for attacking with a weapon while grappling, and the weapon deals an extra 1d6 points of damage in a grapple for every size category the target is bigger than the wielder.

For example, a halfling armed with a +1 last resort dagger would deal an extra 2d6 points of damage when being grappled by an ogre.

Moderate transmutation; CL 7th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, freedom of movement; Price +1 bonus.

DEITIES AND DEMIGODS (3.0)

FRIGHTFUL

This weapon makes an unearthly wailing noise whenever the wielder attacks.

This sonic, mind-affecting fear effect extends in a 30-foot burst.

The wielder's allies are not affected, but foes who are not the target of the weapon's attack must make Will saves (DC 16).

Those who fail their saves become shaken for 3d6 rounds.

Targets of the weapon's attack become panicked for 3d6 rounds if they fail their saving throws.

Foes who make successful saving throws are unaffected by the weapon's power for one day.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, fear; Market Price: +3 bonus.

DROW OF THE UNDERDARK (3.5)

ACCURATE

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) divination

Activation: —

This weapon is finely balanced and made of exceptional materials.

An accurate weapon helps its wielder correct his mistakes.

When you miss, the weapon provides a +2 circumstance bonus on your next attack roll.

Prerequisite: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, true strike.

Cost to Create: Varies.

LIGHT BURST

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) evocation

Activation: —

Images of the sun are etched onto the surface of this weapon, and it feels warm to the touch.

A light burst weapon explodes with dazzling light upon striking a successful critical hit.

The light does not affect you (in case you have light sensitivity, light blindness, or some other vulnerability to light).

The target of your critical hit is dazzled for 5 rounds.

If it has a weakness to light, it suffers the effects of its weakness for 1 round as if it was in the presence of a daylight spell, and is dazzled for 5 rounds afterward.

For example, if you wield a light burst weapon and score a critical hit against a drow, the drow is blinded for 1 round, and then dazzled for 5 rounds as normal.

Projectile weapons bestow the light burst property upon their ammunition.

Prerequisite: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, daylight.

Cost to Create: Varies.

SPARKLING

Price: +2 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) evocation

Activation: —

Gleaming specks of blue, purple, and red lie just below the weapon's surface, reflecting oddly in the light.

A sparkling weapon causes a target it strikes to erupt in pale multicolored flame, as if affected by the faerie fire spell.

The flames last for 5 rounds.

Multiple hits by sparkling weapons have no additional effect.

Projectile weapons bestow the sparkling property upon their ammunition.

Prerequisite: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, faerie fire, creator must be drow.

Cost to Create: Varies.

SPIDERKISSED

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: —

Tracery suggestive of a spider's web covers the entire surface of this weapon.

When you confirm a critical hit with a spiderkissed weapon, the target must succeed on a DC 13 Reflex save or become entangled for 5 rounds as a mass of webbing covers its body.

The webbing cannot be removed and lasts for the duration of the effect.

Bows, crossbows, and slings with this property bestow the spiderkissed property upon their ammunition.

Prerequisite: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, web, drow.

Cost to Create: Varies.

TOXIC

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Melee weapon

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: —

When exposed to any light, this weapon gleams with an unhealthy ochre glow.

When you apply contact or injury poison to a toxic weapon, the weapon retains its potency after two successful hits instead of just one.

Prerequisite: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, gentle repose.

Cost to Create: Varies.

VIRULENT

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Melee weapon or ammunition

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) necromancy

Activation: —

Oozing pits mar the surface of this weapon.

When you apply contact or injury poison to a virulent weapon, the poison becomes fast acting.

Targets struck by a virulent weapon must make the saving throw to resist secondary damage 5 rounds after the initial damage instead of the customary 1 minute.

Prerequisite: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, poison.

Cost to Create: Varies.

DUNGEON MASTER'S GUIDE 3.0 (3.0)

BANE

A bane weapon excels at attacking one type of creature.

Against its designated foe, its effective enhancement bonus is +2 better than its normal enhancement bonus (so a +1 longsword is a +3 longsword against its foe).

Further, it deals +2d6 points of bonus damage against the foe.

To randomly determine a weapon's designated foe, roll on the following table:

d%	Designated Foe
01-05	Aberrations
06-08	Animals
09-13	Beasts
14-20	Constructs
21-25	Dragons
26-30	Elemental
31-35	Fey
36-40	Giants
41-45	Magical beasts
46-50	Monstrous humanoids
51-53	Oozes
54-58	Outsiders, chaotic
59-65	Outsiders, evil
66-70	Outsiders, good
71-75	Outsiders, lawful
76-77	Plants
78-85	Shapechangers
86-92	Undead
93-94	Vermin
95-100	Humanoids (choose subtype)

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, summon monster I; Market Price: +2 bonus.

BRILLIANT ENERGY

A brilliant energy weapon has its significant portion—such as its blade, axe head, or arrowhead—transformed into light, although this does not modify the item's weight. It gives off light as a torch (20-foot radius).

A brilliant energy weapon ignores nonliving matter. Armor and enhancement AC bonuses do not count against it because the weapon passes through armor. (Dexterity, deflection, dodge, natural armor, and other such bonuses still apply).

A brilliant energy weapon cannot harm undead, constructs, and objects.

Bows, crossbows, and slings cannot be enchanted with this ability.

Caster Level: 16th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, gaseous form, continual flame; Market Price: +4 bonus.

CHAOTIC

A chaotic weapon is chaotically aligned and infused with the power of chaos.

It deals +2d6 points of bonus chaotic damage against all of lawful alignment.

It bestows one negative level on any lawful creature attempting to wield it.

The negative level remains as long as the weapon is in hand and disappears when the weapon is no longer wielded.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the weapon is wielded.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so enchanted bestow the chaotic power upon their ammunition.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, chaos hammer, creator must be chaotic; Market Price: +2 bonus.

DANCING

A dancing weapon can be loosed (requiring a standard action) to attack on its own.

It fights for 4 rounds using the base attack bonus of the one who loosed it and then drops.

It never leaves the side of the one who loosed it (never straying more than 5 feet) and fights on even if that creature falls.

The wielder who loosed it can grasp it while it is attacking on its own as a free action, but when so retrieved it can't dance (attack on its own) again for 4 rounds.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, animate objects; Market Price: +4 bonus.

DEFENDING

A defender weapon allows the wielder to transfer some or all of the sword's enhancement bonus to his AC as a special bonus that stacks with all others.

As a free action, the wielder chooses how to allocate the weapon's enhancement bonus at the start of his turn before using the weapon, and the effect to AC lasts until his next turn.

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, shield or shield of faith; Market Price: +1 bonus.

DISRUPTION

A weapon of disruption is the bane of all undead. Any undead creature struck in combat must succeed at a Fortitude save (DC 14) or be destroyed.

A weapon of disruption must be a bludgeoning weapon. (If you roll this property randomly for a piercing or slashing weapon, reroll).

Caster Level: 14th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, heal; Market Price: +2 bonus.

DISTANCE

This enchantment can only be placed on a ranged weapon. A weapon of distance doubles its range increment.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, clairaudience/clairvoyance; Market Price: +1 bonus.

FLAMING

Upon command, a flaming weapon is sheathed in fire. The fire does not harm the hands that hold the weapon.

Flaming weapons deal +1d6 points of bonus fire damage on a successful hit.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so enchanted bestow the fire energy upon their ammunition.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor and flame blade, flame strike, or fireball; Market Price: +1 bonus.

FLAMING BURST

A flaming burst weapon functions as a flaming weapon that also explodes with flame upon striking a successful critical hit.

The fire does not harm the hands that hold the weapon. Flaming burst weapons deal +1d10 points of bonus fire damage on a successful critical hit.

If the weapon's critical multiplier is  $\times 3$ , add +2d10 points of bonus fire damage instead, and if the multiplier is  $\times 4$ , add +3d10 points of bonus fire damage.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so enchanted bestow the fire energy upon their ammunition.

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor and flame blade, flame strike, or fireball; Market Price: +2 bonus.

FROST

Upon command, a frost weapon is sheathed in icy cold. The cold does not harm the hands that hold the weapon.

Frost weapons deal +1d6 points of bonus cold damage on a successful hit.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so enchanted bestow the cold energy upon their ammunition.

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, chill metal or ice storm; Market Price: +1 bonus.

GHOST TOUCH

A ghost touch weapon deals damage normally against incorporeal creatures, regardless of its bonus.

(An incorporeal creature's 50% chance to avoid damage does not apply to ghost touch weapons).

Further, it can be picked up and moved by incorporeal creatures at any time.

A manifesting ghost can wield the weapon against corporeal foes.

Essentially, a ghost touch weapon counts as either corporeal or incorporeal at any given time, whichever is more beneficial to the wielder.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, plane shift; Market Price: +1 bonus.

HOLY

A holy weapon is good aligned and blessed with holy power.

It deals +2d6 points of bonus holy (good) damage against all of evil alignment.

It bestows one negative level on any evil creature attempting to wield it.

The negative level remains as long as the weapon is in hand and disappears when the weapon is no longer wielded.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the weapon is wielded.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so enchanted bestow the holy power upon their ammunition.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, holy smite, creator must be good; Market Price: +2 bonus.

ICY BURST

An icy burst weapon functions as a frost weapon that also explodes with frost upon striking a successful critical hit.

The frost does not harm the hands that hold the weapon.

Icy burst weapons deal +1d10 points of bonus cold damage on a successful critical hit.

If the weapon's critical multiplier is  $\times 3$ , add +2d10 points of bonus cold damage instead, and if the multiplier is  $\times 4$ , add +3d10 points of bonus cold damage.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so enchanted bestow the cold energy upon their ammunition.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, chill metal or ice storm; Market Price: +2 bonus.

KEEN

This enchantment doubles the threat range of a weapon.

For instance, if it is placed on a longsword (which has a normal threat range of 19–20), the keen longsword scores a threat on a 17–20.

Only piercing or slashing weapons can be enchanted to be keen.

(If you roll this property randomly for an inappropriate weapon, reroll).

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, keen edge; Market Price: +1 bonus.

LAWFUL

A lawful weapon is lawfully aligned and infused with the power of law.

It deals +2d6 points of bonus lawful damage against all of chaotic alignment.

It bestows one negative level on any chaotic creature attempting to wield it.

The negative level remains as long as the weapon is in hand and disappears when the weapon is no longer wielded.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the weapon is wielded.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so enchanted bestow the lawful power upon their ammunition.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, order's wrath, creator must be lawful; Market Price: +2 bonus.

MIGHTY CLEAVING

A mighty cleaving weapon allows a wielder with the Cleave feat to make one additional cleave attempt in a round.

Only one extra cleave attempt is allowed per round.

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, divine power; Market Price: +1 bonus.

RETURNING

This enchantment can only be placed on a weapon that can be thrown.

A returning weapon returns through the air back to the creature that threw it.

It returns on the round following the round that it was thrown just before its throwing creature's turn.

It is therefore ready to use again that turn.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, telekinesis; Market Price: +1 bonus.

SHOCK

Upon command, a shock weapon is sheathed in crackling electricity.

The electricity does not harm the hands that hold the weapon.

Shock weapons deal +1d6 points of bonus electricity damage on a successful hit.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so enchanted bestow the electricity energy upon their ammunition.

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, call lightning or lightning bolt; Market Price: +1 bonus.

SHOCKING BURST

A shocking burst weapon functions as a shock weapon that also explodes with electricity upon striking a successful critical hit.

The electricity does not harm the hands that hold the weapon.

Shocking burst weapons deal +1d10 points of bonus electricity damage on a successful critical hit.

If the weapon's critical multiplier is  $\times 3$ , add +2d10 points of bonus electricity damage instead, and if the multiplier is  $\times 4$ , add +3d10 points of bonus electricity damage.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so enchanted bestow the electricity energy upon their ammunition.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, call lightning or lightning bolt; Market Price: +2 bonus.

SPEED

A weapon of speed allows the wielder one single extra attack each round at his highest bonus.

It is not cumulative with haste.

The extra attack must be with this weapon, not with some other weapon.

The weapon does not grant the benefits of a haste spell, so an additional partial action is not what is granted, simply an extra single attack with this weapon.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, haste; Market Price: +4 bonus.

SPELL STORING

A spell-storing weapon allows a spellcaster to store a single targeted spell of up to 3rd level in the weapon.

(The spell must have a casting time of 1 action).

Any time the weapon strikes a creature and the creature takes damage from it, the weapon can immediately cast the spell on that creature as a free action if the wielder desires.

(This ability is a special exception to the general rule that casting a spell from an item takes at least as long as casting that spell normally).

Infllict serious wounds, contagion, blindness, and hold person are all common choices for the stored spell.

Once the spell has been cast, the weapon is empty of spells, and a spellcaster can cast any other targeted spell of up to 3rd level into it.

The weapon magically imparts to the wearer the name of the spell currently stored within it.

A randomly rolled spell-storing weapon has a 50% chance to have a spell stored in it already.

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, creator must be a caster of at least 12th level; Market Price: +1 bonus.

THUNDERING

A thundering weapon creates a cacophonous roar like thunder upon striking a successful critical hit.

The sonic energy does not harm the wielder of the weapon. Thundering weapons deal +1d8 points of bonus sonic damage on a successful critical hit.

If the weapon's critical multiplier is  $\times 3$ , add +2d8 points of bonus sonic damage instead, and if the multiplier is  $\times 4$ , add +3d8 points of bonus sonic damage.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so enchanted bestow the sonic energy upon their ammunition.

Subjects dealt a critical hit by a thundering weapon must make a Fortitude save (DC 14) or be deafened permanently.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, blindness/deafness; Market Price: +2 bonus.

THROWING

This enchantment can only be placed on a melee weapon.

A melee weapon enchanted with this ability gains a range increment of 10 feet and can be thrown by a wielder proficient in its normal use.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, magic stone; Market Price: +1 bonus.

UNHOLY

An unholy weapon is evilly aligned and blessed with unholy power.

It deals +2d6 points of bonus unholy (evil) damage against all of good alignment.

It bestows one negative level on any good creature attempting to wield it.

The negative level remains as long as the weapon is in hand and disappears when the weapon is no longer wielded.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the weapon is wielded.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so enchanted bestow the unholy power upon their ammunition.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, unholy blight, creator must be evil; Market Price: +2 bonus.

VORPAL

This potent and feared enchantment allows the weapon to sever the heads of those it strikes.

Upon a successful critical hit, the weapon severs the opponent's head (if it has one) from its body.

Some creatures, such as many abominations and all oozes, have no heads.

Others, such as golems and undead creatures other than vampires, are not affected by the loss of their heads.

Most other creatures, however, die when their heads are cut off.

The DM may have to make judgment calls about this sword's effect.

A vorpal weapon must be a slashing weapon.

(If you roll this property randomly for an inappropriate weapon, reroll).

Caster Level: 18th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, keen edge, death spell; Market Price: +5 bonus.

WOUNDING

A weapon of wounding deals damage to a creature such that a wound it inflicts bleeds for 1 point of damage per round thereafter in addition to the normal damage the weapon deals.

Multiple wounds from the weapon result in cumulative bleeding loss (two wounds for 2 points of damage per round, and so on).

The bleeding can only be stopped by a successful Heal check (DC 15) or the application of any cure spell or other healing spell (heal, healing circle, and so on).

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Mordenkainen's sword; Market Price: +2 bonus.

DUNGEON MASTER'S GUIDE 1 3.5 (3.5)

ANARCHIC

An anarchic weapon is chaotically aligned and infused with the power of chaos.

It makes the weapon chaos-aligned and thus bypasses the corresponding damage reduction.

It deals an extra 2d6 points of damage against all of lawful alignment.

It bestows one negative level on any lawful creature attempting to wield it.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the chaotic power upon their ammunition.

Moderate evocation [chaotic]; CL 7th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, chaos hammer, creator must be chaotic; Price +2 bonus.

AXIOMATIC

An axiomatic weapon is lawfully aligned and infused with the power of law.

It makes the weapon law-aligned and thus bypasses the corresponding damage reduction.

It deals an extra 2d6 points of damage against all of chaotic alignment.

It bestows one negative level on any chaotic creature attempting to wield it.

The negative level remains as long as the weapon is in hand and disappears when the weapon is no longer wielded.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the weapon is wielded.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the lawful power upon their ammunition.

Moderate evocation [lawful]; CL 7th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, order's wrath, creator must be lawful; Price +2 bonus.

BANE

A bane weapon excels at attacking one type or subtype of creature.

Against its designated foe, its effective enhancement bonus is +2 better than its normal enhancement bonus (so a +1 longsword is a +3 longsword against its foe).

It deals an extra 2d6 points of damage against the foe.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the bane quality upon their ammunition.

To randomly determine a weapon's designated foe, roll on the following table.

d%	Designated Foe
01–05	Aberrations
06–09	Animals
10–16	Constructs
17–22	Dragons
23–27	Elementals
28–32	Fey
33–39	Giants
40	Humanoids, aquatic
41–42	Humanoids, dwarf
43–44	Humanoids, elf
45	Humanoids, gnom
46	Humanoids, gnome
47–49	Humanoids, goblinoid
50	Humanoids, halfling
51–54	Humanoids, human
55–57	Humanoids, reptilian
58–60	Humanoids, orc
61–65	Magical beasts
66–70	Monstrous humanoids
71–72	Oozes
73	Outsiders, air
74–76	Outsiders, chaotic
77	Outsiders, earth
78–80	Outsiders, evil
81	Outsiders, fire
82–84	Outsiders, good
85–87	Outsiders, lawful
88	Outsiders, water
89–90	Plants
91–98	Undead
99–100	Vermin

Moderate conjuration; CL 8th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, summon monster I; Price +1 bonus.

BRILLIANT ENERGY

A brilliant energy weapon has its significant portion—such as its blade, axe head, or arrowhead—transformed into light, although this does not modify the item's weight.

It always gives off light as a torch (20-foot radius).

A brilliant energy weapon ignores nonliving matter.

Armor bonuses to AC (including any enhancement bonuses to that armor) do not count against it because the weapon passes through armor.

(Dexterity, deflection, dodge, natural armor, and other such bonuses still apply).

A brilliant energy weapon cannot harm undead, constructs, and objects.

This property can only be applied to melee weapons, thrown weapons, and ammunition.

Strong transmutation; CL 16th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, gaseous form, continual flame; Price +4 bonus.

DANCING

As a standard action, a dancing weapon can be loosed to attack on its own.

It fights for 4 rounds using the base attack bonus of the one who loosed it and then drops.

While dancing, it cannot make attacks of opportunity, and the person who activated it is not considered armed with the weapon.

In all other respects, it is considered wielded or attended by the creature for all maneuvers and effects that target items (such as the sunder action or a heat metal spell).

While dancing, it takes up the same space as the activating character and can attack adjacent foes (weapons with reach can attack opponents up to 10 feet away).

The dancing weapon accompanies the person who activated it everywhere, whether she moves by physical or magical means.

If the wielder who loosed it has an unoccupied hand, she can grasp it while it is attacking on its own as a free action; when so retrieved the weapon can't dance (attack on its own) again for 4 rounds.

Strong transmutation; CL 15th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, animate objects; Price +4 bonus.

DEFENDING

A defending weapon allows the wielder to transfer some or all of the sword's enhancement bonus to his AC as a bonus that stacks with all others.

As a free action, the wielder chooses how to allocate the weapon's enhancement bonus at the start of his turn before using the weapon, and the effect to AC lasts until his next turn.

Moderate abjuration; CL 8th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, shield or shield of faith; Price +1 bonus.

DISRUPTION

A weapon of disruption is the bane of all undead.

Any undead creature struck in combat must succeed on a DC 14 Will save or be destroyed.

A weapon of disruption must be a bludgeoning weapon. (If you roll this property randomly for a piercing or slashing weapon, reroll).

Strong conjuration; CL 14th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, heal; Price +2 bonus.

DISTANCE

This property can only be placed on a ranged weapon.

A weapon of distance has double the range increment of other weapons of its kind.

Moderate divination; CL 6th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, clairaudience/clairvoyance; Price +1 bonus.

FLAMING

Upon command, a flaming weapon is sheathed in fire. The fire does not harm the wielder.

The effect remains until another command is given.

A flaming weapon deals an extra 1d6 points of fire damage on a successful hit.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the fire energy upon their ammunition.

Moderate evocation; CL 10th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor and flame blade, flame strike, or fireball; Price +1 bonus.

FLAMING BURST

A flaming burst weapon functions as a flaming weapon that also explodes with flame upon striking a successful critical hit.

The fire does not harm the wielder.

In addition to the extra fire damage from the flaming ability (see above), a flaming burst weapon deals an extra 1d10 points of fire damage on a successful critical hit.

If the weapon's critical multiplier is  $\times 3$ , add an extra 2d10 points of fire damage instead, and if the multiplier is  $\times 4$ , add an extra 3d10 points of fire damage.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the fire energy upon their ammunition.

Even if the flaming ability is not active, the weapon still deals its extra fire damage on a successful critical hit.

Strong evocation; CL 12th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor and flame blade, flame strike, or fireball; Price +2 bonus.

FROST

Upon command, a frost weapon is sheathed in icy cold.

The cold does not harm the wielder.

The effect remains until another command is given.

A frost weapon deals an extra 1d6 points of cold damage on a successful hit.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the cold energy upon their ammunition.

Moderate evocation; CL 8th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, chill metal or ice storm; Price +1 bonus.

GHOST TOUCH

A ghost touch weapon deals damage normally against incorporeal creatures, regardless of its bonus.

(An incorporeal creature's 50% chance to avoid damage does not apply to attacks with ghost touch weapons).

The weapon can be picked up and moved by an incorporeal creature at any time.

A manifesting ghost can wield the weapon against corporeal foes.

Essentially, a ghost touch weapon counts as either corporeal or incorporeal at any given time, whichever is more beneficial to the wielder.

Moderate conjuration; CL 9th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, plane shift; Price +1 bonus.

HOLY

A holy weapon is imbued with holy power.

This power makes the weapon good-aligned and thus bypasses the corresponding damage reduction.

It deals an extra 2d6 points of damage against all of evil alignment.

It bestows one negative level on any evil creature attempting to wield it.

The negative level remains as long as the weapon is in hand and disappears when the weapon is no longer wielded.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the weapon is wielded.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the holy power upon their ammunition.

Moderate evocation [good]; CL 7th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, holy smite, creator must be good; Price +2 bonus.

ICY BURST

An icy burst weapon functions as a frost weapon that also explodes with frost upon striking a successful critical hit. The frost does not harm the wielder.

In addition to the extra damage from the frost ability, an icy burst weapon deals an extra 1d10 points of cold damage on a successful critical hit.

If the weapon's critical multiplier is  $\times 3$ , add an extra 2d10 points of cold damage instead, and if the multiplier is  $\times 4$ , add an extra 3d10 points.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the cold energy upon their ammunition.

Even if the frost ability is not active, the weapon still deals its extra cold damage on a successful critical hit.

Moderate evocation; CL 10th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, chill metal or ice storm; Price +2 bonus.

KEEN

This ability doubles the threat range of a weapon. For instance, if it is placed on a longsword (which has a normal threat range of 19–20), the keen longsword scores a threat on a 17–20.

Only piercing or slashing weapons can be keen. (If you roll this property randomly for an inappropriate weapon, reroll).

This benefit doesn't stack with any other effect that expands the threat range of a weapon (such as the keen edge spell or the Improved Critical feat).

Moderate transmutation; CL 10th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, keen edge; Price +1 bonus.

KI FOCUS

The magic weapon serves as a channel for the wielder's ki, allowing her to use her special ki attacks through the weapon as if they were unarmed attacks.

These attacks include the monk's stunning attack, ki strike, and quivering palm, as well as the Stunning Fist feat.

Only melee weapons can have the ki focus ability.

Moderate transmutation; CL 8th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, creator must be a monk; Price +1 bonus.

MERCIFUL

The weapon deals an extra 1d6 points of damage, and all damage it deals is nonlethal damage.

On command, the weapon suppresses this ability until commanded to resume it.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the merciful effect upon their ammunition.

Faint conjuration; CL 5th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, cure light wounds; Price +1 bonus.

MIGHTY CLEAVING

A mighty cleaving weapon allows a wielder with the Cleave feat to make one additional cleave attempt in a round.

Moderate evocation; CL 8th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, divine power; Price +1 bonus.

RETURNING

This special ability can only be placed on a weapon that can be thrown.

A returning weapon flies through the air back to the creature that threw it.

It returns to the thrower just before the creature's next turn (and is therefore ready to use again in that turn).

Catching a returning weapon when it comes back is a free action.

If the character can't catch it, or if the character has moved since throwing it, the weapon drops to the ground in the square from which it was thrown.

Moderate transmutation; CL 7th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, telekinesis; Price +1 bonus.

SEEKING

Only ranged weapons can have the seeking ability.

The weapon veers toward its target, negating any miss chances that would otherwise apply, such as from concealment.

(The wielder still has to aim the weapon at the right square. Arrows mistakenly shot into an empty space, for example, do not veer and hit invisible enemies, even if they are nearby).

Strong divination; CL 12th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, true seeing; Price +1 bonus.

SHOCK

Upon command, a shock weapon is sheathed in crackling electricity.

The electricity does not harm the wielder.

The effect remains until another command is given.

A shock weapon deals an extra 1d6 points of electricity damage on a successful hit.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the electricity energy upon their ammunition.

Moderate evocation; CL 8th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, call lightning or lightning bolt; Price +1 bonus.

SHOCKING BURST

A shocking burst weapon functions as a shock weapon that also explodes with electricity upon striking a successful critical hit.

The electricity does not harm the wielder.

In addition to the extra electricity damage from the shock ability, a shocking burst weapon deals an extra 1d10 points of electricity damage on a successful critical hit.

If the weapon's critical multiplier is  $\times 3$ , add an extra 2d10 points of electricity damage instead, and if the multiplier is  $\times 4$ , add an extra 3d10 points.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the electricity energy upon their ammunition.

Even if the shock ability is not active, the weapon still deals its extra electricity damage on a successful critical hit.

Moderate evocation; CL 10th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, call lightning or lightning bolt; Price +2 bonus.

SPEED

When making a full attack action, the wielder of a speed weapon may make one extra attack with it. The attack uses the wielder's full base attack bonus, plus any modifiers appropriate to the situation. (This benefit is not cumulative with similar effects, such as a haste spell).
Moderate transmutation; CL 7th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, haste; Price +3 bonus.

SPELL STORING

A spell storing weapon allows a spellcaster to store a single targeted spell of up to 3rd level in the weapon. (The spell must have a casting time of 1 standard action). Any time the weapon strikes a creature and the creature takes damage from it, the weapon can immediately cast the spell on that creature as a free action if the wielder desires. (This special ability is an exception to the general rule that casting a spell from an item takes at least as long as casting that spell normally).
Infllict serious wounds, contagion, blindness, and hold person are all common choices for the stored spell.
Once the spell has been cast from the weapon, a spellcaster can cast any other targeted spell of up to 3rd level into it. The weapon magically imparts to the wielder the name of the spell currently stored within it.
A randomly rolled spell storing weapon has a 50% chance to have a spell stored in it already.
Strong evocation (plus aura of stored spell); CL 12th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, creator must be a caster of at least 12th level; Price +1 bonus.

THUNDERING

A thundering weapon creates a cacophonous roar like thunder upon striking a successful critical hit. The sonic energy does not harm the wielder.
A thundering weapon deals an extra 1d8 points of sonic damage on a successful critical hit.
If the weapon's critical multiplier is  $\times 3$ , add an extra 2d8 points of sonic damage instead, and if the multiplier is  $\times 4$ , add an extra 3d8 points of sonic damage.
Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the sonic energy upon their ammunition.
Subjects dealt a critical hit by a thundering weapon must make a DC 14 Fortitude save or be deafened permanently.
Faint necromancy; CL 5th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, blindness/deafness; Price +1 bonus.

THROWING

This ability can only be placed on a melee weapon. A melee weapon crafted with this ability gains a range increment of 10 feet and can be thrown by a wielder proficient in its normal use.
Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, magic stone; Price +1 bonus.

UNHOLY

An unholy weapon is imbued with unholy power.

This power makes the weapon evil-aligned and thus bypasses the corresponding damage reduction. It deals an extra 2d6 points of damage against all of good alignment.
It bestows one negative level on any good creature attempting to wield it.
Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the unholy power upon their ammunition.
Moderate evocation [evil]; CL 7th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, unholy blight, creator must be evil; Price +2 bonus.

VICIOUS

When a vicious weapon strikes an opponent, it creates a flash of disruptive energy that resonates between the opponent and the wielder.
This energy deals an extra 2d6 points of damage to the opponent and 1d6 points of damage to the wielder. Only melee weapons can be vicious.
Moderate necromancy; CL 9th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, enervation; Price +1 bonus.

VORPAL

This potent and feared ability allows the weapon to sever the heads of those it strikes.
Upon a roll of natural 20 (followed by a successful roll to confirm the critical hit), the weapon severs the opponent's head (if it has one) from its body.
Some creatures, such as many aberrations and all oozes, have no heads.
Others, such as golems and undead creatures other than vampires, are not affected by the loss of their heads. Most other creatures, however, die when their heads are cut off.
The DM may have to make judgment calls about this sword's effect.
A vorpal weapon must be a slashing weapon. (If you roll this property randomly for an inappropriate weapon, reroll).
Strong necromancy and transmutation; CL 18th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, circle of death, keen edge; Price +5 bonus.

WOUNDING

A wounding weapon deals 1 point of Constitution damage from blood loss when it hits a creature.
A critical hit does not multiply the Constitution damage. Creatures immune to critical hits (such as plants and constructs) are immune to the Constitution damage dealt by this weapon.
Moderate evocation; CL 10th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Mordenkainen's sword; Price +2 bonus.

DUNGEON MASTER'S GUIDE 2 (3.5)

ACIDIC BURST

An acidic burst weapon is similar to a corrosive weapon (see page 256), except that it deals even more acid damage.

When the wielder scores a critical hit with it, the weapon showers the opponent with slick acid that burns its flesh to the bone.

Description: An acidic burst weapon looks much like a corrosive weapon.

Its surface is pitted and worn, although it remains as strong as any comparable magic weapon.

Like a corrosive weapon, an acidic burst weapon is coated with a thick layer of burning acid that drips from its tip when the corrosive ability is active.

Activation: Activating or deactivating the corrosive ability is a standard action.

Even if the corrosive ability is not active, the weapon still deals its extra acid damage on a successful critical hit, with no action required on the part of the wielder.

Effect: At its most basic, an acidic burst weapon functions like a corrosive weapon.

Once activated, this effect lasts as long as the wielder desires.

In addition, an acidic burst weapon explodes with acid on a successful critical hit.

The acid does not harm the wielder as long as she has the weapon in hand.

In addition to the acid damage dealt by the corrosive ability, an acidic burst weapon deals extra acid damage on a successful critical hit.

The amount depends on its critical multiplier, as follows.

Critical Multiplier	Extra Acid Damage
×2	1d10
×3	2d10
×4	3d10

Bows, crossbows, and slings with this ability bestow the acid energy upon their ammunition.

Aura/Caster Level: Strong conjuration; CL 12th.

Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor plus acid fog, acid storm, Melf's acid arrow, or storm of vengeance.

Price: +2 bonus.

AIR ELEMENTAL POWER [SYNERGY]

An air elemental power weapon allows its wielder to summon forth a powerful air elemental and communicate with it in its native language.

This creature serves the wielder both in and out of combat.

Lore: Characters can gain the following pieces of information about the air elemental power ability by making Knowledge (history) checks at the appropriate DCs, as given below.

DC 20: The first air elemental power weapons were crafted several thousand years ago by the elf smith Limbuth Shadarrahn.

Known for creating delicate weapons that used raw elemental air to great effect, he also imbued his items with devious and clever magic that mimicked the ephemeral and elusive nature of his favorite element.

DC 30: Though he was fond of the finesse with which air could be manipulated, Limbuth was also fascinated with the savage power it had.

His first air elemental power creation was a composite longbow he called Quickstrike, which his apprentices later used as a model to create similar weapons.

Description: An air elemental power weapon has barely visible etchings of blowing clouds and eddying winds along its length.

The hilt or grip resembles puffs of clouds, and the pommel or crest is set with a single clear diamond.

An air elemental power weapon feels lighter than most comparable weapons.

When used to summon an air elemental, it seems to become temporarily insubstantial, as though made of moving air.

Prerequisite: The air elemental power ability can be added only to a weapon that already has the shock ability or the shocking burst ability.

Activation: The wielder of an air elemental power weapon can summon an elemental once per day as a standard action.

Effect: A weapon with this ability allows the wielder to summon a powerful air elemental ally.

The exact kind of air elemental summoned depends on the potency of the special ability.

The least powerful version summons a Large elemental, and more powerful versions summon Huge, greater, or elder air elementals.

The amount of time that the elemental remains on a plane other than its native one depends on its kind, as follows.

Air Elemental	Maximum Time
Large	11 rounds
Huge	13 rounds
Greater	15 rounds
Elder	17 rounds

The elemental can be dismissed before its duration expires, but doing so wastes the unused rounds.

The wielder can communicate with the summoned elemental as if fluent in the Auran language.

He can give the elemental direction and suggest tactics in battle, or even induce it to provide services other than battle.

For example, an elemental summoned with an air elemental power weapon can cause a distraction using its whirlwind ability, carry the wielder and his allies through the air, or perform special combat maneuvers, such as the aid another action.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate or strong conjuration; CL 11th (Large), 13th (Huge), 15th (greater), or 17th (elder).

Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor plus call lightning or lightning bolt plus summon monster VI (Large), summon monster VII (Huge), summon monster VIII (greater), or summon monster IX (elder).

Price: +1 bonus (Large), +2 bonus (Huge), +3 bonus (greater), or +4 bonus (elder).

BRUTAL SURGE

Brutal surge weapons deal crushing blows and occasionally imbue a strike with a blast of magical force that hurls the affected creature away from the wielder.

Most wielders of brutal surge weapons are physically powerful warriors, but smaller, swifter characters find them useful for their ability to drive away a dangerous creature long enough to allow a quick escape.

Description: Weapons with the brutal surge ability are broader and thicker than normal versions, and they usually have darker coloring as well.

For example, a brutal surge spear has a dark, nearly charred wooden haft and a head made of blackened iron.

The heavy blades and shafts of these weapons enable them to deliver abnormally powerful blows.

Activation: Activating a weapon with this ability is a swift action that must occur immediately after the wielder makes a successful melee attack.

(See page 237 for the definition of a swift action).

Effect: Once per day, upon a successful melee attack, the brutal surge weapon can initiate a bull rush attempt in addition to dealing its normal damage.

The attempt does not provoke attacks of opportunity and is resolved using the wielder's size, Strength, and other relevant characteristics.

A character who wields a brutal surge weapon in two hands gains a +2 bonus on the bull rush attempt.

If successful, the bull rush pushes the affected creature back the greatest possible distance allowed by the result of the opposed check, but the wielder does not move along with the target.

Movement caused by this bull rush attempt provokes attacks of opportunity normally, except that it never allows the wielder of the brutal surge weapon an attack of opportunity against the affected creature.

Only slashing and bludgeoning melee weapons can have the brutal surge ability.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate evocation; CL 7th.

Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Bigby's forceful hand.

Price: +2,000 gp.

CAUSTIC SURGE

A caustic surge weapon spews forth a deadly burst of acid for a short time each day.

Caustic surge weapons are generally favored by characters who prefer to strike from hiding, or by those who make a practice of breaking into secured areas.

The weapon's ability to deliver damage quickly works well with the sneak attack ability, and the fact that acid quickly and quietly damages objects such as doors or locks can prove very useful to a stealthy cat burglar or a quick-striking thug.

Description: Caustic surge weapons typically have a sickly green tint, and many are of unusual design.

A bladed weapon with this property, for example, typically has an exotic wavy blade rather than a straight one.

In addition, a caustic surge weapon bears a single green gem, such as an emerald.

Activation: Activating a weapon with this ability is a swift action that must occur immediately after the wielder makes a successful melee attack.

(See page 237 for the definition of a swift action).

Effect: On a successful melee attack, the wielder can cause the weapon to expel its acidic burst, which deals an extra 2d6 points of acid damage to the target.

This acid does not harm the wielder.

This ability is usable a number of times per day equal to the wielder's Constitution bonus.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate evocation; CL 5th.

Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Melf's acid arrow.

Price: +2,000 gp.

CORROSIVE

A corrosive weapon harnesses the effects of acid, burning enemies with every blow.

Description: The surface of a corrosive weapon looks dark and pitted, and the portion that deals damage to foes actually appears fragile, as if the first blow might break it. This appearance is deceptive, however, since the weapon is as strong as any other magic weapon.

When activated, a corrosive weapon becomes slick with a thick layer of acidic fluid.

Small drops fall from its surface to the ground, hissing as if in anticipation of combat.

Activation: Activating or deactivating the corrosive ability is a standard action.

Effect: A corrosive weapon deals an extra 1d6 points of acid damage on each successful hit.

The wielder takes no damage from the corrosive properties of the acid coating the weapon.

Once activated, the effect lasts as long as the wielder desires.

Bows, crossbows, and slings with this ability bestow the acid energy upon their ammunition.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate conjuration; CL 10th.

Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor and acid fog, acid storm, Melf's acid arrow, or storm of vengeance.

Price: +1 bonus.

DEFENSIVE SURGE

Weapons with this special ability protect the wielder at crucial moments or during particularly desperate encounters.

Description: Weapons with the defensive surge quality are thicker and heavier than normal versions.

Regardless of their appearance, defensive surge weapons feel well balanced in the hands of any wielder.

This trait does not allow a nonproficient wielder to use the weapon any better than he normally could, but anyone who handles the weapon knows that it's special in some way.

Activation: Activating a weapon with this ability is a swift action that must occur immediately after the wielder makes a successful melee attack.

(See page 237 for the definition of a swift action).

Effect: During any round in which the wielder uses the Combat Expertise feat or fights defensively, he can trigger the sword's magic and gain an additional +2 bonus to Armor Class.

During a round in which he takes the total defense option, he gains an additional +4 bonus to Armor Class. This ability is usable a number of times per day equal to the wielder's Charisma bonus.
Aura/Caster Level: Moderate abjuration; CL 5th.
Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, shield.
Price: +2,000 gp.

EARTH ELEMENTAL POWER [SYNERGY]

Much like an air elemental power weapon, a weapon with this ability allows the wielder to call forth a powerful ally to aid him in battle.

In this case, the ally takes the form of an earth elemental, which the wielder directs as desired.

Lore: Characters can gain the following pieces of information about the earth elemental power ability by making Knowledge (history) checks at the appropriate DCs, as given below.

DC 20: The first earth elemental power weapon was designed by the dwarf weaponsmith Daergal Ebonforge, who wanted a weapon capable of calling forth a powerful ally in battle.

DC 30: Ebonforge based his work on, of all things, the work of the elf smith Limbuth Shadarrahn.

Daergal's first earth elemental power weapon, the mighty war hammer known as Thunderstone, has achieved near-legendary status among some dwarf clans.

It was lost nearly a thousand years ago when its last bearer was slain in a war against the drow, but dwarf adventurers are still mounting fruitless quests to locate it.

Description: Earth elemental power weapons are sturdily crafted, much like the elementals they summon. Even the most elegant one appears thicker of blade or haft than normal, and the weapon is decorated with earth like motifs.

A single emerald is always set in the pommel or grip. An earth elemental power weapon gives its wielder an added feeling of stability.

When it is used to summon an elemental ally, its surface seems to grow craggy and rocky, roiling as if an avalanche had spilled down its length.

Prerequisite: The earth elemental power ability can be added only to a weapon that already has the corrosive ability or the acidic burst ability (both described above).

Activation: The wielder of an earth elemental power weapon can summon an earth elemental once per day as a standard action.

Effect: A weapon with this ability allows the wielder to summon a powerful earth elemental ally.

The exact kind of earth elemental summoned depends on the potency of the special ability.

The least powerful version summons a Large elemental, and more powerful versions summon Huge, greater, or elder earth elementals.

The amount of time that the elemental remains on a plane other than its native one depends on its kind, as follows.

Earth Elemental	Maximum Time
Large	11 rounds
Huge	13 rounds
Greater	15 rounds
Elder	17 rounds

The elemental can be dismissed before its duration expires, but doing so wastes any unused rounds.

The wielder can communicate with the summoned elemental as if fluent in the Terran language.

He can give the elemental direction and suggest tactics in battle, or even induce it to provide services other than battle.

For example, an elemental summoned with an earth elemental power weapon can break down a wall, perform reconnaissance using its earth glide ability, or perform special combat maneuvers, such as the aid another action.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate or strong conjuration; CL 11th (Large), 13th (Huge), 15th (greater), or 17th (elder).
Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor plus acid fog or Melf's acid arrow plus summon monster VI (Large), summon monster VII (Huge), summon monster VIII (greater), or summon monster IX (elder).

Price: +1 bonus (Large), +2 bonus (Huge), +3 bonus (greater), or +4 bonus (elder).

FIERCEBANE [SYNERGY]

A bane weapon with this ability deals even more devastating attacks against the designated creatures than usual.

Lore: Characters can gain the following pieces of information about the fiercebane ability by making Knowledge (history) or Knowledge (arcana) checks at the appropriate DCs, as given below.

DC 20: Few rangers acquire the skills needed to create magic items, but the gnome ranger Tir Hearthand had learned to hate orcs at an early age.

Unsatisfied with normal orc bane weapons, he devoted the last half of his life to creating the ultimate weapon for slaying orcs.

DC 30: The first fiercebane weapon was an orc bane scimitar sized for a gnome and named Hearthand, after its creator. Tir Hearthand wielded this weapon for many years, and it eventually achieved a near-legendary status.

Gnomes with an interest in weaponcraft now believe it to be a potent artifact capable of striking dead any orc that even sets eyes upon it.

Hearthand is believed to have been lost in the dark hills near the long-dead orc kingdom where Tir Hearthand met his end.

Description: Carved into the pommel or handle of a fiercebane weapon is a single rune in the Gnome language that represents the foe the weapon is dedicated to slaying.

When one of these weapons strikes its bane enemy, it begins to emit a low, eager hum that the wielder feels thrumming in her hand, as if the weapon were actually feeding off the lifeblood of its enemy.

Energy pulses along the weapon in barely visible waves while it fights the foes it was intended to destroy.

Activation: Like the bane special ability, the fiercebane ability is always active.

The weapon must be wielded against the appropriate type of creature to provide its benefits.

Effect: A fiercebane weapon excels at attacking one type or subtype of creature.

It gains all the benefits that a bane weapon has against its designated foe, plus a few more.

A fiercebane weapon glows when its designated foe comes within 100 feet, even if the wielder cannot see or detect it.

In addition, a fiercebane weapon deals extra damage on a successful critical hit.

The amount depends on its critical multiplier, as follows.

Critical Multiplier	Extra Damage
×2	1d10
×3	2d10
×4	3d10

Bows, crossbows, and slings with this ability bestow the fiercebane ability upon their ammunition.

Aura/Caster Level: Strong conjuration; CL 12th.

Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, summon monster I.

Price: +2 bonus.

FIRE ELEMENTAL POWER

[SYNERGY]

A fire elemental power weapon allows its wielder to summon forth a powerful fire elemental and communicate with it in its native language.

This creature serves the wielder both in and out of combat.

Lore: Characters can gain the following pieces of information about the fire elemental power ability by making Knowledge (history) or Knowledge (arcana) checks at the appropriate DCs, as given below.

DC 20: Revelh Gnockrian was a young half-elf apprenticed to the master elf weaponsmith Limbuth Shadarrahn, who made the first air elemental power weapon.

A promising student, Revelh quickly decided that elements other than air could be harnessed in a similar fashion.

DC 30: Known among his fellow apprentices as Flametongue, both for his favorite sort of weapon and for the trouble his human temper could lead him into, Revelh began to experiment with flaming weapons.

He was the first to discover that the processes used to create one sort of elemental power weapon could not be used to create another sort.

So using new methods and techniques, he constructed the first fire elemental power weapon—a longsword called Scorch.

Description: A fire elemental power weapon is flashy and ostentatious compared with other weapons of the same basic type.

Flames are etched into its blade or handle, and graven or molded flames figure prominently in other aspects of its design.

The pommel or crest is always set with a single ruby.

A fire elemental power weapon seems to crackle when wielded.

As it cuts through the air, the wielder hears the faint roar of flames and smells a hint of smoke.

When used to summon a fire elemental, the weapon appears to become liquid flame, although it does not burn the wielder.

Prerequisite: The fire elemental power ability can be added only to a weapon that already has the flaming ability or the flaming burst ability.

Activation: The wielder of a fire elemental power weapon can summon a fire elemental once per day as a standard action.

Effect: A weapon with this ability allows the wielder to summon a powerful fire elemental ally.

The exact kind of fire elemental summoned depends on the potency of the special ability.

The least powerful version summons a Large elemental, and more powerful versions summon Huge, greater, or elder fire elementals.

The amount of time that the elemental remains on a plane other than its native one depends on its kind, as follows.

Fire Elemental	Maximum Time
Large	11 rounds
Huge	13 rounds
Greater	15 rounds
Elder	17 rounds

The elemental can be dismissed before its duration expires, but doing so wastes the unused rounds.

The wielder can communicate with the summoned elemental as if fluent in the Ignan language.

He can give the elemental direction and suggest tactics in battle, or even induce it to provide services other than battle.

For example, an elemental summoned with a fire elemental power weapon can burn through a door, set a field alight, or perform special combat maneuvers, such as the aid another action.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate or strong conjuration; CL 11th (Large), 13th (Huge), 15th (greater), or 17th (elder).

Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor plus flame blade, flame strike, or fireball plus summon monster VI (Large), summon monster VII (Huge), summon monster VIII (greater), or summon monster IX (elder).

Price: +1 bonus (Large), +2 bonus (Huge), +3 bonus (greater), or +4 bonus (elder).

FLAMING SURGE

A flaming surge weapon flares with dangerous bursts of flame at its wielder's command, burning any creatures hit by its deadly fire.

Description: Flaming surge weapons typically have wavy blades, or heads or points that resemble flames caught and held within solid metal forms.

Its metal surfaces easily catch and reflect the light of any open flame and seem to move subtly with the fire.

In addition, a flaming surge weapon is adorned with red or orange gems, such as rubies or amber, that flash like fire when the weapon is wielded.

Activation: Activating a weapon with this ability is a swift action that must occur immediately after the wielder makes a successful melee attack.

(See page 237 for the definition of a swift action).

Effect: On a successful melee attack, the wielder can cause the weapon to burst into flames, which deal an extra 2d6 points of fire damage to the target.

This fire does not harm the wielder.

This ability is usable a number of times per day equal to the wielder's Constitution bonus.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate evocation; CL 5th.

Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor plus flame blade, flame strike, or fireball.

Price: +2,000 gp.

HOLY SURGE

Holy surge weapons carry the power of pure good within them, and their wielders use this energy to deal extra damage to evil foes.

While paladins and martially oriented clerics of good deities do prize these weapons, they tend to prefer the rare and coveted holy weapons.

On the other hand, detectives, sentries, investigators, and other heroes who know how to drop a vulnerable foe with a few well-placed attacks find holy surge weapons extremely handy.

Description: These blessed weapons combine graceful artistry with deadly function.

Many are decorated with the holy symbols of good gods whose portfolios have martial aspects.

Characters who serve gods of valor, honor, and the like craft these weapons for themselves and for others who share their values.

Activation: Activating a weapon with this ability is a swift action that must occur immediately after the wielder makes a successful melee attack.

(See page 237 for the definition of a swift action).

Effect: On a successful melee attack, the wielder of a holy surge weapon causes it to give off a burst of holy energy that deals an extra 2d6 points of holy damage to an evil foe.

If used against a nonevil creature, it deals no additional damage, and that use of the ability is wasted.

This ability is usable a number of times per day equal to the wielder's Charisma bonus.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate evocation; CL 11th.

Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor plus holy smite or holy word.

Price: +2,000 gp.

ICY SURGE

An icy surge weapon emits bursts of dangerous freezing cold at its wielder's command, delivering a deadly magical chill to foes.

Characters who wish to strike from hiding or with surprise covet such weapons.

Although an icy surge weapon might prove less powerful in a long, drawn-out combat than one with the frost ability, any character who can fell a foe with a few well-placed sneak attacks profits from the weapon's ability to deliver damage at a faster rate.

Description: An icy surge weapon usually has a slender blade with a very subtle blue tint that grows more pronounced in areas with low ambient temperatures.

In a tropical clime, an icy surge weapon looks almost normal, but in the midst of a frozen tundra or deep within an icy cave, it has a distinct pale blue sheen that seems to come from within the metal.

Portions of the weapon made from wood or other nonmetallic materials do not display this blue tint.

In addition, an icy surge weapon is adorned with sapphires or light blue diamonds.

Activation: Activating a weapon with this ability is a swift action that must occur immediately after the wielder makes a successful melee attack.

(See page 237 for the definition of a swift action).

Effect: On a successful melee attack, the wielder causes the weapon to emit a burst of deadly chill, which deals an extra 2d6 points of cold damage to the target.

This cold aura does not harm the wielder.

This ability is usable a number of times per day equal to the wielder's Charisma bonus.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate evocation; CL 5th.

Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor plus chill metal or ice storm.

Price: +2,000 gp.

ILLUSION BANE

This weapon special ability allows the wielder to pierce the veil of illusion surrounding her foes and see them as they truly are.

Creatures with poor ability to resist insidious illusions tend to favor illusion bane weapons.

Lore: Characters can gain the following pieces of information about the illusion bane ability by making Gather Information checks at the appropriate DCs, as given below.

DC 20: A sect of the church of St. Cuthbert whose members despised illusions and those who used them originally created the illusion bane ability.

An illusion bane weapon allows its wielder to destroy protective illusions.

DC 25: An illusion bane weapon functions much like the dispel magic spell, but only against illusion effects active on a creature struck by the weapon.

Illusion bane weapons are characterized by simple black iron ornamentation along the handles or crosspieces.

Description: An illusion bane weapon strikes to the heart of the matter, dispelling illusions that protect creatures from harm.

As such, it is typically quite simple in design.

Black iron and adamantine are favored materials for illusion bane weapons, and some symbology of St. Cuthbert is worked into the design as a form of homage to the original creators.

Wielders of illusion bane weapons claim that they feel more focused than ever before in their quests and pursuits, as if the weapons help them see situations more clearly.

This added focus is not a property of the weapon, but rather a side effect of the confidence that wielding such a weapon brings.

When used to destroy an illusion, an illusion bane weapon shimmers with power in an effect reminiscent of heat waves, as if the weapon were burning away the magical energy of the illusory effect.

Activation: An illusion bane weapon can be activated upon striking a creature affected by illusion magic, or when touched to an illusion.

Within these limitations, the wielder decides when to activate the illusion bane ability, which is usable only once per day.

If it is used against a creature not under the influence of illusion magic, or against a perceived but not actual illusion, it has no effect, but the use is not wasted for the day.

Effect: The wielder of an illusion bane weapon has no miss chance with it against a creature affected by any illusion magic that normally provides one (such as blur or displacement), even if a magic item generates the effect. In addition, a successful hit with such a weapon allows the wielder to attempt an immediate dispel check (1d20+10) to dispel any illusion magic currently affecting the target—whether or not the blow deals any damage.

This effect is a targeted dispel, but it functions only against illusion magic.

Thus, the wielder makes a check for each illusion spell affecting the target.

Alternatively, the wielder can attempt to dispel a single illusion by touching it with the illusion bane weapon.

For example, touching a silent image spell (or an image generated by the mirror image spell) with the weapon subjects it to the dispel check immediately.

A successful check dispels the illusion, so dispelling one mirror image ends the spell entirely for the target creature.

Such a use of an illusion bane weapon still counts as a use of the weapon's dispel ability.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate abjuration and divination; CL 10th.

Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, true seeing, dispel magic.

Price: +7,000 gp.

ILLUSION THEFT [SYNERGY]

An illusion theft weapon is similar to an illusion bane weapon, except that its propensity for disrupting illusions is matched by its ability to reproduce them.

The wielder of such a weapon can transfer the power of beneficial illusions to himself.

Description: An illusion theft weapon looks much like an illusion bane weapon with its simple design and dark metal construction.

The difference is that an illusion theft weapon always has a cut and polished piece of quartz set in the pommel or crest. When activated, an illusion theft weapon thrums with power that resembles heat waves.

When used to activate a stored illusion, it shifts and jumps within the wielder's grip, as if eager to unleash its power.

Prerequisite: The illusion theft ability can be added only to a weapon that already has the illusion bane special ability.

Activation: The illusion bane special ability can be activated in the normal fashion.

Activating an illusion spell stored within the weapon (see below) takes a standard action.

Once a stored illusion spell has been discharged, the wielder cannot activate the illusion theft ability until he has successfully dispelled another illusion, which is then stored within the weapon.

Unlike a spell storing weapon, an illusion theft weapon need not actually strike a creature to activate the stored spell.

Effect: The first illusion spell that an illusion theft weapon successfully dispels (because of its illusion bane ability) is automatically stored within it.

This ability functions like spell storing, except that the illusion theft weapon is not limited to storing a 3rd-level or lower spell.

An illusion theft weapon can store only one spell at a time. A spell cannot be cast into the weapon; it can store only a spell that it has actually dispelled with a touch.

The stored spell is preserved as originally cast in every way, except that its duration is effectively arrested at its most recent point.

The wielder immediately becomes aware of its remaining duration as soon as it is stored, and he can activate it at any time.

When the spell is activated, the duration begins passing again as if no time had passed.

Aura/Caster Level: Strong evocation (plus illusion if the weapon currently stores a spell); CL 17th.

Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, true seeing, dispel magic.

Price: +3 bonus.

INCORPOREAL BINDING [SYNERGY]

Adventurers—particularly those who hunt undead—favor the ghost touch weapon special ability because it consistently allows a weapon to damage creatures that are mostly immune to physical attacks.

However, ghost touch weapons are really valuable only to those who wield them directly.

Realizing this drawback, a clever smith of long ago rationalized that a ghost touch weapon would be much more potent if it could extend some benefit to the wielder's allies as well.

Description: An incorporeal binding weapon is always misty gray in color, even if the base material used in its construction has a distinct color of its own (such as adamantite).

The weapon is simple in design, with no special frills or ornamentation.

When an incorporeal binding weapon strikes an incorporeal creature, it temporarily anchors the target entity more firmly to the material world.

In so doing, it emits a single pulse of gray energy and seems to slow for a fraction of a second while passing through the creature's body.

The wielder is aware of this slowing effect, but it doesn't actually hamper his combat ability.

Prerequisite: The incorporeal binding ability can be added only to a weapon that already has the ghost touch special ability.

Activation: The incorporeal binding ability activates automatically whenever the weapon strikes an incorporeal creature.

Effect: An incorporeal creature damaged by this weapon loses the benefit of its incorporeal miss chance (50%) for 1 round.

It also does not benefit from its normal 50% chance to ignore damage from spells originating from a corporeal source.

It does, however, retain all other benefits of incorporeality, including immunity to all nonmagical attack forms, the ability to pass through solid objects, and a deflection bonus to AC equal to its Charisma bonus (if any).

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate abjuration; CL 9th.

Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, plane shift, dimensional anchor.

Price: +3 bonus.

LIGHTNING SURGE

A lightning surge weapon exudes a deadly spark at its wielder's command, scorching its target with electrical energy.

Like other surge weapons, it is an excellent choice for a character who likes to strike from hiding or finish off opponents with one or two well-placed attacks.

Description: Lightning surge weapons occasionally crackle with tiny sparks of electrical energy, but they have no other physical traits that reflect their true nature.

Activation: Activating a weapon with this ability is a swift action that must occur immediately after the wielder makes a successful melee attack.

(See page 237 for the definition of a swift action).

Effect: On a successful melee attack, the wielder causes the weapon to emit a jolt of electrical energy, which deals an extra 2d6 points of electricity damage to the target.

This electrical energy does not harm the wielder.

This ability is usable a number of times per day equal to the wielder's Charisma bonus.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate evocation; CL 5th.

Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor plus call lightning or lightning bolt.

Price: +2,000 gp.

SUDDEN STUNNING

Weapons with the sudden stunning ability can, to put it simply, knock their targets into next week.

Description: A sudden stunning weapon is usually broad and heavy compared to other weapons of its kind.

It displays a rough but solid craftsmanship that speaks of straightforward functionality.

Activation: Activating a weapon with this ability is a swift action that must occur immediately after the wielder makes a successful melee attack.

(See page 237 for the definition of a swift action).

Effect: On a successful melee attack, the wielder causes the weapon to emit a surge of magical energy.

Unless the target succeeds on a Reflex save (DC 10 + 1/2 wielder's level + wielder's Cha modifier), it is stunned for 1d4+1 rounds.

This ability is usable a number of times per day equal to the wielder's Charisma bonus.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate enchantment; CL 9th.

Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, hold monster.

Price: +2,000 gp.

UNHOLY SURGE

Unholy surge weapons carry the power of pure evil within them, and their wielders use this energy to deal extra damage to good foes.

Blackguards, thugs, and other servants of evil prize these weapons for their insidious ability to deliver a significant amount of harm to a good creature with just a few blows.

Description: These vile weapons usually have an abundance of menacing features—typically jagged spikes, skulls, and other macabre designs.

Many are decorated with the holy symbols of evil gods whose portfolios have martial aspects.

Characters who serve gods of murder, strife, and the like craft these weapons for themselves and for others who share their foul desires.

Activation: Activating a weapon with this ability is a swift action that must occur immediately after the wielder makes a successful melee attack.

(See page 237 for the definition of a swift action).

Effect: On a successful melee attack, the wielder of an unholy surge weapon causes it to give off a burst of unholy energy that deals an extra 2d6 points of unholy damage to a good foe.

If used against a nongood creature, it deals no additional damage, and that use of the ability is wasted.

This ability is usable a number of times per day equal to the wielder's Charisma bonus.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate evocation; CL 11th.

Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor plus unholy blight or unholy word.

Price: +2,000 gp.

WATER ELEMENTAL POWER [SYNERGY]

Like other weapons of elemental power, a weapon with this ability allows the wielder to call forth a powerful ally to aid him in battle.

In this case, the ally takes the form of a water elemental, which the wielder directs as desired.

Lore: Characters can gain the following pieces of information about the water elemental power ability by making Knowledge (arcana) or Knowledge (history) checks at the appropriate DCs, as given below.

DC 20: The half-elf weaponsmith Revelth Gnockrian did not cease his efforts to harness the elements into weapons with the creation of the first fire elemental weapon.

Shortly thereafter, he turned his attention the flowing, rhythmic, yet still unpredictable element of water.

Once again, he used new techniques that were especially suited to the element in question.

DC 30: The fact that Revelth had taken on a number of human apprentices over the years distanced him from the elven community he called home, and as his research progressed, both his business and his health suffered.

Upon completing the first water elemental power weapon—a fierce spiked chain that he named Surge—he bequeathed it to his eldest son, then gasped his last breath.

Description: Water elemental power weapons look as if water were flowing along their surfaces, although they are as solid as any other weapons.

Each weapon with this quality seems to have a faint blue cast, and the handle or grip is decorated with images of breaking waves.

The pommel or crest is set with a single sapphire.

When it is used to summon an elemental ally, the weapon's surface seems to become pure water for just a moment, and the sound of surf fills the wielder's ears.

Prerequisite: The water elemental power ability can be added only to a weapon that already has the frost or icy burst special ability.

Activation: The wielder of a water elemental power weapon can summon a water elemental once per day as a standard action.

Effect: A weapon with this ability allows the wielder to summon a powerful water elemental ally.

The exact kind of water elemental summoned depends on the potency of the special ability.

The least powerful version summons a Large elemental, and more powerful versions summon Huge, greater, or elder water elementals.

The amount of time that the elemental remains on a plane other than its native one depends on its kind, as follows.

Water Elemental	Maximum Time
Large	11 rounds
Huge	13 rounds
Greater	15 rounds
Elder	17 rounds

The elemental can be dismissed before its duration expires, but doing so wastes any unused rounds.

The wielder can communicate with the summoned elemental as if fluent in the Aquan language.

He can give the elemental direction and suggest tactics in battle, or even induce it to provide services other than battle.

For example, an elemental summoned with a water elemental power weapon can suck enemies into a whirlpool, extinguish a flame, or perform special combat maneuvers, such as the aid another action.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate or strong conjuration; CL 11th (Large), 13th (Huge), 15th (greater), 17th (elder).

Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor plus chill metal or ice storm plus summon monster VI (Large), summon monster VII (Huge), summon monster VIII (greater), or summon monster IX (elder).

Price: +1 bonus (Large), +2 bonus (Huge), +3 bonus (greater), or +4 bonus (elder).

DUNGEONSCAPE (3.5)

SWARMSTRIKE

Standard weapons are not terribly effective at dealing with insect swarms, but a weapon that has the swarmstrike special ability is much more capable of killing the pests.

Description: A swarmstrike weapon is slightly flexible so that you can swing it quickly enough to swat the insects that make up most swarms.

Arrows or bolts that have this special ability are crafted with a wide, flat head that resembles a shovel.

The ammunition splatters bugs on its leading edge as it passes through the swarm's space.

Activation: The swarmstrike ability activates automatically when you attack a creature of the swarm subtype.

No other action on your part is required.

Effect: When used to attack creatures of the swarm subtype, the weapon's enhancement bonus increases by 2.

Further, a swarmstrike weapon deals lethal damage against a creature of the swarm subtype, regardless of the size of the component creatures or the type of damage dealt by the weapon.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate abjuration; CL 7th.

Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, repel vermin.

Price: +1 bonus.

ENEMIES AND ALLIES (3.0)

WRATHFUL HEALING

This enchantment can only be placed on a melee weapon, creating positive energy that flows to its wielder.

When the weapon deals damage to a creature, the wielder heals a number of hit points equal to half the damage dealt. If the wielder already has full hit points, there is no effect. Because the weapon channels positive energy, it damages an undead wielder instead.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, regenerate; Market Price: +3 bonus.

EXPANDED PSIONICS HANDBOOK (3.5)

BODYFEEDER

All feeder weapons have a special ability that functions only upon scoring a successful critical hit.

A bodyfeeder weapon grants its wielder temporary hit points equal to the total damage dealt by a successful critical hit.

These temporary hit points last for 10 minutes.

Thus, if the wielder of a bodyfeeder weapon successfully scores a critical hit while the wielder still enjoys temporary hit points from a previous critical hit, the wielder gains only the better of the two values: Either his current number of temporary hit points, or the new influx of temporary hit points, whichever is higher.

Strong psychometabolism; ML 12th; Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, claws of the vampire; Price +3 bonus.

COLLISION

Collision weapons psionically increase their own mass at the end point of each swing or shot.

Such weapons deal an extra 5 points of damage on each successful strike, in addition to the weapon's enhancement bonus.

Bows, crossbows, and slings bestow the extra damage upon their ammunition.

Moderate metacreativity; ML 10th; Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, matter manipulation; Price +2 bonus.

COUP DE GRACE

Coup de grace weapons are exceptionally dangerous.

On a successful critical hit, the foe must succeed on a DC 27 Will save or be paralyzed for 1 round. While this ability does work on creatures that are immune to extra damage from critical hits, it does not work on creatures without an Intelligence score. Bows, crossbows, and slings bestow this ability on their ammunition. Strong telepathy; ML 19th; Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, psionic dominate; Price +5 bonus.

DISLOCATOR

The wielder of this kind of weapon can attempt to dislocate a designated foe up to three times per day. On a successful hit, the foe must succeed on a DC 17 Will save or be teleported 1–100 miles in a random direction. If the weapon misses, the use is wasted. Bows, crossbows, and slings bestow this ability on their ammunition. Strong psychoportation; ML 12th; Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, psionic teleport; Price +3 bonus.

DISSIPATER

This kind of weapon is devastating to creatures and objects composed of or originally formed from ectoplasm (such as astral constructs, walls of ectoplasm, creatures in ectoplasmic form, and items created using the metacreativity discipline). Against qualifying targets, a dissipater weapon ignores damage reduction and hardness, and treats all successful hits as critical hits. Strong metacreativity; ML 12th; Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, dismiss ectoplasm; Price +1 bonus.

GREAT DISLOCATOR

The wielder of this kind of weapon can attempt to greatly dislocate a designated foe up to three times per day. On a successful hit, the foe must succeed on a DC 20 Will save or be cast into a random alternate plane of existence (such as the Astral Plane, the Plane of Shadow, or even the Abyss). If the weapon misses, the use is wasted. Bows, crossbows, and slings bestow this ability upon their ammunition. Strong psychoportation; ML 12th; Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, psionic plane shift; Price +4 bonus.

LUCKY

A lucky weapon offers a second chance at success. Once per day, the wielder can reroll a failed attack roll (whether a single attack or one in a series of multiple attacks) as a free action. The rerolled attack uses the same bonuses or penalties as the missed roll. Moderate clairvoyance; ML 8th; Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, fate of one; Price +1 bonus.

MANIFESTER

This kind of weapon generates 5 power points once per day that the wearer can use when manifesting a power he knows. These power points must all be used on the same power. As usual, a psionic character cannot pay a power's cost with power points from more than one source, so the power points in the shield must be used for discrete manifestations. Moderate clairvoyance; ML 8th; Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, knowledge of any 3rd-level power; Price +16,000 gp.

MINDCRUSHER

Any psionic creature struck in combat by a mindcrusher weapon loses a number of power points equal to half the amount of hit point damage the weapon deals (only the base damage of the weapon contributes to the power point loss; additional damage from high Strength or other sources does not cause additional power point loss). A psionic creature that is out of power points (or has none) must succeed on a DC 17 Will save or take 1d2 points of Wisdom damage. Strong psychometabolism; ML 12th; Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, psychic vampire; Price +2 bonus.

MINDFEEDER

All feeder weapons have a special ability that functions only upon scoring a successful critical hit. A mindfeeder weapon grants its wielder temporary power points equal to the total damage dealt by a successful critical hit. These temporary power points last for 10 minutes. The wielder gains power points even if the target has none (effectively, its hit point damage is converted to power points). Constructs and undead are not subject to mindfeeder weapons. As with temporary hit points, temporary power points do not stack with each other; they overlap. Thus, if a mindfeeder weapon successfully scores a critical hit while the wielder still enjoys temporary power points from a previous critical hit, the wielder gains only the better of the two values: either her current number of temporary power points, or the new influx of temporary power points, whichever is higher. Strong psychometabolism; ML 15th; Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, psychic vampire; Price +3 bonus.

PARRYING

A parrying weapon perceives an instant into the future, and of its own accord resists melee and ranged attacks aimed at the wielder, granting a +1 insight bonus to the wielder's Armor Class. The weapon is so adept at parrying that it even affects incoming powers, granting the wielder a +1 insight bonus on saving throws. The bonuses are granted whenever the wielder holds the weapon, even if flat-footed. Faint clairvoyance; ML 5th; Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, defensive precognition; Price +8,000 gp.

POWER STORING

A power storing weapon allows a manifester to store a single targeted power of up to 5 power points in the weapon.

(The power must have a manifesting time of 1 standard action).

Any time the weapon strikes a creature and the creature takes damage from it, the weapon can immediately manifest the power on that creature as a swift action if the wielder desires.

(This ability is an exception to the rule that manifesting a power from an item takes at least as long as manifesting that power normally).

Once the power is manifested, the weapon is empty, and a manifester can imbue any other targeted power of up to 5 power points into it.

The weapon telepathically whispers to the wearer the name of the power currently stored within it.

A randomly generated power storing weapon has a 50% chance to have a power stored in it already.

Strong psychokinesis; ML 12th; Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, creator must be a manifester of at least 12th level; Price +1 bonus.

PSIBANE

A psibane weapon is crafted to oppose psionic beings.

When used against such creatures, its effective enhancement bonus is 2 higher than its actual enhancement bonus (so a +1 psibane longsword has a +3 enhancement bonus against psionic foes).

It deals an extra 2d6 points of damage against psionic opponents.

It bestows one negative level on any psionic creature attempting to wield it.

This negative level remains as long as the weapon is in hand and disappears when the weapon is no longer wielded.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way while the weapon is wielded.

Psibane bows, crossbows, and slings bestow this ability upon their ammunition.

Strong clairsentience; ML 15th; Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, bend reality; Price +2 bonus.

PSYCHIC

A psychic weapon's power depends on its wielder.

In the hands of a nonpsionic creature, the weapon possesses the qualities of a nonmagical, nonpsionic masterwork weapon.

When wielded by a psionic creature, this weapon has an enhancement bonus based on the wielder's current power point reserve, as shown on the following table.

The weapon's enhancement bonus decreases as the wielder spends power points, and it increases whenever the wielder gains enough power points (by any means) to put his power point reserve into the next higher category.

Power Point Reserve	Enhancement Bonus
1–4	+1
5–29	+2
30–79	+3
80–129	+4
130 or higher	+5

Strong clairsentience; ML 17th; Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, reality revision; Price +35,000.

PSYCHOKINETIC

Upon command, a psychokinetic weapon glows from the inside with lethal psionic energy.

The energy does not harm the hands that hold the weapon. Such a weapon deals an extra 1d4 points of damage on a successful hit.

This extra damage is ectoplasmic in nature and is not affected by damage reduction.

Bows, crossbows, and slings bestow this ability upon their ammunition.

Moderate psychokinesis; ML 10th; Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, concussion blast; Price +1 bonus.

PSYCHOKINETIC BURST

This weapon functions as a psychokinetic weapon that also releases a blast of destructive psionic energy upon scoring a successful critical hit.

In addition to the extra damage of the psychokinetic ability (see above), a psychokinetic burst weapon deals an extra 1d6 points of damage on a successful critical hit.

If the weapon's critical multiplier is  $\times 3$ , add 2d6 points of extra damage instead, and if the multiplier is  $\times 4$ , add 3d6 points of extra damage.

This extra damage is ectoplasmic in nature and is not affected by damage reduction.

Bows, crossbows, and slings bestow this ability upon their ammunition.

Strong psychokinesis; ML 12th; Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, concussion blast; Price +2 bonus.

SOULBREAKER

This weapon has a special ability that functions only upon scoring a successful critical hit.

On a successful critical hit, a soulbreaker weapon bestows one negative level on the foe.

One day after being struck, if the negative levels have not been purged, the subject must succeed on a DC 18

Fortitude save for each negative level or lose a character level.

Strong telepathy; ML 12th; Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, mindwipe; Price +3 bonus.

SUNDERING

This kind of weapon allows a wielder to attack opponents' weapons as if he had the Improved Sunder feat.

Faint metacreativity; ML 5th; Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, Great Sunder, metaphysical weapon; Price +1 bonus.

SUPPRESSION

An opponent or object struck by this kind of weapon is subject to a targeted dispel psionics power (see page 94).

The wielder makes a power check (1d20 + 5 + manifester level, maximum +15) against a DC of 11 + the manifester level of the power to be dispelled.

Bows, crossbows, and slings bestow this ability upon their ammunition, but can do so only three times per day.

Moderate psychokinesis ML 10th; Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, dispel psionics; Price +2 bonus.

TELEPORTING

This ability can be imbedded only in weapons that can be thrown.

(Reroll on Table 7–6: Psionic Ranged Weapon Special Abilities if this result is indicated for an inappropriate type of ranged weapon).

A teleporting weapon returns through the Astral Plane to the creature that threw it.

It teleports into the throwing creature's empty hand in the round following the round when it was thrown, just before that creature's turn.

It is therefore ready to use again on that turn.

Faint psychoportation; ML 5th; Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, psionic dimension door; Price +1 bonus.

FAITHS AND PANTHEONS (3.0)

ENERGY AURA

Any weapon enhanced by this special ability may add an additional amount of damage from an element of the wielder's choice (acid, cold, electricity, fire, or sonic), exactly as described under the flaming special property, including bestowing an additional 1d6 points of damage of the appropriate elemental subtype on a normal hit.

Determining the weapon's elemental aura is a free action that may be taken no more than once per round (thus, you can't change the subtype between attacks in the same round).

Bows, crossbows, and slings with this ability bestow the energy upon their ammunition.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, blindness/deafness, chill metal, flame blade, lightning bolt, Melf's acid arrow; Market Price: +3 bonus.

EVERBRIGHT

The sun elven smiths of Evermeet know the secret of forging everbright into blades.

These weapons are as bright and shiny as polished silver.

They never tarnish and are immune to corrosive attacks. The weapon flashes with a brilliant light up to twice per day upon the command of the wielder.

All within 20 feet except the wielder must make a Reflex saving throw (DC 14) or be blinded for 1d4 rounds.

This weapon property first appeared in Magic of Faerûn. Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Create Magic Arms and Armor, spellcaster 12th level+, blindness/deafness, searing light; Market Price: +2 bonus.

IMPACT

Any bludgeoning weapon enhanced by This ability has its threat range doubled.

For example, a quarterstaff thus enhanced scores a threat on a 19–20, and a heavy flail scores a threat on a 17–20.

This enhancement does not affect piercing or slashing weapons.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, weapon of impact; Market Price: +1 bonus.

IMPACT

Any bludgeoning weapon enhanced by this ability has its threat range doubled.

For example, a quarterstaff thus enhanced scores a threat on a 19–20, and a heavy flail scores a threat on a 17–20.

This enhancement does not affect piercing or slashing weapons.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, weapon of impact; Market Price: +1 bonus.

IMPACT

Any bludgeoning weapon enhanced by this ability has its threat range doubled.

For example, a quarterstaff thus enhanced scores a threat on a 19–20, and a heavy flail scores a threat on a 17–20.

This enhancement does not affect piercing or slashing weapons.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, weapon of impact; Market Price: +1 bonus.

SCREAMING

Upon command, a screaming weapon emits a low hum that is grating on the ears but does not harm the wielder.

Screaming weapons that hit produce a louder high-pitched sound and deal +1d6 points of bonus sonic damage on a successful hit.

Bows, crossbows, and slings with this ability bestow the sonic energy upon their ammunition.

Screaming weapons do deal this bonus damage within a silence spell.

Screaming weapons do not have any additional adverse effects upon creatures that use enhanced hearing, although such creatures dislike screaming weapons.

Caster Level: 10th;

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, shout or sound burst; Market Price: +1 bonus.

Caster Level: 25th; Weight: 6 lb.

SEEKING

Only ranged weapons can have the seeking ability. The weapon veers toward the target, negating any miss chances that would apply because of concealment. (The wielder still has to aim the weapon at the target. Arrows mistakenly shot into an empty space, for example, do not veer and hit invisible enemies, even if they are nearby).

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, true seeing; Market Price: +1 bonus.

SWEEPING

This weapon special ability grants a +4 bonus on any Strength checks the wielder makes as part of an attempt to trip an opponent with the weapon.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, bull's strength; Market Price: +1 bonus.

FIEND FOLIO (3.5)

BLASPHEMOUS

Weapons with this property are a blight upon the world, and a paladin or good cleric who learns of one's existence is duty-bound to work unceasingly toward its destruction. A blasphemous weapon is evilly aligned due to the fiendish spirit bound within it.

Like an unholy weapon, it deals 2d6 points of bonus unholy (evil) damage against all of good alignment; on a critical hit this damage is increased to 2d10 and the weapon unleashes a limited blasphemy effect that targets only the creature hit. A blasphemous weapon bestows two negative levels on any good creature attempting to wield it.

The negative levels remain as long as the weapon is in hand and disappear when the weapon is no longer wielded. These negative levels never result in actual level loss, but they cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the weapon is wielded.

Blasphemous bows, crossbows, and slings bestow the property upon their ammunition.

Anathemas often equip their most powerful cultists with blasphemous scimitars and falchions.

Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, blasphemy, unholy blight, creator must be evil; Market Price: +4 bonus.

SICKENING

A sickening weapon functions as an unholy weapon that releases extra unholy power upon striking a successful critical hit against a good creature.

The struck creature hit must make a successful Fortitude save (DC 16) or take a -2 penalty on attack rolls, weapon damage rolls, saves, skill checks, and ability checks for 1d4 rounds.

Lower-level yuan-ti cultists often wield sickening weapons. Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, unholy blight, creator must be evil; Market Price: +3 bonus.

FIENDISH CODEX 2 (3.5)

CURSEPEWING

When this weapon deals damage, the victim must make a Will save (DC 15) or take a -4 morale penalty on attacks, saves, and ability and skill checks.

MAGEBANE

Against creatures with prepared spells or available spell slots to cast spells without preparation, or those with arcane spell-like abilities that are not all used up for the day, this weapon has an additional +2 bonus on attack and damage and does an additional 2d6 points of damage.

GHOSTWALK (3.0)

GHOST BANE

This special ability functions like the bane ability in the DUNGEON MASTER's Guide, except the effective enhancement bonus and extra damage apply only to ghosts, regardless of alignment.

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, disrupt ectoplasm; Market Price: +2 bonus.

MERCIFUL

The weapon deals an extra 1d6 points of damage, and all the damage it deals is subdual damage.

On command, the weapon suppresses this ability until commanded to resume it.

Bows, crossbows, and slings with this property bestow the merciful effect on their ammunition.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, cure light wounds; Market Price: +1 bonus.

This special ability first appeared in Sword and Fist.

SNAKEBITER

This special ability functions like the bane ability in the DUNGEON MASTER's Guide, except the effective enhancement bonus and extra damage apply only to yuan-ti of all types.

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, summon monster I; Market Price: +2 bonus.

SCREAMING

Upon command, a screaming weapon emits a low hum that is grating on the ears but does not harm the wielder. Screaming weapons that hit produce a louder high-pitched sound and deal an extra 1d6 points of sonic damage on a successful hit.

Bows, crossbows, and slings with this property bestow the sonic energy upon their ammunition.

Screaming weapons deal this extra damage even within the area of a silence spell.

Screaming weapons do not have any additional adverse effects upon creatures that use enhanced hearing, although such creatures dislike screaming weapons.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, shout or sound burst; Market Price: +1 bonus.

This special ability first appeared in Magic of Faerûn.

TORTUROUS

Upon a successful hit, the target of this weapon must make a Fortitude save (DC 12) or be stunned for 1 round from pain.

This ability can be applied to a weapon a second time; doing so increases the Fortitude save DC to 17.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, death knell; Market Price: +1 bonus.

TRUESILVER

This ability incorporates magically purified and hardened silver into the weapon.

It is treated as a silver weapon for the purpose of harming creatures particularly vulnerable to silver, such as ghosts.

Furthermore, a truesilver weapon allows sneak attacks or critical hits on ghosts.

Even though it is a change to the composition of the weapon rather than simply a magical property, truesilver can be added to an existing weapon.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Craft (metalworking) 5 ranks; Market Price: +1 bonus.

VAMPIRIC

Any living opponent struck by a vampiric weapon must make a Fortitude save (DC 16) or lose an additional 1d4 hit points, which are immediately added to the wielder's current hit point total.

Any hit points above the wielder's maximum are treated as temporary hit points (multiple additions of temporary hit points don't stack) and disappear after 1 hour.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, vampiric touch; Market Price: +2 bonus.

This special ability first appeared in Magic of Faerûn.

VENOMOUS

Once per day, a venomous weapon can inflict a poison spell (DC 14) upon a creature struck by the weapon (or projectile).

The wielder can decide to use the power after he has struck. Doing so is a free action, but the poison effect must be used in the same round that the weapon (or projectile) strikes.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, poison; Market Price: +1 bonus.

This special ability first appeared in Magic of Faerûn.

HEROES OF BATTLE (3.5)

CHARGEBREAKER

Only weapons that can be set to receive a charge (such as a spear) can have the chargebreaker special ability.

Any charging creature struck by a chargebreaker weapon must succeed on a DC 14 Fortitude save or be knocked prone.

Faint evocation; CL 5th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, daze monster; Price +1 bonus.

EXPLOSIVE

This property can be added only to ammunition.

The ammunition explodes upon hitting its target, dealing 1d6 points of fire damage to the target.

Each creature within 10 feet of the explosive projectile when it explodes also takes 1d6 points of fire damage (Reflex DC 14 negates).

Faint evocation; CL 5th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, fireball; Price +2 bonus.

FURY

A weapon with this property deals an extra 1d6 points of damage when the wielder is raging.

Faint enchantment; CL 5th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, rage; Price +1 bonus.

RESOUNDING

Only melee weapons can have the resounding special ability.

A resounding weapon emits a deep, ringing chime each time it successfully hits a target.

The sound carries over the din of battle, encouraging the wielder's allies.

When the wielder of a resounding weapon hits a foe with the weapon, allies within 30 feet gain a +1 morale bonus on attack rolls and on saves against fear effects for 1 round.

Strong enchantment; CL 11th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, bless; Price +1 bonus.

SIEGE ENGINES AND AMMUNITIONS

DISRUPTING

In addition to dealing its normal damage, a projectile from a disrupting siege weapon can destroy undead creatures within 60 feet of the impact.

Treat this effect as if the projectile had performed a turning check as a 5th-level cleric (the projectile has no Charisma modifier).

Undead that would be turned by the check are unaffected, but any undead that would be destroyed by the check are destroyed.

Undead closest to the impact spot are affected first.

Moderate transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, ability to turn undead; Price +2 bonus.

NECROMANTIC

In addition to dealing its normal damage, a projectile from a necromantic siege weapon animates dead creatures within 60 feet of the impact spot, turning them into zombies for the next 10 rounds.

A single necromantic projectile can create up to 20 HD of zombies.

The undead created by a necromantic projectile are uncontrolled and will attack the nearest living creature. Faint necromancy; CL 10th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor; animate legion; Price +3,000 gp.

SELF-LOADING

A self-loading siege weapon automatically winches the throwing arm back into firing position and loads the next projectile in line.

This replaces the Strength check and Profession (siege engineer) check required to reload a weapon and reduces the time needed to load a siege weapon by one full-round action (to a minimum of one full-round action).

Strong transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor; telekinesis; Price +2 bonus.

STARBURST

Stones fired from a starburst siege weapon explode above the ground, spraying the area below with a deadly shower of rock fragments.

A stone fired from a starburst siege weapon deals piercing and slashing damage (equal to its normal damage) to all creatures within 20 feet of the impact square (Reflex DC 15 half).

Moderate abjuration; CL 7th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor; stone shape; Price +2 bonus.

SUBJUGATING

A subjugating weapon damages an opponent's morale in addition to dealing physical damage.

Any creature struck by a subjugating weapon must succeed on a DC 20 Will save or become shaken for 5 rounds. If the creature is already shaken, it instead becomes frightened.

Multiple strikes by a subjugating weapon do not stack. This property is a mind-affecting fear effect.

Moderate necromancy; CL 7th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor; fear; Price +2 bonus.

STUNNING

This property can be added only to ammunition that deals bludgeoning damage, such as catapult stones.

Any target hit by stunning ammunition is stunned for 1 round (Fortitude DC 13 negates).

Faint evocation; CL 5th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor; sound burst; Price +1 bonus.

LIBRIS MORTIS (3.5)

GHOST STRIKE

A ghost strike weapon deals damage normally against incorporeal creatures, regardless of its bonus, just as if it were a ghost touch weapon.

In addition, a ghost strike weapon can deliver sneak attacks or critical hits to an incorporeal undead creature as if the creature were not undead.

Only melee weapons can have the ghost strike ability. Moderate conjuration; CL 11th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor; ghost touch weapon, undeath to death; Price +2 bonus.

PROFANE

Upon command, a profane weapon is sheathed in crackling black negative energy.

A living creature who wields a profane weapon when it is so energized takes 1 point of Con damage each round he holds the weapon.

The effect remains until another command is given.

A profane weapon deals an extra 1d6 points of damage to living creatures (or 2d6 against good outsiders) on a successful hit.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the negative energy upon their ammunition.

The weapon is also treated as being evil-aligned (for the purpose of overcoming damage reduction) when sheathed in negative energy.

Moderate conjuration; CL 7th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor; inflict light wounds; Price +1 bonus.

PROFANE BURST

A profane burst weapon functions as a profane weapon that also explodes with negative energy upon striking a successful critical hit.

(This effect occurs even if the target is normally immune to critical hits).

The negative energy burst also deals 1d4 points of Constitution damage to a living wielder.

In addition to the extra damage from the profane ability (see above), a profane burst weapon deals an extra 1d10 points of damage to living creatures on a successful critical hit.

If the weapon's critical multiplier is  $\times 3$ , add an extra 2d10 points of damage instead, and if the multiplier is  $\times 4$ , add an extra 3d10 points.

(Double the bonus dice of damage against good outsiders).

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the negative energy upon their ammunition.

Even if the profane ability is not active, the weapon still deals its extra damage on a successful critical hit.

Strong conjuration; CL 12th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor; inflict critical wounds; Price +2 bonus.

SACRED

Upon command, a sacred weapon is sheathed in luminous positive energy.

This energy does not harm the wielder unless it is undead, in which case it takes 1 point of Charisma damage per round it holds the weapon when it is so energized.

The effect remains until another command is given.

A sacred weapon deals an extra 1d6 points of damage to undead (or 2d6 against evil outsiders) on a successful hit.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the positive energy upon their ammunition.

The weapon is also treated as being good-aligned (for the purpose of overcoming damage reduction) when sheathed in positive energy.

Moderate conjuration; CL 7th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor; cure light wounds; Price +1 bonus.

SACRED BURST

A sacred burst weapon functions as a sacred weapon that also explodes with positive energy upon striking a successful critical hit.

(This effect occurs even if the target is normally immune to critical hits).

The positive energy burst does not harm the wielder unless it is undead, in which case it takes 1d4 points of Charisma damage each time the weapon bursts.

In addition to the extra damage from the sacred ability (see above), a sacred burst weapon deals an extra 1d10 points of damage to undead on a successful critical hit.

If the weapon's critical multiplier is  $\times 3$ , add an extra 2d10 points of damage instead, and if the multiplier is  $\times 4$ , add an extra 3d10 points.

(Double the bonus dice of damage against evil outsiders).

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the positive energy upon their ammunition.

Even if the sacred ability is not active, the weapon still deals its extra damage on a successful critical hit.

Strong conjuration; CL 12th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, cure critical wounds; Price +2 bonus.

NECROTIC FOCUS

The magic weapon serves as a channel for the wielder's ability drain or energy drain supernatural ability, allowing the wielder to deal ability drain or bestow negative levels through the weapon as if attacking with its natural weapons.

If a saving throw against the effect is allowed, add the weapon's enhancement bonus to the save DC.

Only melee weapons can have the necrotic focus ability.

Moderate necromancy; CL 7th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, enervation, spectral hand; Price +3 bonus.

LORDS OF DARKNESS (3.0)

SMOKING

Upon command, a smoking weapon fills the wielder's area (a 5-foot square) with noxious smoke equal to a stinking cloud spell.

The smoke affects any creature that enters the wielder's area (such as to make a grapple attempt) and provides one-half concealment for the wielder.

The wielder is not affected by the nauseating fumes and can see through them normally.

The smoke dissipates instantly if the wielder leaves the smoke-filled square, forming again in whatever area the wielder ends his movement.

A creature with a face larger than 5 ft. by 5 ft. still only has one square enveloped in smoke; only attacks that cross or enter the smoke-filled area are subject to the miss chance.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, stinking cloud; Market Price: +1 bonus.

LORDS OF MADNESS (3.5)

MOUHPICK

Although most beholders are content with the vast power afforded by their eye rays and antimagic cone, some revel in the act of melee combat and enjoy the sensation of crushing bone and cutting flesh.

For these beholders, a mouthpick weapon is a valued treasure indeed.

Mouthpick is a weapon quality that can be added to any melee weapon.

The weapon must be of a size the beholder would normally use, or it takes a penalty for using an awkwardly sized weapon.

Mouthpick weapons are of Large size.

Only creatures with a natural bite attack can wield a mouthpick weapon.

A mouthpick weapon looks similar to a normal weapon, but when a qualifying creature places the handle of the weapon in its mouth, the handle writhes and transforms into a shape that can be wielded easily in the creature's jaws.

The creature's natural bite attack is now replaced by the weapon attack; if the creature has a sufficiently high base attack, it can even gain additional attacks with the mouthpick weapon.

While wielded in a creature's mouth, the weapon automatically grants the creature proficiency in its use. Recently, mouthpick weapons have begun to gain favor among other creatures that lack hands but have a natural bite attack.

They are particularly useful to druids who wish to continue wielding their favorite weapon while in a wild shape form. Moderate transmutation; CL 9th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, fabricate; Price +1 bonus.

LOST EMPIRES OF FAERÛN (3.5)

POWERLEECH

The powerleech special ability can be added only to melee weapons.

A weapon with this ability drains psychic energy from the creature struck and transfers it to the wielder, thereby producing the following effects.

- Any creature that has a psionic power point reserve loses 1 power point when struck with a powerleech weapon, just as if it had expended that amount to manifest a psionic power.

The creature can regain the power point normally when it rests or by any other normal means of regaining power points.

- A wielder who has a power point reserve gains 1 power point upon striking a creature that has a power point reserve, psi-like abilities, or spell-like abilities that are described as psionic in origin.

Power points gained by the use of a powerleech weapon can restore expended power points but cannot increase the wielder's current power point score above its normal maximum.

• A wielder who does not have a power point reserve gains nothing from the strike, although he can still drain power points from creatures that do possess power point reserves. Powerleech weapons were popular among the bladelords of ancient Jhaamdath, many of whom were potent psychic warriors and psions.
Moderate psychometabolism; ML 6th; Craft Psionic Arms and Armor; Price +8,000 gp.

SENDING

A weapon with this ability transports any creature it strikes to a place of the wielder's choosing on a roll of natural 20, followed by a successful roll to confirm the critical hit. The wielder must select the opponent's destination as a free action when the confirmation roll is made. The selected location must be a place that the wielder has personally visited or seen, and it must be on the same plane as the wielder is at the time. If no location is indicated, the opponent is not transported. This ability otherwise functions like the teleport spell.
Strong conjuration; CL 17th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, teleportation circle; Price +4 bonus.

MAGIC ITEM COMPENDIUM (3.5)

ACIDIC BURST [SYNERGY]

Price: +1 bonus
Property: Weapon
Caster Level: 12th
Aura: Strong; (DC 21) conjuration
Activation: Standard (command) and —
Synergy Prerequisite: Corrosive
The surface of this weapon is pitted and worn.
An acidic burst weapon functions as a corrosive weapon (see page 31).
In addition, the weapon automatically showers an opponent with acid upon a successful critical hit, dealing extra acid damage as set out on the table below. This acid does not harm you or any creature other than the target.
This is a continuous effect and requires no activation. Even if the weapon has not been activated to deal the extra 1d6 points of acid damage that comes from the corrosive property, the weapon still deals its extra acid damage on a successful critical hit.

Critical Multiplier	Extra Acid Damage
×2	1d10
×3	2d10
×4	3d10

Projectile weapons bestow this property upon their ammunition.
Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Melf's acid arrow.

Cost to Create: Varies.

AQUAN

Price: +2 bonus
Property: Weapon
Caster Level: 7th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) evocation
Activation: —
Water constantly drips from the tip of this blue-green weapon. Its grip is inlaid with mother-of-pearl in a wavelike design.
An aquan weapon automatically overcomes the damage reduction of any creature that has the fire subtype. In addition, the weapon deals an extra 2d6 points of damage against such creatures.
An aquan weapon also bestows one negative level on any creature that has the fire subtype and attempts to wield it. The negative level remains as long as the weapon is in hand and disappears when the weapon is no longer held. This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the weapon is wielded.
Projectile weapons bestow this property upon their ammunition.
Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, water subtype.
Cost to Create: Varies.

AQUATIC

Price: +2,000 gp
Property: Weapon
Caster Level: 7th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) abjuration
Activation: —
This weapon has a silvery-blue tinge, like the sheen of white scales in sunlight.
While wielding an aquatic weapon, you do not incur any penalties that would otherwise apply to using the weapon underwater (DMG 92), as though you were affected by a freedom of movement spell.
Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armors, freedom of movement.
Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

ARCANE MIGHT

Price: +1 bonus
Property: Bows (not crossbows)
Caster Level: 15th
Aura: Strong; (DC 22) transmutation
Activation: Swift (mental)
This elegant, supple bow has intricate runes carved along its length.
You can channel the energy of your arcane spells through this bow to make the arrows fired from it more damaging. As a swift action, you can sacrifice a prepared arcane spell from memory (or an unused spell slot if you are a spontaneous arcane caster).
Doing so grants a bonus equal to the sacrificed spell's level on the next damage roll you make with the bow that turn.
Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, greater magic weapon.
Cost to Create: Varies.

AURAN

Price: +2 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) evocation

Activation: —

Wind constantly whistles along the length of this white-enameled weapon.

Its grip is inlaid with whorls of silver that resemble clouds.

An auran weapon automatically overcomes the damage reduction of any creature that has the earth subtype. In addition, the weapon deals an extra 2d6 points of damage against such creatures.

An auran weapon also bestows one negative level on any creature that has the earth subtype and attempts to wield it. The negative level remains as long as the weapon is in hand and disappears when the weapon is no longer held.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the weapon is wielded.

Projectile weapons bestow this property upon their ammunition.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, air subtype.

Cost to Create: Varies.

BANISHING

Price: +2 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 13th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) abjuration

Activation: Free (command)

A barely visible bead of light slowly traces the outline of this weapon.

When you strike an extraplanar creature of 26 Hit Dice or fewer while wielding a weapon that has this property, you can activate the weapon to banish that creature back to its home plane (Will DC 20 negates).

A creature so banished cannot return for at least 24 hours. A creature that succeeds on its save cannot be banished by the same weapon for 24 hours.

If the creature struck has damage reduction that requires a particular weapon alignment or special material to overcome, increase the save DC by 2 for each such property shared by the weapon.

For example, if you use a holy banishing cold iron weapon against a hezrou (damage reduction 10/good), the save DC would increase by 2, while against a marilith (damage reduction 10/good and cold iron), the save DC would increase by 4.

The banishing property can be activated three times per day.

Projectile weapons bestow this property upon their ammunition.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, banishment.

Cost to Create: Varies.

BERSERKER

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Two-handed melee weapon

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) enchantment

Activation: —

Though tarnished and battered, this simple weapon is incredibly durable, the scars of a hundred battles marring its surface.

In your hands, a berserker weapon deals an extra 1d8 points of damage on any successful attack while you are raging.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, rage.

Cost to Create: Varies.

BINDING

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 10th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) abjuration

Activation: Swift (command)

This weapon has a length of chain looped decoratively around its grip or head.

When you activate a binding weapon, the next successful attack you make with it before the end of your turn prevents the target from using any form of extradimensional travel, as the dimensional anchor spell. The binding property functions two times per day, and the effect lasts for 10 minutes.

Projectile weapons bestow this property upon their ammunition.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, dimensional anchor.

Cost to Create: Varies.

BLESSED

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: — and swift (command)

This weapon has a faint glow emanating from within it.

A blessed weapon is treated as good-aligned for the purpose of overcoming damage reduction.

This effect is continuous and requires no activation.

In addition, three times per day you can activate a blessed weapon to automatically confirm all critical threats against evil foes for 1 round (as if the weapon were affected by the bless weapon spell).

Other effects related to threatening or confirming critical hits (such as the keen edge spell or the vorpal weapon property) don't confer an additional benefit on a weapon that has this property.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, bless weapon.

Cost to Create: Varies.

BLINDSIGHTED

Price: +2 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 6th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) divination

Activation: Standard (command)

The form of a screeching bat's head adorns the end of this weapon, and images of wings and fluttering nocturnal forms run along its length.

When activated, a blindsighted weapon emits a susurrus of whispered notes (Listen DC 10).

While wielding the activated weapon, you gain blindsight out to 30 feet.

This effect is negated by silence spells and effects.

The blindsighted property functions three times per day, and the effect lasts for 1 minute.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, see invisibility.

Cost to Create: Varies.

BLOODFEEDING

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Melee weapon

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) necromancy

Activation: — and free (command)

This weapon has a blood-red tint.

Every time a bloodfeeding weapon deals damage to a living creature, it gains 1 “blood point”, which it can store for up to 1 hour.

The weapon can store a maximum of 10 blood points.

This effect is continuous and requires no activation.

When you deal damage to a creature while wielding a bloodfeeding weapon, you can activate the weapon to spend up to 5 stored blood points.

Each blood point you spend in this way deals an extra 2 points of damage to that creature.

The weapon doesn't gain any blood points from a strike on which you use this ability.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, vampiric touch.

Cost to Create: Varies.

BLOODSTONE

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Melee weapon

Caster Level: 10th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) necromancy

Activation: Free (command)

The blade of this weapon bears red crystals carefully inlaid in intricate designs.

A bloodstone weapon can store and cast a vampiric touch spell against a creature it strikes, just as if it were a spell storing weapon (DMG 225).

Any such spell cast from a bloodstone weapon is automatically empowered (as if by the Empower Spell feat).

A bloodstone weapon can store no more than one such spell at any time, and it cannot store a spell other than vampiric touch.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Empower Spell, vampiric touch.

Cost to Create: Varies.

BLURSTRIKE

Price: +2 bonus

Property: Melee weapon

Caster Level: 6th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) illusion

Activation: Swift (command)

This weapon is semitransparent, almost as though it were glass, but it is obviously of sturdier make.

When activated, a blurstrike weapon partially fades from view for 1 round, appearing only as a faint outline (though you, as the wielder, can see it normally).

When you attack, an activated blurstrike weapon (along with your hand and arm) appears to others as an amorphous blur, preventing a foe from knowing exactly where the blow is aimed.

After you activate this property, your opponent is considered flat-footed against the first attack you make with the blurstrike weapon in the round when you activate it.

Creatures that don't rely on sight for combat (such as those with the blindsight special quality) and creatures with uncanny dodge aren't treated as flat-footed against this attack.

The blurstrike property functions ten times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, blur.

Cost to Create: Varies.

BODYFEEDER

Price: +3 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) necromancy

Activation: —

Composed of a dark, dull metal, this weapon is cold to the touch.

Indeed, it seems to absorb your body heat.

Whenever a bodyfeeder weapon you wield scores a successful critical hit against a living creature, you gain temporary hit points equal to half the damage dealt by the critical hit.

These temporary hit points last for up to 1 minute and don't stack with those from any other source, including additional critical hits with this weapon.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, vampiric touch or claws of the vampire (EPH 84).

Cost to Create: Varies.

BRASH

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Melee weapon

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) abjuration

Activation: —

A slight vibration runs through this weapon, and a barely audible sound, like that of a distant battle cry, seems to echo from within it.

If you enter a rage while wielding a brash weapon, the rage lasts for an extra 3 rounds.

In addition, while raging and wielding a brash weapon, you gain immunity to fear effects.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, remove fear.

Cost to Create: Varies.

BRUTAL SURGE

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Melee weapon

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) evocation

Activation: Swift (command)

This weapon is broader, thicker, and darker in color than a normal weapon of its type.

After a successful melee attack with a brutal surge weapon, you can command the weapon to initiate a bull rush attempt against the target of the attack in addition to dealing its normal damage.

This attempt does not provoke attacks of opportunity and is resolved using your size, Strength, and other relevant characteristics.

If you wield a brutal surge weapon in two hands, you gain a +2 bonus on the opposed Strength check.

If successful, the bull rush pushes the affected creature back the greatest possible distance allowed by the result of the opposed check, but you do not move along with the target.

Movement caused by this bull rush attempt provokes attacks of opportunity from other creatures normally, but you cannot make an attack of opportunity against the affected creature.

The brutal surge property is usable a number of times per day equal to 1 + your Con bonus (if any).

Once you activate this property, it can't be activated by any other creature until the following day.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Bigby's forceful hand.

Cost to Create: Varies.

CHANGELING

Price: +2,000 gp

Property: Spear, shortspear, or longspear

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

This spear appears to be made entirely of a metal with a bright silver sheen, and the head is joined seamlessly to the haft.

A changeling weapon allows you to choose its length and appearance each time you attack with it.

Once per round, by speaking the appropriate command word, you can change the weapon into a spear, a shortspear, or a longspear sized appropriately for you.

As part of the same action, you can make its haft and head appear to be composed of any wood, stone, metal, or combination thereof that you want, and add any decorative flourishes desired, though the spear's actual composition does not change.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, shrink item.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

CHARGEBREAKER

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Melee weapon

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) enchantment

Activation: —

This weapon's tip is rounded slightly, like that of a jousting lance.

Any charging creature hit by a chargebreaker weapon must succeed on a DC 14 Fortitude save or be knocked prone.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, daze monster.

Cost to Create: Varies.

CHARGING

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Melee weapon

Caster Level: 8th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation

Activation: —

The image of a heavily armored, mounted knight, leveling a ribbon-covered lance for a charge, adorns this weapon.

When you are mounted and wielding a weapon that has this property, you deal an extra 2d6 points of damage on a successful charge attack.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Spirited Charge, keen edge.

Cost to Create: Varies.

COLLISION

Price: +2 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 6th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation

Activation: —

This delicately balanced weapon settles into your grip as if you had wielded it for years.

Its blue-gray hue shimmers as you heft the weapon.

A collision weapon temporarily increases its own mass at the end point of each swing or shot.

When you wield such a weapon, you deal an extra 5 points of damage with each hit.

Projectile weapons bestow this property upon their ammunition.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, weapon of impact (SC 237).

Cost to Create: Varies.

CONSUMPTIVE

Price: +2 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) necromancy

Activation: Standard (command)

This weapon is dark in color, and its blade or head is covered with menacing runes.

When activated, a consumptive weapon is shrouded in negative energy that seems to draw light into it.

The negative energy does not harm you as long as you have the weapon in hand.

The effect persists until you speak a second command word.

A weapon that has this property deals an extra 1d8 points of damage to any living creature on a successful hit.

Projectile weapons bestow this property upon their ammunition.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, enervation.

Cost to Create: Varies.

CORROSIVE

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 10th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) conjuration

Activation: Standard (command)

The surface of this weapon looks dark and pitted, and the blade, point, or head appears fragile, as if the first blow might break it.

When activated, a corrosive weapon is sheathed in acid.

The acid does not harm you as long as you have the weapon in hand.

The effect persists until you speak a second command word.

A weapon that has this property deals an extra 1d6 points of acid damage on a successful hit.

Projectile weapons bestow this property upon their ammunition.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, acid fog, acid storm (SC 7), Melf's acid arrow, or storm of vengeance.

Cost to Create: Varies.

CURSESPEWING

Price: +3 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) necromancy

Activation: —

A barely perceptible dark glow surrounds this weapon.

Whenever this weapon scores a critical hit against a target, it bestows a curse that imposes a -4 penalty on attack rolls, saving throws, skill checks, and ability checks for 1 minute. Multiple strikes aren't cumulative with one another.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, bestow curse.

Cost to Create: Varies.

DEADLY PRECISION

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: —

This weapon looks more slender and elegant than others of its type. Its blade, point, or head glitters as though a thousand tiny facets were reflecting the ambient light.

A deadly precision weapon deals an extra 1d6 points of damage whenever you make a successful sneak attack or sudden strike (CA 8) with it.

The property grants no benefit if you don't already have one of these class features, and its bonus doesn't increase if you have both.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, keen edge.

Cost to Create: Varies.

DEFENSIVE SURGE

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Melee weapon

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) abjuration

Activation: Swift (command)

This weapon is thicker and heavier than a normal weapon of its type, but it feels well balanced.

Its hilt or grip is set with a smoothly rounded topaz.

After a successful melee attack with a defensive surge weapon in any round in which you use the Combat Expertise feat or fight defensively, you can activate the weapon and gain an additional +2 bonus to Armor Class until the start of your next turn.

This ability is usable a number of times per day equal to 1 + your Int bonus (if any).

Once you activate this property, it can't be activated by any other creature until the following day.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, shield.

Cost to Create: Varies.

DESICCATING

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 8th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) necromancy

Activation: —

This weapon looks cracked and parched, as if it has spent decades baking in the desert sun.

A desiccating weapon destroys the water in a living creature that it strikes, dealing an extra 1d4 points of damage (or an extra 1d8 points against plants and against elementals that have the water subtype).

Projectile weapons bestow this property upon their ammunition.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, desiccating bubble (SC 63).

Cost to Create: Varies.

DESICCATING BURST [SYNERGY]

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 12th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) necromancy

Activation: —

Synergy Prerequisite: Desiccating

All the moisture seems to have been sapped from this brittle, gray weapon, as if it's been buried below shifting sands for centuries.

A desiccating burst weapon functions as a desiccating weapon (see above).

In addition, the weapon explodes with a dehydrating blast on a successful critical hit, dealing extra damage as set out in the table below.

(This effect activates even if the target is not normally vulnerable to extra damage from critical hits).

The amount of damage is determined by the weapon's critical multiplier and is doubled against plants and against elementals that have the water subtype.

This burst does not harm you or any creature other than the target.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

Even if the weapon has not been activated to deal extra damage because of the desiccating property, the weapon still deals its extra damage on a successful critical hit.

Critical Multiplier	Extra Damage	Plant/Elemental Damage
×2	1d8	2d8
×3	2d8	4d8
×4	3d8	6d8

In addition, the critical hit renders the struck creature fatigued for 8 hours or until it consumes at least 1 gallon of water or some other rehydrating liquid.

Projectile weapons bestow this property upon their ammunition.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, horrid wilting.
Cost to Create: Varies.

DISARMING

Price: +2 bonus
Property: Weapon
Caster Level: 5th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: —
Several jutting prongs and ridges extend from this weapon.

A disarming weapon grants you a +2 bonus on disarm attempts.

In addition, opponents cannot disarm you of this weapon.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, bull's strength.
Cost to Create: Varies.

DISLOCATOR

Price: +1 bonus
Property: Weapon
Caster Level: 12th
Aura: Strong; (DC 21) conjuration
Activation: Swift (mental)

Discolorations in the surface of this weapon appear, then fade in a random pattern.

An elaborate handle contains a thumb-sized indent.

When you activate a dislocator weapon, the next successful attack you make before the end of your turn causes your target to be teleported up to 10 feet in any direction you choose (Will DC 17 negates).

You can't teleport a target into an occupied space (such an attempt automatically fails and wastes the effect).

Projectile weapons bestow this property on their ammunition.

A dislocator weapon functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, teleport.
Cost to Create: Varies.

DISLOCATOR, GREAT [SYNERGY]

Price: +1 bonus
Synergy Prerequisite: Dislocator

Brilliant discolorations in the surface of this weapon appear, then fade in a random pattern.

An elaborate handle contains a thumb-sized indent coated in gold filigree.

This property functions as a dislocator weapon (see above), except the target can be teleported up to 30 feet in any direction (Will DC 20 negates).

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, greater teleport.
Cost to Create: Varies.

DISPELLING

Price: +1 bonus
Property: Weapon
Caster Level: 5th
Aura: Faint; (DC 17) abjuration
Activation: Free (command)

Arcane symbols cover this weapon, but many are scratched out and defaced, obscuring any meaning.

When you strike a creature or object with a dispelling weapon, you can activate it to target that creature or object with a targeted dispel magic effect (as the spell).

A dispelling weapon functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, dispel magic.
Cost to Create: Varies.

DISPELLING, GREATER [SYNERGY]

Price: +1 bonus
Caster Level: 15th
Aura: Strong; (DC 22) abjuration
Synergy Prerequisite: Dispell

A single, incredibly complex arcane formula covers every inch of this weapon, but deep gashes and complex scratches cover it, as if purposefully destroying its meaning.

This weapon functions as a dispelling weapon (see above), except that when you activate it, the creature or object struck is affected by a targeted greater dispel magic effect (as the spell).

A greater dispelling weapon functions three times per day.
Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, greater dispel magic.

Cost to Create: Varies.

DIVINE WRATH

Price: +1 bonus
Property: Weapon
Caster Level: 13th
Aura: Strong; (DC 21) evocation
Activation: Swift (mental)

This weapon has a golden sheen, and its grip is imprinted with a hand holding a lightning bolt.

Divine wrath weapons are especially prized by paladins and clerics of Heironeous.

Whenever you hold such a weapon in your hand, you can expend a turn undead attempt to imbue it with divine power for 1 round.

If your next successful attack with it hits an undead target, the weapon deals an extra 1d6 points of damage per point of Charisma bonus you possess (minimum 1d6).

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, searing light, turn undead, good alignment.
Cost to Create: Varies.

DOMINEERING

Price: +2 bonus
Property: Weapon
Caster Level: 11th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) necromancy
Activation: —

A single, screaming skull adorns this weapon, its eyes set with raw black onyx inlays that give it a soulless look.

A creature hit by a domineering weapon becomes shaken for 1 minute (Will DC 16 negates).

This effect doesn't stack with itself or with any other fear effects (it can't render an already shaken creature frightened, for example).

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, fear.
Cost to Create: Varies.

DOOM BURST

Price: +2 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) necromancy

Activation: —

This weapon is enveloped in a shroud of darkness.

Whenever you score a critical hit with this weapon, a wave of blackness washes over the target, causing it to become shaken (no saving throw) for 5 rounds.

This effect activates even if the creature struck is not normally subject to extra damage from critical hits.

This effect doesn't stack with itself or with any other fear effects (it can't render an already shaken creature frightened, for example).

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, fear.

Cost to Create: Varies.

DRAGONDOOM

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Melee weapon

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

This weapon is engraved with a severed dragon's head.

When wielding a dragondoom weapon, you can choose to deliver a smite attack against a Large or larger creature of the dragon type up to three times each day.

For every size category of the dragon larger than Medium, the smite attack deals an extra 1d6 points of damage (+1d6 against a Large dragon, +2d6 against Huge, +3d6 against Gargantuan, and +4d6 against Colossal).

You must declare the smite attack before you make your attack roll.

If the attack misses (or the creature you strike is not of the dragon type), the smite is wasted.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, fell the greatest foe (SC 90).

Cost to Create: Varies.

DRAGONHUNTER

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Projectile weapon

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation, necromancy

Activation: —

This weapon is carved from a dragon's thighbone.

The image of a dragon's skeleton is inlaid in jet.

A creature of the dragon type that is hit by a projectile fired from this weapon takes 1 point of Strength damage in addition to the normal damage from the weapon.

In addition, the weapon's critical multiplier increases by 1 if the target is a dragon.

For example, a critical hit from a dragonhunter longbow has a  $\times 4$  damage multiplier (instead of the normal  $\times 3$ ) against a dragon, so such a creature would take four times normal damage (but still only 1 point of Strength damage) with a critical hit.

Other effects related to threatening or confirming critical hits (such as keen edge or bless weapon spells) don't function when placed on a weapon that has this property.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, keen edge, ray of enfeeblement.

Cost to Create: Varies.

EAGER

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Melee weapon

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) evocation

Activation: —

This weapon, which is decorated with a wing motif, vibrates slightly, as though with excitement.

An eager weapon can be drawn as a free action.

While wielding it, you gain a +2 bonus on initiative checks and a +2 bonus on damage rolls made during a surprise round and the first round of combat.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, cat's grace.

Cost to Create: Varies.

ENERGY AURA

Price: +2 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 15th

Aura: Strong; (DC 22) evocation

Activation: Standard (command)

The surface of this weapon seems to gleam with ever-shifting colors.

From time to time, it glows with heat, crackles with electricity, emits acrid-smelling fumes, or develops a rime of frost.

Once activated, each hit by this weapon deals an extra 1d6 points of damage of an energy type of your choice (acid, cold, electricity, or fire, chosen when activated).

This energy does not harm you, regardless of the type selected.

The energy damage remains the same until you activate the weapon again.

Projectile weapons bestow this property upon their ammunition.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, chill metal, flame blade, Melf's acid arrow, shocking grasp.

Cost to Create: Varies.

ENERGY SURGE [SYNERGY]

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Melee weapon

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) evocation

Activation: Swift (command)

Synergy Prerequisite: Corrosive, flaming, frost, or shock

The pommel of this weapon bears a single diamond that flashes with an inner radiance.

An energy surge weapon functions as a weapon of the prerequisite type (corrosive, flaming, frost, or shock). In addition, on a successful melee attack with an energy surge weapon, you can command it to expel a blast of energy, of the same type as the prerequisite property, which deals an extra 3d6 points of damage to the target of the attack.

The synergy prerequisite property need not be active to activate the energy surge property.

This ability is usable a number of times per day equal to 1 + your Con bonus (if any).

Once you activate this property, it can't be activated by any other creature until the following day.

A weapon can have this property more than once, but only once per synergy prerequisite, and each activation only triggers one type of surge.

For example, you could have a +1 corrosive surge flaming surge longsword, and each activation would deal either 3d6 points of acid damage or 3d6 points of fire damage.

Each diamond set into the pommel or haft of an energy surge weapon radiates a different color that corresponds to the energy damage dealt by the weapon: green (acid), blue (cold), yellow (electricity), or red (fire).

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, spell for the prerequisite property.

Cost to Create: Varies.

ENERVATING

Price: +2 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) necromancy

Activation: —

This weapon looks worn and its blade has ruddy tinge, as though it has been stained with blood.

Four blood-red rubies surround the weapon's bronze pommel.

When you score a critical hit against a living creature with an enervating weapon, the weapon bestows one negative level on the target.

Assuming the subject survives, it regains lost levels after 1 hour.

Usually, negative levels have a chance of permanently draining a victim's levels, but the negative levels from the enervating property don't last long enough to do so.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, enervation.

Cost to Create: Varies.

ETHEREAL REAVER

Price: +3 bonus

Property: Melee weapon

Caster Level: 12th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) divination

Activation: —

This weapon appears ghostly, but it is as solid and unforgiving as any other of its type.

An ethereal reaver weapon functions as a ghost touch weapon (DMG 224).

In addition, such a weapon allows you to see invisible creatures as if you were subject to a see invisibility spell.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, see invisibility.

Cost to Create: Varies.

EVERBRIGHT

Price: +2,000 gp

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 12th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) evocation

Activation: Standard (command)

Flecks of marble and pearl shimmer across this weapon, set within images of bursting stars and beaming suns.

An everbright weapon can flash with a brilliant light twice per day at your command.

When it is activated, all creatures within 20 feet of you are blinded for 1 round (Reflex DC 14 negates).

An everbright weapon is also immune to acid damage and rusting effects.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, searing light.

Cost to Create: Varies.

FIERCEBANE [SYNERGY]

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 12th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) conjuration

Activation: —

Synergy Prerequisite: Bane

Carved into the handle of this weapon is a single rune in the Gnome language representing the foe the weapon is dedicated to slaying.

A fiercebane weapon excels at attacking one type or subtype of creature.

It acts as a bane weapon against the creature type (and subtype, if relevant) to which its synergy prerequisite ability was attuned.

Whenever it strikes its designated bane enemy, it begins to emit a low, eager hum, as if it were actually feeding off the victim's life blood.

A fiercebane weapon glows when a designated foe comes within 60 feet, even if you cannot see or detect it.

In addition, the weapon deals extra damage on every successful critical hit.

The amount depends on its critical multiplier, as follows.

Critical Multiplier	Extra Damage
×2	1d10
×3	2d10
×4	3d10

Projectile weapons bestow this property upon their ammunition.

Lore: Few rangers acquire the skills needed to create magic items, but the gnome ranger Tir Hearthand learned to hate orcs at an early age.

Unsatisfied with normal orc bane weapons, he devoted the last half of his life to creating the ultimate weapon for slaying orcs (Knowledge [arcana] or Knowledge [history] DC 20).

The first fiercebane weapon was an orc bane scimitar sized for a gnome and named Hearthand, after its creator.

Tir Hearthand wielded this weapon for many years, and it eventually achieved a near-legendary status.

Gnomes with an interest in weaponcraft now believe it to be a potent artifact capable of striking dead any orc that even sets eyes upon it.

The original weapon is believed to have been lost in the dark hills near the long-dead orc kingdom where Tir Hearthand met his end (Knowledge [arcana] or Knowledge [history] DC 30).

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, summon monster I.

Cost to Create: Varies.

FLESHGRINDING

Price: +2 bonus

Property: Piercing or slashing melee weapon

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) transmutation

Activation: Free (command)

Upon close inspection, this weapon appears to have shallow serrations along its blade.

You can activate a fleshgrinding weapon any time you deal damage with it to a living creature in melee.

When this occurs, you let go of the weapon and it magically animates, grinding itself into the foe's flesh.

In each round at the start of your turn, it automatically damages that creature as if you had scored a normal hit with it (including damage from the weapon's enhancement bonus, other weapon properties, and your normal bonus from Strength, but not extra damage from feats such as Power Attack).

The grinding continues for 5 rounds or until you or someone else pulls the fleshgrinding weapon free; doing this requires a standard action and (for anyone other than you) a successful DC 20 Strength check.

After the duration expires, a fleshgrinding weapon returns to your hand (as the returning weapon property).

It will not return to your hand if the target has pulled the weapon free and still holds it.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, animate objects.

Cost to Create: Varies.

FORCE

Price: +2 bonus

Property: Projectile weapon

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) evocation

Activation: —

This weapon appears translucent, as though its substance is not entirely of this world.

A projectile weapon with the force property turns ammunition shot from it into a force attack.

These force projectiles automatically overcome damage reduction and suffer no miss chance against incorporeal targets, but they don't damage creatures immune to force effects.

Ammunition shot from a force weapon deals the same amount of damage as normal ammunition.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, magic missile.

Cost to Create: Varies.

GHOST STRIKE [SYNERGY]

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Melee weapon

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) conjuration

Activation: —

Synergy Prerequisite: Ghost touch

Fine tendrils of white smoke slowly rise from this weapon's surface.

A ghost strike weapon functions as a ghost touch weapon (DMG 224).

In addition, sneak attacks and critical hits made with a ghost strike weapon against an undead creature affect it as if it were a living creature.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, undeath to death.

Cost to Create: Varies.

HARMONIZING

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Melee weapon

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) illusion

Activation: —; see text

A strange melody seems to emanate from within this weapon.

A harmonizing weapon accompanies you in song if drawn, granting a +2 competence bonus on Perform (sing) checks.

In addition, if you hold a harmonizing weapon when you begin a bardic music effect, the weapon can continue the effect for you, allowing you to focus on other efforts.

One round after you begin a bardic music effect that allows or requires continued use or concentration (including inspire courage, countersong, fascinate, inspire competence, inspire greatness, song of freedom, and inspire heroics), the weapon picks up and continues the performance flawlessly for 10 rounds, until you start another bardic music effect, or until you command it to end as a swift (mental) action.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, ghost sound, bardic music.

Cost to Create: Varies.

HEAVENLY BURST

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) evocation

Activation: —

This weapon emits a low hum that sounds distinctly like a chorus chanting slowly.

On a critical hit against an evil creature, a heavenly burst weapon discharges a shower of radiance that deals 3d6 points of damage to the target and blinds it for 1 round.

A successful DC 14 Fortitude save negates the blindness. Projectile weapons bestow this property upon their ammunition.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, holy smite.

Cost to Create: Varies.

HIDEAWAY

Price: +2,000 gp

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Several studs texture this weapon, as do numerous hinges and slots, though none seems to impede its effectiveness.

When activated, a hideaway weapon folds up into a bundle two size categories smaller than you, making it easy to conceal.

You gain a +2 bonus on Sleight of Hand checks to conceal a hideaway weapon when it's folded up (as if it were a dagger).

A second command word (also a swift action) causes the weapon to unfold to its normal shape.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, shrink item.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

HOLY SURGE [SYNERGY]

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Melee weapon

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) evocation

Activation: — and swift (command)

Synergy Prerequisite: Holy

This elegant weapon appears smooth and pristine.

Characters who serve gods of valor, honor, and other lofty principles craft these weapons of pure goodness for themselves and others who share their values.

A holy surge weapon functions as a holy weapon (DMG 225).

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

In addition, on a successful melee attack with a holy surge weapon, you can command it to emit a burst of holy energy. Against an evil target, this burst deals an extra 3d6 points of damage.

If used against a non-evil creature, it deals no additional damage, and that use of the property is wasted.

This ability is usable a number of times per day equal to 1 + your Cha bonus (if any).

Once you activate this property, it can't be activated by any other creature until the following day.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, holy smite or holy word.

Cost to Create: Varies.

HUNTING

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 6th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) abjuration

Activation: —

This weapon bears toothlike inscriptions across its surface.

A hunting weapon increases your bonus on weapon damage rolls by 4 against your favored enemies (see the ranger class feature; PH 47).

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, greater magic fang.

Cost to Create: Varies.

IGNAN

Price: +2 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) evocation

Activation: —

Tiny flames constantly flicker along the surface of this red-tinted weapon.

Its grip is inlaid with amber in a flamelike design.

An ignan weapon automatically overcomes the damage reduction of any creature that has the water subtype.

In addition, the weapon deals an extra 2d6 points of damage against such targets.

An ignan weapon also bestows one negative level on any creature that has the water subtype and attempts to wield it. The negative level remains as long as the weapon is in hand and disappears when it is no longer held.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the weapon is wielded.

Projectile weapons bestow this property upon their ammunition.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, fire subtype.

Cost to Create: Varies.

ILLUMINATING

Price: +500 gp

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) evocation

Activation: —

A sunburst set with topaz flecks gleams upon this weapon.

When drawn, an illuminating weapon glows with pure white light, brightly illuminating a 20-foot-radius area and providing shadowy illumination for another 20 feet beyond that.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, light.

Cost to Create: 250 gp, 20 XP, 1 day.

ILLUSION BANE

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 10th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) divination

Activation: — and swift (command)

Worked into the grip of this weapon is an iron cross set in the center of two concentric circles.

Any attack with an illusion bane weapon ignores any miss chance created by an illusion effect (including effects that mimic illusions, such as a displacer beast's displacement effect).

However, you must still target the correct square when making an attack against a foe that has total concealment.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

In addition, once per day you can activate an illusion bane weapon to destroy illusion effects.

This ability can take one of two forms: After hitting a creature, you can activate the weapon in the same round to make a dispel check (1d20+10) against each illusion spell currently affecting the target.

This effect essentially acts as a targeted dispel magic spell, but it functions only against magic of the illusion school.

You must make a separate check for each illusion spell affecting the target.

Alternatively, you can attempt to dispel a single illusion by touching it with the illusion bane weapon and speaking the appropriate command word.

For example, touching a silent image spell (or an image generated by the mirror image spell) with the weapon subjects it to the dispel check immediately.

A successful check against any part of the illusion dispels the whole effect, so dispelling one mirror image ends the spell entirely for the target creature.

Lore: The illusion bane property was created by a sect of the church of St.

Cuthbert whose members despised illusionists and desired a way to destroy their protective illusions (Knowledge [religion] DC 20).

An illusion bane weapon functions much like the dispel magic spell, but only against illusion effects (Knowledge [arcana] DC 25).

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, true seeing, dispel magic.

Cost to Create: Varies.

ILLUSION THEFT [SYNERGY]

Price: +2 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 17th

Aura: Strong; (DC 23) divination

Activation: Standard (command)

Synergy Prerequisite: Illusion bane

This dark metal weapon is crafted of black iron and adamantine worked into a simple design.

Set into its pommel or grip is a cut and polished piece of quartz.

An illusion theft weapon functions as an illusion bane weapon (see above).

In addition, such a weapon allows you to disrupt opponents' illusions and transfer their protective qualities to yourself.

The first illusion spell that this weapon dispels with its illusion bane property is automatically stored within it.

This ability functions like the spell storing property (DMG 225), with the following exceptions.

- It must be an illusion spell, but it need not be 3rd level or lower.
- A spell cannot be cast into the weapon; it can store only a spell that it has actually dispelled through the illusion bane ability.
- An illusion theft weapon need not actually strike a creature to activate the stored spell.

The stored spell is preserved as originally cast in every way, except that its duration is effectively arrested at the time you steal it.

As soon as the spell is stored, you immediately become aware of its effect and its remaining duration, and you can activate it at any time.

You can choose a different target to be affected by the stored spell if you so desire.

When the spell is activated, the duration begins passing again as if no time had elapsed.

Once a stored illusion spell has been discharged, you cannot activate the weapon's illusion theft property again until you have successfully dispelled another illusion (using the illusion bane property), which is then stored within the weapon.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, true seeing, dispel magic.

Cost to Create: Varies.

IMPACT

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Bludgeoning weapon

Caster Level: 10th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) evocation

Activation: —

This weapon seems heavier than a typical weapon of its type, and its head and haft have a square design.

An impact weapon has double the threat range of a normal weapon of its type.

For example, an impact quarterstaff scores a threat on a roll of 19–20, and an impact heavy flail scores a threat on a roll of 17–20.

This effect doesn't stack with any other effect that expands a weapon's critical threat range.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, weapon of impact (SC 237).

Cost to Create: Varies.

IMPALING

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Piercing melee weapon

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

This weapon has a particularly sharp and slim point.

Three times per day, you can activate this weapon to treat its next attack (if made before the end of your turn) as a touch attack.

You must declare that you are using this property before making your attack roll.

If the attack misses, the use is wasted.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, find the gap (SC 91).

Cost to Create: Varies.

IMPEDANCE

Price: +2 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) abjuration

Activation: —

This weapon is reinforced with cold iron and set with chunks of obsidian in a foursquare pattern.

An impedance weapon mimics the impeded magic planar trait (DMG 150).

When you use it to strike a creature, the target's ability to cast spells or use spell-like abilities is impeded for 1d6 rounds.

To cast an impeded spell or use an impeded spell-like ability, the creature must attempt a Spellcraft check, Intelligence check, or Charisma check (whichever one is made with the highest bonus).

The DC for this check is 15 + the spell level.

If the check succeeds, the effect functions normally; if the check fails, the effect does not function and the spell or the use of the spell-like ability is lost.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, antimagic field.

Cost to Create: Varies.

IMPLACABLE

Price: +3 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) necromancy

Activation: —

This weapon has a lustrous purple sheen.

When an implacable weapon deals damage to a living creature, the wound bleeds profusely and the creature takes 2 additional points of damage at the start of each of the wielder's turns for the next 5 rounds.

Multiple wounds are cumulative (a creature struck three times in the same round would take 6 points of damage per round for the next 5 rounds).

This bleeding can be stopped by a successful DC 15 Heal check or any effect that restores hit points (such as cure light wounds).

However, while the wound is active, anyone attempting to cast a spell on the target that would restore hit points must succeed on a DC 15 caster level check.

An implacable weapon counts as adamantite for the purpose of overcoming the damage reduction of aberrations.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, vampiric touch.

Cost to Create: Varies.

INCORPOREAL BINDING [SYNERGY]

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Melee weapon

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) conjuration

Activation: —

Synergy Prerequisite: Ghost touch

This weapon is simple in design and appears misty gray, even though the base material used in its construction has a distinct color of its own.

An incorporeal binding weapon functions as a ghost touch weapon (DMG 224).

In addition, when this weapon strikes an incorporeal creature, it emits a single pulse of gray energy that temporarily anchors the target more firmly to the material world.

An incorporeal creature damaged by this weapon loses the benefit of its incorporeal miss chance (50%) and its 50% chance to ignore spells for 1 round.

It does, however, retain all other benefits of incorporealness, including immunity to all nonmagical attack forms, the ability to pass through solid objects, and a deflection bonus to AC equal to its Charisma bonus (if any).

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, dimensional anchor, plane shift.

Cost to Create: Varies.

KNOCKBACK

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) evocation

Activation: Swift (command)

This weapon looks broader and thicker than a typical item of its type.

A ram's head with curling horns decorates its head or hilt.

Three times per day, you can activate this weapon and use it to drive your opponent back.

The next time you hit a creature with the weapon before the end of your turn, the target must succeed on a DC 19 Fortitude save or be pushed back 5 feet.

If the target can't move back, this ability has no effect.

The knockback property works only on creatures of your own size category or smaller.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, repulsion.

Cost to Create: Varies.

LUCKY

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 15th

Aura: Strong; (DC 22) divination

Activation: Free (mental)

The golden sheen on this weapon raises your spirits and fills you with confidence in your fighting prowess.

A lucky weapon offers a second chance at success.

Once per day, you can reroll a single failed attack roll.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, moment of prescience or fate of one (EPH 107).

Cost to Create: Varies.

MAGEBANE

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 8th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) evocation

Activation: —

The surface of this black iron weapon is inscribed with runes representing the grounding of energy, and its pommel or grip is set with three diamonds.

Weapons that have this property are feared by arcane spellcasters.

Against any creature that can cast arcane spells or use invocations (CAr 7), a magebane weapon's enhancement bonus is 2 higher than normal.

(Thus, a +1 longsword with the magebane property becomes a +3 longsword when wielded against such targets).

Furthermore, a magebane weapon deals an extra 2d6 points of damage against targets capable of casting arcane spells or using invocations.

The magebane property can be added to a cold iron weapon without paying the extra 2,000 gp (DMG 284).

Projectile weapons bestow this property upon their ammunition.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, dispel magic.

Cost to Create: Varies.

MAIMING

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: —

This weapon has a twisted haft or grip and spikes along its blade, head, or point.

A maiming weapon twists and digs into the flesh of its target, rending, tearing, smashing, and bruising it.

Whenever you score a critical hit with this weapon, it deals an amount of extra damage depending on its critical multiplier.

Critical Multiplier	Extra Damage
×2	1d6
×3	2d6
×4	3d6

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, keen edge.
Cost to Create: Varies.

MANIFESTER

Price: +12,000 gp
Property: Weapon
Caster Level: 8th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) divination
Activation: Free (mental)
Radiating inner power, this princely weapon settles and clarifies your thoughts.
When manifesting a power, the bearer of this weapon can draw 5 power points from it. These points must all be used on the same power, and that power cannot be imbued with power points from any other source.
A manifester weapon functions once per day.
Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, any 3rd-level psionic power.
Cost to Create: 6,000 gp, 480 XP, 12 days.

METALLINE

Price: +2 bonus
Property: Weapon
Caster Level: 9th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation
Activation: Standard (command)
The color and texture of this weapon seem to shift with each passing moment.
When you activate a metalline weapon, you can change its composition to adamantine, alchemical silver, cold iron, or ordinary steel.
Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, fabricate.
Cost to Create: Varies.

MIGHTY SMITING

Price: +1 bonus
Property: Melee weapon
Caster Level: 8th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) evocation
Activation: —
This weapon feels heavier than a normal weapon of its type. Inscribed on its surface is a message affirming its superiority over some category of creature.
If you have a smite ability (smite, smite evil, smite shadowlands, or the like), you gain an extra +2 bonus on your smite attack rolls and damage rolls.
In addition, you gain one additional use of your smite ability each day while wielding this weapon.
If you have more than one smite ability, you must choose which one gains the extra use.
A weapon of mighty smiting only grants one extra smite per day, regardless of how many characters wield it.
Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, divine power.
Cost to Create: Varies.

MINDCRUSHER

Price: +2 bonus
Property: Weapon
Caster Level: 12th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) necromancy
Activation: —
This red-tinted weapon seems to draw light and feeling from around it.
You sense its hunger.

Any psionic creature struck in combat by a mindcrusher weapon loses a number of power points equal to half the amount of hit point damage the weapon deals on that strike.
Only the base damage of the weapon contributes to the power point loss; additional damage from high Strength or other sources does not cause additional power point loss. A creature with no power points, including any nonpsionic creature, must succeed on a DC 17 Will save or take 1 point of Wisdom damage.
A projectile weapon bestows this property upon its ammunition.
Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, vampiric touch or psychic vampire (EPH 127).
Cost to Create: Varies.

MINDFEEDER

Price: +1 bonus
Property: Weapon
Caster Level: 15th
Aura: Strong; (DC 22) necromancy
Activation: —
Composed of a flat, rough, slate-gray crystal, this weapon seems to absorb your thoughts.
When you score a critical hit with a mindfeeder weapon, you gain 1 temporary power point for every 5 points of damage dealt by the critical hit.
These temporary power points last for up to 1 minute. You gain power points even if the target has none.
As with temporary hit points, temporary power points do not stack with each other; they overlap.
Thus, if the wielder of a mindfeeder weapon successfully scores a critical hit while still enjoying temporary power points from a previous critical hit, the wielder gains only the higher of the two values: either her current number of temporary power points, or the new influx of temporary power points, whichever is greater.
Creatures immune to extra damage from critical hits do not trigger mindfeeder weapons.
Projectile weapons bestow this property upon their ammunition.
Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, vampiric touch or psychic vampire (EPH 127).
Cost to Create: Varies.

MORPHING

Price: +1 bonus
Property: Melee or thrown weapon
Caster Level: 9th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation
Activation: Standard
This weapon's shape constantly flows and reforms in slightly different compositions.
You can reshape a morphing weapon into any other melee or thrown weapon of the same size and type (light, one-handed, or two-handed).

For instance, a morphing greatsword could become a spear, greataxe, or dire flail.

If a single weapon created with the morphing property becomes a double weapon, only one end of the double weapon retains the weapon's magical bonus, although the other end is masterwork.

If a double weapon created with the morphing property becomes a single weapon, it can have the properties of either end of the original double weapon.

The properties of the other end are dormant but not lost; they become active again when the morphing weapon once again becomes a double weapon.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, fabricate.

Cost to Create: Varies.

NECROTIC FOCUS

Price: +3 bonus

Property: Melee weapon

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) necromancy

Activation: —

This weapon has a golden sheen and a series of black runes inlaid in jet along its length.

Its pommel or grip is set with a black star sapphire.

A necrotic focus weapon serves as a channel for your ability drain or energy drain supernatural ability.

While wielding it, you deal ability drain or bestow negative levels through it as if attacking with your natural weapons.

If a saving throw against the effect is allowed, add the weapon's enhancement bonus to the save DC.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, enervation, spectral hand.

Cost to Create: Varies.

PARALYTIC BURST

Price: +2 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) enchantment

Activation: —

This weapon appears unusually straight and stiff.

Set into the base of its blade or head is a smoothly polished piece of aventurine that seems to glow with an energy all its own.

Whenever you score a critical hit with this weapon, a wave of green energy washes over the target, paralyzing it for 1 round (Will DC 17 negates).

This effect activates even if the target is not normally subject to extra damage from critical hits.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, hold monster.

Cost to Create: Varies.

PARALYZING

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Melee weapon

Caster Level: 10th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) enchantment

Activation: Swift (command)

This weapon bears a number of hard-to-see parallel striations near its handle.

When a paralyzing weapon is activated, the next creature struck by the weapon must succeed on a DC 17 Will save or be paralyzed.

Each round on its turn, the target can attempt a new saving throw to end the effect; otherwise, the paralysis lasts for 10 rounds.

A paralyzing weapon functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, hold monster.

Cost to Create: Varies.

PARRYING

Price: +2 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 15th

Aura: Strong; (DC 22) enchantment

Activation: —

The detailed engravings on this shiny weapon appear to spin and jump about.

Even when grasped, it twitches and bucks.

A parrying weapon allows you to discern events an instant into the future, granting you a +1 insight bonus to AC.

The weapon makes you so adept at parrying that it grants you a +1 insight bonus on saving throws.

The bonuses are granted whenever you hold the weapon, even if you are flat-footed.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, divine protection (SC 70) or defensive precognition (EPH 124).

Cost to Create: Varies.

POWER STORING

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 12th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) evocation

Activation: Free (command)

This weapon is composed of a white, honeycomb substance of substantial weight.

A power storing weapon allows a manifester to store a single targeted power of up to 5 power points in the weapon.

(The power must have a manifesting time of 1 standard action).

Any time the weapon strikes a creature and the creature takes damage from it, the weapon can manifest the power on that creature if you desire.

Once the power is manifested, the weapon is empty, and a manifester can store any other targeted power of up to 5 power points into it.

The weapon telepathically whispers to you the name of the power currently stored within it.

A randomly generated power storing weapon has a 50% chance to have a power stored in it already.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, manifester level 12th.

Cost to Create: Varies.

PRECISE

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Ranged weapon

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) evocation

Activation: —

This weapon has a carved peephole or sighting tube worked into its design, and its hilt is set with a faceted diamond.

You can shoot or throw a precise weapon at an opponent engaged in melee without incurring the standard –4 penalty.

This benefit does not apply if you already have the Precise Shot feat.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Precise Shot.

Cost to Create: Varies.

PRISMATIC BURST

Price: +30,000 gp

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 13th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) evocation

Activation: —

This smoothly polished weapon is set with a ruby, a fire opal, a yellow topaz, an emerald, a blue topaz, a sapphire, and an amethyst.

Whenever you score a successful critical hit with this weapon, multicolored light springs from the gems and cascades along its blade or head, subjecting the target to a prismatic spray effect (save DC 20; see spell description, PH 264).

This effect activates even if the target is not normally subject to extra damage from critical hits.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, prismatic spray.

Cost to Create: Varies.

PROFANE

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 17) necromancy

Activation: Standard (command)

This black iron weapon is decorated with a single silver skull.

A runic phrase describing a vile act runs along its blade or haft.

By speaking the appropriate command word, you can sheathe a profane weapon in crackling black negative energy.

If you have no Constitution score, this energy does not harm you; otherwise you take 1 point of Constitution damage for each round that you hold the weapon while the effect is activated.

This effect lasts until you speak another command word to end it.

While activated, a profane weapon deals an extra 1d6 points of damage to any living target (or 2d6 points against a good outsider) on a successful hit.

Also, it is treated as evil-aligned for the purpose of overcoming damage reduction.

Projectile weapons bestow this property upon their ammunition.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, inflict light wounds.

Cost to Create: Varies.

PROFANE BURST [SYNERGY]

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 12th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) necromancy

Activation: Standard (command) and —

Synergy Prerequisite: Profane

This black iron weapon is decorated with dozens of silver skulls.

Runic phrases describing vile acts run along its blade or haft and glow when it is wielded.

A profane burst weapon functions as a profane weapon (see above).

In addition, the weapon explodes with negative energy on a successful critical hit, dealing extra negative energy damage as set out in the table below.

(This effect activates even if the target is not normally subject to extra damage from critical hits).

A profane burst weapon deals even more damage to good outsiders on a successful critical hit.

This burst does not harm you or any creature other than the target if you are undead; otherwise, you take 1d4 points of Constitution damage (or Charisma damage if you have no Constitution score).

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

Even if the weapon has not been activated to deal extra damage because of the profane property, the weapon still deals its extra negative energy damage on a successful critical hit.

Critical Multiplier	Extra Damage	Good Outsider Extra Damage
×2	1d10	2d10
×3	2d10	4d10
×4	3d10	6d10

Projectile weapons bestow this property upon their ammunition.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, inflict critical wounds.

Cost to Create: Varies.

PSIBANE

Price: +2 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 15th

Aura: Strong; (DC 22) divination

Activation: —

This extraordinary weapon is shot through with translucent purple crystal shards.

You detect a vague air of menace about it.

A psibane weapon is crafted to oppose psionic beings. When used against any creature that has the psionic subtype (EPH 183), its effective enhancement bonus is 2 higher than its actual enhancement bonus (so a +1 psibane longsword instead has a +3 enhancement bonus against psionic foes).

It deals an extra 2d6 points of damage against psionic opponents.

A psibane weapon bestows one negative level on any psionic creature attempting to wield it.

This negative level remains as long as the weapon is in hand and disappears when the weapon is no longer wielded.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way while the weapon is wielded.

Projectile weapons bestow this property upon their ammunition.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, dispel magic or bend reality (EPH 80).

Cost to Create: Varies.

PSYCHIC

Price: +2 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 17th

Aura: Strong; (DC 23) no school

Activation: —

This weapon has an inner glow of varying brightness.

It glows more brightly when brought near those with psionic ability.

A psychic weapon's power depends on its wielder.

It gains an enhancement bonus based on the wielder's current power point reserve, as shown on the table below.

(This benefit doesn't stack with the weapon's normal enhancement bonus).

The weapon's enhancement bonus decreases (to a minimum of +1) as the wielder spends power points, and it increases whenever the wielder gains enough power points (by any means) to put his power point reserve into the next higher category.

Power Point Reserve	Enhancement Bonus
0*	+1
1–29	+2
30–79	+3
80–129	+4
130 or higher	+5

*Includes any wielder without power points.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, wish or reality revision (EPH 128).

Cost to Create: Varies.

PSYCHOKINETIC

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 10th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) evocation

Activation: Standard (command)

This silvery-white weapon has a smooth sheen and is difficult to grip tightly.

Upon command, a psychokinetic weapon glows from the inside with lethal psionic energy.

Such a weapon deals an extra 1d4 points of force damage on a successful hit.

This extra damage is not affected by damage reduction, and it affects incorporeal creatures even if the attack would normally miss due to the incorporeal miss chance.

The energy does not harm you while wielding the weapon.

Projectile weapons bestow this property upon their ammunition.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, blast of force (SC 31) or concussive blast (EPH 85).

Cost to Create: Varies.

PSYCHOKINETIC BURST [SYNERGY]

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 12th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) evocation

Activation: Standard (command) and —

Synergy Prerequisite: Psychokinetic

Silvery-black and potent, this weapon is very smooth and difficult to grip tightly.

This weapon functions as a psychokinetic weapon (see above).

In addition, the weapon releases a blast of destructive psionic energy on a successful critical hit, dealing extra force damage as set out in the table below.

(This effect activates even if the target is not normally subject to extra damage from critical hits).

This burst does not harm you or any creature other than the target.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

Even if the weapon has not been activated to deal extra damage because of the psychokinetic property, the weapon still deals its extra force damage on a successful critical hit.

Critical Multiplier	Extra Force Damage
×2	1d6
×3	2d6
×4	3d6

This extra damage is not affected by damage reduction, and it affects incorporeal creatures even if the attack would normally miss due to the incorporeal miss chance.

Projectile weapons bestow this property upon their ammunition.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, blast of force (SC 31) or concussive blast (EPH 85).

Cost to Create: Varies.

QUICK LOADING

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Crossbow

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) conjuration

Activation: Free (manipulation) or move (manipulation); see text

Volleys of soaring bolts are engraved upon this loaded crossbow.

A quick loading crossbow accesses an extradimensional space that can hold up to 100 bolts, allowing you to reload the crossbow more rapidly than normal.

Reloading a quick loading hand or light crossbow is a free action (allowing a character with multiple attacks to use his full attack rate), and reloading a quick loading heavy crossbow is a move action.

Different types of bolts can be held in the extradimensional space, and you can select freely from these when reloading the crossbow.

Adding or removing a bolt by hand from an extradimensional space requires a move (manipulation) action.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Leomund's secret chest, shrink item.

Cost to Create: Varies.

RESOUNDING

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Melee weapon

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) enchantment

Activation: —

This weapon bears a small engraving of a bell.

A resounding weapon emits a deep, ringing chime each time it successfully hits a target.

The sound carries over the din of battle, encouraging your allies.

When you strike a foe with a resounding weapon, allies (including you) within 30 feet gain a +1 morale bonus on attack rolls and saves against fear effects for 1 round.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, bles.

Cost to Create: Varies.

REVEALING

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) evocation

Activation: —

A sea of flames flickers upon this weapon, though it is perfectly cool to the touch.

Any opponent struck by a weapon that has this property is outlined in magical flames, as the faerie fire spell, for 1 round.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, faerie fire.

Cost to Create: Varies.

SACRED

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) conjuration

Activation: Standard (command)

This silver-white weapon is decorated with a single golden sun.

A runic phrase describing a heroic deed runs along its blade or haft.

By speaking the appropriate command word, you can sheathe a sacred weapon in luminous positive energy.

If you are not undead, this energy does not harm you; otherwise, you take 1 point of Charisma damage for each round that you hold the weapon.

This effect lasts until you speak another command word to end it.

While activated, a sacred weapon deals an extra 1d6 points of damage to any undead target (or 2d6 points against an evil outsider) on a successful hit.

Also, it is treated as good-aligned for the purpose of overcoming damage reduction.

Projectile weapons bestow this property upon their ammunition.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, cure light wounds.

Cost to Create: Varies.

SACRED BURST [SYNERGY]

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 12th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) conjuration

Activation: —

Synergy Prerequisite: Sacred

This silver-white weapon is decorated with dozens of golden sun motifs.

Runic phrases describing various heroic deeds run along its blade or haft and glow when it is wielded.

A sacred burst weapon functions as a sacred weapon (see above).

In addition, the weapon explodes with positive energy on a successful critical hit, dealing extra positive energy damage to creatures as set out in the table below.

(This effect activates even if the target is not normally subject to extra damage from critical hits).

A sacred burst weapon deals even more damage to evil outsiders on a successful critical hit.

This burst does not harm you or any creature other than the target unless you are undead; if you are, you take 1d4 points of Charisma damage from the burst.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

Even if the weapon has not been activated to deal extra damage because of the sacred property, the weapon still deals its extra positive energy damage on a successful critical hit.

Critical Multiplier	Extra Damage	Evil Outsider Damage
×2	1d10	2d10
×3	2d10	4d10
×4	3d10	6d10

Projectile weapons bestow this property upon their ammunition.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, cure critical wounds.

Cost to Create: Varies.

SCREAMING

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) evocation

Activation: Standard (command)

This weapon is pierced with numerous tiny holes in a decorative pattern.

These holes produce a whistling sound when air moves through them.

Upon command, this weapon begins to vibrate gently, though it emits no actual sound in this mode.

Whenever an activated screaming weapon hits, it produces a high-pitched sound and deals an extra 1d4 points of sonic damage to the target.

This noise is unpleasant, but it has no adverse effect upon any creatures other than the one struck.

The ability of a screaming weapon to deal extra sonic damage is negated in any area of magical silence.

Screaming weapons have no additional adverse effect on creatures with unusually acute hearing, although such creatures tend to dislike them.

Projectile weapons bestow this property upon their ammunition.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, shout or sound burst.

Cost to Create: Varies.

SCREAMING BURST [SYNERGY]

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 12th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) evocation

Activation: —

Synergy Prerequisite: Screaming

This weapon is decorated with engravings of bells, cymbals, drums, and other images associated with loud noises.

A screaming burst weapon functions as a screaming weapon (see above).

In addition, the weapon explodes with sonic energy on a successful critical hit, dealing extra sonic damage as set out in the table below.

(This effect activates even if the target is not normally subject to extra damage from critical hits).

This burst does not harm you or any creature other than the target.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

Even if the weapon has not been activated to deal extra damage because of the screaming property, the weapon still deals its extra sonic damage on a successful critical hit.

SHADOWSTRIKE

Price: +5,000 gp

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 15th

Aura: Strong; (DC 22) illusion

Activation: Swift (mental)

This weapon is made of a dull black material, and its edges seem indistinct.

A shadowstrike weapon can reach through your own shadow to catch foes off guard.

Once per day, you can activate the property to add 5 feet to the weapon's reach for a single attack.

The target is denied its Dexterity bonus to AC for this attack.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, shadow conjuration.

Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

SHATTERMANTLE

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) divination

Activation: —

Translucent, writhing energy and blue sparks can be seen raging within this weapon.

A shattermantle weapon damages a foe's spell resistance.

Each time the weapon strikes a foe that has spell resistance, the value of that spell resistance is reduced by 2 for 1 round.

The penalties for multiple hits during the same round stack.

For example, if you succeed on three attacks in the same round against the same foe, that foe's spell resistance is reduced by 6 until the beginning of your next turn.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, assay spell resistance (SC 17).

Cost to Create: Varies.

SHIELDING

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Light melee weapon

Caster Level: 10th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

The handle of this weapon has a handguard shaped like a shield.

A shielding weapon is most often employed as an off-hand weapon.

Activating a shielding weapon transforms it into a heavy steel shield, with the same enhancement bonus as the weapon itself (both for AC and when making shield bash attacks).

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, animate objects, shield.

Cost to Create: Varies.

SIZING

Price: +5,000 gp

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

This weapon features a series of decorative nubs on the hilt or haft.

Activating a sizing weapon changes its size category to any other that you desire.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, shrink item.

Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

SLOW BURST

Price: +5,000 gp

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: —

This weapon has an image of a snail worked into its hilt or grip, and it feels cold to the touch.

A chill aura numbs this weapon's victim when you strike true.

Whenever you score a critical hit with this weapon, the target is slowed (as the slow spell) for 3 rounds (Will DC 14 negates).

This effect activates even if the creature struck is not normally subject to extra damage from critical hits.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, slow.

Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

SOULBOUND

Price (Item Level): +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 6th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) abjuration

Activation: Swift (mental)

This looks like a normal item of its kind except for a faint, blue sheen.

A soulbound weapon serves as a receptacle for your essentia, much as a soulmeld does.

Every point of essentia invested in the weapon increases its enhancement bonus on attack rolls and damage rolls by 1, up to a maximum enhancement bonus of +3.

Each soulbound weapon has an essentia capacity.

The maximum number of essentia points that can be invested in it equals this value or your normal essentia capacity (see Table 2-1: Essentia Capacity, Magic of Incarnum 19), whichever is lower.

A soulbound weapon has a maximum essentia capacity of 2.

Chakra Bind: A soulbound weapon grants bonuses when it is bound to a chakra, as described below.

These effects function continuously, with no need for activation.

See Binding Items to Chakras (MoI 108) for more information.

Arms: Binding a soulbound weapon to your arms chakra grants you a +2 insight bonus on rolls made to confirm critical hits with the weapon.

Brow: Binding a soulbound weapon to your brow chakra allows you, if you miss an attack because of concealment, to reroll your miss chance percentile roll one time to see if you actually hit.

This benefit is usable once per round.

Hands: Binding a soulbound weapon to your hands chakra grants you a +2 insight bonus on initiative checks while the weapon is held.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, magic weapon, essentia pool 2.

Cost to Create: Varies.

SOULBOUND, GREATER [SYNERGY]

Price (Item Level): +2 bonus

Caster Level: 18th

Aura: Strong; (DC 24) abjuration

This entire weapon seems composed of some blue material, and it moves through the air effortlessly.

This property functions as the soulbound property (see above), except a greater soulbound weapon has a maximum essentia capacity of 4 (instead of 2), for a maximum enhancement bonus of +5 (instead of +3).

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, magic weapon, essentia pool 4.

SOULBREAKER [SYNERGY]

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 17th

Aura: Strong; (DC 23) necromancy

Activation: —

Synergy Prerequisite: Enervating

Shrouded by motes of darkness, this weapon is the color of a deep bruise.

This weapon functions as an enervating weapon (see page 34).

However, a negative level gained from an attack from a soulbreaker weapon doesn't fade 1 hour later.

Instead, 24 hours after being struck, if the negative level or levels have not been purged, the subject must succeed on a DC 18 Fortitude save for each negative level or lose a character level.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, energy drain.

Cost to Create: Varies.

SOULDRINKING [SYNERGY]

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Melee weapon

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) necromancy

Activation: —

Synergy Prerequisite: Enervating

A barely perceptible shadow, in the shape of a screaming humanoid face, seems to flicker on this weapon.

This weapon functions as an enervating weapon (see page 34).

In addition, when a soul drinking weapon scores a critical hit on a living creature, it grants you 5 temporary hit points and a +2 morale bonus on melee damage rolls.

The temporary hit points don't stack with temporary hit points from any other source.

This effect fades after 10 minutes.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, vampiric touch.

Cost to Create: Varies.

SPELLSTRIKE

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 8th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) abjuration

Activation: Free (mental)

The image of a great helm ornaments the end of this hefty, unusually solid weapon.

A spellstrike weapon allows you to transfer some or all of the weapon's enhancement bonus, using it as a bonus on your saving throws against spells or spell-like abilities. As a free action, you choose how to allocate the weapon's enhancement bonus at the start of your turn before using the weapon, and the effect on saving throws lasts until the start of your next turn.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, resistance.

Cost to Create: Varies.

STUNNING [SYNERGY]

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) enchantment

Activation: —

Synergy Prerequisite: Screaming

The surface of this weapon is covered with jagged lines resembling lightning bolts.

A stunning weapon functions as a screaming weapon (see page 42).

In addition, on a successful critical hit with a stunning weapon, the target must succeed on a DC 17 Fortitude save or be stunned for 1 round.

Projectile weapons bestow this property on their ammunition.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, hold monster.

Cost to Create: Varies.

STUNNING SURGE

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) enchantment

Activation: Swift (command)

This weapon is broad and heavy compared to other weapons of its kind.

Its rough but solid craftsmanship bespeaks straightforward functionality.

On a successful melee attack, you can command this weapon to emit a surge of magical energy.

Unless the target succeeds on a Fortitude save (DC 10 + 1/2 your character level + your Cha modifier), it is stunned for 1 round.

This ability is usable a number of times per day equal to 1+ your Charisma bonus (if any).

Once you activate this ability, it can't be activated by any other creature until the following day.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, hold monster.

Cost to Create: Varies.

STYGIAN

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) necromancy

Activation: Swift (mental)

This weapon is composed of a black crystal that seems to absorb the light around it.

When you activate a stygian weapon, the next successful attack you make before the end of your turn bestows one negative level on the target in addition to dealing normal damage.

This negative level lasts for 10 minutes, and thus can't result in a permanent level decrease.

A stygian weapon functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, enervation.

Cost to Create: Varies.

SUNDERING

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Melee weapon

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: —

Decorated with sculpted, imposing fists, this item seems denser than normal.

A sundering weapon allows you to attack as if you have the Improved Sunder feat, and it deals an extra 1d6 points of damage on a sunder attempt.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Improved Sunder, weapon of impact (SC 237) or metaphysical weapon (EPH 118).

Cost to Create: Varies.

SWEEPING

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Melee weapon

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: —

Images of clouds and gusting wind cover this strangely flexible weapon.

This property grants you a +2 competence bonus on any Strength check made to trip an opponent with the weapon.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, bull's strength.

Cost to Create: Varies.

TERRAN

Price: +2 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) evocation

Activation: —

This weapon appears to have been hewn from crystal.

Its grip is inlaid with gems in a circular design.

A terran weapon automatically overcomes the damage reduction of any creature that has the air subtype.

In addition, the weapon deals an extra 2d6 points of damage against such targets.

A terran weapon also bestows one negative level on any creature that has the air subtype and attempts to wield it.

The negative level remains as long as the weapon is in hand and disappears when it is no longer held.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the weapon is wielded.

Projectile weapons bestow this property upon their ammunition.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, earth subtype.

Cost to Create: Varies.

TRANSMUTING

Price: +2 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 13th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) transmutation

Activation: —

This odd-looking weapon has both sharp and blunt sections.

Its pommel or grip is set with a diamond, a piece of jet, a sapphire, and a ruby.

In addition, it is inlaid with both adamantine and silver.

When you score a successful hit with a transmuting weapon against a creature that has damage reduction, that attack is resolved normally.

At the start of your next turn, however, the weapon transforms, taking on the properties required to overcome that creature's damage reduction.

Once so changed, the weapon overcomes the designated type of damage reduction for 10 rounds, or until you strike a creature that has a different type of damage reduction.

In this case, the weapon transforms in the same manner to overcome that damage reduction instead.

If the target has multiple types of damage reduction, the weapon overcomes all of them.

If the creature gains a new type of damage reduction after initially being struck (from changing its form, for example), the weapon must change again before it can overcome the new type.

A transmuting weapon does not gain any other benefit of the properties it takes on, and it always deals normal damage.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, fabricate.

Cost to Create: Varies.

UNHOLY SURGE [SYNERGY]

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Melee weapon

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) evocation

Activation: — and swift (command)

Synergy Prerequisite: Unholy

This vile weapon is decorated with jagged spikes, skulls, and other macabre designs.

Characters who serve gods of murder, strife, and other base deeds craft these weapons of pure evil for themselves and for others who share their foul desires.

This weapon functions as an unholy weapon (DMG 226).

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

In addition, on a successful melee attack with an unholy surge weapon, you can command it to emit a burst of unholy energy, which deals an extra 3d6 points of damage to a good-aligned target.

If used against a non-good creature, it deals no additional damage, and that use of the ability is wasted.

This ability is usable a number of times per day equal to 1 + your Cha bonus (if any).

Once you activate this property, it can't be activated by any other creature until the following day.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, unholy blight or unholy word.

Cost to Create: Varies.

VAMPIRIC

Price: +2 bonus

Property: Melee weapon

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) necromancy

Activation: —

A gaping maw with elongated incisors adorns this weapon.

The fangs shimmer wetly.

A vampiric weapon deals an extra 1d6 points of damage to any living creature it hits, and you heal damage equal to this amount.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, vampiric touch.

Cost to Create: Varies.

VANISHING

Price: +8,000 gp

Property: Melee weapon

Caster Level: 10th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) conjuration

Activation: Swift (command)

The grip of this weapon is transparent, and its pommel or guard is set with white diamonds.

A vanishing weapon allows you to travel short distances instantaneously.

Once per day, after a successful melee attack, you can transport yourself and any equipment you are carrying to any spot within 60 feet by activating the weapon.

This movement otherwise conforms to the limitations given for the dimension door spell (PH 221).

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, dimension door.

Cost to Create: 4,000 gp, 320 XP, 8 days.

VENOMOUS

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) necromancy

Activation: Swift (command)

A carved snake coils around much of this weapon, its body tensed to strike.

When activated, a venomous weapon coats itself in injury poison (Fort DC 14, 1d4 Str/1d4 Str), which lasts for 1 minute or until your next successful attack with the weapon, whichever comes first.

A venomous weapon functions three times per day.

Projectile weapons bestow this property on their ammunition.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, poison.

Cost to Create: Varies.

WARNING

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation

Activation: —

Four glass eyes circle this weapon, each watching a different direction.

A warning weapon grants you a +5 insight bonus on initiative checks as long as it is held.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, cat's grace.
Cost to Create: Varies.

WEAKENING

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Weapon

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) necromancy

Activation: —

Macabre ornamentation and stretched bits of leather make this weapon look as though it were made from a shriveled limb.

When you score a critical hit with a weakening weapon, the target takes a -4 penalty to its Strength score (to a minimum score of 1) for 10 minutes.

Multiple strikes aren't cumulative.

Projectile weapons bestow this property upon their ammunition.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, ray of enfeeblement.

Cost to Create: Varies.

WHIRLING

Price: +1 bonus

Property: Slashing melee weapon

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) transmutation

Activation: Full-round (mental)

The hilt of this weapon is twisted into a corkscrew design, and its blade is dramatically curved.

Three times per day, you can use this weapon to make a whirling attack that has a chance of striking all nearby opponents.

Instead of making your regular attacks, you instead make one melee attack at your full attack bonus against each opponent within reach of the weapon.

This property otherwise functions like the Whirlwind Attack feat.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, haste.

Cost to Create: Varies.

MAGIC OF FAERÛN (3.0)

ACIDIC BURST

An acidic burst weapon functions as a corrosive weapon that also explodes with acid upon striking a successful critical hit.

The acid does not harm the hands that hold the weapon.

Acidic burst weapons deal +1d10 points of bonus acid damage on a successful critical hit.

If the weapon's critical multiplier is  $\times 3$ , add +2d10 points of bonus acid damage instead, and if the multiplier is  $\times 4$ , add +3d10 points of bonus acid damage.

Bows, crossbows, and slings with this ability bestow the acid energy upon their ammunition.

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, acid fog, acid storm, Melf's acid arrow, or storm of vengeance; Market Price: +2 bonus.

CORROSIVE

Upon command, a corrosive weapon becomes slick with a thick layer of acidic fluid (the wielder takes no damage from this effect).

Corrosive weapons deal +1d6 points of bonus acid damage on a successful hit.

Bows, crossbows, and slings with this ability bestow the acid energy upon their ammunition.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, acid fog, acid storm, Melf's acid arrow, or storm of vengeance; Market Price: +1 bonus.

DISARMING

A disarming weapon has one special purpose: Disarming the bearer's opponent.

It eliminates the opponent's bonuses for both weapon size and two-handed weapons.

This type of weapon also adds +1 to the bearer's attack roll for purposes of the disarm attempt; this bonus does not apply to any other attack roll.

Other rules applicable to disarming an opponent remain intact.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor; Market Price: +2 bonus.

DISPELLING

Once per day, the weapon can be used to make a melee touch attack that acts as a targeted dispel magic against the creature or object touched.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, dispel magic; Market Price: +1 bonus.

DOMINEERING

Anyone attacking the wielder of a domineering weapon in melee combat must succeed at a Will save (DC 16) or fight defensively (-4 penalty on attacks, +2 dodge bonus to AC).

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, fear; Market Price: +3 bonus.

DOOMWARDING

Sometimes bestowed on adventurers favored by the church of Tymora, these weapons usually are created with 7 charges.

The wielder can spend 1 charge on his or her turn to gain an extra partial action.

The wielder can also use 1 charge at any time during a round to reroll any die.

(The wielder can spend a maximum of 2 charges a round, 1 for a partial action and 1 for a reroll).

The wielder gets to know the result of a roll before deciding to take a reroll.

Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, limited wish; Market Price: +3 bonus +1,500 gp; Cost to Create: +3 bonus +300 XP.

Elemental Aura: Any weapon enhanced by this special property may add an additional amount of damage from fire, or sonic), exactly as described under the flaming special property, including bestowing an additional 1d6 points of damage of the appropriate elemental subtype on a normal hit.

Determining the weapon's elemental aura is a free action that may be taken no more than once per round (thus, you can't change the subtype between attacks in the same round).

Bows, crossbows, and slings with this ability bestow the energy upon their ammunition.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, blindness/deafness, chill metal, flame blade, lightning bolt, Melf's acid arrow; Market Price: +3 bonus.

EVERBRIGHT

The sun elven smiths of Evermeet know the secret of forging everbright into blades.

These weapons are as bright and shiny as polished silver.

They never tarnish and are immune to corrosive attacks.

The weapon flashes with a brilliant light up to twice per day upon the command of the wielder.

All within 20 feet except the wielder must make a Reflex saving throw (DC 14) or be blinded for 1d4 rounds.

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Create Magic Arms and Armor, blindness/deafness, searing light; Market Price: +2 bonus.

FLYING

A flying weapon can fly at speed 30 feet and is treated as an animated object with hardness and hit points equal to a typical weapon of its kind.

A flying weapon follows orders subject to the limits of its ability (it has no Intelligence) but can be ordered to guard a location just as an animated skeleton can.

Only melee weapons can have the flying ability.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, animate objects, fly, or telekinesis; Market Price: +1 bonus.

IMPACT

Any bludgeoning weapon enhanced by this ability has its threat range doubled.

For example, a quarterstaff thus enhanced scores a threat on a 19–20, and a heavy flail scores a threat on a 17–20.

This enhancement does not affect piercing or slashing weapons.

(If you roll this property for an inappropriate weapon, reroll).

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, weapon of impact; Market Price: +1 bonus.

JUMPING

When grasped, the weapon acts as a ring of feather falling.

Once every other round, the wielder can jump with a +30 bonus on the jump check.

The character's height does not limit the distance jumped.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, jump, mage hand; Market Price: Add +13,750 gp.

KNOCKBACK

A weapon enhanced by this property has the ability to drive its targets back.

On a successful hit, the target of the attack must succeed at a Fortitude save (DC 19) or be knocked back 10 feet.

(If the target can't move back 10 feet, it instead falls to the ground).

If the first save fails, the target must succeed at another Fortitude save (DC 19) or be stunned for 1 round.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, repulsion; Market Price: +3 bonus.

MERCIFUL

The weapon deals +1d6 points of damage, and all the damage it deals is subdual damage.

On command, the weapon suppresses this ability until commanded to resume it.

Bows, crossbows, and slings with this ability bestow the merciful effect on their ammunition.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, cure light wounds; Market Price: +1 bonus.

PRECISE

This property can only be placed on a ranged weapon.

A precise weapon can be shot or thrown at an opponent engaged in melee without suffering the standard –4 penalty (as the Precise Shot feat).

This doesn't grant any special power to those who already have the Precise Shot feat.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Precise Shot; Market Price: +1 bonus.

QUICK-LOADING

This property may only be placed on a crossbow.

A quick-loading crossbow accesses an extradimensional space that can hold up to 100 bolts, allowing the wielder to reload the crossbow more rapidly than normal.

Reloading a quick-loading hand or light crossbow is a free action (allowing a character with multiple attacks to use his full attack rate), while reloading a quick-loading heavy crossbow is a move-equivalent action.

Adding or removing a bolt by hand from the extradimensional space requires a move-equivalent action. Different types of bolts can be held in the extradimensional space, and the wielder may select freely from these when reloading the crossbow.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Leomund's secret chest, shrink item; Market Price: +2 bonus.

RADIANT HOLDING

This property (sometimes employed by wizard's guards in the Old Empires) can only be placed on ranged weapon ammunition.

A radiant holding projectile turns into a pulse of silvery radiance when shot.

Any attack with such a projectile is a ranged touch attack.

The projectile inflicts 1 point of force damage (instead of its normal damage), but the target must also make a Will save (DC 17) or be held (as the hold monster spell).

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, magic missile, hold monster; Market Price: +3 bonus.

SCREAMING

Upon command, a screaming weapon emits a low hum that is grating on the ears but does not harm the wielder.

Screaming weapons that hit produce a louder high-pitched sound and deal +1d6 points of bonus sonic damage on a successful hit.

Bows, crossbows, and slings with this ability bestow the sonic energy upon their ammunition.

Screaming weapons do inflict this bonus damage within a silence spell.

Screaming weapons do not have any additional adverse effects upon creatures that use enhanced hearing, although such creatures dislike screaming weapons.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, shout or sound burst; Market Price: +1 bonus.

SEEKING

Only ranged weapons can have the seeking ability.

The weapon veers toward the target, negating any miss chances that would apply because of concealment.

(The wielder still has to aim the weapon at the target.)

Arrows mistakenly shot into an empty space, for example, do not veer and hit invisible enemies, even if they are nearby).

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, true seeing; Market Price: +1 bonus.

SPELLBLADE

The wielder is immune to a single spell chosen at the time the weapon is created.

The chosen spell must be one that is targeted against the wielder (not a spell that affects an area).

When the wielder is subjected to the spell, the weapon absorbs the spell.

On the wielder's next turn, she can opt to let the spell drain harmlessly away or direct the spell at a new target as a free action.

Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, spell turning; Market Price: +1 bonus.

SURE STRIKING

A sure striking weapon harms creatures with damage reduction as if it had a +5 enhancement bonus.

Bows, crossbows, and slings cannot have the sure striking ability.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, greater magic weapon; Market Price: +1 bonus.

SWEEPING

This property grants a +4 bonus on any Strength checks the wielder makes as part of an attempt to trip an opponent with the weapon.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, bull's strength; Market Price: +1 bonus.

VAMPIRIC

Any living opponent struck by a vampiric weapon must make a Fortitude save (DC 16) or lose an additional 1d4 hit points, which are immediately added to the wielder's current hit point total.

Any hit points above the wielder's maximum are treated as temporary hit points (multiple additions of temporary hit points don't stack) and disappear after 1 hour.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, vampiric touch; Market Price: +2 bonus.

VENOMOUS

Once per day, a venomous weapon can inflict a poison spell (DC 14) upon a creature struck by the weapon (or projectile) once per day.

The wielder can decide to use the power after he has struck. Doing so is a free action, but the poison spell must be inflicted on the same round that the weapon (or projectile) strikes.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, poison; Market Price: +1 bonus.

WARNING

The wielder of a warning weapon never loses his Dexterity bonus to AC if caught flat-footed (just as if he had the uncanny dodge ability).

This doesn't stack with any other form of the uncanny dodge ability.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, uncanny dodge ability; Market Price: +1 bonus.

MAGIC OF INCARNUM (3.5)

SOULBOUND WEAPON

A soulbound weapon allows its wearer to invest essentia to improve his ability to hit and deal damage.

Description: Soulbound weapons have no special appearance except when essentia is invested in them, at which point they crackle with faintly visible blue sparks.

Prerequisite: Anyone can wield a soulbound weapon, though only those with an essentia pool can take advantage of its full benefit.

Activation: Investing essentia in or reallocating essentia invested in a soulbound weapon is part of the swift action required to invest or reallocate essentia.

Effect: A soulbound weapon serves as a receptacle for the wearer's essentia much like a soulmeld.

Every point of essentia invested in the weapon increases its enhancement bonus on attack rolls and damage rolls by 1, up to a maximum of +5.

Soulbound weapons have an essentia capacity.

Lesser soulbound weapons have a maximum essentia capacity of 2, while greater soulbound weapons have a maximum essentia capacity of 4.

The maximum value of essentia that can be invested in the weapon is equal to this capacity or the character's normal essentia capacity (see Table 2–1: Essentia Capacity), whichever is less.

Chakra Bind: A soulbound weapon grants extra power if you bind it to your arms, brow, or hands chakra. Each day, you must choose one of the following benefits for which you qualify; you cannot change your decision until 24 hours have passed.

Arms: The wearer gains a +2 insight bonus on rolls made to confirm critical hits with the weapon.

Brow: Once per round, if you miss because of concealment, you can reroll your miss chance percentile roll one time to see if you actually hit.

Hands: You gain a +2 insight bonus on initiative checks while the weapon is held.

Aura and Caster Level: Moderate transmutation (lesser) or strong transmutation (greater); CL 6th (lesser) or 18th (greater).

Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, magic weapon, essentia pool 2 (lesser) or 4 (greater).

Weight: As normal for weapon.

Price: +1 bonus (lesser) or +3 bonus (greater).

MASTERS OF THE WILD (3.0)

EXHAUSTING

A weapon with this ability deals +1d6 points of damage with each successful hit.

However, all the damage it deals (the normal amount for a weapon of its kind plus all applicable bonuses) is subdual rather than normal damage.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so enchanted bestow the exhausting effect upon their ammunition.

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, soften earth and stone; Market Price: +1 bonus.

HUNTING

When used by a ranger against a favored enemy, a hunting weapon doubles the wielder's favored enemy bonus on weapon damage rolls.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, greater magic fang; Market Price: +1 bonus.

OPPOSABLE

Even a creature that lacks the proper hands for weapon use can wield an opposable weapon.

This enchantment creates one or more thumb-like projections on the weapon.

These artificial "thumbs" fold around the appropriate limb of the wielder to allow proper use.

To wield an opposable weapon, a creature must be corporeal, have limbs, have proficiency with the weapon, and be able to stand without the limb(s) that wield the opposable weapon.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, greater magic fang; Market Price: +1 bonus.

MINIATURES HANDBOOK (3.5)

DEADLY PRECISION

A weapon with this ability deals an extra 2d6 points of damage when its wielder makes a successful sneak attack. This ability does not bestow the ability to make sneak attacks upon a user who does not already have it. Strong enchantment; CL 12th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, keen edge; Price +2 bonus.

DOOM BURST

A cascade of blackness pours from this weapon when its wielder strikes true.

On a successful critical hit, the weapon causes the victim to become shaken (no saving throw) for 5 minutes.

This effect activates even if the creature struck is not subject to critical hits (roll to see if a critical hit occurs, then apply the shaken effect if appropriate).

A creature that is already shaken is not affected (aside from the critical hit damage).

Faint necromancy; CL 5th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor; doom; Price +1 bonus.

FEAR BURST

A horrific vision of impending death rises out of the weapon when its wielder strikes true.

On a successful critical hit, the weapon afflicts the target with cause fear (Will DC 11 negates).

This effect activates even if the creature struck is not subject to critical hits (roll to see if a critical hit occurs, then apply the fear effect if appropriate), but it does not affect creatures immune to mind-affecting spells.

Faint necromancy; CL 5th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor; cause fear; Price +1 bonus.

MAIMING

A weapon with this special ability twists and digs into the flesh of the creatures it strikes true.

This weapon has a random multiplier for critical hits.

If the weapon normally has a ×2 critical multiplier, roll 1d4 each time you successfully score a critical hit to determine your multiplier.

For weapons with a ×3 multiplier, roll 1d6 to determine the new multiplier.

For a ×4 multiplier, roll 1d8.

Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor; keen edge; Price +1 bonus.

PARALYTIC BURST

A wave of green energy washes over the victim of this weapon when its wielder strikes true.

On a successful critical hit, the weapon afflicts the target with hold monster (Will DC 17 negates).

This effect activates even if the creature struck is not subject to critical hits (roll to see if a critical hit occurs, then apply the hold monster effect if appropriate).
Moderate enchantment; CL 9th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, hold monster; Price +2 bonus.

PRISMATIC BURST

A multicolored beam of light plays over the victim of this weapon when its wielder strikes true.
On a successful critical hit, the weapon strikes the target with a prismatic spray effect (save DC 20).
This effect activates even if the creature struck is not subject to critical hits (roll to see if a critical hit occurs, then apply the prismatic spray effect if appropriate).
Strong evocation; CL 13th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, prismatic spray; Price +3 bonus.

SLOW BURST

A chill aura numbs this weapon's victim when its wielder strikes true.
On a successful critical hit, the weapon afflicts the target with a slow effect (Will DC 14 negates).
This effect activates even if the creature struck is not subject to critical hits (roll to see if a critical hit occurs, then apply the slow effect if appropriate).
Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, slow; Price +1 bonus.

SONIC

Upon command, a sonic weapon is surrounded with waves of sound energy.
The sonic energy does not harm the wielder.
The effect remains until another command is given.
A sonic weapon deals an extra 1d4 points of sonic damage on a successful hit.
Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the sonic energy upon their ammunition.
Moderate evocation; CL 8th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, sound burst; Price +1 bonus.

SONIC BURST

A sonic burst weapon functions as a sonic weapon that also explodes with sonic energy upon striking a successful critical hit.
If the weapon normally has a  $\times 2$  critical multiplier, add an extra 1d8 points of sonic damage each time you successfully score a critical hit.
For weapons with a  $\times 3$  multiplier, add 2d8 points of sonic damage; for a  $\times 4$  multiplier, add 3d8 points of sonic damage.
Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the sonic energy upon their ammunition.
This effect activates even if the creature struck is not subject to critical hits (roll to see if a critical hit occurs, then apply the extra damage if appropriate).
Even if the sonic ability is not active, the weapon still deals its extra sonic damage on a successful critical hit.
Strong evocation; CL 12th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, sound burst; Price +2 bonus.

MONSTER MANUAL 2 (3.0)

GREATER WOUNDING

A wound inflicted by a weapon of greater wounding bleeds for 2 points of damage per round thereafter, in addition to the normal damage the weapon deals.
Multiple wounds from the weapon result in cumulative bleeding loss (two wounds deal 4 points of damage per round, and so on).
The bleeding can be stopped only by a successful Heal check (DC 15) or the application of a cure spell or some other healing spell (heal, healing circle, and so on).
Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Mordenkainen's sword; Market Price: +4 bonus.

ORIENTAL ADVENTURES (3.0)

AGILITY

An agility weapon gives its wielder a +2, +4, or +6 resistance bonus on all Reflex saving throws made while holding the weapon.
Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, resistance, caster level must be three times weapon's bonus; Market Price: +2,000 gp (+2), +8,000 gp (+4), or +18,000 gp (+6).

BALANCE

A balance weapon gives its wielder a +8 competence bonus on all Balance checks while carrying the weapon.
Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, cat's grace; Market Price: +1,280 gp.

BLURRING

This weapon makes its wielder appear blurred and hazy, just like the blur spell.
It functions whenever the weapon is held.
Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, blur; Market Price: +50,000 gp.

DISPLACEMENT

This weapon makes its wielder appear to be standing right next to his actual location, just like the displacement spell.
It functions whenever the weapon is held.
Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, displacement; Market Price: +100,000 gp.

FLYING

Up to three times a day, by holding the weapon aloft in one hand and speaking the command word, the wielder can fly for up to 50 minutes, almost as if using the fly spell.
The weapon pulls the character through the air, so the character cannot use the arm holding the weapon while flying.

The character need not hold the weapon in his primary hand, and can use his free hand to attack or perform other actions.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, fly; Market Price: +16,200 gp.

FOCUS

This enchantment can only be placed on a katana.

A focus weapon adds a +4 insight bonus to the wielder's Iaijutsu Focus checks while carrying the weapon, even if the weapon is sheathed.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, true strike; Market Price: +640 gp.

FURIOUS

A furious weapon enhances the rage of a character with that class ability (including a barbarian, a Hida defender, a singh rager, or a Moto avenger).

When raging and wielding the furious weapon, the bonuses granted by the rage increase to +6 Strength, +6 Constitution, and +3 on Will saves.

If the character has the greater rage ability (or its equivalent), these bonuses rise to +8 Strength, +8 Constitution, and +4 on Will saves.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, emotion; Market Price: +2 bonus.

HONORABLE

An honorable weapon is imbued with the spiritual essence of a samurai's honor.

It deals +2d6 bonus points of damage against dishonorable characters and creatures, including all the following: creatures of nongood and nonlawful alignment, creatures with the Shadowlands Taint or the Shadowlands subtype, and samurai who have violated their code of conduct and lost their class abilities.

It bestows one negative level on any dishonorable creature attempting to wield it.

The negative level remains as long as the weapon is in hand and disappears when the weapon is no longer wielded.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the weapon is wielded.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so enchanted bestow the honorable power upon their ammunition.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, castigate, creator must be lawful neutral or lawful good; Market Price: +2 bonus.

INITIATIVE

An initiative weapon gives its bearer a +2 luck bonus on initiative checks made while carrying the weapon.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, haste; Market Price: +20,000 gp.

KUNI CRYSTAL

Made by the Kuni family of the Crab clan, crystal weapons are powerfully enchanted against Shadowlands creatures.

When a creature with the Shadowlands Taint is within 30 feet of a Kuni crystal weapon, the weapon glows with a powerful white aura out to a radius of 5 feet × the weapon's enhancement bonus.

This aura illuminates the area as bright as a daylight spell, and can keep Shadowlands creatures (including monsters with the Shadowlands descriptor and characters infected with the Shadowlands Taint) at bay.

To enter the area of the aura, a Shadowlands creature must win an opposed level check (1d20 + level) against the weapon's wielder.

To this special level check, the Shadowlands creature adds its Taint score, and the wielder adds the weapon's enhancement bonus.

If the weapon's bearer moves so that the Shadowlands creature is within the aura, the creature is unharmed and no die roll is required.

A crystal weapon deals +2d6 bonus points of holy (good) damage against Shadowlands creatures.

It also deals 2d6 points of holy damage to any Shadowlands creature attempting to wield it.

Oni cannot regenerate damage dealt by a crystal weapon, and their damage reduction does not apply to crystal weapons, even if the weapon's enhancement bonus is lower than would normally be required to hit the oni.

This ability cannot be added to an existing weapon (such as a samurai's katana) that is not made of crystal.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Craft Crystal Weapon, holy smite or jade strike, daylight, creator cannot have any Shadowlands Taint; Market Price: +3 bonus.

Note: Mundane weapons made out of crystal, or crystal weapons enchanted (magically or psionically) by means other than the Craft Crystal Weapon feat, have no special properties against Shadowlands creatures.

MIGHTY SMITING

A mighty smiting weapon allows a wielder with a smite ability (such as smite, smite evil, or smite Shadowlands) to use that ability one extra time per day, as long as the mighty smiting weapon is used for all smite attacks.

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, divine power; Market Price: +1 bonus.

PASSAGE

Once per day, a passage weapon can slice open a portal into the Spirit World.

This works as the plane shift spell, but creates a portal that remains open for 1d4 minutes and then closes.

Any creature can pass through the portal, in either direction, while it is open, but once it closes it cannot be opened again.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, plane shift; Market Price: +32,400 gp.

SILENT MOVES

A silent moves weapon gives a +10 circumstance bonus on its owner's Move Silently checks when it is carried.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, silence; Market Price: +4,000 gp.

TAINTED

A Tainted weapon is corrupted with the Shadowlands Taint.

It deals +1d6 bonus points of damage against honorable characters and creatures, including all creatures of lawful good, lawful neutral, or neutral good alignment. Each time it deals this extra damage, the wielder must make a Fortitude save (DC 15 + bonus damage dealt) or increase his Taint score by 1.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so enchanted bestow the Tainted power upon their ammunition.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, castigate, creator must be lawful neutral or lawful good; Market Price: +2 bonus.

TAINT RESISTANT

A Taint resistant weapon usually has jade inlay on the hilt, blade, or other part of the weapon.

This jade does not decay in the presence of the Shadowlands Taint, and gives its wielder a +4 resistance bonus on Fortitude saves made to resist the Taint while carrying the weapon.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, resistance, creator cannot have any Shadowlands Taint; Market Price: +8,000 gp.

PLANAR HANDBOOK (3.5)

AQUAN

An aquan weapon is imbued with the water-dominant planar trait.

This power grants the weapon the ability to overcome the damage reduction of any creature with the fire subtype (regardless of what the damage reduction normally specifies).

It deals an extra 2d6 points of damage against creatures with the fire subtype.

It bestows one negative level on any fire creature attempting to wield it.

The negative level remains as long as the weapon is in hand and disappears when the weapon is no longer wielded.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the weapon is wielded.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the aquan special ability upon their ammunition.

Moderate evocation; CL 7th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, creator must be of the water subtype; Price +2 bonus.

AURAN

An auran weapon is imbued with the air-dominant planar trait.

This power grants the weapon the ability to overcome the damage reduction of any creature with the earth subtype (regardless of what the damage reduction normally specifies).

It deals an extra 2d6 points of damage against creatures with the earth subtype.

It bestows one negative level on any earth creature attempting to wield it.

The negative level remains as long as the weapon is in hand and disappears when the weapon is no longer wielded.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the weapon is wielded.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the auran special ability upon their ammunition.

Moderate evocation; CL 7th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, creator must be of the air subtype; Price +2 bonus.

CONSUMPTIVE

Upon command, a consumptive weapon is sheathed in light-sucking negative energy.

The energy does not harm the wielder.

The effect remains until another command is given.

A consumptive weapon deals an extra 1d6 points of damage on a successful hit.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the energy upon their ammunition.

Moderate necromancy; CL 7th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, enervation; Price +2 bonus.

CONSUMPTIVE BURST

A consumptive burst weapon functions as a consumptive weapon that also flares with excess negative energy upon striking a successful critical hit.

The negative energy does not harm the wielder.

In addition to the extra negative energy damage from the consumptive ability, a consumptive burst weapon bestows one negative level.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the effect upon their ammunition.

Even if the consumptive ability is not active, the weapon still bestows one negative level on a successful critical hit. Moderate necromancy; CL 7th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, enervation; Price +3 bonus.

IGNAN

An ignan weapon is imbued with the fire-dominant planar trait.

This power grants the weapon the ability to overcome the damage reduction of any creature with the water subtype (regardless of what the damage reduction normally specifies).

It deals an extra 2d6 points of damage against creatures with the water subtype.

It bestows one negative level on any water creature attempting to wield it.

The negative level remains as long as the weapon is in hand and disappears when the weapon is no longer wielded.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the weapon is wielded.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the ignan special ability upon their ammunition.

Moderate evocation; CL 7th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, creator must be of the fire subtype; Price +2 bonus.

IMPEDANCE

An impedance weapon mimics the impeded magic planar trait.

When the wielder strikes a creature that uses spells or spell-like abilities, that creature's ability to use its spells is impeded for 1d6 rounds.

To cast an impeded spell or use an impeded spell-like ability, the creature must make a Spellcraft check, Intelligence check, or Charisma check (whatever is most beneficial to the creature) against a DC of 15 + the level of the spell.

If the check fails, the spell does not function but is still lost as a prepared spell or a use of a spell-like ability.

If the check succeeds, the spell functions normally.

Moderate abjuration; CL 11th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, antimagical field; Price +3 bonus.

TERRAN

A terran weapon is imbued with the earth-dominant planar trait.

This power grants the weapon the ability to overcome the damage reduction of any creature with the air subtype (regardless of what the damage reduction normally specifies).

It deals an extra 2d6 points of damage against creatures with the air subtype.

It bestows one negative level on any air creature attempting to wield it.

The negative level remains as long as the weapon is in hand and disappears when the weapon is no longer wielded.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the weapon is wielded.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the terran power upon their ammunition.

Moderate evocation; CL 7th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, creator must be of the earth subtype; Price +2 bonus.

PLAYER'S GUIDE TO FAERÛN (3.5)

DISPELLING

Once per day as a free action, the wielder of a dispelling weapon can use a targeted dispel magic effect upon a creature the weapon strikes.

The wielder can decide to use this power after the blow has landed, but the dispel magic must be used in the same round that the weapon strikes.

Faint abjuration; CL 5th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, dispel magic; Price 6,000 gp.

DISPELLING, GREATER

Three times per day as a free action, the wielder of a greater dispelling weapon can use a targeted greater dispel magic effect upon a creature the weapon strikes.

The wielder can decide to use this power after the blow has landed, but the greater dispel magic must be used in the same round that the weapon strikes.

Moderate abjuration; CL 11th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, greater dispel magic; Price 79,200 gp.

DOMINEERING

A creature hit by a domineering weapon must make a DC 16 Will save or become shaken.

Moderate enchantment; CL 11th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, fear; Price +2 bonus.

DOOMWARDING

Weapons with this ability are sometimes bestowed on adventurers favored by the church of Tymora.

Typically, each is created with 7 charges.

The wielder can spend 1 charge on his turn (as a free action) to make an extra attack with the weapon.

She can also use 1 charge at any time, but no more than once per round, to reroll any die.

The wielder can decide to spend a charge to reroll a die after learning the result of the original die roll.

Strong transmutation; CL 13th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, limited wish; Price 38,500 gp; Cost 14,000 gp + 3,220 XP.

SPELLBLADE

The wielder of a spellblade weapon is immune to a single spell chosen at the time the weapon is created.

The selected spell must be one that is targeted against the wielder, not one that affects an area or creates an effect.

When the wielder is next subjected to the chosen spell, the weapon absorbs it.

On his next turn, he can opt to either let the spell drain harmlessly away or direct it at a new target as a free action.

Strong abjuration; CL 13th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, spell turning; Price 6,000 gp.

SURE STRIKING

A sure striking weapon overcomes damage reduction as though it were aligned chaotic, evil, good, or lawful—whichever is most appropriate for the foe.

Moderate transmutation; CL 6th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, align weapon; Price +1 bonus.

POWER OF FAERÛN (3.5)

SHADOWSCOURGE

A shadowscourge weapon excels at attacking creatures with ties to the Plane of Shadow.

Such creatures include, but are not limited to, gloamings, krinths, malaugrym, nightshades, shadar-kai, shades, shadows, shadowswyfts, shadow asps, shadow dragons, shadow mastiffs, shadow spiders, shadurakul, and creatures with the shadow template.

Against such foes, its effective enhancement bonus is +2 better than its normal enhancement bonus (so a +1 longsword is a +3 longsword against its foe).

It deals an extra 2d6 points of damage against the foe. Bows, crossbows, and slings so created bestow the shadowscourge quality upon their ammunition. Moderate conjuration; CL 8th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, daylight; Price +1 bonus.

PSIONICS HANDBOOK (3.0)

BODY FEEDER

All feeder weapons have a special ability that functions on scoring a successful critical hit.

A body feeder weapon grants its wielder temporary hit points equal to the total damage dealt by a successful critical hit.

These temporary hit points last 10 minutes.

Manifester Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, claws of the vampire, metaphysical weapon; Market Price: +2 bonus.

CHARGED

Upon command, this weapon glows from the inside with lethal psionic energy.

The energy does not harm the hands that hold the weapon. Charged weapons deal, +1d4 points of bonus damage on a successful hit.

Bows, crossbows, and slings bestow the energy upon their ammunition.

Manifester Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, Psionic Weapon, metaphysical weapon; Market Price: +1 bonus.

COUP DE GRACE

Coup de grace weapons are exceptionally dangerous.

Once per day, the wielder can use a full attack action to make one attack that, if it hits, strikes the foe as if the wielder had delivered a coup de grace (see Chapter 8 of the Player's Handbook).

On a miss, the use is wasted for the day.

Bows, crossbows, and slings bestow this power on their ammunition.

Manifester Level: 18th; Prerequisites: Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, Deep Impact, greater domination; Market Price: +5 bonus.

DISLOCATOR

The wielder of this weapon can attempt to dislocate a designated foe up to three times per day.

On a successful hit, the foe must succeed at a Will save (DC 17) or be teleported 1–100 miles in a random direction. If the weapon misses, the use is wasted.

Bows, crossbows, and dings bestow this power on their ammunition.

Manifester Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, teleport; Market Price: +3 bonus.

DISSIPATER

This weapon is devastating to creatures and objects composed of or originally formed from ectoplasm (such as astral constructs, walls of ectoplasm, creatures in ectoplasmic form, and items created using the Metacreativity discipline). Against qualifying targets, a dissipater weapon ignores damage reduction and treats all successful hits as critical hits.

Manifester Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, dismiss ectoplasm; Market Price: +1 bonus.

GREAT DISLOCATOR

The wielder of this weapon can attempt to dislocate a designated foe up to three times per day.

On a successful hit, the foe must succeed at a Will save (DC 20) or be cast into a random alternate plane of existence (such as the Astral Plane, the Plane of Shadow, or even the Abyss).

If the weapon misses, the use is wasted.

Bows, crossbows, and slings bestow their effects upon their ammunition.

Manifester Level: 18th; Prerequisites: Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, plane shift; Market Price: +4 bonus.

IMPACT

Impact weapons psionically increase their own mass at the end point of each swing or shot.

Such weapons deal +2 points of bonus damage on each successful strike, in addition to the weapon's enhancement bonus.

Bows, crossbows, and slings bestow the bonus damage upon their ammunition.

Manifester Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, matter rearrangement; Market Price: +1 bonus.

LUCKY

A lucky weapon offers a second chance at success.

Once per day, the wielder can reroll a failed attack roll (whether a single attack or one in a series of multiple attacks) as a free action.

The rerolled attack uses the same bonuses or penalties as the missed roll.

Manifester Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, fate of one; Market Price: +1 bonus.

MANIFESTER

This weapon must have at least one other special quality with a specified number of uses per day.

It allows the wielder to use that ability more often than otherwise allowed.

For each additional use, the wielder pays 5 power points as a standard action.

Power storing weapons (see below) with this quality do not lose the power stored—unless the wielder so desires—but instead allow the wielder to manifest that power over and over by paying power points commensurate with the level of the power stored.

Bows, crossbows, and slings bestow this ability upon their ammunition if the wielder makes the same power point payment.

Manifester Level: 18th; Prerequisites: Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, psychic chirurgery; Market Price: +4 bonus.

MINDCRUSHER

Any psionic creature struck in combat by this weapon loses a number of power points equal to the points of damage dealt.

A creature that is out of power or a psionic creature that freely manifests its powers, must succeed at a Will save (DC 17) or take 1d2 points of temporary Wisdom damage.

Manifester Level: 14th; Prerequisites: Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, disarm mind; Market Price: +2 bonus.

MIND FEEDER

All feeder weapons have a special ability that functions on scoring a successful critical hit.

A mind feeder weapon grants its wielder temporary power points equal to the total damage dealt by a successful critical hit.

These temporary power points last 10 minutes.

The wielder gains power points even if the target has none (its hit points are converted).

Manifester Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, metaphysical weapon, psychic vampire; Market Price: +2 bonus.

PARRYING

The weapon perceives an instant into the future, and of its own accord parries melee and ranged attacks aimed at the wielder, granting a +1 insight bonus to the wielder's Armor class.

The bonus is granted whenever the wielder holds the weapon, even if flat-footed.

Manifester Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, combat precognition; Market Price: +1 bonus.

POWER STORING

A power storing weapon allows a manifester to store a single targeted psionic power of up to 3rd level in the weapon.

(The power must have a manifestation time of 1 action).

Any time the weapon strikes a creature and the creature takes damage from it, the weapon can immediately manifest the power on that creature as a free action if the wielder desires.

(This ability is a special exception to the general rule that manifesting a power from an item takes at least as long as manifesting that power normally).

Once the power has been manifested, the weapon is empty, and a manifester can imbue any other targeted power of up to 3rd level into it.

The weapon telepathically whispers to the wearer the name of the power currently stored within it.

A randomly rolled power storing weapon has a 50% chance to have a power stored in it already.

Psionic attack modes cannot be stored.

Manifester Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, creator must be a manifester of at least 12th level; Market Price: +1 bonus.

PSIBANE

A psibane weapon is crafted to oppose psionic beings. It deals +2d6 points of bonus damage against all psionic opponents.

It bestows one negative level on any psionic creature attempting to wield it.

This negative level remains as long as the weapon is in hand and disappears when the weapon is no longer wielded.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way while the weapon is wielded.

Psibane bows, crossbows, and slings bestow this ability upon their ammunition.

Manifester Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, concussion; Market Price: +2 bonus.

PSYCHIC

A psychic weapon's power depends on its wielder.

In the hands of a nonpsionic creature, it possesses the qualities of a mundane weapon of its type.

When wielded by a psionic creature, however, the weapon's abilities are revealed and become functional, based on the wielder's current power point reserve.

The enhancement bonus and special abilities noted below do not stack: A wielder with 15+ power points doesn't also have access to powers revealed at lower reserves.

Available abilities cannot exceed a +2 bonus to market price, as noted below.

The DM chooses or rolls randomly on Table 7–5: Melee Weapon Special Abilities.

Once a bonus ability is revealed, it is "locked in".

Power Point Reserve	Enhancement Bonus	Special Ability
1+	+1	None
5+	+1	One +1 bonus ability
15+	+2	One +1 bonus ability
30+	+2	Two +1 bonus abilities
50+	+3	Two +1 bonus abilities
80+	+3	Two +1, one +2 bonus abilities
130+	+4	Two +1, one +2 bonus abilities

Manifester Level: 18th; Prerequisites: Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, emulate power, metaphysical weapon, and powers specifically imprinted; Market Price: +5 bonus.

PSYCHOKINETIC BURST

This weapon releases a blast of destructive psionic energy upon striking a successful critical hit.

Psychokinetic burst weapons deal +1d10 points of bonus damage on a successful critical hit.

If the weapon's critical multiplier is  $\times 3$ , add +2d10 points of bonus damage instead, and if the multiplier is  $\times 4$ , add +3d10 points of bonus damage.

Bows, crossbows, and slings bestow the energy upon their ammunition.

Manifester Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, concussion, metaphysical weapon; Market Price: +2 bonus.

SOUL FEEDER

All feeder weapons have a special ability that functions on scoring a successful critical hit.

On a successful critical hit, a soul feeder weapon bestows one negative level on the foe.

One day after being struck, the subject must succeed at a Fortitude save (DC 18) for each negative level or lose a character level.

Manifester Level: 14th; Prerequisites: Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, metaphysical weapon, mind wipe; Market Price: +3 bonus.

SUNDERING

This weapon allows a wielder with the Sunder feat to attack opponents' weapons as if with the Great Sunder feat.

Only one such attempt is allowed per round.

Manifester Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, Great Sunder, lesser metaphysical weapon; Market Price: +1 bonus.

SUPPRESSION

An opponent or object struck by this weapon is subject to a targeted negate psionics power (see the entry in Chapter 5: Powers).

The wielder makes a power check at 1d20 +5 + manifester level (maximum +15) against a DC of 11 + the power to be negated's manifester level.

Bows, crossbows, and slings bestow the negating effect upon their ammunition but may only do so three times per day.

Manifester Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, negate psionics; Market Price: +2 bonus.

TELEPORTING

This ability can only be imbedded in weapons that can be thrown.

A teleporting weapon returns through the Astral plane to the creature that threw it.

It teleports into the throwing creature's empty hand on the round following the round that it was thrown, just before that creature's turn.

It is therefore ready to use again that turn.

Manifester Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, dimension door; Market Price: +1 bonus.

RACES OF FAERÛN (3.0)

BERSERKER

A berserker weapon is particularly valuable to barbarians and other creatures who can enter a rage.

When the wielder is raging, the weapon's enhancement bonus increases by +2.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, divine power or emotion; Market Price: +1 bonus.

HORNBLADE

This special ability was developed by gnomes and halflings to allow them to use larger weapons.

In the hands of a halfling or gnome, a hornblade weapon is treated as one size category smaller than its actual size for the purpose of determining if the weapon is light, one-handed, two-handed, or too large to use (see Chapter 7 of the Player's Handbook).

For example, a Medium longsword is normally a two-handed weapon for a Small creature, but if it were a hornblade longsword it would be treated as a Small weapon when held by a gnome or halfling, allowing them to wield it one-handed.

The weapon is considered a normal weapon of its type for the purpose of feats such as Weapon Focus.

The weapon functions normally for anyone other than a gnome or halfling.

Most hornblades are short swords or longswords with curving blades, although in rare cases spears are given this special ability.

The first hornblades were crafted from actual animal horns or antlers, and many are decorated with bits of horn or designs that resemble horns.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, shrink item; Market Price: +1 bonus.

SURE STRIKING

A sure striking weapon harms creatures with damage reduction as if it had a +5 enhancement bonus.

Bows, crossbows, and slings cannot have the sure striking ability.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, greater magic weapon; Market Price: +1 bonus.

RACES OF THE WILD (3.5)

BLURSTRIKE

On command (a free action), a weapon with this special ability fades partially from view, appearing as only a faint outline, though the wielder can see it normally.

When used in an attack, an activated blurstrike weapon (along with its wielder's hand and arm) appears as nothing but an amorphous blur near the wielder's body.

The blurring effect prevents a foe from knowing exactly where the blow is aimed.

The first attack made with a blurstrike weapon each round is made as if the target were flat-footed.

Foes that don't rely on sight for combat (such as creatures with the blindsight special quality) and creatures with the uncanny dodge class feature retain their Dexterity bonus and dodge bonuses to AC against the wielder's attacks.

A blurstrike weapon can remain blurry for up to 10 rounds a day.

The duration of the effect need not be in consecutive rounds; deactivating the effect is also a free action. This property can be applied only to melee weapons. Faint illusion; CL 3rd; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, blur or invisibility; Price +2 bonus.

HIDEAWAY

The races of the wild like to travel light. To help satisfy this desire, elf and halfling wizards have developed hideaway weapons, which can be made to fold up simply by pressing a stud on a handle or haft. Hideaway weapons are easy to conceal when folded and not easily recognizable as weapons, making them very popular with rogues. When folded, a hideaway weapon collapses into a small cylinder small enough to fit comfortably in the wielder's hand. Pressing a second stud unfolds the weapon, which always appears in the wielder's hand, ready for use. Pressing the stud to fold or unfold the weapon is a free action. If you use the Sleight of Hand skill to conceal a folded hideaway weapon, you get a +2 circumstance bonus on your check. Since the folded weapon fits easily in your hand, you can attempt to conceal a weapon of any size. Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, shrink item; Price +7,500 gp.

SANDSTORM (3.5)

DESICCATING

A desiccating weapon destroys the water in a living creature that it strikes. Upon command, it is surrounded by a glow like the desert sun, which does not harm the wielder. A desiccating weapon deals an extra 1d6 points of dessication damage (1d8 points against plants and elementals of the water subtype). Bows, crossbows, slings, and other projectile weapons so crafted bestow the desiccating effect on their ammunition. Moderate necromancy; CL 8th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, desiccate, wither, or horrid wilting; Price +2 bonus.

DESICCATING BURST

A desiccating burst weapon functions as a desiccating weapon that also explodes with a dehydrating blast upon striking a successful critical hit. The burst does not harm the wielder. In addition to the dessication damage from the desiccating ability (see above), a desiccating burst weapon deals an extra 1d10 points of dessication damage on a successful critical hit (2d8 points against plants and elementals of the water subtype). If the weapon's critical multiplier is  $\times 3$ , add an extra 2d10 points of dessication damage instead, and if the multiplier is  $\times 4$ , add an extra 3d10 points of dessication damage (4d8 and 6d8 points, respectively, against plants and elementals of the water subtype).

Bows, crossbows, slings, and other projectile weapons so crafted bestow the desiccating burst effect on their ammunition. Even if the desiccating ability is not active, the weapon still deals its extra dessication damage on a successful critical hit. Strong necromancy; CL 12th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, desiccate, wither, or horrid wilting; Price +3 bonus.

DUSTSTORM

This special ability can be placed only on a melee weapon. Three times per day, the wielder of a duststorm weapon can use it to activate haboob, as the spell. The wielder has immunity to the effect. To cast the spell, the wielder must take a full-round action to swing the weapon about in circles, provoking attacks of opportunity. Moderate conjuration; CL 10th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, freedom of breath and haboob; Price +3 bonus.

SERPENT KINGDOMS (3.5)

VIPER

Upon command, a viper weapon transforms its blade or lash into a viper one size category smaller than the wielder for which it is sized. For example, the blade of a greatsword sized for a Large character temporarily becomes a Medium viper, while the blade of a dagger sized for a Small character temporarily becomes a Tiny viper. The wielder of a viper weapon uses his own attack bonus or that of the viper, whichever is higher, when making an attack with the transformed weapon. The damage dealt is always equivalent to the base damage for the bite attack of the appropriate kind of viper, plus the weapon's enhancement bonus and any other applicable modifiers. A successful attack also delivers the viper's poison. When thus transformed, viper weapons are always treated as piercing weapons. This ability can be applied up to three times to a scourge, with each application converting one lash into a viper. When a viper scourge is used with an attack action, only one viper can attack; when it is used with a full attack action, all three can attack. Only bladed weapons (including daggers and swords), scourges (see FORGOTTEN REALMS Campaign Setting), and whips can become viper weapons. (If this special ability is rolled randomly for an inappropriate weapon, reroll.) All weapons with this special ability are emerald-green in hue and covered in scales. A typical bladed viper weapon is crafted with a ring-pommel that allows the bearer to hang it from a belt, tie it to his wrist for use in mounted combat, or lower it on a cord through trapdoors onto intruders below. (This last usage always employs the viper's attack bonus for attacks.) Moderate conjuration; CL 6th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, summon monster I (Small or smaller weapons), summon monster II (Medium weapons), or summon monster III (Larger or larger weapons); Price +1 bonus.

SHINING SOUTH (3.5)

ENERVATING

An enervating weapon is particularly insidious and favored by dark-hearted cultures such as that found in Dambrath or Veldorn.

On a critical hit, a creature hit by an enervating weapon takes damage and also gains one negative level, and that creature dies if it has total negative levels equal to or exceeding its HD.

Spell resistance applies.

If the creature survives, any negative level bestowed by this weapon is removed after 13 hours.

Undead struck by an enervating weapon take weapon damage normally, but they also gain 5 temporary hit points instead of a negative level.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted confer the enervating ability upon their ammunition.

Strong necromancy; CL 13th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, enervation; Price +3 bonus.

EXHAUSTING

Any creature struck by an exhausting weapon must make a DC 14 Fortitude save or become fatigued for 5 minutes.

Spell resistance applies.

The ability has no effect on creatures that are already fatigued or those immune to fatigue.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted confer the exhausting ability upon their ammunition.

Faint necromancy; CL 5th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, ray of exhaustion; Price +1 bonus.

PARALYZING

On a successful critical hit, a paralyzing weapon renders any living creature immobile for 10 rounds unless it succeeds on DC 17 a Will save.

Each round on its turn, the paralyzed creature gets a new saving throw to break the effect.

Spell resistance applies.

Creatures immune to mind-affecting magic are immune to this property.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted confer the paralyzing ability upon their ammunition.

Moderate enchantment; CL 10th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, hold monster; Price +2 bonus.

RUSTING

A rusting weapon is never constructed of any iron parts, but must be built of wood, bone, stone, or other nonferrous materials.

When it is employed, it can cause metal objects with which it comes into contact to quickly rust.

A wearer of a ferrous armor or shield that is struck by a rusting weapon must make a DC 16 Fortitude saving throw or the item loses 1 point of armor bonus—shields are struck first.

Once an item loses its entire armor bonus, it falls to pieces, ruined.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted confer the rusting ability upon their ammunition.

Moderate transmutation; CL 7th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, rusting grasp; Price +1 bonus.

WEAKENING

Weakening weapons deal 1 point of Strength damage in addition to their regular damage with each successful attack.

Spell resistance applies.

This weakness lasts for 10 minutes, and multiple strikes on the same creature are cumulative, but the creature's Strength score cannot drop below 1 as a result of this ability.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted confer the weakening power upon their ammunition.

Moderate necromancy; CL 10th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, ray of enfeeblement; Price +3 bonus.

STORMWRACK (3.5)

ACIDIC BURST

An acidic burst weapon functions as a corrosive weapon (see below) that also releases a burst of acid upon making a critical hit.

The acid does not harm the wielder or the weapon.

In addition to the extra acid damage from the corrosive special weapon ability, an acidic burst weapon deals an extra 1d10 points of acid damage on a critical hit.

If the weapon's critical multiplier is  $\times 3$ , add an extra 2d10 points of acid damage instead;

if the multiplier is  $\times 4$ , add an extra 3d10 points of acid damage.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the acid energy upon their ammunition.

Even if the corrosive ability is not active, the weapon still deals its extra acid damage on a critical hit.

Strong evocation; CL 12th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor and acid fog or Melf's acid arrow; Price +2 bonus.

AQUATIC

Weapons with this enhancement have a silvery-blue tinge, similar in sheen to the scales of certain fish.

The wielder is treated as though he were under the effects of a freedom of movement spell for the purpose of using this weapon while underwater; it negates the penalties that would otherwise apply from using the weapon underwater.

Moderate abjuration; CL 5th; Craft Magic Arms and Armors, freedom of movement; Price +1 bonus.

CORROSIVE

Upon command, a corrosive weapon becomes slick with a thick layer of acidic slime.

The acid does not harm the wielder and does not wash away in water.

The effect remains until a counter command is given.

A corrosive weapon deals an extra 1d6 points of acid damage per hit.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so crafted bestow the acid energy upon their ammunition.

Moderate evocation; CL 10th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor and acid fog or Melf's acid arrow; Price +1 bonus.

SWORD AND FIST (3.0)

KI FOCUS

The magic weapon serves as a channel for the wielder's fact, allowing her to use her special ki attacks through the weapon as if it were an unarmed attack.

These attacks include the monk's stunning attack, strike, and quivering palm, as well as the Stunning Fist feat.

Only melee weapons can have ki focus.

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, creator must be a monk; Market Price: +1 bonus.

MERCIFUL

The weapon deals +1d6 points of damage, and all damage it deals is subdual damage.

On command, the weapon suppresses this ability until commanded to resume it.

Bows, crossbows, and slings so enchanted bestow the merciful effect upon their ammunition.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, cure light wounds; Market Price: +1 bonus.

SEEKING

Only ranged weapons can have the seeking ability.

The weapon veers toward the target, negating any miss chances that would otherwise apply, such as from concealment.

(The wielder still has to aim the weapon at the right place. Arrows mistakenly shot into an empty space, for example, do not veer and hit invisible enemies, even if they are nearby).

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, true seeing; Market Price: +1 bonus.

SURE STRIKING

A sure striking weapon harms creatures with damage reduction as if it had a +5 enhancement bonus.

Bows, crossbows, and slings cannot have the sure striking ability.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, greater magic weapon; Market Price: +1 bonus.

VICIOUS

When a vicious weapon strikes an opponent, it creates a flash of disruptive energy that resonates between the opponent and the wielder.

This energy deals +2d6 points of damage to the opponent and 1d6 points of damage to the wielder.

Only melee weapons can be vicious.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, enervation; Market Price: +1 bonus.

TOME OF BATTLE (3.5)

APTITUDE

The aptitude property lets a wielder apply his expertise with another type of weapon to the aptitude weapon.

Thus, the master of a greatsword is also the master of any aptitude weapon.

Description: Aptitude weapons have no special appearance. Prerequisite: Anyone can wield an aptitude weapon, but to gain any benefit from it, a wielder must have feats that are tied to the use of a particular weapon type.

Activation: An aptitude weapon's magic is worthless in the hands of someone who lacks the appropriate feats, but anyone with the right feats gains the weapon's benefits just by wielding it.

Effect: A wielder who has feats that affect the use of a particular type of weapon, such as Weapon Focus, Greater Weapon Focus, Weapon Specialization, or the like, can apply the benefits of those feats to any weapon that has the aptitude quality.

In addition, if any of the wielder's weapon use feats are specifically keyed to the aptitude weapon's type, he gains a +1 bonus on attack and damage rolls.

Aura/Caster Level: Faint evocation.

Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Weapon Focus (weapon being enchanted).

Weight: As normal for the weapon.

Price: +1 bonus.

MARTIAL DISCIPLINE

A martial discipline enhancement seems worthless in the hands of a wielder not initiated in the use of the discipline's maneuvers, and even to someone with appropriate training, it might appear to be a weak substitute for more traditional enhancements.

Yet when used in conjunction with a maneuver 1 ram the right discipline, the weapon seems to come alive in the wielder's hands, seeking its target's blood like a living predator.

Description: Martial discipline weapons need not possess any special appearance, but most magic item crafters decorate them with emblems and add special effects relating to their associated disciplines.

For example, a +1 Shadow Hand siangham might have black hand emblems that appear on the blade when its wielder swings it.

Or a +2 Iron Heart shocking bastard sword might crackle with electricity with even the smallest shift in position and spit a trail of sparks with every swing.

Prerequisite: Anyone can wield a martial discipline weapon, but its greatest benefits are reserved for a wielder who knows and uses maneuvers from the discipline to which the weapon is keyed.

Activation: A wielder who knows a maneuver from the appropriate discipline gains a small bonus on attack rolls, but to gain the true benefits of a martial discipline weapon, the wielder must use a maneuver from the correct discipline while attacking.

Effect: Each martial discipline weapon is keyed to a particular martial discipline.

For someone who doesn't know any maneuvers from that discipline, this property provides no benefit.

But when the weapon is wielded by a martial adept who knows at least one maneuver from the associated discipline, the property provides a +1 bonus on attack rolls.

And when the wielder is actually using a maneuver from the appropriate discipline, the bonus on attack rolls increases to +3.

A martial discipline weapon can bear multiple martial discipline special abilities, as long as each is keyed to a different discipline.

Thus, a martial adept could have a +1 Stone Dragon Shadow Hand greatsword.

In the hands of someone who knows maneuvers from both disciplines, such a weapon would provide a +3 bonus on attack rolls.

If the wielder were actually using maneuvers from both schools—for example, a Stone Dragon stance with a Shadow Hand strike—it would provide a +7 bonus on attack rolls.

Most martial adepts use this extra bonus in conjunction with feats such as Combat Expertise and Power Attack, or with maneuvers that decrease their chances of hitting a foe in exchange for some other benefit.

Aura/Caster Level: Faint evocation.

Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, knowledge of a maneuver from the discipline to which the weapon is keyed.

Weight: As normal for the weapon.

Price: +1 bonus.

TOME OF MAGIC (3.5)

SHADOW STRIKING

Although mystery users are not normally martial combatants, they have developed the shadow striking weapon special ability to aid them and their companions in battle.

A shadow striking weapon takes on the properties of a creature it hits, developing the ability to overcome damage reduction.

Description: A shadow striking weapon is an Un reflective jet black.

It seems almost to ripple on occasion, like an object viewed under a thin layer of uneasy water.

It is uncomfortably cold, but not painful, to the touch.

Prerequisite: The striking surface of a shadow striking weapon must be made of metal.

Weapons that are made entirely of wood cannot be shadow striking.

Bows, crossbows, and slings cannot benefit from the shadow striking ability, but metal ammunition can.

Activation: A shadow striking weapon automatically attunes itself to the target.

When it strikes a target that has damage reduction, it adjusts itself to overcome the damage reduction of that creature.

Effect: Shadow striking weapons draw on the reflective nature of shadow to alter their nature and overcome damage reduction.

A shadow striking weapon can adjust to emulate any alignment or substance required to overcome damage reduction.

A shadow striking weapon's attunement to a particular sort of damage reduction fades 1d4 minutes after the last time it made contact with the appropriate creature.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate universal (shadow). CL 9th.

Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, creation of the weapon must take place on the Plane of Shadow.

Price: +3 bonus.

UNAPPROACHABLE EAST (3.5)

BERSERKER

A berserker weapon is valuable to barbarians and other creatures that can enter a rage.

When the wielder is raging, the weapon's enhancement bonus increases by +2.

The vremyonni of Rashemen craft many axes and swords with this ability.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, divine power or rage; Market Price: +1 bonus.

DISEASED

Sometimes found in the hands of Talontar blightlords or minions of the most sinister Red Wizards, this foul weapon immediately infects the creature struck with disease—no incubation time is required.

Any living creature struck must succeed at a Fortitude save (DC 12) or contract filth fever.

This deals 1d3 points of temporary Dexterity damage and 1d3 points of temporary Constitution damage, and the subject continues to suffer from the effects of the disease until he recovers on his own or is cured through magical means.

Multiple infections against the same target have no additional effect—the subject either has filth fever or he doesn't.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, contagion; Market Price: +1 bonus.

DISMISSER

Created long ago by the warlords of Raumathar to deal with the infernal legions of Narfell, a dismitter weapon has a chance to blast an extraplanar creature back to its plane of origin with every hit.

Any creature subject to a dismissal spell (including called or summoned creatures, celestial or fiendish creatures, outsiders, and some elementals) struck in combat by this weapon must succeed at a Will save (DC 17) or be dismissed as by the spell.

The subject adds a modifier to its saving throw equal to its Hit Dice –9.

For example, a 6 HD succubus would save at a –3 penalty, while a 13 HD pit fiend saves at a +4 bonus.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, dismissal; Market Price: +3 bonus.

VALOROUS

A valorous weapon allows its wielder to make powerful charge attacks.

When used in a charge, the valorous weapon deals double damage, much like a mounted warrior with the Spirited Charge feat.

More than one doubling of damage increases the damage multiple by one per additional doubling, so double-double damage is triple damage, triple-double damage is quadruple damage, and so on.

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, righteous might; Market Price: +1 bonus.

VAMPIRIC

Any living opponent struck by a vampiric weapon must make a Fortitude save (DC 16) or lose an additional 1d4 hit points, which are immediately added to the wielder's current hit point total.

Any hit points above the wielder's maximum are treated as temporary hit points (multiple additions of temporary hit points don't stack) and disappear after 1 hour.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, vampiric touch; Market Price: +2 bonus.

UNDERDARK (3.5)

BLINDSIGHTED

A blindsighted weapon constantly emits a susurrus of whispered notes (Listen DC 10).

A wielder actively grasping the weapon gains blindsight to a range of 30 feet.

This ability allows the wielder to see invisible creatures and objects, see through darkness, and ignore many forms of concealment, but it does not confer any special immunity to illusions or any special ability to find hidden objects.

The weapon's blindsight effect is canceled by silence spells and effects.

Moderate divination; CL 6th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, see invisibility; Price 30,000 gp more than the weapon's normal price.

BLOODTHIRSTY

A bloodthirsty weapon grants its wielder a +2 morale bonus on attack rolls so long as the blade is sated.

To keep it sated, the wielder must use the weapon to kill a creature of at least 4 HD every 24 hours.

When this blood price goes unpaid, the bonus on attack rolls is replaced by a –2 penalty.

The bonus replaces the penalty again as soon as the wielder has slaked the weapon's need to slay.

Moderate enchantment; CL 6th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, rage; Price +1 bonus.

DROWCRAFT

Drowcraft weapons were once quite common, but they have fallen out of favor in some drow cities.

A drowcraft weapon is energized by local earth nodes and the surrounding aura of faerzress.

As long as it remains within an earth node or a zone of faerzress, it grants its wielder a +2 luck bonus on attack and damage rolls, in addition to its normal enhancement bonus. Outside a faerzress zone (for example, aboveground), the weapon does not grant the luck bonuses, but it otherwise works normally.

A drowcraft weapon exposed to sunlight must make a DC 8 Fort save or dissolve utterly.

A new save at the same DC is required for each day of exposure.

Sheathed weapons or weapons exposed to indirect light (such as indoors) are still vulnerable to this effect, but a drowcraft weapon can be kept safe indefinitely inside a lead-lined case.

A drowcraft weapon treated with darkoil (see Special Items, above) is immune to the effects of sunlight.

Strong evocation; CL 12th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, drow, contingency, disintegrate; Price +1 bonus.

FINDER

A finder weapon helps its bearer navigate the pathless depths of the Underdark.

Via silent warnings and hunches, it grants its wielder a +4 insight bonus on Search, Spot, and Survival checks made underground.

Moderate divination; CL 9th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, divination; Price 4,800 gp more than the weapon's normal price.

ILLITHIDWROUGHT

Weapons with this ability are common enough within the confines of illithid-controlled areas, but they are little known outside the Lowerdark.

Illithidwrought items sometimes seem to have minds of their own, moving and shifting almost imperceptibly, even when not being wielded.

An illithidwrought weapon grants any wielder a +1 insight bonus on attack and damage rolls.

This bonus rises to +2 for a psionic wielder.

Moderate divination; CL 8th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor or Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, psionic creature; Price +2 bonus.

METALLINE

The wielder can alter the composition of a metalline weapon from one kind of metal to another as a standard action.

For instance, a metalline bastard sword can become an adamantine bastard sword or an iron bastard sword.

Moderate transmutation; CL 9th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, polymorph any object; Price +2 bonus.

MORPHING

The wielder of a morphing weapon can reshape it into any other weapon of the same type (light, one-handed, or two-handed) as a standard action.

For instance, a morphing longsword could become a battleaxe or a composite longbow.

If a single weapon created with the morphing property becomes a double weapon, only one end of the double weapon has the weapon's magical bonus.

If a double weapon created with the morphing property becomes a single weapon, it can have the properties of either end of the original double weapon.

The properties of the other end are dormant but not lost; they become active again when the morphing weapon once again becomes a double weapon.

Moderate transmutation; CL 9th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, polymorph any object; Price +1 bonus.

SIZING

The wielder of a sizing weapon can change its size category as a standard action.

For example, a Small short sword can be changed into a Large short sword.

Spellcasters who polymorph themselves frequently tend to appreciate weapons with the sizing property.

Moderate transmutation; CL 9th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, enlarge person, reduce person; Price +1 bonus.

STALACTITE

This property is normally reserved for bladed weapons.

A stalactite blade resembles a long, thin stalactite instead of standard blade.

This difference in appearance does not affect the weapon's statistics in any way.

A critical hit with a stalactite blade turns the target to stone (Fort DC 19 negates).

Strong transmutation; CL 12th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, flesh to stone; Price +3 bonus.

TENTACLE

A tentacle weapon's blade sprouts writhing, metallic tentacles around the striking edge.

This difference in appearance does not affect the weapon's statistics in any way.

A tentacle blade that achieves a critical hit pulls forth the target creature's brain, instantly killing it (Fort DC 21 negates).

Constructs, elementals, oozes, plants, and undead are not affected by this property, and creatures with multiple heads are not instantly killed.

Strong necromancy; CL 15th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor or Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, mind flayer; Price +4 bonus (+3 bonus if added to an illithidwrought weapon).

WONDROUS ITEMS

ARMS AND EQUIPMENT GUIDE (3.0)

AMULET OF OOZE RIDING

Any time the wearer of this amulet comes into contact with an ooze, a sphere of force springs up around the wearer. The sphere prevents any contact with an ooze and protects the wearer from direct attacks by oozes.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Otiluke's resilient sphere; Market Price: 28,000 gp.

ARMBAND OF REDUCTION

This metal armband allows its wearer to reduce his height to one-half normal, as if a reduce spell had been cast upon him.

This effect functions once per day, lasts for 2 hours, and may be dismissed at will by the wearer.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, reduce; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BAG OF ENDLESS CALTROPS

This nondescript leather pouch creates an endless supply of caltrops.

The owner can reach into the pouch and pull out handful after handful.

It takes one standard action to fill a 5-foot square by hand. If the pouch is dumped out (as a partial action), it produces the equivalent of a 2-pound unit, but does not produce any more caltrops at all for 2 whole rounds.

The caltrops produced are not magical and follow all the rules for normal caltrops (see Chapter 7 of the Player's Handbook).

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's secret chest; Market Price: 2,300 gp; Weight: —.

BANNER OF VALOR

Made from bright silks, gold thread, and other flashy materials, the banner of valor bolsters the spirits of all friendly troops that gaze upon it.

The banner holder can remove fear at will on chosen creatures within a 20-foot radius.

In addition, the holder can produce a healing circle three times a day.

All these effects are as the spells from a 9th-level caster.

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, healing circle, remove fear; Market Price: 61,000 gp; Weight: 10 lb.

BELT OF ENDURANCE

This belt is made of numerous thin but solid chains and a large iron buckle.

The belt of endurance grants a +2 enhancement bonus to the wearer's Constitution score, and she gains the Great Fortitude feat while she wears the belt.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, righteous might; Market Price: 10,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BLINDFOLD OF TRUE DARKNESS

This black, silky blindfold grants the blindsight ability with a range of 60 feet (see Special Qualities in the Monster Manual).

Because the wearer's eyes are protected, he is also immune to gaze attacks, spells, or effects that rely on sight.

Wearing the blindfold takes up the same space as goggles.

The wearer cannot use vision in any way while wearing the blindfold.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, see invisibility; Market Price: 9,000 gp; Weight: —.

BOOTS OF THE MOUNTAIN KING

These rugged and worn iron-shod boots allow full movement in rocky, rugged, or mountain terrain (see Movement in Chapter 9 of the Player's Handbook), including bad or very bad surfaces.

The wearer can also cast stoneskin on herself twice per day, as the spell from a 12th-level caster.

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, freedom of movement, stoneskin; Market Price: 48,810 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BOOTS OF THE SEA

These are kneehigh boots made from fine sharkskin.

The wearer can water walk and cast water breathing on himself at will.

The wearer also gains a +10 competence bonus on Swim checks.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, water breathing, water walk; Market Price: 56,500 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BOOTS, STEADFAST

These thick and heavy iron-toed boots help keep the wearer from getting knocked down.

Someone wearing steadfast boots cannot be tripped or pushed back by a bull rush.

As long as the wearer carries a melee weapon that is Medium-size or larger, she also counts as being set against a charge.

The weapon does not have to have reach.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength; Market Price: 6,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BOOTS OF TRACKLESSNESS

These pale green boots are slim and elegant, with perfectly smooth soles.

They grant pass without trace to the wearer and can cast improved invisibility (wearer only) three times per day.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, improved invisibility, pass without trace; Market Price: 33,500 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BOOTS OF WOODLAND STRIDING

These durable boots feel amazingly light when picked up. The boots allow full movement in forest or jungle terrain, including moderate or heavy obstruction (see Movement in Chapter 9 of the Player's Handbook).

In addition, the wearer can detect snares and pits at will and tree stride once per day, as the spells from a 12th-level caster. Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, detect snares and pits, tree stride; Market Price: 23,600 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BRACELET OF FRIENDS

Rather than a unique magic item, this is a special application of the bracelet of friends found in the DUNGEON MASTER'S Guide.

It has the same prerequisites and cost.

Instead of keying charms to people, the wearer may key the charms to her mount, animal companion, or guard creature, and call the creature to her wherever she may be.

Bracers of Armor and Armor Special Abilities

A character who has the Craft Magic Arms and Armor and Craft Wondrous Item feats, as well as mage armor and all the other prerequisites necessary, can add the armor special abilities shown on Table 8–6 in the DUNGEON MASTER'S Guide to a set of bracers of armor. The cost is the same as for adding a special ability to normal armor: an increase in the effective bonus of the bracers. Just as magic armor can never exceed a +8 enhancement bonus, bracers of armor never provide more than a +8 armor bonus. However, special abilities can increase the effective bonus as high as +13 (bracers +8 with an ability valued at +5, such as heavy fortification).

The market prices for bracers of armor with an effective bonus higher than +8 are as follows: 81,000 gp (+9), 100,000 gp (+10), 121,000 gp (+11), 144,000 gp (+12), 169,000 gp (+13). Any special ability that can be added to armor can be added to bracers of armor. Armor qualities with a cost expressed in gp rather than an effective bonus can be added to bracers for the same price.

If you are using the Epic Level Handbook, characters with Craft Epic Magic Arms and Armor and Craft Epic Wondrous Item can create bracers of armor with a higher effective bonus than +13. To calculate the market price for such items, square the total effective bonus and multiply the result by 10,000 gp.

BRACERS OF EXIT

These bracers each bear a crude design of a square bisected by an arrow.

The wearer can negate one dimensional anchor effect per day.
Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dimensional anchor; Market Price: 11,200 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BRIDLE OF EASE

This magic bridle grants trainers a +5 competence bonus on Handle Animal checks when training a mount.

Versions of this item are available for exotic mounts.
Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, charm monster; Market Price: 500 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

CANDLE OF ICY DEATH

This black candle is 1 foot tall, 12 inches thick, and icy to the touch.

When lit, the flame burns a pale blue, gives off no smoke or heat, and doesn't melt down.

If examined with detect magic, the candle radiates a necromantic aura.

Every minute that the candle burns reduces the temperature by 1° in a 20-foot-diameter area until 0° Fahrenheit is reached.

In addition, the candle prevents any healing, natural or magical, from occurring in its range.

A wounded creature inside the area does not regain any lost hit points, and cure spells targeting a creature inside the area automatically fail (but are considered cast).

Once lit, the candle can be snuffed only by a bless spell. The temperature of the area returns to the regular temperature at a normal rate.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, enervation, fire shield; Market Price: 34,800 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

CHOKER OF ELOQUENCE

Coveted by bards, singers, and public speakers, this beautiful piece of jewelry is carved from ivory and jade. There are two versions of these chokers.

The lesser choker of eloquence grants a +5 competence bonus on Diplomacy, Innuendo, Bluff, and Perform (vocal only) checks.

The greater choker of eloquence increases the bonus to +10.
Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be a spellcaster of 6th level; Market Price: 1,500 gp (lesser), 6,000 gp (greater); Weight: —.

CINDERS OF THE INFERNO

This tiny iron box contains a small bit of ash and cinders. When dumped into a flame at least as big as an average campfire, the cinders cause the fire to flare and sputter dramatically.

In 1d4+1 rounds, an equal number of Small fire elementals leap from the fire.

The elementals are not under any control, although they can be controlled later through charm monster or other magic.

They attack the nearest creature or creatures, continuing their rampage until destroyed or banished.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, elemental swarm; Market Price: 7,650 gp; Weight: —.

CLASP OF THE ELDER

Forged by dwarven artisans, this clasp is meant to be worn around a beard.

It is carved from pure gold and studded with brilliant gems. If the wearer is a nondwarf, the clasp only grants a +1 competence bonus on Diplomacy checks.

If a dwarf wears the clasp around the beard, it grants a +2 enhancement bonus to the wearer's Wisdom score, and a +5 competence bonus on Diplomacy and Intimidate checks.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be a dwarf, creator must be a spellcaster of 10th level; Market Price: 6,000 gp; Weight: —.

CLEVER BRIDLE

This bit-and-bridle set always looks clean and new.

When worn by a horse, a clever bridle grants the ability to learn three, six, or nine more tricks than the horse could normally learn, depending on the version.

The horse must wear the bridle for 8 hours per day to maintain any extra tricks it learns.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animal friendship; Market Price: 3 tricks 1,000 gp, 6 tricks 4,000 gp, 9 tricks 9,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

CLOAK OF SHELTER

This plain but sturdy-looking cloak provides excellent protection against wind, cold, sun, and rain.

On command, the cloak turns itself into a 4-person tent. This tent includes an alarm spell (as if cast by a 7th-level sorcerer) but is otherwise normal.

Once per day, the cloak can turn into a small lodge, as Leomund's secure shelter.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, alarm, Leomund's secure shelter; Market Price: 12,080 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

COIN OF ETERNAL REST

A raised skull adorns both sides of this otherwise featureless copper coin.

When placed in the mouth of a corpse, the coin prevents it from being raised, resurrected, or turned into undead of any sort.

Vermin and undead avoid a corpse bearing this coin, but they can overcome the aversion with a successful Will check (DC 20).

The coin does not work in the mouth of a living or undead being.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, gentle repose; Market Price: 6,000 gp; Weight: —.

COLLAR OF MATERIAL ENTRAPMENT

This silvery collar has an emerald sheen in the light. A creature wearing the collar is completely barred from extradimensional travel, as the dimensional anchor spell, for as long as it wears the collar.

The collar expands or contracts to fit any size creature.

The DC to break or slip out of the collar is 40.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dimensional anchor; Market Price: 30,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

DIMENSIONAL CHALK HOLDER

This small, elaborately carved silver tube is designed to hold a single piece of normal chalk.

On mental command, the user can “draw” in the air, which leaves behind a vibrant blue line of crackling energy.

Once a complete circle has been formed, the enclosed space suddenly disappears, creating a gate to wherever the user wishes.

It only allows the planar travel aspect of the gate spell, not the ability to call forth creatures.

The item allows its user to draw only a circle.

The user can feel it resisting anything but a curved line.

There is no size limit to the circle, but it must be completely drawn in 1 full round to create the gate.

The dimensional chalk holder can draw 1d4+1 gates before crumbling into dust.

Drawing a line counts as one use, regardless of whether a complete circle was made or not.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, gate; Market Price: 22,950 gp; Weight: —.

DRAGONFLY MEDALLION

This silver dragonfly-shaped medallion is covered with precious gems.

It grants the Improved Initiative feat while worn.

If the wearer already has this feat, it grants an additional +1 competence bonus on Initiative rolls.

Once per day, the medallion can transform into a Large dragonfly to attack at the command of its owner.

The owner can give mental commands to the dragonfly from up to 200 feet away.

If the dragonfly is slain in its vermin form, then the medallion is destroyed as well.

If the owner is killed, knocked unconscious, or taken out of range while the medallion is in dragonfly form, it converts back into a medallion immediately.

➤ Giant Dragonfly: CR 1; Large vermin; HD 3d8+3; hp 16; Init +1; Spd 20 ft., fly 60 ft. (good); AC 14 (touch 10, flat-footed 13); Atk +5 melee (1d8+6, bite); Face/Reach 5 ft. by 10 ft./5 ft.; SQ Vermin, darkvision 60 ft.; AL N; SV Fort +4, Ref +2, Will +2; Str 18, Dex 12, Con 13, Int —, Wis 12, Cha 12.

Skills: Hide –3, Intuit Direction +7, Spot +7.

Vermin: Immune to all mind-influencing effects.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects, cat's grace; Market Price: 29,760 gp; Weight: —.

DROPLETS OF THE STORM

This tiny blue vial contains a small amount of constantly moving water.

When poured into a pool of water at least a foot deep, the droplets cause the pool to bubble and froth furiously.

In 1d4+1 rounds, an equal number of Small water elementals emerge from the pool.

The elementals are not under any control, although they can be controlled later through charm monster or other magic.

They attack the nearest creature or creatures, continuing their rampage until destroyed or banished.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, elemental swarm; Market Price: 7,650 gp; Weight: —.

DUST OF THE ZEPHYR

This clear vial and stopper contains a small amount of dust. When released into a breeze, the dust creates sudden bursts of wind.

In 1d4+1 rounds, an equal number of Small air elementals are created from the wind.

The elementals are not under any control, although they can be controlled later through charm monster or other magic.

They attack the nearest creature or creatures, continuing their rampage until destroyed or banished.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, elemental swarm; Market Price: 7,650 gp; Weight: —.

DIMENSIONAL PRISM

This translucent and oddly shaped prism seems to fade in and out of existence when seen in daylight.

The prism grants see invisibility when looked through.

When shattered (requiring a DC 15 Strength check), the crystal releases a greenish burst of energy.

Any creatures within 30 feet that are on nearby transitive planes such as the Astral Plane, Ethereal Plane, or Plane of Shadow (including those using spells such as blink, maze, or shadow walk), must succeed on a Will save (DC 30) or be forced onto the Material Plane.

Creatures that are made tangible in this way cannot leave the Material Plane for 1d6 rounds.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dimensional anchor, see invisibility; Market Price: 17,600 gp; Weight: —.

EQUESTRIAN'S SADDLE

Anyone seated in this military saddle feels more comfortable and competent at equestrianism.

The saddle grants a +10 circumstance bonus on Ride checks with horses.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: 30 lb.

EVERFULL MUG

With a command word, this common-looking mug fills with 12 ounces of water, cheap ale, or watery wine (user's choice).

It functions three times per day.

Caster Level: 1st; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, create water; Market Price: 800 gp; Weight: —.

EVERLASTING FEEDBAG

This feedbag has a small medallion on it with an embossed cornucopia symbol.

When placed around the muzzle of a horse, donkey, or other equine animal, it produces an unlimited amount of suitable feed.

Care must be taken that the animal does not overeat, and most creatures must still eat other plants for proper nutrition.

The feedbag produces nothing when it is not placed around an animal's muzzle.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, create food and water; Market Price: 15,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

EVERSOAKING SPONGE

This large, normal-looking sponge is capable of absorbing an enormous quantity of water.

If placed in a body of water, it floats and begins soaking it up at the rate of 1,000 gallons per round.

The sponge stops once it has absorbed 225,000 gallons of water—the size of a pool 100 feet long, 50 wide, and 6 feet deep.

This water disappears completely, and if the sponge is squeezed afterward, it releases only as much water as a normal wet sponge.

The eversoaking sponge absorbs only water, not mud or muck. Acid, oil, and other liquids affect it as they would a normal sponge.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, disintegrate; Market Price: 26,400 gp; Weight: —.

FAN OF FURIOUS FLAME

This collapsible fan is made of thin red iron and resembles licking flames when opened.

Three times per day, the fan can create a cone 30 feet long that causes any open flames, including candles, torches, or lanterns, to explode in a burst of fire and deal the indicated damage (Reflex half DC 15).

Flame Size	Damage	Area
Candles (1–5)	1d4	5-ft. diameter
Candelabra (6+)	1d6	5-ft. diameter
Lantern	1d8	5-ft. square
Torch	1d10	10-ft. square
Campfire	1d12	10-ft. square

All fire that explodes in this way is permanently extinguished.

The explosion occurs too quickly for nearby combustibles to catch on fire.

The fan of furious flame has no effect on magical fires such as those created by continual flame.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fireball; Market Price: 18,750 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

FRUIT BLOSSOM SPIKE

When driven or hammered into a fruit tree, this slim wooden stake causes the tree to go through an amazingly fast rejuvenation, growing extremely healthy and producing an enormous amount of fruit.

It takes 1 complete round to complete this growth, at which point the fruit falls to the ground and the tree begins to wither and die.

Both the tree and the spike are utterly destroyed in the process.

A single tree produces enough fresh fruit to feed eight creatures for two days, acting like a maximized goodberry spell.

After three days, the fruit turns into worthless mush.

Fruit blossom spikes do not work on plant creatures such as treants or tendriculos.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, goodberry, plant growth; Market Price: 5,800 gp; Weight: —.

GLOVES OF BRACHIATION

These tight leather gloves allow the wearer to travel from branch to branch using only her arms, as a monkey or gibbon would.

As long as she is at medium encumbrance or less, the wearer can move at her full speed through the tree canopy.

The wearer also gains a +10 circumstance bonus on Jump checks as long as she is aboveground (leaping from tree branch to tree branch, for example).

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cat's grace; Market Price: 4,000 gp; Weight: —.

GOGGLES OF DAY

The lenses of this item are made of silvered crystal.

When they are placed over the eyes, the wearer can operate without penalty in preternaturally bright light, such as might result from a flare, sunbeam, or sunburst spell.

Vampires wearing goggles of day have a full-round action before dissolution when confronted with sunlight, as opposed to just a partial action.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, darkvision; Market Price: 4,000 gp; Weight: —.

HAMMERSPHERE

This magic sphere is 4 inches in diameter, made of silver, and covered in small rubies.

Etched into it in four places is the hammer-and-anvil symbol of the deity Moradin.

When held aloft and activated with a command word, the sphere conjures forth a giant hammer.

This hammer functions as a spiritual weapon except that it deals 3d6 points of damage per hit.

The user of the hammersphere does not have to concentrate on the hammer or keep the sphere aloft while the hammer attacks.

The hammersphere is usable once per day.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, spiritual weapon, greater magic weapon; Market Price: 2,500 gp; Weight: —.

HAT OF ANONYMITY

This broad-brimmed black hat obscures the wearer from being detected, allowing him to blend into a crowd with ease.

The wearer is under a continuous nondetection effect and has a +10 bonus on Hide checks while the hat is worn.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, nondetection; Market Price: 34,050 gp; Weight: —.

HORNED HELM

This dark leather helm has an open face and sports a pair of impressive deer antlers that rise from the forehead.

When worn, the antlers join solidly with the wearer's skull.

The wearer's base speed is doubled, and the horned helm grants a +2 enhancement bonus on melee attacks with the horns, which deal 1d8 points of damage.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, haste, magic fang; Market Price: 38,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

HORSELESS SADDLE

When the command word is spoken, this riding saddle leaps into the air and fastens itself around a phantom steed, as the spell cast by an 8th-level caster.

If the steed is killed, the saddle cannot be reactivated for 24 hours.

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, phantom steed; Market Price: 43,200 gp; Weight: 25 lb.

HORSESHOES OF THUNDER

Once per day, when a horse gallops at a full run, and the rider speaks the command word, these shoes emit a loud crack of thunder.

Any creature in a 20-foot radius (excluding the mount, rider, and any passengers) comes under the effect of a shout spell cast by a 7th-level caster.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shout; Market Price: 10,080 gp; Weight: 1 lb. each.

IDOL OF FALSE VISION

This large statue automatically detects any attempt to scry (including scrying and similar spells such as arcane eye and clairaudience/clairvoyance) any individuals or locations within 50 feet of it.

Any such effect triggers a false vision spell that masks any creature attuned to the idol from being scried.

Attunement may be performed during the idol's creation or at any later time by touching the idol and speaking a command word chosen during creation.

The idol can cast false vision three times per day.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, detect scrying, false vision; Market Price: 54,500 gp; Cost to Create: 33,500 gp + 1,680 XP; Weight: 400 lb.

INCENSE OF THE GORGON

This foul-smelling incense is typically found in a dark green vial with the embossed image of a gorgon.

When burned, however, it creates a truly overwhelming smoke that fills a 10-foot cube.

The incense is consumed after 1 round and the smoke dissipates naturally.

Those in the area and not holding their breath must succeed on a Fortitude save (DC 19) or be turned to stone as if affected by the flesh to stone spell.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, flesh to stone; Market Price: 6,600 gp; Weight: —.

INSATIABLE LOCUST

Banned in almost every civilized society, this 1-foot-long statue of a locust is capable of incredible destruction to crops and agricultural areas.

It is carved from a single piece of brilliant jade and has two large rubies for eyes.

On command, the insatiable locust can animate.

It then goes on an eating rampage, devouring up to ten tons of grain, crops, and fruits per day for up to seven days, over a diameter of fifty miles.

It never attacks people or livestock and attempts to fly away when confronted with violence.

The locust first eats planted crops, such as corn, wheat, and rye, followed by fruit and finally wild vegetation.

The locust attacks and consumes plant creatures, but only after all other vegetation has been destroyed first.

Once the locust has eaten for seven days (or there is no more food), it unerringly returns to its owner and reverts to its stone form.

It cannot be reactivated again for another full seven days.

The eaten crops are utterly destroyed.

☛ Jade Locust: CR 1/2; Tiny construct; HD 3d10; hp 16; Init +2; Spd 40 ft., fly 80 ft. (good); AC 14 (touch 14, flat-footed 12); Atk +3 melee (1d3–1, bite); Face/Reach 2 1/2 ft. by 2 1/2 ft./0 ft.; SQ Construct, darkvision 60 ft.; AL N; SV Fort +1, Ref +3, Will –4; Str 8, Dex 14, Con –, Int –, Wis 1, Cha 1. Skills and Feats: Hide +10.

Construct: Immune to mind-influencing effects and to poison, sleep, paralysis, stunning, disease, death effects, necromantic effects, and any effect that requires a Fortitude save unless it also works on objects; cannot heal damage (though regeneration and fast healing still apply, if present); not subject to critical hits, subdual damage, ability damage, ability drain, or energy drain; not at risk of death from massive damage, but destroyed when reduced to 0 hit points or less; cannot be raised or resurrected.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects, disintegrate; Market Price: 29,975 gp; Weight: 10 lb.

IOUN STONES

RESISTANCE

These ioun stones (usually burnt orange in color) possess all the features of a standard ioun stone.

Ioun stones of resistance offer magic protection in the form of a +1 to +5 resistance bonus on all saving throws.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, resistance, caster level must be three times that of the ioun stone's bonus; Market Price: 2,000 gp (+1), 8,000 gp (+2), 18,000 gp (+3), 32,000 gp (+4), 50,000 gp (+5); Weight: —.

LANTERN OF BRIGHTNESS

This ornate bullseye lantern is adorned with gold filigree and sun patterns.

It is illuminated with a permanent light spell.

Twice per day, the lantern can emit a sunbeam (as the spell from a 13th-level caster).

Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, light, sunbeam; Market Price: 66,520 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

LIBRAM OF FLESH

This weighty tome details the creation of flesh golems. Additionally, the magical inscriptions of the libram allow the reader to create a flesh golem even if not a 14th-level arcane spellcaster.

The reader gains a +2 bonus to effective caster level for the purpose of making golems and can emulate knowledge of the requisite spells necessary to create a flesh golem.

Thus, an 11th-level arcane spellcaster still couldn't create a golem using the libram, though a 12th-level spellcaster could, because 14th level is the minimum to create a flesh golem.

Flesh golems created using the libram of flesh retain up to five abilities from one of the donor bodies used in the golem's creation, which are layered on the flesh golem as if using a template.

The DM determines which abilities of a donor body are appropriate, and which are inappropriate, which abilities stack, and which do not.

Each time a flesh golem is created using the libram, enchantment visibly drains from the book as inscriptions fade.

When first created, a libram of flesh has enough magical power to create seven golems.

After this time, the book falls into ruin.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wish; Market Price: 178,500 gp; Weight: 5 lb.

MAGEBANE MANACLES

These sturdy masterwork manacles have an antimagic field that extends around anyone locked in them, including any magic items the captive might be carrying.

Although expensive, they are commonly found in the prisons of metropolitan cities that are used to dealing with high-level troublemakers.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, antimagic field; Market Price: 132,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

MASK OF LIES

This black, featureless mask only has slits for the eyes and mouth.

The wearer can cast change self on himself at will and is continually under the effect of undetected alignment.

In addition, he or she gains a +5 bonus on Bluff checks.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, change self, undetected alignment; Market Price: 17,000 gp; Weight: —

MASK OF THE FEATHER QUEEN

This vibrantly colored mask is made from the feathers of a variety of rare and beautiful songbirds.

The wearer can levitate and charm birds by uttering a command word.

Once per day, the wearer can cast fly (on herself or another person), as the spell from a 12th-level caster.

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, charm person or animal, fly, levitate; Market Price: 27,120 gp; Weight: —.

MEDALLION OF CONTACT

Once per day, the wearer of this silver disk can speak a command word and forge a telepathic bond (as Rary's telepathic bond) with one person lasting for 1 minute. Range is one mile.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Rary's telepathic bond; Market Price: 5,000 gp; Weight: —.

MEDALLION OF THE LYCANTHROPE

Found in lands where lycanthropy is an epidemic, these medallions grant powerful protection.

Once per day, the medallion can cast antipathy against lycanthropes as the spell from a 15th-level caster.

In addition, any melee weapons carried by the wearer damage lycanthropes as though they were made of silver. Ranged weapons are not affected.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, antipathy, magic weapon; Market Price: 44,200 gp; Weight: —.

MIRROR OF SECRETS REVEALED

This ornate silver mirror reveals hidden objects and auras when viewed in the reflection.

The wielder can cast analyze dweomer once per day and true seeing twice per day.

Each of these abilities functions like the spells from an 11th-level caster.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, analyze dweomer, detect magic, true seeing; Market Price: 95,000 gp; Weight: 1/2 lb.

NECKLACE OF THE MARAUDING BEAST

There are three different versions of these necklaces, commonly found among primitive tribesfolk.

Each necklace incorporates parts from a different, dangerous predator.

Raging Bear Necklace: This crudely made leather necklace is adorned with uncut precious stones and claws from an enormous bear.

The wearer gains a +2 enhancement bonus to Strength. In addition, if the wearer has the ability to rage, each rage lasts 1 round longer than normal.

Frenzied Shark Necklace: Crafted from tough seaweed and sharks' teeth, this necklace grants the wearer a +2 enhancement bonus to Strength and a +4 circumstance bonus on Swim checks.

In addition, if the character has the ability to rage, each rage lasts 1 round longer than normal.

Rampaging Boar Necklace: This necklace is crafted from the two tusks of a boar, clasping together in the middle. The wearer gains the Sunder feat (Great Sunder if she already possesses this feat) and a +1 enhancement bonus to Constitution.

In addition, if the character has the ability to rage, each rage lasts 1 round longer than normal.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength, emotion; Market Price: 11,840 gp (raging bear), 12,160 gp (frenzied shark), 12,440 gp (rampaging boar); Weight: —.

NECKLACE OF THE WILD BEAST

A necklace of this sort appears to be a normal piece of nonvaluable jewelry until it is placed about the neck of a character capable of casting animal friendship.

The necklace of the wild beast has one or more special beads.

Special Bead Type	Special Bead Ability
Bead of calming	Wearer can cast calm animals .
Bead of servitude	Wearer can cast dominate animal .
Bead of the fang	Wearer can cast greater magic fang .
Bead of beckoning	Wearer can cast summon nature's ally IV .
Bead of the great beast	Wearer can cast animal growth .
Bead of awakening	Wearer can cast awaken .

Each special bead can be used only once, and then becomes forever inert.

The power of a special bead is lost if removed from the necklace.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animal friendship, and one or more of the following spells: animal growth, awaken, calm animals, dominate animal, greater magic fang, summon nature's ally IV (as appropriate); Market Price: 500 gp (bead of calming), 1,500 gp (bead of servitude), 1,500 gp (bead of the fang), 2,000 gp (bead of beckoning), 2,500 gp (bead of the great beast), 3,750 gp (bead of awakening); Cost to Create: As normal except 1,250 gp plus 250 XP (bead of awakening); Weight: —.

ORACLE BEADS

Made from perfectly clear crystal beads, this necklace assists in receiving visions and oracles.

The wearer gains a +5 insight bonus on Scry checks.

In addition, the wearer can cast divination once per day.

If the wearer is able to cast divine spells, then divination can be cast twice per day.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, divination; Market Price: 19,192 gp; Weight: —.

PELT OF ANIMAL SENSES

This pelt, worn like a cloak, is made from large predator: a wolf, bear, or great cat.

When worn, it grants low-light vision, scent, and a +2 circumstance bonus on Listen checks.

Animals react poorly to the wearer while it is worn; herbivores in general become nervous and try to flee, while carnivores generally become aggressive.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, see invisibility; Market Price: 30,080 gp; 1 lb.

PHYLACTERY OF CHANGE

The wearer of this item can invoke a polymorph self ability with an indefinite duration (or until the phylactery is removed, destroyed, or dispelled).

A new form can be adopted once per day.

The wearer can assume his natural form without limitation, however.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, polymorph self; Market Price: 11,200 gp; Weight: —.

PITONS, BURROWING

Covered with various runes and sigils meaning "earth", these pitons burrow into earth, rock, and stone, providing a secure support for ropes and other climbing gear.

It requires a partial action to burrow into solid, cut stone and other masonry.

The pitons grant a +2 circumstance bonus on Climb checks while using climbing equipment.

They are single-use items.

A burrowing piton used in melee deals 1d8 points of damage (×3 critical) against stone golems, clay golems, earth elementals, and any other creature composed of earth or stone.

It has no special effect against other types of creatures.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, soften earth and stone; Market Price: 380 gp; Weight: 1/2 lb.

PIXIE DUST

This sparkling, silvery dust is created by several different fey but primarily used by pixies.

It comes in long, thin, silvery tubes.

A single tube's contents finely coat a 5-foot square, and any passage through the area stirs up the dust for 1d6 rounds.

Alternatively, the contents of a tube can be blown at a target creature as a ranged touch attack (maximum range 5 feet).

A creature that stirs up the dust or is targeted by someone wielding a tube of the dust must make a successful Fortitude save (DC 15) or begin shrinking to the size of a grig (Tiny).

In addition, the creature acts as though under the effect of a charm person spell from a 9th-level caster, obeying the person who spread the dust.

Both effects last for 9 hours before restoring the person to normal.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, reduce, charm person or creator must be a fey; Market Price: 2,700 gp; Weight: —.

PORTABLE BRIDGE

Once per day on command, this tiny statue of a bridge can turn into a fully functioning bridge.

The bridge is always 5 feet wide and can extend in length from 5 feet to 50 feet.

It takes a full round for the bridge to extend, regardless of the length of the bridge.

The owner can choose which side the bridge retracts to, making it ideal for crossing chasms and leaving pursuers behind.

The statue must be placed on solid rock or earth to work. Ideally, there should be equally solid rock or earth on the other side.

If there is not stable ground on the other side (it reaches maximum range and doesn't touch anything, there is loose sand, and so on), the bridge spends another round retracting to its statue form.

The bridge can be destroyed through disintegrate or by normal means such as breaking and chipping.

Each 5-foot square has 75 hit points and a hardness of 8.

Caster Level: 20th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wall of stone; Market Price: 36,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

PRESERVING JAR

This large glass jar has been magically treated to preserve any organic material placed in it.

The jar can hold the equivalent of 2 gallons of liquid.

Anything small enough to fit in the jar does not rot, age, or wilt.

The lid must be placed securely on the top for the effect to work.

A Tiny or smaller creature can be placed in the jar, but without a supply of air and food it eventually dies, although the corpse never rots.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, gentle repose; Market Price: 3,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

RESTRICTING BAND

This plain, 1-foot diameter, 1-inch-thick steel band grows and shrinks on verbal command.

Its maximum size is 5 feet in diameter, but retains the same thickness.

It can shrink to the size of a ring, reducing in thickness accordingly.

If placed around a person, say to bind their arms to their sides, it can be sized to fit snugly around them.

The band never shrinks to the point where it deals damage; it's simply uncomfortably tight.

It requires an Escape Artist check (DC 30) to wiggle out of a restricting band placed around the body and arms (DC 25 when the band is placed around arms or legs only).

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, enlarge, reduce; Market Price: 5,400 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

ROPE OF STONE

This normal-looking silk rope can become as hard as stone (8 hardness, 15 hp) when a command word is spoken.

The rope retains its exact shape when hardened.

If it is ever broken in either form, it becomes normal rope.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, flesh to stone; Market Price: 11,800 gp; Weight: 5 lb.

SADDLEBAGS OF HOLDING

These saddlebags open into an extradimensional space, allowing them to hold much more than they would seem able to.

Saddlebags of holding always come in pairs.

Each bag contains 30 cubic feet of space and can hold 250 pounds.

They otherwise operate identically to the bag of holding 1 described in the DUNGEON MASTER'S Guide.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's secret chest; Market Price: 5,000 gp; Weight: 30 lb.

SADDLEBAGS OF PROVIDING

Each bag of this pair serves a different function.

Every morning, the right bag contains enough food to feed whatever creature it is slung over for one day.

For horses, this is generally oats and a few lumps of sugar; for griffons, it means several pounds of raw horsemeat.

If removed and not eaten, the food spoils after 24 hours.

Food does not appear if anything else is placed in the bag.

The left bag contains a masterwork set of grooming and leather repair tools.

The grooming tools are appropriate for whatever creature the bag is slung over.

In addition, the left bag contains 10 cubic feet of space for the rider's personal effects, and in all other ways acts as a bag of holding.

Both bags weigh the same as regular empty saddlebags, regardless of their contents.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, create food and water, Leomund's secret chest; Market Price: 8,000 gp; Weight: 16 lb.

SADDLE OF GROWTH

When a command word is uttered, this saddle causes a horse, mule, or donkey to increase by one size category.

For example, a horse, which is normally Large (long), would increase to Huge (long) while wearing the saddle.

Another command word causes the steed to shrink back to its normal size.

This effect can be done three times a day.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animal growth; Market Price: 48,600 gp; Weight: 25 lb.

SADDLE OF THE PEGASUS

This exquisitely crafted saddle is heavily adorned with the feathers from pegasi wings.

The saddle adjusts to fit any normal-sized horse, donkey, or mule.

When securely placed, it allows the steed and rider to fly (as the fly spell from a 5th-level caster, except maneuverability is clumsy) three times per day upon command.

The saddle acts as an exotic military saddle for the rider.

The first time someone uses this saddle on a steed untrained in flying, the rider must make a DC 15 Ride check to keep the steed from panicking.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fly; Market Price: 16,875 gp; Weight: 25 lb.

SADDLE OF WEATHER PROTECTION

A boon to travelers, this highly polished saddle protects the steed and rider from the elements.

The steed and rider are completely immune to “normal” temperature from 0° to 110° Fahrenheit and remain perfectly dry unless completely immersed in a body of water.

In addition, the rider can cast protection from elements on himself and his mount once per day.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, protection from elements; Market Price: 5,400 gp; Weight: 25 lb.

SAW OF PRODIGIOUS CUTTING

This one-person, steel-and-brass band saw is etched with leaf patterns.

Its razor-sharp blade easily cuts through most normal wood and trees.

The saw ignores the hardness of any wooden object that it cuts into and deals 4d6 damage to it.

The saw can be used in melee against plant creatures with a similar effect, although the wielder takes a –4 penalty on attacks for using such an unwieldy weapon.

The saw automatically avoids other living creatures and twists out of a person’s hand if used as a weapon against them.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, magic weapon; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

SEEDS OF THE TREANT

This pouch made from tightly interwoven leaves contains 1d4 large acorns.

When one or more of these are planted in soil, a treant begins to grow from that spot.

It takes two full rounds for the treant to be completely summoned.

If two seeds are planted next to each other, then the summoned treant is increased by one size (8 HD, Huge).

If three seeds are planted next to each other, then the summoned treant is two sizes bigger (17 HD, Gargantuan).

The treant is not controlled at the time of summoning, although it can be charmed, dominated, or made friendly through Diplomacy.

The treant’s initial attitude is indifferent.

The treant remains indefinitely, although it could perish if summoned in terrain that is not suitable for its survival (desert, for example).

The treant takes a dim view of being summoned in this manner and more than likely will attack the summoner.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, summon nature’s ally IX; Market Price: 15,300 gp per acorn; Weight: —.

SHARDS OF THE FISSURE

This handful of sharp gray flint chips is usually found inside a tattered brown pouch.

When emptied onto solid earth or stone, the shards burrow into the earth, causing a slight tremor.

In 1d4+1 rounds, an equal number of Small earth elementals claw to the surface.

The elementals are not under any control, although they can be controlled later through charm monster, dominate monster, and so on.

They attack the nearest creature or creatures, then continue their rampage until destroyed or banished.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, elemental swarm; Market Price: 7,650 gp; Weight: —.

SHIELDING BLINDERS

This set of blinders is black with gold inlaid glyphs covering the outer surfaces.

A horse wearing shielding blinders is completely protected from gaze attacks.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, darkness; Market Price: 12,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

SHRINK COLLAR

Rather than resizing to fit its wearer, as most wearable magic items do, this half-inch-wide metal collar studded with tiny jewels resizes its wearer.

When worn, the collar grows to 2 inches wide, and the jewels enlarge to cover most of its surface.

Regardless of his or her original size, the wearer shrinks to Small size, becoming around 3 feet in height and weighing no more than 60 pounds.

None of the creature’s other attributes change.

Unwilling targets get a Fortitude save (DC 11) to resist. If the save is successful, the collar snaps and is ruined.

A creature with Intelligence 2 or lower must succeed on a Will save (DC 11) or become panicked by the transformation.

Animal companions do not have to make this save, nor do creatures that have the effect of the collar explained to them beforehand somehow, such as through telepathy or speak with animals.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, reduce; Market Price: 10,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

SINGING BOWL

Carved from a single piece of flawless crystal (10 hardness, 10 hp), this bowl comes with a smooth, thick wooden stick. Running the stick slowly along the edge of the bowl produces a clear, vibrating hum.

The volume can range from barely audible to intensely loud.

While the bowl is being played, spells in a 30-foot radius with a verbal component are prevented as though under the effect of a silence spell.

Spells cast with the Silent Spell feat still work, however.

The bowl’s effect can be activated with any stick—the one provided has no special abilities.

It requires at least 1 rank of Performance (any percussion instrument).

In addition, the bowl can cast shatter and blindness/deafness (deafness only) once per day as a 12th-level bard.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, blindness/deafness, shatter, silence; Market Price: 19,440 gp; Weight: 4 lb.

SPARRING DUMMY OF THE MASTER

This battered wooden dummy is designed for monks to practice their striking and blocking techniques.

It consists of a plain round wooden post that stands 6 feet high and 1 foot thick.

Six smaller posts stick out horizontally from the post, roughly representing a defending enemy's limbs.

To gain the benefit of its magic, a person with at least one level in monk must train with the dummy 8 hours a day for four weeks.

If the training is ever interrupted for more than a 24 hours, she must begin again.

If this training is interrupted twice, the monk can never gain the benefit of the sparring dummy.

Once she has completed the required training, the monk is allowed to make a 10-foot adjustment whenever she can normally make a 5 foot adjustment.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, haste; Market Price: 30,000 gp; Weight: 40 lb.

STALWART EYE

This Tiny bird-like item allows its owner to speak a command word and see through its eyes.

The stalwart eye has AC 18, hardness 8, 5 hp, and cannot move on its own except to turn its head as the owner desires.

No range limitation exists on the power except that the owner must be on the same plane as the stalwart eye.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, alarm, animal messenger; Market Price: 10,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

STEADFAST STONE

This dwarven item is commonly given out to dwarven defenders and other tunnel guards who require instant fortifications.

The steadfast stone is a granite cube, 1 inch on each side, with runes indicating "growth" written on all sides.

When thrown upon the ground and the command word uttered, the cube grows as a wall of stone cast by a 9th-level cleric.

The stone can grow up to two times per day.

The wall lasts for up to 24 hours or until the command word is uttered, causing it to shrink back into cube form.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wall of stone; Market Price: 32,400 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

STOVE OF EVERLASTING FLAME

Tired of hearing adventurers complain about not being able to start a fire in the middle of rainstorms or underground, an enterprising mage created the first of these handy devices for cooking food.

This enclosed metal box easily fits in the palm of someone's hand.

It has two metal flaps on one end that pop open to reveal a continuously burning flame.

The heat of the flame is equivalent to a torch, although the flame's size (and the light it produces) is the same as a candle.

The metal of the box remains slightly warm to the touch, whether the flaps are open or not.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, produce flame; Market Price: 2,400 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

STYLUS OF THE MASTERFUL HAND

This elegant but sturdy metal stylus grants +5 competence bonus on Forgery checks.

On command, the stylus can also "remember" up to three different types of handwriting, which allows another Forgery attempt without having to make a roll—the DC of that handwriting is "fixed" at whatever was rolled during the attempt.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Scribe Scroll, read magic; Market Price: 3,000 gp; Weight: —.

TESTING CHALICE

Made from tough clear glass, this chalice immediately discerns the properties of any liquid poured into it.

The color of the chalice varies depending on the liquid poured into it.

The opacity of the chalice also varies, depending on the strength of the liquid.

See the table below for the various results.

Chalice Color	Liquid (example)
Clear	Water
Black	Poison
Red	Potion (magical, not alchemical)
Blue	Alchemical liquid (antitoxin, alchemist's fire)
Green	Acid
Silver, shiny <sup>1</sup>	Holy water
Silver, tarnished <sup>1</sup>	Unholy water
Purple	Any other liquid (oil, blood)

Chalice Opacity	Strength/purity (example)
Clear	Very weak/very impure (filthy water)
Translucent	Average/slightly impure (pond water)
Smoky	Strong/very pure (well water)
Solid	Extremely strong/completely pure (distilled water)

<sup>1</sup> The stronger the holy water, the more reflective the glass. The stronger the unholy water, the more tarnished it becomes.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, detect magic, detect poison; Market Price: 4,000 gp; Weight: 1/2 lb.

THURIBLE OF DIVINING

This perforated metal vessel usually comes in the shape of a deity's holy symbol or some totem creature associated with a deity or cult.

If it is filled with incense and lighted, the thurible produces the effect of a prayer spell for as long as the incense burns. A character wielding the lighted thurible can also trigger the following spells.

• Three times per day: Detect magic, detect good, or detect law. The user can use one effect three times, each effect once, or any other combination of effects totaling three uses per day.

Some thuribles may detect other alignments.

- Once per day: Augury or locate object.
- Once per week: Divination or true seeing.
- Once per month: Commune.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, commune, detect good, detect law, detect magic, divination, prayer, true seeing; Market Price: 77,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

THURIBLE OF RETRIBUTION

This item is similar to a thurible of divining. It produces a prayer effect when lighted and allows the following spell effects.

- Three times per day: Command, doom, or inflict light wounds.
- Once per day: Spiritual weapon or searing light.
- Once per week: Inflict critical wounds or circle of doom.
- Once per month: Geas/quest.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, circle of doom, command, doom, geas/quest, inflict critical wounds, inflict light wounds, prayer; Market Price: 77,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

THURIBLE OF WARDING

This item is similar to a thurible of divining. It produces a prayer effect when lighted and allows the wielder to use the following spell effects.

- Three times per day: Entropic shield, endure elements, or sanctuary.
- Once per day: Silence or dispel magic.
- Once per week: Spell immunity or spell resistance.
- Once per month: Blade barrier.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, blade barrier, dispel magic, endure elements, entropic shield, sanctuary, silence, spell immunity, spell resistance, prayer; Market Price: 77,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

TRITON SHELL

Created by tritons, these backpacks are made from single giant shells.

They have been magically treated to keep anything placed inside perfectly dry and protected from pressures of the ocean.

Due to the shape and composition of the shell, it does not hinder the wearer's ability to swim underwater.

Some versions of this magical device are enchanted with gust of wind, allowing Tiny or smaller air-breathing creatures to survive inside the shell.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, resist elements, gust of wind; Market Price: 3,000 gp (without air), 18,000 gp (with air); Weight: 3 lb.

TRUMPETER'S GIFT

This shiny mouthpiece fits any brass instrument such as trumpets and horns.

It grants a +5 competence bonus on Performance checks using the instrument.

Once per day, the trumpeter can use the horn to cast a shout spell.

Unless the horn is at least masterwork quality, however, it is destroyed once the spell is complete.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shout; Market Price: 12,200 gp; Weight: —.

VEHICLE AUGMENTATIONS

These additions to vehicles are constructed like any other magic item, employing the Craft Wondrous Item feat.

BRIDLE OF BURDEN-BEARING

This bit-and-bridle set increases the Strength score of the harnessed dray creature, enabling it to pull heavier loads.

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength; Market Price: 4,000 gp (+2), 16,000 gp (+4), 36,000 gp (+6); Weight: —.

CAPTAIN'S TABLE

This broad wooden table, usually kept in the officers' mess, duplicates the effects of heroes' feast for up to twelve crew members.

Those who spend an hour partaking of the magical fare created by the captain's table are cured of disease, become immune to poison and magical fear and hopelessness, heal 1d4+4 points of damage, and receive the benefits of a bless spell.

The effects last for 12 hours.

The captain's table serves one such meal a day.

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, heroes' feast; Market Price: 72,000 gp; Weight: 16 lb.

CATAPULT STONE OF BECALMING

This catapult stone eliminates even the trace of a breeze within a 400-foot radius of whatever it strikes.

Prevailing winds don't return for 10 minutes.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, control winds; Market Price: 2,500 gp; Weight: 16 lb.

CHARTS OF CERTAINTY

This blank sheet of parchment is every captain's boon.

If unrolled and directly exposed to the sun while aboard a vehicle, it instantly displays a map (as detailed as a commercially available one) of everything within 24 hours' travel at the vehicle's current maximum speed.

If the bearer then specifies a destination, it draws the most direct physical route to that destination.

Like the find the path spell, the charts of certainty work only with respect to locales, not objects or creatures.

If the parchment is rolled up, the map it was displaying disappears.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, find the path; Market Price: 47,520 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

CLOUD KEEL

An invention of djinn on the Elemental Plane of Air, the cloud keel gives its vessel the ability to fly at a speed of 40 feet (clumsy).

If the vessel is wind-powered, it can still use its sails if they provide faster movement than the keel itself.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fly, wish; Market Price: 200,000 gp; Weight: 1,000 lb.

EARTH KEEL

This item, often forged on the Elemental Plane of Earth, enables a water vehicle to move across land as if it were on water.

The vessel's speed is unaffected, but rough terrain slows the vehicle just as it would a land vehicle.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, transmute rock to mud, wish; Market Price: 150,000 gp; Weight: 1,000 lb.

ELDRITCH EXHAUST

Once per day at the command of the driver, a vehicle equipped with this device expels a billowing mass of vapors from its rear.

The three types of vapor available are a fog that obscures the vehicle from pursuers as the fog cloud spell, a cloud of acid as the acid fog spell, or deadly poison as the cloudkill spell.

The 20-foot-high cloud has a 30-foot radius.

Caster Level: 3rd (fog cloud), 9th (cloudkill), 11th (acid fog); Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, relevant spell; Market Price: 2,160 gp (fog cloud), 16,200 gp (cloudkill), 23,760 gp (acid fog); Weight: 10 lb.

FHARLANGHN'S LINES

These bowlines and other ropes are magically animated to make sailing a ship easier.

The ropes snake forward of their own volition, and pull and release by voice command, enabling sails to be set and changed without breaking the backs of the crew.

Each set of Fharlanghn's lines aboard a windpowered ship reduces the required crew by five, to a minimum of two for Colossal wind-powered ships and one for Gargantuan or smaller ships.

Fharlanghn's lines respond only to nautical commands, so they can't be used to entangle foes or tie up captives.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate rope, telekinesis; Market Price: 8,100 gp; Weight: 5 lb.

LIGHTNING TURBINE

Often used in conjunction with magic that controls weather, the lightning turbine is a series of antennae connected to a clockwork gearbox that gives the vehicle greater speed during a storm.

Lightning strikes the antennae, providing power to double the vehicle's speed or give it a speed of 90 feet, whichever is greater.

The vehicle ignores any weather-related penalties to speed.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, call lightning, expeditious retreat; Market Price: 90,000 gp; Weight: 300 lb.

NONDIMENSIONAL TRUNK

Much like a bag of holding, a nondimensional trunk is a cargo box that holds more than it looks capable of.

Anything with dimensions of less than 10 feet in all directions will fit inside.

Up to two tons of cargo can fit in the nondimensional trunk, which weighs no more than 200 pounds, even if the weight of its contents is much heavier than that.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's secret chest; Market Price: 30,000 gp; Weight: 200 lb. (maximum).

PLANAR SAILS

These rainbow-hued sails enable a vehicle to sail to places beyond the Material Plane.

It takes 5 minutes and a successful Knowledge (the planes) check (DC 20) to set the sails for a particular plane.

While the planar sails provide a means to reach worlds beyond, they don't grant the ability to move or survive on the destination plane.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, plane shift; Market Price: 72,000 gp; Weight: 600 lb.

SELF-PROPELLED VEHICLE

By animating the wheels, steering mechanism, and other moving parts on a vehicle, it's possible to build a vehicle that doesn't require dray creatures.

Any land vehicle of Large size or smaller can become self-propelled, gaining a speed of 60 feet.

It still moves under the direction of the driver and retains its usual maneuverability.

Unlike with a normal casting of the animate objects spell, the vehicle does not become a construct and does not gain the ability to fight on its own.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects; Market Price: 132,000 gp; Weight: —.

SKYRIDER'S PLATFORM

This base plate for a single or double chariot enables it to be pulled by flying creatures just as if it were on the ground being pulled by horses.

The chariot ascends or descends according to the dray creatures' maneuverability but turns according to the chariot's maneuverability.

Note that the dray creatures cannot fly if they're burdened with more than a light load, so chariots equipped with this feature sometimes require more dray creatures than their landbound counterparts.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, air walk; Market Price: 56,000 gp; Weight: 20 lb.

SMUGGLER'S HOLD

As the nondimensional trunk above, but the lid and latch of the trunk are magically hidden until a command word reveals them for 1 round.

Spellcasters trying to find the smuggler's hold with divination magic must succeed on a caster level check against DC 20.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's secret chest, major image, nondetection; Market Price: 90,000 gp; Weight: 200 lb.

SPEEDY WHEELS

This pair of wooden wheels fits most wheeled vehicles, increasing the speed of one so equipped by 10 feet.

The wheels must be placed on the same axle to be effective. Regardless of how many speedy wheels a vehicle bears, its speed increases by only 10 feet.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, expeditious retreat; Market Price: 100 gp; Weight: 20 lb. each.

SUMMONER'S BRIDLE

This harness conjures its own dray creature, which serves the bridle's owner for 12 hours.

Most summoner's bridles summon light horses, although some rare versions create a phantom steed (as the spell) with 19 hp, speed 240 feet, carrying capacity 250 pounds, and the ability to gallop across a chasm as if it were firm land for 1 round.

Because the summoner's bridle is usable only once per day, it takes more than one such item to provide enough dray creatures to pull most land vehicles.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, mount or phantom steed (depending on version); Market Price: 2,160 gp (light horse), 12,960 gp (phantom steed); Weight: —.

VEIL OF OBSCURITY

This augmentation disguises a vehicle from curious eyes, making the vehicle appear to be part of the surrounding terrain.

The glamor includes audible, visual, tactile, and olfactory elements, though it can't disguise, conceal, or add creatures.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, mirage arcana; Market Price: 25,000 gp; Weight: —.

WIND-FAVORED SAILS

This set of sails comes in two varieties.

Raising a set of lesser wind-favored sails ensures that the wind speed is always heavy (21–30 mph, speed multiplier  $\times 3$ ), no matter what the prevailing weather conditions.

A set of greater windfavored sails also lets the driver set the wind direction within 600 feet of the vehicle with a command word.

Caster Level: 9th (lesser), 15th (greater); Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, control winds; Market Price: 40,500 gp (lesser), 67,500 gp (greater); Weight: 600 lb.

WEIGHTLESS SCABBARD

This magical scabbard grows and shrinks in size to accommodate any Large to Tiny bladed weapon.

This includes greatsword, falchion, scimitar, rapier, longsword, short sword, and dagger.

While the weapon is in the scabbard, its weight is reduced to zero, although the scabbard retains its own weight.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, reduce; Market Price: 1,600 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

WHIP OF OBEYANCE

This masterwork leather riding whip grants its user a +10 circumstance bonus on Handle Animal checks.

This bonus applies only to creatures with Intelligence 2 or lower.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animal friendship; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

YONDALLA'S WAGON WHEEL

Created by adepts of Yondalla, one of these small amulets is in the shape of a wagon wheel.

Throwing it upon the ground and uttering a command word causes the wheel to grow into a normal-sized covered wagon.

It can remain in that form indefinitely, until the command word is uttered again.

Once per day, the amulet (in wagon form only) can create Leomund's secure shelter as the spell from a 9th-level caster. The shelter's outside appearance blends in perfectly with the exterior of the wagon, so it is not possible to tell that the spell is in effect until someone steps inside.

When the spell effect ends, the wagon remains.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's secure shelter, major creation, reduce; Market Price: 92,880 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BOOK OF CHALLENGES (3.0)

MIRROR OF CONFUSION

Once per day, any humanoid who sees his or her reflection in this 4-foot-by-2-foot mirror triggers a confusion spell (Will save DC 16 negates) centered on the mirror.

The confusion affects only humanoids.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, confusion; Market Value: 4,500 gp.

OIL OF NIGHT

This inky liquid may be used in two ways.

When a vial is thrown onto a surface and breaks, it acts as a darkness spell.

If poured carefully onto an object (requiring a full-round action), it radiates a magical field for one day that temporarily negates any light spells (of 3rd level or lower) brought within 20 feet of it.

The field also renders darkvision useless within its area.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Brew Potion, blindness/deafness, deeper darkness; Market Price: 900 gp.

SECURE DOOR-KNOCKER

Whenever the door-knocker is attached to a wooden door, that door is sealed with arcane lock.

Striking the knocker suppresses the arcane lock for 1 minute and sends a mental alarm (as the alarm spell) to any creature attuned to the knocker (up to five creatures that must be selected when the knocker is installed).

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, alarm, arcane lock, knock; Market Price: 2,000 gp.

BOOK OF EXALTED DEEDS (3.5)

ANTIMAGIC SHACKLES

These adamantine manacles fit any Small to Large creature and create an antimagic field to a radius of 5 feet when they are fastened.

The DC to slip out of the shackles is 28, but breaking them is nearly impossible, requiring a DC 40 Strength check. Moderate abjuration; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, antimagic field; Price 132,000 gp; Weight 5 lb.

INCENSE OF CONSECRATION

When burned in a censer or thurible, the smoke from this incense creates a consecrate effect in a 20-foot emanation.

For the duration of the effect, the censer or thurible can be moved, moving the area of the consecrate as well.

The incense burns for 6 hours, after which it loses all magical properties.

Faint evocation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, consecrate; Price 300 gp; Weight 1 lb.

RETRIBUTIVE AMULET

This amulet provides a +2 sacred bonus to AC.

In addition, when the wearer takes damage from a melee attack made with a natural or hand-held weapon, the damage is divided equally between the attacker and the target.

If the damage is an odd number, the extra point of damage goes to the attacker.

The retributive amulet deals the same types of wounds upon the attacker that the wearer receives, but only damage to hit points.

For example, a rogue who uses a poisoned dagger to stab the amulet's wearer would receive an identical gash in the same spot as the wearer, but would not suffer ability loss from the weapon's poison.

The amulet must be worn to function; it needs no command word for activation.

Faint abjuration; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, shield other; Price 56,000 gp.

SHACKLES OF SILENCE

These wrought-iron manacles fit any Small to Large creature.

They exude a silence effect in a radius just large enough to contain the creature they hold—a 2 1/2-foot radius for a Small or Medium creature, a 5-foot radius for a Large creature.

However, if the creature bound by them escapes without opening them—by slipping out of the shackles or breaking them—the silence effect ends and the shackles ring for 1 round, as the effect of an alarm spell's audible alarm.

The DC to break or slip out of the shackles is 28.

Faint abjuration and illusion; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, alarm, silence; Price 12,000 gp; Weight 2 lb.

STARMANTLE CLOAK

This draping black cloak turns into a sparkling mantle of tiny, cascading stars when worn.

The cloak sheds light as a torch, renders the wearer impervious to nonmagical weapon attacks, and transforms any nonmagical weapon or missile that strikes the wearer into harmless light, destroying it.

Contact with the starmantle does not destroy magic weapons or missiles, but the starmantle's wearer is entitled to a DC 15 Reflex save each time he is struck by such a weapon; success indicates that the wearer takes only half damage from the attack.

Moderate abjuration; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, starmantle; Price 132,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

THURIBLE OF CONSECRATION

Each of these golden censers is sacred to a particular deity whose symbol appears on it.

When a cleric of that deity burns incense of consecration in the thurible and carries it, the effects of the incense are increased as though an altar or similar fixture were in the area of the consecrate spell, doubling its effects.

If a cleric of a different deity uses the thurible, it has no special effect.

Faint evocation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, consecrate, creator must be a cleric of the deity to whom the thurible is sacred; Price 5,000 gp; Weight 4 lb.

TRUMPET OF DOOM

This small brass trumpet is engraved with interwoven patterns of feathers and flames.

The trumpet emits a haunting blare that fills evil enemies with a terrible sense of dread.

All evil creatures within 100 feet that can hear the trumpet's blare are shaken for 1 minute (DC 14 Will save negates).

The trumpet can be blown up to three times per day.

Moderate necromancy; CL 6th; Craft Wondrous Item, doom; Price 7,185 gp; Weight 1 lb.

TRUMPET OF HEALING

This finely wrought trumpet plays beautifully in the hands of any talented trumpeter.

Invoking any of its magic, however, requires playing the horn uninterrupted for a full-round and making a DC 15 Perform (wind instruments) check.

The trumpeter can employ the trumpet three times per day, selecting from the following powers for each use: remove blindness/deafness, remove disease, cure serious wounds, or neutralize poison.

These powers affect all creatures within 360 feet of the horn.

In addition, the trumpet can heal a single creature within hearing range of the uplifting song once per day.

Evil creatures cannot benefit from these effects; in fact, they hear nothing at all when the horn plays.

The trumpeter cannot personally benefit from the trumpet's healing powers.

Strong conjuration; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, cure serious wounds, heal, neutralize poison, remove blindness/deafness, remove disease, creator must be good; Price 115,440 gp; Weight 2 lb.

VAMBRACES OF EVIL'S WARDING

These golden bracers are engraved with holy runes and fit snugly over the arms of any creature that dons them.

Ranged attacks made by evil creatures against the wearer take a -4 penalty.

An evil creature that dons the vambraces of evil's warding takes 2d6 points of damage per round.

Faint abjuration; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, protection from arrows, creator must be good; Price 18,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

BOOK OF VILE DARKNESS (3.0)

BELT OF THE DREAD EMPEROR

If a willing (or dominated or helpless) humanoid creature is attached to the wearer of this belt by a chain and a manacle (see armor of the Dread Emperor), the wearer can draw energy from that creature to power spells.

The belt of the Dread Emperor functions for all spellcasters who prepare spells (including clerics, druids, rangers, paladins, and wizards).

The belt enables the wearer to recall a prepared spell, even if the spell has already been cast, as long as the spell was among those he most recently prepared.

For each spell recalled, the chained creature takes damage equal to the square of the spell's level: A recalled 1st-level spell deals 1 point of damage, a 2nd-level spell deals 4 points, a 3rd-level spell deals 9 points, and so on, up to a 9th-level spell that deals 81 points of damage.

If the chained creature does not have enough hit points left to power a desired spell, the spell fails and the creature dies.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be able to cast 9th-level spells; Market Price: 120,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

COLLAR OF VENOM

A creature wearing this heavy iron collar gives all of its natural attacks an additional poison attack (Fort DC 14) that deals 1d10 points of Constitution damage as its initial and secondary damage.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, poison; Market Price: 50,000 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

COLLAR OF VIRULENT VENOM

As a collar of venom (see above), except that this collar's poison is harder to resist (Fort DC 20).

Caster Level: 18th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Heighten Spell, poison; Market Price: 138,000 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

DARK ALTAR STONE

This piece of black granite, if used as an altar or part of an altar, can be commanded to absorb the soul of a victim sacrificed upon that altar.

The soul is stored as if in a gem as a part of a trap the soul spell.

It can be called forth and used in the various ways described in the Souls as Power section of Chapter 2.

A dark altar stone can store only one soul at a time.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, trap the soul; Market Price: 150,000 gp; Weight: 100 lb.

ELIXIR OF THE DARK SPEECH

This allows the imbiber to speak and understand the Dark Speech as if he possessed the feat of the same name.

This elixir deals 1 point of Strength damage when used.

The speech effect lasts for 10 minutes.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dread word; Market Price: 750 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

FANATIC'S COLLAR

When worn by a willing creature, this spiked iron collar allows the wearer to choose another creature to dominate it, as the spell dominate monster.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dominate monster; Market Price: 30,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

FLESH RING OF SCORN

When this ring is pierced into the flesh of an evil outsider, it allows the outsider to automatically score a critical hit against a nonoutsider whenever the threat of a critical hit is indicated.

Caster Level: 1st; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, corrupt weapon; Market Price: 8,000 gp.

GEM OF PSYCHIC POISON

This gem, when in the possession of a creature, poisons that creature so that anyone casting a mind-affecting or divination spell at the creature is affected with a psychic poison (see Chapter 3) that deals 1d6 points of Intelligence damage as both initial and secondary damage.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, poison area; Market Price: 28,000 gp.

HEAVEN'S THORN

Despite its sharp point, this dark green, dagger-sized thorn makes a poor weapon because it is too brittle and fragile.

However, when it breaks against the flesh of a good-aligned outsider (requiring a touch attack), it releases terrible energy that stuns the target for 1d4 rounds (no save, but spell resistance applies).

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, power word stun, creator must be evil; Market Price: 4,550 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

HOOK OF DISSOLUTION

This wicked metal hook is about 9 inches long. If thrust into a helpless opponent, that opponent slowly disintegrates over a period of 3 rounds (Fort DC 22 negates). This ability works on organic inanimate objects as well as creatures. It can be used three times per day. Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wall of chains; Market Price: 14,400 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

IRON MAIDEN OF PRESERVATION

This coffin-like torture device is filled with spikes that pierce the flesh of anyone placed inside. It deals 1d6 points of damage per round to the prisoner within. It also heals 1d6 points of damage per round, however, but only if that damage was dealt by its own spikes. Thus, the prisoner inside is not likely to die soon, despite the constant pain and terrible wounds continually being inflicted and then healed. Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, heal; Market Price: 7,000 gp; Weight: 550 lb.

MAGGOT HARVESTER

This 6-inch Vasharan orb appears to be made from teeth and bones. When held above a rotting, maggot-infested corpse for 1 round, it draws the maggots into itself. The maggots can then be used to allow the wielder to speak and understand the Dark Speech (see Chapter 2) for 1 minute. Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, tongues, creator must be evil; Market Price: 10,000 gp; Weight: 5 lb.

NECKLACE OF DEMONS

This necklace has eight small black spheres attached to it that can be easily removed (a move-equivalent action). When removed from the necklace and tossed upon the ground (or any hard surface), the sphere shatters, summoning a demon that remains for 10 rounds. Different spheres summon different kinds of demons. Two of the spheres summon 2d4 dretches, two summon 1 quasit each, one summons 1 succubus, two summon 1 vrock each, and one summons 1 hezrou. Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster IX; Market Price: 28,500 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

NIPPLE CLAMP OF EXQUISITE PAIN

The wearer of this ring is immune to debilitating pain effects such as the circle of nausea spell. He is also immune to the wrack spell. He is not immune to actual damage described as pain, such as that found in eyes of the zombie, however. The clamp converts all pain into a pleasurable sensation. This item does not change how or whether the character takes damage, but it does change how he might react to it. Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, masochism; Market Price: 8,000 gp.

OIL OF THE LAMIA

Said to have been created by an evil lamia wizard, this concoction makes magic items more powerful. When applied to a magic item that produces an effect requiring a foe to make a saving throw, the oil increases the DC of the saving throw by +2 if the foe is of good alignment. The oil lasts for 1 hour. The oil is held in a small flask and will coat one item, no matter the size. Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dispel evil; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

PAIN EXTRACTOR

This strange device consists of a flat metal plate about 6 inches square lined with barbed hooks. A thin, flexible tube extends from the plate to an adjustable nozzle that could attach to a variety of flasks, bottles, or other containers. Over the course of one day, this device can extract pain in liquid form from a creature being tortured or otherwise suffering terrible physical torment. This physical manifestation of pain can be used to power magical items or enhance spells (see Pain as Power in Chapter 2). It can also be used as a potent drug. Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, liquid pain; Market Price: 64,000 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

PIPE OF GRIEF

This long smoking pipe, when filled with tobacco and lighted, can create a single 5-foot-radius cloud that remains for 3d8 minutes, once per day. The cloud stays in place for the duration unless acted on by a magical force such as a gust of wind. Anyone within the cloud except the user must succeed at a Will save (DC 17) or take a -4 morale penalty on attack rolls, saving throws, skill checks, and ability checks for 10 rounds. Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wave of grief; Market Price: 3,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

PIERCING NEEDLES OF PAIN

These three needles must be used together to gain any effect. If all three pierce the flesh of a creature (each dealing 1 point of damage that can't be healed until it is removed), the pained creature can give feelings of intense pain to others by touch. The painful touch produces the effect of a wrack spell (Fort DC 15 negates). Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wrack; Market Price: 35,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

PSYCHIC POISON OIL

Each type of psychic poison comes in the form of an oil that can be sprinkled upon the creature, object, or 25-foot-radius area to be poisoned.

Poison	Type	Initial Damage	Secondary Damage	Caster Level	Market Price
Darin-tasith	Creature	1d6 Int	1d6 Int	7th	1,400 gp
Karadrach	Creature	1d6 Wis	1d6 Wis	7th	1,400 gp
Estadrach	Creature	1d8 Wis	2d8 Wis	9th	1,800 gp
Stradda	Creature or object	1d6 Cha	1d6 Cha	8th	1,600 gp
Nishita	Object	1d6 Int	1d6 Int	7th	1,400 gp
Vashita	Object	1d6 Wis	1d6 Wis	7th	1,400 gp
Lanshita	Object	2d6 Cha	2d6 Cha	11th	2,200 gp
Blue unlyn	Area	1d6 Int	1d6 Int	8th	1,600 gp
Red unlyn	Area	1d6 Wis	1d6 Wis	8th	1,600 gp
Amber unlyn	Area	1d6 Cha	1d6 Cha	8th	1,600 gp
Violet unlyn	Area	1d6 Int	2d6 Int	10th	2,000 gp
Black unlyn	Area	1d6 Int, 1d6 Wis, 1d6 Cha	1d6 Int, 1d6 Wis, 1d6 Cha	13th	2,600 gp

Caster Level: See above; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be at least 13th level; Market Price: See above. Weight: 2 lb.

QUIVER OF LIES

This 3-inch-long quiver holds no arrows or bolts.

It fits around the wrist, like a bracelet.

If the wearer holds a bow or crossbow and speaks a lie, an arrow or bolt (whichever is appropriate) appears in the wearer's hand, ready for use.

The arrow or bolt only lasts for 10 rounds.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, minor creation; Market Price: 12,000 gp.

Weight: —.

RACK OF IRRESISTIBLE TORTURE

This torture device, when used on a victim, provides a +10 bonus on the Intimidate check made by the torturer.

Caster Level: 1st; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cause fear; Market Price: 3,000 gp; Weight: 275 lb.

SKULL OF FEAR

This ebony skull is fashioned so it can be mounted on armor, a weapon haft, or a staff or pole.

It gives the wearer or wielder an aura of fear, so that anyone coming within 10 feet is affected as if by a fear spell (Will DC 16 negates).

The wearer or wielder can raise or lower the aura with a command word.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fear; Market Price: 70,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

SLIME POT

This small black pot has a removable lid and an iron handle. If the pot is filled with water and some decaying organic matter (a dead rat, a severed hand, or something of similar size) within 24 hours a patch of green slime grows there. By carefully dumping out the contents of the pot (a standard action), the slime pot's owner can place the patch of slime where she wants it.

She has no special control over or immunity to the slime, however.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster IV; Market Price: 11,200 gp; Weight: 5 lb.

SPIRALBURST BOTTLE

This is a sort of magic weapon contained within a glass bottle until it is used.

Opening or shattering the bottle (often by throwing it like a flask of acid or alchemist's fire) unleashes the spiralburst.

The spiralburst is a portal to the Ethereal Plane that is only about 1/2 inch wide.

This portal has an almost limitless amount of pull, sucking a single creature or object through the gate unless it succeeds at a Fortitude save (DC 30).

If the bottle bursts against something, the object it shatters against is the target.

If the bottle is opened, the opener is the target.

The spiralburst only pulls up to 10 cubic feet through, so if the object or creature is larger than that, only a portion of it is pulled through.

The weapon gets its name because the target drawn through the portal is sucked through in a spiral pattern.

For most living creatures, this is a blood-red spiral as their body is liquefied into a spiral-shaped stream, then drawn through the very small portal in a single round.

Objects, unless they are extraordinarily malleable, are destroyed.

Creatures die instantly unless they are amorphous (such as oozes).

Even objects and creatures that survive are lost on the Ethereal Plane.

The spiralburst disappears after a single use.

Caster Level: 20th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, sympathy, gate; Market Price: 19,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

SYMBOL OF DEMOGORGON

This unholy symbol, dedicated to the Prince of Demons, is worn as an amulet.

It provides a +2 enhancement bonus to Wisdom and allows the owner to cast rotting curse of Urfestra with no corruption cost.

The caster must still prepare the spell normally; if he does not prepare spells, this aspect of the symbol cannot be used.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, rotting curse of Urfestra; Market Price: 10,000 gp; Weight: —.

TONGUE STUDS OF HELL BREATH

These golden studs, pierced through the tongue, turn normal breath passing over them into a 50-foot line of hellfire three times per day.

This hellfire deals 3d6 points of unholy (not fire) damage. There is no saving throw.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, hellfire; Market Price: 35,000 gp; Weight: —.

VASHARAN OFFAL BAG

This big burlap sack is filled with dung that always remains fresh and odiferous.

If someone empties the bag, it loses all its power.

Otherwise, a nonflying giant cockroach (see Chapter 8) can be called out of the bag once per day to serve the bag holder.

The giant cockroach remains for 1 hour or until killed. It obeys all verbal commands of the bag owner, although it will not roam farther than 100 feet from the bag. If it is forcibly moved farther, it responds to no commands, although it will still disappear after its hour is up. Unlike other vermin, a giant cockroach brought forth from this bag understands Common and has an Intelligence score of 3.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster II; Market Price: 3,000 gp.

Weight: 10 lb.

VASHARAN WORM POD

This item is a 6-inch-long gray seed pod.

To get the Vasharan worm pod to function, it must be forcibly inserted into a helpless character's stomach (a standard action), dealing 3d6 points of damage to the character.

For 2d10 days thereafter, gray-white worms grow within the pod, feeding on the character's flesh, dealing 1d4 points of damage each day and creating specialized body parts within the stomach lining.

Once the worms are fully grown, the character can mentally command the worms (a full-round action) to snake a long, fleshy tube out of his stomach and up into his nose.

Thereafter, until the host of the worm pod retracts the tube (a standard action), he can command a worm to travel up the tube, into the nose, through the nasal passage, and into his mouth.

As a standard action, up to three times per day, the character can spit a worm up to 30 feet away, hitting a target with a successful ranged touch attack.

If a worm hits a living creature, it burrows into the creature's body and into its vital organs.

The target must succeed at a Fortitude save (DC 18) or die 1d4 rounds after the worm strikes.

Even a target that succeeds at its saving throw take 2d6 points of damage each round for 1d4 rounds, after which the worm dies.

A remove disease or heal spell kills the burrowing worm, stopping the damage and the risk of death.

A creature with no discernible anatomy is immune to the worms and cannot be the host of a Vasharan worm pod.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, slay living, fabricate, animal growth; Market Price: 35,000 gp.

Weight: 5 lb.

CHAMPIONS OF RUIN (3.5)

CAMELLIA OF THE BLACK LADY

A beautiful flower that beguiles—then punishes.

Lore: A character who makes a DC 20 Knowledge (religion) check knows that the Black Lady was a notorious assassin and servant of Shar.

She used subversion with beauty and poise, and the scent of sweet flowers.

Description: A camellia of the Black Lady is a creamy-white blossom worn in the hair, taking up space on the body as a headband or helmet.

On close inspection, the inner whorls of the flower suggest unsettling, depraved forms.

The item has a sweet, overpowering odor that carries a considerable distance.

Activation: The flower remains perpetually fragrant and perfectly preserved.

The wearer activates the blossom's dominate person power by choosing a humanoid target and pressing the stem (a standard action).

The poison effect activates automatically once the dominate person effect ends.

Effect: When the designated target comes within 20 feet of the wearer, he must make a DC 19 Will save (DC 21 if Selûne is his patron deity) or be captivated by a dominate person effect.

In addition, he is subjected to a remorseless charm effect (no save) that stills his moral conscience.

The victim must follow the instructions of the wearer, no matter how dreadful those orders might be.

The subject remains in the thrall of the wearer for nine days, until the dominate person effect is dispelled, or until the camellia of the Black Lady is destroyed.

When the dominate person effect ends (either through the duration elapsing, a dispel magic effect freeing the victim, or the destruction of the flower), Shar's vengeance manifests finally as a poison spell, dealing 1d10 points of Constitution damage immediately and another 1d10 points of Constitution damage 1 minute later.

Each instance of damage can be negated with a DC 19 Fortitude save (DC 21 if Selûne is the victim's patron deity).

A camellia can be used only once.

Aura/Caster Level: Strong enchantment and necromancy; CL 13th.

Construction: Requires Craft Wondrous Item, dominate person, poison, remorseless charm*, 3,500 gp, 280 XP, 7 days.

Variants: A used camellia of the Black Lady still retains its freshness, fragrance, and interesting appearance; it has a price of 200 gp.

Weight: —.

Price: 7,000 gp.

* New spell described on page 34.

CORONATION CROWNS OF ALIIA AND RHIIGARD

The Coronation Crowns of Aliia and Rhiigard were crafted in the Year of the Fearless Peasant (926 DR) and packed aboard the Nadyra's Glory, along with many other treasures of the realm that were being sent to Cormyr.

After scuttling the bridal ship, Soneillon kept the crowns as symbols of her eventual rightful rule of Impiltur, and they now serve as the royal crowns of Naratyr.

The Coronation Crown of Rhiigard usually sits on the brow of Prince-Consort Imbrar; he even wears it into battle.

It is an ornate, almost gaudy, crown, fashioned of gold and adorned with countless jewels.

The Coronation Crown of Aliia usually lies on Soneillon's throne, although the Queen of Whispers wears it whenever she manifests in physical form.

This crown is often “loaned out” to the most powerful hobgoblin among the tribes of the Giantspires. It too is an ornate crown, fashioned of platinum and also adorned with countless jewels.

Each crown is worth some 30,000 gp in materials alone. Each of the Coronation Crowns has earned the sobriquet of the “Crown of Whispers” and acquired the reputation of a fell magical artifact among the hobgoblins of the Giantspires.

However, despite the legends that surround them, both simply enhance the Charisma of their bearers (as a cloak of charisma +4).

The reason behind their reputation is that both crowns are favorite targets of Soneillon’s object possession ability, and she often whispers to whomever’s head her crown bestrides.

Moderate transmutation; CL 8th; Craft Wondrous Item, eagle’s splendor; Price 50,000 gp; Weight 5 lb.

GREATSWORD OF IMPILTUR

Commissioned to mark the coronation of Sarshel Elethim as king of Impiltur and forged by the dwarves of Earthfast, the Greatsword of Impiltur was not completed until the Year of the Splendid Stag (734 DR), during the early days of the reign of Halanter I.

The blade served as Halanter’s ceremonial sword of state from the time of its dedication until the Year of the Missing Blade (759 DR), when it vanished from the royal vaults along with several other treasures of the realm.

Rumors at the time attributed the blade’s theft to an agent of Ndulu, the balor general who was known to have survived the Fiend Wars.

However, the Greatsword of Impiltur was not among the treasures seized in the aftermath of the Battle of Moaning Gorge twenty-seven years later, casting some doubt on this theory.

In the Year of Wolfpacks (826 DR), Eljak Ferenfal, the Horned Ranger, spent the latter half of the winter hunting a pack of winter wolves across the ice-bound Bluefang Water.

During the course of his relentless pursuit, Eljak stumbled across the mauled and frozen corpse of a Rashemi berserker trapped in the ice.

Although the body was clad in simple hide armor and carried nothing else of any worth, the warrior’s scabbard held an impressive greatsword, later identified as Impiltur’s long-missing sword of state.

At winter’s end, Eljak presented both the Greatsword of Impiltur and a cloak made from the pelt of the winter-wolf pack leader to King Halanter II, and both were placed in the royal vaults with the king’s heartfelt thanks.

In the Year of the Fearless Peasant (926 DR), the Greatsword of Impiltur was lost en route to Cormyr, during the sinking of the Nadyra’s Glory, along with Princess Aliia and many treasures of the realm.

Thus, it is one of the few royal blades of Impiltur that is not included in the five-score swords collectively known as Soargar’s Legacy.

Soneillon recovered the blade from the depths of the Inner Sea, along with the Coronation Crowns of Aliia and Rhiigard, and eventually bore it back to her court in the depths of the Giantspire Mountains.

The great blade then passed to a succession of hobgoblin champions until the Year of the Luminar Procession (1127 DR), when Soneillon reclaimed the blade and gave it to her newly risen undead servant, Prince-Consort Imbrar Heltharn, who has wielded it ever since.

Forged of cold iron, the Greatsword of Impiltur is a +2 ravenous doomstrike greatsword.

The blade is engraved with images of dead and wailing demons, and the pommel is carved in the shape of a balor whose torso has been pierced by the blade.

Strong evocation and necromancy [death]; CL 15th; Craft Arms and Armor, shatter, slay living; Price 54,350 gp; Cost 27,350 gp + 2,174 XP; Weight 15 lb.

SANGUINE NOSTRUM

A powder sprinkled on the heart and mixed with the blood of an enemy.

Description: Sanguine nostrum appears as a simple magical powder.

Activation: The powder must be mixed with a recently killed enemy’s blood and sprinkled on its heart.

Preparing and consuming the heart in this way takes 3 rounds.

Effect: The powder is used to season the fresh heart of an enemy that has been dead for no more than 1 minute.

If treated with sanguine nostrum and eaten immediately, the enemy’s heart grants you great insight, as through the effect of a moment of prescience spell.

The more powerful the enemy, the greater the benefits; the caster level of the spell is equal to the Hit Dice of the creature whose heart you consumed with the powder.

One vial of sanguine nostrum has one use.

Aura/Caster Level: Strong divination and necromancy; CL 15th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, moment of prescience, 2,500 gp, 20 XP, 5 days.

Weight: —.

Price: 5,000 gp.

CHAMPIONS OF VALOR (3.5)

DUKAR HAND CORAL

This living, magic coral is the legacy of the Dukars, an almost lost order of peacekeeping aquatic wizards living in the Sea of Fallen Stars.

When implanted under the skin of the palm, it accelerates the host’s ability to heal and helps him breathe air (if a water-breather) or survive underwater (if an air-breather). The Dukar wizards know how to activate other latent abilities within the coral (see the Dukar substitution levels on page 38).

Lore: The Dukar are an order of wizards in the Sea of Fallen Stars that tries to preserve peace between the often-hostile races living in that body of water.

(Knowledge [history] or Knowledge [arcana] DC 20) The wizards are known for their magical coral implants and extreme specialization in certain schools of magic.

Most of the order's members were wiped out in some long-forgotten conflict and only a handful remain.

(Knowledge [history] or Knowledge [arcana] DC 25).

Description: This piece of coral is about the size and shape of a medallion, three inches across but barely thicker than a coin.

It has a convoluted texture, almost like a maze, and has many colors—pink, pale blue, yellow, and green in seemingly random patterns.

The coral feels slightly rough and smells like saltwater.

If immersed in salt water, it glows faintly for a moment, then returns to normal.

The coral absorbs water if it has been dry for a long time, then feels a little damp for days afterward.

Activation: The coral has to be implanted under the skin of the palm to function.

Cutting the hand deeply and touching the coral to the wound is enough to make this happen (the coral pulls itself into the wound and seals the injury shut behind it).

The Dukar normally do this as part of an initiation ceremony, but the ceremony is not required.

Once implanted, the coral immediately starts working.

The coral ejects itself automatically from a slain creature, and the host of the coral can will it to eject itself from his living flesh, causing 1d4 points of damage in the process and wounding that hand (see Variant: Damage to Specific Areas on page 27 of the Dungeon Master's Guide).

The coral does not interfere with the use of that hand or magic items on the hand or arm in any way.

The palm looks normal except for a pattern of bumps and ridges under the skin.

Effect: Implanted coral increases the host's healing rate; add his Hit Dice to the number of hit points per day he recovers from resting (thus a character resting heals damage equal to his Hit Dice  $\times$  2 per day, and a person resting under long-term care heals damage equal his Hit Dice  $\times$  3 per day).

The coral slowly regenerates the host's lost limbs and other destroyed tissue, taking 1d2 days to regenerate a missing eye and 2d8 days to regrow a missing limb.

If the hand with the implanted coral is lost, the host's body cannot use the coral's power to regenerate, nor can the hand regenerate an entire body.

This ability does not give the host the regeneration ability described on page 314 of the Monster Manual (it doesn't cause most attacks to do nonlethal damage, and so on).

The coral helps an aquatic host extend how long he can breathe air.

For example, an aquatic elf can normally survive out of water for 1 hour per point of Constitution before starting to suffocate, while a sahuagin can last 1 hour per 2 points of Constitution.

Treat the host's Constitution score as 10 points higher for the purpose of determining the host's ability to survive out of water (so an aquatic elf host with Constitution 10 can last 20 hours instead of 10 before starting to suffocate, and a sahuagin host with Constitution 10 could last 10 hours instead of 5).

The coral helps an air-breathing host make better use of his air while holding his breath underwater.

Treat the host's Constitution as 10 points higher for determining how long he lasts before needing to make Constitution checks.

Implanted coral reacts to the presence of other hosts, glowing eerily (light is equivalent to a candle) when it comes within 10 feet of another host creature.

The Dukar use this as a symbol of recognition, greeting each other palm-out.

Though the coral is a colony of living creatures, treat it as an object for all game purposes.

Aura/Caster Level: Faint conjuration. CL 3rd.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, heal or minor creation, water breathing, 800 gp, 64 XP, 2 days.

Weight: —

Price: 1,600 gp.

FAITH TOKEN

A faith token is a minor magic item attuned to a particular deity.

These tokens normally bear a single cantrip or orison related to the deity's portfolio or dogma.

Lore: Faith tokens are usually given as gifts to exceptional members of a church or to someone who performed a significant but not life-saving service.

(Knowledge [religion] DC 10) Among good churches it is customary to for a bearer to give a faith token to another follower of his deity when he no longer has need of it or if he finds someone who needs it more than he does.

(Knowledge [religion] DC 15).

Description: This small piece of jewelry looks like a simple necklace with a small charm stamped or carved with a holy symbol.

A faith token and its necklace can be metal, wood, bone, or any material appropriate for the deity in question.

When activated, a faith token can glow, make noise, flash brightly, or change temperature, depending on its function and its deity.

Prerequisite [optional]: A faith token only works for a worshiper of the deity whose holy symbol it bears.

Activation: Faith tokens are command word activated, usually requiring a few words of prayer (such as "Ilmater protect me"), but sometimes the deity's name is sufficient.

Effect: A faith token usually has embedded within it one 0-level spell usable twice per day.

Some of them have two spells, each usable once per day.

The following are common faith token spells associated with particular deities.

Arvoreen—message, virtue

Chauntea—mending, naturewatch

Corellon Larethian—detect magic, summon instrument

Eilistraee—ghost sound, guidance

Garl Glittergold—prestidigitation, virtue

Hanali Celanil—minor disguise

Helm—virtue

Horus-Re—flare, message

Ilmater—cure minor wounds

Lathander—light

Lurue—cure minor wounds, light

Mielikki—detect poison, know direction

Moradin—resistance

Oghma—songbird, summon instrument

Selune—light, lullaby

Sune—daze, minor disguise

Torm—guidance, virtue

Tymora—guidance

Tyr—resistance, virtue

Yondalla—open/close, purify food and drink.

Aura/Caster Level: Faint (school depends on individual item). CL 1st.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, appropriate spell or spells, 150 gp, 12 XP, 1 day.

Weight: —.

Price: 300 gp.

HARPER TOKEN

The Harpers have many friends and allies, and sometimes they reward people who have done them a service. They also like to mark their friends and loved ones so that other Harpers know to look out for them.

A Harper token is a minor magic item that gives the bearer a small benefit and lets the Harpers identify him.

Such items are often carried by the adventuring sons and daughters of Harpers.

Description: This small brooch is made of silver.

Its head is a flat disk embossed with a handharp.

Some Harper tokens are made of gold or other materials, have different embossed symbols such as a musical note or a tree, and come in other shapes such as belt buckles, bracelets, or rings.

When its power is used, a Harper token glows slightly, becomes warm, buzzes softly, or gives some other small signal that it is functioning.

This signal is never contrary to the purpose of the item; for example, a token that gives a bonus on Hide checks would never glow, and one that helps Move Silently checks would not make noise.

Activation: A Harper token requires a command word to activate it once it is worn, but once activated it continues to function as long as it is worn; removing it ends its benefit until it is donned and the command word spoken once again.

The command words are phrases made up of words that would never be spoken together, such as “blessed Zhentarim”, “friendly phaerimm”, or “drunken golem”.

Harper tokens do not work for evil creatures.

Effect: A Harper token provides a +2 competence bonus on a single skill, such as Climb, Diplomacy, Hide, Knowledge (arcana), or Perform (sing).

The particular skill of each Harper token is usually chosen based on the needs of the person wearing it.

For example, a Harper whose son was prone to blunt speech might give him a token that adds +2 to his Diplomacy checks.

If a Harper token and a Harper pin (see page 159 of Magic of Faerûn) of any kind touch, the token glows momentarily. This property allows Harpers to verify if a token is actually a Harper item or just something that looks like one.

Aura/Caster Level: Faint transmutation. CL 5th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, creator must have 2 ranks in the token's skill, 150 gp, 12 XP, 1 day.

Weight: —.

Price: 300 gp.

TABARD OF THE NIMBRAL HERALD

Heralds of Nimbral wear distinctive black-with-white-piping “triangular” tabards, uniforms with a fly ability that allows them to move from point to point throughout Nimbral quickly when necessary.

Lore: The triangular shape of the tabard echoes Leira's holy symbol, but no Herald will be pleased to be told this. (Knowledge [religion or local Nimbral] DC 10).

Description: The tabards are identical belted black robes dominated by an equilateral triangle-front having one point at the belt, the other two giving the wearer wide, impressive shoulders.

Activation: Once per day, the wearer can utter a command word (“aloft” in Halruaan) as a free action to activate the tabard, allowing the wearer to use a fly effect for up to 5 minutes.

Effect: Every tabard magically resists mold and soiling, and also allows the wearer to fly (as the spell, page 232 of the Player's Handbook).

Aura/Caster Level: Faint transmutation. CL 5th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, fly, 2,700 gp, 216 XP, 6 days.

Variants: There is evidence that Nimbral Lords often temporarily confer additional magic on a tabard for the wearer's use in a specific task.

Weight: 2 lb.

Price: 5,400 gp.

ZUNDAERAZLYM'S NEVERTOKENS

Zundaerazylym, an ancient steel dragon secretly based in Neverwinter, gives these special tokens to her agents, the Soft Claws, to aid them in performing their duties for her and in identifying one another.

Lore: The origin of these magical insignias is lost in history, though their like were once often crafted by powerful wizard families in Halruaa.

(Knowledge [history] DC 20) When questioned, members of such families that are known to have fashioned them at some time in the past either profess no knowledge of such things or simply ignore the queries outright.

Zundaerazylym, the steel dragon leader of the Soft Claws mercenaries based out of Neverwinter, has a cache of nevertokens given to her in the Year of the Watching Cold (1320 DR) by Ensible Mritavvalan, the dying last member of the Mritavvalan family of Halruaa.

(Knowledge [history] DC 30).

Description: All of Zundaerazylym's nevertokens appear as identical, glossy smooth, silvery blue, four-pointed metal stars.

Each is 1 inch thick and about 4 inches across from point to point.

They are lighter than their volume suggests, pierced in the center to allow a neck chain or keepstrap to be passed through them, and their points and edges are rolled and blunt.

They are constructed of an unknown alloy that is extremely durable and resistant to damage.

In fact, it's hard to mark a nevertoken with anything short of a forge hammer; when broken, a token typically bursts into a harmless flaring flame and falls to dust in seconds.

All nevertokens are protected by a blueshine treatment and all emit a pleasant four-tone metallic chord, like a quartet of bells, when struck (a property difficult to fake without careful spellwork).

Prerequisite: Handling a nevertoken doesn't yield any hint of its abilities; Zundaerazylym instructs her agents in token powers, yielding information about the strongest abilities only when she comes to trust a particular Soft Claw.

Activation: All noncontinuous nevertoken powers function when the item is grasped with bare flesh and a power is willed into action (a standard action).

Each of the three noncontinuous powers mentioned below can be used once per day.

Effect: Nevertokens constantly function as a glove of storing (page 257 of the Dungeon Master's Guide), a ring of feather falling, and a ring of mind shielding (both page 232 of the Dungeon Master's Guide).

The tokens are known to have the following additional powers (they might have more, but the dragon has not revealed them):

Sending (page 275 of the Player's Handbook).

Teleport (page 292 of the Player's Handbook).

Trace Nevertoken: As know direction (page 246 of the Player's Handbook), except pointing to the nearest nevertoken.

Aura/Caster Level: Strong conjuration. CL 9th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, teleport, sending, nondetection, shrink item, feather fall, know direction, 33,500 gp, 2,680 XP, 67 days.

Weight: 1/2 lb.

Price: 67,000 gp.

CITY OF SPLENDORS WATERDEEP (3.5)

AMULET OF ALCEDOR

This amulet, consisting of a large sapphire carved in the shape of a clenched fist hung on a chain of platinum links, was crafted by Alcedor Kolat and is always clasped about his neck.

The amulet allows the wearer to cast hold person (Will save DC 14) at will.

Held victims are also affected by a vampiric touch spell.

Moderate enchantment; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, hold person, vampiric touch; Price 318,500 gp; Weight —.

AMULET OF FIRE BREATH

This amulet, fashioned in shape of a miniature gold dragon's head, allows the wearer to breathe fire, as the spell Palarandusk's fire breath, three times per day.

Faint evocation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, Palarandusk's fire breath; Price 10,800 gp; Weight —.

AMULET OF THE WATCH

This amulet, fashioned in shape of a miniature shield emblazoned with the crest of Waterdeep, allows the wearer to use whispering wind once per day.

Watch captains use the amulet to summon help from the Watch or Guard barracks when needed.

Faint evocation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, whispering wind; Price 2,160 gp; Weight —.

BELABRANTAN CAPARISON OF WARMTH

A Belabrantan caparison of warmth is a large ornate cloth fashioned of red silk and emblazoned with the heraldic device of House Belabranta (a white field with a light blue stream and purple netting).

A Belabrantan caparison of warmth keeps both a steed and its rider comfortably warm in extreme temperatures as if they had endure elements cast upon them.

This item takes up space on a griffon's body as a robe.

Faint abjuration; CL 1st; Craft Wondrous Item, endure elements; Price 3,000 gp; Weight 5 lb.

BIT AND BRIDLE OF GRIFFONRIDING

A bit and bridle of griffonriding gives the rider of a griffon a +10 circumstance bonus on Ride checks.

This item takes up space on a griffon's body as an amulet, brooch, medallion, necklace, periapt, or scarab.

Faint conjuration; CL 1st; Craft Wondrous Item, mount; Price 5,000 gp; Weight 2 lb.

GAUNTLETS OF WEAPONRY ARCANE

These gauntlets are made of dragonhide filigreed with silver thread in the shape of magic runes.

They grant the wearer the ability to cast magic weapon at will on a single melee weapon.

The effect lasts as long as the weapon is in contact with at least one gauntlet, and the gauntlets cannot affect more than one weapon at a time.

Faint transmutation; CL 1st; Craft Wondrous Item, magic weapon; Price 2,000 gp; Weight 4 lb.

GRIFFON BADGE OF WATERDEEP

These amulets, fashioned in the form of silver cloak clasps inscribed with a griffon rampant above the arms of Waterdeep, are given to every member of Waterdeep's griffon cavalry.

A griffon badge allows the wearer to use feather fall, as the spell, once per day.

The spell effect can be triggered as an immediate action (see page 80), even if it isn't the rider's turn.

Faint evocation; CL 1st; Craft Wondrous Item, feather fall; Price 400 gp; Weight —.

GRIFFON LANCESADDLE

This exotic military saddle is custom-designed for griffon riding.

It appears to have six small leather cylinders, akin to leather scroll tubes, affixed to it.

Each of the tubes actually contains an extradimensional space capable of holding a single heavy lance (or other item of similar size and shape).

Once the owner has filled at least one tube, she can command the saddle each round to produce any stored items she wishes.

This item takes up space on a griffon's body as a cloak, cape, or mantle.

Moderate conjuration; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's secret chest; Price 1,860 gp; Weight 40 lb.

LAERAL'S ANKLETS

Fashioned and worn by Laeral Arunsun, these everbright anklets are adorned with tiny padlocks.

Their appearance has led to rumors that Laeral is Khelben's captive, kept obedient by magic cast on the anklets.

This is a rumor Laeral has never denied, as it has led to some interesting offers over the years from foes of Khelben who were hoping to gain her help in defeating him in return for freeing her.

In truth, Laeral's anklets surround the wearer with an invisible but tangible field of force, granting her a +8 armor bonus to AC.

Both anklets must be worn for the magic to be effective.

In addition, two times per day, the wearer can cast passwall. Finally, the everbright property means that the anklets never tarnish, are immune to acid and rusting attacks, and grant the bearer resistance to acid 5.

This item takes up space on the body as a pair of boots.

Moderate transmutation; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, mage armor, 16th level caster; Price 135,000 gp; Weight —.

LAERAL'S ROBES

Fashioned and worn by Laeral Arunsun, these rich robes are adorned with scores of magical, eye-like patterns, visible only when the robes are worn.

Laeral's robes act as a robe of eyes, a cloak of resistance +5, and a Heward's handy haversack.

Moderate divination; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's secret chest, true seeing, resistance, creator must be 15th level; Price 160,500 gp; Weight 1 lb.

LORDS' AMULET

Equivalent to an amulet of proof against detection and location, these light, gold medallions on silver chains are stamped with the symbol of the particular Lord of Waterdeep's deity (so as to appear to be a simple religious symbol).

They also function as keys for a set of portals in and about Waterdeep created by Khelben "Blackstaff" Arunsun.

Moderate abjuration; CL 8th; Craft Wondrous Item, nondetection; Price 35,000 gp; Weight —.

LORDS' HELM

These enchanted helms are worn by the Lords of Waterdeep only when they appear in public and support their featureless masks.

A Lords' helm is equivalent to a ring of mind shielding, with the additional property that it alters the wearer's voice to a deep, hollow baritone.

Faint abjuration; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, ghost sound, nondetection; Price 8,750 gp; Weight —.

LORDS' RINGS

A Lords' ring acts as a periapt of proof against poison.

It allows the wearer to cast sending (to Piergeiron or Khelben "Blackstaff" Arunsun only) or teleport (to a fixed location only) at will.

In the latter case, the fixed location varies for each Lord, but it is always considered "very familiar".

Moderate conjuration and evocation; CL 9th; Forge Ring, neutralize poison, sending, teleport; Price 92,250 gp; Weight —.

LORDS' ROBE

The black robes of the Lords disguise body shape and height within their folds, making all the Lords seem 6 feet tall and of indeterminate gender.

Only a true seeing effect pierces the effect, but even then the voluminous robes function as a mundane disguise that conceal most details about the wearer.

Faint illusion; CL 1st; Craft Wondrous Item, disguise self; Price 3,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

Lords' Apparel

No one in Waterdeep will knowingly traffic in the various items of Lords' apparel. None are for sale, and should a player character acquire an item of Lords' apparel and try to sell it in Waterdeep, few would consider buying it, expecting that Khelben Blackstaff would deal harshly indeed with anyone engaged in such trade. (Of course, folk in other cities might eagerly purchase items of a Lord's apparel.) The prices are given here so that item-crafting characters who wish to create items with similar properties (or to create fake Lords' apparel, for that matter) can do so.

MASK OF LHESTYN

The mask of Lhestyn is a bejeweled white silk veil worn across the brow and secured by a string of black pearls. It acts as both a hat of disguise and a medallion of thoughts. Fabricated by Shilarn Silmaeril for her daughter, Lhestyn employed the mask to infiltrate the Shadow Thieves and expose their activities.

Ever since, the mask of Lhestyn has served as a symbol of Waterdeep's expulsion of the guild, making it both a beloved symbol of justice for ordinary Waterdhavians and the focus of the Shadow Thieves' anger.

The mask vanished when Lhestyn's husband Zelphar died, suggesting the Shadow Thieves had a part in his murder.

However, members of the exiled guild have continued to search for the mask of Lhestyn, a fact that either absolves them of his death or suggests that their plot went awry.

Faint divination; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, detect thoughts, disguise self; Price 14,700 gp; Weight —.

SPELL-LENS

Originally fashioned by the Netherese, spell-lenses have only recently been recovered from the ruins of the Sargauth Enclave by explorers of Undermountain.

A spell-lens resembles a small crystal oval with a socket on one end that attaches to the end of a wand.

When used in such a fashion, a spell cast from a wand acts as if affected by both the Empower Spell feat and the Enlarge Spell feat, but costs triple the normal number of charges.

If the wand lacks sufficient charges, the spell-lens has no effect.

Strong transmutation; CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, Empower Spell, Enlarge Spell; Price 13,500 gp; Weight —.

SLIPPERS OF SHADOWWALKING

When worn, a pair of these soft black slippers enable the wearer to use shadow walk once per day.

Originally fashioned by Marune (see page 68), the method of creating these Shadow Weave items has been shared with several other magic item fabricators in the employ of the Shadow Thieves of Amn.

Moderate illusion; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, shadow walk; Price 23,760 gp; Weight 1/2 lb.

STAMP OF THE MESSENGER

Appearing as a well-crafted wax-seal stamp, the silver form of this handheld seal magically produces its own sealing wax.

The gold form of this stamp causes the sealed wax to animate as a Fine construct with wings and fly to the intended recipient, assuming they are within two miles of the sealed wax at the time of its creation and assuming it is affixed to an object of 1/2 pound or less in weight.

➤ Flying Wax Seal: CR 1/5; Fine construct; HD 1/8d10; hp 1; Init +0; Spd fly 40 ft. (average); AC 18, touch 18, flat-footed 18; Base Atk +0 (no effective attack form); SQ darkvision 60 ft., low-light vision, construct traits; SV Fort +0, Ref +0, Will +0; AL N; Str 1, Dex 10, Con —, Int —, Wis 10, Cha 1.

Silver: Faint transmutation; CL 1st; Craft Wondrous Item, arcane mark; Price 1,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

Gold: Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate object, arcane mark, overland flight; Price 2,750 gp; Weight 1 lb.

TEUKIIR BADGE

These raw mithral badges bear the mark of a rolled-up scroll sealed by a round moon, set in white enamel rimmed with a circle of twelve blue-white stars.

Once per day, the bearer of the badge can transport himself and only himself directly to the Silver Safehold, a mysterious demiplane created by Khelben and the Sword Heralds.

Portals in the Silver Safehold lead back to Faerûn.

Strong conjuration; CL 18th; Craft Wondrous Item, plane shift; Price 12,000 gp; Weight —.

CITYSCAPE (3.5)

DUO-DIMENSIONAL JUG

Price (Item Level): 1,000 gp (4th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 12) transmutation

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: 8 lb.

This appears to be a perfectly normal jug, though it's perhaps a bit nicer and cleaner than most.

A duo-dimensional jug contains two interiors—one accessed normally, and one in an extradimensional space—each of which can hold up to a gallon of liquid.

By speaking the command word as you remove the cork, you can access the extradimensional space instead, filling it or emptying it as you choose.

Anyone who removes the cork without saying the command word accesses the jug's normal contents.

Only liquids can be placed within the extradimensional space.

This is particularly useful for smuggling poisons, potions, or the like, though it can be used simply to keep one's companions out of the good wine.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, rope trick.

Cost to Create: 500 gp, 40 XP.

GUARDIAN'S LANTERN

Price (Item Level): 7,750 gp (11th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 13) divination and evocation

Activation: Standard (manipulation)

Weight: 2 lb.

The light dancing within flickers off the polished brass hood and handle of this lantern.

The glass emits a faint glow, almost independent of the fire within. This hooded lantern requires no fuel, and it burns with no heat.

It is activated or deactivated by turning a knob at the top.

In addition, all weapons glow when brought within the lantern's 60-foot radius of dim illumination, and all invisible creatures glow when they come within the lantern's 30-foot radius of bright illumination.

(See detect weaponry, Cityscape 66, and see invisibility; the lantern detects or fails to detect targets as per these spells).

This glow is visible only to the person who manipulates the lamp's knob.

The manipulator need not be holding the lamp for these effects to be noticeable to her, but she must be within 5 feet of it.

The lamp can be used for up to 1 hour a day.

The time need not be consecutive, but each use rounds up to the next 10-minute interval.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, continual flame, detect weaponry, see invisibility.

Cost to Create: 3,785 gp, 310 XP.

COMPLETE ADVENTURER (3.5)

AMULET OF ABERRANT EMPATHY

This strange, twisted amulet allows the wearer to use the Handle Animal skill in place of the Diplomacy skill when dealing with some aberrations.

While wearing an amulet of aberrant empathy, a character can make Handle Animal checks rather than Diplomacy checks to influence the attitude of aberrations with an Intelligence of 9 or lower.

Moderate enchantment; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, charm monster; Price 1,400 gp.

ARMBANDS OF MIGHT

These bronze armbands grant their wearer a +2 bonus on Strength checks and Strength-based skill checks.

If the wearer has the Power Attack feat, he gains a +2 bonus on melee damage rolls on any attack on which he uses the Power Attack feat and takes a penalty of at least -2 on his attack roll.

Armbands occupy the same space on the body as a pair of bracers or bracelets.

Faint transmutation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength; Price 4,100 gp.

BADGE OF VALOR

This golden brooch provides its wearer with a +2 morale bonus on saves against fear effects.

This bonus improves to +4 on level checks made to avoid being intimidated.

The morale bonus of this badge stacks with the morale bonus granted by the paladin's aura of courage ability and the bard's inspire courage ability.

Faint enchantment; CL 4th; Craft Wondrous Item; heroism; Price 1,000 gp.

CHOKER OF ELOQUENCE

Coveted by bards, singers, and public speakers, this beautiful necklace is carved from ivory and jade.

There are two versions of these chokers.

A lesser choker of eloquence grants a +5 competence bonus on Diplomacy, Bluff, and Perform (sing) checks.

A greater choker of eloquence increases the bonus to +10.

Moderate transmutation; CL 6th; Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be a spellcaster of at least 6th level; Price 6,000 gp (lesser), 24,000 gp (greater).

COLLAR OF OBEDIENCE

Any animal or magical beast wearing this collar becomes easier to handle.

The DC of any Handle Animal check to handle, push, teach, train, or rear the wearer is decreased by 5.

A collar occupies the same space on the body as an amulet, brooch, or other item meant to be worn around the neck.

Faint enchantment; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, charm animal; Price 1,500 gp.

CROWN OF STEADY RULERSHIP

This ornate golden crown is a useful tool for princes and potentates, for it allows them to see through the falsehoods that parade before them.

The wearer gains a +5 competence bonus on Sense Motive checks and on Spot checks made to see through disguises. Faint divination; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, see invisibility; Price 4,500 gp.

FLUTE OF THE SNAKE

The music of this flute has the power to charm snakes of all kinds.

By playing this flute and making a DC 15 Perform (wind instruments) check, the musician can produce a charm animal effect that affects only snakes.

This power can be used three times per day.

Once per day, by playing a droning sequence of notes for 1 full round and succeeding on a DC 20 Perform (wind instruments) check, a musician can summon 1d4+1 Medium vipers.

These snakes appear wherever the flutist designates within 30 feet of her location.

They fight on the musician's behalf, attacking on her turn, and remain for 7 rounds or until killed.

Moderate conjuration and enchantment; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, charm animal, summon nature's ally IV; Price 15,400 gp.

FOCHLUCAN BANDORE

In the same vein that most folk consider the Fochlucan College to be the most famous of the bardic colleges, the most well-known and most often encountered of all the famed instruments of the bards is the Fochlucan bandore. (This item and the other instruments of the bards are described in detail in Complete Arcane).

This three-stringed masterwork lute grants a +2 circumstance bonus on Perform (string instruments) checks and a +1 competence bonus on bardic music checks for countersong, fascinate, and suggestion.

The instrument can be played by anyone to produce light once per day.

Any character with at least 2 ranks in Perform (string instruments) can use the bandore to cast flare, mending, and message each once per day.

Faint transmutation, faint evocation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, flare, light, mending, message, creator must be a bard; Price 1,900 gp; Weight 3 lb.

HARP OF THE IMMORTAL MAESTRO

This pinnacle of instrument design functions as a masterwork harp with minor magical effects in the hands of someone with 1 or more ranks in Perform (string instruments).

By speaking the correct command words, such a musician can use levitate and magic circle against evil once per day each.

A harp of the immortal maestro functions best in the hands of a musician with at least 15 ranks in Perform (string instruments).

Such a user can, simply by strumming the harp, generate the following effects once per day each: cure critical wounds, displacement, and summon monster V.

Moderate abjuration, conjuration, illusion, and transmutation; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, cure critical wounds, displacement, levitate, magic circle against evil, summon monster V, creator must have 15 ranks in Perform (string instruments); Price 51,000 gp; Weight 3 lb.

HEADBAND OF CONSCIOUS EFFORT

Anyone wearing a headband of conscious effort can make a Concentration check in place of a required Fortitude saving throw.

This ability can be activated once per day.

Activating the headband is an immediate action that does not provoke attacks of opportunity.

Moderate transmutation; CL 6th; Craft Wondrous Item, Combat Casting, bear's endurance; Price 4,000 gp.

JUMPING CALTROPS

These unusual items are actually Diminutive animated objects.

When released from their bag, they begin hopping around the 5-foot square in which they land.

When someone tries to move into, through, or within that square on foot, the jumping caltrops immediately try to scurry under the interloper's feet.

Jumping caltrops can't move from the square in which they land.

The number of caltrop attacks a creature is subject to while within the affected area depends on its current speed: four if it moved into the square at normal speed, two if it moved into the square at half speed, and none if it moved into the square at one-quarter speed or less.

(One-quarter speed assumes that the creature is shuffling forward without picking up its feet).

The target's shield, armor, and deflection bonuses don't count against these attacks.

A target that is wearing shoes or other footwear, however, gets a +2 bonus to AC.

The speed of any target that takes damage from the caltrop attack is reduced to one-half normal because of the foot injury.

Once they are released, jumping caltrops continue to move for 11 rounds, though the owner can order them back into the bag before the duration expires if desired.

However, they can move (and thus attack on their own) only upon their first use; thereafter, they become normal caltrops.

🔪 Jumping Caltrop: CR 1/4; Diminutive construct; HD 1/4 d10; hp 1; Init +3; Spd n/a; AC 17, touch 17, flat-footed 14; Base Atk +0; Grp -14; Atk or Full Atk +7 melee (1, impale); Space/Reach 1/2 ft. by 1/2 ft./0 ft.; SQ construct traits, use Dexterity instead of Strength for melee attacks; AL N; SV Fort +0, Ref +3, Will -5; Str 6, Dex 16, Con —, Int —, Wis 1, Cha 1.

Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects; Price 150 gp; Weight 2 lb.

LUTE OF THE WANDERING MINSTREL

This finely wrought instrument functions as a masterwork lute with minor magical effects in the hands of someone with 1 or more ranks in Perform (string instruments).

By speaking the correct command words, such a musician can use levitate and magic circle against evil once per day each. A musician with 5 or more ranks in Perform (string instruments) can coax additional magical effects from this instrument.

By playing a single chord on the lute, such a performer can generate an expeditious retreat, haste, or phantom steed effect. Each of these abilities is usable once per day.

Faint abjuration, conjuration, and transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, expeditious retreat, haste, levitate, magic circle against evil, phantom steed, creator must have 5 ranks in Perform (string instruments); Price 29,500 gp; Weight 3 lb.

MANDOLIN OF THE INSPIRING MUSE

Bards and other musicians prize this carefully crafted mandolin, which functions as a masterwork mandolin with minor magical effects in the hands of someone with 1 or more ranks in Perform (string instruments).

By speaking the correct command words, such a musician can utilize levitate and magic circle against evil once per day each.

In addition, an owner with at least 15 ranks in Perform (string instruments) can use the mandolin to generate the effects of crushing despair, dominate person, and good hope each once per day each by playing the correct notes.

Moderate abjuration, enchantment, and transmutation; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, crushing despair, dominate person, good hope, levitate, magic circle against evil, creator must have 10 ranks in Perform (string instruments); Price 42,000 gp; Weight 3 lb.

MASK OF LIES

This black, featureless mask has only slits for eyes and mouth.

The wearer can use disguise self on herself at will and is continually under the effect of undetected alignment.

In addition, she gains a +5 competence bonus on Bluff checks.

A mask occupies the same space on the body as eye lenses or goggles.

Faint abjuration and illusion; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, disguise self, undetected alignment; Price 17,000 gp.

MEDAL OF GALLANTRY

This silver sun-shaped brooch grants its wearer a +2 bonus on Diplomacy checks but imposes a -2 penalty on Bluff checks.

This penalty remains for 24 hours after the medal is removed.

Three times per day the wearer can use sanctuary on himself as a swift action.

If the wearer attacks while protected by this effect, he takes a -1 morale penalty on that attack and all subsequent attacks for 1 hour afterward.

Faint abjuration; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, sanctuary; Price 1,100 gp.

MONOCLE OF PERUSAL

This crystal lens provides the user with a +5 competence bonus on Appraise checks.

Once per day the user can use identify.

A monocle occupies the same space on the body as a pair of eye lenses or goggles.

Faint divination; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, identify; Price 6,500 gp.

PAPYRUS OF DECEPTION

This enchanted sheet of paper usually looks thick and yellowed with age.

However, when used as the basis for a forged document, the papyrus is extremely useful, since it changes its size, consistency, and appearance to match the mental description of the forger.

When used as part of a forgery, papyrus of deception adds a +5 enhancement bonus to the Forgery check.

The papyrus can never duplicate a sheet of paper larger than 12 inches on a side or smaller than 3 inches on a side. Papyrus of deception can be reused.

Faint divination; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, read magic; Price 2,000 gp.

PENDANT OF DRACONIC EMPATHY

This enchanted amulet allows the wearer to use the Handle Animal skill in place of the Diplomacy skill when dealing with dragons whose Intelligence is 11 or lower.

Moderate enchantment; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, charm monster; Price 3,300 gp.

POSSUM POUCH

Also known as a false stomach, a possum pouch is a small, flat, circular bag about 10 to 12 inches in diameter and up to 2 inches thick.

When placed against a humanoid's abdomen and sealed there with a command word, it blends in unobtrusively with the surrounding skin, requiring a DC 30 Search check to detect.

Spies and couriers find these items useful as diplomatic pouches, while nobles and wealthy merchants sometimes use them as money belts.

Assassins, ninjas, and sneak-thieves love possum pouches because they make it easy to smuggle poison, daggers, and small valuables into or out of well-guarded houses.

Faint illusion; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, disguise self; Price 1,800 gp; Weight 1 lb.

ROPE OF STONE

This normal-looking, 50-foot coil of silk rope becomes as hard as stone (hardness 8, 15 hp) when a command word is spoken.

A second command word returns the rope to its normal composition.

The rope retains its exact shape when hardened (which adds 5 to the DC of Escape Artist checks made to slip free of it).

If it is ever broken in either form, the rope is destroyed.

Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, stone shape; Price 2,800 gp; Weight 5 lb.

SANDALS OF HARMONIOUS BALANCE

These plainlooking wood and leather sandals make it possible to undertake incredible feats of balance.

While wearing sandals of harmonious balance, a character gains a +10 insight bonus on Balance checks and can balance on vertical surfaces.

The normal DC modifiers (such as for a slippery surface) apply, except for the modifier for a sloped or angled surface. If balanced on a vertical surface, the wearer can move up or down as if she were climbing.

However, she is not actually climbing, so she can make attacks normally, retains her Dexterity bonus to Armor Class, and generally follows the rules of the Balance skill rather than the Climb skill.

If the wearer has 10 or more ranks in Balance, she can balance on liquids, semisolid surfaces such as mud or snow, or similar surfaces that normally couldn't support her weight.

For each consecutive round that she begins balanced on a particular surface of this sort, the DC of her Balance check increases by 5.

As with all uses of the Balance skill, the wearer moves at half speed unless she decides to use the accelerated movement option (thereby increasing the DC of the Balance check by 5).

For more information on the Balance skill, see page 67 of the Player's Handbook.

Moderate transmutation; CL 8th; Craft Wondrous Item, balancing lorecall; Price 14,000 gp.

SCARF OF WARMTH

This woolen scarf provides the wearer with a +4 bonus on Fortitude saves made to resist the effects of cold weather (see Cold Dangers, page 302 of the Dungeon Master's Guide).

A scarf occupies the same space on the body as an amulet, necklace, or other item worn around the neck.

Faint abjuration; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, endure elements; Price 250 gp.

SHAWL OF BEWITCHING

A character wearing this simple-looking shawl gains a +5 competence bonus on Bluff checks made to conceal the truth (but not on any other use of the Bluff skill, including feinting in combat, creating a diversion to hide, or delivering a secret message).

It also adds 1 to the wearer's caster level when he casts any enchantment (charm) spell.

A shawl occupies the same space on the body as a cloak, cape, or mantle.

Faint enchantment; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, charm person; Price 3,500 gp.

SPELLSIGHT SPECTACLES

These spectacles grant the wearer a +5 competence bonus on Spellcraft checks made to decipher scrolls, and a +5 competence bonus on Use Magic Device checks made to use scrolls.

Spectacles occupy the same space on the body as a pair of eye lenses or goggles.

Faint divination; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, read magic; Price 2,500 gp.

SPOOL OF ENDLESS ROPE

Some adventurers never seem to have enough rope.

A spool of endless rope contains an unlimited amount of the finest silk rope, yet the whole spool weighs only a single pound.

The spool comes with a belt loop so that it can be hung conveniently at an adventurer's side.

To use a spool of endless rope, the owner feeds out as little or as much rope as desired, up to a maximum of 500 feet at any one time.

When finished with the rope, the owner can simply wind it back onto the spool.

(Feeding out or rewinding requires 1 round per 50 feet of rope).

The rope can't be entirely separated from the spool, though it can be cut or broken as a normal silk rope can be.

Any portion of rope cut away from the spool disappears instantly, but the spool immediately replenishes the missing rope.

The rope from a spool of endless rope can be spliced or knotted together with another rope (including a rope from a second spool of endless rope), but the rope can't be wound back into the spool while so attached.

Moderate conjuration; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's secret chest; Price 2,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

STRINGS OF SPELL STORING

This set of catgut strings for a lute, mandolin, or other string instrument can store up to five levels of spells.

By making a DC 15 Perform (string instruments) check while employing a masterwork instrument equipped with these strings, a musician can unleash the desired spell. Each spell has a caster level equal to the minimum level needed to cast the spell.

The user need not provide any material components or focus, or pay an XP cost to cast the spell, and there is no arcane spell failure chance for any armor the user is wearing.

The activation time for the strings is the same as the casting time for the relevant spell, with a minimum of 1 standard action.

Treat a randomly generated set of strings of spell storing as a scroll for determining what spells are stored within it (see pages 238–243 of the Dungeon Master's Guide).

If you roll a spell that would put the set over its five-level limit, ignore that roll; those strings have no more spells in them.

(Not every newly discovered set of strings is fully charged).

The strings magically impart to the user the names of all spells currently stored within them.

Casting spells into the strings functions identically to casting spells into a ring of spell storing (see page 233 of the Dungeon Master's Guide), except that the caster must have at least 1 rank of Perform (string instruments) and must make a successful Perform (string instruments) check (DC 10 + spell level).

Failure causes the spell to be lost to no effect.

Moderate evocation; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, imbue with spell ability, creator must have 5 ranks in Perform (string instruments); Price 45,000 gp.

STYLUS OF THE MASTERFUL HAND

This elegant but sturdy metal stylus grants a +5 competence bonus on Forgery checks.

On command, a stylus of the masterful hand can also remember up to three different types of handwriting, which allows a later attempt to create a forgery of a document without requiring the forger to have a sample of the handwriting (see Forgery, page 74 of the Player's Handbook).

The DC to reproduce that handwriting is fixed at whatever check result was achieved during the attempt in which the sample was collected.

A second command word allows the user to erase a sample of handwriting stored in a stylus.

Faint divination; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, read magic; Price 3,000 gp.

TABLE OF SECLUSION

The Fochlucan masters created this unique item to ensure that their deliberations remained private.

The great mahogany table can produce a Mordenkainen's private sanctum effect on command once per day.

All members of the Yew Circle know the command word.

Moderate abjuration; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, Mordenkainen's private sanctum; Price 16,200 gp.

TRUMPETER'S GIFT

This shiny mouthpiece fits any wind instrument, such as a trumpet or other horn.

It grants a +5 competence bonus on Perform (wind instruments) checks using the instrument.

Once per day, the trumpeter can use the horn to produce a shout effect.

If the horn is not of masterwork quality, however, it is destroyed once this effect is produced.

Moderate evocation; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, shout; Price 12,700 gp.

TUNIC OF STEADY SPELLCASTING

The wearer of this tunic gains a +5 competence bonus on Concentration checks.

Despite the item's name, its bonus applies on all Concentration checks, not just those made to cast spells.

Faint transmutation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, bear's endurance; Price 2,500 gp.

VIAL OF THE LAST GASP

This is actually the necromantically preserved last breath of some famous figure, trapped in a vial.

A vial of the last gasp allow the user to draw strength and knowledge from the dead creature.

Anyone who unstoppers the vial and inhales its vapors (the equivalent of drinking a potion) gains 1d8 temporary hit points, a +2 enhancement bonus to Strength, and a +4 insight bonus on checks using one Craft, Knowledge, or Profession skill possessed by the deceased.

(However, the vapors in a vial of the last gasp do not allow an untrained user to make use of a trained-only skill).

The creator specifies the skill to which the bonus applies upon creating the item; it is usually the skill in which the deceased has the greatest number of ranks.

In addition, the fumes increase the user's effective caster level by 1.

These effects last for 10 minutes.

Faint necromancy; CL 4th; Craft Wondrous Item, death knell; Price 2,200 gp.

COMPLETE ARCANES (3.5)

AROMA OF CURDLED DEATH

This dark, viscous fluid is usually stored in a small stoppered bottle and applied like a perfume.

One round after exposure to air, it creates an invisible cloud of poison gas in a 10-foot radius that lasts for 1 minute.

The creature wearing the aroma of curdled death is protected from the cloud's effect, but all other exposed creatures with 3 Hit Dice or less die with no save.

Creatures with 4 to 6 Hit Dice must succeed on a DC 17 Fortitude save each round they are exposed to the effect or die (taking 1d4 points of Constitution damage on a successful save), and creatures with 6 or more Hit Dice take 1d4 points of Constitution damage (Fortitude DC 17 half).

The cloud moves as the creature does.

If the bottle is opened but the liquid within not immediately applied to a creature, the cloud of poison gas that forms spreads to fill only a 5-foot radius, centered on the opened bottle or the place the liquid was poured out.

This cloud also lasts for 1 minute.

Moderate conjuration; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, cloudkill, character must have 4 ranks in Craft (alchemy);

Price 4,500 gp.

AROMA OF DREAMS

This silvery liquid is usually kept in a small bottle and applied like a perfume.

One round after exposure to air, it creates an invisible cloud of magical poison gas in a 10-foot radius that lasts for 1 minute.

The creature wearing the aroma is not subject to its effect, but other creatures exposed to the gas must make a DC 14 Fortitude save or fall asleep for 1 minute.

One round later, exposed creatures (whether already asleep or not) must make a second DC 14 Fortitude save or fall asleep for 1 hour.

Sleeping creatures are helpless.

The cloud moves as the creature does.

If the aroma is opened but not immediately applied to a creature, the cloud of poison gas that forms spreads to fill only a 5-foot radius, centered on the opened bottle or the place the liquid was poured out.

This cloud also lasts for 1 minute.

Faint enchantment; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, deep slumber, character must have 4 ranks in Craft (alchemy); Price 1,500 gp.

BELT OF MANY POCKETS

This broad belt seems to be nothing more than a well-made article of clothing, but closer examination reveals eight small pouches along its inner front.

In fact, a total of sixty-four extradimensional pouches exist in the belt, with seven more "behind" each of the eight readily apparent ones.

Each pouch is similar to a miniature bag of holding, able to contain up to 1 cubic foot of material weighing as much as 10 pounds.

In addition, if the wearer has a familiar, any pouch can hold it no matter what its size or weight.

The familiar has no need for food, water, or air while inside the pouch, but any other living creature of suitable size placed within a pocket has enough air for only 1 minute, after which it suffocates.

Anything stored in the belt's pockets is effectively weightless and doesn't affect the wearer's carrying capacity so long as the belt is worn around the waist.

If removed, the belt weighs one-tenth of the total weight of all the items stored within it.

While worn around the waist, the belt responds to its wearer's desire to extract something (by opening the correct pouch) or store something (by opening an empty pouch).

Retrieving a specific item from the pouch is a move action, but doesn't provoke the attacks of opportunity that retrieving a stored item usually does.

Moderate conjuration; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, familiar pocket*, Leomund's secret chest, locate object; Price 11,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

* New spell described on page 106.

BELT OF SPELL RESISTANCE

When worn around the waist, this intricately embroidered sash grants the wearer spell resistance 21.

Moderate abjuration; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, spell resistance; Price 90,000 gp.

BOOK OF BLOOD

Bound in blood-red leather and bearing a bronze clasp, this vellum spellbook is waterproof, fireproof, and lockable, and can contain up to forty-five spells of any level.

In addition, once per day, its owner can use the book to cast summon monster IV to summon a yeth hound.

The book can also be used to cast finger of death once per day, but each such use permanently drains 1 hit point from the wielder.

The book must be held to utilize its powers.

Strong conjuration, strong necromancy; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, finger of death, summon monster IV; Price 21,300 gp; Weight 3 lb.

CHASUBLE OF FELL POWER

This long, embroidered strip of scarlet cloth is covered with arcane sigils and mystic designs.

Worn over the neck (occupying space on the body as an amulet), a chasuble of fell power adds 1d6 points of damage (lesser) or 2d6 points of damage (greater) to any eldritch blast the wearer invokes, or to any spell the wearer casts that deals hit point damage and has the chaotic descriptor.

Moderate evocation; CL 6th (lesser) or 9th (greater); Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be able to invoke an eldritch blast or cast chaos hammer; Price 8,000 gp (lesser), 18,000 gp (greater).

CONTRACT OF NEPTHAS

Easily mistaken for a scroll if found as treasure, this item is actually a magical contract, usually contained in an ivory tube and scribed in black ink on golden-brown vellum.

The details of the contract are blank, and the user can fill it in with any instructions, agreement, or conditions he cares to create.

When the contract is signed, though, the item's true power is revealed to both parties, and any signatory who breaks the contract is subject to a curse that strikes it blinded, deafened, and mute (no saving throw, though spell resistance applies).

The curse of a contract of Nepthas can be removed only by means of remove curse cast by an 8th-level spellcaster or a break enchantment spell (DC 25).

Because a contract typically involves two parties agreeing on a set of conditions, nonspecific terms might allow a clever signatory to escape them without suffering the contract's curse.

For example, if an adventurer signs a contract with a king stating that she will slay a dragon in the Northern Hills by the eve of the new moon, the contract is effectively opened by virtue of its not specifying "the next new moon", even if that was both parties' meaning and intent.

Contracts signed by creatures under the influence of charm or compulsion effects are null and void.

Moderate enchantment; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, lesser geas; Price 1,400 gp.

DUST OF DISPERSION

This fine powder resembles other types of magic dust, and a single handful flung into the air creates a translucent cloud 10 feet high, 10 feet long, and 10 feet wide.

Creatures outside the cloud can see into it and through it (though their sight is slightly blurred), but any ranged attacks entering or passing through the cloud have a 50% miss chance.

Creatures within the cloud make ranged attack rolls normally.

The cloud persists for 3 minutes, but a moderate wind (11+ mph) disperses it in 4 rounds.

A strong wind (21+ mph) disperses the cloud in 1 round, and any spell that deals fire damage burns away any part of the cloud in its area.

The dust cannot be used underwater.

Faint illusion; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, blur, glitterdust; Price 2,100 gp.

DYRR'S IMPERVIOUS VESTMENT

This black silk robe is embroidered with adamantite thread in an elegant waterfall pattern.

It confers a +9 armor bonus to its wearer, and once per day can be commanded to create a blade barrier as a full-round action.

The spell produces a ringed wall of whirling blades only (20 feet high, up to 90 feet in diameter, centered on the wearer's current location), which lasts for 18 minutes or until dismissed as a standard action.

As long as Dyrr's impervious vestment is worn, the wearer is able to pass through the barrier without harm, though he receives no such protection against any other blade barrier. Strong abjuration; CL 18th; Craft Wondrous Item, blade barrier, mage armor; Price 123,000 gp; Weight 3 lb.

INSTRUMENTS OF THE BARDS

A wise and powerful bard named Falataer reportedly created the first of these instruments, using them to test and reward the students of the seven levels of his bardic college.

Others have since copied the designs, honoring Falataer by keeping the names he gave them.

Each instrument has its own set of unique powers that can be activated automatically by anyone with sufficient ranks in the appropriate Perform skill, but for a character without the requisite skill, some instruments bestow one negative level as long as the instrument is carried.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the instrument is held.

ANSTRUTH HARP

This masterwork harp grants a +2 circumstance bonus on Perform (string instruments) checks and a +6 competence bonus on a bard's bardic music checks for countersong, fascinate, and suggestion.

A character with 12 ranks in Perform (string instruments) can use the instrument to cast control water, mass cure light wounds, and mind fog each once per day.

An anstruth harp bestows one negative level on any creature that doesn't have at least 12 ranks in Perform (string instruments).

Strong various; CL 14th; Craft Wondrous Item, control water, mass cure light wounds, mind fog, creator must be a bard; Price 60,000 gp; Weight 3 lb.

CANAITH MANDOLIN

This eight-stringed masterwork mandolin grants a +2 circumstance bonus on Perform (string instruments) checks and a +4 competence bonus on a bard's bardic music checks for countersong, fascinate, and suggestion.

A character with 8 ranks in Perform (string instruments) can use the instrument to cast cure serious wounds, dispel magic, or summon monster III each once per day.

When held, the instrument bestows one negative level on any creature that doesn't have at least 8 ranks in Perform (string instruments).

Moderate various; CL 8th; Craft Wondrous Item, cure serious wounds, dispel magic, summon monster III, creator must be a bard; Price 23,400 gp; Weight 3 lb.

CLI LYRE

This masterwork lyre grants a +2 circumstance bonus on Perform (string instruments) checks and a +5 competence bonus on a bard's bardic music checks for countersong, fascinate, and suggestion.

A character with 10 ranks in Perform (string instruments) can use the instrument to cast break enchantment, dimension door, and shout each once per day.

When held, a cli lyre bestows one negative level on any creature that doesn't have at least 10 ranks in Perform (string instruments).

Moderate various; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, break enchantment, dimension door, shout, creator must be a bard; Price 37,600 gp; Weight 3 lb.

DOSS LUTE

This masterwork lute grants a +2 circumstance bonus on Perform (string instruments) checks and a +3 competence bonus on bardic music checks for countersong, fascinate, and suggestion.

A character with 6 ranks in Perform (string instruments) can use the instrument to cast delay poison, hold person, and mirror image each once per day.

When held, a doss lute bestows one negative level on any creature that doesn't have at least 6 ranks in Perform (string instruments).

Faint various; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, delay poison, hold person, mirror image, creator must be a bard; Price 9,800 gp; Weight 3 lb.

FOCHLUCHAN BANDORE

This three-stringed masterwork lute grants a +2 circumstance bonus on Perform (string instruments) checks and a +1 competence bonus on bardic music checks for countersong, fascinate, and suggestion.

The instrument can be played by anyone to produce light once per day.

Any character with 2 ranks in Perform (string instruments) can also use the bandore to cast flare, mending, and message each once per day.

Faint transmutation, faint evocation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, flare, light, mending, message, creator must be a bard; Price 1,900 gp; Weight 3 lb.

MAC-FUIRMIDH CITHERN

This pear-shaped masterwork lute grants a +2 circumstance bonus on Perform (string instruments) checks and a +2 competence bonus on bardic music checks for countersong, fascinate, and suggestion.

The cithern can be played by anyone with 4 ranks in Perform (string instruments) to cast cure light wounds, mage armor, and sleep each once per day.

Faint various; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, cure light wounds, mage armor, sleep, creator must be a bard; Price 2,900 gp; Weight 3 lb.

OLLAMH HARP

This masterwork harp grants a +2 circumstance bonus on Perform (string instruments) checks and a +7 competence bonus on a bard's bardic music checks for countersong, fascinate, and suggestion.

A character with 14 ranks in Perform (string instruments) can use the instrument to cast control weather, eyebite, and repulsion each once per day.

The instrument bestows one negative level on any creature that doesn't have at least 14 ranks in Perform (string instruments).

Strong various; CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, control weather, eyebite, repulsion, creator must be a bard; Price 83,600 gp; Weight 3 lb.

LENSES OF DARKNESS

These two dark glass lenses fit over the user's eyes, granting a +4 bonus on saving throws against illusion (pattern) spells, spells with the light descriptor, and any light effects that cause blindness (such as a prismatic wall).

Faint abjuration, faint evocation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, darkness, resistance; Price 7,700 gp.

PHOENIX HELM

This helm is forged of copper and inlaid with silver and gold, stylized in the shape of a phoenix with wings unfurled, legs guarding the temples, and its head adorning the brow.

When worn, the helmet grants its wearer low-light vision and the ability to use feather fall, flame arrow, fly, resist energy, and speak with animals (birds only) each once per day.

Moderate various; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, feather fall, flame arrow, fly, *low-light vision**, resist energy, speak with animals; Price 53,000 gp; Weight 3 lb.

* New spell described on page 113.

POWDER OF THE BLACK VEIL

A pinch of this sooty, black powder cast into an area creates a 10-foot-high cloud in a 10-foot spread centered on the user.

The cloud remains in place for 2d4 rounds, and any creature caught in the area (or one that enters it) is blinded for as long as it stays in the cloud and for 1d4 rounds after it leaves unless it succeeds on a DC 13 Will save.

Faint necromancy; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, blindness/deafness; Price 750 gp.

PROTECTED SPELLBOOKS

Any wizard with the means to do so will carefully safeguard her spellbooks against accident, battle damage, or theft.

Most arcanabula feature cheap and inexpensive protections (often a simple explosive runes or fire trap), but for most wizards, the risk of losing a workbook isn't enough to justify the expense of high-level protection.

Grimoires, on the other hand, are generally stored in the most secret hiding places (sometimes even on other planes) and equipped with mechanical traps, loyal guardians, and deadly spells of defense.

The protections applied to a great book can take virtually any form, from magically sustained poisonous spiders or snakes, to bladders of paralyzing or sleep-inducing gases, to scything blades or poisoned needles concealed in the locks, lids, or frames of the coffer and cabinets the books are hidden in.

These traps are never of a design or nature that might endanger the book, but otherwise are almost limitless in the kinds of damage they can inflict on the uninvited. Magical protections can add thousands of gold pieces to the cost of even the simplest tome.

Some of the most common spellbook defenses include the following.

GLAMERED

The book looks and feels like something else of similar size (no more than 25% larger or smaller in any dimension) and weight (between half as heavy and twice as heavy as the original).

Upon command, the book switches between its normal and its glamered appearance, but anyone who touches the book in glamered form can make a DC 14 Will save to disbelieve the illusion.

Moderate illusion; CL 6th; Craft Wondrous Item, major image; Price +2,000 gp.

LEVITATING

The book hovers in the air at whatever point it is placed, much like an immovable rod (though the book can support only its own weight).

Moderate transmutation; CL 6th; Craft Wondrous Item, levitate; Price +2,000 gp.

PUNGENT

The book is infused with an acrid essence that repels damaging pests.

Any creature that touches the book without first speaking a command word must make a DC 14 Fortitude save or become nauseated for 1d4+1 rounds.

Moderate conjuration; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, stinking cloud; Price +2,000 gp.

RESISTANT TO ENERGY (MAJOR)

The book has resistance 12 against acid, cold, electricity, fire, and sonic attacks.

Moderate abjuration; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, protection from energy; Price +3,000 gp.

RESISTANT TO ENERGY (MINOR)

The book has resistance 5 against acid, cold, electricity, fire, and sonic attacks.

Moderate abjuration; CL 6th; Craft Wondrous Item, resist energy; Price +1,000 gp.

SPELLTRAPPED

A magic trap has been incorporated into the book (for example, a burning hands spell that strikes anyone handling the book except its owner).

The trap can be set to operate when the book is touched, when it is opened, or when a particular page is read.

Any spell appropriate for a trap may be used (see Sample Traps, page 70 of the Dungeon Master's Guide, for suggestions and pricing).

WATERPROOF

The book is impervious to damage caused by immersion in or exposure to water.

Faint abjuration; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, endure elements; Price +1,000 gp.

RUG OF WELCOME

This finely crafted rug looks like a normal floor covering, 5 feet wide and 10 feet long.

When commanded to guard an area, it animates and attempts to grab, then grapple any Large or smaller creature that steps on it.

The owner can set a password to allow creatures to pass without causing the rug to attack, and can command the rug from up to 30 feet away (though the owner need not be present for the rug to attack).

The rug can attack one creature at a time; unless it is destroyed, it continues to attempt to grapple or hold its target until commanded to release.

Moderate transmutation, moderate evocation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects, Bigby's grasping hand; Price 30,000 gp; Weight 15 lb.

➤ Animated Rug of Welcome: CR 5; Large construct; HD 13d10; hp 71; Init +0; Spd 0 ft.; AC 20, touch 9, flat-footed 20; Base Atk +9; Grp +23; Atk +22 melee touch (no damage, grab); Full Atk +22 melee touch (no damage, grab); Space/Reach 10 ft./5 ft.; SA improved grab; SQ construct traits; AL N; SV Fort +4, Ref +4, Will +4; Str 31, Dex 10, Con —, Int —, Wis 11, Cha 1.

Improved Grab (ex): To use this ability, a rug of welcome must hit a creature of its size category or smaller with its grab attack.

(The rug has a +4 racial bonus on its grab attacks, already figured into the statistics above).

It can then attempt to start a grapple as a free action without provoking attacks of opportunity.

If it wins the grapple check, it establishes a hold.

SENDING STONES

These items usually resemble two lumps of unworked stone.

Once per day, each stone in a pair can send a message (as the sending spell) to the bearer of the other stone.

If the stone's mate is not in a creature's possession, no message is sent and the user knows the message did not go through.

If either stone in a pair is destroyed, its mate becomes useless.

Moderate evocation; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, sending; Price 15,000 gp (pair); Weight 1 lb.

THOUGHT BOTTLE

A flask of thick green glass, a thought bottle can be used to store thoughts, memories, experience, or spells.

A single bottle can hold five thoughts or memories at a time, or a single creature's current experience, or a single spellcaster's collection of prepared spells.

Any individual that touches the bottle and speaks the command word instantly gains a general knowledge of the bottle's contents, but doesn't actually access the thoughts, memories, or spells within until she consciously decides to do so.

Storing or retrieving anything from a thought bottle requires a full-round action that provokes attacks of opportunity.

Thoughts: The bottle can store specific ideas, communications, or conclusions.

Once a memory is stored, it disappears from the user's mind, but she remembers the general nature of the stored thought.

For example, if the user stored the name of a murderer, that name would disappear from her memory and be unrecoverable from her own mind by any means, though she would know that the thought bottle now contains the murderer's name.

Similarly, secret messages and intelligence can be hidden in a thought bottle to pass them to someone else.

Memories: The user's recollection of a single day's events can be stored in the bottle.

Once stored, the user remembers the general nature of the memory ("the day we performed the Ritual of Binding") but loses all details of the event itself.

Experience: A thought bottle can be used to offset level loss as a restoration spell can, but is effective against level loss that even restoration can't undo (including levels lost due to death, but not the negative levels bestowed by magic items such as a holy weapon).

When a user's experience has been stored within the bottle, he can subsequently access the bottle to restore his XP total to exactly what it was when it was last stored, negating any levels lost in the interim.

Storing experience in the bottle is difficult, and the user must pay 500 XP (deducted before storing) to do so.

Only the creature that stored experience can retrieve it, but if the bottle is destroyed or lost, the user suffers no ill effects.

Spells: An owner who prepares spells can store some or all of her memorized spells in a thought bottle.

Any spell she puts into the thought bottle is expended as if she had cast it, but the spells in the bottle can then be retrieved at any later date to be prepared as normal.

Wizards often use this function of the bottle to create a kind of backup spellbook, concealing thought bottles in well hidden boltholes against the eventuality of their grimoires being stolen or destroyed.

Only the character who stored the spells can retrieve them, and if the bottle is destroyed, the stored spells are lost with no effect.

Strong enchantment; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, demand, modify memory; Price 20,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

VEST OF RESISTANCE

These garments offer magic protection in the form of a +1 to +5 resistance bonus on all saving throws.

Faint abjuration; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, resistance, creator's caster level must be at least three times the vest's bonus; Price 1,000 gp (+1), 4,000 gp (+2), 9,000 gp (+3), 16,000 gp (+4), 25,000 gp (+5); Weight 1 lb.

COMPLETE CHAMPION (3.5)

ASPERGILLUM OF PERPETUAL BENEDICTION

Price (Item Level): 1,500 gp (5th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 3rd.

Aura: Faint (DC 16); transmutation.

Activation: Standard (manipulation)

Weight: 1 lb.

This small silver shaft has a hollow ball at one end.

Tiny holes in the ball allow holy water to emerge from the font within.

You can use this vessel to dispense small amounts of holy water.

The reservoir holds a pint of holy water, even though it does not appear large enough to contain such a quantity.

Every dawn, an aspergillum of perpetual benediction refills itself, ensuring you a nearly endless supply of holy water.

Holy water dispensed from this item loses its blessing after 24 hours.

Chaotic, evil, and lawful versions of the aspergillum exist as well, though they are far less common.

Cost to Create: 750 gp, 60 XP, 2 days.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bless water.

BOOK OF ALL KNOWLEDGE

Price (Item Level): 3,000 gp (7th)

Body Slot: — (held) Caster Level: 5th.

Aura: Faint (DC 17); divination.

Activation: See text

Weight: 8 lb.

The pages of this enormous tome are rough-edged and yellowed.

Embossed on the worn, blue leather cover is the holy symbol of Boccob.

A book of all knowledge is said to contain all the secrets of the world, but few mortals are capable of accessing all that information.

Its pages are apparently infinite; no matter how many you turn, more still remain unturned.

Once per day, you can attempt a single Knowledge check (as if you were trained) with a +10 insight bonus after perusing the book for 2d4 hours.

If you're a worshiper of Boccob (or any deity that offers access to the Knowledge domain), the time required is only 1d4 hours.

Cost to Create: 1,500 gp, 120 XP, 3 days.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, lore of the gods, worshiper of Boccob.

BOOTS OF THE WANDERER

Price (Item Level): 1,500 gp (5th)

Body Slot: Feet

Caster Level: 3rd.

Aura: Faint (DC 16); conjuration.

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

These rugged, brown leather boots appear faded as though from years of use.

The soles are scuffed but still quite solid.

While wearing boots of the wanderer, you automatically succeed on any Constitution checks required for running or making a forced march.

If you are a worshiper of Fharlanghn (or any deity that offers access to the Travel domain), you also gain a +5-foot enhancement bonus to your land speed while wearing the boots.

Cost to Create: 750 gp, 60 XP, 2 days.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, lesser restoration, longstrider, worshiper of Fharlanghn.

BRACERS OF DIVINE LUCK

Price (Item Level): 8,000 gp (11th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 9th.

Aura: Moderate (DC 19); abjuration.

Activation: —

Weight: 2 lb.

These leather bracers are a deep burgundy color.

Close examination reveals that the left bracer is stitched in patterns of seven, while the right is stitched in patterns of eleven.

When you cast a divine spell while wearing these bracers, you gain a +1 luck bonus on attack rolls, saving throws, or AC (chosen at the time you cast the spell).

This bonus lasts until the start of your next turn.

If you worship Olidammara (or any other deity that offers access to the Luck domain), the bonus instead applies to your attack rolls, saving throws, and Armor Class simultaneously.

Cost to Create: 4,000 gp, 320 XP, 8 days.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, worshiper of Olidammara.

CLOAK OF THE DRAGON

Price (Item Level): 6,000 gp (10th)

Body Slot: Shoulders

Caster Level: 10th.

Aura: Moderate (DC 20); transmutation.

Activation: — and standard

Weight: 1 lb.

This cloak consists of layers of tiny scales affixed to a thin leather backing.

Ten varieties of this item exist, each corresponding in hue to one of the five chromatic or the five metallic dragons.

While you wear the cloak, you gain a +1 enhancement bonus to your natural armor bonus.

If you worship Bahamut or Tiamat (or any other draconic deity), you may activate the cloak of the dragon once per day to grow a pair of draconic wings that grants you a fly speed (equal to your land speed) for 10 minutes.

While this effect is active, you may use a breath weapon (as if you were a half-dragon matching the hue of your cloak; see MM 146) once.

Cost to Create: 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, polymorph, worshiper of a draconic deity.

CLOAK OF THE VAGABOND

Price (Item level): 9,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Shoulders

Caster Level: 11th.

Aura: Moderate (DC 20); abjuration.

Activation: —

Weight: 1/2 lb.

This torn and tattered cloak is spattered with mud and looks to have been poorly made.

Its original fabric was a particularly nauseating shade of yellow.

While wearing the cloak of the vagabond, you gain resistance 5 to cold and fire.

This cloak is part of a set known collectively as the garb of the vagabond, which also includes the robe of the vagabond, the sandals of the vagabond, and the staff of the vagabond.

When you wear a cloak of the vagabond while using any two of the other items, it also grants you resistance 5 to electricity.

When you use all four set items together, the staff of the vagabond gains an extra benefit (see page 137).

Cost to Create: 4,500 gp, 360 XP, 9 days.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, resist energy.

CREST OF VALOR

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Head

Caster Level: 7th.

Aura: Moderate (DC 18); enchantment.

Activation: —

Weight: —

Designed to fit atop any helm, this crest is actually a small golden statuette of a griffon.

Behind it trails a long, blood-red plume that could well be visible even across a field of battle.

While wearing a crest of valor, you gain a +2 morale bonus on melee weapon damage rolls while your current hit point total is equal to or less than one-half of your full normal hit points.

The crest of valor is part of a set known collectively as the raiment of valor, which also includes the periapt of valor (page 140) and the tabard of valor (page 142).

When wearing all three of these items, all allies within 10 feet of you (including yourself) gain a +4 bonus on saves against fear effects.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, prayer, remove fear.

GAUNTLETS OF WAR

Price (Item Level): 4,000 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 3rd.

Aura: Moderate (DC 16); transmutation.

Activation: —

Weight: 4 lb.

These simple metal gauntlets are the type that normally comes with a suit of full plate armor, though they are abnormally well polished.

Symbols of war are etched deeply across the back of each.

While you wear gauntlets of war, you gain a +1 bonus on melee weapon damage.

If you worship any deity that grants access to the War domain, this bonus increases to +3 with that deity's favored weapon.

Cost to Create: 2,000 gp, 160 XP, 4 days.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength, access to the War domain.

HELM OF RIGHTEOUS WAR

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)

Body Slot: Head

Caster Level: 9th.

Aura: Moderate (DC 19); evocation.

Activation: — and swift; see text

Weight: 3 lb.

This heavy helm covers the entire head and face.

When it is worn, the image of a deity's holy symbol forms around the eye-slits.

The helm of righteous war grants you a +2 insight bonus on initiative checks and Spot checks.

As a swift action, you can sacrifice one daily turn or rebuke undead attempt; this pinpoints the current locations of all enemies within 10 feet of you (even if invisible).

You also become immune to being flanked until the start of your next turn.

This ability can be activated five times per day.

The helm of righteous war is part of a set known collectively as regalia of righteous war, which also includes the bastion of righteous war (page 136) and the blade of righteous war (page 137).

When you use all three together, you gain additional abilities as noted in the description of the bastion of righteous war.

The holy symbol pictured on the helm always matches the deity worshiped by the wearer (if any).

Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, true seeing, turn or rebuke undead.

ICONIC GUARDIAN

Price (Item Level): 3,300 gp (8th)

Body Slot: — (held) Caster Level: 11th.

Aura: Moderate (DC 20); evocation.

Activation: Standard (thrown)

Weight: —

This simple, 2-inch-tall, marble icon resembles a noble knight in full plate.

When you throw an iconic guardian to the ground beside you, it transforms into a spiritual guardian, as the spell.

Once the duration of that effect ends, the icon crumbles to dust.

Cost to Create: 1,650 gp, 132 XP, 4 days.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, spiritual guardian.

LANCER'S SPURS

Price (Item Level): 12,000 gp (13th)

Body Slot: Feet

Caster Level: 7th.

Aura: Moderate (DC 18); transmutation.

Activation: —

Weight: 1/2 lb.

These silver spurs gleam brightly in the ambient light.

The points on the wheels are slightly jagged, like the lightning bolts of Heironeous.

Lancer's spurs always come in pairs, and they do not function if attached to magic footwear, since the two kinds of items occupy the same body slot.

While you wear these spurs, any mount you ride gains a +1 enhancement bonus on attack rolls and damage rolls with its natural weapons.

If you are a paladin or other character with a special mount, and you ride that mount while wearing lancer's spurs, the enhancement bonus increases to +2, and the mount's natural weapons are treated as either good- or evil-aligned (as appropriate to your own alignment) for the purpose of overcoming damage reduction.

If you are neutral, you must choose the alignment of the spurs when you wear them for the first time, and you cannot thereafter change your mind unless your alignment changes in such a way as to render the initial choice unsuitable.

Cost to Create: 6,000 gp, 480 XP, 12 days.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, war-mount.

MANTLE OF THE BEAST

Price (Item Level): 18,000 gp (14th)

Body Slot: Shoulders

Caster Level: 10th.

Aura: Moderate (DC 20); transmutation.

Activation: —

Weight: 2 lb.

This heavy cloak is made of a rough, gray fur from some unidentifiable creature.

The mantle of the beast allows you to use your wild shape ability as a swift action.

While wild shaped, your natural weapons gain a +1 enhancement bonus on attack and damage rolls.

A mantle of the beast is part of a set known collectively as the trappings of the beast, which also includes the armor of the beast (page 135) and the ring of the beast (see below).

When you wear all three items together, you gain additional abilities, as noted in the description of armor of the beast.

Cost to Create: 9,000 gp, 720 XP, 18 days.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, greater magic fang, wild shape.

PENDANT OF REDEMPTION

Price (Item Level): 8,000 gp (11th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 13th.

Aura: Strong (DC 21); divination.

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

This silver pendant looks like an ordinary holy symbol of any lawful neutral, lawful good, or neutral good deity.

If you are a worshiper of any lawful neutral, lawful good, or neutral good deity, the pendant of redemption refashions itself into the shape of your holy symbol when you don it, and it functions as a divine focus for your spellcasting. You also gain a +5 competence bonus on Diplomacy checks when communicating with any being that can still be redeemed (or is already redeemed) in the eyes of your god. When dealing with a creature that your deity finds unredeemable, the pendant instead grants you a +5 competence bonus on Intimidate checks. You are instinctively aware which skill will work best with a given being.

If you're a paladin, you can use the pendant to lead other toward repentance and forgiveness more effectively, if you so choose.

While you wear the pendant of redemption, your detect evil ability does not reveal a creature's evil aura but instead whether or not a being can be redeemed, and what a redeemable being must do to achieve full redemption in the eyes of your deity.

Some beings might require multiple redemptive acts to make up for their past transgression but you know only the most pressing requirement at any given moment.

In addition, the competence bonus on Diplomacy check that the pendant normally grants rises to +10 while you are actively working to convince a creature to embark upon the redemptive action you have divined.

If it completes such an act, you can then detect again to see whether any more penance is required.

Though the insights you receive do not specifically tell you the details of the subject's original transgression you can often infer a great deal from the information you gain.

For example, if you know that to atone for her sin, a certain person must "give the crown jewels back to the king", you can be reasonably certain that her transgression involved the theft of the crown jewels.

Even wit.

less specific information, such as, "take up a nonviolent profession", you can guess that the person's profession involved violence.

Cost to Create: 4,000 gp, 320 XP, 8 days.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, divination, legend lore, Diplomacy 10 ranks, Intimidate 5 ranks.

PERIAPT OF VALOR

Price (Item Level): 4,000 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 7th.

Aura: Moderate (DC 18); enchantment.

Activation: —

Weight: —

Hanging on a thin mithral chain is a tiny charm, on which is carved an odd combination of the holy symbols of Heironeous and Kord.

While wearing a periapt of valor, you gain a +2 morale bonus on AC and saving throws while your current hit point total is equal to or less than one-half of your full normal hit points.

The periapt of valor is part of a set known collectively as the raiment of valor.

When you wear it along with a crest of valor (page 139) and a tabard of valor (page 142), you gain additional abilities as given in the description of the crest of valor.

Cost to Create: 2,000 gp, 160 XP, 4 days.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, good hope or prayer, lesser restoration.

QUIVER OF ELVENKIND

Price (Item Level): 8,000 gp (11th)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 12th.

Aura: Strong (DC 21); transmutation.

Activation: —

Weight: 7 lb.

Made of soft brown leather, this quiver has been expertly stitched with golden strands.

A tiny image of an eye is etched into its strap.

A quiver of elvenkind holds up to 50 arrows.

Any nonmagical arrow drawn forth from the quiver functions as a +1 arrow (as long as it has been held in the quiver for at least the previous hour).

This magic fades after 1 round.

If you are an elf or a worshiper of Corellon Larethian, however, any nonmagical arrow drawn from the quiver functions instead as a +1 orc bane arrow, and on a critical hit permanently blinds any living target (Fortitude DC 14 negates).

If you are an elf using this quiver in conjunction with a bow of elvenkind (page 137), you gain additional benefits as noted in the description of that item.

Cost to Create: 4,000 gp, 320 XP, 8 days.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Craft Wondrous Item, blindness, elf.

ROBE OF THE VAGABOND

Price (Item Level): 6,000 gp (10th)

Body Slot: Torso

Caster Level: 18th.

Aura: Strong (DC 24); evocation.

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

This badly stained robe looks as if it was deliberately cut to be unflattering on anyone.

The fabric seems to be of poor quality and is dyed a questionable shade of brown-tinged green.

While wearing the robe of the vagabond, you gain a +1 luck bonus to Armor Class and on all saving throws.

This robe is part of a set known collectively as the garb of the vagabond, which also includes the cloak of the vagabond, the sandals of the vagabond, and the staff of the vagabond.

Using three or more of these items together grants extra benefits, as described in the entries for the cloak of the vagabond and the staff of the vagabond.

Cost to Create: 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, miracle.

SANDALS OF THE VAGABOND

Price (Item Level): 4,000 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Feet

Caster Level: 11th.

Aura: Moderate (DC 20); divination.

Activation: —

Weight: 1/2 lb.

The soles of these of dust-covered sandals are worn nearly paper-thin in spots, and the cracking leather straps seem likely to crumble to dust at any moment.

While wearing sandals of the vagabond, you gain a +2 luck bonus on initiative checks and immunity to exhaustion. You can still become fatigued normally, but any spell or effect that would cause you to become exhausted instead makes you merely fatigued.

If you're already fatigued, any effect that would cause you to become exhausted merely extends your fatigue for the number of rounds the exhaustion would have applied. These sandals are part of a set known collectively as the garb of the vagabond, which also includes the cloak of the vagabond, the robe of the vagabond, and the staff of the vagabond.

Using three or more of these items together grants extra benefits, as described in the entries for cloak of the vagabond and staff of the vagabond.

Cost to Create: 2,000 gp, 160 XP, 4 days.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item restoration.

TABARD OF VALOR

Price (Item Level): 16,000 gp (14th)

Body Slot: Torso

Caster Level: 7th.

Aura: Moderate (DC 18); enchantment.

Activation: —

Weight: 3 lb.

Emblazoned in blood-red hues across the chest of this gleaming white tabard is the lightning bolt symbol of Heironeous.

Whenever your current hit point total is equal to or less than one-half of your full normal hit points, you gain the mettle ability: If you are affected by a spell that would normally have a reduced effect on a successful Fortitude or Will saving throw, it instead has no effect at all upon you if you save successfully.

If you already have mettle from a class feature or some other source, you instead gain improved mettle, which halves the harmful effects of a spell on a failed Fortitude or Will save while still protecting you entirely on a successful save.

The tabard of valor is part of a set known collectively as the raiment of valor, which also includes the crest of valor (page 139) and the periapt of valor (page 140).

When you use a tabard with both of the other items, you gain additional abilities, as noted in the description of the crest of valor.

Cost to Create: 8,000 gp, 640 XP, 16 days.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, good hope or prayer.

COMPLETE MAGE (3.5)

AMULET OF SPELL CONVERSION

This bronze medallion allows you to exchange one prepared spell for another.

Description: An amulet of spell conversion is a bronze octagon, roughly 2 inches on a side, dangling from either a leather thong or a bronze chain.

Each of the eight sides is adorned with mystic runes; these meet in the middle, crossing and overlapping to form abstract patterns.

The amulet grows faintly warm to the touch when used, and the runes seem to waver as if viewed through shallow water or a heat mirage.

Prerequisite: An amulet of spell conversion functions only for arcane casters who prepare their spells in advance from a spellbook, such as wizards.

Activation: Activating the amulet requires a full-round action.

It functions once per day.

Effect: An amulet of spell conversion allows you to lose one spell you have prepared for the day and replace it with another spell of equal or lower level.

The new spell must be one that is already scribed in your spellbook.

You can now cast that spell as though you had prepared it normally.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate, no school. CL 11th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, Rary's arcane conversion (page 114), 9,000 gp, 720 XP, 18 days.

Weight: 1 lb.

Price: 18,000 gp.

CLOAK OF COMFORT

This cloak allows you to remain comfortable in any mundane environment, and to share that comfort with nearby allies.

Description: A cloak of comfort appears old and slightly worn. It is normally of dark brown hue, though some in shades of black, blue, and gray exist.

The cloak always feels comfortable to touch, regardless of the ambient temperature.

Activation: A cloak of comfort is active as long as it is worn; it requires no special actions to activate.

Effect: You are protected by a constant endure elements effect, as are any allies within 30 feet of you.

You also gain a +1 resistance bonus on saving throws.

Aura/Caster Level: Faint abjuration. CL 3rd.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, endure elements or cold comfort (page 123), resistance, 1,500 gp, 120 XP, 3 days.

Variants: More powerful versions of this cloak can be created with a higher resistance bonus on saves (+1,500 gp, +120 XP, +3 days for +2 bonus; +4,000 gp, +320 XP, +8 days for +3 bonus; +7,500 gp, +600 XP, +15 days for +4 bonus; +12,000 gp, +960 XP, +24 days for +5 bonus).

Weight: 2 lb.

Price: 3,000 gp (+1), 6,000 gp (+2), 11,000 gp (+3), 18,000 gp (+4), 27,000 gp (+5).

FAMILIAR'S BELT

With a simple command, you can mystically call your familiar, which appears in the pouch attached to this belt.

Description: This item appears to be a peculiarly wide leather belt.

Dangling from it is a heavy padded leather pouch.

Activation: You activate a familiar's belt with a command word, requiring a standard action.

Normally in Draconic, this word translates to "appear" or "sanctuary".

The belt functions up to three times per day.

Effect: Your Tiny or smaller familiar instantly appears in the belt's pouch.

The familiar can be anywhere on the same plane as you.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate conjuration. CL 11th.
Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, familiar refuge (page 104), 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days.
Weight: 3 lb.
Price: 6,000 gp.

HEWARD'S FORTIFYING BEDROLL

Less well known than Heward's other great creation but still a boon to adventurers everywhere, this bedroll grants the benefit a full night's sleep in a fraction of the time.

Description: This item appears to be a normal, if well made, bedroll.

The cushioning is thick, the stitching skilled.

It is made of dark green cloth with a dull yellow interior. It smells faintly comforting, a mix of burning firewood and goose down.

Activation: To activate the magic of the bedroll, you need merely climb into it (a move action) and spend 1 uninterrupted hour resting.

Each bedroll functions once per day.

Effect: Heward's fortifying bedroll grants you the benefits of a full 8 hours of rest—including the elimination of fatigue or exhaustion, natural healing, and the ability to prepare or ready arcane spells—over the course of a single hour.

Spells cast within the last 8 hours still count against your daily limit as normal.

After using Heward's fortifying bedroll, you can't gain the same benefit again (either from the same or a different item) until 48 hours have passed.

Aura/Caster Level: Faint transmutation. CL 3rd.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, sleep, 1,500 gp, 120 XP, 3 days.

Weight: 2 lb.

Price: 3,000 gp.

HORIZON GOGGLES

These lenses greatly increase your prowess with ranged attacks, allowing you to accurately strike targets much farther away than normal.

Description: These goggles feature small oval lenses in a wire-thin frame.

When worn, they are difficult (Spot DC 15) for others to notice.

The world seems particularly clear and three-dimensional when viewed through the goggles, which glow faintly any time you nock a bow or otherwise prepare to use a ranged weapon.

Activation: Horizon goggles are active as long as they are worn; they require no special action to activate.

Effect: Horizon goggles grant you the benefits of the Far Shot feat (increases range increment of projectile weapons by 50%, and of thrown weapons by 100%).

These goggles also increase the range of spells and spell-like abilities that require ranged attack rolls by 50%.

Aura/Caster Level: Faint divination. CL 3rd.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, near horizon (page 111), 4,000 gp, 320 XP, 8 days.

Price: 8,000 gp.

METAMAGIC WANDGRIP

This copper wand-sized handgrip allows you to apply your metamagic feats to wands.

Description: A metamagic wandgrip is made of copper. It is unadorned except for a single magical rune carved out of the handgrip, so that the wielder's skin is exposed to the magic item through that rune.

The hollow rune glows whenever the item is used, though its position inside the closed hand makes this difficult to see (Spot DC 15).

Activation: Activating a metamagic wandgrip is subsumed in the activation of the wand.

It functions only three times per day.

Placing a wand into the wandgrip (or removing a wand from it) requires a move action.

Effect: You can apply any one metamagic feat you know to a wand placed within the wandgrip.

Doing this drains an additional number of charges from the item equal to the normal cost of that feat in spell slots.

For instance, Extend Spell normally raises the cost of a spell by one level, so using Extend Spell on a wand or staff would drain one additional charge (on top of the cost of the spell being cast) from the item.

In all other ways, this item functions as if you had the Metamagic Spell Trigger feat (see page 45).

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate transmutation. CL 6th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, Metamagic Spell Trigger (page 45), 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days.

Price: 6,000 gp.

MURDERERS GLOVES

These thin gloves allow a killer to escape undetected, causing him to disappear upon making a successful attack.

Description: These gloves, always found in pairs, appear to be made of very thin deer- or lambskin leather.

They are dyed black and seem well worn, feeling soft and supple to the touch.

Prerequisite: Murderer's gloves function only for wearers who have the sneak attack, skirmish, or sudden strike ability.

Activation: Activating murderer's gloves is a swift action.

They can only be activated upon making a successful sneak attack, skirmish attack, or sudden strike.

The gloves function three times per day.

Effect: The instant the wearer has delivered his sneak attack, skirmish attack, or sudden strike, he turns invisible for 1 round (as the invisibility spell, PH 245).

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate illusion. CL 7th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, unseen strike (page 122), 8,000 gp, 640 XP, 16 days.

Weight: 1 lb.

Price: 16,000 gp.

QUILL OF SCRIBING

Beloved by wizards everywhere, this magical quill can scribe a scroll for you, leaving you free to pursue other activities.

Description: This item appears to be a normal quill, albeit one made from the feather of an exotic bird.

It is jet black but shimmers with a veritable rainbow of colors when observed at an angle in bright light, as if it was coated in a thin sheen of reflective oil.

Despite this, it feels dry to the touch. When in use, the pen writes on its own, needing no inkwell or other writing supplies.

Prerequisite: You must have the Scribe Scroll feat to activate a quill of scribing.

Activation: A quill of scribing is activated by a command word in Draconic, translating roughly as “inscribe”.

This requires a standard action.

It deactivates when it is through scribing the scroll in question, but it can be deactivated early simply by taking it in hand and pulling it away from the scroll (though this wastes any resources required to scribe the scroll).

The quill can be activated only once per day, even if it is deactivated early.

Effect: A quill of scribing animates and scribes a scroll for you (of any single spell that you know).

Treat this just as if you were scribing it, including gp cost, XP cost, time, and all other construction requirements.

Spellcasters typically activate a quill of scribing just before going to bed (or, in the case of more raucous spellcasters, just before going drinking).

Aura/Caster Level: Faint, no school. CL 1st.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, Scribe Scroll, prestidigitation, 875 gp, 70 XP, 2 days.

Price: 1,750 gp.

STEADYING ROBE

This simple garment negates movement beneath you, enabling you to cast spells on a mount or a while on a moving boat.

Description: A steadying robe is made of a thick blue-gray cloth, with silver lining around the hem, the cuffs, and the hood.

It is clearly of fine manufacture, and though plain, would not seem out of place at a courtly function.

Although the robe is perfectly comfortable to wear, anyone running a hand over it notices an unusual stiffness, as though the cloth were somehow held erect by an interior framework.

Prerequisite: A steadying robe functions only for spellcasters.

Activation: A steadying robe is active as long as it is worn; it requires no special action to activate.

Effect: A steadying robe negates the unsteadying effect of vigorous, violent, or extremely violent motion on your spellcasting (see the Concentration skill, PH 70).

You need not make a Concentration check to successfully cast a spell in such a situation.

A steadying robe's benefit doesn't apply in any other situations, such as when you take damage or are entangled, grappling, or distracted by weather.

The robe also grants you a +2 competence bonus on Balance checks.

Aura/Caster Level: Faint transmutation. CL 1st.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, feather fall, 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day.

Weight: 1 lb.

Price: 1,000 gp.

STORMSTRIDER BOOTS

These mystical boots allow you, when making a spring attack, to transform into a bolt of lightning, blasting your foes and transporting yourself across the battlefield.

Description: These are simple boots of soft leather, a light brown in hue.

Gold stitching surrounds the cuffs.

For a split second before stormstrider boots activate, the stitching flashes and crackles with power, and the boots smell of ozone for a round after use.

Prerequisite: These boots function only for characters who have the Spring Attack feat.

Activation: Activating the primary function of the boots is a swift action that you can take only when initiating a spring attack.

This function works once per day.

The bonus to your land speed requires no activation; it applies as long as the boots are worn.

Effect: Before and after making the attack as part of your spring attack, you become pure lightning.

You can move through occupied squares during your spring attack, and any creature in a square you move through takes 9d6 points of electricity damage (Reflex DC 17 half).

Moving through a creature's space more than once during your spring attack doesn't have any additional effect.

You rematerialize briefly at a single point during your spring attack, enabling you to make a single attack as normal.

Stormstrider boots also provide a 5-foot enhancement bonus to your land speed.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate transmutation. CL 9th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, expeditious retreat, lightning leap (page 109), 9,000 gp, 720 XP, 18 days.

Weight: 2 lb.

Price: 18,000 gp.

COMPLETE SCOUNDREL (3.5)

ASPECT MIRROR

Aspect mirrors allow you to converse with others, face to face, at nearly any distance.

Description: A typical aspect mirror looks like a plain, circular, silvered mirror, usually 1-1/2 feet in diameter.

Activation: As a standard action, you touch an aspect mirror and concentrate to activate it.

Touching the mirror a second time and willing away the images it displays deactivates the item.

An aspect mirror can function for as long as a user wishes and regardless of the wishes of other bearers of mirrors attuned to it.

Effect: Aspect mirrors are magical communication tools created in groups.

An aspect mirror allows you to see, hear, and speak as if you were in the same place as an attuned aspect mirror (one created as part of the same set as the one you hold).

While you use a mirror, you and your location are visible in turn to those near the distant aspect mirror you're communicating with.

Thus, two distant users can see, hear, and speak as if knowingly scrying on one another at the same time.

To use an aspect mirror, you activate both your own and another mirror of your choice (specified when you activate your mirror).

The possessor of the other mirror does not need to be present at the mirror's location, and you can scry on its location even without the knowledge of the other mirror's owner.

Of course, other users of aspect mirrors attuned to your mirror can activate your mirror in the same manner.

Thus, owners of aspect mirrors often keep them covered or in extradimensional containers when they are not in use. You cannot cast spells through an aspect mirror, although you can use a distant mirror to direct the subjects of enchantment spells you have already cast.

Aspect mirrors function at any range on the same plane.

Two aspect mirrors are commonly created in a set, although sets exist with as many as five attuned mirrors.

Using an aspect mirror does not grant you knowledge of all the other mirrors in its set.

You can attempt to contact only a mirror that you know exists; you must also have general knowledge of its location or owner.

For example, upon activating your aspect mirror, you could attempt to reach out to an attuned mirror that you know is held by the merchant Fraudis Smerch or the one that you know is hanging in the back room of the Friendly Girallon tavern.

You could not, however, attempt to activate a fourth mirror in the set whose location and existence are unknown to you.

If all the mirrors attuned to a particular aspect mirror are destroyed, the remaining mirror becomes an ordinary item of its sort.

Variants: Some versions of aspect mirrors project an image of the user that appears on the mirror's surface.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate divination; CL 10th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, scrying, 2,000 gp, 160 XP, 4 days.

These construction requirements apply to a single mirror. Making other mirrors attuned to the first one (up to a maximum of four additional attuned mirrors) requires an additional expenditure of gp, XP, and time, as well as another casting of the scrying spell, for each other mirror beyond the first one.

Weight: 10 lb. (single mirror).

Price: 4,000 gp (single mirror).

BANDS OF FORTUNE

These innocuous-looking items allow you to change your luck on the battlefield.

Description: Bands of fortune are gold armbands elaborately decorated with glass jewels.

They occupy space on the body as a pair of bracers.

Prerequisite: You must have at least one luck feat (page 72) or some other source of luck rerolls, such as the granted power of the Luck domain, to activate bands of fortune.

Activation: You activate bands of fortune by expending one of your luck rerolls as a swift action.

Effect: You can channel your luck into one of three different benefits, each of which lasts for 1 round.

You can gain the benefit from only one effect at a time.

- Attack: You gain a +2 luck bonus on attack and damage rolls.

- Defend: You gain a +2 luck bonus to Armor Class.

- Survive: You gain a +2 luck bonus on saving throws.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate transmutation; CL 9th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, any luck feat, 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

Weight: —.

Price: 2,000 gp.

BLADESHIMMER

A silvery oil, bladeshimmer causes nonliving objects on which it is smeared to turn invisible.

Description: Most often found in small vials full of what looks like quicksilver, bladeshimmer is a thin, magical oil.

When it is smeared over a weapon or other object, the materials making up the object become wholly transparent.

Activation: You can coat a weapon or other object of similar size with bladeshimmer as a full-round action.

Effect: Bladeshimmer renders an object invisible.

Anyone holding an affected object appears to have an empty hand, though keen eyes can spot something out of place.

Use the bearer's Sleight of Hand check result (with a +10 competence bonus) as the DC for the observer's Spot check.

If you attack with a weapon coated with bladeshimmer, the target is considered flat-footed unless it succeeds on a Spot check to notice something unusual.

A single successful attack wipes away enough bladeshimmer to end the invisibility effect.

A single vial of this substance can coat an area up to 2 feet square.

It can't be divided between multiple objects, though multiple vials can combine to make a larger object invisible. Each doubling of the area to be affected requires four times as much bladeshimmer (four vials for an area 4 feet square, and so forth) and takes a correspondingly longer time to apply.

Bladeshimmer has no effect on creatures—even undead and constructs cannot be rendered invisible with this substance.

Aura/Caster Level: Faint illusion; CL 5th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, invisibility, 375 gp, 30 XP, 1 day.

Weight: 1 lb.

Price: 750 gp.

LUCKY CHARM

A lucky charm makes you more fortunate than you already are.

Description: A thick gold bracelet bearing various decorative solid gold figurines forms a set of lucky charms. Each figurine on the bracelet is made in the form of a different item or creature, usually something considered lucky (such as cats, horseshoes, four-leaf clovers, and the like).

A new set of lucky charms has seven such figurines.

When you activate a lucky charm, the bracelet glows briefly with a mild white radiance, and the figurine you chose to activate disappears.

Once all its charms are used up, the gold bracelet becomes a nonmagical item worth 100 gp.

Prerequisite: You must have at least one luck feat (page 72) or some other source of luck rerolls, such as the granted power of the Luck domain, to activate a lucky charm.

Activation: Whenever you would otherwise use a luck reroll, you can instead activate a lucky charm.

As a standard action, while holding the bracelet you vigorously rub one of the charms with your thumb while concentrating.

Effect: When you activate this item, you use one of the charms on the bracelet to gain the benefit of a successful luck reroll without expending one of your daily luck rerolls.

You can expend only one charm per round.

You can use this ability only with luck effects that require one luck reroll to activate.

Effects that require more than one luck reroll cannot be partially paid for by expending a charm.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate transmutation; CL 11th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, any three luck feats, 3,500 gp, 280 XP, 7 days.

Weight: —.

Price: 7,000 gp.

PANIC BUTTON

Taking the shape of various small and innocuous adornments, panic buttons produce a wide range of effects depending on the specific type.

Lore: The first of these items were created by the famed assassin Fratello Simm to aid his guildmates in avoiding capture.

Knowledge of panic buttons began to spread when examples of the items were discovered on captured assassins' guild members.

Fratello originally created the bolstering, escaping, and flexing panic buttons.

Since then, a wider assortment of buttons has been developed by other sorts of spellcasters.

Description: As their name implies, panic buttons often look like normal buttons sewn into clothing.

They might also resemble round metal bells, glass beads, or other small, inconspicuous adornments.

Regardless of its form, when activated a panic button bursts with a small flash of light, a tiny popping noise, and a faint smell of sulfur.

Activation: You activate a panic button by dropping or throwing it onto the ground.

These items are designed for quick use; you can pull a panic button off your clothing (as long as you aren't wearing armor) and drop it in your square as a swift action.

You can pull it off your clothing and toss it into another square as standard action.

A thrown panic button has a range increment of 5 feet.

Throwing the button into a square other than your own requires a ranged touch attack, as though it were a splash weapon, and it lands in a random square if you miss (see PH 158).

Effect: A panic button affects whatever creature is in the square it lands in.

Unless otherwise noted, a button's effect lasts for 1 round.

If you target another creature's square, that creature is allowed a DC 16 Fortitude save to resist the effect created by a panic button.

(Most panic buttons are harmless effects that creatures would like to receive).

A number of different kinds of panic buttons exist.

The following are the most common; each one lists the spell needed to create it.

Bolstering: You gain 10 temporary hit points for 1 round. Requires false life.

Dodging: You gain a +2 dodge bonus to your Armor Class against the first attack made against you in the next round. Requires haste.

Escaping: You immediately gain the benefit of dimension door, except that the range is limited to 30 feet and you must have line of sight to the destination.

Requires dimension door.

Flexing: You gain a +5 bonus on all Dexterity-related skill checks and Dexterity checks made in the next round.

Requires cat's grace.

Meandering: You act as if under the effect of a slow spell for 1 round; this panic button is usually thrown at an opponent.

Requires slow.

Protecting: You gain a +2 bonus on the next saving throw you roll within 1 round.

Requires resistance.

Retreating: You gain an enhancement bonus of 30 feet to your speed for 1 round.

Requires expeditious retreat.

Silencing: You act as if under the effect of a silence spell, centered on you, for 1 round.

Requires silence.

Standing: You act as if under the effect of a dimensional anchor spell for 1 round; this panic button is usually thrown at an opponent.

Requires dimensional anchor.

Strengthening: You gain a +5 bonus on all Strength-related skill checks and Strength checks made in the next round.

Requires bull's strength.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate transmutation; CL 7th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, spell varies (see individual description), 375 gp, 30 XP, 1 day.

Weight: —.

Price: 750 gp.

SHRUNKEN SHRIEKER

This shrunken head can be attached to any weapon, shield, or piece of armor.

It lets out a scream if anyone but the true owner attempts to use the item.

Lore: Ensnorcelled by savage adepts, the heads of fallen enemies now guard the armaments of those who killed them.

Description: This item is a disgusting severed head, shrunken to the size of a baby's fist, with its eyes and mouth loosely stitched shut.

A clasp in its long, straggly black hair allows the head to be clamped or tied onto other objects.

Activation: A shrunken shrieker can be attached to any weapon, shield, or piece of armor.

Once it is so affixed, it considers the attacher to be the item's true owner.

Effect: A shrunken shrieker dangles quietly from the weapon, shield, or armor it is attached to, as long as it considers the user to be the item's true owner.

If any other creature attempts to use the item to which the head is attached, the shrunkened shrieker's mouth distends around the stitches, letting out a horrible, inhuman screaming.

The sound of a shrunkened shrieker is just as loud as an audible alarm created by the alarm spell, and it continues for as long as a creature other than the item's true owner uses the item. The head stops screaming as soon as the item it is attached to is put down or removed.

A shrunkened shrieker can be ripped off an item as a full-round action.

If the head has started screaming and is torn off an item, it continues shrieking wherever it falls until either the true owner of the item it was attached to touches it or it is destroyed.

A shrunkened shrieker has hardness 2 and 5 hit points.

Variants: Some shrunkened shriekers are said to be crafted from the heads of fiends.

These variations scream so terribly that they also hinder those who make use of the items they guard; a creature other than the item's true owner must make a DC 13 Will save or be shaken for as long as the head continues screaming.

This is a mind-affecting fear ability.

Creatures that fail this save are vulnerable to this shrunkened fiendshrieker's screaming for the next 24 hours, they do not receive a new save if they put down the affected item and pick it back up later.

Aura/Caster Level: Faint abjuration; CL 3rd.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, alarm, 250 gp, 20 XP, 1 day.

Weight: 1/2 lb.

Price: 500 gp.

A shrunkened fiendshrieker variant costs an extra 1,500 gp, and its XP cost and crafting time increase accordingly.

TRINKET OF TRICKERY

A trinket of trickery makes you trickier than you already are.

Description: Trinkets of trickery can take the form of any small baubles, totems, or lucky charms.

A popular shape is that of a stylized cat sitting on its haunches and waving, but many such items resemble chess pieces or figurines of mounted knights and dragons.

A trinket of trickery is never larger than 1 inch in its longest dimension.

Prerequisite: You must know at least one skill trick to use a trinket of trickery.

Activation: You must wear a trinket of trickery on your person for at least 24 hours to attune it to you.

After that time, the trinket grants its power to you as long it is on your person (in a pocket, held on a necklace around the neck, attached to a helmet, and so on).

It does not grant its power if stored within a backpack, bag of holding, or similar location; it must be in close physical contact in some way (though it doesn't take up space on your body).

Effect: A trinket of trickery holds the secret knowledge of a single skill trick (see page 83 for a list).

You can use that trick as if you had spent skill points to learn it, but only if you meet the prerequisite for learning the trick.

You can't gain the benefit of more than one trinket of trickery simultaneously; if you wear a second trinket while one is already on your body, the second has no effect.

Aura/Caster Level: Faint transmutation; CL 5th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, knowledge of the trick contained, 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day.

Weight: —.

Price: 1,000 gp.

WHEEL OF FORTUNE

This hand-held wheel grants its user a dose of extra fortune.

Lore: Clerics of Olidammara claim the genesis of these items lies with their fickle and fun-loving god, and nobody seems intent on arguing the point with them.

Indeed, the oldest known wheels of fortune bear the Laughing Rogue's symbol in conspicuous locations.

Description: A wheel of fortune consists of a 2-foot-wide wooden box with a brightly painted metal wheel, a little larger in diameter than the width of the box, partially encased at one end.

The wheel is divided into eight "slices", each one corresponding to one of the colors of the rainbow, plus a white slice.

A brass needle sticks out the end of the box at the wheel end and acts as a pointer.

In the center of the box's top, lined up perfectly with the edge of the wheel, is a raised brass button (which sometimes bears the mark of Olidammara).

Spinning the wheel causes the color slices to blur into a disk of white.

Regardless of how tightly a user holds it and no matter how hard the wheel is spun, the item never wobbles or loses its perfect balance.

Activation: Pressing the brass button (a standard action) activates the wheel, causing it to spin all the way around seven times.

One round after activation, the wheel comes to a stop sometime during its eighth rotation with the brass pointer indicating one of the eight slices at random.

Any attempt to stop the wheel or influence its outcome once its button has been pushed not only fails but also results in a jolt that deals 1d6 points of electricity damage. A wheel of fortune confers its effect on the character holding it.

Effect: When the wheel stops spinning, you gain an effect that depends on the slice the brass pointer indicates.

The effect lasts for 24 hours.

Once used, a wheel of fortune does not function again for the same character for 24 hours.

Roll on the following table to determine the wheel's effect.

COMPLETE WARRIOR (3.5)

BRACERS OF DAWN

These bejeweled bracers have a miniscule lens-and-dial contraption mounted on the exterior of one bracer of the pair.

When the dial is turned to the left, the bracers appear normal.

When the wearer turns the dial to the middle position (a move action), a beam of light emerges from the lens, illuminating the surroundings as a bullseye lantern. Four times per day, the wearer can turn the dial to the right position as a standard action and aim the lens at a target, unleashing a beam of searing light that deals 3d8 points of damage to most creatures, 6d6 points of damage to undead, and 6d8 points of damage to creatures with light sensitivity. The dial returns to the middle position after each searing light.

Even though only one of the pair contains the lens-and-dial apparatus, both bracers must be worn for the magic to be effective.

Moderate evocation; CL 6th; Craft Wondrous Item, searing light; Price 26,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

GAUNTLET OF THE DWARVEN FORGE

This iron gauntlet extends to the elbow and is always cool to its wearer's touch.

When its command word is spoken, a gauntlet of the dwarven forge glows red-hot for 10 rounds, illuminating everything within 10 feet as if by torchlight.

Anyone else touched by the gauntlet during this time takes 1d6+10 points of fire damage.

The wearer of a gauntlet of the dwarven forge takes half damage from fire-based attacks while the gauntlet is glowing.

Fire attacks that allow Reflex saves for half damage deal the wearer no damage if he makes his save.

Moderate evocation; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, fire shield; Price 24,000 gp; Weight 3 lb.

GAUNTLET OF LASSITUDE

This leather glove bound in brass magically transforms to match the hand shape of its owner, and thus it can be worn on either hand.

With a successful melee touch attack, the gauntlet of lassitude slows the target for 5 rounds (Will DC 14 negates).

Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, slow; Price 27,000 gp; Weight 2 lb.

GAUNTLET OF UTTERDEATH

This spiked gauntlet of jet-black steel smells faintly of brimstone.

If the wearer succeeds on a melee touch attack, the target must make a DC 20 Fortitude save or be reduced to a pile of smoldering cinders.

If the Fortitude save succeeds, the target instead takes 10d6 points of damage.

A gauntlet of utterdeath is usable three times per day.

Strong necromancy; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, destruction; Price 96,000 gp; Weight 2 lb.

SACRED SCABBARD

This item has a variable appearance.

When first found, there is a 25% chance it looks like a dagger sheath, a 25% chance it looks like an axe case, and a 50% chance it looks like some sort of sword sheath.

A user quickly discovers, however, that a sacred scabbard can change shape to fit whatever dagger, sword, or axe is touched to it, even making allowances for double weapons. This scabbard keeps any weapon carried in it clean and sharp.

In addition, up to three times per day, the user may place a weapon in the scabbard, utter a command word, and invoke bless weapon on the weapon inside.

Faint transmutation; CL 4th; Craft Wondrous Item, bless weapon; Price 4,400 gp; Weight 1 lb.

STANDARD OF COURAGE

For a standard of courage to be effective, it must be affixed to a two-handed hafted weapon such as a halberd or a lance. The bearer of the standard and any allies within 30 feet of the item gain a +4 morale bonus against fear effects.

Faint abjuration; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, remove fear; Price 15,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

STANDARD OF HEROISM

This standard functions as a standard of courage, except that the standard bearer and any allies within 30 feet of the item gain a +2 morale bonus on attack rolls, saves, and skill checks.

Faint enchantment and abjuration; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, heroism, remove fear; Price 40,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

STANDARD OF NO RETREAT

This standard functions as a standard of courage, except that it also prevents outward extradimensional travel within 30 feet, just as if creatures were subjected to a dimensional anchor spell.

Creatures trying to flee from the standard's area must succeed on a DC 19 Will save, or their attempt to flee fails.

A standard of no retreat doesn't prevent creatures from using extradimensional travel to enter the area, just to leave it.

Summoned creatures within the standard's area still disappear when the spell that brought them here ends.

Moderate abjuration; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, dimensional anchor, remove fear; Price 145,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

DEFENDERS OF THE FAITH (3.0)

AMULET OF MEMORY

Once per day the bearer of this amulet may recall up six levels of divine spells already cast.

The bearer can recall only spells prepared and cast that day. Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item; Market Price: 36,000 gp; Weight: —.

ARM OF NYR

This artificial arm made of mithral replaces an arm that has been lost by a good character.

It will not function for a neutral character.

An evil character who tries to attach it takes 1d4 points of temporary Dexterity damage.

A character who makes successful use of the arm gains +2 Strength and +2 Dexterity.

The arm also provides a +2 deflection bonus to Armor Class. Generally, 70% of these items are left arms and 30% are right arms, though there are rumors of rare arms that adapt to the user.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate object, shield; Market Price: 12,800 gp; Weight: —.

BLACK PATCH

This black leather eyepatch conveys no extraordinary abilities except to those of orc blood.

Any orc or half-orc who wears this patch over an empty eye socket or blind eye gains a +2 competence bonus on ranged attack rolls and on saving throws against illusions.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item; Market Price: 8,800 gp; Weight: —.

BOWL OF CONTEMPLATION

This bowl gives anyone who casts a divination spell over it a 100% chance for a correct divination.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, divination; Market Price: 44,800 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

BRACERS OF BINDING

These appear no different from any other magic bracers. On command, these bracers jerk together and remain bound to each other until another command word is spoken.

Against escape attempts, the bracers have Strength 30, and the DC for the Escape Artist check is 35.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, make whole; Market Price: 10,800 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

CLOAK OF THE FOREST

This elf-made item is a green cloak with brown leather trim. When worn by an elf, that individual gains a +4 competence bonus on Balance and Climb checks and may use tree stride three times per day.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, tree stride; Market Price: 39,392 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

GATE AMULET

This amulet allows the bearer to return to her home plane. The bearer has no control over where she returns, and the amulet has no function if she's already on her home plane.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, plane shift; Market Price: 64,000 gp; Weight: —.

GREATER HOLY SYMBOL

Manufactured from precious metals and gems, this item is imbued with divine power by a servant of the deity it is associated with.

A greater holy symbol grants the bearer the Empower Turning feat, usable at will.

Caster Level: 4th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, ability to turn or rebuke undead as 4th-level cleric, participation of a celestial, fiend, or other outsider servant of a deity; Market Price: 5,040 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

HELM OF VISION

This metal helmet appears useless from the outside, since it completely covers the eyes.

Anyone who dons the helmet discovers he can see perfectly.

The helm provides the wearer with the effects of the spell true seeing and gives the wearer a +1 insight bonus to Armor Class.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, true seeing; Market Price: 91,600 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

MARK OF APOSTASY

Sometimes the deities of evil mark an individual as one of their own.

A mark of apostasy may be of any material but is generally made from the same material as the deity's favored weapon. It is a large symbol, roughly 8 inches across.

A mark has mixed benefits.

On one hand, it is instantly recognizable to anyone who sees it as a mark of evil.

On the other, it increases the bearer's ability to rebuke undead by giving him the Empower Turning feat and allows him to cast fear three times per day as a 10th-level wizard.

A mark of apostasy cannot be created.

It is a "gift".

Caster Level: N/a; Prerequisites: N/a; Market Price: 38,880 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

MASK OF THE DEAD

This ghastly, full-face mask looks like the decaying face of a corpse.

While wearing it, the user can speak with dead, regardless of language, three times per day.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, comprehend languages, speak with dead; Market Price: 23,400 gp; Weight: —.

MIRROR OF REVELATION

If an evil outsider looks into this small, octagonal mirror, the mirror dispels any illusion spells or effects that conceal the true nature of the outsider.

This effect functions as a targeted dispel magic cast by a 10th-level cleric.

If the outsider is wary or attempts to avert its gaze, treat the situation as a gaze attack (see page 77 of the DUNGEON MASTER'S Guide).

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dispel magic; Market Price: 48,000 gp; Weight: 1/2 lb.

SACRED SCABBARD

This item has a varying appearance.

When first found, there is a 25% chance it appears as a dagger sheath, a 25% chance it appears as an axe case, and a 50% chance it appears as some sort of sword sheath.

A user quickly discovers, however, that a sacred scabbard can change shape to fit whatever dagger, sword, or axe is touched to it, even making allowances for double weapons. These scabbards keep any weapon carried in them clean and sharp.

In addition, up to three times per day, the user may place a weapon in the scabbard, utter a command word, and invoke bless weapon on the weapon inside.

Caster Level: 4th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bless weapon; Market Price: 6,400 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

DRACONOMICON (3.5)

BOOTS OF DRAGONSTRIDING

These scaled boots grant their wearer a +5 enhancement bonus on Climb and Jump checks.

Once per day, the wearer can cast jump on himself.

Moderate transmutation; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, jump, spider climb; Price 10,000 gp.

CRIMSON DRAGONHIDE BRACERS

These bracers, crafted from the armored hide of a red dragon, grant their wearer an enhancement bonus of +1 to +5 to his natural armor.

They also grant resistance to fire 5.

Faint to strong abjuration and transmutation; CL 3rd (bracers +1), 6th (bracers +2), 9th (bracers +3), 12th (bracers +4), or 15th (bracers +5); Forge Ring, barkskin, resist energy, creator's caster level must be three times that of the bonus placed in the bracers; Price 5,000 gp (bracers +1), 11,000 gp (bracers +2), 21,000 gp (bracers +3), 35,000 gp (bracers +4), or 53,000 gp (bracers +5); Weight 1 lb.

DRACOLICH BREW

This ingested poison (Fortitude DC 25; 2d6 Con/2d6 Con) is created specifically for a dragon who wishes to become a dracolich.

It automatically slays the dragon for which it is prepared (no save allowed).

See the dracolich entry, page 146, for more information.

Moderate necromancy; CL 11th; Brew Potion, Knowledge (arcana) 14 ranks; Price 5,000 gp.

DRACOLICH PHYLACTERY

A dracolich's phylactery is crafted from a solid, inanimate object of at least 2,000 gp value.

Gemstones, particularly ruby, pearl, carbuncle, and jet, are commonly used for the phylactery, since they must be able to resist decay.

When a dracolich first dies, and any time its physical form is destroyed thereafter, its spirit instantly retreats to its phylactery regardless of the distance between that and its body.

A dim light within the phylactery indicates the presence of the spirit.

While so contained, the spirit cannot take any actions except to possess a suitable corpse; it cannot be contacted or attacked by magic.

The spirit can remain in the phylactery indefinitely.

See the dracolich entry, page 146, for more information.

Strong necromancy; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, control undead, gem or similar item of minimum value 2,000 gp; Price 50,000 gp plus value of gem; Cost 25,000 gp plus value of gem + 2,000 XP.

DRAGON'S EYE AMULET

This fist-sized orb resembles the eye of a dragon and dangles from a heavy gold chain.

It grants its wearer a +10 enhancement bonus on Search and Spot checks, as well as blindsense with a 30-foot range.

Strong transmutation; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, dragonsight; Price 85,000 gp.

DRAGONFANG GAUNTLETS

These leather gauntlets are studded with dragon teeth and deal damage as spiked gauntlets.

They grant a +4 enhancement bonus to the wearer's Strength.

Three times per day, the character may use the gauntlets to attack a weapon or shield as if she had the Improved Sunder feat (even if she doesn't have the prerequisites). When worn by a character with the Improved Unarmed Strike feat, dragonfang gauntlets allow the wearer to overcome damage reduction with unarmed strikes as if she were wielding a magic weapon.

In this case, the wielder deals her normal unarmed strike damage, rather than the damage for spiked gauntlets.

Moderate evocation and transmutation; CL 12th; Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength, greater magic fang, shatter; Price 28,500 gp; Weight 1 lb.

DRAUGHT OF METABREATH MAGIC

These draughts are thick liquids, similar to potions, that bestow magical effects on a creature drinking them.

The magical effects duplicate the metabreath spells described in the previous section, but the drinker must supply the breath component for the effect to take place. Drinking a draught is a standard action, and activates the magic of the draught for just over 1 round.

After drinking, the drinker must use its breath weapon before the end of the next round.

This use of the drinker's breath weapon is enhanced as if the drinker had cast the appropriate metabreath spell on itself.

Draughts of metabreath magic come in a number of different varieties, whose caster level and market price are listed on the table below.

Varies (no school); Craft Wondrous Item, appropriate metabreath spell; Weight 1/2 lb.

Draught Variety	Caster Level	Price
Blinding breath	5th	750 gp
Breath flare	1st	50 gp
Breath weapon admixture:
acid	15th	6,000 gp
cold	15th	6,000 gp
electricity	15th	6,000 gp
fire	15th	6,000 gp
Breath weapon substitution:
acid	7th	1,400 gp
cold	7th	1,400 gp
electricity	7th	1,400 gp
fire	7th	1,400 gp
Deafening breath	17th	7,650 gp
Dispelling breath	7th	1,400 gp
Enervating breath	15th	6,000 gp
Ethereal breath	9th	2,250 gp
Rebuking breath	7th	1,400 gp
Stunning breath	7th	1,400 gp
Greater stunning breath	13th	4,550 gp

DRAUGHT OF METALLIC DRAGON BREATH

A special variety of draughts of metabreath magic, this liquid comes in five varieties, corresponding to the five kinds of metallic dragons, and their color is the same: brass, bronze, copper, gold, and silver.

When drunk, this draught alters the drinker's next use of its breath weapon, as long as that use occurs before the end of the next round.

The breath weapon works just like the nondamaging effects of a metallic dragon.

A brass draught creates a cone of sleep, a bronze draught creates a cone of repulsion gas, a copper draught creates a cone of slow gas, a gold draught creates a cone of weakening gas, and a silver draught creates a cone of paralyzing gas. The saving throw against the metallic breath weapon has the same DC as the drinker's natural breath weapon, and the effects are the same as if the drinker used the breath weapon normally.

For example, an old red dragon that drank a gold draught of metallic dragon breath could breathe a cone of weakening gas that deals 8 points of Strength damage.

A character under the effects of a potion of fire breath or similar effect can use a draught of metallic dragon breath to alter the fiery blasts from that potion, using the caster level of the effect (3rd, in the case of a potion of fire breath) as the effective age category.

A creature with no breath weapon ability is unaffected by drinking the draught.

Moderate transmutation; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, breath weapon substitution, and one of the following: sleep, repulsion, slow, ray of enfeeblement, or hold person; Price 2,100 gp; Weight 1/2 lb.

GEMSTONE OF FORTIFICATION

This large, faceted stone must be embedded in a creature's hide to function.

True dragons can accomplish this with ease, since they routinely embed gems in among the scales of their bellies.

Other creatures have a more difficult time of it, requiring at least a limited wish, at the DM's discretion.

When properly embedded, a gemstone of fortification protects the wearer's vital areas from lethal damage.

When a critical hit or sneak attack is scored on the wearer, there is a chance that the critical hit or sneak attack is negated and damage is instead rolled normally.

A gemstone of light fortification has a 25% chance to negate a critical hit or sneak attack, a gemstone of moderate fortification has a 75% chance, and a gemstone of heavy fortification has a 100% chance.

Strong universal or evocation; CL 13th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Craft Wondrous Item, limited wish or miracle; Price 3,000 gp (light), 15,000 gp (moderate), 35,000 gp (heavy).

GOGGLES OF DRACONIC VISION

The wearer of these goggles gains a +10 bonus on Spot checks and enjoys low-light vision and 60-foot darkvision. Once per day, the wearer can command the goggles to grant him blindsense for 1 minute.

The goggles also protect the wearer from being blinded by the cloud created by a hovering dragon (though the cloud still provides concealment for all within it).

Moderate transmutation; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, dragonsight; Price 46,000 gp.

GOLEM MANUAL

A golem manual contains information, incantations, and magical power that help a character to craft a golem (see page 134 of the Monster Manual).

The instructions therein grant a +5 competence bonus on skill checks made to craft the golem's body.

Each manual also holds the prerequisite spells needed for a specific golem and effectively grants the builder use of the Craft Construct feat (see page 303 of the Monster Manual) during the construction of the golem, and grants the character an increase to her caster level for the purpose of crafting a golem.

Any golem built using a golem manual does not cost the creator any XP, since the requisite XP are "contained" in the book and "expended" by the book during the creation process.

The spells included in a golem manual require a spell trigger activation and can be activated only to assist in the construction of a golem.

The cost of the book does not include the cost of constructing the golem's body.

Once the golem is finished, the writing in the manual fades and the book is consumed in flames.

When the book's ashes are sprinkled upon the golem, it becomes fully animated.

DRAGONBONE

This book contains animate dead, cause fear, and geas/quest. The reader may treat her caster level as one level higher than normal for the purpose of crafting a dragonbone golem.

The book supplies 4,400 XP for the creation of a dragonbone golem.

Strong enchantment and necromancy [evil]; CL 12th; Craft Construct, creator must be caster level 12th, animate dead, cause fear, geas/quest; Price 28,000 gp; Cost 3,000 gp + 4,640 XP; Weight 5 lb.

DRAKESTONE

This book contains animate objects, antimagic field, flesh to stone, and geas/quest.

The reader may treat her caster level as three levels higher than normal for the purpose of crafting a drakestone golem. The book supplies 6,400 XP for the creation of a drakestone golem.

Strong abjuration, enchantment, and transmutation; CL 16th; Craft Construct, creator must be caster level 16th, animate objects, antimagic field, flesh to stone, geas/quest; Price 40,000 gp; Cost 4,000 gp + 6,720 XP; Weight 5 lb.

IRONWYRM

This book contains animate objects, antimagic field, geas/quest, incendiary cloud, and limited wish.

The reader may treat her caster level as four levels higher than normal for the purpose of crafting an ironwyrmling golem. The book supplies 8,000 XP for the creation of an ironwyrmling golem.

Strong abjuration, enchantment, evocation, and transmutation; CL 18th; Craft Construct, creator must be caster level 18th, animate objects, antimagic field, geas/quest, incendiary cloud, limited wish; Price 50,000 gp; Cost 5,000 gp + 8,400 XP; Weight 5 lb.

GORGET OF TEMPEST BREATH

This metal collar bestows the benefit of the Tempest Breath feat upon its wearer.

A creature wearing the gorget cannot also make use of a magic robe.

Strong (no school); CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, Tempest Breath; Price 10,000 gp; Weight 10 lb.

HORN OF DRAGONS

This horn bears intricate carvings of dragons in flight.

When blown (a full-round action), the horn summons an adult dragon 1 round later, to a location up to 100 feet away.

The dragon remains for 1 hour and serves the user of the horn to the best of its ability.

At the end of the duration, or if the dragon is slain or dispelled, the dragon disappears.

The type of dragon depends on the user's alignment (see the table below).

The horn may be blown once per month.

User's Alignment	Dragon Summoned
LG, NG, or LN	Bronze
CG, N, or CN	Copper
LE or NE	Green
CE	Black

Strong conjuration; CL: 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster IX; Price 75,000 gp.

IDOL OF THE DRAGON

Much like a figurine of wondrous power, an idol of the dragon is a miniature statuette (about 2 inches long) resembling a particular variety of dragon.

The color and kind of the dragon is very apparent, even at a glance, due to the craftsmanship involved.

The idol grants energy resistance (5 or 10) of the appropriate type to its owner while carried (but not while the idol is in dragon form).

Once per week, when the idol is tossed into the air and the proper command word spoken, it becomes a full-size dragon of the appropriate age (see the table below).

The dragon is a living creature, not a construct, and has all the abilities and powers of an average dragon of its age.

The dragon obeys and serves its owner for up to 1 hour.

At the end of this duration, or if it is prematurely dismissed by its owner, the dragon returns to idol form.

A targeted dispel magic on the full-size dragon can return it to idol form if successful.

If the dragon is slain while at full size, the idol is destroyed.

Type	Age	Resistance	Price
White	wyrmling	cold 5	15,000 gp
Brass	wyrmling	fire 5	21,000 gp
Black	very young	acid 5	24,000 gp
Copper	very young	acid 5	32,000 gp
Green	young	acid 10	42,000 gp
Bronze	young	electricity 10	56,000 gp
Blue	juvenile	electricity 10	73,000 gp
Silver	juvenile	cold 10	93,000 gp
Red	young adult	fire 10	116,000 gp
Gold	young adult	fire 10	142,000 gp

Faint to strong conjuration; CL 3rd (white), 5th (black, brass), 7th (copper, green), 9th (bronze), 11th (blue), 13th (silver), 15th (red), or 17th (gold); Craft Wondrous Item, resist energy, and either summon monster II (white), summon monster III (black, brass), summon monster IV (copper, green), summon monster V (bronze), summon monster VI (blue), summon monster VII (silver), summon monster VIII (red), or summon monster IX (gold); Price as shown on table.

JAWS OF THE DRAGON

This complex metal device is worn in the mouth, fitting over the teeth while allowing them to protrude.

A row of metal teeth is set into the jaws of the dragon behind where the dragon's teeth emerge, increasing the damage dealt by the dragon's bite.

The dragon gains the benefit of the sharptooth spell while the jaws are worn.

The device resizes to fit any creature as normal for a magic item, but creatures with no natural bite attack gain no benefit from wearing it.

Moderate transmutation; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, sharptooth; Price 40,000 gp; Weight 8 lb.

LAIR WARDS

Lair wards are a special kind of wondrous item that dragons often use to protect their lairs and hoards.

They are identical to certain kinds of wondrous architecture used in humanoid-built strongholds and dungeons, as detailed in the Stronghold Builder's Guidebook. Essentially, lair wards are immobile (or practically immobile) magic items, and they follow all the normal rules for the use of magic items.

See the Stronghold Builder's Guidebook for information on creating these items and determining the market price for new items.

Most lair wards affect an area defined as a "single cavern." This need not be an actual cavern; such an effect wards an area of approximately 400 square feet.

Disabling a Lair Ward: As a stationary magic item, a lair ward is essentially identical to a magic trap (even though some have beneficial rather than harmful effects).

A character with the trapfinding ability (including rogues and characters affected by a find traps spell) can use Search to find lair wards and Disable Device to deactivate them.

The DC for both checks is 25 + the spell level of the highest-level spell used in the lair ward's construction.

A successful Disable Device check suppresses the ward's magical properties for 1d4 rounds, just as if the character had cast dispel magic on it.

If the character beats the DC by 10 or more, she suppresses its magical properties for 1d4 minutes instead.

BLACK LUMINARY

This 3-foot-wide steel half-orb sheds darkness in a 20-foot radius around itself.

Not even creatures who can normally see in the dark can see through it, and it cancels out any normal light, as well as magical light of 1st level or lower.

If magical light of 2nd level (such as continual flame) is brought into or cast in the area, it and the black luminary cancel each other out until the light spell expires or is removed from the area.

Higher-level light spells, such as the daylight spell, are unaffected by a black luminary's darkness.

The orb has a shutter that enables a person standing beneath a ceiling-mounted black luminary to conceal or reveal the item (and the resulting darkness) with a move action.

Faint evocation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, darkness; Price 6,000 gp.

BLACK LUMINARY, PITCH

This 4-foot-wide steel half-orb sheds deeper darkness in a 60-foot radius around itself.

Not even creatures that can normally see in the dark can see in this darkness, and it cancels out any normal light as well as any magical light of 2nd level or lower.

If a daylight spell is brought into or cast in the area, it and the pitch black luminary cancel each other out until the light spell expires or is removed from the area.

The orb has a shutter that enables a person standing beneath a ceiling-mounted pitch black luminary to conceal or reveal the item (and the resulting darkness) with a move action.

Faint evocation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, deeper darkness; Price 15,000 gp.

BRIGHT LUMINARY

This 4-foot-wide steel half-orb sheds daylight in a 60-foot radius around itself.

Creatures affected by normal daylight are affected by a bright luminary as well.

If magical darkness is brought into or cast in the area, it and the bright luminary cancel each other out until the magical darkness expires or is removed from the area.

The orb has a shutter that enables a person standing beneath a ceiling-mounted bright luminary to conceal or reveal the item with a move action.

Faint evocation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, daylight; Price 15,000 gp.

CAVERN OF THE EARTHBOUND

Within the walls of this cavern, the fly spell does not function.

Characters who are flying when they enter the cavern float to the ground as if the spell's duration had expired.

When they leave the cavern, any fly spells whose durations have not expired return to normal efficacy.

Moderate abjuration; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, spell immunity; Price 14,000 gp.

CLOUDGATHERING ORB

This 4-foot-wide crystal orb keeps the weather nasty (thunderstorms in spring, torrential rain in summer, sleet in autumn, and blizzards in winter) around a lair for a 2-mile radius.

Anyone attempting to magically alter the weather in this area must make an opposed caster level check against the cloudgathering orb's power to succeed.

See pages 93–95 of the Dungeon Master's Guide for information on weather effects.

Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, control weather; Price 33,000 gp.

CAVERN OF BABBLE

Anyone who enters this cavern must make a DC 14 Will save or have any words that she speaks come out as unintelligible gibberish.

The exact nature of the transmuted sounds is determined by the creator of this magic item at the time of creation.

This effect makes it impossible for anyone in the cavern to communicate verbally with anyone else.

Additionally, it prevents a spellcaster from casting a spell that requires a verbal component.

Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, sculpt sound; Price 7,500 gp.

CAVERN OF SILENCE

All sounds made within this cavern are negated (as if by a silence spell).

Making a DC 13 Will save allows a character to speak normally (including casting spells with vocal components), though other sounds remain dampened.

This property doesn't affect sounds created outside this cavern.

Faint illusion; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, silence; Price 3,000 gp.

HURRICANE'S EYE

This 5-foot-wide crystal orb maintains hurricane-force winds (see page 95 of the Dungeon Master's Guide) around the outside of the lair at all times.

The eye of the hurricane (the safe, calm part) is a cylinder with a diameter of up to 80 feet.

If the lair is larger than this, multiple orbs can be linked together by overlapping the eyes.

Any section that is surrounded by eyes on all sides automatically becomes a part of the eye, turning the whole region into one massive, continuously operating eye, keeping the raging winds of the hurricane entirely outside of the affected regions.

The winds circle the eye in a clockwise or counterclockwise fashion, as you prefer.

However, if there are more orbs than one, they must all force the wind to circle in the same direction.

If you join this item up with a tornado's eye or a windstorm's eye, they can each only function at the level of the weakest item.

Strong transmutation; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, control winds; Price 75,000 gp.

INSCRIPTIONS OF PRIVACY

This form of wondrous architecture places arcane sigils throughout the walls and ceiling of a cavern.

They can be as subtle or outlandish as the creator likes.

However, when anyone tries to spy upon anyone in the cavern by means of clairaudience/clairvoyance or scrying or a crystal ball or any other magic scrying device, the inscriptions glow softly.

If the scrying attempt originates from within the cavern, the person making the attempt begins glowing as well.

Anyone scried upon can attempt an opposed caster level check (using the caster level of the inscriptions of privacy).

If the target of the scrying attempt wins the opposed check, she immediately gets a mental image of the scrier, along with a sense of the direction and distance of the scrier, accurate to within one-tenth of the distance.

Moderate divination; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, detect scrying; Price 14,000 gp.

INSCRIPTIONS OF VACANCY

Everyone within a cavern adorned with these inscriptions becomes undetectable to scrying.

In fact, to someone casting a scrying spell it appears as if the cavern is entirely empty of people and devoid of activity, no matter how many people are in it or what they are doing.

Moderate illusion; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, false vision; Price 22,500 gp.

MISSING CHAMBER

This cavern—and everyone and everything inside it—is difficult to detect by divination spells and detection spells and magic items.

For such a spell or item to work, the caster or user must succeed on a caster level check (1d20 + caster level) against DC 16.

Faint abjuration; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, nondetection; Price 7,500 gp.

ORB OF PLEASANT BREEZES

This 4-foot-wide crystal orb keeps the weather in a 2-mile radius around the lair mild and pleasant no matter the time of year.

Anyone attempting to magically alter the weather in this area must make an opposed caster level check against the orb's power to succeed.

Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, control weather; Price 33,000 gp.

PLATFORM OF HEALING

Any time an injured creature is placed on this 10-foot-round platform—which is affixed to the floor—the creature receives the benefits of a heal spell.

If an undead creature somehow ends up on the platform, treat it as if a harm spell had been cast upon it instead.

Strong conjuration; CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, mass heal; Price 76,500 gp.

POOL OF SCRYING

This shallow pool forms a reflective surface in which the user can scry on others.

This works just like the standard scrying spell.

Spellcasters can cast certain spells through the pool of scrying at creatures or things they are scrying upon, as per the scrying spell.

While the pool can be shallow, it must be at least 2 feet by 4 feet.

It can be formed into the top of a large pedestal, but these items are just as often found in a room's floor.

If the water is ever entirely emptied from the pool, the item loses its magic.

Faint divination; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, scrying; Price 7,500 gp.

POOL OF SCRYING, GREATER

This magic item works just like the standard pool of scrying, with one exception.

You can reliably cast any spells through it that you could use with the greater scrying spell.

Moderate divination; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, greater scrying; Price 33,000 gp.

SECURE CAVERN

The entire cavern is affected by a mind blank spell.

No one in the cavern can be affected by devices and spells that detect, influence, or read emotions and thoughts, up to and including miracle or wish.

Even a scrying attempt that scans an area does not work. Strong abjuration; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, mind blank; Price 60,000 gp.

SIGILS OF SUPPRESSION

A globe of invulnerability fills the entire cavern, as represented by the arcane sigils that are inscribed upon the walls.

No spell effects of 4th level or lower function within this cavern.

Such spells cannot be cast within the cavern, nor can their effects extend to within the cavern.

A targeted dispel magic can temporarily suppress sigils of suppression, just like any other magic item. Moderate abjuration; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, globe of invulnerability; Price 33,000 gp.

SIGILS OF SUPPRESSION, LESSER

These are identical to sigils of suppression, except that they only block spell effects of 3rd level or lower (as per lesser globe of invulnerability).

Moderate abjuration; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, lesser globe of invulnerability; Price 14,000 gp.

TORNADO'S EYE

This 6-foot-wide crystal orb maintains tornado-force winds (see page 95 of the Dungeon Master's Guide) around the outside of the lair at all times.

See the description of the hurricane's eye for how this works.

If this item is joined with a hurricane's eye or a windstorm's eye, each item functions at the level of the weakest item.

Strong transmutation; CL 18th; Craft Wondrous Item, control winds; Price 90,000 gp.

VEIL OF OBSCURITY

This lair ward disguises up to 8,000 contiguous square feet of caverns with a mirage arcana effect, making the lair appear as something other than it is.

It includes audible, visual, tactile, and olfactory elements, though it can't disguise, conceal, or add creatures.

Moderate illusion; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, mirage arcana; Price 25,000 gp.

WINDSTORM'S EYE

This 4-foot-wide crystal orb maintains windstorm-force winds (see page 95 of the Dungeon Master's Guide) around the outside of the lair at all times.

See the description of the hurricane's eye for details.

If this item is joined with a hurricane's eye or a tornado's eye, each item functions at the level of the weakest item.

Moderate transmutation; CL 12th; Craft Wondrous Item, control winds; Price 60,000 gp.

WONDROUS ABSENCE

This ward conceals all magical auras in a single cavern, just as if Nystul's magic aura had been cast.

Faint illusion; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, Nystul's magic aura; Price 3,000 gp.

MANTLE OF THE SILVER WYRM

This impressive cloak is fashioned from the hide of a silver dragon.

It grants its wearer a +2 enhancement bonus to Charisma and resistance to cold 10.

In addition, its wearer can use fly (as the spell) once per day.

Faint abjuration and transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, eagle's splendor, fly, resist energy; Price 27,000 gp; Weight 3 lb.

PECTORAL OF MANEUVERABILITY

This metal disk has straps that go over a dragon's forelimbs to hold the pectoral in place over its chest.

A winged creature wearing a pectoral of maneuverability has its flying maneuverability improved by one step.

A greater pectoral of maneuverability improves maneuverability by two steps.

A humanoid can wear a pectoral as if it were a vest.

Faint (ordinary) or moderate (greater) transmutation; CL 3rd (ordinary) or 9th (greater); Craft Wondrous Item, wings of air (ordinary) or greater wings of air (greater); Price 12,000 gp (ordinary) or 90,000 (greater); Weight 5 lb.

WYRMFANG AMULET

This necklace of dragon teeth grants all of the wearer's natural attacks the ability to overcome damage reduction as if they were magic weapons.

(The attacks don't actually gain an enhancement bonus, only the ability to ignore some creatures' damage reduction).

Moderate transmutation; CL 12th; Craft Wondrous Item, greater magic fang; Price 2,500 gp.

DRAGON MAGIC (3.5)

AMULET OF FEARSOME MIGHT

This amulet enhances your ability to inspire terror in your enemies, making you even more frightening than you normally are.

Description: This bronze necklace is formed in the shape of a roaring draconic head embedded with sparkling ruby eyes.

Whenever the wearer's frightful presence becomes active (or when the wearer casts a fear spell), the eyes of the amulet flash with a burning red light.

Activation: An amulet of fearsome might functions automatically as long as it is worn.

Effect: When worn, an amulet of fearsome might doubles the radius of the wearer's innate frightful presence (to a 60-foot radius per age category, in the case of dragons) and increases its save DC by 2.

If the wearer does not have a frightful presence, the amulet does not bestow that ability.

In addition, if the wearer casts any spells or spell-like abilities with the fear descriptor, the amulet increases their save DC by 2.

This bonus does not stack with that from the Spell Focus or Greater Spell Focus feats.

This ability functions whether or not the wearer has an innate frightful presence.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate necromancy; CL 7th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, crafter must possess the frightful presence special ability, fear, 5,500 gp, 440 XP, 11 days.

Weight: 1 lb.

Price: 11,000 gp.

CLOAK OF MYSTERIOUS EMERGENCE

The enemies of the Shadow's Fang cabal (see page 144) sometimes see a ghostly dragon maw appear in their peripheral vision.

A heartbeat later, they see a black-cloaked figure step out of the open mouth.

That's usually the last thing they see.

Description: A cloak of mysterious emergence is fashioned from multiple layers of fine silk.

Along the hem is a row of glittering red scales, molted away by Vaeratru, the secret dragon master of the Shadows Fangs.

When the cloak is activated, a ghostly apparition of a dragon's head appears next to the wearer, and its jaws open.

When the wearer steps into the jaws, he teleports to the desired location and emerges from a second insubstantial dragon maw a fraction of a second later.

Members of the Shadow's Fangs created dozens of cloaks of mysterious emergence for their top agents.

Many have spread beyond the reach of the cabal, however, taken from agents who failed to complete their assigned missions.

Activation: It takes a standard action to call forth the power of a cloak of mysterious emergence and step into its maw.

Once the wearer arrives in his new location, he can't take any other actions until his next turn.

Effect: Stepping through the dragon maw created by a cloak of mysterious emergence functions like a dimension door spell with a range of 120 feet.

A cloak of mysterious emergence has three charges per day.

However, the wearer can choose to expend all three charges to have the cloak teleport him and up to 50 pounds of items up to 120 miles away.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate conjuration; CL 9th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, teleport, dimension door, 6,500 gp, 520 XP, 13 days.

Weight: 1 lb.

Price: 13,000 gp.

DRAGONSLAYER CLAWS

Perhaps the most dangerous foe a dragon can face is another dragon.

With that in mind, the great creatures designed these magic claws to help them fight off dragons that try to seize their hoards.

More aggressive dragons use these claws to claim the hoards of those they view as weak.

Description: These heavy, dark metal blades fit smoothly over the wearer's claws like comfortable gloves.

Dragonslayer claws occupy the same space on the body as gloves.

Prerequisite: Although dragonslayer claws are made for dragons, any creature that has a claw attack can wear them, and they resize to fit the wearer.

However, dragonslayer claws bestow a negative level when worn by any creature that is not of the dragon type or the dragonblood subtype.

The negative level remains as long as the claws are worn and disappear when the creature removes the dragonslayer claws.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome by any means (not even restoration or wish) while the dragonslayer claws are worn.

A wearer that does not have claw attacks gains no benefit from dragonslayer claws.

Activation: Activating dragonslayer claws is a free action.

The wearer can use the claws once per round, up to a maximum of three times per day.

Before making an attack roll, the wearer must declare to which attack the extra damage will be applied.

Effect: When the wearer makes a claw attack, dragonslayer claws deal an extra 1d6 points of damage.

Against a creature of the dragon type or the dragonblood subtype, the claws instead deal an extra 3d6 points of damage and are treated as magic weapons for the purpose of overcoming damage reduction.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate transmutation; CL 8th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be of the dragonblood subtype, magic weapon, 1,250 gp, 100 XP, 3 days.

Weight: 6 lb.

Price: 2,500 gp.

ELIXIR OF BLINDSIGHT

As dragon hunters become more talented at stalking their prey, dragons have been forced to keep up by creating new items that help them keep their edge.

The elixir of blindsight, which grants its drinker perfect vision within a limited range, is a particularly significant advance of this nature.

Description: This liquid is blood-red and slightly viscous, like a watery syrup.

When a creature drinks the elixir, the liquid races through its blood in a flash, and it feels each of its senses come alive.

Prerequisite: Only a creature with blindsense gains any benefit from this item.

Activation: Drinking an elixir of blindsight requires a standard action that provokes attacks of opportunity.

Effect: After consuming this elixir, the user gains blindsight with a range equal to its normal blindsense range for a period of 10 minutes.

Aura/Caster Level: Faint divination; CL 5th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, clairaudience/clairvoyance, 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day.

Weight: —.

Price: 1,000 gp.

TAILBANDS OF IMPACT

Characters who face the mightiest of dragons know to fear their tail slap more than their bite.

These adamantine bands enhance the already prodigious destructive capability of a tail slap attack.

Description: Each of these three progressively larger adamantine bands is a stunning piece of jewelry in its own right, studded with gems and inscribed with draconic runes of strength.

The three bands slip over the wearer's tail and are magically held in place once donned, spread equidistant up its length.

Tailbands of impact occupy the same space on the body as boots.

Prerequisite: While tailbands of impact are made for dragons, any creature that has a tail slap attack can wear them, and they resize to fit the wearer.

A creature that does not have a tail slap attack gains no benefit from wearing the bands.

Normal	Wearing Tailbands of Impact
Str bonus × 1/2	Str bonus
Str bonus	Str bonus × 1-1/2
Str bonus × 1-1/2	Str bonus × 2

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate evocation; CL 11th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength, 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days.

Weight: 10 lb.

Price: 6,000 gp.

TOME OF THE WYRM

Favored by spellcasters who hunt dragons, a tome of the wurm gradually increases the potency of its bearer's spells. Lore: A tome of the wurm describes dozens of battles between spellcasters and dragons (DC 10 Knowledge [arcana]).

Wurm wizards (see page 55) created the tomies to help them conduct research by overcoming the magical defenses of dragons, growing stronger over time (DC 20 Knowledge [arcana]).

Description: A tome of the wurm is a leather-covered grimoire with binding hinges and a back plate made of dark iron.

An embossed, glowing eye with a slitted pupil adorns the cover.

The eye remains heavily lidded unless a dragon attacks the tome's owner or the owner attempts a saving throw against a dragon's frightful presence.

Then it opens wide until the battle is over.

Prerequisite: Anyone can carry a tome of the wurm, but its magic benefits only those who cast spells.

Activation: A tome of the wurm functions automatically, but only when carried in one hand.

If it is left in a backpack or other container, it still records battles (as described below), but it doesn't improve its owner's caster level.

Effect: A spellcaster carrying a tome of the wurm in one hand gains a +1 insight bonus to his caster level on any spell that targets an enemy dragon or includes an enemy dragon in its area.

This benefit applies against all creatures affected by the spell, not just the dragon.

At the end of each of the caster's turns, determine whether he cast a spell that harmed an enemy dragon.

(For the purpose of this item, this means any spell that dealt damage to the dragon, any spell against which the dragon failed a save, or any spell that overcame the dragon's spell resistance).

If so, the insight bonus of the tome of the wurm increases by 1.

If not, the insight bonus decreases by 1.

A tome of the wurm's bonus can't drop below +1, nor can it rise above a number equal to the highest-level spell that its owner can cast.

One hour after the last time the caster harms an enemy dragon with a spell, this effect fades, and the tome's bonus returns to normal.

Each page of a tome of the wurm describes one battle against a dragon—a brief narrative explaining who was present, how the fight unfolded, and how the dragon died (or how its attackers got away).

After each new battle with a dragon, the tome magically adds a new page describing that battle.

Once this 200-page book is full, any new entry overwrites the oldest entry.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate divination; CL 10th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, detect dragonblood, 7,500 gp, 600 XP, 15 days.

Weight: 5 lb.

Price: 15,000 gp.

VIAL OF EXPLOSIVE BREATH

A lesser vial of explosive breath holds a tightly controlled quantity of energy not unlike a dragon's breath weapon. Prized by dragons and their allies alike, this item offers a surprise for those who think they know what to expect from a foe.

Description: This smoky crystal vial is closed with a golden stopper, capped by a faintly glowing piece of clear quartz. When it shatters, destructive magical energy explodes outward, looking very much like a dragon unfolding its wings before dissipating into thin air.

Activation: A creature can throw a lesser vial of explosive breath as an attack, either as a standard action or as part of a full attack action.

Hurling the vial as a ranged attack provokes attacks of opportunity.

Effect: A lesser vial of explosive breath is hurled as a splash weapon and must be aimed at a grid intersection.

Upon impact, the vial shatters, releasing the energy of its breath weapon in a 20-foot-radius spread centered upon the point of impact.

This deals 6d6 points of acid, cold, electricity, or fire damage, depending on the breath weapon of the dragon that created the vial (Reflex DC 18 half).

Variant: A greater version of this item can be crafted by true dragons of ancient age or older.

A greater vial of explosive breath deals 10d6 points of damage (Reflex DC 22 half).

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate transmutation; CL 6th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be a true dragon of adult age or greater with a breath weapon that deals acid, cold, electricity, or fire damage, 500 gp (or 1,000 gp for greater trial), 40 XP (or 80 XP for greater vial), 1 day (or 2 days for greater vial).

Weight: —.

Price: 1,000 gp (lesser) or 2,000 gp (greater).

DRAGONS OF FAERÛN

(3.5)

AMBER ACORNS OF THE MOONWOOD CIRCLE

The amber acorns of the Moonwood Circle are the legacy of a now-vanished circle of druids once active in the woodlands west of Silverymoon.

Lore: Characters can gain the following pieces of information about the amber acorns of the Moonwood Circle by making Knowledge (arcana) or Knowledge (nature) checks.

DC 15: The Moonwood Circle was a circle of druids active in the Moonwood region with close ties to the city of Silverymoon.

The sect disappeared in the Year of the Creeping Fang (1305 DR).

DC 20: Before their disappearance, members of the Moonwood Circle were known for the many magic items they had created and stashed in caches across the Silver Marches, of which the best known are their amber acorns.

DC 25: The Moonwood Circle vanished after months of fighting with the People of the Black Blood in a series of skirmishes known as the Beast Wars, which were notable for the large number of beasts summoned into the fray. Some believe the druids escaped to a floating forest on the Elemental Plane of Air through a unknown portal in the heart of the Moonwood.

Description: The amber acorns look like a necklace of four acorns strung on a cord of woven roots.

Effect: As with a necklace of prayer beads, once the wearer casts a divine spell, this item's true nature becomes apparent.

Each acorn is actually made of amber and contains a small piece of elemental matter (air, earth, fire, or water) encased within.

Each day, the wearer of a necklace can use summon nature's ally VI once for each kind of elemental, summoning a creature appropriate to that element.

(Each acorn essentially has 1 charge per day).

This item takes up space on the body as a necklace or amulet.

Moderate conjuration; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, summon nature's ally VI; Price 95,040 gp; Cost 47,520 gp + 3,802 XP.

CROWN OF THE DEATH DRAGON

Priests of Tiamat that were also members of the Cult of the Dragon created these crowns.

They grant the wearer a semblance of the power of a dracolich, at the expense of spellcasting ability.

Lore: Characters can gain the following pieces of information about crowns of the death dragon by making Knowledge (arcana) or Knowledge (religion) checks.

DC 20: The cultists that created these crowns were strong devotees of the prophecy of Maglas (or at least Sammaster's interpretation of it), which proclaimed that undead dragons would rule Faerûn.

DC 30: Some neutral scholars believe that the cultists had read about these crowns in a tome they found concerning ancient magic of the priests of Myrkul, even before Sammaster's Cult was formed.

The Cult of the Dragon denies the existence of dracoliches prior to their experiments.

Description: When inactive, one of these crowns looks like the skull of a Large metallic dragon.

When it is donned, the wearer appears to have the head of a skeletal dragon.

Activation: The wearer of a crown of the death dragon must spend 1 round exulting in the power and negative energy of the death dragon (an imagined paragon of dracoliches). At the end of this round, the wearer must proclaim, "By the prophecy of Maglas and the might of Sammaster, I command the power of the dragon of death".

Effect: Once per day, after embracing the power of the dragon of death, the wearer of a crown summons the might of the dracolich.

For the following 13 rounds, he receives a +4 enhancement bonus to natural armor, a +4 deflection bonus to Armor Class, and 13 temporary hit points.

He is treated as armed when making unarmed attacks, and his limbs deal damage as if they were short swords of an appropriate size.

The wearer of a crown can use his off hand to attack this way, but still incurs the standard two-weapon fighting penalties (PH 160).

The power of the death dragon prevents the wearer from casting spells with somatic, material, or focus (but not divine focus) components, but does not otherwise hinder actions or movement.

While under the effect of the crown, the wearer can, as a standard action, project a cone of fear (Will DC 20 partial) or make a melee touch attack to use inflict critical wounds (Will DC 20 half).

Strong necromancy; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, death dragon; Price 32,760 gp; Cost 16,380 gp + 1,310 XP; Weight 2 lb.

CROWN OF THE NORTH WIND

A crown of the north wind is the traditional headgear of a humanoid servitor of Bahamut.

In the past year, individual dragonborn have begun to receive visions leading them to the lair of a chromatic dragon whose hoard contains one of these ancient relics.

Lore: Characters can gain the following pieces of information about crowns of the north wind by making Knowledge (arcana) or Knowledge (history) checks.

DC 15: Bahamut, the Lord of the North Wind, has traditionally rewarded his greatest dragonborn knights with such crowns, allowing them to lead small groups of adventurers into battle with the spawn of Tiamat.

DC 25: Unlike the Dragon Queen, Bahamut rewards metallic dragons for their discretion and mercy by giving them less destructive alternatives to their traditional energy breath weapons.

A crown of the north wind grants the bearer similar alternatives.

DC 35: The elven Parwiccan Cycle speaks of dragonborn wearing such crowns during the Time of Dragons.

It is apparently Bahamut's will that such crowns have begun reappearing in the Realms, although it is unclear whether they are new creations or truly ancient relics forged millennia ago.

Description: A crown of the north wind is an elegant platinum crown with five spires, each one shaped like a different metallic dragon (brass, copper, bronze, gold, and silver).

Effect: A crown of the north wind provides a +2 enhancement bonus to Charisma and radiates a continuous cloak of bravery effect when worn.

(The latter effect can be consciously dismissed or resumed as a standard action).

If the crown-wearer has an energy breath weapon (acid, cold, fire, or lightning), the crown allows the wearer to substitute the secondary breath weapon of a metallic dragon, as follows:

Cone or Line of:	Becomes a Cone of:
Acid	Slow gas (as copper)
Cold	Paralyzing gas (as silver)
Fire	Sleep (as brass) or weakening gas (as gold)
Lightning	Repulsion gas (as bronze)

For effects that depend on the age category of the breather, use the wearer's age category (if he or she has one) or assume an age category of young, whichever is more favorable to the wearer.

If a creature can choose among energy types for his breath weapon, then he can also choose among substitution effects.

Moderate enchantment and transmutation [good]; CL 8th; Craft Wondrous Item, calm emotions, eagle's splendor; Price 70,000 gp; Cost 35,000 gp + 2,800 XP.

CROWNRING OF TCHAZZAR

The crownring of Tchazzar is the primary component of the royal regalia of Chessenta.

It occupies space on the body as a headband, hat, helmet, or phylactery for a Large or smaller creatures.

It occupies space on the body as a ring for a Huge or larger creature.

Although only one of these items exists, it is theoretically possible to create other crownrings that have a similar function.

Lore: Characters can gain the following pieces of information about the crownring of Tchazzar by making Knowledge (arcana) or Knowledge (history) checks.

DC 20: Worn by Tchazzar as a ring before his disappearance in the Year of the Dracorage (1018 DR), the crownring of Tchazzar was later adopted by the Sceptenar of Cimbar, nominal ruler of Chessenta.

DC 30: Tchazzar received the crownring in his youth from the Dragon Queen, in exchange for a pledge of service.

The terms of this pact were invoked during the Time of Troubles, resulting in Tchazzar's death (albeit temporary).

Description: This simple mithral circlet is engraved with draconic characters that read: "Through worship ascended, by fire consumed, a god-king is reborn".

Effect: Once per day, upon command, the wearer of the crownring can summon 1d4+1 red abishai, as the spell summon monster VIII.

Strong conjuration; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster VIII; Price 43,200 gp; Cost 21,600 gp + 1,728 XP.

DRAGON BLIGHT BOMB

When thrown, this bomb explodes into a magical cloud that inflicts grievous harm on dragons in its area.

Lore: Characters can gain the following pieces of information about dragon blight bombs by making Knowledge (arcana) checks.

DC 25: Vaasan mages created these bombs to combat the Witch King Zhengyi after learning that he had summoned evil dragons to do his bidding.

DC 30: The bombs do not distinguish between friend and foe, so it is unwise to employ one around dragon and dragonblood allies.

Description: Dragon blight bombs appear to be small, silvered glass globes, filled with a green liquid.

Activation: The user must throw the bomb so that it lands near a suitable target.

Effect: Wherever the bomb lands, it produces a dragon blight effect.

(See the spell description on page 114).

The thrower must make a ranged touch attack against the target.

If the attack misses, use the rules for splash weapons (PH 158).

Dragons in the area take 10d6 points of damage and are stunned for 1d4 rounds.

A successful DC 18 Fortitude save halves the damage and negates the stun effect.

Dragonblood creatures take 7d8 points of damage and are stunned for 1d4 rounds unless they make a successful save.

Moderate evocation; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, dragon blight Price 2,050 gp; Cost 1,025 gp + 82 XP; Weight 1 lb.

DRAGON'S DRAUGHT

This elixir comes in fifteen different varieties, correlating to the major dragon varieties in Faerûn.

Any dragon or dragonblood creature who drinks a potion gets one use of the given type of breath weapon.

This breath weapon can be used on the drinker's next turn or at any time up to 1 hour after the drinking.

If a second dragon's draught is consumed before the first is used, the effect of the first is lost.

Nondragons find the potion useless and horrible-tasting, but harmless.

Strong evocation; CL 12th; Craft Wondrous Item, spellcaster level 12th; Price as given below.

d%	Potion	Market Price
01–08	Black (80-foot line of acid, 12d4 damage, DC 23)	2,300 gp
09–16	Blue (100-foot line of lightning, 12d8 damage, DC 25)	4,500 gp
17–24	Green (50-foot cone of acid, 12d6 damage, DC 25)	3,500 gp
25–32	Red (50-foot cone of fire, 12d10 damage, DC 26)	5,500 gp
33–40	White (40-foot cone of cold, 6d6 damage, DC 23)	1,200 gp
41–44	Brown (100-foot line of acid, 12d6 damage, DC 25)	3,500 gp
45–52	Brass (80-foot line of fire, 6d6 damage, DC 23)	1,200 gp
53–60	Bronze (100-foot line of lightning, 12d6 damage, DC 25)	3,500 gp
61–68	Copper (80-foot line of acid, 12d4 damage, DC 24)	2,400 gp
69–76	Gold (50-foot cone of fire, 12d10 damage, DC 26)	5,600 gp
77–84	Silver (50-foot cone of cold, 12d8 damage, DC 26)	4,600 gp
85–88	Steel (80-foot line of acid, 6d6 damage, DC 22)	1,100 gp
89–92	Mercury (80-foot line of intense light, 6d8 damage, DC 23)	1,800 gp
93–96	Deep (40-foot cone of flesh-corrosive gas, 12d8 damage, DC 24)	4,200 gp
97–100	Song (40-foot cone of electrically charged gas, 12d6 damage, DC 23)	3,100 gp

DRAGONSKULL TALISMAN

This metal amulet is shaped like a dragon's skull. If the wearer speaks the command word, she and up to two other creatures touching the talisman are protected by a hide from undead spell for the next 30 minutes. (The protection only lasts as long as the creatures are in contact with the amulet.) The Cult of the Dragon creates these amulets to allow nonspellcasting members to bypass minor undead guardians within their strongholds. Faint abjuration; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, hide from undead; Price 4,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

DRAGONSPECTRE FLUTE

The half-shadow dragon members of the Jaezred Chaulssin created these flutes to aid them in tapping into their inner reserves of shadow magic. The flutes allow them to summon forth the essence of their dragon ancestors in the form of a dragon-shaped shadow mass. Lore: Characters can gain the following pieces of information about dragonspectre flutes by making Knowledge (arcana) checks. DC 25: The Jaezred Chaulssin created these flutes to summon their inner dragon. Shadow creatures and casters who use the Shadow Weave can be found in possession of these instruments.

DC 30: Those who play the flute must use some of their own life force to channel its powers.

Description: This elegant yet simple flute is carved from a single piece of ebony wood.

Activation: The user must spend 1 full round playing the flute.

At the end of that round, she must sacrifice 6 hit points.

These hit points cannot be healed magically; only time will repair the damage to the wielder's spirit.

The wielder can use the flute up to three times per day—though this can prove draining on her life force, since each time the instrument is used, there is a 5% chance that the hit point loss is permanent.

Effect: After the flute is played, it summons a spectral dragon (as the spell; see page 118).

The player of the flute can concentrate on the dragon for up to 13 rounds.

Only shadow creatures and Shadow Weave casters can use dragonspectre flutes.

Strong necromancy; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, spectral dragon; Price 75,000 gp; Cost 37,500 gp + 3,000 XP; Weight 2 lb.

IDOL OF APOSTASY

Idols of apostasy are tools used by evil priesthoods (especially the church of Tiamat) to shatter the faith and values of members of good churches.

For good people, looking upon the seductive debauchery depicted in the idol jeopardizes all their beliefs.

Lore: Characters can gain the following pieces of information about idols of apostasy by making successful Knowledge (religion) checks.

DC 20: The Church of Tiamat was the first to create these idols.

They use them to sabotage key members of other religions in their mission to subvert Faerûn's other faiths.

DC 30: Some books tell that an entire monastery of Tyr was turned to evil when it allowed the idol into its temple (as part of a plan to destroy it).

The residents of the monastery did not know that priests of Tiamat arranged the events that led to the monastery's discovery of the idol.

Description: This object appears to be a dual-faced alabaster idol, approximately 2 feet in height.

One side depicts a scene of a seductive succubus luring a paladin to commit lascivious acts.

The other side portrays a scene of graphic and excessive violence committed by a kindly goodwife or mother.

The acts personalize themselves to the individual, changing form to depict loved ones and respected figures.

Activation: Looking at an idol is the only thing required to activate it.

Even if initially resisted, the idol continues to try to subvert the viewer's will.

Effect: The first time a character of good alignment views an idol, she must attempt a DC 19 Will save.

If the save fails, the subject's normal moral inhibitions are suppressed and her conscience is silenced, such that the subject is suddenly willing to commit acts she would normally never consider.

(The viewer's alignment is instantly transformed to its polar opposite).

A paladin might murder innocents mercilessly; a priestess of love might slaughter a young couple at their wedding. The suppression of the subject's morals is permanent until broken by a break enchantment spell.

It is entirely likely that a religious character will require atonement before she regains the favor of her deity—if forgiveness is even possible, depending on what acts were committed.

If a viewer of an idol succeeds on the save, she is protected from that idol's effect for 24 hours, but must attempt another save if she views the item again after that time has passed.

Moderate enchantment; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, remorseless charm; Price 66,000 gp; Cost 33,000 gp + 2,640 XP; Weight 8 lb.

SCALEBANE BOTTLE

Scalebane bottles are extremely helpful tools when fighting dragons with high natural armor bonuses.

When the bottle is opened, it sends forth a dull gray ray of magic, weakening the strength of a creature's scales.

Although the bottles are effective against all creatures that have natural armor, they were designed to combat dragons.

Lore: Characters can gain the following pieces of information about scalebane bottles by making Knowledge (arcana) or Knowledge (history) checks.

DC 20: The War Wizards of Cormyr created the first scalebane bottles.

They made the bottles to aid knights in their battles against the Purple Dragon.

DC 30: The use of the bottles met with some success when the knights tested them in fights against lesser dragons. When they ultimately fought the Purple Dragon, they were not prepared for its innate resistance to magic.

It ignored the effect of the bottles and ate several of the knights.

Description: Each scalebane bottle is made from Cormyrean glass, wrapped in snakeskin, and capped with a small cork. An individual who holds one can feel faint vibrations within.

Activation: In order to remove the stopper from the bottle, its wielder must say the command word "Derynax".

The wielder then points the bottle toward the target creature and removes its cork.

Effect: Once per day, the wielder can uncork the bottle and direct a ray of magic at a creature up to 60 feet away as a ranged touch attack.

If the target is struck, it takes a –10 penalty to natural armor for 150 minutes.

This penalty cannot reduce the creature's natural armor bonus below 0, nor does it have any effect on enhancement bonuses to natural armor (such as that granted by a barkskin spell).

The target is not entitled to a saving throw, but the ray is subject to spell resistance; the wielder rolls 1d20+17 and must beat the creature's spell resistance.

Strong transmutation; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, scale weakening; Price 10,800 gp; Cost 5,400 gp + 432 XP; Weight 1 lb.

STONE OF AERIAL ALARM

Stones of aerial alarm are useful tools to warn towns (and individual homes and buildings) of the presence of draconic foes.

Usually placed at intervals around the perimeter of a town, these stones give towns a short span of time to prepare for a dragon attack.

Many towns have patrols circling the perimeter, watching out for alarms.

Lore: Characters can gain the following pieces of information about stones of aerial alarm by making Knowledge (arcana) checks.

DC 20: These stones are a recent invention, designed to protect against dragon flights during the Year of Rogue Dragons.

It is rumored that they are being used in Hillsfar, Emmech, and Phlan.

DC 30: Sages suggest that Larendrammagar ("Nexus"), a great wyrm gold dragon, devised these as useful tools to help towns protect themselves from raging dragons.

Description: These objects appear to be stone cylinders painted with small pictures of the various dragons native to Faerûn.

Effect: The cylinders constantly project a cylindrical warning area 500 feet high, with a radius of 100 feet.

When a dragon passes over or touches the cylinder, it projects a loud noise for 1 round.

In addition, it flashes a cylindrical image of the kind of dragon detected for 3 rounds, visible up to a mile in all directions.

Moderate abjuration and illusion; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, aerial alarm, programmed image; Price 15,000 gp; Cost 7,500 gp + 600 XP; Weight 2 lb.

DROW OF THE UNDERDARK (3.5)

ASSASSIN'S CLOAK

Price (Item level): 10,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Shoulders

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) abjuration

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

This long gray cloak has a black lining.

Three times per day, whenever you speak the command word, the assassin's cloak diminishes your presence, making you seem insignificant and unimportant.

You gain a +10 competence bonus on Hide checks, and creatures must succeed on a DC 17 Will save to attack you.

Those who succeed can attack you normally.

This effect lasts 10 rounds or until you make an attack (as invisibility, PH 245), whichever comes first.

Prerequisite: Craft Wondrous Item, heightened (5th) sanctuary.

Cost to Create: 5,000 gp, 400 XP, 10 days.

BELT OF THE REINFORCED FORM

Price (Item Level): 5,400 gp (10th)

Body Slot: Waist

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

This wide belt is made of orange scaly leather.

Despite its appearance, it is soft and pliable.

The adamantine buckle is set with a strange teardrop gemstone that changes color in the light.

While you wear a belt of the reinforced form, whenever you are the target of a transmutation spell or spell-like effect, or some other transformative effect such as an aboleth's slime or a basilisk's petrifying gaze, you gain a +4 bonus on your saving throw.

In addition, once per day, when casting a transmutation spell with a casting time of 1 standard action on yourself, you can cast that spell as a swift action instead.

Prerequisite: Craft Wondrous Item, alter self, haste.

Cost to Create: 2,700 gp, 216 XP, 6 days.

BOTTLED NIGHT

Price (Item Level): 200 gp (2nd)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) evocation

Activation: Standard (thrown)

Weight: —

Inky black liquid swirls inside this fragile glass vial.

You can throw bottled night by making a ranged touch attack with a range increment of 10 feet.

Upon impact, it instantly fills the area with magical darkness, granting concealment to all creatures in a 20-foot radius.

The darkness lasts for 10 rounds.

Bottled night dispels any light spell of 2nd level or lower.

Prerequisite: Craft Wondrous item, darkness.

Cost to Create: 100 gp, 8 XP, 1 day.

BRACERS OF MURDER

Price (Item Level): 8,000 gp (11th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) evocation

Activation: —

Weight: 3 lb.

Each of these burnished metal bracers is adorned with grinning skull set with onyx stones in its eye sockets.

Bracers of murder grant you a +2 profane bonus on attack rolls and damage rolls against flat-footed targets.

If you have the death attack ability.

the save DC to resist your death attack increases by 2.

If you have sneak attack or sudden strike, reroll any result of 1 on the dice.

Prerequisite: Craft Wondrous Item, divine favor, evil.

Cost to Create: 4,000 gp, 200 XP, 8 days.

CIRCLET OF SPIDERKIND COMMAND

Price (Item Level): 8,400 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Head

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

Eight tiny silver spiders with ruby chips for eyes adorn this delicate circlet.

Three times per day, a circlet of spiderkind command allows you to issue psychic commands to spiderkind creatures (see page 112).

As a standard action, you can target a single spiderkind creature within 30 feet.

The target is entitled to a DC 14 Will save to resist the command.

If it fails, you can direct it to perform simple commands such as "attack", "run", and "fetch".

If the spiderkind creature has the mindless special quality, you can order it to make suicidal or self-destructive commands.

Once you establish control, you can direct it with silent mental commands as long as you can see the affected creature.

Changing a command is a move action.

As a daily use of this item, you can also cast giant vermin on any single spider within range.

Prerequisite: Craft Wondrous Item, dominate vermin (see page 61), giant vermin.

Cost to Create: 4,200 gp, 336 XP, 9 days.

DAYLIGHT PELLET

Price (Item Level): 150 gp (1st)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) evocation

Activation: Standard (thrown)

Weight: —

Within a thick black pouch, you see a handful of tiny ceramic beads.

Thin veins of light shine through cracks in each bead.

This implement was devised by drow for use against other drow, but it is equally useful against any light-sensitive creature.

A daylight pellet can be thrown up to 50 feet; when it lands, it shatters and creates illumination equivalent to a daylight spell, but with a duration of 10 rounds.

These small stones are usually found in pouches containing 3d4 pellets.

Using a pellet destroys it.

Prerequisite: Craft Wondrous Item, daylight.

Cost to Create: 75 gp, 6 XP, 1 day.

DROW HOUSE INSIGNIA (SPELL)

Price (Item Level): See table

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) see text

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: —

This small unusually shaped amulet bears a strange symbol. Each drow house insignia (spell) is keyed to a specific noble house of a particular drow city, and is wrought to reflect the house that created it.

Some might be stylized versions of crossbows, javelins, maces, or even just spiders.

A drow house insignia (spell) contains a single minor magical effect that can be used once per day, usually a 1st-, 2nd-, or 3rd-level spell, with the more powerful spells reserved for drow of significant station or influence.

These insignia typically contain one of the following spells: blur, cat's grace, comprehend languages, feather fall, jump, levitate, shield, spider climb, unseen servant, and water breathing. The aura of this item is of the same school as the spell it contains.

Since each insignia is slightly different— even those from the same noble house—a person aware of the unique shape of an individual insignia can magically locate that amulet with a scrying or similar spell.

Lore: A DC 15 Knowledge (local), or a DC 20 Knowledge (dungeoneering) or bardic knowledge check reveals the house to which an insignia is keyed.

Drow gain a +4 circumstance bonus on these checks.

Prerequisite: Craft Wondrous Item, appropriate spell, drow.

Cost to Create: See table.

DROW HOUSE INSIGNIA (SPELL)

Spell Level	Price (Item Level)	Cost to Create
1st	620 gp (3rd)	310 gp, 25 XP, 1 day
2nd	3,300 gp (8th)	1,650 gp, 132 XP, 4 days
3rd	8,200 gp (12th)	4,100 gp, 382 XP, 9 days

DROW HOUSE INSIGNIA (TRANSMITTING)

Price (Item Level): 500 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: —

This small, unusually shaped adamantine amulet bears a strange symbol.

Each drow house insignia (transmitting) is keyed to a specific noble house of a particular drow city, and is wrought to reflect the house that created it.

Three times per day, by speaking the command word, you can utter a short message into the item, which transmits it up to 1 mile away to another character wearing an insignia of the same house.

The recipient hears the message in its mind.

To transmit the message, you must name the intended target as part of the command word.

Should the target not be wearing its drow house insignia, the message is lost, but you have no way of knowing whether it successfully transmits or not.

Since each insignia is slightly different, even those from the same noble house, a person aware of the unique shape of an individual insignia can magically locate that amulet with a scrying or similar spell.

Lore: A DC 15 Knowledge (local), or a DC 20 Knowledge (dungeoneering) or bardic knowledge check reveals the house to which this insignia is keyed.

Drow gain a +4 circumstance bonus on these checks.

Prerequisite: Craft Wondrous Item, whispering wind, drow.

Cost to Create: 250 gp, 20 XP, 1 day.

ELIXIR OF THE UNFAILING SERVANT

Price (Item Level): 750 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 8th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) necromancy

Activation: Standard (manipulation)

Weight: —

Inside this bone flask is a noxious black fluid that stinks of rot.

The flask itself resembles a screaming face, with a fat stopper in its mouth.

An elixir of the unfailing servant ensures that minions keep fighting, even in death.

If you consume this vile concoction, any time within the next 8 hours that your hit points are reduced to 0 or lower, you are instantly slain.

On the following round, you rise as a zombie (MM 265) with the instructions to attack any nondrow you encounter. Prerequisite: Craft Wondrous Item, animate dead, death knell, evil.

Cost to Create: 375 gp, 30 XP, 1 day.

GLOOM MASK

Price (Item Level): 3,000 gp (7th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) evocation

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: —

This black mask seems to absorb the light around it.

It is cool to the touch.

Three times per day, you gain the ability to see in darkness out to 30 feet.

This sight penetrates all forms of darkness, even that created by a deeper darkness spell; the effect lasts for 5 rounds.

In addition, three times per day, any spell or spell-like ability up to 3rd level with the darkness descriptor that you cast functions as if you had cast it with the Widen Spell metamagic feat.

Prerequisite: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, darkvision, deeper darkness.

Cost to Create: 1,500 gp, 120 XP, 3 days.

MASK OF THE MATRIARCH

Price (Item Level): 9,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Face
Caster Level: 11th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) necromancy
Activation: Standard (command)
Weight: 5 lb.
This obsidian mask has been fashioned into the likeness of a drow female.
Framing the face are eight straps that hold the mask in place on the wearer's head.
Three times per day, you can make a gaze attack (DMG 294) against all creatures that can clearly see you and are within 30 feet.
Those who fail a DC 20 Will save cower in fear for 1 round and are shaken on the following round.
Your gaze remains effective for 1 round.
Prerequisite: Craft Wondrous Item, imperious glare.
Cost to Create: 4,500 gp, 360 XP, 9 days.

MOTHER'S CORSET

Price (Item Level): 7,200 gp (11th)
Body Slot: Waist
Caster Level: 9th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation
Activation: Swift (command)
Weight: 1 lb.
Woven into this black corset is purple thread suggestive of webbing.
Up to 20 minutes each day (which you can split up as you choose), you can cause the mother's corset to sprout eight spider legs from your body.
You gain a climb speed of 30 feet and a +8 bonus on Climb checks.
While under this effect, you can take 10 on Climb checks, even if rushed or threatened.
Prerequisite: Craft Wondrous Item, spider form (see page 63), drow.
Cost to Create: 3,600 gp, 288 XP, 8 days.

SHADOW CLOAK

Price (Item Level): 5,500 gp (10th)
Body Slot: Shoulders
Caster Level: 12th
Aura: Strong; (DC 21) conjuration, illusion
Activation: — and immediate (command)
Weight: 1 lb.
This black cloak writhes as if it were alive.
A shadow cloak grants a +1 deflection bonus to AC.
If you are attacked, you can use the cloak three times per day to produce one or the other of the following effects.
You can gain concealment for 1 round, or you can teleport to a space you can see clearly up to 10 feet in any direction.
Prerequisite: Craft Wondrous Item, blur, dimension hop, mage armor.
Cost to Create: 2,750 gp, 220 XP, 6 days.

SKULLCAP OF EYES

Price (Item Level): 5,500 gp (10th)
Body Slot: Head
Caster Level: 3rd
Aura: Faint; (DC 16) divination
Activation: —

Weight: —
This iron skullcap is wrought to appear as if it were covered in eyes.
As long as you wear a skullcap of eyes, you gain a +5 competence bonus on Spot checks.
In addition, opponents gain no bonus on attacks when they flank you.
If you have Improved Uncanny Dodge, the level your opponent needs to flank you increases by 2.
Prerequisite: Craft Wondrous Item, combat readiness (see page 61).
Cost to Create: 2,750 gp, 220 XP, 6 days.

SPIDER BOX

Price (Item Level): 3,200 gp (8th)
Body Slot: —
Caster Level: 7th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) conjuration
Activation: — and standard (command)
Weight: 2 lb.
This pale white stone box is carved with bas-reliefs depicting spiders of all shapes and sizes.
Some wriggling thing within the container causes it to shake violently.
When a spider box is in your possession, you gain a +4 resistance bonus on saving throws against spiderkind poison.
Also, when you place a spider box on any level surface and speak the command word, the box unfolds and releases a swarm of spiders (MM 239).
The creatures respond to your silent commands, attacking where you direct them for a maximum of 7 rounds.
Commanding the creatures to change targets is a move action.
A spider box can be used twice per day. Only one swarm can be in existence at a time.
If the swarm is destroyed or the duration ends, the box reassembles, awaiting your next command to open it.
Prerequisite: Craft Wondrous Item, summon swarm.
Cost to Create: 1,600 gp, 128 XP, 4 days.

TRACKLESS BOOTS

Price (Item Level): 1,000 gp (4th)
Body Slot: Feet
Caster Level: 3rd
Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation
Activation: —
Weight: —
These boots look rather ordinary, though of fine make.
While you wear trackless boots, Survival checks made to follow your trail have a –5 circumstance penalty.
In addition, creatures with scent cannot use this ability to detect you.
Prerequisite: Craft Wondrous Item, camouflage.
Cost to Create: 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day.

DUNGEON MASTER'S GUIDE 3.0 (3.0)

AMULET OF HEALTH

This amulet is a golden disk on a chain. It usually bears the image of a lion or other powerful animal. The amulet grants the wearer an enhancement bonus to Constitution of +2, +4, or +6. Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, endurance; Market Price: 4,000 gp (+2), 16,000 gp (+4), or 36,000 gp (+6); Weight: —.

AMULET OF NATURAL ARMOR

This amulet, usually crafted from bone or beast scales, toughens the wearer's body and flesh, giving him a natural armor bonus to his AC of from +1 to +5, depending on the type of amulet. Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, barkskin, creator's caster level must be at least three times the amulet's bonus; Market Price: 2,000 gp (+1), 8,000 gp (+2), 18,000 gp (+3), 32,000 gp (+4), or 50,000 gp (+5); Weight: —.

AMULET OF THE PLANES

This strange device usually appears to be a black circular amulet, although any character looking closely at it sees a dark, moving swirl of color. The amulet allows its wearer to utilize plane shift. However, this is a difficult item to master. The user must make an Intelligence check (DC 15) in order to get the amulet to take her to the plane (and the specific location on that plane) that she wants. If she fails, the amulet transports her and all those traveling with her to a random location on that plane (a 01–60 result on d%) or to a random plane (61–100). Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, plane shift; Market Price: 80,000 gp; Weight: —.

AMULET OF PROOF AGAINST DETECTION AND LOCATION

This silver amulet protects the wearer from scrying and magical location just as a nondetection spell does. If a divination is attempted against the wearer, the caster of the divination must succeed at a caster level check (1d20 + caster level) against a DC of 19 (as if the caster had cast nondetection on herself). Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, nondetection; Market Price: 35,000 gp; Weight: —.

AMULET OF UNDEAD TURNING

This holy item allows a cleric or paladin to turn undead as if she were four levels higher than her actual class level. Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, 10th-level cleric; Market Price: 11,000 gp; Weight: —.

APPARATUS OF KWALISH

This item appears to be a large, sealed iron barrel, but it has a secret catch (Search DC 20 to locate) that opens a hatch in one end. Anyone who crawls inside finds ten (unlabeled) levers:

Lever (1d10)	Lever Function
1	Extend/retract legs and tail
2	Uncover/cover forward porthole
3	Uncover/cover side portholes
4	Extend/retract pincers and feelers
5	Snap pincers
6	Move forward/backward
7	Turn left/right
8	Open "eyes" with continual flame inside/close "eyes"
9	Rise/sink in water
10	Open/close hatch

The device has the following characteristics:

Speed:	Forward 10 ft, backward 20 ft.
AC:	20 (-1 size, 11 natural)
Hit Points:	200
Attacks:	2 pincers, +12 melee
Damage:	2d8 each
Special Qualities:	Hardness 15

Operating a lever is a full-round action, and no lever may be operated more than once per round. However, since two Medium-size characters can fit inside, the apparatus can move and attack in the same round. The device can function in water up to 900 feet deep. It holds enough air for a crew of two to survive 1d4+1 hours (twice as long for a single occupant). When activated, the apparatus looks something like a giant lobster. Caster Level: 19th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects, continual flame, 8 ranks of Knowledge (architecture and engineering); Market Price: 130,000 gp; Weight: 500 lb.

BAG OF HOLDING

This appears to be a common cloth sack about 2 feet by 4 feet in size. The bag of holding opens into a nondimensional space: Its inside is larger than its outside dimensions. Regardless of what is put into the bag, it weighs a fixed amount. This weight, and the limits in weight and volume of the bag's contents, depend on the bag's type, as shown on the table below:

Bag Type	Bag Weight	Contents Weight Limit	Contents Volume Limit	Market Price
Bag 1	15 lb.	250 lb.	30 cu. ft.	2,500 gp
Bag 2	25 lb.	500 lb.	70 cu. ft.	5,000 gp
Bag 3	35 lb.	1,000 lb.	150 cu.ft.	7,400 gp
Bag 4	60 lb.	1,500 lb.	250 cu.ft.	10,000 gp

If the bag is overloaded, or if sharp objects pierce it (from inside or outside), the bag ruptures and is ruined. All contents are lost forever.

If a bag of holding is turned inside out, its contents spill out, unharmed, but the bag must be put right before it can be used again.

If living creatures are placed within the bag, they can survive for up to 10 minutes, after which time they suffocate.

Retrieving a specific item from a bag of holding is a move-equivalent action—unless the bag contains more than an ordinary backpack would hold, in which case retrieving a specific item is a full-round action.

If a bag of holding is placed within a portable hole, a rift to the Astral Plane is torn in the space: Bag and hole alike are sucked into the void and forever lost.

If a portable hole is placed within a bag of holding, it opens a gate to the Astral Plane: The hole, the bag, and any creatures within a 10-foot radius are drawn there, destroying the portable hole and bag of holding in the process. Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's secret chest.

BAG OF TRICKS

This small sack appears normal and empty. However, anyone reaching into the bag feels a small, fuzzy ball.

If the ball is removed and tossed up to 20 feet away, it turns into an animal.

The animal serves the character who drew it from the bag for 10 minutes (or until slain or ordered back into the bag), at which point it disappears.

There are three drab colors of bags, each producing a different set of animals.

Use the following tables to determine what animals can be drawn out of each.

Gray		Rust		Tan
d%	Animal	d%	Animal	d%	Animal
01-30	Bat	01-30	Wolverine	01-30	Brown bear
31-60	Rat	31-60	Wolf	31-60	Lion
61-75	Cat	61-85	Boar	61-80	Warhorse
76-90	Weasel	86-100	Black bear	81-90	Tiger
91-100	Badger			91-100	Rhinoceros

Animals produced are always random, and only one may exist at a time.

Up to ten animals can be drawn from the bag each week. Caster Level: 3rd (gray), 5th (rust), or 9th (tan); Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item; summon nature's ally II (gray), summon nature's ally III (rust), or summon nature's ally V (tan); Market Price: 900 gp (gray); 3,000 gp (rust); 6,300 gp (tan); Weight: —.

BEAD OF FORCE

This small black sphere appears to be a lusterless pearl. Upon sharp impact, however, the bead explodes, sending forth a burst of force that deals 5d6 points of damage to all creatures within a 10-foot radius.

Each victim is allowed a Reflex saving throw (DC 16). Those who fail are then encapsulated in a sphere of force with a radius of 10 feet.

Those trapped inside cannot escape except by those methods that can bypass or destroy a wall of force. The sphere persists for 3d6 minutes and then disappears. The explosion completely consumes the bead, making this a one-use item.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wall of force; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: —.

BELT, MONK'S

This simple rope belt, when wrapped around a character's waist, confers great ability in unarmed combat.

Any time the wearer engages in unarmed combat, the belt grants him the ability to use both hands as though he possessed the Ambidexterity and Two-Weapon Fighting feats.

He may also make a stunning attack (as a monk) once per day.

If donned by a monk, the belt grants one additional stunning attack per day and allows the monk to haste herself once per day for up to 10 consecutive rounds.

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, haste, righteous might or Tenser's transformation; Market Price: 9,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BELT OF DWARVENKIND

This belt gives the wearer a +4 competence bonus on all Charisma checks (such as Charisma checks for NPC attitude) and Charisma-keyed skill checks such as Bluff, Diplomacy, Disguise, Gather Information, Intimidate and Perform as they relate to dealing with dwarves, a +2 competence bonus on similar checks when dealing with gnomes and halflings, and a –2 competence penalty on similar checks when dealing with anyone else.

The wearer can understand, speak, and read Dwarven. If the wearer is not a dwarf, he gains darkvision (range 60 feet), dwarven stonemasonry, a +2 enhancement bonus to Constitution, and +2 resistance bonuses against poison, spells, and spell-like effects.

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, tongues, and either polymorph self or the creator must be a dwarf; Market Price: 14,900 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BELT OF GIANT STRENGTH

This wide belt is made of thick leather and studded with iron.

The belt adds to the wearer's Strength score in the form of an enhancement bonus of +4 or +6.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength; Market Price: 16,000 gp (+4) or 36,000 gp (+6); Weight: 1 lb.

BOAT, FOLDING

A folding boat looks like a small wooden box—about 12 inches long, 6 inches wide, and 6 inches deep.

It can be used to store items like any other box.

If a command word is given, however, the box unfolds itself to form a boat 10 feet long, 4 feet wide, and 2 feet in depth.

A second (different) command word causes it to unfold to a ship 24 feet long, 8 feet wide, and 6 feet deep.

Any objects formerly stored in the box now rest in the bottom of the boat or ship.
In its smaller form, the boat has one pair of oars, an anchor, a mast, and a lateen sail.
In its larger form, the boat has a deck, single rowing seats, five sets of oars, a steering oar, an anchor, a deck cabin, and a mast with a square sail.
The boat can hold three or four people comfortably, while the ship carries fifteen with ease.
A third word of command causes the boat or ship to fold itself into a box once again.
The words of command may be inscribed visibly or invisibly on the box, or they may be written elsewhere—perhaps on an item within the box.
Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fabricate, 2 ranks of Craft (shipmaking); Market Price: 10,500 gp; Weight: 4 lb.

BOCCOB'S BLESSED BOOK

This well-made tome is always of small size, typically no more than 12 inches tall, 8 inches wide, and 1 inch thick. All such books are durable, waterproof, bound with iron overlaid with silver, and locked.
The pages of a Boccob's blessed book freely accept spells scribed upon them, and any such book can contain up to forty-five spells of any level.
The book is thus highly prized by wizards as a spellbook. This book is never found as randomly generated treasure with spells already inscribed in it.
Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, secret page; Market Price: 9,500 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BOOTS OF ELVENKIND

These soft boots enable the wearer to move quietly in virtually any surroundings, granting a +10 circumstance bonus to Move Silently checks.
Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be an elf; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BOOTS OF LEVITATION

These leather boots allow the wearer to levitate as if she had cast levitate on herself.
Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, levitate; Market Price: 7,500 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BOOTS OF SPEED

On command, these boots enable the wearer to act as though hasted for up to 10 rounds each day.
The duration of the haste need not be consecutive rounds.
Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, haste; Market Price: 8,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BOOTS OF STRIDING AND SPRINGING

The wearer of these boots moves at double her normal speed.
In addition to this striding ability, these boots allow the wearer to make great leaps.

She can jump with a +10 competence bonus to Jump checks, and the wearer's jumping distance is not limited by her height.
Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, expeditious retreat, jump; Market Price: 6,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BOOTS, WINGED

These boots appear to be ordinary footgear.
On command, the boots sprout wings at the heel and let the wearer fly, without having to maintain concentration, as if affected by a fly spell.
He can fly for a total of up to 2 hours each day.
Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fly; Market Price: 12,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BOOTS OF THE WINTERLANDS

This footgear bestows many powers upon the wearer. First, he is able to travel across snow at his normal speed, leaving no tracks.
The boots also enable him to travel at half normal speed across the most slippery ice (horizontal surfaces only, not vertical or sharply slanted ones) without falling or slipping. Finally, boots of the winterlands warm the wearer, as if he were affected by an endure elements (cold) spell.
Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, endure elements, pass without trace, cat's grace; Market Price: 2,500 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BOTTLE OF AIR

This item appears to be a normal glass bottle with a cork. When taken to any airless environment (such as underwater or in a vacuum), it retains air within it at all times, continually renewing its contents.
This means that a character can draw air out of the bottle in order to breathe.
The bottle can even be shared by multiple characters who pass it around.
Breathing out of the bottle requires a standard action, but a character so doing can then act for as long as she can hold her breath.
Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, control wind; Market Price: 14,500 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

BOWL OF COMMANDING WATER ELEMENTALS

This large container is usually fashioned from blue or green semiprecious stone (malachite, lapis lazuli, azurite, turquoise, or peridot, or sometimes jade).
It is about 1 foot in diameter, half that deep, and relatively fragile.
When the bowl is filled with fresh water, and certain words are spoken, a Large water elemental appears.
The summoning words require 1 full round to speak.
In all ways the bowl functions as the summon monster VI spell.
Only one elemental can be called at a time.
A new elemental requires the bowl to be filled with new water, which cannot happen until after the first elemental disappears (is dispelled, dismissed, or slain).

If salt water is used, the elemental is Huge rather than Large (as if summon monster VII had been cast). See the Monster Manual for details on water elementals. Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster VI, summon monster VII; Market Price: 100,000 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

BRACELET OF FRIENDS

This silver charm bracelet has seven charms upon it. The owner may designate one person known to him to be keyed to one charm.

(This designation takes a standard action, but once done it lasts forever or until changed).

When a charm is grasped and the name of the keyed individual is spoken, that person is called to the spot (another standard action) along with his or her gear. Unwilling characters are allowed a Will saving throw (DC 19).

Once a charm is activated, it disappears, so such bracelets discovered as treasure may have fewer than a full complement of charms when found.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, refuge; Market Price: 4,550 gp; Weight: —.

BRACERS OF ARCHERY

These wristbands look like normal protective wear. The bracers empower the wearer to use any bow (not including crossbows) as if she were proficient in its use. If she already has proficiency with any type of bow, she gains a +2 competence bonus to attack rolls and a +1 competence bonus to damage dealt whenever using that type of bow.

The bonus to damage only applies if the target is within 30 feet.

Both bracers must be worn for the magic to be effective.

Caster Level: 4th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Craft Magic Arms and Armor; Market Price: 5,100 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BRACERS OF ARMOR

These items appear to be wrist or arm guards. They surround the wearer with an invisible but tangible field of force, granting him an armor bonus of +1 to +8, just as though he were wearing armor.

Both bracers must be worn for the magic to be effective.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, mage armor, creator's class level must be twice that of the bonus placed in the bracers; Market Price: 1,000 gp (+1), 4,000 gp (+2), 9,000 gp (+3), 16,000 gp (+4), 25,000 gp (+5), 36,000 gp (+6), 49,000 gp (+7), or 64,000 gp (+8); Weight: 1 lb.

BRAZIER OF COMMANDING FIRE ELEMENTALS

This device appears to be a normal container for holding burning coals.

When a fire is lit in the brazier and the proper summoning words are spoken, a Large fire elemental appears.

The summoning words require 1 full round to speak.

In all ways the brazier functions as the summon monster VI spell.

If brimstone is added, the elemental is Huge instead of Large, and the brazier works as a summon monster VII spell. Only one elemental can be summoned at a time.

A new elemental requires a new fire, which cannot be lit until after the first elemental disappears (is dispelled, dismissed, or slain).

See the Monster Manual for details on fire elementals.

Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster VI, summon monster VII; Market Price: 100,000 gp; Weight: 5 lb.

BROOCH OF SHIELDING

This appears to be a piece of silver or gold jewelry used to fasten a cloak or cape.

In addition to this mundane task, it can absorb magic missiles of the sort generated by spell or spell-like ability. A brooch can absorb up to 101 points of magic missile damage before it melts and becomes useless.

Caster Level: 1st; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shield; Market Price: 1,500 gp; Weight: —.

BROOM OF FLYING

This broom is able to fly through the air as if affected by a fly spell with unlimited duration.

The broom can carry 200 pounds.

In addition, the broom can travel alone to any destination named by the owner as long as she has a good idea of the location and layout of that destination.

It comes to its owner from as far away as 300 yards when she speaks the command word.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fly, permanency; Market Price: 15,100 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

CANDLE OF INVOCATION

Each of these specially blessed tapers is dedicated to one of the nine alignments.

Simply burning the candle generates a favorable aura for the individual so doing if the candle's alignment matches that of the character.

Characters of the same alignment as the burning candle add a +2 morale bonus to attack rolls, saving throws, and skill checks while within 30 feet of the flame.

A cleric whose alignment matches the candle's operates as if 2 levels higher for purposes of determining spells per day if he burns the candle during or just prior to his spell preparation time.

He can even cast spells normally unavailable to him, as if he were of that higher level, but only so long as the candle continues to burn.

Except in special cases (s below), the candle burns for 4 hours.

In addition, burning the candle also allows the owner to cast a gate spell, the respondent being of the same alignment as the candle, but the taper is immediately consumed in the process.

It is possible to extinguish the candle simply by blowing it out, so users often place it in a lantern to protect it from drafts and the like.

Doing this doesn't interfere with its magical properties.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, gate, creator must be same alignment as candle created; Market Price: 7,800 gp; Weight: 1/2 lb.

CANDLE OF TRUTH

This white tallow candle, when burned, calls into place a zone of truth spell in a 30-foot radius centered on the candle. The zone lasts for 1 hour, as the candle burns.

If the candle is snuffed before that time, the effect is canceled and the candle ruined.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, zone of truth; Market Price: 2,500 gp; Weight: 1/2 lb.

CAPE OF THE MOUNTEBANK

On command, this bright red and gold cape allows the wearer to use the magic of the dimension door spell once per day.

When he disappears, he leaves behind a cloud of smoke, appearing in a similar fashion at his destination.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dimension door; Market Price: 12,960 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

CARPET OF FLYING

This rug is able to fly through the air as if affected by a fly spell of unlimited duration.

The size, carrying capacity, and speed of the different carpets of flying are shown on the table below.

Beautifully and intricately made, each carpet has its own command word to activate it—if the device is within voice range, the command word activates it, whether the speaker is on the rug or not.

The carpet is then controlled by spoken directions.

Size	Capacity	Speed	Weight	Market Price
3 ft. by 5 ft.	300 lb.	210ft.	5 lb.	18,000 gp
4 ft. by 6 ft.	600 lb.	180ft.	8 lb.	29,000 gp
5 ft. by 7 ft.	900 lb.	150ft.	10 lb.	41,000 gp
6 ft. by 9 ft.	1200lb.	120ft.	15 lb.	53,000 gp

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fly, permanency.

CENSER OF CONTROLLING AIR ELEMENTALS

This 6-inch-wide, 1-inch-high perforated golden vessel resembles thuribles found in places of worship.

If it is filled with incense and lit, summoning words spoken over it summon forth a Large air elemental.

The summoning words require 1 full round to speak.

In all ways the censer functions as the summon monster VI spell.

If incense of meditation is burned within the censer, the air elemental is an elder air elemental instead (as if summon monster IX had just been cast).

Only one elemental can be summoned at a time.

A new elemental requires a new piece of incense, which cannot be lit until after the first elemental disappears (is dispelled, dismissed, or slain).

See the Monster Manual for details on air elementals.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster VI, summon monster IX; Market Price: 100,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

CHAOS DIAMOND

This lustrous gemstone is uncut and about the size of a human fist.

The gem grants its possessor the following powers:

- Random action
- Magic circle against law
- Word of chaos
- Cloak of chaos

Each power is usable 1d4 times per day.

(The DM rolls secretly each day for each power separately).

A nonchaotic character who possesses a chaos diamond gains one negative level.

Although this level never results in actual level loss, it remains as long as the diamond is in the character's possession and cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells).

Caster Level: 19th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, random action, magic circle against law, word of chaos, cloak of chaos, creator must be chaotic; Market Price: 93,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

CHIME OF INTERRUPTION

This instrument can be struck once every 10 minutes, and its resonant tone lasts for 3 full minutes.

While the chime is resonating, no spell requiring a verbal component can be cast within a 30-foot radius of it unless the caster can make a Concentration check (DC = 15 + the spell's level).

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shout; Market Price: 15,800 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

CHIME OF OPENING

A chime of opening is a hollow mithral tube about 1 foot long. When struck, it sends forth magic vibrations that cause locks, lids, doors, valves, and portals to open.

The device functions against normal bars, shackles, chains, bolts, and so on.

The chime of opening also automatically dispels a hold portal spell or even an arcane lock cast by a wizard of less than 15th level.

The chime must be pointed at the item or gate to be loosed or opened (which must be visible and known to the user).

The chime is then struck, a clear tone rings forth, and in 1 round the target lock is unlocked, the shackle is loosed, the secret door is opened, or the lid of the chest is lifted.

Each sounding only opens one form of locking, so if a chest is chained, padlocked, locked, and arcane locked, it takes four uses of the chime of opening to get it open.

A silence spell negates the power of the device.

A brand-new chime can be used a total of 50 times before it cracks and becomes useless.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, knock; Market Price: 3,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

CIRCLET OF BLASTING, MINOR

On command, this simple golden headband projects a blast of searing light (3d8 points of damage) once per day.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, searing light; Market Price: 6,480 gp; Weight: —.

CIRCLET OF BLASTING, MAJOR

On command, this elaborate golden headband projects blast of searing light (5d8 maximized for 40 points of damage) once per day.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Maximize Spell, searing light; Market Price: 23,760 gp; Weight: —.

CIRCLET OF PERSUASION

This silver headband grants a +2 competence bonus to the wearer's Charisma checks and Charisma-based skill checks.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, charm person; Market Price: 4,500 gp; Weight: —.

CLOAK OF ARACHNIDA

This black garment, embroidered with a web-like pattern in silk, gives the wearer the ability to climb as if a spider climb spell had been placed upon her.

In addition, the cloak grants her immunity to entrapment by web spells or webs of any sort—she can actually move in webs at half her normal speed.

Once per day, the wearer of this cloak can cast web.

She also gains a +2 luck bonus to all Fortitude saves against poison from spiders.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, spider climb, web; Market Price: 6,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

CLOAK OF THE BAT

Fashioned of dark brown or black cloth, this cloak bestows a +10 circumstance bonus to Hide checks.

The wearer is also able to hang upside down from the ceiling, like a bat.

By holding the edges of the garment, the wearer is able to fly as per the spell.

If he desires, the wearer can actually polymorph himself into an ordinary bat and fly accordingly.

(All possessions worn or carried are part of the transformation).

Flying, either with the cloak or in bat form, can be accomplished only in darkness (either under the night sky or in a lightless or near-lightless environment underground).

Either of the flying powers is usable for up to 1 hour at a time, but after a flight of any duration the cloak cannot bestow any flying power for a like period of time.

Finally, the cloak also provides a +2 deflection bonus to Armor Class.

This benefit extends to the wearer even when he is in bat form.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fly, polymorph self; Market Price: 24,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

CLOAK OF CHARISMA

This lightweight and fashionable cloak has a highly decorative silver trim.

When in a character's possession, it adds a +2, +4, or +6 enhancement bonus to her Charisma score.

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, charm monster; Market Price: 4,000 gp (+2), 16,000 gp (+4), or 36,000 gp (+6); Weight: 2 lb.

CLOAK OF DISPLACEMENT, MINOR

This item appears to be a normal cloak, but when worn by a character its magic properties distort and warp light waves. This displacement works similar to the displacement spell except that it only grants a 20% miss chance (the same as one-half concealment).

It functions continually.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, displacement; Market Price: 25,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

CLOAK OF DISPLACEMENT, MAJOR

This item appears to be a normal cloak, but when worn by a character its magic properties distort and warp light waves. This displacement works just like the displacement spell and functions continually.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, displacement; Market Price: 50,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

CLOAK OF ELVENKIND

This cloak of neutral gray cloth is indistinguishable from an ordinary cloak of the same color.

However, when worn with the hood drawn up around the head, it gives the wearer a +10 circumstance bonus on Hide checks.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, invisibility, creator must be an elf; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

CLOAK OF ETHEREALNESS

This silvery-gray cloak seems to absorb light rather than be illuminated by it.

On command, the cloak makes its wearer ethereal (as the spell ethereal jaunt).

The effect is dismissible.

The cloak works for a total of up to 10 minutes per day.

This duration need not be continuous.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, ethereal jaunt; Market Price: 52,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

CLOAK OF THE MANTA RAY

This cloak appears to be made of leather until the wearer enters salt water.

At that time the cloak of the manta ray adheres to the individual, and he appears nearly identical to a manta ray. (A Spot check against DC 20 is needed to determine otherwise).

He gains a +3 natural armor bonus, the ability to breathe underwater, and a speed of 60 feet, exactly like a real manta ray.

Although the cloak does not enable the wearer to bite opponents as a manta ray does, it does have a tail spine that can be used to strike at opponents behind him, dealing 1d6 points of damage.

This attack can be used in addition to any other attack the character has, using his highest melee attack bonus.

The wearer can release his arms from the cloak without sacrificing underwater movement if so desired.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, water breathing, freedom of movement; Market Price: 20,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

CLOAK OF RESISTANCE

These garments offer magic protection in the form of a +1 to +5 resistance bonus for all saving throws (Fortitude, Reflex, Will).

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, resistance, caster level must be three times that of the cloak's bonus; Market Price: 1,000 gp (+1), 4,000 gp (+2), 9,000 gp (+3), 16,000 gp (+4), or 25,000 gp (+5); Weight: 1 lb.

CRYSTAL BALL

This is the most common form of scrying device, a crystal sphere about 6 inches in diameter.

A character can use the device to see over virtually any distance or into other planes of existence, as with the spell scrying.

Certain crystal balls have additional powers that can be used through the crystal ball at targets viewed.

Crystal Ball Type	Market Price
Crystal ball	42,000 gp
Crystal ball with see invisibility	50,000 gp
Crystal ball with detect thoughts	51,000 gp
Crystal ball with telepathy*	70,000 gp
Crystal ball with true seeing	80,000 gp

*The viewer is able to send and receive silent mental messages with the person appearing in the crystal ball. Once per day the character may attempt to implant a suggestion (as the spell, DC 14) as well.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, scrying (plus any additional spells put into item); Weight: 7 lb.

CUBE OF FORCE

This device can be made of ivory, bone, or any hard mineral.

About the size of a large die (perhaps 3/4 inch across), it enables its possessor to put up a special wall of force 10 feet per side around her person.

This cubic screen moves with the character and is impervious to the attack forms shown on the table below.

The cube has 36 charges, which are renewed each day.

The character presses one face of the cube to activate or deactivate the field:

Cube Face	Charge Cost per Minute	Maximum Speed	Effect
1	1	30ft.	Keeps out gases, wind, etc.
2	2	20ft.	Keeps out nonliving matter
3	3	15ft.	Keeps out living matter
4	4	10ft.	Keeps out magic
5	6	10ft.	Keeps out all things
6	0	As normal	Deactivates

When the force screen is up, attacks dealing more than 30 points of damage drain 1 charge for every 10 points of damage beyond 30 that they deal (40 points of damage drains 1 charge, 50 points drains 2 charges, and so forth). Spells that affect the integrity of the screen, such as disintegrate or passwall, also drain extra charges.

These spells (in the following list) cannot be cast into or out of the cube:

Attack Form	Extra Charges
Horn of blasting	6
Wall of fire	2
Paswall	3
Disintegrate	6
Phase door	5
Prismatic spray	7

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wall of force; Market Price: 62,000 gp; Weight: —.

CUBE OF FROST RESISTANCE

When this cube is activated, it encloses a cube-shaped area 10 feet per side.

The temperature within this area is always at least 65°F The field absorbs all cold-based attacks (such as ice storm, cone of cold, and white dragon breath).

However, if the field is subjected to more than 50 points of cold damage in 1 round (from one or multiple attacks), it collapses and cannot be renewed for 1 hour.

If the field receives over 100 points of damage in a 10-round period, the cube is destroyed.

Cold below 0°F deals the field 2 points of cold damage per round, +2 points per each 10° below 0 (2 points at -1° to -9°, 4 points at -10° to -19°, and so on).

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, protection from elements; Market Price: 22,000 gp; Weight: —.

CUBIC GATE

This item is fashioned from carnelian.

Each of the six sides of the cube is keyed to a plane, one of which is the Material Plane.

The character creating the item should choose the planes to which the other five sides are keyed.

If such a cube is found as treasure, the DM can determine the planes accessed by the device in any manner he or she chooses.

If a side of the cubic gate is pressed once, it opens a gate to the plane keyed to that side.

There is a 10% chance per minute that an outsider from that plane (determine randomly) comes through it looking for food, fun, or trouble.

Pressing the side a second time closes the gate.

It is impossible to open more than one gate at a time.

If a side is pressed twice in quick succession, the character so doing is transported to the other plane, along with all creatures in a 5-foot radius.

(Those others may avoid this fate by succeeding at Will saves against DC 23).

Caster Level: 18th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, gate;
Market Price: 156,000 gp; Weight: —.

DAERRIS INSTANT FORTRESS

This metal cube is small, but when activated it grows to form a tower 20 feet square and 30 feet high, with arrow slits on all sides and a crenellated battlement atop it. The metal walls extend 10 feet into the ground, rooting it to the spot and preventing it from being tipped over.

The fortress has a small door that opens only at the command of the owner of the fortress—even knock spells can't open the door.

The adamantine walls of Daern's instant fortress have 100 hit points and a hardness of 20.

The fortress cannot be repaired except by a wish or a miracle, which restores 50 points of damage sustained.

The fortress springs up in just 1 round, with the door facing the device's owner.

The door opens and closes instantly at his command.

People and creatures nearby (except the owner) must be careful not to be caught by the fortress's sudden growth.

Anyone so caught sustains 10d10 points of damage (Reflex half DC 19).

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Mordenkamen's magnificent mansion; Market Price: 55,000 gp; Weight: —.

DARKSKULL

This skull, carved from ebony, is wholly evil.

Wherever the skull goes, the area around it is treated as though an unhallow spell had been cast with the skull as the touched point of origin (except that there is no additional spell effect tied or fixed to the darkskull).

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, unhallow, creator must be evil; Market Price: 60,000 gp; Weight: 5 lb.

DECANTER OF ENDLESS WATER

If the stopper is removed from this ordinary-looking flask and a command word spoken, a stream of fresh or salt water pours out.

Separate command words determine the type as well as the volume and velocity.

- Stream: Pours out 1 gallon per round
- Fountain: 5-foot-long stream at 5 gallons per round
- Geysir: 20-foot-long, 1-foot-wide stream at 30 gallons per round

The geyser causes considerable back pressure, requiring the holder to make a Strength check (DC 12) to avoid being knocked down.

The force of the geyser deals 1d4 points of damage but can only affect one target per round.

The command word must be spoken to stop it.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, control water; Market Price: 9,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

DECK OF ILLUSIONS

This set of parchment cards is usually found in an ivory, leather, or wooden box.

A full deck consists of thirty-four cards.

When a card is drawn at random and thrown to the ground, a major image of a creature is formed.

The figment lasts until dispelled.

The illusory creature cannot move more than 30 feet away from where the card landed, but otherwise moves and acts as if it were real.

At all times it obeys the desires of the character who drew the card.

When the illusion is dispelled, the card becomes blank and cannot be used again.

If the card is picked up, the illusion is automatically and instantly dispelled.

The cards in a deck and the illusions they bring forth are summarized on the following table.

(Use one of the first two columns to simulate the contents of a full deck using either ordinary playing cards or tarot cards).

DECK OF ILLUSIONS

Playing Card	Tarot Card	Creature
Ace of hearts	IV. The Emperor	Red dragon
King of hearts	Knight of swords	Human fighter (male) and four guards
Queen of hearts	Queen of staves	Human wizard (female)
Jack of hearts	King of staves	Human druid (male)
Ten of hearts	VII. The Chariot	Cloud giant
Nine of hearts	Page of staves	Ettin
Eight of hearts	Ace of cups	Bugbear
Two of hearts	Five of staves	Goblin
Playing Card	Tarot Card	Creature
Ace of diamonds	III. The Empress	Beholder
King of diamonds	Two of cups	Elven wizard (male) and apprentice (female)
Queen of diamonds	Queen of swords	Half-elven ranger (female)
Jack of diamonds	XIV. Temperance	Harpy
Ten of diamonds (male)	Seven of staves	Half-orcbarbarian
Nine of diamonds	Four of pentacles	Ogre mage
Eight of diamonds	Ace of pentacles	Gnoll
Two of diamonds	Six of pentacles	Kobold
Playing Card	Tarot Card	Creature
Ace of spades	II. The High Priestess	Lich
King of spades	Three of staves	Three human clerics (male)
Queen of spades	Four of cups	Medusa
Jack of spades	Knight of pentacles	Dwarven paladin (male)
Ten of spades	Seven of swords	Frost giant
Nine of spades	Three of swords	Troll
Eight of spades	Ace of swords	Hobgoblin
Two of spades	Five of cups	Goblin

Nine of clubs	King of swords	Ogre
Eight of clubs	Ace of staves	Orc
Two of clubs	Five of cups	Kobold
Playing Card	Tarot Card	Creature
Joker	Two of pentacles	Illusion of deck's owner
Joker	Two of staves	Illusion of deck's owner (sex reversed)

A randomly generated deck may be discovered (a 01–10 result on d%) with 1d20 of its cards missing. (On a result of 11–100, it is complete).

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, major image; Market Price: 9,200 gp; Weight: 1/2 lb.

DIMENSIONAL SHACKLES

These shackles have golden runes traced across their cold iron surface.

Any creature bound within them is affected as if a dimensional anchor spell were cast upon her (no save).

They fit any Small to Large creature.

The DC to break or slip out of the shackles is 30.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dimensional anchor; Market Price: 26,000 gp; Weight: 5 lb.

DRUMS OF PANIC

These drums are kettle drums (hemispheres about 11 1/2 feet in diameter on stands).

They come in pairs and are unremarkable in appearance. If both of the pair are sounded, all creatures within 120 feet (with the exception of those within a 20-foot-radius safe zone around the drums) are affected as by a fear spell (Will negates DC 16).

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fear; Market Price: 30,000 gp; Weight: 10 lb.

DUST OF APPEARANCE

This fine powder appears to be a very fine, very light metallic dust.

A single handful of this substance flung into the air coats surrounding objects, making them visible even if they are invisible—just like the glitterdust spell.

(The dust of appearance, however, doesn't blind creatures). The dust also reveals figments, minor images, and projected images for what they are.

It likewise negates the effects of blur and displacement. (In this, it works just like the faerie fire spell).

A creature coated with the dust cannot hide.

The dust's effect lasts for 2d% minutes.

Dust of appearance is typically stored in small silk packets or hollow bone blow-tubes.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, glitterdust; Market Price: 2,100 gp; Weight: —.

DUST OF DISAPPEARANCE

This dust looks just like dust of appearance and is typically stored in the same manner.

A creature or object touched by it becomes invisible (as improved invisibility).

Normal vision can't see dusted creatures or objects, nor can they be detected by magical means, including see invisibility or invisibility purge.

Dust of appearance, however, does reveal people and objects made invisible by dust of disappearance.

Other factors, such as sound and smell, also allow possible detection.

The improved invisibility bestowed by the dust lasts for 2d10 minutes (1d10+10 if sprinkled carefully upon an object).

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, improved invisibility; Market Price: 3,500 gp; Weight: —.

DUST OF DRYNESS

This special dust has many uses.

If it is thrown into water, up to a cubic yard of the water is instantly transformed to nothingness, and the dust becomes a marble-sized pellet, floating or resting where it was thrown.

If this pellet is hurled down, it breaks and releases the same volume of water.

The dust affects only water (fresh, salt, alkaline), not other liquids.

If the dust is employed against a water creature, the creature must make a Fortitude save (DC 18) or be destroyed.

The dust deals 5d6 points of damage to the water creature even if its saving throw succeeds.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, control water; Market Price: 850 gp; Weight: —.

DUST OF ILLUSION

This unremarkable powder resembles chalk dust or powdered graphite.

Stare at it, however, and the dust changes color and form.

Put the dust of illusion on a creature, and that creature is affected as if by a change self glammer, with the individual who sprinkles the dust envisioning the illusion desired. An unwilling recipient is allowed a Reflex saving throw (DC 11) to escape the effect.

The glammer lasts for 1d6+6 hours.

Caster level: 2nd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, change self; Market Price: 500 gp; Weight: —.

DUST OF TRACELESSNESS

This normal-seeming dust is actually a magic powder that can conceal the passage of its possessor and his companions.

Tossing a pinch of this dust into the air causes a chamber of up to 1,000 square feet of floor space to become as dusty, dirty, and cobweb-laden as if it had been abandoned and disused for a decade.

A pinch of dust sprinkled along a trail causes evidence of the passage of as many as a dozen men and horses to be obliterated for a mile back into the distance.

The results of the dust are instantaneous, so no magical aura lingers afterward from this use of the dust.

Tracking checks across an area affected by this dust are made against a DC 20 higher than normal.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, pass without trace; Market Price: 250 gp; Weight: —.

EFREETI BOTTLE

This item is typically fashioned of brass or bronze, with a lead stopper bearing special seals.

A thin stream of smoke is often seen issuing from it.

The bottle can be opened once per day.

When opened, the efreeti imprisoned within issues from the bottle instantly.

There is a 10% chance (a 01–10 result on d%) that the efreeti is insane and attacks immediately upon being released.

There is also a 10% chance (91–100) that the efreeti of the bottle grants three wishes.

In either case, the efreeti afterward disappears forever.

The other 80% of the time (11–90), the inhabitant of the bottle loyally serves the character for up to 10 minutes per day (or until the efreeti's death), doing as she commands. (See the Monster Manual for efreeti statistics).

Roll each day the bottle is opened for that day's effect.

Caster Level: 14th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster VII; Market Price: 150,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

EVERBURNING TORCH

This torch has a continual flame cast upon it.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisite: Continual flame (no feat needed); Market Price: 90 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

EVERSMOKING BOTTLE

This metal urn is identical in appearance to an efreeti bottle, except that it does nothing but smoke.

The amount of smoke is great if the stopper is pulled out, pouring from the bottle and totally obscuring vision across a spread of 50 feet in 1 round.

If the bottle is left unstoppered, the smoke spreads another 10 feet per round until it has spread 100 feet.

This area remains smoke-filled until the eversmoking bottle is stoppered.

The bottle must be resealed by a command word, after which the smoke dissipates normally.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, pyrotechnics; Market Price: 5,200 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

EYES OF CHARMING

These two crystal lenses fit over the user's eyes.

The wearer is able to charm person (one target per round) merely by meeting a target's gaze.

Those failing a Will saving throw (DC 16) are charmed as per the spell.

If the wearer has only one lens, the DC of the saving throw is reduced to 10.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Heighten Spell, charm person; Market Price: 56,000 gp; Weight: —.

EYES OF DOOM

These crystal lenses fit over the user's eyes, enabling him to cast doom upon those around him (one target per round) merely by meeting their gaze.

Those failing a Will saving throw (DC 11) are doomed as per the spell.

If the wearer has only one lens, the DC of the saving throw is reduced to 10.

However, if the wearer has both lenses, he gains the additional power of deathwatch vision and can enact an eyebite (DC 19) once per week.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, doom, deathwatch, eyebite; Market Price: 24,500 gp; Weight: —.

EYES OF THE EAGLE

These items are made of special crystal and fit over the eyes of the wearer.

These lenses grant a +5 circumstance bonus to Spot checks. Wearing only one of the pair causes a character to become dizzy and, in effect, stunned for 1 round.

Thereafter, the wearer can use the single lens without being stunned so long as she covers her other eye.

Of course, she can remove the single lens and see normally at any time, or wear both lenses to end or avoid the dizziness.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, clairaudience/clairvoyance; Market Price: 1,000 gp; Weight: —.

EYES OF PETRIFICATION

These items are made of special crystal and fit over the eyes of the wearer.

They allow her to use a petrification gaze attack (DC 19), such as that of a basilisk, for 10 rounds per day (see the Monster Manual for details on the basilisk's gaze attack). Both lenses must be worn for the magic to be effective. Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, flesh to stone; Market Price: 98,000 gp; Weight: —.

FIGURINES OF WONDROUS POWER

Each of the several kinds of figurines of wondrous power appears to be a tiny statuette of an creature an inch or so high (with one exception).

When the figurine is tossed down and the correct command word spoken, it becomes a living creature of normal size (except when noted otherwise below).

The creature obeys and serves its owner.

If a figurine of wondrous power is broken or destroyed in its statuette form, it is forever ruined.

All magic is lost, its power departed.

If slain in animal form, the figurine simply reverts to a statuette that can be used again at a later time.

BRONZE GRIFFON

When animated, the bronze griffon acts in all ways like a normal griffon under the command of its possessor. The item can be used twice per week for up to 6 hours per use.

When 6 hours have passed or when the command word is spoken, the bronze griffon once again becomes a tiny statuette.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects; Market Price: 10,000 gp; Weight: —.

EBONY FLY

When animated, the ebony fly is the size of a pony and has all the statistics of a hippogriff (Hit Dice, AC, carrying capacity, speed, and so on) but can make no attacks.

The item can be used three times per week for up to 12 hours per use.

When 12 hours have passed or when the command word is spoken, the ebony fly again becomes a tiny statuette.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects; Market Price: 10,000 gp; Weight: —.

GOLDEN LIONS

These come in pairs.

They become normal adult male lions (see the Monster Manual).

If slain in combat, the lions cannot be brought back from statuette form for one full week.

Otherwise, they can be used once per day for up to 1 hour.

They enlarge and shrink upon speaking the command word.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects; Market Price: 16,500 gp; Weight: —.

IVORY GOATS

These come in threes.

Each goat of this trio looks slightly different from the others, and each has a different function.

- The Goat of Traveling: This statuette provides a speedy and enduring mount equal to that of a draft horse in every way except appearance.

The goat can travel for a maximum of one day each week—continuously or in any combination of periods totaling 24 hours.

At this point, or when the command word is uttered, it returns to its statuette form for not less than one day before it can again be used.

- The Goat of Travail: This statuette becomes an enormous creature, larger than a bull, with the statistics of a nightmare except for the addition of a pair of wicked horns of exceptional size (damage 1d8+4/1d8+4).

If it is charging to attack, it may only use its horns (but add +6 points of damage to each successful attack on that round).

It can be called to life just once per month for up to 12 hours at a time.

- The Goat of Terror: When called upon with the proper command word, this statuette becomes a destrier-like mount, with the statistics of a light warhorse (but hairier). However, its rider can employ the goat's horns as weapons (one horn as a +3 lance, the other as a +5 longsword).

When ridden in an attack against an opponent, the goat of tenor radiates fear as the spell in a 30-foot radius (DC 16).

It can be used once every two weeks for up to 3 hours per use.

After three uses, each of the ivory goats loses its magical ability forever.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects; Market Price: 21,000 gp; Weight: —.

MARBLE ELEPHANT

This is the largest of the figurines, the statuette being about the size of a human hand.

Upon utterance of the command word, a marble elephant grows to the size and specifications of a true elephant.

The animal created from the statuette is fully obedient to the figurine's owner, serving as a beast of burden, a mount, or a combatant.

Details of the elephant are found in the Monster Manual.

The statuette can be used four times per month for up to 24 hours at a time.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects; Market Price: 17,000 gp; Weight: —.

OBSIDIAN STEED

An obsidian steed appears to be a small, nearly shapeless lump of black stone.

Only careful inspection reveals that it vaguely resembles some form of quadruped.

On command, the near-formless piece of obsidian becomes a fantastic mount.

Treat it as a heavy warhorse with the following additional powers usable once per round at will: fly, plane shift, and ethereality.

The steed allows itself to be ridden, but if the rider is of good alignment, the steed is 10% likely per use to carry him to the Lower Planes and then return to its statuette form.

The statuette can be used once per week for one continuous period of up to 24 hours.

Note that when the obsidian steed becomes ethereal or plane shifts, its rider and his gear follow suit. Thus, the user can travel to other planes via this means. Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects, fly, plane shift, etherealness; Market Price: 28,500 gp; Weight: —.

ONYX DOG

When commanded, this statuette changes into a creature with the same properties as a war dog, except that it is endowed with an Intelligence score of 8, can communicate in Common, and has exceptional olfactory and visual abilities.

(It has the scent ability and adds +4 to its Spot and Search checks).

It has darkvision (range 60 feet) and it can see invisible.

An onyx dog can be used once per week for up to 6 hours. It obeys only its owner.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects; Market Price: 15,500 gp; Weight: —.

SERPENTINE OWL

A serpentine owl becomes either a normal-sized horned owl or a giant owl, according to the command word used.

The transformation can take place once per day, with a maximum duration of 8 continuous hours.

However, after three transformations into giant owl form, the statuette loses all of its magical properties.

The owl communicates with its owner by telepathic means, informing her of all it sees and hears.

(Remember the limitations of its Intelligence).

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects; Market Price: 9,100 gp; Weight: —.

SILVER RAVEN

This figurine turns into a raven on command (but it retains its silver consistency, which gives it a hardness of 10).

Another command sends it off into the air, bearing a message just like a creature affected by an animal messenger spell.

If not commanded to carry a message, the raven obeys the commands of its owner, although it has no special powers or telepathic abilities.

It can maintain its nonfigurine status for only 24 hours per week, but the duration need not be continuous.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animal messenger; Market Price: 3,800 gp; Weight: —.

GAUNTLETS OF OGRE POWER

These gauntlets are made of tough leather with iron studs running across the back of the hands and fingers.

They grant the wearer great strength, adding a +2 enhancement bonus to his Strength score.

Both gauntlets must be worn for the magic to be effective.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength; Market Price: 4,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

GAUNTLET OF RUST

This single metal gauntlet looks rusted and pitted but is actually quite powerful.

Once per day, it can affect an object as with the rusting grasp spell.

It also completely protects the wearer and her gear from rust (magical or otherwise), including the attack of a rust monster.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, rusting grasp; Market Price: 11,500 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

GEM OF BRIGHTNESS

This crystal appears to be a long, rough prism.

Upon utterance of a command word, the crystal emits bright light of one of three sorts.

- One command word causes the gem to shed a pale light in a cone 10 feet long.

This use of the gem does not expend any charges.

- Another command word causes the gem of brightness to send out a very bright ray 1 foot in diameter and 50 feet long.

This strikes as a ranged touch attack, and any creature struck by this beam is blinded for 1d4 rounds unless it succeeds at a Reflex save (DC 14).

This use of the gem expends 1 charge.

- The third command word causes the gem to flare in a blinding flash of light in a cone 30 feet long. Although this glare lasts but a moment, all creatures within its area must make a Reflex save (DC 14) or be blinded for 1d4 rounds and thereafter suffer a penalty of -1 to attack rolls, Spot checks, and Search checks due to permanent eye damage. This use expends 5 charges.

Eye damage can be cured by a remove blindness or a heal spell.

A newly created gem of brightness has 50 charges.

When all its charges are expended, the gem becomes nonmagical.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, daylight, blindness/deafness; Market Price: 15,200 gp; Weight: —.

GEM OF SEEING

This finely cut and polished stone is indistinguishable from an ordinary jewel in appearance.

When gazed through, the gem of seeing enables the user to see as though she were affected by a true seeing spell.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, true seeing; Market Price: 75,000 gp; Weight: —.

GLOVES OF ARROW SNARING

Once snugly worn, these gloves seem to meld with the hands, becoming almost invisible.

(They are undetectable unless the viewer is within 5 feet of the wearer).

The wearer can act as if he had the Deflect Arrows feat, except that he catches the thrown weapons and projectiles instead of deflecting them.

Both gloves must be worn for the magic to be effective.

At least one hand must be free to take advantage of the magic.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shield; Market Price: 4,000 gp; Weight: —.

GLOVES OF DEXTERITY

These tight-fitting, thin leather gloves are very flexible and allow for delicate manipulation.

They add to the wearer's Dexterity score in the form of an enhancement bonus of +2, +4, or +6.

Both gloves must be worn for the magic to be effective.

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cat's grace; Market Price: 4,000 gp (+2), 16,000 gp (+4), or 36,000 gp (+6); Weight: —.

GLOVE OF STORING

This device is a simple leather glove.

On command, one item held in the hand wearing the glove disappears.

The item can weigh no more than 20 pounds and must be able to be held in one hand.

With a snap of the fingers wearing the glove, the item reappears.

A glove can only store one item at a time.

The item is held in stasis and shrunk down so small within the palm of the glove that it cannot be seen.

Many owners of gloves of storing find them to be useful and dramatic ways to store weapons, wands, and—because the item is stored in stasis—even lit torches.

If the effect is suppressed or dispelled, the stored item appears instantly.

Although it is handy to have two of these gloves, the creation process yields only one.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shrink item; Market Price: 2,200 gp; Weight: —.

GLOVES OF SWIMMING AND CLIMBING

These apparently normal lightweight gloves grant a +10 competence bonus to Swim and Climb checks.

Both gloves must be worn for the magic to be effective.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cat's grace; Market Price: 6,000 gp; Weight: —.

GOGGLES OF MINUTE SEEING

The lenses of this item are made of special crystal.

When placed over the eyes of the wearer, they enable her to see much better than normal at distances of 1 foot or less, granting her a +5 bonus to Search checks to locate or identify features such as tiny seams, marks, cracks, or imperfections.

Both lenses must be worn for the magic to be effective.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, true seeing; Market Price: 1,000 gp; Weight: —.

GOGGLES OF NIGHT

The lenses of this item are made of dark crystal.

Even though the lenses are opaque, when placed over the eyes of the wearer they enable him to see normally and also grant him darkvision (range 60 feet).

Both lenses must be worn for the magic to be effective.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, darkvision; Market Price: 8,000 gp; Weight: —.

HAND OF GLORY

This mummified human hand hangs by a leather cord around a character's neck (taking up space as a magic necklace would).

If a magic ring is placed on one of the fingers of the hand, the wearer benefits from the ring as if wearing it herself, and it does not count against her two-ring limit.

The hand can wear only one ring at a time.

Even without a ring, the hand itself allows its wearer to use daylight and see invisibility each once per day.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, daylight, detect invisibility, animate dead; Market Price: 7,200 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

HAND OF THE MAGE

This mummified elven hand hangs by a golden chain around a character's neck (taking up space as a magic necklace would).

It allows the wearer to utilize the spell mage hand at will.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, mage hand; Market Price: 1,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

HARP OF CHARMING

This instrument is a golden, intricately carved harp.

When played, it enables the performer to cast one suggestion (Will negates DC 14) for each 10 minutes of playing if he can succeed at a Perform check (DC 15).

On a die roll of a natural 1, the harpist has played so poorly that he enrages all those within earshot.

Caster level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, suggestion; Market Price: 7,500 gp; Weight: 5 lb.

HAT OF DISGUISE

This apparently normal hat allows its wearer to alter her appearance as with a change self spell.

As part of the disguise, the hat can be changed to appear as a comb, ribbon, headband, cap, coif, hood, helmet, and so on.

Caster Level: 2nd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, change self; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: —.

HEADBAND OF INTELLECT

This device is a light cord with a small gem set so that it rests upon the forehead of the wearer.

The headband adds to the wearer's Intelligence score in the form of an enhancement bonus of +2, +4, or +6.

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, commune or legend lore; Market Price: 4,000 gp (+2), 16,000 gp (+4), or 36,000 gp (+6); Weight: —.

HELM OF BRILLIANCE

This normal-looking helm takes its true form and manifests its powers when the user dons it and speaks the command word.

Made of brilliant silver and polished steel, a newly created helm is set with ten diamonds, twenty rubies, thirty fire opals, and forty opals, each of large size and enchanted.

When struck by bright light, the helm scintillates and sends forth reflective rays in all directions from its crown-like, gem-tipped spikes.

The jewels' functions are as follows:

Jewel	Effect
Diamond	Prismatic spray (DC 17)
Ruby	Wall of fire
Fire opal	Fireball (10d6)
Opal	Light

The helm may be used once per round, but each gem can perform its spell-like power just once.

Until all of its jewels are depleted, a helm of brilliance also has the following magical properties when activated.

- It emanates a bluish light when undead are within 30 feet. This light causes pain and 1d6 points of damage per round to all such creatures within that range.

- The wearer may command any weapon he wields to become a flaming weapon (see page 186).

This is in addition to whatever abilities the weapon may already have (unless the weapon already is a flaming weapon).

The command takes 1 round to take effect.

- Each round, the helm absorbs the first 30 points of fire damage the wearer would otherwise take.

This protection does not stack with similar protection from other sources, such as endure elements.

Once all of its jewels have lost their magic, the helm loses all its powers and the gems turn to worthless powder.

Removing a jewel destroys it.

If a creature wearing the helm is damaged by magic fire (after the fire protection is taken into account) and fails an additional Will saving throw (DC 15), the remaining gems on the helm overload and detonate.

Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, light, fireball, prismatic spray, wall of fire, flame blade, detect undead, protection from elements; Market Price: 157,000 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

HELM OF COMPREHENDING LANGUAGES AND READING MAGIC

Appearing as a normal helmet, a helmet of comprehending languages and reading magic grants its wearer a 90% chance to understand any strange tongue or writing she encounters and an 80% chance to understand any magic writings.

Note that understanding does not necessarily imply spell use.

Caster Level: 4th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, comprehend languages, read magic; Market Price: 2,600 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

HELM OF TELEPATHY

The wearer can use detect thoughts at will.

Furthermore, he can send a telepathic message to anyone whose surface thoughts he is reading (allowing two-way communication).

Once per day, the wearer of the helm can implant a suggestion (as the spell, Will negates, DC 14) along with his telepathic message.

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, detect thoughts, suggestion; Market Price: 31,000 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

HELM OF TELEPORTATION

Any character wearing this device may teleport three times per day, exactly as if he had cast the spell of the same name.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, teleport; Market Price: 48,600 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

HELM OF UNDERWATER ACTION

The wearer of this helmet can see underwater.

Drawing the small lenses in compartments on either side into position before the wearer's eyes activates the visual properties of the helm, allowing her to see five times farther than water and light conditions would allow for normal human vision.

(Weeds, obstructions, and the like block vision in the usual manner).

If the command word is spoken, the helm of underwater action creates a globe of air around the wearer's head and maintains it until the command word is spoken again, enabling her to breathe freely.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, freedom of movement, water breathing; Market Price: 24,000 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

HEWARD'S HANDY HAVERSACK

A backpack of this sort appears to be well made, well used, and quite ordinary.

It is constructed of finely tanned leather, and the straps have brass hardware and buckles.

It has two side pouches, each of which appears large enough to hold about a quart of material.

In fact, each is like a bag of holding and can actually hold material equal to as much as 2 cubic feet in volume or 20 pounds in weight.

The large central portion of the pack can contain up to 8 cubic feet or 80 pounds of material.

Even when so filled, the backpack always weighs only 5 pounds.

While such storage is useful enough, the pack has an even greater power in addition.

When the wearer reaches into it for a specific item, that item is always on top.

Thus, no digging around and fumbling is ever necessary to find what a haversack contains.

Retrieving any specific item from a haversack is a free action.

Heward's handy haversack and whatever it contains gain a +2 resistance bonus to all saving throws.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's secret chest; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: 5 lb.

HORN OF BLASTING

This horn appears to be a normal trumpet.

It can be sounded as a normal horn, but if the command word is spoken and the instrument is then played, it has the following effects, both of which happen at once.

- A 100-foot cone of sound issues forth from the horn. All within this area must make a Fortitude saving throw (DC 16).

Those who succeed are stunned for 1 round and deafened for 2 rounds.

Those failing the saving throw take 1d10 points of damage, are stunned for 2 rounds, and are deafened for 4 rounds.

- An ultrasonic wave 1 foot wide and 100 feet long issues from the horn.

The wave weakens such materials as metal, stone, and wood.

This effect deals 1d10 points of damage to objects within the area, ignoring their hardness.

If a horn of blasting is used magically more than once in a given day, there is a 10% cumulative chance with each extra use that it explodes and deals 5d10 points of damage to the person sounding it.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shout;
Market Price: 12,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

HORN OF FOG

This small bugle allows its possessor to blow forth a thick cloud of heavy fog similar to that of an obscuring mist spell. The fog spreads 10 feet each round that the user continues to blow the horn.

The device makes a deep, foghorn-like noise, with the note dropping abruptly to a lower register at the end of each blast.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, obscuring mist; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

HORN OF GOODNESS/EVIL

This trumpet adapts itself to its owner, so it produces either a good or an evil effect depending on the owner's alignment.

If the owner is neither good nor evil, the horn has no power whatsoever.

If he is good, then blowing the horn has the effect of a magic circle against evil. If he is evil, then blowing the horn has the effect of a magic circle against good.

In either case, this ward lasts for 10 rounds.

The horn can be blown once per day.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, magic circle against good or magic circle against evil; Market Price: 6,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

HORN OF THE TRITONS

This device is a conch shell that can be blown once per day (except by a triton, who can sound it three times per day).

A horn of the tritons can do any one of the following functions when blown.

- Calm rough waters in a one-mile radius.

This dispels a summoned water elemental if it fails its Will saving throw (DC 16).

- Attract 5d4 Large sharks (a 01–30 result on d%), 5d6 Medium-size sharks (31–80), or 1d10 sea lions (81–100) if the character is in a body of water in which such creatures dwell.

The creatures are friendly and obey, to the best of their ability, the one who sounded the horn.

- Panic and demoralize aquatic creatures with Intelligence scores of 1 or 2 within 500 feet as if they had been targeted by a fear spell (DC 16).

Those who do save are shaken for 3d6 rounds.

Any sounding of a horn of the tritons can be heard by all tritons within a three-mile radius.

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fear, summon monster V, water control, creator must be a triton or get construction aid from a triton; Market Price: 15,100 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

HORN OF VALHALLA

This magic instrument comes in four varieties.

Each appears to be normal until someone speaks its command word and blows the horn.

Then the horn summons a number of human barbarians to fight for the character who summoned them.

Each horn can be blown just once every seven days.

Roll d% to see what type of horn is found.

The horn's type determines what barbarians are summoned and what prerequisite is needed to use the horn.

Any character who uses a horn of Valhalla but doesn't have the prerequisite is attacked by the barbarians she herself summoned.

d%	Type of Horn	Barbarians Summoned	Prerequisites
01-40	Silver	2d4+2, 2nd level	None
41-75	Brass	2d4+1, 3rd level	Spellcaster level 1st+
76-90	Bronze	2d4, 4th level	Proficiency with all martial weapons or bardic music ability
91-100	Iron	1d4+1, 5th level	Proficiency with all martial weapons or bardic music ability

Summoned barbarians are magic constructs, not actual people (though they seem to be), and they arrive with the starting equipment for barbarians found in the Player's Handbook (page 26).

They gladly attack anyone the possessor of the horn commands them to fight until they or their opponents are slain or until 1 hour has elapsed, whichever comes first.

Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster VI; Market Price: 50,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

HORSESHOES OF SPEED

These iron shoes come in sets of four like ordinary horseshoes.

When affixed to a horse's hooves, they double the animal's speed.

All four shoes must be worn by the same animal for the magic to be effective.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, haste; Market Price: 1,900 gp; Weight: 3 lb. each.

HORSESHOES OF A ZEPHYR

These four iron shoes are affixed like normal horseshoes.

They allow a horse to travel without actually touching the ground.

The horse must still run above (always around 4 inches above) a roughly horizontal surface.

This means that nonsolid or unstable surfaces, such as water or lava, can be crossed, and that movement is possible without leaving tracks on any sort of ground.

The horse moves at normal speed.

All four shoes must be worn by the same animal for the magic to be effective.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, levitate;
Market Price: 3,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb. each.

INCENSE OF MEDITATION

This small rectangular block of sweet-smelling incense is visually indistinguishable from nonmagical incense until lit.

When it is burning, the special fragrance and pearly-hued smoke of this special incense are recognizable by anyone making a Spellcraft check (DC 15).

When a divine Spellcaster lights a block of incense of meditation and then spends 8 hours praying and meditating nearby, the incense enables him to prepare all of his spells as though affected by the Maximize Spell metamagic feat. However, all the spells prepared in this way are at their normal level, not at three levels higher (as with the regular metamagic feat).

Each block of incense burns for 8 hours, and the effects remain for 24 hours.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Maximize Spell, bleed; Market Price: 4,900 gp; Weight: 1 lb. each.

IOUN STONES

These stones always float in the air and must be within 3 feet of their owner to be of any use.

When a character first acquires a stone, she must hold it and then release it, whereupon it takes up a circling orbit 1d3 feet from her head.

Thereafter, a stone must be grasped or netted to separate it from its owner.

The owner may voluntarily seize and stow a stone (while sleeping, for example) to keep it safe, but she loses the benefits of the stone during that time.

Ioun stones have an AC of 24, 10 hit points, and a hardness of 5.

Regeneration from the pearly white Ioun stone works like a ring of regeneration.

(It cures damage taken while the character is using the stone).

The pale lavender and lavender and green stones work like a rod of absorption, but absorbing a spell requires a readied action, and these stones cannot be used to empower spells. Stored spells in the vibrant purple stone must be placed by a Spellcaster but can be used by anyone (see ring of spell storing).

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be 12th level; Weight: —.

IOUN STONES

Color	Shape	Effect	Market Price
Dull gray	Any	Merely orbits without further powers	25 gp
Dusty rose	Prism	+1 deflection bonus to AC	4,000 gp
Clear	Spindle	Sustains creature without food or water	5,000 gp
Pale blue	Rhomboid	+2 enhancement bonus to Strength	8,000 gp
Scarlet and blue	Sphere	+2 enhancement bonus to Intelligence	8,000 gp
Incandescent blue	Sphere	+2 enhancement bonus to Wisdom	8,000 gp
Deep red	Sphere	+2 enhancement bonus to Dexterity	8,000 gp
Pink	Rhomboid	+2 enhancement bonus to Constitution	8,000 gp
Pink and green	Sphere	+2 enhancement bonus to Charisma	8,000 gp
Dark blue	Rhomboid	Alertness (as the feat)	8,000 gp
Vibrant purple	Prism	Stores six levels of spells	12,000 gp
Iridescent	Spindle	Sustains creature without air	15,000gp
Pale green	Prism	+1 competence bonus to attack rolls, saves, and checks	20,000 gp
Pearly white	Spindle	Regenerate 1 point of damage/hour	20,000 gp
Pale lavender	Ellipsoid	Absorb spells up to 4th level*	20,000 gp
Lavender and green	Ellipsoid	Absorb spells up to 8th level	40,000 gp

*After absorbing 20 spell levels, the stone burns out and turns to dull gray, forever useless.

**After absorbing 50 spell levels, the stone burns out and turns dull gray, forever useless.

IRON BANDS OF BILARRO

When initially discovered, this very potent item appears to be a rusty iron sphere.

Close examination reveals that there are bandings on the 3-inch-diameter globe.

When the proper command word is spoken and the spherical iron device is hurled at an opponent, the bands expand and tightly constrict the target creature on a successful ranged touch attack.

A single creature of Large size or smaller can be captured thus and held immobile until the command word is spoken to bring the bands into globular form again.

The creature can break (and ruin) the bands with a successful Strength check (DC 30) or escape them with a successful Escape Artist check (also DC 30).

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Bigby's grasping hand; Market Price: 26,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

IRON FLASK

These special containers are typically inlaid with runes of silver and stoppered by a brass plug bearing a seal engraved with sigils, glyphs, and special symbols.

When the user speaks the command word, he can force any creature from another plane into the container, provided that creature fails a Will saving throw (DC 19).

The range of this effect is 60 feet.

Only one creature at a time can be so contained.

Loosing the stopper frees the captured creature.

If the individual freeing the captured creature speaks the command word, the creature can be forced to serve for 1 hour.

If freed without the command word, the creature acts according to its natural inclinations.

(It usually attacks the user, unless it perceives a good reason not to).

Any attempt to force the same creature into the flask a second time allows it a +2 bonus on its saving throw and makes it very angry and totally hostile.

A newly discovered bottle might contain any of the following:

d%	Contents	d%	Contents
01-50	Empty	89	Demon (glabrezu)
51-54	Large air elemental	90	Demon (succubus)
55-58	Arrowhawk	91	Devil (osyluth)
59-62	Large earth elemental	92	Devil (barbazou)
63-66	Xorn	93	Devil (erinyes)
67-70	Large fire elemental	94	Devil (cornugon)
71-74	Salamander	95	Celestial (avoral)
75-78	Large water elemental	96	Celestial (ghaele)
79-82	Adult tojanida	97	Formian myrmarch
83-84	Red slaad	98	Blue slaad
85-86	Formian taskmaster (alone)	99	Rakshasa
87	Demon (vrock)	100	Demon (balor) or devil
88	Demon (hezrou)		(pit fiend)—equal chance for either

Caster Level: 20th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, trap the soul; Market Price: 170,000 gp (empty); Weight: 1 lb.

KEOGHTOM'S OINTMENT

Ajar of this unguent is small—3 inches in diameter and 1 inch deep—but contains five applications.

Placed upon a poisoned wound or swallowed, the ointment detoxifies any poison (as neutralize poison).

Applied to a diseased area, it removes disease (as remove disease).

Rubbed on a wound, the ointment cures 1d8+5 points of damage (as cure light wounds).

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cure light wounds, neutralize poison, remove disease; Market Price: 4,000 gp; Weight: 1/2 lb.

LANTERN OF REVEALING

This lantern operates as a normal hooded lantern.

While it is lit, it also reveals all invisible creatures and objects within 25 feet of it, just like the spell invisibility purge.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, invisibility purge; Market Price: 30,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

LENS OF DETECTION

This circular prism enables its user to detect minute details, granting a +10 bonus to Search checks.

It also aids in following tracks, adding a +10 bonus to Wilderness Lore checks when tracking.

The lens is about 6 inches in diameter and set in a frame with a handle.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, true seeing; Market Price: 3,500 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

LYRE OF BUILDING

If the proper chords are struck, a single use of this lyre negates any attacks made against all inanimate construction (walls, roof, floor, and so on) within 300 feet.

This includes the effects of a horn of blasting, a disintegrate spell, or an attack from a ram or similar siege weapon.

The lyre can be used in this way once per day, with the protection lasting for 30 minutes.

The lyre is also useful with respect to building.

Once a week its strings can be strummed so as to produce chords that magically construct buildings, mines, tunnels, ditches, or whatever.

The effect produced in but 30 minutes of playing is equal to the work of 100 humans laboring for three days.

Each hour after the first, a character playing the lyre must make a Perform check (DC 18).

If it fails, she must stop and cannot play it again for this purpose until a week has passed.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fabricate; Market Price: 13,000 gp; Weight: 5 lb.

MANTLE OF SPELL RESISTANCE

This embroidered garment is worn over normal clothing or armor.

It grants the wearer spell resistance of 21.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, spell resistance; Market Price: 90,000 gp; Weight: —.

MANUAL OF BODILY HEALTH

This thick tome contains tips on health and fitness, but entwined within the words is a powerful magical effect.

If anyone reads this book, which takes a total of 48 hours over a minimum of six days, he gains an inherent bonus of from +1 to +5 (depending on the type of manual) to his Constitution score.

Once the book is read, the magic disappears from the pages and it becomes a normal book.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wish or miracle; Market Price: 27,500 gp (+1), 55,000 gp (+2), 82,500 gp (+3), 110,000 gp (+4), or 137,500 gp (+5); Cost to Create: 1,250 gp + 5,100 XP (+1), 2,500 gp + 10,200 XP (+2), 3,750 gp + 15,300 XP (+3), 5,000 gp + 20,400 XP (+4), or 6,250 gp + 25,500 XP (+5); Weight: 5 lb.

MANUAL OF GAINFUL EXERCISE

This thick tome contains exercise descriptions and diet suggestions, but entwined within the words is a powerful magical effect.

If anyone reads this book, which takes a total of 48 hours over a minimum of six days, she gains an inherent bonus of from +1 to +5 (depending on the type of manual) to her Strength score.

Once the book is read, the magic disappears from the pages and it becomes a normal book.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wish or miracle; Market Price: 27,500 gp (+1), 55,000 gp (+2), 82,500 gp (+3), 110,000 gp (+4), or 137,500 gp (+5); Cost to Create: 1,250 gp + 5,100 XP (+1), 2,500 gp + 10,200 XP (+2), 3,750 gp + 15,300 XP (+3), 5,000 gp + 20,400 XP (+4), or 6,250 gp + 25,500 XP (+5); Weight: 5 lb.

MANUAL OF QUICKNESS OF ACTION

This thick tome contains tips on coordination exercises and balance, but entwined within the words is a powerful magical effect.

If anyone reads this book, which takes a total of 48 hours over a minimum of six days, he gains an inherent bonus of from +1 to +5 (depending on the type of manual) to his Dexterity score.

Once the book is read, the magic disappears from the pages and it becomes a normal book.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wish or miracle; Market Price: 27,500 gp (+1), 55,000 gp (+2), 82,500 gp (+3), 110,000 gp (+4), or 137,500 gp (+5); Cost to Create: 1,250 gp + 5,100 XP (+1), 2,500 gp + 10,200 XP (+2), 3,750 gp + 15,300 XP (+3), 5,000 gp + 20,400 XP (+4), or 6,250 gp + 25,500 XP (+5); Weight: 5 lb.

MASK OF THE SKULL

This ivory mask has been fashioned into the likeness of a human skull.

Once per day, after it has been worn for at least 1 hour, the mask can be loosed to fly from the wearer's face.

It travels up to 50 feet away from the wearer and attacks a target assigned to it.

The grinning skull mask makes a touch attack against the target.

If it succeeds, the target must make a Fortitude saving throw (DC 20) or be struck dead, as if affected by a finger of death spell.

If the target succeeds at his saving throw, he nevertheless takes 3d6+13 points of damage.

After attacking (whether successful or not), the mask flies back to its user.

Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, finger of death, animate objects, fly; Market Price: 25,000 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

MATTOCK OF THE TITANS

This digging tool is 10 feet long.

Any creature of at least Huge size can use it to loosen or tumble earth or earthen ramparts (a 10-foot cube every 10 minutes).

It also smashes rock (a 10-foot cube per hour).

If used as a weapon, it is the equivalent of a +3 gargantuan morningstar, dealing 4d6 points of base damage.

Caster Level: 16th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Craft Magic Arms and Armor, dig; Market Price: 23,000 gp; Weight: 120 lb.

MAUL OF THE TITANS

This mallet is 8 feet long.

If used as a weapon, it is the equivalent of a +3 greatclub and deals triple damage against inanimate objects.

However, the wielder must have a Strength score of at least 18 to wield it properly.

Otherwise, she suffers a -4 attack penalty.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Bigby's clenched fist; Market Price: 25,000 gp; Weight: 160 lb.

MEDALLION OF THOUGHTS

This appears to be a normal pendant disk hung from a neck chain.

Usually fashioned from bronze, copper, or nickel-silver, the medallion allows the wearer to read the thoughts of others, as with the spell detect thoughts.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, detect thoughts; Market Price: 12,000 gp; Weight: —.

MIRROR OF LIFE TRAPPING

This crystal device is usually about 4 feet square and framed in metal or wood.

It can be affixed to a surface and activated by giving a command word.

The same command word deactivates the mirror.

A mirror of life trapping has from thirteen to eighteen nonspatial extradimensional compartments within it.

Any creature coming within 30 feet of the device and looking at its reflection must make a Will save (DC 19) or be trapped within the mirror in one of the cells.

A creature not aware of the nature of the device always sees its reflection.

The probability of a creature seeing its reflection, and thus needing to make the saving throw, drops to 50% if the creature is aware that the mirror traps life and seeks to avoid looking at it (treat as a gaze attack; see page 77). When a creature is trapped, it is taken bodily into the mirror.

Size is not a factor, but constructs and undead are not trapped, nor are inanimate objects and other nonliving matter.

A victim's equipment (including clothing and anything being carried) remains behind.

If the mirror's owner knows the right command word, he can call the reflection of any creature trapped within to its surface and engage his powerless prisoner in conversation. Another command word frees the trapped creature.

Each pair of command words is specific to each prisoner.

If the mirror's capacity is exceeded, one victim (determined randomly) is set free in order to accommodate the latest one.

If the mirror is broken, all victims currently trapped in it are freed and usually promptly attack the possessor of the device in revenge for their imprisonment.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, imprisonment; Market Price: 152,000 gp; Weight: 50 lb.

MIRROR OF MENTAL PROWESS

This mirror resembles an ordinary looking glass 5 feet tall by 2 feet wide.

The possessor who knows the proper commands can cause it to perform as follows.

- Read the thoughts of any creature reflected therein, as long as the owner is within 25 feet of the mirror, even if those thoughts are in an unknown language.
- Scry with it as if it were a crystal ball, able to view even into other planes if the viewer is sufficiently familiar with them. Use it as a portal to visit other places.

The user first scries the place normally and then steps through the mirror to the place pictured.

An invisible portal remains on the other side where she arrives, and she can return through that portal.

Once she returns, the portal closes.

The portal closes on its own after 24 hours (trapping the user if she's still in the other place), and the user can also close it with a command word.

Creatures with Intelligence scores of 12 or greater might notice the portal just as they might notice a magical sensor from a scrying spell.

Any creature who steps through the portal appears in front of the mirror.

- Once per week the mirror accurately answers one short question regarding a creature whose image is shown on its surface.

Caster Level: 18th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, detect thoughts, scrying, clairaudience/clairvoyance, gate, commune; Market Price: 175,000 gp; Weight: 40 lb.

MIRROR OF OPPOSITION

This item resembles a normal mirror about 4 feet long and 3 feet wide.

It can be affixed to a surface and activated by speaking a command word.

The same command word deactivates the mirror.

If a creature sees its reflection in the mirror's surface, an exact duplicate of that creature comes into being.

This opposite immediately attacks the original.

The duplicate has all the possessions and powers of its original (including magic).

Upon the defeat or destruction of either the duplicate or the original, the duplicate and her items disappear completely.

The mirror functions up to four times per day.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, clone; Market Price: 92,000 gp; Weight: 45 lb.

MURLYND'S SPOON

This unremarkable eating utensil is typically fashioned from horn.

If the spoon is placed in an empty container—a bowl, a cup, or a dish, for example—the vessel fills with a thick, pasty gruel.

Although this substance has a flavor similar to that of warm, wet cardboard, it is highly nourishing and contains everything necessary to sustain any herbivorous, omnivorous, or carnivorous creature.

The spoon can produce sufficient gruel each day to feed up to four humans.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, create food and water; Market Price: 5,500 gp; Weight: —.

Necklace of Adaptation: This necklace is a heavy chain with a platinum medallion.

The magic of the necklace wraps the wearer in a shell of fresh air, making him immune to all gases and allowing him to breathe, even underwater or in a vacuum.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, water breathing; Market Price: 19,000 gp; Weight: —.

NECKLACE OF FIREBALLS

This device appears to be nothing but a cheap medallion or piece of valueless jewelry.

If a character places it about her neck, however, all can see the necklace as it really is—a golden chain from which hang a number of golden spheres.

The spheres are detachable by the wearer (and only by the wearer), who can easily hurl them up to a 70-foot distance.

When a sphere arrives at the end of its trajectory, it bursts as a magic fireball (DC 14).

The number of spheres on each type of necklace, and their respective Hit Dice of fireball damage, are as follows:

Necklace	10d6	9d6	8d6	7d6	6d6	5d6	4d6	3d6	2d6	Market Price
Type I	—	—	—	—	—	1	—	2	—	1,650gp
Type II	—	—	—	—	1	—	2	—	2	2,700 gp
Type III	—	—	—	1	—	2	—	4	—	4,350gp
Type IV	—	—	1	—	2	—	2	—	4	5,400 gp
Type V	—	1	—	2	—	2	—	2	—	6,150 gp
Type VI	1	—	2	—	2	—	4	—	—	8,100gp
Type VII	1	2	—	2	—	2	—	2	—	9,150gp

For example, a Type III necklace has seven spheres—one 7-dice, two 5-dice, and four 3-dice fireballs.

The more dice of damage a sphere deals, the bigger it is.

If the necklace is being worn or carried by a character who fails her saving throw against a magic fire attack, the item must make a saving throw as well (with a bonus of +7).

If the necklace fails to save, all of its remaining spheres detonate simultaneously, often with regrettable consequences for the wearer.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fireball; Weight: 2 lb.

NECKLACE OF PRAYER BEADS

A necklace of this sort appears to be a normal piece of nonvaluable jewelry until it is placed about a character's neck and the wearer casts a divine spell.

The necklace of prayer beads consists of 1d6+24 semiprecious stones (total value 1,000 gp) along with one special bead:

Special Bead Type	Special Bead Ability
Bead of blessing	Wearer can cast bles .
Bead of healing	Wearer can cast remove blindness , remove disease , or cure serious wounds .
Bead of karma	Wearer can cast his spells at +4 caster level (with respect to range, duration, etc.). Effect lasts 10 minutes.
Bead of smiting	Wearer can cast holy smite , chaos hammer , order's wrath , or unholy blight —if appropriate to his alignment. (A neutral wearer can't use this bead.)
Bead of summons	Calls the wearer's deity (90% probability) to come to him in material form. (It had better be for a good reason.) Usable only once.
Bead of wind walking	Wearer can cast wind walk .

Each special bead can be used once per day, except for the bead of summons.

If the wearer uses that bead to summon his deity frivolously, the deity takes the character's items and places a geas upon him as punishment at the very least.

The power of a special bead is lost if it is removed from the necklace.

Sometimes necklaces are found with multiple special beads.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, gate, wind walk, and one of the following spells: bles, cure blindness, cure disease, cure serious wounds, holy smite, chaos hammer, order's wrath, or unholy blight (whichever is appropriate); Market Price: 500 gp (bead of blessing), 5,000 gp (bead of karma), 10,000 gp (bead of healing), 15,000 gp (bead of smiting), 30,000 gp (bead of wind walking), or 50,000 gp (bead of summons), plus 1,000 gp for the nonmagical beads for each necklace; Weight: —.

NOLZUR'S MARVELOUS PIGMENTS

These magic emulsions enable their possessor to create actual, permanent objects simply by depicting their form in two dimensions.

The pigments are applied by a stick tipped with bristles, hair, or fur.

The emulsion flows from the application to form the desired object as the artist concentrates on the desired image.

One pot of Nolzur's marvelous pigments is sufficient to create a 1,000-cubic-foot object by depicting it two-dimensionally over a 100-square-foot surface.

Thus, a 10-foot-by-10-foot rendition of a pit would result in an actual 10-foot-by-10-foot-by-10-foot pit; a 10-foot-by-10-foot depiction of a room would result in a 10-foot-by-10-foot-by-10-foot room; and so on.

Only normal, inanimate objects can be created—doors, pits, flowers, trees, cells, and so on.

Creatures can't be created.

The pigments must be applied to a surface (a floor, wall, ceiling, door, etc.).

It takes 10 minutes to depict an object with the pigments.

Nolzur's marvelous pigments cannot create magic items.

Objects of value depicted by the pigments—precious metals, gems, jewelry, ivory, and so on—appear to be valuable but are really made of tin, lead, paste, brass, bone, and other such inexpensive materials.

The user can create normal weapons, armor, and other mundane items whose value does not exceed 2,000 gp. Items created are not magical; the effect is instantaneous. Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, major creation; Market Price: 5,500 gp; Weight: —.

ORB OF STORMS

This glass sphere is 8 inches in diameter.

The possessor can call forth all manner of weather, even supernaturally destructive storms.

Once per day she can call upon the orb to access a control weather spell.

Once per month, she can bring upon a storm of vengeance.

The owner of the orb gains a +2 luck bonus to all saves and checks concerning the weather (including surviving in great heat or cold, but not including walking through fire, cones of cold, and other such conditions).

Caster Level: 18th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, control weather, storm, of vengeance; Market Price: 38,000 gp; Weight: 6 lb.

PEARL OF POWER

This seemingly normal pearl of average size and luster is a potent aid to all spellcasters who prepare spells (clerics, druids, rangers, paladins, and wizards).

Once per day on command, a pearl of power enables the possessor to recall any one spell that she had prepared and then cast.

The spell is then prepared again, just as if it hadn't been cast.

The spell must be of a particular level, depending on the pearl.

Different pearls exist for recalling one spell per day of each level from 1st through 9th and for the recall of two spells per day (each of a different level, up to 6th).

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be able to cast spells of the spell level to be recalled; Market Price: 1,000 gp (1st), 4,000 gp (2nd), 9,000 gp (3rd), 16,000 gp (4th), 25,000 gp (5th), 36,000 gp (6th), 49,000 gp (7th), 64,000 gp (8th), 81,000 gp (9th), or 70,000 gp (two spells); Weight: —.

PEARL OF THE SIRINES

This normal-seeming pearl is beautiful and worth at least 1,000 gp on that basis alone.

If it is clasped firmly in hand or held to the breast while the possessor attempts actions related to the pearl's powers, she understands and is able to employ the item.

The pearl enables its possessor to breathe in water as if she were in clean, fresh air.

Her underwater swim speed is 60 feet, and she can cast spells and act underwater without hindrance.

Caster level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, water breathing, freedom of movement; Market Price: 15,300 gp; Weight: —.

PERIAPT OF HEALTH

The wearer of this blue gem on a silver chain is immune to disease, including supernatural diseases (see Table 3-14: Diseases, page 75).

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, remove disease; Market Price: 7,500 gp; Weight: —.

PERIAPT OF PROOF AGAINST POISON

This item is a brilliant-cut black gem on a delicate silver chain.

The wearer gains a +4 luck saving throw bonus against any type of poison.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, neutralize poison; Market Price: 4,000 gp; Weight: —.

PERIAPT OF WISDOM

Although it appears to be a normal pearl on a light chain, a periapt of wisdom actually increases the possessor's Wisdom score in the form of an enhancement bonus of +2, +4, or +6 (depending on the individual item).

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, commune or legend lore; Market Price: 4,000 gp (+2), 16,000 gp (+4), or 36,000 gp (+6); Weight: —.

PERIAPT OF WOUND CLOSURE

This stone is bright red and dangles on a gold chain.

The wearer does not lose hit points when brought to negative hit points.

The periapt doubles the normal rate of healing or allows normal healing of wounds that would not do so normally. Bleeding damage, such as that from a weapon of wounding, is negated, but the periapt doesn't prevent active blood drain (such as that caused by a stirge).

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, heal; Market Price: 15,000 gp; Weight: —.

PHYLACTERY OF FAITHFULNESS

This item is a small box containing holy scripture affixed to a leather cord.

There is no mundane way to determine what function this religious item performs until it is worn.

The wearer of a phylactery of faithfulness is aware of any action or item that could adversely affect his alignment and standing with his deity, including magical effects.

He acquires this information prior to performing the action or becoming associated with such an item if he takes a moment to contemplate the action.

Caster Level: 1st; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item plus either detect evil, detect good, detect chaos, or detect law; Market Price: 1,000 gp; Weight: —.

PIPES OF HAUNTING

This magic item appears to be a small set of pan pipes.

When played by a person who has the Perform (pan pipes) skill, the pipes create an eerie, spellbinding tune.

A listener thinks the source of the music is somewhere within 30 feet of the musician.

Those hearing the tune but not aware of the piper must make a Will saving throw (DC 13).

Those who fail become shaken for 10 minutes.

Caster Level: 4th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, scare; Market Price: 6,500 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

PIPES OF PAIN

These appear to be like any other standard set of pipes with nothing to reveal their true nature.

When played by a person who has the Perform (pan pipes) skill, the pipes create a wondrous melody.

All within 30 feet, including the piper, must make a Will save (DC 14) or be enchanted by the sound.

(This is a mind-affecting sonic enchantment).

So long as the pipes are played, none of the creatures so enchanted attack or attempt any action (as if they are dazed).

If the piper is enchanted, however, he plays on for 1d10 rounds.

As soon as the piping stops, all those affected are stricken by intense pain at even the slightest noise.

Unless a character is in a totally silent area, she takes 1d4 points of damage per round for 2d4 rounds.

During this time, damage from sonic attacks, such as sound burst, is doubled.

Thereafter, the least noise causes an affected character to wince, giving her a -2 penalty to attack rolls, skill checks, and saving throws (except when she is in a totally silent area).

This hypersensitivity is a curse and therefore hard to remove (see the bestow curse spell).

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, charm person, sound burst; Market Price: 12,000 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

PIPES OF THE SEWERS

These wooden pipes appear ordinary, but if the possessor learns the proper tune, he can attract 1d16x10 dire rats (01-80 result on d%) or 3d6x10 normal rats (81-100) if either or both are within 400 feet.

For each 50-foot distance the rats have to travel, there is a 1-round delay.

The piper must continue playing until the rats appear, and when they do so, the piper must make a Perform (pan pipes) check (DC 10).

Success means that they obey the piper's telepathic commands so long as he continues to play.

Failure indicates that they turn on the piper.

If for any reason the piper ceases playing, the rats leave immediately.

If they are called again within a day, the Perform check is against DC 15.

If the rats are under the control of another creature, add the HD of the controller to the Perform check DC.

Once control is assumed, another check is required each round to maintain it if the other creature is actively seeking to reassert its control.

Caster Level: 2nd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, summon nature's ally I, animal friendship; Market Price: 1,150 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

PIPES OF SOUNDING

When played by a character who has the Perform (pan pipes) skill, these pipes create a variety of sounds.

The figment sounds are the equivalent of ghost sound (caster level 2).

Caster Level: 2nd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, ghost sound; Market Price: 1,800 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

PORTABLE HOLE

A portable hole is a circle of cloth spun from the webs of a phase spider interwoven with strands of ether and beams of starlight.

When opened fully, a portable hole is 6 feet in diameter, but it can be folded up to be as small as a pocket handkerchief.

When spread upon any surface, it causes an extradimensional space 10 feet deep to come into being. This hole can be picked up from inside or out by simply taking hold of the edges of the cloth and folding it up. Either way, the entrance disappears, but anything inside the hole remains.

The only air in the hole is that which enters when the hole is opened.

It contains enough air to supply one Medium-size creature or two Small creatures for 10 minutes.

(See Suffocation, page 88).

The cloth does not accumulate weight even if its hole is filled (with gold, for example).

Each portable hole opens on its own particular nondimensional space.

If a bag of holding is placed within a portable hole, a rift to the Astral Plane is torn in that place.

Both the bag and the cloth are sucked into the void and forever lost.

If a portable hole is placed within a bag of holding, it opens a gate to the Astral Plane.

The hole, the bag, and any creatures within a 10-foot radius are drawn there, the portable hole and bag of holding being destroyed in the process.

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, plane shift; Market Price: 14,000 gp; Weight: —.

QUAAL'S FEATHER TOKEN

Each of these items is a small feather that has a power to suit a special need.

The types of tokens are described below.

Each token is usable but once.

Anchor: A token useful to moor a craft in water so as to render it immobile for up to one day.

Bird: A token that can be used to deliver a small written message unerringly to a designated target as would a carrier pigeon.

The token lasts as long as it takes to carry the message.

Fan: A token that forms a huge flapping fan, causing a breeze of sufficient strength to propel one ship (about 25 mph).

This wind is not cumulative with existing wind speed—if a severe wind is already blowing, this wind cannot be added to it to create a windstorm.

The token can, however, be used to lessen existing winds, creating an area of relative calm or lighter winds (but wave size in a storm is not affected).

The fan can be used up to 8 hours.

It does not function on land.

Swan Boat: A token that forms a huge swan-like boat capable of moving on water at a speed of 60 feet.

It can carry eight horses and gear or thirty-two Medium-size characters or any equivalent combination.

The boat lasts for one day.

Tree: A token that causes a great oak to spring into being (6-foot-diameter trunk, 60-foot height, 40-foot top diameter).

This is an instantaneous effect.

Whip: A token that forms into a huge leather whip and wields itself against any opponent desired just like a dancing weapon (see page 186).

The weapon has a +10 base attack bonus, does 1d6+1 points of base damage, has a +1 enhancement bonus to attacks and damage, and makes a free grapple attack (at a +15 attack bonus) if it hits.

The whip lasts no longer than 1 hour.

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, major creation; Market Price: 50 gp (anchor), 300 gp (bird), 200 gp (fan), 450 gp (swan boat), 100 gp (tree), or 500 gp (whip); Weight: —.

QUIVER OF EHLONNA

This appears to be a typical arrow container capable of holding about 20 arrows.

Examination shows that it has three distinct portions, each with an extradimensional space allowing it to store far more than would normally be possible.

The first and smallest one can contain up to 60 objects of the same general size and shape as an arrow.

The second slightly longer compartment holds up to 18 objects of the same general size and shape as a javelin.

The third and longest portion of the case contains as many as six objects of the same general size and shape as a bow (spears, staffs, etc).

Once the owner has filled it, she can command the quiver each round to produce any stored items she wishes.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's secret chest; Market Price: 1,800 gp; Weight: —.

RING GATES

These always come in pairs—two iron rings, each about 14 inches in diameter.

The rings must be within 100 miles of each other to function.

Whatever is put through one ring comes out the other, and up to 100 pounds of material can be transferred each day. (Objects only partially pushed through do not count).

This useful device allows for instantaneous transport of items, messages, and even attacks.

A character can reach through to grab things near the other ring, or even stab a weapon through if so desired.

Alternatively, a character could stick his head through to look around.

A spellcaster could even cast a spell through a ring gate.

A Small character can make an Escape Artist check (DC 13) to slip through.

Creatures of Tiny, Diminutive, or Fine size can pass through easily.

Each ring has a “entry side” and an “exit side”, both marked with appropriate symbols.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, gate; Market Price: 40,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

each.

ROBE OF THE ARCHMAGI

This normal-appearing garment can be white (a 01–45 result on d%, good alignment), gray (46–75, neither good nor evil alignment), or black (76–100, evil alignment). Its wearer, if an arcane spellcaster, gains the following powers.

- +5 armor bonus to AC.
- Spell resistance 17.
- +1 resistance bonus to all saving throws.
- Ability to overcome the spell resistance of others as if she had the feat Spell Penetration.

If a white robe is donned by an evil character, she immediately gains three negative levels.

The reverse is true with respect to a black robe donned by a good character.

An evil or good character who puts on a gray robe, or a neutral character who dons either a white or black robe, gains two negative levels.

While negative levels never result in lost levels, they remain as long as the garment is worn and cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells).

Caster Level: 14th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, mage armor, bless, spell resistance, creator must be same alignment as robe; Market Price: 75,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

ROBE OF BLENDING

When this robe is put on, the wearer intuitively knows that the garment has very special properties.

A robe of blending enables its wearer to appear to be part of his surroundings.

This allows her to add a +15 circumstance bonus to her Hide check.

Further, the wearer can adopt the appearance of another creature as in the spell change self at will.

All creatures acquainted with and friendly to the wearer see him normally.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, change self; Market Price: 10,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

ROBE OF EYES

This valuable garment appears to be a normal robe until it is put on.

Its wearer is able to see in all directions at the same moment due to scores of visible, magical eye-like patterns that adorn the robe.

She also gains darkvision (range 120 feet).

The robe of eyes sees all forms of invisible or ethereal things within 120 feet.

The robe of eyes grants its wearer a +15 circumstance bonus to Search and Spot checks.

She retains her Dexterity bonus to AC even when flat-footed and can't be flanked.

The wearer can't avert her eyes from or close her eyes to a creature with a gaze attack.

A light or continual flame spell thrown directly on a robe of eyes blinds it for 1d3 minutes.

A daylight spell blinds it for 2d4 minutes.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, true seeing; Market Price: 90,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

ROBE OF SCINTILLATING COLORS

The wearer can cause the garment to become a shifting pattern of incredible hues, color after color cascading from the upper part of the robe to the hem in sparkling rainbows of dazzling light.

The colors daze those near the wearer, conceal the wearer, and illuminate the surroundings.

It takes 1 full round after the wearer speaks the command word for the colors to start flowing on the robe.

The colors create the equivalent of a gaze attack with a 30-foot range.

Those who look at the wearer are dazed for 1d4+1 rounds (Will negates DC 14).

This is a mind-affecting pattern.

Every round of continuous scintillation of the robe gives the wearer better concealment.

Miss chances start at 10% (one-quarter concealment) and increase another 10% each round until they reach 50% (full concealment).

The robe illuminates a 30-foot radius.

The effect can last no longer than a total of 10 rounds per day.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, hypnosis, color spray; Market Price: 27,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

ROBE OF STARS

This garment is typically black or dark blue and embroidered with small white or silver stars.

The robe has three magical powers.

- The robe enables its wearer to travel physically to the Astral Plane, along with all that she is wearing or carrying.
- The robe gives its wearer a +1 luck bonus to all saving throws.

• The robe's wearer can use up to six of the embroidered stars on the chest portion of the robe as +5 shuriken.

The robe grants its wearer proficiency with such weapons. Each shuriken disappears after it is used.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, astral projection or plane shift, magic missile; Market Price: 58,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

ROBE OF USEFUL ITEMS

This appears to be an unremarkable robe, but a character who dons it notes that it is adorned with small cloth patches of various shapes.

Only the wearer of the robe can see these patches, recognize them for what items they become, and detach them.

One patch can be detached each round.

Detaching a patch causes it to become an actual item, as indicated below.

A newly created robe of useful items always has two each of the following patches.

- dagger
- bullseye lantern (filled and lit)
- mirror (a highly polished 2-foot-by-4-foot steel mirror)
- pole (10-foot length)
- hemp rope (50-foot coil)
- sack

In addition, the robe has 4d4 other items:

d%	Result
01-08	Bag of 100 gold pieces
09-15	Coffer, silver (6 in. by 6 in. by 1 ft.), 500 gp value
16-22	Door, iron (up to 10 ft. wide and 10 ft. high and on one side—must be placed upright, attach hinges itself)
23-30	Gems, 10 (100 gp value each)
31-44	Ladder, wooden (24 ft. long)
45-51	Mule (with saddle bags)
52-59	Pit, open (10 cubic ft.)
60-68	Potion of cure serious wounds
69-75	Rowboat (12 ft. long)
76-83	Minor scroll of one randomly determined spell
84-90	War dogs, pair (treat as riding dogs)
91-96	Window (2 ft. by 4 ft., up to 2 ft. deep)
97-100	Roll twice more

Multiple items of the same kind are permissible. Once removed, items cannot be replaced.
Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fabricate; Market Price: 7,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

ROPE OF CLIMBING

A 60-foot-long rope of climbing is no thicker than a slender wand, but it is strong enough to support 3,000 pounds. Upon command, the rope snakes forward, upward, downward, or in any other direction at 10 feet per round, attaching itself securely wherever its owner desires. It can unfasten itself and return in the same manner. A rope of climbing can be commanded to knot or unknit itself.

This causes large knots to appear at 1-foot intervals along the rope.

Knotting shortens the rope to a 50-foot length until the knots are untied but lowers the DC of Climb checks while using it by 10.

A creature must hold one end of the rope when its magic is invoked.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate rope; Market Price: 3,000 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

ROPE OF ENTANGLEMENT

A rope of entanglement looks just like any other hemp rope about 30 feet long.

Upon command, the rope lashes forward 20 feet or upward 10 feet to entangle a victim, using a grapple attack with a +15 attack bonus (including +4 for being Large and +6 for its Strength score of 22).

The rope cannot be broken by sheer strength.

It must be severed by an edged weapon.

The rope has an AC of 22, 12 hit points, and a hardness of 10.

Damage repairs itself at a rate of 1 point per 5 minutes, but if a rope of entanglement is severed (all 12 hit points lost to damage), it is destroyed.

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, entangle, animate rope, animate objects; Market Price: 21,000 gp; Weight: 5 lb.

SCABBARD OF KEEN EDGES

This scabbard is fashioned from cured leather and fine silver.

It can shrink or enlarge to accommodate any knife, dagger, sword, or similar weapon up to and including a greatsword. Up to three times per day on command, the scabbard casts keen edge on any blade placed within it.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, keen edge; Market Price: 15,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

SCARAB OF PROTECTION

This device appears to be a silver medallion in the shape of a beetle.

It gives off a faint magical aura.

If it is held for 1 round, an inscription appears on its surface letting the holder know that it is a protective device.

The scarab's possessor gains spell resistance 15.

The scarab can also absorb up to twelve energy-draining attacks or death effects (such as finger of death).

(An attack that would bestow two negative levels counts as two attacks).

However, upon absorbing twelve such attacks, the scarab turns to powder and is destroyed.

Caster Level: 18th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bleed, death ward, negative energy protection, and wish or miracle; Market Price: 38,000 gp; Weight: —.

SCARAB, GOLEMBANE

This beetle-shaped pin enables its wearer to detect any golem within 60 feet, although he must concentrate in order for the detection to take place.

Furthermore, the scarab enables its possessor to combat a golem with weapons or unarmed attacks as if the golem had no damage reduction.

Each scarab has this effect with regard to a different sort of golem.

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, detect magic, and keen edge or holy power; Market Price: 800 gp (flesh), 1,000 gp (clay), 1,200 gp (stone), 1,600 gp (iron), 1,800 gp (flesh and clay), or 2,500 gp (any golem); Weight: —.

SLIPPERS OF SPIDER CLIMBING

When worn, a pair of these slippers enable movement on vertical surfaces or even upside down along ceilings, leaving the wearer's hands free.

Her speed is 15 feet.

Extremely slippery surfaces—icy, oiled, or greased surfaces—make these slippers useless.

Caster Level: 4th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, spider climb; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: 1/2 lb.

SOVEREIGN GLUE

This pale amber substance is thick and viscous.

Because of its particular powers, it can be contained only in a flask whose inside has been coated with 1 ounce of oil of slippiness, and each time any of the bonding agent is poured from the flask, a new application of the oil of slippiness must be put in the flask within 1 round to prevent the remaining glue from adhering to the side of the container.

A flask of sovereign glue, when found, holds anywhere from 1 to 7 ounces of the stuff (1d8-1, minimum 1), with the other ounce of the flask's capacity taken up by the oil of slippiness.

One ounce of this adhesive covers 1 square foot of surface, bonding virtually any two substances together in a permanent union.

The glue takes 1 round to set.

If the objects are pulled apart before that time has elapsed, that application of the glue loses its stickiness and is worthless.

If the glue is allowed to set, then attempting to separate the two bonded objects only results in the rending of one or the other, except when universal solvent is applied to the bond.

(Sovereign glue is dissolved by universal solvent).

Caster Level: 20th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, make whole; Market Price: 2,400 gp (per ounce); Weight: —.

STONE OF ALARM

This stone cube, when given the command word, affixes itself to any object.

If that object is touched thereafter by anyone who does not first speak that same command word, the stone emits a piercing screech for 1 hour that can be heard up to a quarter-mile away (assuming no intervening barriers).

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, alarm; Market Price: 1,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

STONE OF CONTROLLING EARTH ELEMENTALS

A stone of this nature is typically an oddly shaped bit of roughly polished rock.

The possessor of such a stone need but utter a few words of summoning, and a Huge earth elemental comes to the summoner if earth, mud, or clay is available.

The summoning words require 1 full round to speak, and in all ways the stone functions as the summon monster VII spell.

(If sand or rough, unhewn stone is the summoning medium, the elemental that comes is Large instead, and the stone functions as the summon monster VI spell).

The area of summoning for an earth elemental must be at least 4 feet square and have a volume of 4 cubic yards.

The elemental appears in 1d4 rounds.

For detailed information about elementals, see the Monster Manual.

Only one elemental can be summoned at a time.

A new elemental requires a new patch of earth or stone, which cannot be accessed until after the first elemental disappears (is dispelled, dismissed, or slain).

Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster VI, summon monster VII; Market Price: 100,000 gp; Weight: 5 lb.

STONE OF GOOD LUCK (LUCKSTONE)

This stone is typically a bit of rough polished agate or some similar mineral.

Its possessor gains a +1 luck bonus on saving throws, ability checks, and skill checks.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, divine favor; Market Price: 10,000 gp; Weight: —.

STONE HORSE

Each item of this nature appears to be a full-sized, roughly hewn statue of a horse, carved from some type of hard stone.

A command word brings the steed to life, enabling it to carry a burden and even to attack as if it were a real horse of the appropriate type.

A stone horse can carry 1,000 pounds tirelessly and never needs to rest or feed.

Damage dealt to it can be repaired by first using a stone to flesh spell, thus causing the stone horse to become a normal horse that can be healed normally.

When fully healed, it automatically reverts to its stone form.

While in its stone form, it can be fed gemstones, healing 1 point of damage for each 50 gp worth of mineral it is given.

There are two sorts of stone horses:

Courser: This stone horse has all the same statistics as a heavy horse, as well as having a hardness of 10.

Destrier: This stone horse has all the same statistics as a heavy warhorse, as well as having a hardness of 10.

Caster Level: 14th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, flesh to stone, animate objects; Market Price: 10,000 gp (courser) or 14,800 gp (destrier); Weight: 6,000 lb.

STONE SALVE

This strange ointment has two uses.

If an ounce of it is applied to the flesh of a petrified creature, it returns the creature to flesh (as the spell stone to flesh).

If an ounce of it is applied to the flesh of a nonpetrified creature, it protects the creature as a stoneskin spell.

Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, flesh to stone, stoneskin; Market Price: 4,000 gp per ounce; Weight: —.

TALISMAN OF THE SPHERE

This small adamantine loop and handle are useless to those unable to cast arcane spells.

Characters who cannot cast arcane spells take 5d6 points of damage merely from picking up and holding a talisman of this sort.

However, when held by an arcane spellcaster who is concentrating on control of a sphere of annihilation (see page 238), a talisman of the sphere doubles the bonus for Intelligence and level for determining control.

If the wielder of a talisman establishes control, he need check for continual control only every other round thereafter.

If control is not established, the sphere moves toward him.

Note that while many spells and effects of cancellation have no effect upon a sphere of annihilation, the talisman's power of control can be suppressed or canceled.
Caster Level: 16th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, telekinesis; Market Price: 9,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

TOME OF CLEAR THOUGHT

This heavy book contains instruction on improving memory and logic, but entwined within the words is a powerful magical effect.

If anyone reads this book, which takes a total of 48 hours over a minimum of six days, she gains an inherent bonus of from +1 to +5 (depending on the type of tome) to her Intelligence score.

Once the book is read, the magic disappears from the pages and it becomes a normal book.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wish or miracle; Market Price: 27,500 gp (+1), 55,000 gp (+2), 82,500 gp (+3), 110,000 gp (+4), or 137,500 gp (+5); Cost to Create: 1,250 gp + 5,100 XP (+1), 2,500 gp + 10,200 XP (+2), 3,750 gp + 15,300 XP (+3), 5,000 gp + 20,400 XP (+4), or 6,250 gp + 25,500 XP (+5); Weight: 5 lb.

TOME OF LEADERSHIP AND INFLUENCE

This ponderous book details suggestions for persuading and inspiring others, but entwined within the words is a powerful magical effect.

If anyone reads this book, which takes a total of 48 hours over a minimum of six days, he gains an inherent bonus of from +1 to +5 (depending on the type of tome) to his Charisma score.

Once the book is read, the magic disappears from the pages and it becomes a normal book.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wish or miracle; Market Price: 27,500 gp (+1), 55,000 gp (+2), 82,500 gp (+3), 110,000 gp (+4), or 137,500 gp (+5); Cost to Create: 1,250 gp + 5,100 XP (+1), 2,500 gp + 10,200 XP (+2), 3,750 gp + 15,300 XP (+3), 5,000 gp + 20,400 XP (+4), or 6,250 gp + 25,500 XP (+5); Weight: 5 lb.

TOME OF UNDERSTANDING

This thick book contains tips for improving instinct and perception, but entwined within the words is a powerful magical effect.

If anyone reads this book, which takes a total of 48 hours over a minimum of six days, she gains an inherent bonus of from +1 to +5 (depending on the type of tome) to her Wisdom score.

Once the book is read, the magic disappears from the pages and it becomes a normal book.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wish or miracle; Market Price: 27,500 gp (+1), 55,000 gp (+2), 82,500 gp (+3), 110,000 gp (+4), or 137,500 gp (+5); Cost to Create: 1,250 gp + 5,100 XP (+1), 2,500 gp + 10,200 XP (+2), 3,750 gp + 15,300 XP (+3), 5,000 gp + 20,400 XP (+4), or 6,250 gp + 25,500 XP (+5); Weight: 5 lb.

UNIVERSAL SOLVENT

This strange liquid appears to be some sort of minor oil or potion and always comes in containers of 1 ounce.

Upon first examination, it seems to have the properties of oil of slipperiness.

However, if it is applied to any form of adhesive or sticky material, the solution immediately dissolves the other material.

It immediately negates the effect of sovereign glue, as well as any other form of cement, glue, or adhesive.

An ounce affects 1 cubic foot.

If the liquid is carefully distilled to bring it down to one-third of its original volume, each dose (1/3 ounce, having been a full ounce before distillation) dissolves 1 cubic foot of organic or inorganic material, just as if a disintegrate spell had been employed.

To find out if a resisting target is affected by this concentrated solution, a touch attack roll is required, and the subject is entitled to a Fortitude saving throw (DC 19).

Caster Level: 20th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, disintegrate; Market Price: 2,000 gp (per ounce); Weight: —.

VEST OF ESCAPE

Hidden within secret pockets of this simple silk vest are lockpicks that add a +4 competence bonus to Open Lock checks.

If the lockpicks are separated by more than 15 feet from the vest, they lose their competence bonus, but the bonus returns when they are returned to the pockets of the vest. Further, the vest grants the wearer a +6 competence bonus to Escape Artist checks.

Caster Level: 4th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, knock, grease; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: —.

VESTMENT, DRUID'S

This light garment is worn over normal clothing or armor. Most such vestments are green, embroidered with plant or animal motifs.

When worn by a druid with the wild shape ability, the character can use that ability one additional time each day.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, polymorph self or creator must be at least a 10th-level druid; Market Price: 5,800 gp; Weight: —.

VESTMENTS OF FAITH

This holy garment, worn over normal clothing, grants a special protection (damage reduction 5/+5) to the character wearing it.

Caster Level: 20th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, stoneskin; Market Price: 76,000 gp; Weight: —.

WELL OF MANY WORLDS

This strange, interdimensional device looks just like a portable hole.

Anything placed within it is immediately cast to another world—a parallel world, another planet, or a different plane, at the DM's option or by random determination. If the well is moved, the random factor again comes into play.

It can be picked up, folded, or rolled, just like a portable hole. Objects from the world the well touches can come through the opening just as easily as from the initiating place. (It is a two-way portal).

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, gate;
Market Price: 82,000 gp; Weight: —.

WIND FAN

A wind fan appears to be nothing more than a wood and papyrus or cloth instrument with which to create a cooling breeze.

By uttering the command word, its possessor causes the fan to generate air movement duplicating a gust of wind spell.

The fan can be used once per day with no risk.

If it is used more frequently, there is a 20% cumulative chance per usage that the device tears into useless, nonmagical tatters.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, gust of wind; Market Price: 5,500 gp; Weight: —.

WINGS OF FLYING

A pair of these wings might appear to be nothing more than a plain cloak of old, black cloth, or they could be as elegant as a long cape of blue feathers.

When the wearer speaks the command word, the cloak turns into a pair of gigantic wings (bat or bird, 20-foot span) and empower her to fly as with a fly spell anywhere wide enough to accommodate her wingspan.

Caster level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fly;
Market Price: 22,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

DUNGEON MASTER'S GUIDE 1 3.5 (3.5)

AMULET OF HEALTH

This amulet is a golden disk on a chain.

It usually bears the image of a lion or other powerful animal.

The amulet grants the wearer an enhancement bonus to Constitution of +2, +4, or +6.

Moderate transmutation; CL 8th; Craft Wondrous Item, bear's endurance; Price 4,000 gp (+2), 16,000 gp (+4), 36,000 gp (+6).

AMULET OF MIGHTY FISTS

This amulet grants an enhancement bonus of +1 to +5 on attack and damage rolls with unarmed attacks and natural weapons.

Faint evocation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, greater magic fang, creator's caster level must be at least three times the amulet's bonus; Price 6,000 gp (+1), 24,000 gp (+2), 54,000 gp (+3), 96,000 gp (+4), 150,000 gp (+5).

AMULET OF NATURAL ARMOR

This amulet, usually crafted from bone or beast scales, toughens the wearer's body and flesh, giving him an enhancement bonus to his natural armor bonus of from +1 to +5, depending on the kind of amulet.

Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, barkskin, creator's caster level must be at least three times the amulet's bonus; Price 2,000 gp (+1), 8,000 gp (+2), 18,000 gp (+3), 32,000 gp (+4), or 50,000 gp (+5).

AMULET OF THE PLANES

This device usually appears to be a black circular amulet, although any character looking closely at it sees a dark, moving swirl of color.

The amulet allows its wearer to utilize plane shift.

However, this is a difficult item to master.

The user must make a DC 15 Intelligence check in order to get the amulet to take her to the plane (and the specific location on that plane) that she wants.

If she fails, the amulet transports her and all those traveling with her to a random location on that plane (01–60 on d%) or to a random plane (61–100).

Strong conjuration; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, plane shift; Price 120,000 gp.

AMULET OF PROOF AGAINST DETECTION AND LOCATION

This silver amulet protects the wearer from scrying and magical location just as a nondetection spell does.

If a divination spell is attempted against the wearer, the caster of the divination must succeed on a caster level check (1d20 + caster level) against a DC of 19 (as if the caster had cast nondetection on herself).

Moderate abjuration; CL 8th; Craft Wondrous Item, nondetection; Price 35,000 gp.

APPARATUS OF KWALISH

This item appears to be a large, sealed iron barrel, but it has a secret catch (Search DC 20 to locate) that opens a hatch in one end.

Anyone who crawls inside finds ten (unlabeled) levers:

Lever (1d10)	Lever Function
1	Extend/retract legs and tail
2	Uncover/cover forward porthole
3	Uncover/cover side portholes
4	Extend/retract pincers and feelers
5	Snap pincers
6	Move forward/backward
7	Turn left/right
8	Open "eyes" with continual flame inside/close "eyes"
9	Rise/sink in water
10	Open/close hatch

The device has the following characteristics: Hp 200; hardness 15; Spd 20 ft., swim 20 ft.; AC 20 (–1 size, +11 natural); Atk +12 melee (2d8, 2 pincers).

Operating a lever is a full-round action, and no lever may be operated more than once per round.

However, since two Medium characters can fit inside, the apparatus can move and attack in the same round.

The device can function in water up to 900 feet deep.

It holds enough air for a crew of two to survive 1d4+1 hours (twice as long for a single occupant).

When activated, the apparatus looks something like a giant lobster.

Strong evocation and transmutation; CL 19th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects, continual flame, creator must have 8 ranks in the Knowledge (architecture and engineering) skill; Price 90,000 gp; Weight 500 lb.

BAG OF HOLDING

This appears to be a common cloth sack about 2 feet by 4 feet in size.

The bag of holding opens into a nondimensional space: Its inside is larger than its outside dimensions.

Regardless of what is put into the bag, it weighs a fixed amount.

This weight, and the limits in weight and volume of the bag's contents, depend on the bag's type, as shown on the table below.

Bag	Bag Weight	Contents Weight Limit	Contents Volume Limit	Market Price
Type I	15 lb.	250 lb.	30 cu. ft.	2,500 gp
Type II	25 lb.	500 lb.	70 cu. ft.	5,000 gp
Type III	35 lb.	1,000 lb.	150 cu. ft.	7,400 gp
Type IV	60 lb.	1,500 lb.	250 cu. ft.	10,000 gp

If the bag is overloaded, or if sharp objects pierce it (from inside or outside), the bag ruptures and is ruined.

All contents are lost forever.

If a bag of holding is turned inside out, its contents spill out, unharmed, but the bag must be put right before it can be used again.

If living creatures are placed within the bag, they can survive for up to 10 minutes, after which time they suffocate.

Retrieving a specific item from a bag of holding is a move action—unless the bag contains more than an ordinary backpack would hold, in which case retrieving a specific item is a full-round action.

If a bag of holding is placed within a portable hole (page 264), a rift to the Astral Plane is torn in the space: Bag and hole alike are sucked into the void and forever lost.

If a portable hole is placed within a bag of holding, it opens a gate to the Astral Plane: The hole, the bag, and any creatures within a 10-foot radius are drawn there, destroying the portable hole and bag of holding in the process. Moderate conjuration; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's secret chest.

BAG OF TRICKS

This small sack appears normal and empty.

However, anyone reaching into the bag feels a small, fuzzy ball.

If the ball is removed and tossed up to 20 feet away, it turns into an animal.

The animal serves the character who drew it from the bag for 10 minutes (or until slain or ordered back into the bag), at which point it disappears.

It can follow any of the commands described in the Handle Animal skill (page 74 of the Player's Handbook).

Each of the three kinds of a bag of tricks produces a different set of animals.

Use the following tables to determine what animals can be drawn out of each.

The heavy warhorse appears with harness and tack and accepts the character who drew it from the bag as a rider. Animals produced are always random, and only one may exist at a time.

Up to ten animals can be drawn from the bag each week. Faint or moderate conjuration; CL 3rd (gray), 5th (rust), 9th (tan); Craft Wondrous Item, summon nature's ally II (gray), summon nature's ally III (rust), or summon nature's ally V (tan); Price 900 gp (gray); 3,000 gp (rust); 6,300 gp (tan).

— Gray —		— Rust —		— Tan —
d%	Animal	d%	Animal	d%	Animal
01–30	Bat	01–30	Wolverine	01–30	Brown bear
31–60	Rat	31–60	Wolf	31–60	Lion
61–75	Cat	61–85	Boar	61–80	Heavy warhorse
76–90	Weasel	86–100	Black bear	81–90	Tiger
91–100	Badger			91–100	Rhinoceros

BEAD OF FORCE

This small black sphere appears to be a lusterless pearl. You can throw it up to 60 feet with no range penalties. Upon sharp impact, the bead explodes, sending forth a burst that deals 5d6 points of force damage to all creatures within a 10-foot radius.

It functions like an Otiluke's resilient sphere spell (Reflex DC 16 negates) with a radius of 10 feet and a duration of 10 minutes.

A globe of shimmering force encloses a creature, provided the latter is small enough to fit within the diameter of the sphere.

The sphere contains its subject for the spell's duration. The sphere is not subject to damage of any sort except from a rod of cancellation, a rod of negation, disintegrate, or a targeted dispel magic spell.

These effects destroy the sphere without harm to the subject.

Nothing can pass through the sphere, inside or out, though the subject can breathe normally.

The subject may struggle, but the globe cannot be physically moved either by people outside it or by the struggles of those within.

The explosion completely consumes the bead, making this a one-use item.

Moderate evocation; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, Otiluke's resilient sphere; Price 3,000 gp.

BELT, MONK'S

This simple rope belt, when wrapped around a character's waist, confers great ability in unarmed combat.

The wearer's AC and unarmed damage is treated as a monk of five levels higher.

If donned by a character with the Stunning Fist feat, the belt lets her make one additional stunning attack per day.

If the character is not a monk, she gains the AC and unarmed damage of a 5th-level monk.

This AC bonus functions just like the monk's AC bonus.

Moderate transmutation; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, righteous might or Tenser's transformation; Price 13,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

BELT OF DWARVENKIND

This belt gives the wearer a +4 competence bonus on Charisma checks and Charisma-based skill checks as they relate to dealing with dwarves, a +2 competence bonus on similar checks when dealing with gnomes and halflings, and a -2 competence penalty on similar checks when dealing with anyone else.

The wearer can understand, speak, and read Dwarven.

If the wearer is not a dwarf, he gains 60-foot darkvision, dwarven stonemasonry, a +2 enhancement bonus to Constitution, and a +2 resistance bonus on saves against poison, spells, or spell-like effects.

Moderate divination; CL 12th; Craft Wondrous Item, tongues, creator must be a dwarf; Price 14,900 gp; Weight 1 lb.

BELT OF GIANT STRENGTH

This wide belt is made of thick leather and studded with iron.

The belt adds to the wearer's Strength score in the form of an enhancement bonus of +4 or +6.

Moderate transmutation; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength; Price 16,000 gp (+4), 36,000 gp (+6); Weight 1 lb.

BOAT, FOLDING

A folding boat looks like a small wooden box—about 12 inches long, 6 inches wide, and 6 inches deep.

It can be used to store items like any other box.

If a command word is given, however, the box unfolds itself to form a boat 10 feet long, 4 feet wide, and 2 feet in depth.

A second command word causes it to unfold to a ship 24 feet long, 8 feet wide, and 6 feet deep.

Any objects formerly stored in the box now rest inside the boat or ship.

In its smaller form, the boat has one pair of oars, an anchor, a mast, and a lateen sail.

In its larger form, the boat has a deck, single rowing seats, five sets of oars, a steering oar, an anchor, a deck cabin, and a mast with a square sail.

The boat can hold four people comfortably, while the ship carries fifteen with ease.

A third word of command causes the boat or ship to fold itself into a box once again.

The words of command may be inscribed visibly or invisibly on the box, or they may be written elsewhere—perhaps on an item within the box.

Faint transmutation; CL 6th; Craft Wondrous Item, fabricate, creator must have 2 ranks in the Craft (shipmaking) skill; Price 7,200 gp; Weight 4 lb.

BOCCOB'S BLESSED BOOK

This well-made tome is always of small size, typically no more than 12 inches tall, 8 inches wide, and 1 inch thick.

All such books are durable, waterproof, bound with iron overlaid with silver, and locked.

A wizard can fill the 1,000 pages of a Boccob's blessed book with spells without paying the 25 gp per page material cost. This book is never found as randomly generated treasure with spells already inscribed in it.

Moderate transmutation; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, secret page; Price 12,500 gp; Weight 1 lb.

BOOTS OF ELVENKIND

These soft boots enable the wearer to move quietly in virtually any surroundings, granting a +5 competence bonus on Move Silently checks.

Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be an elf; Price 2,500 gp; Weight 1 lb.

BOOTS OF LEVITATION

On command, these leather boots allow the wearer to levitate as if she had cast levitate on herself.

Faint transmutation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, levitate; Price 7,500 gp; Weight 1 lb.

BOOTS OF SPEED

As a free action, the wearer can click her boot heels together, enabling her to act as though affected by a haste spell for up to 10 rounds each day.

The duration of the haste effect need not be consecutive rounds.

Moderate transmutation; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, haste; Price 12,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

BOOTS OF STRIDING AND SPRINGING

These boots increase the wearer's base land speed by 10 feet.

In addition to this striding ability (considered an enhancement bonus), these boots allow the wearer to make great leaps.

She can jump with a +5 competence bonus on Jump checks.

Faint transmutation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, longstrider, creator must have 5 ranks in the Jump skill; Price 5,500 gp; Weight 1 lb.

BOOTS OF TELEPORTATION

Any character wearing this footwear may teleport three times per day, exactly as if he had cast the spell of the same name.

Moderate conjuration; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, teleport; Price 49,000 gp; Weight 3 lb.

BOOTS OF THE WINTERLANDS

This footwear bestows many powers upon the wearer.

First, he is able to travel across snow at his normal speed, leaving no tracks.

The boots also enable him to travel at normal speed across the most slippery ice (horizontal surfaces only, not vertical or sharply slanted ones) without falling or slipping.

Finally, boots of the winterlands warm the wearer, as if he were affected by an endure elements spell.
Faint abjuration and transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, cat's grace, endure elements, pass without trace; Price 2,500 gp; Weight 1 lb.

BOOTS, WINGED

These boots appear to be ordinary footgear. On command, the boots sprout wings at the heel and let the wearer fly, without having to maintain concentration, as if affected by a fly spell. He can fly three times day for up to 5 minutes per flight. Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, fly; Price 16,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

BOTTLE OF AIR

This item appears to be a normal glass bottle with a cork. When taken to any airless environment (such as underwater or in a vacuum), it retains air within it at all times, continually renewing its contents. This means that a character can draw air out of the bottle to breathe. The bottle can even be shared by multiple characters who pass it around. Breathing out of the bottle is a standard action, but a character so doing can then act for as long as she can hold her breath. Moderate transmutation; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, water breathing; Price 7,250 gp; Weight 2 lb.

BOWL OF COMMANDING WATER ELEMENTALS

This large container is usually fashioned from blue or green semiprecious stone (malachite, lapis lazuli, azurite, turquoise, peridot, or sometimes jade). It is about 1 foot in diameter, half that deep, and relatively fragile. When the bowl is filled with fresh water, and certain words are spoken, a Large water elemental appears. The summoning words require 1 full round to speak. In all ways the bowl functions as the summon monster VI spell. Only one elemental can be called at a time. A new elemental requires the bowl to be filled with new water, which cannot happen until after the first elemental disappears (is dispelled, dismissed, or slain). If salt water is used, the elemental is Huge rather than Large (as if summon monster VII had been cast). See page 98 of the Monster Manual for details on water elementals. Strong conjuration; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster VI, summon monster VII; Price 100,000 gp; Weight 3 lb.

BRACELET OF FRIENDS

This silver charm bracelet has four charms upon it when created. The owner may designate one person known to him to be keyed to one charm.

(This designation takes a standard action, but once done it lasts forever or until changed). When a charm is grasped and the name of the keyed individual is spoken, that person is called to the spot (a standard action) along with his or her gear, as long as the owner and the called person are on the same plane. The keyed individual knows who is calling, and the bracelet of friends only functions on willing travelers. Once a charm is activated, it disappears. Charms separated from the bracelet are worthless. A bracelet found with fewer than four charms is worth 25% less for each missing charm. Strong conjuration; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, refuge; Price 19,000 gp.

BRACERS OF ARCHERY, GREATER

These wristbands look like normal protective wear. The bracers empower the wearer to use any bow (not including crossbows) as if she were proficient in its use. If she already has proficiency with any type of bow, she gains a +2 competence bonus on attack rolls and a +1 competence bonus on damage rolls whenever using that type of bow. Both bracers must be worn for the magic to be effective. Moderate transmutation; CL 8th; Craft Wondrous Item, Craft Magic Arms and Armor; Price 25,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

BRACERS OF ARCHERY, LESSER

These wristbands function as greater bracers of archery, except that they grant a +1 competence bonus on attack rolls and no bonus on damage rolls. Faint transmutation; CL 4th; Craft Wondrous Item, Craft Magic Arms and Armor; Price 5,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

BRACERS OF ARMOR

These items appear to be wrist or arm guards. They surround the wearer with an invisible but tangible field of force, granting him an armor bonus of +1 to +8, just as though he were wearing armor. Both bracers must be worn for the magic to be effective. Moderate conjuration; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, mage armor, creator's caster level must be at least two times that of the bonus placed in the bracers; Price 1,000 gp (+1), 4,000 gp (+2), 9,000 gp (+3), 16,000 gp (+4), 25,000 gp (+5), 36,000 gp (+6), 49,000 gp (+7), 64,000 gp (+8); Weight 1 lb.

BRAZIER OF COMMANDING FIRE ELEMENTALS

This device appears to be a normal container for holding burning coals. When a fire is lit in the brazier and the proper summoning words are spoken, a Large fire elemental appears. The summoning words require 1 full round to speak. In all ways the brazier functions as the summon monster VI spell. If brimstone is added, the elemental is Huge instead of Large, and the brazier works as a summon monster VII spell. Only one elemental can be summoned at a time.

A new elemental requires a new fire, which cannot be lit until after the first elemental disappears (is dispelled, dismissed, or slain).

See page 98 of the Monster Manual for details on fire elementals.

Strong conjuration; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster VI, summon monster VII; Price 100,000 gp; Weight 5 lb.

BROOCH OF SHIELDING

This appears to be a piece of silver or gold jewelry used to fasten a cloak or cape.

In addition to this mundane task, it can absorb magic missiles of the sort generated by spell or spell-like ability. A brooch can absorb up to 101 points of damage from magic missiles before it melts and becomes useless.

Faint abjuration; CL 1st; Craft Wondrous Item, shield; Price 1,500 gp.

BROOM OF FLYING

This broom is able to fly through the air as if affected by an overland flight spell (average maneuverability) for up to 9 hours per day (split up as its owner desires).

The broom can carry 200 pounds and fly at a speed of 40 feet, or up to 400 pounds at a speed at 30 feet.

In addition, the broom can travel alone to any destination named by the owner as long as she has a good idea of the location and layout of that destination.

It comes to its owner from as far away as 300 yards when she speaks the command word.

The broom of flying has a speed of 40 feet when it has no rider.

Moderate transmutation; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, overland flight, permanency; Price 17,000 gp; Weight 3 lb.

CANDLE OF INVOCATION

Each of these special tapers is dedicated to one of the nine alignments.

Simply burning the candle generates a favorable aura for the individual so doing if the candle's alignment matches that of the character.

Characters of the same alignment as the burning candle add a +2 morale bonus on attack rolls, saving throws, and skill checks while within 30 feet of the flame.

A cleric whose alignment matches the candle's operates as if two levels higher for purposes of determining spells per day if he burns the candle during or just prior to his spell preparation time.

He can even cast spells normally unavailable to him, as if he were of that higher level, but only so long as the candle continues to burn.

Except in special cases (see below), a candle burns for 4 hours.

In addition, burning a candle also allows the owner to cast a gate spell, the respondent being of the same alignment as the candle, but the taper is immediately consumed in the process.

It is possible to extinguish the candle simply by blowing it out, so users often place it in a lantern to protect it from drafts and the like.

Doing this doesn't interfere with its magical properties.

Strong conjuration; CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, gate, creator must be same alignment as candle created; Price 8,400 gp; Weight 1/2 lb.

CANDLE OF TRUTH

This white tallow candle, when burned, calls into place a zone of truth spell (Will DC 13 negates) in a 5-foot radius centered on the candle.

The zone lasts for 1 hour, as the candle burns.

If the candle is snuffed before that time, the effect is canceled and the candle ruined.

Faint enchantment; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, zone of truth; Price 2,500 gp; Weight 1/2 lb.

CAPE OF THE MOUNTEBANK

On command, this bright red and gold cape allows the wearer to use the magic of the dimension door spell once per day.

When he disappears, he leaves behind a cloud of smoke, appearing in a similar fashion at his destination.

Moderate conjuration; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, dimension door; Price 10,080 gp; Weight 1 lb.

CARPET OF FLYING

This rug is able to fly through the air as if affected by an overland flight spell of unlimited duration.

The size, carrying capacity, and speed of the different carpets of flying are shown on the table below.

Beautifully and intricately made, each carpet has its own command word to activate it—if the device is within voice range, the command word activates it, whether the speaker is on the rug or not.

The carpet is then controlled by spoken directions.

Size	Capacity	Speed	Weight	Market Price
5 ft. by 5 ft.	200 lb.	40 ft.	8 lb.	20,000 gp
5 ft. by 10 ft.	400 lb.	40 ft.	15 lb.	35,000 gp
10 ft. by 10 ft.	800 lb.	40 ft.	10 lb.	60,000 gp

A carpet of flying can carry up to double its capacity, but doing so reduces its speed to 30 feet.

It has average maneuverability, but a carpet of flying can still hover.

Moderate transmutation; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, overland flight, permanency.

CENSER OF CONTROLLING AIR ELEMENTALS

This 6-inch-wide, 1-inch-high perforated golden vessel resembles a thurible found in a place of worship.

If it is filled with incense and lit, summoning words spoken over it summon forth a Large air elemental.

The summoning words require 1 full round to speak.

In all ways the censer functions as the summon monster VI spell.

If incense of meditation is burned within the censer, the air elemental is an elder air elemental instead (as if summon monster IX had just been cast).

Only one elemental can be summoned at a time.

A new elemental requires a new piece of incense, which cannot be lit until after the first elemental disappears (is dispelled, dismissed, or slain).

See page 95 of the Monster Manual for details on air elementals.

Strong conjuration; CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster VI, summon monster IX; Price 100,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

CHAOS DIAMOND

This lustrous gemstone is uncut and about the size of a human fist.

The gem grants its possessor the following powers.

- Confusion, lesser
- Magic circle against law
- Word of chaos
- Cloak of chaos

Each power is usable 1d4 times per day.

(The DM rolls secretly each day for each power separately).

A nonchaotic character who possesses a chaos diamond gains one negative level.

Although this level never results in actual level loss, it remains as long as the diamond is in the character's possession and cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells).

Strong varied; CL 19th; Craft Wondrous Item, cloak of chaos, magic circle against law, random action, word of chaos, creator must be chaotic; Price 160,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

CHIME OF INTERRUPTION

This instrument can be struck once every 10 minutes, and its resonant tone lasts for 3 full minutes.

While the chime is resonating, no spell requiring a verbal component can be cast within a 30-foot radius of it unless the caster can make a Concentration check (DC 15 + the spell's level).

Moderate evocation; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, shout; Price 16,800 gp; Weight 1 lb.

CHIME OF OPENING

A chime of opening is a hollow mithral tube about 1 foot long. When struck, it sends forth magical vibrations that cause locks, lids, doors, valves, and portals to open.

The device functions against normal bars, shackles, chains, bolts, and so on.

A chime of opening also automatically dispels a hold portal spell or even an arcane lock cast by a wizard of lower than 15th level.

The chime must be pointed at the item or gate to be loosed or opened (which must be visible and known to the user).

The chime is then struck, a clear tone rings forth, and in 1 round the target lock is unlocked, the shackle is loosed, the secret door is opened, or the lid of the chest is lifted.

Each sounding only opens one form of locking, so if a chest is chained, padlocked, locked, and arcane locked, it takes four uses of a chime of opening to get it open.

A silence spell negates the power of the device.

A brand-new chime can be used a total of ten times before it cracks and becomes useless.

Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, knock; Price 3,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

CIRCLET OF BLASTING, MINOR

On command, this simple golden headband projects a blast of searing light (3d8 points of damage) once per day.

Faint evocation; CL 6th; Craft Wondrous Item, searing light; Price 6,480 gp.

CIRCLET OF BLASTING, MAJOR

On command, this elaborate golden headband projects a blast of searing light (5d8 maximized for 40 points of damage) once per day.

Strong evocation; CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, Maximize Spell, searing light; Price 23,760 gp.

CIRCLET OF PERSUASION

This silver headband grants a +3 competence bonus on the wearer's Charisma-based checks.

Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, eagle's splendor; Price 4,500 gp.

CLOAK OF ARACHNIDA

This black garment, embroidered with a web-like pattern in silk, gives the wearer the ability to climb as if a spider climb spell had been placed upon her.

In addition, the cloak grants her immunity to entrapment by web spells or webs of any sort—she can actually move in webs at half her normal speed.

Once per day, the wearer of this cloak can cast web.

She also gains a +2 luck bonus on all Fortitude saves against poison from spiders.

Faint conjuration and transmutation; CL 6th; Craft Wondrous Item, spider climb, web; Price 14,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

CLOAK OF THE BAT

Fashioned of dark brown or black cloth, this cloak bestows a +5 competence bonus on Hide checks.

The wearer is also able to hang upside down from the ceiling, like a bat.

By holding the edges of the garment, the wearer is able to fly as per the spell.

If he desires, the wearer can actually polymorph himself into an ordinary bat and fly accordingly.

(All possessions worn or carried are part of the transformation).

Flying, either with the cloak or in bat form, can be accomplished only in darkness (either under the night sky or in a lightless or near-lightless environment underground).

Either of the flying powers is usable for up to 7 minutes at a time, but after a flight of any duration the cloak cannot bestow any flying power for a like period of time.

Moderate transmutation; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, fly, polymorph; Price 26,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

CLOAK OF CHARISMA

This lightweight and fashionable cloak has a highly decorative silver trim.

When in a character's possession, it adds a +2, +4, or +6 enhancement bonus to her Charisma score.
Moderate transmutation; CL 8th; Craft Wondrous Item, eagle's splendor; Price 4,000 gp (+2), 16,000 gp (+4), 36,000 gp (+6); Weight 2 lb.

CLOAK OF DISPLACEMENT, MINOR

This item appears to be a normal cloak, but when worn by a character its magical properties distort and warp light waves.

This displacement works similar to the displacement spell except that it only grants a 20% miss chance on attacks against the wearer.

It functions continually.

Faint illusion; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, displacement; Price 24,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

CLOAK OF DISPLACEMENT, MAJOR

This item appears to be a normal cloak, but on command its magical properties distort and warp light waves.

This displacement works just like the displacement spell and lasts for a total of 15 rounds per day, which the wearer can divide up as she sees fit.

Moderate illusion; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, Extend Spell, displacement; Price 50,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

CLOAK OF ELVENKIND

This cloak of neutral gray cloth is indistinguishable from an ordinary cloak of the same color.

However, when worn with the hood drawn up around the head, it gives the wearer a +5 competence bonus on Hide checks.

Faint illusion; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, invisibility, creator must be an elf; Price 2,500 gp; Weight 1 lb.

CLOAK OF ETHEREALNESS

This silvery-gray cloak seems to absorb light rather than be illuminated by it.

On command, the cloak makes its wearer ethereal (as the ethereal jaunt spell).

The effect is dismissible.

The cloak works for a total of up to 10 minutes per day.

This duration need not be continuous.

Strong transmutation; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, ethereal jaunt; Price 55,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

CLOAK OF THE MANTA RAY

This cloak appears to be made of leather until the wearer enters salt water.

At that time the cloak of the manta ray adheres to the individual, and he appears nearly identical to a manta ray (as the polymorph spell, except that it allows only manta ray form).

He gains a +3 natural armor bonus, the ability to breathe underwater, and a swim speed of 60 feet, like a real manta ray.

Although the cloak does not enable the wearer to bite opponents as a manta ray does, it does have a tail spine that can be used to strike at opponents behind the wearer, dealing 1d6 points of damage.

This attack can be used in addition to any other attack the character has, using his highest melee attack bonus.

The wearer can release his arms from the cloak without sacrificing underwater movement if so desired.

Moderate transmutation; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, polymorph, water breathing; Price 7,200 gp; Weight 1 lb.

CLOAK OF RESISTANCE

These garments offer magic protection in the form of a +1 to +5 resistance bonus on all saving throws (Fortitude, Reflex, and Will).

Faint abjuration; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, resistance, creator's caster level must be at least three times the cloak's bonus; Price 1,000 gp (+1), 4,000 gp (+2), 9,000 gp (+3), 16,000 gp (+4), 25,000 gp (+5); Weight 1 lb.

CRYSTAL BALL

This is the most common form of scrying device, a crystal sphere about 6 inches in diameter.

A character can use the device to see over virtually any distance or into other planes of existence, as with the spell scrying (Will DC 16 negates).

Certain crystal balls have additional powers that can be used through the crystal ball on the target viewed.

Crystal Ball Type	Market Price
Crystal ball	42,000 gp
Crystal ball with see invisibility	50,000 gp
Crystal ball with detect thoughts (Will DC 13 negates)	51,000 gp
Crystal ball with telepathy*	70,000 gp
Crystal ball with true seeing	80,000 gp

* The viewer is able to send and receive silent mental messages with the person appearing in the crystal ball. Once per day the character may attempt to implant a suggestion (as the spell, Will DC 14 negates) as well.

Moderate divination; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, scrying (plus any additional spells put into item); Weight 7 lb.

CUBE OF FORCE

This device is about the size of a large die (perhaps 3/4 inch across) and can be made of ivory, bone, or any hard mineral. It enables its possessor to put up a special wall of force 10 feet on a side around her person.

This cubic screen moves with the character and is impervious to the attack forms mentioned on the table below.

The cube has 36 charges, which are renewed each day. The possessor presses one face of the cube to activate a particular type of screen or to deactivate the device.

Each effect costs a certain number of charges to maintain for every minute (or portion of a minute) it is in operation. Also, when an effect is active, the possessor's speed is limited to the maximum value given on the table.

When the cube of force is active, attacks dealing more than 30 points of damage drain 1 charge for every 10 points of damage beyond 30 that they deal (40 points of damage drains 1 charge, 50 points drains 2 charges, and so forth).

Spells that affect the integrity of the screen, such as disintegrate and passwall, also drain extra charges. These spells (given in the list below) cannot be cast into or out of the cube:

Cube Face	Charge Cost per Minute	Maximum Speed	Effect
1	1	30 ft.	Keeps out gases, wind, etc.
2	2	20 ft.	Keeps out nonliving matter
3	3	15 ft.	Keeps out living matter
4	4	10 ft.	Keeps out magic
5	6	10 ft.	Keeps out all things
6	0	As normal	Deactivates

Attack Form	Extra Charges
Horn of blasting	6
Wall of fire	2
Passwall	3
Disintegrate	6
Phase door	5
Prismatic spray	7

Moderate evocation; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, wall of force; Price 62,000 gp.

CUBE OF FROST RESISTANCE

This cube is activated or deactivated by pressing one side. When activated, it creates a cube-shaped area 10 feet on a side centered on the possessor (or on the cube itself, if the item is later placed on a surface).

The temperature within this area is always at least 65°F. The field absorbs all cold-based attacks (such as ice storm, cone of cold, and white dragon breath).

However, if the field is subjected to more than 50 points of cold damage in 1 round (from one or multiple attacks), it collapses into its portable form and cannot be reactivated for 1 hour.

If the field absorbs more than 100 points of cold damage in a 10-round period, the cube is destroyed.

Faint abjuration; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, protection from energy; Price 27,000 gp.

CUBIC GATE

This item is fashioned from carnelian.

Each of the six sides of the cube is keyed to a plane, one of which is the Material Plane.

The character creating the item should choose the planes to which the other five sides are keyed.

If such a cube is found as treasure, the DM can determine the planes accessed by the device in any manner he or she chooses.

If a side of the cubic gate is pressed once, it opens a gate to a random point on the plane keyed to that side.

There is a 10% chance per minute that an outsider from that plane (determine randomly) comes through it looking for food, fun, or trouble.

Pressing the side a second time closes the gate.

It is impossible to open more than one gate at a time.

If a side is pressed twice in quick succession, the character so doing is transported to a random point on the other plane, along with all creatures in adjacent squares.

(The other creatures may avoid this fate by succeeding on DC 23 Will saves).

Strong conjuration; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, plane shift; Price 164,000 gp.

DAERN'S INSTANT FORTRESS

This metal cube is small, but when activated by speaking a command word it grows to form a tower 20 feet square and 30 feet high, with arrow slits on all sides and a crenellated battlement atop it.

The metal walls extend 10 feet into the ground, rooting it to the spot and preventing it from being tipped over.

The fortress has a small door that opens only at the command of the owner of the fortress—even knock spells can't open the door.

The adamantine walls of Daern's instant fortress have 100 hit points and hardness 20.

The fortress cannot be repaired except by a wish or a miracle, which restores 50 points of damage taken.

The fortress springs up in just 1 round, with the door facing the device's owner.

The door opens and closes instantly at his command.

People and creatures nearby (except the owner) must be careful not to be caught by the fortress's sudden growth.

Anyone so caught takes 10d10 points of damage (Reflex DC 19 half).

The fortress is deactivated by speaking a command word (different from the one used to activate it).

It cannot be deactivated unless it is empty.

Strong conjuration; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, Mordenkainen's magnificent mansion; Price 55,000 gp.

DARKSKULL

This skull, carved from ebony, is wholly evil.

Wherever the skull goes, the area around it is treated as though an unhallow spell had been cast with the skull as the touched point of origin (except that no additional spell effect is tied or fixed to the darkskull).

Moderate evocation [evil]; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, unhallow, creator must be evil; Price 60,000 gp; Weight 5 lb.

DECANTER OF ENDLESS WATER

If the stopper is removed from this ordinary-looking flask and a command word spoken, an amount of fresh or salt water pours out.

Separate command words determine the type as well as the volume and velocity.

- "Stream" pours out 1 gallon per round.
- "Fountain" produces a 5-foot-long stream at 5 gallons per round.
- "Geyser" produces a 20-foot-long, 1-foot-wide stream at 30 gallons per round.

The geyser effect causes considerable back pressure, requiring the holder to make a DC 12 Strength check to avoid being knocked down.

The force of the geyser deals 1d4 points of damage but can only affect one target per round.

The command word must be spoken to stop it.

Moderate transmutation; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, control water; Price 9,000 gp; Weight 2 lb.

DECK OF ILLUSIONS

This set of parchment cards is usually found in an ivory, leather, or wooden box.

A full deck consists of thirty-four cards.

When a card is drawn at random and thrown to the ground, a major image of a creature is formed.

The figment lasts until dispelled.

The illusory creature cannot move more than 30 feet away from where the card landed, but otherwise moves and acts as if it were real.

At all times it obeys the desires of the character who drew the card.

When the illusion is dispelled, the card becomes blank and cannot be used again.

If the card is picked up, the illusion is automatically and instantly dispelled.

The cards in a deck and the illusions they bring forth are summarized on the following table.

(Use one of the first two columns to simulate the contents of a full deck using either ordinary playing cards or tarot cards).

Playing Card	Tarot Card	Creature
Ace of hearts	IV. The Emperor	Red dragon
King of hearts	Knight of swords and four guards	Male human fighter
Queen of hearts	Queen of staves	Female human wizard
Jack of hearts	King of staves	Male human druid
Ten of hearts	VII. The Chariot	Cloud giant
Nine of hearts	Page of staves	Ettin
Eight of hearts	Ace of cups	Bugbear
Two of hearts	Five of staves	Goblin

Playing Card	Tarot Card	Creature
Ace of diamonds	III. The Empress	Beholder
King of diamonds	Two of cups	Male elf wizard and female apprentice
Queen of diamonds	Queen of swords (female)	Half-elf ranger
Jack of diamonds	XIV. Temperance	Harpy
Ten of diamonds	Seven of staves	Male half-orc barbarian
Nine of diamonds	Four of pentacles	Ogre mage
Eight of diamonds	Ace of pentacles	Gnoll
Two of diamonds	Six of pentacles	Kobold

Playing Card	Tarot Card	Creature
Ace of spades	II. The High Priestess	Lich
King of spades	Three of staves	Three male human clerics
Queen of spades	Four of cups	Medusa
Jack of spades	Knight of pentacles	Male dwarf paladin
Ten of spades	Seven of swords	Frost giant
Nine of spades	Three of swords	Troll
Eight of spades	Ace of swords	Hobgoblin
Two of spades	Five of cups	Goblin

Playing Card	Tarot Card	Creature
Ace of clubs	VIII. Strength	Iron golem
King of clubs	Page of pentacles	Three male halfling rogues
Queen of clubs	Ten of cups	Pixies
Jack of clubs	Nine of pentacles	Female half-elf bard
Ten of clubs	Nine of staves	Hill giant
Nine of clubs	King of swords	Ogre
Eight of clubs	Ace of staves	Orc
Two of clubs	Five of cups	Kobold

Playing Card	Tarot Card	Creature
Joker	Two of pentacles	Illusion of deck's owner
Joker	Two of staves	Illusion of deck's owner (sex reversed)

A randomly generated deck is usually complete (11–100 on d%), but may be discovered (01–10) with 1d20 of its cards missing.

If cards are missing, reduce the price by a corresponding amount.

Faint illusion; CL 6th; Craft Wondrous Item, major image; Price 8,100 gp; Weight 1/2 lb.

DIMENSIONAL SHACKLES

These shackles have golden runes traced across their cold iron surface.

Any creature bound within them is affected as if a dimensional anchor spell were cast upon her (no save).

They fit any Small to Large creature.

The DC to break or slip out of the shackles is 30.

Moderate abjuration; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, dimensional anchor; Price 28,000 gp; Weight 5 lb.

DRUMS OF PANIC

These drums are kettle drums (hemispheres about 1-1/2 feet in diameter on stands).

They come in pairs and are unremarkable in appearance. If both of the pair are sounded, all creatures within 120 feet (with the exception of those within a 20-foot-radius safe zone around the drums) are affected as by a fear spell (Will DC 16 partial).

Drums of panic can be used once per day.

Moderate necromancy; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, fear; Price 30,000 gp; Weight 10 lb. for the pair.

DUST OF APPEARANCE

This fine powder appears to be a very fine, very light metallic dust.

A single handful of this substance flung into the air coats objects within a 10-foot radius, making them visible even if they are invisible.

It likewise negates the effects of blur and displacement.

(In this, it works just like the faerie fire spell).

The dust also reveals figments, mirror images, and projected images for what they are.

A creature coated with the dust takes a -30 penalty on its Hide checks.

The dust's effect lasts for 5 minutes.

Dust of appearance is typically stored in small silk packets or hollow bone tubes.

Faint conjuration; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, glitterdust; Price 1,800 gp.

DUST OF DISAPPEARANCE

This dust looks just like dust of appearance and is typically stored in the same manner.

A creature or object touched by it becomes invisible (as greater invisibility).

Normal vision can't see dusted creatures or objects, nor can they be detected by magical means, including see invisibility or invisibility purge.

Dust of appearance, however, does reveal people and objects made invisible by dust of disappearance.

Other factors, such as sound and smell, also allow possible detection.

The greater invisibility bestowed by the dust lasts for 2d6 rounds.

The invisible creature doesn't know when the duration will end.

Moderate illusion; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, greater invisibility; Price 3,500 gp.

DUST OF DRYNESS

This special dust has many uses.

If it is thrown into water, a volume of as much as 100 gallons is instantly transformed to nothingness, and the dust becomes a marble-sized pellet, floating or resting where it was thrown.

If this pellet is hurled down, it breaks and releases the same volume of water.

The dust affects only water (fresh, salt, alkaline), not other liquids.

If the dust is employed against an elemental with the water subtype, the creature must make a DC 18 Fortitude save or be destroyed.

The dust deals 5d6 points of damage to the creature even if its saving throw succeeds.

Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, control water; Price 850 gp.

DUST OF ILLUSION

This unremarkable powder resembles chalk dust or powdered graphite.

Stare at it, however, and the dust changes color and form.

Put dust of illusion on a creature, and that creature is affected as if by a disguise self glamer, with the individual who sprinkles the dust envisioning the illusion desired.

An unwilling target is allowed a DC 11 Reflex save to avoid the dust.

The glamer lasts for 2 hours.

Faint illusion; CL 6th; Craft Wondrous Item, disguise self; Price 1,200 gp.

DUST OF TRACELESSNESS

This normal-seeming dust is actually a magic powder that can conceal the passage of its possessor and his companions.

Tossing a handful of this dust into the air causes a chamber of up to 100 square feet of floor space to become as dusty, dirty, and cobweb-laden as if it had been abandoned and disused for a decade.

A handful of dust sprinkled along a trail causes evidence of the passage of as many as a dozen men and horses to be obliterated for 250 feet back into the distance.

The results of the dust are instantaneous, and no magical aura lingers afterward from this use of the dust.

Survival checks made to track a quarry across an area affected by this dust have a DC 20 higher than normal.

Faint transmutation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, pass without trace; Price 250 gp.

EFREETI BOTTLE

This item is typically fashioned of brass or bronze, with a lead stopper bearing special seals.

A thin stream of smoke is often seen issuing from it.

The bottle can be opened once per day.

When opened, the efreeti imprisoned within issues from the bottle instantly.

There is a 10% chance (01-10 on d%) that the efreeti is insane and attacks immediately upon being released.

There is also a 10% chance (91-100) that the efreeti of the bottle grants three wishes.

In either case, the efreeti afterward disappears forever.

The other 80% of the time (11-90), the inhabitant of the bottle loyally serves the character for up to 10 minutes per day (or until the efreeti's death), doing as she commands. (See page 115 of the Monster Manual for efreeti statistics).

Roll each day the bottle is opened for that day's effect.

Strong conjuration; CL 14th; Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster VII; Price 145,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

ELEMENTAL GEM

This gem contains a conjuration spell attuned to a specific Elemental Plane (Air, Earth, Fire, or Water).

When the gem is crushed, smashed, or broken (a standard action), a Large elemental appears as if summoned by a summon nature's ally spell.

The elemental is under the control of the creature that broke the gem.

The coloration of the gem varies with the type of elemental it summons.

Air elemental gems are transparent, earth elemental gems are light brown, fire elemental gems are reddish orange, and water elemental gems are blue-green.

Moderate conjuration; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, summon nature's ally V; Price 2,250 gp.

ELIXIR OF FIRE BREATH

This strange elixir bestows upon the drinker the ability to spit gout of flame.

He can breathe fire up to three times, each time dealing 4d6 points of fire damage to a single target up to 25 feet away.

The victim can attempt a DC 13 Reflex save for half damage.

Unused blasts dissipate 1 hour after the liquid is consumed.

Moderate evocation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, scorching ray; Price 1,100 gp.

ELIXIR OF HIDING

A character drinking this liquid gains an intuitive ability to hide (+10 competence bonus on Hide checks for 1 hour).

Faint illusion; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, invisibility; Price 250 gp.

ELIXIR OF LOVE

This sweet-tasting liquid causes the character drinking it to become charmed with the first creature she sees after consuming the draft (as charm person—the drinker must be a humanoid of Medium or smaller size, Will DC 14 negates).

The charm effects wear off in 1d3 hours.

Faint transmutation; CL 4th; Craft Wondrous Item, charm person; Price 150 gp.

ELIXIR OF SNEAKING

This draught of liquid grants the drinker the ability to walk softly and dampens sound around her slightly, granting a +10 competence bonus on Move Silently checks for 1 hour.

Faint illusion; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, silence; Price 250 gp.

ELIXIR OF SWIMMING

This elixir bestows swimming ability.

An almost imperceptible magic sheath surrounds the drinker, allowing him to glide through the water easily (+10 competence bonus on Swim checks for 1 hour).

Faint illusion; CL 2nd; Craft Wondrous Item, creator must have 5 ranks in the Swim skill; Price 250 gp.

ELIXIR OF TRUTH

This elixir forces the individual drinking it to say nothing but the truth for 10 minutes (Will DC 13 negates).

She is compelled to answer any questions put to her in that time, but with each question she is free to make a separate DC 13 Will save.

If one of these secondary saves is successful, she doesn't break free of the truth-compelling enchantment but also doesn't have to answer that particular question.

No more than one question can be asked each round.

This is a mind-affecting compulsion enchantment.

Faint enchantment; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, zone of truth; Price 500 gp.

ELIXIR OF VISION

Drinking this elixir grants the imbiber the ability to notice acute details with great accuracy (+10 competence bonus on Search checks for 1 hour).

Faint divination; CL 2nd; Craft Wondrous Item, true seeing; Price 250 gp.

EVERSMOKING BOTTLE

This metal urn is identical in appearance to an efreeti bottle, except that it does nothing but smoke.

The amount of smoke is great if the stopper is pulled out, pouring from the bottle and totally obscuring vision across a 50-foot spread in 1 round.

If the bottle is left unstoppered, the smoke billows out another 10 feet per round until it has covered a 100-foot radius.

This area remains smoke-filled until the eversmoking bottle is stoppered.

The bottle must be resealed by a command word, after which the smoke dissipates normally.

A moderate wind (11+ mph) disperses the smoke in 4 rounds; a strong wind (21+ mph) disperses the smoke in 1 round.

Faint transmutation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, pyrotechnics; Price 5,400 gp; Weight 1 lb.

EYES OF CHARMING

These two crystal lenses fit over the user's eyes.

The wearer is able to use charm person (one target per round) merely by meeting a target's gaze.

Those failing a DC 16 Will save are charmed as per the spell.

If the wearer has only one lens, the DC of the saving throw is reduced to 10.

Moderate enchantment; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, Heighten Spell, charm person; Price 56,000 gp for a pair.

EYES OF DOOM

These crystal lenses fit over the user's eyes, enabling him to cast doom upon those around him (one target per round) as a gaze attack, except that the wearer must take a standard action, and those merely looking at the wearer are not affected.

Those failing a DC 11 Will save are affected as by the doom spell.

If the wearer has only one lens, the DC of the saving throw is reduced to 10.

However, if the wearer has both lenses, he gains the additional power of a continual deathwatch effect and can use fear (Will DC 16 partial) as a normal gaze attack once per week.

Moderate necromancy; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, doom, deathwatch, fear; Price 25,000 gp.

EYES OF THE EAGLE

These items are made of special crystal and fit over the eyes of the wearer.

These lenses grant a +5 competence bonus on Spot checks. Wearing only one of the pair causes a character to become dizzy and, in effect, stunned for 1 round.

Thereafter, the wearer can use the single lens without being stunned so long as she covers her other eye.

Of course, she can remove the single lens and see normally at any time, or wear both lenses to end or avoid the dizziness.

Faint divination; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, clairaudience/clairvoyance; Price 2,500 gp.

EYES OF PETRIFICATION

These items are made of special crystal and fit over the eyes of the wearer.

They allow her to use a petrification gaze attack (Fortitude DC 19 negates), such as that of a basilisk, for 10 rounds per day (see page 24 of the Monster Manual for details on the basilisk's gaze attack).

Both lenses must be worn for the magic to be effective.

Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, flesh to stone; Price 98,000 gp.

FIGURINES OF WONDROUS POWER

Each of the several kinds of figurines of wondrous power appears to be a miniature statuette of a creature an inch or so high (with one exception).

When the figurine is tossed down and the correct command word spoken, it becomes a living creature of normal size (except when noted otherwise below). The creature obeys and serves its owner.

Unless stated otherwise, the creature understands

Common but does not speak.

If a figurine of wondrous power is broken or destroyed in its statuette form, it is forever ruined.

All magic is lost, its power departed.

If slain in animal form, the figurine simply reverts to a statuette that can be used again at a later time.

BRONZE GRIFFON

When animated, a bronze griffon acts in all ways like a normal griffon under the command of its possessor. The item can be used twice per week for up to 6 hours per use.

When 6 hours have passed or when the command word is spoken, the bronze griffon once again becomes a tiny statuette.

Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects; Price 10,000 gp.

EBONY FLY

When animated, an ebony fly is the size of a pony and has all the statistics of a hippogriff (Hit Dice, AC, carrying capacity, speed, and so on; see page 152 of the Monster Manual) but can make no attacks.

The item can be used three times per week for up to 12 hours per use.

When 12 hours have passed or when the command word is spoken, the ebony fly again becomes a tiny statuette.

Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects; Price 10,000 gp.

GOLDEN LIONS

These figurines come in pairs.

They become normal adult male lions (see page 274 of the Monster Manual).

If slain in combat, the lions cannot be brought back from statuette form for one full week.

Otherwise, they can be used once per day for up to 1 hour. They enlarge and shrink upon speaking the command word.

Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects; Price 16,500 gp.

IVORY GOATS

These figurines come in threes.

Each goat of this trio looks slightly different from the others, and each has a different function.

- The Goat of Traveling: This statuette provides a speedy and enduring mount equal to that of a heavy horse (see page 273 of the Monster Manual) in every way except appearance. The goat can travel for a maximum of one day each week—continuously or in any combination of periods totaling 24 hours.

At this point, or when the command word is uttered, it returns to its statuette form for not less than one day before it can again be used.

- The Goat of Travail: This statuette becomes an enormous creature, larger than a bull, with the statistics of a nightmare (see page 194 of the Monster Manual) except for the addition of a pair of wicked horns of exceptional size (damage 1d8+4 for each horn).

If it is charging to attack, it may only use its horns (but add 6 points of damage to each successful attack in that round). It can be called to life just once per month for up to 12 hours at a time.

- The Goat of Terror: When called upon with the proper command word, this statuette becomes a destrier-like mount, with the statistics of a light warhorse (see page 274 of the Monster Manual).

However, its rider can employ the goat's horns as weapons (one horn as a +3 heavy lance, the other as a +5 longsword). When ridden in an attack against an opponent, the goat of terror radiates fear as the spell in a 30-foot radius (Will DC 16 partial).

It can be used once every two weeks for up to 3 hours per use.

Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects; Price 21,000 gp.

MARBLE ELEPHANT

This is the largest of the figurines, the statuette being about the size of a human hand.

Upon utterance of the command word, a marble elephant grows to the size and specifications of a true elephant (see page 272 of the Monster Manual).

The animal created from the statuette is fully obedient to the figurine's owner, serving as a beast of burden, a mount, or a combatant.

The statuette can be used four times per month for up to 24 hours at a time.

Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects; Price 17,000 gp.

OBSIDIAN STEED

This figurine appears to be a small, shapeless lump of black stone.

Only careful inspection reveals that it vaguely resembles some form of quadruped.

On command, the near-formless piece of obsidian becomes a fantastic mount.

Treat it as a heavy warhorse (see page 273 of the Monster Manual) with the following additional powers usable once per round at will: overland flight, plane shift, and ethereal jaunt. The steed allows itself to be ridden, but if the rider is of good alignment, the steed is 10% likely per use to carry him to the lower planes and then return to its statuette form.

The statuette can be used once per week for one continuous period of up to 24 hours.

Note that when an obsidian steed becomes ethereal or plane shifts, its rider and his gear follow suit.

Thus, the user can travel to other planes via this means. Strong conjuration and transmutation; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects, etherealness, fly, plane shift; Price 28,500 gp.

ONYX DOG

When commanded, this statuette changes into a creature with the same properties as a riding dog (see page 272 of the Monster Manual), except that it is endowed with an Intelligence of 8, can communicate in Common, and has exceptional olfactory and visual abilities.

(It has the scent ability and adds +4 to its Spot and Search checks).

It has 60-foot darkvision, and it can see invisibility.

An onyx dog can be used once per week for up to 6 hours. It obeys only its owner.

Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects; Price 15,500 gp.

SERPENTINE OWL

This figurine becomes either a normal-sized horned owl or a giant owl (see page 277 or 205 of the Monster Manual, respectively), according to the command word used.

The transformation can take place once per day, with a maximum duration of 8 continuous hours.

However, after three transformations into giant owl form, the statuette loses all its magical properties.

The owl communicates with its owner by telepathic means, informing her of all it sees and hears.

(Remember the limitations of its Intelligence).

Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects; Price 9,100 gp.

SILVER RAVEN

This silver figurine turns into a raven on command (but it retains its metallic consistency, which gives it hardness 10). Another command sends it off into the air, bearing a message just like a creature affected by an animal messenger spell.

If not commanded to carry a message, the raven obeys the commands of its owner, although it has no special powers or telepathic abilities.

It can maintain its nonfigurine status for only 24 hours per week, but the duration need not be continuous.

Faint enchantment and transmutation; CL 6th; Craft Wondrous Item, animal messenger, animate objects; Price 3,800 gp.

GAUNTLETS OF OGRE POWER

These gauntlets are made of tough leather with iron studs running across the back of the hands and fingers.

They grant the wearer great strength, adding a +2 enhancement bonus to his Strength score.

Both gauntlets must be worn for the magic to be effective.

Faint transmutation; CL 6th; Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength; Price 4,000 gp; Weight 4 lb.

GAUNTLET OF RUST

This single metal gauntlet looks rusted and pitted but is actually quite powerful.

Once per day, it can affect an object as with the rusting grasp spell.

It also completely protects the wearer and her gear from rust (magical or otherwise), including the attack of a rust monster.

Moderate transmutation; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, rusting grasp; Price 11,500 gp; Weight 2 lb.

GEM OF BRIGHTNESS

This crystal appears to be a long, rough prism.

Upon utterance of a command word, the crystal emits bright light of one of three sorts.

- One command word causes the gem to shed light as a hooded lantern.

This use of the gem does not expend any charges.

- Another command word causes the gem of brightness to send out a bright ray 1 foot in diameter and 50 feet long.

This strikes as a ranged touch attack, and any creature struck by this beam is blinded for 1d4 rounds unless it makes a DC 14 Fortitude save.

This use of the gem expends 1 charge.

• The third command word causes the gem to flare in a blinding flash of light that fills a 30-foot cone. Although this glare lasts but a moment, any creature within the cone must make a DC 14 Fortitude save or be blinded for 1d4 rounds.

This use expends 5 charges.

A newly created gem of brightness has 50 charges.

When all its charges are expended, the gem becomes nonmagical.

Faint evocation; CL 6th; Craft Wondrous Item, daylight; Price 13,000 gp.

GEM OF SEEING

This finely cut and polished stone is indistinguishable from an ordinary jewel in appearance.

When it is gazed through, a gem of seeing enables the user to see as though she were affected by the true seeing spell.

A gem of seeing can be used for as much as 30 minutes a day, divided up into periods of minutes or rounds as the user sees fit.

Moderate divination; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, true seeing; Price 75,000 gp.

GLOVES OF ARROW SNARING

Once snugly worn, these gloves seem to meld with the hands, becoming almost invisible.

Twice per day, the wearer can act as if he had the Snatch Arrows feat, even if he does not meet the prerequisites for it.

Both gloves must be worn for the magic to be effective.

At least one hand must be free to take advantage of the magic.

Faint abjuration; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, shield; Price 4,000 gp.

GLOVES OF DEXTERITY

These thin leather gloves are very flexible and allow for delicate manipulation.

They add to the wearer's Dexterity score in the form of an enhancement bonus of +2, +4, or +6.

Both gloves must be worn for the magic to be effective.

Moderate transmutation; CL 8th; Craft Wondrous Item, cat's grace; Price 4,000 gp (+2), 16,000 gp (+4), 36,000 gp (+6).

GLOVE OF STORING

This device is a simple leather glove.

On command, one item held in the hand wearing the glove disappears.

The item can weigh no more than 20 pounds and must be able to be held in one hand.

While stored, the item has negligible weight.

With a snap of the fingers wearing the glove, the item reappears.

A glove can only store one item at a time.

Storing or retrieving the item is a free action.

The item is held in stasis and shrunk down so small within the palm of the glove that it cannot be seen.

Many owners of a glove of storing find it to be a useful and dramatic way to store weapons, wands, and—because the item is stored in stasis—even lit torches.

Spell durations are not suppressed, but continue to expire. If an effect is suppressed or dispelled, the stored item appears instantly.

Faint transmutation; CL 6th; Craft Wondrous Item, shrink item; Price 10,000 gp (one glove).

GLOVES OF SWIMMING AND CLIMBING

These apparently normal lightweight gloves grant a +5 competence bonus on Swim checks and Climb checks.

Both gloves must be worn for the magic to be effective.

Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength, cat's grace; Price 6,250 gp.

GOGGLES OF MINUTE SEEING

The lenses of this item are made of special crystal.

When placed over the eyes of the wearer, the lenses enable her to see much better than normal at distances of 1 foot or less, granting her a +5 competence bonus on Search checks to find secret doors, traps, and similar concealed objects.

Both lenses must be worn for the magic to be effective.

Faint divination; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, true seeing; Price 1,250 gp.

GOGGLES OF NIGHT

The lenses of this item are made of dark crystal.

Even though the lenses are opaque, when placed over the eyes of the wearer they enable him to see normally and also grant him 60-foot darkvision.

Both lenses must be worn for the magic to be effective.

Faint transmutation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, darkvision; Price 12,000 gp.

GOLEM MANUAL

A golem manual contains information, incantations and magical power that help a character to craft a golem (see page 134 of the Monster Manual).

The instructions therein grant a +5 competence bonus on skill checks made to craft the golem's body.

Each manual also holds the prerequisite spells needed for a specific golem, effectively grants the builder use of the Craft Construct feat (see page 303 of the Monster Manual) during the construction of the golem, and grants the character an increase to her caster level for the purpose of crafting a golem.

Any golem built using a golem manual does not cost the creator any XP, since the requisite XP are “contained” in the book and “expended” by the book during the creation process.

The spells included in a golem manual require a spell trigger activation and can be activated only to assist in the construction of a golem.

The cost of the book does not include the cost of constructing the golem's body.

Once the golem is finished, the writing in the manual fades and the book is consumed in flames. When the book's ashes are sprinkled upon the golem, it becomes fully animated.

CLAY

The book contains animate objects, bless, commune, prayer, and resurrection.

The reader may treat her caster level as two levels higher than normal for the purpose of crafting a clay golem. The book supplies 1,540 XP for the creation of a clay golem. Moderate conjuration, divination, enchantment, and transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Construct, creator must be caster level 11th, animate objects, commune, prayer, resurrection; Price 12,000 gp; Cost 2,150 gp + 1,712 XP; Weight 5 lb.

FLESH

The book contains animate dead, bull's strength, geas/quest, and limited wish.

The reader may treat her caster level as one level higher than normal for the purpose of crafting a flesh golem. The book supplies 780 XP for the creation of a flesh golem. Moderate enchantment, necromancy [evil], and transmutation; CL 8th; Craft Construct, creator must be caster level 8th, animate dead, bull's strength, geas/quest, limited wish; Price 8,000 gp; Cost 2,050 gp + 944 XP; Weight 5 lb.

IRON

The book contains cloudkill, geas/quest, limited wish, and polymorph any object.

The reader may treat her caster level as four levels higher than normal for the purpose of crafting a iron golem. The book supplies 5,600 XP for the creation of a iron golem. Strong conjuration, enchantment and transmutation; CL 16th; Craft Construct, creator must be caster level 16th, cloudkill, geas/quest, limited wish, polymorph any object; Price 35,000 gp; Cost 3,500 gp + 5,880 XP; Weight 5 lb.

STONE

The book contains geas/quest, limited wish, polymorph any object, and slow.

The reader may treat her caster level as three levels higher than normal for the purpose of crafting a stone golem. The book supplies 3,400 XP for the creation of a stone golem. Strong abjuration and enchantment; CL 14th; Craft Construct, creator must be caster level 14th, antimagic field, geas/quest, symbol of stunning; Price 22,000 gp; Cost 2,500 gp + 3,600 XP; Weight 5 lb.

STONE, GREATER

The book contains geas/quest, limited wish, polymorph any object, and slow.

The reader may treat her caster level as three levels higher than normal for the purpose of crafting a stone golem. The book supplies 7,640 XP for the creation of a greater stone golem.

Strong abjuration and enchantment; CL 16th; Craft Construct, creator must be caster level 16th, antimagic field, geas/quest, symbol of stunning; Price 44,000 gp; Cost 2,900 gp + 7,872 XP; Weight 5 lb.

HAND OF GLORY

This mummified human hand hangs by a leather cord around a character's neck (taking up space as a magic necklace would).

If a magic ring is placed on one of the fingers of the hand, the wearer benefits from the ring as if wearing it herself, and it does not count against her two-ring limit.

The hand can wear only one ring at a time.

Even without a ring, the hand itself allows its wearer to use daylight and see invisibility each once per day.

Faint varied; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate dead, daylight, detect invisibility; Price 8,000 gp; Weight 2 lb.

HAND OF THE MAGE

This mummified elf hand hangs by a golden chain around a character's neck (taking up space as a magic necklace would).

It allows the wearer to utilize the spell mage hand at will.

Faint transmutation; CL 2nd; Craft Wondrous Item, mage hand; Price 900 gp; Weight 2 lb.

HARP OF CHARMING

This instrument is a golden, intricately carved harp.

When played, it enables the performer to work one suggestion (as the spell, Will DC 14 negates) into the music for each 10 minutes of playing if he can succeed on a DC 14 Perform (string instruments) check.

If the check fails, the audience cannot be affected by any further performances from the harpist for 24 hours.

Faint enchantment; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, suggestion; Price 7,500 gp; Weight 5 lb.

HAT OF DISGUISE

This apparently normal hat allows its wearer to alter her appearance as with a disguise self spell.

As part of the disguise, the hat can be changed to appear as a comb, ribbon, headband, cap, coif, hood, helmet, and so on.

Faint illusion; CL 1st; Craft Wondrous Item, disguise self; Price 1,800 gp.

HEADBAND OF INTELLECT

This device is a light cord with a small gem set so that it rests upon the forehead of the wearer.

The headband adds to the wearer's Intelligence score in the form of an enhancement bonus of +2, +4, or +6.

This enhancement bonus does not earn the wearer extra skill points when a new level is attained; use the unenhanced Intelligence bonus to determine skill points. Moderate transmutation; CL 8th; Craft Wondrous Item, fox's cunning; Price 4,000 gp (+2), 16,000 gp (+4), 36,000 gp (+6).

HELM OF BRILLIANCE

This normal-looking helm takes its true form and manifests its powers when the user dons it and speaks the command word.

Made of brilliant silver and polished steel, a newly created helm is set with large magic gems: ten diamonds, twenty rubies, thirty fire opals, and forty opals.

When struck by bright light, the helm scintillates and sends forth reflective rays in all directions from its crown-like, gem-tipped spikes.

The jewels' functions are as follows.

- Diamond: Prismatic spray (save DC 20)
- Ruby: Wall of fire
- Fire opal: Fireball (10d6, Reflex DC 20 half)
- Opal: Daylight

The helm may be used once per round, but each gem can perform its spell-like power just once.

Until all its jewels are depleted, a helm of brilliance also has the following magical properties when activated.

- It emanates a bluish light when undead are within 30 feet. This light causes 1d6 points of damage per round to all such creatures within that range.
- The wearer may command any weapon he wields to become a flaming weapon (see page 224).

This is in addition to whatever abilities the weapon may already have (unless the weapon already is a flaming weapon).

The command takes 1 round to take effect.

- The helm provides resistance to fire 30. This protection does not stack with similar protection from other sources, such as resist energy. Once all its jewels have lost their magic, the helm loses its powers and the gems turn to worthless powder.

Removing a jewel destroys it.

If a creature wearing the helm is damaged by magical fire (after the fire protection is taken into account) and fails an additional DC 15 Will save, the remaining gems on the helm overload and detonate.

Remaining diamonds become prismatic sprays that each randomly target a creature within range (possibly the wearer), rubies become straight-line walls of fire extending outward in a random direction from the helm wearer, and fire opals become fireballs centered on the helm wearer.

The opals and the helm itself are destroyed.

Strong varied; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, detect undead, fireball, flame blade, light, prismatic spray, protection from energy, wall of fire; Price 125,000 gp; Weight 3 lb.

HELM OF COMPREHEND LANGUAGES AND READ MAGIC

Appearing as a normal helmet, a helm of comprehend languages and read magic grants its wearer the ability to understand the spoken words of any creature and to read text in any language and any magical writing.

The wearer gains a +5 competence bonus on Decipher Script checks to understand messages written in incomplete, archaic, or exotic forms.

Note that understanding a magical text does not necessarily imply spell use.

Faint divination; CL 4th; Craft Wondrous Item, comprehend languages, read magic; Price 5,200 gp; Weight 3 lb.

HELM OF TELEPATHY

The wearer can use detect thoughts at will.

Furthermore, he can send a telepathic message to anyone whose surface thoughts he is reading (allowing two-way communication).

Once per day, the wearer of the helm can implant a suggestion (as the spell, Will DC 14 negates) along with his telepathic message.

Faint divination and enchantment; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, detect thoughts, suggestion; Price 27,000 gp; Weight 3 lb.

HELM OF TELEPORTATION

A character wearing this device may teleport three times per day, exactly as if he had cast the spell of the same name.

Moderate conjuration; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, teleport; Price 73,500 gp; Weight 3 lb.

HELM OF UNDERWATER ACTION

The wearer of this helmet can see underwater.

Drawing the small lenses in compartments on either side into position before the wearer's eyes activates the visual properties of the helm, allowing her to see five times farther than water and light conditions would allow for normal human vision.

(Weeds, obstructions, and the like block vision in the usual manner).

If the command word is spoken, the helm of underwater action creates a globe of air around the wearer's head and maintains it until the command word is spoken again, enabling her to breathe freely.

Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, water breathing; Price 57,000 gp; Weight 3 lb.

HEWARD'S HANDY HAVERSACK

A backpack of this sort appears to be well made, well used, and quite ordinary.

It is constructed of finely tanned leather, and the straps have brass hardware and buckles.

It has two side pouches, each of which appears large enough to hold about a quart of material.

In fact, each is like a bag of holding and can actually hold material of as much as 2 cubic feet in volume or 20 pounds in weight.

The large central portion of the pack can contain up to 8 cubic feet or 80 pounds of material.

Even when so filled, the backpack always weighs only 5 pounds.

While such storage is useful enough, the pack has an even greater power in addition.

When the wearer reaches into it for a specific item, that item is always on top.

Thus, no digging around and fumbling is ever necessary to find what a haversack contains.

Retrieving any specific item from a haversack is a move action, but it does not provoke the attacks of opportunity that retrieving a stored item usually does.

Moderate conjuration; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's secret chest; Price 2,000 gp; Weight 5 lb.

HORN OF BLASTING

This horn appears to be a normal trumpet.

It can be sounded as a normal horn, but if the command word is spoken and the instrument is then played, it deals 5d6 points of sonic damage to creatures within a 40-foot cone and causes them to be deafened for 2d6 rounds (a DC 16 Fortitude save reduces the damage by half and negates the deafening).

Crystalline objects and creatures take 7d6 points of sonic damage, with no save unless they're held, worn, or carried by creatures (Will DC 16 negates).

If a horn of blasting is used magically more than once in a given day, there is a 20% cumulative chance with each extra use that it explodes and deals 10d6 points of damage to the person sounding it.

Moderate evocation; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, shout; Price 20,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

HORN OF BLASTING, GREATER

This horn functions as a horn of blasting, except that it deals 10d6 points of sonic damage, stuns creatures for 1 round, and deafens them for 4d6 rounds (a DC 19 Fortitude reduces the damage by half and negates the stunning and deafening).

Crystalline objects take 16d6 points of sonic damage as described for the horn of blasting.

A greater horn of blasting also has a 20% cumulative chance of exploding.

Strong evocation; CL 16th; Craft Wondrous Item, greater shout; Price 70,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

HORN OF FOG

This small bugle allows its possessor to blow forth a thick cloud of heavy fog similar to that of an obscuring mist spell. The fog covers a 10-foot square next to the horn blower each round that the user continues to blow the horn; fog clouds travel 10 feet each round in a straight line from the emanation point unless blocked by something substantial such as a wall.

The device makes a deep, foghorn-like noise, with the note dropping abruptly to a lower register at the end of each blast.

The fog dissipates after 3 minutes.

A moderate wind (11+ mph) disperses the fog in 4 rounds; a strong wind (21+ mph) disperses the fog in 1 round.

Faint conjuration; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, obscuring mist; Price 2,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

HORN OF GOODNESS/EVIL

This trumpet adapts itself to its owner, so it produces either a good or an evil effect depending on the owner's alignment.

If the owner is neither good nor evil, the horn has no power whatsoever.

If he is good, then blowing the horn has the effect of a magic circle against evil.

If he is evil, then blowing the horn has the effect of a magic circle against good.

In either case, this ward lasts for 1 hour.

The horn can be blown once per day.

Faint abjuration; CL 6th; Craft Wondrous Item, magic circle against good, magic circle against evil; Price 6,500 gp; Weight 1 lb.

HORN OF THE TRITONS

This device is a conch shell that can be blown once per day except by a triton (see page 245 of the Monster Manual), which can sound it three times per day.

A horn of the tritons can perform any one of the following functions when blown.

- Calm rough waters in a 1-mile radius.

This effect dispels a summoned water elemental if it fails a DC 16 Will save.

- Attract 5d4 Large sharks (01–30 on d%), 5d6 Medium sharks (31–80), or 1d10 sea lions (81–100) if the character is in a body of water in which such creatures dwell.

The creatures are friendly and obey, to the best of their ability, the one who sounded the horn.

- Causes aquatic creatures with Intelligence scores of 1 or 2 within 500 feet to become panicked as if they had been targeted by a fear spell (Will DC 16 partial).

Those who successfully save are shaken for 3d6 rounds.

Any sounding of a horn of the tritons can be heard by all tritons within a 3-mile radius.

Moderate conjuration and transmutation; CL 8th; Craft Wondrous Item, fear, summon monster V, control water, creator must be a triton or get construction aid from a triton; Price 15,100 gp; Weight 2 lb.

HORN OF VALHALLA

This magic instrument comes in four varieties.

Each appears to be normal until someone speaks its command word and blows the horn.

Then the horn summons a number of human barbarians to fight for the character who summoned them.

Each horn can be blown just once every seven days.

Roll d% and refer to the table below to see what type of horn is found.

The horn's type determines what barbarians are summoned and what prerequisite is needed to use the horn.

Any character who uses a horn of Valhalla but doesn't have the prerequisite is attacked by the barbarians she herself summoned.

d%	Type of Horn	Barbarians Summoned	Prerequisite
01–40	Silver	2d4+2, 2nd level	None
41–75	Brass	2d4+1, 3rd level	Spellcaster level 1st
76–90	Bronze	2d4, 4th level	Proficiency with all martial weapons or bardic music ability
91–100	Iron	1d4+1, 5th level	Proficiency with all martial weapons or bardic music ability

Summoned barbarians are constructs, not actual people (though they seem to be); they arrive with the starting equipment for barbarians given on page 26 of the Player's Handbook.

They attack anyone the possessor of the horn commands them to fight until they or their opponents are slain or until 1 hour has elapsed, whichever comes first.

Strong conjuration; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster VI; Price 50,000 gp; Weight 2 lb.

HORSESHOES OF SPEED

These iron shoes come in sets of four like ordinary horseshoes.

When affixed to an animal's hooves, they increase the animal's base land speed by 30 feet; this counts as an enhancement bonus.

As with other effects that increase speed, jumping distances increase proportionally.

All four shoes must be worn by the same animal for the magic to be effective.

Faint transmutation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, haste; Price 3,000 gp; Weight 12 lb. (for four).

HORSESHOES OF A ZEPHYR

These four iron shoes are affixed like normal horseshoes. They allow a horse to travel without actually touching the ground.

The horse must still run above (always around 4 inches above) a roughly horizontal surface.

This means that nonsolid or unstable surfaces, such as water or lava, can be crossed, and that movement is possible without leaving tracks on any sort of ground.

The horse moves at its normal base land speed.

All four shoes must be worn by the same animal for the magic to be effective.

Faint transmutation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, levitate; Price 6,000 gp; Weight 4 lb. (for four).

INCENSE OF MEDITATION

This small rectangular block of sweet-smelling incense is visually indistinguishable from nonmagical incense until lit.

When it is burning, the special fragrance and pearly-hued smoke of this special incense are recognizable by anyone making a DC 15 Spellcraft check.

When a divine spellcaster lights a block of incense of meditation and then spends 8 hours praying and meditating nearby, the incense enables him to prepare all his spells as though affected by the Maximize Spell feat.

However, all the spells prepared in this way are at their normal level, not at three levels higher (as with the regular metamagic feat).

Each block of incense burns for 8 hours, and the effects persist for 24 hours.

Moderate enchantment; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, Maximize Spell, bleed; Price 4,900 gp; Weight 1 lb.

IOUN STONES

These crystalline stones always float in the air and must be within 3 feet of their owner to be of any use.

When a character first acquires a stone, she must hold it and then release it, whereupon it takes up a circling orbit 1d3 feet from her head.

Thereafter, a stone must be grasped or netted to separate it from its owner.

The owner may voluntarily seize and stow a stone (to keep it safe while she is sleeping, for example), but she loses the benefits of the stone during that time.

Ioun stones have AC 24, 10 hit points, and hardness 5.

Regeneration from the pearly white ioun stone works like a ring of regeneration.

(It only cures damage taken while the character is using the stone).

The pale lavender and lavender and green stones work like a rod of absorption, but absorbing a spell requires a readied action, and these stones cannot be used to empower spells. Stored spells in the vibrant purple stone must be placed by a spellcaster but can be used by anyone (see ring of minor spell storing, page 233).

Moderate varied; CL 12th; Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be 12th level.

Color	Shape	Effect	Market Price
Clear	Spindle	Sustains creature without food or water	4,000 gp
Dusty rose	Prism	+1 insight bonus to AC	5,000 gp
Deep red	Sphere	+2 enhancement bonus to Dexterity	8,000 gp
Incandescent blue	Sphere	+2 enhancement bonus to Wisdom	8,000 gp
Pale blue	Rhomboid	+2 enhancement bonus to Strength	8,000 gp
Pink	Rhomboid	+2 enhancement bonus to Constitution	8,000 gp
Pink and green	Sphere	+2 enhancement bonus to Charisma	8,000 gp
Scarlet and blue	Sphere	+2 enhancement bonus to Intelligence	8,000 gp
Dark blue	Rhomboid	Alertness (as the feat)	10,000 gp
Vibrant purple	Prism	Stores three levels of spells, as a ring of spell storing	36,000 gp
Iridescent	Spindle	Sustains creature without air	18,000 gp
Pale lavender	Ellipsoid	Absorbs spells of 4th level or lower <sup>1</sup>	20,000 gp
Pearly white	Spindle	Regenerate 1 point of damage per hour	20,000 gp
Pale green	Prism	+1 competence bonus on attack rolls, saves, skill checks, and ability checks	30,000 gp
Orange	Prism	+1 caster level	30,000 gp
Lavender and green	Ellipsoid	Absorbs spells of 8th level or lower <sup>2</sup>	40,000 gp

<sup>2</sup> After absorbing fifty spell levels, the stone burns out and turns dull gray, forever useless.

IRON BANDS OF BILARRO

When initially discovered, this very potent item appears to be a 3-inch-diameter rusty iron sphere with bandings on the globe.

When the proper command word is spoken and the spherical iron device is hurled at an opponent, the bands expand and then contract to bind the target creature on a successful ranged touch attack.

A single Large or smaller creature can be captured thus and held immobile until the command word is spoken to bring the bands into spherical form again.

The creature can break (and ruin) the bands with a DC 30 Strength check or escape them with a DC 30 Escape Artist check.

Iron bands of Bilarro are usable once per day.

Strong evocation; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, Bigby's grasping hand; Price 26,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

IRON FLASK

These special containers are typically inlaid with runes of silver and stoppered by a brass plug bearing a seal engraved with sigils, glyphs, and special symbols.

When the user speaks the command word, he can force any creature from another plane into the container, provided that creature fails a DC 19 Will save.

The range of this effect is 60 feet.

Only one creature at a time can be so contained.

Loosing the stopper frees the captured creature.

The command word can be given only once per day.

If the individual freeing the captured creature speaks the command word, the creature can be forced to serve for 1 hour.

If freed without the command word, the creature acts according to its natural inclinations.

(It usually attacks the user, unless it perceives a good reason not to).

Any attempt to force the same creature into the flask a second time provides it a +2 bonus on its saving throw and makes it hostile.

A newly discovered bottle might contain any of the following:

d%	Contents	d%	Contents
01–50	Empty	89	Demon (glabrezu)
51–54	Large air elemental	90	Demon (succubus)
55–58	Arrowhawk	91	Devil (osyluth)
59–62	Large earth elemental	92	Devil (barbazus)
63–66	Xorn	93	Devil (erinyes)
67–70	Large fire elemental	94	Devil (cornugon)
71–74	Salamander	95	Celestial (avoral)
75–78	Large water elemental	96	Celestial (ghaele)
79–82	Adult tojanida	97	Formian myrmarch
83–84	Red slaad	98	Blue slaad
85–86	Formian taskmaster	99	Rakshasa
87	Demon (vrock)	100	Demon (balor) or devil (pit fiend)—equal chance for either
88	Demon (hezrou)

Strong conjuration; CL 20th; Craft Wondrous Item, trap the soul; Price 170,000 gp (empty); Weight 1 lb.

KEOGHTOM'S OINTMENT

A jar of this unguent is 3 inches in diameter and 1 inch deep and contains five applications.

Placed upon a poisoned wound or swallowed, the ointment detoxifies any poison (as neutralize poison).

Applied to a diseased area, it removes disease (as remove disease).

Rubbed on a wound, the ointment cures 1d8+5 points of damage (as cure light wounds).

Faint conjuration; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, cure light wounds, neutralize poison, remove disease; Price 4,000 gp; Weight 1/2 lb.

LANTERN OF REVEALING

This lantern operates as a normal hooded lantern.

While it is lit, it also reveals all invisible creatures and objects within 25 feet of it, just like the spell invisibility purge.

Faint evocation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, invisibility purge; Price 30,000 gp; Weight 2 lb.

LENS OF DETECTION

This circular prism enables its user to detect minute details, granting a +5 bonus on Search checks.

It also aids in following tracks, adding a +5 bonus on Survival checks when tracking.

The lens is about 6 inches in diameter and set in a frame with a handle.

Moderate divination; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, true seeing; Price 3,500 gp; Weight 1 lb.

LYRE OF BUILDING

If the proper chords are struck, a single use of this lyre negates any attacks made against all inanimate construction (walls, roof, floor, and so on) within 300 feet.

This includes the effects of a horn of blasting, a disintegrate spell, or an attack from a ram or similar siege weapon.

The lyre can be used in this way once per day, with the protection lasting for 30 minutes.

The lyre is also useful with respect to building.

Once a week its strings can be strummed so as to produce chords that magically construct buildings, mines, tunnels, ditches, or whatever.

The effect produced in but 30 minutes of playing is equal to the work of 100 humans laboring for three days.

Each hour after the first, a character playing the lyre must make a DC 18 Perform (string instruments) check.

If it fails, she must stop and cannot play the lyre again for this purpose until a week has passed.

Faint transmutation; CL 6th; Craft Wondrous Item, fabricate; Price 13,000 gp; Weight 5 lb.

MANTLE OF FAITH

This holy garment, worn over normal clothing, grants damage reduction 5/evil to the character wearing it.

Strong abjuration [good]; CL 20th; Craft Wondrous Item, stoneskin; Price 76,000 gp.

MANTLE OF SPELL RESISTANCE

This garment, worn over normal clothing or armor, grants the wearer spell resistance 21.

Moderate abjuration; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, spell resistance; Price 90,000 gp.

MANUAL OF BODILY HEALTH

This thick tome contains tips on health and fitness, but entwined within the words is a powerful magical effect. If anyone reads this book, which takes a total of 48 hours over a minimum of six days, he gains an inherent bonus of from +1 to +5 (depending on the type of manual) to his Constitution score.

Once the book is read, the magic disappears from the pages and it becomes a normal book.

Strong evocation (if miracle is used); CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, wish or miracle; Price 27,500 gp (+1), 55,000 gp (+2), 82,500 gp (+3), 110,000 gp (+4), 137,500 gp (+5); Cost 1,250 gp + 5,100 XP (+1), 2,500 gp + 10,200 XP (+2), 3,750 gp + 15,300 XP (+3), 5,000 gp + 20,400 XP (+4), 6,250 gp + 25,500 XP (+5); Weight 5 lb.

MANUAL OF GAINFUL EXERCISE

This thick tome contains exercise descriptions and diet suggestions, but entwined within the words is a powerful magical effect.

If anyone reads this book, which takes a total of 48 hours over a minimum of six days, she gains an inherent bonus of from +1 to +5 (depending on the type of manual) to her Strength score.

Once the book is read, the magic disappears from the pages and it becomes a normal book.

Strong evocation (if miracle is used); CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, wish or miracle; Price 27,500 gp (+1), 55,000 gp (+2), 82,500 gp (+3), 110,000 gp (+4), 137,500 gp (+5); Cost 1,250 gp + 5,100 XP (+1), 2,500 gp + 10,200 XP (+2), 3,750 gp + 15,300 XP (+3), 5,000 gp + 20,400 XP (+4), 6,250 gp + 25,500 XP (+5); Weight 5 lb.

MANUAL OF QUICKNESS OF ACTION

This thick tome contains tips on coordination exercises and balance, but entwined within the words is a powerful magical effect.

If anyone reads this book, which takes a total of 48 hours over a minimum of six days, he gains an inherent bonus of from +1 to +5 (depending on the type of manual) to his Dexterity score.

Once the book is read, the magic disappears from the pages and it becomes a normal book.

Strong evocation (if miracle is used); CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, wish or miracle; Price 27,500 gp (+1), 55,000 gp (+2), 82,500 gp (+3), 110,000 gp (+4), 137,500 gp (+5); Cost 1,250 gp + 5,100 XP (+1), 2,500 gp + 10,200 XP (+2), 3,750 gp + 15,300 XP (+3), 5,000 gp + 20,400 XP (+4), 6,250 gp + 25,500 XP (+5); Weight 5 lb.

MASK OF THE SKULL

This ivory mask has been fashioned into the likeness of a human skull.

Once per day, after it has been worn for at least 1 hour, the mask can be loosed to fly from the wearer's face.

It travels up to 50 feet away from the wearer and attacks a target assigned to it.

The grinning skull mask makes a touch attack against the target based on the wearer's base attack bonus.

If the attack succeeds, the target must make a DC 20 Fortitude save or be struck dead, as if affected by a finger of death spell.

If the target succeeds on his saving throw, he nevertheless takes 3d6+13 points of damage.

After attacking (whether successful or not), the mask flies back to its user.

The mask has AC 16, 10 hit points, and hardness 6.

Strong necromancy and transmutation; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects, finger of death, fly; Price 22,000 gp; Weight 3 lb.

MATTOCK OF THE TITANS

This digging tool is 10 feet long.

Any creature of at least Huge size can use it to loosen or tumble earth or earthen ramparts (a 10-foot cube every 10 minutes).

It also smashes rock (a 10-foot cube per hour).

If used as a weapon, it is the equivalent of a Gargantuan +3 adamantine warhammer, dealing 4d6 points of base damage. Strong transmutation; CL 16th; Craft Wondrous Item, Craft Magic Arms and Armor, move earth; Price 23,348 gp; Cost 13,348 gp + 800 XP; Weight 120 lb.

MAUL OF THE TITANS

This mallet is 8 feet long.

If used as a weapon, it is the equivalent of a +3 greatclub and deals triple damage against inanimate objects.

However, the wielder must have a Strength of at least 18 to wield it properly.

Otherwise, she takes a -4 penalty on attack rolls.

Strong evocation; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Bigby's clenched fist; Price 25,305 gp; Cost 12,305 gp + 480 XP; Weight 160 lb.

MEDALLION OF THOUGHTS

This appears to be a normal pendant disk hung from a neck chain.

Usually fashioned from bronze, copper, or nickel-silver, the medallion allows the wearer to read the thoughts of others, as with the spell detect thoughts.

Faint divination; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, detect thoughts; Price 12,000 gp.

MIRROR OF LIFE TRAPPING

This crystal device is usually about 4 feet square and framed in metal or wood.

It can be hung or placed on a surface and then activated by giving a command word.

The same command word deactivates the mirror.

A mirror of life trapping has fifteen nonspatial extradimensional compartments within it. Any creature coming within 30 feet of the device and looking at its own reflection must make a DC 23 Will save or be trapped within the mirror in one of the cells. A creature not aware of the nature of the device always sees its own reflection.

The probability of a creature seeing its reflection, and thus needing to make the saving throw, drops to 50% if the creature is aware that the mirror traps life and seeks to avoid looking at it (treat as a gaze attack; see page 294). When a creature is trapped, it is taken bodily into the mirror.

Size is not a factor, but constructs and undead are not trapped, nor are inanimate objects and other nonliving matter.

A victim's equipment (including clothing and anything being carried) remains behind.

If the mirror's owner knows the right command word, he can call the reflection of any creature trapped within to its surface and engage his powerless prisoner in conversation. Another command word frees the trapped creature. Each pair of command words is specific to each prisoner. If the mirror's capacity is exceeded, one victim (determined randomly) is set free in order to accommodate the latest one.

If the mirror is broken, all victims currently trapped in it are freed and usually promptly attack the possessor of the device in revenge for their imprisonment.

Strong abjuration; CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, imprisonment; Price 200,000 gp; Weight 50 lb.

MIRROR OF MENTAL PROWESS

This mirror resembles an ordinary looking glass 5 feet tall by 2 feet wide.

The possessor who knows the proper commands can cause it to perform as follows.

- Read the thoughts of any creature reflected therein, as long as the owner is within 25 feet of the mirror, even if those thoughts are in an unknown language.
- View other places as if with clairvoyance, but vision extends even onto other planes if the viewer is sufficiently familiar with them.
- Use it as a portal to visit other places.

The user first views the place with the clairvoyance function, then steps through the mirror to the place pictured.

Others can follow her through the mirror if they like.

An invisible portal remains on the other side where she arrives, and she can return through that portal.

Once she returns, the portal closes.

The portal closes on its own after 24 hours (trapping the user if she's still in the other place), and the user can also close it with a command word.

Creatures with Intelligence of 12 or higher might notice the portal just as they might notice a magical sensor from a scrying spell.

Any creature who steps through the portal appears in front of the mirror.

- Once per week the mirror accurately answers one short question regarding a creature whose image is shown on its surface (giving answers similar to those from the legend lore spell).

Strong conjuration and divination; CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, detect thoughts, clairaudience/clairvoyance, gate, legend lore; Price 175,000 gp; Weight 40 lb.

MIRROR OF OPPOSITION

This item resembles a normal mirror about 4 feet long and 3 feet wide.

It can be hung or placed on a surface and then activated by speaking a command word.

The same command word deactivates the mirror.

If a creature sees its reflection in the mirror's surface, an exact duplicate of that creature comes into being.

This opposite immediately attacks the original.

The duplicate has all the possessions and powers of its original (including magic).

Upon the defeat or destruction of either the duplicate or the original, the duplicate and her items disappear completely.

The mirror functions up to four times per day.

Strong necromancy; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, clone; Price 92,000 gp; Weight 45 lb.

MURLYND'S SPOON

This unremarkable eating utensil is typically fashioned from horn.

If the spoon is placed in an empty container—a bowl, a cup, or a dish, for example—the vessel fills with a thick, pasty gruel.

Although this substance has a flavor similar to that of warm, wet cardboard, it is highly nourishing and contains everything necessary to sustain any herbivorous, omnivorous, or carnivorous creature.

The spoon can produce sufficient gruel each day to feed up to four humans.

Faint conjuration; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, create food and water; Price 5,400 gp.

Necklace of Adaptation: This necklace is a heavy chain with a platinum medallion.

The magic of the necklace wraps the wearer in a shell of fresh air, making him immune to all harmful vapors and gases (such as cloudkill and stinking cloud effects, as well as inhaled poisons) and allowing him to breathe, even underwater or in a vacuum.

Moderate transmutation; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, alter self; Price 9,000 gp.

NECKLACE OF FIREBALLS

This device appears to be nothing but beads on a string, sometimes with the ends tied together to form a necklace. (It does not count as an item worn around the neck for the purpose of determining which of a character's worn magic items is effective).

If a character holds it, however, all can see the strand as it really is—a golden chain from which hang a number of golden spheres.

The spheres are detachable by the wearer (and only by the wearer), who can easily hurl one of them up to 70 feet.

When a sphere arrives at the end of its trajectory, it detonates as a fireball spell (Reflex DC 14 half).

Spheres come in different strengths, ranging from those that deal 2d6 points of fire damage to those that deal 10d6.

The market price of a sphere is 150 gp for each die of damage it deals (ranging from 300 gp for a 2d6 sphere to 1,500 gp for a 10d6 sphere).

Each necklace of fireballs contains a combination of spheres of various strengths.

Some traditional combinations, designated types I through VII, are detailed below.

Necklace	10d6	9d6	8d6	7d6	6d6	5d6	4d6	3d6	2d6	Market Price
Type I	—	—	—	—	—	1	—	2	—	1,650 gp
Type II	—	—	—	—	1	—	2	—	2	2,700 gp
Type III	—	—	—	1	—	2	—	4	—	4,350 gp
Type IV	—	—	1	—	2	—	2	—	4	5,400 gp
Type V	—	1	—	2	—	2	—	2	—	5,850 gp
Type VI	1	—	2	—	2	—	4	—	—	8,100 gp
Type VII	1	2	—	2	—	2	—	2	—	8,700 gp

For example, a type III necklace has seven spheres—one 7-dice, two 5-dice, and four 3-dice fireballs.

If the necklace is being worn or carried by a character who fails her saving throw against a magical fire attack, the item must make a saving throw as well (with a save bonus of +7).

If the necklace fails to save, all its remaining spheres detonate simultaneously, often with regrettable consequences for the wearer.

Moderate evocation; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, fireball.

NOLZUR'S MARVELOUS PIGMENTS

These magic emulsions enable their possessor to create actual, permanent objects simply by depicting their form in two dimensions.

The pigments are applied by a stick tipped with bristles, hair, or fur.

The emulsion flows from the application to form the desired object as the artist concentrates on the desired image.

One pot of Nolzur's marvelous pigments is sufficient to create a 1,000-cubic-foot object by depicting it two-dimensionally over a 100-square-foot surface.

Thus, a 10-foot-by-10-foot rendition of a pit would result in an actual 10-foot-by-10-foot-by-10-foot pit; a 10-foot-by-10-foot depiction of a room would result in a 10-foot-by-10-foot-by-10-foot room; and so on.

Only normal, inanimate objects can be created—doors, pits, flowers, trees, cells, and so on.

Creatures can't be created.

The pigments must be applied to a surface (a floor, wall, ceiling, door, or the like).

It takes 10 minutes and a DC 15 Craft (painting) check to depict an object with the pigments.

Nolzur's marvelous pigments cannot create magic items.

Objects of value depicted by the pigments—precious metals, gems, jewelry, ivory, and so on—appear to be valuable but are really made of tin, lead, paste, brass, bone, and other such inexpensive materials.

The user can create normal weapons, armor, and any other mundane item (including foodstuffs) whose value does not exceed 2,000 gp.

Items created are not magical; the effect is instantaneous.

Strong conjuration; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, major creation; Price 4,000 gp.

ORB OF STORMS

This glass sphere is 8 inches in diameter.

The possessor can call forth all manner of weather, even supernaturally destructive storms.

Once per day she can call upon the orb to use a control weather spell, Once per month, she can conjure a storm of vengeance.

The possessor of the orb is continually protected by an endure elements effect.

Strong varied; CL 18th; Craft Wondrous Item, control weather, endure elements, storm of vengeance; Price 48,000 gp; Weight 6 lb.

PEARL OF POWER

This seemingly normal pearl of average size and luster is a potent aid to all spellcasters who prepare spells (clerics, druids, rangers, paladins, and wizards).

Once per day on command, a pearl of power enables the possessor to recall any one spell that she had prepared and then cast.

The spell is then prepared again, just as if it had not been cast.

The spell must be of a particular level, depending on the pearl.

Different pearls exist for recalling one spell per day of each level from 1st through 9th and for the recall of two spells per day (each of a different level, 6th or lower).

Strong transmutation; CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be able to cast spells of the spell level to be recalled; Price 1,000 gp (1st), 4,000 gp (2nd), 9,000 gp (3rd), 16,000 gp (4th), 25,000 gp (5th), 36,000 gp (6th), 49,000 gp (7th), 64,000 gp (8th), 81,000 gp (9th), or 70,000 gp (two spells).

PEARL OF THE SIRINES

This normal-seeming pearl is beautiful and worth at least 1,000 gp on that basis alone.

If it is clasped firmly in hand or held to the breast while the possessor attempts actions related to the pearl's powers, she understands and is able to employ the item.

The pearl enables its possessor to breathe in water as if she were in clean, fresh air.

Her swim speed is 60 feet, and she can cast spells and act underwater without hindrance.

Moderate abjuration and transmutation; CL 8th; Craft Wondrous Item, freedom of movement, water breathing; Price 15,300 gp.

PERIAPT OF HEALTH

The wearer of this blue gem on a silver chain is immune to disease, including supernatural diseases (see Table 8–2: Diseases, page 292).

Faint conjuration; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, remove disease; Price 7,500 gp.

PERIAPT OF PROOF AGAINST POISON

This item is a brilliant-cut black gem on a delicate silver chain.

The wearer is immune to poison, although poisons still active when the periapt is first donned still run their course.

Faint conjuration; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, neutralize poison; Price 27,000 gp.

PERIAPT OF WISDOM

Although it appears to be a normal pearl on a light chain, a periapt of wisdom actually increases the possessor's Wisdom score in the form of an enhancement bonus of +2, +4, or +6 (depending on the individual item).

Moderate transmutation; CL 8th; Craft Wondrous Item, owl's wisdom; Price 4,000 gp (+2), 16,000 gp (+4), 36,000 gp (+6).

PERIAPT OF WOUND CLOSURE

This stone is bright red and dangles on a gold chain.

The wearer of this periapt automatically becomes stable if his hit points drop to between -1 and -9 inclusive.

The periapt doubles the wearer's normal rate of healing or allows normal healing of wounds that would not do so normally.

Hit point damage that involves bleeding (such as damage caused by the horned devil's infernal wound ability; see page 55 of the Monster Manual), is negated for the wearer of the periapt, but he is still susceptible to damage from bleeding that causes Constitution loss, such as that dealt by a wounding weapon.

Moderate conjuration; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, heal; Price 15,000 gp.

PHYLACTERY OF FAITHFULNESS

This item is a small box containing religious scripture affixed to a leather cord and tied around the forehead. There is no mundane way to determine what function this religious item performs until it is worn.

The wearer of a phylactery of faithfulness is aware of any action or item that could adversely affect his alignment and his standing with his deity, including magical effects.

He acquires this information prior to performing such an action or becoming associated with such an item if he takes a moment to contemplate the act.

Faint divination; CL 1st; Craft Wondrous Item, detect chaos, detect evil, detect good, detect law; Price 1,000 gp.

PHYLACTERY OF UNDEAD TURNING

This item is a boon to any character able to turn undead, allowing him to do so as if his class level were four levels higher than it actually is.

Moderate necromancy [good]; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, 10th-level cleric; Price 11,000 gp.

PIPES OF HAUNTING

This magic item appears to be a small set of pan pipes. When played by a person who succeeds on a DC 15 Perform (wind instruments) check, the pipes create an eerie, spellbinding tune.

Those within 30 feet who hear the tune must succeed on a DC 13 Will save or become frightened for 4 rounds.

Creatures with 6 or more Hit Dice are unaffected.

Pipes of haunting can be sounded twice a day.

Faint necromancy; CL 4th; Craft Wondrous Item, scare; Price 6,000 gp; Weight 3 lb.

PIPES OF PAIN

These appear to be like any other standard set of pipes with nothing to reveal their true nature.

When played by someone who succeeds on a DC 15 Perform (wind instruments) check, the pipes create a wondrous melody.

All within 30 feet must make a DC 14 Will save or be fascinated by the sound.

(This is a mind-affecting sonic compulsion).

As soon as the piping stops, all those affected are stricken by intense pain at even the slightest noise.

Unless a character is in a totally silent area, she takes 1d4 points of damage per round for 2d4 rounds.

During this time, damage from sonic attacks, such as sound burst, is doubled.

Thereafter, the least noise causes an affected character to become shaken (except when she is in a totally silent area).

This hypersensitivity is a curse and therefore hard to remove (see the bestow curse spell).

Faint enchantment and evocation; CL 6th; Craft Wondrous Item, creator must have the bardic music class feature, sound burst; Price 12,000 gp; Weight 3 lb.

PIPES OF THE SEWERS

These wooden pipes appear ordinary, but if the possessor learns the proper tune, he can attract 1d3 rat swarms (see page 239 of the Monster Manual) if rats are within 400 feet. For each 50-foot distance the rats have to travel, there is a 1-round delay.

The piper must continue playing until the rats appear, and when they do so, the piper must make a DC 10 Perform (wind instruments) check.

Success means that they obey the piper's telepathic commands so long as he continues to play.

Failure indicates that they turn on the piper.

If for any reason the piper ceases playing, the rats leave immediately.

If they are called again within a day, the Perform check DC is 15.

If the rats are under the control of another creature, add the HD of the controller to the Perform check DC.

Once control is assumed, another check is required each round to maintain it if the other creature is actively seeking to reassert its control.

Faint conjuration; CL 2nd; Craft Wondrous Item, charm animal, summon nature's ally I, wild empathy ability; Price 1,150 gp; Weight 3 lb.

PIPES OF SOUNDING

When played by a character who has the Perform (wind instruments) skill, these pipes create a variety of sounds. The figment sounds are the equivalent of ghost sound (caster level 2nd).

Faint illusion; CL 2nd; Craft Wondrous Item, ghost sound; Price 1,800 gp; Weight 3 lb.

PORTABLE HOLE

A portable hole is a circle of cloth spun from the webs of a phase spider interwoven with strands of ether and beams of starlight.

When opened fully, a portable hole is 6 feet in diameter, but it can be folded up to be as small as a pocket handkerchief.

When spread upon any surface, it causes an extradimensional space 10 feet deep to come into being. This hole can be picked up from inside or out by simply taking hold of the edges of the cloth and folding it up. Either way, the entrance disappears, but anything inside the hole remains.

The only air in the hole is that which enters when the hole is opened.

It contains enough air to supply one Medium creature or two Small creatures for 10 minutes.

(See Suffocation, page 304).

The cloth does not accumulate weight even if its hole is filled (with gold, for example).

Each portable hole opens on its own particular nondimensional space.

If a bag of holding (see page 248) is placed within a portable hole, a rift to the Astral Plane is torn in that place.

Both the bag and the cloth are sucked into the void and forever lost.

If a portable hole is placed within a bag of holding, it opens a gate to the Astral Plane.

The hole, the bag, and any creatures within a 10-foot radius are drawn there, the portable hole and bag of holding being destroyed in the process.

Moderate conjuration; CL 12th; Craft Wondrous Item, plane shift; Price 20,000 gp.

QUAAL'S FEATHER TOKEN

Each of these items is a small feather that has a power to suit a special need.

The kinds of tokens are described below.

Each token is usable once.

Anchor: A token useful to moor a craft in water so as to render it immobile for up to one day.

Bird: A token that can be used to deliver a small written message unerringly to a designated target as would a carrier pigeon.

The token lasts as long as it takes to carry the message.

Fan: A token that forms a huge flapping fan, causing a breeze of sufficient strength to propel one ship (about 25 mph).

This wind is not cumulative with existing wind speed—if a severe wind is already blowing, for example, this wind cannot be added to it to create a windstorm.

The token can, however, be used to lessen existing winds, creating an area of relative calm or lighter winds (but wave size in a storm is not affected).

The fan can be used for up to 8 hours.

It does not function on land.

Swan Boat: A token that forms a swan-like boat capable of moving on water at a speed of 60 feet.

It can carry eight horses and gear or thirty-two Medium characters or any equivalent combination.

The boat lasts for one day.

Tree: A token that causes a great oak to spring into being (5-foot-diameter trunk, 60-foot height, 40-foot top diameter).

This is an instantaneous effect.

Whip: A token that forms into a huge leather whip and wields itself against any opponent desired just like a dancing weapon (see page 224).

The weapon has a +10 base attack bonus, does 1d6+1 points of damage, has a +1 enhancement bonus on attack and damage rolls, and makes a free grapple attack (with a +15 attack bonus) if it hits.

The whip lasts no longer than 1 hour.

Moderate conjuration; CL 12th; Craft Wondrous Item, major creation; Price 50 gp (anchor), 300 gp (bird), 200 gp (fan), 450 gp (swan boat), 400 gp (tree), 500 gp (whip).

QUIVER OF EHLONNA

This appears to be a typical arrow container capable of holding about twenty arrows.

It has three distinct portions, each with a nondimensional space allowing it to store far more than would normally be possible.

The first and smallest one can contain up to sixty objects of the same general size and shape as an arrow.

The second slightly longer compartment holds up to eighteen objects of the same general size and shape as a javelin.

The third and longest portion of the case contains as many as six objects of the same general size and shape as a bow (spears, staves, or the like).

Once the owner has filled it, the quiver can produce any item she wishes, as if from a regular quiver or scabbard.

The quiver of Ehlonna weighs the same no matter what's placed inside it.

Moderate conjuration; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's secret chest; Price 1,800 gp; Weight 2 lb.

RING GATES

These always come in pairs—two iron rings, each about 18 inches in diameter.

The rings must be on the same plane of existence and within 100 miles of each other to function.

Whatever is put through one ring comes out the other, and up to 100 pounds of material can be transferred each day. (Objects only partially pushed through and then retracted do not count).

This useful device allows for instantaneous transport of items or messages, and even attacks.

A character can reach through to grab things near the other ring, or even stab a weapon through if so desired.

Alternatively, a character could stick his head through to look around.

A spellcaster could even cast a spell through a ring gate.

A Small character can make a DC 13 Escape Artist check to slip through.

Creatures of Tiny, Diminutive, or Fine size can pass through easily.

Each ring has a "entry side" and an "exit side", both marked with appropriate symbols.

Strong conjuration; CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, gate; Price 40,000 gp; Weight 1 lb. each.

ROBE OF THE ARCHMAGI

This normal-appearing garment can be white (01–45 on d%, good alignment), gray (46–75, neither good nor evil alignment), or black (76–100, evil alignment).

Its wearer, if an arcane spellcaster, gains the following powers.

- +5 armor bonus to AC.
- Spell resistance 18.
- +4 resistance bonus on all saving throws.
- +2 enhancement bonus on caster level checks made to overcome spell resistance.

If a white robe is donned by an evil character, she immediately gains three negative levels.

The reverse is true with respect to a black robe donned by a good character.

An evil or good character who puts on a gray robe, or a neutral character who dons either a white or black robe, gains two negative levels.

While these negative levels never result in lost levels, they remain as long as the garment is worn and cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells).

Strong varied; CL 14th; Craft Wondrous Item, antimagic field, mage armor or shield of faith, creator must be of same alignment as robe; Price 75,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

ROBE OF BLENDING

When this robe is put on, the wearer intuitively knows that the garment has very special properties.

A robe of blending enables its wearer to appear to be part of his surroundings.

This allows him a +10 competence bonus on Hide checks.

The wearer can adopt the appearance of another creature, as with the disguise self spell, at will.

All creatures acquainted with and friendly to the wearer see him normally.

Moderate illusion; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, disguise self; Price 30,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

ROBE OF BONES

This handy item functions much like a robe of useful items for the serious necromancer.

It appears to be an unremarkable robe, but a character who dons it notes that it is adorned with small embroidered figures representing undead creatures.

Only the wearer of the robe can see the embroidery and recognize them for the creatures they become, and detach them.

One figure can be detached each round.

Detaching a figure causes it to become an actual undead creature (see the list below).

The skeleton or zombie is not under the control of the wearer of the robe, but may be subsequently commanded, rebuked, turned, or destroyed.

A newly created robe of bones always has two embroidered figures of each of the following undead.

- Small goblin skeleton
- Medium human commoner skeleton
- Medium wolf skeleton
- Small goblin zombie
- Medium human commoner zombie
- Medium wolf zombie Moderate necromancy [evil]; CL 6th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate dead; Price 2,400 gp; Weight 1 lb.

ROBE OF EYES

This valuable garment appears to be a normal robe until it is put on.

Its wearer is able to see in all directions at the same moment due to scores of visible, magical eye-like patterns that adorn the robe.

She also gains 120-foot darkvision.

The robe of eyes sees all forms of invisible or ethereal things within 120 feet.

The wearer of a robe of eyes gains a +10 competence bonus on Search checks and Spot checks.

She retains her Dexterity bonus to AC even when flat-footed, and she can't be flanked.

However, she is not able to avert her eyes or close her eyes when confronted by a creature with a gaze attack.

A light or continual flame spell cast directly on a robe of eyes causes it to be blinded for 1d3 minutes.

A daylight spell blinds it for 2d4 minutes.

Moderate divination; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, true seeing; Price 120,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

ROBE OF SCINTILLATING COLORS

The wearer of this robe can cause the garment to display a shifting pattern of incredible hues, color after color cascading from the upper part of the robe to the hem in sparkling rainbows of dazzling light.

The colors daze those near the wearer, conceal the wearer, and illuminate the surroundings.

It takes 1 full round after the wearer speaks the command word for the colors to start flowing on the robe.

The colors create the equivalent of a gaze attack with a 30-foot range.

Those who look at the wearer are dazed for 1d4+1 rounds (Will DC 16 negates).

This is a mind-affecting pattern effect.

Every round of continuous scintillation of the robe gives the wearer better concealment.

The miss chance on attacks against the wearer starts at 10% and increases by 10% each round until it reaches 50% (total concealment).

The robe illuminates a 30-foot radius continuously.

The effect can be used no more than a total of 10 rounds per day.

Moderate illusion; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, blur, rainbow pattern; Price 27,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

ROBE OF STARS

This garment is typically black or dark blue and embroidered with small white or silver stars.

The robe has three magical powers.

- It enables its wearer to travel physically to the Astral Plane, along with all that she is wearing or carrying.
- It gives its wearer a +1 luck bonus on all saving throws.
- Its wearer can use up to six of the embroidered stars on the chest portion of the robe as +5 shuriken.

The robe grants its wearer proficiency with such weapons. Each shuriken disappears after it is used.

Strong varied; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, magic missile, astral projection or plane shift; Price 58,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

ROBE OF USEFUL ITEMS

This appears to be an unremarkable robe, but a character who dons it notes that it is adorned with small cloth patches of various shapes.

Only the wearer of the robe can see these patches, recognize them for what items they become, and detach them.

One patch can be detached each round.

Detaching a patch causes it to become an actual item, as indicated below.

A newly created robe of useful items always has two each of the following patches.

- Dagger
- Bullseye lantern (filled and lit)
- Mirror (a highly polished 2-foot-by-4-foot steel mirror)
- Pole (10-foot length)
- Hempen rope (50-foot coil)

• Sack In addition, the robe has several other patches.

Roll 4d4 for the number of other patches and then roll for each patch on the table below to determine its nature.

d%	Result
01–08	Bag of 100 gold pieces
09–15	Coffer, silver (6 in. by 6 in. by 1 ft.), 500 gp value
16–22	Door, iron (up to 10 ft. wide and 10 ft. high and barred on one side—must be placed upright, attaches and hinges itself)
23–30	Gems, 10 (100 gp value each)
31–44	Ladder, wooden (24 ft. long)
45–51	Mule (with saddle bags)
52–59	Pit, open (10 ft. by 10 ft. by 10 ft.)
60–68	Potion of cure serious wounds
69–75	Rowboat (12 ft. long)
76–83	Minor scroll of one randomly determined spell
84–90	War dogs, pair (treat as riding dogs)
91–96	Window (2 ft. by 4 ft., up to 2 ft. deep)
97–100	Portable ram

Multiple items of the same kind are permissible.

Once removed, a patch cannot be replaced.

Moderate transmutation; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, fabricate; Price 7,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

ROPE OF CLIMBING

A 60-foot-long rope of climbing is no thicker than a wand, but it is strong enough to support 3,000 pounds.

Upon command, the rope snakes forward, upward, downward, or in any other direction at 10 feet per round, attaching itself securely wherever its owner desires.

It can unfasten itself and return in the same manner.

A rope of climbing can be commanded to knot or unknit itself.

This causes large knots to appear at 1-foot intervals along the rope.

Knotting shortens the rope to a 50-foot length until the knots are untied but lowers the DC of Climb checks while using it by 10.

A creature must hold one end of the rope when its magic is invoked.

Faint transmutation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, animate rope; Price 3,000 gp; Weight 3 lb.

ROPE OF ENTANGLEMENT

A rope of entanglement looks just like any other hempen rope about 30 feet long.

Upon command, the rope lashes forward 20 feet or upward 10 feet to entangle a victim.

An entangled creature can break free with a DC 20 Strength check or a DC 20 Escape Artist check.

The rope has AC 22, 12 hit points, and hardness 10, and it has damage reduction 5/slashing as well.

The rope repairs damage to itself at a rate of 1 point per 5 minutes, but if a rope of entanglement is severed (all 12 hit points lost to damage), it is destroyed.

Moderate transmutation; CL 12th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects, animate rope, entangle; Price 21,000 gp; Weight 5 lb.

SALVE OF SLIPPERINESS

This substance provides a +20 competence bonus on all Escape Artist checks, meaning that it is almost impossible to grapple such a character or to tie or chain him up.

In addition, such obstructions as webs (magical or otherwise) do not affect an anointed individual.

Magic ropes and the like do not avail against this salve.

If it is smeared on a floor or on steps, the area should be treated as a long-lasting grease spell.

The salve requires 8 hours to wear off normally, or it can be wiped off with an alcohol solution (even wine).

Salve of slipperiness is needed to coat the inside of a container that is meant to hold sovereign glue (see below).

Faint conjuration; CL 6th; Craft Wondrous Item, grease; Price 1,000 gp.

SCABBARD OF KEEN EDGES

This scabbard is fashioned from cured leather and fine silver.

It can shrink or enlarge to accommodate any knife, dagger, sword, or similar weapon up to and including a greatsword.

Up to three times per day on command, the scabbard casts keen edge on any blade placed within it.

Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, keen edge; Price 16,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

SCARAB OF PROTECTION

This device appears to be a silver medallion in the shape of a beetle.

If it is held for 1 round, an inscription appears on its surface letting the holder know that it is a protective device.

The scarab's possessor gains spell resistance 20.

The scarab can also absorb energy-draining attacks (such as the slam attack of a vampire spawn), death effects (such as finger of death), and negative energy effects (such as from an inflict critical wounds spell).

Upon absorbing twelve such attacks, the scarab turns to powder and is destroyed.

Strong abjuration and necromancy; CL 18th; Craft Wondrous Item, death ward, spell resistance; Price 38,000 gp.

SCARAB, GOLEMBANE

This beetle-shaped pin enables its wearer to detect any golem within 60 feet, although he must concentrate (a standard action) in order for the detection to take place.

A scarab enables its possessor to combat golems with weapons, unarmed attacks, or natural weapons as if those golems had no damage reduction.

Moderate divination; CL 8th; Craft Wondrous Item, detect magic, creator must be at least 10th level; Price 2,500 gp.

SHROUDS OF DISINTEGRATION

These burial wrappings look to be made of fine, embroidered materials.

When a body is placed inside, a command word will turn it to dust.

The magic of the shrouds is usable only once, after which the wrappings become ordinary, fine cloth.

Strong transmutation; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, disintegrate; Price 6,600 gp; Weight 10 lb.

SILVERSHEEN

This substance can be applied to a weapon as a standard action.

It will give the weapon the properties of alchemical silver (see page 284) for 1 hour, replacing the properties of any other special material it might have.

For example, a +1 holy adamantite longsword becomes a +1 holy silver longsword for the duration of the effect.

One vial will coat a single melee weapon or 20 units of ammunition.

Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item; Price 250 gp.

SLIPPERS OF SPIDER CLIMBING

When worn, a pair of these slippers enable movement on vertical surfaces or even upside down along ceilings, leaving the wearer's hands free.

Her speed is 20 feet.

Severely slippery surfaces—icy, oiled, or greased surfaces—make these slippers useless.

The slippers can be used for 10 minutes per day, split up as the wearer chooses.

Faint transmutation; CL 4th; Craft Wondrous Item, spider climb; Price 4,800 gp; Weight 1/2 lb.

SOVEREIGN GLUE

This pale amber substance is thick and viscous.

Because of its particular powers, it can be contained only in a flask whose inside has been coated with 1 ounce of salve of slipperiness (see the previous page), and each time any of the bonding agent is poured from the flask, a new application of the salve of slipperiness must be put in the flask within 1 round to prevent the remaining glue from adhering to the side of the container.

A flask of sovereign glue, when found, holds anywhere from 1 to 7 ounces of the stuff (1d8–1, minimum 1), with the other ounce of the flask's capacity taken up by the salve of slipperiness.

One ounce of this adhesive covers 1 square foot of surface, bonding virtually any two substances together in a permanent union.

The glue takes 1 round to set.

If the objects are pulled apart (a move action) before that time has elapsed, that application of the glue loses its stickiness and is worthless.

If the glue is allowed to set, then attempting to separate the two bonded objects has no effect, except when universal solvent is applied to the bond.

(Sovereign glue is dissolved by universal solvent).

Strong transmutation; CL 20th; Craft Wondrous Item, make whole; Price 2,400 gp (per ounce).

STONE OF ALARM

This stone cube, when given the command word, affixes itself to any object.

If that object is touched thereafter by anyone who does not first speak that same command word, the stone emits a piercing screech for 1 hour that can be heard up to a quarter-mile away (assuming no intervening barriers).

Faint abjuration; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, alarm; Price 2,700 gp; Weight 2 lb.

STONE OF CONTROLLING EARTH ELEMENTALS

A stone of this nature is typically an oddly shaped bit of roughly polished rock.

The possessor of such a stone need but utter a few words of summoning, and a Huge earth elemental comes to the summoner.

The summoning words require 1 full round to speak, and in all ways the stone functions as the summon monster VII spell.

(If sand or rough, unhewn stone is the summoning medium, the elemental that comes is Large instead, and the stone functions as the summon monster VI spell).

The elemental appears in 1d4 rounds.

For detailed information about elementals, see page 95 of the Monster Manual.

Only one elemental can be summoned at a time.

A new elemental requires a new patch of earth or stone, which cannot be accessed until after the first elemental disappears (is dispelled, dismissed, or slain).

Strong conjuration; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster VI, summon monster VII; Price 100,000 gp; Weight 5 lb.

STONE OF GOOD LUCK (LUCKSTONE)

This stone is typically a bit of rough polished agate or some similar mineral.

Its possessor gains a +1 luck bonus on saving throws, ability checks, and skill checks.

Faint evocation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, divine favor; Price 20,000 gp.

STONE HORSE

Each item of this nature appears to be a full-sized, roughly hewn statue of a horse, carved from some type of hard stone.

A command word brings the steed to life, enabling it to carry a burden and even to attack as if it were a real horse of the appropriate kind.

A stone horse can carry 1,000 pounds tirelessly and never needs to rest or feed.

Damage dealt to it can be repaired by first using a stone to flesh spell, thus causing the stone horse to become a normal horse that can be healed normally.

When fully healed, it automatically reverts to its stone form.

While in its stone form, it can be fed gems, healing 1 point of damage for each 50 gp worth of mineral it is given.

There are two sorts of stone horses.

Courser: This item has the statistics of a heavy horse (see page 273 of the Monster Manual), as well as having hardness 10.

Destrier: This item has the statistics of a heavy warhorse (see page 273 of the Monster Manual), as well as having hardness 10.

Strong transmutation; CL 14th; Craft Wondrous Item, flesh to stone, animate objects; Price 10,000 gp (courser) or 14,800 gp (destrier); Weight 6,000 lb.

STONE SALVE

This ointment has two uses.

If an ounce of it is applied to the flesh of a petrified creature, it returns the creature to flesh as the stone to flesh spell.

If an ounce of it is applied to the flesh of a nonpetrified creature, it protects the creature as a stoneskin spell.

Strong abjuration and transmutation; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, flesh to stone, stoneskin; Price 4,000 gp per ounce.

STRAND OF PRAYER BEADS

This item appears to be a normal string of prayer beads until the owner casts a divine spell.

Once that occurs, the owner instantly knows the powers of the prayer beads and how to activate them.

Each strand includes two or more special beads, each with a different magic power.

Special Bead Type	Special Bead Ability
Bead of blessing	Wearer can cast bles .
Bead of healing	Wearer can cast his choice of cure serious wounds , remove blindness/deafness , or remove disease .
Bead of karma	Wearer casts his spells at +4 caster level. Effect lasts 10 minutes.
Bead of smiting	Wearer can cast chaos hammer , holy smite , order's wrath , or unholy blight (Will DC 17 partial).
Bead of summons	Summons a powerful creature of appropriate alignment from the Outer Planes (an angel, devil, etc.) to aid the wearer for one day. (If the wearer uses the bead of summons to summon a deity's emissary frivolously, the deity takes that character's items and places a geas upon him as punishment in the very least.)
Bead of wind walking	Wearer can cast wind walk .

A lesser strand of prayer beads has a bead of blessing and a bead of healing.

A strand of prayer beads has a bead of healing, a bead of karma, and a bead of smiting.

A greater strand of prayer beads has a bead of healing, a bead of karma, a bead of summons, and a bead of wind walking.

Each special bead can be used once per day, except for the bead of summons, which works only once and then becomes nonmagical.

The beads of blessing, smiting, and wind walking function as spell trigger items; the beads of karma and summons can be activated by any character capable of casting divine spells. The owner need not hold or wear the strand of prayer beads in any specific location, as long as he carries it somewhere on his person.

The power of a special bead is lost if it is removed from the strand.

Reduce the price of a strand of prayer beads that is missing one or more beads by the following amounts: bead of blessing –600 gp, bead of healing –9,000 gp, bead of karma –20,000 gp, bead of smiting –16,800 gp, bead of summons –20,000 gp, bead of wind walking –46,800 gp.

Faint, moderate or strong (many schools); CL 1st (blessing), 5th (healing), 7th (smiting), 9th (karma), 11th (wind walking), 17th (summons); Craft Wondrous Items and one of the following spells per bead, as appropriate: bles (blessing); cure serious wounds, remove blindness/deafness, or remove disease (healing); righteous might (karma); gate (summons); chaos hammer, holy smite, order's wrath, or unholy blight (smiting); wind walk (wind walking); Price 9,600 gp (lesser), 25,800 gp (standard), 95,800 gp (greater).

TOME OF CLEAR THOUGHT

This heavy book contains instruction on improving memory and logic, but entwined within the words is a powerful magical effect.

If anyone reads this book, which takes a total of 48 hours over a minimum of six days, she gains an inherent bonus of from +1 to +5 (depending on the type of tome) to her Intelligence score.

Once the book is read, the magic disappears from the pages and it becomes a normal book.

Because the tome of clear thought provides an inherent bonus, the reader will earn extra skill points when she attains a new level (unlike with the benefit provided by a headband of intellect).

Strong evocation (if miracle is used); CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, miracle or wish; Price 27,500 gp (+1), 55,000 gp (+2), 82,500 gp (+3), 110,000 gp (+4), 137,500 gp (+5); Cost 1,250 gp + 5,100 XP (+1), 2,500 gp + 10,200 XP (+2), 3,750 gp + 15,300 XP (+3), 5,000 gp + 20,400 XP (+4), 6,250 gp + 25,500 XP (+5); Weight 5 lb.

TOME OF LEADERSHIP AND INFLUENCE

This ponderous book details suggestions for persuading and inspiring others, but entwined within the words is a powerful magical effect.

If anyone reads this book, which takes a total of 48 hours over a minimum of six days, he gains an inherent bonus of from +1 to +5 (depending on the type of tome) to his Charisma score.

Once the book is read, the magic disappears from the pages and it becomes a normal book.

Strong evocation (if miracle is used); CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, miracle or wish; Price 27,500 gp (+1), 55,000 gp (+2), 82,500 gp (+3), 110,000 gp (+4), 137,500 gp (+5); Cost 1,250 gp + 5,100 XP (+1), 2,500 gp + 10,200 XP (+2), 3,750 gp + 15,300 XP (+3), 5,000 gp + 20,400 XP (+4), 6,250 gp + 25,500 XP (+5); Weight 5 lb.

TOME OF UNDERSTANDING

This thick book contains tips for improving instinct and perception, but entwined within the words is a powerful magical effect.

If anyone reads this book, which takes a total of 48 hours over a minimum of six days, she gains an inherent bonus of from +1 to +5 (depending on the type of tome) to her Wisdom score.

Once the book is read, the magic disappears from the pages and it becomes a normal book.

Strong evocation (if miracle is used); CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, miracle or wish; Price 27,500 gp (+1), 55,000 gp (+2), 82,500 gp (+3), 110,000 gp (+4), 137,500 gp (+5); Cost 1,250 gp + 5,100 XP (+1), 2,500 gp + 10,200 XP (+2), 3,750 gp + 15,300 XP (+3), 5,000 gp + 20,400 XP (+4), 6,250 gp + 25,500 XP (+5); Weight 5 lb.

UNGUENT OF TIMELESSNESS

When applied to any matter that was once alive (leather, leaves, paper, wood, dead flesh, and so on), this ointment allows that substance to resist the passage of time.

Each year of actual time affects the substance as if only a day had passed.

The coated object gains a +1 resistance bonus on all saving throws.

The unguent never wears off, although it can be magically removed (by dispelling the effect, for instance).

One flask contains enough material to coat eight Medium or smaller objects.

A Large object counts as two Medium objects, and a Huge object counts as two Large objects.

Faint transmutation; CL 3rd; Prerequisite: Craft Wondrous Item; Price 150 gp.

UNIVERSAL SOLVENT

This substance has the unique property of being able to dissolve sovereign glue (see page 266), tanglefoot bags (see page 128 of the Player's Handbook), and the adhesive created by a kuo-toa (see page 163 of the Monster Manual).

Applying the solvent is a standard action.

Strong transmutation; CL 20th; Craft Wondrous Item, disintegrate; Price 50 gp.

VEST OF ESCAPE

Hidden within secret pockets of this simple silk vest are lockpicks that provide a +4 competence bonus on Open Lock checks.

The vest also grants its wearer a +6 competence bonus on Escape Artist checks.

Faint conjuration and transmutation; CL 4th; Craft Wondrous Item, knock, grease; Price 5,200 gp.

VESTMENT, DRUID'S

This light garment is worn over normal clothing or armor. Most such vestments are green, embroidered with plant or animal motifs.

When this item is worn by a character with the wild shape ability, the character can use that ability one additional time each day.

Moderate transmutation; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, polymorph or wild shape ability; Price 10,000 gp.

WELL OF MANY WORLDS

This strange, interdimensional device looks just like a portable hole.

Anything placed within it is immediately cast to another world—a parallel world, another planet, or a different plane, at the DM's option or by random determination. If the well is moved, the random factor again comes into play.

It can be picked up, folded, or rolled, just as a portable hole can be.

Objects from the world the well touches can come through the opening just as easily as from the initiating place. (It is a two-way portal).

Strong conjuration; CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, gate; Price 82,000 gp.

WIND FAN

A wind fan appears to be nothing more than a wood and papyrus or cloth instrument with which to create a cooling breeze.

By uttering the command word, its possessor causes the fan to generate air movement duplicating a gust of wind spell.

The fan can be used once per day with no risk.

If it is used more frequently, there is a 20% cumulative chance per usage during that day that the device tears into useless, nonmagical tatters.

Faint evocation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, gust of wind; Price 5,500 gp.

WINGS OF FLYING

A pair of these wings might appear to be nothing more than a plain cloak of old, black cloth, or they could be as elegant as a long cape of blue feathers.

When the wearer speaks the command word, the cloak turns into a pair of bat or bird wings that empower her to fly with a speed of 60 feet (good maneuverability).

Moderate transmutation; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, fly; Price 54,000 gp; Weight 2 lb.

DUNGEON MASTER'S GUIDE 2 (3.5)

BRACELETS OF SPELL SHARING

These paired bracelets allow two different wearers to share spells.

Description: A set of bracelets of spell sharing consists of two light, silvery bracelets inlaid with pearl.

When a spell is shared between two wearers, the pearl inlays in each bracelet briefly flash with a blue radiance equivalent to the light of a candle.

Activation: As long as each of the two bracelets in a given pair is worn by a different creature, both are continuously active.

Effect: Any spell with a range of personal and a target of you automatically affects both wearers equally when they are within 60 feet of each other.

The duration of the effect on each wearer, however, is halved.

If this adjustment results in a duration of less than 1 round, the spell fails.

The bracelets can share only one spell at a time.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate transmutation; CL 10th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, share spell ability or shield other, 30,000 gp (for pair), 2,400 XP, 60 days.

Weight: —.

Price: 60,000 gp.

CASTING GLOVE

A casting glove is a spellcaster's best friend.

Like a glove of storing, a casting glove stores one item weighing up to 20 pounds.

However, the wearer can make use of a stored potion, rod, scroll, staff, or wand without retrieving it.

The major reason that adventurers prefer to channel the magic of stored items is that doing so does not provoke attacks of opportunity.

Description: A casting glove is a black leather gauntlet with small silver and gold runes around the tip of each finger.

Because the magic used in its creation smoothes out any imperfections in the leather and eliminates any seams, the glove feels smooth to the touch.

When the wearer snaps her fingers, the runes on the fingertips flash briefly.

When she uses the glove to summon or store an item, arcane energy crackles between her fingers.

Activation: A casting glove has two functions.

Storing or retrieving an item requires a command word but is a free action.

Using a magic item without first retrieving it requires a standard action.

Effect: On the wearer's command, one item held in the hand wearing the glove disappears and is stored in it, as with a glove of storing.

The item can weigh no more than 20 pounds, and the wearer must be able to hold it in one hand.

The item is actually shrunk down so small that it cannot be seen and is held in stasis within the glove.

While thus stored, the item has negligible weight.

By snapping the fingers of the hand wearing the glove, the wearer causes the item to reappear.

A glove stores only one item at a time.

Spell durations are not arrested; any active spell effects continue to run normally.

If an effect is suppressed or dispelled, the stored item reappears instantly.

The effect that distinguishes a casting glove from a glove of storing is the former's ability to channel the magic of certain items without retrieving them.

Once per round, the wearer of a casting glove can call upon one effect of a stored potion, rod, wand, scroll, or staff as if he were holding the item in his hand.

Potions function as if the wearer had drunk them, and scrolls function as if the wearer had read them.

(Later, when the wearer retrieves these items, the scroll page is blank, and the potion vial is empty).

Channeling the power of a rod, staff, or wand in this way expends charges from it normally, and the effect is generated as if the wearer were holding the item.

If the item has multiple functions, the wearer chooses one in the normal fashion.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate transmutation; CL 11th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, shrink item, 10,000 gp, 800 XP, 20 days.

Weight: —.

Price: 25,000 gp.

DAZZIX'S VEST

Daazzix's vest is a boon to anyone who possesses spell resistance.

The vest increases the wearer's defenses against magic, making him nearly invulnerable to spells except from the most potent of casters.

Lore: Characters can gain the following pieces of information about Daazzix's vest by making Knowledge (history) or Knowledge (dungeoneering) checks at the appropriate DCs, as given below.

DC 20: The first Daazzix's vest was created by a drow wizard fearful of his mistress's wrath.

Daazzix created the vest in the hopes of overthrowing his tyrannical sisters.

DC 30: To aid his innate defenses against his sisters' divine magic, Daazzix crafted the vest and arrogantly named it after himself.

Unfortunately, while the vest saved him from their magic, he failed to calculate the effects their maces would have on his head.

Description: Each Daazzix's vest is made from black silk, and the buttons are shards of stone chipped from a stone golem.

Both buttons and vest are inscribed with runes that are also used in the rituals of golem creation.

The silk is soft to the touch, and its sheen never grows dull.

Activation: Daazzix's vest functions only for a creature that already possesses spell resistance, either from an innate ability (such as drow have) or from another magic item (such as a mantle of spell resistance).

Once it is donned by such a creature, the vest is always active.

If the wearer loses his other source of spell resistance (for example, if his mantle of spell resistance is destroyed or suppressed), he immediately loses the benefit of Daazzix's vest as well.

Effect: Daazzix's vest increases the wearer's existing spell resistance by 5.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate abjuration; CL 9th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, spell resistance, 12,500 gp, 1,000 XP, 25 days.

Weight: 1 lb.

Price: 25,000 gp.

DOMAIN DRAUGHT

The imbiber of a domain draught gains temporary access to the clerical domain with which it is associated.

Description: These potent elixirs appear in different shades, but each comes in a small, translucent vial inscribed with religious iconography.

A successful DC 15 Knowledge (religion) check identifies the draught's cleric domain from the iconography on the bottle.

Activation: Like all elixirs, a domain draught is a one-use item that is activated on consumption.

Effect: Upon drinking a domain draught, the user gains access to its associated cleric domain for 24 hours.

She can use the domain's granted power, and if she normally prepares domain spells, she can choose them from the list for the draught's domain as well as her own until the effect expires.

If the imbiber gains access to a domain that is opposed to her alignment and prepares domain spells from its list, she might need to atone for that deed (DM's discretion).

Aura/Caster Level: Strong universal; CL 20th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, access to associated domain, 4,000 gp, 320 XP, 8 days.

Weight: —.

Price: 8,000 gp.

ELIXIR OF RECKONING

A character who consumes an elixir of reckoning is assuming the worst.

Its power activates only when the imbiber falls in battle, detonating his body in a spectacular explosion.

Though suicide troopers in the service of evil warlords commonly use elixirs of reckoning, heroes sometimes find use for them when they face odds that they know they cannot overcome.

Description: The elixir is a brilliant, crimson liquid that bubbles and churns with potent magical energy.

The vial that holds it is constructed of extra-thick glass, as if to protect those who carry it against the devastating power of the liquid inside.

When the seal is broken on a vial of elixir of reckoning, the liquid inside flashes and flares in a brief surge of power.

It has a slight scent of ozone, almost like the tang in the air after a lightning strike.

Upon consuming the elixir, the imbiber feels a rush of energy, followed by a sense of euphoria and invincibility. Her flesh almost thrums with power, her heart rate increases, and her skin flushes.

This magic is released when she is slain, consuming her body in a blast of magical energy.

Activation: Like all elixirs, an elixir of reckoning is a one-use item that is activated on consumption.

Effect: After consuming an elixir of reckoning, the imbiber's body is filled with unstable magical energy.

If she dies (that is, if her hit points fall to -10 or lower) within 1 hour of imbibing the elixir, her body explodes in a blast of eldritch energy that deals 5d6 points of damage to every creature and object within a 20-foot radius.

Targets in this area can attempt a DC 14 Reflex save to halve the damage.

Remnants of the imbiber's body survive the blast but are distributed around the periphery of the blast radius.

If the imbiber is not slain (that is, if her hit points do not fall to -10 or lower) within 1 hour of consuming the elixir, it has no effect.

Aura/Caster Level: Faint abjuration; CL 5th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, glyph of warding, 413 gp, 33 XP, 1 day.

Variants: Rumors abound of more potent versions of the elixir of reckoning.

Each such elixir deals 10d6 (rather than 5d6) points of damage when the imbiber is slain.

The more powerful version costs 1,650 gp, and its aura strength is moderate.

Weight: —.

Price: 825 gp.

LENSES OF PAIN

With a glance, the wearer of this item deals damage to enemies and possibly weakens their resolve as well.

Lenses of pain give characters the advantage that so many monsters have naturally—they force opponents to avert their eyes or suffer the consequences.

Description: While most lenses are translucent, lenses of pain have a slightly green cast because of the process used to create them.

Like other lenses, these are made to slip over the wearer's eyes.

When so worn, they give the wearer's irises a slightly green hue.

While inactive, the lenses are nearly invisible unless a viewer looks closely at the wearer's eyes.

Once activated, they cause the wearer's eyes to glow a fierce, disturbing, brilliant shade of green.

Activation: Activating the lenses is a standard action.

Once they are active, the wearer need not take any further action to subject his enemies to the basic gaze effect they grant.

However, he can take another standard action to subject one creature to the effect.

The lenses can be active for a total of 10 rounds every 24 hours.

Turning them off is a swift action, and doing so doesn't waste any remaining rounds.

(See page 237 for the definition of a swift action).

The lenses can be activated at different times during a day, but the total number of active rounds in 24 hours cannot exceed ten.

Effect: Lenses of pain grant the wearer a gaze attack (see page 309 of the Monster Manual for a complete description of gaze attacks) that withers the flesh of foes.

While the lenses are active, each creature within 30 feet of the wearer must succeed on a DC 16 Will save every round or take 2d6 points of damage and become sickened.

A successful save negates half the damage and the sickened effect.

A target that successfully saves becomes immune to the effect of the lenses for 24 hours.

An opponent within 30 feet can avoid the effect altogether by averting its eyes and accepting a 50% miss chance on attacks against the wearer.

Alternatively, the wearer can, as a standard action, focus his gaze on a single creature while the lenses are active.

The target creature must immediately make a Will save to avoid the damage and the sickened effect, even if it was averting its eyes at the time.

The wearer can focus his gaze in this manner on a creature that has already become immune to the general effect and subject it to his gaze anyway.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate necromancy; CL 9th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, symbol of pain, 9,500 gp, 760 XP, 19 days.

Weight: —.

Price: 19,000 gp.

LENSES OF TRUE FORM

Those who fear the infiltration of shapechangers favor lenses of true form.

With these lenses in place, the wearer can spot creatures that seek to conceal their true forms through the use of shapechanging.

With just her gaze, the wearer also forces such creatures to reveal their true forms to everyone else.

Description: These lenses appear as small, clear, crystalline constructions.

When placed over the eyes, they become all but invisible.

When the wearer gazes at a shapechanger or other creature that is concealing its true form through a transmutation effect, the lenses glow briefly with a soft white light.

Though the lenses are initially uncomfortable, new wearers usually adjust to them quickly.

When the wearer tries to force a shapechanged creature back into its natural form, her eyes flash with an even brighter white light.

Activation: Lenses of true form are always active while worn.

Placing them over the eyes requires a full-round action and provokes attacks of opportunity.

Both lenses must be worn for the magic to be effective.

Furthermore, the wearer is dazzled (no save) for 1 round after donning the lenses.

Activating the gaze attack is a standard action.

Effect: The wearer of the lenses sees creatures with the shapechanger subtype or creatures under the effect of alter self, polymorph, baleful polymorph, polymorph any object, shapechange, or a similar effect as they truly are.

This ability does not pierce illusory shape-altering abilities such as disguise self; it works only on transmutation effects. In addition, once per day the wearer can try to force a single shapeshifted creature within 30 feet to resume its natural form.

The target creature can attempt a DC 14 Will save to resist; failure means it immediately assumes its natural form, shape, and size, and it cannot assume a different shape for the next 2d4 rounds.

A creature that wears only one lens not only gains no benefit from the lenses but also must make a DC 11 Will save or be dazed for 1 round.

A new save is required at the end of each round until either the single lens is removed or the other lens is donned.

Aura/Caster Level: Strong abjuration and divination; CL 13th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, true seeing, dispel magic, or greater dispel magic, 25,020 gp, 2,002 XP, 51 days.

Weight: —.

Price: 50,040 gp.

MANTLE OF SECOND CHANCES

A mantle of second chances allows its wearer to survive deadly situations or succeed at tasks that seem doomed to failure.

Lore: Characters can gain the following pieces of information about a mantle of second chances by making Knowledge (history) or bardic knowledge checks at the appropriate DCs, as given below.

DC 20: A human bard named Elva who had a knack for getting herself into tight situations designed the original mantle of second chances.

Elva frequently found herself wishing she had one more chance at some task or one more opportunity to avoid misfortune.

DC 25: A mantle of second chances makes its wearer lucky and allows her second chances when none should be possible.

These mantles are flashy in color—suitable for performers—and adorned with symbols of luck.

Description: This mantle is a brilliant shade of blue.

Symbols representing various elements of good fortune are embroidered along its hem.

The material of the mantle is smooth to the touch, like silk, though it seems almost to avoid contact with the skin.

Light and airy, it flutters with the wearer's slightest movements as if it were eager for more activity.

When its magic is activated, the symbols of luck spin and turn along its border.

Activation: The mantle activates in response to the wearer's desire.

Effect: Once per day, the wearer gains the power of good fortune.

He can reroll one roll that he has just made before the DM declares whether it resulted in success or failure.

He must accept the result of the reroll, even if it's worse than the original roll.

The wearer can still access the mantle's power even if he already has a similar ability from a class feature (for example, the granted power of the Luck domain).

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate divination; CL 10th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 8 days.

Weight: —.

Price: 6,000 gp.

QUILL OF RAPID SCRIVENING

A quill of rapid scrivening is an incredible boon for wizards who have little time to scribe spells into their spellbooks.

Description: A quill of rapid scrivening is black overall, but its comfortable gripping surface is inscribed with silvery runes representing stars and constellations.

A many-colored feather graces its end.

When the quill is used to trace a spell, the inlaid stars and constellations glow faintly and shift across the gripping surface.

Activation: To claim the benefit of the quill, the user must touch it to a blank page in his spellbook, then use it to trace the runes of a spell scroll that he has successfully deciphered and understood.

This process requires 10 minutes of effort.

Effect: Once the user has traced the runes of the desired scroll with the quill, the scroll turns blank, and the spell that was on it is automatically transferred onto the previously designated blank page in the spellbook.

Only spells on the wizard spell list can be copied in this manner.

Because it is so responsive and easy to write with, a quill of rapid scrivening is also a boon to forgers.

A user with the Forgery skill gains a +10 competence bonus on Forgery checks made to forge documents.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate transmutation; CL 10th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, arcane mark, read magic, fabricate, 13,500 gp, 1,080 XP, 27 days.

Weight: —.

Price: 27,000 gp.

RIDING BOOTS

These boots allow the wearer to ride into battle like the most experienced cavalier.

Her horsemanship improves tremendously, allowing her to decimate her foes from atop a charging mount.

Description: These calf-high boots are made of smooth, supple leather and have pointed toes.

Comfortable and functional, they are unadorned except for a pair of shining silver spurs.

While these boots are on her feet, a rider feels as one with her mount.

The spurs seem to glow an incandescent blue and leave a tracery of light behind them as the wearer rides into battle.

Activation: Riding boots activate automatically when the wearer mounts a riding animal.

They do not function when she is unmounted.

Effect: Riding boots seem to simply know which commands will bring out the best behavior in any mount.

They react to the animal and correct it when necessary, almost without the wearer's guidance.

While mounted, the wearer gains a +4 bonus on Ride checks made during combat, plus the benefit of the Ride-By Attack feat (even if she lacks the prerequisite).

In addition, if the wearer has the Spirited Charge feat, any charge attacks she makes while mounted and wielding a lance deal  $\times 4$  damage on a critical hit, instead of the normal  $\times 3$ .

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate transmutation; CL 10th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, cat's grace, 6,000 gp, 480 XP, 12 days.

Weight: 2 lb.

Price: 12,000 gp.

ROBE OF THE INFERNO

A robe of the inferno provides the wearer with potent, fiery, magical defenses.

Not only is he protected from fire, but he can also counterattack with it.

The orbs of fire that the robe produces can be launched at enemies from a distance, or ordered to explode around those who would threaten the wearer in melee.

Lore: Characters can gain the following pieces of information about a robe of the inferno by making Knowledge (arcana) or Knowledge (history) checks at the appropriate DCs, as given below.

DC 20 (arcana): A robe of the inferno not only protects the wearer from fire; it also allows her to launch fiery missiles at foes.

DC 30 (arcana or history): The first robe of the inferno was crafted by an elf evoker named Killraith Marcaun, who was badly burned in a fight against a large number of summoned thoguua.

Deeply humiliated by the scarring that resulted, she constructed the robe so that she too could harness the power of fire.

Description: The coal-colored cloth of this robe is decorated with crimson-stitched runes that run around the bottom and up the length of the garment in meandering lines.

The runes are a mixture of arcane formulas and praises to fire written in Ignan, the language of fire elementals.

When the robe is active, the sigils and runes flare up and seem to burn and smolder, as if the flesh beneath it were on fire.

The faint odor of brimstone and a gentle warmth surround the wearer.

The four fiery orbs that give the robe its name zoom around the wearer's body.

Activation: Activating the robe is a swift action that requires a command word.

(See page 237 for the definition of a swift action).

Upon activation, the four orbs of fire that give the robe its name spring from the sleeves and circle around the wearer until she launches them at foes or deactivates the robe (by stating the command word again).

Command words are commonly in Ignan and always have to do with burning; common examples are "shiiirash" (light) and "ssizak" (burn).

Launching one of these orbs at a target within range is a standard action.

Effect: While worn, the robe continuously provides the wearer with a +4 armor bonus to AC.

Its major power, however, is apparent only upon activation. When the command word is spoken, four fiery orbs, each about 6 inches in diameter, spring from the sleeves.

They circle slowly around the wearer's body at about waist height as long as the robe remains active.

When a fire-based attack targets the wearer, the orbs spin more quickly, deflecting the attacks or absorbing their fire. The orbs do not interfere with the wearer's movement or actions in any way.

As long as they are active, the wearer has resistance to fire 10.

The orbs also collectively provide light equivalent to that of a torch.

While the robe is active, any invisible creature that comes within 5 feet of the wearer is automatically outlined in glowing flames, as though from a faerie fire spell, for 10 rounds.

This effect remains in place even if the creature subsequently leaves the 5-foot-radius area.

In addition, the wearer can send one of the fiery orbs streaking toward an enemy as a standard action up to twice per day.

To attack with an orb, the wearer must make a ranged touch attack against a single target within 60 feet.

Failure means the orb misses and explodes harmlessly in a shower of sparks.

Success means it explodes in a 5-foot-radius burst around the target, dealing 8d6 points of fire damage to that creature and leaving it dazzled for 1 round.

A successful DC 16 Fortitude save negates the dazzled effect and half the damage.

Furthermore, the target and any other creatures in that area are outlined in glowing flames for 10 rounds, as though by a faerie fire spell, though only the target suffers the other effects.

Aura/Caster Level: Strong abjuration, divination, and evocation; CL 10th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, scorching ray, resist energy, faerie fire, mage armor, 18,560 gp, 1,485 XP, 38 days.

Weight: 1 lb.

Price: 37,120 gp.

ROGUE'S VEST

Any rogue who finds one of these precious vests counts himself among the most fortunate of scoundrels.

A rogue's vest enhances the wearer's natural roguish abilities, making him more effective as both a scout and a combatant.

Lore: Characters can gain the following pieces of information about a rogue's vest by making Knowledge (arcana) checks at the appropriate DCs, as given below.

DC 20: A rogue's vest enhances a rogue's ability to deal devastating damage to unprepared or flanked opponents.

DC 30: A female halfling arcane trickster named Lena Wanderingeye created the first rogue's vest.

Not satisfied with her already powerful abilities, she created the vest to further enhance her natural talents.

She wore her rogue's vest for many years before passing the secret of its creation on to the arcane spellcasters of the caravan into which she eventually retired.

Description: This slick-looking, black vest is made of supple, well-worked leather.

Its buttons are carved of dull, black glass and seem to absorb light rather than reflect it.

Upon donning the vest, the wearer immediately senses that his footsteps are lighter and more fluid, and his ability to leap out of the way of danger is enhanced.

If the wearer also has the sneak attack ability, his sneak attacks seem to strike more true than normal.

Activation: The rogue's vest functions continuously as long as it is worn, requiring no action on the wearer's part to activate.

Effect: When worn, this vest grants its wearer a +2 competence bonus on Hide and Move Silently checks and a +2 bonus on Reflex saves.

In addition, if the wearer has the sneak attack ability as a class feature or a special ability, his sneak attack damage increases by 1d6 as long as he wears the vest.

A character without the sneak attack ability doesn't gain the benefit of this increase.

Aura/Caster Level: Strong illusion; CL 13th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, cat's grace, invisibility, true strike, 14,800 gp, 1,184 XP, 30 days.

Weight: 1 lb.

Price: 29,600 gp.

SCARAB OF STABILIZATION

A boon to any adventurer, a scarab of stabilization protects the wearer from bleeding to death.

Every hero is taxed to the limit and beyond at some point in her adventuring career, and this item allows her to live and fight another day.

Description: This item is a solid gold scarab with obsidian chips for eyes.

Glyphs of protection and health are carved into its carapace. The wearer can make its legs clench or release by depressing a small button at the base of its abdomen.

This feature allows the item to be worn as a cloak clasp or a decorative piece of jewelry.

The scarab functions automatically and continuously while it is worn.

If the wearer falls unconscious as a result of injury, the scarab begins to give off a low, barely audible hum.

Before the wearer even begins to lose blood, a ghostly shape emanates from the scarab, flitting across her body almost more rapidly than the eye can follow.

This ghostly scarab visits the wearer's most serious wounds and staunches any bleeding.

Activation: When the wearer's hit points fall below 0, the scarab activates automatically.

Its secondary power to protect the wearer from death activates automatically if her hit points drop to -10 or lower.

Effect: If the wearer's hit points drop below 0 but she is still alive (above -10 hit points), the scarab of stabilization automatically stabilizes her.

She is still unconscious from her wounds, but she need not make a stabilization check each round to prevent further hit point loss.

If another wound causes her hit points to fall further, the scarab automatically stabilizes her again at her new hit point total, provided that it is still between 0 and -9.

If a wound would drop the wearer to -10 hit points or lower, the secondary power of the scarab activates.

The wearer does not die, but her hit point total becomes -9, and she automatically stabilizes.

This power functions only once; the scarab crumbles into dust as soon as this ability is used.

Aura/Caster Level: Strong conjuration; CL 11th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, contingency, cure light wounds, 46,200 gp, 3,696 XP, 93 days.

Weight: —.

Price: 92,400 gp.

SCARF OF SPELLCATCHING

This scarf protects the wearer by absorbing spells and even allows her to cast absorbed spells back at her foes.

Description: This long, silken scarf is embroidered with numerous complex magic runes associated with the school of abjuration.

While a spell is stored within the scarf, it glows with a soft white light equivalent to that of a torch.

Activation: This scarf is continuously active as long as it is worn about the neck as a necklace, or around the waist as a belt, or about the arm as a bracer.

No action on the wearer's part is required to gain the effect.

Effect: A scarf of spellcatching grants the wearer a +2 luck bonus on all saving throws against spells and spell-like abilities.

If a spell targets only the wearer, and she succeeds on the save to resist its full effects, the spell is immediately absorbed by the scarf.

The spell has no effect on the wearer, even if a successful save would normally have resulted in a partial effect.

An absorbed spell remains inside the scarf for 1 hour per spell level, then fades harmlessly away.

Any wearer with spellcasting ability (or ranks in the Use Magic Device skill) can use a spell stored in the scarf.

If the absorbed spell is on any of the wearer's spell lists, she can opt to "cast" the spell from the scarf as if she were casting it from her own prepared spells (or from her daily allotment of spells, if she is a spellcaster who doesn't prepare spells).

If the spell is of a level that the wearer normally couldn't cast, she must cast it as if from a scroll and might suffer a mishap as a result.

A wearer with ranks in Use Magic Device can also try to cast an absorbed spell as if from a scroll.

A scarf of spellcatching absorbs only one spell at a time, but it grants its luck bonus on saving throws as long as it remains functional.

After it has absorbed a total of twenty spell levels, it unravels and is destroyed.

If an incoming spell is of a higher level than the scarf's remaining capacity, the spell is negated and the scarf is destroyed.

Aura/Caster Level: Strong abjuration; CL 15th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, spell turning, 9,000 gp, 720 XP, 18 days.

Weight: —.

Price: 18,000 gp.

SLIPPERS OF BATTLEDANCING

These slippers imbue the wearer with a shocking grace and a deadly fluidity in battle.

Description: These soft, open-toed slippers are made of supple leather and look very comfortable.

Activation: This item is continuously active while worn, provided that the wearer's armor is no heavier than light.

No action on the wearer's part is required to gain the effect.

Effect: While these slippers are on the wearer's feet, he moves with unnatural grace and alacrity, gaining an enhancement bonus of +10 feet to his land speed.

The slippers also grant him a +5 competence bonus on Tumble checks.

A wearer who has at least 5 ranks in Perform (dance) accesses the true benefit of the slippers of battledancing.

As long as he uses his base land speed to move (a fly, swim, burrowing, or climb speed), he gains a +2 insight bonus on initiative checks.

If he moves at least 10 feet as part of a move action, he can use his Charisma modifier instead of his Strength or Dexterity modifier for attack rolls and damage rolls with one-handed or light weapons (both melee and ranged).

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate transmutation; CL 7th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, 5 ranks in Perform (dance), longstrider, cat's grace, eagle's splendor, 16,875 gp, 1,350 XP, 33 days.

Weight: 1 lb.

Price: 33,750 gp.

VEST OF LEGENDS

Stories and anecdotes told by the wearer of one of these vests seem to carry more weight than normal, and others tend to listen more attentively to her words.

Description: Even though this silk vest is festooned with buckles and precious gems, it manages to look classy and fashionable rather than overly gaudy.

Activation: The skill bonuses granted by a vest of legends are continuously active while it is worn.

In addition, a bard automatically gains the full benefits of the vest whenever she uses her bardic music abilities while wearing it.

Effect: Any character gains a +5 competence bonus on Diplomacy checks and Perform checks while wearing a vest of legends.

In addition, a vest of legends enhances bardic music abilities when a bard wears it.

Her bard level is treated as five higher than it actually is for the purpose of determining the effects of her inspire courage, fascinate, inspire greatness, and inspire heroics abilities.

This increase in effective level does not grant her any additional bardic music abilities or other class features.

Aura/Caster Level: Strong enchantment and transmutation; CL 13th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, eagle's splendor, greater heroism, 8,000 gp (for pair), 640 XP, 16 days.

Weight: 1 lb.

Price: 16,000 gp.

VESTMENT OF VERMINSHAP

This item allows a wearer with the wild shape ability to take the shape of a monstrous vermin as well as the shapes to which she is normally entitled.

Description: This magic vestment appears to be constructed of woven spider silk.

Its hem is encrusted with preserved insect wings and discarded exoskeletons.

Activation: This vestment is continuously active while worn, provided that the wearer has the wild shape class ability.

Effect: A vestment of verminshape allows the wearer to assume the shapes of monstrous vermin with her wild shape ability.

The size options for the vermin shapes are the same as those allowed for her animal shapes.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate transmutation; CL 10th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, polymorph or wild shape ability, giant vermin, 10,000 gp, 800 XP, 20 days.

Weight: 1 lb.

Price: 20,000 gp.

VESTMENTS OF DIVINITY

Any character who has access to clerical domains can use vestments of divinity to access an additional domain.

Description: These fine vestments are made of silk. Fine strands of gold metal are woven into the fabric in intricate designs.

When the wearer casts a divine spell, the gold strands rearrange themselves into recognizable patterns that briefly reflect his holy symbol before returning to their original random configuration.

Activation: Vestments of divinity are continuously active while worn, so long as the wearer is either good or evil and has access to cleric domains.

Effect: A good-aligned wearer gains access to the Good domain, and an evil-aligned wearer gains access to the Evil domain.

The wearer casts spells with the appropriate alignment descriptor at +1 caster level, and he can prepare domain spells from the new domain, though he is still limited to only one domain spell at each level.

If the wearer already has access to the domain granted by the vestments, he instead casts spells with the appropriate alignment descriptor at +2 caster level.

A wearer who is neither good nor evil gains no additional benefits from vestments of divinity.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate conjuration; CL 9th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, access to Good or Evil domain, 15,000 gp, 1,200 XP, 30 days.

Weight: 2 lb.

Price: 30,000 gp.

DUNGEONSCAPE (3.5)

BLANKETS OF SECURITY

In case of nocturnal ambush, a set of blankets of security allows you to awaken five people with a single uttered phrase.

Description: Blankets of security are five matching wool blankets, each embroidered with sigils in orange thread along the edges.

When activated, the sigils glow brightly and vibrate, emitting a low subsonic hum.

Activation: You fall asleep under a blanket of security as you would under any normal blanket.

Activating the blanket's magic requires a command word, which can be spoken as a free action.

The same command word or phrase activates all blankets in a set, allowing whoever is on night watch to wake the rest of the party quickly.

Typical command words might be "Rise and shine", "Danger lurks", or the simple but effective "Wake up!".

Effect: When a creature within 100 feet speaks the command word, a blanket of security automatically wakes any creature sleeping under it, even if the dozing creature is under a magical sleep effect.

Aura/Caster Level: Faint abjuration; CL 3rd.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, alarm, 1,100 gp, 88 XP, 2 days.

Variants: Sets of more than five blankets have been crafted for larger adventuring parties.

Weight: 15 lb. (set of 5) + 3 lb. per each additional blanket.
Price: 2,200 gp (set of 5) + 440 gp per each additional blanket.

BOOTS OF SIDESTEPPING

When worn, these boots increase your ability to dodge certain incoming attacks, such as the effect of an activated trap.

Description: Boots of sidestepping are comfortable boots of soft leather that have good traction.

They are fashioned from the tanned hide of displacer beasts and tooled with mystic symbols.

When the boots activate, you move in a blur of speed as you dodge an incoming attack.

Activation: Boots of sidestepping activate automatically when you are exposed to an attack that allows a Reflex save.

No action on your part is necessary.

Effect: While wearing boots of sidestepping, you can move 5 feet as an immediate action whenever you are allowed to make a Reflex save against a spell, spell-like ability, or supernatural effect.

You move before making the Reflex save.

If, after moving, you stand outside the attack's area, you avoid it completely and no longer need to attempt the save.

This movement does not provoke attacks of opportunity.

Aura/Caster Level: Strong transmutation; CL 12th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, haste, 1,500 gp, 60 XP, 2 days.

Weight: 1 lb.

Price: 3,000 gp.

CLASP OF SAFEGUARDING

This tiny, decorative clasp protects your valuable magic items by drawing a harmful effect to itself instead.

Description: A clasp of safeguarding looks like a delicate gold pin that can be affixed to clothing or armor.

The pin is sculpted to resemble a tortoise, with two minuscule green gemstones for eyes.

When the clasp is activated, the tortoise's head and feet animate and draw inside its shell.

The clasp glows brilliant green and briefly surrounds you with a translucent ward of energy.

After the light fades, the clasp does not return to its former appearance and is no longer magical.

Activation: To be effective, a clasp of safeguarding must be clipped on one of your exposed magic items.

The clasp is automatically activated whenever you roll a natural 1 on a saving throw against a spell, trap, or other effect that could affect any of your items.

For example, the clasp would activate in the case of a fireball spell or a dragon's lightning breath, but not in the case of a charm person spell, which cannot affect objects.

Effect: None of your exposed items (magical or otherwise) is harmed by the effect for which you rolled a natural 1 on your save.

A clasp of safeguarding works only once.

After it protects your equipment from harm, it loses its magic and becomes a mundane piece of jewelry.

Aura/Caster Level: Faint abjuration; CL 5th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, protection from energy, 750 gp, 60 XP, 2 days.

Weight: 1/3 lb.

Price: 1,500 gp.

DANCING LANTERN

This bullseye lantern levitates on command, allowing you to direct it verbally while keeping your hands free.

Description: A dancing lantern resembles a standard bullseye lantern, except that it is crafted of mithral and its interior mirrors are made of polished silver rather than glass.

When activated, the lantern floats in the air, darting back and forth as commanded by its owner.

As it flies, it leaves a trail of golden sparks that quickly fade.

Activation: A dancing lantern is operated by two command words.

The first (“illumination”) causes the lantern to light, and repeating the word extinguishes the glow.

The second command word (“aviallow”) causes the lamp to float, and repeating the word causes it to land gently.

While it floats, a dancing lamp can be directed verbally as a free action as long as it is within 1,000 feet of its owner.

Effect: A dancing lantern provides magical light as a standard bullseye lantern, though it consumes no oil.

However, it is more prized for its ability to remain aloft.

When in the air, the lantern hovers within your reach, allowing you to benefit from its illumination while keeping your hands free.

If desired, you can verbally direct a dancing lantern to move away from you.

On any of your turns, it can fly up to 90 feet per round with perfect maneuverability and can rotate to shine its cone of light in any direction.

A dancing lantern will not stray farther than 1,000 feet from you.

If you move farther away, it will attempt to move to within 1,000 feet on its next turn.

A lantern can be attacked while it is flying.

It is Tiny and has AC 12, 30 hit points, and hardness 10.

Variant: Some dancing lanterns have been crafted as intelligent items.

An intelligent dancing lantern can fly on its own and decide where to shine its light.

It can also travel more than 1,000 feet from its owner.

Like any intelligent magic item, it does not automatically obey directions, though its owner can deactivate its ability to fly with a command word, if desired.

A typical intelligent dancing lantern has Int 14, Wis 10, Cha 14, and Ego 7; has vision and hearing to 120 feet; can speak Common and two other languages; and can communicate telepathically with its owner if within 1,000 feet.

It has 10 ranks in Search and can use faerie fire (PH 229) three times per day as a spell-like ability.

It can be of any alignment, though most intelligent dancing lanterns are chaotic.

Intelligent dancing lanterns are insatiable explorers, curious to see what lurks around the next turn of the dungeon corridor.

If forced to stop moving, they occasionally make Search checks on their surroundings to stave off boredom.

Many adventurers have been saved from death traps because their dancing lantern was randomly searching the area.

Aura/Caster Level: Faint evocation and transmutation, CL 5th (standard lantern); or strong transmutation and evocation, CL 15th (intelligent lantern).

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, continual flame, levitate, 1,000 gp, 40 XP, 1 day.

Weight: 3 lb.

Price: 2,000 gp (standard) or 10,300 gp (intelligent).

GRASPING HOOK

This animated grappling hook seeks out the best place to secure a rope.

Description: When dormant, a grasping hook appears to be a mithral grappling hook delicately sculpted to resemble the claw of a dragon, with three main claws jutting out and a fourth opposable claw curled in at the palm.

When the command word is spoken, the hook springs to life.

All four claws begin moving, and it can move by using the claws as tiny legs.

Activation: A single command word activates a grasping hook.

Speaking the word once causes the hook to animate and immediately seek the nearest secure object that it can grasp.

Speaking the word a second time causes the hook to release its grasp immediately and resume its dormant position.

Effect: When a grasping hook is tied to silk rope, you can throw it as a standard mithral grappling hook (see page 32).

However, you can also speak the command word (a free action) as you throw the hook to cause it to animate.

The hook then tries to grab onto the nearest secure object, granting a +6 competence bonus on your Use Rope check to seat it properly.

A grasping hook has a Strength of 25 and can hold 1,600 pounds when grasping a secure object or terrain feature.

You can cause a hook to release its grasp by speaking the command word again.

Aura/Caster Level: Weak transmutation; CL 3rd.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength, 250 gp, 4 XP, 1 day.

Weight: 2 lb.

Price: 500 gp.

ENEMIES AND ALLIES (3.0)

KANTO'S LAMENT

This sailing ship can magically fly at a speed of 90 feet over sea and land, as though affected by a fly spell of unlimited duration, and it can even use plane shift once per week.

Its hull has been magically hardened (break DC 40, Hard 10, 120 hp per 10-foot-by-10-foot section), and two +1 ballistas (one forward, one aft) launch special ballista bolts that crackle with electricity.

When fired, these become lightning bolts that deal 5d6 points of damage (Reflex half DC 14).

Fifty such bolts are on board, as are hundreds of normal ballista bolts.

The inside of the ship seems more spacious than the outside, and each stateroom is luxuriously appointed.

The cabin crew consists of near-transparent servants that function as unseen servants, except that they are visible and can go anywhere on the ship.

The ship magically provides foodstuffs for sumptuous banquets.

Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fly, Mordenkainen's magnificent mansion, plane shift; Market Price: 266,464 gp.

EPIC LEVEL HANDBOOK (3.0)

IOUN STONES

RESISTANCE

These Ioun stones (usually burnt orange in color) possess all the features of a standard Ioun stone, Ioun stones of resistance offer magic protection in the form of a +1 to +5 resistance bonus on all saving throws (Fortitude, Reflex, Will).

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, resistance, caster level must be three times that of the Ioun stone's bonus; Market Price: 2,000 gp (+1), 8,000 gp (+2), 18,000 gp (+3), 32,000 gp (+4), 50,000 gp (+5); Weight: —.

ROBES OF RESISTING ENCHANTMENT

Shurupak's black robes give him a +5 luck bonus on his saving throws against enchantment spells and effects.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, mind blank; Market Price: 6,250 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

FAITHS AND PANTHEONS (3.0)

HEADBAND OF THE BINDER

This circlet of blue-green metal is stamped with the blank-scroll symbol of Oghma.

In addition to allowing the wearer to read magic three times per day, a bard wearing the headband gains a +4 sacred bonus to her bardic knowledge rolls.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, read magic, creator must be a bard; Market Price: 2,600 gp; Weight: —.

MAILED GAUNTLETS OF AENCAR

Thought to have been crafted for the Mantled King during his days as a mercenary in Sembian employ, this pair of burnished steel gloves has been worn by various descendants of Aencar since the death of the King of the Dales.

The mailed gauntlets of Aencar are equivalent to gauntlets of ogre power.

Once per day, each gauntlet also has the power to make a magic melee weapon, held act as if it were a defending weapon.

Each use of this defending ability lasts 1 hour and only works as long as the weapon is held in hand (if it is dropped, thrown, handed to another creature, or removed from the character's hand, the effect ends).

Both gauntlets must be worn to have any effect.

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength, shield or shield of faith; Market Price: 26,302 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

WINGED MASK

The edges of this full-face mask are made to resemble feathers or wings.

The wearer can use the fly spell at will, but glows with white light (as a light spell) whenever this ability is used. A mask counts as a pair of lenses for limitations on wearing multiple items of the same type.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fly, light; Market Price: 13,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

RHINGALADE'S HARP

This masterwork harp (+2 circumstance bonus to Perform (harp) checks) is carved with images of a multitude of harpists playing in a chorus.

Once per day it can be played to invoke a simultaneous blink and mirror image spells upon its wielder (both effects end after 6 rounds).

Use of this item requires at least 1 rank in Perform (harp). Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, blink, mirror image; Market Price: 5,400 gp.

ROBE OF MANY SIGILS

This garment is a black robe filigreed with mithral threads woven in the shape of dozens of runes and sigils.

The spells laid on the robe enable the inscription of spells into the fabric as if it were a scroll.

The wearer can cast the inscribed spells as if using a scroll, although his hands remain free, and he can cast scrolls from any part of the robe, even the back.

Inscribed spells can only be cast from the robe by its wearer.

Inscribing a spell onto the robe requires the Scribe Scroll feat and 8 ranks in the Craft (weaving) skill.

It otherwise follows the rules for inscribing scrolls.

The robe can hold up to 10 inscribed spells at a time.

Once a spell is cast from the robe, another can be inscribed in its place.

In addition to its other properties, the robe allows the wearer to read magic three times per day.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Scribe Scroll, read magic; Market Price: 7,300 gp.

SALVE OF MINOR SPELL RESISTANCE

This salve is based on a drow formula.

It requires a full-round action to spread on the skin, after which it grants SR 17 for five minutes.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, spell resistance; Market Price: 1,250 gp.

TORC OF ANIMAL SPEECH

This beaten steel necklace is unadorned by pendant or ornament.

Its wearer can use a Speak with animals effect at will.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Speak with animals; Market Price: 12,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

FIEND FOLIO (3.5)

BLACKSTONE RUNE

Shadar-kai overcome by the shadow curse often make use of the blackstone rune.

The rune is a complex sigil drawn on a small, glossy stone. On command, a blackstone rune allows its bearer to plane shift between the Plane of Shadow and the Material Plane (in either direction), along with up to 50 pounds of objects. A blackstone rune can be used three times before its magic fades.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, plane shift; Market Price: 3,300 gp.
Weight: —.

GAL-RALAN

When this cold-forged iron armband is donned (taking up the spot where a bracer would be worn), it pierces the wearer's forearm with long needles of the same metal. The device fixes its wearer's soul to her body but also causes never-ending pain.

As long as a character wears a gal-ralan, she takes 1 point of Constitution damage that cannot be healed until after the gal-ralan is removed.

A gal-ralan provides its wearer with a +1 to +5 resistance bonus on her saving throws.

This bonus increases by an additional +2 against death effects, energy drains, and effects that affect the wearer's soul (such as the shadow curse).

For example, a +2 gal-ralan provides a +4 resistance bonus against these effects, a +3 gal-ralan provides a +5 resistance bonus against these effects, and so on.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, resistance, caster level must be three times that of the gal-ralan's bonus; Market Price: 625 gp (+1), 2,500 gp (+2), 5,600 gp (+3), 10,000 gp (+4), or 15,600 gp (+5).

Weight: —.

NIGHT EXTRACT

When thrown or dropped, one vial of this magic liquid reduces the ambient light level to that of starlight in a 20-foot radius.

Magical light still functions in the area (and counters the effect), but torches, lanterns, sunrods, and other mundane light sources are suppressed until removed from the area. The DC of Spot checks made against targets within the night extract's area increases by +10, although creatures with darkvision or superior low-light vision ignore this increase, and creatures with normal low-light vision gain a +5 bonus on Spot checks made in starlight.

The night extract provides nine-tenths concealment (40% miss chance) against creatures without low-light vision, one-half concealment (20% miss chance) against creatures with low-light vision, and no concealment against creatures with darkvision or superior low-light vision.

The effect lasts for 10 minutes.

Caster Level: 1st; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, light; Market Price: 50 gp.
Weight: —.

SERPENT SYMBOL

This silver disk represents the world with a snake coiled around it, mouth gaping wide as if to consume it.

This is a holy symbol used by anathema cults, symbolizing their devotion to destruction and giving them some concrete magical abilities to back it up.

Once per day, a serpent symbol can generate either a disintegrate spell or a destruction spell, according to the command of the wearer.

The save DC for both effects is 20.

The device functions only in the hands of a yuan-ti. (However, a character with the Use Magic Device skill can emulate the yuan-ti race to make the serpent symbol function).

Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Heighten Spell, destruction, disintegrate, creator must be a yuan-ti; Market Price: 50,000 gp.

VENOMOUS FIRE

This alchemical creation is an insidious method of delivering toxic venom.

In essence, venomous fire is similar to alchemist's fire—it is a viscous substance that burns when exposed to air.

However, it is also mixed with yuan-ti venom, so that, in the round after taking any damage from the fire itself, a character must make a Fortitude saving throw (DC 17) against the poison that entered the body through the wounds from the fire.

Initial and secondary damage from the poison are the same (1d6 Con).

If the fire is allowed to burn for another round (thus causing the character to take damage on successive rounds), the character is exposed to two doses of poison.

A flask of venomous fire is a grenade-like weapon with a range increment of 10 feet.

It deals 1d6 points of fire damage on a direct hit, plus 1d6 points of fire damage in the next round if it is not extinguished (requiring a full-round action and a Reflex save against DC 15).

A splash deals 1 point of fire damage, and a target hit by the splash has +4 circumstance bonus on the Fortitude save against the poison.

Cost: 220 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

FROSTBURN (3.5)

FROSTFELL FIGURINE OF WONDROUS POWER

Each of the several kinds of frostfell figurines of wondrous power appears to be a miniature statuette of a creature an inch or so high.

When the figurine is tossed down and the correct command word spoken, it becomes a living creature of normal size.

The creature obeys and serves its owner.

The creature understands Common but does not speak.

If a frostfell figurine of wondrous power is broken or destroyed in its statuette form, it is forever ruined.

All magic is lost, its power departed.

If slain in animal form, the figurine simply reverts to a statuette that can be used again at a later time.

Frostfell figurines of wondrous power differ from the standard figurines of wondrous power in that they are always quite cold to the touch.

A character who carries a frostfell figurine of wondrous power gains resistance to cold 10 as long as it is in figurine form.

BASALT GLYPTODON

When animated, a basalt glyptodon acts in all ways like a normal glyptodon under the command of its possessor.

Unlike a normal glyptodon, a basalt glyptodon has damage reduction 5/–.

The item can be used once per week for up to 6 hours per use.

When 6 hours have passed or when the command word is spoken, a basalt glyptodon once again becomes a tiny statuette.

Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects, stonemage; Price 32,000 gp.

CORAL ZEUGLODON

A coral zeuglodon can only be animated in any body of water large enough to hold the actual creature; it must be thrown into the water and the command word spoken immediately for it to animate.

If the command word is not spoken, the coral zeuglodon sinks to the bottom.

A coral zeuglodon remains brightly colored when animated, and acts in all ways like a normal zeuglodon under the command of its possessor, except that it has a swim speed of 120 feet.

The item can be used up to twice per week for up to 4 hours per use.

When a coral zeuglodon returns to figurine form, it magically reappears in the hand of its owner, despite any physical distance between the two.

If the owner is dead or on another plane, a coral zeuglodon instead sinks to the bottom of the sea when it returns to figurine form.

Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects; Price 42,000 gp.

DIAMOND ICE TOAD

A diamond ice toad acts as a normal ice toad when animated, except that it remains transparent and crystalline in appearance.

It remains under the command of its possessor, and gains the benefits of concealment (20% miss chance) due to its transparent nature.

It can be activated up to two times per week for 1 hour per use.

Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects, blur; Price 33,000 gp.

IRON MEGALOCEROS

When animated, an iron megaloceros acts in all ways like a normal megaloceros under the command of its possessor, except that it is a construct made of iron.

It possesses damage reduction 5/adamantine, and has immunity to poison, sleep effects, paralysis, stunning, disease, death effects, necromancy effects, mind-affecting effects (charms, compulsions, phantasms, patterns, and morale effects), and any effect that requires a Fortitude save unless it also works on objects or is harmless.

It is not subject to extra damage from critical hits, nonlethal damage, ability damage, ability drain, fatigue, exhaustion, or energy drain.

It cannot heal damage, but can be repaired.

An iron megaloceros has darkvision 60 ft. and low-light vision.

It has no Constitution score, but it does have 10-sided Hit Dice and 30 bonus hit points, granting it 63 hit points total. It can be affected normally by rust attacks, such as that of a rust monster or a rusting grasp spell.

It functions in all other ways like a standard megaloceros. The item can be used up to twice a week for up to 6 hours per use.

Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, Craft Construct, animate objects; Price 27,000 gp.

MALACHITE SMILODON

When animated, a malachite smilodon acts in all ways like a normal smilodon under the command of its possessor, except that its fangs are exceptionally sharp.

They threaten a critical hit on a roll of 17–20, and do  $\times 3$  damage on a successful critical hit.

The item may be used once per day for up to 2 hours.

If slain in animal form, a malachite smilodon cannot be brought back from statuette form for one full week.

Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects, keen edge; Price 36,000 gp.

FROSTFELL SUMMONING CHAMBER

Frostfell spellcasters often construct special chambers for summoning extraplanar creatures of cold (as a summon monster spell) or conjuring beasts made of ice (as a conjure ice beast spell).

The main characteristic of these rooms is their temperature: the colder, the better.

Within these locations, the caster may summon or conjure an additional numbers of creatures for a given spell as indicated on the table below.

All creatures summoned or conjured by the casting of a single spell, including the bonus creatures, must be of the same kind.

Creating a frostfell summoning chamber requires the Craft Wondrous Item feat and the expenditure of 15,000 gp.

TABLE 1-11: FROSTFELL SUMMONING BONUSES

Temperature	Number of Bonus Creatures
Very cold	+1
Severe cold	+2
Extreme cold	+4

GLOVES OF THE ULDRA SAVANT

Gloves of the uldra savant are made of a pale blue metal and are adorned with light blue runes.

The plates that make up the gauntlets always seem to be caked with frost and ice.

The wearer of gloves of the uldra savant can create a ray of frost at will as a standard action.

Three times per day, the user may imbue any melee weapon held in her hand with the frost special ability as a standard action; this causes the weapon to do an additional 1d6 points of cold damage on a successful hit.

The weapon retains this quality for 5 rounds.

Faint evocation and transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, frost weapon, ray of frost; Price 12,700 gp; Weight 2 lb.

ICEHEART, MINOR

This fist-sized lump of magical ice has been infused with the storms and bitter cold of winter.

On command, a minor iceheart can produce the following effects.

- Ray of frost (at will)
- Fog cloud (3/day)
- Sleet storm (3/day) Faint evocation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, fog cloud, ray of frost, sleet storm, creator must be an uldra or a winterhaunt of Iborighu; Price 24,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

ICEHEART, MAJOR

A major iceheart looks similar to a minor iceheart, except that it is constantly surrounded by a swirling vortex of snow and ice to a radius of 1 foot.

Creatures holding a major iceheart take 1d4+1 points of cold damage per round as the powerful magic of the device leeches heat from the body.

On command, a major iceheart can be used to produce the following effects.

- Ray of frost (at will)
- Cone of cold (3/day)
- Fog cloud (3/day)
- Ice storm (3/day)
- Sleet storm (3/day)
- Polar ray (1/day)
- Fimbulwinter (1/day, see below)

A major iceheart's most awesome power is the ability to create a fimbulwinter once per day.

A major iceheart casts this spell automatically each day at sunset, unless it has already been used that day to create a fimbulwinter.

Thus, the mere presence of a major iceheart generates a 15-mile-radius zone of eternal winter; the majority of frostfell regions that appear in temperate or tropical climates are the result of the introduction of a major iceheart into the region. Strong transmutation; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, cone of cold, fimbulwinter, fog cloud, ice storm, polar ray, ray of frost, sleet storm, creator must be an uldra or a winterhaunt of Iborighu; Price 140,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

INSTANT IGLOO

An instant igloo looks like an unremarkable snowball, except that it does not melt in high temperatures.

If hurled to the ground at any point within 20 feet, it transforms into a large igloo.

The igloo is identical to that created by the spell Leomund's tiny igloo, except that the igloo created has a 10-foot radius and can contain up to 2 Large, 8 Medium, 32 Small, or 128 Tiny or smaller creatures.

The igloo lasts for 16 hours before transforming back into its snowball form, at which point it cannot be used again for another 8 hours.

Faint evocation; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, Widen Spell, Leomund's tiny igloo; Price 11,000 gp.

MANTLE OF HIDDEN FAITH

This plain gray mantle shields your faith, alignment, and patron deity from magical detection as long as it is worn. It does not provide any bonuses to skill checks used to disguise or lie about your faith and beliefs.

Faint abjuration; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, undetectable alignment; Price 15,000 gp.

SIMULACRUM ELIXIR

This small vial of clear fluid contains a potent magical charge.

When the contents are poured over a body part (which can be as small as a fingernail clipping or a single hair), the liquid quickly grows in volume and transforms into a simulacrum of the creature from which the body part came. The simulacrum functions as the spell of the same name, and remains under the absolute command of the person who created it.

The simulacrum to be created cannot be a duplicate of a creature with more than 26 HD or levels, and its likeness to the original creature is crude at best.

A vial of simulacrum elixir contains enough fluid to create one simulacrum.

Strong illusion (shadow); CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, simulacrum; Price 21,000 gp.

SKULL TALISMAN

The craft of creating skull talismans was originally pioneered by the primitive races that live in the frostfell. Potions tend to freeze in the cruel temperatures of the frostfell, so the skull talisman was invented to provide a replacement.

A skull talisman can be used only once.

The size of the creature's skull used in creation of the talisman determines the maximum level of spell that can be stored in it.

A Small skull can store a spell of up to 3rd level.

A Medium Skull can store a spell of up to 6th level.

A Large skull can store a spell of up to 9th level.

Only spells that target one or more creatures can be stored in a skull talisman.

Physical Description: A skull talisman appears as the rune-covered skull of a creature of at least Small size; usually talismans are made of animal skulls, but particularly savage tribes and cruel individuals enjoy making them from their slain enemies.

A Small skull talisman has AC 7, 5 hit points, hardness 2, and a break DC of 20.

A Medium skull talisman has AC 5, 10 hit points, hardness 5, and a break DC of 25.

A Large skull talisman has AC 4, 25 hit points, hardness 10, and a break DC of 30.

A skull talisman carried by a creature has the same effective AC as the creature carrying it.

A creature that controls possession of a skull talisman can automatically break it with one hand by taking a standard action to do so; the AC and break DCs listed above are for those who try to strike or break an unattended skull talisman or a skull talisman held by another creature.

Identifying Skull Talismans: A skull talisman is covered with mystical runes and magic symbols; the exact spell stored in a skull talisman can be determined with a successful Spellcraft check (DC 20 + spell level); a read magic spell identifies the stored spell automatically.

Activation: A skull talisman produces its effect when it is purposefully destroyed by crushing it, either by smashing it with a weapon or crushing it in one hand.

The stored spell affects the person who destroyed it.

If you have a skull talisman in your uncontested possession, you can automatically destroy it by crushing it with your hand, foot, or body.

This is a standard action that provokes attacks of opportunity.

If you do not have a skull talisman in your possession, you can destroy it by dealing enough damage to it.

In order to gain the effects of a spell stored in a skull talisman, the skull must be within 5 feet of you when it is broken; otherwise, the stored spell dissipates harmlessly.

Skull talismans are like spells cast upon the one who destroys the talisman.

The character destroying the skull talisman doesn't get to make any decisions about the effect—the creator of the talisman has already done so.

The destroyer is both the effective target and the caster of the effect (though the skull talisman indicates the caster level, the destroyer still controls the effect).

Skull Talisman Descriptions: Because skull talismans are simply spells stored in a magically prepared skull, refer to the appropriate spell description for all pertinent details. The caster level for a standard skull talisman is the minimum caster level needed to cast the spell.

VEHICLE AUGMENTATIONS

Vehicles can be enhanced with magic items to enhance their performance on air, land, or water.

COLDFIRE ENGINE

This item, typically constructed on the Elemental Planes, propels any vehicle at a speed of 80 feet.

Strong universal; CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects, wish; Price 200,000 gp; Weight 1,000 lb.

COLDFIRE KEEL

This item, often forged on the Elemental Planes, enables any vehicle to move across coldfire as if it were on its normal terrain (water, land, or air).

The vessel's speed is unaffected, but rough terrain or conditions slow the vehicle just as it would a land vehicle. Strong universal; CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, wish; Price 200,000 gp; Weight 1,000 lb.

ICE KEEL

This item, often forged on the Elemental Planes, enables a water or land vehicle to move across ice as if it were on water or land, respectively.

The vessel's speed is unaffected, but rough terrain slows the vehicle just as it would an ice vehicle.

Strong transmutation; CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, thaw, wish; Price 150,000 gp; Weight 1,000 lb.

RUNNERS OF SPEED

These runners increase the speed of vehicles that travel through snow or ice by 20 feet.

Strong transmutation; CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, haste, wish; Price 100,000 gp; Weight 1,000 lb.

VIAL OF ICY SHEETS

The vial of icy sheets contains a clear fluid that creates a region of slippery ice when its contents are poured upon the ground (a standard action).

The fluid spreads from the point of origin to a radius of 10 feet, coating the ground with a thin sheet of slippery ice. All creatures caught in this area must make a DC 11 Reflex save or slip and fall.

Those that successfully save can move at half speed across the surface.

Those that remain in the area must make a new saving throw each round to avoid falling and to be able to move. Alternatively, the vial's contents can be poured upon an object.

This encases the object with slippery ice, and if the object is carried or wielded, its wielder must make a DC 11 Reflex save to avoid dropping the item.

A new saving throw must be made each round the item is grasped.

Icy sheets last for 5 rounds before they evaporate away into nothingness.

A vial of icy sheets automatically replenishes its supply of liquid once every day.

If the contents of a vial of icy sheets are swallowed, the ice coats the mouth, throat, and stomach of the poor fool who drank it.

This causes 6d6 points of cold damage (Fortitude DC 20 half).

Faint conjuration; CL 1st; Craft Wondrous Item, ice slick; Price 2,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

GHOSTWALK (3.0)

BLOOD OF ORCUS

This foul liquid looks like a mixture of blood, vomit, and the slimy residue of rotting flesh.

If it is mixed with a powdered black onyx gem worth at least 100 gp, a living creature that drinks this horrible brew must succeed on a Fortitude saving throw (DC 19) or die and rise as a ghoul 1 hour later.

If the powdered onyx is worth 200 gp, the creature that drinks the mixture must save or die and rise as a ghast or wight (equal chances).

Normally, these items are given to drugged or enchanted victims to quickly produce undead minions, but some are given to volunteers or worshipers of Orcus as a “reward” for their service.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, create undead; Market Price: 3,300 gp; Weight: —.

BLOODSWEETS

These red lozenges are about the size of a human thumbnail and resemble hard candies.

Made from sugar and blood and corrupted with necromancy, the item dissolves instantly and acts as an inflict light wounds spell when swallowed.

One can be swallowed as a standard action, or up to three can be swallowed as a full-round action.

Normally, these are used by undead creatures to heal themselves when an evil cleric or a potion of inflict light wounds is unavailable.

Particularly cruel necromancers mix them in with bags of normal candy and give them to children, who usually die as a result.

Caster Level: 1st; Prerequisite: Brew Potion or Craft Wondrous Item, inflict light wounds; Market Price: 50 gp; Weight: —.

BLUE OCTOPUS AMULET

This item consists of a wooden octopus (painted blue) hanging from a leather cord.

In its tentacles, the octopus holds a hard, glassy sphere filled with seawater.

The amulet acts as a protection from elements (fire) spell, absorbing a total of 60 points of fire damage before it is rendered useless.

It also absorbs hit point damage from horrid wilting and similar attacks that work by removing or destroying moisture in the target.

It provides no protection against subdual damage from thirst, since it is filled with saltwater.

Like a brooch of shielding, the amulet does not have a fixed duration for its effect; it simply continues to protect its wearer until it has absorbed 60 points of damage.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, protection from elements; Market Price: 1,500 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

CHAIN OF TEPHANERON

This series of battered iron links has small hooks on each end and is normally wrapped around the handle of a weapon and clasped to itself.

The chain allows the bearer to use magic weapon and keen edge each once per day on the weapon to which it is attached.

The spell effects end if the chain is removed from the weapon.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, keen edge or weapon of the deity, magic weapon; Market Price: 9,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

CHAINS OF SHIELD OTHER

This item looks like a pair of slightly mismatched bracers, although they are not intended to be worn by the same person.

If two people each wear a bracer and a command word is spoken, the wearer of the larger bracer is protected by a shield other spell, with the wearer of the smaller bracer acting as the caster of the spell.

Evil clerics decorate these bracers with symbols of manacles and skulls and clap the smaller bracer on an unwilling shackled victim, while good and neutral clerics normally decorate them with more benign symbols and give them to allies.

The power of the bracers may be activated once per day.
Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shield other; Market Price: 2,200 gp; Weight: 1/2 lb. each.

CHANIUD'S PLACARDS

These lacquered pieces of parchment are usually found in sets of ten.

One side of each placard bears the symbol of Chaniud the Lawkeeper (three horizontal lines below an open circle); the other side depicts a famous cleric or scholar of Chaniud's faith.

To activate a placard, the bearer must hold the card, speak Chaniud's name, and ask a single question as if using a commune spell.

Since most of these items are created by the church of Chaniud, the answer comes from his agents and may be colored by the god's or agent's perspective.

(Members of other faiths who create similar placards do not use Chaniud's symbols or historical figures).

After the placard has answered one question, it loses all magic, and the images on both sides fade until they are barely visible.

The creation costs and other information provided below are for a single placard.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, commune; Market Price: 875 gp; Cost to Create: 375 gp + 55 XP.

CLOAK OF BLACKFLAME

This cloak resembles a tangle of thick, black cobwebs when not worn, but turns into a woven black cloak of coarse threads when donned.

It absorbs up to fourteen energy drain attacks (an attack that would bestow two negative levels counts as two attacks) before losing its magical properties.
Caster Level: 14th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, negative energy protection; Market Price: 11,800 gp; Weight: 1 lb.
This item first appeared in Magic of Faerûn.

DIAMOND EYE CIRCLET

When worn, this silver circlet's diamond centerpiece rests on the forehead.
The wearer may use detect undead at will.
Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, detect undead; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: —.

DRACANITE HELM

This bronze helm grants a +2 deflection bonus to AC and protects the wearer from all forms of possession.
Caster Level: 1st; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, protection from possession, shield of faith, caster must be 6th level; Market Price: 12,000 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

DRIFTWOOD AMULET

These items are typically made by the church of Soggelos. The amulet is an oddly shaped piece of water-worn wood studded with pearls and coral on a leather cord. The wearer can speak and understand Aquan, is protected by cold resistance 5, and may use a chill metal effect once per day.
Some of these items are crafted onto belts instead of amulets.
Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, chill metal, endure elements, creator must speak Aquan; Market Price: 7,400 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

DURANN'S VESTMENT

This fine vest of brown and gold threads provides cold resistance 5 and allows the wearer to use a zone of truth effect once per day centered on herself.
The wearer may also use cure critical wounds once per day. The wearer of the vestment is magically prevented from speaking anything but the truth.
Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cure critical wounds, endure elements, zone of truth; Market Price: 22,000 gp; Weight: —.

ENEMY SPIRIT POUCH

This leather pouch is worn around the neck like a necklace and contains token items keyed to a type or subtype of creature that can be a ranger's favored enemy. (A pouch can also be keyed to ghosts or yuanti, as described in the Ranger section earlier in this chapter).
A creature wearing an enemy spirit pouch gains a +1 competence bonus on attack rolls against creatures of that type.
A ranger whose favored enemy matches that of the enemy spirit pouch is treated as five levels higher for purposes of determining his damage and skill check bonuses against that favored enemy (in effect, the pouch increases those bonuses by +1).

If a creature of the type keyed to a pouch wears that pouch, it gains one negative level.
The negative level remains as long as the pouch is worn and disappears when it is no longer carried.
This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be removed in any way (including by a restoration spell) while the pouch is worn.
Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, detect animals or plants, creator must be a ranger whose favored enemy matches that of the pouch; Market Price: 2,100 gp; Weight: 1 lb.
This item first appeared in Magic of Faerûn.

FEATHER MASK

This item is a mask of raven feathers woven together. In addition to having all the properties of a ring of feather falling, the mask allows the wearer to summon a giant raven (treat as a giant eagle) once per day as if using a summon nature's ally IV spell.
Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, feather fall, summon nature's ally IV, creator must be not evil and not lawful; Market Price: 14,500 gp; Weight: —.

FIGURINES OF WONDROUS POWER

Several other kinds of magic figurines can be found in this part of the world.
They follow all the normal rules for magic figurines.

BONE APE

This figurine is carved out of the thick end of an animal's thigh bone.
When activated, it transforms into a black-furred ape with a white face.
The ape can be used once per week for up to 8 hours at a time.
Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects; Market Price: 10,000 gp; Weight: —.

JET SERPENT

Carved from an uncut piece of jet, this figurine of a twining black snake transforms into a Medium-sized constrictor snake when activated.
In addition to the standard abilities of the animal, the jet serpent has a +1 morale bonus on attack and damage rolls against undead creatures.
The snake may be used twice per week for up to 8 hours at a time.
Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects; Market Price: 12,000 gp; Weight: —.

PEARL OCTOPUS

Created almost exclusively by the church of Soggelos, this bluish pearl is carved to resemble an octopus coiled into a sphere.
When activated, it turns into a blue Small octopus (although it can change colors in the manner of its kind).
It can be used up to three times per week, each use lasting no more than 4 hours.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects; Market Price: 5,000 gp; Weight: —.

FLESH OF ORCUS

Made from corrupted flesh and soaked in the ichor of a vampire, this hunk of tainted meat is usually attached to a bone (most often a humanoid bone).

If this meat is eaten in its entirety by a living creature, that creature must succeed on a Fortitude saving throw (DC 22) or die and rise as a vampire the next night.

Humanoids gain the vampire template, and creatures that are eligible gain the monstrous vampire template, but all other living creatures simply die and do not rise as undead. As with the blood of Orcus, this item is either forced upon prisoners or given as a gift to servants who wish to become undead.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, create undead; Market Price: 6,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

GHOST PRISON

These simple foot-high glass cylinders are capped on both ends with brass and appear to be filled with yellow mist. Created by yuan-ti, they are more deadly versions of the phasestone and can trap ghosts within them.

Any ghost who comes within 10 feet of a ghost prison must make a Will saving throw each round (DC 17) or be pulled entirely into the cylinder, to be trapped there until someone speaks the ghost's name (at which time he can attempt another Will save—although no more than two can be attempted in a given day) or the ghost prison is destroyed.

A ghost prison containing ghosts sometimes has ghostly faces visible within the yellow mist.

If the ghost prison is destroyed, any ghosts within it are slain. The cylinders have hardness 1, 5 hit points, and a break DC of 16.

A ghost prison can hold up to five ghosts (either at the same time or sequentially); after the fifth ghost is freed, the cylinder shatters and the item becomes nonmagical.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, magic jar; Market Price: 10,000 gp; Weight: 1/2 lb.

GLOVE OF THE MASTER STRATEGIST

This black leather glove is decorated with purple silk thread.

It acts as a glove of storing and allows the wearer to use a true strike effect once per day.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shrink item, true strike; Market Price: 3,600 gp; Weight: —.

GREEN TOOTH NECKLACE

While the first item of its kind may have actually been made from one of the teeth of Saurivadartak the Green, there are easier methods of creating such an item.

A six-inch tooth worn on a braided copper necklace, this item protects the wearer from 15 points of acid damage per round (as a ring of minor elemental resistance).

It also allows the wearer to speak and understand Draconic, grants a +10 competence bonus on Diplomacy checks involving dragons, and gives a +3 resistance bonus on Will saving throws.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, comprehend languages, protection from elements, resistance; Market Price: 26,000 gp; Weight: —.

IOUN STONES

CLEAR TEARDROP

This ioun stone allows its owner to use detect undead at will. Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, detect undead, creator must be 12th level; Market Price: 4,000 gp; Weight: —.

LAWKEEPER'S LOCK

This padlock of orange-tinted metal is worn on a chain of similar material and bears a key of shining steel.

It counts as an amulet for the purpose of items using a limited space.

When worn, it gives constant protection from chaos.

The item also has two powers, each of which works only once.

If the key is inserted into the lock and turned clockwise, the item unleashes order's wrath upon an area chosen by the wearer.

If the key is turned counter-clockwise, it summons either a hound archon (if the wearer is neutral or good) or an achaierai (if the wearer is evil) with a summon monster V effect.

Even after these powers are spent, the item still provides protection from chaos.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, order's wrath, protection from chaos, summon monster V, creator must be neither good nor evil; Market Price: 12,100 gp; Weight: —.

LIVING MASK

This one-use magic item functions as soon as a wearer puts it on, and stops as soon as it is taken off, becoming powerless.

It works only when worn by an undead creature.

Each mask provides an illusion that the wearer is alive, albeit a living person wearing a theater mask and clad in fine clothing.

The undead appear alive not only to the senses, but also to spells such as detect undead and deathwatch.

These items allow people with undead minions to walk about the city if need be.

If these items were known to exist, the government of Manifest would declare them illegal.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, change self or disguise undead, misdirection; Market Price: 400 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

MESSAGE ARROW

Each of these masterwork arrows has the image of a pointing hand etched into its head and a small wooden sleeve on its shaft that can hold a single folded piece of paper.

If a message is placed into the sleeve and the arrow is fired into the air, it speeds off in the direction of the intended recipient, who may be a specific individual or the closest person matching a given description, as explained in the helping hand spell.

Its maximum range is 5 miles.

Locating a recipient who is within range takes the amount of time described in the helping hand spell, based on the distance to the target.

While in flight, the message arrow is invisible and insubstantial, so it cannot harm creatures or be attacked. When it finds the intended recipient or an appropriate match for the description it was given, the arrow strikes the ground at the feet of that individual, who may then retrieve the message from the sleeve.

Once it lands, the power of the message arrow is spent; it cannot be used in the same way to send a response.

The message arrow cannot reach targets within a completely enclosed space, but it can accurately steer through any opening that is at least the size of an arrow slit.

If the arrow cannot find the recipient or a suitable match within range, or if it is prevented from reaching the target by some barrier, it returns to the creature that fired it and embeds itself near that creature's feet, its power spent and its shaft broken.

A crossbow bolt variant of this weapon can be fired from a crossbow instead of a standard bow.

Either variety may be used as a masterwork item of its type if desired, though it has the normal chance for breakage or loss, and it possesses no special combat properties.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, helping hand; Market Price: 400 gp.

MITHRAL BELLS

This item is a set of eleven small mithral bells on a bracelet-sized chain of mithral.

The wearer can detach a bell and throw it up to 40 feet.

When it reaches the end of its trajectory, it explodes in a sound burst effect.

As long as there are at least three bells remaining on the chain, it provides a +2 circumstance bonus on all Perform checks.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, sound burst, creator must be a bard; Market Price: 3,700 gp; Weight: —.

This item first appeared in Magic of Faerûn.

NECKLACE OF SKULLJEWELS

Eight tiny skulls carved of precious stones hang from this black leather cord.

As a standard action, the wearer can detach a skull from the cord, name a kind of undead (see below), and throw the skull up to 30 feet away, which causes the appropriate kind of undead to appear as if summoned with a summon undead III spell.

As per the spell, if weaker undead are named to be summoned, more appear.

The wearer can choose from the following kinds and numbers of undead: 1d4+1 Medium skeletons, 1d4+1 Small zombies, 1d3 Medium zombies, 1d3 Large skeletons, 1 Large zombie, 1 ghoul, or 1 Huge skeleton.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, summon undead III; Market Price: 7,000 gp; Weight: —.

NESSEK'S CROWN

This small crown of red gold is often decorated with gems and shaped to look like licking flames.

In addition to acting as a ring of minor elemental resistance, once per day it can shoot forth a blast of flame equivalent to a burning hands spell.

A crown counts as a headband for the purpose of what space a magic item uses.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, burning hands, protection from elements; Market Price: 20,000 gp; Weight: —.

PHAANT'S LUCKSTONE

These faceted, translucent, flawed gray gemstones are usually found in lots of two to five.

When worn or carried by a creature, a Phaant's luckstone allows the bearer to reroll one roll she has just made, as if using the granted power of the Luck domain.

Once this reroll is made, the luckstone turns to worthless black powder.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, divine favor, creator must have the Luck domain; Market Price: 1,000 gp; Weight: —.

PHASESTONE

This item can trap any ghost it touches, absorbing all ectoplasm into it, and storing the ghost for up to 48 hours. An unwilling ghost is allowed a Will save (DC 20) to resist the attempt.

The stone can be used only once, but it is not considered used until it has successfully stored a ghost.

The possessor can "discharge" the ghost early if desired.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, disrupt ectoplasm, trap the soul; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

POUCH OF PUREST EARTH

Created by Galaedran druids, this pouch is made of softened tree bark and laced shut with carefully preserved vines.

Inside are five handfuls of rich mulch consisting of dark soil and decomposed vegetable matter.

Each handful of mulch can be used to produce one of the following effects.

antiplant shell entangle (DC 11) plant growth Once all the mulch has been used, the item loses all power.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, antiplant shell, entangle, plant growth; Market Price: 4,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

SKULLMARBLE

This item is made of a bleached mouse skull encased in a sphere of clear resin.

When touched to an undead creature (requiring a melee touch attack), it disappears in a shockwave of positive energy, dealing 1d6 points of damage to the undead.

It can also be thrown at an undead creature (as a ranged touch attack, range increment 10 feet) with the same effect. No weapon proficiency is needed to use the item.

Up to three can be thrown as part of a single attack, each requiring a separate attack roll.

Alternatively, a skullmarble can be used like a bullet with a sling, although it is still considered a ranged touch attack, and it deals only positive energy damage, not a bullet's normal damage (the advantage is a longer range increment).

If used against a target that is not undead, it still disappears, but has no effect.

A character with at least 1 rank in the Alchemy skill knows how to grind a skullmarble into a sandy powder.

This powder can be thrown as a grenade-like weapon up to 5 feet.

Up to three marbles' worth of powder can be thrown as an attack, dealing 1d6 points of damage per skullmarble to the targeted undead and 1 point of splash damage to any undead within 5 feet of the targeted undead.

If used to target a square instead of a creature, undead in that square or within 5 feet of it take 1 point of splash damage.

Caster Level: 1st; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, disrupt undead; Market Price: 25 gp; Weight: —.

WANDERER'S BOOTS

These sturdy leather boots have thick soles and are incredibly comfortable.

The wearer gains a +3 resistance bonus on all Fortitude saves and may move as if under the effect of an expeditious retreat spell once per day.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, expeditious retreat, resistance; Market Price: 7,800 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

WHITE ROBE OF THE GHOSTWARDEN

This long white robe is decorated with holy runes in gold thread.

In addition to functioning as a cloak of resistance +1, it allows the wearer to use prayer once per day.

While worn by a ghost, it automatically shifts its appearance to "normal", regardless of the manner of the ghost's death.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, change self or pleasant visage, prayer, resistance; Market Price: 10,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

HEROES OF BATTLE (3.5)

BLAST DISK

This item, resembling a jet-black plate with an 8-inch diameter, can be set to explode via proximity or a timer.

In either function, when the disk activates it explodes, dealing 5d6 points of fire damage to all creatures and objects within 10 feet of the disk (Reflex DC 14 half).

If set to explode via proximity, a blast disk must be set down in a square on the battlefield.

The next creature of Small or larger size to enter that square (either on the ground or airborne within 5 feet) sets off the blast disk.

That creature receives a –2 penalty on the save against the blast.

A blast disk can also be set to automatically explode up to 10 rounds after placement.

Faint evocation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, fireball; Price 900 gp.

BLESSED BANDAGE

This piece of first aid equipment can be applied to a dying creature.

Applying a blessed bandage is a standard action that immediately stabilizes the target (but heals no damage).

Faint conjuration; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, cure minor wounds; Price 10 gp.

CAMOUFLAGE PAINT

This jelly-like substance comes in a jar 3 inches in diameter and 1 inch deep.

Each jar has enough material for five applications.

To apply, the user spreads globs of the substance across her face as a standard action.

Once applied, camouflage paint changes the color of the user's skin, clothing, and gear to that of her surroundings.

This effect provides a +5 circumstance bonus on Hide checks, but only when the user is stationary.

The effects of camouflage paint last for 2 hours.

Faint transmutation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, disguise self; Price 1,500 gp; Weight 1/2 lb.

DAERN'S INSTANT TENT

This item appears to be a strip of canvas, folded into a small triangle.

When activated by speaking the command word, it grows to become a 20-foot-square tent.

The inside of the tent is kept temperate, as the spell Leomund's tiny hut.

There are cots for up to eight Medium creatures inside, and a lit firepit with a smokehole.

The tent itself has resistance 10 to electricity, fire, and acid, as well as immunity to cold.

Moderate conjuration; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's tiny hut; Price 9,000 gp.

DRUMS OF MARCHING

This pair of drums includes a harness that allows them to be strapped to the front of a humanoid creature.

A character who plays these drums during overland movement and succeeds on a DC 15 Perform (percussion instruments) check grants those within 120 feet a +4 bonus on the Constitution check to avoid nonlethal damage from a forced march (see page 164 of the Player's Handbook).

Using the drums doesn't affect the performer's speed.

Faint transmutation; CL 1st; Craft Wondrous Item, longstrider; Price 1,000 gp.

EVERLASTING RATIONS

This small leather pouch contains enough trail rations to feed a Medium creature for one day.

Every morning at sunrise the pouch magically creates another day's worth of rations.

Faint conjuration; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's secret chest; Price 350 gp.

HEALING SALVE

This greasy, yellow, jelly-like substance comes in a jar 3 inches in diameter and 2 inches deep.

A single application smeared across a wound will cure 1d8+1 points of damage (as cure light wounds).

A double application will cure 2d8+3 points of damage (as cure moderate wounds).

A triple application will cure 3d8+5 points of damage (as cure serious wounds).

No matter how much salve is used, each application takes a standard action to apply.

A single jar has enough gel for ten single applications.

Faint conjuration; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, cure serious wounds; Price 2,250 gp; Weight 1 lb.

HORN OF PLENTY

This horn can be blown once per week to create a heroes' feast, as the spell, for twelve participants.

Strong conjuration; CL 12th; Craft Wondrous Item, heroes' feast; Price 12,960 gp.

HORN, RALLYING

Twice per day, this horn can be sounded in an attempt to rally troops (see page 73).

Anyone wielding one of these horns gets a +10 bonus on any rally check he attempts.

Moderate enchantment; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, remove fear; Price 3,600 gp.

HORN OF THE RIDER

This curved horn bears engravings of armed men on horseback, charging into battle.

Three times per day, the user can attempt a DC 15 Perform (wind instruments) check to create one or more riders made of force energy.

If the check fails, no riders are created, but it still counts as one of the horn's daily uses.

A lesser horn of the rider summons a single rider of force (as the spiritual charger spell; see page 128).

Each rider has a +5 attack bonus and deals 2d8+2 points of damage.

A greater horn of the rider summons three horsemen (as the spiritual cavalry spell; see page 127).

Each rider has a +11 attack bonus and deals 2d8+4 points of damage.

Moderate evocation (lesser) or strong evocation (greater); CL 6th (lesser) or 12th (greater); Craft Wondrous Item, spiritual cavalry (greater) or spiritual charger (lesser); Price 18,000 gp (lesser) or 60,000 gp (greater).

ORB OF SHOWERS

This 8-inch-diameter glass sphere is similar to, but much weaker than, the orb of storms described on page 263 of the Dungeon Master's Guide.

Once per week, the possessor can call upon the orb to create a rain shower in a two-mile-radius circle around him (see page 94 of the Dungeon Master's Guide for the effect of rain).

The rain shower lasts for 24 hours.

The orb has no effect indoors or underground.

In cold climates, the orb creates sleet instead of rain.

Strong transmutation; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, control weather; Price 15,000 gp.

PHILOSOPHER'S WOOL

This thick, milky cream protects the wearer from the dangers of hot weather and from fire-based attacks.

To apply, the user spreads the cream over her face, neck, and any exposed flesh.

Philosopher's wool completely protects creatures from the ill effects of very hot weather (temperatures between 90° and 110° F) and provides a +5 circumstance bonus to Fortitude saves made when exposed to severe heat (temperatures above 110° F).

In addition, these saving throws need only be made once per hour instead of every 10 minutes.

Finally, philosopher's wool protects a creature from up to 60 points of damage from fire-based attacks.

The effects of philosopher's wool wear off after 24 hours, or after the substance absorbs 60 points of damage from fire-based attacks.

A 3-inch diameter, 1-inch deep jar of philosopher's wool has enough cream for five applications.

Faint abjuration; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, endure elements, protection from energy; Price 3,000 gp; Weight 1/2 lb.

PORTABLE FOXHOLE

When placed on a flat surface, this circular piece of canvas creates a shallow pit 5 feet square and 3 feet deep.

The foxhole provides cover against ranged attacks.

Items left in the foxhole when it is closed end up on top of the flat surface, since the portable foxhole is not an extradimensional storage item.

Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, move earth; Price 5,000 gp.

SCRYING BEACON

This button-sized item is usually crafted of ebony or jet.

If a spellcaster spends 1 minute attuning himself to the beacon, he can choose for the next clairaudience/clairvoyance spell he casts to be centered on the beacon, as long as he is within one mile of it.

Once this power has been used, the beacon becomes dormant until the caster attunes himself to it again.

Faint divination; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, clairaudience/clairvoyance; Price 750 gp.

STANDARDS

Standards (sometimes called banners) fly in the companies of an army.

This type of wondrous item provides benefits to the unit that bears it.

Unless otherwise noted, all allies of the standard-bearer within 30 feet of the standard receive the indicated benefit for as long as they can see the standard.

A standard requires two hands to use, so a two-armed holder is unable to use a weapon or shield while carrying the banner.

In some cases the standard is mounted on a weapon, and that weapon can be used normally in combat.

A standard is an important part of a military force.

Even those that are not magical provide a sense of pride and loyalty to those marching under them.

They also can have important strategic value.

If a standard-bearer falls during combat, any magical benefits granted by the standard cease.

If the standard is not raised again by an ally within 1 round, all those who were benefiting from it must make a morale check (see page 72).

If the morale rules are not being used, then followers of a fallen banner become shaken if it is not raised by an ally within 1 round (Will DC 20 negates).

BANNER OF LAW

Order reigns supreme under this banner, and all nonchaotic allies within 30 feet are protected as if by a protection from chaos spell.

Similar banners protect against law, evil, or good.

Moderate abjuration; CL 6th; Craft Wondrous Item, magic circle against chaos; Price 8,000 gp.

BANNER OF THE GOBLIN'S BANE

Those with a mutual loathing of goblins march under this banner, which usually depicts the hated foe in some manner of death or dire injury.

Allies within 30 feet gain a +2 bonus on damage rolls against goblinoids.

Other banners exist that designate foes of a different type or subtype.

Common foes include orcs, giants, and undead.

Faint conjuration; CL 5th, Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster I; Price 8,000 gp.

BANNER OF THE UNLIVING

Depicting a bone-white skeleton on a field of midnight blue, this flag provides +2 turn resistance to any undead allies within 30 feet.

This turn resistance stacks with any turn resistance the undead might already have.

Moderate necromancy; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, desecrate; Price 12,000 gp.

FORGEHOME STANDARD

Dwarves are the typical followers of this banner—particularly when they march to war against giantkind—but its benefits apply to all allies within 30 feet.

This banner grants a +2 dodge bonus to Armor Class against attacks made by giants; this bonus stacks with the dodge bonus all dwarves gain when fighting giants.

The banner also gives a +2 bonus to morale checks made when at least one enemy giant is visible.

Moderate enchantment; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be a dwarf; Price 4,000 gp.

HEALER'S STANDARD

This flag denotes the noncombative nature of its bearer and her comrades, typically healers or combat medics.

The bearer and any unarmed allies within 30 feet receive the effects of a sanctuary spell (see Player's Handbook page 274); any opponent that attempts to attack them must make a DC 16 Will save or be unable to attack.

Moderate abjuration; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, Heighten Spell, sanctuary; Price 14,000 gp.

SIGN OF THE FAVORED

This banner is of relatively simple design, usually in the colors of the nation or entity it represents and adorned with symbols for the gods of luck, valor, or war.

Three times per day, the standard-bearer can invoke a prayer to the depicted gods.

The prayer grants allies within 30 feet a +1 luck bonus on attack rolls, weapon damage rolls, saves, and skill checks for 5 rounds.

Faint enchantment; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, prayer; Price 16,200 gp.

STANDARD OF THE GALLOPING STEED

This banner, emblazoned with the mark of a charging horse, is typically mounted on the end of a spear or lance; colorful streamers unfurl during a charge.

When charging, the bearer and any charging allies within 30 feet receive a +2 bonus on their attack rolls.

Moderate evocation; CL 8th; Craft Wondrous Item, mount; Price 8,000 gp.

HEROES OF HORROR (3.5)

ROD OF SANCTITY

Created by the ancient purifiers who learned at the feet of Kardol Erzai himself (see page 109), the rod of sanctity is both a weapon and a shield against taint.

It is unique to the organization not because they keep its construction secret—in fact, many purifiers would love to see the rod become more common—but because only a purifier of the Hallowed Doctrine can create one.

Rod of Sanctity: This rod, constructed of black iron inlaid with lapis lazuli, is a powerful tool against taint.

It functions as a +2 bane light mace against any creature with a taint score; against all other creatures it functions as a masterwork light mace.

It grants a +2 resistance bonus to any saves made to resist gaining taint.

If wielded by a purifier of the Hallowed Doctrine, it adds +4 to his effective purifier level and +2 to his effective

Charisma modifier for purposes of smiting tainted creatures or turning tainted creatures.
Strong abjuration; CL 11; Craft Wondrous Item, must be capable of channeling positive energy specifically against taint; Price 36,805 gp; Cost 18,250 + 1,460; Weight 8 lb.

LIBRIS MORTIS (3.5)

BAGPIPES OF THE DAMNED

When played, these bagpipes help bolster undead against turning.
The piper must make a DC 15 Perform (wind instruments) check.
If successful, all undead within 60 feet gain a +4 bonus on turn resistance for 10 rounds.
Moderate necromancy; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, able to rebuke undead as a 10th-level cleric; Price 3,000 gp; Weight 4 lb.

CLOAK OF TURN RESISTANCE

This unholy item makes its wearer more difficult to turn by adding a +4 bonus on its turn resistance.
Moderate necromancy [evil]; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, able to rebuke undead as a 10th-level cleric; Price 11,000 gp.

ECTOPLASMIC ICHOR

When this thick, translucent paste is spread onto a corporeal object (requiring a standard action), it allows incorporeal creatures to interact with that object as if they were corporeal (much like a ghost touch weapon).
A single vial coats one Medium or smaller weapon, shield, or suit of armor, or any other object of similar size.
The effect lasts for 1 hour.
Moderate transmutation; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, ghost touch; Price 500 gp.

GHOST NET

This gossamer-thin netting is thrown like a net, except it only affects incorporeal creatures.
If the net hits an incorporeal target, the creature isn't entangled, but instead is treated as corporeal for the purpose of dealing damage to it with physical or magical attacks.
It can be hit with normal weapons (though the creature's normal damage reduction, if any, still applies) and there is no 50% chance that it ignores damage from corporeal sources.
A creature ensnared by a ghost net also can't turn ethereal (or, if snared on the Ethereal Plane, can't return to the Material Plane).
The creature retains all other special abilities, and can extract itself from the net with a DC 20 Escape Artist check (a full-round action).
The ghost net can't be burst by Strength.
Moderate transmutation; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, ghost trap; Price 8,000 gp.

GHOUL GAUNTLETS

When worn by a living creature, these mottled gloves virtually meld with the wearer's own flesh, making his hands appear gaunt and rotting.
Once per round, the wearer can make a touch attack that paralyzes the target for 1d6+2 rounds (Fortitude DC 13 negates).
Elves are immune to this paralysis.
The wearer can also deliver this attack as part of an unarmed strike, slam, claw, or similar natural attack made with the hand, but in that case must attack normally (and not with a touch attack).
The ghoul gauntlets have no effect when worn by a construct or undead creature.
If the wearer dies, the gauntlets revert to their normal appearance.
Faint necromancy; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, ghoul touch; Price 10,000 gp.

GLOBE OF SUNLIGHT

This golden fist-sized orb can be hurled up to 50 feet. When it arrives at the end of its trajectory, it detonates as a sunburst spell (Reflex DC 22 partial), except that the radius of the burst is only 40 feet.
Strong evocation; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, sunburst; Price 6,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

GOGGLES OF DAY

The lenses of this item are made of silvered crystal. When placed over the eyes, the wearer can operate without penalty in preternaturally bright light, such as might result from a flare, sunbeam, or sunburst spell.
A bonus side effect allows vampires a full-round action prior to dissolution when confronted with sunlight, as opposed to just a partial action.
Faint transmutation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, darkvision; Price 4,500 gp; Weight 1 lb.

GOGGLES OF LIFESIGHT

The wearer of these goggles automatically knows whether any visible creature within 30 feet is alive, dead, undead, or neither alive nor dead (such as a construct).
Moderate divination; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item; true seeing; Price 2,000 gp.

HUSK GLOBE

The bodies of humanoid creatures sacrificed according to special rituals of necromancy can be placed in globes of glass or crystal, so they remain perfectly preserved and on display indefinitely.
Moreover, husk globes retain the imprinted knowledge once possessed by the corpse preserved within.
Anyone who runs a hand across the surface of the globe and commands the occupant to speak by their correct name can ask questions of it.
The questioner may ask up to ten questions once the corpse is activated.
The corpse answers telepathically, mentally audible to all within 30 feet of the globe.

The husk's knowledge is limited to what it knew during life, including the languages it spoke (if any). Answers may be brief, cryptic, or repetitive. The husk can be activated once per week. The husk can learn new information if told while active, and that information may be retrieved later by different questioners. Moderate necromancy; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, speak with dead; Price 8,500 gp; Weight 700 lb.

LYRE OF THE RESTFUL SOUL

When played, this lyre weakens the ability of undead creatures to resist turning or rebuking. The drummer makes a DC 15 Perform (string instruments) check. If successful, all undead within 60 feet take a -4 penalty to turn resistance (which can lower their effective HD for turning to below their normal HD, but not lower than 1) for 10 rounds. Moderate necromancy; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, able to turn or rebuke undead as a 10th-level cleric; Price 3,000 gp; Weight 5 lb.

NIGHT CALLER

This whistle is transparent but weighty as if forged of iron, not glass. The whistle resembles a small dragon curled up like a snail. When blown over a grave containing a body in darkness or at night, one corpse below animates and claws its way to the surface. The zombie serves the whistler faithfully until it is destroyed, as if it were created with animate dead. The whistle can be used once per week; however, the whistler can acquire no more than two zombie followers at any one time using night caller. Faint necromancy; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate dead; Price 7,000 gp.

NYCOPTIC MANUSCRIPTS

These twin papyrus scrolls are inscribed with ancient tales and cryptic prophecies by an anonymous, almost-certainly insane author. Despite their dubious accuracy, the manuscripts contain many useful descriptions of spells from the school of necromancy, and grant the possessor a +5 competence bonus on any Knowledge (arcana) check she makes that deals with necromantic topics as long as the scrolls are in her possession and the character can take 1d4 rounds to find the proper reference. Moderate necromancy; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, Knowledge (arcana) 5 ranks; Price 2,500 gp; Weight 2 lb.

UNHOLY SHROUDS

These shrouds look like ordinary funerary wrappings for dead bodies and are often decorated with symbols and icons representing the dead rising. If a dead body is wrapped in the shrouds, and the command word spoken, it returns as an undead creature.

The kind of undead it returns as is determined by the type of shrouds—lesser shrouds animate the corpse as a ghast, while greater shrouds turn the body into a wraith. The undead creature is not under anyone's control when it rises, though it may be commanded or controlled by the normal means. Wrapping a body takes 10 minutes. The magic of the shrouds is usable once only, after which the wrappings turn to dust. Strong necromancy; CL 12th (lesser) or 16th (greater); Craft Wondrous Item, create undead (lesser) or create greater undead (greater); Price 3,600 gp (lesser) or 6,400 gp (greater); Weight 10 lb.

LORDS OF DARKNESS (3.0)

DROW HOUSE INSIGNIA

These metal tokens are normally worn on a chain or in a pouch tied around the neck. Each bears a symbol of a noble house from a particular drow city and requires a secret command word to activate. An insignia has a single minor magical ability that can be used once per day, usually a spell of 3rd level or lower. Those belonging to powerful drow often have multiple abilities of various power levels. Typical spells for a house insignia are blur, cat's grace, cloak of dark power, comprehend languages, feather fall, jump, read magic, scatterspray, shield, spider climb, unseen servant, and water breathing. Each insignia is slightly different, even those of the same noble house, so it is possible that a person aware of the unique shape of a person's insignia can magically locate that person. Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, appropriate spell; Market Price: 360 gp (1st-level ability), 2,160 gp (2nd-level ability), or 5,400 gp (3rd-level ability); Weight: 1/2 lb.

FIRE ELEMENTAL GEM

Each of these red or orange gems contains a conjuration spell attuned to the Elemental Plane of Fire. When the gem is crushed, smashed, or broken, a fire elemental appears as if summoned by a summon monster spell. The elemental is under the control of the creature that broke the gem. Breaking the gem is a standard action. Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster III (Small elemental), V (Medium-size), VI (Large), VII (Huge), VIII (greater), or IX (elder); Market Price: 750 gp (Small), 2,250 gp (Medium-size), 3,300 gp (Large), 4,550 gp (Huge), 6,000 gp (greater), or 7,650 gp (elder); Weight: —.

GREATER PIWAFWI

These dark-colored cloaks have all the abilities of a cloak of elvenkind and also provide the benefit of endure elements (fire), negating 5 points of fire damage per round. (Lesser piwafwi are simply cloaks of elvenkind).

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, endure elements, invisibility, creator must be a drow; Market Price: 6,100 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

LORDS OF MADNESS (3.5)

AMULET OF INVIOULATE FORM

This mystic amulet is set with seven red garnets. Whenever the wearer is subjected to a spell or effect that would significantly change her bodily form or composition, she can expend one charge to negate the transformation. She must decide whether to use the charge before she attempts a saving throw.

Effects that the amulet protects against include polymorph, petrification, gaseous form, and transformative attacks such as the touch of an aboleth's tentacle or a chaos beast.

The amulet has 7 charges, one for each garnet; the garnets turn dull black as charges are expended.

Moderate abjuration; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, break enchantment; Price 11,000 gp.

BRAIN CANISTER

The ultimate goal of every mind flayer is to join the elder brain upon death.

To be denied this is the worst fate imaginable.

When illithids die far from home, their brains cannot be brought back to the elder brain before putrefaction begins.

Once a deceased illithid's brain begins to rot, the elder brain does not accept it.

This is viewed as a great waste.

To prevent such a tragedy, mind flayers developed the brain canister.

This metal urn is typically made from copper and filled with an alchemical solution.

A brain placed in the canister lives on indefinitely, although it is unconscious and insensible.

Removing a brain for storage in the canister requires a DC 25 Heal check (mind flayers gain a +5 circumstance bonus on this check due to their natural facility at the task).

The body must be living when removal begins, and the brain must be placed in the canister within 1 minute of removal, or it dies.

The creature whose brain is removed dies immediately and cannot be raised or resurrected unless the brain is recovered or destroyed.

Mind flayers sometimes use brain canisters to store meals for long journeys, when it might not be possible to feed as often as they like.

They also store the brains of particularly interesting humanoids, so they can perform terrible experiments or transplants on the brain or question these individuals through various psionic means.

Faint necromancy; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, gentle repose; Price 30,000 gp; Weight 5 lb.

BRAINMATE

Mind flayers in the vicinity of an elder brain feel its presence constantly.

This is not an unpleasant sensation for them.

The never-ending hum of the elder brain's activity is a reassuring sensation for an illithid.

When a mind flayer travels outside the elder brain's range of influence, that comforting presence is lost.

An imperfect solution to this problem is the brainmate.

The brainmate consists of a tiny bud, about the size of a walnut, taken from an elder brain and encased in a crystal globe filled with mucus.

The brain matter itself might or might not be visible within the murky goo.

The globe can be worn on a chain around the neck or simply carried on the wearer's person.

A brainmate is nominally sentient.

It contains a tiny portion of the elder brain's knowledge, and it responds to direct telepathic questions.

Although a brainmate does not provide the comforting background hum of mental activity that illithids find so soothing, it is a useful companion to a far-ranging mind flayer.

If the wearer has the telepathy special ability, the ability to cast Rary's telepathic bond, or the mindlink psionic power, he can access the brainmate to make use of its knowledge.

A brainmate possesses 10 ranks in two specific Knowledge skills, allowing the wearer to make checks in those specific skills as if he possessed the same number of ranks.

The wearer uses his own Intelligence modifier on these checks. Besides storing information from the elder brain, a brainmate also records everything its owner imparts to it. If the brainmate is worn or carried by a telepathic user, it records everything the individual sees, hears, or experiences.

It is common, therefore, for illithid spies to be equipped with brainmates.

When a spy returns to its community, the elder brain has perfect access to everything the spy encountered, with no memory loss or room for misinterpretation.

Moderate divination; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, Rary's telepathic bond or telepathy as a special ability; Price 10,000 gp.

CERULEAN SIGN

The ancient cerulean sign is a potent symbol against aberrations and their ilk.

Said to be an ancient glyph that captures and focuses the power of the natural world, an item of jewelry that bears a properly crafted cerulean sign becomes a potent ward against creatures from outside the natural order.

A cerulean sign is usually crafted as an amulet, but it can sometimes be found in the form of a mantle, medallion, periapt, or ring.

As long as a cerulean sign is carried (either in the hand or in a pocket or container you are wearing, excluding those that create extradimensional spaces, such as bags of holding), it grants the carrier a +1 resistance bonus on all Will saving throws made against effects that originate from aberrations.

If worn, a cerulean sign also grants a luck bonus to your Armor Class and on all saving throws against attacks from aberrations, as well as a luck bonus on level checks made to penetrate an aberration's spell resistance.

The magnitude of this luck bonus ranges from +1 to +5.

Moderate abjuration; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, invoke the cerulean sign†; Price 4,000 gp (+1), 16,000 gp (+2), 36,000 gp (+3), 60,000 gp (+4), 100,000 gp (+5).

† New spell described on page 211.

CHUULFACE MASK

This chitinous mask merges with its wearer's flesh when worn, but can be removed easily as a full-round action. As long as the mask is worn, the wearer's lower face becomes transformed into a mass of long red tentacles within a chitinous mandible.

His upper face is a smooth shell with tiny beady eyes. The user can still speak (albeit in a sloshing, gurgling voice), but any spell with a verbal component has a 10% spell failure chance.

As long as it is worn, the wearer can breathe water and has darkvision out to 60 feet.

If the user manages to establish a grapple on a creature, he can make a touch attack with the tentacles of the mask once per round as a free action.

A creature struck by these tentacles must make a DC 19 Fortitude saving throw or be paralyzed for 6 rounds.

Moderate transmutation; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, darkvision, hold monster, water breathing; Price 65,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

CODEX ANATHEMA

This infamous book was written by the wizard Iphegor of the Ebon Mirror.

It has been copied on rare occasions since.

It records terrible knowledge of distant times, alien worlds, and various aberrations.

If anyone reads this book (a minimum of 48 hours over at least six days), she gains an inherent bonus of +2 to her Intelligence score, but loses 2 points from her Wisdom score.

In addition, she gains 5 ranks of Knowledge (dungeoneering), 2 ranks of Knowledge (arcana), and 2 ranks of Knowledge (the planes).

Once the book is read, the magic disappears from its pages and it becomes a normal book—still filled with disturbing and frightful images, but no longer capable of granting its reader any bonuses or penalties.

Strong divination; CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, foresight, vision, creator must have read another Codex Anathema (magical or discharged); Price 37,500 gp; Weight 5 lb.

DARKRUNNER EMBLEM

This small brooch is worn by members of the Darkrunner Guild and signifies the wearer as an ally or member of the organization.

The emblem grants a +2 competence bonus on all Survival checks made in underground locations, as long as it is worn openly.

If the wearer possesses any levels in the darkrunner prestige class, the emblem can be used to produce light (as the spell) at will, and the emblem itself glows softly with pale blue magical fire (as the continual flame spell).

A character who has been exiled from the guild but still has levels in the darkrunner cannot use the emblem to produce light, and the emblem glows with pale red light instead of blue light.

Most darkrunners wear their emblems openly in the city but cover them with a patch of cloth when in the wild.

In this way, the light doesn't draw unwanted attention but can be quickly exposed to aid in smoothing over an unexpected encounter with an intelligent subterranean creature.

Faint evocation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be a member of the darkrunner prestige class, light, continual flame; Price 1,200 gp.

DUST OF NEGATION

This fine purple powder comes in a folded paper packet. When cast into the air, the dust creates a cloud of faint violet sparkles in a 10-foot spread from the point of origin. This cloud functions as an antimagic field, negating all magic effects within the area.

The cloud persists for 2 minutes (or 2 rounds in windy conditions).

Moderate abjuration; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, antimagic field; Price 3,300 gp.

LENS OF RAY CHAINING

This small lens can be affixed over a beholder's eyestalk and held in place by suction and the creature's eyelid.

An eye ray shot from an eye wearing a lens of ray chaining is enhanced so that it jumps from the initial target to a second target within range of the user's actual location.

If the ray misses its initial target, it does not jump to a new target.

A spellcaster can use a lens of ray chaining as an additional focus component to chain a ray spell as long as he holds the lens in one hand.

A lens of ray chaining shatters into ruin after it is used nine times.

Strong universal; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item; Price 11,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

LENS OF RAY DOUBLING

This magic lens functions as a lens of ray chaining, except that it instead splits any ray shot through it into two rays. The user can direct the rays at the same target (affecting it twice) or at two different targets, as long as the two targets are no more than 30 feet apart.

Strong universal; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item; Price 16,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

LENS OF RAY EXTENDING

This magic lens functions as a lens of ray chaining, except that it instead doubles the range of any ray shot through it. Strong universal; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item; Price 2,500 gp; Weight 1 lb.

LENS OF RAY WIDENING

This magic lens functions as a lens of ray chaining, except that it instead widens any ray shot through it into a cone-shaped effect.

The user no longer rolls to hit a target with the ray.

Instead, any creatures caught in the cone-shaped area must make a DC 15 Reflex save to avoid the effect of the ray entirely.

Each target in the area that fails to save is affected as if struck fully by the ray. This widening magic dilutes the original strength of the ray; creatures affected by the cone gain a +2 bonus on any saving throws made to resist or negate the actual effect of the ray. When widened, rays that normally affect objects (such as disintegrate ray) now affect only creatures, unless the ray deals some form of energy damage, in which case objects automatically make their saving throw against the damage caused by the attack. Strong universal; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item; Price 32,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

RESONANCE STONE OF DELIRIUM

All creatures that come within 30 feet of this resonance stone must succeed on a DC 14 Will save or be nauseated and blinded for 1 minute. Moderate enchantment; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, major image or telepathy special ability; Price 45,000 gp.

RESONANCE STONE OF DESPAIR

All creatures that come within 30 feet of this resonance stone must succeed on a DC 16 Will save or be affected as if by crushing despair for as long as they remain in the affected area. Moderate enchantment; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, crushing despair or telepathy special ability; Price 56,000 gp.

RESONANCE STONE OF FEAR

All creatures that come within 30 feet of this resonance stone must succeed on a DC 16 Will save or be affected as if by fear. Moderate necromancy; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, fear or telepathy special ability; Price 56,000 gp.

SPHERE MIRROR

This large pane of glass measures 10 feet tall by 5 feet wide. The item's name, which seems at odds with its rectangular shape, actually refers to the spherical shape of a beholder's body. The glass surface of the mirror does not reflect light, and, viewed under normal circumstances, it seems like little more than an empty metal frame. The magic of the glass perfectly reflects the image of any beholder that looks into it, up to a range of 60 feet. The image is so perfect that it is very likely to be mistaken for a live beholder; a DC 30 Spot check reveals the truth but offers no additional protection from the beholder's eye rays. A beholder can reflect and amplify any of its eye rays off the surface of the mirror, effectively firing the ray from the location of the mirror rather than from its eye. The beholder needs line of sight to the mirror, but not line of effect. If it fires a ray at an object it cannot see from its actual location or the mirror's location, the target gains the benefit of total concealment. It is possible for a beholder to redirect its eye ray attacks around numerous corners if multiple sphere mirrors are used, as long as no two mirrors are more than 60 feet apart.

A beholder must use a standard action to focus on a sphere mirror, and can use only one eye ray per round when employing this magic item. Attacks made against the beholder's reflected image do not harm the beholder, although they might damage the mirror itself, which has hardness 10 and 30 hit points. A beholder cannot use a sphere mirror if its central eye is open. Strong illusion; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, project image; Price 91,000 gp; Weight 20 lb.

STRIATOR

This uniquely illithid stylus looks like nothing more than a nicely polished piece of wood or bone. It typically is about a foot long, an inch wide, and a quarter to a half-inch thick. More ornate versions have pleasantly sweeping curves that fit the hand or are decorated with intricate inked carvings. The only universal distinguishing characteristics are four small, flattened nibs at one end. When a creature grasps the stylus and draws it across a piece of parchment or paper, the striator reads the thoughts of the writer and causes a pattern of dashes and spaces to be raised up on the surface in four parallel lines. This is Qualith, a system of tactile writing used by illithids (see Language, below). The striator draws its information directly from the user's thoughts and transcribes the data into Qualith whether the writer understands Qualith or not. Faint divination; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, detect thoughts; Price 1,500 gp.

THOUGHT EXTRUDER

On occasion, a brain is more valuable to mind flayers if it's not eaten. Prisoners, for example, might have important knowledge that the mind flayers need but cannot extract by brute force. No matter how powerful a character's psionic or magic resistance to mind-reading might be, it can be overcome through the use of a thought extruder. The device allows no saving throw and does not permit spell resistance. This diabolical device is a collapsible cage of wires, mesh, and needles. Once it's fitted around the head of a restrained subject (which takes 20 minutes), a mind flayer uses its biocorrosive enzyme to open a fist-sized hole in the prisoner's skull, exposing the brain. Needles then drill into the gray matter, probing for active thought centers, pleasure and pain receptors, and repressed or shielded memories. The operator must be able to establish telepathic communication with the subject by means of the telepathy special ability or a spell or psionic power serving the same purpose. The needles are thought conductors made from an organic material specially developed by illithid alchemists. They enable the operator to read whatever is in the subject's mind. The process is slow; the operator can ask only one question per minute, but receives a complete, truthful answer.

With each question, the victim makes a DC 20 Fortitude save.
Each failure permanently drains its Intelligence, Wisdom, and Charisma scores by 1.
When the illithids are done asking questions, the victim makes a Will save using its current Wisdom modifier.
Failure leaves it permanently insane, as the spell insanity.
Moderate divination; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, Rary's telepathic bond or telepathy special ability; Price 45,000 gp.

TOPAZ DIADEM

All topaz guardians wear a magic headband known as a topaz diadem.
A diadem confers a +1 sacred bonus to AC and a +1 sacred bonus on saving throws against attacks made by or effects created by evil creatures.
It also blocks any attempt to possess the wearer or to exercise mental control over the wearer by means of enchantment (charm) or enchantment (compulsion) effects, as described in the spell protection from evil. (Some enchantment spells, such as hold person, do not require the caster to actively exercise mental control, and therefore still work against the wearer of a diadem).
Unlike the spell, a diadem offers no protection against summoned creatures.
Diadems are created for members of the Topaz Order, and function only for characters of the topaz guardian prestige class.
As a wearer gains levels in the topaz guardian prestige class, his topaz diadem likewise grows more powerful; see the topaz guardian prestige class description.
Moderate abjuration; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, bleed, magic circle against evil, creator must be a member of the Topaz Order; Price 12,000 gp.

VEHICLE AUGMENTATIONS

SERIES SPELLJAMMING HELM

Hardness 10, hp 300, break DC 25.
The series helm is a powerful but unique magic item, though it is not an artifact.
It is vulnerable to regular damage just like any other object.
If the series helm is destroyed, the ship immediately loses gravity, and the air envelope dissipates in 3d10 rounds (see Power, above).
Power: A series spelljamming helm provides propulsion for the nautiloid.
This device also forms an air envelope around the ship that extends to a distance of 20 feet from the outer hull at all points.
In addition, the helm creates a gravity plane that runs along the bottom of the ship.
Any character or object that drops over the edge of the nautiloid falls until it crosses the gravity plane, then continues an equal distance on the opposite side.
The following round, the object repeats the process in the reverse direction, this time stopping 10 feet short of the position from which it originally fell.
This process continues until the object finally stops at the gravity plane.

If the helm is destroyed, all creatures aboard the ship move at one-half their normal speed.
The air envelope dissipates in 3d10 rounds, after which each creature still aboard the ship takes 1d12 points of damage per round until it either dies or finds a way off the ship.

LOST EMPIRES OF FAERÛN (3.5)

AOXAR'S HELM

Aoxar, the great dwarf hero of Ammarindar, crafted this open-faced, metal helmet to identify compatriots in dire need on the battlefield so that he could come to their aid. It also enabled him to pass along the dying wishes of the fallen to their families.
The wearer of Aoxar's helm can use deathwatch at will and speak with dead once per day.
Faint necromancy; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item; deathwatch, speak with dead; Price 15,400 gp; Weight 3 lb.

BATTLECLOAK OF VYCAENA

This voluminous, emerald-green cloak is trimmed with an intricate design done in gold thread.
Each of its two clasps is a golden disk engraved with the crest of a long-extinct Calishite noble family and set with a small emerald.
A battlecloak of Vycaena grants its wearer a +4 armor bonus to Armor Class and a +1 resistance bonus on all saving throws, but its most spectacular power comes from its clasps.
On command, each clasp can store one item in the same manner as a glove of storing.
By touching the clasps (a free action), the wearer can call the items to her hands instantly.
Faint transmutation; CL 8th; Craft Wondrous Item, mage armor, resistance, shrink item; Price 38,000 gp.

CHYLNOTH'S CORONET

Created in the early days of Cormanthyr by an aquatic elf wizard as a gift for his moon elf lover, this narrow circlet of silver is studded with small aquamarines.
Mounted at the center is a tiny platinum sea cat with a mane of pure gold.
Chylnoth's coronet functions as a helm of underwater action and allows the wearer to use freedom of movement for up to 1 hour per day, though this time need not be used consecutively.
In addition, the sea cat figurine animates on command as though it were a figurine of wondrous power.
The sea cat (page 220 of the Monster Manual) can be summoned twice a week and remains for up to 6 hours per use.
Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate object, freedom of movement, water breathing; Price 100,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

GIIRAEGISIR

These ivory cameos were popular among the wealthy citizens of Myth Drannor at the city's height.

Giiraegisirs vary considerably in appearance based on the house of the original owner and the aesthetics of the creator.

Each is basically an oval, ivory cameo with a metal pin on the back to secure it to the wearer's clothing.

The ivory surface is engraved with some sign or glyph (a house insignia, a portrait of a loved one, or the like), and hidden within the setting (Search DC 20) is a small compartment that can hold an item of up to 2 cubic inches in size.

The cameo is affixed to the setting via a small, sliding track. Pulling the ivory cameo down on its track (a free action) grants the wearer a +5 deflection bonus to AC for 1 minute. This ability can be used once per day for the typical giiraegisir, but a few have a superior version of the effect that allows three uses per day of this function.

Moderate abjuration; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, shield of faith; Price 10,800 gp (1/day) or 21,600 gp (3/day).

GOLDEN ORB OF SILUVANEDE

During the heady days of Siluvanede, sun elves from the greater noble houses crafted arcane orbs that offered protection against an enemy's initial magical assault. These items, called golden orbs of Siluvanede, could be carried by their owners or suspended from delicate chains and worn like pendants.

Some were even enspelled to float around their owners in a manner similar to that of ioun stones.

Each orb is a 1-inch-diameter sphere of purest gold imprinted with the house symbol of a noble Siluvanedenn family.

These orbs were so expensive to make that each noble house possessed only one, which was traditionally carried by its eldest member.

A golden orb of Siluvanede contains a Siluvanedenn abjuration spell very similar to Elminster's effulgent epuration. The protection offered is continuous, although the orb can absorb and negate only one spell or spell-like ability that targets its owner each day.

The wearer can choose whether or not to let the orb absorb a particular effect, although he gains no special knowledge or insight that allows him to identify an incoming spell before making this decision.

When Eaerlann and Sharrven conquered Siluvanede, most of the golden orbs were confiscated and placed within secure vaults.

Many of the newly released Siluvanedenn fey'ri now seek to reclaim their stolen ancestral treasures.

Strong abjuration; CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, Elminster's effulgent epuration; Price 30,600 gp.

HARNESS OF ARMOR

Created by wizards from the sweltering desert land of Calimshan, these simple crossed baldrics of leather and chainmail provide all the benefits of wearing armor with none of the problems that a metal shell can cause in the scorching sun.

A harness of armor functions like bracers of armor but occupies the same space on the body as a vest, thus freeing the wearer to use other types of magic bracers.

Moderate conjuration; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, mage armor, creator's caster level must be at least two times the bonus placed in the harness; Price 1,500 gp (+1), 6,000 gp (+2), 12,500 gp (+3), 24,000 gp (+4), 37,500 gp (+5), 54,000 gp (+6), 73,500 gp (+7), 96,000 gp (+8); Weight 1 lb.

ORB OF TEMPESTS

An orb of tempests is a scrying device made from a crystal sphere about 6 inches in diameter.

It functions like a crystal ball (see page 253 of the Dungeon Master's Guide), allowing the use of the spell scrying (Will DC 16 negates).

In addition, the viewer can produce a control weather effect once per day.

This effect is centered on the person or locale the viewer can see in the crystal ball at the time this ability is invoked. The art of making an orb of tempests was a closely held secret of the Illuskan wizards, so only a handful of the devices exist today.

An orb of tempests is an especially potent defensive tool for the defenders of a port city, since the owner can detect hostile fleets long before they approach and sink them in a fierce gale that seems to spring from nowhere.

Strong transmutation; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, scrying, control weather; Price 85,000 gp.

TELKIIRA

Telkiiras are powerful lore-gems worn by the leaders of the mightiest elf clans.

Each telkiira holds the knowledge, skills, and sometimes even a fragment of personality from each of the elves who previously wore it.

Only a few of these devices survived the destruction of Myth Drannor and the other fallen elven realms, and most of those that remain are jealously guarded by their houses. At least a few have made their way into the hands of other creatures over the millennia.

When placed on the forehead of an elf, a telkiira confers the following benefits.

- The wearer gains a +4 insight bonus on Will saves.
- The wearer gains a +4 enhancement bonus to Intelligence.
- A telkiira contains 10 ranks in each of four different Intelligence-, Wisdom-, or Charisma-based skills.

Among the most common skills available from a telkiira are Decipher Script, Knowledge (arcana), Knowledge (history), and Spellcraft.

When making a check involving one of the telkiira's skills, the wearer can use either the device's ranks in that skill or his own, whichever is higher.

He uses his own ability modifier for any skill check using the telkiira's ranks.

- A telkiira functions as a spellbook that can hold up to 200 pages of spells.

A wizard can "write" a spell into a telkiira without paying the usual material cost of 25 gp per page, although he still must take the normal time to do so.

A telkiira is fully erasable, so its owner can remove spells and replace them with new ones as he sees fit.

• A telkiira can hold up to ten distinct memories, each up to 1 hour in length, with perfect clarity. A wearer who accesses one of these memories experiences it as if she were the person who recorded it. Writing a memory requires 1 full round, regardless of its length.

Telkiiras often hold important or treasured memories of their previous owners.

Only an elf or a creature with elf blood (a half-elf, for example) can wear a telkiira safely.

Any other creature that places the gem on its forehead gains two negative levels and cannot use any of its abilities. These negative levels remain as long as the telkiira is worn and disappear as soon as it is removed.

Telkiiras are often locked to prevent unauthorized elves from enjoying their full benefits.

An elf wearing a locked telkiira gains none of the benefits described above except the bonuses to Intelligence and on Will saves.

Any member of the house, clan, or family that owns a given telkiira can lock or unlock it as a free action.

Any other wearer can attempt a Use Magic Device check or Charisma check (DC 20 for either) to open a locked telkiira. Failure means the wearer must wait until he attains his next level before trying again.

Strong transmutation; CL 20th; Craft Wondrous Item, fox's cunning, protection from spells, limited wish, vision, creator must be an elf; Price 100,000 gp; Cost 50,000 gp + 4,100 XP.

MAGIC ITEM COMPENDIUM (3.5)

ABERRANT SPHERE

Price (Item Level): 2,800 gp (7th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) conjuration

Activation: Full-round (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

The surface of this sphere seems to constantly flash with words in your native tongue, but you can't make out what they say.

Created by alienists (CAr 21) and other cultists who worship aberrant entities, an aberrant sphere allows its wielder to summon creatures from beyond space and time at the cost of a fraction of his own sanity.

A sphere has 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges causes the sphere to shatter, as it summons a particular kind of aberration, which appears anywhere within 30 feet of you and serves you (as summon monster I) for 7 rounds.

You also take a penalty on your Will saves as long as the creature is present.

1 charge: Summons a choker; -1 penalty on Will saves.

2 charges: Summons a grick; -2 penalty on Will saves.

3 charges: Summons a carrion crawler; -3 penalty on Will saves.

At the end of the duration (or when the creature is destroyed), the sphere re-forms in your hand (or at your feet if your hands are full) and the penalty on your Will saves disappears.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster IV.

Cost to Create: 1,400 gp, 112 XP.

ACROBAT BOOTS

Price (Item Level): 900 gp (4th)

Body Slot: Feet

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: — and swift (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

Multiple brass buckles run from the ankle to the top of the calf on these finely crafted, black leather boots.

A pair of acrobat boots grants you a +2 competence bonus on Tumble checks.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

In addition, these boots have 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges grants you an enhancement bonus to your speed for 1 round.

1 charge: +10-foot enhancement bonus.

2 charges: +15-foot enhancement bonus.

3 charges: +20-foot enhancement bonus.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cat's grace, longstrider.

Cost to Create: 450 gp, 36 XP, 1 day.

ADAMANTINE MIND BLADE GAUNTLETS

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

Each of these heavy leather gloves bears a violet crystal set on a small plate of adamantine.

Adamantine mind blade gauntlets allow you to give your mind blade the properties of adamantine.

If you are able to enhance your mind blade (with the mind blade enhancement class feature), whenever you materialize your mind blade while wearing these gauntlets, you can choose to treat it as an adamantine weapon for the purpose of ignoring hardness or overcoming damage reduction.

This ability takes the place of a property with a +1 enhancement bonus value.

For example, a 6th-level soulknife wearing the gauntlets could either choose to apply the gauntlets' effect or apply one of the +1 enhancement bonus value properties given on the table (EPH 29).

A 10th-level soulknife could apply both the gauntlets' effect and a +1 enhancement bonus value property rather than applying a combination of properties from the table totaling +2.

Adamantine mind blade gauntlets function an unlimited number of times per day.

The gauntlets require no separate activation; using them is part of the action to materialize your mind blade.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fabricate, mind blade.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

AMBER AMULET OF VERMIN

Price (Item Level): See table

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: See table

Aura: See table; (DC varies) transmutation

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: —

This irregularly shaped piece of natural amber is fastened at the end of a long golden chain.

Within the amber a tiny creature still seems to twitch.

This item summons a giant vermin that appears and obeys your commands for 1 minute (as if summoned by summon nature's ally).

At the end of this duration, the creature vanishes.

Eight varieties of the amber amulet of vermin exist (see the table for the details of each version).

An amber amulet of vermin works once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, giant vermin.

Cost to Create: Varies.

AMULET OF AQUATIC SALVATION

Price (Item Level): 500 gp (3rd)

AMBER AMULET OF VERMIN

Vermin	CL	Aura	Market Price (Item Level)
Giant bee	7th	Moderate (DC 17)	500 gp (3rd)
Giant queen ant	10th	Moderate (DC 20)	700 gp (3rd)
Giant praying mantis	10th	Moderate (DC 20)	700 gp (3rd)
Huge monstrous centipede	10th	Moderate (DC 20)	700 gp (3rd)
Huge monstrous scorpion	10th	Moderate (DC 20)	700 gp (3rd)
Large monstrous spider	10th	Moderate (DC 20)	700 gp (3rd)
Giant wasp	15th	Strong (DC 22)	800 gp (3rd)
Giant stag beetle	19th	Strong (DC 24)	1,200 gp (4th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) conjuration

Activation: Immediate (mental)

Weight: —

This small pendant contains a perfect sphere of aquamarine hung from a blue metal chain.

These necklaces are boons to sailors and spelunkers alike, because they prevent accidental drowning.

When activated, an amulet of aquatic salvation grants you the ability to breathe water (as the water breathing spell) for 5 rounds.

An amulet of aquatic salvation functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, water breathing.

Cost to Create: 250 gp, 20 XP, 1 day.

AMULET OF CATAPSI

Price (Item Level): 16,000 gp (14th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) enchantment

Activation: Standard (mental)

Weight: —

This crimson-tinted metal amulet is rimmed with dozens of copper pyramids.

It hums cheerfully when grasped.

When activated, this amulet emits a 30-foot-radius area of telepathic noise, centered on you, for 9 rounds.

If any creature in this area (including you) attempts to manifest a power, it must succeed on a DC 17 Will save or pay 4 more points than it otherwise would for that power manifestation.

The limit on the number of power points a subject can spend on a power remains in effect, so a creature that fails its saving throw might not be able to manifest its highest-level powers.

An amulet of catapsi functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, antimagic field or catapsi (EPH 82).

Cost to Create: 8,000 gp, 640 XP, 16 days.

AMULET OF EMERGENCY HEALING

Price (Item Level): 6,000 gp (10th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) conjuration

Activation: Immediate (command)

Weight: —

This globe-shaped citrine is bisected by a sturdy silver chain.

The wearer of an amulet of emergency healing can provide instantaneous aid to an injured ally.

When it is activated, you can heal 1d4+5 points of damage to yourself or a creature within 30 feet.

You can use this effect to prevent the death of a creature reduced below -9 hit points, as long as the healing provided returns the target's hit points to -9 or higher.

(For example, you couldn't save a creature whose hit points had been reduced to -19 or lower, since the amulet can't provide more than 9 points of healing).

This amulet has no effect on undead creatures or creatures immune to healing spells.

An amulet of emergency healing functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, close wounds (SC 48).

Cost to Create: 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days.

AMULET OF FORTUNE PREVAILING

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) abjuration

Activation: Immediate (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

This delicate gold amulet is suspended from a fine gold chain and set with three aventurines.

You can activate an amulet of fortune prevailing to reroll a saving throw.

You must activate this ability before the success or failure of the saving throw has been determined, and you must use the second result, even if it's lower.

You can't use this ability if you have already rerolled the save for any reason.

An amulet of fortune prevailing functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, break enchantment.

Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

AMULET OF INCARNUM SHIELDING

Price (Item Level): 2,100 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) abjuration

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

This ornate silver necklace is set with a brilliant, blue stone.

While you wear an amulet of incarnum shielding, you are immune to any effect that would drain your incarnum or unshape one of your soulmelds.

An amulet of incarnum shielding has 7 charges when created.

Each time your amulet negates an effect, it expends 1 charge.

When an amulet loses its last charge, it crumbles into dust.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, must have an essentia pool.

Cost to Create: 1,050 gp, 84 XP, 3 days.

AMULET OF INVIOULATE FORM

Price (Item Level): 11,000 gp (13th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) abjuration

Activation: Immediate (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

This platinum amulet is set with seven red garnets.

This amulet protects you from spells and effects that would significantly change your bodily form or composition.

Whenever you are the target of such an effect, you can expend 1 charge to negate the transformation.

You must decide whether to use the charge before you attempt a saving throw.

Effects that the amulet protects against include, but are not limited to, polymorph, petrification, the touch of an aboleth's tentacle, and the attack of a chaos beast.

An amulet of inviolate form has 7 charges when created, one for each garnet.

Each time a charge is expended, one garnet turns a dull black color.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, break enchantment.

Cost to Create: 5,500 gp, 440 XP, 11 days.

AMULET OF RETRIBUTIVE HEALING

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

This strand of ceramic beads is painted with sedate earth tones.

Devoting your life to healing is often a thankless job.

An amulet of retributive healing ensures that if you tend to your allies, you are renewed in turn.

When you activate your amulet, the next effect you use before the end of your turn that heals another creature's damage also heals you of an equal amount, as long as you could be healed by that same effect.

If the effect heals multiple creatures, you only gain the retributive healing once per effect.

For example, a human cleric casting cure light wounds on an ally after activating this amulet would gain the same amount of healing, but a human wizard casting repair light damage on her warforged ally would not benefit from activating the amulet (since that spell only affects constructs).

An amulet of retributive healing functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, mass cure light wounds.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

AMULET OF SECOND CHANCES

Price (Item Level): 40,000 gp (17th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 17th

Aura: Strong; (DC 23) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

This tiny, golden hourglass hangs from a thin mithral chain.

An amulet of second chances gives you the ability to reverse disastrous choices.

When you activate the amulet, you undo all the events of your current turn and begin the turn again.

This includes moving yourself and any other creatures back to the positions they occupied at the start of your turn, removing any damage or other conditions (harmful or beneficial) that have occurred during your turn (to yourself or others), and in all other ways “resetting” events.

All affected creatures are aware of the events of the now-nonexistent round, but they are free to make entirely different choices from the ones they originally made.

An amulet of second chances functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, time stop or time regression (EPH 138).

Cost to Create: 20,000 gp, 1,600 XP, 40 days.

AMULET OF TEAMWORK

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) enchantment

Activation: — and swift (command)

Weight: —

This silver chain comes together in the form of a pair of linked hands.

An amulet of teamwork allows you to work more effectively as part of a team.

When you successfully use the aid another action, the bonus granted to your ally improves from +2 to +3.

When you flank an enemy, you and any allies also flanking that creature gain a +2 bonus on damage rolls.

These are continuous effects and require no activation.

In addition, you can activate the amulet to grant both you and an adjacent ally a +5 competence bonus to AC for 1 round.

You must be adjacent to an ally to activate this power.

This ability can be used once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, heroism.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

AMULET OF TEARS

Price (Item Level): 2,300 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 4th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) enchantment

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

Adorning a glossy silver chain, a spiral of pearl teardrops circles a colorless crystal sphere.

An amulet of tears has 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges when you activate the amulet grants you temporary hit points, as described below.

These hit points last for up to 10 minutes; they don't stack with any other temporary hit points.

1 charge: 12 temporary hit points.

2 charges: 18 temporary hit points.

3 charges: 24 temporary hit points.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, aid.

Cost to Create: 1,150 gp, 92 XP, 3 days.

AMULET OF TOXIN DELAY

Price (Item Level): 400 gp (2nd)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) conjuration

Activation: Immediate (command)

Weight: —

The transparent crystal hanging from this necklace contains several drops of viscous green fluid.

When you activate an amulet of toxin delay, it creates a delay poison effect on you (as the spell, but with a duration of only 2 rounds).

You can activate this item whenever you would be required to attempt a saving throw against poison (before rolling the save).

An amulet of toxin delay functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, delay poison.

Cost to Create: 200 gp, 16 XP, 1 day.

AMULET OF WORDTWISTING

Price (Item Level): 6,000 gp (10th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) divination

Activation: — and standard (command)

Weight: —

Strips of torn and knotted scrolls seem to make up this amulet.

You can discern a few letters in red ink on the tightly rolled parchment, but these symbols are warped and meaningless.

An amulet of wordtwisting grants you a +2 insight bonus on Bluff, Diplomacy, Intimidate, and Sense Motive checks.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

If you are an orc wearing an amulet of wordtwisting, you instead gain a +4 insight bonus on the indicated skill checks.

In addition, once per day, you can activate a tongues effect on yourself (as the spell).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, tongues.

Cost to Create: 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days.

ANGELHELM

Price (Item Level): 10,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Head

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation

Activation: — and standard (command)

Weight: 2 lb.

This winged mithral helm shines in the light like a priceless heirloom.

An angelhelm allows a good-aligned wearer to emulate certain traits of celestial beings.

Your melee attacks are treated as good-aligned weapons for the purpose of overcoming damage reduction.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

In addition, your angelhelm allows you to use cure critical wounds, dispel evil (DC 17), and resist energy (acid or cold only) as spell-like abilities each once per day.

The helm grants no benefit to nongood wearers.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dispel evil, cure critical wounds, resist energy, good alignment.

Cost to Create: 5,000 gp, 400 XP, 10 days.

ANKH OF ASCENSION

Price (Item Level): 9,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 17th

Aura: Strong; (DC 23) conjuration

Activation: Free (command)

Weight: 3 lb.

Crudely carved from splintering wood and dangling from frayed twine, this simple ankh looks brittle and ancient.

When you activate an ankh of ascension, you must sacrifice a prepared divine spell or divine spell slot.

The caster level of any divine spells of that level or lower that you cast before your next turn increases by 4.

An ankh of ascension functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, gate.

Cost to Create: 4,500 gp, 360 XP, 9 days.

ANKLET OF TRANSLOCATION

Price (Item Level): 1,400 gp (5th)

Body Slot: Feet

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) conjuration

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

A pewter chime hangs from this simple leather ankle-band.

An anklet of translocation allows you to make short dimensional hops.

When it is activated, you can instantly teleport (with no chance of error) up to 10 feet.

The new space must be within line of sight and line of effect.

You can't use the anklet to move into a space occupied by another creature, nor can you teleport into a solid object; if you attempt to do so, the anklet's activation is wasted.

You can bring along objects weighing up to your maximum load, but you can't bring another creature with you.

An anklet of translocation functions two times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dimension door.

Cost to Create: 700 gp, 56 XP, 2 days.

ARCANE THIEVES' TOOLS

Price (Item Level): 1,400 gp (5th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: Swift (mental)

Weight: 1 lb.

This set of picks, pins, and levers is housed in a supple leather bag decorated with arcane runes.

This set of masterwork thieves' tools is the perfect accessory if you depend on a blend of magic and skill to achieve your thieving goals.

In addition to granting the normal +2 circumstance bonus on Disable Device and Open Lock checks, these tools can grant a character with the trapfinding class feature a special benefit.

When activating the tools, you can expend an arcane spell or arcane spell slot of 1st level or higher to gain a +5 competence bonus on either a Disable Device check or an Open Lock check begun before the end of that turn.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, knock, trapfinding.

Cost to Create: 700 gp, 56 XP, 2 days.

ARCANIST'S GLOVES

Price (Item Level): 500 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

These sleek blue gloves bear tiny golden stars across the knuckles.

When you activate arcanist's gloves, you add 2 to the caster level of the next 1st-level arcane spell you cast before the end of your turn.

Arcanist's gloves function two times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fox's cunning.

Cost to Create: 250 gp, 20 XP, 1 day.

ARMBAND OF ELUSIVE ACTION

Price (Item Level): 800 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: Immediate (mental)

Weight: 1 lb.

This solid gold band is polished to a bright shine.

An armband of elusive action allows you to protect yourself from the hazards of battlefield chaos.

When it is activated, the band allows you to avoid provoking a single attack of opportunity that your actions would otherwise incur.

An armband of elusive action functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cat's grace or evade attack (CP 89).

Cost to Create: 400 gp, 32 XP, 1 day.

ARMBAND OF MAXIMIZED HEALING

Price (Item Level): 7,200 gp (11th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 17th

Aura: Strong; (DC 23) conjuration

Activation: Swift (mental)

Weight: 1 lb.

Numerous small diamonds adorn this silver armband like tiny constellations.

When you activate an armband of maximized healing, the next healing spell of 6th level or lower that you cast on your turn is automatically maximized (as the Maximize Spell feat, but with no adjustment to spell level or casting time). An armband of maximized healing functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Maximize Spell, heal.

Cost to Create: 3,600 gp, 288 XP, 8 days.

ARMBANDS OF MIGHT

Price (Item Level): 4,100 gp (9th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 2 lb.

These bronze armbands are engraved with images of bulls' horns.

When you wear these armbands, you gain a +2 bonus on Strength checks and Strength-based skill checks.

If you have the Power Attack feat, you also gain a +2 bonus on melee damage rolls for any attack on which you use the Power Attack feat and take a penalty of at least -2 on your attack roll.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength.

Cost to Create: 2,050 gp, 164 XP, 5 days.

AROMA OF CURDLED DEATH

Price (Item Level): 4,500 gp (9th)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) conjuration

Activation: Standard (manipulation)

Weight: —

This elegant, stoppered glass bottle holds a dark, viscous fluid.

One round after you apply this elixir to your skin, it creates an invisible cloud of gas in a 10-foot radius that moves with you and persists for 1 minute.

You are immune to the cloud's effects, but every other creature in the area that has 3 Hit Dice or fewer immediately dies (no save).

A creature that has 4-6 Hit Dice must succeed on a DC 17 Fortitude save each round it remains in the area or die.

A creature that has 7 Hit Dice or more takes 1d4 points of Constitution damage (Fort DC 17 half) per round of exposure.

If you open the bottle but do not immediately apply the liquid, the cloud of gas spreads to fill a 5-foot-radius area, centered on the opened bottle or the place where the liquid was poured out.

This cloud persists for 1 minute.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cloudkill, Craft (alchemy) 4 ranks.

Cost to Create: 2,250 gp, 180 XP, 5 days.

AROMA OF DREAMS

Price (Item Level): 1,500 gp (5th)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) enchantment

Activation: Standard (manipulation)

Weight: —

This cut crystal bottle is filled with silvery liquid.

The bottle's stopper is a single piece of smoky quartz.

One round after you apply this elixir to your skin, it creates an invisible cloud of gas in a 10-foot radius that moves with you and persists for 5 rounds.

You are immune to the cloud's effects, but each round at the end of your turn every other creature in the area with 10 Hit Dice or fewer must make a successful DC 14 Fortitude save or fall asleep for 1 minute.

Furthermore, each creature remaining in the area 1 round later (whether already asleep or not) must make a second successful DC 14 Fortitude save or fall asleep for 1 hour. Creatures with more than 10 Hit Dice are immune to the effect.

If you open the bottle but do not immediately apply the liquid, the cloud of gas spreads to fill a 5-foot-radius area, centered on the opened bottle or the place where the liquid was poured out.

This cloud persists for 1 minute.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, deep slumber, Craft (alchemy) 4 ranks.

Cost to Create: 750 gp, 60 XP, 2 days.

ARTIFICER'S MONOCLE

Price (Item Level): 1,500 gp (5th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) divination

Activation: See text

Weight: —

This glass lens is rimmed with gold and has a fine gold chain attached to an ear clip.

Putting on a monocle is a standard action.

While wearing an artificer's monocle, whenever you successfully use your artificer knowledge class feature (ECS 31) to detect an item's magical aura or you cast detect magic and have at least 5 ranks of Knowledge (arcana), you can spend 1 additional minute studying the item.

If you do, you can identify the abilities of that item as if you had cast identify upon it.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, identify, artificer knowledge or Knowledge (arcana) 5 ranks.

Cost to Create: 750 gp, 60 XP, 2 days.

BADGE OF THE SVIRFNEBLIN

Price (Item Level): 15,000 gp (14th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) illusion, transmutation

Activation: — and standard (command)

Weight: —

This brooch is little more than a hunk of gray rock studded with a number of colorful, uncut gems and wrapped in tarnished metal wire.

While wearing this item, you gain darkvision out to 30 feet and a +5 competence bonus on Hide checks.

These are continuous effects and require no activation.

Once per day, you can activate the badge to give yourself a blur effect (as the spell).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, blur, darkvision, svirfneblin.

Cost to Create: 7,500 gp, 600 XP, 15 days.

BAG OF BOULDERS

Price (Item Level): 1,400 gp (5th)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: Standard (thrown)

Weight: 1 lb.

This worn doeskin pouch holds a few unremarkable pebbles.

This pouch creates tiny pebbles that strike with the force of a catapult stone when thrown.

Each stone has a range increment of 50 feet.

You are proficient with the stones and must make a successful ranged attack to strike with one.

A stone disappears after it completes its flight.

Activating a bag of boulders is a standard action that includes both drawing and throwing a stone.

Each bag of boulders has 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges when you draw a pebble from the bag determines the damage dealt by the stone when thrown.

1 charge: Deals 2d6 points of bludgeoning damage.

2 charges: Deals 3d6 points of bludgeoning damage.

3 charges: Deals 4d6 points of bludgeoning damage.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shrink item.

Cost to Create: 700 gp, 56 XP, 2 days.

BAG OF ENDLESS CALTROPS

Price (Item Level): 800 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) conjuration

Activation: Move (manipulation)

Weight: 2 lb.

This nondescript brown leather pouch is secured with a piece of twisted wire that has several sharp points.

Five times per day, you can reach into this pouch and pull out a handful of caltrops (enough to cover a 5-foot square).

In addition to the activation cost, filling a 5-foot square with caltrops by hand requires a standard action.

The caltrops produced are not magical and follow all the rules for normal caltrops (PH 126).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's secret chest.

Cost to Create: 400 gp, 32 XP, 1 day.

BAG OF FLAMES

Price (Item Level): 3,500 gp (8th)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: Standard (manipulation)

Weight: —

This red burlap sack feels warm to the touch.

A bag of flames contains a tiny ember of pure elemental fire. The bag has 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges when you place your hand into the bag allows you to draw forth fire to create a particular effect.

1 charge: Flame burns in your hand, as the produce flame spell, with a duration of 1 minute.

Your melee touch attack deals 1d6+5 points of fire damage, or you can hurl the flame up to 120 feet as a ranged touch attack that deals 1d6+5 points of fire damage (and ends the duration).

2 charges: You hurl the flame up to 30 feet away, whereupon it immediately turns into a Small fire elemental.

The elemental is under your control (as if summoned by summon nature's ally II) and remains for 5 rounds.

3 charges: Faint wisps of flame spread up your arm and cover your body.

This sheath provides immunity to fire for 1 hour or until it has negated 60 points of fire damage.

As a standard action, you can touch an adjacent creature to grant it any remaining immunity to fire you have from this effect (you lose the remaining immunity).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, produce flame, protection from energy, summon nature's ally II.

Cost to Create: 1,750 gp, 140 XP, 4 days.

BANNER OF THE STORM'S EYE

Price (Item Level): 15,000 gp (14th)

Body Slot: — (held) or shoulders

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) enchantment

Activation: —

Weight: 2 lb. (12 lb. if backpack frame worn)

This banner is a rectangular military standard depicting a white, two-tailed swirl—like a stylized overhead view of a hurricane—on a dark green background.

The banner's fluttering movements seem slower than they should be.

An unfurled banner of the storm's eye always waves more slowly than nearby flags, and it seems unaffected by the wind or by the movement of its bearer.

As long as it is held aloft, the banner automatically suppresses (but does not dispel) fear effects on all creatures within 20 feet.

It also prevents any creature within 20 feet from becoming confused or stunned.

Alternatively, you can mount the banner on a backpack frame to leave your hands free.

The backpack frame costs 5 gp and weighs 10 pounds.

While so mounted, the banner occupies your shoulders body slot.

Lore: The swirling pattern on this banner was common to elite military units in the last great war (Knowledge [history] DC 15).

Such banners provided protection from psychological tricks employed by creatures such as mind flayers (Knowledge [history] DC 25).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, calm emotions.

Cost to Create: 7,500 gp, 600 XP, 15 days.

BATTLE BRIDLE

Price (Item Level): 9,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Face; see text

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) enchantment

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

A stampede of horses is depicted charging across this surprisingly light leather saddle.

A battle bridle occupies a mount's face body slot.

While you are mounted upon a creature that is wearing a battle bridle, you gain a +5 competence bonus on Ride checks and the benefit of the Mounted Combat feat.

If you already have Mounted Combat, you instead gain the benefit of Ride-By Attack.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Mounted Combat, Ride-By Attack, calm animals.

Cost to Create: 4,500 gp, 360 XP, 9 days.

BEAR HELM

Price (Item Level): 1,500 gp (5th)

Body Slot: Head

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) abjuration

Activation: Immediate (mental)

Weight: —

This large helmet is wrapped in the hide of a bear's head, with metal teeth worked into its visor.

While raging, you can halve the damage dealt by a single sneak attack or critical hit scored against you.

You can activate this item after the damage from the attack has been determined.

A bear helm functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, stoneskin.

Cost to Create: 750 gp, 60 XP, 2 days.

BEETLE ELIXIR

Price (Item Level): 1,350 gp (5th)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 6th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation

Activation: Full-round (manipulation)

Weight: —

The viscous liquid in this vial has an oily brown color and smells a little like wet leaves.

Drinking beetle elixir causes your skin to harden, darken, and gloss over, and short antennae to sprout from your forehead.

You gain darkvision out to 60 feet and a +2 enhancement bonus to your existing natural armor.

(A creature without natural armor has an effective natural armor bonus of +0).

These effects last for 12 hours.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, alter self, darkvision, Craft (alchemy) 5 ranks.

Cost to Create: 675 gp, 54 XP, 2 days.

BEHOLDER CROWN

Price (Item Level): 20,000 gp (15th)

Body Slot: Head

Caster Level: 13th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) necromancy

Activation: Swift (mental)

Weight: 1 lb.

Ten metal stalks sprout from this grotesquely formed bronze crown. At the tip of each stalk, a different gem gazes like a glistening eye.

These strange crowns can shoot rays from eyelike gems, much like the attacks of their namesake.

Each gem can fire a different ray a single time at a target (doing this burns out the gem).

Each ray extends up to 30 feet and requires a ranged touch attack to successfully strike a target.

Each ray functions as a particular spell (though the ray only affects a single target):

- charm monster (Will DC 17 negates)
- charm person (Will DC 17 negates)
- deep slumber (Will DC 17 negates)
- disintegrate (Fort DC 17 partial)
- fear (Will DC 17 partial)
- finger of death (Fort DC 17 partial)
- flesh to stone (Fort DC 17 negates)
- inflict moderate wounds (Will DC 17 half)
- slow (Will DC 17 negates)
- telekinesis (violent thrust against a target of up to 325 pounds; Will DC 17 negates)

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, charm monster, charm person, deep slumber, disintegrate, fear, finger of death, flesh to stone, inflict moderate wounds, slow, telekinesis.

Cost to Create: 10,000 gp, 800 XP, 20 days.

BELT OF BATTLE

Price (Item Level): 12,000 gp (13th)

Body Slot: Waist

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation

Activation: — and swift (mental)

Weight: —

This leather belt bears a platinum buckle set with three small black pearls.

A belt of battle helps you avoid being caught off guard in combat and allows occasional bursts of extra activity. While worn, it grants you a +2 competence bonus on initiative checks.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

In addition, a belt of battle has 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Each time you activate the belt, one of the black pearls set into its buckle turns white.

The pearls return to normal when the ring's charges renew.

Spending 1 or more charges grants you an extra action, which must be taken immediately (before you take any other action).

1 charge: 1 move action.

2 charges: 1 standard action.

3 charges: 1 full-round action.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, haste.

Cost to Create: 6,000 gp, 480 XP, 12 days.

BELT OF GROWTH

Price (Item Level): 3,000 gp (7th)

Body Slot: Waist

Caster Level: 10th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) transmutation

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: —

This thick brass belt looks like it is riddled with cracks.

It bends as though it has been stretched out of shape.

When you activate a belt of growth, you instantly increase in size (as if affected by enlarge person).

This effect lasts for 10 minutes or until you command it to end.

This ability doesn't stack with any other effect that increases your size.

A belt of growth functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, enlarge person.

Cost to Create: 1,500 gp, 120 XP, 3 days.

BELT OF HIDDEN POUCHES

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)

Body Slot: Waist

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) conjuration

Activation: Move (command); see text

Weight: 1 lb.

Ten tiny pockets run along the inside of this otherwise unremarkable leather belt.

Hidden inside this belt are ten small pockets, each of which seems big enough to hold only a few coins.

Each pocket actually functions as a small bag of holding and can hold up to 1/2 cubic foot or 5 pounds of nonliving matter.

No object with any dimension exceeding 6 inches can be placed in a pocket.

Anything placed inside a pocket effectively has one-tenth its normal weight, so a full pocket weighs only 1/2 pound at most.

In addition, two secret pockets lie behind each visible one, for a total of thirty pockets in all.

The hidden pockets can be accessed only through a command word.

A true seeing spell reveals the presence of the hidden pockets but not the command word needed to open them. Even when a pocket is full, it never bulges, so a belt of hidden pouches stuffed with 150 pounds of items still looks like an ordinary belt.

To place any object in the belt, you merely press the object into the belt.

Doing so while speaking the command word places the object in one of the hidden pockets (if one of them is empty).

Placing an item in a pocket (hidden or visible) is a move action that does not provoke attacks of opportunity.

Naming a stored object and speaking a second command word draws the named object out of the belt and places it in your hand.

Doing this is a move action that does not provoke attacks of opportunity.

You can also reach into one of the ten regular hidden pockets and draw out an item, just as if retrieving a stored object (a move action that provokes attacks of opportunity). A casual search won't reveal any objects placed in the belt, and searching the visible pockets cannot reveal anything stored in the hidden pockets.

It is possible to use a Sleight of Hand check to pluck something out of one of the ten visible pockets, but only someone wearing or holding a belt can access the hidden pockets, and then only with the correct command word.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's secret chest.

Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

BELT OF ONE MIGHTY BLOW

Price (Item Level): 1,500 gp (5th)

Body Slot: Waist

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

The buckle of this wide leather belt is set with a single blood-red carbuncle.

Activating a belt of one mighty blow grants extra damage on your next melee attack made before the end of your turn. A light weapon deals an extra 1d8 points of damage, a one-handed weapon deals an extra 2d6 points of damage, and a two-handed weapon deals an extra 3d6 points of damage.

A belt of one mighty blow functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength.

Cost to Create: 750 gp, 60 XP, 2 days.

BELT OF PRIESTLY MIGHT

Price (Item Level): 6,000 gp (10th)

Body Slot: Waist

Caster Level: 8th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

A prominent, yet worn, holy symbol adorns this threadbare cloth sash.

This belt features a deity's holy symbol.

Followers of that deity or anyone of that deity's alignment can wear the belt safely.

Any other creature gains one negative level when wearing the belt.

The negative level remains for as long as the belt is worn. This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the belt is worn.

While wearing the belt, you gain a +1 enhancement bonus to your existing natural armor bonus.

(A creature without natural armor has an effective natural armor bonus of +0).

The belt also grants you a +2 enhancement bonus to Strength.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, barkskin, bull's strength.

Cost to Create: 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days.

BELT OF THEFT-HEALING

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Waist

Caster Level: 8th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation

Activation: Free (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

This supple brown leather belt has a silver buckle engraved with numerous tiny magical runes.

Designed and used by spellthieves (CA 13), belts of theft-healing heighten the payoff of stealing spells.

When you steal a spell or spell-like ability from an unwilling target, you can activate the belt to also heal damage equal to the level of the spell or spell-like ability stolen.

A belt of theft-healing functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bear's endurance, steal spell.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

BELT OF ULTIMATE ATHLETICISM

Price (Item Level): 3,600 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Waist

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

This simple cloth belt is a braid of black, green, and gold threads.

A belt of ultimate athleticism allows you to reliably perform normal athletic feats, or occasionally pull off a truly amazing stunt.

When you activate the belt, you can take 10 on all Balance, Climb, Jump, Swim, and Tumble checks made in that round, even if you are in a stressful situation.

In addition, once per day, you can activate the belt to treat the next Balance, Climb, Jump, Swim, or Tumble check you attempt as if you had rolled a 20.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength, cat's grace.

Cost to Create: 1,800 gp, 144 XP, 4 days.

BLAST DISK

Price (Item Level): 900 gp (4th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) evocation

Activation: Standard (manipulation)

Weight: 1 lb.

This jet-black, 8-inch-diameter plate bears a bas relief humanoid skull surrounded by runes and sigils.

Its other side is perfectly smooth and flat.

A blast disk can be set to explode through proximity or on a timer.

In either case, when the disk activates it explodes, destroying the blast disk and dealing 5d6 points of fire damage to all creatures and objects within 10 feet (Reflex DC 14 half).

If set to explode through proximity, a blast disk must be set down in a square on the battlefield.

The next creature of Small or larger size to enter that square (either on the ground or airborne within 5 feet) sets off the blast disk.

That creature receives a -2 penalty on the save against the blast.

A blast disk can also be set to automatically explode up to 10 rounds after placement.

A character who has trapfinding can find (Search DC 28) and disable (Disable Device DC 28) a blast disk.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fireball.

Cost to Create: 450 gp, 36 XP, 1 day.

BLAST GLOBES

Price (Item Level): 8,000 gp (11th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) evocation

Activation: Standard (command); see text

Weight: 1 lb.

Dozens of smaller glass spheres comprise this fist-sized orb.

The flicker of a small flame seems to reflect from deep within.

When you activate a set of blast globes, the transparent globes separate and begin circling each other.

One round after they activate, you can direct the globes to strike (as a group) any location within 400 feet as a free action.

The globes then move to that location and create an explosion in a 20-foot-radius spread.

Any creature in the area takes 10d6 points of fire damage and 2d6 points of sonic damage, is deafened for 2d6 rounds, and is pushed 1d6 squares away from the center of the blast. A successful DC 15 Reflex save halves the fire damage and negates the push, while a successful DC 15 Fortitude save negates the deafening effect.

After exploding, the globes reform in your hands or at your feet (if your hands are full).

This ability functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fireball, shout.

Cost to Create: 4,000 gp, 320 XP, 8 days.

BLESSED BANDAGE

Price (Item Level): 10 gp (1/2)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) conjuration

Activation: Standard (manipulation)

Weight: —

A single, softly glowing thread runs along one side of this linen bandage.

Applying a blessed bandage immediately stabilizes the recipient (but heals no damage).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cure minor wounds.

Cost to Create: 5 gp, 1 XP, 1 day.

BLIGHT STONE

Price (Item Level): 300 gp (2nd)

Body Slot: — (held); see text

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) necromancy

Activation: Standard (thrown) or — (ammunition)

Weight: 1 lb.

This stone is tacky with a putrid green residue.

A blight stone creates an instantaneous burst of vapor that damages plants and plant-based creatures.

The stone must be thrown (range increment 10 feet) or hurled from a sling (using that weapon's normal range increment) as a ranged touch attack.

When the stone strikes its target or a hard surface, it deals no damage but explodes in a 10-foot-radius burst of noxious vapors.

This cloud of gas deals 5d6 points of damage to all plants and plant creatures in the area (Fort DC 14 half).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, blight.

Cost to Create: 150 gp, 12 XP, 1 day.

BLIGHTER'S HEX-EYE

Price (Item Level): 1,400 gp (5th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

This black leather eyepatch bears a blood-red pentagram.

When you activate a blighter's hex-eye, your melee attacks against elves and creatures of the plant type deal an extra 2d6 points of damage.

This effect lasts for 1 round.

A hex-eye functions three times per day, but it can't be activated in consecutive rounds.

Lore: Gruumsh, god of orcs, gave his shamans the knowledge to craft the first blighter's hex-eye to help his people clear the woodlands of their enemies (Knowledge [history or religion] DC 15).

Elves joke that the orcs are so stupid that Gruumsh has to teach every new generation the secrets of the eyepatch's construction again (Knowledge [history or religion] DC 20).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, keen edge.

Cost to Create: 700 gp, 56 XP, 2 days.

BLINDFOLD OF TRUE DARKNESS

Price (Item Level): 9,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) divination

Activation: —

Weight: —

This black, silky piece of cloth is completely opaque when held up to the light.

When you wear this blindfold, you gain the blindsight ability out to 30 feet (MM 306).

Because your eyes are protected, you are also immune to gaze attacks and spells or effects that rely on sight. You cannot use vision in any way while wearing the blindfold.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, see invisibility.

Cost to Create: 4,500 gp, 360 XP, 9 days.

BLINDHELM

Price (Item Level): 15,000 gp (14th)

Body Slot: Head

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Strong; (DC 20) divination

Activation: —

Weight: 1/2 lb.

This helm's face is a solid slab of iron, apparently allowing its wearer no way to see out.

Despite its appearance and name, a blindhelm doesn't restrict your vision in any way.

More important, it grants you blindsense out to 5 feet and provides you with a +5 competence bonus on saves against gaze attacks.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, true seeing.

Cost to Create: 7,500 gp, 600 XP, 15 days.

BOLT SHIRT

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)

Body Slot: Torso

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) conjuration

Activation: Move (command)

Weight: —

Golden lightning bolts are embroidered along the sleeves of this sturdy tunic of blue linen.

You can teleport (with no chance of error) to any location within 60 feet, as long as you have both line of sight and line of effect to that destination.

A harmless trail of crackling sparks traces the path from your original location to your destination, making it obvious where you have landed.

You can't use the shirt to move into a space occupied by another creature, nor can you teleport into a solid object; if you attempt to do so, the shirt's activation is wasted.

You can bring along objects weighing up to your maximum load, but you can't bring another creature with you.

This ability functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dimension door.

Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

BOOTS OF AGILE LEAPING

Price (Item Level): 600 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: Feet

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 2 lb.

These crocodile-skin boots feel slightly elastic.

While wearing boots of agile leaping, you can add your Dexterity modifier (instead of your Strength modifier) on Jump checks.

If you have at least 5 ranks in Balance, you can stand from prone as a swift action.

When standing from prone, you do not provoke attacks of opportunity.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cat's grace.

Cost to Create: 300 gp, 24 XP, 1 day.

BOOTS OF BIG STEPPING

Price (Item Level): 6,000 gp (10th)

Body Slot: Feet

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) conjuration

Activation: — and standard (command)

Weight: 2 lb.

These wolfskin boots are secured with leather thongs that wrap twice about the ankle.

The fur is exceptionally soft and has a faint sheen that makes the boots appear to shimmer in the light.

The spirit of a blink dog has been harnessed within these boots.

While you are wearing these boots, your caster level for all teleportation spells is increased by 2.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

In addition, when you speak the command word, you can teleport up to 60 feet with no chance for error, as if using a greater teleport spell.

This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dimension door.

Cost to Create: 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days.

BOOTS OF DESPERATION

Price (Item Level): 2,800 gp (7th)

Body Slot: Feet

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

These soft-soled boots look comfortable and quiet.

You can activate boots of desperation only when your current hit point total is equal to or less than half your full normal hit points.

When activated, the boots grant a +30-foot enhancement bonus to your base speed and a +5 dodge bonus to AC against attacks of opportunity.

These benefits last for 1 round.

This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, expeditious retreat.

Cost to Create: 1,400 gp, 112 XP, 3 days.

BOOTS OF DRAGONSTRIDING

Price (Item Level): 1,500 gp (5th)

Body Slot: Feet

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation

Activation: — and swift (mental)

Weight: 1 lb.

These boots have a scaly look, as though they were made from reptile hide.

You gain a +2 competence bonus on Climb and Jump checks while wearing these boots.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

Once per day, you can activate boots of dragonstriding to gain a climb speed equal to your land speed for 10 rounds.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, jump, spider climb.

Cost to Create: 750 gp, 60 XP, 2 days.

BOOTS OF JUMPING

Price (Item Level): 2,500 gp (7th)

Body Slot: Feet

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: — and swift (command)

Weight: 2 lb.

These comfortable, black leather boots have unusually springy soles.

Boots of jumping allow you to jump exceptionally long distances.

You only need to move at least 10 feet in a straight line to attempt a running jump (rather than 20 feet).

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

In addition, boots of jumping have 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges grants you a competence bonus on Jump checks for 1 round.

1 charge: Gain a +10 competence bonus on Jump checks.

2 charges: Gain a +15 competence bonus on Jump checks.

3 charges: Gain a +20 competence bonus on Jump checks.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, jump.

Cost to Create: 1,250 gp, 100 XP, 3 days.

BOOTS OF LANDING

Price (Item Level): 500 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: Feet

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

These light blue leather boots have very thick soles.

Walking in them is like dancing in clouds.

While wearing boots of landing, you land on your feet no matter how far you fall, and you take 2 fewer dice of damage from the fall than normal (thus, a fall of 20 feet or less deals you no damage).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, feather fall or catfall (EPH 82).

Cost to Create: 250 gp, 20 XP, 1 day.

BOOTS OF SIDESTEPPING

Price (Item Level): 6,000 gp (10th)

Body Slot: Feet

Caster Level: 12th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) transmutation

Activation: Swift (mental)

Weight: —

These soft leather boots are adorned with a copper chain around the ankle.

Boots of sidestepping allow you to slide out of range of an enemy's attacks.

When you activate the boots, you can take a 5-foot step (PH 144).

Unlike a normal 5-foot step, you can take this action even if you have already moved during the round, and it doesn't prevent you from moving again afterward (or even taking your normal 5-foot step).

For example, you could activate the boots to move 5 feet away from an adjacent monster, spend a move action to move another 20 feet away, then take a standard action.

Boots of sidestepping function three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, haste.

Cost to Create: 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days.

BOOTS OF SKATING

Price (Item Level): 7,000 gp (11th)

Body Slot: Feet

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 15) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 2 lb.

These white leather boots extend to mid-calf and lace up from toe to top.

They sport two dull metal edges that slant downward from the bottom of each side.

These boots allow you to slide along the ground as if on smooth ice.

You can gracefully skate along the ground, turn, or stop suddenly as desired.

You gain a +10-foot enhancement bonus to your land speed while wearing the boots.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

Skating up an incline removes the bonus to speed, while skating down a decline increases the boots' enhancement bonus to land speed by an additional 10 feet.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, expeditious retreat or skate (EPH 132).

Cost to Create: 3,500 gp, 280 XP, 7 days.

BOOTS OF STOMPING

Price (Item Level): 600 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: Feet

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) evocation

Activation: Standard (manipulation)

Weight: 1 lb.

The thick metal soles of these dirt-brown boots are slightly wider than the vamp.

Brassy metal bands run from the sides of the soles to the tops.

When you stomp your feet and activate boots of stomping, you generate a 15-foot-long cone-shaped burst of psychokinetic force that travels along the ground, toppling creatures and loose objects.

The shock wave affects only creatures standing on the ground within the area.

Creatures that fail a DC 13 Reflex save are thrown to the ground, prone, and take 1d4 points of nonlethal damage.

Boots of stomping function three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, sonic blast (SC 195) or stomp (EPH 133).

Cost to Create: 300 gp, 24 XP, 1 day.

BOOTS OF SWIFT PASSAGE

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)

Body Slot: Feet

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) conjuration

Activation: Move (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

These comfortable high boots are made from deep red leather with brilliant copper-colored leather soles.

When activated, boots of swift passage teleport you up to 20 feet in any direction (with no chance of error).

You must have line of sight and line of effect to your destination to use the boots.

You can't use the boots to move into a space occupied by another creature, nor can you teleport into a solid object; if you attempt to do so, the boots' activation is wasted.

You can bring along objects weighing up to your maximum load, but you can't bring another creature with you.

Boots of swift passage function five times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dimension door.

Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

BOOTS OF TEMPORAL ACCELERATION

Price (Item Level): 43,000 gp (17th)

Body Slot: Feet

Caster Level: 17th

Aura: Strong; (DC 23) conjuration

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

These dark leather boots feature a small image of a sundial sewn into each side.

When worn, they pulse slightly once every second.

Once per day, you can enter another time frame for 2 rounds, speeding up so greatly that all other creatures seem frozen, though they are actually moving at normal speed.

Other creatures are normally immune to your attacks, powers, or spells, but if you create an area effect that lasts longer than 2 rounds, that effect applies normally once the duration of the item's effect expires.

While under the effect of the boots, you cannot enter an area protected by an antimagic field, null psionics field, or by a spell or power that neutralizes 9th-level spells or powers. Normal and magical fire, cold, acid, and the like can still harm you.

Except as described here, this effect functions as a time stop spell.

When the duration expires, you resume acting during your current turn in normal time, but you are shaken for 1 round.

Splintered or partitioned minds within your own mind, such as might be in effect through the use of psionic powers such as schism, are not temporally sped up, even if your second mind manifested this power.

Your primary mind gains the benefit, while your second mind remains stuck in the standard time frame.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, time stop or temporal acceleration (EPH 136).

Cost to Create: 21,500 gp, 1,720 XP, 43 days.

BOOTS OF THE BATTLE CHARGER

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Feet

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: 2 lb.

These heavy leather boots bear thick copper bands just above the ankle.

When activated, boots of the battle charger allow you to make a charge attack as a standard action (rather than a full-round action), though the charge only includes movement up to your speed (rather than double your speed).

You must make the charge attack in the round you activate the boots, or the effect is lost.

If you also wear a magic item that grants an enhancement bonus to your Dexterity score, you can move across difficult terrain and through squares occupied by allies when making a charge after activating the boots.

You can use this ability two times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cat's grace, longstrider.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

BOOTS OF THE MOUNTAIN KING

Price (Item Level): 1,500 gp (5th)

Body Slot: Feet

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) abjuration

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

These iron-shod red leather boots appear rugged and worn.

While wearing boots of the mountain king, you can move more easily than usual over rough and difficult terrain.

These boots allow you to ignore increased movement costs and skill check DC increases for light and dense rubble.

In addition, you can move up stairs and slopes at normal speed and run or charge downhill without making a Balance check (DMG 89).

These boots require no activation.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, freedom of movement.

Cost to Create: 750 gp, 60 XP, 2 days.

BOOTS OF THE MOUNTAIN KING, GREATER

Price (Item Level): 21,500 gp (15th)

Activation: — and swift (command)

This rough-looking boots are made of craggy leather that resembles a rough granite cliff face, and they are shod with thick iron.

These boots function as boots of the mountain king.

In addition, you can activate greater boots to gain the benefit of a stoneskin spell.

This ability functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, freedom of movement, stoneskin.

Cost to Create: 10,750 gp, 860 XP, 22 days.

BOOTS OF TRACKLESSNESS

Price (Item Level): 11,000 gp (13th)

Body Slot: Feet

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) illusion

Activation: — and standard (mental)

Weight: 1 lb.

These pale green boots are slim and elegant, with perfectly smooth soles.

When you wear these boots, you leave no tracks (as if affected by pass without trace).

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

Once per day, you can activate the boots to become invisible (as greater invisibility) for 7 rounds.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, greater invisibility, pass without trace.

Cost to Create: 5,500 gp, 440 XP, 11 days.

BOOTS OF TREMORSENSE

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)

Body Slot: Feet

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

The soles of these black boots are unusually wide and their shape strangely cylindrical, like the feet of an elephant.

When you activate boots of tremorsense, you gain tremorsense out to 30 feet for 5 rounds.

This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, tremorsense.

Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

BRACERS OF ACCURACY

Price (Item Level): 4,000 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) divination

Activation: Swift (mental)

Weight: 1 lb.

Each of these bronze bracers is engraved with an image of an open eye.

Wearing bracers of accuracy allows you to make ranged attacks with extreme precision.

The bracers have 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges grants a benefit to all ranged attacks you make before the end of your turn.

1 charge: Ignore AC bonus from cover (except total cover) for all targets.

2 charges: Ignore miss chance from concealment (except total concealment), including miss chances from effects such as blur or displacement (but not incorporeality), for all targets.

3 charges: Ignore both cover and concealment (as previous entries) for all targets.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, clairaudience/clairvoyance.

Cost to Create: 2,000 gp, 160 XP, 4 days.

BRACERS OF ARCANE FREEDOM

Price (Item Level): 2,300 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) abjuration

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: 1/2 lb.

These ornate blue leather armbands are stitched with depictions of golden eagles in flight.

Bracers of arcane freedom allow you to cast arcane spells without the normal complex gestures required.

When you activate these bracers, you omit the somatic component of the next arcane spell you cast before the end of your turn (as if applying the Still Spell feat to it, but without altering the spell's level or casting time).

This effect functions two times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, freedom of movement.

Cost to Create: 1,150 gp, 92 XP, 3 days.

BRACERS OF DAWN

Price (Item Level): 26,000 gp (16th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 6th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) evocation

Activation: Move (manipulation) and standard (manipulation)

Weight: 1 lb.

These leather bracers are set with brass studs.

One of the pair also features a lens-and-dial contraption.

When you turn the dial to the left, both bracers appear normal.

When you turn the dial to the middle position, a beam of light emerges from the lens, illuminating your surroundings as a bullseye lantern would.

Turning the dial to the left or back to the middle is a move action.

Four times per day, you can turn the dial to the right position as a standard action and aim the lens at a target, unleashing a searing light effect (as the spell).

The dial automatically returns to the middle position after each use of this ability.

Even though only one bracer is equipped with the lens-and-dial apparatus, both must be worn for the magic to be effective.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, searing light.

Cost to Create: 13,000 gp, 1,040 XP, 26 days.

BRACERS OF GREAT COLLISION

Price (Item Level): 1,500 gp (5th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: Free (command)

Weight: —

These thick platinum armbands are etched with a pattern of crossed hammers.

Bracers of great collision allow you to deliver particularly crushing attacks with bludgeoning weapons.

When you score a successful critical hit with a bludgeoning melee weapon, you can activate the bracers to deal an extra 2d6 points of damage with that attack (or 3d6 points of damage if you wield the weapon with two hands).

You must activate the bracers before you roll damage for the critical hit.

Bracers of great collision function two times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, greater magic weapon, keen edge.

Cost to Create: 750 gp, 60 XP, 2 days.

BRACERS OF OPPORTUNITY

Price (Item Level): 2,300 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: — and immediate (mental)

Weight: 1/2 lb.

These matching leather wristbands feel light but strong.

Bracers of opportunity allow you to take advantage of opponents who let down their defenses.

If you have the Combat Reflexes feat, you gain a +2 competence bonus on any attack of opportunity you make (whether the attack of opportunity is granted by the bracers or not).

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

When you activate these bracers, you can take an attack of opportunity granted to you by an opponent, even if you have already reached your normal limit of attacks of opportunity in the round.

This ability functions two times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Combat Reflexes, cat's grace.

Cost to Create: 1,150 gp, 92 XP, 3 days.

BRACERS OF QUICK STRIKE

Price (Item Level): 1,400 gp (5th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

Each of these mithral bracers bears an image of a needle-sharp dagger.

When you activate bracers of quick strike, you can make one extra attack with any weapon you are holding if you already made a full attack on this turn.

This attack is made at your full base attack bonus, plus any modifiers appropriate to the situation.

This effect is not cumulative with any other effect that grants you an extra attack when making a full attack, such as the Rapid Shot feat, a speed weapon, or the haste spell.

Bracers of quick strike function once per day.

You must wear bracers of quick strike for 24 hours before you can access their abilities.

If you take them off, they become inactive until worn for an additional 24 hours.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, haste.

Cost to Create: 700 gp, 56 XP, 2 days.

BRACERS OF REPULSION

Price (Item Level): 4,000 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) evocation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

Each of these steel bracers bears an oval of smoky quartz carved with the image of an upraised hand.

Bracers of repulsion produce an instantaneous wave of force that pushes back enemies.

When you activate the bracers, all enemies within 10 feet must succeed on a DC 19 Fortitude save or be pushed 5 feet away from you.

Huge and larger creatures are unaffected by bracers of repulsion, though incorporeal creatures can be affected.

This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Bigby's forceful hand.

Cost to Create: 2,000 gp, 160 XP, 4 days.

BRACERS OF RETALIATION

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) enchantment

Activation: — and immediate (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

These hard leather armguards look sturdy, yet flexible.

Bracers of retaliation protect you from attacks and punish attackers for injuring you.

They grant you a +1 armor bonus to AC (as bracers of armor).

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

In addition, when you are dealt damage by a melee attack, you can activate the bracers and sacrifice an arcane spell or spell slot of 1st level or higher to daze your attacker for 1 round.

A successful Will save (DC 10 + the level of the spell sacrificed) negates this effect.

This effect functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Craft Wondrous Item, daze monster, mage armor.

Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

BRACERS OF THE BLAST BARRIER

Price (Item Level): 3,200 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) evocation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

These silver and red bracers are set with round, jet-black stones.

Bracers of the blast barrier allow you to turn a spell or spell-like ability into a temporary wall of magical energy.

When you activate these bracers, the next spell you cast or spell-like ability you use before the end of your turn instead appears as a 10-foot-long, 10-foot-high opaque wall that lasts for 1 round per level of the spell.

One end of the wall must be placed at any corner of your space, and the wall can extend in any direction.

The wall must be continuous and unbroken when created.

If its surface is broken by any object or creature, the wall fails to form and the spell and activation are lost.

Any creature passing through the wall takes damage equal to that normally dealt by the spell or spell-like ability (with a minimum of 1 point per level of the spell or spell-like ability).

A successful Reflex save (using the normal save DC for a spell of that level cast by you) halves this damage.

This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wall of fire.

Cost to Create: 1,600 gp, 128 XP, 4 days.

BRACERS OF THE ENTANGLING BLAST

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) conjuration

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

Each of these jet black bracers is set with an oval of tiny, ruby-red stones.

Bracers of the entangling blast allow you to reduce the damage dealt by your magic to ensnare those affected by it.

When you activate these bracers, the next spell you cast or spell-like ability you use deals only half its normal damage; however, any creature damaged by the spell becomes entangled for 1d3 rounds, taking an additional 1 point of damage per level of the spell each round on your turn.

This damage is of the same type as normally dealt by the spell (or your choice if the spell deals more than one type of damage).

These bracers have no effect on a spell or spell-like ability that doesn't deal damage.

This ability function three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, web.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 100 XP, 2 days.

BRACERS OF WIND

Price (Item Level): 10,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) conjuration

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

These bracers consist of silver plates that can be attached to a person's forearms by ornate leather straps. An etching on their surface echoes the swirls within crystal shards set just above the wrists.

Bracers of wind continuously emit a faint breeze, occasionally billowing your cloak or hair. Upon their activation, the winds around you swell and surge, imposing a -2 penalty on ranged attacks made against you, as if fired in a strong wind (DMG 95). Siege weapons, thrown boulders, and the like are unaffected.

This effect does not stack if the wind in the area is already strong or greater.

In addition, when you use a ranged weapon, you gain a +1 competence bonus on the attack roll.

These effects function continuously while the bracers are activated.

You can suppress the winds about you by uttering "calm" in Auran, although doing so also suppresses the benefits the bracers bestow.

You can reactivate the bracers by saying "zephyr" while focusing on the etchings of the silver plates.

Prerequisites: Bind Elemental (ECS 51) or Craft Wondrous Item, planar binding.

Cost to Create: 5,000 gp, 400 XP, 10 days.

BRAWLER'S GAUNTLETS

Price (Item Level): 1,000 gp (4th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: 2 lb.

The iron links and leather grips of these gauntlets are rough and worn from hard use.

Wrestlers and priests of the brawler god Kord prize these gauntlets.

When activated, for 1 round, they grant you a +2 bonus on grapple checks and damage rolls when making unarmed attacks.

Brawler's gauntlets function three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength.

Cost to Create: 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day.

BROOCH OF AVOIDANCE

Price (Item Level): 3,100 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: Swift (mental)

Weight: —

This brooch features a square, pale green crystal in a plain gold setting.

A brooch of avoidance allows you to better escape attacks of opportunity.

When activated, it grants you a +4 dodge bonus against attacks of opportunity until the end of your turn.

A brooch of avoidance functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cat's grace.

Cost to Create: 1,550 gp, 124 XP, 4 days.

BROOCH OF STABILITY

Price (Item Level): 1,000 gp (4th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) conjuration

Activation: —

Weight: —

This runed silver brooch shows signs of considerable use.

This brooch is useful in dangerous battles.

When your hit points are reduced to -1 or lower, you automatically become stable (assuming the damage wasn't enough to kill you).

A brooch of stability functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cure light wounds.

Cost to Create: 275 gp, 22 XP, 1 day.

BRUTE GAUNTLETS

Price (Item Level): 500 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

This pair of heavy black leather gauntlets is set with metal studs.

Brute gauntlets allow you to temporarily increase your physical might.

These gauntlets have 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges grants you a morale bonus on Strength checks, Strength-based skill checks, and melee weapon damage for 1 round.

1 charge: +2 morale bonus.

2 charges: +3 morale bonus.

3 charges: +4 morale bonus.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength.

Cost to Create: 250 gp, 20 XP, 1 day.

BURNOOSE OF 1,001 THORNS

Price (Item Level): 3,000 gp (7th)

Body Slot: Torso

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation

Activation: — and swift (command)

Weight: 2 lb.

Thousands of strange pores cover this robe of thick green cloth, making it look like the parched skin of some desert plant.

A burnoose of 1,001 thorns grants you a +1 enhancement bonus to your existing natural armor bonus.

(A creature without natural armor has an effective natural armor bonus of +0).

You also gain a +4 bonus on saves to resist becoming dehydrated from heat or exposure (but gain no protection from desiccation damage, such as a horrid wilting spell, or spells that cause you to become dehydrated).

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

When activated, a burnoose sprouts hundreds of sharp thorns, which last for 5 rounds.

Any creature that strikes you with a natural weapon or makes a grapple check against you (except to escape your grapple or pin) takes 1d6 points of piercing damage from the needles.

This ability functions once per day.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, skin of the cactus (Snd 120).
Cost to Create: 1,500 gp, 120 XP, 3 days.

CADUCEUS BRACERS

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)
Body Slot: Arms
Caster Level: 12th
Aura: Strong; (DC 21) conjuration
Activation: —
Weight: 1 lb.

These lightweight silver bracers depict a pair of intertwined, snakelike shapes.

Caduceus bracers allow you to convert your innate healing powers into other forms of restorative magic. By sacrificing 5 points of healing (derived from lay on hands, wholeness of body, or any similar ability that measures your ability to heal as a daily limit of points), you can remove 1 point of ability damage or remove the dazed, fatigued, or sickened condition from one creature. Using these bracers in this manner follows all the normal limitations of your healing ability. For example, a paladin using caduceus bracers must touch the target to be affected (just as with lay on hands), while a monk wearing these bracers can affect only herself (since she can't use wholeness of body on another creature). You can spend extra points for cumulative effect. For example, you could spend 15 points of healing to remove both the fatigued condition and 2 points of ability damage. You can also combine normal healing with the bracers' effect.

For instance, you could spend 25 points to produce the effects in the previous example and heal 10 points of damage as well.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, lesser restoration.
Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

CAMOUFLAGE PAINT

Price (Item Level): 1,500 gp (5th)
Body Slot: — (held)
Caster Level: 3rd
Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation
Activation: Standard (manipulation)
Weight: 1/2 lb.

This jar contains a colorful, jellylike substance.

As a standard action, the user of camouflage paint can spread a glob of the substance across her face.

Once applied, camouflage paint changes the color of the user's skin, clothing, and gear to that of her surroundings.

This effect provides a +5 circumstance bonus on Hide checks, but only when the user is stationary.

An application of camouflage paint lasts for 2 hours.

Each 3-inch-diameter, 2-inch-deep jar of camouflage paint has enough material for five applications.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, disguise self.
Cost to Create: 750 gp, 60 XP, 2 days.

CANNITH GOGGLES

Price (Item Level): 13,000 gp (13th)
Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 5th
Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation
Activation: — and 10 minutes; see text
Weight: 1/2 lb.

These light orange, round, translucent lenses are mounted within a flexible metal frame that has a soft leather strap with a clasp at the back.

Cannith goggles grant a +5 competence bonus on Search and Spot checks.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation. In addition, an artificer (ECS 29) can power the goggles with infusions, granting them greater power.

Using an infusion to power Cannith goggles requires 10 minutes and the expenditure of an infusion of the appropriate level.

An infusion powers the goggles for 24 hours.

Cannith goggles powered with a 1st-level infusion grant low-light vision.

Powering them with a 2nd-level infusion grants the wearer low-light vision and darkvision out to 60 feet.

If powered with a 3rd-level infusion, the goggles provide low-light vision and darkvision out to 120 feet.

Lore: The artificers of a powerful noble family called House Cannith were tasked to find a way to enhance human vision, and the results of their research are Cannith goggles (Knowledge [history] DC 20).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, hardening (ECS 112).
Cost to Create: 6,500 gp, 520 XP, 13 days.

CAPE OF THE VIPER

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)
Body Slot: Shoulders
Caster Level: 7th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation
Activation: Swift (command)
Weight: 1 lb.

This viridian cape is shot with threads of greenish metal.

A cape of the viper allows you to transform into a poisonous serpent.

The cape has 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges transforms you into a viper for 7 rounds.

1 charge: Small viper.

2 charges: Medium viper.

3 charges: Large viper; add +2 to the save DC of your bite's poison.

While in viper form, you replace all your normal statistics and special abilities with those of a typical viper of the appropriate size, except for your alignment, your hit points, your Hit Dice (for the purpose of adjudicating effects based on HD), and your ability to understand (but not speak) the languages you normally understand.

Any gear worn or carried melds into the new form and becomes nonfunctional.

Treat this as a polymorph effect, as defined on page 95 of Player's Handbook II.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, ability to wild shape.
Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

CASTING GLOVE

Price (Item Level): 20,000 gp (15th)

Body Slot: Hands
Caster Level: 11th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) transmutation
Activation: Free (manipulation); see text
Weight: —

This seamless black leather glove has small silver and gold runes around the tip of each finger.

A casting glove allows you to store an item and make use of it without first retrieving it.

It functions as a glove of storing (DMG 257), allowing you to store or retrieve a single item within it as a free action.

In addition, once per round while wearing a casting glove, you can activate or consume a stored magic item as if you were holding it in your hand.

The activation and all effects function just as normal for the item, and the activation requires the same type of action.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shrink item.

Cost to Create: 10,000 gp, 800 XP, 20 days.

CAT'S-EYE BROOCH

Price (Item Level): 9,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) conjuration

Activation: —

Weight: —

This silver brooch holds a green chrysoberyl at its center, slitted with a black streak like a living cat's eye.

A cat's-eye brooch provides you with a +1 luck bonus on all saving throws and an additional +4 bonus on saving throws against disease.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, resistance, remove disease.

Cost to Create: 4,500 gp, 360 XP, 9 days.

CHARM OF COUNTERSONG

Price (Item Level): 400 gp (2nd)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: —

This small silver charm depicts lines of parallel musical notes.

This small charm, usually pinned to the front of your shirt or tunic, allows you to use countersong to interrupt a sonic attack.

Once per day, you can activate your countersong bardic music ability as an immediate action.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Perform 6 ranks, countersong.

Cost to Create: 200 gp, 16 XP, 1 day.

CHASUBLE OF FELL POWER

Price (Item Level): 8,000 gp (11th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 6th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) evocation

Activation: —

Weight: —

This long strip of scarlet cloth is embroidered with arcane sigils and mystic designs.

While wearing a chasuble of fell power, your eldritch blasts (CAr 7) or spells you cast that have the chaotic descriptor deal an extra 1d6 points of damage.

Only a chaotic spell that deals hit point damage can benefit from this effect.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, chaos hammer or eldritch blast.

Cost to Create: 4,000 gp, 320 XP, 8 days.

CHASUBLE OF FELL POWER, GREATER

Price (Item Level): 18,000 gp (14th)

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) evocation

Arcane runes seem to drift slowly across this scarlet strip of cloth.

As a chasuble of fell power, except the greater chasuble adds an extra 2d6 points of damage to your eldritch blasts or damaging spells you cast that have the chaotic descriptor.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, chaos hammer or eldritch blast.

Cost to Create: 9,000 gp, 720 XP, 18 days.

CHIME OF HARMONIC AGONY

Price (Item Level): 3,100 gp (8th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) evocation

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: 1/2 lb.

This constantly vibrating silver chime is inscribed with bizarre, alien musical notes.

A chime of harmonic agony allows you to channel musical power through your own body to wreak harm on your enemies.

When you activate the chime, you must spend one daily use of your bardic music ability and target a creature within 30 feet.

The chime deals sonic damage equal to 3d6 + your Charisma modifier (Fort DC 16 half).

If you also wear a magic item that grants an enhancement bonus to your Constitution score, you can add the item's bonus to the damage dealt by the chime.

A chime of harmonic agony functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shout.

Cost to Create: 1,550 gp, 124 XP, 4 days.

CHRONOCHARM

A chronocharm occupies the throat body slot, but it can be worn simultaneously with any number of other chronocharms, which all function normally.

However, you can't wear more than one of the same chronocharm.

You must wear a chronocharm for 24 hours before you can access its abilities.

If it is taken off, it becomes inactive until worn for an additional 24 hours.

CELESTIAL WANDERER

Price (Item Level): 500 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: Throat
Caster Level: 5th
Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation
Activation: Immediate (mental)
Weight: —

This charm resembles an ebony starburst.
A chronocharm of the celestial wanderer slows your perception of time, allowing you a second chance to recognize potential danger.

When you activate this chronocharm, you can immediately reroll a single Listen or Spot check that you just attempted. The result of the second roll replaces the first result. This ability functions once per day.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, hawkeye (SC 110).
Cost to Create: 250 gp, 20 XP, 1 day.

FATEWEAVER

Price (Item Level): 500 gp (3rd)
Body Slot: Throat
Caster Level: 3rd
Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation
Activation: Immediate (mental)
Weight: —

This tiny golden spindle dangles from a thin chain of gray steel.
A chronocharm of the fateweaver slows your perception of time, letting you avoid an ill-advised step. When you activate this chronocharm, you can immediately reroll a single Balance, Climb, or Tumble check that you just attempted. The result of the second roll replaces the first result. This ability functions once per day.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cat's grace.
Cost to Create: 250 gp, 20 XP, 1 day.

GRAND MASTER

Price (Item Level): 500 gp (3rd)
Body Slot: Throat
Caster Level: 3rd
Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation
Activation: Immediate (mental)
Weight: —

This tiny, hollow glass flower dangles from a slim golden chain.
A chronocharm of the grand master slows your perception of time, allowing you to better dodge an incoming ranged attack. When it is activated, you gain a +5 dodge bonus to your AC against a single ranged attack. This ability functions once per day.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cat's grace.
Cost to Create: 250 gp, 20 XP, 1 day.

HORIZON WALKER

Price (Item Level): 500 gp (3rd)
Body Slot: Throat
Caster Level: 3rd
Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation
Activation: Swift (command)
Weight: —

This charm shows a rising sun half-obscured by the horizon.
Like other chronocharms, this item slows your perception of time for a specific, singular purpose.

When you activate a chronocharm of the horizon walker, you can move up to half your speed as part of the same swift action used to activate it; this movement does not provoke attacks of opportunity.

When determining the distance you can move, round down to the nearest 5-foot increment.

This ability functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, expeditious retreat.

Cost to Create: 250 gp, 20 XP, 1 day.

LAUGHING ROGUE

Price (Item Level): 500 gp (3rd)
Body Slot: Throat
Caster Level: 5th
Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation
Activation: Immediate (mental)
Weight: —

This miniature hourglass hangs on a thin silver chain.
As the sand runs from one bulb to the other, it turns from black to white.

First imagined by skilled temple raiders devoted to Olidammara, the god of rogues, chronocharms of the laughing rogue have found their way into the toolboxes of thieves of all stripes.

When you activate this chronocharm, you can immediately reroll a single Disable Device skill check that you just attempted.

You can activate this item after the success or failure of the first roll has been determined (even if your failure resulted in accidentally setting off a trap), but before any ramifications of that roll have been applied.

The result of second roll replaces the first result.

This ability functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, haste.

Cost to Create: 250 gp, 20 XP, 1 day.

UNCARING ARCHMAGE

Price (Item Level): 500 gp (3rd)
Body Slot: Throat
Caster Level: 9th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation
Activation: Swift (command)
Weight: —

A bloodstone eye stares forth from this pentagonal trinket.
A chronocharm of the uncaring archmage alters your perception of time, allowing you to cast a single spell more quickly.

When it is activated, the next spell of 3rd level or lower you cast that has a casting time of 1 full round can be cast as a standard action instead.

If you don't cast such a spell by the end of your turn, the effect fades.

This ability functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Quicken Spell.

Cost to Create: 250 gp, 20 XP, 1 day.

CIRCLET OF MAGES

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)
Body Slot: Head
Caster Level: 7th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation

Activation: — and free (command)

Weight: —

This leather circlet has a silver headpiece showing crescent moons on either side of a seven-pointed star.

A circlet of mages grants you a +2 competence bonus on Concentration checks.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

In addition, this circlet has 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges when you cast a spell allows you to avoid losing that prepared spell or spell slot (as if you hadn't cast it).

1 charge: Retain a spell of up to 1st level.

2 charges: Retain a spell of up to 2nd level.

3 charges: Retain a spell of up to 3rd level.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Rary's mnemonic enhancer.

Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

CIRCLET OF RAPID CASTING

Price (Item Level): 15,000 gp (14th)

Body Slot: Head

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

This golden circlet is engraved with dozens of different symbols and runes.

A circlet of rapid casting allows you to cast a small number of spells each day more quickly.

This circlet has 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges allows you to cast a single spell as part of the same swift action you used to activate the circlet.

This spell must be one that normally has a casting time of no longer than 1 standard action.

Doing this expends the prepared spell or spell slot as if you had cast the spell normally.

1 charge: Cast a single spell of up to 2nd level.

2 charges: Cast a single spell of up to 3rd level.

3 charges: Cast a single spell of up to 4th level.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Quicken Spell.

Cost to Create: 7,500 gp, 600 XP, 15 days.

CIRCLET OF SOLACE

Price (Item Level): 3,000 gp (7th)

Body Slot: Head

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) abjuration

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

The circlet is made of delicate ivory threads interwoven with silver bands covered in runes of healing.

A circlet of solace allows you to bolster your healing spells.

After activating the circlet, the next healing spell you cast on a living ally before the end of your turn also grants that creature a +5 morale bonus on saves against disease, fear, and poison for 1 minute.

If the spell affects multiple creatures, only one (your choice) gains the circlet's benefit.

A circlet of solace functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, delay poison, remove fear.

Cost to Create: 1,500 gp, 120 XP, 3 days.

CIRCLET OF WILD SURGING

Price (Item Level): 4,200 gp (9th)

Body Slot: Head

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation

Activation: Free (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

This thin, platinum circlet depicts blasts of wild energy across its surface.

A circlet of wild surging allows you to enhance your emotional state to make your wild surges more powerful.

When you use wild surge while manifesting a power, you can activate the circlet to increase the bonus to your manifest level by 1.

The increased wild surge still requires the normal extra power point cost normally required to augment the power.

This also increases your chance of psychic enervation by 5% and increases the duration of your surging euphoria by 1 round (if you have that class feature).

A circlet of wild surging functions three times per day, but won't function in consecutive rounds.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wild surge.

Cost to Create: 2,100 gp, 168 XP, 5 days.

CLOAK OF BATTLE

Price (Item Level): 22,000 gp (15th)

Body Slot: Shoulders

Caster Level: 14th

Aura: Strong; (DC 22) transmutation

Activation: — and standard (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

Thousands of thin, silvery chain links make up this long cloak.

A cloak of battle grants you a +4 armor bonus to AC.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

The cloak also has two other abilities tied to unique command words.

The first command transforms the cloak into an iron +1/+1 quarterstaff that leaps into your hands (or falls at your feet if you don't have an open hand).

The same command transforms the staff back into a cloak, returning it to your shoulders.

The second command allows the cloak to make a disarm attempt against an adjacent opponent (using your base attack bonus and size modifier, and with a +4 bonus on the roll).

This attempt does not provoke attacks of opportunity.

If the disarm attempt succeeds, the cloak can fling the weapon up to 10 feet in any direction.

(The disarmed weapon can't be thrown at a creature as an attack).

If the disarm attempt fails, you can't be disarmed in return.

This ability can be used three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cat's grace, mage armor, magic weapon.

Cost to Create: 11,000 gp, 880 XP, 22 days.

CLOAK OF ELEMENTAL PROTECTION

Price (Item Level): 1,000 gp (4th)

Body Slot: Shoulders

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) abjuration

Activation: Immediate (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

This white cloak is embroidered with runes representing the five energy types in metallic thread.

When you activate a cloak of elemental protection, you gain resistance 10 against a single energy type of your choice (acid, cold, electricity, fire, or sonic).

This protection lasts until the start of your next turn.

A cloak of elemental protection functions once per day.

You must wear a cloak of elemental protection for 24 hours before you can access its abilities.

If it is taken off, it becomes inactive until worn for an additional 24 hours.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, resist energy.

Cost to Create: 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day.

CLOAK OF PREDATORY VIGOR

Price (Item Level): 1,400 gp (5th)

Body Slot: Shoulders

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) conjuration

Activation: Swift (mental)

Weight: 2 lb.

This leopardskin cloak appears comfortable, yet protective.

A cloak of predatory vigor helps you channel the power of your combat frenzy into rejuvenating energy.

While in a rage or frenzy, you can activate this cloak to heal damage to yourself equal to your Hit Dice.

This effect functions two times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cure moderate wounds.

Cost to Create: 700 gp, 56 XP, 2 days.

CLOAK OF QUILLS

Price (Item Level): 2,500 gp (7th)

Body Slot: Shoulders

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: Free (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

Thousands of small quills cover the exterior of this thick, high-collared leather cloak.

While most of the quills are little more than the length of a porcupine's, several on the shoulders and back are nearly 2 feet long.

While grappling, each time you roll a grapple check (other than the initial check to enter or resist the grapple), you can activate your cloak of quills.

Doing this lodges quills in your opponent, dealing 1d6 points of damage to each other creature in the grapple (Reflex DC 16 negates).

This ability functions five times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, quillfire (SC 164).

Cost to Create: 1,250 gp, 100 XP, 3 days.

CLOAK OF SOULBOUND RESISTANCE

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)

Body Slot: Shoulders

Caster Level: 6th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) abjuration

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

This finely crafted garment is made of blue and purple material.

A pair of matched blue quartz crystals form the cloak's clasp.

A cloak of soulbound resistance grants you a +1 resistance bonus on your saving throws.

In addition, it serves as a receptacle for your essentia, much as a soulmeld does.

Every point of essentia invested in it increases the bonus by 1, subject to the maximum values noted below.

Each cloak of soulbound resistance has an essentia capacity.

The maximum number of essentia points that can be invested in it equals this value or your normal essentia capacity (see Table 2–1: Essentia Capacity, Magic of Incarnum 19), whichever is lower.

Investing or reallocating essentia in the cloak is a swift action (and can be done as part of the normal swift action used for reallocating essentia).

A cloak of soulbound resistance has a maximum essentia capacity of 2, and the maximum resistance bonus it can grant is +3.

Chakra Bind (Shoulders): A cloak of soulbound resistance improves your resistance bonus by an additional 1 when it is bound to your shoulders chakra, which can exceed the maximum values described above.

See Binding Items to Chakras (MoI 108) for more information.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, resistance.

Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

CLOAK OF SOULBOUND RESISTANCE, GREATER

Price (Item Level): 13,000 gp (13th)

Caster Level: 18th

Aura: Strong; (DC 24) abjuration

Made of cloth the color of a twilight sky, four bright blue quartz crystals form the clasp of this finely crafted cloak.

As a cloak of soulbound resistance, except a greater cloak of soulbound resistance has a maximum essentia capacity of 4, and the maximum resistance bonus it can grant is +5.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, resistance.

Cost to Create: 6,500 gp, 520 XP, 13 days.

CLOAK OF STONE

Price (Item Level): 8,000 gp (11th)

Body Slot: Shoulders

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: — and standard (command)

Weight: 2 lb.

This mottled gray cloak looks like an incredibly thin sheet of stone.

While wearing a cloak of stone, you gain a +5 competence bonus on Hide and Move Silently checks.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation. In addition, you can activate the cloak to merge with stone as though using the meld into stone spell. This ability functions once per day.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, meld into stone.
Cost to Create: 4,000 gp, 320 XP, 8 days.

CLOAK OF THE SALAMANDER

Price (Item Level): 6,000 (10th)
 Body Slot: Shoulders
 Caster Level: 7th
 Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) evocation
 Activation: Immediate (command)
 Weight: 1 lb.
This red-hued cloak is made from the scales of a reptilian creature and feels warm to the touch.
When donned, it erupts in flame, which dances continuously over its surface.
 A cloak of the salamander deals fire damage to those who strike you in melee with natural weapons or nonreach manufactured weapons. The flames that cover it do not harm you or creatures or objects that you touch. When you activate a cloak of the salamander, any creatures that strike you with such weapons take 1d6+7 points of fire damage. This effect lasts until the beginning of your next turn. This ability functions three times per day.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fire shield.
Cost to Create: 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days.

CLOAK OF THE SALAMANDER, GREATER

Price (Item Level): 36,000 gp (17th)
 Activation: —
Made from the scaly hide of some reptilian beast, this crimson cloak is continuously shrouded in an aura of flame and smoke.
 As a cloak of the salamander, except the effect is continuous and requires no activation.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fire shield.
Cost to Create: 18,000 gp, 1,440 XP, 36 days.

CLOAK OF THORNS

Price (Item Level): 26,000 gp (16th)
 Body Slot: Shoulders
 Caster Level: 7th
 Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation
 Activation: —
 Weight: 1 lb.
This brown cloak seems to be composed entirely of long thorns.
 A cloak of thorns grants you a +2 enhancement bonus to your existing natural armor bonus. (A creature without natural armor has an effective natural armor bonus of +0). In addition, any creature striking you in melee with a natural weapon or nonreach manufactured weapon takes 1d4+3 points of piercing damage.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, barkskin, command plants.
Cost to Create: 13,000 gp, 1,040 XP, 26 days.

CLOAK OF TURN RESISTANCE

Price (Item Level): 11,000 gp (13th)
 Body Slot: Shoulders
 Caster Level: 10th
 Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) necromancy
 Activation: —
 Weight: 1 lb.
This cloak is little more than a tattered piece of homespun cloth, secured by a rotted leather thong at the neck.
 While you wear this cloak, your turn resistance increases by 4.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, rebuke undead as a 10th-level cleric.
Cost to Create: 5,500 gp, 440 XP, 11 days.

CLOAK OF WEAPONRY

Price (Item Level): 2,300 gp (6th)
 Body Slot: Shoulders
 Caster Level: 9th
 Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) conjuration
 Activation: Swift (command)
 Weight: 1 lb.
This simple white linen cloak is lined with a dark pelt that seems to shimmer and blur under close scrutiny.
 A cloak of weaponry has an extradimensional space within it that can hold a single weapon with a weight of up to 25 pounds and a size no larger than Medium. When you activate the cloak, you can draw forth the weapon (or stow a weapon, if the cloak is empty). Creatures and nonweapon objects can't be stored within the cloak.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's secret chest.
Cost to Create: 1,150 gp, 92 XP, 3 days.

COGNIZANCE CRYSTAL

Price (Item Level): See text
 Body Slot: —
 Caster Level: See table

COGNIZANCE CRYSTALS

17	17th	Strong (23)	81,000 gp (20th)	40,500 gp, 3,240 XP, 81 days

Aura: See table; (DC varies) evocation
 Activation: Free (mental)
 Weight: 1 lb.
Silver wire gently encloses and binds a large core crystal and several smaller crystals in a geometric design.
The aquamarine crystals emit a faint glow.
 A cognizance crystal stores power points, which the holder can use to manifest a psionic power she knows (instead of spending points from her own power pool). You cannot directly replenish your personal power points from those stored in a cognizance crystal, nor can you draw power points from more than one source to manifest a power (even if that second source is your own power pool). A cognizance crystal can store only as many power points as its original maximum, set at the time of its creation. When a crystal's power points are used up, the glow of the crystal dims.

A user can recharge it by paying power points on a 1-for-1 basis (a standard [mental] action).

While doing this depletes the user's own power point reserve for the day, those power points remain available in the crystal until used.

Before you can use a cognizance crystal, you must hold or have it on your person for at least 10 continuous minutes. A typical cognizance crystal has AC 7, 10 hit points, hardness 8, and a break DC of 16.

Prerequisites: Craft Cognizance Crystal (EPH 44).

Cost to Create: See table.

COLLAR OF HEALING

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) conjuration

Activation: — and immediate (command)

Weight: —

This lightweight animal collar is crafted from fine leather.

This collar allows you to heal your trusted animal friend at a moment's notice.

A collar of healing functions only when worn by your animal companion, familiar, or special mount.

While that creature wears the collar, you always know its exact hit point total.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

In addition, you can activate the collar from any distance (as long as you are on the same plane) to cure the animal wearing it.

This instantly heals the creature wearing the collar of 50 points of damage and removes the fatigued or exhausted condition (if the creature currently suffers from such).

This ability functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, heal or fortify familiar (SC 98) or heal mount, status.

Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

CONTACT MEDALLION

Price (Item Level): 3,000 gp (7th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) enchantment

Activation: Standard (mental)

Weight: —

This wide, ovoid medallion hangs from a tightly wrapped leather cord.

It bears an engraving of two heads facing one another with a jagged beam of energy connecting their foreheads.

When you activate a contact medallion, you forge a telepathic bond (as Rary's telepathic bond) with one person who is within 1 mile and known to you.

This bond lasts for 1 minute.

This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Rary's telepathic bond.

Cost to Create: 1,500 gp, 120 XP, 3 days.

CORSAIR'S EYEPATCH

Price (Item Level): 3,000 gp (7th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) divination

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

A leather strap and a bit of hardened leather and krenshar hide make up this menacing black eyepatch.

Despite its name, the improved visual acuity provided by a corsair's eyepatch is equally useful to landlubbers.

Wearing this eyepatch has no negative impact on your eyesight—it appears completely transparent to you.

While you wear a corsair's eyepatch over your left eye, activating it grants you the ability to use see invisibility (as the spell) for 1 round.

While you wear it over your right eye, activating it grants you the benefit of the Blind-Fight feat for 1 minute.

Moving the eyepatch from one eye to another requires a move action that doesn't provoke attacks of opportunity.

A corsair's eyepatch functions a total of three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, see invisibility.

Cost to Create: 1,500 gp, 120 XP, 3 days.

COUNTERSTRIKE BRACERS

Price (Item Level): 2,500 gp (7th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: Immediate (command)

Weight: —

Each of these steel bracers bears the image of a stacked pair of daggers pointed in opposite directions.

Counterstrike bracers allow you to answer an unsuccessful melee attack against you with an unexpected riposte.

You can activate the bracers immediately after an enemy has missed you with a melee attack.

Doing this grants you a free attack of opportunity against that enemy (even if you have already used up your allotted attacks of opportunity for the round).

You must activate the bracers before your enemy takes any other attacks or actions.

This ability functions two times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, haste.

Cost to Create: 1,250 gp, 100 XP, 3 days.

CREST OF BRAVERY

Price (Item Level): 750 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) abjuration

Activation: Immediate (command)

Weight: —

This cloak clasp bears the engraved image of a paladin standing against a dragon.

A crest of bravery adds a regal touch to your attire, emphasizing your bravery and loyalty to your comrades.

A crest has 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn. Spending 1 or more charges enhances your ability to bolster your allies against fear, as described below.

The effect lasts for 5 rounds.

1 charge: The morale bonus granted by your aura of courage increases by 4.

2 charges: Your aura of courage affects all allies within 60 feet of you.

3 charges: The morale bonus granted by your aura of courage increases by 4, and your aura of courage affects all allies within 60 feet of you.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, remove fear.

Cost to Create: 375 gp, 30 XP, 1 day.

CRIMSON DRAGONHIDE BRACERS

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) abjuration, transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

These leather bracers are crafted from the scaly red hide of a large reptile.

Crimson dragonhide bracers grant you resistance to fire 5 and a +1 enhancement bonus to your existing natural armor bonus.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, barkskin, resist energy.

Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

CRYSTAL ANCHORS

ALERTNESS

Price (Item Level): 2,500 gp (7th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) abjuration

Activation: Standard (manipulation)

Weight: 1/2 lb.

This lightweight shaft of transparent crystal is 4 feet long and tapers to a point on both ends.

When planted in the ground and activated, a crystal anchor of alertness burns with clear light (providing illumination as a lantern).

In addition, your allies gain a +5 bonus on Listen and Spot checks as long as they remain within 30 feet of the anchor. This effect lasts for 1 hour, and the anchor functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, alarm or zone of alertness (CP 104).

Cost to Create: 1,250 gp, 100 XP, 3 days.

CRYSTAL MASKS

DETECTION

Price (Item Level): 10,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) divination

Activation: —

Weight: 1/2 lb.

This crystal mask is held in place with black cloth straps, and it covers only the top portion of the face.

Translucent and shot through with golden flecks, the mask is warm to the touch.

A crystal mask of detection grants you a +10 competence bonus on Search checks.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Search 10 ranks.

Cost to Create: 5,000 gp, 400 XP, 10 days.

DISCERNMENT

Price (Item Level): 10,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) divination

Activation: —

Weight: 1/2 lb.

This transparent crystal mask has a pale green tinge and covers all the face, except the mouth and jaw.

Its straps are made of silvery cloth.

A crystal mask of discernment grants you a +10 insight bonus on Sense Motive checks.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Sense Motive 10 ranks.

Cost to Create: 5,000 gp, 400 XP, 10 days.

DREAD

Price (Item Level): 10,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) divination

Activation: —

Weight: 1/2 lb.

This black crystal mask is mapped with writhing red veins.

It hides the entire face, revealing only the eyes.

Black leather straps hold it tightly in place.

A crystal mask of dread grants you a +10 competence bonus on Intimidate checks.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Intimidate 10 ranks.

Cost to Create: 5,000 gp, 400 XP, 10 days.

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) divination

Activation: —

Weight: 1/2 lb.

A simple, thin band of turquoise crystal, this item masks only the eyes.

Thin, bone-white twine holds it in place.

A crystal mask of insightful detection grants you a +9 insight bonus on Search and Spot checks.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Search 9 ranks, Spot 9 ranks.

Cost to Create: 10,000 gp, 800 XP, 20 days.

KNOWLEDGE

Price (Item Level): 2,500 gp (7th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) divination

Activation: —

Weight: 1/2 lb.

This mask features a piece of curved golden crystal that covers the forehead.

The crystal is attached to the front of a dark brown cloth cap.

A crystal mask of knowledge grants you a +5 competence bonus on a specific type of Knowledge check.

For instance, one mask would add the bonus on Knowledge (psionics) checks, while another would do so for Knowledge (history).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Knowledge 5 ranks of the appropriate type.

Cost to Create: 1,250 gp, 100 XP, 3 days.

LANGUAGES

Price (Item Level): 2,500 gp (7th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) divination

Activation: —

Weight: 1/2 lb.

This cobalt mask covers only the lower portion of the face.

Light brown leather straps hold it in place.

Each of the various crystal masks of languages grants you the ability to speak, read, and write five different languages.

For example, a mask might grant the ability to speak, read, and write Celestial, Draconic, Dwarven, Elven, and Infernal.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, speak, read, and write all five languages.

Cost to Create: 1,250 gp, 100 XP, 3 days.

MINDARMOR

Price (Item Level): 10,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) enchantment

Activation: —

Weight: 1/2 lb.

The front portion of this periwinkle crystal mask drops down below the eyes.

Narrow slits in the mask allow the wearer full range of vision.

A crystal mask of mindarmor grants you a +4 insight bonus on Will saving throws.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, remove fear or conceal thoughts (EPH 85).

Cost to Create: 5,000 gp, 400 XP, 10 days.

PSIONIC CRAFT

Price (Item Level): 10,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) divination

Activation: —

Weight: 1/2 lb.

This bright blue opaque eye covering extends up to the hairline, down below the nose, and back to the ears.

Though easy to pull off if desired, the mask fits snugly and needs no straps to keep it in place.

A crystal mask of psionic craft grants you a +10 competence bonus on Psicraft checks.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Psicraft 10 ranks.

Cost to Create: 5,000 gp, 400 XP, 10 days.

VISUAL INSIGHT

Price (Item Level): 10,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 15th

Aura: Strong; (DC 22) divination

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: 1/2 lb.

This transparent band extends around the head at eye level.

When activated, a crystal mask of visual insight allows you to ignore the effects of concealment (but not invisibility) on any creature within 30 feet for 1 round.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, true strike or moment of insight (CP 93).

Cost to Create: 5,000 gp, 400 XP, 10 days.

DAERN'S INSTANT TENT

Price (Item Level): 9,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) conjuration

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: 1/2 lb.

This strip of canvas, folded into a small triangle, bears a single black sigil on one side.

When activated, Daern's instant tent grows to become a 20-foot-square tent.

The inside of the tent is always temperate in climate, as the Leomund's tiny hut spell.

Cots inside can sleep up to eight Medium creatures.

The tent also features a fire pit with a smoke hole.

The tent has resistance to electricity 10, fire 10, and acid 10, as well as immunity to cold.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's tiny hut.

Cost to Create: 4,500 gp, 360 XP, 9 days.

DAYLIGHT PELLET

Price (Item Level): 150 gp (1st)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) evocation

Activation: Standard (thrown)

Weight: —

Within a thick black pouch, you see a handful of tiny ceramic beads.

Thin veins of light shine through cracks in each bead.

A daylight pellet can be thrown up to 50 feet; when it lands, it shatters and creates illumination equivalent to a daylight spell, but with a duration of 10 rounds.

These small stones are usually found in pouches containing 3d4 pellets.

Using a pellet destroys it.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, daylight.

Cost to Create: 75 gp, 6 XP, 1 day.

DEATHGUARDIAN BRACERS

Price (Item Level): 6,000 gp (10th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) abjuration

Activation: Immediate (command)

Weight: 3 lb.

These two gold coils wind around the arm from bicep to wrist like serpents.

A tiny ruby is set into each end of the coils.

Deathguardian bracers allow you to trade arcane spells for protection from physical harm.

When you activate the bracers, choose a prepared arcane spell or uncast spell slot.

You lose that spell or spell slot (as if you had cast the spell) and gain damage reduction equal to twice the level of the spell or spell slot sacrificed.

This damage reduction lasts until the start of your next turn and can't be overcome by any type of weapon.

Deathguardian bracers can be activated as long as you have arcane spells remaining to sacrifice.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, stoneskin.

Cost to Create: 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days.

DEATHSTRIKE BRACERS

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: Swift (mental)

Weight: 2 lb.

Each of these black steel bracers is marked with an etching of crossed swords.

When activated, deathstrike bracers allow you to use melee weapons to deal extra damage from critical hits and sneak attacks to constructs, elementals, oozes, plants, and undead as if they were not immune to such extra damage.

You must still roll a critical threat and confirm it as a critical hit or qualify to deliver sneak attack damage to gain any benefit from the bracers.

This effect does not allow you to overcome any other immunity or resistance to extra damage from sneak attacks or critical hits (such as the fortification armor property).

This effect lasts for 1 round.

This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, keen edge.

Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

DESPERATION CHAIN

Price (Item Level): 15,000 gp (14th)

Body Slot: Waist

Caster Level: 13th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) no school

Activation: Immediate (command)

Weight: 5 lb.

Alternating links of a strange green metal and ivory make up this chainlike belt.

A desperation chain gives an arcane spellcaster the opportunity to either avoid capture or strike back against an enemy.

You can activate a desperation chain when you are being rendered helpless by an enemy (such as being pinned, paralyzed, or dropped to  $-1$  or fewer hit points).

When you activate the chain, you can cast a single arcane spell of 3rd level or lower without spending an additional action to do so.

Doing this expends the prepared spell or spell slot as if you had cast the spell.

The chosen spell must have a casting time no longer than 1 full round.

Casting a spell in this way requires no verbal or somatic components and does not provoke attacks of opportunity. You must still provide any material components or focus required, as well as pay any XP or other costs of the spell.

The spell you cast takes effect after the effect that rendered you helpless (so it can't prevent that effect), though it could theoretically neutralize or reverse it.

For example, a bard wearing the chain could cast cure light wounds in response to being reduced to  $-3$  hit points.

This ability functions once per day.

You must wear a desperation chain for 24 hours before you can access its abilities.

If it is taken off, it becomes inactive until worn for an additional 24 hours.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, limited wish.

Cost to Create: 7,500 gp, 600 XP, 15 days.

DEVASTATION GAUNTLETS

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

Stylized flames rendered in scarlet enamel encircle these steel gauntlets.

Devastation gauntlets are prized by anyone who earns gold by fighting in melee, from raging barbarians to wily swashbucklers.

These gauntlets have 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges grants you a bonus to the damage dealt by a critical hit you make in melee.

You activate the gauntlets after you have confirmed a critical hit, but before damage is rolled.

1 charge: +2d6 points of damage.

2 charges: +3d6 points of damage.

3 charges: +4d6 points of damage.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, keen edge.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

DIAMONDSKIN DECANTER

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) abjuration

Activation: Standard (manipulation)

Weight: 1 lb.

This glittering pitcher is wrought of platinum worked into the shape of dragon scales.

When tipped, a diamondskin decanter pours out a thin, silver oil shot through with flickering motes of light.

A diamondskin decanter can pour forth up to 3 draughts, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Pouring 1 or more draughts onto yourself or an adjacent creature grants it damage reduction.

1 draught: Damage reduction 2/adamantine, which lasts for 1 hour until 20 points of damage have been prevented.

2 draughts: Damage reduction 3/adamantine, which lasts for 1 hour or until 30 points of damage have been prevented.

3 draughts: Damage reduction 4/adamantine, which lasts for 1 hour or until 40 points of damage have been prevented.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, stonewalk.
Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

DIMENSION STRIDE BOOTS

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)
Body Slot: Feet
Caster Level: 7th
Aura: Faint; (DC 16) conjuration
Activation: — and standard (command)
Weight: 1 lb.
These sleek leather boots lean slightly forward, as if poised to leap. While wearing dimension stride boots, you gain a +2 competence bonus on Jump checks. This is a continuous effect and requires no activation. In addition, the boots have 5 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn. Spending 1 or more charges allows you to teleport a short distance (with no chance of error). You must have line of sight and line of effect to your destination. You can't use the boots to move into a space occupied by another creature, nor can you teleport into a solid object; if you attempt to do so, the boots' activation is wasted. You can bring along objects weighing up to your maximum load, but you can't bring other creatures.
1 charge: Teleport 20 feet.
3 charges: Teleport 40 feet.
5 charges: Teleport 60 feet.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dimension door.
Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 day.

DISPELLING CORD

Price (Item Level): 1,000 gp (4th)
Body Slot: Torso
Caster Level: 5th
Aura: Faint; (DC 17) abjuration
Activation: Swift (command)
Weight: —
*The end of this long silken cord is tied with five different knots. A dispelling cord is worn wrapped loosely around your chest, its two ends slung over your shoulder. When you activate a dispelling cord, you gain a +2 competence bonus on any dispel checks you make until the end of your turn. A dispelling cord functions five times per day. Each time it is activated, one of the five knots magically unties itself, indicating the uses remaining for the day. Lore: The first dispelling cords were created by an ancient king who wanted to prevent his enemies from having magical dominion over his army. To ensure magical supremacy, the king ordered his mages into battle armed with dispelling cords (Knowledge [history] DC 15). Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dispel magic.
Cost to Create: 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day.*

DOMAIN DRAUGHT

Price (Item Level): 3,300 gp (8th)
Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 20th
Aura: Strong; (DC 25) transmutation
Activation: Standard (manipulation)
Weight: —
*This jewel-toned liquid comes in a small, translucent vial inscribed with religious iconography. A domain draught is the distilled essence of a cleric domain. A successful DC 15 Knowledge (religion) check identifies the specific domain with which a given draught is associated from the markings on the bottle. Upon drinking a domain draught, you gain access to its domain for 24 hours. You can use the domain's granted power, and if you normally prepare domain spells, you can add those from the draught's domain to your choices until the effect expires. If you drink a second domain draught before using the first one, the effect of the first one is lost. Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, access to the associated domain.
Cost to Create: 1,650 gp, 132 XP, 4 days.*

DOVE'S HARP

Price (Item Level): 12,100 gp (13th)
Body Slot: — (held)
Caster Level: 9th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) conjuration
Activation: —
Weight: 3 lb.
*A flight of sculpted porcelain doves adorns this elegant harp. When you play this masterwork harp while using your bardic music ability, all allies within 60 feet gain fast healing 3 for 1 minute. Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, mass cure light wounds.
Cost to Create: 6,000 gp (plus 100 gp for masterwork harp), 480 XP, 12 days.*

DRAGON MASK

Price (Item Level): 4,000 gp (8th)
Body Slot: Face
Caster Level: 6th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) divination
Activation: Swift (command)
Weight: 2 lb.
*Glistening metals and brilliant paints adorn this elaborate mask, which has the shape of a stylized dragon head. Spreading like a sunburst around the draconic features are rays of shimmering metal and glass, one for each breed of metallic and chromatic dragon. When activated, a dragon mask allows you to use see invisibility, as the spell, for 5 minutes. This ability functions two times per day. Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, see invisibility.
Cost to Create: 2,000 gp, 160 XP, 4 days.*

DRAGON SPIRIT AMULET

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)
Body Slot: Throat
Caster Level: 9th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation
Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

This necklace features a large, clear crystal set in silver, and the silhouette of a dragon has been etched onto it.

Prized by dragon shamans (PH2 11), a dragon spirit amulet expands the range of the draconic aura channeled by those characters.

When you activate this amulet, your draconic aura affects you and all allies within 60 feet to whom you have line of effect.

This effect lasts for 1 round.

Though originally designed for dragon shamans, this amulet functions equally well for any other character who gains a draconic aura (see Dragon Magic page 86).

This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dragon type or dragonblood subtype.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

DRAGON SPIRIT CINCTURE

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Waist

Caster Level: 6th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) evocation

Activation: —

Weight: —

This wide, embroidered belt sash is emblazoned with images of fire-breathing dragons.

While you wear a dragon spirit cincture, your breath weapon damage is increased by one die (or by 1 point if your breath weapon doesn't deal damage expressed in dice).

If you are also holding a magic weapon that deals the same type of damage as your breath weapon, your breath weapon save DC increases by 1.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, breath weapon.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

DRAGON'S DRAUGHT

Price (Item Level): See text

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 12th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) evocation

Activation: Standard (manipulation)

Weight: —

A single dragon's tooth serves as the stopper for this oversized flask. The liquid within bubbles turbulently with barely contained energy.

When a dragon or a creature that has the dragonblood subtype (see Races of the Dragon or Dragon Magic) consumes a dragon's draught, it gains the ability to use a particular type of breath weapon once during the next hour as a standard action.

If you drink a second dragon's draught before using the first, the effect of the first is lost.

Dragon's draughts come in ten different varieties, one for each kind of true dragon.

See the table for the size, shape, damage, Reflex save DC (for half damage), and market price of each dragon's draught.

DRAGON'S DRAUGHTS

Color	Breath Weapon	Price (Item Level)
Brass	60-foot line, 6d6 fire (DC 23)	1,200 gp (4th)
White	30-foot cone, 6d6 cold (DC 23)	1,200 gp (4th)
Black	80-foot line, 12d4 acid (DC 24)	2,400 gp (7th)
Copper	80-foot line, 12d4 acid (DC 24)	2,400 gp (7th)
Bronze	100-foot line, 12d6 electricity (DC 25)	3,500 gp (8th)
Green	50-foot cone, 12d6 acid (DC 25)	3,500 gp (8th)
Blue	100-foot line, 12d8 electricity (DC 25)	4,500 gp (9th)
Silver	50-foot cone, 12d8 cold (DC 25)	4,500 gp (9th)
Gold	50-foot cone, 12d10 fire (DC 26)	5,500 gp (10th)
Red	50-foot cone, 12d10 fire (DC 26)	5,500 gp (10th)

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dragon type or dragonblood subtype.

Cost to Create: 600 gp, 48 XP, 2 days (brass or white); 1,200 gp, 96 XP, 3 days (black or copper); 1,750 gp, 140 XP, 4 days (bronze or green); 2,250 gp, 180 XP, 5 days (blue or silver); 2,750 gp, 220 XP, 6 days (gold or red).

DRAGON'S-EYE AMULET

Price (Item Level): 55,000 gp (18th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

This amulet is a fist-sized orb painted to resemble a dragon's eye. It hangs from a heavy gold chain.

While wearing this amulet, you gain a +10 competence bonus on Search and Spot checks, and blindsense out to 30 feet.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dragonsight (SC 73).

Cost to Create: 27,500 gp, 2,200 XP, 55 days.

DRAGONDOOM SCEPTER

Price (Item Level): 18,000 gp (14th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) evocation

Activation: — and swift (command)

Weight: 3 lb.

Carved chromatic and metallic dragon scales descend like leaves down the length of this regal scepter.

A dragondoom scepter aids spellcasters in defeating dragons.

When you hold this scepter, you gain a +2 competence bonus on caster level checks made to overcome the spell resistance of dragons.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

In addition, when you activate a dragondoom scepter, the next spell of 6th level or lower you cast before the end of your turn deals an extra 50% damage to any creature with the dragon type.

Spells that don't deal damage are unaffected.

This ability can be activated three times per day, but not in consecutive rounds.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Empower Spell.

Cost to Create: 9,000 gp, 720 XP, 18 days.

DRAGONFANG GAUNTLETS

Price (Item Level): 8,610 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) evocation, transmutation

Activation: — and free (mental); see text

Weight: 1 lb.

These thick leather gauntlets sport real dragon's teeth for studs.

Dragonfang gauntlets function as masterwork spiked gauntlets and also grant you a +2 enhancement bonus to Strength.

In addition, three times per day, you can activate the gauntlets to treat your next melee attack against a weapon or shield as though you had the Improved Sunder feat, even if you don't meet its prerequisites.

If you have Improved Unarmed Strike, dragonfang gauntlets allow you to overcome damage reduction with your unarmed strikes as though you were wielding a magic weapon.

In this case, you deal unarmed strike damage instead of spiked gauntlet damage.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength, magic weapon, shatter.

Cost to Create: 4,000 gp (plus 610 gp for masterwork spiked gauntlets), 320 XP, 8 days.

DREAMING BLINDFOLD

Price (Item Level): 7,500 gp (11th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) illusion

Activation: 1 minute (command)

Weight: —

This black silk blindfold is embroidered with mystical symbols done in silver thread.

While wearing a dreaming blindfold, you are effectively blinded, but you can send a useful or terrible dream to a sleeping creature.

Once per day, the blindfold can produce either one of two effects (but not both in the same day):

Dream: You send a phantasmal message to a specific known living creature.

This effect functions as the dream spell, except that the range is 100 miles and you can't deliver the dream through a messenger.

Nightmare: You send a hideous phantasmal vision to a specific known living creature.

This effect functions as the nightmare spell, except that the range is 100 miles.

If you are also wearing a psicrown (EPH 169), you can target the recipient of the dream or nightmare with a single psionic power generated by the psicrown as if you were adjacent to that creature.

However, the power costs twice the normal number of power points and renders the dreaming blindfold inert for seven days.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dream, nightmare.

Cost to Create: 3,750 gp, 300 XP, 8 days.

DRUMS OF MARCHING

Price (Item Level): 1,100 gp (4th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: See text

Weight: 5 lb.

Each of these two drums bears a line of runes engraved around its base.

This pair of drums includes a harness that allows them to be strapped to a humanoid creature.

A character who plays drums of marching during overland movement and succeeds on a DC 15 Perform (percussion instruments) check grants allies within 120 feet a +4 bonus on the Constitution check to avoid nonlethal damage from a forced march (PH 164).

Using the drums doesn't adversely affect a performer's speed.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, longstrider.

Cost to Create: 500 gp (plus 100 gp for masterwork drums), 40 XP, 1 day.

DUST OF DISPERSION

Price (Item Level): 500 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) conjuration, illusion

Activation: Standard (thrown)

Weight: —

This fine powder sparkles like ground gems.

You can fling this powder into the air up to 10 feet away from yourself to create a translucent cloud that occupies a 10-foot cube.

Creatures outside the cloud can see into it and through it (though their sight is slightly blurred), but any ranged attack entering or passing through the cloud has a 50% miss chance.

Creatures within the cloud make ranged attacks normally.

The cloud persists for 3 minutes, but a moderate wind (11+ mph) disperses it in 4 rounds.

A strong wind (21+ mph) disperses the cloud in 1 round, and any spell that deals fire damage burns away any part of the cloud in its area.

Dust of dispersion cannot be used underwater.

Once activated, this dust is expended and cannot be used again.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, blur, glitterdust.

Cost to Create: 250 gp, 20 XP, 1 day.

EAGLE CLAW TALISMAN

Price (Item Level): 1,000 gp (4th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

An eagle claw worked from adamantine dangles from a silver chain.

The wearer of an eagle claw talisman is capable of delivering ruinous strikes against doors, locked chests, or other objects.

When you activate an eagle claw talisman, you gain a +5 competence bonus on the next Strength check (or unarmed strike damage roll) you make to break or burst an item.

This effect lasts for 1 round or until used.

This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shatter.

Cost to Create: 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day.

ELECTRIC EEL ELIXIR

Price (Item Level): 400 gp (2nd)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: Standard (manipulation)

Weight: —

This vial contains blue liquid with sparkling yellow motes dancing within it.

Imbibing electric eel elixir turns your skin silvery and grants you a +1 enhancement bonus to your existing natural armor bonus.

(A creature without natural armor has an effective natural armor bonus of +0).

Furthermore, one time while the elixir is in effect, you can make a melee touch attack that deals 1d8+1 points of electricity damage.

You gain a +3 circumstance bonus on the attack roll if the target is wearing metal armor.

The elixir's effect lasts for 12 hours.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, alter self, shocking grasp, Craft (alchemy) 5 ranks.

Cost to Create: 200 gp, 16 XP, 1 day.

ELIXIR OF ADAMANTINE BLOOD

Price (Item Level): 500 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) abjuration

Activation: Standard (manipulation)

Weight: 1 lb.

This heavy vial appears to be filled with solid black metal, but when upended, the blackness flows slowly downward.

An elixir of adamantine blood causes a reaction that hardens your flesh.

You gain 10 temporary hit points, which last for up to 1 hour.

These temporary hit points do not stack with any other effects that grant temporary hit points.

If you wear adamantine armor when you drink this elixir, you instead gain 20 temporary hit points (though if you remove the armor before the duration elapses, you lose 10 of the temporary hit points immediately).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, stoneskin.

Cost to Create: 250 gp, 20 XP, 1 day.

ELIXIR OF FLAMING FISTS

Price (Item Level): 300 gp (2nd)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) evocation

Activation: Standard (manipulation)

Weight: —

The viscous liquid inside this cut glass bottle is red-orange and roils like the heart of an inferno.

When you drink this elixir, your hands immediately burst into flame, allowing you to deal an extra 1d6 points of fire damage with each of your unarmed attacks.

These flames do not harm you.

This effect lasts for 3 minutes.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, burning hands.

Cost to Create: 150 gp, 12 XP, 1 day.

EMPOWERED SPELLSHARD

Price (Item Level): See text

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) varies

Activation: See text

Weight: 1/4 lb.

This reddish crystal shard is inscribed with arcane symbols, banded with mithral, and hanging from a small silver chain.

An empowered spellshard is keyed to a specific spell of up to 3rd level.

When you cast the attuned spell, you can use your empowered spellshard as a focus in addition to the spell's normal components (if any).

Doing this empowers the spell (as though using the Empower Spell feat, but with no adjustment to spell level or casting time).

The spellshard is activated as a part of the spellcasting process.

The markings on the shard reveal the spell to which it is attuned to a character who makes a successful DC 30 Spellcraft check.

The prices and levels of empowered spellshards are described on the table below.

Spell Level	Price (Item Level)
1st	1,500 gp (5th)
2nd	3,000 gp (7th)
3rd	6,000 gp (10th)

An empowered spellshard functions three times per day.

The school of magic an empowered spellshard radiates is the same as that of the spell to which it is attuned.

Lore: These shards were created during the last great war to assist battle mages on the front lines (Knowledge [history] DC 10).

As a result, many empowered spellshards are keyed to destructive evocation spells (Knowledge [history] DC 15).
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Empower Spell, spell to which the shard is attuned.

Cost to Create: 750 gp, 60 XP, 2 days (1st level); 1,500 gp, 120 XP, 3 days (2nd level); 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days (3rd level).

ENDURING AMULET

Price (Item Level): 1,500 gp (5th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) abjuration

Activation: — and immediate (command)

Weight: —

This circular, coin-shaped talisman is half flame red and half ice blue.

An enduring amulet protects you from extremes of temperature, as if by the endure elements spell.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

In addition, the amulet has 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges grants you resistance to cold and fire for 1 round.

1 charge: Resistance to cold 10 and fire 10.

2 charges: Resistance to cold 15 and fire 15.

3 charges: Resistance to cold 20 and fire 20.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, resist energy.

Cost to Create: 750 gp, 60 XP, 2 days.

ENEMY SPIRIT POUCH

Price (Item Level): 2,100 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) divination

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

A small collection of teeth, small scales, knots of hair, and strange bits of jerky fills this pouch.

The worn leather bag's strings are long enough to allow the pouch to be worn as a necklace.

This item is keyed to a single type of creature (aberration, animal, magical beast, and so on).

A pouch keyed to humanoids or outsiders must be keyed to a subtype as described in the ranger's favored enemy ability (PH 47).

While wearing an enemy spirit pouch, you gain a +1 competence bonus on attack rolls against creatures of this type.

If you are a ranger, the pouch increases your favored enemy bonus against creatures of its type by 2.

If you don't have the favored enemy ability, the pouch grants you a +2 bonus on damage rolls and certain skill checks as if that type of creature were your favored enemy.

If a creature of the type keyed to the pouch wears that pouch, it receives one negative level.

The negative level remains for as long as the pouch is worn and disappears when it is no longer carried.

The negative level never results in actual level loss, but cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the pouch is worn.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, detect animals or plants, ranger with favored enemy type/subtype matching that of the pouch.

Cost to Create: 1,050 gp, 84 XP, 3 days.

ESSENTIA HELM

Price (Item Level): 3,000 gp (7th)

Body Slot: Head

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: 3 lb.

A flawless sapphire is set on this heavy steel helm, shining almost too faintly to notice.

These imposing helmets are valued by incarnates and other meldshapers, because they can temporarily supercharge one or more of your soulmelds or other essentia receptacles (see Magic of Incarnum for details on incarnum).

An essentia helm has 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges maximizes the essentia investment in one or more of your soulmelds or other essentia receptacles (as chosen by you when you activate it) for 1 round.

Effectively, the helm temporarily adds essentia to the affected receptacles (soulmelds, incarnum feats, magic items, and so on) until it reaches its maximum.

While this ability is in effect, you can't reallocate essentia from the affected receptacle.

1 charge: Maximizes essentia investment in one receptacle.

2 charges: Maximizes essentia investment in two receptacles.

3 charges: Maximizes essentia investment in three receptacles.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, essentia pool, meldshaper.

Cost to Create: 1,500 gp, 120 XP, 3 days.

ESSENTIA JEWEL

Price (Item Level): 400 gp (2nd)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) necromancy

Activation: Free (command)

Weight: —

The facets of this small, translucent white crystal gleam with faint light.

When activated, an essentia jewel adds 1 point of essentia to your essentia pool for a single round.

This essentia can be invested as normal.

Only one essentia jewel can be used in each round, and each can be used only once, after which it crumbles to dust.

You need not hold an essentia jewel to activate it, but you must keep it somewhere on your body (in a pouch or a backpack, for example).

Lore: Essentia jewels are mined from enormous crystalline structures on the Positive Energy Plane (Knowledge [the planes] DC 15).

These crystalline structures are actually fonts of unborn souls.

Pure soul energy flows like water through these areas, imbuing the surrounding structures with echoes of incarnum (Knowledge [the planes] DC 25).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, soul boon (MoI 104).

Cost to Create: 200 gp, 16 XP, 1 day.

ETERNAL WAND

Price (Item Level): See table

ETERNAL WAND
Spell Level	Caster Level	Price (Item Level)	Spellcraft DC	Cost to Create
0	1st	460 gp (3rd)	15	230 gp, 18 XP, 1 day
1st	1st	820 gp (4th)	15	410 gp, 32 XP, 1 day
2nd	3rd	4,420 gp (9th)	16	2,210 gp, 176 XP, 3 days
3rd	5th	10,900 gp (13th)	17	5,450 gp, 436 XP, 11 days

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: See table

Aura: Faint; (see table) school of spell contained in eternal wand

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: —

This long, tapered wand ends with a pink crystal containing red swirls.

An eternal wand holds a single arcane spell of 3rd level or lower, determined during creation.

Any character who can cast arcane spells can activate the wand to use the spell contained in it, regardless of whether the spell appears on his class spell list.

An eternal wand functions two times per day.

Lore: During the final years of the last great war, the artificers and wizards of a powerful noble family perfected a new form of wand built around a crystal shard (Knowledge [history] DC 10).

The development of the eternal wand allowed lesser arcanists to take the place of war wizards during the final days of the last great war, supplementing their passive spells with more aggressive magic (Knowledge [history] DC 15).

While the artificers have been searching for ways to streamline the process of creation, the technique is still in its infancy.

Currently, the wands are rarely seen except in military units, but a few soldiers who served in the war brought their eternal wands of magic missile home from the front lines (Knowledge [history] DC 20).

Prerequisites: Craft Wand, Craft Wondrous Item, the spell contained in the eternal wand.

Cost to Create: See table.

EVERFULL MUG

Price (Item Level): 200 gp (2nd)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) conjuration

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: —

This common-looking brown clay mug has persistent stains just under the rim.

Three times per day, when you recite the command word, this mug fills with 12 ounces of water, cheap ale, or watery wine (your choice).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, create water.

Cost to Create: 100 gp, 8 XP, 1 day.

EVERLASTING FEEDBAG

Price (Item Level): 800 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) conjuration

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

This leather feedbag is adorned with a small medallion bearing an embossed cornucopia symbol.

When you place an everlasting feedbag around the muzzle of a horse, donkey, or other equine animal, suitable feed fills the bag and is continuously replenished until it is removed from the animal.

Any uneaten feed disappears at that time.

An everlasting feedbag can be used once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, create food and water.

Cost to Create: 400 gp, 32 XP, 1 day.

EVERLASTING RATIONS

Price (Item Level): 350 gp (2nd)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) conjuration

Activation: — Weight: 2 lb.

This nondescript, small leather pouch has a light blue silk drawstring.

This pouch contains enough trail rations to feed a Medium creature for one day.

Every morning at sunrise, the pouch magically creates another day's worth of rations.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, create food and water.

Cost to Create: 175 gp, 14 XP, 1 day.

EXPLODING SPIKE

Price (Item Level): 1,500 gp (5th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) evocation

Activation: Standard (manipulation)

Weight: 1/2 lb.

This plain, iron spike feels warm to the touch and pulses with stored energy.

An exploding spike becomes invisible 1 round after you plant it firmly in the ground.

Thereafter, as soon as any creature comes within 10 feet of it, the spike explodes in a fireball that deals 10d6 points of fire damage (Reflex DC 14 half) to every creature within 20 feet of it.

This blast destroys the spike.

During the round that an exploding spike remains visible after being planted, any creature can safely remove it from the ground (a standard action) to render it harmless and ready for reuse.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fireball.

Cost to Create: 750 gp, 60 XP, 2 days.

EYES OF EXPANDED VISION

Price (Item Level): 3,200 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) divination

Activation: —

Weight: —

These two ovals of murky glass are rimmed with brass and linked by a brass arch.

When resting on the bridge of a wearer's nose, the glass magically clears.

These lenses expand your field of vision.

Flanking opponents gain only a +1 bonus when attacking you instead of +2 (attack benefits that are conditional on flanking, such as a rogue's sneak attack damage, still apply because you remain flanked).

You gain a +2 competence bonus on Spot checks but take a -2 penalty on saves against gaze attacks.

These are continuous effects and require no activation.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, true seeing or ubiquitous vision (EPH 139).

Cost to Create: 1,600 gp, 128 XP, 4 days.

EYES OF POWER LEECH

Price (Item Level): 10,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) enchantment

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: —

Bluish energy plays about these silver-tinted lenses.

Silver wires extend back to wrap around the ears.

Once per day, you can drain power points from another psionic creature by meeting its gaze.

A selected target within 40 feet must succeed on a DC 16

Will save, or a connection of crackling energy is formed between the wearer and the victim.

The connection drains 1d6 power points from the target for every round that the wearer concentrates (to a maximum of 7 rounds).

Concentrating to drain power points is a full-round action.

Each round, you gain 1 power point from those drained from the target (subject to your normal maximum).

Points you cannot gain are lost immediately.

Eyes of power leech have no effect on nonpsionic targets or psionic creatures with a current power point reserve of 0.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, vampiric touch or power leech (EPH 124).

Cost to Create: 5,000 gp, 400 XP, 10 days.

EYES OF POWER LEECH, VAMPIRIC

Price (Item Level): 20,000 gp (15th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 15th

Aura: Strong; (DC 22) enchantment

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: —

Gold wire rims these dark lenses and extends back to wrap around the ears.

Blue sparks of energy dance about them.

As eyes of power leech, except that you gain power points from the subject even if doing so would bring you over your normal maximum.

Furthermore, you can maintain concentration for up to 13 rounds.

Power points you gain in excess of your maximum fade after 8 hours if they are not spent before that time.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, vampiric touch and limited wish or power leech (EPH 124) and bend reality (EPH 80).

Cost to Create: 10,000 gp, 800 XP, 20 days.

EYES OF TRUTH

Price (Item Level): 5,500 gp (10th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) divination

Activation: — and swift (command)

Weight: —

This pair of thin, crystal lenses has a faint blue tint.

Eyes of truth grant you improved visual acuity, and can allow you briefly to see the world as it truly is.

While worn, the lenses grant you a +5 competence bonus on Spot checks.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

In addition, you can activate the lenses to gain a true seeing effect (as the spell) for 1 round.

This ability functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, true seeing.

Cost to Create: 2,750 gp, 220 XP, 6 days.

FANGED MASK

Price (Item Level): 8,300 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: Standard (mental)

Weight: 1 lb.

Two rows of overlapping, mismatched teeth form a curving ridge along the bottom of this bronze half-mask's spiny demonic visage. Snakes' fangs, sharks' teeth, filed human incisors, and other yellowed specimens create half of a monstrous maw.

When you activate a fanged mask, you can make a natural bite attack.

The bite deals 1d6 points of damage plus your Strength modifier (assuming you are Medium; see DMG 28 for details on damage for larger and smaller creatures).

This attack is treated as a magic weapon for the purpose of overcoming damage reduction, and the bite damage doesn't stack with any bite attack you already have.

Three times per day, upon biting a target while activating the mask, you can force that creature to make a successful DC 13 Fortitude save or be stunned for 1 round.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, magic fang or magic weapon.

Cost to Create: 4,150 gp, 332 XP, 9 days.

FARSPEAKING AMULET

Price (Item Level): 6,000 gp (10th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) divination

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

This chain bears a large green crystal in its center.

Four smaller, removable charms of red crystal also hang from the pendant.

To use a farspeaking amulet, one character wears the central crystal, while up to four others carry the four removable, red crystals.

Removable crystals don't occupy a body slot, and can simply be carried.

Charms can be removed or replaced as a standard action.

The wearer can, with a standard (mental) action, return a single charm to the amulet from any distance, as long as it is on the same plane.

When you activate the amulet, you create a link between yourself and any or all of the characters carrying red charms, enabling all affected characters to converse as if standing together.

This effect lasts for up to 10 minutes, and the amulet can be activated three times per day.

Only characters on the same plane as the amulet's wearer can participate in the conversation.

If you also wear a magic item that grants you a competence bonus on Listen checks when you activate the amulet, you can choose to also listen to the environment of any or all of the characters in the conversation as if you were present. The magic of the amulet allows you to differentiate between the various locations without undue confusion.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, clairaudience/clairvoyance, message.

Cost to Create: 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days.

FIELD PROVISIONS BOX

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) conjuration

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

This well-crafted wooden box is carved with runes denoting abundance.

When activated, a field provisions box produces a full day's sustenance (food and water) for up to fifteen humans or five horses.

A field provisions box functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, create food and water.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 40 XP, 2 days.

FIENDHELM

Price (Item Level): 10,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Head

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) abjuration

Activation: — and full-round (command)

Weight: 2 lb.

This horned, black adamantine helm seems to absorb the light around it.

The helm's faceplate shows a fiendish visage, and hellish orange light leaks from its eyes, nostrils, and mouth.

A fiendhelm allows an evil-aligned wearer to emulate certain traits of evil extraplanar creatures.

Your melee attacks are treated as evil-aligned for the purpose of overcoming damage reduction.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

In addition, a fiendhelm allows you to use dispel good, inflict critical wounds, and resist energy (electricity or fire only) as spell-like abilities each once per day.

Use your own character level as the caster level, and the save DCs equal 10 + the spell level + your Cha modifier.

A fiendhelm grants no benefit to nonevil wearers.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dispel good, inflict critical wounds, resist energy, evil alignment.

Cost to Create: 5,000 gp, 400 XP, 10 days.

FIERY TUNIC

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)

Body Slot: Torso

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) conjuration

Activation: — and swift (command)

Weight: 2 lb.

This eye-catching tunic shifts and moves like liquid flame.

A crystal shard burns a brilliant red in the middle of the chest, fused seamlessly with the cloth of the shirt.

A fiery tunic grants you resistance to fire 5.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

When you activate the tunic, it generates a fire shield, as the spell (warm shield effect only), that lasts for 5 rounds.

In addition, any melee weapons you hold while the fire shield is active are treated as flaming weapons (DMG 224).

You can deactivate this effect at any time with another swift action.

This ability functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Bind Elemental (ECS 51) or Craft Wondrous Item, planar binding.

Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

FINNED GAUNTLETS

Price (Item Level): 3,500 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

Sweeping fins adorn these sharkskin gauntlets.

You gain a natural swim speed of 30 feet (which also grants you a +8 bonus on Swim checks to perform some special action or avoid a hazard).

You can always take 10 on a Swim check, even if distracted or endangered, and can use the run action while swimming.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, swim (SC 217).

Cost to Create: 1,750 gp, 140 XP, 4 days.

FIREFLOWER PENDANT

Price (Item Level): 13,000 gp (13th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 13th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) abjuration

Activation: — or immediate (command)

Weight: —

This fragile pendant is constructed from rose gold and shaped into the form of a flower.

It is set with many tiny fire opals.

A fireflower pendant provides you with resistance—or even brief immunity—to fiery attacks.

While it is worn, you gain resistance to fire 10.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

When you activate the pendant, you gain immunity to fire until the start of your next turn.

However, doing this renders the pendant powerless for 1 hour thereafter.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, energy immunity, resist energy.

Cost to Create: 6,500 gp, 520 XP, 13 days.

FLESH RING OF SCORN

Price (Item Level): 8,000 gp (11th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: —

Barbs protrude from this tiny iron ring.

To gain the benefit of a flesh ring of scorn, you must wear it as a piercing through the flesh of your upper chest.

You can activate it whenever you score a critical threat on a creature.

The critical threat is automatically confirmed, but the flesh ring of scorn deals damage to you based on your weapon's critical multiplier.

Critical Multiplier	Damage
×2	2d6
×3	3d6
×4	4d6

A flesh ring of scorn functions three times per day.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, corrupt weapon (DMG 182).

Cost to Create: 4,000 gp, 320 XP, 8 days.

FLESHEATER

Price (Item Level): 12,000 gp (13th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) conjuration

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: 3 lb.

This brown scepter is topped with a device that looks like a tooth-filled mouth.

When you activate a flesheater, you summon forth horrible, hungry apparitions of green energy resembling minuscule imps or quasits.

These apparitions surround a living creature you designate within 30 feet.

That creature must succeed on a DC 18 Fortitude save or take 3d6 points of damage each round for the next 4 rounds.

A flesheater functions two times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster III.

Cost to Create: 6,000 gp, 480 XP, 12 days.

FORMLESS VEST

Price (Item Level): 3,200 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Torso

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation

Activation: Immediate (mental)

Weight: —

This simple tunic seems misshapen, but it actually fits perfectly well.

A formless vest allows you to briefly make your body amorphous, allowing you to avoid particularly deadly strikes.

Once per day, you can activate this vest to take half of the damage dealt to you by a critical hit or sneak attack.

You can activate the vest after damage has been determined, but before it has actually been dealt.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, gaseous form.

Cost to Create: 1,600 gp, 128 XP, 4 days.

GAUNTLET OF GRUUMSH

Price (Item Level): 8,302 gp (11th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) necromancy

Activation: Standard

Weight: 1 lb.

Flakes of dried gore encrust this crude iron gauntlet.

Upon its back is stained the image of a single bloodshot eye.

Three times per day, this +1 gauntlet allows you to make a melee touch attack to blind a target creature for 1 hour (Fort DC 14 negates).

Elves take a -4 penalty on this save.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Craft Wondrous Item, blindness/ deafness, etc.

Cost to Create: 4,000 gp (plus 302 gp for masterwork gauntlet), 320 XP, 8 days.

GAUNTLET OF INFINITE BLADES

Price (Item Level): 6,500 gp (10th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 12th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) conjuration, divination

Activation: Swift (mental)

Weight: 1 lb.

This gauntlet is made of braided mithral links.

A gauntlet of infinite blades allows you to produce a weapon at a moment's notice.

When it is activated, a dagger appears in the hand wearing the gauntlet.

This ability functions as often as needed, though the dagger disappears 3 rounds after it is created.

In addition, the gauntlet has 5 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges creates a more potent dagger than normal, as described below.

1 charge: +3 dagger.

3 charges: +3 dagger of seeking.

5 charges: +3 bane dagger of seeking (choose the creature type and subtype, if needed, when activating the gauntlet).

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Craft Wondrous Item, greater magic weapon, major creation, summon monster I, true seeing.

Cost to Create: 3,250 gp, 260 XP, 7 days.

GAUNTLETS OF ARROW REFLECTION

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) abjuration

Activation: Immediate (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

These leather gauntlets have small polished steel disks set in their palms.

Gauntlets of arrow reflection allow you to redirect a deflected thrown or projectile weapon back at your attacker.

When you use the Deflect Arrows feat (PH 93) to deflect a ranged weapon attack, you can activate the gauntlets to cause the weapon to fly back at the character who made the attack.

Use the attacker's original attack roll to determine the attack's success, and roll damage as normal as if your attacker had successfully hit with the weapon.

This ability functions three times per day.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, protection from arrows.
Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

GAUNTLETS OF ELDRITCH ENERGY

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)
Body Slot: Hands
Caster Level: 10th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) transmutation
Activation: Swift (command)
Weight: 1/2 lb.
These black leather gauntlets are studded with multicolored gems. Gauntlets of eldritch energy let you imbue your eldritch blasts (CAr 7) with a particular type of energy. When you activate these gauntlets, the next eldritch blast you use before the end of your turn deals energy damage (the type of energy depends on the type of gauntlets) instead of its normal damage type. You can't apply the gauntlets' effect to any blast already affected by an eldritch essence invocation. Four varieties of these gauntlets exist. Each applies a different type of energy damage to your eldritch blast: gauntlets of eldritch frost (cold), gauntlets of eldritch lightning (electricity), gauntlets of eldritch fire (fire), and gauntlets of eldritch thunder (sonic). This ability can be used three times per day. Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, eldritch blast. Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

GAUNTLETS OF ENERGY TRANSFORMATION

Price (Item Level): 1,000 gp (4th)
Body Slot: Hands
Caster Level: 3rd
Aura: Faint; (DC 16) evocation
Activation: Swift (command)
Weight: —
This pair of leather gloves is imprinted with arcane sigils representing different types of energy. Gauntlets of energy transformation allow you to temporarily change the type of energy produced by any weapon you hold. When you activate the gauntlets, you change one type of energy damage produced by a melee weapon you hold into another type of energy damage (acid, cold, electricity, or fire) for 1 round. Transformed energy does the same amount of damage, but a +1 flaming longsword could be changed to deal acid, cold, or electricity damage instead of fire. If a weapon produces more than one type of energy, each activation affects only one type of energy produced. For example, if you wield a +1 flaming shock longsword, you could activate the gauntlets to change the fire damage to acid, cold, or electricity damage, and you could activate the gauntlets a second time to change the electricity damage dealt by the shock property to acid, cold, or fire. If your weapon doesn't deal energy damage, these gauntlets have no effect. This ability functions three times per day. Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, acid splash, burning hands, ray of frost, shocking grasp.

Cost to Create: 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day.

GAUNTLETS OF EXTENDED RANGE

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)
Body Slot: Hands
Caster Level: 5th
Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation
Activation: —
Weight: 1/2 lb.
Each of these well-made gauntlets is set with small purple crystals that rest across the tops of the knuckles. Whenever you throw a weapon or other object, gauntlets of extended range give the weapon a telekinetic push, doubling its range increment. Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, hawkeye (SC 110) or extend range (CP 89). Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

GAUNTLETS OF GIANTFELLING

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)
Body Slot: Hands
Caster Level: 3rd
Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation
Activation: Swift (command)
Weight: —
These leather gloves are cracked and worn, but still quite durable. When you activate gauntlets of giantfelling, you gain a bonus on the next weapon damage roll you make against a creature larger than you before the end of your turn. The extra damage is based on how many size categories larger than you the target is.

Size Categories

Larger	Extra Damage
1	1d6
2	2d6
3 or more	3d6

This ability functions three times per day.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, reduce person.
Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

GAUNTLETS OF LASSITUDE

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)
Body Slot: Hands
Caster Level: 5th
Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation
Activation: —
Weight: 2 lb.
These tan leather gloves are bound in brass. Three times per day, you can make a melee touch attack with these gauntlets. If your attack is successful, the target is subjected to the effect of a slow spell for 5 rounds (Will DC 14 negates). Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, slow. Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

GAUNTLETS OF MINDFIRE

Price (Item Level): 11,000 gp (13th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: 1/2 lb.

These gauntlets appear pitted and decayed, although closer inspection reveals them to be sound.

Each is set with small amber crystals that rest on the tops of the knuckles.

Once per day, gauntlets of mindfire can be activated to project a 15-foot cone-shaped burst of mental sickness.

A successful DC 14 Fortitude save negates the effect.

Any creature that fails its saving throw contracts a virulent form of mindfire.

A victim can be infected only once; subsequent uses of this item on an infected target produce no further effect.

Mindfire has no incubation period—a victim immediately takes 1d4 points of Intelligence damage.

Each day thereafter, a victim must succeed on a DC 14

Fortitude save or take another 1d4 points of Intelligence damage.

If a victim succeeds on its Fortitude save two days in a row, it fights off the disease and takes no more damage.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, mind poison (SC 141) or mindfire (CP 93).

Cost to Create: 5,500 gp, 440 XP, 11 days.

GAUNTLETS OF THE BLAZING ARC

Price (Item Level): 6,300 gp (10th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) evocation

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: 1/2 lb.

These finely crafted metal gauntlets are etched with flames.

Each is set with small red crystals that rest on the tops of the knuckles.

When activated, gauntlets of the blazing arc create a 15-foot cone-shaped burst of flame that deals 4d4+4 points of fire damage to all creatures in the area (Reflex DC 14 half).

This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, burning hands.

Cost to Create: 3,150 gp, 252 XP, 7 days.

GAUNTLETS OF THROWING

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

This pair of flexible but tough maroon leather gauntlets has a complex sigil on each palm.

Gauntlets of throwing turn any handheld weapon into a deadly thrown weapon.

When you activate gauntlets of throwing, you grant any one melee weapon you hold the throwing and returning properties (DMG 225–226) for 1 round.

This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, magic stone, telekinesis.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

GAUNTLETS OF WEAPONRY ARCANE

Price (Item Level): 6,000 gp (10th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

These long, leather gauntlets extend far up the forearm.

Silver stitching covers much of the leather, forming complex arcane runes.

Any weapon (even a nonmetallic one) you hold while wearing these gauntlets overcomes damage reduction as if it were a magic silvered weapon.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, magic weapon.

Cost to Create: 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days.

GHOST SHROUD

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)

Body Slot: Body

Caster Level: 12th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) necromancy

Activation: —

Weight: —

This shroud looks like a ghostly, translucent version of a winding cloth used to wrap a body for burial.

While wearing a ghost shroud, you gain a +1 deflection bonus to Armor Class.

In addition, all your melee attacks can affect incorporeal creatures as if you were wielding a ghost touch weapon.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, create undead,

Knowledge (religion) 5 ranks.

Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

GHOUL GAUNTLETS

Price (Item Level): 10,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) necromancy

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

These mottled leather gauntlets appear worn and threadbare.

Ghoul gauntlets have no effect when worn by a construct or undead creature.

If you are a living creature, however, these gauntlets virtually meld with your flesh when you put them on, making your hands appear gaunt and rotting.

Once per round while wearing these gauntlets, you can make a melee touch attack that paralyzes the target for 1d6+2 rounds (Fort DC 13 negates).

Elves are immune to this paralysis.

You can also deliver this attack as part of an unarmed strike, slam, claw, or similar natural attack made with the hand, but in that case, you must attack normally, not with a touch attack.

If you die while wearing ghoul gauntlets, they revert to their normal appearance.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, ghoul touch.

Cost to Create: 5,000 gp, 400 XP, 10 days.

GITHBORN TALISMAN

Price (Item Level): 1,800 gp (5th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation

Activation: Immediate (command)

Weight: —

A swirl of carved arabesques marks the top of this otherwise austere gray stone pendant.

Both githyanki knights who captain astral longships and githzerai monks who hunt in rrakmas are known to wear these stones, which are designed for use against their most hated enemies.

When you activate a githborn talisman, you gain a +2 insight bonus on attack rolls and weapon damage rolls against aberrations, as well as a +2 insight bonus on Will saves made against the extraordinary, supernatural, and spell-like abilities of aberrations.

This benefit lasts for 1 round.

If you are a githyanki or githzerai, these bonuses improve to +4.

This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, owl's wisdom, true strike.

Cost to Create: 900 gp, 72 XP, 2 days.

GLITTER STONE

Price (Item Level): 450 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: — (held); see text

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) conjuration

Activation: Standard (thrown) or — (ammunition)

Weight: —

Sparkles of light glitter on this stone's surface.

A glitter stone renders hidden creatures visible.

The stone must be thrown (range increment 10 feet) or hurled from a sling (using that weapon's normal range increment) as a ranged touch attack.

When the stone strikes its target or a hard surface, it deals no damage, but explodes in a 10-foot-radius burst of glittering shards.

All invisible creatures in the area become coated in glittery dust, making them visible for 3 rounds.

Any coated creature takes a -40 penalty on Hide checks for the duration of the effect.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, glitterdust.

Cost to Create: 225 gp, 18 XP, 1 day.

GLOBE OF SUNLIGHT

Price (Item Level): 6,000 gp (10th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 15th

Aura: Strong; (DC 22) evocation

Activation: Standard (thrown)

Weight: 1 lb.

This golden, fist-sized orb is set with faceted rubies and yellow topazes.

You can hurl a globe of sunlight up to 50 feet.

When it arrives at the end of its trajectory, it detonates as a sunburst spell (Reflex DC 22 partial), except that the radius of the burst is only 40 feet.

Once activated, the globe is expended and cannot be used again.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, sunburst.

Cost to Create: 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days.

GLOVES OF AGILE STRIKING

Price (Item Level): 2,200 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation

Activation: Swift (mental)

Weight: —

These forest-green silk gloves feel like a second skin.

Gloves of agile striking grant you brief bursts of impressive dexterity in combat.

When you activate these gloves, you deal an extra 1d6 points of damage with ranged weapons and light weapons (as well as nonlight weapons that can be used with Weapon Finesse, such as a rapier).

If you are delivering a skirmish attack (see the scout class, CA 10), this bonus improves to 2d6.

This effect lasts for 1 round.

This ability functions two times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, divine agility (SC 69).

Cost to Create: 1,100 gp, 84 XP, 3 days.

GLOVES OF ELDRITCH ADMIXTURE

Price (Item Level): 2,500 gp (7th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) evocation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

Dark whorls stream across these leather gloves, dizzying the eye and clouding the mind.

Warlocks (CA 5) prize these gloves, which allow them to enhance their eldritch blasts with pure energy.

Gloves of eldritch admixture have 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges adds extra damage to the next eldritch blast you make before the end of your turn.

This damage can be acid, cold, or fire, as chosen by you each time you activate the gloves.

1 charge: +2d6 points of damage.

2 charges: +3d6 points of damage.

3 charges: +4d6 points of damage.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Melf's acid arrow or vitriolic blast invocation (CA 136), scorching ray or brimstone blast invocation (CA 132), ray of ice (SC 167) or hellrime blast invocation (CA 134).

Cost to Create: 1,250 gp, 100 XP, 3 days.

GLOVES OF FLAME

Price (Item Level): 7,000 gp (11th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) conjuration

Activation: — and standard (command)

Weight: 1/2 lb.

These leather gloves have steel plates sewn onto the backs of each hand and finger.

Small black crystal shards are mounted on the back of each hand, glowing an eerie orange that highlights the swirling mark within. A faint smell of sulfur surrounds the gloves.

Gloves of flame provide you with the protection of an endure elements spell against cold temperatures and resistance to cold 5.

These are continuous effects and require no activation.

In addition, five times per day you can utter the word “burn” in Ignan to generate flame in the palm of one hand. This flame is as bright as a torch and persists for up to 10 minutes or until you utter either of two other command words, each of which creates a particular effect and then extinguishes the flame.

“Scorch”: Creates a 15-foot cone-shaped burst of fire that deals 5d4 points of fire damage (Reflex DC 11 half).

“Singe”: Make a melee touch attack that deals 1d6+5 points of fire damage.

Prerequisites: Bind Elemental (ECS 51) or Craft Wondrous Item, planar binding.

Cost to Create: 3,500 gp, 280 XP, 7 days.

GLOVES OF FORTUNATE STRIKING

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) divination

Activation: Immediate (mental)

Weight: —

These supple white leather gloves are embroidered with blue symbols of luck.

You can activate gloves of fortunate striking to reroll an attack roll that you’ve made before you know whether the attack succeeded.

You must use the second result, even if it’s lower.

You can’t use this ability if you have already rerolled the attack for any reason.

This ability functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, true strike.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 40 XP, 2 days.

GLOVES OF INCARNUM THEFT

Price (Item Level): 8,000 gp (11th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) necromancy

Activation: Standard (mental)

Weight: 1 lb.

These fine leather gloves are dyed midnight blue.

A single ruby is set into the back of each.

While wearing gloves of incarnum theft, if you make a successful unarmed melee touch attack (as part of the activation) against a target with essentia, you gain 1 point of essentia and the target loses 1 point from its essentia pool (Will DC 15 negates).

If the target has no essentia pool, the attack has no effect.

The stolen essentia can immediately be invested in any soulmeld, incarnum feat, or other essentia receptacle of yours with no action required, even if essentia investment wouldn’t normally be allowed at this time.

If you have no means of using essentia, you gain no benefit, but the target still loses the point.

The stolen essentia remains in your essentia pool for 12 minutes, then returns to the original possessor.

Chakra Bind (Hands): If you bind gloves of incarnum theft to your hands chakra, you instead steal 2 points of essentia with a successful touch attack, and the save DC to resist its effect increases by 2.

See Binding Items to Chakras (MoI 108) for more information.

Lore: The first gloves of incarnum theft were created by an arcane trickster named Hexandros who dabbled in incarnum use (Knowledge [the planes] DC 15).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, rend essentia (MoI 104).

Cost to Create: 4,000 gp, 320 XP, 8 days.

GLOVES OF LIGHTNING

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) evocation

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: —

Strips of hardened blue leather run to the knuckles of this fingerless glove in a jagged lightning-bolt pattern.

Three times per day, you can make a ranged touch attack (range 30 feet) that deals 1d8+5 points of electricity damage.

You gain a +3 bonus on the attack if the target is wearing metal armor (or is made out of metal, is carrying a lot of metal, and so on).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shocking grasp.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

GLOVES OF MANUAL PROWESS

Price (Item Level): 3,000 gp (7th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: Swift (mental)

Weight: —

This pair of fine, charcoal-gray leather gloves is exceptionally comfortable.

They are so well made that they do not impair the sense of touch.

Gloves of manual prowess allow you to temporarily excel at tasks involving fine manual dexterity.

These gloves have 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges grants you a competence bonus on the next Disable Device, Forgery, Open Lock, Sleight of Hand, or Use Rope check you make.

You must begin the check within 1 round of activating the gloves.

You can’t apply this bonus when you take 10 or take 20—it only applies on a check you actually roll.

1 charge: +5 competence bonus.

2 charges: +7 competence bonus.

3 charges: +10 competence bonus.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cat’s grace.

Cost to Create: 1,500 gp, 120 XP, 3 days.

GLOVES OF OBJECT READING

Price (Item Level): 3,000 gp (7th)

Body Slot: Hands
Caster Level: 3rd
Aura: Faint; (DC 16) divination
Activation: —
Weight: —

The palms and fingertips of these white lace gloves are threaded with platinum.

While wearing these gloves and handling an inanimate object, you can learn details about that object's previous owner through the psychic impressions it has accumulated. The amount of information revealed depends on how long you study the object.

1st minute: Last owner's race.

2nd minute: Last owner's gender.

3rd minute: Last owner's age.

4th minute: Last owner's alignment.

5th minute: How last owner gained and lost the object.

6th+ minute: Next-to-last owner's race, and so on.

Gloves of object reading will not identify casual users as owners.

(Anyone who uses an object to attack someone or something is not thereafter considered a casual user).

An object without any previous owners, or without any owners in the past ten years, reveals no information.

If you employ these gloves additional times on the same object, the information yielded is the same as the first time.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, scrying or object reading (EPH 123).

Cost to Create: 1,500 gp, 120 XP, 3 days.

GLOVES OF SPELL DISRUPTION

Price (Item Level): 1,000 gp (4th)
Body Slot: Hands
Caster Level: 5th
Aura: Faint; (DC 17) abjuration
Activation: —
Weight: —

Black striations run across the fingers of these red leather gloves.

If you hit a creature with a melee attack while it is casting a spell, add 5 to the DC of the Concentration check required to avoid losing the spell.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, dispel magic.

Cost to Create: 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day.

GLOVES OF THE BALANCED HAND

Price (Item Level): 8,000 gp (11th)
Body Slot: Hands
Caster Level: 12th
Aura: Strong; (DC 21) transmutation
Activation: —
Weight: —

Small, open hands formed of hardened leather rest upturned on the backs of each of these thin, brown gloves.

While wearing these gloves, you fight as though you possess the Two-Weapon Fighting feat.

If you already have Two-Weapon Fighting, you can make an additional attack with your off hand as if using the Improved Two-Weapon Fighting feat.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, righteous might or Tenser's transformation.

Cost to Create: 4,000 gp, 320 XP, 8 days.

GLOVES OF THE TITAN'S GRIP

Price (Item Level): 14,000 gp (14th)
Body Slot: Hands
Caster Level: 9th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation
Activation: —
Weight: 2 lb.

Banded with aged wood, rough metal, and chunks of stone, these oversized gloves rumble when flexed.

While wearing these gloves, you gain a +8 enhancement bonus on grapple checks.

These gloves automatically activate when you enter a grapple, and the effect lasts for 7 rounds.

This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength or grip of iron (EPH 111).

Cost to Create: 7,000 gp, 560 XP, 14 days.

GLOVES OF THE ULdra SAVANT

Price (Item Level): 3,100 gp (8th)
Body Slot: Hands
Caster Level: 5th
Aura: Faint; (DC 17) evocation
Activation: Standard (command)
Weight: 2 lb.

Made from a pale blue metal and adorned with glowing, faint blue runes, these gloves are caked with layers of frost and ice.

While wearing these gloves, you can create a ray of frost at will.

In addition, three times per day, you can imbue any melee weapon held in your hand with the frost property (DMG 224) for 5 rounds.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, ray of frost.

Cost to Create: 1,550 gp, 124 XP, 4 days.

GLYPH SEAL

Price (Item Level): 1,000 gp (4th)
Body Slot: — (held)
Caster Level: 5th
Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation
Activation: Standard (manipulation)
Weight: —

This multicolored, thumb-sized opal is carved with a variety of arcane symbols.

A glyph seal allows you to convert any arcane or divine spell of up to 2nd level into a symbol similar to a glyph of warding.

To do so, you must cast the spell while holding the seal; doing this is called keying the seal.

You can safely transport a keyed glyph seal until you activate it by pressing the seal to the desired surface.

The seal can adhere to any nonmagical, nonliving object.

An activated glyph seal functions as the spell glyph function of a glyph of warding and can be detected and disabled as a magic trap (DC 30).

A glyph seal is unaffected by the spell within it.

Once activated, the now-empty glyph seal can be retrieved (though it requires a successful DC 30 Search check to find) and used.

You can always remove any glyph seal you keyed and activated to redeploy it elsewhere.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, glyph of warding.

Cost to Create: 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day.

GLYPH SEAL, GREATER

Price (Item Level): 4,000 gp (8th)

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) transmutation

This opal glows with multihued light, and ornate arcane symbols have been etched into its surface.

A greater glyph seal functions like a glyph seal, with the following exceptions: It can be keyed with any spell of 5th level or higher, it functions as the greater glyph of warding spell, detecting and disabling it requires a successful DC 33 check, and a successful DC 33 Search check is needed to find it.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, greater glyph of warding.

Cost to Create: 2,000 gp, 160 XP, 4 days.

GOGGLES OF DAY

Price (Item Level): 4,500 gp (9th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: —

The lenses of these goggles are made of silvered crystal, and the frames are hewn from smoky quartz.

When you place these goggles over your eyes, you can operate without penalty in preternaturally bright light, such as might result from a flare, sunbeam, or sunburst spell. These goggles also allow a vampire wearer to take a full-round action prior to dissolution when confronted with sunlight, as opposed to just a move or standard action.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, darkvision.

Cost to Create: 2,250 gp, 180 XP, 5 days.

GOGGLES OF DRACONIC VISION

Price (Item Level): 16,000 gp (14th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation

Activation: — and standard (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

These goggles have unusually large, yellow-tinted lenses, with a dark stripe resembling a vertical pupil in the center of each.

Goggles of draconic vision grant you a +5 bonus on Spot checks, low-light vision, and darkvision out to 60 feet.

In addition, while wearing them, you cannot be blinded by the cloud a hovering dragon creates (though the cloud still provides concealment for all within it).

These are continuous effects and require no activation.

Once per day, you can activate the goggles to grant you blindsense out to 30 feet for 1 minute.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dragonsight (SC 73).

Cost to Create: 8,000 gp, 640 XP, 16 days.

GOGGLES OF FOEFINDING

Price (Item Level): 2,500 gp (7th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) divination

Activation: —

Weight: —

The lenses of these goggles continually fade back and forth between soot black and snow white.

When you attack foes that have cover while you wear goggles of foefinding, you can ignore the cover bonus to AC they would normally receive.

The goggles do not, however, allow you to circumvent the effect of total cover.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, clairvoyance/clairaudience.

Cost to Create: 1,250 gp, 100 XP, 3 days.

GOGGLES OF LIFESIGHT

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) divination

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

The lenses of these goggles are hewn from smoky quartz.

A tiny hourglass decorates the upper corner of each side of the frame.

When you activate these goggles, you automatically know whether any visible creature within 30 feet is alive, dead, undead, or neither alive nor dead (such as a construct). This power can be blocked by any effect that would prevent the effect of a detect undead spell.

This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, deathwatch.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

GOGGLES OF THE EBON HUNTER

Price (Item Level): 18,000 gp (14th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 6th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: —

These goggles consist of coin-sized lenses set in a wire frame with a thin wire band apparently meant to secure them to the wearer's head.

Goggles of the ebon hunter grant you darkvision out to 30 feet, as well as a +1 competence bonus on attack rolls and damage rolls with ranged weapons.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, darkvision, true strike.

Cost to Create: 9,000 gp, 720 XP, 18 days.

GOODBERRY BRACELET

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: Standard (manipulation)

Weight: —

Hanging from this simple silver bracelet are a number of charms that look like berries.

A goodberry bracelet provides basic nourishment and minor healing to its wearer and her allies.

Each day at dawn, as long as it is worn, this bracelet creates five silver, berry-shaped charms.

When plucked from the bracelet, a charm becomes an edible berry with magical properties equivalent to those created by a goodberry spell, except that no character can benefit from more than one berry per day.

Regardless of whether the charm is eaten, removed but uneaten, or still on the bracelet, all charms and berries created by the bracelet disappear 24 hours after they are created.

If you also wear a magic item that grants a bonus to your Wisdom score, you can add half the bonus granted by that item to the healing provided by each berry.

For example, a character wearing this bracelet and a perapt of Wisdom +4 would create berries that heal 3 points of damage (instead of just 1 point).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, goodberry.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

GREATER PIWAFWI

Price (Item Level): 6,500 gp (10th)

Body Slot: Shoulders

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) abjuration, illusion

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

Formed of fine gray cloth smoother and lighter than silk, this delicate cloak is covered in a fine layer of spider webs.

A greater piwafwi grants you resistance to fire 5 and a +5 competence bonus on Hide checks.

A lesser version of this item is equivalent to a cloak of elvenkind (DMG 253).

Lore: The drow created piwafwis to conceal their scouts and warriors from the eyes of enemies.

They claim that the cloaks of elvenkind crafted by their surface cousins are mere copies of these items (Knowledge [arcana] or Knowledge [dungeoneering] DC 15).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, invisibility, resist energy, drow.

Cost to Create: 3,250 gp, 260 XP, 7 days.

GREATREACH BRACERS

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: 5 lb.

This pair of arm-length, leathery bracers is sewn from blackened sinews and tendons.

Sometimes called “choker sleeves” due to their appearance and effect, these pliable bracers allow you to attack from a surprising distance.

When you activate greatreach bracers, your arms stretch and elongate, extending your reach by 10 feet for 1 round.

This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, enlarge person.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

GWAERON'S BELT

Price (Item Level): 21,000 gp (15th)

Body Slot: Waist

Caster Level: 13th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) transmutation

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

This belt of tightly woven, white human hair has several blue and orange crystals braided evenly through it.

A Gwaeron's belt has two abilities, each of which functions once per day.

The first command causes your weapon to burst into flames (as the flaming weapon property; DMG 224) for 12 rounds.

The second command produces a wind walk effect, as the spell, but affecting only you.

Lore: The first of these belts was created for Gwaeron Windstrom, a legendary tracker and master of wilderness lore who served as an intercessor between mortals and various wilderness deities (Knowledge [nature] DC 15).

Some claim that Gwaeron Windstorm has ascended to the status of demigod, and a few shrines even exist in his name (Knowledge [nature] DC 20).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, flame blade, wind walk.

Cost to Create: 10,500 gp, 840 XP, 21 days.

GWAERON'S BOOTS

Price (Item Level): 6,000 gp (10th)

Body Slot: Feet

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

These boots are formed of intricately knotted and interwoven green ropes.

Small buds and leaves sprout from several of the larger fibers.

While wearing these boots, you are affected as if by a pass without trace spell.

In addition, you produce no smell and cannot be detected by the scent extraordinary ability.

Lore: See Gwaeron's belt.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, pass without trace.

Cost to Create: 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days.

HAIR SHIRT OF SUFFERING

Price (Item Level): 3,400 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Torso

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) conjuration

Activation: — and standard (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

Layers of coarse brown horsehair make up this stiff, crudely woven shirt.

A hair shirt of suffering provides a +1 enhancement bonus to your existing natural armor.

(A creature without natural armor has an effective natural armor bonus of +0).

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

You can also activate the shirt to use cure serious wounds on any creature other than yourself (healing 3d8+9 points of damage).

This ability functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, barkskin, cure serious wounds.

Cost to Create: 1,700 gp, 136 XP, 4 days.

HAMMERSPHERE

Price (Item Level): 1,500 gp (5th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: 1/2 lb.

This sphere is 4 inches in diameter, made of silver, and covered in small rubies.

The hammer-and-anvil symbol of Moradin is etched onto its surface in four places.

Once per day, when held aloft and activated, this sphere conjures forth a giant hammer.

This hammer functions as a spiritual weapon except that it deals 3d6 points of damage on a successful hit.

You do not have to concentrate on the hammer or keep the sphere aloft while it attacks.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, greater magic weapon, spiritual weapon.

Cost to Create: 750 gp, 60 XP, 2 days.

HAND OF THE OAK FATHER

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) divination, transmutation

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

This intricately detailed hand was carved from oak bark and dangles from a crude loop of twine.

A hand of the oak father has six abilities, each of which functions once per day: barkskin, entangle, goodberry, plant growth, speak with plants, and tree shape.

All abilities function as the spells of the same name.

A hand of the oak father has hardness 10 and resistance to acid 10, cold 10, electricity 10, fire 10, and sonic 10.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, barkskin, entangle, goodberry, plant growth, speak with plants, tree shape.

Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

HAT OF ANONYMITY

Price (Item Level): 12,500 gp (13th)

Body Slot: Head

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) abjuration

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

This plain black hat has a broad brim and a wide black silk band.

This hat obscures you from detection, allowing you to blend into a crowd with ease.

While you wear it, you are under a continuous nondetection effect and have a +5 bonus on Hide checks.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, nondetection.

Cost to Create: 6,250 gp, 500 XP, 13 days.

HEADBAND OF CONSCIOUS EFFORT

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Head

Caster Level: 6th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation

Activation: Immediate (mental)

Weight: —

The front of this delicate golden headband is set with an array of three matched tiger's-eye gems that seem to glow with inner fire.

While wearing a headband of conscious effort, you can attempt a Concentration check instead of a required Fortitude saving throw once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Combat Casting, bear's endurance.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

HEADBAND OF THE LOREBINDER

Price (Item Level): 1,600 gp (5th)

Body Slot: Head

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) divination

Activation: — and standard (command)

Weight: —

The face of this blue-green metal circlet is stamped with the image of a blank, open scroll.

A headband of the lorebinder grants a +4 sacred bonus on bardic knowledge checks (and on a loremaster's lore checks).

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

Three times per day, you can activate the headband to gain the effect of a read magic spell.

This ability lasts for 30 minutes.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, read magic, bard.

Cost to Create: 800 gp, 64 XP, 2 days.

HEALING BELT

Price (Item Level): 750 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: Waist

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) conjuration

Activation: — and standard (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

This broad leather belt is studded with three moonstones.

While wearing a healing belt, you gain a +2 competence bonus on Heal checks.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

In addition, the belt has 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges allows you to channel positive energy and heal damage with a touch.

(You can also use this ability to harm undead, dealing them an equivalent amount of damage instead).

1 charge: Heals 2d8 points of damage.

2 charges: Heals 3d8 points of damage.

3 charges: Heals 4d8 points of damage.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cure moderate wounds.

Cost to Create: 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day.

HEALING SALVE

Price (Item Level): 2,250 gp (6th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) conjuration

Activation: Standard (manipulation)

Weight: 1 lb.

This jar contains a greasy, yellow, jellylike substance.

A single application of healing salve smeared across a wound heals 1d8+1 points of damage.

A double application heals 2d8+3 points of damage.

A triple application heals 3d8+5 points of damage.

No matter how much salve is used, each application takes a standard action to apply.

A 3-inch-diameter, 2-inch-deep jar holds enough salve for ten single applications.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cure serious wounds.

Cost to Create: 1,175 gp, 90 XP, 3 days.

HEARTSEEKING AMULET

Price (Item Level): 3,000 gp (7th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 15th

Aura: Strong; (DC 22) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

Light reflects from this tiny, dark, three-tined amulet like the full moon shining on a tranquil swamp.

A heartseeking amulet allows your weapon to pierce armor and scaled hides as if they were air.

When you activate this amulet, the next melee attack you make is made as a melee touch attack instead.

If you don't make a melee attack by the end of your turn, the effect is wasted.

A heartseeking amulet functions three times per day.

Lore: Many sunsets ago in the swamps of the lizardfolk, the Lizard King battled the Lava Children.

Though he pierced them repeatedly with his trident, they were immune to the metal of his weapon; it passed through them as if they did not exist.

Eventually, he drowned the Lava Children's champions in brackish pools and drove their menace back into the magma bowels below the Geyser Fens (Knowledge [history] DC 15).

Eventually, he was able to imbue his own trident not just with the ability to ignore metal but also to pass nearly all physical defenses.

Today that secret has been replicated in the tiny amulets that resemble his mighty weapon (Knowledge [history] DC 20).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, true strike.

Cost to Create: 1,500 gp, 120 XP, 3 days.

HELLCAT GAUNTLETS

Price (Item Level): 3,200 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

The fingers of these gray and scarlet gauntlets end in sharp talons, and a faint odor of brimstone rises from them.

When you activate hellcat gauntlets, the next spell you cast during your turn that targets a single creature also deals 1d6 points of slashing damage per level of the spell, unless the spell has no effect on the target (due to spell resistance or a save negating the spell, for example), in which case the extra damage is negated.

This ability functions three times per day, but it can't be activated in consecutive rounds.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, spectral hand, keen edge.

Cost to Create: 1,600 gp, 128 XP, 4 days.

HELM OF BATTLE

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Head

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

This elegant mithral helm is light, yet sturdy.

A helm of battle is a useful tool if you favor tactical maneuvers over brute force.

When you activate the helm, you gain a +2 bonus on the next attack roll or ability check you make to attempt a bull rush, disarm, overrun, sunder, or trip attempt during your turn.

This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fox's cunning.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

HELM OF GAZES

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)

Body Slot: Head

Caster Level: 13th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) abjuration

Activation: —

Weight: 3 lb.

This mirror-bright steel cap is set with three tiger's-eye gems, each one looking in a different direction.

Each time you would be required to roll a save against a gaze attack, a helm of gazes automatically absorbs the gaze (with no action required).

This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, spell turning.

Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

HELM OF GLORIOUS RECOVERY

Price (Item Level): 5,600 gp (10th)

Body Slot: Head

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) conjuration

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: 3 lb.

This magnificent helmet is chased with gold and silver, and set with three yellow topazes.

Developed by a militant, lawful good sect for its paladins, these helmets are potent healing devices.

Once per day, this helmet can heal you of 4d8+7 points of damage.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cure critical wounds.

Cost to Create: 2,800 gp, 224 XP, 6 days.

HELM OF HEROES

Price (Item Level): 5,600 gp (10th)

Body Slot: Head

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) evocation

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

This iron helm bears horns of ivory, each etched with scenes from famous battles.

A helm of heroes is prized by marshals (MH 11), because it allows them to better direct their allies in battle.

When you wear this helm and use your grant move action ability, you can choose instead to grant each affected character a single melee attack (using each ally's full base attack bonus).

This ability's activation is a part of the grant move action activation.

This ability functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shout.

Cost to Create: 2,800 gp, 224 XP, 6 days.

HEXBANDS

Price (Item Level): 3,100 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation

Activation: — and swift (command)

Weight: 3 lb.

These hexagonal, cold iron bands are sized to fit over the biceps and bear various arcane runes.

Hexblades (CW 5) rely on these items to enhance their curse power and their combat prowess.

While worn, hexbands increase the save DC of your hexblade's curse by 1.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

In addition, when you activate your hexbands, you can add your Charisma bonus (if any) on weapon damage rolls you make against any creature currently affected by your hexblade's curse.

This benefit lasts for 1 round, and this ability functions five times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, eagle's splendor.

Cost to Create: 1,550 gp, 124 XP, 4 days.

HORN OF PLENTY

Price (Item Level): 12,000 gp (13th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 12th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) conjuration

Activation: Standard (manipulation)

Weight: 2 lb.

This short, slightly curved horn looks like a cornucopia and bears engravings of various foods.

Once per day, you can blow a horn of plenty to create a heroes' feast, as the spell, for twelve participants.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, heroes' feast.

Cost to Create: 6,000 gp, 480 XP, 12 days.

HORNED HELM

Price (Item Level): 8,000 gp (11th)

Body Slot: Head

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

This dark leather helm has an open face, and a pair of deer antlers rises from the forehead.

When you place a horned helm on your head, the antlers join solidly with your skull.

These antlers grant you a natural secondary gore attack that deals 1d8 points of damage plus half your Strength bonus.

The antlers are treated as a magic weapon for the purpose of overcoming damage reduction.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, haste, magic fang.

Cost to Create: 4,000 gp, 320 XP, 8 days.

ICY STRAND OF THE NORTH

Price (Item Level): 2,500 gp (7th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) evocation

Activation: Standard (thrown)

Weight: 1 lb.

Several jagged shards of ice are frozen onto this white cord.

These ice crystals are still cold and show no evidence of melting.

You can detach and throw one of the ice crystals on this cord as a standard action.

Each crystal can be thrown up to 80 feet.

When it reaches the end of its trajectory, it explodes to create an ice storm or sleet storm (as the spells) centered on its endpoint.

Each of two opaque crystals creates a sleet storm effect, while each of four transparent crystals creates an ice storm.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, ice storm, sleet storm.

Cost to Create: 1,250 gp, 100 XP, 3 days.

IMPERVIOUS VESTMENT

Price (Item Level): 34,000 gp (16th)

Body Slot: Torso

Caster Level: 18th

Aura: Strong; (DC 24) evocation

Activation: — and standard (command)

Weight: 3 lb.

This black silk robe is embroidered with adamantine thread in an elegant waterfall pattern.

An impervious vestment grants a +5 armor bonus to your Armor Class.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

In addition, you can command it once per day to create a blade barrier as a ringed wall of whirling blades only (20 feet high, up to 90 feet in diameter, centered on your current location).

This effect lasts for 18 minutes or until dismissed as a standard action.

As long as you wear the vestment, you can pass through your barrier without harm, though you receive no such protection against any other blade barrier.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, blade barrier, mage armor.

Cost to Create: 17,000 gp, 1,360 XP, 34 days.

INCARNUM FOCUS

Price (Item Level): 15,000 gp (14th)

Body Slot: See table

INCARNUM FOCUS

Item	Chakra	Body Slot	Weight
Incarnum bracers	Arms	Arms	1 lb.
Incarnum goggles	Brow	Face	1 lb.
Incarnum circlet	Crown	Head	—
Incarnum boots	Feet	Feet	2 lb.
Incarnum gauntlets	Hands	Hands	2 lb.
Incarnum vestments	Heart	Torso	1 lb.
Incarnum cloak	Shoulders	Shoulders	1 lb.
Incarnum robe	Soul	Body	2 lb.
Incarnum amulet	Throat	Throat	—
Incarnum belt	Waist	Waist	1 lb.

Caster Level: 6th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: See table

This item is forged or carved of a blue material, and a tiny star sapphire has been set into it.

While worn, an incarnum focus adds 1 to the essentia capacity of any soulmeld occupying or bound to the chakra it matches (up to a maximum capacity equal to your Constitution bonus).

See Magic of Incarnum for information on essentia, soulmelds, and chakras.

Wearing an incarnum focus does not prevent you from binding a soulmeld to the corresponding chakra.

This is a specific exception to the normal rule against binding a soulmeld to the same chakra as a worn magic item.

Ten different kinds of incarnum focus exist, one for each chakra (see the table).

Chakra Bind (Any): While an incarnum focus is bound to its chakra, any soulmeld occupying or bound to the same chakra can't be unshaped except by you, nor can any essentia invested in it be lost or drained, except as part of the normal reallocation process.

You can bind an incarnum focus to its matching chakra even if it is already occupied by a shaped or bound soulmeld.

See Binding Items to Chakras (MoI 108) for more information.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Split Chakra (MoI 41), essentia pool.

Cost to Create: 7,500 gp, 600 XP, 15 days.

INCENSE OF CONCENTRATION

Price (Item Level): 250 gp (2nd)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation

Activation: Standard (manipulation)

Weight: —

This golden yellow block of incense is imprinted with a rune representing memory.

If burned while you prepare spells, this incense allows you to prepare one extra 1st-level spell for the day.

You can benefit from only one exposure to incense of concentration in a 24-hour period.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Rary's mnemonic enhancer.

Cost to Create: 125 gp, 10 XP, 1 day.

INFINITE SCROLLCASE

Price (Item Level): 2,800 gp (7th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) conjuration

Activation: Move (manipulation); see text

Weight: 3 lb.

This elaborate mahogany tube has a slit that runs along its length. A wooden dowel, capped on the ends with gold, fits against the slit, locking into place with jeweled clasps.

An infinite scrollcase holds up to fifty scrolls or other parchments, which can be placed within it or removed as with any normal scrollcase.

When you activate an infinite scrollcase, the desired scroll unfurls through the slit, ready to read or cast from.

When you cast a spell from a scroll unfurled from an infinite scrollcase, you gain a +4 competence bonus on Concentration checks made to cast that spell defensively.

If you have at least a +1 base attack bonus, you can retrieve a scroll from an infinite scrollcase as part of a move action, similar to drawing a weapon.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's secret chest.

Cost to Create: 1,400 gp, 112 XP, 3 days.

INQUISITOR BRACERS

Price (Item Level): 1,500 gp (5th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) conjuration

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

The harsh suns carved into these heavy steel bracers resemble grim versions of the normally forgiving visage of Pelor, god of the sun.

Inquisitor bracers provide a potent method for sorting out normal townsfolk from conniving vampires or similarly stealthy undead.

After you activate these bracers, the next melee attack you make before the end of your turn includes a cure moderate wounds effect (in addition to the normal damage dealt by the attack).

Ideally, this effect damages its undead target and reveals its evil nature, but in cases of mistaken identity, at least the healing helps counteract the damage dealt to a living (and possibly innocent) target.

You can't use these bracers as part of a touch attack—only as part of a normal melee attack.

This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cure moderate wounds.

Cost to Create: 750 gp, 60 XP, 2 days.

INSTRUMENTS OF THE BARDS

ANSTRUTH HARP

Price (Item Level): 32,100 gp (16th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 14th

Aura: Strong; (DC 22) conjuration, enchantment, transmutation

Activation: — and swift (command)

Weight: 3 lb.

This teakwood lap harp is slender and graceful, its strings made of silver wire.

An engraved design depicting waves and fog graces the wood.

This masterwork harp grants you a +2 circumstance bonus on Perform (string instruments) checks.

If you have at least 12 ranks in Perform (string instruments), you can also command it to produce one of three spell effects (control water, mass cure light wounds, or mind fog), each once per day.

If you pick up an Anstruth harp but do not have 12 or more ranks in Perform (string instruments), the instrument bestows one negative level on you, which persists for as long as you hold it.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the instrument is held.

Lore: A wise and powerful bard named Falataer reportedly created the first of these instruments, which he used to test and reward the students at all seven levels of his bardic college.

Others have since copied the designs but honored Falataer by keeping the name Anstruth harp (Knowledge [arcana] or bardic knowledge DC 15).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, control water, mass cure light wounds, mind fog, bard.

Cost to Create: 16,000 gp (plus 100 gp for masterwork harp), 1,280 XP, 32 days.

CANAITH MANDOLIN

Price (Item Level): 8,100 gp (12th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 8th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) abjuration, conjuration

Activation: — and swift (command)

Weight: 3 lb.

This ornate, eight-stringed mandolin is carved of ebony and decorated with mother-of-pearl inlays depicting fantastic monsters.

This masterwork mandolin grants you a +2 circumstance bonus on Perform (string instruments) checks.

If you have at least 8 ranks in Perform (string instruments), you can also command it to produce one of three spell effects (cure serious wounds, dispel magic, or summon monster III), each once per day.

If you pick up a Canaith mandolin but do not have 8 or more ranks in Perform (string instruments), the instrument bestows one negative level on you, which persists for as long as you hold it.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the instrument is held.

Lore: See Anstruth harp (page 150).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cure serious wounds, dispel magic, summon monster III, bard.

Cost to Create: 4,000 gp (plus 100 gp for masterwork mandolin), 320 XP, 8 days.

CLI LYRE

Price (Item Level): 18,100 gp (15th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) abjuration

Activation: — and standard (command)

Weight: 3 lb.

This elegant lyre is carved from jade and strung with gold wire. Rubies adorn its frame.

This masterwork lyre grants you a +2 circumstance bonus on Perform (string instruments) checks.

If you have at least 10 ranks in Perform (string instruments), you can also command it to produce one of three spell effects (break enchantment, dimension door, or shout), each once per day.

If you pick up a Cli lyre but do not have 10 or more ranks in Perform (string instruments), the instrument bestows one negative level on you, which persists for as long as you hold it.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the instrument is held.

Lore: See Anstruth harp (page 150).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, break enchantment, dimension door, shout, bard.

Cost to Create: 9,000 gp (plus 100 gp for masterwork lyre), 720 XP, 18 days.

DOSS LUTE

Price (Item Level): 4,100 gp (9th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) conjuration, enchantment, illusion

Activation: — and standard (command)

Weight: 3 lb.

This graceful lute is carved of alder and inlaid with abstract designs in copper.

This masterwork lute grants you a +2 circumstance bonus on Perform (string instruments) checks.

If you have at least 6 ranks in Perform (string instruments), you can also command it to produce one of three spell effects (delay poison, hold person, or mirror image), each once per day.

If you pick up a Doss lute but do not have 6 or more ranks in Perform (string instruments), the instrument bestows one negative level on you, which persists for as long as you hold it.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the instrument is held.

Lore: See Anstruth harp (page 150).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, delay poison, hold person, mirror image, bard.

Cost to Create: 2,000 gp (plus 100 gp for masterwork lute), 160 XP, 4 days.

FOCHLUCAN BANDORE

Price (Item Level): 1,350 gp (5th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) evocation, transmutation

Activation: — and standard (command)

Weight: 3 lb.

This three-stringed bandore is carved of striated maple and set with tiger's-eye stones.

This masterwork bandore grants you a +2 circumstance bonus on Perform (string instruments) checks.

If you have at least 2 ranks in Perform (string instruments), you can also command it to produce one of four spell-like abilities (flare, light, mending, or message), each once per day.

Lore: See Anstruth harp.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, flare, light, mending, message, bard.

Cost to Create: 675 gp (plus 100 gp for masterwork bandore), 54 XP, 2 days.

MAC-FUIRMIDH CITHERN

Price (Item Level): 2,100 gp (6th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) conjuration, enchantment

Activation: — and standard (command)

Weight: 3 lb.

This pear-shaped cithern is crafted of rosewood and decorated with mother-of-pearl inlays in an abstract, scalloped pattern.

This masterwork cithern grants you a +2 circumstance bonus on Perform (string instruments) checks.

If you have at least 4 ranks in Perform (string instruments), you can also command it to produce one of three spell effects (cure light wounds, mage armor, and sleep), each once per day.

Lore: See Anstruth harp.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cure light wounds, mage armor, sleep, bard.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp (plus 100 gp for masterwork cithern), 80 XP, 2 days.

OLLAMH HARP

Price (Item Level): 50,100 gp (18th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 17th

Aura: Strong; (DC 23) transmutation

Activation: — and standard (command)

Weight: 3 lb.

This elongated green lap harp is strung with gold.

Twinkling red rubies adorn its frame.

This masterwork lap harp grants you a +2 circumstance bonus on Perform (string instruments) checks.

If you have at least 14 ranks in Perform (string instruments), you can also command it to produce one of three spell effects (control weather, eyebite, or repulsion), each once per day.

If you pick up an Ollamh harp but do not have 14 or more ranks in Perform (string instruments), the instrument bestows one negative level on you, which persists for as long as you hold it.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the instrument is held.

Lore: See Anstruth harp (page 150).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, control weather, eyebite, repulsion, bard.

Cost to Create: 25,000 gp (plus 100 gp for masterwork harp), 2,000 XP, 51 days.

JUMPING CALTROPS

Price (Item Level): 250 gp (2nd)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) transmutation

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: 2 lb.

This leather bag periodically twitches and jerks, as though it holds something alive.

Jumping caltrops function just like normal ones, except that each round at the start of your turn, if no targets are in their square, they move 5 feet toward the nearest enemy (chosen randomly if more than one is equidistant).

Upon entering an occupied square, the jumping caltrops “attack” that creature as normal for caltrops.

They remain capable of movement for 5 rounds after being activated, then function like normal caltrops until dawn the next day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects.

Cost to Create: 125 gp, 10 XP, 1 day.

KI STRAPS

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: —

These two leather straps seem worn and frayed at the edges.

When wrapped around both hands, these straps grant a +2 enhancement bonus to the DC of your Stunning Fist attack (or any other effect gained by expending daily uses of that feat).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Stunning Fist, magic weapon.

Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

LENS OF THE DESERT

Price (Item Level): 20,000 gp (15th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 13th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) evocation

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: —

A gold frame worked with a sunburst motif and an elegant wooden handle decorate this flawless magnifying glass.

When you activate a lens of the desert, it creates a beam of focused sunlight that is the equivalent of a sunbeam spell.

A lens of the desert functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, sunbeam.

Cost to Create: 10,000 gp, 800 XP, 20 days.

LENSES OF BRIGHT VISION

Price (Item Level): 600 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) evocation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

These thin, yellow quartz lenses are the size of two coins.

Lenses of bright vision allow you to project light from your eyes.

When placed over your eyes (a standard action), these lenses meld into your face, and the irises of your eyes take on a faint yellow hue.

When you activate the lenses, they create a 15-foot cone of bright light emanating from your eyes.

Unlike normal light sources, the lenses produce no shadowy illumination.

The illumination lasts for 10 minutes or until you expend another swift action to douse it. Treat this effect as a 0-level spell for the purpose of interacting with darkness effects. This ability functions three times per day. Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, light. Cost to Create: 300 gp, 24 XP, 1 day.

LENSES OF TRUE FORM

Price (Item Level): 10,000 gp (12th)
Body Slot: Face
Caster Level: 13th
Aura: Strong; (DC 21) divination
Activation: — and standard (command)
Weight: —
These lenses are small, clear, crystalline constructions set into a golden frame.
When you place these lenses over your eyes, they become all but invisible (Spot DC 30 to notice). While wearing the lenses, you gain a +10 circumstance bonus on Spot checks to see through a disguise. This is a continuous effect and requires no activation. In addition, once per day you can activate the lenses to force a single shapeshifted creature within 30 feet to resume its natural form. The target creature can attempt a DC 14 Will save to resist. Failure means it immediately assumes its natural form, shape, and size, and it cannot assume a different shape for the next 2d4 rounds. Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, true seeing, dispel magic or greater dispel magic. Cost to Create: 5,000 gp, 400 XP, 10 days.

LIFE RING

Price (Item Level): 400 gp (2nd)
Body Slot: — (held)
Caster Level: 5th
Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation
Activation: Standard (manipulation)
Weight: 5 lb.
This 3-foot-diameter, 4-inch-thick wooden hoop has four equally spaced handholds where the wood flattens slightly. A piece of thin twine crosses the middle of the ring.
To activate a life ring, you break the twine crossing the hoop. Once active, a life ring grants a feather fall effect to the next four creatures who touch it within 10 rounds. The duration of each subject's feather fall benefit is equal to the number of rounds remaining in the item's duration when that creature touches the life ring. At the end of this duration, the broken life ring becomes inert and useless. Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Extend Spell, feather fall. Cost to Create: 200 gp, 16 XP, 1 day.

LIGHTNING GAUNTLETS

Price (Item Level): 1,000 gp (4th)
Body Slot: Hands
Caster Level: 3rd
Aura: Faint; (DC 16) evocation
Activation: Standard (command)
Weight: 1 lb.

Threads of copper run along the fingers of these finely crafted black leather gloves.
Each pair of lightning gauntlets has 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn. Spending 1 or more charges allows you to deal electricity damage to an adjacent target. No attack roll is required, but a successful DC 14 Reflex save halves the damage dealt.
1 charge: 2d6 points of electricity damage.
2 charges: 3d6 points of electricity damage.
3 charges: 4d6 points of electricity damage.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shocking grasp. Cost to Create: 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day.

LIGHTNING TUNIC

Price (Item Level): 8,000 gp (11th)
Body Slot: Torso
Caster Level: 7th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) evocation
Activation: Swift (command)
Weight: 1 lb.
A pattern of lightning bolts adorns this fine, blue linen tunic.
A lightning tunic allows you to punish attackers with crackling electricity. This tunic has 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn. Spending 1 or more charges creates an electrical field around your body, which deals electricity damage to anyone striking you with a natural attack or nonreach melee weapon. This effect lasts for 3 rounds once activated, and it does not harm you or your gear.
1 charge: 2d6 points of electricity damage.
2 charges: 3d6 points of electricity damage.
3 charges: 4d6 points of electricity damage.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shocking grasp. Cost to Create: 4,000 gp, 320 XP, 8 days.

LORE GEM

Price (Item Level): 7,500 gp (11th)
Body Slot: Head
Caster Level: 11th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) divination
Activation: — and full-round (mental)
Weight: —
This oval purple gem is flat on one side.
Images of strange runes seem to materialize and dissipate within it.
A lore gem affixes to your forehead and can be easily removed (requiring a standard action either way). While it is worn, you can better focus your mind and memory, gaining a +2 competence bonus on Knowledge checks, though you must spend a full round in contemplation to gain this bonus. This is a continuous effect and requires no activation. Additionally, a lore gem acts as a spellbook, allowing a wizard (or any other spellcaster who requires a spellbook) to record spells into and prepare spells directly from the lore gem. The gem holds up to thirty spells of any levels, and recording a new spell into a lore gem requires the normal amount of time and expense.

You can also erase an existing spell as a standard action. A newly created lore gem is empty of spells, but a lore gem recovered as treasure might have spells recorded within, at the DM's option.

If so, the value of the item should increase as if it were a spellbook.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, legend lore, secret page.

Cost to Create: 3,750 gp, 300 XP, 8 days.

MAGIC BEDROLL

Price (Item Level): 500 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) conjuration, enchantment

Activation: Full-round (manipulation); see text

Weight: 6 lb.

This woolen sleeping bag is embroidered with stars and moons in silver and blue thread, and it smells of lavender.

A magic bedroll grants you a comfortable and peaceful night's sleep.

As long as you lie in it, you gain the benefit of an endure elements spell.

After sleeping for 8 hours in the bedroll, you recover 1 hit point per character level, in addition to the hit points you recover normally.

Getting into or out of a magic bedroll is a full-round action.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cure light wounds, endure elements.

Cost to Create: 250 gp, 20 XP, 1 day.

MANTLE OF SECOND CHANCES

Price (Item Level): 12,000 gp (13th)

Body Slot: Shoulders

Caster Level: 10th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) divination

Activation: Immediate (mental)

Weight: —

This mantle is made of brilliant blue cloth that is smooth to the touch, like silk.

Symbols representing various elements of good fortune are embroidered along its hem in white and silver.

Once per day you can tap into the power of good fortune.

When you do so, you can reroll one roll that you have just made before the DM declares whether it resulted in success or failure.

You must accept the result of the reroll, even if it's worse than the original roll.

You can access the mantle's power even if you already have a similar ability from a class feature (such as the granted power of the Luck domain).

Lore: A human bard named Elva, who had a knack for getting herself into tight situations, designed the original mantle of second chances (Knowledge [history] DC 15).

A mantle of second chances makes you lucky and allows you second chances when none should be possible (Knowledge [history] DC 20).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Luck domain.

Cost to Create: 6,000 gp, 480 XP, 12 days.

MASK OF BLOOD

Price (Item Level): 3,300 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) enchantment

Activation: — and standard (mental)

Weight: 1 lb.

Rivulets of blood gush down the flensed face of this red metal mask.

If you are wearing a mask of blood when you enter a rage or frenzy, that ability lasts for 1 round longer than normal.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

The liquid flowing over a mask of blood is normally harmless, but when you activate the mask, you can spit a stream of blood as a ranged touch attack (range 30 feet).

This stream deals 4d6 points of acid damage to the target.

This ability functions two times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Melf's acid arrow, rage.

Cost to Create: 1,650 gp, 132 XP, 4 days.

MASK OF LIES

Price (Item Level): 4,500 gp (9th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) abjuration

Activation: — and swift (mental)

Weight: 1 lb.

This black, featureless mask has cross-shaped slits where the wearer's eyes and mouth should be.

While wearing this mask, you gain a +5 competence bonus on Bluff checks and your alignment is disguised as if by an undetected alignment spell.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

When you activate the mask, you can alter your appearance as if by a disguise self spell.

This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, disguise self, undetected alignment.

Cost to Create: 2,250 gp, 180 XP, 5 days.

MASK OF MENTAL ARMOR

Price (Item Level): 4,000 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) abjuration

Activation: —

Weight: —

Broad lines radiate from the eyes of this blue leather mask, each ending in a spiral.

You gain a +3 resistance bonus on saving throws against mind-affecting spells and abilities.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, spell resistance.

Cost to Create: 2,000 gp, 160 XP, 4 days.

MASK OF SILENT TRICKERY

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: Swift (mental)

Weight: —

This pale gray mask is designed to cover the left half of your face. A moonstone is set into its cheek.

A mask of silent trickery allows you to cast certain spells without others hearing you.

When you activate this mask, you can omit the verbal component of the next enchantment or illusion spell you cast before the end of your turn (as if applying the Silent Spell feat to it, but without altering the spell's level or casting time).

This ability functions two times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Silent Spell, silence.

Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

MASK OF SWEET AIR

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) conjuration

Activation: —

Weight: —

Cut to cover the mouth and nose, this clear crystal half-mask has tiny, bubblelike imperfections that mar the interior surface of.

While wearing a mask of sweet air, you can breathe freely in air fouled by smoke, dust, and fumes without fear of suffocation.

You gain a +5 bonus on saves against airborne stench attacks and inhaled poisons, such as the stench of a troglodyte or the effect of cloudkill.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, freedom of breath (Snd 116), neutralize poison.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

MEDAL OF GALLANTRY

Price (Item Level): 1,350 gp (5th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) abjuration

Activation: — and swift (command)

Weight: —

This silver brooch is shaped like the sun.

A golden cabochon adorns the center.

A medal of gallantry grants you a +2 bonus on Diplomacy checks but imposes a –2 penalty on Bluff checks.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

Three times per day, you can activate the medal to use sanctuary on yourself.

If you attack while protected by this effect, you take a –1 morale penalty on that attack and all subsequent attacks for 1 hour afterward.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, sanctuary.

Cost to Create: 675 gp, 54 XP, 2 days.

MEMENTO MAGICA

Price (Item Level): See table

MEMENTO MAGICA

Spell Slot Regained	Price (Item Level)	Cost to Create
1st	1,500 gp (5th)	750 gp, 60 XP, 2 days
2nd	6,000 gp (10th)	3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days
3rd	13,500 gp (14th)	6,750 gp, 540 XP, 14 days
4th	24,000 gp (15th)	12,000 gp, 960 XP, 24 days
5th	37,500 gp (17th)	18,750 gp, 1,500 XP, 38 days
6th	54,000 gp (18th)	27,000 gp, 2,160 XP, 54 days
7th	73,500 gp (19th)	36,750 gp, 2,940 XP, 74 days

9th	121,500 gp (22nd)	60,750 gp, 4,860 XP, 122 days

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 17th

Aura: Strong; (DC 23) transmutation

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: —

Carved into the shape of a dragon's scale, this piece of amethyst swirls with foggy images of runes.

When activated, a memento magica allows you to regain any one spell slot that you have previously used this day.

The spell slot is available just as if the spell had not been cast.

A memento magica recalls a spell slot of the level it was created to hold.

Different mementos magica exist for each level from 1st through 9th.

A memento magica functions once per day.

This item has no effect for spellcasters who prepare their spells.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous item, ability to spontaneously cast spells of the spell level to be regained.

Cost to Create: See table.

MESMERIST'S GLOVES

Price (Item Level): 8,000 gp (11th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 13th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) enchantment

Activation: Free (mental)

Weight: 1 lb.

These dark leather gloves have patterns of swirling, multicolored lines embroidered onto the palms.

Mesmerist's gloves allow a spellcaster to affect an extra target with her enchantment spells.

Any time you cast an enchantment spell of 3rd level or lower that targets an enemy, you can activate this item to have the spell also target another enemy within 10 feet of the original target.

This ability functions two times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, mass suggestion.

Cost to Create: 4,000 gp, 320 XP, 8 days.

MIND BLADE GAUNTLET

Price (Item Level): 24,000 gp (15th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 10th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) conjuration

Activation: Free (mental)

Weight: 1 lb.

A shimmering opalescent gleam shifts slowly across this leather gauntlet.

A mind blade gauntlet allows a soulknife to enhance the power of his mind blade.

Each mind blade gauntlet is created with a particular weapon property with a market price modifier of +2 (such as collision) that can be used by a soulknife with the mind blade enhancement class feature (see the soulknife class description, EPH 26).

When you expend your psionic focus while manifesting your mind blade, the blade gains the weapon property designated by the gauntlet.

This effect lasts for 1 minute.

If you split your mind blade into two matching blades, the effect applies only to the mind blade manifested through the mind blade gauntlet.

Unlike most items that occupy the hands body slot, you can wear two mind blade gauntlets simultaneously, allowing an effect to be applied to each mind blade (but not two effects to one mind blade).

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, mind blade.

Cost to Create: 12,000 gp, 960 XP, 24 days.

MIND BLADE GAUNTLET, GREATER

Price (Item Level): 42,000 gp (17th)

Caster Level: 15th

Aura: Strong; (DC 22) conjuration

This softly glowing gauntlet seems made from seamless cloth spun from opals.

A greater mind blade gauntlet functions as a mind blade gauntlet, except that it holds a weapon property with a +3 bonus market price modifier that can be used by a soulknife with the mind blade enhancement class feature.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, mind blade.

Cost to Create: 21,000 gp, 1,680 XP, 42 days.

MIND BLADE GAUNTLET, LESSER

Price (Item Level): 10,000 gp (12th)

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) conjuration

This soft leather gauntlet has an opalescent shine.

A lesser mind blade gauntlet functions as a mind blade gauntlet, except that it holds a weapon property with a +1 bonus market price modifier that can be used by a soulknife with the mind blade enhancement class feature.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, mind blade.

Cost to Create: 5,000 gp, 400 XP, 10 days.

MINDVAULT

Price (Item Level): 8,000 gp (11th)

Body Slot: Head

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) necromancy

Activation: Immediate (command)

Weight: —

This circlet bears a tiny gem, which appears to have a hollow cage deep within its facets.

A mindvault offers its wearer temporary shelter from effects that would influence his mind.

When you activate a mindvault, your consciousness is transferred into the gem held in the circlet for 1 round. While this effect lasts, you are immune to mindaffecting spells and abilities.

However, you are dazed in that round as well.

You can activate a mindvault after you learn the result of an incoming mindaffecting spell, but before the effect is applied.

For example, after failing your Will save and learning that an enemy wizard has affected you with dominate person, you could activate your mindvault before the domination takes effect (thus negating it entirely).

A mindvault functions once per day.

You must wear a mindvault for 24 hours before you can access its abilities.

If it is taken off, it becomes inactive until worn for an additional 24 hours.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, magic jar.

Cost to Create: 4,000 gp, 320 XP, 8 days.

MIRROR OF SUGGESTION

Price (Item Level): 3,600 gp (8th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) enchantment

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: 1/2 lb.

The tarnished pewter back and handle of this small hand mirror are engraved with complex swirling patterns.

When activated, a mirror of suggestion must be held in such a way as to force a creature within 30 feet to see its own reflection.

This functions as a gaze attack; any creature that fails a DC 14 Will save is subject to a suggestion made by the mirror's wielder.

A mirror of suggestion functions two times per day, and each activation of the mirror can affect only a single creature.

The mirror's wielder is immune to its effect.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, suggestion or psionic suggestion (EPH 133).

Cost to Create: 1,800 gp, 144 XP, 4 days.

MIRROR OF TIME HOP

Price (Item Level): 9,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) conjuration

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: 1/2 lb.

This silver hand mirror is exceedingly smooth, even slippery, to the touch.

When activated, a mirror of time hop must be held in such a way as to force a creature within 30 feet to see its own reflection.

This functions as a gaze attack; any creature that fails a DC 14 Will save is pushed 5 rounds forward in time.

In effect, the creature disappears in a shimmer of silver energy, then reappears after the duration expires in the same position, orientation, and condition.

From the creature's point of view, no time has passed.

Any active effects on the creature simply resume when it appears as if no time had passed.

The creature can act normally on its next turn after the effect ends.

A mirror of time hop functions two times per day, and each activation of the mirror can affect only a single creature.

A mirror's wielder is immune to her mirror's effect.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dimension door or time hop (EPH 137).

Cost to Create: 4,500 gp, 360 XP, 9 days.

MITHRAL BELLS

Price (Item Level): 3,700 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) evocation

Activation: — and standard (thrown); see text

Weight: 1 lb.

A number of tiny silvery bells adorn this glistening bracelet, each sculpted with swirling and curving embellishments.

As long as at least one of the eleven bells that adorn this bracelet remain, it provides a +2 competence bonus on Perform checks.

The bells are easily detached, allowing you to remove and throw one up to 40 feet.

When it reaches the end of its trajectory, the bell explodes in a sound burst, as the spell.

Once activated, a bell is expended and cannot be used again.

When the last bell is removed, the bracelet loses all magic.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, sound burst, bard.

Cost to Create: 1,850 gp, 148 XP, 4 days.

MONOCLE OF PERUSAL

Price (Item Level): 6,500 gp (10th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) divination

Activation: — and standard (command)

Weight: —

This lens is made of smoothly polished crystal and set inside an ebony band.

It is attached to a black leather cord tied into a loop to secure it to the wearer's clothing when not in use.

This lens provides you with a +5 competence bonus on Appraise checks.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

Furthermore, it allows you to use identify three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, identify.

Cost to Create: 3,250 gp, 260 XP, 7 days.

MOONSTONE MASK

Price (Item Level): 15,000 gp (14th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) divination, transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

Highlights of moonstone accentuate every ridge and curve of this angular silver mask.

A moonstone mask grants you a +5 competence bonus on Listen and Spot checks, as well as darkvision out to 30 feet.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, clairaudience/clairvoyance, darkvision.

Cost to Create: 7,500 gp, 600 XP, 15 days.

NECKLACE OF COPPER DRAGON SCALES

Price (Item Level): 570 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) abjuration

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

Six coin-sized copper dragon scales adorn this simple brown cord.

Upon touching one of the six scales that make up this necklace and uttering a command word, you gain resistance to acid 5 for 1 hour.

Once all six scales are used, the necklace becomes dull and loses its magic.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, resist energy.

Cost to Create: 285 gp, 22 XP, 1 day.

NECKLACE OF WARNING

Price (Item Level): 4,000 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) divination

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

This short necklace is composed of white jade and tiny sapphires.

A necklace of warning warns you of impending danger, granting you a +2 bonus to your flat-footed AC (up to a maximum value equal to your normal AC).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, augury.

Cost to Create: 2,000 gp, 160 XP, 4 days.

NOBLE PENNON

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)

Body Slot: —; see text

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) enchantment

Activation: Immediate (mental)

Weight: —

A lion rampant adorns this narrow, finely woven streamer.

At the touch of a paladin or knight (PH2 24), the image on this narrow banner changes to represent the coat of arms of its bearer.

Once claimed, it can be transferred to a new owner only if the current owner is willing or the current owner dies.

A pennon can be attached to a lance, carried by a cohort or follower, or flown as a standard from a saddle or any fixed object.

Mounting a pennon is a standard action.

As long as a noble pennon flies within 60 feet of the knight or paladin who owns it, the save DC for his knight's challenge increases by 1, and his smite evil attacks deal an extra 2 points of damage.

In addition, a pennon has 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Activating a pennon and spending 1 or more charges grants you a morale bonus on Fortitude or Will saves (your choice when activated) for 3 rounds.

1 charge: +2 morale bonus.

2 charges: +3 morale bonus.

3 charges: +4 morale bonus.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, heroism.
Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

ORB OF BLINDING

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)
Body Slot: — (held)
Caster Level: 3rd
Aura: Faint; (DC 16) illusion
Activation: Standard (command)
Weight: —

This round, fist-sized opalescent crystal glows faintly.
An orb of blinding can emit a brilliant burst of light that blinds all creatures within a 15-foot cone for 1 round (Fort DC 16 negates).

An orb of blinding can generate this effect three times per day, but it can't be activated in consecutive rounds.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, color spray.
Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

ORB OF ENVIRONMENTAL ADAPTATION

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)
Body Slot: — (held); see text
Caster Level: 3rd
Aura: Faint; (DC 16) abjuration
Activation: Standard (command)
Weight: —

This transparent crystal sphere faintly glows green and is the size of a small plum.

An orb of environmental adaptation provides a group of creatures relief from extreme environments.

When you hold the orb in your hand and activate it, it transforms into a faintly glowing sphere of protection centered on you.

The radius of this sphere can vary between 5 and 30 feet (and can be altered by you as a move action).

All creatures and objects within the sphere take no harm from being in a hot or cold environment.

They can exist comfortably in conditions between -50 and 140 degrees Fahrenheit, and their equipment is likewise protected.

An orb of environmental adaptation functions for up to seven consecutive days, after which it is dormant for seven days.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, endure elements.
Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

ORB OF MENTAL RENEWAL

Price (Item Level): 3,100 gp (8th)
Body Slot: — (held)
Caster Level: 3rd
Aura: Faint; (DC 16) conjuration
Activation: Standard (command)
Weight: 1 lb.

This orb of bronze and gold shines like the sun rising over the desert.

An orb of mental renewal allows you to heal mental ability damage taken by yourself or another.

To use the orb, you must hold it while touching the target to be affected (or merely hold the orb, if affecting yourself).

The orb has 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges heals damage to one or more mental ability scores.

1 charge: Heal 4 points of Int, Wis, or Cha damage (your choice), or 2 points of damage to all three ability scores.

2 charges: Heal 6 points of Int, Wis, or Cha damage (your choice), or 3 points of damage to all three ability scores.

3 charges: Heal 8 points of Int, Wis, or Cha damage (your choice), or 4 points of damage to all three ability scores.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, lesser restoration.
Cost to Create: 1,550 gp, 124 XP, 4 days.

PEARL OF BRAIN LOCK

Price (Item Level): 900 gp (4th)
Body Slot: — (held)
Caster Level: 3rd
Aura: Faint; (DC 16) enchantment
Activation: Standard (thrown)
Weight: —

This tiny pearl is engraved with the draconic symbol for the mind.
You can hurl a pearl of brain lock as a ranged touch attack with a range increment of 10 feet.

If the target fails a DC 13 Will saving throw, the pearl seems to impact and then enter the flesh of the creature, dazing it for 3 rounds.

This is a mind-affecting ability.

A flying creature affected by a pearl of brain lock is allowed to descend to the nearest safe, level area rather than be dazed, while a swimmer incapable of breathing water is allowed to head directly for the surface.

In either case, the creature is dazed for the remaining duration once it has reached safety.

Once activated, a pearl is expended and cannot be used again.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, daze monster or brain lock (EPH 81).

Cost to Create: 450 gp, 36 XP, 1 day.

PEARL OF BREATH CRISIS

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)
Body Slot: — (held)
Caster Level: 5th
Aura: Faint; (DC 17) enchantment
Activation: Standard (thrown)
Weight: —

A draconic rune representing the body has been carefully engraved on this small pearl.

You can hurl a pearl of breath crisis as a ranged touch attack with a range increment of 10 feet.

If it strikes a humanoid that fails a DC 14 Will saving throw, the pearl seems to impact and then enter the flesh of the creature, compelling it to purge itself of breath.

For the next 5 rounds, the creature can continue to breathe only by taking a standard action each round to do so.

This is a mind-affecting ability.

At the end of each of the target's turns in which it chooses not to consciously take a breath, it must succeed on a DC 14 Fortitude save or begin to suffocate, falling to 0 hit points and potentially dying in later rounds (DMG 304), as long as the duration continues.

If the effect ends before a suffocating creature has died, the creature is no longer considered to be suffocating.

Once activated, a pearl is expended and cannot be used again.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, suggestion or crisis of breath (EPH 89).

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

PEARL OF SPEECH

Price (Item Level): 600 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) divination

Activation: — and standard (command)

Weight: —

This large blue pearl is shot through with crisscrossing brown, green, and gold veins.

These items were originally created by drow and used to command their slaves without stooping to learn their foul languages.

The secret of creating pearls of speech long ago became known to bards and others who rely on languages.

When you place a pearl of speech upon your tongue (a standard action), it is absorbed into your mouth until you speak the proper command word to release it.

While absorbed, the pearl grants you the ability to speak and understand a specific language, such as Dwarven or Draconic.

Each pearl is created for a specific language, and you can have only one pearl of speech active at a time.

In addition, while the pearl is active, it can be activated to produce a command effect once per day (Will DC 11 negates).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, command, tongues.

Cost to Create: 300 gp, 24 XP, 1 day.

PENDANT OF JOY

Price (Item Level): 4,000 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 17) enchantment

Activation: —

Weight: —

This teardrop-shaped amulet is made of blue-green crystal.

When it is worn by a character who has at least 1 power point, a pendant of joy subtly reaches out to nearby minds, touching them with feelings of pleasure and contentment. All creatures within 30 feet (including the wearer) gain a +2 morale bonus on Diplomacy checks.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, calm emotions.

Cost to Create: 2,000 gp, 160 XP, 4 days.

PERSONAL OASIS

Price (Item Level): 4,600 gp (9th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) conjuration, evocation

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: 3 lb.

A brightly colored oasis complete with fruit-bearing desert trees and bright blue water covers the surface of this woven blanket. It smells slightly of old incense.

When you unroll this 10-foot-by-10-foot blanket and activate it, a 5-foot-by-10-foot tent springs from the blanket, along with a campfire, a bowl of dates, and a gallon of cool water.

The tent functions in all ways as a Leomund's tiny hut spell. The campfire burns continuously, never needing fuel, and the dates provide enough food to sustain a person for one day.

When you speak the command word again, a personal oasis rolls back up into blanket form.

A personal oasis functions once per day for up to 10 hours.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, create food and water, Leomund's tiny hut, produce flame.

Cost to Create: 2,300 gp, 184 XP, 5 days.

PHOENIX HELM

Price (Item Level): 6,500 gp (10th)

Body Slot: Head

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) abjuration

Activation: See text

Weight: 3 lb.

This helm is forged of copper and inlaid with silver and gold.

The whole piece is stylized in the shape of a phoenix with its wings unfurled, its legs guarding the temples, and its head adorning the brow.

A phoenix helm grants you low-light vision.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

In addition, you can use each of the following abilities once per day: feather fall, resist energy, and speak with animals (birds only).

Each of these abilities can be used as a standard (command) action except feather fall, which requires an immediate (command) action to activate.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, feather fall, low-light vision (SC 134), resist energy, speak with animals.

Cost to Create: 3,250 gp, 260 XP, 7 days.

PIERCER CLOAK

Price (Item Level): 900 gp (4th)

Body Slot: Shoulders

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: Swift (mental)

Weight: —

The back of this dark cloak depicts a silver spear pointed downward.

The wearer of a piercer cloak can make devastating attacks when positioned above her enemy.

When you activate a piercer cloak, any attack you make on your current turn from higher ground (PH 151) deals an extra 1d6 points of damage.

If you charge your enemy from at least 10 feet above him, this extra damage increases to 2d6.

This benefit lasts for 1 round.

This ability functions three times per day.

Lore: When the Halfling Rain came to Holtberg—the seven nights when halfling thieves pounced from rooftops onto passersby, assassinating them or knocking them out and taking every last stitch they owned—many of the thieves wore these cloaks (Knowledge [history] or Knowledge [local] DC 15).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength, jump.
Cost to Create: 450 gp, 36 XP, 1 day.

PORCUPINE ELIXIR

Price (Item Level): 800 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: Standard (manipulation)

Weight: —

The liquid in this vial is dark brown, shot through with vertical threads of white and tan.

Imbibing porcupine elixir toughens your skin, granting you a +1 enhancement bonus to your existing natural armor bonus.

(A creature without natural armor has an effective natural armor bonus of +0).

In addition, hundreds of needle-sharp quills sprout from your body.

These quills enable you to deal 1d6 points of piercing damage with a successful grapple attack.

The quills sprout through light armor or hide armor, but heavier armors prevent them from growing.

The effect of this elixir lasts for 12 hours.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, alter self, Craft (alchemy) 5 ranks.

Cost to Create: 400 gp, 32 XP, 1 day.

PORTABLE FOXHOLE

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) transmutation

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: —

A row of tiny runes lines the edge of this matte black piece of circular canvas.

When placed on a flat surface, a portable foxhole creates a shallow extradimensional pit 5 feet square and 3 feet deep.

A foxhole provides cover against ranged attacks.

Any items or creatures in a portable foxhole when it is picked up (another standard action) are dumped out unharmed in the space the foxhole occupied.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, move earth.

Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

POWDER OF THE BLACK VEIL

Price (Item Level): 750 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) necromancy

Activation: Standard (thrown)

Weight: —

This sooty, black powder comes in a small tin, which is set with pieces of jet in the shape of dark-colored goggles.

When you cast this sooty, black powder into an area, it creates a 10-foot-high cloud in a 10-foot spread, centered on you (but not moving with you).

The cloud remains for 2d4 rounds, and any creature, other than you, caught in the area (or one that enters it) is blinded for as long as it stays in the cloud and for 1d4 rounds after it leaves (Will DC 13 negates).

Once activated, a dose of this powder is expended and cannot be used again.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, blindness/deafness.

Cost to Create: 375 gp, 30 XP, 1 day.

PSIONATRICES

Price (Item Level): 8,000 gp (11th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 8th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) varies

Activation: —

Weight: —

This heavy bronze amulet features a pair of wings that cover the upper chest.

At the pendant's center rests a glimmering, multifaceted crystal.

Each discipline of psionics has its own psionatrix.

Wearing one adds a +1 enhancement bonus to the save DC of powers of the appropriate discipline.

For example, the DC to resist psionic suggestion is 1 higher when the caster wears a psionatrix of telepathy.

The glow in the heart of the central crystal varies depending on its school: light blue (clairsentience), green (metacreativity), red (psychokinesis), violet (psychometabolism), orange (psychoportation), and yellow (telepathy).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, specialized in the appropriate discipline.

Cost to Create: 4,000 gp, 320 XP, 8 days.

PSYCHOACTIVE SKINS

This fist-sized blob of murky ectoplasm shimmers faintly in the light.

Once a psychoactive skin is donned, the ball unfolds, extends, and surrounds a Medium or smaller wearer's entire body in a variegated second skin, granting the wearer access to a particular array of abilities (see below).

Donning a psychoactive skin requires a mental command as a standard action.

A deployed skin completely covers the wearer and all his equipment, but allows him to see, hear, and breathe normally.

It rolls away from various parts of the body as needed, such as when the wearer needs to eat or access a backpack.

Held items or items specifically excluded are not covered up.

Up to three skins can be worn simultaneously, although only the outermost is active in any given round (the powers of the hidden skins cannot be activated or accessed).

Skin layers can be changed as a standard (mental) action, which causes the desired lower-layer skin to come to the surface.

CELESTIAL

Price (Item Level): 6,000 gp (10th)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 10th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) transmutation

Activation: Swift (mental)

Weight: 2 lb.

Once activated, the stainless white skin of the celestial bathes you in a shimmering golden halo.

When activated, this skin grants you the following abilities for 7 rounds (if you already have one of these abilities, use your own values if higher):

- Damage reduction 5/magic.
- Darkvision 60 feet.
- Resistance to acid 10, cold 10, and electricity 10.
- Smite Evil (Su): Once during the skin's duration, you can attempt a normal melee attack to deal an extra 10 points of damage against an evil foe.

If you accidentally smite a creature that is not evil, or if your smite attack misses, the smite has no effect, but the ability is still used up for that day.

- Spell resistance 15.

A skin of the celestial functions once per day.

At the end of its duration, it falls dormant until the following dawn.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, lesser holy transformation (SC 116) or planar apotheosis (CP 93).

Cost to Create: 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days.

CELESTIAL EMBRACE

Price (Item Level): 24,000 gp (15th)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 15th

Aura: Strong; (DC 22) transmutation

Activation: Swift (mental)

Weight: 2 lb.

This iridescent white skin bathes you in a shimmering golden halo when activated.

When activated, a skin of celestial embrace grants you the following abilities for 15 rounds (if you already have any of these abilities, use your own values if higher):

- +4 bonus on Fortitude saves against poison.
- Damage reduction 10/magic.
- Darkvision 60 feet.
- Feathered wings that allow you to fly at twice your base land speed with good maneuverability.
- Immunity to disease.
- Resistance to acid 10, cold 10, and electricity 10.
- Smite Evil (Su): Once during the skin's duration, you can attempt a normal melee attack to deal an extra 15 points of damage against an evil foe.

If you accidentally smite a creature that is not evil, or if your smite attack misses, the smite has no effect, but the ability is still used up for that day.

- Spell resistance 25.

A skin of celestial embrace functions once per day.

At the end of its duration, it falls dormant until the following dawn.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, holy transformation (SC 116) or planar embrace (CP 94).

Cost to Create: 12,000 gp, 960 XP, 24 days.

CHAMELEON

Price (Item Level): 15,000 gp (14th)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) evocation

Activation: —

Weight: 2 lb.

This skin adjusts its color and texture according to your surroundings.

A skin of the chameleon adjusts to your surrounding textures and colors, continually granting you a +10 competence bonus on Hide checks.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, darkness or chameleon (EPH 82).

Cost to Create: 7,500 gp, 600 XP, 15 days.

CLAW

Price (Item Level): 12,000 gp (13th)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: Swift (mental)

Weight: 2 lb.

This skin ripples with suppressed power once worn.

A skin of the claw benefits you only if you are a psychic warrior.

If you are a psychic warrior and you wear this skin, you can transform your hands into deadly claws.

You gain two primary natural claw attacks, each dealing 1d6 points of damage (if you are Medium) plus your Strength modifier.

You can't combine these claw attacks with other weapon or natural weapon attacks as part of the same full attack action.

You can return your hands to their previous form with another swift (mental) action.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, claws of the bear (SC 47) or claws of the beast (EPH 83).

Cost to Create: 6,000 gp, 480 XP, 12 days.

DEFENDER

Price (Item Level): 32,000 gp (16th)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 2 lb.

This thick, rough skin gives your body an appearance similar to tree bark.

This skin continually grants a +4 enhancement bonus to your natural armor bonus.

(A creature without natural armor has an effective natural armor bonus of +0).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, barkskin or thicken skin (EPH 137).

Cost to Create: 16,000 gp, 1,280 XP, 32 days.

ECTOPLASMIC ARMOR

Price (Item Level): 6,000 gp (10th)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) conjuration

Activation: —

Weight: 2 lb.

This silvery, translucent skin appears to surround you in a suit of crystalline plates.

This skin grants you a +8 armor bonus.

The skin has a maximum Dexterity bonus of +2, a -6 armor check penalty, and a 25% arcane spell failure chance.

It is treated as light armor for the purpose of affecting class features and movement.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, mage armor or inertial armor (EPH 113).

Cost to Create: 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days.

FIEND

Price (Item Level): 6,000 gp (10th)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 10th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) transmutation

Activation: Swift (mental)

Weight: 2 lb.

This deep red skin raises tiny horns from your forehead.

When activated, a skin of the fiend grants you the following abilities for 7 rounds (if you already have any of these abilities, use your own values if higher):

- Damage reduction 5/magic.
- Darkvision 60 feet.
- Resistance to cold 10 and fire 10.
- Smite Good (Su): Once during the skin's duration, you can attempt a normal melee attack to deal an extra 10 points of damage against a good foe.

If you accidentally smite a creature that is not good, or if your smite attack misses, the smite has no effect, but the ability is still used up for that day.

- Spell resistance 15.

A skin of the fiend functions once per day.

At the end of its duration, it falls dormant until the following dawn.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, lesser infernal transformation (SC 122) or planar apotheosis (CP 93).

Cost to Create: 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days.

FIENDISH EMBRACE

Price (Item Level): 24,000 gp (15th)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 15th

Aura: Strong; (DC 22) transmutation

Activation: Swift (mental)

Weight: 2 lb.

This glistening, blood-red skin raises horns the color of bloodied bones from your forehead.

When activated, a skin of fiendish embrace grants you the following abilities for 15 rounds (if you already have any of these abilities, use your own values if higher):

- Damage reduction 10/magic.
- Darkvision 60 feet.
- Batlike wings that allow you to fly at your base land speed with average maneuverability.
- Claws: Two primary claw attacks that each deal 1d6 points of damage (assuming you are Medium).
- Immunity to poison.
- Resistance to acid 10, cold 10, electricity 10, and fire 10.
- Smite Good (Su): Once during the skin's duration, you can attempt a normal melee attack to deal an extra 15 points of damage against a good foe.

If you accidentally smite a creature that is not good, or if your smite attack misses, the smite has no effect, but the ability is still used up for that day.

- Spell resistance 25.

A skin of fiendish embrace functions once per day.

At the end of its duration, it falls dormant until the following dawn.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, infernal transformation (SC 122) or planar embrace (CP 94).

Cost to Create: 12,000 gp, 960 XP, 24 days.

FIERY RESPONSE

Price (Item Level): 60,000 gp (18th)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) evocation

Activation: —

Weight: 2 lb.

Once donned, this skin pulses with occasional bursts of energy the color of flame.

A skin of fiery response answers the first melee or ranged attack made against you in each round with a targeted blast against the attacker.

The blast of fire emits from the skin at the start of your next turn, making a ranged touch attack against the attacker if within line of sight and line of effect (up to a maximum distance of 40 feet).

You must also be able to identify the source of the attack.

For instance, if the attack comes from a foe that is hiding or invisible, the attacker cannot be identified and is not targeted by the effect.

The ranged touch attack uses your base attack bonus plus either your Dexterity modifier or the key ability modifier of your highest-level spellcasting class (your choice) and deals 4d6+4 points of fire damage.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, scorching ray or energy retort (EPH 137).

Cost to Create: 30,000 gp, 2,400 XP, 60 days.

HERO

Price (Item Level): 77,000 gp (19th)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 18th

Aura: Strong; (DC 24) no school

Activation: —

Weight: 2 lb.

This skin gives your body a silvery hue.

This skin continually grants its wearer a +3 deflection bonus to Armor Class, a +3 resistance bonus on saving throws, and a +3 enhancement bonus on attack rolls.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, limited wish or bend reality (EPH 80).

Cost to Create: 38,500 gp, 3,080 XP, 77 days.

IRON

Price (Item Level): 40,000 gp (17th)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 15th

Aura: Strong; (DC 22) transmutation

Activation: Swift (mental)

Weight: 2 lb.

Your body turns a uniform gray color while this skin is worn and active.

When activated, this skin grants you the benefit of the iron body spell with a duration of 15 minutes.

At the end of its duration, it falls dormant until the following dawn.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, iron body.
Cost to Create: 20,000 gp, 1,600 XP, 40 days.

NIMBLENESS

Price (Item Level): 15,000 gp (14th)
Body Slot: —
Caster Level: 8th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation
Activation: —
Weight: 2 lb.
This skin is supportive and slightly tacky.
This skin continually grants you a +10 competence bonus on Tumble checks.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Tumble 10 ranks.
Cost to Create: 7,500 gp, 600 XP, 15 days.

POWER DAMPING

Price (Item Level): 10,000 gp (12th)
Body Slot: —
Caster Level: 11th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) abjuration
Activation: Immediate (mental)
Weight: 2 lb.
Your body has a faint blue cast while you wear this translucent skin.
This skin provides no benefits while worn unless it is activated.
When it is activated, all numeric effects of any spell, spell-like ability, power, or psi-like ability that affects you (whether harmful or beneficial) are minimized for you (but not for any other creatures affected by the spell, power, or ability) for 1 round.
For example, if you were struck by a lightning bolt from a 5th-level wizard, you would take only 5 points of damage (or 2 points if you successfully save).
A skin of power damping functions three times per day. At the end of its duration, it falls dormant until the following dawn.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, antimagic field or damp power (CP 82).
Cost to Create: 5,000 gp, 400 XP, 10 days.

PSION

Price (Item Level): 90,000 gp (20th)
Body Slot: —
Caster Level: 13th
Aura: Strong; (DC 21) abjuration
Activation: —
Weight: 2 lb.
This psychoactive skin glows pale blue with power when active.
This skin grants you 7 additional power points per day and spell resistance 21.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, spell resistance or power resistance (EPH 124).
Cost to Create: 45,000 gp, 3,600 XP, 90 days.

SPIDER

Price (Item Level): 40,000 gp (17th)
Body Slot: —
Caster Level: 5th
Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: — and standard (mental)
Weight: 2 lb.
This midnight-blue skin is highlighted with a red spiderweb pattern and large black-rimmed white eyes.
This skin grants you a +10 competence bonus on Climb checks.
The skin also automatically adjusts your body's equilibrium to correspond with any solid or liquid upon which you stand.
This allows you to move (but not run) across water, quicksand, or even a spider's web at your normal speed. These are continuous effects and require no activation. Three times per day, you can fire a glob of goo at a Medium or smaller target within 30 feet as a ranged touch attack. If successful, the target is entangled for 5 rounds (Strength DC 20 or Escape Artist DC 20 to escape).
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, water walk or body equilibrium (EPH 124), web or entangling ectoplasm (EPH 104), Climb 10 ranks.
Cost to Create: 20,000 gp, 1,600 XP, 40 days.

TROLL

Price (Item Level): 61,000 gp (18th)
Body Slot: —
Caster Level: 17th
Aura: Strong; (DC 23) conjuration
Activation: —
Weight: 2 lb.
Your body appears rough, cracked, and covered with blemishes as long as you wear this skin.
This skin heals you of 5 points of damage per minute. This benefit is not effective against damage from starvation, thirst, or suffocation.
The skin also regrows lost portions of your body and allows you to reattach severed limbs.
If you don't have a Constitution score, a skin of the troll has no effect on you.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, regenerate or true metabolism (EPH 124).
Cost to Create: 30,500 gp, 2,440 XP, 61 days.

QUICKSILVER BOOTS

Price (Item Level): 3,500 gp (8th)
Body Slot: Feet
Caster Level: 5th
Aura: Faint; (DC 17) illusion
Activation: Swift (command)
Weight: —
The tops of these leather boots are folded over to make cuffs, revealing the arcane symbols that are woven with golden thread into the boots' lining.
Quicksilver boots give you the ability to flash across the battlefield with a moment's impulse.
When you activate these boots, you can move a distance up to your land speed (as if using a move action to do so). This extra movement follows all the normal rules for movement, except that you can move across water or other liquid without falling in (as long as you start and finish on solid ground).
You provoke attacks of opportunity as normal for movement, though the rapidity of your travel makes your form blurry, providing concealment against such attacks.

This ability functions two times per day.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, blur, expeditious retreat.
Cost to Create: 1,750 gp, 140 XP, 4 days.

QUIVER OF ENERGY

Price (Item Level): 15,000 gp (14th)
Body Slot: —
Caster Level: 7th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) evocation
Activation: —
Weight: 1 lb. (3 lb. when full)
Constructed of supple leather, this quiver is festooned with arcane symbols.
A quiver of energy can hold up to 20 arrows or bolts. Each quiver imbues arrows or bolts drawn from it with a particular type of energy (acid, cold, electricity, or fire), indicated by the arcane symbols it bears. Such projectiles, if left within the quiver for at least 1 round before being drawn, deal an extra 1d6 points of the appropriate type of damage. The projectile loses this extra damage after it is used in an attack, or 1 round after it is drawn (whichever comes first).
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, energy missile (CP 88) or the appropriate spell from the following: lightning bolt, ice storm, fireball, or Melf's acid arrow.
Cost to Create: 7,500 gp, 600 XP, 15 days.

RADIANT SPHERE

Price (Item Level): 3,500 gp (8th)
Body Slot: — (held)
Caster Level: 11th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) evocation
Activation: See text
Weight: 1 lb.
This bright yellow crystal globe feels faintly warm to the touch.
These spheres are prized possessions of priests who worship a god of sun or light. As long as at least 1 charge remains (see below), a radiant sphere continuously sheds bright illumination in a 20-foot radius and shadowy illumination out to 20 feet beyond that. This effect requires no activation. A radiant sphere has 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn. Spending 1 or more charges as a standard (command) action creates a ray of pure light that extends up to 60 feet. The ray requires a successful ranged touch attack.
1 charge: The ray deals 4d6 points of damage to any undead creature it hits.
2 charges: The ray deals 6d6 points of damage to any undead creature it hits.
3 charges: The ray deals 6d6 points of damage to any undead creature it hits, as well as 2d6 points of damage to each undead creature within 10 feet of the target (no save). While holding a sphere, you can recharge it by expending a daily use of your turn undead ability or sacrificing a spell with the light descriptor. This is a full-round (manipulation) action. Each expended spell or turn undead attempt adds 1 charge to the sphere, up to its maximum of 3 charges.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, daylight, searing light, turn undead.
Cost to Create: 1,750 gp, 140 XP, 4 days.

RAGS OF RESTRAINT

Price (Item Level): 3,200 gp (8th)
Body Slot: Torso
Caster Level: 5th
Aura: Faint; (DC 17) conjuration
Activation: Swift (command)
Weight: —
The ancient strips of cloth that make up this ragged shirt are dirty and tattered.
Rags of restraint allow you to channel ki power to heal your own injuries. When you activate this item, you must either expend a daily use of your Stunning Fist feat (if you are a monk) or a daily use of your ki power class feature (if you are a ninja). Doing so heals you of damage equal to your monk or ninja level (or the sum of both if you have both classes).
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cure serious wounds, wholeness of body or ki power.
Cost to Create: 1,600 gp, 128 XP, 4 days.

RAPIDSTRIKE BRACERS

Price (Item Level): 3,100 gp (8th)
Body Slot: Arms
Caster Level: 5th
Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation
Activation: Swift (command)
Weight: —
This pair of polished mithral bracers are of simple but elegant craftsmanship, contoured to fit the forearms perfectly.
Rapidstrike bracers increase the accuracy of a monk's flurry of blows. When you activate these bracers, you gain a +2 competence bonus on attack rolls made as part of a flurry of blows until the end of your turn. This ability functions three times per day.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, haste.
Cost to Create: 1,550 gp, 124 XP, 4 days.

REACH GAUNTLETS

Price (Item Level): 500 gp (3rd)
Body Slot: Hands
Caster Level: 3rd
Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation
Activation: Swift (command)
Weight: —
Each of these gauntlets bears a brass plate set with a faceted pale blue crystal on the back of the hand.
If you are a psionic character, reach gauntlets allow you to temporarily create a telekinetic extension of your normal attacks. You must spend 1 power point to activate the gauntlets, effectively extending your normal reach by 5 feet for all melee attacks you make until the end of your turn. This ability functions three times per day.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, mage hand or extend reach (CP 89).
Cost to Create: 250 gp, 20 XP, 1 day.

REARGUARD'S CAPE

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Shoulders
Caster Level: 3rd
Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation
Activation: Swift (command)
Weight: 3 lb.

Emblazoned upon the white cloth of this cloak is an azure shield with two crossed black swords in front of it.

If you are a marshal (MH 11), a rearguard's cape provides you with a potent ability whenever you and your allies are outnumbered.

If the number of visible, active enemies within 60 feet of you exceeds the number of your visible, active allies (including yourself) within 60 feet, you can activate this cape.

While it is active, the bonus granted by your minor and major auras improves by 2.

This benefit lasts for 10 rounds or until you and your allies are no longer outnumbered.

This ability functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, eagle's splendor.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 160 XP, 2 days.

RECIPROCAL BRACERS

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: Immediate (command)

Weight: —

These dark adamantine bracers are slightly difficult to separate, as if a magical field attracts them to one another.

Warriors tired of taking more damage than they deal out appreciate the power of reciprocal bracers, which allow them to turn their enemies' powerful strikes against them.

If you score a hit in melee against someone who scored a critical hit or sneak attack against you since your last turn, you can activate these bracers to automatically consider your attack roll a critical threat.

You must still confirm the critical hit as normal.

This ability functions two times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, keen edge.

Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

REINS OF ASCENSION

Price (Item Level): 3,300 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

These sturdy leather reins are stitched with images of horses soaring through the air.

These reins allow your mount to briefly break the bonds of gravity.

Reins of ascension have 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges grants your mount a benefit as described below.

1 charge: +10 competence bonus on Jump checks for 10 rounds.

2 charges: Fly at normal land speed (average maneuverability) for 5 rounds.

3 charges: Fly at double normal land speed (perfect maneuverability) for 1 round.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fly, jump.

Cost to Create: 1,650 gp, 132 XP, 4 days.

RELIQUARY HOLY SYMBOL

Price (Item Level): 1,000 gp (4th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) evocation

Activation: —

Weight: —

This hollow holy symbol holds a pinch of dust and a fragment of bone.

As the repository of a tiny fragment of a long-dead high priest of a particular deity, a reliquary holy symbol functions just like any other holy symbol.

In addition, for each of the following prerequisites that you meet, the holy symbol grants you one additional daily use of your turn or rebuke undead ability.

- At least 5 ranks in Knowledge (religion)
- Improved Turning feat
- At least one divine feat (CD 77)

Each reliquary holy symbol is crafted for a specific deity and is only useful to characters dedicated to that deity (or in the case of a character who isn't devoted to a specific deity, whose alignment matches that of the deity).

For example, a reliquary holy symbol of Heironeous can be used by any cleric of Heironeous, or by any lawful good character.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, turn undead.

Cost to Create: 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day.

RENDING GAUNTLETS

Price (Item Level): 3,610 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) evocation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

These heavy, fingerless leather gloves bear shining adamantine bands across the knuckles.

These masterwork spiked gauntlets allow you to tear the flesh of any creature you strike with at least two weapons. If you deal damage to a creature with at least two different weapons or natural attacks on your turn, you can activate rending gauntlets to deal an extra 2d6 points of damage with the second attack.

This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shatter.

Cost to Create: 1,500 gp (plus 610 gp for masterwork spiked gauntlets), 120 XP, 3 days.

REPELLING GAUNTLETS

Price (Item Level): 2,300 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) conjuration

Activation: Immediate (command)

Weight: —

Dark birds of prey, four small chains, and a black-and-yellow checkered field adorn these leather gloves. Inspired by the spells of the legendary wizard Bigby, these gloves help keep enemies at a safe distance.

You can activate repelling gauntlets only when a visible enemy moves into a square adjacent to you.

That enemy must attempt a DC 17 Reflex save; if this fails, it is immediately pushed 5 feet away from you and it loses any remaining movement allowed in that action (though it can use additional actions to move farther).

For example, if a wolf (speed 50 feet) moved 30 feet into a square adjacent to you, and it failed its save against the effect, you would push it 5 feet away from you in any direction and it would lose the remaining 20 feet of that move action.

It could then use another move action, if it still had one, to close the remaining distance.

If the wolf were charging, its entire full-round action would be wasted.

This ability functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Bigby's interposing hand.

Cost to Create: 1,150 gp, 92 XP, 3 days.

REPLENISHING SKIN

Price (Item Level): 1,000 gp (4th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) conjuration

Activation: —

Weight: 4 lb.

This waterskin looks to be made from the hide of a lizard or toad. It is moist to the touch, as if the skin were still alive.

Whenever a replenishing skin becomes empty, it slowly refills with cool, pure water over a period of 1d4 hours.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, create water.

Cost to Create: 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day.

RETRIBUTIVE AMULET

Price (Item Level): 9,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) abjuration

Activation: Immediate (command)

Weight: 1/2 lb.

This inch-wide disk bears a large red crystal in its center.

Tiny carvings around the crystal show an endless march of angels and demons at war.

You can activate a retributive amulet immediately after another creature has dealt damage to you with a melee attack.

That creature takes damage equal to half the damage it dealt to you.

This damage is of the same type (or types).

This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shield other.

Cost to Create: 4,600 gp, 360 XP, 9 days.

RHINO ELIXIR

Price (Item Level): 1,600 gp (5th)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation

Activation: Standard (manipulation)

Weight: —

This vial holds a light gray liquid.

Curling layers of lighter and darker colors within it give the impression of wrinkles and folds.

Drinking rhino elixir causes your skin to thicken and turn gray, granting you a +3 enhancement bonus to your existing natural armor bonus.

(A creature without natural armor has an effective natural armor bonus of +0).

In addition, you gain a +1 bonus on melee damage rolls.

These effects last for 12 hours.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, alter self, Craft (alchemy) 5 ranks.

Cost to Create: 800 gp, 64 XP, 2 days.

RIDING BOOTS

Price (Item Level): 12,000 gp (13th)

Body Slot: Feet

Caster Level: 10th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 2 lb.

These calf-high boots are made of smooth, supple leather and have pointed toes.

They are unadorned except for a pair of shining, silver spurs that seem to leave a tracery of light behind them.

Riding boots react to your mount and correct it when necessary, almost without your guidance.

While mounted, you gain a +5 competence bonus on Ride checks made during combat, plus the benefit of the Ride-By Attack feat, even if you lack the prerequisites for it.

In addition, if you have the Spirited Charge feat, any charge attacks you make while mounted and wielding a lance deal ×4 damage on a critical hit (instead of the normal ×3).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Ride-By Attack, cat's grace.

Cost to Create: 6,000 gp, 480 XP, 12 days.

ROBE OF ARCANE MIGHT

Price (Item Level): 21,000 gp (15th)

Body Slot: Body

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) abjuration

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

Mystical sigils line the hems of this bulky, thick-shouldered robe. Minuscule gems adorn the cuffs, collar, and hems.

A robe of arcane might grants you a +4 armor bonus to AC.

In addition, each robe is attuned to one of the eight schools of magic, chosen during creation (and identifiable with a successful DC 20 Spellcraft check).

When casting a spell from that school, you gain a +1 competence bonus to your caster level.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, mage armor, specialist wizard in the relevant school.

Cost to Create: 10,500 gp, 840 XP, 21 days.

ROBE OF MYSTERIOUS CONJURATION

Price (Item Level): 10,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Body

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) conjuration

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: 2 lb.

This robe seems to have depth, as if you were gazing into a portal between worlds, where vague behemoths move at the limit of your vision.

A robe of mysterious conjuration intensifies your connection to other planes, linking your mind to the distant realms from which a puissant mage can pluck servants and bind them to his will.

Three times per day, you can activate the robe and sacrifice a prepared arcane spell (or arcane spell slot) to summon one or more monsters, as if you had cast a summon monster spell of the same level as the sacrificed spell from your class spell list.

The summoned monsters can act immediately.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster V.

Cost to Create: 5,000 gp, 400 XP, 10 days.

ROBE OF RETALIATION

Price (Item Level): 6,500 gp (10th)

Body Slot: Body

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) evocation

Activation: Immediate (command)

Weight: 2 lb.

An image of a solar eclipse with a blazing corona can be seen on the back of this heavy red robe.

A robe of retaliation allows you to react to attacks with a burst of magical power.

If you are struck by a creature wielding a melee weapon or a natural weapon, you can activate the robe and sacrifice an arcane spell of 1st level or higher to deal damage to your attacker equal to 1d6 points per level of the spell sacrificed. This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fire shield.

Cost to Create: 3,250 gp, 260 XP, 7 days.

ROBE OF THE INFERNO

Price (Item Level): 37,000 gp (17th)

Body Slot: Body

Caster Level: 10th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) abjuration, evocation

Activation: See text

Weight: 1 lb.

The coal-colored cloth of this robe is decorated with crimson-stitched runes.

The runes run around the bottom and up the length of the garment in meandering lines, and are a mixture of arcane formulas and praises to fire written in Ignan.

The robe emits a faint odor of brimstone, and a gentle warmth surrounds it.

While you wear this robe, it provides you with a +4 armor bonus to AC.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

The robe can also be activated as a swift (command) action by speaking a word in Ignan that causes four fiery orbs, each about 6 inches in diameter, to spring from the sleeves. They circle slowly around your body at waist height as long as the robe remains active, but don't interfere with your actions in any way.

As long as they are active, they collectively provide light equal to that of a torch and grant you resistance to fire 10.

Two times per day, you can send one of the fiery orbs streaking toward a single enemy within 60 feet as a ranged touch attack, which is a standard (command) action.

Failure means the orb misses and explodes harmlessly in a shower of sparks.

Success means it explodes in a 5-foot-radius burst around the target, dealing 8d6 points of fire damage and leaving affected creatures dazzled for 1 round (Reflex DC 16 halves the damage and negates the dazzled condition).

Lore: The first robe of the inferno was crafted by an elf evoker named Killaith Marcaun, who was badly burned in a battle against a large number of summoned thoqqua.

Deeply humiliated by the scars they left, she constructed the robe so that she, too, could harness the power of fire (Knowledge [arcana or history] DC 20).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, mage armor, resist energy, scorching ray.

Cost to Create: 18,500 gp, 1,480 XP, 37 days.

ROCK BOOTS

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Feet

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) conjuration

Activation: — and free (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

Made from heavy leather, these boots have solid iron plating along the toes and ankles.

A smoky crystal shard is set into the back of each boot, a few inches above the heel.

Rock boots feel rigid, though they do not significantly impede movement.

They grant you a +4 bonus on Strength checks made to resist being bull rushed or tripped when standing on the ground.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

When activated, rock boots allow you to ignore any additional movement costs for moving over difficult terrain for 1 round.

This effect functions five times per day.

Prerequisites: Bind Elemental (ECS 51) or Craft Wondrous Item, planar binding.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

ROGUE'S VEST

Price (Item Level): 18,000 gp (14th)

Body Slot: Torso

Caster Level: 13th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) divination

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

This slick-looking black vest is made of supple, well-worked leather.

Its buttons are carved of dull black glass and seem to absorb light rather than reflect it.

While wearing this vest, you gain a +2 competence bonus on Hide and Move Silently checks, and a +2 competence bonus on Reflex saves.

In addition, if you have the skirmish, sneak attack, or sudden strike ability, you deal an extra 1d6 points of damage when making such an attack.

Lore: A halfling arcane trickster named Lena

Wanderingeye created the first rogue's vest.

She wore it for many years before she retired from adventuring and joined a caravan.

She eventually passed the secret of its creation on to the arcane spellcasters in the caravan (Knowledge [arcana or history] DC 20).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cat's grace, invisibility, true strike.

Cost to Create: 9,000 gp, 720 XP, 18 days.

ROPE OF CLIMBING, SUPERIOR

Price (Item Level): 5,500 gp (10th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: 3 lb.

This thick length of knotted rope is slightly sticky to the touch.

This item functions like a rope of climbing (DMG 266), except that it also grants a +5 circumstance bonus on Climb checks made to ascend it.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate rope.

Cost to Create: 2,750 gp, 220 XP, 6 days.

ROPE OF STONE

Price (Item Level): 800 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: 5 lb.

This 50-foot coil of silk rope has a silvery sheen.

This silk rope becomes as hard as stone (hardness 8, 15 hp) when you speak the command word (but remains just as climbable as normal).

A second command word returns the rope to its normal composition.

The rope retains its exact shape when hardened (which adds 5 to the DC of Escape Artist checks made to slip free of it).

If the rope is ever broken in either form, it is destroyed.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, stone shape.

Cost to Create: 400 gp, 32 XP, 1 day.

RUBY CINCTURE OF IMMUTABILITY

Price (Item Level): 12,000 gp (13th)

Body Slot: Waist

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) abjuration

Activation: Immediate (command)

Weight: —

This sumptuous red silk sash is feather-light.

It is set with a large ruby cabochon surrounded by an embroidered silver circle.

Wearing a ruby cincture of immutability provides you with a safeguard against attacks that change your form.

Once per day, you can instantly counter any effect that would significantly change your bodily form or composition.

Effects that the sash protects against include polymorph, petrification, disintegration, and transformative effects such as the touch of an aboleth's tentacle or a chaos beast's attack.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, break enchantment.

Cost to Create: 6,000 gp, 480 XP, 12 days.

SACRED SCABBARD

Price (Item Level): 4,400 gp (9th)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 4th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

This hardened leather scabbard is inscribed with pictograms depicting many different kinds of weapons.

A sacred scabbard can change shape to fit any dagger, sword, or axe touched to it, even making allowances for double weapons.

The scabbard keeps any weapon carried in it clean and sharp.

Furthermore, three times per day, you can command it to produce a bless weapon effect on the weapon it holds as you draw it.

This effect lasts for 10 rounds.

A sacred scabbard functions only for good-aligned characters.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bless weapon.

Cost to Create: 2,200 gp, 176 XP, 5 days.

SAFEWING EMBLEM

Price (Item Level): 250 gp (2nd)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: Immediate (mental)

Weight: —

This porcelain pin is sculpted to look like a pair of outstretched white wings.

A tiny green stone adorns the center, where the wings meet.

If you fall at least 10 feet, a safewing emblem becomes a pair of feathery wings that grant you a feather fall effect, allowing you to descend safely from any height up to 180 feet.

When you land, the emblem shatters, its magic expended.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, feather fall.

Cost to Create: 125 gp, 10 XP, 1 day.

SALVE OF MINOR SPELL RESISTANCE

Price (Item Level): 1,350 gp (5th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) abjuration

Activation: Full-round (manipulation)

Weight: 1/2 lb.

This glass canister is filled with a gray salve that seems to be flecked with crushed bits of insects.

Upon spreading this salve upon your skin, you gain spell resistance 17 for 5 minutes.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, spell resistance.

Cost to Create: 675 gp, 54 XP, 2 days.

SANDALS OF SPRINGING

Price (Item Level): 10,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Feet

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

The laces of these well-made sandals are bound at the calf by a silver clasp inset with a large, smooth, hemispherical blue crystal. Sandals of springing grant you a +10 enhancement bonus on Jump checks.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, jump or mighty spring (CP 93).

Cost to Create: 5,000 gp, 400 XP, 10 days.

SANDALS OF SPRINTING

Price (Item Level): 2,300 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Feet

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: 1/2 lb.

These lightweight sandals are soled with tanned cheetah hide, and the straps are made of dried, braided sinew.

When you activate sandals of sprinting, you gain a +30-foot enhancement bonus to your land speed (to a maximum of twice your normal speed) until the start of your next turn. This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, expeditious retreat.

Cost to Create: 1,150 gp, 92 XP, 3 days.

SCARAB OF INVULNERABILITY

Price (Item Level): 40,000 gp (17th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 15th

Aura: Strong; (DC 22) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

This broad adamantine necklace bears a scarab of the same metal, polished to a mirrorlike sheen.

A scarab of invulnerability provides you with brief but complete protection from all forms of damage.

For 1 round after activating the scarab, you are immune to all forms of damage (including ability damage), whether from weapons, spells, psionic powers, poison, environmental effects, or any other cause.

The scarab doesn't protect you from harmful effects that don't deal damage.

A scarab of invulnerability functions once per day.

You must wear a scarab of invulnerability for 24 hours before you can access its abilities.

If it is taken off, it becomes inactive until worn for an additional 24 hours.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, iron body.

Cost to Create: 20,000 gp, 1,600 XP, 40 days.

SCARAB OF STABILIZATION

Price (Item Level): 20,000 gp (15th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) evocation

Activation: —

Weight: —

This solid gold scarab has obsidian chips for eyes.

Glyphs of protection and health are carved into its carapace.

A button at the base of its abdomen makes its legs clench or release, allowing it to be worn as a cloak clasp or a decorative piece of jewelry.

If your hit points drop below 0 but you are still alive (above -10 hit points), a scarab of stabilization automatically stabilizes you.

You are still unconscious from your wounds, but you need not make a stabilization check each round to prevent further hit point loss.

If another wound causes your hit points to drop lower, the scarab automatically stabilizes you again at your new hit point total, provided that it is still between -1 and -9.

If a wound would drop you to -10 hit points or lower, the secondary power of the scarab activates automatically.

You do not die, but your hit point total becomes -1, and you automatically stabilize.

This power functions only once—the scarab crumbles into dust as soon as this ability is used.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, contingency, cure light wounds.

Cost to Create: 10,000 gp, 800 XP, 20 days.

SCENTBLINDER

Price (Item Level): 8,000 gp (11th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) illusion

Activation: —

Weight: —

This battered pouch of rough burlap dangles from a tattered cord.

A strong aroma of herbs and vegetable decay emanates through the fabric.

A scentblinder masks your odor, making the scent ability ineffective against you.

Creatures cannot track you or detect your location by scent.

It also masks the effect of extraordinary, spell-like, and supernatural abilities that you possess that are based on scent, such as a troglodyte's stench.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, persistent image.

Cost to Create: 4,000 gp, 320 XP, 8 days.

SCOUT'S HEADBAND

Price (Item Level): 3,400 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Head

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) divination

Activation: — and standard (command)

Weight: —

This tattered strip of cloth is strangely resilient, and when you hold it, elven runes appear along its length.

A scout's headband grants you a +2 competence bonus on Spot checks.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

In addition, this circlet has 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges enhances your visual acuity as described below.

1 charge: You gain darkvision out to 60 feet for 1 hour.

2 charges: You can see invisible creatures and objects (as see invisibility) for 10 minutes.

3 charges: You gain true seeing (as the spell) for 1 minute.

Lore: The runes appearing on the headband are taken from the Saga of Filix, a great elf scout from long ago (Knowledge [history] DC 10).

Felix bargained with Corellon for unparalleled powers of vision, but the gift came with a curse: The scout could see the deaths of all his friends as well (Knowledge [history] DC 15).

Driven nearly mad by the ghostly perceptions haunting him, Filix eventually fled society entirely, living out the rest of his long days alone in the wilderness (Knowledge [history] DC 20).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, see invisibility, darkvision, true seeing.

Cost to Create: 1,700 gp, 136 XP, 4 days.

SCRY SHROUD

Price (Item Level): 4,000 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Shoulders

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) illusion

Activation: — and immediate (mental)

Weight: —

The black lining of this nondescript gray cloak seems to absorb both light and sound.

While wearing a scry shroud, you gain a +5 competence bonus on saves against divination spells.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

Additionally, if you see or otherwise detect a magical sensor created by a scrying spell, you can activate the cloak to become invisible (as the invisibility spell) for 10 rounds.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, nondetection, invisibility.

Cost to Create: 2,000 gp, 160 XP, 4 days.

SCRYING BEACON

Price (Item Level): 750 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) divination

Activation: —; see text

Weight: —

This button-sized, black half-sphere appears to be made of ebony or jet.

If you spend 1 minute attuning yourself to a scrying beacon, you can choose for the next clairaudience/clairvoyance spell you cast to be centered on the beacon, as long as you are within 1 mile of it.

Once this power has been used, the beacon becomes dormant until you attune yourself to it again.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, clairaudience/clairvoyance.

Cost to Create: 375 gp, 30 XP, 1 day.

SCRYING SHARD

Price (Item Level): 1,350 gp (5th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) divination

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

Ever-shifting, deep red swirls writhe within this fist-sized pink crystal.

A character of any class can cast scrying using a scrying shard as a focus.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, scrying.

Cost to Create: 675 gp, 54 XP, 2 days.

SENDING STONES

Price (Item Level): 1,400 gp (5th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) evocation

Activation: Standard

Weight: 1 lb.

These fist-sized chunks of unworked stone are mirror images of one another.

These unremarkable-looking stones come in pairs.

Once per day, the bearer of each stone can send a message (as the sending spell) to the bearer of the other stone.

If a stone's mate is not in a creature's possession, no message is sent and you know the communication has failed.

If either stone of the pair is destroyed, the other becomes useless.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, sending.

Cost to Create: 700 gp, 56 XP, 2 days.

SEPULCHRAL VEST

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Torso

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) abjuration

Activation: Immediate (command)

Weight: —

The smell of fresh graves and decaying lilies clings to this vest.

Sometimes jokingly dubbed "gravedigger's shirts", these items help characters who battle undead.

When activated, a sepulchral vest grants you a +5 sacred bonus on saves against any effect generated by an undead creature for 1 round.

This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, death ward.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

SHACKLES OF SILENCE

Price (Item Level): 6,000 gp (10th)

Body Slot: —; see text

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) illusion

Activation: —

Weight: 2 lb.

These iron manacles look old, slightly rusted, and heavily dented.

Shackles of silence fit any Small, Medium, or Large creature.

A creature manacled with these shackles is affected by a silence effect (as the spell) that fills that creature's space.

A creature can slip free from shackles of silence with a successful DC 28 Escape Artist check, or break free with a successful DC 28 Strength check.

However, if the creature bound by shackles of silence escapes by breaking them or using Escape Artist, the silence effect ends and the shackles ring for 1 round, as an alarm spell's audible alarm.

Broken shackles of silence lose their power after sounding this alarm, becoming nonmagical and useless.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, alarm, silence.

Cost to Create: 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days.

SHADOW MANIPLE

Price (Item Level): 3,700 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) illusion

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

This wristband seethes with ever-shifting shadows.

Its touch feels like frozen silk.

Actually a small rift between the Plane of Shadow and the Material Plane, a shadow maniple allows characters adept at shadow magic to derive healing from their use of such magic.

When you cast a spell with the shadow descriptor, or whenever you cast a mystery (see the shadowcaster class, ToM 111), you can activate the maniple to heal damage equal to the level of the spell or mystery.

A shadow maniple functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shadow conjuration or any apprentice mystery.

Cost to Create: 1,850 gp, 148 XP, 4 days.

SHADOW VEIL

Price (Item Level): 16,000 gp (14th)

Body Slot: Body

Caster Level: 12th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) necromancy

Activation: —

Weight: —

This greenish, indistinct robe is designed to envelop the entire body.

A shadow veil is crafted from the essence of the undead creatures known as shadows.

While wearing it, you gain a +1 deflection bonus to AC.

In addition, while in shadowy areas, you are treated as if you had concealment against creatures lacking darkvision, blindsight, or some other sensory ability that does not rely on light.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Knowledge (religion) 5 ranks, create undead.

Cost to Create: 8,000 gp, 640 XP, 16 days.

SHIFTWEAVE

Price (Item Level): 500 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: Torso

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: Swift (mental)

Weight: 5 lb.

This otherwise plain-looking set of clothing seems to have gossamer threads woven randomly into the fabric.

When you activate shiftweave, it changes your garb to resemble any of five specific outfits designated during its creation.

Shiftweave has no effect on any armor you wear (nor can it mimic armor) and does not change the effect of any magical clothing you wear.

Lore: Though originally created for wealthy socialites who wanted to avoid wearing the same gown to the gala, shiftweave is also useful to spies and assassins (Knowledge [nobility and royalty] DC 10).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, disguise self.

Cost to Create: 250 gp, 20 XP, 1 day.

SHIRT OF ANGELS

Price (Item Level): 15,000 gp (14th)

Body Slot: Torso

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

This shirt is composed entirely of soft, white feathers like those from an angel's wings.

Despite its composition, a shirt of angels is as durable as the sturdiest homespun.

This item grants you damage reduction 3/evil.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, righteous might.

Cost to Create: 7,500 gp, 600 XP, 15 days.

SHIRT OF BONE

Price (Item Level): 9,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Torso

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

This sturdy cotton shirt has bone stays that reinforce its shape.

This shirt grants you damage reduction 3/bludgeoning.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, stoneskin.

Cost to Create: 4,500 gp, 360 XP, 9 days.

SHIRT OF CHAINS

Price (Item Level): 9,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Torso

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

This silken shirt is looped with lengths of fine silver chain in an intricate pattern.

This shirt grants you damage reduction 3/piercing.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, stoneskin.

Cost to Create: 4,500 gp, 360 XP, 9 days.

SHIRT OF DEMONSKIN

Price (Item Level): 15,000 gp (14th)
Body Slot: Torso
Caster Level: 9th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation
Activation: —
Weight: 1 lb.

This leathery shirt is composed of bits of demonskin sewn together with a rough stitch.

This shirt grants you damage reduction 3/good.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, righteous might.
Cost to Create: 7,500 gp, 600 XP, 15 days.

SHIRT OF IRONSKIN

Price (Item Level): 15,000 gp (14th)
Body Slot: Torso
Caster Level: 7th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation
Activation: —
Weight: 10 lb.

This shirt is made of interlocking iron plates.
This shirt grants you damage reduction 3/adamantine.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, stonework.
Cost to Create: 7,500 gp, 600 XP, 15 days.

SHIRT OF RESILIENCE

Price (Item Level): 12,000 gp (13th)
Body Slot: Torso
Caster Level: 7th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation
Activation: —
Weight: 3 lb.

This sturdy leather shirt is laced with a green leather cord.
This shirt grants you damage reduction 3/magic.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, stonework.
Cost to Create: 6,000 gp, 480 XP, 12 days.

SHIRT OF SLAADSKIN

Price (Item Level): 15,000 gp (14th)
Body Slot: Torso
Caster Level: 9th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation
Activation: —
Weight: 1 lb.

This lightweight, brightly colored shirt is made from a rubbery, pebbled hide.

This shirt is made from the skin of a slaad.
It grants you damage reduction 3/lawful.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, righteous might.
Cost to Create: 7,500 gp, 600 XP, 15 days.

SHIRT OF THE FEY

Price (Item Level): 15,000 gp (14th)
Body Slot: Torso
Caster Level: 7th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation
Activation: —
Weight: 1 lb.

This light blue shirt is made of material so fine it seems like gossamer.
Embroidery along the neckline and cuffs depicts leaves and flowers.
The faint scent of grass envelops it.
When donned, a shirt of the fey fades away, becoming almost impossible to see.
This shirt grants you damage reduction 3/cold iron.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, stonework.
Cost to Create: 7,500 gp, 600 XP, 15 days.

SHIRT OF THE INEVITABLE

Price (Item Level): 15,000 gp (14th)
Body Slot: Torso
Caster Level: 9th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation
Activation: —
Weight: 10 lb.

This metal sheath covers the chest and shoulders This shirt is actually the metallic chestplate from one of the constructs of Mechanus—a noble inevitable.
It grants you damage reduction 3/chaotic.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, righteous might.
Cost to Create: 7,500 gp, 600 XP, 15 days.

SHIRT OF THE LEECH

Price (Item Level): 8,000 gp (11th)
Body Slot: Torso
Caster Level: 9th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) conjuration
Activation: — and immediate (command)
Weight: 1 lb.

This blood-red, silk shirt looks as though it was tailored to be form-fitting.
Whenever a healing spell of 4th level or lower is cast within 30 feet of you, you instantly recognize the spell being cast. This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.
As an immediate action, you can activate a shirt of the leech to gain the effect of any healing spell cast within 30 feet of you, instead of the spell affecting its intended target.
If the spell would normally affect more than one creature, you choose which target does not gain the effect.
You must have line of sight to both the caster and the target to use this effect.
This ability functions three times per day.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, mass cure light wounds.
Cost to Create: 4,000 gp, 320 XP, 8 days.

SHIRT OF THE MOON

Price (Item Level): 15,000 gp (14th)
Body Slot: Torso
Caster Level: 7th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation
Activation: —
Weight: 1 lb.

This shirt is made of gleaming, silvery material that feels like cool silk to the touch.
This shirt grants you damage reduction 3/silver.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, stonework.
Cost to Create: 7,500 gp, 600 XP, 15 days.

SHIRT OF THE TREANT

Price (Item Level): 9,000 gp (12th)
Body Slot: Torso
Caster Level: 7th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation
Activation: —
Weight: 1 lb.

This vest is made of woven leaves and laced with a strong vine. The leaves that make up the fabric of this shirt were gathered from living treants.

This shirt grants you damage reduction 3/slashing.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, stoneskin.
Cost to Create: 4,500 gp, 360 XP, 9 days.

SHROUD OF SCALES

Price (Item Level): 24,000 gp (15th)
Body Slot: Body
Caster Level: 6th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) abjuration
Activation: —
Weight: 10 lb.

This opaque, reticulated shawl appears to contain hundreds of polychromatic dragon scales stitched into its fibers. Deep, flowing sleeves hang from long arm slits cut into the main body of the shawl.

While wearing a shroud of scales, you can use your arms and hands normally and see through the garment despite its apparent opacity.

You gain damage reduction 5/magic and are immune to a dragon's frightful presence.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, stoneskin.
Cost to Create: 12,000 gp, 960 XP, 24 days.

SILKSLICK BELT

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)
Body Slot: Waist
Caster Level: 3rd
Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation
Activation: — and swift (mental)
Weight: —

This belt is crafted from a thousand strands of silk, which are dyed the color of midnight.

A silkslick belt is a boon to burglars and contortionists, but also to anyone who wants to avoid being caught in a tight spot.

You can attempt an Escape Artist check to escape from a grapple or pin as a move action (rather than as a standard action).

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation. In addition, once per day, you can activate a silkslick belt to gain a +10 competence bonus on the next Escape Artist check you begin before the end of your next turn.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, grease.
Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

SKILL SHARD

Price (Item Level): 50 gp (1/2) (normal); 300 gp (2nd) (greater)
Body Slot: — (held)
Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation
Activation: Swift (command)
Weight: —

This tiny fragment of cast-off crystal glows with a minuscule bit of power.

When held, a skill shard telepathically whispers its command word into your mind.

When you activate it, you gain a competence bonus on your next check with a specific skill, chosen during the item's creation.

The check must begin before the end of your turn and must be completed within 10 minutes.

A skill shard disintegrates when used.

Normal: +2 competence bonus.

Greater: +5 competence bonus.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, specified skill 2 ranks (lesser) or 5 ranks (greater).

Cost to Create: 25 gp, 1 XP, 1 day (lesser); 150 gp, 6 XP, 1 day (greater).

SKIRMISHER BOOTS

Price (Item Level): 3,200 gp (8th)
Body Slot: Feet
Caster Level: 5th
Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation
Activation: — and swift (command)
Weight: 1 lb.

These comfortable boots are made from soft doeskin.

Scouts (CA 10) prize skirmisher boots, but any character can use them to increase combat prowess in a mobile battle.

You gain a +2 bonus on damage rolls when you make a skirmish attack.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

A character without the skirmish class feature does not gain this benefit.

In addition, you can activate skirmisher boots to make a single extra melee or ranged attack using your full base attack bonus.

You can only activate this ability if you have already moved at least 10 feet from the space where you started your turn. Movement while mounted does not allow you to activate the boots.

This benefit does not require the skirmish class feature and can be activated two times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, haste.

Cost to Create: 1,600 gp, 128 XP, 4 days.

SKULL PLAQUE

Price (Item Level): 6,200 gp (10th)
Body Slot: Throat
Caster Level: 5th
Aura: Faint; (DC 17) enchantment
Activation: — and standard (command)
Weight: 2 lb.

The image of a grinning skull is engraved upon this ivory amulet. Black enamel inlays form a shield-shaped background.

Undead creatures take a -2 penalty on attack rolls against the wearer of a skull plaque.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

A skull plaque also has two additional abilities, each of which can be activated once per day: death knell and detect undead.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, death knell, detect undead, prayer.

Cost to Create: 3,100 gp, 248 XP, 7 days.

SLASHING SAND

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 10th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) transmutation

Activation: Standard (thrown)

Weight: —

A handful of thick, glassy black sand fills this small lizardskin sack.

When you fling slashing sand onto the ground, it covers an area of up to four contiguous squares with razor-sharp obsidian shards for 1 hour (the equivalent of a spike stones spell).

At least one affected square must be adjacent to your space. Once activated, this item is expended and cannot be used again.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, spike stones.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

SLEEPING SPIKE

Price (Item Level): 3,500 gp (8th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) enchantment

Activation: Standard (manipulation)

Weight: 1/2 lb.

This twisted wooden spike was carved from the misshapen limb of an ash tree.

A sleeping spike becomes invisible 1 round after you plant it firmly in the ground.

Thereafter, as soon as any creature comes within 10 feet of it, the spike emits a sleep effect (Will DC 17 negates) in a 20-foot-radius burst that affects all creatures with 10 Hit Dice or fewer.

The spike is destroyed when the sleep effect is triggered.

During the round that a sleeping spike remains visible after being planted, any creature can safely remove it from the ground (a standard action) to render it harmless and ready for reuse.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, symbol of sleep.

Cost to Create: 1,750 gp, 140 XP, 4 days.

SNAKEBLOOD TOOTH

Price (Item Level): 1,350 gp (5th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) conjuration

Activation: — and immediate (command)

Weight: —

This tiny chunk of ivory resembles the fang of a snake.

When placed into an empty tooth socket, a snakeblood tooth adheres to your jawbone until removed.

Placing or removing a tooth requires a standard action.

A snakeblood tooth grants you a +5 alchemical bonus on saves against ingested poisons.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

In addition, a snakeblood tooth has 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges enhances a tooth's protective qualities as described below.

1 charge: You gain a +5 alchemical bonus on saves against all types of poison for 3 rounds.

2 charges: You and up to three allies within 10 feet of you gain a +5 alchemical bonus on saves against poison for 3 rounds.

3 charges: You gain immunity to poison for 1 round.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, neutralize poison.

Cost to Create: 675 gp, 54 XP, 2 days.

SOULSMITE GAUNTLETS

Price (Item Level): 3,000 gp (7th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) evocation

Activation: Free (command)

Weight: 2 lb.

Each of these white steel gauntlets has a smooth cerulean gem mounted on the wrist.

Soulsmite gauntlets allow a soulborn (MoI 25) to channel the power of a soulmeld into her smite opposition ability.

When you use smite opposition, you can select one soulmeld you have shaped.

All essentia invested in that soulmeld becomes uninvested, and you gain an additional bonus on your attack roll and damage roll equal to the essentia that was invested.

For example, if you were an 8th-level soulborn with 2 essentia invested in your impulse boots, you could drain that soulmeld temporarily to gain an additional +2 bonus on the attack roll and damage roll of your smite attack.

Essentia drained from a soulmeld in this way returns to your essentia pool and can be invested again as normal.

Chakra Bind (Hands): If you bind soulsmite gauntlets to your hands chakra, you gain one additional daily use of your smite opposition ability.

When the gauntlets are bound, the gems mounted on them glow with soft inner light.

See Magic of Incarnum for rules on binding magic items to your chakras.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, essentia pool.

Cost to Create: 1,500 gp, 120 XP, 3 days.

SOULSTONE

Price (Item Level): 10,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) transmutation

Activation: —; see text

Weight: —

This faceted gemstone is the size of a coin and mounted on a golden disk covered in runes and scrollwork.

Soulstones are boons to all those who channel the power of incarnum (see Magic of Incarnum).

When you use the proper command thought, this gem adheres to the center of your forehead (the same command thought causes the soulstone to disengage).

While you wear a soulstone, you can bind a soulmeld to your brow chakra, gaining the normal ability granted by such a bind.

This effect functions despite the fact that you are currently wearing a magic item in that chakra.

This bind is in addition to any binds you are already allowed (though it doesn't let you bind an extra soulmeld to your brow chakra).

If you are already able to bind soulmelds to your brow chakra, the soulstone instead grants you 1 bonus essentia that can be invested only in a soulmeld bound to your brow chakra.

If you also wear a magic item that grants an enhancement bonus to your Wisdom, a soulstone also allows you to unshape a soulmeld bound to your brow chakra and immediately reshape another soulmeld, even binding it to your brow chakra if you want.

This ability requires a full-round action and functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bind a soulmeld to a chakra, essentia pool.

Cost to Create: 5,000 gp, 400 XP, 10 days.

SOULVOID ORB

Price (Item Level): 700 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) necromancy

Activation: Standard (thrown)

Weight: 1 lb.

This black, fist-sized orb feels faintly greasy to the touch.

When you throw a soulvoid orb against a hard surface, it explodes in a shower of orange sparks that fills a 10-foot-radius burst.

Each creature within that area is affected as if by a divest essentia spell (MoI 101).

Lore: Soulvoid orbs were first created by the githyanki for use in a struggle with a splinter group of githzerai who had taken up the practice of meldshaping (Knowledge [the planes] DC 15).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, divest essentia.

Cost to Create: 350 gp, 28 XP, 1 day.

SPARE HAND

Price (Item Level): 12,000 gp (13th)

Body Slot: Waist

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 5 lb.

This strange item consists of an animated arm and three-fingered claw attached to a heavy leather belt reinforced with strips of metal.

As its most basic function, a spare hand can grasp or carry any object you could normally carry in one hand, freeing your normal hands for other tasks.

A spare hand can hold magic items such as wands and rods for easy access, but you cannot activate those items while they are so held.

Transferring an item to or from a spare hand is a free action. Whenever your spare hand is not carrying an item, you gain a +2 competence bonus on Climb, Escape Artist, and grapple checks.

Without further augmentation from an infusion (see below), a spare hand cannot do anything other than hold an item—it cannot wield a weapon, retrieve a stored item, or perform any other task.

If you power a spare hand with a 1st-level infusion (see the EBERRON Campaign Setting), it gains additional qualities. Once per round, you can command the hand to stow an item or retrieve a stowed item (including a weapon) as a free action.

If you instead expend a 2nd-level infusion, the spare hand gains the above ability and can also hold a buckler or light shield, freeing your normal hand while still providing a bonus to AC from the shield.

You still incur any armor check penalty or other drawbacks of holding the shield, and are subject to normal penalties if you are not proficient with the shield.

If you expend a 3rd-level infusion, a spare hand gains all the above abilities and becomes capable of wielding a light weapon.

You can command a spare hand to make off-hand attacks with this weapon as if you were wielding it.

A spare hand attacks using your normal attack modifier plus any appropriate penalties for an off-hand attack.

Using an infusion to power a spare hand requires 10 minutes and the expenditure of an infusion of the appropriate level.

An infusion powers a spare hand for 24 hours.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item.

Cost to Create: 6,000 gp, 480 XP, 12 days.

SPELLMIGHT BRACERS

Price (Item Level): 3,300 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

These finely wrought, black steel bracers are etched with the image of a wand and a staff crossed.

Magical runes surround both.

Spellmight bracers grant you the ability to sacrifice accuracy for damage when casting your spells.

When casting a spell that requires a touch attack and that deals hit point damage, you can take a –5 penalty on the attack roll to deal an extra 1d6 points of damage with the spell.

A duskblade (PH2 19) can use these bracers when delivering a touch spell through a melee weapon, even if the spell doesn't deal hit point damage.

In this case, the weapon (rather than the spell) deals an extra 1d6 points of damage.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, keen edge.

Cost to Create: 1,650 gp, 132 XP, 4 days.

SPELLSIGHT SPECTACLES

Price (Item Level): 2,500 gp (7th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) divination

Activation: —

Weight: —

These round-rimmed spectacles have blue-tinted lenses and a clear gem set into the joint of each earpiece.

Spellsight spectacles grant you a +5 competence bonus on Spellcraft checks made to decipher scrolls and Use Magic Device checks made to use scrolls.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, read magic.

Cost to Create: 1,250 gp, 100 XP, 3 days.

SPELLSINK SCARAB

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) abjuration

Activation: Immediate (command)

Weight: —

Exotic and arcane symbols circumscribe this scarab-shaped brooch.

You can activate a spellsink scarab whenever you would take hit point damage from a spell or psionic power.

A scarab has 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges reduces the damage dealt to you by the spell or power (to a minimum of 0 points of damage).

1 charge: Reduce damage by 2d6 points.

2 charge: Reduce damage by 3d6 points.

3 charges: Reduce damage by 4d6 points.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, greater dispel magic.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

SPHERE OF AWAKENING

Price (Item Level): 1,800 gp (5th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) abjuration

Activation: Swift (mental)

Weight: 1 lb.

This fist-sized sphere of crystal is perfectly clear.

A sphere of awakening allows you to silently rouse your allies from slumber, even if magically created.

When you activate the sphere, all allies in a 60-foot-radius burst are immediately awakened from sleep (whether mundane or magical in origin).

In addition, any fatigue or exhaustion affecting you and those allies immediately ends.

Furthermore, you and all affected allies gain immunity to fatigue, exhaustion, and sleep effects for 10 minutes after the sphere is activated.

A sphere of awakening functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, break enchantment.

Cost to Create: 900 gp, 72 XP, 2 days.

SPOOL OF ENDLESS ROPE

Price (Item Level): 1,400 gp (5th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) conjuration

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

This spool of silk rope comes with a belt loop so that it can be hung conveniently at the user's side.

A spool of endless rope holds an unlimited amount of the finest silk rope.

To use a spool of endless rope, you feed out as little or as much rope as desired, up to a maximum of 500 feet at any one time.

When you are finished with the rope, you can simply wind it back onto the spool.

(Feeding out or rewinding requires 1 full-round action per 50 feet of rope).

The rope can't be entirely separated from the spool, though it can be cut or broken like a normal silk rope.

Any portion of rope cut away from the spool disappears instantly.

Rope from a spool of endless rope can be spliced or knotted together with another rope (including one from a second spool of endless rope), but it can't be wound back into the spool while so attached.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's secret chest.

Cost to Create: 700 gp, 56 XP, 2 days.

STEADFAST BOOTS

Price (Item Level): 1,400 gp (5th)

Body Slot: Feet

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

These thick, heavy boots are reinforced with iron along the sole.

Steadfast boots help keep you on your feet.

You gain a +4 bonus on checks made to avoid being bull rushed, overrun, or tripped.

Furthermore, as long as you carry a two-handed weapon, you are treated as if you had readied that weapon against any creature that charges you (and thus it deals double damage if your attack is successful), even if the weapon can't normally be set against a charge.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength.

Cost to Create: 700 gp, 56 XP, 2 days.

STENCH STONE

Price (Item Level): 300 gp (2nd)

Body Slot: — (held); see text

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) necromancy

Activation: Standard (thrown) or — (ammunition)

Weight: —

This stone reeks of rotting meat.

A stench stone nauseates its target and sickens those nearby.

The stone must be thrown (range increment 10 feet) or hurled from a sling (using that weapon's normal range increment) as a ranged attack.

If the stone strikes its target, it deals no damage but bursts into a cloud of noxious vapor.

If a stench stone misses its target, it is consumed without effect.

Any living creature struck by a stench stone becomes nauseated for 1 round (Fort DC 13 negates).

Regardless of the success or failure of the save, the target exudes a stench for 3 rounds that causes all creatures within 10 feet of it to be sickened for the remaining duration of the stench (Fort DC 13 negates).

Creatures immune to poison are unaffected by stench stones; any effect that neutralizes or delays poison also protects against the effect.

Once activated, this item is expended and cannot be used again.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, ghoul touch.

Cost to Create: 150 gp, 12 XP, 1 day.

STORM GAUNTLETS

Price (Item Level): 10,604 gp (13th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) evocation

Activation: — and standard (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

Ribbons of electricity crackle over these gleaming, blue-tinged metal gauntlets.

Jagged white bolts arc between the pair, filling the air with the scent of ozone.

When worn together, this pair of +1 spiked gauntlets grants you resistance to electricity 5.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

In addition, storm gauntlets have 4 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges allows you to generate a number of electricity-based effects.

1 charge: shocking grasp.

2 charges: lightning bolt (Reflex DC 14 half).

4 charges: electric spheres.

These act like flaming spheres, except that you create four spheres of crackling electricity.

You can direct any or all of the spheres with the same action.

Multiple spheres directed at the same creature deal damage separately (Reflex DC 13 half).

These spheres deal electric damage.

Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, shocking grasp, lightning bolt.

Cost to Create: 5,000 gp (plus 604 gp for two masterwork gauntlets), 400 XP, 10 days.

STRAND OF ACID PEARLS

Price (Item Level): 10,700 gp (13th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) conjuration

Activation: Standard (thrown)

Weight: 1 lb.

Seven green pearls stud this silver chain.

One is large, and the others are in three progressively smaller pairs.

The stones slosh as though filled with liquid.

Each of the seven pearls on this chain can be detached and thrown up to 50 feet.

When a pearl strikes its destination, it explodes into a 20-foot-radius, 20-foot-high, cylinder-shaped cloud of acid centered on the end point.

This cloud deals acid damage to any creature in the area (Reflex DC 19 half).

A strand of acid pearls has four different sizes of pearls, each of which deals a different amount of acid damage.

The two smallest each deal 3d6 points of damage, each of the next larger pair deals 5d6 points of damage, each of the next larger pair deals 7d6 points of damage, and the largest pearl deals 9d6 points of damage.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, acid storm (SC 7).

Cost to Create: 5,350 gp, 428 XP, 11 days.

STRAND OF LIGHTNING

Price (Item Level): 4,350 gp (9th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) evocation

Activation: Standard (thrown)

Weight: 1 lb.

Seven coils of brightly polished copper wire dangle from this strand of interwoven silver and copper threads.

Each of the seven coils on this chain can be detached and thrown.

When thrown, a coil explodes into a 30-foot line of lightning originating from you.

Each creature in the area takes electricity damage based on the size of the coil (Reflex DC 14 half).

Each of the four smallest coils deals 3d6 points of damage.

The next larger two each deal 5d6 damage, and the largest coil deals 7d6 points of damage.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, lightning bolt.

Cost to Create: 2,175 gp, 174 XP, 5 days.

STRONGARM BRACERS

Price (Item Level): 6,000 gp (10th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

These flexible, blue-green leather armbands are covered with gold studs.

When wearing strongarm bracers, you can wield weapons as if you were one size category larger than normal.

(You don't take any penalty when using weapons as normal for your size).

For example, a human wearing these bracers could wield Large or Medium weapons without penalty.

The effect of these bracers doesn't stack with the powerful build trait (such as that possessed by the half-giant and goliath races).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, enlarge person.

Cost to Create: 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days.

STUNNING SPIKE

Price (Item Level): 9,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 13th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) enchantment

Activation: Standard (manipulation)

Weight: 1/2 lb.

This bronze spike sparks with static electricity.

A stunning spike becomes invisible 1 round after you plant it firmly in the ground.

Thereafter, as soon as any creature comes within 10 feet of it, the spike bursts into fragments, stunning all creatures in a 20-foot radius for 1 round (Will DC 20 negates).

This effect destroys the spike.

During the round that a stunning spike remains visible after being planted, any creature can safely remove it from the ground (a standard action) to render it harmless and ready for reuse.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, symbol of stunning.

Cost to Create: 4,500 gp, 360 XP, 9 days.

SUMMONER'S TOTEM

Price (Item Level): 3,100 gp (8th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) conjuration

Activation: —; see text

Weight: 2 lb.

This crudely carved, foot-long wooden rod bears a vaguely animal visage at its head.

A boon for those who magically conjure animals to aid them in combat, a summoner's totem allows instantaneous enhancement of your summoned allies.

When you summon a single animal using a summon nature's ally spell, you can cast another spell targeting the summoned creature as a swift action.

The second spell must be no higher than 3rd level, it must target the summoned creature (and only the summoned creature), its casting time must be no longer than 1 standard action, and it expends the spell or spell slot as normal.

For example, immediately after summoning a brown bear with summon nature's ally IV, you could cast bull's strength upon that bear as a swift action (as long as you were adjacent to the bear).

You couldn't use the totem to cast obscuring mist (since that spell doesn't target the bear).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, speak with animals, summon nature's ally II.

Cost to Create: 1,550 gp, 124 XP, 4 days.

SURCOAT OF VALOR

Price (Item Level): 4,000 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Torso

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

This is a fine blue linen surcoat, with gold and white trim and a golden dragon rampant emblazoned on the chest.

If you are a knight (PH2 24), a surcoat of valor grants you various benefits associated with your challenge ability. You can increase the save DC of your knight's challenge by 1.

If you also wear a magic item that provides a bonus on Will saves (or on all saves), the duration of your knight's challenge increases by 1 round.

Despite the described appearance, a surcoat automatically changes its colors and image to match your official symbol or heraldry.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, eagle's splendor.

Cost to Create: 2,000 gp, 160 XP, 4 days.

SURGE CRYSTAL

Price (Item Level): 18,000 (14th)

Body Slot: Head

Caster Level: 10th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

This leather band holds an indigo crystal that pulses with a vibrant radiance.

A surge crystal allows you to exceed your normal manifesting limits briefly.

A crystal has 5 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges increases your manifester level for the next psionic power you manifest in that round.

The manifester level boost gives you the ability to augment the power to a higher degree than you otherwise could; however, you must still pay the extra power point cost for this augmentation.

1 charge: +1 manifester level.

3 charges: +2 manifester level.

5 charges: +3 manifester level.

The benefit from a surge crystal doesn't stack with wild surge or the Overchannel feat.

A surge crystal can be activated only after being worn continuously for 24 hours.

If it is taken off, it becomes inactive until it is again donned and worn for a full 24 hours.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wild surge (EPH 31) or Overchannel feat.

Cost to Create: 9,000 gp, 648 XP, 18 days.

SURVIVAL POUCH

Price (Item Level): 3,300 gp (8th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) conjuration

Activation: Standard (manipulation)

Weight: 5 lb.

This pouch looks like it's seen its share of rough use.

It is tattered and stained from use in the wild.

Five times per day, you can reach into a survival pouch and retrieve your choice of one of the following items.

You can draw out the same item five times in one day, draw out five different items, or produce any combination of up to five items.

Each item lasts for 8 hours or until indicated below, whichever comes first.

- Trail rations for one Medium creature for one day.

- Two gallons of water stored in a waterskin.

The waterskin disappears if it is emptied completely.

- A tent and two bedrolls sized for Medium creatures.

- A 50-foot coil of hempen rope.

- A shovel.

- A campfire (about 2 feet square).

The fire can be left to burn, or it can be pulled apart to produce eight lit torches.

Each removed torch lasts for 1 hour and reduces the remaining burning time of the campfire by 1 hour.

If the fire is extinguished, the unburnt portion vanishes.

- A composite shortbow (+1 Str bonus) and a quiver of 20 arrows.

The bow disappears 1 round after the last arrow has been drawn from the quiver.

- A mule with bit, bridle, saddle, and saddlebags (treat as a summoned creature, except that it will not fight for you).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, major creation.

Cost to Create: 1,650 gp, 132 XP, 4 days.

SYMBOL OF TRANSFIGURATION

Price (Item Level): 500 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

This holy symbol is warm and radiates a sense of peace and security, as if an angel had been wearing it close to her heart. Many good-aligned religions have some especially well-wrought holy symbols that are actually symbols of transfiguration.

Three times per day, a symbol of transfiguration allows you to produce a purify food and drink effect.

Once per day, you can use align weapon (good only) on any weapon you hold, though the duration is only 1 round.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, align weapon, purify food and drink.

Cost to Create: 250 gp, 20 XP, 1 day.

TALISMAN OF THE DISK

Price (Item Level): 500 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: —

This convex lens of crystal dangles from a chain carved from blue glass.

Activating a talisman of the disk creates a Tenser's floating disk (PH 294).

The disk can hold 300 pounds and lasts for up to 3 hours (or until dismissed with another standard action).

The disk's maximum range from you is 30 feet.

If you are also wearing a magic item that provides an enhancement bonus to Strength, the disk's carrying capacity increases by 100 pounds per point of bonus granted by the item.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength, Tenser's floating disk.

Cost to Create: 250 gp, 20 XP, 1 day.

TALISMAN OF UNDEAD MASTERY

Price (Item Level): 3,000 gp (7th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) necromancy

Activation: Swift (mental)

Weight: —

This tarnished silver skull fits comfortably in a human hand.

A talisman of undead mastery benefits any character capable of either turning or rebuking undead.

The talisman has 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges increases your effective cleric level for the purpose of a single turn or rebuke undead check, which must be made before the end of your turn.

1 charge: Increase effective turning level by 2.

2 charges: Increase effective turning level by 3.

3 charges: Increase effective turning level by 4.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, command undead.

Cost to Create: 1,500 gp, 120 XP, 3 days.

TALISMAN OF UNDYING FORTITUDE

Price (Item Level): 8,000 gp (11th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 15th

Aura: Strong; (DC 22) necromancy

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

This plum-sized skull carved from silver is tarnished black.

A talisman of undying fortitude allows you to take on some of the physical qualities of undead.

When you activate the talisman, you gain immunity to poison, sleep effects, paralysis, stunning, disease, death effects, critical hits, nonlethal damage, physical ability damage, ability drain, energy drain, fatigue, exhaustion, death from massive damage, and any effect that requires a Fortitude save.

Also, you do not need to breathe.

This effect lasts for 3 rounds.

A talisman of undying fortitude functions two times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, veil of undeath (SC 229).

Cost to Create: 4,000 gp, 320 XP, 8 days.

TANGLEPATCH

Price (Item Level): 200 gp (2nd)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: Standard (thrown)

Weight: 1 lb.

Vines, creeping ivy, and gnarled roots knot together to form this dense tangle of vegetation.

To use a tanglepatch, you must throw it (it can be thrown up to 50 feet).

When it lands, it creates an entangle effect (as the spell) centered on the point of impact, with a duration of 5 rounds.

Once activated, a tanglepatch is expended and cannot be used again.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, entangle.

Cost to Create: 100 gp, 8 XP, 1 day.

THIRD EYES

This small hemispherical crystal has a wide, flat facet on one side and a multifaceted dome shape on the other.

It sparkles with an inner gleam.

When you issue the proper command thought (a standard action) to a third eye, it adheres to the center of your forehead (the same command causes the item to disengage).

Some third eyes function continuously when worn, while others require activation.

AWARE

Price (Item Level): 10,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) divination
Activation: —
Weight: —
This crystal glows with a pale, faint blue light.
This crystal continually grants you a +10 competence bonus on Spot checks.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Spot 10 ranks.
Cost to Create: 5,000 gp, 400 XP, 10 days.

CLARITY

Price (Item Level): 3,000 gp (7th)
Body Slot: Face
Caster Level: 7th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) conjuration
Activation: Immediate (mental)
Weight: —
This crystal is so clear that it is difficult to see.
You can activate this crystal to negate any one of the following conditions affecting you: confused, dazed, fascinated, or stunned.
You can activate the eye in response to an effect that would impose one of these conditions (for instance, after failing your save against a monk's Stunning Fist attack but before the stun takes effect).
This ability functions once per day.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, panacea (SC 152).
Cost to Create: 1,500 gp, 120 XP, 3 days.

CONCEAL

Price (Item Level): 120,000 gp (21st)
Body Slot: Face
Caster Level: 15th
Aura: Strong; (DC 22) enchantment
Activation: —
Weight: —
A bright white light shines from the heart of this crystal, seeming to offer the promise of protection.
A third eye conceal protects you from view by all devices, spells, or powers that detect, influence, or read emotions or thoughts, as well as those with mind-affecting or scrying descriptors.
It even foils bend reality, limited wish, miracle, reality revision, and wish when they are used to affect your mind or to gain information about you (however, metafaculty can pierce the protective quality).
In the case of arcane eye, remote viewing, or a scrying spell used to scan an area you are in, the effect works but you simply aren't detected.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, mind blank or psionic mind blank (EPH 119).
Cost to Create: 60,000 gp, 4,800 XP, 120 days.

CONCENTRATE

Price (Item Level): 10,000 gp (12th)
Body Slot: Face
Caster Level: 7th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation
Activation: —
Weight: —
Glowing with a faint magenta light, this crystal draws your eyes into its limitless depths.

This crystal grants you a +10 competence bonus on Concentration checks.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Concentration 10 ranks.
Cost to Create: 5,000 gp, 400 XP, 10 days.

DAMPENING

Price (Item Level): 2,500 gp (7th)
Body Slot: Face
Caster Level: 3rd
Aura: Faint; (DC 16) abjuration
Activation: Immediate (mental)
Weight: —
This matte black crystal seems to absorb any ambient light, rather than reflect or refract it.
You can activate a third eye dampening to reduce all variable numeric effects of the next power, psi-like ability, spell, or spell-like ability that affects you to the minimum value (if this power or spell would affect multiple creatures, only you are protected).
This protection lasts until the end of your next turn.
This ability functions once per day.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dispel magic or damp power (CP 82)
Cost to Create: 1,250 gp, 100 XP, 3 days.

DOMINATE

Price (Item Level): 120,000 gp (21st)
Body Slot: Face
Caster Level: 17th
Aura: Strong; (DC 23) enchantment
Activation: Standard (mental)
Weight: —
This yellow, gleaming crystal pulses with hypnotic power.
A third eye dominate allows you to use dominate monster (as the spell) once per day on any creature within 60 feet (Will DC 23 negates).
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dominate monster or psionic dominate (EPH 96).
Cost to Create: 60,000 gp, 4,800 XP, 120 days.

EXPOSE

Price (Item Level): 2,500 gp (7th)
Body Slot: Face
Caster Level: 15th
Aura: Strong; (DC 22) transmutation
Activation: —
Weight: —
Emitting a white glow, this crystal seems to shed light into the deepest shadows.
This crystal grants you a +5 competence bonus on Sense Motive checks.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Sense Motive 5 ranks.
Cost to Create: 1,250 gp, 100 XP, 3 days.

FREEDOM

Price (Item Level): 2,600 gp (7th)
Body Slot: Face
Caster Level: 7th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) abjuration
Activation: Immediate (mental)
Weight: —
This crystal flickers rapidly through a range of reddish hues.

You can activate a third eye freedom to trigger a freedom of movement effect lasting for 1 round. Since this ability suppresses only the effect hindering your movement, you must either find some other method of removing or eliminating the effect, or it will resume after the duration ends. This ability functions once per day. Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, freedom of movement. Cost to Create: 1,300 gp, 104 XP, 3 days.

GATHER

Price (Item Level): 10,000 gp (12th)
Body Slot: Face
Caster Level: 7th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) divination
Activation: —
Weight: —
This crystal beams with a deep blue light.
This crystal grants you a +10 competence bonus on Gather Information checks. Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Gather Information 10 ranks. Cost to Create: 5,000 gp, 400 XP, 10 days.

IMPROVISATION

Price (Item Level): 1,000 gp (4th)
Body Slot: Face
Caster Level: 5th
Aura: Faint; (DC 17) divination
Activation: Swift (mental)
Weight: —
This crystal flickers from one color to the next in the blink of an eye.
You can activate this crystal to gain a +5 competence bonus on a single skill check for a skill in which you have no ranks. You are treated as being trained in the skill for the purpose of making this check. You must begin the check before the end of your turn to gain this benefit, and the check must be completed within 10 minutes. You can't take 20 on this check (though you can take 10). This ability functions once per day. Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, guidance. Cost to Create: 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day.

PENETRATE

Price (Item Level): 8,000 gp (11th)
Body Slot: Face
Caster Level: 15th
Aura: Strong; (DC 22) no school
Activation: —
Weight: —
This crystal glows with a piercing sapphire light.
A third eye penetrate grants you a +2 bonus on caster level checks to overcome a creature's spell resistance. Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, limited wish or bend reality (EPH 80). Cost to Create: 4,000 gp, 320 XP, 8 days.

POWERTHIEVE

Price (Item Level): 10,000 gp (12th)
Body Slot: Face
Caster Level: 7th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) enchantment
Activation: Standard (mental)
Weight: —
This clear crystal features a faintly glowing emerald-green heart.
A third eye powerthieve allows you to borrow one power from a psionic target within 40 feet once per day. If the target fails a DC 16 Will save, it instantly loses one power of your choice, and you instantly gain temporary knowledge of that power. You can manifest the borrowed power normally if you have sufficient power points to pay its cost. You retain knowledge of the power for up to 70 minutes, at which time you lose knowledge of the power and the former owner regains it, regardless of distance. If the former owner is dead, you still lose the borrowed power. Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dominate person or thieving mindlink (EPH 121). Cost to Create: 5,000 gp, 400 XP, 10 days.

REPUDIATE

Price (Item Level): 15,000 gp (14th)
Body Slot: Face
Caster Level: 10th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 25) abjuration
Activation: Immediate (mental)
Weight: —
This crystal emits a powerful azure light.
A third eye repudiate allows you to use dispel magic (as the spell) once per day. Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dispel magic or dispel psionics (EPH 94). Cost to Create: 7,500 gp, 600 XP, 15 days.

SENSE

Price (Item Level): 24,000 gp (15th)
Body Slot: Face
Caster Level: 3rd
Aura: Faint; (DC 16) divination
Activation: Standard (mental)
Weight: —
This bright orange crystal emits a steady inner glow.
At will, you can activate this crystal to see and hear a distant location. Line of sight or line of effect is not necessary, but the locale must be a place familiar to you or an obvious one, such as behind a door, around a corner, or in a grove of trees. Once the locale has been selected, the focus of your sight does not move, but can be rotated in all directions to view the area as desired. Psionically, magically, or supernaturally enhanced senses cannot be used through this item. If the chosen locale is shrouded in magical or psionic darkness, you see nothing. If it is naturally pitch black, you can see in a 10-foot radius around the center of the effect or out to the extent of your darkvision. This effect does not work across planes.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, scrying or clairvoyant sense (EPH 83).

Cost to Create: 12,000 gp, 960 XP, 24 days.

SURGE

Price (Item Level): 2,100 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Face

Caster Level: 13th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

A pulsing green glow shines from this crystal.

A third eye surge has 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges grants you an insight bonus on Strength checks, Dexterity checks, Strength- and Dexterity-based skill checks, and weapon damage rolls for 1 round.

1 charge: +2 insight bonus.

2 charges: +3 insight bonus.

3 charges: +4 insight bonus.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, true strike or adrenaline boost (CP 78).

Cost to Create: 1,050 gp, 84 XP, 3 days.

THORN POUCH

Price (Item Level): 4,400 (9th)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) conjuration

Activation: Swift (manipulation)

Weight: 1 lb.

This greenish sack is sticky with sap.

A thorn pouch allows you to bring forth several types of magical plant effects for offensive and defensive purposes. A pouch has 5 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges when you place your hand within the bag allows you to draw forth a single thorn that has one of the following effects (each as the spell of the same name, but with a duration of 9 rounds): 1 charge:

Entangle.

3 charges: Spike growth.

5 charges: Wall of thorns.

To use a thorn after drawing it forth, you drop it into your own space or any adjacent square (a free action).

After 1 round, the thorn produces the desired effect.

If you don't drop a thorn within 1 round after drawing it, it disappears with no effect.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, entangle, spike growth, wall of thorns.

Cost to Create: 2,200 gp, 176 XP, 5 days.

TOME OF WORLDLY MEMORY

Price (Item Level): 1,500 gp (5th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: 1 minute or 1 standard action; see text

Weight: 1 lb.

This small book is bound in hammered silver and engraved with the continents of the world.

A tome of worldly memory allows you to call upon the secret memories of the world to aid you in unlocking forgotten knowledge.

By studying the book for 1 minute, you gain a +5 competence bonus on a single Knowledge check.

The tome functions three times per day.

If you have at least 5 ranks in the Knowledge skill in question, you need only peruse the book as a standard action to gain its benefit.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fox's cunning.

Cost to Create: 750 gp, 60 XP, 2 days.

TOMEBOUND EYE OF BOCCOB

Price (Item Level): 7,000 gp (11th)

Body Slot: —

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) enchantment

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: —

The watchful Eye of the Uncaring One stares out from this seal.

When affixed to a wizard's spellbook, this seal provides a focus for arcane energy.

A tomebound eye of Boccob has 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn.

Spending 1 or more charges when you prepare your wizard spells from a spellbook to which a tomebound eye is attached grants one or more spells a competence bonus on caster level checks to overcome a target's spell resistance.

1 charge: Gain a +4 competence bonus on your caster level check to overcome spell resistance.

2 charges: Gain a +6 competence bonus on your caster level check to overcome spell resistance.

3 charges: Gain a +8 competence bonus on your caster level check to overcome spell resistance.

You can divide the 3 charges between spells, or spend all three to enhance a single spell.

For example, you could grant three spells each a +4 bonus, one spell a +6 bonus and another a +4 bonus, or a single spell a +8 bonus.

No spellbook can have more than one of these items affixed to it, and you can't gain benefits from more than one eye in a given day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, ability to prepare 3rd-level arcane spells.

Cost to Create: 3,500 gp, 280 XP, 7 days.

TORC OF DISPLACEMENT

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) illusion

Activation: Immediate (mental)

Weight: —

This glass torc is partially silvered.

From some angles it is perfectly transparent; from others it reflects like a mirror.

A torc of displacement allows you to temporarily shift your image slightly away from your current location.

A torc has 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn. Spending 1 or more charges grants you concealment for 1 round.

The effectiveness of this concealment (the miss chance provided) varies depending on the number of charges spent.

1 charge: 20% miss chance.

2 charges: 30% miss chance.

3 charges: 40% miss chance.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, displacement.

Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

TORC OF HEROIC SACRIFICE

Price (Item Level): 6,000 gp (10th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 13th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) enchantment

Activation: Immediate (command)

Weight: —

This jet-black torc is crafted in the form of two clasped hands.

A torc of heroic sacrifice allows you to take an injury meant for your ally.

When you activate this torc, you take all the damage dealt to a single ally by a single attack or effect that has just occurred.

The damage dealt to you has no type, and therefore ignores any energy resistance, damage reduction, or immunities you might have.

The ally must be within 30 feet, and you must have line of sight to that ally.

This ability functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, greater heroism.

Cost to Create: 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days.

TORC OF POWER PRESERVATION

Price (Item Level): 4,000 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 15th

Aura: Strong; (DC 22) no school

Activation: —

Weight: —

This copper neck band is inlaid with gold, silver, and platinum.

The inlays take the form of a dragon writhing across the surface of the torc.

Five times per day, you can manifest a power by paying power points equal to the standard cost minus 1 (minimum 1).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, limited wish or bend reality (EPH 80).

Cost to Create: 2,000 gp, 160 XP, 4 days.

TORC OF THE TITANS

Price (Item Level): 3,300 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

Dramatic, but simple, images of clouds and lightning bolts cover this thick, golden neck ring.

When you activate a torc of the titans, you gain a +5 morale bonus on Strength checks, Strength-based skill checks, and melee weapon damage rolls for 1 round.

This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength.

Cost to Create: 1,650 gp, 132 XP, 4 days.

TOXIC GLOVES

Price (Item Level): 6,000 gp (10th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) necromancy

Activation: Swift (mental)

Weight: —

These smooth black leather gloves feel slightly sticky to the touch.

Toxic gloves allow you to imbue a held weapon with poison without any risk to yourself.

When you activate these gloves, choose a single melee weapon you hold.

The next attack made with that weapon before the end of your turn also poisons the target (injury; 1d6 Con/1d6 Con; Fort DC 16 negates).

This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, poison.

Cost to Create: 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days.

TRANSPOSER CLOAK

Price (Item Level): 6,000 gp (10th)

Body Slot: Shoulders

Caster Level: 12th

Aura: Strong; (DC 21) conjuration

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

This cloak is divided diagonally into two colors.

The upper portion is pure white, while the lower is black as night.

A transposer cloak allows you to switch positions with another creature.

When you activate this cloak, you and any one creature within 30 feet swap positions.

Both you and the target must occupy the same size of space on the battlefield (for instance, a human could swap places with a dwarf or a goblin, but not with an ogre or a cat).

If the other creature is unwilling to trade positions, it is allowed a DC 13 Will save to negate the effect.

Each creature can bring along objects weighing up to its maximum load, but additional creatures can't be brought along.

This ability functions three times per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, baleful transposition (SC 23).

Cost to Create: 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days.

TROLL GUT ROPE

Price (Item Level): 500 gp (3rd)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 7th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) conjuration

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: 7 lb.

One end of this pile of pungent-smelling intestines has been tied with an intricate knot.

Once per day, you can command this 50-foot rope to grow up to 350 feet in length.

Any length beyond the original 50 feet decays to nothingness after 12 hours.

If the large knot on one end is ever untied or cut open, the rope's magic is destroyed.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, minor creation.

Cost to Create: 250 gp, 20 XP, 1 day.

TRUE STRIKE GAUNTLETS

Price (Item Level): 3,500 gp (8th)

Body Slot: Hands

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) divination

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: —

These supple leather gauntlets are dyed the color of ivory.

When you activate true strike gauntlets, you gain a +20 insight bonus on the next attack you make before the end of your next turn.

This ability functions once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, true strike.

Cost to Create: 1,750 gp, 140 XP, 4 days.

TRUELIGHT LANTERN

Price (Item Level): 36,000 gp (17th)

Body Slot: — (held)

Caster Level: 11th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) divination

Activation: — and standard (command)

Weight: 3 lb.

This lantern is elaborately crafted from flame-touched iron, burnished to a silvery hue.

A continuous, translucent white flame flickers within, though it sheds no heat.

A truelight lantern continually emanates bright light as a continual flame spell.

Its true power can be activated by speaking the word "reveal" in Celestial.

Once it is activated, a truelight lantern provides bright illumination in a 60-foot cone and shadowy illumination for another 60 feet beyond that.

Everything within the 60-foot cone of bright illumination can be seen as if all viewers were under the effect of a true seeing spell.

This effect lasts for 10 minutes.

A truelight lantern can normally be activated once per day, but can be activated additional times if a true seeing spell is cast into it (overriding the normal targeting restriction of the spell).

Each casting of true seeing allows a lantern to be activated one more time per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, true seeing.

Cost to Create: 18,000 gp, 1,440 XP, 36 days.

TUNIC OF STEADY SPELLCASTING

Price (Item Level): 2,500 gp (7th)

Body Slot: Torso

Caster Level: 3rd

Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

This earth-colored tunic is sturdy, though the material is as soft as silk.

Around the neck, wrists, and hem are runes of stability stitched in gold thread.

You gain a +5 competence bonus on Concentration checks. Despite the name, the tunic's bonus applies on all Concentration checks, not just those made to cast spells.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bear's endurance.

Cost to Create: 1,250 gp, 100 XP, 3 days.

UNICORN PENDANT

Price (Item Level): 6,000 gp (10th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 10th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) conjuration

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

A marble unicorn's head with a horn of gold has been sculpted onto the face of this pendant.

A unicorn pendant has two abilities, each of which can be activated once per day: cure moderate wounds (2d8+10 points of damage) and neutralize poison.

In addition, if you are a paladin wearing a unicorn pendant, you treat your Charisma as 4 points higher than normal for the purpose of your lay on hands ability.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cure moderate wounds, neutralize poison.

Cost to Create: 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days.

VAMBRACES OF WARDING

Price (Item Level): 8,000 gp (11th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) abjuration

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

These golden bracers are engraved with holy sigils.

Vambraces of warding fit snugly over the arms of any creature that dons them.

A good-aligned wearer gains a +2 sacred bonus to AC against ranged attacks.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, protection from arrows.

Cost to Create: 4,000 gp, 320 XP, 8 days.

VAMPIRE TORC

Price (Item Level): 5,000 gp (9th)

Body Slot: Throat

Caster Level: 5th

Aura: Faint; (DC 17) necromancy

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: —

This black iron torc bears a ruby that seems to weep tears of blood.

A vampire torc allows you to heal your own wounds when you deal damage to an enemy.

When you activate this torc, the next successful melee attack you make before the end of your turn also heals you of an amount of damage equal to half the damage your attack dealt.

This ability functions equally well regardless of your creature type.

If you don't deal damage with a melee attack before the end of your turn, that activation of the torc is wasted.

This ability functions two times per day.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, vampiric touch.
Cost to Create: 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days.

VANGUARD TREADS

Price (Item Level): 3,100 gp (8th)
Body Slot: Feet
Caster Level: 3rd
Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation
Activation: —
Weight: 2 lb.
These massive boots have spiked, treaded soles and look large enough to fit a heavily armored ogre. A row of inset amethysts runs around the top cuff. Vanguard treads provide you with superior traction and stability, which provides the following effects:

- You can move through difficult terrain (such as rubble, undergrowth, steep slopes, stairs, or snow) at normal speed and without suffering any other impairment.
- You are unaffected by slippery ice, wet stones, or other surfaces where traction is a problem.
- You gain a +8 bonus on attempts to resist bull rushes and a +4 bonus on grapple checks to resist a grapple attempt if that grapple would move you into another square.

Areas that have been magically manipulated to impede movement (such as by an entangle spell) still affect you, as do water, quicksand, and other nonsolid surfaces. You still have to slow down for narrow paths requiring Balance checks and for surfaces steep enough to require Climb checks. If the terrain deals damage (such as the burning ground on the Elemental Plane of Fire), you still take that damage. The massive spikes and treads on the soles of vanguard treads leave a distinctive trail. Anyone following you gains a +10 circumstance bonus on Survival and Search checks made to track you. Lore: Ancient giants made the first vanguard treads to aid their scouts in navigating difficult terrain and hazards (Knowledge [arcana] DC 15).
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, spider climb.
Cost to Create: 1,550 gp, 124 XP, 4 days.

VANISHER CLOAK

Price (Item Level): 2,500 gp (7th)
Body Slot: Shoulders
Caster Level: 3rd
Aura: Faint; (DC 16) illusion
Activation: Standard (mental)
Weight: 1 lb.
This silk cloak is seamless—a single sheet of gossamer, gray fabric. A vanisher cloak allows you and nearby allies to briefly disappear from sight. A cloak has 3 charges, which are renewed each day at dawn. Spending 1 or more charges turns you (and perhaps one or more allies) invisible, as the invisibility spell, for 1 or more rounds.

1 charge: You become invisible for 4 rounds.
2 charges: You and one adjacent ally become invisible for 3 rounds.
3 charges: You and up to three adjacent allies become invisible for 2 rounds.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, invisibility.

Cost to Create: 1,250 gp, 100 XP, 3 days.

VEIL OF ALLURE

Price (Item Level): 14,000 gp (14th)
Body Slot: Face
Caster Level: 5th
Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation
Activation: —
Weight: —
Dyed in swirls of pink and purple, this semitransparent veil looks like the garb of a sultan's harem dancer. A veil of allure increases the save DC of your enchantment spells or spell-like abilities, as well as the Charisma-based save DCs of your extraordinary or supernatural abilities, by 2.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, eagle's splendor.
Cost to Create: 7,000 gp, 560 XP, 14 days.

VEST OF DEFENSE

Price (Item Level): 2,000 gp (6th)
Body Slot: Torso
Caster Level: 3rd
Aura: Faint; (DC 16) transmutation
Activation: Swift (command)
Weight: 1 lb.
This snug-fitting vest is crafted from the skin of a huge tan-and-black snake. A vest of defense improves your ability to dodge attacks. When activated, this vest improves the dodge bonus to AC granted by fighting defensively, the total defense action, or the Combat Expertise feat by 2. Using more than one of these techniques doesn't provide more than a +2 bonus. This bonus lasts for 1 round. This ability functions three times per day.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cat's grace.
Cost to Create: 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

VEST OF RESISTANCE

Price (Item Level): 1,000 gp (4th) (+1); 4,000 (8th) (+2); 9,000 (12th) (+3); 16,000 (14th) (+4); 25,000 (15th) (+5)
Body Slot: Torso
Caster Level: 10th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) abjuration
Activation: —
Weight: 1 lb.
This elegantly styled white leather vest is edged in silver piping and has silver buttons. A vest of resistance offers magical protection in the form of a +1 to +5 resistance bonus on saving throws.
Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, resistance.
Cost to Create: 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day (+1); 2,000 gp, 160 XP, 4 days (+2); 4,500 gp, 360 XP, 9 days (+3); 8,000 gp, 640 XP, 16 days (+4); 12,500 gp, 1,000 XP, 25 days (+5).

VEST OF THE ARCHMAGI

Price (Item Level): 200,000 gp (25th)
Body Slot: Torso
Caster Level: 20th
Aura: Strong; (DC 25) no school

Activation: — and swift (command)

Weight: 2 lb.

This gold-brocaded, burgundy garment seems fit to be worn by the gods themselves.

The vest of the archmagi is legendary.

It fills the dreams of every apprentice sent to clean the inkpots and dust the tomes, but rumors of this item are unfounded.

Whispering in the bunkrooms of the Academy at night, after the oil lamps are quenched and curfew has long passed, eager apprentices claim that a vest of the archmagi provides its wearer with continuous defensive bonuses equivalent to the most potent bracers of armor (+8 armor bonus to AC) and cloak of resistance (+5 resistance bonus on saving throws).

It is also said that the vest provides its wearer with the continuous ability to overcome the magical defenses of her enemies (+2 enhancement bonus on caster level checks made to overcome spell resistance), and that it allows him to recall up to three arcane spells that he had previously prepared and cast (as a pearl of power, except that it can be used for any spell up to 9th level and activating it requires only a swift action).

Finally, it is suggested, the wearer of the vest of the archmagi could expend a prepared arcane spell or spell slot to heal himself of damage equal to five times the level of the spell so expended.

This act requires but a moment's thought (a swift action), and can be repeated as often as desired throughout the day. Sadly, these stories obviously have no basis in reality, for such an item would undoubtedly be prized above all others by any mage with the resources to craft one.

Of course, as a thing of myth, the vest of the archmagi can't be created.

But if it could, it might possibly have the following prerequisites and costs.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wish.

Cost to Create: 100,000 gp, 8,000 XP, 200 days.

VEST OF THE MASTER EVOKER

Price (Item Level): 10,000 gp (12th)

Body Slot: Torso

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) evocation

Activation: Swift (command)

Weight: 2 lb.

This black silk vest is heavy with moonstone and jacinth beadwork sewn into arcane patterns on the back.

Crackling with power, a vest of the master evoker intensifies arcane evocation spells you cast.

Many an ambitious evoker sees gaining this vest as a rite of passage, much like casting his first magic missile or fireball, and among elite warmages (CAr 10) it serves as an unparalleled status symbol.

Three times per day, you can activate the vest to enhance the next arcane evocation spell you cast before the end of your turn.

That spell deals additional damage equal to twice its spell level, and the save DC of the spell increases by 2.

This damage is of the same type as normal for the spell (or, if the spell deals more than one type of damage, of any one of those types at your discretion).

If the spell doesn't normally deal damage, this use of the vest has no effect.

In addition, you can apply the effect of any sudden metamagic feat (CAr 83) you know to any evocation spell you cast from a wand or staff as if you were casting the spell yourself.

Doing this requires no activation, but uses up that feat's daily use as normal.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Spell Focus (evocation) or evoker, able to cast at least five evocation spells, two of which must be 5th level or higher.

Cost to Create: 5,000 gp, 400 XP, 10 days.

WAND BRACELET

Price (Item Level): 12,000 gp (13th)

Body Slot: Arms

Caster Level: 6th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) transmutation

Activation: See text

Weight: —

This golden chain bracelet has a number of small metal objects hanging from it like charms.

A wand bracelet can store up to four items, which appear as charms along the bracelet.

You can grab one of the charms from the bracelet as a swift (manipulation) action, causing it to appear in your hand.

If you have an item in hand, you can use a move (manipulation) action to store the item in the bracelet or to switch a held item for a stored item by touching the item to the charm representing the stored item.

Storing an item causes it to shrink down and appear as a charm hanging from the bracelet.

Any item stored can weigh no more than 3 pounds and must be able to be held in one hand, such as a wand or a light weapon.

Only the wearer of the bracelet is able to retrieve or store items.

Lore: The name wand bracelet describes the most common use of this item.

Originally designed to hold small keepsakes as charms, and crafted to be appropriate for formal gatherings, wand bracelets have found popularity among artificers (ECS 29) who favor spell trigger devices (Knowledge [history] DC 15).

These bracelets are also sometimes known as assassins' charms, because small weapons can easily be concealed within them (Knowledge [history] DC 20).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shrink item.

Cost to Create: 6,000 gp, 480 XP, 12 days.

WAR WIZARD CLOAK

Price (Item Level): 16,000 gp (14th)

Body Slot: Shoulders

Caster Level: 9th

Aura: Moderate; (DC 19) evocation

Activation: — and standard (command)

Weight: 1 lb.

This long black cloak has a high collar and is cut to overlap a wearer's chest and arms.

An open white palm in a circle adorns the right breast, and a rampant purple dragon rages on the left.

A war wizard cloak protects you from the elements (as endure elements) and also activates a feather fall effect on you automatically if you fall more than 5 feet.

This is a continuous effect and requires no activation. In addition, this cloak has four other abilities, each of which can be activated once per day: dimension door, mage armor, protection from arrows, and sending. Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dimension door, endure elements, feather fall, mage armor, protection from arrows, sending.
Cost to Create: 8,000 gp, 640 XP, 16 days.

WATCH LAMP

Price (Item Level): 500 gp (3rd)
Body Slot: Head
Caster Level: 1st
Aura: Faint; (DC 15) evocation
Activation: Swift (command)
Weight: —

This plain mithral headband has no distinguishing features. When activated, a watch lamp creates a globe of light that hovers at your shoulder and sheds light as a torch. The light follows you wherever you move. It can be extinguished with a second command. Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dancing lights. Cost to Create: 250 gp, 20 XP, 1 day.

WATER CLOAK

Price (Item Level): 12,000 gp (13th)
Body Slot: Shoulders
Caster Level: 10th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 20) conjuration
Activation: — and immediate (command)
Weight: 1 lb.

*This sailcloth cloak's elaborate embroidery evokes the waves of the sea. Within the pattern of the waves, a repeating swirl of thread matches the symbol writhing within the large, dark crystal shard that forms the clasp at the neck of the cloak. The cloak appears damp, and the lower edge looks as though it has been soaked in water. Despite its damp appearance, a water cloak always feels completely dry to its wearer, even in pouring rain. This cloak grants you a +5 bonus on Reflex saves against any effect that deals fire damage and allows you to avoid fire damage as if you had evasion. Whenever you make a successful Reflex saving throw against any fire effect that deals half damage on a successful save, you instead take no damage. This is a continuous effect and requires no activation. In addition, a water cloak offers two other activated abilities. Extinguish: The cloak extinguishes all nonmagical fires within 30 feet. This ability has no effect on fire creatures. It functions five times per day. Counterfire: The cloak can counter any spell with the fire descriptor (as if you were casting dispel magic). This ability functions once per day. Attempting to counter a spell that doesn't have the fire descriptor wastes the effect. Prerequisites: Bind Elemental (ECS 51) or Craft Wondrous Item, planar binding. Cost to Create: 6,000 gp, 480 XP, 12 days.*

WHITE CLOAK OF THE SPIDER

Price (Item Level): 4,200 gp (9th)
Body Slot: Shoulders
Caster Level: 6th
Aura: Moderate; (DC 18) enchantment
Activation: — and standard (command)
Weight: 1 lb.

*This white cloak looks like it was woven by a gigantic arachnid. A large gray spider is embroidered upon the back amid radiating patterns of webbing. You gain a +2 bonus on saves against poison. This is a continuous effect and requires no activation. In addition, this cloak has two other abilities, each of which can be activated once per day: spider climb and hold person. Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, hold person, resistance, spider climb. Cost to Create: 2,100 gp, 168 XP, 5 days.*

WILDING CLASP

Price (Item Level): 4,000 gp (8th)
Body Slot: —
Caster Level: 5th
Aura: Faint; (DC 17) transmutation
Activation: —
Weight: —

This 3-inch-long gold chain has a clasp on each end. A wilding clasp can be attached to any item worn on the body. When so worn, a clasp prevents the worn item from melding into your new form when you use wild shape (as long as the item could reasonably be worn by the new form). Thus, the item remains fully functional and can be used normally in your new form. Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wild shape. Cost to Create: 2,000 gp, 160 XP, 4 days.

WINK BROOCH

Price (Item Level): 600 gp (3rd)
Body Slot: Throat
Caster Level: 3rd
Aura: Faint; (DC 16) enchantment
Activation: Swift (mental)
Weight: —

*The ruby set at the head of this straight pin twinkles like the eye of a gnome with a secret. Many a diplomat wears a wink brooch to court to gain an edge in conversation. When activated, this brooch grants you a +2 competence bonus on a single Bluff or Diplomacy check attempted before the end of your turn. This ability functions three times per day. Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, charm person. Cost to Create: 300 gp, 24 XP, 1 day.*

WYRMFANG AMULET

Price (Item Level): 1,350 gp (5th)
Body Slot: Throat
Caster Level: 12th
Aura: Strong; (DC 21) transmutation

Activation: —

Weight: 1 lb.

This necklace consists of a leather thong strung with dragon's teeth.

All attacks you make with natural weapons or unarmed strikes while wearing this amulet overcome damage reduction as through they were magic weapons.

(The attacks don't gain an enhancement bonus, just the ability to overcome some creatures' damage reduction).

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, greater magic fang.

Cost to Create: 675 gp, 54 XP, 2 days.

MAGIC OF FAERÛN (3.0)

AMBER AMULET OF VERMIN

This amber nugget on a gold chain holds a normal-size vermin within its yellow depths.

When broken, it releases the vermin, which instantly grows to enormous size (as noted below) as if you had cast giant vermin upon it.

Each amulet works only once.

Roll 1d8 to determine which type of amulet is found:

Roll	Vermin	Caster Level	Market Price
1	Giant bee	7th	500 gp
2	Giant ant, queen	10th	700 gp
3	Giant praying mantis	10th	700 gp
4	Huge monstrous centipede	10th	700 gp
5	Large monstrous scorpion	10th	700 gp
6	Large monstrous spider	10th	700 gp
7	Giant wasp	13th	800 gp
8	Giant stag beetle	19th	1,200 gp

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, giant vermin; Weight: —.

AMULET OF LAERAL'S TEARS

Named for the famous sorcerer Laeral, these soft, brittle, colorless fancy stone crystals tend to be large and to keep a glossy, magnificent finish.

The witches of Rashemen use these stones to create amulets that bestow 24 temporary hit points on the wearer. The amulet must be worn next to the skin.

When the 24 temporary hit points are expended, the amulet crumbles into worthless dust.

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, aid, shield other, spellcaster 12th level; Market Price: 1,200 gp; Weight: —.

AQUAMARINE OF SPELL EXTENDING

This blue stone is mounted in the center of a gold and silver hourglass.

Once per day the owner can use the Extend Spell feat on any spell of 6th level or lower he casts.

The spell being extended uses its normal spell slot (not a slot one level higher as using the feat normally would require).

A bard or sorcerer still must pay the penalty of an extended casting time when using this item.

The item must be held in hand while the spell is cast to get this effect.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Extend Spell; Market Price: 7,200 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

ARMBAND OF MAXIMIZED HEALING

This silver armband is set with many small diamonds.

It counts as a bracer for the purpose of wearing magic items.

Once per day the wearer of this item can use the Maximize Spell feat on any conjuration (healing) spell of 6th level or lower he casts.

The spell being maximized uses its normal spell slot (not a slot three levels higher as using the feat normally would require).

A bard or sorcerer still must pay the penalty of an extended casting time when using this item.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Maximize Spell feat; Market Price: 7,200 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

ARVOREEN'S AMULET OF AID

This item is a three-inch-diameter gold disk with the holy symbol of Arvoreen inlaid in platinum.

It is a use-activated item, has six charges, and by command the wearer can use the following spells.

- Aid (1 charge)

- Dimension door (3 charges) Any evil creature wearing the amulet receives a negative level.

The negative level remains as long as the amulet is worn and disappears when it is no longer worn.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the amulet is worn.

If the wearer ever attacks a nonevil halfling, the amulet crumbles into dust.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, aid, dimension door, creator must be a good halfling; Market Price: 4,320 gp; Weight: —.

AZLAER'S HARP

When played, the harp acts as a calm emotions spell on all creatures within 100 feet.

Any charm effects upon creatures within this area are suppressed while the harp is played, and no new charm effects can be used on creatures in the area during the playing.

The strings of the harp glow with light equal to a light spell when played.

Use of this item requires at least 1 rank in Perform (harp).

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, calm emotions, light, protection from evil; Market Price: 16,000 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

BADGE OF THE SVIRFNEBLIN

This brooch is made of gray stone and studded with uncut dull gems and wrapped in tarnished metal wire.

The wearer is granted 60-foot darkvision and can use blur and change self (both self only) by command once per day.

The wearer gets a +10 circumstance bonus on all Hide checks in areas of stone.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, blur, change self, darkvision, invisibility, creator must be a svirfneblin; Market Price: 17,480 gp; Weight: —.

BAG OF BOULDERS

When found, this pouch holds 1d4 stones the size of sling bullets.

(A newly created bag has four stones).

When thrown (range increment 10 feet), a stone from the bag of boulders instantly grows to the size of a light catapult stone and inflicts 3d6 points of damage.

If the attack misses, treat it as a grenade-like weapon attack.

Once all four stones are thrown, the magic of the bag is gone.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shrink item; Market Price: 1,200 gp (new) or 300 gp per stone (partial bag); Weight: —.

BATTLE BRIDLE

This fine leather bridle aids a rider and mount, giving the rider using the bridle a +10 competence bonus on all Ride checks and allowing him to fight as if he had the Mounted Combat feat.

If the rider already has the Mounted Combat, he can act as if he had the Ride-By Attack.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Mounted Combat feat, Ride-By Attack feat, calm animals; Market Price: 9,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BEHOLDER CROWN

This bizarre item is a crown of tarnished bronze with ten metal eyestalks sprouting upward, each eyestalk bearing a gem.

It counts as a headband for the purpose of determining what items can be worn together.

The crown has ten different powers that each function only once, each use burning out one of the gems.

The powers are charm person, charm monster, disintegrate, eyebite (sleep), fear (one creature only), finger of death, flesh to stone, inflict moderate wounds (20-foot range), slow, and telekinesis (violent thrust).

Effects that require a touch attack always use a ranged touch attack.

The crown's powers are not limited to a certain arc as a beholder's are.

When the last power is used, the crown crumbles to dust. These items are greatly valued by members of beholder cults, and some sages believe that powerful beholders have their servants construct such items to reward valuable servants and slaves.

Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, charm person, charm monster, disintegrate, eyebite, fear, finger of death, flesh to stone, inflict moderate wounds, slow, telekinesis; Market Price: 22,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BELT OF LIONS

This leather belt allows its wearer to communicate with feline animals as the Speak with Animals spell.

The wearer gets low-light vision, a +4 competence bonus on all Charisma checks and Charisma-based skill checks related to dealing with felines, and a +10 competence bonus on Move Silently and Tumble checks.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, low-light vision, animal friendship, Speak with Animals; Market Price: 20,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BELT OF PRIESTLY MIGHT

These items first appeared in Halruaa at the end of the Time of Troubles, which the wizards took as a sign that Mystra had returned.

Each broad leather belt has a stamp of the holy symbol of a deity in the front, and followers of that deity or any of that deity's alignment can wear the belt safely.

(If this item is generated as part of a random treasure, select or randomly determine the deity to whom it is dedicated).

Any other creature receives one negative level for wearing the belt.

The negative level remains as long as the belt is worn and disappears when it is no longer carried.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the belt is worn.

Three varieties of this sort of belt exist.

The belt of priestly might grants its wearer a +2 natural armor bonus to Armor Class and a +4 enhancement bonus to Strength.

The belt of priestly might and warding grants all the powers of a belt of priestly might, and once per day with a (or good, if the belt is devoted to an evil deity).

The belt of holy might has all the powers of the belt of priestly might and warding, and its wearer may use a word of recall once per day (affecting only the wearer and his equipment) that transports him to the nearest temple devoted to the belt's deity.

Caster Level: 6th (belt of priestly might), 6th (belt of priestly might and warding), 11th (belt of holy might); Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, barkskin, bull's strength, creator must be at least 6th level (belt of priestly might), as belt of priestly might plus magic circle against evil or good (belt of priestly might and warding), as belt of priestly might and warding plus word of recall (belt of holy might); Market Price: 40,000 gp (belt of priestly might), 52,800 gp (belt of priestly might and warding), or 104,000 gp (belt of holy might).
Weight: 1 lb.

BIRD FEATHER HEADDRESS

This gaudy headdress has six large plumes and many smaller ones.

The large plumes have magical powers if plucked from the headdress and thrown into the air.

The two green plumes each summon 1d3 hawks, the two blue ones each summon 1d3 eagles, and the two gold ones each summon a giant eagle or a giant owl (wearer's choice).

The summoned creatures serve you as if you had summoned them with a Summon Nature's Ally spell.

Once used, a feather's power is expended.

The headdress uses the headband, hat, or helmet location on a character.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisite: Craft Wondrous Item, Summon Nature's Ally II, Summon Nature's Ally III, Summon Nature's Ally IV; Market Price: 2,900 gp; Weight: —.

BLAST GLOBES

Although the secret to making these globes was known only to powerful members of the Zhentarim, the recent turmoil in that organization has allowed the process to become known to those outside the Black Network.

Rumors abound that Sememmon sold the secret to get sanctuary from his enemies, which is not unlikely given that he rose quickly through the ranks of the Zhentarim by trading information on the process.

A blast globe looks like a dozen transparent glass spheres clustered into an irregular mass.

Speaking the command word makes them glow, then separate and orbit each other.

One full round after they are activated, they can be directed by the person who spoke the command word as a free action to strike (as a group) any target or location within 400 feet.

Any target struck by the blast globe must make a Fortitude save (DC 19) or be disintegrated.

The globes then explode in a blast of sound and fire in a 20-foot-radius spread.

Any creature in the area takes 10d6 points of fire damage and 2d6 points of sonic damage, is deafened for 2d6 rounds, and is knocked 1d6×5 feet directly away from the center of the blast.

A successful Reflex save (DC 15) halves the fire damage (but not the sonic damage) and negates the knockback, while a successful Fortitude save (DC 15) negates the deafening.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, battering ram, disintegrate, fireball, shout; Market Price: 8,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BONE BRACERS OF THE DEATH DEITY

These bracers of armor +3 are carved from the bones of good dragons, each inlaid with flat onyx tiles forming a mosaic in the shape of a skull.

They allow the wearer to use death ward, desecrate, and unholy blight each once per day.

They bestow one negative level on any good creature that wears them.

The negative level remains as long as the bracers are worn and disappears when they are no longer carried.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the bracers are worn.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, death ward, desecrate, unholy blight, mage armor, creator must be at least 6th level; Market Price: 58,300 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BOOK OF BLOOD

This vellum spellbook is bound in blood-red leather and bears a bronze clasp.

Once per day its wielder can use it to summon a yeth hound.

The wielder can also cast finger of death once per day, but each use in this manner permanently drains one hit point from the wielder.

The book must be held to utilize its powers.

The book is otherwise waterproof, fireproof, locked, and can contain up to forty-five spells of any level.

Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, finger of death, summon monster V; Market Price: 21,300 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

BRACERS OF THE BLINDING STRIKE

These bracers of armor +6 give the wearer the benefits of the Improved Initiative feat and allow him an extra attack every round at his highest bonus as if he were using a speed weapon.

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, haste, mage armor; Market Price: 102,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BRACERS OF STRIKING

The wearer of bracers of striking is considered armed even when unarmed (as if he had the Improved Unarmed Strike feat).

The bracers may be modified with special weapon abilities as if they were a blunt weapon (though they count as a double weapon, so double the cost of any ability).

Caster Level: Three times the magical bonus (minimum 5th level); Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, magic fang or magic weapon, plus any needed for additional special powers; Market Price: 1,310 gp plus an additional amount determined by the total bonus of the bracers (see Table 8–10, page 184 of the DUNGEON MASTER's Guide); Weight: 1 lb.

CAPE OF THE FIRE BATH

This cloak of resistance +2 is brilliant red and embroidered with images of flames.

The wearer withstands warm weather and fire damage as if he had endure elements (fire) cast upon him.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisite: Craft Wondrous Item, endure elements, resistance, creator must be at least 6th level; Market Price: 6,200 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

CAPE OF WINTER

This cloak of resistance +2 is white and trimmed with white fur.

The wearer withstands cold weather and cold damage as if she had endure elements (cold) cast upon her.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisite: Craft Wondrous Item, endure elements, resistance, creator must be at least 6th level; Market Price: 6,200 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

CLOAK OF BATTLE

This sturdy cloak is woven through with steel fibers that give it a subtle sheen.

The cloak of battle has three powers.

First, it provides a +4 armor bonus when worn.

Second, on command it can be transformed into an iron staff that functions as a +1 quarterstaff or back into cloak form.

Third, the wielder can command the cloak to make a disarm attempt against an adjacent opponent as a standard action, using the wielder's base attack bonus and as if it had the Improved Disarm feat (the cloak is considered to be the same size category as the wearer).

If the cloak succeeds at the disarm, it can fling the weapon up to 10 feet in any direction as a free action that does not provoke an attack of opportunity (the weapon cannot be thrown at a creature as an attack).

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Craft Wondrous Item, cat's grace, mage armor, magic weapon, creator must be at least 8th level; Market Price: 22,600 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

CLOAK OF BLACKFLAME

This cloak resembles a tangle of thick, black cobwebs when not worn, but smooths into woven black cloak of coarse threads when donned.

It absorbs up to fourteen energy drain attacks (an attack that would bestow two negative levels counts as two attacks) before losing its magical properties.

Caster Level: 14th; Prerequisite: Craft Wondrous Item, negative energy protection; Market Price: 11,800 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

COWL OF WARDING

This headpiece of fine black cloth covers the wearer's upper face with a half-mask and hangs to the shoulders in the back.

It counts as a hat for the purpose of determining what items can be worn together.

The wearer of the cowl is protected by a mind blank spell and acts as if wearing a ring of freedom of movement.

It also turns six levels of spells per day as the spell turning spell.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, freedom of movement, mind blank, spell turning; Market Price: 200,800 gp; Weight: —.

CRYSTAL SPHERE OF SINGING WATERS

This crystalline sphere was inspired by the Crystrum of Tranquility, a holy text of Eldath.

To use any of its powers, a flask of holy water must be poured over it.

Once activated, the sphere functions for 24 hours.

The activated sphere can glow with faerie fire and can cast purify food and drink as often as desired.

Once per day it can cast neutralize poison and scrying, with itself as the scrying device.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, faerie fire, neutralize poison, purify food and drink, scrying; Market Price: 28,300 gp; Weight: 7 lb.

DOVE'S HARP

This type of item's original name has been lost, and its current name derives from Dove Falconhand, who owns such a harp.

This harp is a masterwork harp (grants a +2 circumstance bonus on Perform checks) that is triangular in shape and has from twenty to thirty-six strings.

When it is played, all within a 20-foot spread are temporarily cured of any insanity (as if a greater restoration were in effect) and are protected by a calm emotions spell. Those who listen to it for 2 rounds or more receive a cure light wounds spell, although this power can only affect a being once per tenday.

While its magic is being invoked, the harp and harpist radiate light.

Use of the harp requires at least 1 rank of the Perform (harp) skill.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, calm emotions, greater restoration, healing circle, light; Market Price: 45,100 gp; Cost to Create: 22,600 gp + 2,300 XP; Weight: 3 lb.

DRAGONSKULL TALISMAN

This metal amulet is shaped like a dragon's skull.

If the wearer speaks the command word, she and up to two other creatures touching the talisman are protected by an invisibility to undead spell for the next 30 minutes.

(The protection only lasts as long as the creatures are in contact with the amulet).

The Cult of the Dragon creates these amulets to allow nonspellcasting members to bypass minor undead guardians within their strongholds.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, invisibility to undead; Market Price: 4,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

DRAGON'S DRAUGHT

This elixir comes in ten different varieties, one for each of the major subspecies of dragons.

d%	Potion	Market Price
01–10	Black (80-foot line of acid, 12d4 damage, DC 23)	2,300 gp
11–20	Blue (100-foot line of lightning, 12d8 damage, DC 25)	4,500 gp
21–30	Green (50-foot cone of acid, 12d6 damage, DC 25)	3,500 gp
31–40	Red (50-foot cone of fire, 12d10 damage, DC 25)	5,500 gp
41–50	White (40-foot cone of cold, 6d6 damage, DC 23)	1,200 gp
51–60	Brass (80-foot line of fire, 6d6 damage, DC 23)	1,200 gp
61–70	Bronze (100-foot line of lightning, 12d6 damage, DC 25)	3,500 gp
71–80	Copper (80-foot line of acid, 12d4 damage, DC 24)	2,400 gp
81–90	Gold (50-foot cone of fire, 12d10 damage, DC 26)	5,600 gp
91–100	Silver (50-foot cone of cold, 12d8 damage, DC 26)	4,600 gp

Any dragon who drinks a potion gets one use of the given type of breath weapon.

This breath weapon can be used any time between the drinker's next turn and 1 hour after the drinking.

If a second dragon's draught is consumed before the first is used, the effect of the first is lost.

Nondragons find the potion useless and horrible-tasting, but harmless.

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, spellcaster level 12th+; Weight: —.

DUST OF DISPERSION

This fine powder resembles other types of magical dust. A single handful of this substance flung into the air creates a cloud 10 feet high, 10 feet long, and 10 feet wide.

Ray attacks entering or passing through the cloud have a 50% miss chance.

The dust settles and becomes useless fairly quickly.

For each full round the dust has been in the air, the miss chance drops by 10% until it goes away after 5 full rounds.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, blur, glitterdust; Market Price: 2,100 gp; Weight: —.

ELIXIR OF HORUS—RE

When consumed, this elixir causes the imbiber to glow with a daylight spell.

At any time before the daylight expires, the imbiber can release this light as a single sunbeam, which ends the daylight.

Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, daylight, sunbeam; Market Price: 6,500 gp; Weight: —.

ENEMY SPIRIT POUCH

This leather pouch is worn around the neck like a necklace and contains token items keyed to a single type of creature (aberration, animal, beast, and so on).

A pouch keyed to humanoids or outsiders must follow the more narrow definition as described in the favored enemy ability for rangers in the Player's Handbook.

A creature wearing an enemy spirit pouch gains a +1 competence bonus to hit creatures of that type.

A ranger whose favored enemy matches that of the enemy spirit pouch is treated as five levels higher for purposes of determining his damage and skill check bonuses against that favored enemy (in effect, it increases those bonuses by +1).

If a creature of the type keyed to a pouch wears that pouch, it receives one negative level.

The negative level remains as long as the pouch is worn and disappears when it is no longer carried.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the pouch is worn.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, detect animals or plants, creator must be a ranger whose favored enemy matches that of the pouch; Market Price: 2,100 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

ESHEEN'S HARP

This masterwork harp (+2 circumstance bonus on Perform checks) can be played so that it causes all glass and metal items within 30 feet to resonate with the harp's tones.

This does not harm the items but provides an interesting accompaniment to the harp itself.

Anyone attempting to locate a creature in the area gets a +5 circumstance bonus on Listen checks against targets carrying metal or glass items.

Three times per day, anyone playing the harp may cast a shatter spell.

Use of this item requires at least 1 rank in Perform (harp).

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, ghost sound, shatter; Market Price: 6,800 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

EYE OF THE DRUUTHBANE

This yellow crystal is the size of a human fist.

Originally created by a wizard who opposed a powerful druuth (a cabal of doppelgangers led by a mind flayer), but since then widely copied, it glows with a red light when a doppelganger is within 60 feet, blue when an illithid is within 60 feet, and violet if both are within that range. If held in hand, the eye provides a +4 resistance bonus on all Will saves.

Once per day the crystal can fire a red ray (as a ranged touched attack) that forces a doppelganger back into its true shape for 1d4+1 rounds if it fails a Fortitude saving throw (DC 16).

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, detect thoughts, polymorph other, resistance; Market Price: 18,000 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

EYE OF WINKING

This coin-sized piece of polished bone can be worn around the neck as an amulet or pinned to clothing as a brooch.

The wearer is immune to detect thoughts and other forms of mind reading.

Charms and compulsions do not affect the wearer and instead are turned back on the caster as with the spell turning spell but with an unlimited number of spell levels that can be turned.

The eye can be commanded to wink once per tenday.

The wink releases an instantaneous flash of white light as bright as a daylight spell.

The wink renders the wearer immune to all spells, spell-like effects, and supernatural effects for 1 round, as if the wearer were protected by a personal antimagic field for 1 round.

The wearer effectively has unbeatable spell resistance against spells and spell-like effects and a similar immunity to supernatural effects.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Create Wondrous Item, antimagic field, mind blank, spell turning; Market Price: 120,000 gp; Weight: —.

FANGED MASK

This half-mask is like one worn to a masquerade party, but the bottom edge has numerous sharp-looking cat-like teeth. The mask is effectively a +1 weapon that allows the wearer to make a bite attack for 1d4 points of damage (this damage doesn't stack with existing bite damage).

A bitten creature must make a Fortitude save (DC 13) or be stunned for 1 round.

A mask counts as a pair of lenses for the limitations on wearing multiple magic items of the same type.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, magic fang or magic weapon; Market Price: 8,302 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

GAUNTLET OF FURY

This single wrought iron gauntlet grants its wearer the following benefits.

- An invisible but tangible field of force continuously surrounds the wearer, providing a +2 armor bonus to AC. This defense is otherwise similar to a mage armor spell.
- Once every three days, the wearer can cast a magic missile spell (as a 1st-level caster).
- Also once every three days, the wearer can make a battleblow.

This melee touch attack deals 2d8+2 points of force damage to the target.

The target must make a Reflex save (DC 22) to avoid being thrown to the ground and a Fortitude save (DC 22) to avoid being stunned for 1d4 rounds.

The wearer also can use the gauntlet once to automatically get a result of 50 on a single Strength check.

Using this power makes the gauntlet crumble to dust.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, mage armor, magic missile, Bigby's clenched fist; Market Price: 22,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

GLOVES OF LIGHTNING

These flexible leather gloves are covered with small copper rivets.

Three times per day the wearer may make a ranged touch attack (range 30 feet) that deals 1d8+5 points of electrical damage.

The wearer gains a +3 bonus on the attack if the target is wearing metal armor (or made out of metal, carrying a lot of metal, and so on).

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shocking grasp; Market Price: 8,000 gp; Weight: —.

GLOVES OF THE BALANCED HANDS

These fine leather gloves allow the wearer to fight as if she had the Two-Weapon Fighting and Ambidexterity feats.

If the wearer already has the Two-Weapon Fighting feat, she can make an additional attack with her off hand as if using the Improved Two-Weapon Fighting feat.

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, righteous might or Tenser's transformation; Market Price: 18,000 gp; Weight: —.

GOLDEN CHALICE OF LATHANDER

This pure gold chalice is finely worked and bears the symbol of a sun rising upon a blooming rose.

On command, it sheds light equal to a daylight spell.

The chalice can be commanded to create a healing circle, which uses one charge.

When all three of its charges have been used, the chalice retains its daylight ability.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, daylight, healing circle; Market Price: 29,500 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

GWAERON'S BELT

This belt is made of long white human hair braided into a rope.

The wearer may use wind walk once per day and once per day can command his melee weapon to become a +1 flaming weapon for 12 rounds.

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, weapon of the deity, wind walk; Market Price: 60,500 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

GWAERON'S BOOTS

These boots make it nearly impossible to track the wearer. They grant a continual pass without trace effect to the character wearing them.

In addition, the character leaves no scent whatsoever, so tracking by scent is also impossible.

These boots are sturdy and comfortable.

They have a hardness of 3 and 15 hit points.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, pass without trace; Market Price: 6,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

HAIR SHIRT OF ILMATER

This thick shirt of coarse brown horsehair gives its wearer a -2 penalty to Dexterity while worn but provides a +3 natural armor bonus.

The wearer can invoke cure serious wounds once per day, but the spell can only be used on another creature, not the wearer of the hair shirt.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, barkskin, cure serious wounds, creator must be at least 9th level; Market Price: 17,400 gp; Weight: —.

HALRUAAN SKYSHIP

Of all the wonders of Halruaa, the most famous is the skyship: a sailing vessel that floats on air instead of water. The wizards of Halruaa guarded their secrets to creating these devices for centuries, leaving others to experiment (and fail) with various other methods.

Recently a renegade Halruaan wizard revealed the process to another spellcaster, and a couple of wealthy governments have commissioned their own skyships.

The magic of a skyship comes in multiple parts.

First is the control rod, a bar of silver with a cylinder of gold slid over each end.

The rod is linked to the ten levitation plates (theoretically a larger ship would require more) affixed to the underside of the ship, which are traditionally made from the shells of Halruaan sea turtles.

The plates allow the ship to rise into the air and prevent it from entering water as a normal ship would, and the broad beam allows it to land on large flat surfaces without listing.

The magic that suspends the vessel grows weaker with altitude, greatly decreasing its cargo capacity, so a skyship normally stays within 100 feet of the ground (at which point its cargo capacity is 15 tons, much less than a conventional sailing ship).

The ship's horizontal movement is at the mercy of the wind, although its sails and supplemental magic from the plates allow it to turn with clumsy maneuverability.

The vertical movement of the ship is controlled by the rod and allows it to rise or fall at a speed of 45 feet.

A skyship is in all other respects like a standard sailing ship with respect to crew and dimensions.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fly, levitate; Market Price: 700,000 gp; Cost to Create: 355,000 gp + 27,600 XP.

Weight: 20 tons.

HAMMER OF THE WEAPONSMITH

This masterwork tool gives the user a +10 circumstance bonus on Craft (weaponsmithing) checks.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be at least 6th level; Market Price: 2,055 gp; Cost to Create: 1,055 gp + 80 XP; Weight: 8 lb.

HAND OF THE OAKFATHER

This piece of oak bark is carved in the shape of a human hand and magically hardened (hardness 10).

Worn as a necklace on a cord of twine, it has the following abilities, each usable once per day: Barkskin, entangle, goodberry, plant growth, speak with plants, and tree shape.

The hand (but not the wearer) is protected by resist elements.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, barkskin, endure elements, entangle, goodberry, plant growth, speak with plants, and tree shape; Market Price: 41,400 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

HANDHARP

These small harps are very popular among the Harpers, and not just because of the name.

A handharp is a crescent-shaped wooden instrument, about the size of a human hand, with metal strings.

Anyone who can play a tune on a stringed instrument can use the harp.

Various tunes and chords produce the following sonic effects.

(A musician can discover all the powers in about 10 minutes of playing).

The user can generate only one effect each round.

The effects are sonic effects.

- Dancing lights as the spell.
- Undead creatures within 10 feet suffer a –2 luck penalty on their attack and damage rolls.
- All creatures within 10 feet receive a +2 luck bonus on saving throws against necromantic and compulsion effects for 1 round.
- Creatures within 10 feet are not subject to new charm effects.

Charmed creatures become dazed when within 10 feet.

Both effects last for 1 round.

- Once a day, the user can use dimension door.

Effects marked with an asterisk increase their range to 20 feet when a character with bardic music plays the harp.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dancing lights, magic circle against evil, dimension door; Market Price: 25,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

HARPER PIN

Two kinds of Harper pins exist, the lesser pin and the greater pin.

These pins act as brooches for the purposes of limitations on wearing multiple items of the same type.

The lesser Harper pin is normally fashioned of silver and given to new members of the Harpers.

It functions identically to a ring of mind shielding.

Greater Harper pins are fashioned from silver magically treated to give it the hardness of steel (see Creating Magic Items, below).

The following constant effects protect the wearer.

- immune to magic missile
- nondetection
- resist elements (electricity)
- undetectable alignment
- +5 resistance bonus on saves against mind-affecting effects

When worn by an evil being, a greater Harper pin turns black and makes discordant jangling sounds (a –10 penalty on Move Silently checks).

Caster Level: 3rd (lesser), 5th (greater); Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, nondetection (lesser), Craft Wondrous Item, detect evil, ghost sound, nondetection, protection from elements, resistance, shield, undetectable alignment (greater); Market Price: 8,000 gp (lesser), 79,000 gp (greater); Cost to Create: Standard (lesser), 39,625 gp + 3,150 XP (greater); Weight: —.

HEADBAND OF THE BINDER

This circlet of blue-green metal is stamped with the blank-scroll symbol of Oghma.

In addition to allowing the wearer to use read magic three times per day, a bard who wears the headband gains a +4 sacred bonus on his bardic knowledge rolls.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, read magic, creator must be a bard; Market Price: 2,600 gp; Weight: —.

HEART OF THE BEAST

Normally created by clerics of Malar, this item has begun to appear in the hands of others.

This item is the heart of a predatory animal, smoked and magically cured.

The heart confers the effects of a divine power spell upon the creature that eats it.

If the creature also has a base attack bonus of +10 or higher, it gains a +1 bonus on attacks.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisite: Craft Wondrous Item, divine power; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

HELM OF DARKNESS

This shadow magic item looks like a normal helmet.

Even when new, it seems worn or a little battered.

It takes its true form and manifests its powers when the user dons it.

Made of blackened silver and steel, a newly created helm of darkness is set with thirty-six black opals along its lower edge and a great black sapphire in the front.

The helm is self-identifying, though it does not reveal that it is a shadow item.

It has the following powers.

- With a command word, the wearer can bring forth a deeper darkness effect.

(The helm imparts the command word to the wearer).

The power issues from the sapphire, which can generate ninety-nine such effects before crumpling to useless dust.

- Whenever the wearer fails a saving throw against any death effect, one black opal crumbles and the effect is negated.

In addition, the helm negates energy drain attacks.

Each time the wearer would receive one or more negative levels, a black opal crumbles to dust, negating the negative level.

(An attack that bestows two negative levels consumes two opals).

- Each round, the helm absorbs the first 30 points of cold damage the wearer would otherwise take.

This protection does not stack with similar protection from other sources, such as endure elements.

As long as the helm contains at least one intact gem, the wearer is immune to fear effects and can see through any form of darkness as though it were daylight.

The wearer can use the following spell-like effects on command: Speak with dead once per day, chill metal three times per day, and pass without trace at will.

(The helm provides the command words).

Once all its jewels have lost their magic, the helm loses its powers and the gems turn to worthless powder.

Removing a jewel destroys it.

Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, chill metal, deeper darkness, emotion, pass without trace, negative energy protection, protection from elements, Speak with dead, spell immunity; Market Price: 157,000 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

HELM OF GAZES

This mirror-bright steel cap is set with five cats' eye gems. The helmet automatically absorbs up to five gaze attacks the wearer is subjected to, rendering the wearer immune to the gaze.

Once the helmet reaches its capacity, however, the wearer is susceptible to all gaze attacks even if he averts his gaze or closes his eyes.

(The wearer is still allowed a saving throw against the gaze, if one is allowed).

As a standard action, the wearer can release one stored gaze effect harmlessly (not as an attack) with a command word.

A stored gaze effect fades after a tenday.

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Forge Ring, eyebite, spell turning; Market Price: 33,000 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

ICE NECKLACE OF THE ULUTIUN

Several of these necklaces of magically hardened and preserved ice were created by a half-mad sorcerer who wandered among the Ulutiun tribes of the Great Glacier. Two of the acorn-sized ice crystals are opaque, four are transparent.

The wearer can detach a crystal and hurl it up to 80 feet.

When the crystal reaches the end of its trajectory, it explodes in a spell effect, either ice storm (transparent crystal) or sleet storm (opaque crystal).

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, ice storm, sleet storm; Market Price: 5,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

INSTRUMENTS OF THE BARDS

A wise and powerful bard in the Moonshaes named Falataer created the first of these instruments, using them to test and reward the students of his bardic college (which was divided into seven levels of skill).

Others have since copied the designs, keeping the names Falataer gave them to honor him.

Each instrument has its own set of unique powers that can be activated by anyone with sufficient ranks in the Perform skill without making a check.

Some of the instruments bestow one negative level on a character lacking the proper number of ranks in the Perform skill.

The negative level remains as long as the harp is carried and disappears when it is no longer carried.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the instrument is carried.

ANSTRUTH HARP

This masterwork harp (+2 circumstance bonus on Perform [harp] checks) bestows one negative level on any character who does not have at least 12 ranks in Perform (harp).

A character with 12 ranks in Perform (harp) can use the instrument to cast control water, healing circle, and mind fog once per day.

It gives a +6 competence bonus on a bard's bardic music checks for countersong, fascinate, and suggestion.

Caster Level: 14th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, control water, healing circle, mind fog, creator must be a bard; Market Price: 60,000 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

CANAITH MANDOLIN

This eight-stringed masterwork mandolin (+2 circumstance bonus on Perform [mandolin] checks) bestows one negative level on any character who does not have at least 8 ranks in Perform (mandolin).

A character with 8 ranks in Perform (mandolin) can use the instrument to cast cure serious wounds, dispel magic, or summon monster III once per day.

It gives a +4 competence bonus on a bard's bardic music checks for countersong, fascinate, and suggestion.

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cure serious wounds, dispel magic, summon monster III, creator must be a bard; Market Price: 23,400 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

CLI LYRE

This masterwork lyre (+2 circumstance bonus on Perform [lyre] checks) bestows one negative level on any character who does not have at least 10 ranks in Perform (lyre).

A character with 10 ranks in Perform (lyre) can use the instrument to cast break enchantment, dimension door, and shout once per day.

It gives a +5 competence bonus on a bard's bardic music checks for countersong, fascinate, and suggestion.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, break enchantment, dimension door, shout, creator must be a bard; Market Price: 37,600 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

DOSS LUTE

This masterwork lute (+2 circumstance bonus on Perform [lute] checks) bestows one negative level on any character who does not have at least 6 ranks in Perform (lute).

A character with 6 ranks in Perform (lute) can use the instrument to cast delay poison, hold person, and mirror image once per day.

It gives a +3 competence bonus on a bard's bardic music checks for countersong, fascinate, and suggestion.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, delay poison, hold person, mirror image, creator must be a bard; Market Price: 9,800 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

FOCHLUCHAN BANDORE

This 3-stringed masterwork lute (+2 circumstance bonus on Perform [lute] checks) can be played by anyone to produce light once per day.

A character with 2 ranks in Perform (lute) can use the bandore to cast flare, mending, and message each once per day.

It gives a +1 competence bonus on a bard's bardic music checks for countersong, fascinate, and suggestion.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, flare, light, mending, message, creator must be a bard; Market Price: 1,900 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

MAC-FUIRMIDH CITHERN

This pear-shaped masterwork lute (+2 circumstance bonus on Perform [lute] checks) can be played by a person with 4 ranks in Perform (lute) to cast cure light wounds, mage armor, and sleep each once per day.

It gives a +2 competence bonus on a bard's bardic music checks for countersong, fascinate, and suggestion.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cure light wounds, mage armor, sleep, creator must be a bard; Market Price: 2,900 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

OLLAMH HARP

This masterwork harp (+2 circumstance bonus on Perform [harp] checks) bestows one negative level on any character who does not have at least 14 ranks in Perform (harp).

A character with 14 ranks in Perform (harp) can use the instrument to cast control weather, eyebite, and repulsion once per day.

It gives a +7 competence bonus on a bard's bardic music checks for countersong, fascinate, and suggestion.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, control weather, eyebite, repulsion, creator must be a bard; Market Price: 83,600 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

INSTRUMENT OF THE WINDS

When the proper tune is played (which requires a DC 15 Perform [lute] check), this masterwork lute (+2 circumstance bonus on Perform [lute] checks) summons a large air elemental as with the summon monster VI spell.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster VI; Market Price: 11,000 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

JANTHRA'S HARP

By playing this masterwork harp (+2 circumstance bonus on Perform [harp] checks) for a full round, the harpist can envelop all creatures within 10 feet of the harp in an invisibility sphere that also allows them to pass without trace.

Unlike the spell, creatures made invisible by the harp can see each other.

The harpist must continue playing to maintain the effect, but the music seems distant and does not aid foes in detecting the location of the harpist.

If one of the invisible creatures attacks, the magic is ended for all participants.

If one creature leaves the area of the invisibility sphere, the harpist must end the song and play again for a full round to hide that creature again.

The harp may be used in this manner for up to 1 hour per day.

Use of this item requires at least 1 rank in Perform (harp). Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, invisibility sphere, pass without trace; Market Price: 12,000 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

JOYOUS STAR SONG

Devout worshipers of Lliira and Milil created the first of these items.

The object appears as a scroll made of beaten silver, stamped with the holy symbols of Milil (a harp made of leaves) and Lliira (three six-pointed stars).

The scroll also bears the musical notation and lyrics for an inspiring song.

When a bard sings the song, it allows him to use his bardic music one additional time per day, with a +5 sacred bonus on his Perform check for that use.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, enthrall, suggestion, creator must be a bard of at least 10th level; Market Price: 5,800 gp; Weight: —.

KIIRA

These smooth hemispherical precious stones are known by their elven name, which means "lore gem".

While more powerful versions of these items known as greater kiira exist, those date to the empire of Cormanthor, can only be used by elves of particular families, and risk causing madness and feeble-mindedness in those not of the proper bloodline and without the necessary intelligence. The kiira that can be found in the world are weaker but safer versions of these devices.

The kiira is worn on the forehead (it affixes itself if placed there and can be removed easily by its wearer) and counts as a hat for the purpose of determining what items can be worn together.

It allows its wearer to better focus her mind and memory, allowing her to better remember information.

In game terms, this results in a +2 competence bonus on all Knowledge skill checks, though the wearer must spend a full round of contemplation to gain this bonus.

Furthermore, a kiira acts as a spellbook, allowing a wizard (or any other spellcaster who requires a spellbook) to record spells into and prepare spells from a kiira as if it were a spellbook (holding up to thirty spells of any levels), requiring the normal amount of time and expense.

While a newly created kiira is empty of spells, a kiira recovered as part of a treasure hoard is likely to have spells recorded within it at the DM's option.

If so, the value of the item should increase as if it were a spellbook.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, legend lore, secret page; Market Price: 7,500 gp; Weight: —.

KNIFE OF THE BOWYER

This masterwork tool gives the user a +10 circumstance bonus on Craft (bowmaking) checks.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be at least 6th level; Market Price: 2,055 gp; Cost to Create: 1,055 gp + 80 XP; Weight: 1 lb.

LENSES OF DARKNESS

These two dark glass lenses fit over the user's eyes. The wearer gains a +4 circumstance bonus on saving throws against light and illusion (pattern) spells, as well as any effects that cause blindness because of light (such as a prismatic wall).

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisite: Craft Wondrous Item, darkness, resistance; Market Price: 7,700 gp; Weight: —.

MASK OF BLOOD

This mask of red metal constantly weeps a blood-like liquid when worn.

Any NPC who sees a creature wearing the mask has his attitude toward the wearer shifted one category toward hostile.

The liquid is normally harmless, but once per day the wearer can spit it forth as a ranged touch attack with a range increment of 10 feet.

When used in this way, the fluid acts as a poison spell upon the creature it strikes.

If a barbarian wears the mask, the character's rages last 1 round longer than normal.

The mask counts as a pair of lenses for limitations on wearing multiple magic items.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, emotion, poison; Market Price: 17,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

MIEREST'S STARLIT SPHERE

This item is said to have been created by the sorcerer Mierest and given to one of his visitors in reward for a great service.

The shining silver metal sphere is 4 inches in diameter and feels comfortably warm to the touch.

When held, it is lit with cold blue-white pinpoints of light, illuminating an area as a torch would.

This ability can be turned off or on as a free action.

The orb negates several spells by contact: dancing lights, darkness, faerie fire, gust of wind, light, and wind wall.

Objects within the area of its light are viewed as if with a true seeing spell.

If passed through an open flame, it chimes a soothing song for 4 minutes that can be heard up to 100 feet away and quiets shriekers.

Intelligent undead prefer to avoid the area it illuminates but are not prevented from entering.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dispel magic, ghost sound, true seeing; Market Price: 53,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

MIRROR MASK

This mask is circular, with dark lines radiating outward from the point between the eyes.

The wearer gains a +5 resistance bonus on all saves against gaze attacks and spells that work through sight (such as flare, illusion (pattern) spells, a vampire's charm ability, and so on).

Furthermore, any creature that views the wearer's face while the mask is worn sees its own face rather than the wearer's.

A mask counts as a pair of lenses for limitations on wearing multiple items of the same type.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, change self, resistance; Market Price: 8,759 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

METHILD'S HARP

When played by a character with at least 1 rank in Perform (harp) for 1 full round, this masterwork harp (+2 circumstance bonus on Perform [harp] checks) sends forth magical vibrations that cause locks, lids, doors, valves, and portals to open.

The device functions against normal bars, shackles, chains, bolts, and so on.

Methild's harp also automatically dispels a hold portal spell or even an arcane lock spell cast by a wizard of less than 15th level.

It also unties knots and bindings and frees targets from entanglement of any kind (including web spells).

Each round of playing opens only one form of locking or tying or frees a single target from its bonds or entanglement.

The harp doesn't function in an area of silence, nor can it affect a target in such an area.

Methild's harp has a range of 100 feet and may be played a maximum of 3 rounds per day.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, knock; Market Price: 4,100 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

MITHRAL BELLS

This item is a series of eleven small mithral bells on a bracelet-sized chain of mithral.

The wearer can detach a bell and throw it up to 40 feet. When it reaches the end of its trajectory, it explodes in a sound burst spell.

As long as there are at least three bells on the chain, it provides a +2 circumstance bonus on all Perform checks.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, sound burst, creator must be a bard; Market Price: 3,700 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

MONK'S TATTOO

This tattoo is usually of an animal or beast considered important to the monks of a given monastery or school. Examples include tiger, dragon, snake, crane, monkey, and so on.

The tattoo improves the unarmed strike damage, speed, and AC of the monk recipient by four levels.

Thus, a 7th-level monk does damage, moves, and avoids being struck as would an 11th-level monk.

No other abilities are improved by this tattoo, including base attack.

The abilities of this tattoo do not stack with the abilities of another monk's tattoo, nor does the tattoo grant any abilities to a nonmonk character.

The tattoo does not take up an equipment space (see Limit on Magic Items Worn, page 176 of the DUNGEON MASTER's Guide).

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be a monk of at least 10th level; Market Price: 80,000 gp; Weight: —.

MOON BRACERS

Covered in mother-of-pearl, these bracers are normally created by the manifestation of Selûne's moonfire, but spellcasters have learned how to create them.

They have the same abilities as bracers of armor, plus the wearer can use dimension door once per day.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dimension door, mage armor, creator's level must be twice that of the bonus placed in the bracers (minimum 7th level); Market Price: 12,100 gp (+1), 14,100 gp (+2), 19,100 gp (+3), 36,200 gp (+4), 45,200 gp (+5), 56,200 gp (+6), 69,160 gp (+7), 84,160 gp (+8); Weight: 1 lb.

MOON MOTE

This round, pale stone is one of the permanent manifestations of Selûne's moonfire.

Once per day it can be commanded to create dancing lights under the control of its bearer.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dancing lights; Market Price: 180 gp; Weight: —.

MOONCLOAK

This silvery-gray cloak is one of the items typically created by Selûne's moonfire, but has since been duplicated by spellcasters.

The cloak functions as a cloak of resistance, plus gives the wearer the ability to levitate and water walk (both self only) once per day.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, levitate, resistance, water walk, creator's level must be three times that of the cloak's bonus (minimum 7th level); Market Price: 9,000 gp (+1), 13,800 gp (+2), 18,800 gp (+3), 25,800 gp (+4), 34,800 gp (+5); Weight: 1 lb.

MOONDRAUGHT

This potent liquid is the equivalent of four potions of cure light wounds.

It can be consumed all at once (for a total of 4d8+4) or in four separate uses (each curing 1d8+1 hit points of damage). A lycanthrope who drinks this potion automatically gets the maximum effect for whatever amount is drunk.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Maximize spell, cure critical wounds, creator must have access to the Moon domain; Market Price: 1,500 gp; Weight: —.

MOONFIRE SALVE

Stored in a translucent white ceramic jar about the size of a flask, moonfire salve is the semisolid residue remaining after a manifestation of moonfire at a holy ritual of Selûne.

Depending upon how it is used, it has different magic effects.

An entire jar must be used to gain any of these benefits.

- When poured on an item or rubbed on a creature's forehead, it acts as a targeted dispel magic.
- When rubbed on the feet, it allows the recipient to use the fly spell.
- When rubbed on the eyelids, it grants darkvision.
- When rubbed on the back of a hand, it allows the use of greater mage hand spell.
- When eaten, it acts as a cure serious wounds.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cure serious wounds, darkvision, dispel magic, fly, greater mage hand; Market Price: 2,500 gp; Weight: 1/2 lb.

MOONSTONE MASK

This silver mask is studded with many small moonstones. It gives the wearer darkvision and a +5 circumstance bonus on Listen and Spot checks.

A mask counts as a pair of lenses for the limitations on wearing multiple magic items of the same type.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, clairaudience/clairvoyance, darkvision; Market Price: 12,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

NECKLACE OF ACID PEARLS

This magic item resembles a tight silver choker with a device bearing seven pale white pearls.

The wearer can detach any of the pearls and hurl it up to 50 feet away, where it creates an acid storm.

One of the pearls deals 9d6 points of damage, two deal 7d6, two deal 5d6, and the last two deal 3d6.

A Reflex save (DC 19) halves the damage from any pearl. The more damage a pearl deals, the larger it is.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, acid storm; Market Price: 10,700 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

NECKLACE OF COPPER DRAGON SCALES

This simple necklace consists of a copper chain with six coin-sized copper dragon scales affixed to it.

If the wearer touches a scale and issues a command word, he is protected by endure elements (acid) for 24 hours.

Once all six scales are used, the necklace grows dull and loses its magic.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, endure elements; Market Price: 570 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

NECKLACE OF LIGHTNING

This necklace is a silver chain with seven brightly polished coils of copper wire.

The wearer can detach a coil and hurl it up to a 50-foot distance.

When the coil reaches the end of its trajectory, it explodes as a scintillating sphere spell (DC 14).

One of the coils deals 7d6 points of damage, two deal 5d6, and the other four deal 3d6.

The more damage a coil does, the larger it is.

If the necklace is being worn or carried by a character who fails her saving throw against a magical electricity attack, the necklace must make a saving throw as well (with a bonus of +7).

If the necklace fails to save, all its remaining coils detonate simultaneously.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, scintillating sphere; Market Price: 4,350 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

NECKLACE OF NATURE'S TEETH

This leather cord is strung with the teeth or fangs of a wild animal.

When worn by a druid with the wild shape ability, this necklace allows the druid to assume (as wild shape) the form of the animal whose teeth are on the necklace once per day. Roll 1d10 to determine what kind of necklace is found.

1d10	Animal
1	Bear, black
2	Boar
3	Crocodile
4	Leopard
5	Lizard, giant
6	Shark, Medium-size
7	Snake, constrictor
8	Snake, Medium-size viper
9	Wolf
10	Wolverine

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, polymorph self or creator must be a druid of at least 7th level; Market Price: 2,900 gp; Weight: —.

NITHANALOR'S HARP

This masterwork harp (+2 circumstance bonus on Perform [harp] checks) is inlaid with several glassy gray gemstones of various types.

Once per day a character with at least 1 rank in Perform can play the harp to gain the benefits of a stoneskin spell.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, stoneskin; Market Price: 22,300 gp; Cost to Create: 17,400 gp + 392 XP; Weight: 3 lb.

ORB OF HOLINESS

These glossy crystal spheres are about the size of an apple. Each is inscribed with one good-aligned deity's symbol. An orb is always neutral with respect to chaos and law.

An evil creature who touches an orb must make a Will save (DC 25).

If the save fails, the creature takes 4d6 points of damage and is struck with a feblemind effect.

If the save succeeds, the creature still takes 2d6 points of damage and is dazed for 1d4 rounds.

A good-aligned creature can hold the orb and speak a command word to cast hold monster (DC 17) or purify food and drink each once per day.

In addition, any good-aligned creature who is a follower of the deity whose symbol appears on the orb (any creature who has chosen the orb's deity as their patron deity, in other words) can hold it and speak a command word to cast cure serious wounds (3/day) or regenerate (1/day).

An orb of holiness continually emits a prayer effect.

All good creatures are considered to be the orb's allies; all nongood creatures are its foes.

An orb automatically counters and dispels all fear effects within 60 feet of the orb (no action required).

Finally, a creature holding an orb can use it to make touch attacks against undead.

A successful touch deals 5d6 points of damage to an undead creature.

Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cure serious wounds, daylight, detect evil or detect good, glyph of warding, prayer, purify food and drink, regenerate, remove fear; Market Price: 178,700 gp; Cost to Create: 89,450 gp + 7,140 XP; Weight: 1 lb.

ORBAKH'S GLASS SKULL

Created by a Thayan inhabitant of Myth Drannor, this thick glass skull is hollow and suitable as a tankard.

It can cast disrupt undead three times per day, and can cast enervation and shroud of undeath each once per day.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, disrupt undead, enervation, shroud of undeath; Market Price: 15,700 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

PHOENIX HELM

This helm is made of copper, gold, and electrum, stylized in the shape of a phoenix with its wings unfurled, its legs guarding the temples, and the head adorning the brow.

The wearer can use the following spells each once per day: feather fall, flame arrow, fly, resist elements, and speak with animals (birds only).

The helm grants the wearer low-light vision.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, feather fall, flame arrow, fly, resist elements, speak with animals; Market Price: 53,000 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

PHYLACTERY OF THE PRIESTHOOD

Two versions of this phylactery exist (lesser and greater); each is a small ivory box that contains holy scripture.

Each phylactery allows the wearer to maximize (as the Maximize Spell feat) any three divine spells he or she casts in a day, without using a higher-level spell slot.

The wearer chooses to maximize a spell at the time of casting.

The lesser phylactery can only affect spells of up to 3rd level, while the greater phylactery can affect spells of up to 6th level.

The phylactery of the priesthood is tied to the wearer's forehead (and counts as a headband) or arm (and counts as a bracer).

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Maximize Spell; Market Price: 27,200 gp (lesser), 108,000 gp (greater); Weight: —.

PROTECTED SPELLBOOKS

Any wizard with the means to do so carefully protects her spellbooks against accidents, battle damage, or theft.

Arcanabula feature cheap and inexpensive protections, such as a simple explosive runes or fire trap spell.

Most wizards are willing to accept the loss of a workbook and do not expend a great amount of money in defending their traveling spellbooks.

Great books, on the other hand, are carefully guarded. Hidden in trapped compartments (or even on other planes) and equipped with mechanical traps, loyal guardians, and deadly spells of defense, a great book is something that is never meant to be lost.

A wizard may conceal a great book in a compartment crawling with poisonous spiders or snakes that the owner can immobilize at will, trapped by bladders of paralyzing or sleep-inducing gases, and mechanical traps such as scything blades or poisoned needles hidden in the locks, lids, or frames of coffers or cabinets the books are hidden in.

These traps are seldom of a sort that can endanger the book itself, but may otherwise take almost any form.

Spell protections, of course, can add thousands of gold pieces to the cost of even the simplest tome.

The magical protections commonly employed to defend a spellbook include:

GLAMERED

The book looks and feels like something else of similar size and weight (no more than 25% different in any dimension, no less than half as heavy, and no more than twice as heavy).

Upon command the book resumes its normal appearance or takes on its glamered appearance.

Anyone who touches the book can make a Will save (DC 14) to disbelieve the glamer.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, major image; Market Price: +2,000 gp.

LEVITATING

The book hovers in the air at whatever point it is placed, much like an immovable rod (although the book can only support its own weight).

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, levitate; Market Price: +2,000 gp.

PUNGENT

The book is infused with an acrid essence that repels damaging pests.

Any creature attempting to eat any portion of the book becomes ill and must attempt a Fortitude save (DC 14) or become nauseated as per the stinking cloud spell.

(The effects linger for 1d4+1 rounds after the creature tastes the book).

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, stinking cloud; Market Price: +2,000 gp.

RESISTANT (MAJOR)

The book has resistance 12 against acid, cold, electricity, and fire attacks.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, protection from elements; Market Price: +3,000 gp.

RESISTANT (MINOR)

The book has resistance 5 against acid, cold, electricity, and fire attacks.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, endure elements; Market Price: +1,000 gp.

SPELLTRAPPED

A magic trap has been incorporated into the book.

For example, a shocking grasp has been placed that strikes anyone handling the book except its owner.

The trap can be set to operate when the book is touched, when it is opened, or when a particular page is read.

Any spell appropriate for a trap may be used (see Table 4–7: Spells for Magic Traps, page 117 of the DUNGEON MASTER's Guide).

Caster Level: As per spell chosen, minimum 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, spell chosen; Market Price: Adds value equal to 500 gp × spell level × caster level, plus 100 gp × the cost of the trapped spell (in gp or XP), if any.

WATERPROOF

The book is impervious to damage caused by immersion in or exposure to water.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, endure elements; Market Price: +1,000 gp.

RHINGALADE'S HARP

This masterwork harp (+2 circumstance bonus on Perform [harp] checks) is carved with images of a multitude of harpists playing in a chorus.

Once per day it can be played to invoke simultaneous blink and mirror image spells upon its wielder (both effects end after 6 rounds).

Use of this item requires at least 1 rank in Perform (harp).

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, blink, mirror image; Market Price: 5,400 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

SALVE OF MINOR SPELL RESISTANCE

This salve is based on a drow formula.

The user must take a full-round action to spread it on his skin, after which it grants spell resistance 17 for 5 minutes.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, spell resistance; Market Price: 1,250 gp; Weight: 1/2 lb.

SCARAB OF SCINTILLATING AURAS

This multihued jewel creates a field of clashing visible auras in a 90-foot radius.

The multitude of auras blocks attempts to detect magic or alignment within the area.

Not even a true seeing spell can detect an alignment aura within the scarab's area unless cast at 16th level or higher. Once a day, the wearer can become invisible on command as if using the invisibility spell (self only).

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, nondetection, misdirection, invisibility; Market Price: 45,000 gp; Weight: —.

SENDING STONES

These items usually resemble lumps of unworked stone. They come in pairs.

Once a day, each stone in a pair can send a message (as the sending spell) to the bearer of the other stone.

If the stone's mate is not in a creature's possession, no message is sent and the user knows the communication has failed.

If either stone in the pair is destroyed, the mate becomes useless.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, sending; Market Price: 15,000 gp (for a pair); Weight: 1 lb.

SHAUNDAKUL'S BOOTS

Originally a secret kept by the loyal followers of the deity of travel, the lore detailing the creation of these magical boots has recently become more widely available.

These boots increase the wearer's base speed by 10 feet.

Once per day the wearer may double his base speed (not counting the boots' effect) for 5 minutes.

Once per tenday, she can cast find the path.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, expeditious retreat, find the path; Market Price: 6,300 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

SILENT PORTAL DISK

This small disk affixes itself to (or can be removed from) any surface with but a simple command word.

If that surface is a portal (door, window, box lid, curtain of beads, or any other such opening), it silences any sound of opening the portal, just as if the 0-level spell silent portal had been cast upon it.

The disk operates once per day.

Caster Level: 1st; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, silent portal; Market Price: 360 gp; Weight: —.

SKULL PLAQUE

This ivory disk is engraved with an image of a grinning skull and inlaid with black enamel to form a shield-shaped background.

Worn on a necklace of human finger bones, the plaque allows the wearer to cast death knell and detect undead once per day.

Undead suffer a –2 penalty on attack rolls against the wearer.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, death knell, detect undead, prayer; Market Price: 9,200 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

SMOKEPOWDER

This magic alchemical substance is similar to gunpowder. The substance burns rapidly, but is not explosive (though it can be used to construct grenades and bombs).

Burning smokepowder illuminates a 30-foot radius.

The fire lasts 1 round for every ounce of powder.

It takes an ounce of smokepowder to shoot a firearm once.

If smokepowder gets wet, it never again burns and cannot ever be used to fire a bullet.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, 9+ ranks of Alchemy; Market Price: 25 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

SPICE JAR

This relatively mundane item is highly prized among travelers.

It can produce any spice, even rare ones, as long as that spice is used immediately (within 1 round) to prepare food or drink.

Any spice thus created disappears if it is not used in that time.

The spice jar replenishes itself continually, so its wielder need not fear ever running out of spices.

The spices produced purify any food or drink exactly as if affected by a purify food or drink spell.

In addition, any food or drink prepared with the spices produced by the spice jar bestows some minor healing and disease prevention upon up to twelve people who eat the food or drink thus prepared.

Eating or drinking meals prepared with these spices cures 1 hit point per use and grants a +4 resistance bonus on saves against disease for next 4 hours.

The spice jar may produce sufficient spices to make up to three meals or drinks per day that bestow these curative and resistance properties.

The spices can affect any one person once per day.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cure minor wounds, purify food and drink; Market Price: 5,600 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

SUNITE SASH

This scarlet sash is woven of fine red thread and delicate gold wire.

It adds a +2 enhancement bonus to Charisma and a +2 deflection bonus to AC, and allows the wearer to create handfire once per day.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, enthrall, handfire, shield of faith; Market Price: 19,600 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

TONGS OF THE ARMORER

This tool gives the user a +10 competence bonus on Craft (armorsmithing) checks when creating metal armor.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, mending, creator must be at least 6th level; Market Price: 2,055 gp; Cost to Create: 1,055 gp + 80 XP; Weight: 5 lb.

TORQUE OF THE DEITY

These items come from the Moonshae Isles, where clerics of Chauntea create them.

Each bears the symbol of the deity.

The torque of the deity bestows immunity to lycanthropy upon its wearer, and also grants a +2 sacred bonus on attack and damage against lycanthropes.

In addition, a torque grants a +1 (or +2) resistance bonus on saving throws and a deflection bonus to AC of the same value.

A torque counts as a necklace for limitations on wearing multiple items of the same type.

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, magic weapon, remove disease, shield of faith; Market Price: 4,500 gp (torque +1), 16,500 gp (torque +2); Weight: 2 lb.

TORQUE OF THE TITANS

This thick, heavy, golden neck ring is nearly indestructible. It has a hardness of 20, 50 hit points, and a break DC of 50.

Five times per day, the torque's wearer can (as a free action) gain a +10 enhancement bonus to Strength that lasts for one round.

A torque counts as a necklace for limitations on wearing multiple items of the same type.

Caster Level: 20th; Prerequisites: Create Wondrous Item, bull's strength, divine power; Market Price: 72,000 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

TRAVEL CLOAK

This lightweight gray-green cloak protects the wearer against some of the hazards and discomforts of outdoor travel.

The wearer resists cold as if affected by an endure elements (cold) spell.

Furthermore, the cloak sheds precipitation, keeping dry the area of the body covered by the cloak (head to knees). In addition, three times per day, the wearer can reach into one of the pockets of the cloak and pull out trail rations sufficient to feed himself.

From another pocket, the wearer may withdraw a stoppered 1-quart metal flask that produces either pure cool water or sugared hot tea.

The flask produces up to two gallons of liquid per day. The flask only refills if placed back in the pocket of the cloak; if separated from the cloak or wearer, it has no magical properties.

Finally, when the wearer utters a command word, the travel cloak expands once per day to the size of a one-person tent.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, endure elements, create food and water, enlarge; Market Price: 1,200 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

TROLL GUT ROPE

This braided 50-foot rope has a slightly pungent odor, feels rubbery, and bears a large, complex knot at one end.

Once per day the rope can be commanded to grow up to 350 feet in length.

Any length beyond the original 50 feet decays into nothingness after 7 hours.

If the large knot is ever untied or cut open, the rope's magic is destroyed.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, minor creation; Market Price: 3,000 gp; Weight: 7 lb.

UNICORN PENDANT

This silver pendant bears the symbol of Lurue, unicorn deity of talking beasts.

The wearer can use cure moderate wounds and neutralize poison once per day.

A paladin wearing the pendant treats her Charisma as 4 points higher than normal for the purpose of her lay on hands ability.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cure moderate wounds, enthrall, neutralize poison; Market Price: 28,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

VALARDE'S HARP

This masterwork harp (+2 circumstance bonus on Perform [harp] checks) is often carved of driftwood and engraved with images of ships and clouds.

Three times per day it can be played for a full round to produce a gust of wind or a wind wall effect.

Use of this item requires at least 1 rank in Perform (harp). Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, gust of wind, wind wall; Market Price: 8,500 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

VESTMENTS OF POWER

These ceremonial clerical robes are usually cut and tailored to suit a particular deity's worshipers.

Two varieties exist: The lesser vestments of power and the greater vestments of power.

The lesser vestments of power grant the wearer a +3 deflection bonus to AC and a +4 resistance bonus on saving throws. The robe also conveys a continuous protection from arrows effect (10/+1, no limit to points of damage prevented), grants fire resistance 15, and allows the wearer to use feather fall whenever he falls 10 feet or more.

The greater vestments of power have all the powers of lesser vestments of power.

In addition, the wearer may cast dimension door and true seeing at will.

Caster Level: 5th (lesser), 9th (greater); Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dimension door (greater only), endure elements, feather fall, protection from arrows, resistance, shield of faith, true seeing (greater only); Market Price: 88,000 gp (lesser), 200,000 gp (greater); Cost to Create: Standard (lesser), 112,500 gp + 7,000 XP (greater); Weight: —.

WAR WIZARD CLOAK

This full-cut black cloak (also called a weathercloak) hangs to mid-boot.

Cut to overlap on the chest and cover the wearer's arms, it has a high collar and a separate pullover hood.

It is embroidered with a white upraised human palm in a circle on the right collar, a purple dragon on the left collar, and another on the center point of the hood (so that it is displayed to the rear when the hood is pulled back).

The cloak constantly provides the wearer with the following benefits: endure elements (cold), darkvision, and feather fall (self only).

Once per day, the wearer may use dimension door, lesser ironguard, protection from arrows, and sending.

These cloaks are normally only worn by Cormyrian war wizards, nobles, or specially chosen agents, although with the troubles in Cormyr of late, it is likely that some have been looted from corpses and can be found in other hands. Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, darkvision, dimension door, endure elements, feather fall, lesser ironguard, protection from arrows, sending; Market Price: 30,375 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

WHITE CLOAK OF THE SPIDER

This white silk garment is embroidered with a large gray spider on the back and webs radiating across its surface. The wearer can use spider climb at will and use hold person once per day.

She gains a +2 luck bonus on all Fortitude saves against poison from spiders and drow sleep poison.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, hold person, resistance, spider climb, creator must be 6th level; Market Price: 8,200 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

WILD SHAPE AMULET

This small amulet is usually shaped as a miniature version of an animal.

It allows a druid to use her wild shape ability as if she were four levels higher.

If she has not yet acquired that ability, the amulet allows her the wild shape ability as a 5th-level druid.

The amulet does not improve a druid's wild shape ability beyond that possessed by a 20th-level druid.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be a druid of at least 15th level; Market Price: 40,000 gp; Weight: —.

WORD OF CHAOS'S POWER

This normally appears as a stone tablet graven with magical runes.

Any creature that spends 1 minute or more studying the runes understands the runes' purpose.

If the character studies them for an hour thereafter, the runes fade and the character has the ability to invoke the word of power as a supernatural ability.

Each time the word is invoked, it functions as a rod of wonder, and the user suffers 1 point of permanent Wisdom drain.

When the user reaches 0 Wisdom, he is totally insane and withdraws into a deep nightmare-filled sleep from which he cannot awaken.

A creature that knows the word cannot convey its meaning to another without investing the gp and XP to essentially create another copy of the written word.

The creature could also use a wish spell (or similar magic) to create knowledge of the rune directly in the mind of another willing creature.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, confusion, creator must be chaotic; Market Price: 12,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

WHITE SKULL MASK

This bone-colored mask is shaped like a skull and painted black around the eyes.

When worn, it transforms the wearer's visage to look like an actual skull.

The wearer gains a +4 morale bonus on saving throws against disease, fear, and paralysis, and is immune to energy drain attacks.

The wearer immediately recognizes any creature seen as alive, dead, undead, or inanimate (never alive, such as a life-like statue).

A mask counts as a pair of lenses for limitations on wearing multiple magic items of the same type.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, deathwatch, detect undead, negative energy protection, remove fear; Market Price: 50,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

WILDING CLASP

Appearing as a 3-inch long gold chain, this item only works when attached to an amulet (or similar item) or vest (or similar item).

The clasp prevents its attached item from melding into the wearer's new form when transforming magic (such as polymorph self or a druid's wild shape ability) is used, allowing the item to be used in the new form.

For example, a druid with a wilding clasp attached to her periap of wisdom could take the shape of a wolf (which normally doesn't use equipment) and have the periap remain in its normal form, fully functional.

Some forms may be harmful to certain items (such as a fire elemental form when wearing a necklace of missiles).

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, polymorph self or creator must have wild shape ability; Market Price: 4,000 gp; Weight: —.

WINGED MASK

The edges of this full-face mask are made to resemble feathers or wings.

The wearer can use fly at will, but glows with white light (as a light spell) whenever this ability is used.

A mask counts as a pair of lenses for limitations on wearing multiple items of the same type.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fly, light; Market Price: 13,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

WINGS OF PAIN

This drab cloak can project a blast of gray light three times per day against a single creature.

The light functions either as a doom spell or a ray of enfeeblement (wearer's choice).

The cloak acts as a ring of feather falling, but can only function in this manner if it can unfurl itself to its full 15-foot span (it does so automatically if there is room).

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, doom, feather fall, ray of enfeeblement; Market Price: 17,500 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

XVIM'S GREEN-EYED GAUNTLET

This black gauntlet of sturdy black leather has two large green gems mounted on the back that resemble staring eyes.

The wearer of the gauntlet has darkvision (60 feet), and each gem can glow with a light spell once per day.

The wearer can cast phantasmal killer, but this power functions only once (at which point the gauntlet maintains its other powers).

The gauntlet does not interfere with spellcasting.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, darkvision, light, phantasmal killer; Market Price: 11,800 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

YORNAR'S CRESCENT

This piece of tooled leather appears very old and weather-worn.

Named for a famous ranger of Mielikki (whose name also graces one of her legendary holy texts), the crescent has been passed through many hands, and others have made many items with its powers.

By speaking the proper command word, the holder can use detect poison at will, can cause the crescent to shine with faerie fire at will, or use greater magic fang or tree stride each once per day.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, detect poison, faerie fire, greater magic fang, tree stride; Market Price: 27,700 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

MAGIC OF INCARNUM (3.5)

AMULET OF INCARNUM SHIELDING

An amulet of incarnum shielding protects the wearer's soul energy from harmful effects.

Description: The amulet of incarnum shielding is a silver necklace set with a brilliant amethyst.

When the amulet activates, it shimmers briefly then grows slightly duller than it was before.

Activation: No activation is required to use the amulet—it functions automatically.

After seven uses, it crumbles into dust.

Effect: The wearer of an amulet of incarnum shielding is immune to any effect that would drain his incarnum or unshape a soulmeld.

Each effect protected against counts as one use of the amulet (see Activation, above).

Aura and Caster Level: Faint abjuration; CL 3rd.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, essentia pool; cost 1,050 gp, 84 XP, 3 days.

Weight: 1 lb.

Price: 2,100 gp.

CLOAK OF SOULBOUND RESISTANCE

The cloak of soulbound resistance allows its wearer to invest essentia to protect herself from harmful effects.

Description: A cloak of soulbound resistance is a finely crafted garment of dark blue or blue-black material.

Lesser cloaks bear a pair of matched blue quartz crystals where the cloak fastens around the wearer's neck, while greater cloaks sport two matched pairs of crystals at that location.

While essentia is invested in the cloak, the crystals glisten faintly (one crystal per point of essentia invested).

Prerequisite: Any character can gain the basic effect of the cloak of soulbound resistance, though only those with an essentia pool can benefit from the essentia investment feature.

Activation: Investing or reallocating essentia in the cloak of soulbound resistance is a swift action (and can be done as part of the normal swift action used for reallocating essentia).

Effect: A cloak of soulbound resistance grants a +1 resistance bonus on the wearer's saving throws.

In addition, it serves as a receptacle for the wearer's essentia, much like a soulmeld.

Every point of essentia invested in the cloak increases its resistance bonus by 1.

A cloak of soulbound resistance has an essentia capacity.

Lesser cloaks of soulbound resistance have a maximum essentia capacity of 2, while greater cloaks have a maximum essentia capacity of 4.

The maximum value of essentia that can be invested in the cloak is equal to this capacity or the character's normal essentia capacity (see Table 2–1: Essentia Capacity), whichever is less.

Chakra Bind (Shoulders): A cloak of soulbound resistance grants extra power if you bind it to your shoulders chakra.

The resistance bonus granted by the cloak is improved by 1, up to a maximum of +4 (lesser) or +6 (greater).

Aura and Caster Level: Moderate abjuration (lesser) or strong abjuration (greater); CL 6th (lesser) or 18th (greater).

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, resistance; cost 2,500 gp (lesser) or 6,500 gp (greater), 200 XP (lesser) or 520 XP (greater), 5 days (lesser) or 13 days (greater).

Weight: 1 lb.

Price: 5,000 gp (lesser) or 13,000 gp (greater).

CRESCENT MOON CLASP

Upon acceptance into the Knights of the Crescent Moon, each new member receives a crescent moon clasp as a gift from Lady Illeera Suntower, the noble patron of the order.

This clasp is a silver brooch in the shape of a crescent moon partially obscured by clouds.

While wearing it, a character with an essentia pool gains a +1 sacred bonus on attack rolls against evil creatures.

The clasp uses the amulet, medallion, or brooch item slot.

Faint evocation; CL 6th; Craft Wondrous Item, prayer, creator must be good; Price 6,000 gp.

ESSENTIA JEWEL

An essentia jewel stores a small quantity of incarnum, which can be released into its owner's essentia pool with a mere thought.

Lore: Essentia jewels are mined from enormous crystalline structures on the Positive Energy Plane (DC 15 Knowledge [the planes]).

These crystalline structures are actually fonts of unborn souls, where pure soul energy flows like water, imbuing the surrounding structure with echoes of incarnum (DC 25 Knowledge [the planes]).

Description: An essentia jewel appears as a small, translucent white crystal whose facets gleam with faint light.

When an essentia jewel is used, it shines briefly with blue light and then crumbles to dust.

Prerequisite: An essentia jewel can be activated by any character, though its benefit aids only those who are capable of investing essentia (in soulmelds, magic items, or the like).

Activation: An essentia jewel is activated with a free action.

Only one such jewel can be used each round.

Each jewel can be used only once.

An essentia jewel need not be held to be activated, but it must be kept somewhere on your body (in a pouch or backpack, for example).

Effect: When activated, an essentia jewel adds 1 point of essentia to your essentia pool for a single round.

This essentia can be invested as normal.

Aura and Caster Level: Faint conjuration; CL 3rd.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, soul boon; cost 200 gp, 16 XP, 4 days.

Price: 400 gp.

GLOVE OF INCARNUM THEFT

The wearer of a glove of incarnum theft can steal essentia from another character to use himself.

Lore: The first glove of incarnum theft was created by an arcane trickster named Hexandros who dabbled in incarnum use.

(DC 15 Knowledge [arcana]).

Description: This fine leather glove is dyed midnight blue.

A single ruby is set into the back of the glove.

When the glove successfully steals essentia from a target, the ruby flashes brightly for a moment.

Prerequisite: A wearer with no means of investing essentia gains no benefit from this glove's effect, though that doesn't stop it from functioning.

Activation: Making an attack with a glove of incarnum theft is a standard action.

Effect: By making a successful unarmed touch attack with the hand wearing the glove, the wearer gains 1 point of essentia while the target loses 1 point from his essentia pool.

A DC 15 Will save negates this effect.

(If the target has no essentia pool, there is no effect).

The stolen essentia can immediately be invested in any soulmeld, incarnum feat, or other essentia receptacle of the wearer (with no action required), even if essentia investment wouldn't normally be allowed at this time.

If the wearer has no means of using essentia, he gains no benefit, but the target still loses the point.

The stolen essentia remains in the wearer's essentia pool for 1 minute, and then it returns to the original owner.

Chakra Bind (Hands): A glove of incarnum theft grants extra power if you bind it to your hands chakra.

The save DC to resist the glove's effect increases by 2.

Aura and Caster Level: Moderate necromancy; CL 7th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, rend essentia; cost 4,000 gp, 320 XP, 8 days.

Variants: Sometimes a matched pair of gloves of incarnum theft is created.

As a full-round action, the wearer of these gloves can make a melee touch attack with both gloves together to steal 2 points of essentia instead of 1 point.

A matched pair works only when both gloves are worn by the same person.

Such a set of gloves costs 12,000 gp and requires 6,000 gp, 480 XP, and 12 days to create.

Weight: 1 lb.

Price: 8,000 gp.

INCARNUM FOCUS

An incarnum focus concentrates its wearer's innate soul energy, allowing him to achieve greater effects with a single soulmeld.

Description: Every incarnum focus takes a different form, but regardless of the exact shape or size, all items bear a tiny star sapphire set into them in some fashion.

Prerequisite: Only a character capable of investing essentia in a soulmeld can benefit from an incarnum focus.

Activation: No action is required to use an incarnum focus.

Effect: While worn, an incarnum focus adds 1 to the essentia capacity of any soulmeld occupying or bound to the chakra it matches (up to a maximum capacity equal to the wearer's Constitution bonus).

Wearing an incarnum focus does not prevent you from binding a soulmeld to the corresponding chakra.

This is a specific exception to the normal rule against binding a soulmeld to the same chakra as a worn magic item.

Ten different kinds of incarnum focus exist, one for each chakra.

Chakra	Incarnum Focus
Arms	Incarnum bracers
Brow	Incarnum goggles
Crown	Incarnum circlet
Feet	Incarnum boots
Hands	Incarnum gauntlets
Heart	Incarnum vestments
Shoulders	Incarnum cloak
Soul	Incarnum robe
Throat	Incarnum amulet
Waist	Incarnum belt

Chakra Bind (Any): An incarnum focus grants extra power if you bind it to the matching chakra.

(You can bind an incarnum focus to a chakra even if it is already occupied by a shaped or bound soulmeld).

The effect is the same, regardless of the specific item or chakra.

Any soulmeld occupying or bound to this chakra can't be unshaped except by you, nor can any essentia invested in it be lost or drained (except as part of the normal reallocation process).

Aura and Caster Level: Moderate transmutation; CL 6th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, Split Chakra, essentia pool; cost 12,500 gp, 1,000 XP, 25 days.

Weight: As normal for item.

Price: 25,000 gp.

PEARL OF INCARNUM POWER

Certain relics particularly suited for a soulcaster's skills have been passed down from mentors to novitiates for centuries.

Among these are pearls of incarnum power, which look like typical pearls except for a slightly cloudy sheen on their surfaces.

Like a pearl of power, a pearl of incarnum power enables the possessor to recall any one spell that he has already prepared and then cast.

In addition, however, he can restore any essentia that was previously invested in that spell as part of the same action used to recall it.

The spell is then prepared again, with its invested essentia, just as if it had not been cast.

Each pearl of incarnum power functions once per day, and only for spells of a particular level.

Strong transmutation; CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be able to cast spells of the spell level to be recalled, creator must have an essentia pool; Price 1,500 gp (1st), 6,000 gp (2nd), 13,500 gp (3rd), 24,000 gp (4th), 37,500 gp (5th), 54,000 gp (6th), 73,500 gp (7th), 96,000 gp (8th), 121,500 gp (9th).

SOULVOID ORB

A soulvoid orb temporarily banishes free-flowing soul energy from the immediate vicinity.

It is a useful first strike against meldshapers and other incarnum-wielding enemies.

Lore: Soulvoid orbs were first created by the githyanki for use in a struggle with a splinter group of githzerai, who had taken up the practice of meldshaping (DC 15 Knowledge [the planes]).

Description: A soulvoid orb appears as a black, fist-sized sphere with a faintly greasy feel.

When thrown, it bursts into a shower of orange sparks.

Activation: Activating a soulvoid orb is as simple as throwing it against a hard surface, which can be done as a standard action.

Each soulvoid orb functions only once and is totally consumed when used.

Effect: When a soulvoid orb strikes a hard surface, it explodes in a 10-foot-radius burst.

Any creature within that area is affected as if by a divest essentia spell (see page 101).

Aura and Caster Level: Faint necromancy; CL 3rd.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, divest essentia; cost 350 gp, 28 XP, 1 day.

Weight: 1 lb.

Price: 700 gp.

MANUAL OF THE PLANES (3.0)

DIMENSIONAL SEXTANT

A dimensional sextant is an 8-inch sphere (constructed out of any appropriate material) with arrows protruding out from it in all directions.

It leads the bearer to the nearest planar portal.

The dimensional sextant is held in both hands, and the shimmering arrows point in the correct direction.

It takes a Knowledge (the planes) check to operate a dimensional sextant.

Desired Direction	DC
To the nearest portal	15
To the nearest portal to a specific plane	20
To determine where a portal leads	17

In the case of temporary portals, such as those created by the gate spell, the sextant reveals the temporary nature of that gate.

It does not react to mere dimension extensions such as a bag of holding or a rope trick spell, or to extrusions from other dimensions such as shadow spells.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, discern location; Market Price: 21,600 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

ETHEREAL TAPESTRY

An ethereal tapestry is a portable gateway to the Ethereal Plane.

It appears as a stout oak doorframe, carved with runes, from which hangs a heavy velvet tapestry stitched with metallic thread.

When it is assembled and the command word spoken, the tapestry becomes a shimmering band of colors that leads directly onto the Ethereal Plane.

The portal stays open until another command word is spoken to deactivate it.

While the tapestry is in operation, a portal is created between the Material Plane and the Ethereal Plane.

Anyone who passes through the ethereal tapestry becomes ethereal (as the ethereality spell).

They remain ethereal until they use a spell to return to the Material Plane, pass through the ethereal tapestry in the other direction, or use another portal.

The curtain from the tapestry is obvious from the Ethereal Plane side.

If the ethereal tapestry is deactivated, those on the Ethereal Plane must find another way back.

While activated, the ethereal tapestry may attract visitors seeking to pass through the portal and onto the Material Plane, including lost souls and planar monsters.

Roll encounters for the Ethereal Plane, and decide whether encountered creatures would pass through.

An ether cyclone has no direct effect on an ethereal tapestry, but it could prevent travelers from using it effectively.

The portal is about the size of a normal doorway (8 feet high and 3 feet wide).

When dismantled, an ethereal tapestry is 10 feet long, 1 foot wide, and 6 inches thick.

It takes one person 10 minutes to set up or take down an ethereal tapestry.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, ethereality; Market Price: 47,520 gp; Weight: 87 lb.

MASTERS OF THE WILD (3.0)

BOOTS OF ENDURANCE

These boots grant the wearer a +4 circumstance bonus on checks for performing any physical action that extends over a period of time, such as running, swimming, or breath-holding.

The wearer also gains a +4 circumstance bonus on Fortitude saves to avoid subdual damage caused by exposure to heat or cold, and a +4 circumstance bonus on Constitution checks made to prevent subdual damage from thirst or starvation.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, endurance; Market Price: 16,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

COLLAR OF CLEVERNESS

This animal collar expands to fit its wearer.

While wearing this item, an animal can perform one or more additional tricks over and above those it knows.

The creator of the collar must designate the specific trick or tricks it can grant.

An animal can wear only one collar at a time.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animal trick (see Chapter 6); Market Price: 700 gp (1 trick), 1,400 gp (2 tricks), or 2,100 gp (3 tricks); Weight: 1 lb.

COLLAR OF RESISTANCE

This animal collar expands to fit its wearer.

While wearing this item, an animal gains a +1 to +5 resistance bonus on all saving throws (Fortitude, Reflex, and Will).

An animal can wear only one collar at a time.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, resistance; Market Price: 490 gp (+1), 1,960 gp (+2), 4,410 gp (+3), 7,840 gp (+4), or 12,250 gp (+5); Weight: 1 lb.

GOGGLES OF FOLLOWING

The lenses of these goggles are tinted with shades of green and yellow.

They grant the wearer a +10 competence bonus on Wilderness Lore checks made for tracking.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Wilderness Lore 5 ranks; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: —.

HELM OF BONDING

This helm of animal hide looks to be of poor quality.

Once per day, the wearer can bond telepathically with a single animal within his or her sight.

For the next hour, the wearer can communicate mentally with that animal, both sending and receiving messages.

The helm also bestows a Speak with Animals effect for the same period to ensure optimum communication.

If the distance between the animal and the helm's wearer ever exceeds one mile, the connection is suspended until either the duration expires or the animal is once again within range.

The user can select a different animal for each use.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Speak with Animals; Market Price: 7,200 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

NECKLACE OF FAVORED ENEMY DETECTION

This star-shaped necklace is made of pure silver.

When one of the wearer's favored enemies is within one mile, the necklace emits a low hum.

By concentrating, the wearer can detect the direction of the nearest favored enemy within that range.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, detect favored enemy; Market Price: 34,000 gp; Weight: —.

STANDING STONE

This massive stone obelisk increases a druid's ability to cast a single spell when in contact with it.

The creator chooses a druid spell for the stone to affect and a specific sacrifice (such as a cow or a pile of gems) that activates it.

Thereafter, any druid can use the Meld into Stone spell to merge with the standing stone and discover those two pieces of information.

Once she has done so, she can activate the standing stone for herself only by making the designated sacrifice.

From that point forward, whenever the druid is in contact with the activated stone, she casts that spell as if it were affected by the feats Empower Spell, Enlarge Spell, and Extend Spell.

Because each standing stone affects only one spell, these items are typically arranged in circles with no more than 30 feet between any adjacent pair, so that a druid may move to a new stone to cast a new spell each round.

The caster level and market price (not including transportation) are determined by the level of the spell the stone affects, as follows.

Spell Level	Caster Level	Market Price	Cost to Create
0	3rd	10,676 gp	5,338 gp + 427 XP
1st	3rd	10,850 gp	5,425 gp + 434 XP
2nd	3rd	12,600 gp	6,300 gp + 504 XP
3rd	5th	15,750 gp	7,875 gp + 630 XP
4th	7th	20,300 gp	10,150 gp + 812 XP
5th	9th	26,250 gp	13,125 gp + 1,050 XP
6th	11th	33,600 gp	16,800 gp + 1,344 XP
7th	13th	42,350 gp	21,175 gp + 1,694 XP
8th	14th	49,700 gp	24,850 gp + 1,988 XP
9th	15th	57,750 gp	28,875 gp + 2,310 XP

Caster Level: 5th (or high enough to cast the chosen spell); Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Meld into Stone, ability to cast the chosen spell; Weight: 8,000 lb.

TORSE OF ANIMAL SPEECH

This beaten steel necklace is unadorned by pendant or ornament.

Its wearer can use a Speak with Animals effect at will.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Speak with Animals; Market Price: 12,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

WILDING CLASP

Appearing as a 3-inch-long gold chain, this item works only when attached to an amulet, vest, or similar item.

The clasp prevents both itself and the attached item from melding into the wearer's new form when transforming magic (such as polymorph self or wild shape) is used.

The item is still worn in the same manner it previously was and remains available for use in the new form.

For example, a druid with a wilding clasp attached to her peripart of Wisdom could use wild shape to become a wolf, but the peripart and the wilding clasp would remain in their normal forms, fully functional.

Some forms may be harmful to certain items; for instance, it would be unwise to take the form of a fire elemental while retaining a functional necklace of fireballs.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, polymorph self or wild shape ability; Market Price: 4,000 gp; Weight: —.

MINIATURES HANDBOOK (3.5)

AMULET OF FORTUNE PREVAILING

Blessed by ancient gods of luck, this amulet allows its wearer to change his fortune.

Once per day, after the amulet's wearer attempts a saving throw (but before it's determined whether the save succeeded), he may choose to reroll the saving throw. He must use the second result even if it's lower.

The wearer can't use this ability if he has already rerolled the saving throw because of another ability he possesses, nor can he use another ability he possesses to reroll the saving throw a second time.

The amulet can be used only after it is worn continuously for 24 hours.

If it is taken off, it becomes inactive until it is again donned and worn for a full 24 hours.

Moderate divination; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, augury; Price 8,000 gp.

BELT OF MAGNIFICENCE

This sparkling metal belt projects power and authority. The belt adds a +2, +4 or +6 enhancement bonus to the wearer's Strength, Dexterity, Constitution, Intelligence, Wisdom and Charisma scores.

Strong transmutation; CL 18th; Craft Wondrous Item, bear's endurance, bull's strength, cat's grace, eagle's splendor, fox's cunning, owl's wisdom; Price 25,000 gp (+2), 100,000 gp (+4) or 200,000 gp (+6).

BELT OF ONE MIGHTY BLOW

Once per day, as a swift action, the wearer of this belt can activate the belt to gain extra damage on her next melee attack.

A light weapon deals an extra 1d8 points of damage, a one-handed weapon deals an extra 2d6 points of damage, and a two-handed weapon deals an extra 3d6 points of damage.

The belt can be used only after being worn continuously for 24 hours.

If it is taken off, it becomes inactive until it is again donned and worn for a full 24 hours.

Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength; Price 1,500 gp.

BOOTS OF BIG STEPPING

The spirit of the blink dog has been harnessed within these wolfhide boots.

Once per day, as a standard action, the wearer can use dimension door.

The boots can be used only after being worn continuously for 24 hours.

If they are taken off, they become inactive until they are again donned and worn for a full 24 hours.

Moderate conjuration; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, dimension door; Price 11,200 gp.

BOOTS OF CHARGING

These boots give the wearer the Powerful Charge feat (see Chapter 1 of this book) as long as they are worn.

Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, longstrider; Price 5,000 gp.

BRACERS OF QUICK STRIKE

These bracers provide the benefit of incredible speed.

Once per day, when taking a full attack action, as a swift action the wearer may make one additional attack with any weapon he is holding.

The attack is made at the wearer's full base attack bonus, plus any modifiers appropriate to the situation.

(This effect is not cumulative with similar effects, such as that provided by a speed weapon or by the haste spell, nor does it actually grant an extra action).

The bracers can be used only after being worn continuously for 24 hours.

If they are taken off, they become inactive until they are again donned and worn for a full 24 hours.

Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, haste; Price 1,200 gp.

CLOAK OF ELEMENTAL PROTECTION

This cloak, woven with threads of various colors, protects the wearer from energy attacks.

Once per day, as a swift action, the wearer can activate the cloak and gain resistance 10 against a type of energy of the wearer's choice (acid, cold, electricity, fire, or sonic).

The wearer can activate the cloak when it is not his turn.

The wearer therefore can respond to an energy attack by immediately activating the cloak and choosing the attack's energy type.

The cloak can be used only after being worn continuously for 24 hours.

If it is taken off, it becomes inactive until it is again donned and worn for a full 24 hours.

Faint abjuration; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, resist energy; Price 1,000 gp.

CLOAK OF THE SALAMANDER

This cloak, made of scales from a reptilian creature, wraps its wearer in a deep blue flame.

Any creature striking the cloak's wearer with a natural attack or a melee weapon deals normal damage but also takes 1d6+7 points of fire damage.

Moderate evocation; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, fire shield; Price 56,000 gp.

CLOAK OF THORNS

This brown cloak seems to be composed entirely of long thorns.

The cloak grants its wearer a +2 natural armor bonus to AC.

Any creature striking the cloak's wearer with a natural attack or a melee weapon deals normal damage but also takes 1d4+3 points of piercing damage.

Moderate transmutation; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item; barkskin, command plants; Price 40,000 gp.

COLLAR OF COMMAND

When this collar is put on an animal, the animal is subject to the control of the collar's owner as if it is under a dominate animal effect.

The animal obeys the owner's silent mental commands. Usually, the collar is placed on an animal that has been rendered unconscious, staggered by means of nonlethal damage, or grappled and pinned.

When using the skirmish or mass battle rules, this collar removes the animal's Difficult special ability.

Faint enchantment; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, dominate animal; Price 30,000 gp.

EXPLODING SPIKE

Warm to the touch, this red spike pulses with stored energy.

The spike does nothing until it is planted firmly in the ground (a standard action).

One round later, the spike becomes invisible.

Any creature that thereafter comes within 10 feet of the spike causes it to explode in a fireball that deals 10d6 points of fire damage (Reflex DC 14 half) to every creature within 20 feet of the spike.

This blast destroys the spike.

Moderate evocation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, fireball; Price 1,500 gp.

FIELD PROVISIONS BOX

When opened, this well-crafted wooden box produces enough basic food and water to feed up to fifteen humans or five horses, providing a full day's sustenance.

It can be used once per day.

Faint conjuration; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, create food and water; Price 2,000 gp.

GLOVES OF FORTUNATE STRIKING

Best worn by the cleverest of warmakers, these gloves allow their wearer to attempt to change an unfortunate strike at the enemy to a more accurate one.

Once per day, after the wearer of the gloves has made an attack roll (but before it's determined whether the roll succeeded), he may choose to make the attack roll again. He must use the second result even if it's lower.

The wearer can't use this ability if he has already made the attack roll again because of another ability he possesses, nor can he use another ability he possesses to make the attack roll again as he uses the gloves.

The gloves can be used only after they are worn continuously for 24 hours.

If they are taken off, they become inactive until they are again donned and worn for a full 24 hours.

Faint divination; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, true strike; Price 2,000 gp.

HELM OF GLORIOUS RECOVERY

Once per day, the wearer of this helm can activate it by uttering the command word.

The helm instantaneously cures the wearer of 4d8+7 points of damage.

The helm can only be activated after being worn continuously for 24 hours.

If it is taken off, it becomes inactive until it is again donned and worn for a full 24 hours.

Moderate conjuration; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, cure critical wounds; Price 5,600 gp.

HORN OF VOLUME

This horn lets the user be heard up to twice as far as she normally would be when speaking, singing, or using an ability that affects creatures that can hear the user.

When using the skirmish or mass battle rules, the bearer can command creatures not in line of sight up to 12 squares away, instead of the normal 6.

This benefit does not increase the range of Commander Effects.

Faint illusion; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, ghost sound; Price 1,000 gp.

MAGIC SLEEPING BAG

This woolen sleeping bag grants the user a comfortable and peaceful night's sleep.

While the user lies within, it provides the benefit of endure elements.

With a night's rest, the user also recovers 1 hit point per character level (in addition to hit points recovered normally).

Getting into or out of a magic sleeping bag is a full-round action.

Faint conjuration and enchantment; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, endure elements, cure light wounds; Price 1,000 gp.

SANDALS OF SPRINTING

The fleeting speed of the cheetah has been imbued in these light sandals.

Once per day, as a swift action, the sandals' wearer can activate them to increase her land movement by 30 feet, to a maximum of twice her normal speed, until the start of her next turn.

This increase counts as an enhancement bonus, and it affects the wearer's jumping distance as normal for increased speed.

The sandals can be used only after being worn continuously for 24 hours.

If they are taken off, they become inactive until they are again donned and worn for a full 24 hours.

Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, longstrider; Price 8,000 gp.

SCEPTER OF OBEDIENCE

This scepter grants a +5 competence bonus on the bearer's Charisma checks and Charisma-based skill checks.

When using the skirmish or mass battle rules, this benefit increases the Commander rating of the bearer by 1.

Faint enchantment; CL 5th; Craft Rod, charm person; Price 12,500 gp.

SHIRT OF BONE

This shirt grants the wearer damage reduction 5/bludgeoning.

Strong abjuration and perhaps evocation (if miracle is used); CL 18th; Craft Wondrous Item, stoneskin, miracle or wish;

Price 58,000 gp.

SHIRT OF CHAINS

This shirt grants the wearer damage reduction 5/piercing.

Strong abjuration and perhaps evocation (if miracle is used);

CL 18th; Craft Wondrous Item, stoneskin, miracle or wish;

Price 58,000 gp.

SHIRT OF DEMONSKIN

This shirt, composed of bits of demon skin sewed together, grants the wearer damage reduction 5/good.

Strong abjuration and perhaps evocation (if miracle is used);

CL 18th; Craft Wondrous Item, stoneskin, miracle or wish;

Price 76,000 gp.

SHIRT OF IRONSKIN

This shirt is made of plates of iron grants the wearer damage reduction 5/adamantine.

Strong abjuration and perhaps evocation (if miracle is used);

CL 18th; Craft Wondrous Item, stoneskin, miracle or wish;

Price 90,000 gp.

SHIRT OF RESILIENCE

This sturdy leather shirt grants the wearer damage reduction 5/magic.

Strong abjuration and perhaps evocation (if miracle is used);

CL 18th; Craft Wondrous Item, stoneskin, miracle or wish;

Price 58,000 gp.

SHIRT OF SLAADSKIN

This shirt of scaly slaad skin grants the wearer damage reduction 5/lawful.

Strong abjuration and perhaps evocation (if miracle is used); CL 18th; Craft Wondrous Item, stoneskin, miracle or wish;

Price 76,000 gp.

SHIRT OF THE ANGELS

This shirt seems durable despite being composed entirely of feathers (said to be taken from a living angel).

The shirt grants the wearer damage reduction 5/evil.

Strong abjuration and perhaps evocation (if miracle is used);

CL 18th; Craft Wondrous Item, stoneskin, miracle or wish;

Price 76,000 gp.

SHIRT OF THE FEY

This light blue shirt fades, becoming almost impossible to see once worn, leaving only the faint scent of grass behind.

The item grants the wearer damage reduction 5/cold iron.

Strong abjuration and perhaps evocation (if miracle is used);

CL 18th; Craft Wondrous Item, stoneskin, miracle or wish;

Price 76,000 gp.

Shirt of the Inevitable: This item is actually the metallic chestplate from a noble of the inevitable constructs of Mechanus, which grants the wearer damage reduction 5/chaos.

Strong abjuration and perhaps evocation (if miracle is used);

CL 18th; Craft Wondrous Item, stoneskin, miracle or wish;

Price 76,000 gp.

SHIRT OF THE MOON

This gleaming silvery shirt grants the wearer damage reduction 5/silver.

Strong abjuration and perhaps evocation (if miracle is used);

CL 18th; Craft Wondrous Item, stoneskin, miracle or wish;

Price 76,000 gp.

SHIRT OF THE TREANT

This leafy vest grants the wearer damage reduction 5/slashing.

Strong abjuration and perhaps evocation (if miracle is used);

CL 18th; Craft Wondrous Item, stoneskin, miracle or wish;

Price 58,000 gp.

SLEEPING SPIKE

This twisted ashen spike displays no magical properties until activated.

The spike does nothing until it is planted firmly in the ground (a standard action).

One round later, the spike becomes invisible.

Any creature that thereafter comes within 10 feet of the spike causes it to emit a sleep effect (Will DC 17 negates) in a 20-foot-radius burst, affecting all creatures with 10 Hit Dice or fewer.

This effect destroys the spike.

Moderate enchantment; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, symbol of sleep; Price 3,250 gp.

STUNNING SPIKE

This bronze spike tingles the fingers with static electricity but demonstrates no magical properties until activated. The spike does nothing until it is planted firmly in the ground (a standard action).

One round later, the spike becomes invisible.

Any creature that thereafter comes within 10 feet of the spike causes it to burst, stunning all creatures in a 20-foot radius for 1 round (Will DC 20 negates).

This effect destroys the spike.

Strong enchantment; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, symbol of stunning, guards and wards; Price 9,550 gp.

MONSTER MANUAL 2 (3.0)

CHROMATIC DISK

A spell weaver is never without its chromatic disk.

This 6-inch-diameter indestructible disk glows with colors that slowly shift through the spectrum.

This object stores ten additional spell levels of energy that the creature can tap and use as it wishes—the spell weaver could, for example, cast two extra 5th-level spells in a day, or three 3rd-level spells and one 1st-level spell, or any other combination of extra spell levels that adds up to ten, so long as no single spell is higher than 5th level.

(For this purpose, two 0-level spells are equivalent to one 1st-level spell).

To tap this spell energy, a spell weaver must hold the chromatic disk in at least one of its hands.

The disk automatically recharges itself to full power every night, at midnight.

A spell powered by the disk is cast as though the caster had the Spell Focus feat for the spell in question.

Only a spell weaver can utilize a chromatic disk.

Should any other creature pick one up and try to tap its energy (by employing the Use Magic Device skill, for instance), it explodes, dealing 4d10 points of damage to everything within a 30-foot radius.

MONSTER MANUAL 3 (3.5)

CORAL CIRCLET

A coral circlet is a simple headpiece that allows the wearer to control a single specific siege crab.

The wearer can give the crustacean commands whenever the crab is within 120 feet, which the crab carries out to the best of its ability.

By closing his or her eyes, the wearer can see through the crab's eyestalks, allowing him or her a clear view of the battlefield even if the wearer is entirely enclosed within the crab's hollow abdomen.

If the wearer of the circlet is located within the siege crab's shielded compartment, any spell he or she casts (except those with a range of personal or touch) can be targeted as if the spell was originating from the crab itself.

For example, a wizard within the compartment could cast a meteor swarm that originated from the crab's claw rather than the caster's own hand.

This does not require an action on the crab's part.
CL 20th; Craft Wondrous Item, geas/quest, giant vermin, miracle, scrying, must be 20th-level divine caster; Price 160,000 gp; Cost 80,000 gp + 6,400 XP.

MONSTER MANUAL 5 (3.5)

HOWLING HELM

Price (Item Level): 20,000 gp (15th)

Body Slot: Head

Caster Level: 15th

Aura: Strong; (DC 22) evocation

Activation: Standard (command)

Weight: 3 lb.

This shining mithral helm is shaped like a wolf's head.

Whenever desired, the wearer can whisper a command word to amplify his voice up to the level of twenty humans shouting, which can be heard from six miles away in an otherwise quiet area.

A second whispered command, which is not amplified, ends the effect.

The wearer can utter a different command word to use greater shout, as the spell, once per day.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, ghost sound, greater shout.

Cost to Create: 10,000 gp, 800 XP, 20 days.

MYSTERIES OF THE MOONSEA (3.5)

CHAUNTEAN SPHERE

This wooden sphere is about 2 feet across, carved with Moonshaeen geometric patterns and various kinds of plants.

Once activated, it sends out invisible pulses of energy that are soothing to nearby plants; plants that attempt to move more than 200 feet from the item must succeed on a DC 22 Will save; failure means the plant remains within 200 feet of the sphere.

Ambulatory plant creatures sown within its area of influence have a -5 penalty on their saving throws to resist the item.

Activating or deactivating the sphere requires a command word, which is carved on the sphere and disguised as an elaborate knot.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate transmutation; CL 10th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, command plants or sympathy, 2,500 gp, 100 XP.

Price: 5,000 gp.

Weight: 15 lb.

ORIENTAL ADVENTURES (3.0)

BIWA OF CALM

The biwa is a stringed instrument similar to a lute. When played, the clear and dulcet tones of the instrument produce an air of dignified calm if the performer can succeed at a Perform check (DC 15).

This has the effect of a calm emotions spell within a 30-foot radius.

The effect lasts as long as the player continues playing: He must make one Perform check each minute.

On a die roll of a natural 1, the music is exceptionally poor and unharmonious, and the calming effect is immediately broken for the remainder of the encounter.

The instrument cannot be used effectively as long as hostile creatures are present who previously heard the musician's musical butchery.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, calm emotions, Perform skill; Market Price: 7,500 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

BIWA OF KAKITA

This fine plucked lute confers a +2 enhancement bonus on its player's Perform checks, in addition to the +2 circumstance bonus conveyed by a masterwork musical instrument.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, creator must have 5 ranks of the Perform skill; Market Price: 4,000 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

CHARM OF PROTECTION FROM DISEASE

This magic item is a long strip of yellow or red paper, inked with potent supplications to one of various major spirits. When hung in a house or similar building, it exerts its magical influence to protect the occupants of the building from disease.

Characters are immune to any disease that might be transmitted or contacted while within the building protected by the charm.

The charm is effective so long as it is hung in place, and wards an area up to a 30-foot radius, but never larger than a single building.

The charm is easily destroyed by fire and other disasters, and can be easily removed.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, remove disease; Market Price: 30,000 gp; Weight: —.

CHARM OF PROTECTION FROM SPIRITS

This charm, on yellow or red paper, is inked with powerful threats against spirits.

Any spirit attempting to enter a house warded by this charm must make a successful Will saving throw.

The DC is determined by the power of the charm, which comes in three varieties.

If the spirit fails the saving throw, it cannot enter the warded house, though it can use spells and ranged attacks to target those inside the building.

The charm must be pasted to the lintel of the door to be effective, and it cannot be touched by a spirit creature.

It wards an area up to a 50-foot radius, but never larger than a single building.

Caster Level: 3rd [DC 13], 7th [DC 16], or 11th [DC 19]; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, protection from spirits, Heighten Spell [for DCs above 13]; Market Price: 12,000 gp [DC 13], 56,000 gp [DC 16], or 132,000 gp [DC 19]; Weight: —.

CHARM OF PROTECTION FROM THEFT

This charm, on yellow or red paper, is written with supplications to various major spirits to protect the building from thievery.

All creatures within the building suffer a –10 penalty on all Hide, Move Silently, and Open Lock checks.

To be effective, the charm must be pasted to the lintel of the door, clearly showing to all that the house is protected.

Any person other than the owner of the building who attempts to remove the charm suffers a blast from a glyph of warding (2d8 points of electricity damage).

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, see invisibility, arcane lock, glyph of warding; Market Price: 36,000 gp; Weight: —.

COURTIER'S OBI

The wearer of this fine silk sash gains a +10 competence bonus on Diplomacy checks.

A magic obi occupies the same space as, and cannot be worn with, a magic belt.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, creator must have 5 ranks of the Diplomacy skill; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

DHOTI OF NONVIOLENCE

This white dhoti, a 5-foot length of unsewn cloth that is worn wrapped around the lower torso, can produce a calm emotions effect upon command when it is worn by a person as his only garment.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, calm emotions; Market Price: 10,800 gp; Weight: —.

DIAMOND ROD

This item is a small iron rod topped with a large diamond. When a character points the rod and utters the command word, a lightning bolt spell discharges from the gem, as if cast by a 12th-level sorcerer.

Each use requires 1 charge, and the diamond rod has 30 charges when created.

When the charges are expended, the diamond itself is still worth 5,000 gp.

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, lightning bolt; Market Price: 24,440 gp; Cost to Create: 14,720 gp + 389 XP; Weight: 2 lb.

DRUMS OF THUNDER

This magic item is a small pair of drums, adorned with tassels and a harness to fasten it to the waist.

The drums have several uses requiring different numbers of charges.

Only one use of the drums can be called on per round. When beat upon, they can cause the wearer to fly (one charge), summon a cloud chariot (two charges), create fear (2 charges), control weather (1 charge), or cast a lightning bolt (2 charges).

The save DC for the fear and lightning bolt effects is 16. The drums have 20 charges when created.

Caster Level: 20th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cloud chariot, control weather, fear, fly, lightning bolt; Market Price: 36,750 gp; Weight: 5 lb.

DUST OF IMMOBILITY

This dust is typically found in a hollow blowpipe.

It can be blown 5 feet as a standard action that does not provoke an attack of opportunity.

If the character using the dust makes a successful ranged touch attack against an opponent within 5 feet, the target must make a successful Will saving throw (DC 13) or be affected by a hold person spell.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, hold person; Market Price: 300 gp; Weight: —.

EIGHT DIAGRAM COINS

These coins are actually copper disks, each engraved with a specific symbol.

Eight are always in a set.

Both minor and major varieties are used the same: The user tosses the coins on the ground while asking a question aloud.

The minor variety grants the benefits of an augury spell regarding the question, while the major variety grants the benefits of divination.

Both kinds can be used only once per day.

Caster Level: 3rd [minor] or 7th [major]; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, augury [minor] or divination [major]; Market Price: 2,160 gp [minor] or 10,080 gp [major]; Weight: —.

EVERPRODUCING RICE MORTAR

This magic item appears to be a normal rice mortar and mallet.

The magic of the everproducing rice mortar is activated by turning the mallet in the mortar one direction, and deactivated by turning it in the other direction.

Once per day, the rice mortar can produce any type of food or drink for up to 100 people, as desired.

The food spews from the mortar hot and fresh—rice, buns, sake, candies, tea, salt, and other foodstuffs can all be produced.

The food is normal in all respects.

A few extraordinary everproducing rice mortars are also imbued with the ability to grant up to four wishes.

Once all the wishes have been granted, these mortars still function as the common variety.

Caster Level: 11th [common] or 17th [extraordinary]; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, create food and water, wish [extraordinary only]; Market Price: 59,400 gp [common] or 190,500 gp [extraordinary]; Cost to Create [extraordinary]: 45,250 gp + 23,620 XP; Weight: 1 lb.

FIGURINES OF WONDROUS POWER

These figurines work in the same manner as those detailed in the DUNGEON MASTER's Guide.

ASHOKA'S LION KINGS

These come in sets of four and grow into celestial lions that do not attack unless threatened.

Each lion has an Intelligence of 15, is lawful good, and is well versed in the art of oratory and the study of philosophy (Diplomacy +6, Knowledge (religion) +10).

In addition to providing enlightening discourse on kindness and justice, the lion kings can benefit their owner by serving as guards, obstacles, or messengers.

The lion kings remain in existence for up to a week, but they can be called only once a month.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects, commune with greater spirit; Market Price: 20,000 gp; Weight: — lb.

BANDICOOT MOUNT

This figurine appears as a Tiny rat when called, but if a character speaks a special command word, she gains the minute form effect, shrinking her to 3 inches tall (a Will save against DC 22 is allowed if the owner is unwilling).

The character may then ride the rat through areas too small for normal passage with little chance of detection.

Once a day for up to two hours, the owner can ride the bandicoot mount; if it is damaged, or if the rider dismounts, both rat and rider revert to their original state instantly.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects, contingency, minute form; Market Price: 45,000 gp; Weight: — lb.

WHITE BULL

When animated, this figurine turns into a large white bull (use the bison statistics in the Monster Manual).

It fights only in self-defense and can pull a plow.

The bull can haul up to 10,000 pounds at a speed of 30 feet. The owner can use the bull once per day and then it transforms back into rock at sundown.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects; Market Price: 21,000 gp; Weight: — lb.

FLUTE OF THE SNAKE

This simple bamboo flute allows its player to summon venomous snakes that follow the character's mental commands.

The character must make a successful Perform check against DC 15, and the number of snakes summoned depends on the check result.

If the check result is 15–19, the flute summons one Small viper.

If the result is 20–24, the flute summons 1d3 Small vipers.

If the result is 25+, the flute summons 1d4+1 Small vipers or 1d3 Medium-size vipers, at the player's option. The snakes appear anywhere within 40 feet of the player and remain for 7 rounds.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, summon nature's ally IV; Market Price: 45,360 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

GEM OF WISHES

This large gem looks like any other fine gemstone, and is typically worth 1,000 gp on its own merit. Its magic is far more valuable, however, for it holds four wishes when first created.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wish; Market Price: 131,600 gp; Cost to Create: 16,300 gp + 21,224 XP; Weight: —.

GONG OF DISPELLING

This magic item is a large gong, 3 feet in diameter. When hung from a frame and struck, the gong has the effects of dispel evil and dispel magic within a 30-foot radius. Each time the gong is sounded, 1 charge is used. The gong has 50 charges when created.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dispel evil, dispel magic; Market Price: 84,375 gp; Weight: 10 lb.

KIMONO OF STORING

This fine silk kimono has large sleeves in a formal style. On command, an item held in the wearer's hand disappears. The item can weight no more than 20 pounds and must be able to be held in one hand.

With a snap of the fingers, the item reappears.

Storing or retrieving an item is a free action.

Each sleeve stores one item in stasis, shrunk down so small within the sleeve that it cannot be seen.

Many owners of kimonos of storing find them to be useful and dramatic ways to store weapons, wands, and—because items are stored in stasis—even lit lanterns.

If the effect is suppressed or dispelled, the stored item appears instantly.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shrink item; Market Price: 4,400 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

MEMPO OF PURE THOUGHT

The wearer of this iron face mask (usually worn with great armor) can use discern lies, as a standard action, up to three times per day.

A character wearing a mempo of pure thought cannot also wear a pair of eye lenses or goggles.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, discern lies; Market Price: 30,240 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

MIRROR OF CURING

Looking like a normal mirror 5 feet tall by 2 feet wide, this item has special therapeutic properties.

When the command word is spoken, any creature viewing the mirror receives the benefit of a heal spell.

This requires the use of 1 charge; the mirror has 10 charges when created.

When all charges are spent, the mirror shatters.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, heal; Market Price: 11,800 gp; Weight: 40 lb.

MIRROR OF ENLIGHTENMENT

This looks like a normal round mirror, 3 feet in diameter.

When a character speaks the command word, that character (only) can see a colored aura surrounding the reflection of any creature visible in the mirror.

By concentrating as a standard action, the character can use detect chaos, detect evil, detect good, detect law, or know motivation on any one creature visible in the mirror.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, detect chaos, detect evil, detect good, detect law, know motivation; Market Price: 14,850 gp; Weight: 45 lb.

MIRROR OF FEAR

This mirror looks the same as a mirror of enlightenment.

Any creature looking in the mirror sees a hideous and distorted reflection of itself.

The viewer must make a Will save (DC 15) or become panicked.

A panicked creature must drop anything it holds and flee at top speed from the source of its fear, as well as any other dangers it encounters, along a random path.

In addition, the creature suffers a –2 morale penalty on saving throws.

If cornered, a panicked creature cowers and does not attack, typically using the total defense action in combat.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fear; Market Price: 56,000 gp; Weight: 45 lb.

MIRROR OF SPIRIT SEEING

This small, round mirror, 1 foot in diameter, looks ordinary enough.

However, all spirits passing in front of it are revealed in it in their true forms, even if these forms are invisible, ethereal, polymorphed, or otherwise disguised.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, true seeing; Market Price: 45,000 gp; Weight: 5 lb.

PAPER OF FORMS

This magic colored paper can be used by those with the Craft (origami) skill.

When such a character folds the paper to create an animal or object (making a successful Craft check against DC 20), then blows on the origami form and utters the command word, the paper transforms into a life-sized, real version of the form with all the normal properties of the item created.

The paper can only be used to make an animal (not any other kind of creature) up to size Large, or a nonmagical item up to 1,000 cubic feet large.

Whatever the object or animal created, it is highly susceptible to fire, taking double damage from fire unless it makes a successful saving throw.

The paper remains in its transformed state until the character who created it utters a second command word, causing it to revert back to its origami form.

This origami form can be transformed again into the same form as long as it is never unfolded; unfolding the origami shape ruins the paper and negates its magic.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects, major creation; Market Price: 10,000 gp; Weight: —.

PEARL OF PROTECTION FROM FIRE

When carried, this pearl protects its owner from damage from fire.

When the bearer would normally take damage from fire, subtract 15 points from the total to account for the pearl's effect.

Some pearls subtract 30 points instead.

Caster Level: 5th [minor] or 7th [major]; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, protection from elements; Market Price: 32,000 gp [minor] or 48,000 gp [major]; Weight: —.

PEARL OF THE TIDES

This pearl allows a character to cause water to recede or rise as if using the control water spell.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, control water; Market Price: 50,400 gp; Weight: —.

PORCELAIN MASK

When placed on a corpse, this plain white porcelain mask animates the body as though with the animate dead spell. The character who placed the mask on the corpse controls the new skeleton or zombie.

A character cannot control more than 2 HD of undead created with porcelain masks per character level.

Removing the mask from the animated undead ends the effect, though the same corpse can later be reanimated unless it is destroyed.

A character can remove the mask by winning an opposed grapple check after getting a hold on the undead creature. Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate dead; Market Price: 27,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

SACRED OFUDA

This small strip of paper has prayers written on it that are powerful against undead.

When touched to the forehead of an undead creature, the sacred ofuda adheres to the creature and immobilizes it, as the halt undead spell.

The user of the ofuda must make a successful melee touch attack against the creature.

This provokes an attack of opportunity from the undead. If the attack of opportunity deals damage, the user fails to place the ofuda.

If the ofuda is successfully placed, the undead receives no saving throw.

The effect lasts as long as the ofuda remains attached, but even a moderate wind can cause the ofuda to fall off the creature's forehead.

Any attack on the undead creature causes the ofuda to fall and the effect to end.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, halt undead; Market Price: 27,000 gp; Weight: —.

SPIRIT WHISK

This brush-like implement can clear an area of spirits. A character can use the whisk to protect an area 10 feet square by brushing the whisk around the area as a full-round action.

In subsequent rounds, the character can extend the protected region to contiguous square areas.

The whisk creates the effects of a protection from spirits spell in the affected area, which remains in effect as long as the character holding the spirit whisk remains in the area.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, protection from spirits; Market Price: 10,800 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

TWILIGHT LANTERN

This paper lantern contains a tiny fire that burns without fuel and brightens or dims in response to verbal commands (when a command word is used).

It sheds light in a radius from 5 feet to 30 feet, as commanded.

Normal conditions (wind or rain) cannot extinguish a twilight lantern, though immersion in water or the use of magic such as a quench spell ends the lantern's magic.

Caster Level: 1st; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate fire; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: —.

VAJRA ARROW

This arrow becomes a 3d6 lightning bolt when fired from a bow (save DC 14).

In addition, it creates a loud clap of thunder.

Creatures that are within the effect of the lightning bolt must make Fortitude saves (DC 15) or be deafened.

Deaf creatures, in addition to the obvious effects, suffer a -4 penalty on initiative and a 20% chance to miscast and lose any spell with a verbal (V) component that they try to cast. The arrow is consumed in the attack.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, lightning bolt, 10 or more ranks in Alchemy; Market Price: 480 gp.

WILDING CLASP

Appearing as a 3-inch long gold chain, this item only works when attached to an amulet (or similar item) or vest (or similar item).

The clasp prevents its attached item from melding into the wearer's new form when transforming magic (such as polymorph self or a druid's wild shape ability) is used, allowing the item to be used in the new form.

For example, a druid with a wilding clasp attached to her periap of wisdom could take the shape of a wolf (which normally doesn't use equipment) and have the periap remain in its normal form, fully functional.

Note that some forms may be harmful to certain items (such as a fire elemental form when wearing a necklace of missiles).

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, polymorph self or creator must have wild shape ability; Market Price: 4,000 gp; Weight: —.

WRIST THREADS OF SPIRIT PROTECTION

These threads are worn about the wrists in various rituals, particularly in summer.

The threads create a permanent protection from spirits spell centered on the wearer with a range of personal.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, protection from spirits; Market Price: 12,000 gp; Weight: —.

WONDROUS WRITING SET

This writing set comes in a fine lacquered box and contains a brush, inking stone, and inkwell with ink.

When used for writing, the set gives a +2 bonus on Craft (calligraphy) checks and a +10 bonus on Forgery checks.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, creator must have at least 5 ranks in both Forgery and Craft (calligraphy); Market Price: 2,060 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

PLANAR HANDBOOK (3.5)

BOOTS OF GRAVITY

These leather boots allow the wearer to choose the direction of gravity's pull on him and his equipment.

The character can move normally on any solid surface by imagining "down" as being whatever is below the boots.

A character can make this decision once per round, as a free action.

If the wearer of the boots drops an item, it falls toward the ground as normal.

The wearer of the boots can carry another living being, and so long as the wearer does not let go of the second character, that character's gravity is the same as the wearer's.

However, as soon as the wearer releases the character, normal gravity takes over.

Technically, a character wearing boots of gravity can fly by choosing a solid surface and letting himself fall through the air toward it.

A character "flying" in this fashion moves at 60 feet per round.

He can turn once per round thereafter by choosing a new "down" and falling in that direction.

A falling character loses all "downward" momentum when he redefines his gravity.

Moderate conjuration; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, false gravity; Price 50,400 gp; Weight 1 lb.

CLOAK OF SHADOW

This dark gray cloak appears to be made of diaphanous cloth that always seems to be fluttering slightly, as though in a breeze.

When worn with the hood up, a cloak of shadow gives the wearer a +5 competence bonus on Hide checks in areas of shadowy illumination, but applies a -5 penalty in brightly lit areas.

In addition, when the wearer is in complete darkness, he can become incorporeal once per day for up to 1 minute.

The cloak is actually a greater shadow (see page 221 of the Monster Manual), bound to the shape of a cloak by magic.

Once per day, the wearer can command the shadow to come forth, and it does the wearer's bidding until slain, or until the wearer commands it to return to its cloak form.

If the shadow is slain, it reverts to cloak form and can't be brought forth again for seven days (the cloak functions normally, but the shadow can't be activated during this time).

If the cloak is destroyed, the shadow is destroyed forever. Should the wearer enter the Plane of Shadow, the greater shadow is free to act on its own—and may well attempt to slay its former master.

Strong conjuration; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster VIII, ethereal jaunt; Price 75,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

DECK OF ILLUSIONS, PLANAR

This set of parchment cards is usually found in an ivory, leather, or wooden box.

A full deck consists of thirty-four cards.

A planar deck of illusions appears identical to a regular deck of illusions.

As with a regular deck, when a card is drawn at random and thrown to the ground, a major image of a creature is formed. The figment lasts until dispelled.

The illusory creature cannot move more than 30 feet away from where the card landed, but otherwise moves and acts as if it were real.

At all times, it obeys the desires of the character who drew the card.

When the illusion is dispelled, the card becomes blank and cannot be used again.

If the card is picked up, the illusion is automatically and instantly dispelled.

A regular deck of illusions produces illusions of creatures suitable to the environment of the Material Plane.

The images of the creatures conjured with a planar deck of illusions have a significantly otherworldly focus.

The cards in a deck and the illusions they bring forth are summarized on the accompanying table.

(Use one of the first two columns to simulate the contents of a full deck, using either ordinary playing cards or tarot cards).

Playing Card	Tarot Card	Creature
A ♥	IV. The Emperor	Solar (angel)
K ♥	Knight of swords	Planetar (angel)
Q ♥	Queen of staves	Astral deva (angel)
J ♥	King of staves	Ghaele (eladrin)
10 ♥	VII. The Chariot	Avoral (guardinal)
9 ♥	Page of staves	Bralani (eladrin)
8 ♥	Ace of cups	Hound archon
2 ♥	Five of staves	Lantern archon
A ♦	III. The Empress	Elder fire elemental
K ♦	Two of cups	Greater earth elemental
Q ♦	Queen of swords	Huge air elemental
J ♦	XIV. Temperance	Large water elemental
10 ♦	Seven of staves	Medium fire elemental
9 ♦	Four of pentacles	Medium earth elemental
8 ♦	Ace of pentacles	Small air elemental
2 ♦	Six of pentacles	Small water elemental
A ♠	II. The High Priestess	Pit fiend (devil)
K ♠	Three of staves	Horned devil
Q ♠	Four of cups	Erinyes (devil)
J ♠	Knight of pentacles	Barbed devil
10 ♠	Seven of swords	Hellcat (devil)
9 ♠	Three of swords	Chain devil
8 ♠	Ace of swords	Bearded devil
2 ♠	Five of cups	Imp (devil)
A ♣	VIII. Strength	Balor (demon)
K ♣	Page of pentacles	Marilith (demon)
Q ♣	Ten of cups	Succubus (demon)
J ♣	Nine of pentacles	Hezrou (demon)
10 ♣	Nine of staves	Vrock (demon)
9 ♣	King of swords	Babau (demon)
8 ♣	Ace of staves	Dretch (demon)
2 ♣	Five of cups	Quasit (demon)
Joker	Two of pentacles	Illusion of deck's owner
Joker	Two of staves	Illusion of deck's owner (gender reversed)

A randomly generated deck is usually complete (roll of 11–100 on d%), but may be discovered (01–10) with 1d20 of its cards missing.

If cards are missing, reduce the price by a corresponding amount.

Faint illusion; CL 6th; Craft Wondrous Item, major image; Price 8,100 gp; Weight 1/2 lb.

GATE COMPASS

This item looks like an ordinary compass.

Instead of pointing to true north, a gate compass points to an area envisioned by the holder (or to the nearest portal leading to the area).

It has the same chance of being on target or off target as if it were casting a teleport spell.

Once the compass points to an area (either correctly or incorrectly), it will continue to point consistently to the area until it reaches the area or goes to another plane.

Faint divination; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, divination; Price 2,500 gp; Weight 1 lb.

GATE COMPASS, GREATER

As a gate compass, except that it always points correctly to the desired destination.

Moderate divination; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, find the path; Price 10,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

RING GATES, PLANAR

Similar to ring gates, these items always come in pairs—two silver-etched iron rings, each about 5 feet in diameter.

The rings must be on different planes of existence to function.

Whatever is put through one ring comes out the other, and up to 10,000 pounds of material can be transferred each day. (Objects only partially pushed through and then retracted do not count).

This useful device allows for instantaneous transport of items or creatures.

A character can reach through to grab items near the other ring or even stab a weapon through if so desired.

Alternatively, a character could stick his head through to look around.

A spellcaster can cast a spell through a planar ring gate.

Creatures of Fine, Diminutive, Tiny, Small, or Medium size can pass through easily.

A Large creature can make a DC 15 Escape Artist check to slip through.

Each ring has an “entry side” and an “exit side”, both marked with appropriate symbols.

Strong conjuration; CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, gate; Price 200,000 gp; Weight 20 lb. each.

ROPE OF CROSSING

This seemingly ordinary rope enables planar travel across the layers of an Outer Plane.

While holding one end of the rope, the bearer can hurl the other end up into the air, where it remains magically suspended, or drop the other end down from a height, such as a cliff or a tree.

By moving up the rope, climbers can ascend to higher layers on their current plane; by moving down the rope, climbers can descend to lower layers of the plane.

The rope magically lengthens or shortens, depending on how many layers the plane has.

Crossing from one layer to the next is accomplished by climbing 10 feet on the rope.

When the climber reaches his destination, he merely steps off the rope, and he is on the new layer of the plane.

The rope remains in place until the last climber steps off, at which point the bearer can recoil the rope.

If the plane restricts exit or entry via plane shift or similar magic, this item fails to function.

Moderate conjuration; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, plane shift; Price 90,000 gp; Weight 10 lb.

SEXTANT OF THE PLANES

A sextant of the planes analyzes the environment to give the user a planar bearing.

In essence, it determines what planar traits the plane exhibits.

When not in use, the sextant appears to be a brass sphere about 4 inches across, nestled into a round brass box about 8 inches in diameter, with designs inscribed over every surface.

When the brass sphere is pulled upward, the device “unfolds” to reveal the inner workings, including a series of crystal lenses and a myriad of control knobs and levers. This unfolding process takes 1 full round; restoring the sextant to its portable form takes the same amount of time.

Using a sextant of the planes takes 1 minute and reveals the following information (see page 147 of the Dungeon Master's Guide for more information about planar traits).

- Whether the gravity is normal, heavy, light, objective (“down” is always a specific direction), subjective (“down” is defined by each individual), or nonexistent.
- Whether time passes at the normal rate, faster, slower, or erratically (randomly speeding up or slowing down), or whether time has any noticeable effect on the plane at all.
- Whether the plane is infinite, finite, or self-contained (the edges of the plane wrap around).
- Whether the plane's basic nature is alterable morphic (you can make changes by physical effort), static (the plane never changes), highly morphic (changing as a reaction to various stimuli), magically morphic (you can make changes by casting spells), divinely morphic (deities can change the plane), or sentient (the plane effects its own changes).
- Whether the element of air, earth, fire, or water is dominant on the plane, or whether the plane is dominated by positive or negative energy.
- Whether the plane is aligned with good or evil, law or chaos, or neutrality, and whether the alignment is mild or strong.
- Whether magic works normally on the plane, or is dead (nonexistent), wild (unpredictable in effect), impeded (spells are more difficult to cast), enhanced (cast as though with metamagic effects), or limited (only spells of certain schools, subschools, descriptors, or levels work).
- The location of any portals within 60 feet of the sextant.

A sextant does not reveal the name of the plane it is on, though its user can attempt a DC 18 Knowledge (the planes) check to determine which plane or planes this information corresponds to.

When used within 30 feet of a portal, a sextant of the planes can be instructed to provide the same information about the plane on the far side of the portal, as well as whether the portal is one-way or two-way.

Faint divination; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, analyze portal (see Manual of the Planes); Price 54,000 gp; Weight 12 lb.

VESTMENTS OF STEADFAST SPELLCASTING

Versions of this item can vary greatly in appearance, depending on the race of the garment's creator and the plane upon which it was made.

Its appearance ranges from snowy white celestial robes to leaf-adorned, dirt-colored clothing suitable to the Beastlands.

Vestments of steadfast spellcasting enable the wearer to ignore the magic trait of a plane (except for dead magic planes) and cast spells normally.

Depending on the plane visited, the owner of the garment might find it to be of unparalleled utility or might choose to take it off to experience the enhanced spellcasting opportunities certain places afford.

Strong evocation (if miracle is used); CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, limited wish or miracle; Price 25,000 gp; Weight 2 lb.

YETH HORN

This strangely shaped device is a musical instrument concocted of twisted tubes and miniature bellows.

When sounded properly (requiring a DC 15 Perform [wind instruments] check), it replicates a yeth hound's bay.

All creatures except evil outsiders within a 60-foot spread must succeed on a DC 16 Will save or become panicked for 2d6 rounds.

This is a sonic, mind-affecting fear effect.

Whether or not the save is successful, an affected creature cannot be affected by the same yeth horn's sound for 24 hours.

Moderate enchantment; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, fear, creator must have 5 ranks in Perform (wind instruments); Price 10,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

PLAYER'S GUIDE TO FAERÛN (3.5)

AQUAMARINE OF SPELL EXTENDING

This blue stone is mounted in the center of a gold and silver hourglass.

Once per day, the owner can gain the benefits of the Extend Spell feat on any spell of 6th level or lower that she casts.

The affected spell uses its normal spell slot (not a slot one level higher, as use of the feat would require).

A caster who does not prepare spells still must pay the penalty of an extended casting time when using this item.

The item must be held in the caster's hand while the spell is cast to gain this benefit.

Strong (no school); CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, Extend Spell; Price 3,700 gp; Weight 1 lb.

GAUNTLETS OF WEAPONRY ARCANE

These heavy leather-and-silver gauntlets cover the wearer's hands and lower forearms.

Ornate silver stitching decorates the leather armguards and fingers, and each link of the silver chainmail that reinforces the palms is etched with intricate runes.

Any weapon (even a nonmetallic one such as a quarterstaff) that the wearer grasps while wearing the gauntlets overcomes damage reduction as if it were a magic silver weapon.

If the weapon is already magic and silver, the gauntlets have no additional effect.

Faint transmutation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, magic weapon; Price 9,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

GLOVE OF TAARNAHM THE VIGILANT

This chainmail gauntlet allows the wielder to hurl any melee weapon he carries as though it had the throwing and returning special abilities.

Moderate transmutation; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, magic stone, telekinesis; Price 10,000 gp.

INSTRUMENT OF THE WINDS

This fine instrument is a masterwork lute (+2 circumstance bonus on Perform [string instruments] checks). Once per day, the user can attempt to play a certain tune on the instrument.

If she succeeds on a DC 15 Perform (string instruments) check, the instrument of the winds summons a Large air elemental, as though with the summon monster VI spell. Moderate Conjunction; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster VI; Price 22,000 gp; Weight 3 lb.

KIIRA N'VAELAHR

These bright green gems, each about the size of a man's fist, were created for the most skilled spies serving the city of Myth Drannor before it fell.

When placed against the skin, a kiira N'Vaelahr embeds itself painlessly into the flesh where it touches, fixing itself so firmly that it cannot be removed.

Traditionally, such a gem was placed over the heart, but it may be bonded anywhere the owner desires.

Once implanted, the gem may be moved along the user's body through mental concentration.

A bonded kiira N'Vaelahr grants the following powers.

- The kiira N'Vaelahr acts as a sort of recorder, storing the memories of its current owner automatically.

The stored memories can be replayed as a vision.

Such a review of the information is visible and audible only to the bearer of the kiira unless he uses another of its abilities (see below) to make it visible to others.

These memories encompass sight and sound only, and they are somewhat hazy and difficult to focus on.

(Attempts to see or hear a particular event in the vision take a –2 penalty on Spot and Listen checks).

The gem's owner may, as a standard action, will the gem to record memories in greater detail.

The gem can hold up to 10 hours of such detailed memories, which impose no skill penalties on later readings.

At the owner's option, these detailed memories may include his thoughts and feelings as well.

- The owner may use detect thoughts at will.

He may also send telepathic messages (including memories stored in his kiira N'Vaelahr, if desired) to anyone whose thoughts he is currently reading.

- The bearer gains a +2 resistance bonus on Will saves.

- The gem's owner may use major image once per day.

Only memories stored in the kiira N'Vaelahr may be projected in this manner.

- The gem's owner may use overland flight once per day.

Moderate divination, illusion, and transmutation; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, detect thoughts, major image, overland flight; Price 75,040 gp.

MANTLE STONE OF VHYRIDAAN

This small gem resembles an ioun stone in most respects.

It floats in a loose orbit 1d3 feet from its user's head and can be separated from its owner only by snatching or netting it. The mantle stone of Vhyridaan has AC 26, 10 hit points, and a hardness of 5.

Three times per day, the user may speak a command word to gain protection from spells.

This effect functions like the spell turning spell, except that a mantle stone always absorbs five spell levels before being discharged rather than the usual 1d4+6.

Additionally, the owner of the mantle stone may imbue it with up to three spell levels each day, as if it were a vibrant purple ioun stone (as described on page 260 of the Dungeon Master's Guide).

Strong abjuration; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, imbue with spell ability, spell turning, Quicken Spell; Price 232,560 gp.

NAJJAR'S CLOAK OF WEAPONRY

Created by a Calishite fighter/wizard to aid him in battle against his rival Vycaena, this gauzy-looking cloak of white linen is lined with the tanned pelt of a displacer beast.

Once per round, the wearer may reach into the cloak's folds and withdraw a single weapon that has been stored there.

Najjar's cloak of weaponry functions like a bag of holding, except that it stores only 25 pounds of nonliving material of a volume that would reasonably fit beneath a 6-foot-long cloak.

Most two-handed weapons do not fit, unless they can be coiled or folded in some way, but the cloak can easily hold light or one-handed weapons or other items of comparable size.

Since the cloak was designed to hold weapons, it does not suffer the ill effects from puncturing that a bag of holding does.

Moderate conjuration; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's secret chest; Price 2,500 gp.

PEGASUS HELM OF KLOETH IRONSTAR

This magnificent winged helmet allows its wearer to summon a celestial pegasus twice per day to serve as a mount or aid in battle.

Each summoning requires a command word, and the creature summoned remains for up to 3 hours, though the wearer may cut the duration short if desired.

Moderate conjuration; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster IV; Price 20,160 gp.

RUEHAR'S FLUTE

This finely crafted silver flute resembles a rolled-up spell scroll, with its holes lining the edge of the "parchment".

It has seldom been seen outside the possession of the descendants of Ruehar, a green elf wizard who lived during the days of Myth Drannor.

When two short notes in any key are played on the flute, it emanates light, as the spell, and automatically dispels any of the following effects within the light effect's radius: acid fog, cloudkill, fog cloud, obscuring mist, solid fog, and stinking cloud. The flute's second ability is activated by a command word known only to Ruehar's descendants.

When this word is spoken, the flute unrolls like a scroll, revealing a small spellbook capable of holding twenty spell levels.

The original Ruehar's flute contains the following spells: 1st—color spray, magic missile, Tenser's floating disk, ventriloquism; 2nd—daze monster, glitterdust, lively step; 3rd—Leomund's tiny hut, phantom steed; 4th—polymorph.

Ruehar's descendants may, however, have manufactured more flutes since his death, and those spellbooks may contain different spells or simply remain blank.

Any wizard who has deciphered the spellbook within Ruehar's flute (see pages 178 and 179 of the Player's Handbook) may study and prepare these spells normally. Faint transmutation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, gust of wind, light; Price 15,000 gp.

SHROUDCROWN

This agate-studded bronze circlet holds considerable power over undead.

The wearer of the shroud can turn undead as a 10th-level cleric, and she gains a +2 resistance bonus on all saving throws against spells and spell-like abilities of undead creatures.

Furthermore, the wearer is constantly affected as if by a hide from undead spell.

Though the shroud is not actually cursed in any way, its owners have an unfortunate tendency to meet messy ends at the claws of the very undead creatures against which it protects.

Moderate abjuration; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, hide from undead, resistance, creator must be a cleric of at least 10th level; Price 113,600 gp.

SYMRUSTAR'S CHOKER

This ornate choker, sized and designed for an elf woman's throat, functions as a spellbook.

As long as a wizard character wears it, she may study and prepare any spell "scribed" in the item.

Symrustar's choker may store a total of thirty-six spells, but no more than four of each level.

The choker is treated like a wizard's spellbook for the purpose of deciphering spells contained therein, "scribing" new spells, and so forth.

To determine randomly how many spells are stored in a given choker, roll 1d4–1 for each spell level, then roll randomly as if generating a scroll to find the exact spells.

Moderate transmutation; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, secret page; Price 15,000 gp.

TASMIA'S HEART

This elaborate, high-necked bustier is laced and lined with black silk and adorned with sapphires and beljurils.

It functions as both a helm of underwater action and a ring of freedom of movement.

It also extends the wearer's life span, doubling the number of years in each remaining age category of the character's life, as well as her maximum age.

For example, a human adult who dons Tasmia's heart would reach middle age at 70, old age at 106, venerable age at 140, and maximum age 2d20×2 years after that.

Tasmia's heart counts as a shirt for the purpose of magic item limitations (see page 214 of the Dungeon Master's Guide).

Moderate transmutation; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, freedom of movement, water breathing, creator must be at least 10th level; Price 127,000 gp.

WEIRDSTONE

These innocuous-looking, fist-sized pieces of faceted glass are among the most highly sought-after items in all of Faerûn.

Mages who like their privacy and evil beings who prefer to keep their plans secret are particularly fond of these items, and they often dispatch minions or adventurers to retrieve them.

When placed upon a flat surface and activated by mental command, a weirdstone floats about 3 feet into the air, glowing and chiming softly.

While active, it blocks out all of the following within a 6-mile radius (including into the air above and the ground below).

- All astral and ethereal travel.
- All divination (scrying) spells.
- All conjuration (teleportation) spells.
- Any spell-like, supernatural, or extraordinary abilities, psionic powers, or the like that mimic these effects.

The weirdstone hampers only effects that manifest within its area.

Spells or abilities activated within the weirdstone's area that target an area outside its 6-mile radius are unaffected.

For example, a wizard standing right next to a weirdstone could cast a scrying spell to spy on a creature more than 6 miles away, but she could not teleport across the room because the weirdstone blocks teleportation magic within its radius.

Strong abjuration; CL 20th; Craft Wondrous Item, dimensional lock, nondetection, creator must be at least 20th level; Price 250,000 gp.

YNLOETH'S BRACER

Owned by Coronal Ynloeth of Shantel Othreier, this single silver bracer, made to fit the left arm, functions as bracers of armor +8.

In addition, the wearer of this bracer is immune to the death effect of the shattering swords of Coronal Ynloeth (see below).

Strong abjuration; CL 16th; Craft Wondrous Item, mage armor, death ward, creator must be at least 16th level; Price 70,000 gp.

PLAYER'S HANDBOOK 2

(3.5)

TALISMAN OF TRANSFERENCE

A talisman of transference is a conduit through which XP can be transferred for the purposes of constructing an agreed upon magic item.

Lore: These devices were designed to protect creatures that commissioned magic items from creators who spent their transferred XP and did not finish the contract or disappeared with the completed product (Gather Information DC 20 or Knowledge [arcana] DC 10).

Description: A talisman of transference typically takes the shape of a bracer, periapt, or some other form of jewelry worn against the skin.

Activation: As a standard action, a worn talisman of transference is brought into contact with the raw material of an agreed upon magic item (for example, a cloak, sword, or wand) before construction begins, with the wearer speaking the word "attach" to create a link.

The worn talisman of transference is then brought into contact with the creator after at least one day (8 hours) has been spent working on the magic item (but usually upon completion), speaking the word "infuse" to complete the effect.

A talisman of transference can only form a connection with one raw material at a time.

Speaking the word "attach" while in contact with a new raw material erases the old link.

Effect: A talisman of transference transfers XP from the wearer to the person who constructed the magic item, so long as the magic item was made from the original raw material to which this device was linked.

The wearer can transfer the entire or partial amount, though the wearer cannot transfer more XP than was needed to construct the magic item.

All the requirements for transferring XP, compensating for XP, and sharing XP costs apply to using this device.

If the wearer refuses to transfer XP for the magic item, the creator can destroy the magic item, thereby regaining any XP that was invested.

The monetary investment, however, is still lost.

Aura/Caster Level: Faint universal. CL 1st.

Construction: Requires Craft Wondrous Item, transference spell, 100 gp, 16 XP, 1 day.

Weight: 1/2 lb.

Price: 200 gp.

RACES OF FAERÛN (3.0)

ANKH OF ASCENSION

The bearer of this magic item can cast her divine spells at +4 caster level (with respect to range, duration, and other numeric effects).

The ankh does not grant a +4 bonus on checks to overcome spell resistance, however, nor otherwise increase the caster's effective level.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, gate; Market Price: 60,000 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

CATSEYE BROOCH

Fashioned from silver set with a green chrysoberyl, a catseye brooch is a good luck charm that provides a +1 luck bonus on all saving throws and a +4 resistance bonus on saving throws versus disease.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, resistance, remove disease; Market Price: 9,000 gp; Weight: —.

DROW HOUSE INSIGNIA

These metal tokens are normally worn on a chain or in a pouch tied around the neck.

Each bears a symbol of a noble house from a particular drow city and requires a secret command word to activate.

An insignia has a single minor magical ability that can be used once per day, usually a 1st, 2nd, or 3rd-level spell.

Those of powerful drow often have multiple abilities of various power levels.

Typical spells for a house insignia are blur, cat's grace, cloak of dark power, comprehend languages, feather fall, jump, levitate, read magic, scatterspray, shield, spider climb, unseen servant, and water breathing.

Each insignia is slightly different, even those of the same noble house, so it is possible that a person aware of the unique shape of a person's insignia can magically locate that person.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, appropriate spell; Market Price: 360 gp (1st-level ability), 2,160 (2nd-level ability), or 5,400 (3rd-level ability); Weight: 1 lb.

FIGURINE OF WONDROUS POWER

These figurines were crafted by some of the more creative spellcasters of Faerûn's races.

BLUE QUARTZ EAGLE

A blue quartz eagle becomes an eagle on command, but with vision akin to that granted by eyes of the eagle (+5 circumstance bonus on Spot checks).

Another command sends it aloft.

It will not attack, even to defend itself, but it will obey the telepathic commands of its owner as long as it remains within one mile of her.

If forced to move beyond that distance, a blue quartz eagle will immediately revert to statuette form (usually shattering if it falls a great distance to the ground).

While the figurine is transformed, its owner can mentally view everything the eagle can see, although the owner must use a standard action to observe what the eagle sees in that round.

It can maintain its nonfigurine status for only 24 hours per tenday, but the duration need not be continuous.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects, clairaudience/clairvoyance; Market Price: 5,400 gp; Weight: —.

CORAL DOLPHIN

Made by a water genasi mage, this finely carved dolphin of white coral can transform into a living dolphin, except that it possesses an Intelligence of 8 and the ability to speak and understand Common and Aquan.

The dolphin is treated as a magical beast when in its living form.

It may be used twice per tenday for up to 4 hours each use.

d%	Result	Side effect
01–15	Nothing happens	1d3 temporary Dex, 1d3 temporary Int
16–30	Divination spell (10th-level caster)	1d6 temporary Dex, 1d3 temporary Int
31–60	Vision spell on tangential topic	1d6 temporary Dex, 1d6 temporary Int as spell
61–80	Contact other plane (elemental plane of earth; 10th-level caster)	as spell
81–90	Vision spell on topic you specify	2d6 temporary Dex, 2d6 temporary Int as spell
91–00	Contact other plane (outer plane/intermediate; 10th-level caster)	as spell

A full bottle of Gogondy holds enough wine for six glasses.

Caster Level: 14th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, divination, contact other plane, creator must be a deep gnome; Market Price: 3,000 gp; Weight: 5 lb.

GREATER PIWAFWI

These dark-colored cloaks have all the abilities of a cloak of elvenkind and also provide the benefit of endure elements (fire), negating 5 points of fire damage per round. (Lesser piwafwi are simply cloaks of elvenkind).

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, endure elements, invisibility, creator must be a drow; Market Price: 6,100 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

HAMMER OF THE WEAPONSMITH

This masterwork tool gives the user a +10 circumstance bonus on Craft (weaponsmithing) checks.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be at least 6th level; Market Price: 2,055 gp; Cost to Create: 1,055 gp + 80 XP; Weight: 8 lb.

MASK OF THE IMPLACABLE

This ceramic, painted mask makes its wearer into a dangerous, if singularly focused, warrior.

The wearer of the mask has fast healing 3 as long the mask is worn.

In addition, he gains a +4 bonus on attack and damage rolls against any foe who deals the mask-wearer more than 50% of his full normal hit point total in damage.

The bonus lasts until the mask-wearer attacks someone who hasn't dealt him more than 50% of his hit point total in damage.

When that happens, the bonus ends and the fast healing aspect of the mask is suppressed for 1 hour.

A mask counts as a pair of lenses for limitations on wearing multiple items of the same type.

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, regeneration, mark of justice; Market Price: 65,000 gp; Weight: 5 lb.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects, water breathing; Market Price: 10,000 gp; Weight: —.

GOGONDY

This ruby wine, fermented by the deep gnomes, gives visions to those who drink it.

Anyone who consumes a glass of Gogondy should roll on the following table:

d%	Result	Side effect
01–15	Nothing happens	1d3 temporary Dex, 1d3 temporary Int
16–30	Divination spell (10th-level caster)	1d6 temporary Dex, 1d3 temporary Int
31–60	Vision spell on tangential topic	1d6 temporary Dex, 1d6 temporary Int as spell
61–80	Contact other plane (elemental plane of earth; 10th-level caster)	as spell
81–90	Vision spell on topic you specify	2d6 temporary Dex, 2d6 temporary Int as spell
91–00	Contact other plane (outer plane/intermediate; 10th-level caster)	as spell

TANGLEPATCH

These magical balls of tangled vines are used by the wild dwarves, particularly in their battles against the Batiri goblins of the Chultan forests.

The ball is thrown at a target and has a 20 ft. range increment.

Upon hitting a target or landing, it creates an entangle spell centered on the point of impact.

It is good for only one use.

Caster Level: 1st; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, entangle; Market Price: 100 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

TONGS OF THE ARMORER

This tool gives the user a +10 competence bonus on Craft (armorsmithing) checks.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, mending, creator must be at least 6th level; Market Price: 2,055 gp; Cost to Create: 1,055 gp + 80 XP; Weight: 5 lb.

RACES OF STONE (3.5)

MAGIC FORGES

FORGE OF SUSTENANCE

A dwarf using this forge for any purpose need not eat, sleep, or even breathe while he continues to work at the forge, and he can work indefinitely without tiring.

When using the forge to craft an item, the user multiplies his check result by the item's DC and then by 3 to determine his progress on a weekly (in sp) or daily (in cp) basis.

Strong conjuration; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, create food and water, regenerate, creator must be a dwarf; Price 8,000 gp.

FORGE OF THAUTAM

A dwarf using this forge can create magic weapons and armor as if he had the Craft Magic Arms and Armor feat.

Strong conjuration; CL 12th; Craft Wondrous Item, permanency, creator must be a dwarf; Price 15,000 gp.

FORGE OF THE ARMORSMITH

This magic forge grants a dwarf who uses it a +20 competence bonus on Craft (armorsmithing) checks made using the forge.

In conjunction with voluntarily increasing the DC by 20, a smith working at this forge can craft expensive armor in a dramatically reduced time.

Strong conjuration; CL 18th; Craft Wondrous Item, fabricate, creator must be a dwarf with 20 ranks in Craft (armorsmithing); Price 10,000 gp.

FORGE OF THE WEAPONSMITH

This magic forge grants a dwarf who uses it a +20 competence bonus on Craft (weaponsmithing) checks made using the forge.

In conjunction with voluntarily increasing the DC by 20, a smith working at this forge can craft expensive weapons in a dramatically reduced time.

Strong conjuration; CL 18th; Craft Wondrous Item, fabricate, creator must be a dwarf with 20 ranks in Craft (weaponsmithing); Price 10,000 gp.

FURNACE OF FLAMES

This magical forge provides spell prerequisites for a dwarf who uses it to craft magic items.

The forge allows its user to create magic items as if he were able to cast any spell with the fire descriptor, using his character level as the caster level.

The forge does not replace any other prerequisites or costs, including item creation feats, minimum caster level, and gold and XP costs.

Strong evocation; CL 12th; Craft Wondrous Item, fireball, flame blade, or flame strike, creator must be a dwarf; Price 20,000 gp.

RACES OF THE DRAGON (3.5)

AMULET OF WARMTH

Amulets of warmth are personal devices designed to keep humanoids comfortable in any environment.

Lore: These devices were originally crafted for kobolds whose search for new mining locations kept them away from their warm lairs.

(Knowledge [geography] DC 10 or Knowledge [dungeoneering] DC 20).

Description: An amulet of warmth typically takes the form of a simple amulet or brooch, though it can be fashioned into some other form of personal jewelry.

Activation: As a free action, tapping an amulet of health turns the item on.

Tapping it again turns the item off.

Effect: An amulet of warmth produces an ambient cocoon of 70°F, protecting the wearer and his equipment from both cold and heat.

If an amulet takes any amount of cold damage, however, it ceases to function for 24 hours.

Aura/Caster Level: Faint abjuration; CL 3rd.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, endure elements, 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day.

Weight: 1/2 lb.

Price: 1,000 gp.

ANGRIZ'S CHEST

This container keeps meat fresh and wholesome.

Lore: Angriz Ulhargix is a half-dragon wizard, a gourmet cook, and a voracious carnivore.

His monstrous nature makes it difficult for him to shop for food frequently in the normal fashion, so he crafted this box to keep large quantities of meat indefinitely.

In this way, he could order an entire haunch of game once in a while and consume it at his leisure.

The item has since become popular with those who can afford it, especially the proprietors of large eating establishments and the managers of nobles' kitchens.

It has come to be known as Angriz's chest, though its creator simply called it a "preserving box".

(Knowledge [arcana] DC 20).

Description: An Angriz's chest is a box, about 4 feet on a side, made of stout wood (usually oak) and lined with oilcloth to prevent leakage.

Effect: Any dead flesh kept within the box remains fresh and palatable indefinitely.

Once removed, the flesh begins to decay at the normal rate. Putting partly decayed meat into the box arrests further rot but does not reverse previous effects.

Aura/Caster Level: Faint necromancy; CL 1st.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, gentle repose, 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day.

Weight: 50 lb.

Price: 1,000 gp.

FOLDING TRAP

Folding traps were invented by a master kobold trapmaker to aid in timely retreats.

Lore: These devices are usually constructed by kobolds to provide quick installation of traps, as well as to easily carry along useful traps when they are retreating from their lair. (Knowledge [arcana] DC 15 or Knowledge [history] DC 25).

Description: A folding trap is a small wooden ball the size of a large apple, every square inch of which has been etched with symmetrical Draconic runes.

These carvings contain a hidden code that reveals the folding trap's command words.

(Decipher Script DC 20).

Activation: As a standard action, speaking the word "expand" in Draconic (turalisjth) causes the wooden ball to unfold into a trap that attaches itself to the available supporting framework (floor, ground, trees, walls).

Speaking the word "shrink" in Draconic (kosjth), another standard action, while within 30 feet of the trap causes it to fold into a wooden ball once again.

Effect: Several varieties of folding trap exist, each based on one of the sample traps presented in the Dungeon Master's Guide beginning on page 70.

The known variations on this item include the scything blade folding trap (CR 1), the wall blade folding trap (CR 1), the tripping chain folding trap (CR 2), the ceiling pendulum folding trap (CR 3), and the wall scythe folding trap (CR 4). Once activated, a folding trap is indistinguishable from a normal trap of its kind except for the trap's magical aura (see below).

Aura/Caster Level: Faint transmutation; CL 5th.
Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, create trap*, shrink item, creator must have 5 ranks of Craft (trapmaking); 1,700 gp, 136 XP, 4 days (scything blade); 2,500 gp, 200 XP, 5 days (wall blade); 3,800 gp, 304 XP, 8 days (tripping chain); 14,100 gp, 1,128 XP, 29 days (ceiling pendulum); 17,200 gp, 1,376 XP, 35 days (wall scythe).

* New spell described on page 112.

Variants: Other varieties of folding trap might also exist, but they all must involve the use of mechanical traps that have an automatic reset (no arrow traps), don't represent a significant change to the physical environment (no pits or flooding chambers), and don't incorporate poison, magic, or living organisms (no toxic blades or brown mold).

Weight: 1 lb.

Price: 3,400 gp (scything blade); 5,000 gp (wall blade); 7,600 gp (tripping chain); 28,200 gp (ceiling pendulum); 34,400 gp (wall scythe).

MEMENTO MAGICA

Sorcerers, bards, and all spontaneous spellcasters of all sorts can benefit from a memento magica.

Description: A memento magica appears to be an amethyst cunningly cut into some draconic shape, often that of a dragon's scale.

Effect: A memento magica is a great aid to spontaneous spellcasters such as sorcerers, bards, and favored souls (see Complete Divine page 6), much as a pearl of power is to casters who prepare spells.

Once per day on command, a memento magica enables its possessor to regain any one spell slot that she had previously used that day.

The spell slot is available just as if a spell had not been cast. A memento magica can only recall a spell slot of the level it was created to hold.

Different mementos magica exist for recalling one spell slot per day of each level from 1st through 9th.

Aura/Caster Level: Strong transmutation; CL 17th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be able to spontaneously cast spells of the spell level to be recalled; 750 gp, 60 XP, 2 days (1st); 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 6 days (2nd); 6,750 gp, 540 XP, 14 days (3rd); 12,000 gp, 960 XP, 24 days (4th); 18,750 gp, 1,500 XP, 38 days (5th); 27,000 gp, 2,160 XP, 54 days (6th); 36,750 gp, 2,940 XP, 74 days (7th); 48,000 gp, 3,840 XP, 96 days (8th); 60,750 gp, 4,860 XP, 122 days (9th).

Weight: —

Price: 1,500 gp (1st); 6,000 gp (2nd); 13,500 gp (3rd); 24,000 gp (4th); 37,500 gp (5th); 54,000 gp (6th); 73,500 gp (7th); 96,000 gp (8th); 121,500 gp (9th).

NECKLACE OF DRAGON'S TEETH

A necklace of dragon's teeth summons a troop of loyal draconic warriors to your aid.

Lore: Legends say that in the early days of the world, nearly all human life was wiped out in a great catastrophe.

Sphenos, the Great Wyrm of the Earth, took pity on the few survivors and gave a bag filled with his own teeth to the farmer Imgutten, telling him to sow them behind him in the earth as he walked.

From the scattered teeth arose new people, the children of earth.

(Knowledge [religion] DC 15) Imgutten saved some of the teeth against future need.

Generations later, when his descendants were being threatened by barbarians, they found the sack and planted the remaining teeth.

These teeth then sprang up into fierce warriors who drove back the invading horde.

These strings are made in remembrance of that miracle.

(Knowledge [religion] DC 20).

Description: A necklace of dragon's teeth is a simple leather cord strung with pierced fangs, each about 2 inches long. Sometimes the ends are loosely tied so that it can be worn around the neck.

(It does not count as an item worn around the neck for the purpose of determining which of a character's magic items are effective).

A strand initially has twelve fangs, though it can be discovered with fewer fangs than this (reduce the price proportionately).

Activation: As a standard action, you remove a fang from the string and throw it onto the ground.

Effect: A thrown fang grows into a draconic myrmidon that acts on your turn on the following round (see the statistics block below).

The myrmidon remains for 10 rounds or until it is slain, and either defends you loyally or attacks a target of your choice.

The myrmidon understands your spoken commands regardless of the language you speak.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate conjuration; CL 10th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster IV, 12,000 gp, 960 XP, 24 days.

Weight: —

Price: 24,000 gp.

MEDALLIONS OF IO

These are plain, burnished metal disks that grant some of the strength of the Concordant Dragon to their users.

Lore: Io's holy symbol is a featureless metal disk with a sheen of many colors, symbolizing the common heritage of all dragons as well as the spinning disk of the Blending (see page 66).

In honor of that creative act, the Singers of Concordance created the medallions of Io to aid the Ninefold Dragon's children throughout the world.

(Knowledge [arcana] DC 20).

Description: Each medallion of Io is an unremarkable coin-sized disk made from an alloy of precious and base metals. The exact mixture of metals produces a colored sheen that corresponds to one of the ten standard dragon varieties.

Activation: As a standard action, you press a disk into the center of your brow, where it remains magically attached and active for 1 hour.

It does not count as an item worn on the head for the purpose of determining which of a character's magic items are effective.

At the end of the hour, the medallion loses its magic and falls to the ground.

Effect: Each of the ten disks has a different benefit according to its sheen, as given below.

Black: Resistance to acid 10 and a +4 bonus on Handle Animal checks when dealing with reptiles.

Blue: Resistance to electricity 10 and a +4 bonus on Bluff checks.

Green: Resistance to acid 10 and the ability to make untrained Diplomacy checks to affect the attitude of plant creatures.

The DC of these checks is increased by 5.

Red: Resistance to fire 10 and a +4 bonus on Will saves against illusion spells and effects.

White: Resistance to cold 10 and a +4 bonus on Balance checks.

Brass: Resistance to fire 10 and a +4 bonus on Handle Animal checks.

Bronze: Resistance to electricity 10 and a +4 bonus on Sense Motive checks.

Copper: Resistance to acid 10 and a +4 bonus on Perform checks.

Gold: Resistance to fire 10 and a +4 bonus on Fortitude saves against effects that damage, drain, or apply a penalty to the wearer's ability scores.

Silver: Resistance to cold 10 and a +4 bonus on checks to resist being knocked down by wind, overrun and trip attempts, and similar effects.

Aura/Caster Level: Faint abjuration; CL 6th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, resist energy, creator must be a Singer of Concordance (see page 91); 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day.

Weight: —

Price: 1,000 gp.

SOFTHANDS GLOVES

Softhands gloves help disguise your draconic pedigree without drawing attention to you.

Description: These cloth gloves are made of a stretchy material that allows them to fit over the hands of human-shaped creatures from Small to Large size.

Effect: As long as you are wearing the gloves, your skin, hair, and eyes lose overtly draconic features such as scales, horns, slit pupils, and so forth.

You resemble an ordinary member of your nondraconic race, negating any penalty on Disguise checks you would ordinarily take when disguising yourself as a different race. While wearing the gloves, you lose any natural claw attacks you might have.

Your hands appear ordinary.

The gloves themselves are no longer visible once worn but blend with the wearer's apparent skin.

Aura/Caster Level: Faint transmutation; CL 3rd.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, alter self, 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

Weight: —

Price: 2,000 gp.

SPELLFLINGING SPEAR

A spellflinging spear is a potent weapon highly prized by kobold sorcerers.

Lore: These spears are awarded to kobold sorcerers for consistently protecting their lair without ever needing to be protected themselves.

(Knowledge [history] DC 10 or Knowledge [local] DC 20)

The ore that goes into making spellflinging spears is an amalgam of red copper and steel.

(Profession [miner] DC 15 or Craft [armorsmithing, blacksmithing, or weaponsmithing] DC 25).

Description: A spellflinging spear is a Small +1 returning spell storing spear, the piercing blade of which is tinted with ruby red metal and has a shaft of light steel.

Activation: As a swift action (see page 122), speaking the word "expand" in Draconic (turalisjth) elongates the weapon, speaking the word "shrink" in Draconic (kosjth) shortens the weapon, and speaking the word "normal" in Draconic (munth) returns a spellflinging spear to normal size.

Effect: Once elongated, a spellflinging spear has all the characteristics of a longspear.

Once shortened, a spellflinging spear has all the characteristics of a shortspear.

A spellflinging spear always weighs as much as a spear and has hardness 12 and 20 hit points, regardless of its shape.

Aura/Caster Level: Strong evocation (plus the aura of the stored spell, if not already present) and transmutation; CL 12th.

Construction: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, shrink item, telekinesis, CL 12th, 10,802 gp, 840 XP, 11 days.

Variants: More powerful versions of the spellflinging spear often add the distance and/or the gnome bane weapon special abilities (DMG 224).

Adding one of these abilities increases the weapon's price by 14,000 gp; adding both increases it by 32,000 gp.

Weight: 3 lb.

Price: 21,300 gp.

RACES OF THE WILD (3.5)

BELT OF HIDDEN POUCHES

This item might be made of silk or soft leather, but it's always fairly wide and with a big buckle (usually brass or silver).

Hidden inside the belt are ten small pockets, each of which seems big enough to hold only a few coins.

Each pocket actually functions as a small bag of holding and can hold up to 1/2 cubic foot or 5 pounds of nonliving material.

No object with any dimension exceeding 6 inches can be placed in a pocket.

Anything placed inside a pocket effectively has only one-tenth of its normal weight, so a full pocket weighs only half a pound at most.

In addition, two secret pockets lie behind each visible one, for a total of thirty pockets in all.

The hidden pockets can be accessed only through a command word.

A true seeing spell reveals the presence of the hidden pockets but not the command needed to open them. Even when a pocket is full, it never bulges, so a belt of hidden pouches stuffed with 150 pounds of items looks like an ordinary belt.

Accessing any pocket (including the hidden ones) is a move action that does not provoke attacks of opportunity. To place any object in the belt, the wearer merely presses the object into the belt.

Doing so while speaking the command word places the object in one of the hidden pockets (if one of them is empty).

Naming a stored object and speaking a second command word draws the named object out of the belt and places it in the wearer's hand (though he could also simply reach into one of the ten regular pockets and draw it forth, just as if retrieving a stored object (a move action that provokes attacks of opportunity; see page 141 of the Player's Handbook). Simply frisking the wearer won't reveal any objects placed in the belt, and searching the visible pockets cannot reveal anything stored in the hidden pockets.

It is possible to use a Sleight of Hand check to pluck something out of one of the ten visible pockets, but only someone wearing or holding the belt can access the hidden pockets, and then only with the correct command word.

Moderate conjuration; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, secret chest; Price 5,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

SAFEWING EMBLEM

This small feathered token can be worn or carried.

If the owner falls at least 5 feet, the emblem becomes a set of feathery wings that allow her to use a feather fall effect to descend safely from any height up to 180 feet.

The emblem requires no activation.

When the owner lands, the token disappears, its magic expended.

Faint transmutation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, feather fall; Price 250 gp.

SURVIVAL POUCH

This mundane-looking leather belt pouch can literally save its user's life in the wilderness.

Five times per day, the user of a survival pouch can reach into the bag and retrieve his choice of one of the items listed below.

The user can draw out the same item five times in one day, draw out five different items, or produce any other combination of up to five items.

Drawing an item from the bag is a standard action that does not provoke attacks of opportunity.

Each item lasts for 8 hours unless otherwise indicated.

- Trail rations for one Medium creature for one day.
- Two gallons of water stored in a waterskin.

The bag disappears if it is emptied completely.

- A tent and two bedrolls sized for Medium creatures.
- A 50-foot coil of hempen rope, which disappears after 4 hours.

- A shovel.

- A campfire (about 2 feet square).

The fire can be left to burn, or it can be pulled apart to produce eight lit torches.

Each torch removed reduces the remaining burning time by 1 hour.

If the fire is extinguished, any unburnt portion vanishes.

- A composite shortbow (+1 Str bonus) and a quiver of 20 arrows.

The bow disappears 1 round after the last arrow has been drawn from the quiver.

- A mule with bit, bridle, saddle, and saddlebags.

The bit, bridle, saddle, and saddlebags vanish if removed from the mule.

Moderate conjuration; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, major creation, mount; Price 5,000 gp; Weight 5 lb.

SANDSTORM (3.5)

ASHWORM PELLET

This item is a roughly spherical bead of volcanic scoria, about 1 inch across.

When thrown upon the ground, the pellet grows into an ashworm (see page 140).

This action consumes the pellet and takes 1 full round to fully form.

Disintegrating the pellet or dealing it at least 50 points of damage during that time prevents the ashworm from appearing.

The ashworm remains for 10 minutes.

It is an average specimen in all regards.

It serves the user until it is slain or the duration ends (it can obey only simple commands).

Strong conjuration; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, summon nature's ally VII; Price 6,825 gp.

BOTTLE OF ENDLESS SAND

If the stopper is removed from this opaque glass bottle and a command word spoken, an amount of fine, dry sand flows out.

Separate command words determine the type as well as the volume and velocity.

- “Heap” pours out 1 cubic foot per round.
- “Dune” produces a 20-cubic-foot pile at 5 cubic feet per round.
- “Sandblast” produces a spray of sand dealing 1d6 points of damage per round.

This effect causes considerable back pressure, requiring the holder to make a DC 12 Strength check to avoid being knocked prone.

A sandblast can affect only one target per round.

The command word must be spoken to stop the flow of sand.

Moderate conjuration; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, blast of sand; Price 21,600 gp; Weight 2 lb.

BURNOOSE OF MOONLESS NIGHTS

This black burnoose seems like an ordinary desert robe. Three times per day, in darkness or shadowy illumination, the wearer can draw up the hood to gain total concealment. Unlike ordinary invisibility, the wearer can attack without revealing her location.

The burnoose does not work in bright light, and such light reveals a wearer within its area.

Each use of the burnoose lasts for 10 rounds.

Moderate illusion; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, greater invisibility; Price 33,000 gp.

BURNOOSE OF 1,001 THORNS

Once per day, the wearer of this robe can utter a command word, causing the burnoose to harden and sprout hundreds of sharp thorns.

For 70 minutes thereafter, the wearer is the subject of a skin of the cactus spell.

Moderate abjuration; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, skin of the cactus; Price 10,080 gp.

CANOPIC JARS

To become a dry lich, a walker in the waste who has reached 10th level in that prestige class must undergo the Sere Rite.

This ritual requires the participation of at least one other dry lich, and the prospective dry lich must also craft a set of five canopic jars in which to preserve his internal organs.

Each canopic jar has a specific likeness, as given below.

Organ	Canopic Jar
Lungs	Baboon
Stomach	Jackal
Liver	Vulture
Intestines	Falcon
Heart	Human

These jars retain the dry lich’s life force, and unless they are destroyed, a slain dry lich resurrects within 1d6 weeks after its destruction.

The jars are Tiny objects, made of magically hardened clay or ceramic having 40 hit points, hardness 20, and a break DC of 40.

Strong necromancy; CL 14th; Craft Wondrous Item, 9th-level walker in the waste; Price 20,000 gp.

CAPE OF THE WASTES

This bizarre garment appears to be made of sand, although it is soft and light.

Its wearer remains comfortably cool in hot weather up to extreme heat, making no Fortitude saves or Constitution checks to resist natural heat effects.

The cape keeps its wearer comfortably warm, as the endure elements spell, similarly negating the need for saves or checks against natural cold effects.

Finally, the wearer gains the benefit of the Sand Camouflage feat (see page 51).

Faint abjuration; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, Sand Camouflage, endure elements; Price 30,000 gp.

CLOAK OF GARDEN SHADE

The wearer of this deep green cloak is treated as if under the effect of a cloak of shade spell.

Faint abjuration; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, cloak of shade; Price 10,000 gp.

CLOAK OF SANDSWIMMING

This rust-red cloak is made of slick satin.

The wearer’s body becomes smooth and slick like an asherati’s, granting a +2 enhancement bonus to natural armor.

The wearer can also use the sandswim ability of the asheratis (see page 38).

Faint transmutation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, barkskin, creator must be an asherati; Price 15,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

EVERFRESH BOTTLE

Any water contained in this ornate glass bottle is always pure and perfectly suitable for drinking.

Even poisons and holy (or unholy) water become ordinary drinking water when placed within.

Magic potions are unaffected.

Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, purify food and drink; Price 10,000 gp.

FIGURINES OF WONDROUS POWER

Inhabitants of the waste craft these figurines from inspiration they get from the desert and its trials.

GOLD BEETLE

When activated, a gold beetle grows, gaining the statistics of a giant stag beetle (see page 285 of the Monster Manual) with some exceptions.

Its Intelligence is 6, it is able to understand Common and Terran, and it is able to move across any waste terrain at normal speed.

The beetle is treated as a magical beast when in its living form.

The item can be used for up to 24 hours per week, but the duration need not be continuous.

Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects, levitate; Price 11,500 gp.

IVORY CAMEL

When commanded, this statuette changes into a creature with the same properties as a dromedary camel (see page 192), except that it has an Intelligence of 8, can communicate in Common, and is exceptionally heat-tolerant.

It has a +4 bonus on saves to resist heat and dehydration, and it is unaffected by sun glare.

The item can be used for up to 12 hours per week, but the duration need not be continuous.

Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects; Price 8,500 gp.

FOLDING SAND VESSEL

This fine, wooden box is 12 inches long, 6 inches wide, and 6 inches deep.

It can hold items like any other box.

If a command word is spoken, the box unfolds itself to form a sand skiff (see page 104) over the course of 1 round.

Items in the box are deposited, unharmed, on the ground.

A second command word causes it to unfold into a sand schooner (see page 104) over the course of 5 rounds.

A third word of command causes the vessel to fold itself into a box again, taking the same amount of time as unfolding.

Strong transmutation; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, polymorph any object, creator must have 5 ranks in the Craft (shipbuilding) skill; Price 100,000; Weight 4 lb.

GLASS OF DISTANCE

This fine spyglass can be used to see up to ten miles away. While looking into the distance, a user can speak a command word to instantly transport to an adjacent square of an object or creature he can see.

If the spyglass is reversed, a user looking through the large end can speak a command word to transport an adjacent creature or object to a distance of up to ten miles away. More than one object or creature can be transported, so long as each is in physical contact with another.

A spyglass of distance can be used to teleport a creature only once per day, regardless of direction.

Moderate conjuration and divination; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, teleport, scrying; Price 52,200 gp; Weight 1 lb.

GLOVE OF CHOKING SANDS

This seemingly ordinary leather glove allows the wearer to choke a target, as with the choking sands spell, on command, once per day.

Moderate necromancy; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, choking sands; Price 16,200 gp.

GLOVES OF SAND SHAPING

These lizardskin gloves confer sand shaping ability as if the wearer possessed the Sand domain's granted power (see page 107).

Moderate transmutation; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, creator must have access to the Sand domain; Price 15,000 gp.

GOGGLES OF THE DESERT

The lenses of these goggles are all black, except for thin horizontal strips just over the wearer's eyes.

They protect a wearer from the effects of glare (see page 18) and grant a +4 bonus on saving throws against dazzling effects, such as flare.

The goggles enable the wearer to see up to 60 feet without penalty in duststorm conditions.

Faint Transmutation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, cloak of shade, darkvision; Price 8,250 gp.

JUG OF WHIRLWINDS

This item is a beaten silver amphora, stoppered by a silver plug engraved with runes of protection.

Once per day, when the user speaks a command word and opens the jug, a whirlwind (as the spell) emerges.

The user directs the whirlwind, which lasts for 15 rounds unless dismissed.

Strong evocation; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, whirlwind; Price 64,800 gp; Weight 5 lb.

LAMP OF STARS

This item appears to be an ordinary oil lamp, decorated with a pattern of tiny stars.

Once per day, the bearer of the lamp can utter a command word, causing the flame to flicker out and be replaced by magical starlight.

The lamp then sheds blue-white light in a 30-foot radius (and shadowy light for an additional 30 feet).

Creatures with low-light vision can see three times as far in this light, instead of just twice as far.

The starlight lasts until the lamp runs out of oil after 6 hours, at which point both the starlight and the lamplight are extinguished.

Refilling the lamp with oil allows the magic to be used once again.

Faint evocation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, light; Price 1,100 gp.

LENS OF THE DESERT

This magnifying glass, its gold frame worked with a sunburst motif, can be commanded to create a beam of focused sunlight.

Three times per day, on command, the lens emits a single beam like that produced by a sunbeam spell.

Strong evocation; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, sunbeam; Price 66,000 gp.

MASK OF SWEET AIR

This clear crystal mask fits snugly over the mouth and nose.

Its wearer can breathe freely in air fouled by smoke, dust, and fumes without fear of suffocation.

The wearer gains immunity to airborne stench attacks or poisons, such as the stench of a troglodyte or the effect of cloudkill.

In addition, a mask of sweet air grants continuous water breathing.

Moderate abjuration, conjuration, and transmutation; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, freedom of breath, neutralize poison, water breathing; Price 147,000 gp.

OPAL OF TUNNELING

This black opal bead is about the size of a large pearl.

When thrown against a surface, the bead explodes in a red flash and melts a hole into the material, forming a lava tube 10 feet wide and up to 30 feet long.

The hot tunnel walls deal 1d6 points of fire damage per round of contact.

Edges of the lava tube glow with this heat for 1 minute, after which time the new tunnel is safe for unprotected creatures to enter.

An opal of tunneling works only on rock and similar materials (such as crystal, salt, and so on).

It does not damage a living creature, nor does it penetrate wood.

However, a creature within the 10-foot-diameter sphere of the bead's explosion takes 2d6 points of fire damage from the blast.

Strong conjuration and transmutation; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, disintegrate, wall of magma; Price 6,350 gp.

PERSONAL OASIS

Once per day, when this 10-foot-by-10-foot blanket is unrolled, and the command word spoken, a 5-foot-by-10-foot tent springs from the blanket, along with a campfire, a bowl of dates, and a gallon of cool water.

The tent functions in all ways, aside from its dimensions, as Leomund's tiny hut.

The campfire burns continuously, never needing fuel, and the dates are enough to sustain one person for a day.

Upon speaking the command word again, the oasis rolls back up into blanket form.

Faint conjuration and evocation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, create food and water, Leomund's tiny hut, produce flame; Price 18,600 gp.

PORTABLE FOUNTAIN

When it is placed on the ground and a command word spoken, this palm-sized, jade chrysanthemum expands to become a fountain, gushing fresh water from its center into a spacious basin.

The fountain occupies a 5-foot square.

It can be used once per day, producing 10 gallons of water.

The fountain reverts to its portable form when all the water has been removed from its basin.

Faint conjuration; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, create water; Price 1,800 gp.

PORTABLE SHADE

This circle of black silk is 3 feet in diameter, but it can be folded up into the size of a handkerchief.

When unfolded, a portable shade floats into the air and hovers over the user's head, moving as the user does but no more than 30 feet per round.

It automatically tilts to block the sun's rays, providing all the benefits of a parasol (see page 100), but leaving the user's hands free for combat or spellcasting.

Folding up a portable shade (a move action) ends its effect. Faint evocation; CL 1st; Craft Wondrous Item, Tenser's floating disk; Price 2,000 gp.

REPLENISHING SKIN

This unremarkable waterskin is made from the hide of a camel.

Whenever the skin becomes empty, it slowly refills with pure water over a period of 1d4 hours.

Smaller quantities of water can be drained from the skin after a shorter time.

Faint conjuration; CL 1st; Craft Wondrous Item, create water; Price 1,000 gp.

SAND PAINTING

These clear glass bottles of varying shapes contain layers of colored sand that form patterns when poured onto the ground or on a floor.

A DC 15 Craft (painting) or Craft (sculpture) check is required to produce the effect successfully.

Pouring the sand provokes attacks of opportunity.

If the sand is disturbed while being poured, the effect is spoiled and that bottle is wasted.

Once a sand painting has been poured from its bottle, it cannot be used again.

MANDALA OF PEACE

This conical bottle contains swirling, rainbow-colored sand. As a full-round action, the user can pour the sand into an ornate circular pattern with a 10-foot radius, producing a lesser globe of invulnerability and an area of silence within that area.

The lesser globe of invulnerability lasts for 12 rounds, and the silence lasts for 12 minutes.

Strong abjuration and illusion; CL 12th; Craft Wondrous Item, lesser globe of invulnerability, silence; Price 2,880 gp; Weight 2 lb.

TRAVELERS' OASIS

This spherical bottle is filled with a layer of green sand on top of a layer of blue sand.

It takes 5 minutes to pour out the sand, over an area of up to 400 square feet, in the shape desired.

When the pattern is complete, the marked area becomes a shaded oasis containing small date palms and a spring of pure water.

The oasis persists for 24 hours and supplies enough food and water for up to thirty-six Medium creatures or twelve Large creatures.

Strong conjuration; CL 12th; Craft Wondrous Item, create food and water, major creation; Price 4,000 gp; Weight 2 lb.

SANDALS OF THE SHIFTING SANDS

These plain sandals enable the wearer to travel across sand and sand crust at his normal speed, without breaking through sand crust and leaving no tracks. The wearer is also cooled as if protected by endure elements. Faint abjuration and transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, cat's grace, endure elements, pass without trace; Price 2,500 gp; Weight 1 lb.

SLASHING SAND

This handful of glittering dark sand is typically stored in a small sack. When flung on the ground, it covers an area of up to 200 square feet with razor-sharp obsidian shards that produce a spike stones effect that lasts for 10 hours. Moderate transmutation; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, spike stones; Price 2,000 gp.

THIRSTY SAND

This sand looks like gritty volcanic ash. When sprinkled on a body of water (or a solution in water), thirsty sand soaks up the liquid and stores it. Each grain can absorb up to 1 gallon of water, thereafter covering a 1-foot cube and weighing about 24 pounds. When a command word is spoken, the water is released again and the sand becomes nonmagical. An area of water-laden thirsty sand is a mud bog. It costs 2 squares of movement to enter a square containing the mud, and the DC of Tumble checks in that area increases by 2. If the water is not released from the sand within 4 hours, it cannot be released and the material dries into normal, sandy soil over a period of days. Releasing the water can be hazardous, depending on the volume absorbed. It rapidly fills a depression or pit and might be deep enough to present a drowning hazard, depending on the dimensions of the volume filled. Releasing 10,000 gallons or more at once produces a flashflood effect that lasts for 1 round per 10,000 gallons. Thirsty sand is usually packaged in a vial containing 1,000 grains. Moderate transmutation; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, control water, transmute rock to mud; Price 3,000 gp.

TOVAR'S INSTANT WELL

This item is a foot-long copper pipe that, when set into the ground and activated with a command word, transforms into a well that produces potable water. The lower end of the tube widens and lengthens, probing into the ground until it finds a reliable water source. The protruding end becomes a pump. The pump springs up in just 1 round, but it might be several minutes before water begins to flow, depending on the distance of the source. Speaking a second command word deactivates the well, returning the item to its pipe form.

Strong transmutation and divination; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, locate water, polymorph any object; Price 23,500 gp.

VEIL OF ALLURE

This diaphanous veil has two effects. The DC to resist the wearer's enchantment spells increases by 2. Also, the DC to resist Charisma-based supernatural abilities used by the wearer also increases by 2. Faint enchantment; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, eagle's splendor; Price 14,000 gp.

WATERSKIN OF DELUGE

Once per week, the bearer of this blue leather waterskin can remove the stopper and squeeze the container, releasing a deluge of water identical to a flashflood spell. Removing the stopper at any other time produces no effect at all, though the skin can be used to store water. If a waterskin of deluge is destroyed, it releases one last flashflood, in the direction from which the damage that destroyed it came. Strong conjuration; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, flashflood; Price 12,350 gp.

SAVAGE SPECIES (3.0)

ARMS OF THE NAGA

These beautiful, silver arms hang from a harness made from top-grade leather. The arms are proportioned as if for a Medium-size humanoid. They have two "fingers" and an opposable "thumb" on each hand. The magic that gives life to the arms when worn duplicates the Strength and Dexterity of the character wearing them. In a stressful or demanding situation, such as combat, the wearer must make a Will save (DC 19) or take a -2 penalty on all attack rolls, saves, skill checks, and ability checks until the situation passes. Magic armor shifts to accommodate the new arms. Arms of the naga do not allow additional attacks or the performance of several simultaneous physical tasks. They do not increase the wearer's reach. However, they do allow the wearer to use items designed for creatures with humanoid hands and arms. If the wearer already has arms, arms of the naga allow the use of a two-handed weapon plus another piece of equipment. For instance, a wearer could wield a greatsword while still using a shield. Arms of the naga have hardness 10 and 30 hit points each. A character cannot remove arms of the naga from an opponent by succeeding on a disarm attempt. The arms are donned or removed like medium armor and are subject to attacks that target armor, such as a bebelith's armor damage attack, but require no proficiency to use. Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, polymorph other; Market Price: 56,000 gp. Weight: 8 lb.

BABBLING WHEEL

An elaborately carved wooden drum set at one end of a intricately engraved rod made of the same material, the babbling wheel activates when the wielder spins the drum around the handle.

The irregular noise emitted is a sonic, mind-affecting compulsion similar to an allip's babble.

All sane creatures within 30 feet of the babbling wheel must succeed on a Will save (DC 11) or be affected as though by a hypnotism spell for 2d4 rounds.

Opponents who successfully save cannot be affected by the same babbling wheel for one day.

Caster Level: 1st; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, hypnotism; Market Price: 2,000 gp.

CIRCLET OF REST

Three interwoven rings make up this beautiful silver headband.

When worn, it provides a +10 resistance bonus against nightmare and dream casting (see Chapter 6) and also makes the wearer immune to dream.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dream, nightmare, or dream casting (see Chapter 6: Spells); Market Price: 12,500 gp.

Weight: —.

CLOAK OF CHARMS

This cloak allows the wearer to cast animal friendship, charm person or animal, or command plants as a 15th-level druid.

This cloak does not allow you to exceed the maximum number of animals befriended to you.

Each ability can be used once per day.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animal friendship, charm person or animal, command plants; Market Price: 54,000 gp.

Weight: 1 lb.

CLOAK OF QUILLS

This brown cloak has a layer of quills on the outside.

The quills are 1 to 2 feet long and have bands of tan, black, and brown.

When grappling, the wearer may thrash about, striking with 1d4 quills every time he or she makes a successful grapple check.

An opponent hit by a quill attack must make a Reflex save (DC 16) or have the quill break off in his or her flesh.

A lodged quill imposes a –1 circumstance penalty on attacks, saves, and checks.

Removing the quill deals 1d6 additional points of damage.

A cloak has 5d6 quills when found; when it is donned, it grows 2d4 new quills every 24 hours until reaching the maximum of 30 quills.

Because the quills rustle and rattle against each other, anyone wearing the cloak takes a –10 penalty on Move Silently checks.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item; Market Price: 2,500 gp.

Weight: 1 lb.

CLOAKER FLUTE

This woodwind instrument is crafted to resemble the throat of a living creature.

Rumor has it that a cloaker taught an evil bard how to make the first one.

When played by a creature who has the Perform (flute) skill, a cloaker flute produces one of four effects (the user chooses the effect each time).

Cloakers are immune to these sonic, mind-affecting attacks.

Unless noted otherwise, creatures that successfully save against these effects cannot be affected by the same cloaker flute for one day.

All saving throw DCs are equal to 10 + the user's ranks in Perform.

Fear: All those within a 30-foot spread must succeed on a Will save or flee in terror for 2 rounds.

Nausea: Everyone in a 30-foot cone must succeed on a Fortitude save or be overcome by nausea and weakness. Affected characters fall to the ground and are unable to take any actions, including defending themselves, for 1d4+1 rounds.

Stupor: A single creature within 30 feet of the cloaker flute must succeed on a Fortitude save or be affected as though by a hold person spell for 5 rounds.

Even after a successful save, the creature remains vulnerable if the cloaker flute produces this effect again.

Unnerve: All within an 80-foot spread automatically take a –2 morale penalty on attack and damage rolls.

Those forced to hear the sound for more than 6 consecutive rounds must succeed on a Will save or enter a trance, unable to attack or defend themselves until the sound stops.

Even after a successful save, they must repeat the save in each round thereafter that the sound continues.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cause fear, hold person, stinking cloud; Market Price: 27,225 gp.

Weight: 3 lb.

DRAGON MASK

This mask allows the wearer to see invisibility, as the spell cast by a 6th-level wizard.

The mask functions automatically when donned, for as much as 1 hour per day.

The time need not be continuous.

When the mask is active, the wearer is not subject to a rogue's sneak attack unless the rogue is at least 10th level.

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, see invisibility; Market Price: 44,000 gp.

Weight: 2 lb.

FAIRY GOLD

This is a bag containing dried leaves that, for 8 hours after it is found, appear to be d% gold coins.

Fey creatures automatically see through the illusion, but all others must make Will saves when they interact with the bag of coins (DC 19).

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, persistent image, creator must be fey; Market Price: 4,950 gp.

Weight: 2 lb.

FINGERBONE NECKLACE

This crude necklace appears to be made from the fingerbones of humanoids strung on a leather thong. A goblin wearing this necklace gains a +2 competence bonus on Handle Animal and Ride (worg) checks. If the goblin does not have the Mounted Combat feat, it may fight as if it does while wearing the fingerbone necklace.
Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item; Market Price: 7,620 gp.
Weight: —.

GAZEBLIND GOGGLES

These goggles have dark lenses that appear opaque until worn. Leather cups house the lenses and surround the wearer's eyes. Leather straps secure the cups and lenses to the wearer's head. When worn, the lenses appear clear to the wearer, and the cups do not block peripheral vision. The goggles block the wearer's gaze attacks.
Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item; Market Price: 6,000 gp.
Weight: —.

GEAS ACORN

Fey leave silver acorns like this one lying in the open for foolish and unwary people to pick up. In this way, the fey gain cheap labor. Once per day, when picked up, a geas acorn can place a lesser geas on the creature touching it unless that creature succeeds on a Will save (DC 16). The effect remains until the creature discharges one task set by the placer of the acorn, or until seven days pass. If the character remains in contact with the acorn after the effect ends, it is subject to the effect again unless it succeeds on another save. The acorn has no effect unless placed by a fey.
Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, lesser geas, creator must be fey; Market Price: 8,400 gp.
Weight: —.

GLOVES OF MAN

These magic gloves provide humanoid fingers and thumbs for the wearer. Any creature may wear them, provided the creature has tentacles or paws over which to slip them. While wearing the gloves, the creature may manipulate items as if it had fully functional hands. The wearer can use her full Strength and Dexterity with her new "hands". Creatures with hands gain no benefit from the gloves, but creatures missing a thumb, a finger, or even an entire hand can use the gloves as a way to replace the loss.
Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, polymorph other; Market Price: 42,000 gp.
Weight: —.

GRIG FIDDLE

Grigs are sprites known for lively fiddle music. When playing their fiddles, grigs force any nonsprite within 30 feet of the instrument to succeed on a Will save (DC 15) or be affected as though by Otto's irresistible dance as long as the playing continues. This is a sonic effect. Anyone capable of playing the instrument (which is of Diminutive size) can produce the effect.
Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Otto's irresistible dance, creator must be a grig; Market Price: 14,400 gp.
Weight: —.

HAG EYE

Coveys of hags create these magic gems. A hag eye appears to be nothing more than a semiprecious stone, but a gem of seeing or other such effect reveals it as a disembodied eye. Often, a hag eye is worn as a ring, brooch, or other adornment. Any of the three hags who created the hag eye can see through it whenever they wish, so long as it is on the same plane as the hag. Destroying a hag eye deals 1d10 points of damage to each member of the covey and blinds the one who sustained the greatest damage for 24 hours.
Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, clairvoyance, creators must be a covey of hags; Market Price: 22,500 gp.
Weight: —.

HEARTSTONE

All night hags carry this periapt, which instantly cures any disease contracted by the holder. In addition, a heartstone provides a +2 resistance bonus on all saving throws. A night hag that loses this charm can no longer use etherealness until it can manufacture another (which takes one month). Other creatures, including those of good alignments, can also benefit from the heartstone's powers, but the periapt shatters after ten uses and does not bestow etherealness.
Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be a night hag; Market Price: 1,800 gp.
Weight: —.

HORSESHOES OF FLAME

An ordinary horse wearing these horseshoes may transform up to three times per day, for up to 7 hours each time, into a creature resembling a nightmare. The transformation happens when the owner of the horseshoes speaks the command word. Another command word transforms the horse back to its normal form. Speaking the command is a free action, but the transformation takes a standard action. When transformed, the horse gains a fly speed of 90 feet (good), +1d4 points of fire damage on each successful hoof attack, +2 Dexterity, +10 Intelligence, and +6 Charisma.

A blow from the transformed horse's hooves sets combustible materials alight.
Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, polymorph other; Market Price: 30,240 gp.
Weight: 2 lb.
each.

LIQUID VORTEX

When a flask of this magical substance is poured into a pool of water or similar fluid, liquid vortex creates a whirlpool similar to the vortex created by a Large water elemental. The vortex lasts for 4 rounds. It is 5 feet wide at the base, up to 30 feet wide at the top, and 10 to 40 feet tall depending on the depth of the pool. Pouring the contents of the flask into a pool of fluid less than 10 feet deep produces no effect. Medium-size and smaller creatures might take damage when caught in the vortex and may be swept up by it. An affected creature must succeed on a Reflex save (DC 19) when it comes into contact with the vortex or take 2d6 points of damage. It must also succeed on a second Reflex save or be picked up bodily and held suspended in the powerful currents, automatically taking damage each round. A creature that can swim is allowed a Reflex save (DC 19) each round to escape the vortex. The creature still takes damage, but can leave if the save is successful. If the vortex's base touches the bottom of the body of water, it creates a swirling cloud of debris. This cloud is centered wherever the wielder threw or poured the liquid and has a diameter equal to half the vortex's height. The cloud obscures all vision, including darkvision, beyond 5 feet. Creatures 5 feet away have one-half concealment, while those farther away have total concealment (see Concealment in Chapter 8 of the Player's Handbook). Those caught in the cloud must succeed on a Concentration check (DC 19) to cast a spell.
Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster VI; Market Price: 3,300 gp.
Weight: —.

MASK OF FANGS

Wearing this mask allows the owner to dominate and direct animals with simple commands such as "Attack", "Run", and "Fetch". Suicidal or self-destructive commands (including an order to attack a creature two or more size categories larger than the dominated animals) are simply ignored. The wearer may simultaneously dominate and direct up to 12 HD of animals. The mask establishes a mental link between the wearer and the subject creatures. The creatures can be directed by silent mental command as long as they remain within 150 feet of the wearer. The wearer need not see the creatures to control them. The wearer does not receive direct sensory input from the creatures, but knows what they experience, and which one has which experience.

Because the wearer directs the creatures with his own intelligence, the creatures may be able to undertake actions normally beyond their comprehension, such as manipulating objects with their paws and mouths. The wearer need not concentrate exclusively on controlling the creatures unless trying to direct them to do something they normally could not do. Domination lasts for 6 rounds, after which the creatures return to their normal, uncontrolled behavior. They have no bond toward the wearer of the mask, but their attitude is friendly.
Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dominate animal; Market Price: 30,000 gp.
Weight: 2 lb.

MASTER FIDDLE

Sized for a Tiny creature, this exceptional fiddle produces beautiful music when played. In the hands of a grig, however, it replaces the normal effects of a grig fiddle with the bardic music abilities inspire courage, countersong, fascinate, suggestion, or inspire greatness as if it were being played by a 9th-level bard. See the bard class features in Chapter 3 of the Player's Handbook for descriptions of bardic music.
Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be a bard or a grig; Market Price: 18,000 gp.
Weight: —.

NECKLACE OF NATURAL WEAPONS

The enhancement bonuses on this necklace are applied to attack and damage rolls involving one or more of the wearer's natural weapons. In addition, any weapon special quality may be applied to this necklace, and the quality then applies to those natural weapons as well. For instance, a +1 throwing returning necklace of natural weapons would apply its enhancement bonus and the throwing and returning special abilities to one or more of the wearer's natural weapons.
Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Craft Magic Arms and Armor; Market Price: 600 gp, plus the cost of the enhancement bonuses, multiplied by the number of natural weapons affected. A +1 necklace of natural weapons that affects one natural weapon costs 2,600 gp; if the same necklace affects six natural weapons, it costs 15,600 gp.
Weight: —.

RENDER BAIT

This amulet causes a gray render within 50 feet to regard the wearer as a trusted friend and ally, as if its attitude were helpful, unless it succeeds on a Will save (DC 19). This is a mind-affecting charm effect. Some renders develop a bond with the wearer, as described in their Monster Manual entry. The wearer may bond with a number of renders that fail their save equal to his Charisma bonus (if any). They remain fairly close to the wearer, leaving only to hunt for food and find water.

Once per day each affected gray render brings the wearer an offering of enough meat to feed a Medium-size humanoid for one day.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, charm monster; Market Price: 35,640 gp.
Weight: —.

SATYR PIPES

Any creature with the appropriate Perform (pan pipes) skill can play these beautiful pan pipes.

In the hands of a satyr, however, the pipes can produce the performer's choice of three magical effects.

When the pipes are played, all creatures within a 60-foot spread (except satyrs) must succeed on a Will save (DC 14) or be affected by charm person, sleep, or fear, as the spells cast by a 10th-level sorcerer (the satyr chooses the tune and its effect).

A creature that successfully saves against any of the pipes' effects cannot be affected by the same set of pipes again for one day.

A satyr often uses its pipes to charm and seduce especially comely women or to put a party of adventurers to sleep and then steal their valuables.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be a satyr; Market Price: 3,000 gp.
Weight: 3 lb.

SCENTBLINDER

This small pouch comes suspended on a leather thong and is worn around the neck.

While worn, a scentblinder masks the wearer's scent.

This effect increases the DC to track the wearer by scent by +30.

It also masks the effect of extraordinary, spell-like, and supernatural powers of the wearer based on scent, such as a troglodyte's stench.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, persistent image; Market Price: 33,000 gp.
Weight: —.

SERPENT KINGDOMS (3.5)

CIRCLET OF SEVEN SERPENTS

Fashioned by a bard from a single piece of serpentine stone, a circlet of seven serpents is carved to resemble a septet of intertwined snakes, each devouring the tail of another.

The serpents' eyes are tiny emeralds, and silver filigree sets off each snake's individual scales.

Thought to be originally of Jhaamdathan origin, such circlets have been employed by the nagas of the Eastern Heartlands since the founding of Sembia.

A circlet of seven serpents reveals its powers to anyone who places it upon her brow.

It is considered a headband, hat, or helmet for the purpose of limitations on magic items worn.

The wearer of the circlet can use charm monster and true strike once per day each, and mage hand and open/close at will (range 25 feet for both).

Moderate enchantment; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, charm monster, mage hand, open/close, true strike; Price 14,400 gp.

EYE OF SSETH

This yuan-ti device resembles a thick, heavy gold coin about 2 inches in diameter.

One side of it is usually graven with numerals and a device such as a crown, a monarch's head, or the arms or badge of a country.

The other side, however, is a jet-black, glossy serpent's eye. When handled by any Scaled One, an eye of Sseth has no effect—but any other creature that touches it is immediately dosed with poison (contact, Fortitude DC 20, initial and secondary damage 1d6 Con).

The poison is gone after one creature handles the coin. If the last yuan-ti who touched that particular eye of Sseth is still alive, he instantly becomes aware when the eye is first handled by a creature other than a Scaled One, even if it is on another plane.

Furthermore, he knows the approximate distance and direction to the spot where the handling occurred and receives a mental vision of the specific creature that touched the eye of Sseth (but not its companions or surroundings).

If an eye of Sseth is seized by human adventurers, passed from hand to hand, and then spent in town, the yuan-ti who placed it receives impressions of only the first adventurer who touched it.

Eyes of Sseth are commonly placed with scatterings of real coins as "warning lures" inside the entrances of yuan-ti temples, to warn the inhabitants of intrusion.

Moderate necromancy; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item; poison.

Price 1,500 gp; Weight 1/10 lb.

FANG BEAD

The surface of this small, lusterless black sphere is graven with a pair of fangs.

The user can throw it up to 60 feet with no range penalties.

If both fangs are touched simultaneously (a free action) just before the bead is hurled, it bursts upon sharp impact, transforming into eight Tiny vipers (see Monster Manual) that wriggle to attack the nearest living creatures other than the thrower.

The snakes fight until slain or until no living creatures other than the thrower remain within 120 feet of the bead's impact point.

Producing the vipers destroys the bead, though it can be thrown or struck any number of times without effect if the fangs aren't triggered.

Faint conjuration; CL 1st; Craft Wondrous Item; summon monster I.

Price 300 gp.

SHINING SOUTH (3.5)

AMULET OF PROOF AGAINST PETRIFICATION

This amulet gives its wearer immunity to any petrifying attack.

Strong transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, stone to flesh; Price 66,000 gp.

BELT OF PRIESTLY MIGHT

Many of these items first appeared in Halruaa at the end of the Time of Troubles, which the wizards took as a sign that Mystra had returned.

Each broad leather belt has a stamp of the holy symbol of a deity in the front, and followers of that deity or anyone of the deity's alignment can wear the belt safely.

(If this item is placed as treasure, select or randomly determine the deity to whom it is dedicated).

Any other creature gains one negative level from wearing the belt.

The negative level remains as long as the belt is worn.

This negative level never results in actual level loss, but it cannot be overcome in any way (including restoration spells) while the belt is worn.

Three varieties of this sort of belt exist.

BELT OF HOLY MIGHT

This version has all the abilities of a belt of priestly might and warding.

Its magic circle against evil (or magic circle against good) ability lasts for 110 minutes, plus its wearer may use a word of recall once per day, affecting only himself and his equipment, that transports him to the nearest temple devoted to the belt's deity.

Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, barkskin, bull's strength, magic circle against evil (or magic circle against good), word of recall; Price 70,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

BELT OF PRIESTLY MIGHT

This version grants its wearer a +2 natural armor bonus to Armor Class and a +4 enhancement bonus to Strength.

Moderate transmutation; CL 8th; Craft Wondrous Item, barkskin, bull's strength; Price 28,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

BELT OF PRIESTLY MIGHT AND WARDING

This version has all the abilities of a belt of priestly might, plus once per day, on command, it can create a magic circle against evil (or a magic circle against good, if the belt is devoted to an evil deity) that lasts for 80 minutes.

Moderate transmutation; CL 8th; Craft Wondrous Item, barkskin, bull's strength, magic circle against evil (or magic circle against good); Price 41,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

DWEOMERED DOORS

A wide variety of these magic doors exist in the Shining South, serving both beneficial and baleful purposes.

Such doorways are widespread in Halruaa, where wizards install them in their sanctums.

These doors might come in odd shapes, be crafted of unusual materials, and possibly have other features (locks, traps, additional spells) set on them as well.

The doors are often masterfully crafted, with highly stylized motifs, but just as many are unremarkable.

Some guard valuable prizes, some block a means of escape, and some open onto blank walls, nothing more than a trap for the overly curious.

Eight examples follow.

ANIMATING DOOR

Any dead creature that falls or is carried through a doorway of this type is temporarily animated (as the animate dead spell) for 1d6+4 rounds.

The animated creatures function in all ways as either zombies or skeletons, depending on the state of decomposition (DM's discretion) and attack any other living creatures in the area.

Moderate necromancy; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate dead; Price 15,000 gp.

DOOR OF BEASTS

This door is always found shut, locked, and adorned with an elaborate knocker or doorknob in the shape of a beast-head decorated with gems for eyes.

Any time the gems are disturbed, the door flies open and emits monsters (as the summon monster IV spell) that immediately attack.

The same happens if the door is opened from the side of the knocker.

Summoned creatures disappear 7 rounds after they appear, but the door has no limit to the number of creatures it can summon.

Moderate conjuration; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster IV; Price 56,000 gp.

DOOR OF DERANGEMENT

Typically, this doorway affects only every third creature that passes through it, though variations are not uncommon.

The affected creature must make a DC 17 Will save or be blinded, deafened, and feebleminded (as the respective spells) for 1d4+1 minutes.

Moderate enchantment; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, blindness/deafness, feeblemind; Price 40,500 gp.

DOOR OF MIRRORS

This type of doorway usually functions sporadically—one creature in four, once per day, or randomly (20% chance). Those affected by the door are surrounded by 1d4+2 exact images of themselves, which duplicate their every move for 1d6+1 minutes.

After that time the images remerge with the affected creature, dealing it 1d6 points of electricity damage and subjecting the victim to a confusion effect for 1 round per image.

Moderate varies; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, confusion, mirror image, shocking grasp; Price 22,000 gp.

DOOR OF NEGATION

This powerful doorway suppresses the spell and spell-like functions of magic items. The door makes a dispel check (1d20+20) against the caster level of any magic item that passes through it. If the dispel check equals or exceeds the 11 + the item's caster level, its functions are suppressed for 1d4 rounds. Artifacts are immune to this effect. Strong abjuration; CL 20th; Craft Wondrous Item, greater dispel magic; Price 80,000 gp.

DOOR OF VISIONS

Each creature passing through this doorway sees a very distinct and clear image (determined at the time of the door's creation) such as that created by a silent image spell. Faint illusion; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, silent image; Price 8,000 gp.

HOLDING DOOR

Doors of this type are often constructed as an exit from a particularly dangerous area to give those fleeing from danger a false sense of impending escape. When they pass through such a door, living creatures vulnerable to mind-affecting spells and abilities must succeed on a DC 17 Will save or be held immobile for 9 rounds. Immobilized creatures get a new saving throw to end the effect each round. Moderate enchantment; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, hold monster; Price 90,000 gp.

SILENCING DOOR

This type of door is crafted so that it shuts automatically when left unattended. When it shuts, a silence spell is cast upon the door itself, affecting those nearby. Doors of this type are frequently made with passwords or special keys that temporarily negate the effect. Faint illusion; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, silence; Price 12,000 gp.

HALRUAAN SKYSHIP

Of all the wonders of Halruaa, the most famous is the skyship—a sailing vessel that floats on air instead of water. Halruaa's elders guarded their methods of creating these devices for centuries, leaving others to experiment (and fail) with various methods.

Recently, a renegade Halruaan wizard let the secret out, and a couple of wealthy governments have commissioned their own skyships.

A skyship is much like a standard sailing vessel in appearance and crew needs.

The typical Halruaan skyship has three masts, square sails, two panels that can be swung out on each side for guidance, and a broad beam that allows it to land on flat surfaces without listing.

Ten plates are affixed to the underside of the ship, which are traditionally made from the shells of Halruaan sea turtles.

The magic of a skyship comes in multiple parts.

Essential is the control rod, a narrow cylinder of silver with a tube of gold slipped over each end, which is linked to the plates on the ship's belly.

These ten plates contain the magic that causes the vessel to rise into the air (a larger ship requires more plates).

The rod amplifies the will of the ship's helms person and there by controls the vertical movement of the ship, allowing the vessel to rise and fall at a speed of 45 feet. While most of the ship's horizontal movement is at the mercy of the wind, its sails, steering panels, and supplemental magic from the plates allow it to turn with clumsy maneuverability.

A skyship can also enter and sail in water and cannot be sunk so long as its magic remains intact.

Strong transmutation; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, fly, suspension; Price 400,000 gp; Weight 20 tons.

POUCH OF WINDS

This item looks like an ordinary leather pouch, tied shut and bulging at the seams with its contents.

It weighs no more than the leather it is made of.

Once per day, when the pouch is opened, the user can select one of two effects: a favorable wind or a contrary wind.

If the user chooses a favorable wind, then the prevailing wind conditions shift so that a strong wind (see Table 3–24: Wind Effects, page 95 of the Dungeon Master's Guide) turns to blow in the direction the user wishes.

If a contrary wind is called from the bag, a strong wind blows directly opposite the current heading of a single ship within sight of the user.

Either of these conditions last for 2d12 hours before the wind shifts back to its original course.

Moderate evocation; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, wind wall; Price 12,000 gp; Weight —.

SOLUTION OF STILLNESS

This stoppered bottle contains a thick, oily substance that, when poured into a storm-tossed ocean, calms the waters (winds become light/moderate) in a 100-foot radius for 2d12 hours.

The solution negates magically created waves and also acts as an antipathy spell against any creatures from the Elemental Plane of Water.

Strong varies; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, antipathy, control weather; Price 9,500 gp; Weight 1 lb.

VAPOR BOTTLE

This item looks like a simple silver flask with a silver stopper.

It functions exactly like an eversmoking bottle, except that fog billows forth rather than smoke.

Faint transmutation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, fog cloud; Price 5,400 gp; Weight 1 lb.

SILVER MARCHES (3.0)

COMMON SWORD PENDANT

This battered and plain-looking steel pendant is shaped like a sword or possibly a simple holy symbol of Tempus or another deity whose symbol is a sword.

On command, it transforms into a masterwork longsword or back into pendant form.

These pendants are favored by people who have to travel into dangerous areas but do not want to risk carrying obvious weapons.

Some of these items are designed to look like a brooch instead of an amulet, and others may turn into a weapon other than a longsword.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shrink item; Market Price: 1,315 gp; Cost to Create: 802 gp + 40 XP.

GREATER SWORD PENDANT

As the common sword pendant, but the item transforms into a +1 longsword.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Craft Wondrous Item, shrink item; Market Price: 4,315 gp; Cost to Create: 2,315 gp + 160 XP.

KLEN'S GARGOYLE SKULL

Created by the sorcerer Klen when he planned to investigate the gargoyle-infested stronghold in Fell Pass, this actual skull-like gargoyle head is coated in a thick layer of transparent hardened blue resin (a common feature of many items Klen created).

When the user holds and concentrates upon the item, it detects gargoyles within 60 feet by becoming unnaturally cold to the touch.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, locate creature; Market Price: 3,000 gp.

ROSE MASK

This "mask", made of a hard rose-colored crystal, is shaped like the front of an open-faced helm rather than a traditional mask.

At the brow is etched the symbol of Lathander.

The wearer of the mask gains a +4 morale bonus to saves against fear effects and a +4 enhancement bonus to Constitution.

Certain members of the clergy believe this item to be the "rightful sign" of Lathander's favor described in the Rhyester's Matins (temple) entry in the Silvermoon section of The Silver Marches.

Caster Level: 14th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, heal, plane shift; Market Price: 21,000 gp.

STASIS SPHERE

This device is a glowing, greenish sphere of crystal about 8 feet in diameter.

When touched by its owner and commanded, one creature within 30 feet of the sphere may be placed in temporal stasis and imprisoned inside the sphere.

The target is entitled to a Will saving throw (DC 23) to resist the effect.

The sphere contains an extradimensional space in which as many as fifty creatures of any size may be imprisoned.

By a second command, one imprisoned creature may be released.

If the sphere's master does not specify by name, type, or accurate physical description which creature is to be released, the sphere releases one imprisoned creature at random.

If the stasis sphere is breached (hardness 20, 50 hp), all trapped creatures are immediately.

Once the stasis sphere has been used fifty times to imprison creatures (each time using up one of the item's charges), it can no longer imprison new creatures.

However, creatures inside can be held in temporal stasis indefinitely.

When the last prisoner is released and the sphere is out of charges, the device collapses into a burned-out husk of smoky glass.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, imprisonment, temporal stasis; Market Price: 137,700 gp; Weight: 1,000 lb.

TOME OF TWELVE SEALS

This strange book has a cover made of red dragon hide and 12 pages made of thick black leather.

Each leather page has one rune-inscribed metal disk attached to it, like a seal on an urn, door, or drawer.

Although all 12 seals were originally shiny gold, now seven have turned to dull, charred lead, their magic spent.

Each seal contains a summoning spell tied to a different creature, and the runes on the seal are the command words to activate the seal.

An activated seal summons the appropriate creature, which serves for 17 rounds as if conjured by a summon monster spell.

Once used, a seal's gold turns into lead and loses its power. Although only one tome of 12 seals has been found, other forms of this book may exist with different creatures bound into its seals or with a different cover.

Some versions may even contain normal spellbook pages or maps to old treasures.

The remaining five seals of the one known tome summon the following creatures: huge air elemental, large fire elemental, huge earth elemental, gibbering moulder, janni.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Extend Spell, summon monster V, summon monster VI, summon monster VII, summon monster VIII; Market Price: 25,500 gp.

SONG AND SILENCE (3.0)

BREAKER BOTTLE

Potion bottles have an unfortunate tendency to break at the wrong times.

A breaker bottle.

however, is designed to break only upon command.

It looks like an ordinary bottle of wood, metal, or very heavy glass, but its outside is inscribed with an attractive latticework design.

The bottle has been imbued with a shatter spell that activates by spell trigger.

Thus, when dropped, it simply bounces.

When thrown across a room, it typically survives intact.

But when the proper trigger word is spoken, it flies apart into shards along the inscribed lines, scattering its contents.

Breaker bottles protect potions and other liquids from harm, yet they can also serve as excellent grenade-like weapons, or even trap components.

For example, a character could simply line up a row of breaker bottles filled with acid or alchemist's fire atop a high shelf, wait for a foe to pass near them, speak the trigger word, and watch the contents rain down upon the unfortunate target's head.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shatter; Market Price: 150 gp; Weight: 1/10 lb.

EYES OF DARK AURA

When placed over the eyes, these ebony lenses allow normal vision and reveal the state of health of all creatures visible to the wearer within 25 feet.

The eyes of dark aura indicate whether each is dead, fragile (3 or fewer hit points left), fighting off death (alive with 4 or more hit points), undead, or neither alive nor dead (a construct, for example).

Members of the Lamenters' Order (see Chapter 4) are particularly fond of this item.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, deathwatch; Market Price: 2,000 gp.

FANG SCARAB

A fang-shaped crystal dangles from a loop of finely wrought silver chain in the center of this spiderweb medallion.

When the chain is used to wrap the fang scarab around the juncture of a monstrous spider's cephalothorax (head) and abdomen, the creature can hear Lolth's dark whispers in its subconscious.

This gives it an instinctive knowledge of what the next moment will bring, which manifests as a +1 insight bonus on attack rolls.

Because the fang scarab is designed for spiders, it's not useful to most adventurers.

A nonspider can make a fang scarab function with a successful Use Magic Device check (DC 25), but this also fuses it permanently to its user's neck, near the throat.

Nothing short of the wearer's death can then remove it. Though the fang scarab grants its wearer the same attack bonus that it would to a spider, it also initiates a terrible metamorphosis that changes the wearer into a half-spider abomination over time.

When the scarab first attaches itself, the wearer's canine teeth enlarge, and coarse black hair appears on the back of her neck.

No further changes occur until she attains levels in the fang of Lolth prestige class (see Physical Changes, at right).

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, divination; Market Price: 3,500 gp; Weight: —.

FLUTE OF THE SNAKE

The music of this flute, which is made from an exotic type of dark wood, affects snakes of all kinds.

This is a sonic, mind-affecting compulsion effect that works like an animal trance spell, except that it affects only snakes.

By playing a droning sequence of notes for 1 full round, a musician with at least 5 ranks in Perform can summon 1d4+1 Medium-size vipers.

These snakes appear wherever the flutist designates, within a radius of 30 feet from the flute.

They fight on the musician's behalf, attacking on his or her turn, and remain for 9 rounds or until killed. The flute can put snakes into a trance three times per day and summon snakes once per day.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item.

animal trance, summon nature's ally V; Market Price: 15,400 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

GLORIOUS HAND

This grisly item is the severed left hand of a human male, with a candle affixed to each of the fingers and the thumb.

Upon command, the candles light, providing illumination as per a light spell.

If rapped on a locked door or other locked item, it produces a knock effect.

Finally, upon command, it produces a hold person effect (Will save DC 17) against any designated target.

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, hold person, knock, light; Market Price: 39,900 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

HARP OF THE IMMORTAL MAESTRO

This pinnacle of instrument design functions best in the hands of a musician with at least 15 ranks in Perform.

Such a user can, simply by strumming the harp, generate the following effects once per day each: cure critical wounds, displacement and summon monster V.

The harp also grants its owner a +6 enhancement bonus on Perform checks made while using it.

In addition, the harp of the immortal maestro has the following command-word abilities, each usable once per day: levitate, magic circle against evil, and fortissimo (see Chapter 6).

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fortissimo, cure critical wounds, displacement, levitate, magic circle against evil, summon monster V; Market Price: 69,580 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

HORN OF TRIUMPH

This silver trumpet is prized on the battlefield, for its music can significantly improve soldiers' combat prowess.

When a character with the bardic music ability plays the horn of triumph, each willing ally within 15 feet receives a +2 morale bonus on all saving throws, attack rolls, ability and skill checks, and weapon damage rolls.

Furthermore, every affected creature gains a +2 morale bonus to both Strength and Constitution (which improves attack bonuses and Fortitude saves accordingly) but suffers a -1 morale penalty to AC.

The instrument compels all affected creatures to fight, heedless of danger.

The effects of the horn last as long as the musician continues to play and the affected creatures remain within 15 feet.

Moving out of range ends the effect for the creature that did so, but others still within the radius retain the benefits. The horn can produce this magical fanfare twice a day. It functions as a normal trumpet if its user does not have the bardic music ability.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, emotion; Market Price: 35,380 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

JUMPING CALTROPS

These unusual items are actually Diminutive animated objects.

When released from their bag, they begin hopping around the 5-foot square in which they land.

When someone tries to move into, through, or within the square on foot, the jumping caltrops immediately try to scurry under the interloper's feet.

They can move at a speed of up to 50 feet, though they cannot leave their square.

The number of caltrop attacks a creature suffers while within the affected area depends on its speed: four for normal speed, two for half speed, and none for one-quarter speed.

(One-quarter-speed movement assumes that the creature is shuffling forward without picking up its feet at all).

The target's shield, armor, and deflection bonuses don't count against these attacks.

A target that is wearing shoes or other footwear, however, gets a +2 armor bonus to AC.

The speed of any target that takes damage from a caltrop attack is reduced by one-half because of the foot injury until the victim receives one successful Heal check, any cure spell, or any other form of magical healing.

Jumping caltrops continue to move for 11 rounds, though the owner can order them back into the bag before the duration expires if desired.

However, they can move only on their first use; thereafter, they become normal caltrops.

➤ Jumping Caltrop: CR 1/4; Diminutive construct; HD 1/4 d10; hp 1; Init +3; Spd 50 ft.; AC 17 (touch 17, flat-footed 14); Atk +7 melee (1, impale); Face/Reach 1/2 ft. by 1/2 ft./0 ft.; SQ Construct traits, use Dex instead of Str for melee attacks; AL N; SV Fort +0, Ref +3, Will -5; Str 6, Dex 16, Con -, Int -, Wis 1, Cha 1.

Construct Traits: Immune to mind-influencing effects and to poison, sleep, paralysis, stunning, disease, death effects, necromantic effects, and any effect that requires a Fort save unless it also works on objects; cannot heal damage; not subject to critical hits, subdual damage, ability damage, ability drain, or energy drain; not at risk of death from massive damage, but destroyed when reduced to 0 or fewer hit points; cannot be raised or resurrected; darkvision 60 ft.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate object; Market Price: 150 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

LUTE OF THE WANDERING MINSTREL

This finely wrought instrument functions as a masterwork lute with minor magical effects in the hands of someone with fewer than 10 ranks in Perform.

By speaking the correct command words, such a musician can utilize fortissimo (see Chapter 6), levitate, and magic circle against evil once per day each. A musician with 10 or more ranks in Perform, however, can coax even greater magical effects from this instrument.

By playing single chord on the lute, such a performer can generate an expeditious retreat, haste, or phantom steed effect. Each of these spells is usable once per day.

Furthermore, the lute of the wandering minstrel grants its owner a +2 enhancement bonus on any Perform checks made while playing it.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fortissimo, expeditious retreat, haste, levitate, magic circle against evil, phantom steed; Market Price: 39,500 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

MANDOLIN OF THE INSPIRING MUSE

Bards and other musicians prize this carefully crafted mandolin.

An owner with at least 15 ranks in Perform can use crescendo (see Chapter 6), emotion, and dominate person, each once per day, by playing the correct notes.

The musician also gains a +4 enhancement bonus on any Perform checks made while playing the mandolin of the inspiring muse.

The mandolin also has the following command-word abilities, each usable once per day: levitate, magic circle against evil, and fortissimo (see Chapter 6).

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fortissimo, crescendo, dominate person, emotion, levitate, magic circle against evil; Market Price: 53,920 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

NONDESCRIPT BOX

A nondescript box is perfectly ordinary in appearance, and it always seems to fit in with its surroundings.

In fact, it fits in so well that it is very difficult to notice. The eye seems to skip over it, and the mind forgets its presence immediately.

Characters walk around a nondescript box without even realizing they have done so, and observers find nothing strange about such detours.

Search attempts always fail to locate this item, and it radiates no magic.

However, a successful Spot check (DC 25) enables the mind to pierce the box's protections and see it clearly. Once someone has pointed it out, others can see it as well. So well is it protected, however, that a character who does find it must make a successful Will save (DC 25) or forget to take it along upon departure.

The nondescript box becomes a normal box in every way once its contents are removed.

Those who can afford nondescript boxes typically use them to stash valuables, incriminating documents, or other items that they wish to keep others from finding.

A typical nondescript box is about the size of a small coffer—18 inches long by 1 foot deep by 1 foot high.
Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, sequester; Market Price: 4,552 gp; Weight: 10 lb.

POSSUM POUCH

Also known as a false stomach, a possum pouch is a small, flat, circular bag about 10–12 inches in diameter and up to 2 inches thick.

When placed against a humanoid's abdomen and sealed there with a command word, it blends in unobtrusively with the surrounding skin, requiring a successful Search check (DC 30) to detect.

Spies and couriers find these items useful as hidden diplomatic pouches, while nobles and wealthy merchants sometimes use them as superior money belts.

Assassins and sneak-thieves love possum pouches because they make it easy to smuggle poisons and small valuables into or out of well-guarded houses.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, change self; Market Price: 1,800 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

SAFE BOX

This reinforced box keeps anything inside it safe from damage by most outside forces.

Made of 2-inch-thick adamantite, it has a hardness of 40 and has 80 hit points.

In addition, it ignores the first 12 points of damage from fire and acid, and any direct attack against it has a 50% miss chance.

Safe boxes can come in a range of sizes and shapes, from scroll cases to large boxes.

Though they are very expensive, people with irreplaceable items to protect consider them well worth the price.

Bards in particular prize safe boxes highly as instrument cases.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, displacement, protection from elements; Market Price: 77,500 gp; Weight: 10 lb.

SPOOL OF ENDLESS ROPE

Some adventurers never seem to have enough rope.

The spool of endless rope contains 300 feet of the finest silk rope, yet the whole weighs only 10 pounds.

The spool comes with a belt loop so that it can hang conveniently at an adventurer's side.

One end of the rope is attached so firmly inside the spool that a sharp tug would pull the owner over before it would break the connection.

To use it, the owner feeds out as little or as much rope as desired, up to a maximum of 300 feet.

When finished with the rope, the owner can simply wind it back onto the spool.

(Rewinding requires 1 round per 50 feet fed out, rounded up).

If some of the rope is cut off, the rest remains attached to the spool and works as before, though its total length is shortened by the amount removed.

Extra lengths can be tied onto the rope to extend its length beyond 300 feet, but that extra length cannot be wound into the spool.

Some owners of spools of endless rope like to use them in conjunction with grapple-firing crossbows (see New Weapons, page 51).

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's secret chest, 5 ranks of Use Rope; Market Price: 2,000 gp; Weight: 10 lb.

STRINGS OF SPELL STORING

This set of six catgut strings for a lute, mandolin, or other stringed instrument has up to six levels of spells stored within it.

By playing the proper sequence of notes (a standard action) on an instrument strung with these and making a successful Perform check (DC 10), a musician can unleash the desired spell.

As with a wand, the user need not provide any material components or focus and pays no XP cost to cast the spell. No arcane spell failure chance exists because the musician doesn't need to gesture.

A spellcaster with at least one rank in Perform can cast any spells into the strings, as long as the total spell levels do not add up to more than six.

To store each spell, the caster must make a successful Perform check (DC 10 + spell level).

Failure causes the spell to fizzle.

For example, a bard could cast protection from good and cure moderate wounds into the strings, then give them to a wizard with the Perform skill, who could cast fireball into them.

Any character with the Perform skill could then cast all three spells from the strings.

Treat a randomly generated set of strings of spell storing as a scroll to determine what spells are stored within it.

If you roll a spell that would put the set over its six-level limit, ignore that roll; those strings have no more spells in them (not every newly discovered set of strings is fully charged).

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, imbue with spell ability; Market Price: 48,600 gp; Weight: 1/2 lb.

THIEF CATCHER (HUNGRY BOOK)

This insidious item is the bane of thieves everywhere.

It appears to be an ordinary book, but, in fact, it is a trap.

A successful Search check by a rogue or other character with the traps ability reveals the presence of a magic trap.

Detect magic used in conjunction with a successful Spellcraft check (DC 15) reveals only abjuration magic.

The book is locked with an arcane lock spell, so it refuses to open until that is bypassed, suppressed, or negated by any of the usual means (see the spell description in the Player's Handbook).

The owner of the book can freely bypass the lock.

Any other attempt works as it normally would, but also primes the trap.

A Search check (DC 30) made by a character with the traps ability after an attempt to bypass the arcane lock reveals that a trap is still in place.

Once the trap is primed, the first character who opens the thief catcher is sucked into the book, which promptly slams shut.

It then holds that prisoner indefinitely in stasis—the victim is conscious of his or her surroundings but unable to move, speak, or activate any powers or abilities.

Once it has a prisoner, the book becomes harmless to others, and Search checks reveal no more traps. Anyone else who opens the book sees a life-like illustration of the prisoner as its frontispiece. The text is a series of stories about thieves who came to bad ends, and the prisoner's name appears in red as the unfortunate protagonist of each tale. Each of these stories ends with a pious moral about the virtue of leaving others' property alone. When the book is in this state, detect magic used in conjunction with a successful Spellcraft check (DC 15) reveals transmutation magic. The trapped character can be retrieved only with a limited wish or a spell of equivalent power. If the book is burned, any prisoner inside dies, leaving behind lifesized bones among the ashes. A thief catcher can be used only once; if a trapped character is freed, the text remains, but the frontispiece is gone, and the book is no longer magical. Thief catchers are extremely rare. It is rumored that their creator was an archwizard who had lost one too many precious magic items to daring rogues. Because this item is not stationary like the typical magic device trap, it is treated as a wondrous item. Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, arcane lock, Nystul's magic aura, trap the soul; Market Price: 32,250 gp; Weight: 3 lb.

STORMWRACK (3.5)

ADMIRAL'S BICORNE

This elaborately braided headgear is made of rich blue felt, embroidered with golden thread. It often has a showy badge called a cockade, proclaiming nationality, faith, family crest, and the like. A humanoid or monstrous humanoid who dons the admiral's bicorne gains a +5 bonus on Profession (sailor) checks and all Charisma-based checks (including Leadership) as long as it is worn. The wearer's voice is magically amplified, so that it can be heard clearly by anyone within 100 feet; class features and effects that depend on hearing the speaker benefit from the increased range. Finally, the admiral's bicorne grants a +2 morale bonus on attack rolls, saves, and skill checks to allies within sound of the wearer's voice (including the wearer). Strong conjuration; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, eagle's splendor; heroism, owl's wisdom, ventriloquism. Price 51,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

BAG OF TEETH

This small sack is made of fish skin and contains a handful of piranha teeth. By opening the bag and scattering its contents in a body of water, the user creates a piranha swarm (see page 162). The swarm is average in all regards and remains for 10 minutes. The swarm moves toward and attacks the closest living creature in the water, and the user has no control over its target or direction of travel.

If no other creature is available, the swarm remains where it was summoned and attacks the first creature that approaches. Strong conjuration; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, summon swarm; Price 2,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

CAPTAIN'S LANTERN

This exquisite brass and green-glass lantern constantly protects the ship to which it is attuned with an alarm effect. The captain of the ship can speak a command word while touching a copper coin to the underside of the lantern to create a lantern token. Those who possess a lantern token do not set off the alarm. The captain can turn the alarm on or off with a command word. The captain can, at any time, negate all the current lantern tokens, turning them back into nonmagical copper coins. Tokens radiate a very minor abjuration effect. Faint abjuration; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Items, alarm; Price 12,000 gp; Weight 2 lb.

EVERFULL SAILS

Sails crafted of a sky-blue canvas with strange silver flecking, these magical sails are always filled with a strong wind when fully unfurled. The wind created behind the sails is sufficient to drive the ship forward at its full normal speed, and the sails ignore any other winds that might be blowing contrary to that generated by the sails themselves. The winds stop when the sails are furled or otherwise pulled down. A ship requires one set of everfull sails per mast, or the magic does not function (although the sails work as normal sails). Moderate evocation [air]; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, gust of wind; Price 12,000 gp; Weight 500 lb.

FIGURINE OF WONDROUS POWER

PEARLSTEEL TURTLE

This miniature statuette of a sea turtle is about the size of a human hand. Tossing down the figurine and uttering the command word causes it to transform into a giant sea turtle. The creature obeys and serves its owner; it understands Common but does not speak. The giant sea turtle described here is a Huge version of a common sea turtle and is not aggressive. It serves only as a transport and does not obey orders to attack, although it will defend itself if threatened. ☛ Giant Turtle: CR 3; Huge magical beast (aquatic); HD 8d10+32, hp 87; Init +0; Speed 20 ft., swim 30 ft.; AC 25, touch 8, flat-footed 25; Base Atk +8; Grp +23; Atk or Full Atk +13 melee (1d8+3, bite)*; Space/Reach 15 ft./10 ft. (bite 10 ft.); SQ darkvision 60 ft., hold breath, low-light vision; AL N; SV Fort +10, Ref +6, Will +6; Str 25, Dex 10, Con 19, Int 6, Wis 14, Cha 6. * A giant turtle's bite is treated as a secondary attack and adds only half the creature's Strength bonus to the damage roll.

Skills and Feats: Listen +10, Spot +9, Swim +12; Alertness, Iron Will.

Languages: Common (does not speak).

Hold Breath (ex): A giant turtle can hold its breath for 1 hour before it risks drowning.

Skills: A giant turtle has a +8 racial bonus on any Swim check to perform some special action or avoid a hazard. It can always choose to take 10 on a Swim check, even if distracted or endangered.

It can use the run action while swimming, provided it swims in a straight line.

This creature can be harnessed to pull a boat or raft at up to one-half its swim speed.

It is possible to ride on the turtle's shell, but doing so requires a harness or rope or improvising handholds.

Hanging onto the slick shell while the animal moves is extremely difficult, requiring a DC 20 Ride check each minute of travel.

The pearlsteel turtle can be used up to three times per week for up to 6 hours at a time.

Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects; Price 10,000 gp; Weight 5 lb.

FINNED GAUNTLETS

These sharkskin gauntlets are adorned with sweeping fins. The wearer gains a natural swim speed of 30 feet, with a +8 competence bonus on Swim checks to perform some special action or avoid a hazard.

The wearer can always take 10 on a Swim check, even if distracted or endangered, and can use the run action while swimming.

Both gloves must be worn for the magic to be effective. Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, alter self; Price 10,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

LIVING FIGUREHEADS

Each of the several kinds of living figureheads is carved from fine wood and resembles an ordinary figurehead.

When a command word is spoken, the figurehead animates and is able to use special powers as described below.

The living figurehead obeys and serves the ship's master (usually the captain).

Unless stated otherwise, it can speak Common and communicate telepathically with its master, provided it is within 100 feet.

If a living figurehead is broken or destroyed in its carving form, it is forever ruined.

If destroyed while animated, it simply reverts to a wooden carving that can be used again at a later time.

An animated living figurehead is a construct of the same size as the object (see Animated Object on page 13 of the Monster Manual), but it has the Intelligence, Wisdom, and Charisma scores given in its entry.

Special abilities whose save DCs depend on Constitution use the animated figurehead's Charisma score instead.

DRAGON HEAD

This Large dragon's head and neck are carved from cedar or spruce and painted as a chromatic or metallic dragon, with gaping mouth and fierce eyes.

When animated, this living figurehead gains a breath weapon appropriate to the kind of dragon.

It also confers on its ship immunity to a type of energy damage according to the kind of dragon.

➤ Dragon Head: As Large animated object, with the following changes:

Speed 0 ft.; Atk or Full Atk +5 melee (1d8+4, bite);

Space/Reach 10 ft./5 ft.; SA breath weapon; SQ hardness 5, immunity to energy, telepathy; AL N; SV Will HD/3 + Wis modifier; Int, Wis, Cha as dragon type.

Languages: Common and Draconic.

Breath Weapon (su): As dragon type; see below.

The breath weapon can be used once every 1d4 rounds.

The save DC is Charisma-based.

Dragon Variety	Breath Weapon	Damage	Save DC
Black	80-foot line of acid	10d4	13
Blue	40-foot cone of lightning	10d8	14
Green	40-foot cone of corrosive (acid) gas	10d6	14
Red	40-foot cone of fire	10d10	14
White	40-foot cone of cold	10d4	12
Brass	80-foot line of fire	10d6	14
Bronze	80-foot line of lightning	10d6	16
Copper	80-foot line of acid	10d4	15
Gold	40-foot cone of fire	10d10	16
Silver	40-foot cone of cold	10d8	16

Immunity to Energy (ex): The ship gains immunity to a specific type of energy according to dragon type; see the following table.

Dragon Variety	Immunity
Black	Acid
Blue	Electricity
Green	Acid
Red	Fire
White	Cold
Brass	Fire
Bronze	Electricity
Copper	Acid
Gold	Fire
Silver	Cold

The animated dragon head has the mental statistics of a young adult dragon of its kind (see pages 68–88 of the Monster Manual).

The item can be used once per week for up to 10 minutes at a time.

Strong transmutation; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects, protection from energy, and one of the following: acid fog or water to acid (acid), cone of cold (cold), lightning bolt (electricity), fireball or scorching ray (fire); Price 40,000 gp (black or white), 44,000 gp (green, brass, or copper), 49,000 gp (blue or bronze), gp (red or silver), or 56,000 gp (gold); Weight 500 lb.

EBONY PORPOISE

This living figurehead is carved from ebony, waxed and polished to a high gloss.

When animated, this living figurehead grants its ship swift movement through the water, doubling its ordinary speed.

Alternatively, the ebony porpoise can move a becalmed sailing ship as though it were propelled by a strong wind.

The ebony porpoise also allows its ship to clear aquatic hazards, such as reefs, shipwreck debris, and the like, by making long leaps.

The ship is briefly airborne, its keel clearing the water by up to 10 feet, for up to 15 rounds per day.

The duration of these leaps need not be consecutive rounds.

The animated figurehead is treated as a Large animated object.

Its increased speed ability can be used three times per week for up to 6 hours at a time.

Strong transmutation; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, levitate, quicksim; Price 100,000 gp; Weight 400 lb.

GOLDEN SHEDU

This living figurehead is carved into a likeness of the forequarters of a shedu, a creature with the head of a bearded man and the body of a winged bull (see page 153 of Fiend Folio for more on this being).

It is crafted of mahogany and overlaid with gold leaf.

When animated, this living figurehead grants its ship a fly speed of 60 feet with poor maneuverability.

In addition, the golden shedu allows its ship and crew to shift briefly from the Material Plane to the Ethereal Plane as the etherealness spell.

The animated figurehead has a Charisma score of 16 but is otherwise treated as a Large animated object.

Its flight ability can be used twice per week for up to 1 hour at a time.

It can transport the ship to the Ethereal Plane for up to 10 minutes each week; the duration of the etherealness effect need not be consecutive periods.

Strong transmutation; CL 17th; Craft Wondrous Item, etherealness, fly; Price 100,000 gp; Weight 350 lb.

PURPLEHEART KRAKEN

This living figurehead is a (much) smaller-than-life rendition of a kraken.

It carved from the wood of the amaranth tree, which has a rich purple-brown color, and has tourmaline gems inlaid for its eyes.

When animated, the tentacles of the purpleheart kraken reach out to grab opponents or to hold fast an enemy ship.

In addition, the figurehead can produce a control winds effect as a 15th-level caster.

The item can be used once per week for up to 10 minutes at a time.

The animated figurehead is treated as a Large animated object, except that instead of a single slam attack, it has 8 slams that each deal 1d8+3 points of damage.

It also has the improved grab ability, allowing it to attempt to start a grapple as a free action without provoking attacks of opportunity.

It can constrict, dealing automatic slam damage against a held creature or object.

The tentacles can grab creatures of up to Large size and can hold multiple Small or smaller creatures.

The tentacles have a reach of 30 feet.

While animated, the master's ship gains a +8 bonus on any Profession (sailor) checks made to start a ship-to-ship grapple.

Strong transmutation; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects, control winds, entangle; Price 45,000 gp; Weight 500 lb.

MAGNIFICENT CAPTAIN'S COAT

This heavy woolen coat prevents the wearer from becoming wet in rain and sea spray.

The wearer also gains the benefit of an endure elements spell against cold (but not hot) extremes of weather.

Additionally, the effects from powerful winds (see page 95 of the Dungeon Master's Guide) are reduced by one step on the wearer.

Thus, when the wearer of this coat is standing in windstorm-speed winds, she receives only the penalties associated with severe winds; if the wearer is standing in a strong wind, she receives only moderate wind penalties.

Finally, this coat grants its wearer a +5 competence bonus on both Profession (sailor) and Balance checks.

Treat the coat as a shirt or vestment for determining whether it can be worn with other magic items.

Moderate abjuration, transmutation [air]; CL 5th; Feat, control winds, endure elements, other requirements; Price 11,000 gp; Weight 4 lb.

OARS OF SPEED

Carved of lightweight yet durable wood, this pair of oars can be fitted on a rowboat or used to paddle a canoe or other small watercraft.

They grant an enhancement bonus of +10 feet to the vessel's speed.

This bonus does not improve with the addition of more oars of speed.

Boats requiring more than two oars can benefit from oars of speed, but all the vessel's oars must be oars of speed to gain the speed bonus.

Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, quicksim, creator must have 5 ranks in the Craft (boatbuilding) skill; Price 2,500 gp per pair; Weight 15 lb. each.

PLANAR HELM

This ship's wheel, crafted of silver and ebony, is made to be mounted at a ship's helm.

Once this has been done, the planar helm operates just as any other ship's wheel.

Additionally, twice per day anyone who knows the proper phrase can use the helm to produce a planar navigation effect on the ship.

Strong conjuration; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Items, planar navigation; Price 65,520 gp; Weight 25 lb.

SAILS OF DISPLACEMENT, MINOR

Sails of displacement are crafted of a misty gray-blue canvas-like material, the edges of which seem to be slightly blurred in the sea breeze.

This grants a 20% miss chance to ship-to-ship attacks against the ship fitted with them, functioning continually. Moderate illusion; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, displacement; Price 120,000 gp; Weight 500 lb.

SEA-STEED'S BRIDLE

Crafted of leather with silver bits shaped as shells, this bridle can transform any animal or magical beast trained to accept riders into an aquatic form, as though it were the target of a steed of the seas spell.

Doing so requires the use of a command word to shift into the altered form, and a second use to return to normal form. The item will shrink or enlarge to fit any size creature. Creatures affected by this bridle need not actually be paladin's special mounts.

Moderate transmutation; CL 8th; Craft Wondrous Item, steed of the seas; Price 28,800 gp; Weight 1 lb.

SECURE LINES

This thick, tarred rope comes in 50-foot lengths and weighs twice as much as normal rope.

Its magical enhancement grants it hardness 2 and 5 hp, and it requires a DC 25 Strength check to burst.

Designated creatures moving over lines and rigging fashioned from this rope gain a +5 enhancement bonus on Balance and Climb checks.

In addition, should a crew member fall from the rigging, the lines snake out and grab him in midair, preventing a fall and gently setting the creature to the deck of the ship. The master of a vessel designates crew members for the secure lines, adding or removing individuals as the ship's complement changes.

Adding or removing a crew member requires a command word.

Moderate conjuration and transmutation; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate rope, fabricate; Price 10,800 gp; Weight 20 lb.

SOVEREIGN SEALANT

This thick, colorless spread makes ships and watertight containers less susceptible to damage and leaks.

One drum of sovereign sealant is sufficient to treat a boat or container of Huge size, or two hull sections of a larger craft. A treated wooden item gains +2 hardness and is completely waterproof.

A ship treated with sovereign sealant can lose one more hull section than normal before sinking.

Moderate conjuration; CL 8th; Craft Wondrous Item, minor creation; Price 8,000 gp per drum; Weight 60 lb.

STORMRIDER CLOAK

A cloak crafted of water-resistant storm-gray wool and accented with gold lightning-pattern embroidery, the stormrider cloak allows the user to use a fly effect three times per day, for up to 5 minutes each time.

Additionally, the user gains resistance to electricity 10. Moderate abjuration and transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, fly, resist energy; Price 30,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

WATER WHEELS

This set of four wooden wheels fits most wheeled vehicles, allowing one so equipped to float in water, regardless of its size or composition (although a vehicle with large openings will quickly become waterlogged).

A vehicle so equipped has no independent mode of propulsion once afloat but must be rowed or fitted with sails unless it has magical propulsion or dray creatures capable of swimming.

Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, wave blessing; Price 10,000 gp; Weight 20 lb. each.

WIND PIPE

A device built for pumping air into submerged or otherwise enclosed spaces, this is a 2-foot-long brass tube, threaded so that additional lengths of ordinary tubing can be attached.

The wind pipe has a diameter of 3 inches.

When activated, a flow of air equivalent to a moderate wind blows through the pipe.

The intake end must be surrounded by air for the magic to work.

Even if the space the air moves into has no outlet, the wind pipe provides circulation of the air magically.

Moderate evocation; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, favorable wind; Price 7,000 gp; Weight 10 lb.

STRONGHOLD BUILDER'S GUIDEBOOK (3.0)

WALL AUGMENTATIONS

You can augment walls by adding these effects to them.

Unlike the wall materials above, they don't support weight by themselves.

You can't build a castle of "magically treated", for example. It must be magically treated something.

Some augmentations only affect exterior or freestanding walls.

In this case, even though you pay for an entire stronghold space to be augmented, the augmentation does not affect any interior walls.

Unless otherwise stated, any wall's augmentation also applies to any doors, windows, or other accessways through that wall.

You can leave such items out of its effects, though their area still counts toward the limit of the augmentation's effect.

In other words, you can't increase the augmentation's effective area by leaving out doors or windows.

Unless specified otherwise, you can apply more than one augmentation to your walls.

For augmentations that only affect a single side of the wall, you can augment both sides by purchasing the augmentation twice.

As magic items, augmented walls gain a saving throw against any spells that could affect them, with the save bonus equaling 2 + half the caster level of the magic reinforcing the wall.

In the case of a wall with multiple augmentations, use the highest caster level to determine the save bonus.

Disabling Wall Augmentations

Remember that augmentations are essentially magic items, and magic exists through which their effects can be temporarily suppressed (such as dispel magic) or permanently disjoined (such as Mordenkainen's disjunction). Treat each stronghold space of augmented wall (or each 800 square feet, for freestanding walls) as a separate magic item for this purpose.

As stationary magic items (see Wondrous Architecture, below), wall augmentations can be discovered by a rogue (or other character capable of finding traps) and deactivated with a Disable Device check.

The DC for both Search and Disable Device checks is equal to 25 + the spell level of the highest-level spell used in the creation of the wall augmentation.

If a wall has multiple augmentations, each one must be discovered and disabled separately.

A successful Disable Device check against a wall augmentation suppresses the magic properties (just as if you had successfully cast dispel magic against the item) of a 5-foot-by-5-foot section of the wall for 1d4 rounds.

If you beat the DC by 10 or more, you suppress the magic properties for 1d4 minutes instead.

AIRTIGHT

Assuming it can hold air and be sealed, the stronghold space becomes airtight.

This means that it is impervious to gasses that originated outside of the space.

In addition, it prevents water from getting into the room except through an open window or door (although this renders the space no longer airtight).

This does not protect against the pressure of submerging underwater (see the submersible mobility function, below). This augmentation is usually necessary for strongholds that sail beneath the surface of water or beyond the limits of the atmosphere.

In that case, you need only apply this augmentation to any stronghold spaces that make up the stronghold's exterior (though it may be wise to apply it to all spaces in case of a breach).

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, water walk; Market Price: 7,500 gp.

ASTRAL

The stronghold can shift into the Astral Plane and back again.

Without locomotion (see Table 2–12: Stronghold Locomotion), it cannot move once in the Astral Plane (though its occupants may exit and move about the plane).

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, plane shift; Market Price: 15,000 gp.

BLADED

When creating this augmentation, choose one face of the wall.

Whirling blades cover the chosen side of the wall.

Any creature touching the bladed wall suffers 1d6 points of damage per round (Reflex save DC 19 halves).

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, blade barrier; Market Price: 33,000 gp.

BURROWING

This mobility function allows the stronghold to pass through earth and rock much like an earth elemental or phasing creature.

The entire stronghold and every stronghold space must have this mobility function to allow movement through the normally solid substance.

Unless it has immunity to fire, the stronghold cannot pass through magma or lava, and so it is limited to about fifty miles in depth and must avoid volcanic rifts.

Without locomotion (see Table 2–12: Stronghold Locomotion), this mobility function has no effect.

Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, phase door; Market Price: 10,000 gp.

CHAOTIC GUARDING

When creating this augmentation, choose one face of the wall.

Any chaotic character on the chosen side of the wall (or standing atop the wall) gains a +4 deflection bonus to AC and a +4 resistance bonus on saves.

They also gain spell resistance 25 against lawful spells and spells cast by lawful creatures.

Furthermore, they are protected from possession and mental influence as per protection from law.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cloak of chaos; Market Price: 50,000 gp.

CRAWLING

Strongholds that creep across the ground, sliding along rock and paving through forests, use this mobility function.

A crawling stronghold can also move along a seafloor or continental shelf as long as the depth does not exceed 50 feet; in this case, making it airtight may be necessary to ensure the survival of its occupants.

This cost notes the price of securing the stronghold components and reinforcing them.

Without locomotion (see Table 2–12: Stronghold Locomotion), this mobility function has no effect.

The speed of a crawling stronghold is subject to the modifiers for terrain.

See Table 9–5 in Chapter 9 of the Player's Handbook.

Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, augment object; Market Price: 1,000 gp.

ELEMENTAL PROTECTION

This magic augmentation causes the wall to absorb the first 60 points of damage from a specific energy type (acid, cold, electricity, fire, or sonic) per day.

If all 60 points of protection are expended, they return 24 hours later, if the wall is still there.

The improved version of this augmentation absorbs the first 120 points of damage from a specific energy type (acid, cold, electricity, fire, or sonic) per day.

Caster Level: 5th (elemental protection), 10th (improved elemental protection); Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, protection from elements; Market Price: 7,500 gp (elemental protection), 15,000 gp (improved elemental protection).

ETHEREAL

The stronghold can shift into the Ethereal Plane and back again.

Without locomotion (see Table 2–12: Stronghold Locomotion), it cannot move once in the Ethereal Plane (though its occupants may exit and move about the plane). Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, etherealness; Market Price: 7,500 gp.

ETHEREAL SOLID

The Ethereal Plane is mostly an insubstantial mirror of the Material Plane, but some solids exist there that have no reality on the Material Plane.

If a sufficiently large ethereal solid coexists with the part of the plane where your stronghold stands, ethereal intruders can't sneak inside (any more than they could pass through a huge rock on the Material Plane).

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, ethereal jaunt; Market Price: 12,000 gp.

FIERY

A blazing curtain of magic fire covers one side of the wall, emanating heat in that direction.

This augmentation deals damage to those nearby or touching it as a wall of fire.

Any 5-foot-by-5-foot section of wall that takes 20 or more points of cold damage in 1 round is extinguished for 24 hours (do not divide cold damage by 4, as normal for objects).

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wall of fire; Market Price: 14,000 gp.

FLYING

This function allows the stronghold to float adrift in the air, immune to the call of gravity.

Without locomotion (see Table 2–12: Stronghold Locomotion), the stronghold floats and does not truly fly—in this case, the designer must, during construction, choose a fixed height from 10 feet to ten miles in altitude.

If this mobility function is dispelled or destroyed somehow, the fortress slowly drops down to whatever surface lies below (as if under the effect of feather fall).

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, reverse gravity; Market Price: 15,000 gp.

FOG VEIL

When creating this augmentation, choose one face of the wall.

A 10-foot-thick cloud of mist extends out from this side of the wall.

The fog obscures all sight, including darkvision, beyond 5 feet.

A creature within 5 feet gets one-half concealment (20% miss chance for attacks).

Creatures farther away have full concealment (50% miss chance, and sight can't be used to locate the target).

The fog veil disperses in a moderate wind (11+ mph) in 4 rounds.

A strong wind (21+ mph) has the same effect in a single round.

Once the winds die down, however, the fog returns within 1d4 rounds.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fog cloud; Market Price: 3,000 gp.

FOG VEIL, KILLING

This augmentation works like fog veil, except that the fog is sickly green and poisonous.

Any living creature in the killing fog veil with 3 or less HD dies instantly (no save).

Creatures of 4–6 HD must make Fortitude saves (DC 17) or die.

Those that survive (including all creatures above 6 HD) take 1d10 points of poison damage each round, whether they breathe or not.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cloudkill; Market Price: 22,500 gp.

FOG VEIL, SOLID

This augmentation works like fog veil, but the thick fog reduces movement through it to 10% of normal.

Also, all melee attack and melee damage rolls suffer a –2 penalty.

Except for magic rays and the like, ranged attacks are not permitted through the solid fog veil.

A creature falling or leaping into the solid fog veil takes 1d6 less falling damage for each 10 feet of the fog he passes through before hitting the ground.

Only a severe wind (31+ mph) can disperse this fog, and it does so in 1 round.

Once the winds die down, however, the fog returns within 1d4 rounds.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, solid fog; Market Price: 14,000 gp.

FOG VEIL, STINKING

This augmentation works like fog veil, except that any living creature in the stinking fog veil must make a Fortitude save (DC 14) every round or be overcome by nausea, unable to attack, cast spells, concentrate on spells, and so on.

A nauseated creature may only make a single move each turn.

This effect lasts 1d4+1 rounds after the subject leaves the affected area.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, stinking cloud; Market Price: 7,500 gp.

FROSTWALL

A wall with this augmentation appears normal, though it is cold to the touch.

If the wall is shattered or broken, anyone passing through the plane where the wall existed suffers damage as if it were a wall of ice (1d6+7 points of cold damage).

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wall of ice; Market Price: 7,000 gp.

HOLY GUARDING

When creating this augmentation, choose one face of the wall.

Any good character on the chosen side of the wall (or standing atop the wall) gains a +4 deflection bonus to AC and a +4 resistance bonus on saves.

They also gain spell resistance 25 against evil spells and spells cast by evil creatures.

Furthermore, they are protected from possession and mental influence as per protection from evil.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, holy aura; Market Price: 50,000 gp.

INCENDIARY VEIL

This augmentation works like fog veil, except that a 10-foot-thick cloud of burning smoke extends out from the chosen side.

Any creature in the smoke takes 4d6 points of fire damage every round.

(Reflex save DC 22 halves).

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, incendiary cloud; Market Price: 60,000 gp.

INNER PLANE–LINKED

The stronghold can shift to a specific location in one of the Inner Planes, determined at the time of the stronghold's construction, and back again.

Without locomotion (see Table 2–12: Stronghold Locomotion), it cannot move once in the Inner Plane (though its occupants may exit and move about the plane).

In addition, this provides the stronghold with protection against any dangers posed by conditions within the plane, though this doesn't extend to other, similar effects.

For instance, while a stronghold linked to the Elemental Plane of Fire won't suffer any damage from that plane's conditions, it would suffer normal damage from a fireball or any other source of flame.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, gate; Market Price: 15,000 gp.

LAWFUL GUARDING

When creating this augmentation, choose one face of the wall.

Any lawful character on the chosen side of the wall (or standing atop the wall) gains a +4 deflection bonus to AC and a +4 resistance bonus on saves.

They also gain spell resistance 25 against chaotic spells and spells cast by chaotic creatures.

Furthermore, they are protected from possession and mental influence as per protection from chaos.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shield of law; Market Price: 50,000 gp.

MAGIC WARDING

When creating this augmentation, choose one face of the wall.

Anyone within 5 feet of the chosen side of the wall (including those standing atop the wall) gains spell resistance 21 (or spell resistance 32 for improved magic warding) or against any spells cast from the other side of the wall.

If the caster's line of sight to a target does not pass through the plane of the wall, the spell is unaffected.

Caster Level: 9th (magic warding), 20th (improved magic warding); Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, spell resistance; Market Price: 22,500 gp (magic warding), 50,000 gp (improved magic warding).

MAGICALLY TREATED

This augmentation adds +20 to the Break DC of the wall's material and doubles its hardness and hit points (or increases the hit points to 50, whichever is greater).

This augmentation is identical to the "magically treated wall" described in Chapter 4 of the DUNGEON MASTER'S Guide.

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, augment object; Market Price: 12,000 gp.

OUTER PLANE–LINKED

The stronghold can shift to a specific location in one of the Outer Planes, determined at the time of the stronghold's construction, and back again.

Without locomotion (see Table 2–12: Stronghold Locomotion), it cannot move once in the Outer Plane (though its occupants may exit and move about the plane).

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, gate; Market Price: 15,000 gp.

PLANE–SHIFTING

The stronghold can shift from one plane to another as per the plane shift spell.

As noted under the spell description, exact location within the target plane is impossible, and the stronghold appears 5–50 (5d%) miles from its intended destination.

Without locomotion (see Table 2–12: Stronghold Locomotion), it cannot move once on the new plane (though its occupants may exit and move into the plane).

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, plane shift; Market Price: 25,000 gp.

PRISMATIC SCREEN

When creating this augmentation, choose one face of the wall.

A prismatic wall covers the chosen side.

It can be destroyed by the same laborious process as a prismatic wall; however, note that any layer destroyed automatically reforms 24 hours later.

The creator of the prismatic screen is immune to its effects.

When creating this augmentation, the creator can add up to 1 additional person per caster level to the list of those who are immune to its effects.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, prismatic wall; Market Price: 60,000 gp.

SAILING

The stronghold floats as if naturally buoyant, and no natural force can bring the castle beneath the sea's surface.

Without locomotion (see Table 2–12: Stronghold Locomotion), the stronghold simply floats and does not actually sail under its own power (though currents will move it about).

If this mobility function is dispelled or destroyed somehow, the fortress slowly sinks to the bottom of whatever body of water it sails upon.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, water walk; Market Price: 3,000 gp.

SHADOW-SHIFTING

By infusing the walls with umbral ichor (found in pools on the Plane of Shadow), you can create a stronghold that shifts between the Material Plane and the Plane of Shadow. The price below assumes a single dose of umbral ichor and allows the stronghold to exist on the Plane of Shadow for 1 hour (set at the time of construction) each day.

For example, if you mix 12 doses of umbral ichor into the mortar of your stronghold, it can remain on the Plane of Shadow for 12 hours and the Material Plane for 12 hours each day.

Which hours are spent on the Plane of Shadow is set during construction, but night on the Material Plane is common.

Every space in your stronghold must have umbral ichor for it to be effective.

Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shadow walk; Market Price: 5,000 gp.

SLICK

Add +10 to the DC of any Climb check made to scale the chosen side of the wall.

When creating this augmentation, you may choose for it to affect only one side of a wall.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, grease; Market Price: 1,500 gp.

SPIDERWALK

Anyone scaling this wall can climb as if under the effect of a spider climb spell (though you need not have bare hands and feet to use it).

When creating this augmentation, you may choose for it to affect only one side of a wall.

For instance, you might place it on the inner side of a freestanding wall to obviate the need for stairwells or ladders to reach the top of a defensive placement.

Some builders place many arrow slits backed with small platforms all along the inside of such a wall to maximize its utility.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, spider climb; Market Price: 1,500 gp.

SUBMERSING

The stronghold can withstand the pressures of the deep sea, able to travel to depths as great as twenty miles below the sea.

If the inhabitants need to breathe air, the stronghold must have the airtight augmentation.

Without locomotion (see Table 2–12: Stronghold Locomotion), the stronghold sits on the seafloor and does not move.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, water walk, augment object; Market Price: 7,500 gp.

TANGLEWOOD

This augmentation can only be added to walls of wood or living wood.

The wall animates and entangles (as the entangle spell) anyone approaching within 5 feet of the outside of a tanglewood wall.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, entangle; Market Price: 2,500 gp.

TELEPORTING

The stronghold can teleport without error as a whole once or more per day.

In a single round, it disappears from one location and appears in another.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, teleport without error; Market Price: 50,000 gp.

THORNWOOD

This augmentation can only be added to walls of wood or living wood.

Creatures who attempt to climb or are forced into thornwood suffer damage as if it were a wall of thorns.

This augmentation does not allow creatures to force their way through the wall (unlike wall of thorns).

Magical fire burns away the thornwood augmentation, though it naturally grows back in 24 hours.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wall of thorns; Market Price: 15,000 gp.

TRANSPARENT

This augmentation makes the wall transparent (though not actually invisible).

Viewers on either side of the wall can see through it as if it were a window.

This does not affect any other properties of the wall, nor does it affect anything hanging from the wall or painted, drawn, or scribed onto it.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, invisibility; Market Price: 3,000 gp.

UNHOLY GUARDING

When creating this augmentation, choose one face of the wall.

Any evil character on the chosen side of the wall (or standing atop the wall) gains a +4 deflection bonus to AC and a +4 resistance bonus on saves.

They also gain spell resistance 25 against good spells and spells cast by good creatures.

Furthermore, they are protected from possession and mental influence as per protection from good.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, unholy aura; Market Price: 50,000 gp.

WEBBED

When creating this augmentation, choose one face of the wall.

A 10-foot-thick web (as the spell) extends out from the chosen side.

Any damaged or burned section of webs automatically reforms 24 hours later.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, web;
Market Price: 3,000 gp.

WINDGUARD

When creating this augmentation, choose one face of the wall.

A wind wall protects that side of the wall.

When creating the augmentation, you can choose to include the first 10 feet above a wall of stronghold space in the augmentation (for instance, to protect your wall-mounted guards from arrows).

Remember that the windguard works against objects going in either direction.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wind wall; Market Price: 3,000 gp.

WOODBANE

When creating this augmentation, choose one face of the wall.

No wooden objects can come within 10 feet of the chosen side of the wall.

Fixed wooden objects with a circumference greater than 3 inches—such as most trees—are unaffected.

When creating the augmentation, you can choose to include the first 10 feet above a wall of stronghold space in the augmentation (for instance, to protect your wall-mounted guards from arrows).

You cannot apply this augmentation to walls of wood or living wood.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, repulsion; Market Price: 33,000 gp.

WONDROUS ARCHITECTURE

Chapter 3: Strongholds in the Campaign discusses how best to use existing magic items—as described in the DUNGEON MASTER's Guide—in a stronghold.

In this section, we introduce a number of new magic items of special interest to the builder or owner of a stronghold. Wondrous architecture are essentially immobile (or largely immobile) magic items, and follow all the normal rules for using such items.

Remember that dungeons are a form of stronghold.

Even when you're not building strongholds for characters, you can use the wondrous architecture presented here to spice up your dungeons.

Add some surprises to your next dungeon-crawl adventure. If you want to have a continuing magic effect in use in your stronghold, and it's not something you can find in the Player's Handbook or the DUNGEON MASTER's Guide, then you should build it yourself.

For this, use the rules on creating magic items in Chapter 8 of the DUNGEON MASTER's Guide.

Creating Wondrous Architecture

To create wondrous architecture (stationary or bulky versions of wondrous items), the character needs the proper tools and equipment to work on the item in question, whatever it may be.

She also needs a supply of certain materials.

The first and foremost of these is the item to be enchanted.

Unlike with other magic items, the cost of an architectural item is not subsumed into the cost of creating the item.

Any other materials needed are covered in this basic cost, but the item itself must be purchased or obtained separately.

If the item has a permanent spell effect, the costs are simple to determine.

They depend only on one factor: whether the item in question is removable or an embedded part of the stronghold.

If the item is bulky but technically removable—like a statue, a tapestry, or a rug—the cost to imbue it with a permanent spell effect is  $1,000 \text{ gp} \times \text{the spell level} \times \text{the caster level}$ .

For example, a guardian statue is a normal statue that has had the alarm spell permanently infused into it.

Since alarm is a 1st-level spell and can be cast by a 1st-level caster, the cost for giving the statue this ability is  $(1,000 \times 1 \times 1) = 1,000 \text{ gp}$ .

The cost of the statue is entirely separate.

In this way, the character can give this magic ability to any statue that she likes, no matter how artistic or mundane, and pay the original cost.

If the item is not movable at all—if it's actually a part of the stronghold and would be damaged or destroyed if removed—then the cost is  $500 \text{ gp} \times \text{the spell level} \times \text{the caster level}$ .

For example, an ambassador's chamber is a room in which everyone inside is affected by friendship, as listed under the emotion spell.

Since emotion is a 3rd-level bard spell and can be cast by a 7th-level bard, the cost for giving the room this ability is  $(500 \times 3 \times 7) = 10,500 \text{ gp}$ .

Building the room, of course, is paid for normally.

If the prerequisites for making the item include one or more spells, the creator must have the spells prepared ahead of time or, in the case of a sorcerer or a bard, at least know the spells.

She does not have to provide any material components or focuses the spell requires, nor are any XP costs inherent in any of these spells incurred in the creation of the item.

The act of working on the spell triggers the prepared spells, making them unavailable for casting on any of the days that the creator is working on the item.

Those spell slots are expended from the creator's currently prepared or known spells, just as if they had been cast in the course of an adventure.

Creating some items may involve meeting other prerequisites than simply being able and available to cast the spells in question.

See the individual descriptions of the various magic items for full details.

Crafting wondrous architecture requires one day for each 1,000 gp of the worth of the created item.

Creating the ambassador's chamber described above, for instance, would require eleven days of work on the part of the creator.

Disabling Wondrous Architecture

As a stationary magic item, wondrous architecture is essentially identical to a magic trap (even though some have beneficial rather than harmful effects), such items can be discovered by a rogue (or other character capable of finding traps) and deactivated with a Disable Device skill check.

The DC for both Search and Disable Device checks is equal to 25 + the spell level of the highest-level spell used in the construction of the wondrous architecture.

A successful Disable Device check against an item of wondrous architecture suppresses its magic properties for 1d4 rounds (just as if you had successfully cast dispel magic against the item).

If you beat the check by 10 or more, you suppress its magic properties for 1d4 minutes instead.

AMBASSADOR'S CHAMBER

This stronghold space shifts the attitude of any creature entering to the next most favorable reaction on Table 5–4: Influencing NPC Attitude in the DUNGEON MASTER's Guide, as if affected by an emotion spell of the friendship variety (Will save DC 14 negates).

Creatures involved in combat continue to fight normally. If a wizard creates this chamber, the DC is 16 and the market price is 14,000 gp.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, emotion; Market Price: 10,500 gp.

BED OF REGENERATION

Any subject missing a limb or other extremity can lie in this bed and find his body restored to its original state. If the severed parts are available and touching the subject, this healing takes place in 4 full rounds.

Otherwise, it takes 2d10+3 rounds.

The subject also regains 1d8+13 lost hit points.

If the subject does not want to be healed, he can make a Fortitude save (DC 20) to negate the effect.

Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, regeneration; Market Price: 91,000 gp.

BED OF RESTORATION

This bed works like a lesser bed of restoration, but it instead casts restoration on the user.

If the subject does not want to be affected, he can make a Will save (DC 16) to negate the effect.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, restoration; Market Price: 38,000 gp.

BED OF RESTORATION, LESSER

This bed casts lesser restoration on any person who lies on it for 3 consecutive rounds.

It can function only on a single target at once, so if more than one creature lies on the bed, nothing happens.

If the subject does not want to be healed, he can make a Will save (DC 13) to negate the effect.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, lesser restoration; Market Price: 6,000 gp.

BED OF WELLNESS (REMOVE BLINDNESS/DEAFNESS)

This bed works like a lesser bed of restoration, but it instead casts remove blindness/deafness (one effect per use) on the user.

If the subject does not want to be affected, he can make a Fortitude save (DC 14) to negate the effect.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, remove blindness/deafness; Market Price: 15,000 gp.

BED OF WELLNESS (REMOVE CURSE)

This bed works like a lesser bed of restoration, but it instead casts remove curse on the user.

If the subject does not want to be affected, he can make a Fortitude save (DC 14) to negate the effect.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, remove curse; Market Price: 15,000 gp.

BED OF WELLNESS (REMOVE DISEASE)

This bed works like a lesser bed of restoration, but it instead casts remove disease on the user.

If the subject does not want to be affected, he can make a Fortitude save (DC 14) to negate the effect.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, remove disease; Market Price: 15,000 gp.

BIER OF INQUISITION

This large stone platform casts speak with dead on any corpse lain upon it.

This lasts for 5 minutes, and in this time the corpse can be asked up to two questions, and it answers as best it can.

This does not work on undead.

If the corpse's alignment differs from that of the person asking the question, the corpse gets a Will save (DC 14).

After the effect expires, the bier of inquisition will not work on that same corpse for a full week, nor will a standard speak with dead spell.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, speak with dead; Market Price: 7,500 gp.

BIER OF INQUISITION, GREATER

This works like the standard bier of inquisition, but the effect lasts for up to 15 minutes and the corpse can be asked up to seven questions.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, speak with dead; Market Price: 22,500 gp.

BIER OF LIFE

This large stone platform casts raise dead on any corpse laid upon it, but only if you also place a diamond worth at least 500 gp over the corpse's heart.

The activation of the magic consumes the diamond.

The raise dead spell only works upon corpses less than nine days dead and if the subject's soul is free and willing to return.

A raised subject loses a level when raised—or 1 point of Constitution if she's at 1st level.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, raise dead; Market Price: 22,500 gp.

BIER OF RESURRECTION

This large stone platform casts resurrection on any corpse laid upon it, but only if you also place a diamond worth at least 500 gp over the corpse's heart.

The activation of the magic consumes the diamond.

The resurrection spell only works upon remains less than 90 years dead.

The revived subject is restored to full hit points, vigor, and health. However, he loses a level—or 1 point of Constitution if he's at 1st level.

This effect even works on those killed by a death effect or who have become undead.

It cannot, however, help someone dead of old age.

Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, resurrection; Market Price: 44,500 gp.

BLACK LUMINARY

This large (3-foot-wide) steel half-orb sheds darkness in a 20-foot radius around itself.

The creator of the orb can choose to include a shutter that will block the darkness when closed.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, darkness; Market Price: 6,000 gp.

BLACK LUMINARY, PITCH

This large (4-foot-wide) steel half-orb sheds deeper darkness in a 60-foot radius around itself.

The creator of the orb can choose to include a shutter that will block the darkness when closed.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, deeper darkness; Market Price: 15,000 gp.

BRAZIER OF AURA REVEALING (CHAOS)

This works like a brazier of aura revealing (evil), except that it detects chaos instead and you can be overwhelmed only if you're lawful.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, detect chaos; Market Price: 3,000 gp.

BRAZIER OF AURA REVEALING (EVIL)

When lit, this massive (5-foot-wide) brazier outlines any evil creature within 60 feet in a faint greasy, gray illumination.

If such a creature remains in the area for more than 2 rounds, the strength of its aura (dim, faint, moderate, strong, or overwhelming, as per the detect evil spell in the Player's Handbook) becomes apparent to all who can see the creature.

This item can't reveal creatures who aren't visible (whether by concealment, cover, or sheer invisibility), though anyone within 60 feet of the brazier can sense the presence (and direction) of the evil creature, though not its exact location.

If the evil power is "overwhelming" and twice the character level of a good-aligned viewer, the viewer is stunned for 1 round.

This can actually make having such a brazier around a liability if some truly nasty things invade your stronghold. Of course, if the creature entering is that powerfully evil, anyone who is overwhelmed by its presence probably wouldn't be much good against it anyhow.

It's up to you to gauge the risk-benefit ratio for installing such an item.

See detect evil in the Player's Handbook for details on aura strength and how long an aura lingers.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, detect evil; Market Price: 3,000 gp.

BRAZIER OF AURA REVEALING (GOOD)

This works like a brazier of aura revealing (evil), except that it detects good instead and you can only be overwhelmed if you're evil.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, detect good; Market Price: 3,000 gp.

BRAZIER OF AURA REVEALING (LAW)

This works like a brazier of aura revealing (evil), except that it detects law instead and you can only be overwhelmed if you're chaotic.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, detect law; Market Price: 3,000 gp.

BRAZIER OF AURA REVEALING (MAGIC)

This works like a brazier of aura revealing (evil), except that it detects magic instead (and an overwhelming aura strength has no dangerous effect).

The brazier does not reveal its own magic power.

For particulars about aura strengths and the length than an aura lingers, see the Player's Handbook.

Caster Level: 1st; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, detect magic; Market Price: 1,000 gp.

BRAZIER OF AURA REVEALING (UNDEAD)

This works like a brazier of aura revealing (evil), except that it detects undead instead.

As with such a brazier, those of good alignment can be overwhelmed if they detect extremely powerful undead.

For particulars about aura strengths and the length than an aura lingers, see the Player's Handbook.

Caster Level: 1st; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, detect law; Market Price: 1,000 gp.

BRAZIER OF BRIGHT BURSTS

While lit, this massive brazier (5 feet wide) can cause the fireworks version of pyrotechnics with but a word from its user.

All those who can see the brazier, who are within 120 feet of it, and who fail to make a Will save (DC 13) are blinded by the fireworks blasting out of the brazier.

This effect lasts 1d4+1 rounds.

Those who know that the brazier's power is about to be activated gain a +10 circumstance bonus on their saving throws against this effect.

Many guardhouses keep a brazier of bright bursts nearby, for two key purposes.

First and most obvious, guards can use it to blind intruders, and it works against all of them within range, no matter the number.

This can give the guards valuable, needed time to shut the gates and secure the stronghold.

Second, the fireworks serve as a signal to everyone else in the castle of brewing trouble.

The fireworks make a great deal of noise as well as light.

Anyone within 200 feet of the brazier can hear this easily.

Reduce the distance by 10 feet for each interposing closed door and by 20 feet for each interposing substantial wall.

In quiet conditions, the blasts can be heard 300 feet away.

The fire in the brazier is not itself magical, although the brazier is.

The fire is extinguished by the activation of the brazier. Relighting a brazier of bright bursts requires a full action, assuming there sufficient fuel exist.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, pyrotechnics; Market Price: 6,000 gp.

BRIGHT LUMINARY

This large (4-foot-wide) steel half-orb sheds daylight in a 60-foot radius around itself.

The creator of the orb can choose to include a shutter that will block the light when closed.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, daylight; Market Price: 6,000 gp.

CABINET OF STASIS

This cabinet stands 8 feet tall by 3 feet deep by 4 feet wide. Any creature placed fully within it is immediately placed into a state of suspended animation (no save), slowing its life functions to the point where they essentially halt.

Once inside, the creature feels the passage of one day for every decade that actually passes, although it spends the time in a dreamless sleep.

Creatures inside the cabinet only awaken if pulled from the cabinet by someone outside; it's possible to starve to death.

A cabinet of stasis can be used to keep a prisoner "on ice". Sometimes the creators of heavily trapped strongholds retreat into cabinets of stasis for centuries rather than face some outer calamity.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, temporal stasis; Market Price: 66,000 gp.

CACOPHONOUS CHAMBER

Whenever someone enters this stronghold space, the very walls scream at him at an eardrum-bursting volume.

The creature must make a Fortitude save (DC 16) or be or be deafened for 2d6 rounds and take 2d6 points of damage. A successful save avoids the deafness and halves the damage.

Brittle or crystalline objects or crystalline creatures take 7d6 points of damage.

Crystalline creatures get a Fortitude save (DC 16) to halve this damage, while creatures holding an endangered object can negate the damage with a Reflex save (DC 16).

This effect cannot penetrate magical silence.

The hall of noise is extremely loud and so works effectively as an alarm.

Anyone within 200 feet of the place can hear the noise easily.

Reduce the distance by 10 feet for each interposing closed door and by 20 feet for each interposing substantial wall.

In quiet conditions, the noise can be heard 300 feet away.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shout; Market Price: 14,000 gp.

CHAMBER OF AIRY WATER

Anyone in this stronghold space can breathe water as if it were air.

Those that can breathe water are unaffected.

If a subject doesn't wish to be affected, it can make a Will save (DC 14) to negate the effect.

Just about every underwater stronghold has at least one such chamber in which to entertain surface-dwelling guests.

More ambitious underwater builders use this feature in as much of their stronghold as possible, leaving only the most private areas alone.

Some air-breathing builders even use this feature to create underwater portions of their airy strongholds.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, water breathing; Market Price: 8,500 gp.

CHAMBER OF CLIMBING

Anyone who enters this stronghold space can suddenly traverse walls and ceilings as if a spider climb spell had been cast on her.

This effect only lasts on any particular subject as long as she is actually in the room.

This extra is often added to rooms with trapdoors in the ceiling or secret doors placed high in the wall.

The chamber of climbing isn't obvious, so only the stronghold residents will walk up to the trapdoor.

Intruders probably won't think to try walking up a wall.

A subject can make a Will save (DC 13) to prevent being affected by the spell.

A creature with a Strength score of 23 or better can pull the subject off the wall.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, spider climb; Market Price: 1,500 gp.

CHAMBER OF COMFORT

The temperature in this stronghold space is always a cozy 70°F.

Additionally, the room magically circulates fresh air in and out of the room.

The smoke from a fire lit in the room draws directly into the ceiling and then disappears.

The place is never stuffy, always feeling like a soft breeze is flowing through the place, even if it's airtight.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's tiny hut; Market Price: 7,500 gp.

CHAMBER OF COURAGE

Any creature in this stronghold space gains a +4 morale bonus against fear effects while in the room.

This also lasts for 10 minutes after the subject leaves the room.

If a subject suffering from a fear effect enters the room, she gets a new saving throw with the +4 morale bonus.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, remove fear; Market Price: 1,500 gp.

CHAMBER OF GUIDANCE

Anyone who speaks the proper command word (usually engraved on a wall) while in this chamber receives a +1 competence bonus on a single attack roll, saving throw, or skill check made in the next hour.

Each user can only take advantage of this effect once per day.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, guidance; Market Price: 750 gp.

CHAMBER OF HIDDEN CHARACTER

The alignment of anyone in this stronghold space is undetectable.

Evil characters who do not wish for those around them to know their true alignment often use this feature.

Caster Level: 2nd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, undetectable alignment; Market Price: 3,000 gp.

CHAMBER OF SAFETY

This extra provides anything in this stronghold space damage reduction against ranged weapons, akin to that of a protection from arrows spell.

Anything in the area of effect, including the stronghold space itself, gains DR 10/+1 against ranged weapons.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, protection from arrows; Market Price: 9,000 gp.

CHAMBER OF SAFETY, GREATER

This wondrous architecture is identical to the standard chamber of safety, except that ranged ammunition that misses a target within this stronghold space is reversed in midair.

It then flies back to the original attacker, making a ranged attack with an attack bonus of +0 as if someone standing in the location of the original target had fired it.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, protection from arrows, repel wood; Market Price: 50,000 gp.

CHAMBER OF SEEING

Any invisible creature that enters this stronghold space instantly becomes visible.

Only creatures with no visible form, such as invisible stalkers, remain unseen.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, invisibility purge; Market Price: 7,500 gp.

CHAMBER OF SLOTH

Any creature entering this stronghold space falls under the influence of a slow spell (Will save DC 14 negates).

Since this potential trap affects all creatures within the space, stronghold defenders wishing to best utilize it must equip themselves with ranged weapons that they can use from outside the chamber.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, slow; Market Price: 7,500 gp.

CHAMBER OF SPEED

Any creature entering this room acts as if under the influence of a haste spell.

The main reason for having a room such as this is so that you can get things done more quickly.

Those extra partial actions add up after a while.

Most tasks can be completed in about half the normal time.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, haste; Market Price: 15,000 gp.

CHAMBER OF THE EARTHBOUND

Within the walls of this chamber, the fly spell does not function, nor does the flight function of any magic item that has fly as a prerequisite.

Characters flying before entering the chamber float to the ground as if the spell's duration had expired.

Upon leaving the chamber, any fly spells or effects whose duration has not expired returns to normal efficacy.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, spell immunity; Market Price: 14,000 gp.

CHAMBER OF THE UNLIVING

The entire stronghold space is under the influence of an antilife shell.

Most living creatures cannot enter the space.

The exceptions are constructs, elementals, outsiders, or undead.

No saving throw is allowed to permit other types of creatures to enter the space affected.

The chamber of the unliving is most often found in the stronghold of a necromancer, because the spellcaster's minions can move through the space freely, even if she cannot.

Such places are often also encountered in an extraplanar stronghold, because the outsiders that live there can move about without pause, while most visitors from the Material Plane cannot.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, antilife shell; Market Price: 33,000 gp.

CHAMBER OF WEAK-MINDEDNESS

Anyone who enters this mist-filled stronghold space must make a Will save (DC 17) or fall victim to a mind fog spell.

While the fog doesn't significantly affect vision in the area, those who fall victim to its magical effects suffer a -10 competence penalty on all Wisdom checks and Will saves. This effect lasts while the target is in the chamber, as well as for another 2d6 rounds after she leaves.

Anyone who makes the original Will save once need not make another save against the chamber's effects while she remains in the chamber.

If she leaves and comes back in, though, she must make a new saving throw.

This magic item is best used in conjunction with other effects, such as inscriptions of urgency, or in the sanctum of a bard or enchanter.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, mind fog; Market Price: 22,500 gp.

CLOUDGATHERING ORB

This large (4-foot-wide) crystal orb keeps the weather nasty (thunderstorms in spring, torrential rain in summer, sleet in autumn, and blizzards in winter) around the stronghold for a two-mile radius.

Anyone attempting to magically alter the weather in this area must make an opposed level check against the cloudgathering orb's power to succeed.

See the DUNGEON MASTER's Guide for weather effects.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, control weather; Market Price: 33,000 gp.

CONSECRATED CHAPEL

The entire stronghold space is consecrated, as per the spell. All Charisma checks to turn undead gain a +6 sacred bonus. Undead in the space suffer a –2 sacred penalty on attack and damage rolls and saves.

Undead cannot be created within nor summoned into this space.

The consecrated chapel must contain an altar, shrine, or other permanent fixture dedicated to the creator's chosen deity.

A desecrate spell negates the effect of the consecrated chapel for the duration of the desecrate spell.

After that, the effects of the consecrated chapel return.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fixture dedicated to chosen higher power, consecrate; Market Price: 5,500 gp.

DESECRATED SHRINE

The entire stronghold space is desecrated, as per the spell.

All Charisma checks to turn undead suffer a –6 penalty.

Undead in the space gain a profane +2 bonus on attack and damage rolls and saves.

Undead cannot be created within nor summoned into this space.

Undead summoned or created in this space gain +2 hit points per HD.

The desecrated shrine must contain an altar, shrine, or other permanent fixture dedicated to the creator's chosen higher power.

A consecrate spell negates the effect of the desecrated shrine for the duration of the consecrate spell.

After that, the effects of the desecrated shrine return.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fixture dedicated to chosen higher power, desecrate; Market Price: 3,000 gp.

DISHONEST CHAMBER

Whenever anyone uses a Divination spell to detect an aura within this chamber, the spell instead randomly indicates that some other person or object radiates the aura searched for.

If nothing in the chamber radiates the aura detected for, the chamber has no effect.

If the caster of the Divination spell makes a Will save (DC 13), his spell works normally.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, misdirection; Market Price: 3,000 gp.

ENGRAVED CIRCLE OF PROTECTION (CHAOS)

This addition is identical to an engraved circle of protection (evil), except that it provides protection from chaotic creatures.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, magic circle against chaos; Market Price: 7,500 gp.

ENGRAVED CIRCLE OF PROTECTION (EVIL)

This work is a permanent form of a magic circle against evil. It is engraved into the floor of the stronghold space that encloses it.

It can be any size from 3 feet wide up to a full 20 feet across, taking up most of a stronghold space.

Once engraved, the size cannot be changed.

Anyone within the engraved circle of protection (evil) gains the effects of a protection from evil spell.

Alternatively, the engraved circle of protection can be created to serve as a magical prison for a called creature (as magic circle against evil, except that the effect is permanent).

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, magic circle against evil; Market Price: 7,500 gp.

ENGRAVED CIRCLE OF PROTECTION (GOOD)

This addition is identical to an engraved circle of protection (evil), except that it provides protection from good creatures.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, magic circle against good; Market Price: 7,500 gp.

ENGRAVED CIRCLE OF PROTECTION (LAW)

This work is identical to an engraved circle of protection (evil), except that it provides protection from lawful creatures.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, magic circle against law; Market Price: 7,500 gp.

EVERFUL BASIN

This enchanted basin always has six gallons of water in it, no matter how many times it might be dipped into.

However, if the everful basin is ever emptied completely, such as by tipping it over, it ceases to work forever, the magic spilling away with the last of the water.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, create water; Market Price: 4,500 gp.

EVERFUL LARDER

Whenever opened, this magical larder produces simple, nourishing food for five people.

If removed from the larder and not immediately consumed, the food becomes inedible after 24 hours, although it can be kept fresh for another 24 hours by casting a purify food and water spell on it.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, create food and water; Market Price: 15,000 gp.

FORBIDDING SIGILS

These inscriptions guard a stronghold space from unwanted visitors—extraplanar or otherwise.

A sigil has two effects: First, the area is sealed from extradimensional travel into it, including dimension door, teleport, plane shift, and summoning spells.

Second, creatures with alignments different from the caster's cannot enter the area.

Creatures whose alignments differ in one aspect (lawful evil vs.

chaotic evil, for example), suffer 3d6 points of damage and are hedged out.

Creatures whose alignments differ in two aspects (chaotic good vs.

lawful neutral) suffer 6d6 points of damage.

A successful Will save (DC 19) negates both effects, but if a character fails the save once, future attempts automatically fail.

Dispel magic automatically fails against forbidding sigils unless the dispeller is 11th level or higher.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, forbiddance; Market Price: 12,200 gp.

FRIGHTFUL TAPESTRY

This huge tapestry takes up an entire wall in a stronghold space.

Any creature of less than 6 HD who enters becomes frightened for 5 rounds (Will save DC 13 negates).

A frightened creature flees the stronghold by the shortest possible path.

If unable to flee the subject can still fight, but a frightened creature suffers a –2 morale penalty on attack rolls, damage rolls, and saving throws.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, scare; Market Price: 10,000 gp.

GARDEN OF UNDERSTANDING

Any character that enters this stronghold space can understand and communicate with all plants (including plant creatures) in the space.

This works like a speak with plants spell, although the effect ends as soon as either the character or the plant leaves the space.

While this bit of wondrous architecture is most often created as part of a garden—all the better to find plants in—it can just as easily be worked into any other place in which the owner might wish to communicate with plants. Some stronghold owners have this effect placed upon any space and then place potted plants about the area.

Later, the owner can go back and converse with the plants to see if they have learned or simply overheard anything while she was away.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, speak with plants; Market Price: 7,500 gp.

GHASTLY CHAMBER

Any person entering this space is immediately paralyzed for 1d6+2 rounds (as if affected by a ghoul touch spell), and exudes a nauseating stench that deals a –2 penalty on attack rolls, weapon damage rolls, saving throws, skill checks, and ability checks to all within 10 feet.

This stench (and effect) lasts as long as the person remains paralyzed.

A successful Fortitude save (DC 13) by the person entering negates the paralysis and stench, while the same save negates the nausea.

This effect is best used in conjunction with either a number of guards or some kind of alarm.

Otherwise, the victims may be able to simply suffer through the paralyzation and walk away.

The creator may make the area of effect for this chamber smaller than the standard 400 square feet (as small as a 5-foot-by-5-foot square).

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, ghoul touch; Market Price: 3,000 gp.

GUARDIAN STATUE

This item looks like nothing more than a standard piece of statuary.

However, if someone comes within 5 feet without giving the password, it lets out with an alarming hue and cry.

The creator can make this either a mental alarm or an audible alarm, as per the spell.

When found, this is a mental alarm 25% of the time and an audible alarm 75% of the time.

If the alarm is audible, anyone within 60 feet can hear it clearly.

Each interposing closed door reduces that distance by 10 feet.

Each interposing substantial wall reduces the distance by 20 feet.

In quiet conditions, the alarm can be heard faintly up to 180 feet away.

A silence spell on either the guardian statue or the listener defeats the audible alarm.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, alarm; Market Price: 3,000 gp.

HALL OF BABBLE

Anyone who enters this stronghold space must make a Will save (DC 14) or have any words that she speaks come out as an unintelligible mess.

The creator of this magic item determines the exact nature of the transmuted sounds at the time of creation.

This makes it impossible for anyone in the room to communicate verbally with anyone else.

Additionally, it prevents a spellcaster from casting a spell that requires a verbal component.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, sculpt sound; Market Price: 7,500 gp.

HALL OF CHAOS

An aura of randomly patterned colors surrounds all chaotic characters in this stronghold space.

This grants them a +4 deflection bonus to AC and a +4 resistance bonus on saves.

They also get spell resistance 25 against lawful spells and those cast by lawful creatures.

They are also protected from possession and mental influence as per protection from chaos.

If a lawful creature hits a protected character in melee, the attacker is confused for 1 round, as per the confusion spell.

A Will save (DC 22) negates this.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, cloak of chaos; Market Price: 60,000 gp.

HALL OF DESPAIR

Any creature that enters this stronghold space suffers a –2 morale penalty on saving throws, attack rolls, ability checks, skill checks, and weapon damage rolls as long as he remains within the chamber (as if affected by an emotion spell of the despair variety; Will save DC 14 negates).

If a wizard creates this chamber, the DC is 16 and the market price is 14,000 gp.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, emotion; Market Price: 10,500 gp.

HALL OF FEAR

Any creature that enters this stronghold space must immediately flee from the area (as if affected by an emotion spell of the fear variety; Will save DC 14 negates).

If a wizard creates this chamber, the DC is 16 and the market price is 14,000 gp.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, emotion; Market Price: 10,500 gp.

HALL OF FRIENDSHIP

Any humanoid entering this stronghold space while the owner is also within the space becomes charmed by the stronghold's owner (as if by the charm person spell; Will save DC 22 negates).

This lasts as long as the charmed person remains within the stronghold space.

The hall of friendship's effect can function on a maximum of 30 HD of creatures at any given time.

If more potential targets exist than the room can affect, the owner may select potential targets one at a time until he reaches the limit (any target whose HD would put the total over 30 is not affected).

Many throne rooms or negotiation chambers include this wondrous architecture.

Tread carefully, though, since the effect fades as soon as the target leaves the affected area.

Those who realize that they have been charmed may not be happy about it.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, mass charm; Market Price: 60,000 gp.

HOLE OF HIDING

This addition is effectively a permanent rope trick set into the ceiling of a stronghold space.

Alternatively, if there is no ceiling, it leads up to 30 feet above the space.

The hole of hiding is an extradimensional space with a rope attached to its entry.

You climb up the rope (Climb check, DC 15) to enter the space.

Up to seven people and the rope can fit in the space, or eight people if you let the rope hang out.

Once you pull up the rope, the space is undetectable.

Inside the hole of hiding you can see out into the real world as if you are looking out a 3-foot-by-5-foot window centered on the rope.

Spells cannot cross this window, nor can area effects work across it.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, rope trick; Market Price: 3,000 gp.

HALL OF HOLINESS

A brilliant divine radiance surrounds all good characters in this stronghold space.

This grants them a +4 deflection bonus to AC and a +4 resistance bonus on saves.

They also get spell resistance 25 against evil spells and those cast by evil creatures.

They are also protected from possession and mental influence as per protection from evil.

If an evil creature hits a protected character in melee, the attacker is blinded.

A Fortitude save (DC 22) negates this.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, holy aura; Market Price: 60,000 gp.

HALL OF HOPE

Any creature that enters this stronghold space gains a +2 morale bonus on saving throws, attack rolls, ability checks, skill checks, and weapon damage rolls while in the stronghold space (as if affected by an emotion spell of the hate variety; Will save DC 14 negates, though most creatures aware of the effect voluntarily forego the save).

If a wizard creates this chamber, the DC is 16 and the market price is 14,000 gp.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, emotion; Market Price: 10,500 gp.

HALL OF LAW

A dim blue glow surrounds all lawful characters in this stronghold space.

This grants them a +4 deflection bonus to AC and a +4 resistance bonus on saves.

They also get spell resistance 25 against chaotic spells and those cast by chaotic creatures.

They are also protected from possession and mental influence as per protection from chaos.

If a chaotic creature hits a protected character in melee, the attacker is slowed, as per the slow spell.

A Will save (DC 22) negates this.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shield of law; Market Price: 60,000 gp.

HALL OF SILENCE

All sounds made within this stronghold space are negated (as if by a silence spell).

A Will save (DC 13) allows a character to speak normally (including casting spells with vocal components), though other sounds remain dampened.

This doesn't affect sounds created outside this stronghold space, so you can hear the noise from other rooms normally.

Stronghold builders often use this wondrous architecture in libraries and sometimes even bedchambers.

It can also quiet extremely noisy places in a stronghold—such as a smithy—so that those nearby can hear themselves think.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, silence; Market Price: 3,000 gp.

HALL OF SPEECH

Anyone who enters this stronghold space can understand any spoken words heard, no matter the language.

Similarly, the subject can speak in any language, although he can only use one at a time.

This wondrous architecture can be especially useful when used in conjunction with scrying magic.

Often a character can spy on someone else magically but not be able to understand what is being said.

When the scrying character is in this hall, such a situation is not a problem.

Caster Level: 4th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, tongues;
Market Price: 4,000 gp.

HALL OF STRIFE

Any creature that enters this stronghold space gains a +2 morale bonus to Strength and Constitution scores, and a +1 morale bonus on Will saves, but suffers a -1 penalty to AC and must fight regardless of danger (as if affected by an emotion spell of the rage variety; Will save DC 14 negates, though many creatures aware of the effect voluntarily forego the save).

This effect does not stack with barbarian rage.

If a wizard creates this chamber, the DC is 16 and the market price is 14,000 gp.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, emotion;
Market Price: 10,500 gp.

HALL OF TRUTH

Those who enter this stronghold space are unable to speak deliberate and intentional lies unless they make a Will save (DC 13).

Those affected by the enchantment are aware of it, so they cannot be tricked into saying something they would rather not.

This effect only lasts as long as the subject is in the space. If a subject leaves the space and reenters it later, he must make another saving throw.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, zone of truth; Market Price: 3,000 gp.

HURRICANE'S EYE

This large (5-foot-wide) crystal orb maintains hurricane-force winds (see Chapter 3 of the DUNGEON MASTER'S Guide) around the outside your stronghold at all times. Properly placed within a stronghold, the eye of the hurricane (the safe, calm part) can encompass up to twelve stronghold spaces clustered around the orb.

If your stronghold is larger than this, you can purchase multiple orbs and link them together by overlapping the eyes.

Any section surrounded by eyes on all sides automatically becomes a part of the eye, turning the whole region into one massive, continuous eye, leaving the raging winds entirely outside the affected regions.

Any single hurricane's eye can be calibrated to create an eye in a smaller number of spaces too.

The only caveat is that these spaces must all be clustered tightly together.

The winds circle the eye in a clockwise or counterclockwise fashion, as you prefer.

However, if there are more orbs than one, they must all force the wind to circle in the same direction.

If you join this item with a tornado's eye or a windstorm's eye, they can each only function at the level of the weakest item.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, control winds; Market Price: 75,000 gp.

ILLUSORY LANDSCAPE

The creator designs a permanent illusory terrain capable of changing the terrain around a stronghold.

This can make a foreboding or dangerous land look friendly and peaceful, or vice versa.

Some stronghold owners put an illusory landscape into place before they even break ground.

This helps prevent later visitors from knowing the true nature of the surrounding terrain.

A single illusory landscape covers up to forty-seven contiguous stronghold spaces, and you can overlap multiple illusory landscapes to cover more area.

Note, however, that the spell only affects natural terrain.

Structures, equipment and creatures within the area cannot be hidden by the illusory landscape or have their appearance changed.

An illusory landscape can cover up the existence of a river or a moat.

It could even make a floating stronghold look as though it sits on the ground, or make a regular stronghold look as though it hovers over the open land.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, hallucinatory terrain; Market Price: 14,000 gp.

INSCRIPTIONS OF CONCEALMENT

Every object within this stronghold space (except for the walls, floor, and ceiling) becomes undetectable to any kind of divination spells and even invisible to normal vision.

Living creatures (and any objects they wear or carry) are not affected by this effect.

The spell does not prevent items in the room from being discovered by touch.

Most stronghold builders who include this wondrous architecture use it to disguise the nature and contents of a treasure or trophy room.

A determined effort can get around the effects, but for most purposes, the room seems empty.

Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, sequester; Market Price: 45,500 gp.

INSCRIPTIONS OF FALSEHOOD

Every creature within this stronghold space becomes undetectable to scrying and even normal vision.

When the inscriptions of falsehood are created, the creator specifies what appears to be going on in the room instead. You must state this in general terms, and once you set the conditions, you cannot change them.

Attempts to scry the area automatically see the programmed illusion.

Direct observation can allow a save (Will save DC 22) if there's a reason to disbelieve the image.

Even entering the space doesn't necessarily allow this, as long as the image is well-constructed and any hidden people take pains to avoid detection.

Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, screen;
Market Price: 45,500 gp.

INSCRIPTIONS OF PRIVACY

This wondrous architecture places arcane sigils throughout the walls and ceiling of a room.

They can be as subtle or outlandish as the creator likes.

However, when anyone tries to spy upon anyone in the room by means of clairaudience/clairvoyance, scrying, a crystal ball, or any other method of scrying, the inscriptions glow softly.

If the scrying attempt originates within the stronghold space, the person attempting it begins glowing as well. Anyone scried upon can make an opposed Scry check. If the target of the scrying attempt wins the roll, she immediately gets a mental image of the scrier, along with a sense of the direction and distance of the scrier, accurate to within 10%.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, detect scrying; Market Price: 14,000 gp.

INSCRIPTIONS OF URGENCY

Any creature who enters this stronghold space immediately becomes the subject of a suggestion spell (Will save DC 19 negates).

The suggested action must be chosen when the inscriptions are created, and cannot be changed afterward.

The suggestion cannot be more than one or two sentences long, and it must seem reasonable in nature (as the spell). The suggestion lasts up to 11 hours after the target leaves the room or until the suggested course of action is completed. Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, mass suggestion; Market Price: 35,000 gp.

INSCRIPTIONS OF VACANCY

Everyone within this stronghold space becomes undetectable to scrying.

In fact, to them it appears as if the room is entirely empty of people and devoid of activity, no matter how many people are in it or what they are doing.

These inscriptions are often used on areas that need to remain secure, such as throne rooms or war counsel rooms. No decent kingdom is without at least one such room in its leader's stronghold.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, false vision; Market Price: 22,500 gp.

INVISIBLE HELPER

This permanent unseen servant is anchored to a single stronghold space and cannot leave that space.

If it takes enough damage to be destroyed (6 hit points), it disappears forever.

Many stronghold owners use one or more invisible helpers to supplement their more traditional servants.

They never tire and can work endlessly, but due to their lack of smarts, they are a poor substitute for the real thing when it comes to complex tasks or real responsibility.

In general, an invisible helper can replace any servant whose role is typically filled by a commoner (as opposed to an expert or other class).

Anyone in the space can command the invisible helper.

If the helper receives conflicting commands, the helper obeys the owner of the stronghold; otherwise, would-be controllers can make opposed Wisdom checks to see who wins command.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, unseen servant; Market Price: 1,500 gp.

JESTER'S THEATER

Upon entering this stronghold space, a subject must make a Will save (DC 13) or fall into a fit of uncontrollable laughter for 3 rounds.

The subject can take no actions while laughing.

Creatures with Intelligence of 2 or lower are unaffected.

At the end of the duration, or if the save succeeds, the target is immune to the effect as long as she remains within the space.

If she leaves and reenters, she must make the save again.

The name of this space is somewhat misleading, as no honest performer—serious or otherwise—would ever stoop to using magic to get a laugh.

This wondrous architecture is most often used as either a trap (with guards nearby to overhear the laughter) or a form of torture.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Tasha's hideous laughter; Market Price: 3,000 gp.

LEOMUND'S LASTING SHELTER

This stronghold space is essentially a permanent version of Leomund's secure shelter.

The Player's Handbook has a diagram of this spell's effect.

It's usually cheaper to simply build a place instead of creating a Leomund's lasting shelter, but there are times and locations in which it's not so easy to get materials or workers into place.

Some builders have created a quick stronghold by putting up four or five of these shelters and then connecting them together with simple stone or wooden walls.

In addition to the structure, Leomund's lasting shelter comes with a decent security system.

The doors and windows are fitted with arcane locks, and the chimney has an iron grate atop it.

In addition, an unseen servant is there to meet your every need.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's secure shelter; Market Price: 14,000 gp.

LEOMUND'S TEMPERATE HUT

This wondrous architecture is at its heart a permanent version of Leomund's tiny hut.

Despite the name of the original spell, the hemisphere of force it creates is actually large enough to fill nearly four full stronghold spaces (a 20-foot-radius hemisphere).

The temperate hut maintains a nice, steady temperature in all but the most extreme climates.

It provides solid protection from the elements and can withstand up to a hurricane-force wind (75+ mph) before it is blown away.

The dome of the hut is opaque from the outside, but people and creatures can pass through it easily.

Ranged weapons can be fired into the hut as well, but since the shell is opaque from that direction, those inside have total concealment.

Those inside the hut can see out clearly.

In addition, the hut can be illuminated or darkened from within with but a word.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Leomund's tiny hut; Market Price: 7,500 gp.

MAP OF GUIDANCE

When created, this magic item is keyed specifically to a certain stronghold.

As long as it hangs in that stronghold, it depicts the layout of that stronghold.

The map can be as crude or ornate as the creator desires. The map will faithfully depict all areas and elements of the stronghold on the same plane as the map (even additions made after the map is created), though the creator can designate certain areas not to be shown on the map (such as secret vaults).

Whenever the user touches a room on the map, she instantly knows the shortest, most direct route to get from where she is to the location touched on the map.

The creator can also choose for the map of guidance to instill knowledge of how to bypass any traps or dangerous locations (such as passwords or trap bypasses).

The map must be carved into stone, steel, or some other durable substance, and measures at least 4 feet × 3 feet.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, find the path; Market Price: 18,000 gp.

MAP OF TACTICS

This table (at least 5 feet × 5 feet) features a topographical map of the stronghold and the outlying area to a distance of one mile from the stronghold.

When a person touches the map, a glowing icon representing her appears at the appropriate location on the map (Will save DC 16 negates).

The person can then leave the room and wander as she likes.

As long as she stays within the region represented on the map of tactics, the map shows where she is.

If she leaves the area and then returns, the map immediately picks up her presence again.

The map can track up to three people at a time for up to 9 hours each.

The icon gives more than just location data on the tracked subjects.

It also renders their status: unharmed, wounded, dying, disabled, unconscious, stunned, dead, and so on.

Anyone within 5 feet of the map instantly understands how to read these icons properly.

If the maximum number of people are already being tracked, no additional people can be tracked until the time limit one or more of the current subjects expires or unless one of the current subjects returns to the map and touches it again.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, status; Market Price: 18,000 gp.

MAP OF TACTICS, GREATER

This item works like the map of tactics, except that it can track up to six subjects at a time and for up to 18 hours each.

Caster Level: 18th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, status; Market Price: 36,000 gp.

MISSING CHAMBER

This stronghold space—and everyone and everything inside it—is difficult to detect by divination spells, detect spells, and magic items that mimic these effects.

For such a spell or item to work, the caster or item must succeed at a caster level check (1d20 + caster level) against a DC of 16.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, nondetection; Market Price: 7,500 gp.

PANTRY OF PRESERVATION

This stronghold space is enchanted with a permanent version of gentle repose.

This prevents the remains of dead creatures from decaying, making for the ultimate in meat preservation.

No fine kitchen goes without it.

When used to store the bodies of deceased humans and humanoids, such a place is called a morgue of preservation.

While these spaces are sometimes used to keep many bodies in perfect storage, they are just as often used to keep fresh the body of a notable person that is lying in state.

Often these bodies are placed in a glass case to prevent other damage, then put out (usually under heavy guard) where people can visit the place to pay their respects to the dead.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, gentle repose; Market Price: 3,000 gp.

OAKEN GUARDIAN

This magic item is a large oak tree that can transform into a treant (see the Monster Manual).

The creator of an oaken guardian gives it an 11-word trigger phrase that tells the treant what to do and when.

You must create the oaken guardian within 300 feet of something it is meant to protect.

A druid can create multiple oaken guardians if she likes, but they must each be near something that needs protecting.

The oaken guardian returns to its tree-like state when it has accomplished its objective.

If it is killed, it is no more.

However, if it is only damaged, it can heal normally—as a treant would, not a tree—even in its tree-like state.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, liveoak; Market Price: 33,000 gp.

ORB OF PLEASANT BREEZES

This large (4-foot-wide) crystal orb keeps the weather in a two-mile radius around the stronghold mild and pleasant no matter the time of year.

Anyone attempting to magically alter the weather in this area must make an opposed level check against the orb's power to succeed.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, control weather; Market Price: 33,000 gp.

PATH OF WATERY SOLIDITY

This effect covers up to eight contiguous 5-foot-by-5-foot squares on the surface of a liquid.

Any creature that walks on the enchanted area treats the liquid as if it were entirely solid, as per a water walk spell. Creatures that wish to avoid this effect must make a Will save (DC 14).

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, water walk; Market Price: 7,500 gp.

PLATFORM OF JAUNTING

By stepping on this 10-footround platform—which is affixed to the floor—the user is immediately transported to any other locale within 680 feet, as per the spell dimension door.

You always arrive at exactly the right spot, whether you're able to actually visualize the area or simply give relative coordinates by stating a direction and a distance from your current position.

As with dimension door, you can risk the chance of reappearing inside of something solid.

If that happens, you remain stuck in the Astral Plane until you make a Will save (DC 25), which you can try each round.

A successful save allows you to move up to 100 feet into an open spot.

If no open spot exists within that range, you can make a similar Will save (DC 25) once each minute to move up to 1,000 feet to an open area.

If no such space exists, you remain trapped in the Astral Plane unless you can escape in some other manner.

When using the platform of jaunting, you can bring up to 350 pounds of material you touch.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, dimension door; Market Price: 14,000 gp.

PLATFORM OF JAUNTING, GREATER

This fixture is similar to the platform of jaunting, except that it has limitless range on the same plane and you have no chance of becoming stuck on the Astral Plane.

You need only a reliable description of the destination.

If your information proves unreliable, you disappear and then reappear on the platform.

When using the greater platform of jaunting, you can bring up to 850 pounds of material you touch.

Since the greater platform of jaunting provides only one-way transport, some stronghold builders construct a network of devices to allow for round trips.

This works particularly well when you collaborate with other owners so that you can visit each other at will.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, teleport without error; Market Price: 76,500 gp.

PLATFORM OF HEALING

This 10-foot-diameter platform, which must be affixed to the floor when created, casts heal on any living creature that steps onto it.

If an undead creature steps onto the platform, treat it as if a harm spell had been cast upon it instead, removing all but 1d4 hit points from it.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, heal; Market Price: 30,000 gp.

PLATFORM OF LEVITATION

Anyone standing upon this square platform can cause it to levitate up or down at a rate of 20 feet per round.

If more than one person attempts to direct the platform of levitation at once, the winner of an opposed Wisdom check gains control for that round.

In the case of a tie, the platform stays remains in place for 1 round.

When not in use, the platform levitates in place.

The lesser platform of levitation measures 5 feet on a side and can lift up to 250 pounds of material in addition to the platform itself, while the greater platform (10 feet by 10 feet) can lift a full 2000 pounds in addition to itself.

A lesser platform of levitation usually serves used as a magic elevator, bringing beings and light goods from one level of a stronghold to another.

Greater platforms of levitation often serve as freight elevators, used to haul heavy things up and down between levels in a stronghold.

They can even move large weaponry into place at the top of a tower.

Some stronghold owners use the platform of levitation to travel between floors.

When the platform is in place, it serves as both ceiling and floor, sealing the room from unwanted visitors.

Caster Level: 3rd (lesser), 20th (greater); Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, levitate; Market Price: 6,000 gp (lesser), 40,000 (greater).

PLATFORM OF TELEKINESIS

This addition is similar to the platform of levitation, except that the platform can move in any direction at up to 20 feet per round.

Though most commonly used as a versatile elevator, this item functions admirably outside strongholds as well (even as a mobile weapons platform).

Since it doesn't fit well through a standard doorway, you must plan your stronghold layout carefully to make maximum use of the platform.

Caster Level: 9th (lesser), 20th (greater); Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, telekinesis; Market Price: 20,000 gp (lesser), 100,000 gp (greater).

POOL OF SCRYING

This shallow pool forms a reflective surface in which the user can scry on others.

This works like the standard scrying spell.

Spellcasters can cast certain spells through the pool of scrying at creatures or things they are scrying upon, as per the scrying spell.

While the pool can be shallow, it must be at least 2 feet x4 feet.

It can be formed into the top of a large pedestal, but these items are just as often found in a room's floor.

If the water is ever entirely emptied from the pool, the item loses its magic.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, scrying; Market Price: 12,000 gp.

POOL OF SCRYING, GREATER

This magic item works like the standard pool of scrying, with one exception.

You can reliably cast any spells through it that you could use with the greater scrying spell.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, greater scrying; Market Price: 50,000 gp.

PRISMATIC PRISON

A prismatic wall surrounds the entire stronghold space, lining the exterior of the walls, ceiling, and floor.

The effect of the walls face outward, which blinds anyone with fewer than 8 HD coming within 20 feet (Fortitude save DC 22 negates).

Only the prison's creator can pass through harmlessly; anyone else passing through the wall suffers its effects. Most builders who include this item place the space it guards some distance from well-traveled areas of the stronghold.

Caster Level: 15; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, prismatic wall; Market Price: 60,000 gp.

PRISON OF BLADES

A continuously spinning blade barrier lines every inch of this stronghold space's outer walls, ceiling, and floor. Any creature passing into or out of the prison of blades automatically takes 11d6 points of slashing damage.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, blade barrier; Market Price: 33,000 gp.

PRISON OF FIRE

A permanent wall of fire lines every inch of this stronghold space's outer walls, ceiling, and floor.

A prison of fire takes normal damage from cold (not one-quarter as most objects).

If any 5-foot length of the prison of fire takes 20 or more points of cold damage in a single round, the flames go out in that section for 1d4 minutes.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wall of fire; Market Price: 14,000 gp.

PRISON OF ICE

A permanent 7-inch-thick wall of ice lines every inch of this stronghold space's outer walls, ceiling, and floor.

Each 10-foot-square section of the bulwark has 21 hit points, and requires a Strength check (DC 17) to breach with a single attack.

If a section of the prison of ice is breached, it repairs itself in 1d4 minutes.

Fire deals full damage to the prison of ice, instead of the normal half damage for objects.

Suddenly melting a portion of the prison creates a cloud of steamy fog that lasts for 10 minutes, after which the ice reforms instantly.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wall of ice; Market Price: 14,000 gp.

PRISON OF THE MIND

Anyone who enters this stronghold space must make a Will save (DC 17) or fall victim to a feeblemind spell.

Those who cast arcane spells, such as bards, sorcerers, and wizards, suffer a -4 penalty on their saving throws.

Most owners keep such stronghold spaces locked up tight, as the prison of the mind doesn't distinguish between friend or foe.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, feeblemind; Market Price: 22,500 gp.

PRISON OF THORNS

A permanent wall of thorns lines every inch of this stronghold space's outer walls, ceiling, and floor.

Any creature passing through the thorns automatically takes 25 points of damage, minus 1 point for each point of the creature's AC, each round.

Dexterity bonuses to AC and dodge bonuses do not count for this calculation.

Ten minutes of chopping with slashing weapons can create a 1-foot-deep safe passage into a prison of thorns.

Of course, even after passing through the thorns the intruder still has the stronghold's normal walls to deal with. Normal fire cannot harm the prison of thorns, but magical fire ignites it and burns away any affected section in 10 minutes.

A damaged (but not destroyed) prison of thorns regrows completely within 1d4 hours.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, wall of thorns; Market Price: 22,500 gp.

PROOF AGAINST VERMIN

This stronghold space cannot be entered by vermin with 2 or fewer HD.

Vermin with 3 or more HD can only enter the space if they make a Will save (DC 16).

Even if the vermin makes the save, it takes 2d6 points of damage.

Pressing against the barrier causes enough pain to drive away nonaggressive vermin.

Builders often employ this wondrous architecture in the lower levels of a stronghold, which tend to be more vulnerable to invasion by vermin.

Some stronghold owners include this on their bedchambers and their kitchens as well.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, repel vermin; Market Price: 14,000 gp.

RAINBOW TAPESTRY

This tapestry is covered with a glowing, rainbow-hued pattern of colors.

This captivates all who see it (Will save DC 16 negates), just as if they were looking at a rainbow pattern.

The rainbow tapestry can only affect up to 24 HD of creatures at a time, starting with the targets with the fewest HD.

Among those with equal HD, the creatures closest to the tapestry are affected first.

Captivated creatures cannot move away from the tapestry nor take actions other than to defend themselves.

Any attack upon a captivated creature frees it immediately. This item cannot affect sightless creatures.

It is most often used as a trap inside certain stronghold spaces.

Sometimes, it is kept furled over the guard-house or atop a stronghold wall, then unfurled when danger approaches.

Those who know that it is there receive a +10 circumstance bonus on their saving throws.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, rainbow pattern; Market Price: 28,000 gp.

ROOM OF READING

Any literate creature in this stronghold space can automatically read magical inscriptions, as per a read magic spell.

This effect is most often found in libraries, particularly those owned by spellcasters.

It saves them the trouble of having to cast the read magic spell every time they want to puzzle out a bit of magical writing.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, read magic; Market Price: 750 gp.

ROOM OF RENDING

All magic items (not including artifacts) and magical effects entering this stronghold space are affected as if by Mordenkainen's disjunction.

Permanent magic items must make a Will save (DC 23) or be turned into normal items.

An item in a creature's possession uses its own Will save bonus or that of its possessor, whichever is higher.

An antimagic field has only a 17% chance of being affected.

Caster Level: 17th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Mordenkainen's disjunction; Market Price: 76,500 gp.

SANCTUM SANCTORUM

Each creature entering this stronghold space becomes protected by a sanctuary spell.

Anyone trying to attack such a target (including with targeted spells, but not with area or effect spells) must make a Will save (DC 11) to do so.

Otherwise, that action of the attacker is wasted, and the attacker cannot attack that target again until the target leaves the room.

If the target reenters the room, the attacker may attempt a new Will save.

If someone protected by the sanctum's effects attacks, he loses the benefits of the sanctum and can be attacked normally.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, sanctuary; Market Price: 1,500 gp.

SECURE CHAMBER

The entire stronghold space is affected by a mind blank spell.

No one in the chamber can be affected by devices and spells that detect, influence, or read emotions and thoughts, up to and including miracle or wish.

Even a scrying that scans an area does not work.

Most throne rooms of mighty rulers use this effect.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, mind blank; Market Price: 60,000 gp.

SIGILS OF ANTIMAGIC

An antimagic field fills the entire stronghold space, as indicated by the arcane sigils inscribed upon the walls.

No magical effects, including spells, spell-like abilities, or supernatural abilities, work within this space, nor do any other magic items.

Elementals, outsiders, corporeal undead, golems, and other magical constructs all function normally within the space, although many of their abilities are suppressed.

If a summoned or conjured creature enters the space, it winks out.

Certain spells such as wall of force, prismatic sphere, and prismatic wall are unaffected in this space.

This means that it's possible to have a permanent wall of force in an area affected by sigils of antimagic without having the place come tumbling down.

The sigils of antimagic have no effect on artifacts and creatures of demigod or higher status.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, antimagic field; Market Price: 66,000 gp.

SIGILS OF SUPPRESSION

A globe of invulnerability fills the entire stronghold space, as represented by the arcane sigils that are inscribed upon the walls.

No spell effects of 4th level or lower function within this space.

Such spells cannot be cast within the space, nor can their effects extend to within the space (though a targeted dispel magic can suppress the effect as with any other magic item).

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, globe of invulnerability; Market Price: 33,000 gp.

SIGILS OF SUPPRESSION, LESSER

These are identical to the sigils of suppression, except that they only block spell effects of 3rd level or lower (as per minor globe of invulnerability).

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, minor globe of invulnerability; Market Price: 14,000 gp.

SPEAKING STONES

Any character that enters this stronghold space can understand and communicate with the stone and rock in the space, whether natural or worked.

This functions like a stone tell spell.

While this bit of wondrous architecture is most often created as part of an open courtyard lined with rocks or floored with stones, you can just as easily work it into an any other place in which you might wish to speak with rocks.

Some stronghold owners place this upon a vault or other important room, allowing them to question the walls themselves about intruders.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, stone tell; Market Price: 33,000 gp.

STABLE OF UNDERSTANDING

Any character in this stronghold space can understand and communicate with animals in the space (not including beasts, magical beasts, and vermin).

This works like a speak with animals spell, although the effect ends as soon as either the character or the animal leave the space.

While most builders who include this wondrous architecture create it as part of a stable, you can just as easily work it into an aviary, a menagerie, or any other place in which you might wish to communicate with animals.

Some stronghold owners include this on the roof of their stronghold so that they can chat with any local fauna—mostly birds—brave enough to enter the space.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, speak with animals; Market Price: 3,000 gp.

SUMMONING STONE

When any creature comes within 30 feet of one of these menhir-like stones, the stone summons a creature from another plane (as summon monster).

Summoned creatures will attack anything coming within 30 feet of the stone.

A summoning stone functions three times a day.

The creature summoned is set at the time of the stone's creation.

The table below indicates some typical creatures, though you may select any appropriate creature from the summon monster tables in the Player's Handbook.

When creating a summoning stone, you may set a password or passphrase that allows characters to approach it without activating it.

Summoning stones come in nine varieties:

Stone Type	Typical Creature(s)	Market Price
I	Celestial dog Fiendish hawk	1,500 gp
II	Celestial eagle Fiendish wolf 1d3 fiendish dire rats	3,000 gp
III	Small elemental Fiendish dire bat 1d3 fiendish hyenas	4,500 gp
IV	Lantern archon Hell hound 1d3 juvenile salamanders	8,400 gp
V	Formian warrior Adult salamander 1d3 vargouilles	13,500 gp
VI	Large elemental Belker 1d3 hound archons	19,800 gp
VII	Invisible stalker Blue slaad 1d3 barbazus	27,300 gp
VIII	Greater elemental Elder salamander 1d3 djinn	36,000 gp
IX	Couatl Vrock 1d3 formian taskmasters	45,900 gp

Caster Level: 5th (I, II, III), 7th (IV), 9th (V), 11th (VI), 13th (VII), 15th (VIII), 17th (IX); Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, summon monster I–IX (same as level of item); Market Price: See table above.

TABLE OF FEASTING

This banquet table seats twelve and magically delivers three fantastic meals per day, each of which works as a heroes' feast. Each feast requires an hour to eat, and any interruption of the feast ruins the effects.

Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, heroes' feast; Market Price: 43,200 gp.

TABLE OF FRESHNESS

This table (which seats up to 12 people) automatically purifies any food or drink put upon it (as the purify food and drink spell).

This makes it safe to consume, no matter how spoiled or poisonous.

If left on the table, the substance rots again naturally.

However, if taken from the table and returned, the table again purifies it.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, purify food and drink; Market Price: 3,000 gp.

TABLE OF SAFE MEALS

Any poisoned food or drink placed on this table immediately begins glowing with a faint black illumination.

Anyone seated at the table may make a Wisdom check (DC 20) to determine the exact kind of poison.

Such a table can seat up to twelve people.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, detect poison; Market Price: 1,500 gp.

TOUCHSTONE OF FAITH

The 5-foot-square touchstone grants a deflection bonus to AC to any single creature standing upon it.

Stronghold builders often add this to key guard posts or other areas important to the defense of a stronghold.

If more than one creature attempts to use this simultaneously (for instance, if two grappling creatures stand atop it), the item grants no AC bonus.

The touchstone of faith comes in four varieties: Type I grants a +2 bonus, type II a +3 bonus, type III a +4 bonus, and type IV a +5 bonus.

Caster Level: 3rd (I), 6th (II), 12th (III), 18th (IV);

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, shield of faith; Market Price: 1,500 gp (I), 3,000 gp (II), 6,000 gp (III), 9,000 gp (IV).

TOUCHSTONE OF SAFETY

The 5-foot-square touchstone grants damage reduction against ranged weapons (as the protection from arrows spell) to any single creature standing upon it.

Stronghold builders often add this to key guard posts or other areas important to the defense of a stronghold.

If more than one creature attempts to use this simultaneously (for instance, if two grappling creatures stand atop it), the item grants no damage reduction.

The touchstone of safety comes in five varieties: Type I grants DR 10/+1, type II DR 10/+2, type III DR 10/+3, type IV DR 10/+4, and type V DR 10/+5.

Caster Level: 3rd (I), 5th (II), 10th (III), 15th (IV), 20th (V);

Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, protection from arrows;

Market Price: 3,000 gp (I), 5,000 gp (II), 10,000 gp (III), 15,000 gp (IV), 20,000 gp (V).

TORNADO'S EYE

This large (6-foot-wide) crystal orb maintains tornado-force winds (see the DUNGEON MASTER's Guide) around the outside your stronghold at all times.

See the description of the hurricane's eye for how this works.

If you join this item with a hurricane's eye or a windstorm's eye, they can each only function at the level of the weakest item.

Caster Level: 18th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, control winds; Market Price: 90,000 gp.

TREE OF JAUNTING

This tree looks like an ordinary member of its species. When you enter this tree, you may immediately teleport to a nearby tree of the same species as if you had cast tree stride. The tree you enter and the tree you appear in must be wider around than you are for this to work.

Some stronghold owners set up several such trees around their stronghold to allow people to move around easily. Sometimes they place one tree at an outpost and another in a central courtyard.

Since an intruder can use this tree as easily as a trusted guard, avoid leaving them unprotected.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, tree stride; Market Price: 22,500 gp.

TREE OF JAUNTING, GREATER

This Medium-size or larger tree looks like an ordinary member of its species.

However, a user can step into the tree and instantly teleport to another tree of the same species, regardless of the distance between the two.

You need only specify a direction and distance or location as you enter the greater tree of jaunting, and it brings you to the closest possible tree of the same species.

You can't teleport into a dead tree, nor can you use a tree-like plant creature (such as a treant).

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, transport via plants; Market Price: 33,000 gp.

UNHOLY HALL

An aura of malevolent darkness surrounds all evil characters in this stronghold space.

This grants them a +4 deflection bonus to AC and a +4 resistance bonus on saves.

They also get spell resistance 25 against good spells and those cast by good creatures.

They are also protected from possession and mental influence as per protection from good.

If a good creature hits a protected character in melee, the attacker suffers 1d6 points of temporary Strength damage. A Fortitude save (DC 22) negates this.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, unholy aura; Market Price: 60,000 gp.

UPSIDE-DOWN ROOM

Anyone entering this stronghold space immediately falls upward, to a maximum of 30 feet above the floor.

Cunning builders plant spikes along the ceiling to increase damage (this functions identically to a pit).

If no ceiling exists (or if the ceiling is more than 30 above the floor), victims merely hang in space at a height of 30 feet.

In a tall enough room, this can create multiple directions of gravity (allowing guards standing on high ledges to pick off helpless floating targets).

A ceiling-level entrance to the room can allow those who enter to simply flip about and stand on the ceiling, though visitors unaware of the effect must make a Reflex save (DC 10) to avoid falling to the ceiling (this deals no damage either way).

Caster Level: 13th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, reverse gravity; Market Price: 45,500 gp.

VEGETATIVE TRAP

The plant material in this stronghold space reaches up to snare anyone who enters the area, much like an entangle spell.

Any creature within the vegetative trap must make a Reflex save (DC 11).

If it succeeds, it can move at only half normal speed through the area, but suffers no other ill effects.

Those who fail the save become entangled.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, entangle; Market Price: 1,500 gp.

VEIL OF OBSCURITY

This wondrous architecture disguises up to twenty contiguous stronghold spaces (or two levels of ten contiguous stronghold spaces each) with a mirage arcana effect, making the structure appear as something other than it is.

It includes audible, visual, tactile, and olfactory elements, though it can't disguise, conceal, or add creatures.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, mirage arcana; Market Price: 25,000 gp.

WARDING BELL

When this enormous bell is rung (requiring a standard action), it immediately activates a guards and wards spell. The warding bell must be somewhere in the area to be warded.

The fog and web effects work normally.

The arcane lock effect allows the stronghold's owner to open the doors normally, but no one else.

The confusion part affects all intruders—as defined by the stronghold's owner at the time of the creation of the warding bell.

This means that the owner must list the people who would not be considered an intruder.

The longer and less specific the criteria are, the more easily this portion of the warding bell's security can be breached.

Up to 12 doors can be "lost".

These doors must be specified at the creation of the device. Similarly, the other extra effect granted by the guards and wards spell must be chosen at item creation.

Any locations or programming required for these effects must be defined at that time as well.

Some stronghold owners place a warding bell at the stronghold's front gate.

In this way, the guards at the gate can activate the security system at a moment's notice.

A single warding bell can protect up to six contiguous stronghold spaces, although the warded area is up to 20 feet high.

This means that a cunning creator could cover up to twelve stronghold spaces (six apiece on two levels).

To protect larger strongholds, you must include multiple warding bells (each within the area they protect). The warding bell only functions once per day, and the effects last 24 hours or until the stronghold owner voluntarily dismisses them (you can't dismiss individual effects, only the whole spell).
Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, guards and wards; Market Price: 7,200 gp.

WELL OF FALLING

This fixture is not actually a well so much as a sneaky way to get from one part of a multilevel stronghold to another. It looks like an open well at the top, but at the bottom, the well opens out into another room.
Anyone passing through the stone rim of the well (up to 10 feet in diameter) falls slowly to the bottom, as if under the effect of a feather fall spell.
This makes the fall the equivalent to jumping off a table, no matter how long the fall.
You can make the well of falling up to 100 feet deep (pay for multiple wells if you need a deeper one).
Most stronghold builders use a well of falling as a way to get from one part of a stronghold to another safely and quickly. Many builders choose to conceal the door into the bottom of the well (treat as a secret door).
Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, feather fall; Market Price: 1,500 gp.

WELL OF FLYING

As with the well of falling, this is not a well so much as a sneaky way to get from one part of a multilevel stronghold to another.
Unlike the well of falling, the well of flying can (and usually does) include multiple entrances to the shaft.
Anyone entering the well can fly at a speed of 90 (or 60 if wearing medium or heavy armor) while in the well.
If 10 feet wide, the well of flying can be up to 50 feet deep. If only 5 feet wide, it can be up to 100 feet deep.
You can link multiple wells of flying to create a deeper shaft. Most builders construct the well of flying to extend all the way to the ceiling of its top level, allowing you to exit without pulling yourself up from the lip (since the effect extends only to the rim of the well).
Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, fly; Market Price: 7,500 gp.

WINDSTORM'S EYE

This large (4-foot-wide) crystal orb maintains tornado-force winds (see Chapter 3 of the DUNGEON MASTER's Guide) around the outside your stronghold at all times. See the description of the hurricane's eye for details.
If you use this item in conjunction with a hurricane's eye or a tornado's eye, they can each only function at the level of the weakest item.
Caster Level: 12th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, control winds; Market Price: 60,000 gp.

WONDROUS ABSENCE

This conceals all magical auras in a single stronghold space. This works like Nystul's undetectable aura.
Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, Nystul's undetectable aura; Market Price: 3,000 gp.

WONDROUS WHISPERER

This 5-foot-wide concave cone is carved into an exterior wall of the stronghold.
The wide end of the cone opens into the stronghold, while the tip is actually a small hole into the outside.
Any message (of up to twenty-five words) spoken at the open end travels through the wind to any known location within three miles (as the whispering wind spell). The location must be reachable by a wind.
The wind covers one mile every 10 minutes.
When the wind reaches its objective, it swirls about, leaves its message, and then dissipates.
Many outposts use this item to deliver messages to the main stronghold.

In addition, in open and airy strongholds, it provides a fine way to communicate with others throughout the place.
Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, whispering wind; Market Price: 3,000 gp.

ZONE OF ELEMENTAL IMMUNITY

The stronghold space is immune to damage from a specific energy type (acid, cold, electricity, fire, or sonic). Anyone within the stronghold space shares this immunity, but only if the damage comes from a source outside the stronghold.

For instance, while the stronghold floats on a lake of lava, those within suffer no damage, but a fireball cast from within the space affects all creatures within normally. Unless you have some specific reason to protect only a section of your stronghold, this effect is generally placed on the entire stronghold.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, protection from elements; Market Price: 10,000 gp.

SWORD AND FIST (3.0)

AMULET OF MIGHTY FISTS

This amulet grants an enhancement bonus of +1 to +5 to attack and damage rolls with unarmed attacks.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, magic fang, caster must be of a level three times that of the bonus of the amulet; Market Price: 6,000 gp (amulet +1); 24,000 gp (amulet +2); 54,000 gp (amulet +3); 96,000 gp (amulet +4); or 150,000 gp (amulet +5).

BELT OF MIGHTY PROWESS

This wide, adamantite-studded leather belt grants the wearer a +6 enhancement bonus to Strength and Constitution.

Caster Level: 15th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength, endurance; Market Price: 108,000 gp.

GLOVES OF FEARSOME GRIP

These flexible leather gloves increase the strength of the wearer's grip.

They grant the wearer a +5 enhancement bonus to Climb checks, grapple checks, and opposed attack rolls made during a disarm attempt (either offensively or defensively).

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength; Market Price: 15,000 gp.

HEADBAND OF FEROCITY

This headband made of wild boar leather lets the wearer keep going when she would normally collapse from her wounds.

She can act normally at 0 hp (though taking strenuous actions still damages her), if she's at negative hp (as low as -9), she acts normally, although she still risks losing 1 hp each round, as normal.

At -10 hp, she dies.

Likewise, the wearer is harder to stop with subdual damage.

Subdual damage does not stagger her, and she falls unconscious only when her subdual damage exceeds her hp by 10 or more.

Caster Level: 8th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, endurance; Market Price: 2,000 gp.

HEADBAND OF PERFECT EXCELLENCE

This pure silk cloth is worn as a headband.

It grants the wearer a +6 enhancement bonus to Strength, Dexterity, and Wisdom.

Caster Level: 18th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength, cat's grace, and either commune or legend lore; Market Price: 180,000 gp.

KI STRAPS

These leather straps, when wrapped around both hands, grant the wearer a +5 enhancement bonus to her DC with a monk's stunning attack or the Stunning Fist feat.

Wearing the straps is like wearing gloves; they take up the "gloves" slot on the character's body.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, monk level 3rd+; Market Price: 5,000 gp.

SANDALS OF THE TIGER'S LEAP

These sandals allow the wearer to make devastating flying kicks.

The wearer must have 5 ranks of Jump or Tumble to use them.

On a charge, she can perform a flying kick.

Treat this as an unarmed attack that deals double normal damage.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, jump; Market Price: 3,500 gp.

VEST OF FALSE LIFE

While wearing the vest, a character gains +10 hp.

When he takes it off, he loses 10 hp.

(They are not temporary hp in the normal sense).

Caster Level: 6th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, endurance; Market Price: 12,000 gp.

TOME AND BLOOD (3.0)

BELT OF MANY POCKETS

This broad belt seems to be nothing more than a well-made article of clothing, but closer examination reveals eight small pouches on its inner front surface.

In fact, a total of sixty-four magical pouches exist in the belt, seven others «behind» each of the eight readily apparent ones.

Each of these pouches is similar to a miniature bag of holding, able to contain up to 1 cubic foot of material weighing as much as 10 pounds.

One of these pouches can hold the wearer's familiar, no matter what its size.

The familiar has access to food, air, and water while inside the pouch.

Anything stored in the pockets is effectively weightless and does not affect the wearer's encumbrance, so long as the belt is worn around the waist.

It can be rolled up and stored away, but in that case it weighs one-tenth of the total weight of all stored items. When worn around the waist, the belt responds to the thoughts of its wearer by opening a full pouch (to extract something from) or an empty one (to put something in) as desired.

Naturally, this item is greatly prized by spellcasters, for it can hold components for many spells and make them readily available.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, familiar pocket (see Chapter 5: Spells), Leomund's secret chest, locate object; Market Price: 11,000 gp; Weight: 1 lb.

BELT OF SPELL RESISTANCE

This intricately embroidered sash is worn around the waist. It grants the wearer spell resistance of 21.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, spell resistance; Market Price: 90,000 gp; Weight: —.

ESCRIER'S BROOCH

This magic brooch of metal and glass allows its wearer to contact any other creature wearing a similar brooch as the sending spell twice per day.

This spell-like ability requires a standard action that does not draw an attack of opportunity.

Creatures not wearing an Escrier's brooch cannot be contacted using this item.

The brooch does not work in dead-magic areas or across planes.

It has an AC of 13, 1 hit point, a hardness of 5, and a break DC of 18.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, sending; Market Price: 20,000 gp; Weight: —.

GOLEM MANUAL

This book is a treatise on the construction and animation of golems.

It contains all the information and incantations necessary to make one of the four sorts of golems described in the Monster Manual.

The spells included in a golem manual require a spell trigger and can be activated only when building a golem. Once the golem is finished, the writing fades and the book is consumed in flames.

When the ashes are sprinkled upon the golem, it becomes fully animated.

CLAY

The book contains animate objects, bless, commune, prayer, and resurrection.

Caster Level: 16th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects, bless, commune, prayer, resurrection; Market Price: 24,000 gp; Cost to create: 9,250 gp +5,575 XP; Weight: 5 lb.

FLESH

The book contains bull's strength, geas/quest, limited wish, polymorph any object, and protection from arrows.

Caster Level: 14th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Craft Wondrous Item, bull's strength, geas/quest, limited wish, polymorph any object, and protection from arrows; Market Price: 24,000 gp; Cost to Create: 8,750 gp +5,675 XP; Weight: 5 lb.

IRON

The book contains cloudkill, geas/quest, limited wish, and polymorph any object.

Caster Level: 16th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Craft Wondrous Item, cloudkill, geas/quest, limited wish, and polymorph any object.

Market Price: 32,250 gp; Cost to Create: 10,500 gp +7,500 XP; Weight: 5 lb.

STONE

The book contains geas/quest, limited wish, polymorph any object, and slow.

Caster Level: 16th; Prerequisites: Craft Magic Arms and Armor, Craft Wondrous Item, geas/quest, limited wish, polymorph any object, and slow; Market Price: 28,750 gp; Cost to Create: 9,500 gp +6,700 XP; Weight: 5 lb.

RUG OF WELCOME

This finely crafted rug looks like a normal floor covering, 5 feet wide and 10 feet long.

It can be commanded to guard an area, and when so activated it animates and grapples creatures of up to Large size that step on it.

If desired, the owner can set a password to avoid activating the rug's effect.

The owner need not be present for the rug to attack.

The rug can attack one creature at a time.

Once it grabs a creature, it holds on until commanded to release the foe.

The owner can command the rug from up to 30 feet away.

Caster Level: 11th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animate object or Bigby's grasping hand; Market Price: 30,000 gp; Weight: 15 lb.

➤ Animated Rug: CR 5; Large construct; HD 13d10; hp 71; Init +0; Spd 0 ft.; AC 20 (touch 9, flat-footed 20); Atk +23 melee (no damage, grab); Face/Reach: 5 ft. by 10 ft./5 ft.; SA Improved grab, +4 modifier on grab attacks; SQ Construct; AL N; SV Fort +4, Ref +4, Will +4; Str 31, Dex 10, Con —. Int —.

Wis 11, Cha 1.

Skills and Feats: None.

Improved Grab (ex): If the rug hits a creature of Large size or smaller with its grab attack, it attempts to start a grapple as a free action without provoking an attack of opportunity. The rug's attack bonus for establishing or maintaining a hold is +28.

Construct: Immune to mind-influencing effects, poison, disease, and similar effects.

Not subject to critical hits, subdual damage, ability damage, energy drain, or death from massive damage.

VEST OF RESISTANCE

These garments offer magic protection in the form of a +1 to +5 resistance modifier to all saving throws (Fortitude, Reflex, Will).

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, resistance, caster level must be three times that of the cloak's bonus; Market Price: 1,000 gp (+1), 4,000 gp (+2), 9,000 gp (+3), 16,000 gp (+4), or 25,000 gp (+5); Weight: 1 lb.

TOME OF BATTLE (3.5)

CROWN OF WHITE RAVENS

A crown of White Ravens is one of several items that grants its wearer the use of a maneuver.

The crown's wearer need not be a martial adept, but knowledge of other maneuvers and ranks in the discipline's key skill give the wearer access to more powerful maneuvers.

Lore: Elf scholars insist that members of their race were the first to create crowns of White Ravens, and all other similar items, such as Desert cloaks and slippers of the Setting Sun, are copies of the concept created by martial adepts of other races.

This assessment seems plausible not only because all crowns of White Ravens seem to be fashioned in the elven style, but also because the crowns have the longest recorded history.

Description: Three types of crowns of White Ravens exist: novice, scholar, and master.

Each looks like a crown of white alabaster, carved with delicate fluting and spindles that rise from it like castle towers.

Novice crowns of White Ravens have the simplest appearance and the fewest spires, while a master crown of White Ravens bears more than a dozen towers and some highly ornate carvings.

Prerequisite: Anyone can wear a crown of White Ravens, but to gain any benefit from it, a wearer must meet the prerequisite of the desired maneuver.

Activation: A crown of White Ravens requires a day to attune to its wearer once it is donned.

After wearing it continually for 24 hours, the wearer must choose one of the White Raven maneuvers that the item can grant for which he meets the prerequisite.

He then gains knowledge of that maneuver and can use it as long as the crown is worn.

Should the crown be removed and then replaced, it requires another day to attune itself to the wearer before it can grant knowledge of any maneuvers.

Effect: A person who has worn a crown of White Ravens for 24 hours gains the use of a single White Raven maneuver for which he meets the prerequisite.

The maneuver can be of a martial adept level up to the highest level the item grants.

A novice crown of White Ravens grants a maneuver of up to 3rd level, a scholar crown of White Ravens grants a maneuver of up to 6th level, and a master crown of White Ravens grants a maneuver of up to 9th level.

Aura/Caster Level: Faint divination (novice), moderate divination (scholar), or strong divination (master). CL 5th (novice), 10th (scholar), or 15th (master).

Construction (Novice): Craft Wondrous Item, knowledge of a maneuver from the White Raven discipline; 1,500 gp, 120 XP, 3 days.

Construction (Scholar): Craft Wondrous Item, knowledge of a maneuver from the White Raven discipline; 7,500 gp, 600 XP, 15 days.

Construction (Master): Craft Wondrous Item, knowledge of a maneuver from the White Raven discipline; 22,500 gp, 1,800 XP, 45 days.

Variants: Eight variants of the crown of White Ravens exist, one for each of the other martial disciplines.

Like the crown of White Ravens, each has a novice, scholar, and master version.

In all respects, they function in the same manner as the crown of White Ravens does, except that each grants access to a maneuver from a different discipline and occupies a different place on the wearer's body.

Desert Wind Cloak: Desert Wind cloaks are the color of windblown sand, and they always shift and flutter as if disturbed by a breeze, even indoors and on calm days. Most bear decorative stitching around the edges in gold and red thread depicting flaming scimitars, picks that trail smoke, and maces that shine like the sun.

Devoted Spirit Amulet: The appearance of these amulets varies considerably, since each is constructed to serve a particular axis of alignment: chaos, evil, good, or law. Some even double as holy symbols.

A Devoted Spirit amulet does not function for someone who doesn't share its alignment.

Iron Heart Vest: These heavy, leather vests are run through with tiny slivers of iron, which give them a dull sparkle. The iron resists rust, but Iron Heart vests can eventually rake on an orange hue because the iron slivers degrade and stain the vest's material.

Ring of the Diamond Mind: Unlike similar items devoted to different disciplines, a ring of the Diamond Mind requires its creator to have the Forge Ring feat instead of Craft Wondrous Item.

A ring of the Diamond Mind looks like a simple gold band set with a diamond, but anyone peering closely into the stone can see the visage of the wearer, or of the last person to wear the ring if no one currently wears it.

Shadow Hands: Shadow Hands look like hands carved of jet. The carvings are incredibly detailed, depicting every mark of a humanoid hand, down to fingerprints and every crack in the palm and knuckle.

When someone places both hands over the Shadow Hands so that his shadow falls over them, the carved hands vanish, and a pair of black silk gloves appears on the person's hands.

These gloves can be removed normally, whereupon they become hands carved of jet that look exactly like the wearer's hands.

Slippers of the Setting Sun: Each of these beautifully crafted red silk slippers bears an emblem of the setting sun upon the toe.

The sun is stitched in gold thread, and its rays are bronze and copper.

Stone Dragon Belt: A Stone Dragon belt looks like a wide belt made from expertly broken slabs of slate.

Surprisingly, it weighs almost nothing and doesn't inhibit movement at all.

Tiger Claw Bracers: These bracers bear a tiger's stripes, but all in metal, with copper for orange, iron for black, and silver for white.

Upon donning the bracers, the wearer hears a tiger's roar and feels the pain of sharp claws in his back for fleeting moment.

Weight: 1 lb. (Desert Wind cloak, crown of White Ravens, Iron Heart vest, Stone Dragon belt, Tiger Claw bracers); 1/2 lb. (slippers of the Setting Sun), or — (Devoted Spirit amulet, ring of the Diamond Mind, Shadow Hands).

Price: 3,000 gp (novice), 15,000 gp (scholar), or 45,000 gp (master).

TOME OF MAGIC (3.5)

AMULET OF THE SILVER TONGUE

An amulet of the silver tongue makes its wearer better able to pronounce words clearly and correctly—a key aspect of the art of the truenamer.

Description: An amulet of the silver tongue depicts a grinning face with an open mouth.

Naturally, most are fashioned from silver.

Many have a pin on the back and are used as a cloak-clasp.

An amulet's functions are subtle, although wearers seem to enunciate their words more clearly, whether they're uttering truenames or conversing normally.

Prerequisite: This item functions for any creature, but only those with the Truespeak skill benefit from wearing it.

Activation: An amulet of the silver tongue provides its bonus as long as it's worn.

Effect: The lesser version of the amulet grants a +5 enhancement bonus on Truespeak checks.

A greater amulet of the silver tongue grants a +10 enhancement bonus.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate transmutation. CL 7th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, glibness, Truespeak 5 ranks (lesser) or Truespeak 10 ranks (greater), 1,250 gp (lesser) or 5,000 gp (greater), 100 XP (lesser) or 400 XP (greater), 3 days (lesser) or 10 days (greater).

Variants: Divine spellcasters sometimes use vestments of the silver tongue (+625 gp for lesser and +5,000 gp for greater).

Amulets are problematic for clerics and druids because so many wear periapts of Wisdom.

Weight: —.

Price: 2,500 gp (lesser), 10,000 gp (greater).

CHIME OF SUPPRESSION

A chime of suppression helps you gain control of an unruly vestige.

Lore: During the time of Syfal.

binders created and used these items to conceal the vestiges they bound while they were hunted by the Seropaeneans.

(Knowledge [religion] DC 25).

Description: This triangular brass instrument is inscribed with strange runes and feels unusually light.

One end features a hinged handle made of rosewood and a chain, also brass, that ends in a metal striker.

The runes are the confounding seals of the vestiges, reinforced with additional markings that suggest control and power.

When struck, the instrument produces an unsettling, echoing chime that can be heard only by the wielder.

Prerequisite: This item functions only if the wielder is bound to a vestige.

Activation: As a standard action, you touch the striker to the chime.

You can use a chime three times per day, and its effects last for 1 minute.

You can only target a vestige within yourself with a chime of suppression.

Effect: A chime of suppression temporarily stifles one of your bound vestiges (chosen by you at the time of use), forcing its will into the dark corners of your mind.

For the duration of the effect, you lose access to all the abilities granted by the spirit, but it has no influence over you, and you do not show its sign.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate abjuration. CL 7th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, soul binding ability, dismissal, 1,900 gp, 152 XP, 2 days.

Weight: 1/2 lb.

Price: 3,800 gp.

COLLAR OF UMBRAL METAMORPHOSIS

This collar temporarily transforms you into a creature of shadow.

Description: A collar of umbral metamorphosis is a thick collar of black leather studded with onyx spikes and closed with a tarnished silver clasp.

When activated, it seems to disappear into your shadowy flesh.

Activation: A command word, such as "fade" or "darken", both activates and deactivates the collar.

This requires a standard action.

A collar functions for up to 10 minutes per day, divided up as you see fit (but each use counts as 1 minute, Minimum).

Effect: This item transforms you into a being of shadow, bestowing the dark creature template.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate transmutation. CL 11th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, shadow investiture, 5,400 gp, 432 XP, 11 days.

Variants: While some mystery users appreciate the cost savings associated with a command word item, others prefer a continuous collar of umbral metamorphosis.

These items have a market price of 22,000 gp.

Weight: 1 lb.

Price: 10,800 gp.

DARK LANTERN

Designed by shadowcasters, a dark lantern sheds a mystical light in the form of shadowy illumination.

Description: This item is a hood lantern, constructed of black iron with mithral filigree.

Its crystalline panels are tinted bright gold.

When lit.

the lantern radiates shadowy illumination out to 60 feet.

The light flickers more slowly than normal fire, and the crackle of the flames sounds more like plodding footsteps.

Activation: You strike a light within, just as if it were a normal lantern.

The lantern must have oil or other fuel.

You also speak a command word, such as “shadows” or “darkness”.

The activating process requires a full-round action. You can deactivate the lantern by opening it and blowing out the flame within (altogether a standard action).

Effect: A dark lantern sheds a mystic light that creates shadowy illumination, modifying the brightness of ambient light as well as spells of equal or lower level with the light or darkness descriptor.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate evocation. CL 9th.
Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, dusk and dawn, 1,000 gp, 80 XP, 2 days.

Weight: 2 lb.

Price: 2,000 gp.

GEM OF NIGHT

A gem of night is essentially a piece of solid shadow that can grow into a shadow elemental.

Description: The item appears to be a reflective black gemstone.

It is a rough globe, covered in hundreds of tiny facets.

It is vaguely cold to the touch and seems to absorb rather than reflect light.

Prerequisite: Anyone can benefit from a gem of night.

Activation: The gem must be crushed, smashed, or broken (a standard action).

Effect: The gem conjures a Large shadow elemental under the control of the creature that broke the gem.

The elemental is banished back to the Plane of Shadow after 13 rounds.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate conjuration. CL 13th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, summon umbral servant, caster must begin with a gem mined or found on the Plane of Shadow, 750 gp, 60 XP.

2 days.

Weight: —.

Price: 1,500 gp.

IMPLEMENTS OF BINDING

Implements of binding enhance your ability to bind and control vestiges.

They help to focus your concern during the binding process and provide incentive for the spirit to be amenable to your will.

Description: Inside an intricately carved leak box, a set of unusual objects rests upon a red velvet cushion.

The items are an ivory chalice, a bronze serpentine knife, and three perfectly spherical crystals.

When you use implements of binding, the knife vibrates and the chalice creates a soft ringing sound, while three stones glow with the brightness of candles.

Prerequisite: Only characters with the soul binding class feature can use this item.

Activation: As part of the time it takes to draw a vestige's seal properly (see page 17), you can use implements of binding to aid the process of pact making.

You must begin by placing the three crystals around the seal to form an inverted triangle. Then you use the knife to cut a small incision in each of your palms, dealing a total of 1 point of damage, and squeeze the blood into the chalice.

Effect: Implements of binding provide a +2 competence bonus on your bind check to make a pact with a summoned vestige, in combat, the knife functions as a nonmagical masterwork dagger.

Aura/Caster Level: Faint transmutation. CL 3rd.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, soul binding ability, eagle's splendor, 1,130 gp.

32 XP, 2 days.

Variants: -1 on binding checks (-600 gp), +4 on binding checks (+2,400 gp), +6 on binding checks (+6,400 gp), +8 on binding checks (+12,000 gp).

Weight: 10 lb.

Price: 1,530 gp.

ORB OF SHADOW

Mystery users prize orb of shadow as wizards do pearls of power.

Description: An orb of shadow appears to be a black pearl of average size and unusual luster.

Activation: Once per day.

you can speak a command word as a standard action to activate an orb.

You must have the orb in your hand; drawing it out is a move action.

Effect: Like a pearl of power, this item allows a single extra use of a mystery, regardless of whether that mystery functions as a spell, spell-like ability, or supernatural ability. The mystery must be of a particular level, depending on the orb.

Different orbs exist for recalling one mystery per day of each level from 1st through 9th and for the recall of two mysteries per day (each of a different level, 6th or lower).

Aura/Caster Level: Strong transmutation. CL 17th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, creator must be able to cast mysteries of the mystery level to be recalled; 500 gp, 40 XP, 1 day (1st); 2,000 gp, 160 XP, 4 days (2nd); 4,500 gp, 360 XP, 9 days (3rd); 8,000 gp, 640 XP, 16 days (4th); 12,500 gp, 1,000 XP, 25 days (5th); 18,000 gp, 1,440 XP, 36 days (6th); 24,500 gp, 1,960 XP, 49 days (7th); 32,000 gp, 2,560 XP, 64 days (8th); 40,500 gp, 3,240 XP, 81 days (9th); or 35,000 gp, 2,800 XP, 70 days (two mysteries).

Variants: Some mystery users prefer to set an orb of shadow into a ring.

In case, you need never draw out the orb, but it occupies space on your body as a ring.

Weight: —.

Price: 1,000 gp (1st), 4,000 gp (2nd), 9,000 gp (3rd), 16,000 gp (4th), 25,000 gp (5th), 36,000 gp (6th), 49,000 gp (7th), 64,000 gp (8th), 81,000 gp (9th), or 70,000 gp (two mysteries).

SEAL OF THE SPIRIT

A seal of the spirit provides a permanent and reusable seal for summoning a particular vestige.

Lore: Each seal is keyed to a specific spirit.

Knowledge [arcana] or Knowledge [religion] DC 25;

Knowledge [the planes] DC 30).

The Seropaean Order is desperate to acquire and destroy these items.

(Knowledge [religion] DC 35).

Description: This silky black bundle of cloth unfolds into a square 5 feet across.

A wide circle with peculiar lines inside it is embroidered on the fabric with gold thread.

When activated, a seal of the spirit binds itself to a surface and remains fixed until the binding process is finished. Throughout the entire binding process, the seal emits a pulsing and flickering red light with the brightness of a torch.

Prerequisite: Only characters with the soul binding class feature can use this item.

Activation: As a standard action, you activate A seal of the spirit by speaking its command word (usually the name of the spirit keyed to it) and placing it on a flat and steady surface.

Once activated, the seal functions until either you bind the vestige or it leaves of its own accord.

You can use a particular seal of the spirit once per day.

Effect: Once activated, a seal of the spirit serves as the seal you would otherwise draw during the ritual required to contact a vestige.

Since you need not draw the seal to contact the spirit, the item considerably reduces the time it takes to conjure the entity.

The seal does not negate any other requirements for summoning a particular vestige.

For more information on binding vestiges, see the binder class description (page 9).

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate conjuration. CL 7th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, soul binding ability, minor creation, 3,000 gp, 240 XP, 3 days.

Weight: —.

Price: 6,000 gp.

SHROUD OF NIGHT

A shroud of night grants you a number of shadow-oriented defenses.

Description: A shroud of night is a very lightweight cloth, made of a thin, gossamer material.

It is always black or dark gray.

When worn, it ripples slightly even in the absence of any wind or movement.

The shroud wraps about the shoulders but occupies space on the body as a vest, not as a cloak.

Activation: The deflection bonus is active constantly while the shroud is worn.

Using dancing shadows or shallow skin requires a command word, such as “nightfall” or “obfuscate”.

Effect: A shroud of night grants you a +2 deflection bonus to AC.

It can also cast the mysteries dancing shadows and shadow skin each once per day, on you only.

Aura/Caster Level: Fatal abjuration, illusion. CL 5th.

Greater shroud: Moderate abjuration, illusion (shadow). CL 11th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, dancing shadows, shadow skin, caul of shadow, 5,080 gp, 407 XP, 11 days.

Greater shroud: Craft Wondrous Item, dancing shadows, shadow skin, caul of shadow, voyage into shadow, 18,315 gp.

1,466 XP.

37 days.

Variants: A greater shroud of night grants a +3 deflection bonus, and also enables you to use voyage into shadow once per day (self only).

To do so, you must utter a command word (such as “vanish”) and wrap the shroud about yourself.

Weight: 1 lb.

Price: 10,160 gp.

Greater shroud: 36,630 gp.

SOUL LENS

A soul lens refines and augments the abilities granted by a vestige.

Description: A soul lens is a sapphire monocle held inside a gold ring.

Whenever the wearer uses a supernatural ability granted by a vestige and augments it with this item, the lens flashes with a soft blue light.

Prerequisite: You must be bound to a vestige to use this item.

Activation: Using a soul lens is not an action: you simply wear the item.

It fills the goggle slot.

Effect: While you wear a soul lens, the save DC of any supernatural ability bestowed upon you by a vestige increases by 1.

Aura/Caster Level: Faint transmutation. CL 3rd.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, soul binding ability, eagle's splendor.

6,000 gp, 480 XP, 6 days.

Weight: —

Price: 12,000 gp.

TEETH OF DAHLVER-NAR

The strange and wondrous teeth of Dahlver-Nar give you a physical link to the vestiges and their power.

Lore: The teeth of Dahlver-Nar bear the name of the first human to use them.

Rumor among the ignorant holds that the teeth tie your soul to fiendish forces, granting them control over your body and even your thoughts.

(Knowledge [history] DC 30).

No one knows who created the teeth, or even how it was done.

Binder scholars debate whether the items can be created at all—many contend that a new one simply comes into being when a soul transforms into a vestige.

(Knowledge [arcana] DC 30).

Individual teeth of Dahlver-Nar have occasionally been destroyed, but a new version of a destroyed tooth always crops up at some later date.

However, no more than one version of a particular tooth ever exists at any given time.

(Knowledge[history]DC 35).

Several versions of the story about the origin of the teeth of Dahlver-Nar exist, but one aspect of it remains constant: Dahlver-Nar.

a human cleric, discovered the teeth and made them known through his use of their powers.

(Knowledge history] DC 30).

Legend says that using the teeth too often or using too many of them at once can drive the user mad or.

turn her into a tooth beast (see page 88).

How much of this tale is truth and how much is fiction remains to be seen.

Marry binders have attempted to find out by collecting all the teeth, but as yet no one has managed to obtain all of them at once.

(Knowledge [history] DC 30).

Description: Teeth of Dahlver-Nar differ in appearance according to their associated vestiges.

Many look like the teeth of various humanoids; others appear more unusual.

Eurynome's tooth, for example, is a molar as big as 3 dwarf's fist, Acererak's tooth is a ruby shaped like a cuspid, and Zagan's tooth is a snake fang the length of an elf's hand.

Each tooth is inscribed with the seal of a vestige—though it is unbound by the outer circle common to vestige seals.

The teeth change size to fit the user's mouth, but only just. Chupclops's tooth juts out of the user's mouth in the form of a tusk, beside the two created by his sign.

Activation: To employ one of these items, you must remove one of your own teeth and put the tooth of Dahlver-Nar in its place.

This bloody process requires a full-round action and deals 1 point of damage.

Afterward, your tooth is permanently gone; you cannot later replace it after removing the tooth of Dahlver-Nar.

A regenerate spell replaces lost teeth, so long as no teeth of Dahlver-Nar occupy the spaces of missing teeth at the time of casting.

Replacing your teeth with teeth of Dahlver-Nar does not affect bite damage or give you a bite attack if you normally lack one.

You must have a tooth of Dahlver-Nar in your mouth for one full day before you can use its ability.

During that time, you show the sign of the associated vestige and are under its influence, as described in the Effect section below.

After the tooth has been in your mouth for 24 hours, you can activate or deactivate any continuous abilities it grants as a standard action.

Other abilities require a standard action to use.

Use of an ability granted by this item never provokes an attack of opportunity, but effects produced by a tooth of Dahlver-Nar are not supernatural; they can be dispelled and suppressed in the same way as those of other magic items.

A creature cannot target a tooth in your mouth for the purpose of sundering or magic effects other than dispel magic.

The only way a foe can get your tooth is to render you helpless and physically remove it.

Such a removal deals no damage.

Using teeth of Dahlver-Nar does not give you the ability to bind a vestige for the purpose of meeting the prerequisites of a feat or a prestige class.

Teeth of Dahlver-Nar do not occupy a magic item body slot.

Effect: Placing a tooth of Dahlver-Nar in your mouth grants you a special magical ability, but it also links your soul and body to the vestige with which the tooth is associated.

When the tooth is in your mouth, you show the sign of the associated vestige, just as you would if you had actually bound it.

In addition, you are automatically under its influence, as though you were a binder who had failed a binding check. If you choose to ignore the vestige's influence, you take the normal penalty for doing so.

The penalty lasts until the tooth is removed, but you can still use its power.

As normal, the penalties of ignoring the influences of multiple vestiges stack.

These effects of a tooth of Dahlver-Nar cannot be avoided by making a binding check, or by using the suppress sign ability.

If you have access to multiple teeth of Dahlver-Nar, you can use as many as you wish simultaneously, but you show the signs and are under the influence of all of them.

Although some vestiges grant natural attacks associated with their signs, you do not gain those attacks—even though you show the same sign—unless the tooth actually grants that power.

Each tooth of Dahlver-Nar grants an ability similar to one granted by the associated vestige.

The effects of the teeth are not supernatural.

They are Spell-like effects and follow all the normal rules for such—they can be suppressed by a targeted dispel magic, for example.

A tooth of Dahlver-Nar is activated by a command word—specifically, the name of the associated vestige.

The effects of the specific teeth are given below, along with their saving throw DCs.

Acererak: You can use command undead three times per day (Will DC 14 negates).

Faint necromancy; CL 5th; Price 10,800 gp.

 Price: See the description of each tooth for details.

VESTIGE PHYLACTERY

A vestige phylactery allows you to bind an alternate vestige so that you can swap one spirit for another without having to go through a second ritual.

Vestige phylacteries are always found empty.

Lore: Vestige phylacteries were the last magic items crafted by the first followers of Syfal.

They were designed to give binders better tools with which to combat their enemies.

(Knowledge [history] DC 35).

Description: A vestige phylactery is an ornately carved jade cube measuring about 6 inches on a side.

Runes of power and magical inscriptions of binding cover every surface.

The box has no apparent means of opening.

When a phylactery houses a vestige, it shakes and moves as if alive. Whenever you exchange a bound vestige for the one in the box, it flares brightly and turns translucent.

Diminutive figments of the vestiges momentarily grapple as they cross paths going to and from the phylactery.

Prerequisite: You must have the soul binding ability to use this magic item.

Activation: As a full-round action, you can call forth a vestige you have previously bound into the box, willing it to leave the phylactery and enter your body.

To bind a vestige into the box, resolve the binding as normal, except that the binding DC increases by 10.

You can bind a spirit into a vestige phylactery once per day, and you can call a spirit from it once per day.

The box does not occupy an item slot, but you must hold it in one hand to activate it.

Effect: Upon activating the phylactery, you immediately bind to the vestige inside it.

If doing so would cause the number of vestiges bound to you to exceed your normal limit, you expel a vestige of your choice (prematurely ending its binding) releasing it to make room for the one from the phylactery.

The released vestige does not automatically enter the phylactery.

You can only call a vestige from the phylactery if you bound the vestige yourself.

If you have not bound a vestige into the phylactery when you activate this item, you gain no benefit and instead are stunned for 1d4 rounds.

Once the exchange is complete, you lose all the abilities granted by the departed vestige and gain those granted by the new vestige.

You show the vestige's sign (or not) as normal.

You are influenced by the new vestige if you failed your binding check when you placed it into the phylactery.

You remain bound to the vestige from the phylactery based on the time you bound it into the phylactery.

A vestige can only be bound into a phylactery for a maximum of 24 hours, after which time it is automatically released.

Aura/Caster Level: Moderate conjuration. CL 10th.

Construction: Craft Wondrous Item, planar binding or planar ally, 7,500 gp, 600 XP, 8 days

Weight: 5 lb.

Price: 15,000 gp.

UNAPPROACHABLE EAST (3.5)

BREACHSTONE

A smooth stone token carved with runes on both sides, the breachstone need only be touched to a wall or barrier to create a passwall as cast by a 10th-level sorcerer.

The breachstone's tunnel is 5 feet wide, 8 feet tall, and up to 10 feet long.

The tunnel remains in existence as long as the breachstone remains in the passage, and it closes 1 round after the breachstone is removed.

As with passwall, the breachstone can only create an opening in stone, wood, or plaster walls, not through metal or magical walls.

(A wall of stone is not magical after it has been created).

The breachstone operates five times and then crumbles into dust.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, passwall;

Market Price: 10,000 gp; Weight: —.

CIRCLET OF THE WILDERNESS

When placed on the head of a ranger, this band of braided strands of wood grants the wearer a number of spell-like abilities.

Each function requires a different command word.

At will—calm animals (DC 11), pass without trace, speak with animals; 3/day—summon nature's ally I, cure light wounds (DC 11); 1/day—summon nature's ally II, cure serious wounds (DC 16).

These abilities are as the spells cast by a 7th-level druid. The wearer of the circlet of the wilderness can also predict all naturally occurring weather within fifty miles of his current location for the next 24 hours, at will.

He cannot predict the use of weather-altering magic by someone else.

The Simbul sometimes awards these wondrous items to Aglarondan rangers who have proven their loyalty to her and their country through some great act of heroism.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, animal friendship, cure light wounds, cure serious wounds, pass without trace, speak with animals, summon nature's ally I, summon nature's ally II; Market Price: 50,000 gp.

Weight —.

HATHRAN MASKS

The hathrans of Rashemen are known for traveling and fighting wearing elaborate masks.

Often these masks are magical, and some of the more common types of hathran masks are listed here.

A mask counts as a pair of lenses for limitations on wearing multiple magic items.

MASK OF DISGUISE

In its normal form, this mask is usually decorated with carved wavy lines and small, plain bird feathers.

It functions as a hat of disguise, although it changes only the wearer's face (the mask also adjusts to accommodate the disguise, appearing as a circlet, comb, hat, or similar item worn on the face or head).

Caster Level: 2nd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, change self; Market Price: 1,000 gp; Weight: —.

MASK OF FLAME

This mask is red with flames drawn in black or orange.

The wearer is protected by endure elements (fire) and may invoke a burning hands spell (caster level 5, DC 11) once per day.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, burning hands, endure elements; Market Price: 5,700 gp; Weight: —.

MASK OF LANGUAGE

This mask is covered with tiny letters in many languages and with pictures of strange creatures.

A mask of language is created with three languages, and the wearer can speak, understand, read, and write those languages.

The most common languages used are Chondathan, Shaaran, and Thayan Mulhorandi.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, tongues; Market Price: 4,000 gp; Weight: —.

MASK OF MENTAL ARMOR

This mask is painted with broad lines radiating from the eyes, each of which ends in a protective spiral.

The wearer gains a +4 resistance bonus on all saving throws against mind-affecting effects.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, spell resistance; Market Price: 4,000 gp; Weight: —.

MASK OF NIGHTSEEING

These dark gray masks are usually decorated with owl's feathers and stylized eye markings around the eye holes. They function exactly like goggles of night, granting the wearer 60-foot darkvision.

Caster Level: 3rd; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, darkvision; Market Price: 8,000 gp; Weight: —.

MASK OF PROTECTION AND RESISTANCE

These powerful masks are decorated with powerful abjorative symbols and the feathers of rare birds.

Each acts as a combined ring of protection and a cloak of resistance, and normally the protective bonus of each of these powers is the same.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, resistance, shield of faith, caster level must be three times that of the mask's bonus; Market Price: 4,000 gp (mask +1), 16,000 gp (mask +2), 36,000 gp (mask +3), 64,000 gp (mask +4), 100,000 gp (mask +5); Weight: —.

MASK OF TRUE SEEING

These masks are white with red markings under the eyes and on the forehead.

They allow the wearer to view things with true seeing.

Caster Level: 10th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, true seeing; Market Price: 75,000 gp; Weight: —.

MASK OF WATER BREATHING

This mask is decorated with blue and green waves or fish scale patterns.

It allows the wearer to breathe water as if under the effects of a water breathing spell.

Caster Level: 5th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, water breathing; Market Price: 3,000 gp; Weight: —.

ROBE OF RUKHYON

This fine gold-trimmed robe of red brocade confers non-detection upon its wearer and also functions as a robe of resistance +3.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, non-detection, resistance; Market Price: 48,000 gp; Weight: 2 lb.

SHAPORYL'S MASK

This very rare hathran mask is decorated with tiny fancy stones and painted with elaborate patterns.

Its wearer can use charm person three times per day, confusion once per day, and dominate person once per day. The mask can also scintillate in a multicolored pattern for 1 round three times per day, which works like a gaze attack with a range of 30 feet.

Creatures that succumb to the gaze attack (Will negates DC 14) are dazed for 1d4+1 rounds.

The gaze attack is a mind-affecting pattern.

Caster Level: 9th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, charm person, confusion, dominate person, hypnotic pattern; Market Price: 65,000 gp; Weight: —.

WITCHBOAT

One of these rowboat-sized wooden boats can hold three people.

They move through the water effortlessly at a speed of 30 feet upstream or downstream and are guided by verbal commands from a person who knows the activation command word.

A witchboat can even be ordered to return to a previous location without a pilot or passengers, and the sight of such empty boats is common in Rashemen.

Crafted by the Witches and Old Ones, these boats do not work outside the boundaries of Rashemen.

A larger variety of the witchboat, called a warboat, is made by applying the same spells to a well-crafted felucca (a two-masted Rashemi sailing vessel), giving it a speed of 20 feet.

Caster Level: 7th; Prerequisites: Craft Wondrous Item, freedom of movement, fly, permanency; Market Price: 20,000 gp (witchboat), 40,000 gp (warboat); Weight: —.

UNDERDARK (3.5)

ANTIMAGIC TORC

By speaking a command word, the wearer of this necklace can create an antimagic field, as the spell, centered on himself.

This function is usable once per day.

Moderate abjuration; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, antimagic field; Price 25,000 gp.

BOOTS OF TREMORSENSE

The wearer can automatically sense the location of any creature or object within 30 feet that is in contact with the ground.

Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, tremorsense; Price 45,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

BRAINCAP

This metal cap fits closely over the wearer's head (taking the head slot for magic items).

The wearer gains a +4 resistance bonus on saving throws against enchantment effects and immunity to psionic mind blast attacks.

Moderate abjuration; CL 12th; Craft Wondrous Item, spell immunity; Price 22,000 gp.

CEPHALOMETER (ILLITHID)

This psionically empowered caliper measures a creature's head size via two inwardly curved, iron projections.

These projections are connected at one end with a bolt that allows them to open or close.

In addition, the caliper wielder can use dominate person and feeblemind (DC 17) each once per day on any willing or subdued creature whose head is between the projections. Fitting the calipers to a subject's head provokes an attack of opportunity.

In addition to the two powers noted above, a cephalometer applied to the head of a willing or subdued subject can conduct a mind probe once per day for up to 10 minutes. All the subject's memories and knowledge are accessible, from memories deep below the surface to those that are easily called to mind.

The wielder can telepathically pose one question, and the caliper extracts the answer from the subject's brain and relays it directly to the wielder's mind.

These answers are to the best of the subject's knowledge. The wielder and the subject do not need to speak the same language, though less intelligent creatures may yield only appropriate visual images in answer to questions.

The cephalometer may be used to probe a sleeping subject, though the subject may attempt a DC 17 Will save to wake after each question.

Creatures protected by mind blank or those that are not affected by mind-affecting effects are immune to this mind probing.

Moderate enchantment and divination; CL 9th; Craft Wondrous Item or Craft Universal Item, dominate person, feeblemind; Price 36,450 gp; Weight 1 lb.

CLOAK OF STONE

This mottled gray cloak grants the wearer a +5 circumstance bonus on Hide and Move Silently checks.

In addition, by speaking a command word, the wearer can merge with stone as though using the meld into stone spell twice a day.

Faint transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, meld into stone; Price 20,800 gp; Weight 2 lb.

DAYLIGHT PELLET

This nasty weapon was devised by drow for use against other drow, but it is equally useful against any light-sensitive creature.

Daylight pellets are simply small pieces of glass, rock crystal, or igneous rock coated with grease and covered with clay, then baked until hard.

When thrown (a standard action), a daylight pellet shatters on impact and activates a daylight spell.

Daylight pellets are usually found in pouches in quantities of 3d4 pellets.

Faint evocation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, daylight; Price 750 gp per pellet.

DRIFTDISC

Drow matrons and other prominent drow use animated, 6-foot-diameter stone disks to travel in state for important ceremonies or occasions.

Every so often an eccentric drow may even use a driftdisc as a bed.

The disc can carry up to 300 pounds and fly at a speed of 30 feet with perfect maneuverability.

Unattended driftdiscs customarily float 3 feet above a horizontal surface.

Each driftdisc is activated by a different command word. If the device is within voice range, the command word activates it, whether the speaker is on the disk or not. The disk can then be controlled telepathically by the creature that spoke the command word. Mentally commanding the disk is a free action, and the user can do so at a range of up to 120 feet. The user retains control of the disc until he uses another command word to deactivate it. At that point, another creature could speak the activating command word and take control of the driftdisc. Once per day, the user can animate the driftdisc as though with an animate objects spell. The animated disc is a Large animated object (see Monster Manual) with a fly speed of 90 feet and perfect maneuverability. As an animated object, it fights and moves as directed by its user. Moderate evocation and transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects, detect thoughts, overland flight; Price 113,760 gp; Weight 1,500 lb.

FIGURINES OF ILLUSORY ESCORT

In the Underdark, looking too tough to challenge is often the best way to win a fight. Each of these figurines appears to be a miniature humanoid about 1 inch high. To activate it, the user must speak the correct command word and specify a humanoid or monstrous humanoid race and a gender of each figurine, as well as whether it should appear to be a slave in leg chains or a guard with armor and weapons typical for the race. The figurine then produces a major image of the specified creature, which cannot move more than 30 feet away from the figurine. The figment lasts for 8 hours, after which the figurine cannot be used again for 1 day. Slave figures can be commanded to march, do chores, or mine. Guard figures can be commanded to either march or stand guard. The illusion cloaking these figures randomizes and varies their movements, so that each figure appears to act as an individual. These figures act in their programmed manner, regardless of circumstance, so they are usable only as a preventive measure. The ruse can work well enough in a calm situation, but if a combat does occur, the figures continue to do their chores or stand guard—inappropriate actions under the circumstances. Moderate illusion; CL 6th; Craft Wondrous Item, major image; Price 6,500 gp per figurine.

FIGURINES OF WONDROUS POWER

Each figurine of wondrous power appears to be a miniature statuette of a creature an inch or so high (with one exception). When the figurine is tossed down and the correct command word spoken, it becomes a living creature of normal size (except when noted otherwise below). The creature obeys and serves its owner.

Unless stated otherwise, the creature understands Common but does not speak. If a figurine of wondrous power is broken or destroyed in its statuette form, it is forever ruined. All magic is lost, its power departed. If slain in animal form, the figurine simply reverts to a statuette that can be used again at a later time.

JASPER SPIDER

When animated, a jasper spider has all the statistics of a Large monstrous spider (Hit Dice, AC, carrying capacity, speed, and so on). It can make no attacks, but a Medium or smaller creature can ride it. The spider remains for up to 12 hours per use. After 12 hours have passed, or when the command word is spoken, the jasper spider again becomes a statuette and cannot be activated again for 24 hours. Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects; Price 5,000 gp.

SARDONYX STONE FLYER

This statuette becomes a normal adult stone flyer (see Chapter 6) that can be used as a mount when the command word is spoken. It can make no attacks, but a Medium or smaller creature can ride it. If slain in combat, the stone flyer cannot be brought back from statuette form for one full tenday. Otherwise, it can be used once per day for up to 1 hour at a time. Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, animate objects; Price 16,500 gp.

GAUNTLET OF DISINTEGRATION

The simple appearance of this single leather glove belies its power. Once per day, it can affect a target as though with the disintegrate spell (DC 19). In addition, a +2 luck bonus applies to any saving throw the wearer makes against a disintegration spell or effect. Moderate transmutation; CL 11th; Craft Wondrous Item, disintegration; Price 27,650 gp.

GLOVE OF VENOM

The wielder of this snakeskin or spiderfur glove can speak a command word to envenom it, as though with the poison spell, up to three times per day. A successful touch attack with the envenomed glove delivers the poison (Fort DC 16). The initial and secondary damage is 1d10 points of Constitution damage. Moderate necromancy; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, poison; Price 31,500 gp.

GLOVES OF BURROWING

These gloves appear ordinary, but when the correct command word is spoken, they stiffen and allow the wearer to burrow as if affected by a burrow spell.

This effect lasts for up to 10 minutes each day.
Faint transmutation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, burrow;
Price 14,400 gp.

GOROTHIR'S GIRDLE

The inside of this black leather corset contains the sacred tale of how the mythical Shar worshiper Gorothir felled an empire with only a lie and a secret.

The text also contains a spellbook entry for the false sending spell.

The corset grants its wearer a +5 deflection bonus and grants her the following spell-like abilities: 1/day—aberrate, damning darkness, fiendish clarity, slow consumption (see the Book of Vile Darkness).

A creature of good alignment takes 3d6 points of damage for each round that it remains in contact with the girdle.
Moderate transmutation; CL 14th; Craft Wondrous Item, armor of darkness; Price 120,500 gp; Weight 3 pounds.

HEADBAND OF IDIOCY

A headband of idiocy appears to be a headband of another sort, and detection spells reveal nothing more than the fact that it has a magical aura.

Upon donning this item, the wearer takes an immediate –10 penalty (to a minimum of 3) to her Intelligence and Wisdom scores, forgetting all spells and magical knowledge derived from either ability score.

The headband can be removed only through a remove curse spell.

Strong transmutation; CL 13th; Craft Wondrous Item, bestow curse, permanency; Price 5,500 gp.

LENSES OF CLARITY

The wearer of these lenses gains a +4 insight bonus on saving throws against all spells with the charm, compulsion, or glamor descriptors.

The lenses also reduce any miss chance the target might have when attacking an opponent with concealment from a glamor spell (such as blur and displacement) by 10%.

For example, a creature wearing lenses of clarity that attacks an opponent protected by a displacement spell suffers only a 40% miss chance instead of the customary 50%.

Faint abjuration; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, clarity of mind; Price 12,000 gp; Weight —.

LURKER CLOAK

This mottled gray cloak strongly resembles stone.

Upon speaking the correct command word, the wearer is transformed into a lurker (see Chapter 6) as though with the polymorph spell, for 7 minutes.

The cloak can be used twice per day.

Moderate transmutation; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, polymorph; Price 10,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

MANTLE OF ENERGY RESISTANCE

This garment is made of silky, smooth cloth woven through with strands of colored thread.

The color of the thread corresponds to the type of energy the cloak resists: green for acid, white or blue for cold, yellow for electricity, red for fire, and black or iridescent for sonic.

The cloak grants the wearer energy resistance 10 against the indicated type of energy.

A basic mantle of energy resistance protects against only one type of energy, but more expensive ones that protect against multiple energy types are also popular.

Faint abjuration; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, resist energy; Price 18,000 gp (one energy type), 54,000 gp (two energy types), 90,000 gp (three energy types), 126,000 gp (four energy types), 162,000 gp (all five energy types); Weight 1 lb.

MESSENGER MEDALLION

A messenger medallion resembles a small, metal cone on a slender chain and can be worn as a necklace.

Once per day, the wearer can speak a command word to send a message and receive a brief reply, as though with the sending spell.

Moderate evocation; CL 7th; Craft Wondrous Item, sending; Price 10,000 gp.

ROPE OF CLIMBING, SUPERIOR

This item functions exactly like a rope of climbing, as described in the Dungeon Master's Guide, except that it also grants the climber a +5 enhancement bonus on Climb checks.

Faint transmutation; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous Item, animate rope; Price 5,500 gp; Weight 3 lb.

SPIDER MASK

Four spider-like, jointed, wire legs protrude from either side of this black velvet mask.

The wearer of a spider mask gains darkvision out to 60 feet and a +5 bonus on Fortitude saving throws against any sort of spiderkind poison.

The wearer is also immune to entrapment by web spells or webs of any sort—in fact, she can actually move in webs at one-half her normal speed.

Faint conjuration and transmutation; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, darkvision, neutralize poison; Price 16,000 gp; Weight 1 lb.

SUN FLASH PELLET

Like daylight pellets, sun flash pellets are simply small pieces of glass, rock crystal, or igneous rock coated with grease and covered with clay, then baked until hard.

When thrown (a standard action), a sun flash pellet shatters on impact and activates a sunburst spell.

These items are especially useful against creatures vulnerable to sunlight, such as vampires.

Due to the high cost of these items, it is rare to find more than a single pellet at a time.

Strong evocation; CL 15th; Craft Wondrous Item, sunburst; Price 6,000 gp per pellet.

TENTACLE EXTENSION (ILLITHID)

This item is designed for use by illithids, though any tentacled creature may use one.

A single tentacle extension appears as a flexible, 5-foot length of iron composed of many thin iron threads.

A razor-sharp blade is attached to the end, and a small duct runs throughout the length of the extension to convey an illithid's natural flesh-dissolving enzymes to the tip.

A tentacle extension grants a tentacled wearer a +2 enhancement bonus on attack and damage rolls made for that tentacle and increases its base damage die by one step. For illithids, this means that a tentacle attack with a tentacle extension deals base damage of 1d6 instead of 1d4 points.

A tentacle extension increases its wearer's reach by 5 feet.

A creature with multiple tentacles can wear multiple extensions, if desired.

Strong evocation and transmutation; CL 12th; Craft Magic Arms and Armor or Craft Psionic Arms and Armor, tentacled creature; Price 32,000 gp; Weight 2 lb.

USKURA

Worn by most adult deep Imaskar, these magic items contain a more powerful version of the unseen servant spell. Nearly any object can be an uskura, although amulets and ioun stones are favored.

A typical uskura produces an effect identical to that of an unseen servant spell (caster level 10th), except that it has an effective Strength score of 6 and moves at a speed of 30 feet.

An uskura may be activated for a total of 100 minutes per day, although this duration need not be consecutive.

Many Imaskari either have multiple uskuras or create them at higher caster levels to provide them with around-the-clock service.

Moderate conjuration; CL 10th; Craft Wondrous Item, unseen servant; Price 36,000 gp.

WEB CHOKER (DROW)

Strung of barbs and black webbing, with nine gray spheres depending from it, this choker is considered high fashion for drow priestesses.

The wearer (and only the wearer) can detach and hurl the spheres up to 70 feet.

When a sphere arrives at the end of its trajectory, it bursts, generating a web effect (DC 14).

Once all nine spheres have been used, the web choker is nothing other than a simple choker.

Faint conjuration; CL 5th; Craft Wondrous Item, web; Price 2,700 gp.

WEAPONS OF LEGACY (3.5)

AMULET OF DEATH'S CALLING

This amulet is made of pale alabaster, carved into the likeness of a small gong or bell with a skull motif sculpted on the face.

It is usually worn on a fine chain of steel that has been blackened as though by a tremendous fire.

Once per day on command, it allows the wearer to use death knell as the spell.

Faint necromancy; CL 3rd; Craft Wondrous item, death knell; Price 2,160 gp; Weight 1 lb.
